Provincial Wesleyan. WEDNESDAY, SEPTE 7, 1864.

The British Conference.

We have set aside other matter intended for this issue, in order to afford space for Conference intelligence received by the English mail.

An open session of Conference was held to receive the reports of the Representatives of the affiliated Conferences, and also the report of the President's Mission to America.

The other speakers were worthy of the occasion. The representative of the Australian Conference said only a few words.

The President's conduct as the Representative in America seems now to be pronounced perfect in its freedom from all political bias.

The following acknowledgment of the services rendered by Dr. Thornton in connection with his mission to America, was moved in the Conference...

The spiritual state of the Connection engaged the very earnest and prayerful consideration of the Conference, and on the last day of the session...

A very touching incident occurred in relation to Dr. Waddy. Mr. W. M. Bunting, in seconding some resolution, referred kindly to the fact that it was Dr. Waddy's sixteenth birthday.

One of the notabilities of the present Conference is Mr. Thomas Hughes, a minister who decidedly Welsh, but with a pluck which is undoubtedly English.

When he first addressed the Conference his odd pronunciation secured him a welcome more hearty than any other, but he maintained his point, and has won, in his hope, a kind of Darnley triumph, for he is now listened to with interest and growing respect.

The termination of Conference is to all who witness it a very affecting event. On the minds of those present there is a moral certainty that they will not all meet again in the same way.

Death will be busy before next year; and some must fall. No one could marvel, therefore, at the emotion of Mr. Thomas Jackson, who, as he lay in the President to offer prayer, but after the first ejaculation found himself unable to proceed...

Second Letter from the Rev. J. Lathern.

The town of Bradford is just now the scene of political, as well as ecclesiastical, excitement. Arrangements have been made for the erection of a "new Exchange" to meet the rapidly increasing demands of the mercantile class.

It has been said that the meeting in St. George's Hall, the ball, said to be one of the largest and most conspicuous in England, was thronged to its utmost capacity.

It has been said that an "Englishman is never happy but when he is miserable; a Scotchman never at home but when he is abroad; an Irishman never at peace but when he is fighting."

MACAULAY AS AN ESSAYIST. Extract from a Lecture delivered in Dartmouth, early in 1853.

Early in 1853 Jeffrey came up to London seeking for young blood wherewith to enrich the pages of the Edinburgh Review. His searching eye soon lighted upon the law student in the dingy chambers of Lincoln's Inn.

Colonial. COURT OF MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.—An action brought before this Court by Mrs. Peck, to obtain divorce from her husband on the ground of bigamy, was argued on Wednesday last.

A Fatal Accident occurred near Sydney C.B. a few days since, by the upsetting of a boat, which fell upon a young woman, causing her death instantly.

A Stabbing Affair took place at Turret last week, between a discharged Federal soldier and a man from New Brunswick named Beason, resulting in the death of the latter.

IMPORTANT ORDER.—Last week's Gazette contains the following notice from the Governor touching the disposal of Federal or Confederate vessels entering this port:—It is ordered, That if any Ship of War, or Privateer, or any other vessel of the United States, or of the States calling themselves the Confederate States of America, shall come into the Port of Halifax, or within the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty, in the vicinity of the said port, every vessel of War, or Privateer aforesaid, shall immediately come to anchor off the Narrows, unless prevented by stress of weather, and in the latter event, shall be required to anchor as aforesaid as soon as the weather will permit.

Dr. Shields follows the history of public service in this country, and tells us what the Presbyterian Church has done to guide and sustain it, and in what it has always been throughout its history what may be called a liturgical type of Presbyterianism, and that its advocates are of unimpeachable orthodoxy and piety.

The Spirit of Singing.

Sacred song is by divine appointment a part of public worship. If poetry is the flower of literature, music is the devotion of the sanctuary.

It is doubtful whether we, as a Church, have preserved among us the power and attractiveness of our old congregational singing. We have improved church music in artistic character and the harmony of its parts, but lost the wealth of passion and energy that once accompanied our hymns of praise.
