HISTORICAL SKETCH OF OTTAWA.

THE City of Ottawa, taking its name from the Ottawa or Grand River of Canada on which it is situated, the Ontario of the early French pioneers, lies about 120 miles above the Island of Montreal. The latter, some seventy-five years ago was the Ultima Thule of Canadian civilization, and save rarely by hunters or fur traders, the waters of the Ottawa were undisturbed by the white man; the birch bark canoe of the Indian was the only vessel that navigated its waters. Celebrated as this river is, especially the upper part of it, for its numberless and varied falls and rapids, amongst which the most striking and grand is that named by the early French pioneers the Chaudière, or as it is generally called, the "Big Kettle." For some miles above this there are numerous chutes or rapids, which indicate how great is the incline of the river, which narrowing at these falls to about four hundred yards is precipitated wildly over a bluff limestone rock, through a gap about 200 feet wide and 300 long, within which, as in a kettle, the waters foam and boil, surging in large yeasty masses back and forth from side to side, until, eventually, they escape in a mountain of foam, and directly expand into about a width of half a mile just below. The scenery below the heights on the south side, where the limestone rocks rise perpendicularly two or three hundred feet, covered with waving hemlocks and dark pines, the undulating banks on the north shore, the abrupt precipices on the south—is very beautiful and only equalled, though in a different style, by the aspect of Quebec. Here the hunters or traders had in earlier days to pause, for it was impossible to attempt the navigation higher, and here they tramped out a portage on the northern shore, of eight miles in length, across which they carried their canoes, &c., to the quiet waters above the Chaudière and its rapids, to what is now the Town of Aylmer.

About the close of the last century, a Mr. Wright, of Boston, who was either tired of his native town, his native State, or possessed of a desire of gain, wandering in search of "a location," came with his party to the portage of the Chaudière, and here he determined to settle. Land was cheap in those days, and Mr. Wright easily obtained a grant of large tracts of land upon both sides of the river from the Canadian Government.

With the aid of a couple of Indians he explored the land, and decided that that on the south side (the present city) was unfit for town or farm; that on the north side was pronounced better, and about a mile from the portage landing, close to the Chaudière Falls, Mr. Wright planted his village, and called it Hull. The site once determined, no time was lost by the sturdy pioneers in building their log huts and necessary buildings upon it.

Much privation and continuous toil are usually the lot of new settlements, and Hull or Wrightstown as it was often called, was no exception to the rule. Its nearest market as well as settlement was Montreal; and although this might be easily reached, the current carrying the canoe easily down stream, yet the return trip required a long and a strong pull to get home again. Mr. Wright and his followers did not consign all the trees they felled in their clearings to the fire; they lumbered, and thus became, as well as farmers, dealers in pine, as are all the settlers on the Ottawa to this day. An impetus was thus given in this quarter to the timber trade of Canada, and each year immense rafts were floated down, through many dangers, to Quebec in the spring, which were disposed of for necessaries required at the settlement. With the growth of trade, came an increase of immigration, and Hull soon became a "fixed fact." As before stated, though not appreciating the soil upon the southern shore, Mr. Wright secured a large extent of it, thinking that some day or other it might be useful; but he looked upon the village on the north side as being the only place which could ever be of importance as a town.

Hull steadily grew. The lumber trade was not now confined to the old pioneers. Voyageurs sent by Quebec merchants, French Canadians, English, Scotch and Irish, intent upon cutting pine, thronged up the Ottawa. The trees fell before the vigorous blows of the new-comers, who plied their axes right and left, and behind the town of Hull, untouched, uncared for, and almost unnoticed, towered up the southern hills in sullen dignity.

Cash was scarce in Hull, but there was any amount of credit; and Mr. Wright—or rather the Wrights, for by this time the family was grown up, paid the lumberers in either of three ways for their labor—"store pay," in goods, rum, or land. Three fourths of the laborers preferred the two first; the more prudent, one fourth, took the latter. In the course of time Mr. Wright came to a settlement of accounts with a sober, steady workman, who had been for many years one of his ox-teamsters, and on so doing, it was found that two hundred dollars was due to this employee, one Mr. Sparks. Cash was out of the question, nor did the creditor expect it in payment. Land being offered in lieu of it, the question naturally was, where was it located, but on Mr. Wright's informing him that all the land around Hull was taken up, and offering him a tract across the river on the south side, this he refused with great indignation, and the settlement was postponed. Sparks, however, not willing to lose his wages altogether, crossed the river, examined the land, and found as he expected, plenty of rock, plenty of sand, and plenty of swamp. Higher up, however, he found a piece of soil near the upper rapids, which he thought he might make something of, so that after some hard bargaining, and the addition of a yoke of oxen "thrown in," he accepted as payment for his arrears, the site of the present city of Ottawa.

Years afterwards, the Canadian authorities wishing to find a channel in the interior of the country, for the conveyance of munitions of war to the Upper Lakes, as the St. Lawrence was too much exposed to the assaults of the Americans in event of war ever occurring, inaugurated the scheme of the Rideau Canal. One day, in the year 1823, Mr. Sparks looking down from one of his high precipices, was astonished by seeing a crowd of engineers, soldiers and laborers advancing towards the bluffs. The hills were taken possession of as the ordnance property of the British Crown. The Chief Engineer charged with the construction of the Rideau Canal and its attendant works, was Colonel By. The work went on fast, huts and labourers appeared in due proportion, as did shops and other necessary buildings, and these were built on either side the hills, and by way of joke, were called "Upper Town," and "Lower Town," names retained to the present day. In time, as the straggling "towns" became more united by their buildings, they obtained a single designation, and in compliment to the Chief Engineer, were called "Bytown," not a very high sounding name, but one that gave hopes to Mr. Sparks, who owned all the land beyond the fall of the hills inward. A bridge was thrown across the Chaudière, connecting Hull or Wrightstown with Bytown, and as the latter slowly grew the other remained stationary.

Years passed away, and still Bytown grew larger and more populous, and suddenly in its prosperity, it became ashamed of its name, and by act of Parliament it was changed to that of the noble river which foamed and roared at its base. Money flowed in upon Mr. Sparks; he no longer himself guided the oxen obtained with his land; he sold lots; went into a successful business, and was presently said to be worth half a million of pounds sterling, his town "looking up," and Hull the place of early promise being dead.

In 1851, Ottawa had a population of 8,000. In 1861, it numbered 15,000. It is now the chief seat of the timber or lumber trade, there being upwards of seventy firms engaged in cutting that article of commerce on the banks of the Ottawa River and its tributaries, and transporting it to Quebec and the United States. A railway connecting the city with the St. Lawrence at Prescott, and the canal connecting it with Lake Ontario at Kingston, greatly facilitate the means of transport. Till those means of communication were provided, all that was not required for local consumption was taken to Quebec. Of the population, a very large number are lumberers, French Canadians, or Irish. From the number of French caleche drivers, Canadian voyageurs, and priests, it has a less English look than the other towns of Ontario. From its situation it is one of the most healthy cities on the continent, but very bleak in winter.

In due course of time the question arose as to which of the towns of Canada should be the chosen site for the new Houses of Parliament. The claims of Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, were each strongly urged, and it was at last determined to refer the decision to the Queen. Her Majesty quickly and definitely settled it. The long despised hills, it was decided should sustain the Parliament buildings of United Canada. For the erection of these, the sum of £75,000 was voted by the Legislative Assembly, and a premium of $1000 offered for the best design not to exceed that amount; Fuller & Jones were the successful Architects, and although the design was considered by many as too costly, responsible contractors were found who tendered within the Government vote. Upon examination, however, it was found from the inequality of the ground, that immense excavations were necessary, which made in the solid rock added enormously to the original cost. The Government finding no provision for this work in the grant, and fearing it would cost a large portion of the original sum voted, stopped the works, and for a considerable time matters seemed at a dead lock. A commission of enquiry was appointed, fresh contracts were signed, and the present handsome structure was completed under the superintendence of Mr. Fuller.

In 1861, the Prince of Wales, on his visit to Canada and the United States, laid the corner stone with great ceremony, on which occasion the rejoicings partook of the nature of the place, the lumber arches, and lumberers, being a novelty to most of the visitors. Bullocks and sheep were roasted whole upon the Government grounds, and all comers were feasted. The Prince expressed himself well pleased with the locality chosen, and with the welcome afforded him, evincing as it did, the loyalty of the Canadian colonists to Her Gracious Majesty, whom he in his visit represented.

The following description of the Parliament and Departmental Buildings, the best that has been published, gives a very good idea of the structure and its details to those who have never seen them:—

“The Parliament Buildings stand on a high plateau of some 30 acres in area. The buildings form three sides of a quadrangular figure, and are widely detached. The Parliament or main building facing Wellington street; and the Departmental Buildings facing inwards to the square and forming the other two sides of the figure.

“The style of the Buildings is the Gothic of the 12th and 13th Centuries, with modification to suit the climate of Canada. The ornamental work and the dressing round the windows are of Ohio sandstone. The plain surface is faced with a cream-coloured sandstone of the Potsdam formation, obtained from Nepean, a few miles from Ottawa. The spandrils of the arches, and the spaces between the window-arches and the sills of the upper windows, are filled up with a quaint description of stone-work, composed of stones of irregular size, shape and colour, very neatly set together. These with the Potsdam red sandstone employed in forming the arches over the windows, afford a pleasant variety of color and effect, and contrast with the general masses of light coloured sandstone, of which the body of the work is composed.

“This Building, as you approach from Wellington street, presents a very imposing appearance. The central of the seven towers, which is very rich in design, projects its width from the front of the Building, and when completed, will be about 180 ft. high. The body of the building in front is forty feet high, above which rises the slanting roofs of slate, surmounted by lines of ornamental iron cresting. The building is 472 feet long; and the depth from the front of the main tower to the rear of the library is 570 feet, covering an area of 82,886 superficial feet. It stands at a distance of 600 feet from Wellington street, so that the quadrangle formed on three sides by the buildings and on the fourth by the street, is 700 feet from east to west, and 600 feet from north to south; thus affording a very spacious square. The ground upon which the buildings stand varies somewhat in elevation, that forming the site of the Parliament Building being the highest. The basement floor of the buildings is assumed to be 160 feet above the ordinary summer level of the river, while that of the Eastern and Western blocks is 135 and 142 feet respectively. The increased elevation, however, improves very much the general effect of the buildings.

"The main entrance is through the principal tower, the spacious arches of which admit of a carriage way under them. The piers which support the tower are ornamented with pillars of polished Arnprior marble. Passing through it we enter a large hall, paved with tiles, and also surrounded with marble pillars. Ascending and moving towards the left we come to the Chamber of Commons. The Room measures 82 by 45 feet, the ceiling being over 50 feet high, and formed of fine open work. The skylights above this intermediate ceiling, with the stained glass windows at the sides, throw a plentiful soft light over the whole place. The room is surrounded by large piers of a light greyish marble from Portage du Fort, surmounted just above the galleries by clusters of small pillars of the dark Arnprior; the arches supported by these pillars being again of the light colored marble. The galleries can accommodate about 1,000 persons. The Gallery for the Reporters is situated above the Speaker's chair.

"On the right of the main entrance, is the Senate Chamber, alike in every particular to that of the Commons. Along the corridors you see numerous Rooms for Committee, Clerks, Reading and Smoking.

"The library will be situated in the rear of the Parliament Building, and the plan is of a polygon of sixteen sides, 90 feet in diameter; outside of the main room is an aisle of one story high, which is formed of a series of small retiring rooms, where persons desiring a few hours of uninterrupted study can secure it. A corridor will connect the Library with the main building: this corridor will be the picture gallery, but is at present used for the Library. The floors of this building, as well as those of the Departmental Buildings, are made of concrete, perfectly fire-proof; an invention not long since adopted in Europe.

"The Eastern Block of the Departmental Building is of an irregular and picturesque shape. The west front, or that which faces the square, is 318 feet, and 253 feet on the south front or that which faces Wellington street, and covers an area of 41,840 superficial feet. In this building are found the Governor General's Office, the Privy Council room, the Minister of Justice, the Minister of Militia, the Secretary of State, the Finance and Audit Offices, the Registrar, the Receiver General, the Secretary of State for the Provinces, the Customs and the Inland Revenue departments.

"The Western Block is similar in style to that of the Eastern block, but not quite so large and more regular in its construction, being 211 feet long, facing the square, and 277 feet on the south looking on Wellington street. It is also very imposing, although not possessing so grand an entrance as the Eastern Block, a circumstance which is probably accounted for by the fact of the Governor General and Privy Council's rooms being situated in the first described Block. The Public Works Department, the Post Office Department, the Adjutant General and Militia Departments, the Marine and Fisheries Department, the Bureau of Agriculture, and the model room connected with the Patent Department, are all located in this building. The west front of this building looking upon the upper town and beyond it towards the Chaudière Falls and Hull, gives a fine view of the wooded lands on the shore of the Ottawa River and the distant range of hills beyond, including a far view of the river and its banks stretching to the south-west in the direction of Aylmer. Similar or still more extensive views are obtained from the west side of the Parliament Building.

"The ceilings of the passages and of many of the rooms of the Parliament Buildings are made of pine wood, varnished, which being wrought into ornamental cornices and panels, produces a rich and very fine appearance. The same material has been used for the doors. The fillings around the grates and mantle-pieces are of polished Arnprior marble; it is a greyish blue marble of very fine grain, and capable of being polished to a high degree. All the floors are supported by rolled iron girders, and filled in between with cement. The stairs in the buildings are all built of blue Ohio stone, and constructed with hanging steps.

"The system for heating and ventilating is on the most approved principle. Under the central court of the Parliament building in the boiler room, in which are six boilers, each twenty feet long and five feet in diameter, furnished with a steam drum, safety-valve, &c., and a steam engine of sufficient horse power to work the pumps and throw 250 gallons of water per minute into tanks placed in the towers, from whence the water is supplied to all parts of the buildings. The heating is effected by steam conveyed in pipes from these boilers to the Senate Chamber, the Library, and the rooms adjoining, by means of a duct sufficiently large for the introduction of an abundant supply of fresh air, situated immediately under a vault in which steam pipes are placed to warm the air on its entering the vault from the duct, through a perforated floor, and before it passes into rooms proposed to be heated. These ducts enter on all sides of the building, and range in size according to the position in which they are placed. Of the ducts, there are 3,600 lineal feet, generally of 2 feet 4 inches high, with sides built of dressed stone, and formed with slight descent where they pass out of the building. The other parts of the building are heated on what is called the coil system, or by direct radiation. For the rooms heated by this system there is an area of 4,308 feet of hot air flues, 24 by 19 inches sectional area, formed in the wall adjoining the committee rooms and other parts of the building heated, exclusive of ninety feet of others of greater dimensions for the larger steam pipes.

"In the internal arrangement nothing seems to have been spared to make the buildings as perfect as possible. The wants of the Government and its officials have been most carefully studied by the architects, and the beauty of the situation, combined with the elegance of the buildings, enables the capital of Canada to compare with any in the world."

One of the most remarkable features in the history of Ottawa, and one which has tended materially to add to its commerce and wealth, is the work or works constructed to overcome the difficulties that lumbermen experience in passing their timber over the Chaudière Falls. To obviate the destruction and damage, which a considerable portion so passing annually underwent, a contrivance known as "Timber Slides," was invented by the late Ruggles Wright, Esq., of this city. Above the Falls, a certain portion of the river is dammed off, and turned into an artificial wide channel or canal, down which most rapid of all rapids in America, the waters of the Ottawa rush with terrific speed. The head of this slide is placed some 300 yards above the Falls, and terminates after a run of about three quarters of a mile, in the still waters of the river below. As, however, a raft on such a steep incline and hurried along by such a mass of water, would attain a speed which would destroy itself and all upon it, the fall of the shoot is broken at intervals by straight runs, along which it glides at comparatively reduced speed, till it again drops over and commences another headlong rush. Some of these runs terminate with a perpendicular drop of some four or five feet, over which the raft goes headlong and wallows in the boiling water beneath, till the current re-gains the mastery and forces it on faster and more furiously than before. More than 40,000,000 cubic feet of timber come down the shoots of the Ottawa in this manner each year. The cribs are generally made of from 15 to 20 logs, with two transverse ones to secure them at each end, and a kind of raised bridge for the lumberers to stand on, who, without such aid would be washed off, as the mass drops, from shoot to shoot, down these rapids and disappears some few feet under water each plunge.

To go down the rapids of a Timber Slide, is the most exhilarating adventure in all the repertoire of American travel. The immense speed of the whole mass—the rush of the water—the succession of shoots stretching out before you like sloping steps of stairs, the rough long straits in which the raft seems to dive and founder, letting the water up beneath and over behind, till it is again urged forward, whirling madly as if in a swing, the timber snapping and groaning and working like a bundle of reeds, getting a momentary rest with each incline, and again thumping over the straits with sharp uneasy struggles, creates a sensation such as neither balloon nor diving bells afford, and such a whirl as only three quarters of a mile down the great timber shoots of the Ottawa can ever give. All persons desirous of novelty should by all means make one of these trips.

The future of Ottawa, if the mighty project of the Ontario Ship Canal is carried out, promises to be of great importance. Standing as she does on the great water highway to the West, with the commerce of the grain lands of the Saskatchewan and the products of the forest of the Ottawa valley, a mine of untold wealth in itself, brought to her very doors, with the collective wisdom of the Dominion assembled in her Legislative halls, with her Cabinet Ministers resident in the Capital, and a population contented and happy from the prosperity they enjoy under the freedom of the Red-cross of St. George, entwined with the Maple Leaf, no other young city ever had such a prospect of greatness thrust upon her.—Crescat eundo be her motto.

In point of situation and salubrity this institution offers many advantages.

French being the language of the House, the Course in that tongue is thorough and entire, affording in familiar conversation ample facilities for the perfect acquisition of the language.

Parents wishing their children to be furnished with wearing apparel, materials for Drawing and Fancy Work, should deposit funds with the Superior for that purpose.

No pupil can be admitted without a recommendation. Parents residing at a distance should appoint some individual in the City of Ottawa to receive the young ladies should circumstances render their removal from the Institution necessary.

For terms and particulars apply to the Lady Superioress.

N.B.—Besides the Boarding School, there are Day Schools attached.

CONDUCTED BY THE GREY NUNS,

Convent of Notre Dame du Sacré Cœur,

RIDEAU STREET, OTTAWA.

This Institution was established some twenty-five years ago, is pleasantly situated on the borders of Canada West, and affords every facility for the acquisition of a complete knowledge of the French and English languages. Nothing has been neglected that could tend to the promotion of this object; and the testimony invariably borne in favor of the Institution, shows that the efforts of the Sisters have not been unsuccessful.

The Course of Tuition comprises every Branch suitable for Young Ladies.

Terms—per Quarter—invariably in advance.

Board and Tuition per year .....$50 00

EXTRAS—MODERATE.

Pupils of all Denominations are admitted, those who profess a different religion from that of the Institution, are obliged, for the sake of order, to follow the regulations of the House, but not to assist at the religious exercises. On Sundays, when duly accompanied, they are permitted to attend a Church of their own persuasion.

At the close of the Quarterly Examination, Reports of Health, Progress and Deportment of the Pupils are sent to the Parents and Guardians.

This Academy (Established in 1861,) is under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Mahon, formerly Teacher in the Congregational Convent. The building is spacious and airy. The Classes are presided over by four Teachers; besides these there is a special Teacher, Miss M. Maloney, whose time is devoted to the Class of Book-keeping and Arithmetic; while the highest, or First Division, is under the direct care of the Principal. Parents and Guardians may rest assured that the children entrusted to Mrs. Mahon's charge will receive the kindest care, together with a sound and accomplished education.

OTTAWA MANUFACTORIES.

MANUFACTURERS OF SAWN LUMBER.

Mr. A. H. BALDWIN erected a new mill in 1866, at the foot of Head street, Chaudière Island. The mill is built of wood, with basement story of stone, being 100 feet by 55. It contains four gangs of 120 upright saws, in the aggregate, with a capacity of sawing 120,000 feet per diem—there are also edging and butting saws, a new improved filing machine, &c.; also another building 80 feet by 40, for the purpose of sawing lath and pickets. Mr. Baldwin commenced operations in the lumber trade in Ottawa, in 1854, another mill joining T. McKay's mill, has 2 gangs gates with about 30 saws each, with double edgers and butters turning out 40,000 in 12 hours. In connection with the mills, is a Machine Shop fitted up with the newest and most improved machinery, extensively patronized by all the mills in this vicinity.

Messrs. H. CRANDALL & Co., have a fine mill in Hull, adjoining Mr. E. B. Eddy's. It is a one story frame building 40 x 60, with two wings 16 x 60 and 20 x 60 respectively, and contains three gates and two slabber gates. The machinery is of the most modern construction, and there is capacity to do a very large business. The firm employs about 50 men, and turn out about 10 millions. They also cut laths and pickets.

Messrs. PERLEY & PATTEE were established on Chaudière Island, in 1859, but were unfortunately burnt out two years ago. The counting room and offices are on Head street, close to the Suspension Bridge. The new mills consist of one stone building, 2 stories high, 120 x 48, a wooden building, 82 x 111, with a wing 14 x 40, to which an additional frontage is added of 20 feet, which has a single gate with 7 gangs of upright saws, containing 185 saws and 12 circulars with edgers and butters. In the principal mill are 5 gates—about 25 millions feet of lumber is produced annually. About 400 hands find employment, and 180,000 standard logs will be taken out this season (1870-71). That which is converted in other mills into laths and pickets, is manufactured by this firm into stuff for doors and sashes.

Mr. LEVI YOUNG, Middle st., Victoria Island, commenced in 1854. He employs 90 men, turns out 16 millions feet of sawn lumber during the season, and took out this winter, 1869-70, about 100,000 logs. The mill is 60 x 40, has 3 gangs of 60 saws each, besides circulars, edgers, butters, &c. The counting room is east of the Victoria Foundry. It is a 2 story cut stone building, and is used as a dwelling house for the manager.

Messrs. LAW & JOHNSTON, Chaudière Steam Mill—L.B.F., have a mill driven by steam, using a forty horse power engine, and employ about 18 men. They manufacture during the season, about 4 million feet of lumber, and run an improved shingle machine, and saw on an average 15,000 shingles per diem. They have this season made large additions to their mill.

Messrs. GILMOUR & Co., have been established about thirty years on the Ottawa River and its tributaries. The mills are located on the Gatineau River, about 8 miles from Ottawa, and about two hundred hands are employed; twenty-five million feet are turned out during the season. The lumber yard is about three miles from the mills, and a lumber slide is used for the conveyance of the lumber over the rapids to a navigable point on the Gatineau. A large proportion of the lumber manufactured here is shipped to Great Britain.

Mr. J. R. BOOTH established his mills on the Chaudière Island in 1857. One is built of stone, 3 stories high, 114 by 45 feet; one of wood 80 by 60 feet and a frame building, 120 by 70 feet; a building finished this season (1870) 80 by 70 for the purpose of handling and culling lumber at night to protect the workmen from storms and rain, is of wood, 90 by 60 feet. There is also a three story stone building used as a warehouse, on Albert Island, 45 by 48 feet. The counting room is also in this building. Two hundred and fifty hands are employed, and about 25 millions of sawed lumber is produced during the season. In use, there are 270 upright saws, two card circulars, edgers and butters.

There is besides a lath and picket mill, turning out about 25,000 daily as well as large quantities of pickets, and additions are being made to this.

Mr. BOOTH has recently purchased a large quantity of land at Hull, where he is building a fine dock, which is rendered necessary from the expansion of his business. In connection, there are Docks and Yards at Rouse's Point, N. Y.

Messrs. BRONSONS & WESTON, were the pioneers of the sawn lumber trade here, having purchased a large tract of land on Victoria Island, in 1852, which they laid out in lots and levelled. This firm employ over 200 men, and have a row of 2 story frame houses attached to their mills, where their hands are lodged. Took out, last season, about 150,000 pieces out of the woods; saw, on an average, about 25 million feet. The mill is about 100 feet square, and contains 7 gangs, comprising about 175 saws, besides edgers and butters, having a daily capacity of 150,000 feet. A lath and picket mill has been added, 40 by 60 feet, and from 50,000 to 60,000 lath, and about 15,000 pickets, are turned out daily. Lath are here sawed by gang machines, and every piece of slab or edging is made of use, and a source of profit to the company.

Messrs. WRIGHT & BATSON, have been established a few years at Hull Landing, opposite the Parliament Buildings. The mill is 120 by 60, and this season an addition has been made of 120 by 22; and also a wing for an Engine and Piling, 110 by 24. There are 10 gangs of saws and turn out about 50 million feet per season. There is splendid wharf accommodation at the Landing, for piling and shipping lumber. The engine house is 40 by 60, containing a splendid engine of 150 horse power.

THE NEW EDINBURGH SAW MILLS, Messrs. J. Maclaren & Co. The power is supplied by the Rideau River, near its confluence with the Ottawa. The mill contains three gates, together with a large circular saw, having a capacity of sawing sixteen million feet of lumber during the season. 150 hands are kept employed in and about the mill.

Mr. E. B. EDDY, of Hull, has now in operation three saw mills, in which he keeps 160 men employed. A large match factory, built of stone, during the last season, in which 150 hands are employed, besides about half the families in Hull, who are kept at work making paper boxes for the matches,—pails, tubs, wash-boards, clothes-pins, &c. In this department he employs about 65 hands. Altogether from 900 to 1,000 men, women and girls are kept employed.

An addition has lately been made to the establishment of a frame building, two stories high, 60 feet long and twenty feet wide, in which there is a twenty-horse power steam engine, with boiler and leach room, containing two large leaches on the ground floor; the second story is occupied as a bark mill and heating room. ### MUSIC HALL.

Gowan's Music Hall is situated on the south side of Wellington street, and extends into Sparks street, having its principal frontage on that street. It has just been fitted up by the enterprising proprietors Messrs. H. & J. Gowan, and we have much pleasure in presenting our readers with a description of it, and in wishing the Messrs. Gowan great success which they deserve, as it supplies what was a great want in Ottawa, and no expense seems to have been spared to promote the comfort and convenience of the public. It is built of red brick, ornamented with white, and externally presents a very neat appearance. The ground floor is occupied by two stores, one of which is devoted to the Musical Department of their business, and which is roomy enough to allow Messrs. Gowan to carry on their picture frame and gilding business, which they do extensively. On the first floor (reached from Wellington st.,) is the splendid Ball and Concert Room, a fine apartment, 80 by 33, and 12 feet high; 600 persons can be comfortably accommodated with sitting room. It is well lighted and ventilated. The walls are beautifully decorated, and the effect at night, when the room is brilliantly lit up, reflects credit upon Mr. Gowan's taste. On the second floor there is a spacious supper-room, in size 52 by 33, and it will comfortably hold 300 guests at the tables. In immediate proximity, and opening into this room, is a kitchen, so that the annoyance of having refreshments prepared at a distance from the supper-room is obviated. On this flat are two dressing-rooms, one for ladies and the other for gentlemen. Both are fitted with every convenience, especially with large racks for bonnets hats, cloaks, &c. We omitted to notice in its proper place a very nice convenient orchestra at one end of the ball-room. This Hall is also well adapted for a Lecture-room, as well as a convenient place (from its central position) for public meetings.

It is the principal rendezvous and point of departure for lumbermen and raftsmen from the Capital. The scenery above the town is unsurpassed for romantic beauty, and is becoming a favorite resort for tourists. Daily communication with Ottawa, via Aylmer, by the splendid steamers of the Union Forwarding Co. ## RICHMOND.

An incorporated village prettily situated on the Goodwood River, in the Township of Goulbourn, County Carleton, in the midst of a fine wheat growing district. The village was laid out for the Government in 1817 by Colonel Fortune, and its settlement commenced the next year. It was a military point for some time after. It is called after the Duke of Richmond, who died here in 1819 from the effects of a bite received from an animal which he was endeavoring to tame. It is distant from Ottawa 20, from Perth 30, and from the Kemptville Station of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railroad 17 miles. Population 600.
