

CHEESE BUYERS SEND A PROTEST

Hon. Dr. Tolmie is Told Inspection at Montreal Not Good Business

LESSEN COMPETITION Belleville Exporters Would be Forced Out of Business Says Resolution

Local cheesemen have forwarded the following to the Hon. Mr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa, following their meeting of last Saturday:

The Committee appointed by the Belleville Cheese Board of Trade: R. M. Mitchell, J. W. Crews, Geo. Nicholson, Alex. Moore, F. J. Knight, to draft a resolution, notifying the Government that we are not in favor of Government inspection of cheese at Montreal for export.

The Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont. Dear Sir:— We the Members of the Belleville Cheese Board of Trade having heard that an Act has been passed authorizing the inspection of all Cheese at Montreal, strongly desire to place ourselves on record as protesting against the enforcement of the Act for the following reasons:—

1. That we have been working for years to obtain factory inspection, which system has proven very satisfactory.
2. The cheesemakers would not guarantee quality after the cheese had left the factory and this would make it harder to get makers.
3. The delay and confusion of waiting for payment of cheese until the report of quality had been sent back would be another source of annoyance and loss.
4. That owing to the fact that if any cheese were not classed as finest they could be handed to far better advantage locally.
5. For the past forty years farmers, cheesemakers and exporters have been co-operating in their efforts to produce cheese of the finest quality, and have succeeded in establishing in the markets of Great Britain such a reputation for cheese made in the Bay of Quinte District as enables them to sell their output at a higher price than can be obtained for cheese made in any other part of Canada.
6. If Cheese sold on the Boards in the Counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Lennox & Addington has to go to Montreal for inspection it will lessen the competition between buyers, as many of the local exporters would be obliged to cease exporting, as they could not compete with Montreal buyers, whose warehouses are in Montreal. This would result in a heavy loss to exporters, who have warehouses for storing cheese in Belleville, and their absence as buyers from the local Boards, would mean lower prices for the cheese offered for sale by the farming community in this district.
7. If cheese must be graded before being exported, we respectfully request you as Minister of Agriculture to protect the interests of the farmers, by having Belleville made a centre for inspection. This you will be justified in doing, as millions of dollars worth of cheese is shipped annually on Through Bills of Lading from Belleville to ports in Great Britain.

At the Cheese Board Meeting on June 4th, 1921 there was appointed by the Board, a delegation to meet the Minister of Agriculture in person, to place their views before the Government on this subject, which is very important to the Dairymen of Prince Edward, Hastings and adjacent Counties. The Delegation will consist of the salesmen of the various factories of the district, those from the Belleville Board being about fifty in number.

We as the Committee would ask the Minister to appoint a date that would be agreeable to have the Delegation meet him at Ottawa before definite action has been taken regarding grading of cheese at Montreal.

F. J. Knight, Secretary of Committee.

U. S. VOTES FOR PEACE

Motion in Congress to End War With Huns Adopted

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The House has adopted the Porter Resolution establishing a technical state of peace with Germany and Austria. The vote was 305 to 61, with many Democrats supporting the measure.

A disarmament amendment to the resolution, offered by Democratic House leaders, was defeated, 254 to 112, on a strict party vote.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Allan, Guelph, celebrated their golden wedding.

STRAWBERRIES VERY CHEAP DROP TO 14c IN TORONTO

TORONTO, June 14.—Quotations on strawberries slumped badly on the local fruit market this morning. Receipts over night were very heavy and old timers claim that they were the heaviest on record for any one day. Opening quotations were 17 cents per box as compared with 22 cents yesterday afternoon and the price soon broke to 14 cents, with possibility of touching 10 cents before the close of the day. Strawberries were quite plentiful on the market today and were slow sellers, prices ranging from 24 to 27c per box.

Against "Flag-Waving" to Make People Loyal; Kindly Action, Smile Best

Calgary, Alta., June 14.—"Sometimes I think our women's organizations go round and round without going forward, but we of this vast country need some sort of social cement and we women will have to be that social cement," so declared Mrs. Nellie McClung to the National Council of Women, now assembled here in expressing her appreciation of their splendid work, especially that of arousing a social consciousness. The western novelist bade Canadian women not be satisfied with the mere greatness of their geographical borders.

"Win your new neighbors by old-fashioned kindness, bind these people by cords of love," said Mrs. McClung. "You can't ram loyalty down people's throats with flags, it is the kind smile, the neighborly act, the sisterly way, that does things."

In referring to the coming entertainment by Calgary citizens of three hundred brides of Canadian soldiers who will take short courses in Canadian house-keeping methods, Mrs. McClung expressed her delight. There is nothing so worth while as these Old Country brides, said Mrs. McClung, who told of how Edmonton entertained 301 women and 105 children. Citizens took them into their homes and churches, served old-time meals to city-honored guests. A touching story was that of a woman who had come up after course with a big roll of bills to save herself from despair at crop failure, a horse that died, and the unfriendliness of Canadian neighbors who didn't seem to care. The soldier's wife had saved herself from madness by feeling that she had the price of a ticket home, but so overcome had she been by Edmonton's kindness that she was a new woman. She was going to stay in Canada, buy new curtains, a suit for her husband, and another horse, and begin again.

In voicing her feelings that the future efforts of the world's women would bring peace, Mrs. McClung warned her audience not to be lulled into false security of optimism now.

She told of the story told by the woman who, when war broke out, determined her boys should not go. "I sent them away," said she. "I made my boys forget their country and they have forgotten me. They do not even write. I saw other mother's sons come back to them scarred but honored, but I, who have tried to save my boys, have lost them."

After a lengthy day of discussing reports of standing committees most of the delegates, with their western hostesses, are spending the week-end at glorious Banff. As yet Ontario, with its twenty-five delegates, has the largest representation, but many of the familiar faces are missing in the delegation at large.

Bottles, 2x$6--$12; Two Fined $110 Each; Third Awaits Sentence

Three Pictonians, who yesterday wound up a day's pleasure by getting in touch with something "that might be whiskey but looked like dope," as Magistrate Masson put it in court this morning, landed in the toils.

They are Samuel Burns, charged with having liquor in a prohibited place and with intoxication; Robert Ayers, accused of drinking in a prohibited place and of intoxication and Royal Reid, accused of drinking in a public place and of intoxication. All today admitted the charges. Savers and Reid were each fined $100 and costs on one charge and $10 and costs on the others.

Mr. Burns fared otherwise, his case being laid over until tomorrow. Burns confessed to buying two bottles of "stuff" for twelve dollars and evidence tended to show that he, being the older man, was responsible for getting the others into trouble as one paid him two dollars and the other was to pay him when he got home. Burns is out on bail. The stuff worked like soothing syrup. One of the young men remembered little after the first drink but recalled being arrested, but nothing more until he awakened in the cells just before dawn.

The booze was got in a hotel yard, the seller being a man unknown to the three.

TEN PER CENT REDUCTION IN PASSENGER FARES SOON

OTTAWA, June 14.—A ten per cent reduction in standard passenger railway fares in Eastern Canada to become effective July 1, was authorized by the Board of Railway Commissioners this morning. This will mean a return to rates prevailing prior to September last when a twenty per cent. increase was granted to the companies. At the time this increase was made the board ordered that rates were to be reduced ten per cent on January 1st last, and a further ten per cent. on July 1.

Dr. Ferguson Returns Here As High Official in China; To Speak at Thursday Noon

Dr. John C. Ferguson, an old Belleville boy and for several years past adviser to the president of China, will arrive in the city tomorrow afternoon to pay a brief visit to his old home. He is now en route to China and will remain here until the following afternoon. The Forum Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has secured the consent of Dr. Ferguson to deliver an address at a Monday luncheon on Thursday, June 16. The speaker has chosen for his subject "Our New World." All members of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary and Lions' Clubs and all old friends of Dr. Ferguson are especially invited to attend. As Dr. Ferguson is one of the outstanding Canadians of our time and a figure of international prominence, his address is being looked forward to with eager interest and a large audience will likely be present to hear him.

TINO LEAVES TO LEAD ARMY

Athens Goes Wild in its Enthusiasm as the King Sails for Smyrna

FAVORITE TROOPS NEAR Constantine Is Gambling to Win or Lose All on Forthcoming Campaign

ATHENS, June 14.—Athens once more is in a patriotic ecstasy as King Constantine's message, delivered on sailing for Smyrna, is repeated in the streets, by a praying, highly emotional, candle-light-parading populace. "I go to lead my armies yonder," said Constantine's address to the nation, "where Hellenism has struggled for centuries. With the aid of the All Highest victory will crown the effort of our race, advancing irresistibly toward its destiny. Trusting in Divine assistance, in my heroic army, in the unconquerable moral force of Hellenic ideals, I go where the accomplishment of these supreme national associates calls me."

As Constantine, the Crown Prince, Premier Gounaris, the Minister of War, H. M. Theotokis and other dignitaries progressed through the streets to the point where he embarked on the battleship Lemnos, formerly the U.S.S. battleship Idaho, he was swept along on waves of hysterical popularity overruling the acclaim that greeted him on his return from exile in Lucerne. All about him in a protective formation marched the stalwarts of the famous Palace Regiment of Evzones, a mountaineer unit of especial devotion to the person of the king.

King Tina is gambling to win or lose all on the success or failure of the impending Greek offensive in Asia Minor.

In this attack he is playing his trump. Tino already on scene Smyrna, June 14.—King Constantine arrived here yesterday afternoon and was greeted enthusiastically, although the ardor of the crowd was not so great as at Athens. The Allied warships had left the harbor in order to avoid saluting the King.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 14.—"We are marching to Constantinople," the new war song of the Bolsheviks, is considered here to be significant in connection with the Bolshevik propaganda, looking to the taking of the city.

All railroads leading to the chief Black Sea ports are said to be undergoing repairs to prepare them for heavy traffic. Bela Kun, Bolshevik commissary in the Crimea, is said to be putting the Crimean ports in good condition, meantime arranging to get coal from the Donetz basin and encouraging the peasants to increase their crops.

Prentice Boys Here Grand Lodge Meeting

Delegates From as Far East as St. John, N. E.—Will Picnic at the Sand Banks

Returning to Belleville after two years' absence, the Protestant Association of Prentice Boys opened their annual grand lodge this morning at the Maiden City Lodgeroom. Grand Master Andrew Mason, of Ottawa, was in the chair.

There are delegates present from as far east as St. John's, N. B., where the lodge met last year. This morning's business was merely of a routine nature—registration and appointment of committees and committee work.

Maiden City Lodge members are hoping to wind up Grand Lodge proceedings by noon tomorrow to enable them to take the delegation, by motor, to the Sand Banks in the afternoon for a picnic.

Maiden City Lodge, Belleville, is one of the strong points in Prentice Boys' Order.

ADMITS FAILURE OF SOVIET IDEALS

Russian Agent States That Country Now Must Have Direction of Capitalists

CANNOT WALK ALONE Moscow Once More Recognizes Private Property—Welcomes Capitalists

PARIS, June 14.—Russia's rapid reconstruction under Lenin's new policy of co-operation with the capitalists is assured by the self-interest of both parties, declared Leonid Krassin, Russian Soviet Minister of Commerce and Trade, in a signed interview given the London correspondent of the Petit Parisien yesterday. Krassin said the hunger of the capitalists for Russia's natural riches would obtain their aid, and the absolute need of directing ability by the Soviets would guarantee the protection of foreign interests.

Confession of Failure. A frank confession of past mistakes in Russia and an expression of hope for the future was also voiced by L. Krassin, Bolshevik trade agent in London, in a signed article in the Sunday Times. The article is one of the clearest expressions that has come from a Bolshevik representative in confirmation of reports that some of the most radical ideas of the past were now being abandoned.

"Great changes have taken place within the last few months in the body politic of Russia," Krassin's article declared. "Moscow has found it absolutely necessary to consummate trade agreements with capitalists through the world. We wish to duplicate the British trade agreement with France, America, Italy and Scandinavian countries. Moscow realizes that anything resembling a Communist revolution in Western Europe is now more or less remote."

So far as foreign trade is concerned, Moscow has recognized private property, and private ownership. It has created the essential elements of a new bourgeoisie, without the fundamental evils of the old, and with a stern democratic control.

"At the present moment Moscow welcomes foreign capitalists. The government realizes it cannot, without assistance, organize its own trade and consequently must turn to foreign concessions. It must rely on the money, experience and initiative of foreign capitalists to create stable and economic conditions with which to make for Russian prosperity."

LOOKS LIKE AN ELECTION. Lloyd George Rumored as Favoring Appeal to Voters

LONDON, June 14.—Even in quarters not unfavorably disposed toward the Coalition Government the result of last week's and this week's general industry and economic situation have aroused wide speculations concerning the possibility of an appeal to the country. Lloyd George is rumored as contemplating a general election at least before the introduction of the new budget. Even if defeated it is suggested he would leave to his successors such a hotbed of unavoidable expenditure and other legacies of the aftermath of the war as to ensure them an ignominious exit with the triumphant return of the then recently discarded leader.

The Sunday Observer speaks of last week's events as being the turning point in national politics. The Coalition Government would, it says, have already been irretrievably doomed with any other man at its head and it urges the Premier to pull himself and his friends together by concentrating, if only for a short time, on domestic politics and by recognizing the discontent of the middle classes as powerfully exhibited in the St. George's, Westminster, by-election.

PRINCE MOBBED BY GIRLS. His Royal Highness "Rescued" By Mounted Police at Cardiff

LONDON, June 14.—The Prince of Wales, always popular with girls, was mobbed by a crowd of pretty young women trying to shake his hand at Cardiff the other afternoon, as he was about to depart for Bristol, and escaped to his train only when a group of mounted police walked their horses through beauty's ranks.

Unsuspecting, the Prince jocularly began to shake hands with a small group of pretty young women and before he had greeted a dozen the group became a small feminine army. When "saved" by the police he had barely time to skip to his train, before it pulled out.

Appeal by Annie Frances Reid, widow of Robert Hiram Reid, now wife of Harry Argue, from judgment of Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford delivered March 26th, 1920. The deceased gave his father, Andrew Reid, $3,290 shortly before his death, $600 by handing that sum over to Andrew Reid and $2690 by constituting a joint account in the Standard Bank at Belleville in the names of the deceased and Andrew Reid. Annie Frances Reid, the widow, and the official guardian objected to these gifts on the passing of accounts before His Honour Judge Wills, claiming that they were part of the estate, and the Surrogate Court Judge held that these sums were part of the estate, and the executors must account to the beneficiaries for same. The executors appealed and the Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford set aside the holding of the Surrogate Court Judge and held the gifts were valid. The widow and the official guardian then appealed with the result that their appeal was dismissed today with costs, and held the gifts were valid and must stand. E. J. RE-ENGAGE PRINCIPAL AND STAFF say it was impossible to treat with the Board until Mr. MacLaurin, the principal, was given a "fair and gentlemanly" hearing in this "crisis."

The Board went into committee on the question with Mr. C. M. Reid as chairman. Immediately Col. Ponton, Mr. J. A. Higgs, Mr. McGee, Mr. D. V. Sinclair, Mr. John Elliott, spoke. They all said that "the present situation was an impossible one," and deplored the fact that Mr. MacLaurin seemed to be in a dual position.

Mr. Higgs said he was certain Mr. MacLaurin was sincere. He had heard 90 per cent. of the teachers here and elsewhere were members of the Federation—really a union. "We refuse," said Mr. Higgs, "to recognize the union, though we pay union wages. When the federation dictates it makes me just as mad as when the Federation of Labor dictates. It's the same thing."

Mr. MacLaurin's Reply

Principal MacLaurin's reply was typewritten—and dramatic. He first read seven things he regretted, and half a dozen he did not regret, and then passed—sat down in fact. Walked for them to ask him to proceed.

He regretted any ungentlemanly or unmanly things he had done, any weakness displayed, and "that the soothing influence had gone out of his life" in the past few years.

He did not regret his stand on the federation question, his advocacy for better conditions for teachers.

"Truth will prevail," he declared dramatically.

He read several pages of closely typed manuscript which set forth his conception of what had transpired at recent committee meetings. He said all the teachers wanted was fair play and a fair chance.

"Eighty per cent. of this Board are personal friends of mine. The remainder not. That is why this situation has arisen. That is one of the reasons why I regret that the soothing influence has gone from my life.

"It is so irritating to be misrepresented. If I had not been a man I'd have left the city," he said. He had advised the Board—without dictation, but his presentation of facts had been distorted. He had

The Salaries Fixed

The discussion that followed Mr. MacLaurin's reply was opened by Mr. McGee, chairman of the Board of Education. He personally was for Mr. MacLaurin, as a fine man and good citizen. He could not understand him, however, occupying the dual position of advisor to the Board and local representative of the Federation.

He felt that the teachers were usurping the powers of the Board. "It is trade unionism of the most rabid kind."

Mr. Higgs—"I did not get that impression from what transpired in committee." Mr. MacLaurin said, "I think that the Board was missing something by not getting the benefit of the experience of the teaching staff," and Mr. MacLaurin nodded in affirmation.

Col. Ponton—"Do you want collective bargaining?"

Mr. MacLaurin—"We do. This is the idea. New teachers coming here to take a position are asked not to come for less than a $2,000 minimum. They are asked not to under-bill teachers here to get a position. But teachers here now do not ask for that—it may take them 10 years to get it. We had to start somewhere and that is how we started."

Mr. McGee—"I think the teachers here—the Federation—were wrong in naming the Principal of the High School to take up the cudgels for them."

Mr. A. A. Affleck (one of the teachers)—"We feel now that in appointing Mr. MacLaurin as spokesman for us that we made a mistake. We are not a 'closed shop.' Mr. MacLaurin made no mistakes for which the staff are not to blame."

Mr. Sinclair—"I think the teachers have a perfect right to have a Federation if they want one. I have every regard for Mr. MacLaurin."

Mr. Deacon (chairman of the School Management Committee)—"We are no farther ahead. The federation whether we recognize it or not has beaten us so far. I am given to understand that the Federation has had Mr. MacLaurin give some solemn binding obligation to serve it and the staff here. I would like if that is so, that he be released from it. We want the principal of our high school not a member of this federation. Let him stay with the Board, as men in other towns have done, and he will likely get more money than he did before."

In the committee in dealing with the teacher's pay they had been influenced by Mr. MacLaurin, but when the federation idea came up were "at loggerheads."

Col. Ponton—"It is the sorriest of trades and the sorriest of professions. Through the intervention of the labor union we were prevented from getting teachers who had applied for and accepted positions on our school staff. They've not been allowed to come. Belleville is not ripe for the closed shop among teachers. We admire them as individuals. They should confer with us as individuals. We, not they, are the ones to fix salaries."

"It comes down to the question: is it collective bargaining or individual bargaining? We begged them to come as individuals and we will be more than generous. This minimum of $2,000 is not in accord with the spirit of the times—they have chosen an unfortunate time."

Mr. MacLaurin's Reply

been accused of interfering with teachers coming here. That was not true. "If I am a sinner I have sinned only as one of the members of the Federation; all are equally guilty. I deny meddling with teachers."

"The Federation is a factor and he told the Board it would be."

Speaking of what had transpired at a committee meeting he declared that one of the committee had said: "We will not recognize the union, let us prick this bubble now."

That resulted in what amounted to a threat to quit by the staff but this trouble was short and blew over.

Mr. MacLaurin told the meeting last night that subsequent to a committee meeting he had been told he would be dismissed if he told any of the teachers of what had then transpired. He had not told them; had in fact refused to tell them.

Wrong notions of what the federation stood for obtained, he said. It was not proposed to bolster up weak teachers; it was not altogether a matter of salary. It was to elevate the profession to a plane where they would not be subject to humiliation by Boards of Education. They wanted to be the equal of a doctor or a lawyer or a laboring man, a person respected in the community.

izing for the Federation. But there is no binding obligation on Mr. MacLaurin. He is free to act in his capacity as principal. We know, we could never induce him to give such an obligation."

Mr. MacLaurin told them that teachers here were not demanding $2,000 necessarily, but to engage new teachers that was the Federation minimum. The schedule as suggested by the teachers could be considered by the Board. They didn't have to be re-engaged, the Board could dismiss them; that was its privilege.

That put the meeting on a new footing and they quickly proceeded then to voting on the fixing of salaries. The first thing they did was to rescind the "rescinding motion" with reference to Principal MacLaurin's increase of $200, and then re-engage him at $3,100.

The others quickly followed: Mr. Stillwell at $2,300, Mr. Shorey at $2,200, Mr. Affleck at $2,400, an increase of $400, Mr. Leuty at $2,000, Miss Libby at $2,000, Miss Hitchon at $2,000, Miss Young at $2,000, an increase of $100, Miss Merry at $1,800, Miss Pennell at $1,900, Miss Baker (Domestic Science) at $1,400.

IT'S MAGNA CHARTA DAY

Rifort Under Way to Draw Attention to the Occasion

Today is Magna Charta Day. A movement is on foot to have the day commemorated in the interest of Anglo-American unity by the seven English-speaking nations, not as another legal holiday, but to have public attention drawn to the Great Charter of British Liberty through the press.

An exact replica of the Magna Charta in color is on view today in the window of F. S. Anderson, Coal Co., Bridge St., having been placed there by the Women's Canadian Club.

The members of the club are asking the ministers of the city to mention the Magna Charta anniversary on Sunday next.

DAVY JONES DIDN'T LIKE TASTE OF WHISKEY!

No, that story is a Trifle Exaggerated But True one is Pretty Good.

VANCOUVER, June 15.—The alleged underhand attempt by Davy Jones to rob the provincial government of ten thousand cases of Scotch aboard the steamer Spectator by sucking the vessel beneath the sea off the Mexican coast, has been exaggerated, Captain H. Owen reported on arrival here.

The captain said it was true that volcanic disturbances in Mexico caused an earthquake which was felt by the big steamer, but the story of being drawn into Davy Jones and spewed forth again because Davy did not like the taste of whiskey was without foundation. A special report of the occurrence has been handed in by the officials to offset misleading reports.

RAFT TIMBER OVER TO JAPAN

Nipponese Firm Will Try Once More to Ship It That Way

LACED OUTSIDE BY CABLE

First Attempt Will be Made in August—Not New Experiment

VANCOUVER, June 15.—A Japanese firm proposes to make another attempt to raft timber from British Columbia to Japan. They believe that the Davis Ratt structure, of which the outside rows of logs are laced with cable, can be made to stand the trans-Pacific passage. The first raft will leave this coast about August. It will have a super-structure of piled logs, strongly laced. Hitherto rafted logs have not withstood long sea journeys, except one which was taken from San Francisco to China about twenty years ago. Favored by calm seas the raft was safely landed. The Chinese, however, refused to big logs, took ten years to cut up this boom, using long hand rip saws to make the boards.

BUFFALOES TOO NUMEROUS

Government Proposes to Kill 1100 at Wainwright

WAINWRIGHT, Alta., June 15.—The increase in the number of Buffaloes in Buffalo Park, Wainwright, Alta., has reached such proportions that it is proposed to slaughter 1,000 of the animals this year. It is expected that a considerable sum will be realized from the sale of the meat, hides and heads.

CANADIANS IN DROVES WILL GO TO SEE FIGHT; RINGSIDE SEATS FOR THEM

NEW YORK, June 15.—(By Canadian Press)—At least 2500 Canadian fight fans will witness the Dempsey-Carpentier, world championship battle. Reservations for that number of seats have been received from across the border, according to officials in charge of the seat sale. The total number of Canadians who will attend, it was said, will likely be in excess of that number, many tickets having been purchased by Dominion fight enthusiasts through friends in New York.

The majority of the Canadians who have bought seats are residents of eastern Canada. A party from Toronto, headed by P. J. Mulqueen and including Mayor T. L. Church will occupy fifteen ringside seats. George Kennedy, well known Montreal sportsman, has arranged for a party of fifty. Ringside seats have been secured and a special train will bring the sportsmen from Montreal.

Western Canada will be well represented. A party of 100 will start from Winnipeg and according to information here will include fight enthusiasts from many western cities.

Arrival of sportsmen from Ontario will be facilitated through the running of two special trains from Buffalo.

Fight officials have announced that among fifteen European newspaper correspondents, who will attend the fight, are: Jeffrey Farnol, famous writer, who will represent the Daily Mail; Tom Webster, Daily Mail cartoonist and Harvey Preston, Evening News and Weekly Despatch; all of London, England.

FIGHT ON JULY 2ND NEXT TO BE HUGE MONEYMAKER FOR RICKARD AND UNCLE SAM

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Dempsey-Carpentier boxing bout for the world's championship at Jersey City, July 2, will draw the greatest "gate" in the history of sport.

A month before the fight, Promoter "Tex" Rickard announced that the seat sales totalled $650,000. Since that day, the sale of all seats has gone on briskly except for the $50 pasteboards, which are exhausted, and the general admission seats to be placed on sale the day of the fight. Rickard estimates that approximately 65,000 persons will pay $1,000,000 to view the ring action at Boyle's Thirty Acres.

Those figures will eclipse by far all previous records for ring contests or any other sport in this country. The Willard-Dempsey battle at Toledo, O., which established the previous record drew $451,000 at the box office, a puny figure as compared with what the coming spectacle will attract.

The Harvard-Yale football game and the Indianapolis Speedway Races are annually reckoned among the largest and most widely patronized sporting events in this country. Last fall, 79,000 persons were jammed into the Yale Bowl when Harvard met the Bulldog and the total receipts were approximately $250,000 about one-quarter of the amount which will be paid for the coming fight. The attendance at the Indianapolis Speedway event usually ranges between 100,000 and 125,000 but total receipts fall short of what Rickard and his assistants will have gathered in when the gong sounds for the first round of the Jersey City battle.

"Tex" Rickard started his career as a promoter of championship bouts on a large scale when Joe Gans met Battling Nelson in Goldfield, Nev., in 1906. The receipts for that memorable battle were $69,715. That was topped when Jack Johnson fought Tommy Burns in Australia, on Christmas Day, 1908, but Rickard again established a high mark in 1910 when boxing fans from all over the country paid $270,775 to see the Jeffries-Johnson conflict at Reno, Nev. Figures for the Willard-Dempsey bout at Toledo, July 4, 1919, supplanted even that large total and Rickard, in the coming Jersey City match has entered the select circle of "million-dollar business men."

Figures on leading bouts of recent years, follow:

Principals	Gate Receipts
Willard-Dempsey	$452,521
Johnson-Jeffries	270,755
Willard-Moran	140,000
Johnson-Burns	97,000
Gans-Nelson	69,715
Willard-Johnson	68,000
Jeffries-Sharkey	66,000
Jeffries-Corbett	63,340
Corbett-McCoy	56,350

Canadian oats lead the world for quality and are in great demand for seed in every civilized country, but oats generally receive little attention and are raised in a haphazard sort of way. Very few farmers put in seed plots, although there is no other crop which responds so readily to intelligent selection and treatment.

Careful experiments have proven conclusively that the formaldehyde treatment of the seed for smut frequently increases the yield more than would be naturally expected from simply replacing smutted heads with sound ones.

This is probably due to the fact that the grain is attacked by other seed-borne parasites which are as effectively checked-as smut, adding to the general health of the grain.

Seed Grain Fundamentals.

1. Select the variety for your neighborhood best adapted to soil and climate. If it is decided to put in both an early and late oat, do not get them mixed. It will be fatal to both.
2. Fan and grade your seed until you have removed all shriveled and broken kernels, sticks, chaff and weed seeds.
3. Test your seeds for germination in a wet blotting paper and plant only strong-sprouting seed.
4. Treat your seed grain with formaldehyde to prevent smut and other diseases.
5. Put oats in early.

TO KEEP EYE ON LAKE TRANSPORT

Washington, D. C. and Men Who Make Laws There Will Watch Canada

ST. LAWRENCE ROUTE Railroads Hostile to Canal Route and Their Attitude is Interesting One

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(By Canadian Press).—Increased attention is going to be given by Congress to inland water transportation from this time forth. This is the word that comes from prominent members of both houses who have been giving thought to the general transportation problem of the United States. The sentiment for intelligent consideration of the inland water transportation is especially marked among some members of the House and Senate interstate commerce committees, the committees that have jurisdiction of railroad matters and which have therefore been obliged to give study to the shortcomings of the existing rail system.

For some years in Congress it has been the fashion to criticize the river and harbor bill as a "pork barrel" measure. This criticism in the case of some appropriations has been well-founded but at the same time it has been operated to prevent waterway improvements that have deserved to be carried ahead. Likewise the criticism has been exactly what the railroads wanted, in view of the hostility of the roads to waterway development.

Congress Sits Up But the high rail rates, the seeming inability of the railroads to give the service the public demands, and the very evident fact that with the development of the country there will be traffic for both the rails and the waterways, in plenty, are serving to bring about a different attitude in Congress toward river and harbor appropriations. Many indications are given that Congress and the administration are going to try to develop water transportation and coordinate it with the railroad transportation.

Such projects as the development of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence water route, the development of the Mississippi to the gulf and a number of others that might be mentioned, according to all signs are going to be given serious consideration by this Congress and efforts made to get them under way and to the stage where they are not merely subjects for stump speeches and after dinner oratory. The development of the Erie canal, though this is a New York State waterway, is going ahead, according to information here, and efforts are to be made to make effective use of it as a channel for a large volume of traffic, including coal and grain.

Whole Country Interested The whole country about the Great Lakes and throughout the Mississippi valley is interested in seeing a large amount of boat traffic go over the Lakes and get to the eastern coast by the Erie or St. Lawrence routes. The pressure for this from chambers of commerce and business organizations is growing. This pressure is felt in Congress.

Representative Sweet, a prominent member of the House interstate commission, said recently it was imperative that Congress would give close and intelligent attention to inland waterway transportation from now on. He holds that meritorious water route projects must be encouraged by Congress and not condemned without consideration simply because of the criticism of some things the rivers and harbor bill has been loaded down with in the past.

Most Underpaid Workers In World Are Ministers; A Review of the Situation

The most underpaid workers in the world, in proportion to the unescapable calls made upon them, are Christian ministers. Therefore, it was a commendable thing that in the recent General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, a resolution was passed to increase the minimum salary of ministers. The resolution fixed the lowest salary to be paid to a married minister as $1800. That is far too low, but is an advance. Therefore, also, the overwhelming sentiment shown in the General Assembly in favor of Presbyterian union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches should be a gratification to decent people apart altogether from religious considerations, for such union will facilitate a greater measure of justice to ministers in the matter of salary than anything else in the world could. Union will mean one congregation and one minister in a great many places where now are two or three of each, with a proportionately better opportunity to treat ministers fairly.

A man engaged in the Christian ministry may be indifferent himself to the scale of compensation; but he would not be much of a man, let alone much of a pastor, if he were indifferent to the comfort and welfare of wife and children. These he must wish to have home comfort, decent food, decent clothing, decent education. The scale of salaries paid to pastors has been low, too low to permit of a minister being sure of how he will be able to provide for his family, and this undoubtedly accounts in part for the fact that the number of candidates for the ministry in all the Protestant Churches has been falling off recently to an ominous extent. Six thousand pulpits are stated to be vacant in the United States; and thousands of ministers besides are compelled to undertake more or less work outside their ministerial duties to secure a decent living for their families, a condition which, of course, interferes with their full ministerial usefulness.

A significant light on the subject is shed by the United States income tax returns, which require all citizens to state their income, whether they come into the taxable class or not. This has enabled a compilation of the incomes of ministers by The Christian Work, which brings out the fact that of the 170,000 active pastors of the United States, 1,671 receive or earn from all sources $4,000 per year or more. The complete tabulation is as follows:—

- 1 per cent. of ministers receive $4,000 or more.
- 1.4 per cent. of ministers receive $3,000 to $4,000.
- 4.6 per cent. of ministers receive $2,000 to $3,000.
- 9.3 per cent. of ministers receive $1,500 to $2,000.
- 32.6 per cent. of ministers receive $1,000 to $1,500.
- 33.6 per cent. of ministers receive $500 to $1,000.
- 12.7 per cent. of ministers receive $500 or less.

Not only are the ministers boycotted by the refusal of the church members to pay adequate salaries; they must look forward to the boycott being continued after they retire from the active ministry. No denomination, says the writer, pays an adequate pension to its retired or disabled ministers, as the following revised table of 1918 shows:

- 4,152 beneficiaries received less than $100.
- 3,658 beneficiaries received from $100 to $200.
- 2,863 beneficiaries received from $200 to $300.
- 1,370 beneficiaries received from $300 to $400.
- 427 beneficiaries received from $400 to $500.
- 103 beneficiaries received from $500 to $600.
- 37 beneficiaries received from $600 to $700.
- 8 beneficiaries received from $700 to $800.
- 5 beneficiaries received from $800 to $900.

These figures, we are informed, were taken from the reports of seventeen denominations. Analysis, says the writer, shows that:— "One-third of the pensioners received less than $100 a year, and three-fifths received less than $200. It seems hardly appropriate for the church to talk much about industrial injustice when it treats its own employees in this shameful way. The preacher must live on less than half of what the Government has established a living wage. He can not save up for old age. He must live in poverty and look forward to charity."

"This is not a picture very alluring to young men. The boycott of the church members against the ministry is having its effect. If this unchristian boycott is not soon lifted the Christian Church will lose that prestige that has been hers in the past.

The moral is plain. It is a moral for the Protestant. In the Catholic Church the necessity is different, because the Catholic clergy are unmarried; yet the Catholic Church has the common sense to provide not merely comfort but dignity for its priests. The moral for the Protestant Churches is that they must do better for their clergy. Church union will make this easier; but the main thing is that every individual Protestant should feel it to be his personal and individual concern to see that his minister receives not merely a fair hearing but a generous compensation.

Killed by Lightning

(National Crop Improvement Service.) In the summer time when the thunder caps appear in the sky and the storm sweeps down on the farm, the farmer thinks less of his safety than he does of his live stock.

When the storm is in the field during the storm it may happen that the animals drift against the wire fence, which may be heavily charged with electricity, and are shocked to death. The ordinary fence built on wooden posts should be grounded every sixth post by means of a wire six or eight feet long twisted around all of the live wires of the fence and then secured in a hole in the ground. The hole should be dug deep enough so that the wire comes in contact with moist earth. A fence so grounded offers no danger to live stock during the thunderstorm.

The wire fence built on galvanized steel fence posts is already grounded at every post and no thunderstorm with its discharge of lightning can injure the cattle enclosed by such a fence.

A fine list of sports are in store and the day is to be packed with items of interest, beginning at 10 a.m. with a baseball match between the Trail Rangers of Cannton, and Rednersville and races for the children of primary and junior classes. At 11 o'clock a programme of songs, elocution and talks, followed by picnic dinner at 12 noon. At one, a parade of the bands in attendance competing groups of not less than 10 each from the different schools for which special prizes are being given. Then two hours of contests and races, free-for-all, etc., will take up the afternoon until four o'clock when a league match is to be played between Picton and Rednersville baseball teams. A good booth will be erected upon the grounds and the profits will be used to defray the expenses for the sports, cup, banner, etc. Everybody free to come and enjoy this big Sunday School Field Day.

The evening is being celebrated by a Chautauq concert in the church here, which it is expected will be a fitting closing for a memorable event.

Miss Helen Hermon is the latest victim of appendicitis having undergone an operation yesterday. Latest reports are very favorable. She is in Belleville Hospital.

The material for the improvement of the interior of the church here, arrived on Friday and the carpenters are expected to begin work early this week. The decoration it is hoped will be next in order.

Mrs. Arvilla Anderson and daughter Miss Evelyn, leave this week end for Banff. They expect to remain in Toronto several days en route.

Mr. Lorne Dempsey and little daughter, have also removed to St. Catharines where Mr. Dempsey has good employment.

Mrs. McAlister and little one of Toronto, are visiting at Mr. Elijah Brickman, her parents, and Mr. McAlister intends to follow soon and settle here.

The senior baseball team accompanied by members of enthusiastic villagers went over to the Sandbanks on Saturday last for another match. The West Lake fellows got a good lead and showed the visitors of a week before that there are others who like to win and so made them work hard. However, as the game proceeded the Rednersville competitors put up a strong effort and in part retrieved their earlier losses. The score stood 14 to 11 in favor of West Lake. Allistonville plays here next Saturday, 18th inst.

The popular band it to attend the Ice Cream Social at Albany Church on Wednesday evening the 15th and expect to furnish most of the programme along with some talent in song and elocution. D. T. Stafford, recording steward will accompany Rev. L. M. Sharpe to the Conference at Whitby this week as lay delegate from this circuit. The Sunday Schools have charge of the services in the various churches next Sunday.

PROVINCIAL CONSTABLE BREAKS OUT OF JAIL

Cobourg—Woodstock is not to be permitted to have all the sensation. The spot light was turned on Cobourg, when Provincial Constable Andrews, being held on a charge of burglary and also an offence under the O.T.A., climbed the jail wall and escaped. A large motor truck which had been seized, was standing in the jail yard. Climbing up on the truck, Andrews had no trouble in climbing over the wall. He followed the lake shore road and when he reached the turn to the main gravel road he climbed one of the large willow trees, there intending, no doubt, to remain until darkness came on.

A couple of ladies happened to pass and noticed Andrews in hiding and reported the same to Chief Ruse. In company with the Night Constable they motored out and had no difficulty in landing the prisoner. He was returned to the jail after he enjoyed his liberty for about four hours.

Frankford's Park. Frankford—The Park has become the beauty spot of Frankford since it has been freshened up. The Maples are showing good growth and in a few years will add wonderfully to the appearance of the town. An effort is being made to have a pump placed in the new unused well on the grounds.

NO SPEED BOATS UP THE LAKES

Trent Waterways Not to Be the Mecca for Fast Launches as of Old

RACES ELSEWHERE CALL BOYCAYGEON LOCK IS NOT OPEN—Belleville Boat in Dry Docks

The Peterboro Examiner says: On account of the Boycaygeon lock not being opened until July 15 and with international boat races at the Thousand Islands, Detroit, Chicago and Toronto early in July and other races coming off in August speed-boats contemplating a cruise in the Trent waterways this year find it impossible to carry out their plans and the present indications are that there will be no speed boats in these waters this year. Mr. G. K. Fraser, president of the Trent Waterways Development Association, advised the Examiner to this effect, when he was in the city en route to Rice Lake with his lovely motor cruiser, "The Wanderer."

Mr. Fraser stated that numerous speed boats had planned a trip up the lakes to work in a little pleasure between the races but they had expected the lock to be open sooner. The opening being now right in the heart of the racing season the speedsters have had to relinquish their plans. Fred Miller, of Toronto, had cleared on bringing Heldina II, one of the fastest speed-boats on the Great Lakes through the waterways this year, but he has written the secretary that he cannot carry out his plans when the lock is not being opened till July 15. Mr. Fraser said that numbers of pleasure craft were expected about the first of month when the kiddies get out of school. The Wacouta, in drydock at the canal mouth, is the first boat to come up from Trenton this year. Mr. Fraser's boat put in the winter at Burlington and the owner has been running it since very early in the spring. Mr. Fraser takes a keen interest in the waterways. He practices what he preaches about the pleasure of a holiday at the Lakes for he has been there since April 12.

The Trent Waterways Development Association meet in Orillia the end of this month and it is expected that much progress will be shown in the development of the tourist trade. The route from Trenton to Nassau has been mapped by the Trent Canal engineers and eleven large scale maps in continuity show the route in every detail as far as Nassau. It is hoped to induce the Department of Railways and Canals to further the mapping to link up with the Severn division. The set of eleven maps now in the hands of the secretary will sell to tourists at $3.50.

FARMER GORED BY A MAD BULL

Ogdensburg Man Badly Hurt Hurled Over Fence

Ogdensburg—L. David Larue, a prominent farmer who resides at Northrup's Corners, was gored by a furious bull. Larue was trying to drive the bull into a barn when the animal turned on him and hurled him over a high fence. It was reported Larue was advised to keep away from the animal but paid no heed to the warning. The full extent of his injuries is not known. He may recover.

A Record Breaker!

Kingston—Some people are daring in a canoe; some are not. A young man and his lady-love were enjoying themselves in a canoe, with a small Victrola on hand to add to the pleasure. Along came a big wave and the determination of the paddlers to go over it. They went alright, and were not upset, but in the rise and fall the Victrola disappeared and is now playing jazz for the funny tribes.

Golf at Napanee.

Napanee—The Napanee and Picton Golf Clubs played a match on the Napanee golf course on Thursday. The game was very keen and interesting, the Napanee club winning by 18-p. After the game the contentants resorted to the Campbell House Hotel, where a nicely prepared dinner awaited them. All parties concerned had a most enjoyable afternoon.

WEDDINGS

"The Daily Inter Lake," published at KallsPELL, Montana, on Wed. June 1, contains the following:

DOLAN-McCABE.
The chapel at the Sisters of Mercy Hospital was the scene of a beautiful wedding this morning. Miss Rose Ellen McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McCabe, lovingly called "Nellie" by her intimate friends, became the bride of Mr. Charles Dolan of Belleville, Ontario. The nuptial high mass was read by the Very Rev. Fr. Francis O'Farrell, and the choir was led by Sister Isabelle of St. Matthew's School. During the services Arthur Driscoll sang "I Love You Truly," and Sister Isabelle sang an appropriate solo.

The altar and communion railings were decorated with white lilac and pink crab-apple blossoms, and the fragrance of the flowers filled the beautiful chapel.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Mae Grant and Mr. William McKenna. The bride was charmingly gowned in a blue travelling gown. The trimmings were of gold embroidery and the waist was the same shade of blue in crepe de chine. Her hat was a delightful creation in old gold with blue facing and trimmings. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and Cecil Brunner roses surmounted with ostrich plumes. Soft grey gloves completed the exquisite costume.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Dolan and the wedding party were given a delightful wedding breakfast, at the home of her parents, and during the morning and afternoon scores of their friends called to congratulate them. The McCabe home was lovely with its masses of white lilacs and pink blossoms.

Mrs. Dolan received her education at the Sacred Heart college at Madison, Wis. She is a talented musician and for many years was organist and choir leader at St. Matthew's church in this city. She and her parents have resided in KallsPELL for the past ten years. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Mr. Dolan is one of the leading business men of Belleville, Ontario, and has a successful drug business in this city.

They will leave this evening for their home at Belleville where everything is in complete readiness to receive them. They will journey to Duluth and Port Arthur where they will take the Canadian steamer for a trip on the great lakes, spending some time at Niagara and Toronto before going to Belleville.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Up to the minute methods of teaching health principles to children will be shown in the 17th annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association which will open here today. Every state in the union, and many parts of Canada, will be represented at the convention by men and women prominent in the campaign to stamp out tuberculosis.

Marionette shows, a cardboard theater, motion pictures and pageants are some of the novel schemes to be advanced for inculcating in the minds of children the value of strict adherence to health principles.
As a means of teaching the prop-workers. The characters who play the principal parts in the little thedren are taught to perform certain health chores, daily, will be demonstrated at several of the sessions.

The history of the National Tuberculosis Association will be present-night through the medium of a pageant entitled "The Crusade of the Double Barred Cross."

"Humpty-Dumpty," the clown em-

children the proper rules of health

OSHAWA, June 14.—The Board of Education, faced with the problem of providing accommodation for more than 300 school children next September, with pupils now being turned away, may adopt the portable school plan as now in use in Toronto. A deputation has just returned from a visit to the city, where, through the kindness of Board of Education officials, they were shown the schools, and were offered free of charge plans and specifications.

The high school is also overcrowded, and, after a consultation with Dr. F. W. Merchant of Toronto, the board has appointed a committee to secure statistics regarding the possible attendance at a technical school which would embrace all commercial classes now in operation and two industrial classes. Oshawa at present has seven schools and two colleges.

A SPLENDID TONIC FOR WEAK PEOPLE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Act on the Blood and Nerves.

Food is as important to the sick person as medicine, more so in many cases. A badly chosen diet may retard recovery. In health the natural appetite is the best guide to follow;
in sickness the appetite is often feeble and depraved.

Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health.
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a fine tonic medicine, harmless and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and restore vitality to the run-down system. For growing girls who are thin and pale, for tired women, and for old people who fall in strength, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Thousands have testified to the benefit derived from the use of this medicine, among them is Mrs. William Galts, Hantsport, N.S., who says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was so weak and run-down that I could hardly do my own work. I often suffered from headaches and was very nervous. I then began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I can truthfully say I have found them the best medicine I have ever taken. You may depend upon it, I will advise other sufferers to take these pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FOXBORO HOLDS ORANGE RALLY

Visit There of M. J. O'Brien of Ottawa Occasion of Orange Meeting

TALKS OF IRELAND

Disclaims Attack on Roman Catholics as Individuals—
Warns of Sinn Fein

A Protestant Rally held in the Methodist Church, Foxboro, was the occasion of a visit from Lt. M. J.
O'Brien, of Ottawa, one of the official Grand Organizers of the Orange Association. Mr. O'Brien is a man of singular public speaking ability. He possesses true Irish fire and buoyancy of spirit and winning eloquence.

The purpose of the Rally was to stimulate among Protestants interest and activity in the preservation and development of religious and civil liberty and freedom. The speaker reviewed the history of the Irish question and analysed the complexity of this problem of the Empire. He described the conflict between Protestantism and Roman Catholism as one of impersonal, rather than personal opposition. He maintained that his own attitude, the attitude of protestants everywhere, and the attitude of the Orange Order, was liberty to all and special privilege to none. He stated that the Protestant fight against Catholicism was not a fight against individual Catholics nor a fight against the religious life and rights of Catholics. Mr. O'Brien appealed for Protestant coherence, unity and solidarity propaganda and earnestly pointed out what he called its menace to Canadian Institutions and British and Canadian Liberty. He appealed to protestants to rouse themselves from their inertia. He also advocated and urged protestants to strive for the establishment of a Canadian school, in which Canadian ideals and standards would be symmetrically taught and nourished.

Such a school he argued, would establish in one century the ideals of liberty and righteousness. Religious instruction, as such, he maintained, should not be part of the curriculum
of this Canadian school.

Mr. O'Brien dealt with the Protestant churches and their place and responsibility in the religious life of young and old. He urged protestants to be loyal to their local churches and convincingly pleaded for men, women and children's Orange Associations to be established and expanded. He briefly dealt with the need of a true loyalty, and understanding of the essence and significance of the Order in its efforts to cultivate and maintain civil and religious integrity, justice and liberty.

Mr. G. A. Reid of Belleville, was the chairman of the evening. He supplemented Lt. O'Brien's address with a few remarks. Rev. Mr. Mc-Mullin of Cannifton, complimented the speaker upon his address. The Foxboro Band played opening and closing selections and vocal solos were given by Miss M. Bell and Mr.
G. E. Wood.

FORMER MEMBER OF LONDON
POLICE FORCE AT PORTSMOUTH

Kingston—There has just been attached to the police staff at the provincial penitentiary at Portsmouth, Harry Haunts, formerly staff sergeant in the Royal Engineers, and for some years a member of the London Metropolitan police force, the finest body of its kind in the world. Mr. Haunts served throughout the war with the British forces.
He is the champion wrestler of the London Metropolitan police and also gold medalist for British army wrestling. Mr. Haunts has just arrived from England, having come to see his brother, James Haunts, Alfred street, Kingston, who is also a British veteran. When it became known that he would remain here, he was at once given an appointment on the penitentiary staff where men of his experience are much needed with so many desperate men confined within the walls of the provincial prison.

Getting Ready for Work.

Kingston—The Richmond Wire
& Iron Co., Limited, has received delivery of its large heading machine, which is the last of the machinery that is required for the manufacture of auger bits. This machine weighs, without dies, five tons, the fly wheel
alone weighing nine hundred pounds, and is capable of a pressure of fifty tons, on the dies. The gentlemen in charge expect to start to produce goods for the market within the next few weeks.

An Oil without Alcohol.—Some oils and many medicines have alcohol as a prominent ingredient. A judicious mingling of six essential oils compose Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and there is no alcohol in it, so that its effects are lasting.

Mrs. Obed Smith will represent
Canada at the international confer-

CITY COUNCIL

steady work," said Miss Myra Smith, Social Worker in her report on the month of May.

"There are quite a lot of men out of work," a citizen told the mayor.

Mr. Manley said Bleecker Avenue sewer would begin on Wednesday (today).

Ald. Ballinger suggested rolling Mill street.

Ald. Treverton said it was no use rolling Mill street.

"As soon as we get the water, the work will be done," the public works chairman said.

W.C.A. Asks Grants. A grant of $1,500 towards the maintenance of the Old Folk's Home and one of $10,000 to cover the deficit in the operations of the Belleville Hospital for the current year, have been asked by the W.C.A. of the city council.

The W.C.A. is spending $1,000 on the Home for the Friendless. The association sold the old home for $2,100.

City Council last evening referred the requests until after the Court of revision.

Double Platoon System. The double platoon system appears to be a necessity within a short time in the fire department.

"This has been done in other cities without waiting for government legislation," said Chief Brown.

A special meeting of council will be necessary, at which a committee of the firemen and the chief will be present.

Police Court and Fines. Municipalities should retain all court fees collected by the police, except those which are levied through the instrumentality of government officers.

The City Council unanimously expressed itself concurring with the action of the Hamilton City Council in protesting against the government taking the fees.

"What would we do without the fines?" asked an alderman.

A light will be placed on North Front overhead bridge and an effort will be made by the G. T. railway to abolish the noise of traffic on the bridge.

Boulevard Filling. Ald. French and Mayor Hanna said boulevards on Bridge Street west, requiring filling but soil from the hill was taken to other parts of the city.

Ald. Bennett—"You cannot seem to get the soil for boulevards but it seems to get into private lots."

Three trees on Pinnacle street are overhanging the residence of Mrs. Johnson, and damaging the roof, said Ald. Ostrom. They need trimming.

A sanitary sewer on Elm from East Moira to Baldwin street was petitioned for. As the petition was fully signed, the request was granted.

Repairs on Campbell street hill are necessary, said Ald. Bennett. Water is running down the hill.

Mr. G. N. Simmons suggested an improvement of the corner of Highland Ave. and Dundas St., by the city taking over certain land on the corner of his lot.

The improvement would cost six hundred dollars, but was not necessary now.

The Council decided to look over the site.

Ald. Ostrom asked if the council might not think over the question of a sewer that would ultimately serve the proposed Coleman Ward School.

This will be taken up at the next meeting.

Ald. French asked where the Dundas street west pavement was going to be built west of Commercial street.

"On the south side," was the verdict of the council on motion of Ald. Bennett. This is the old location.

Col. Ponton offers to give us that strip as a park at Devil's Elbow, said Mayor Hanna.

Those present were Mayor Hanna, Ald. Ballinger, Bennett, Fisher, Ostrom, Treverton, Wensley and Woodley.

Mrs. Hugh McCauley, Belleville, announces the engagement of their daughter, Helen Jane, to Maurice Joseph Hornett, Toronto, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hornett, the marriage to take place in St. Michael's Church, Belleville, on June 28th.

About all that a pretty girl asks is a chance to show off.

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 123, Parrboro, N. S. "I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance."

I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1915, I saw in an advertisement that "Fruit-a-tives" would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have seen fit to state.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards "Fruit-a-tives" I would be glad to tell them what "Fruit-a-tives" did for me.

COTTON GROWING EMPIRE PROBLEM

Steps Being Taken to Establish It as Going Concern on Big Scale

ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

Matter of Raw Material Is Important—Inter-Dominion Trade Hoped For

LONDON, June 15.—(By Canadian Press)—Steps are being taken to establish a permanent British organization for the purpose of developing cotton growing within the Empire.

This permanent body, incorporated under royal charter, will be known as the Empire Cotton Growing Corporation. One of the Board of Trade items appearing in this year's budget includes a provision of 50,000 pounds sterling for the development of cotton growing in the Empire as compared with the item of 10,000 pounds sterling appearing in last year's budget.

It is understood that one of the first steps to be taken by the new corporation is the selection of cotton experts—men of wide experience in tropical agriculture.

The stimulation of cotton growing within the Empire represents a reaching out toward economic independence in the matter of raw material. Cotton manufacturing is one of the fundamentals of Britain's industrial power.

Other European countries have gradually developed cotton manufacturing, but Great Britain holds the lead and its industry is increasing. In the 20 years preceding the war Great Britain's spindles had increased 16,700,000 as compared with an increase of 15,500,000 in the United States and 15,200,000 in all Europe.

Roughly speaking three-fourths of the cotton spun in the United Kingdom is for export trade. Out of 411,000,000 pounds sterling, which represents Great Britain's total manufacturers' sold abroad in 1913 121,000,000 pounds sterling consisted of cotton yarn and goods.

For 120 Years. Throughout the last 120 years, or since the cotton industry was first organized in factories in England, Britain imported approximately three-fourths of the total quantity of its raw cotton supplies from the United States, the remaining one-fourth came from India, Egypt and the British West Indies.

By increasing the yield of raw cotton within the Empire, Great Britain will become economically less dependent upon the United States, and an important step will be taken toward uniting the through the exchange of products.

Under normal conditions India ranks second after the United States in point of cotton production with an annual output of some 400 million bales of 400 pounds each. Indian cotton is inferior in quality and but little inferior in price to the Egyptian cotton which is employed by Lancashire spinners.

Experts, however, are of the opinion that a quality of cotton comparable in many respects to Egyptian long staple can be grown in certain sections of India notably Sind, under irrigation. The Sukkar irrigation project on the River Indus which has been approved by the Indian government, promises to bring under cultivation 5,000,000 acres of land, of which 750,000 acres are suitable for the cultivation of high-grade cotton adapted to the needs of Lancashire.

Dating 30 years back when British engineers began to effect a true control of the Nile for irrigation purposes, the Egyptian crop steadily increased until a total of over 7,500,000 cantars was attained. During the war production fell to 5,000,000 cantars, and this probably represents a fair average of what can be expected from Egypt until some remedy is found for the unsatisfactory condition of drainage in the Delta. Experts are of the opinion that when reclamation and irrigation projects now under consideration have been put through the Egyptian production may be raised by some 3,500,000 cantars.

In the Sudan. The matter is a simple one of irrigation. The most promising latent and undeveloped territory lies immediately south of Khartoum in the alluvial triangle of land formed by the junction of the waters of the Nile and of the most promising districts for the development of cotton growing. A barrage of the Blue Nile is to be undertaken which will in time render possible the irrigation of some 200,000 acres of land in the Gezira as a first installment with prospects of a further increase to about 1,000,000 acres suitable for cotton growing. Assuming a production of 300 pounds the acre, which is not extravagant, this area would add 225,000 bales of 400 pounds each to Egypt's crop.

A fine type of sea-island cotton to the amount of about 5,000 bales a year is grown in the British West

RUSSIA HOPES FOR NEW TRADE

Text of Agreement Inviting the Capitalists to Come and Save Country COMPLETE BACK DOWN

Future Trade Treaties in View When Present One was Drawn Up

RIGA, May 27.—The text of the trade agreement recently negotiated between the German government and the Russian Socialist Federative Soviet Republic has been made public here. Its provisions are significant in view of the fact that this is one of a series of similar agreements already negotiated or in process of negotiation between Russia and other nations, such as Great Britain, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

The provisions may be of peculiar interest to the United States owing to the attempt of the Russian government to effect a trade agreement with the United States, which resulted in notification by the American State Department to Russia that the Soviet government had no chance of recognition in any form by the United States so long as Americans were held prisoners in Russia.

One of the most interesting provisions of the Russo-German agreement is that the representatives of both Germany and Russia are bound by it to refrain from every form of agitation or propaganda against the government or the state institutions of the country in which the delegation is located.

These delegations will be composed, under the new agreement, to missions already existing for the purpose of looking after the affairs of war prisoners in both countries. The scope of the activities of these delegations is extended so that they are authorized to protect the interests of citizens of both Germany and Russia. The membership of the missions is increased by attaching to them additional delegates whose duties are to develop economic relations.

It is expressly provided that the representation of the Russian republic in Germany "must be regarded as the only representation of the Russian state in Germany."

The respective missions are to be authorized to perform the work usually done by consuls such as the issuance of passports.

The Russian government agrees to allow persons who were formerly German subjects but who have lost that nationality to leave Russia and to take with them their wives and children, provided they give proof of an intention to settle down in Germany.

Both governments guarantee freedom of traffic to ships according to the stipulations of international law. Both promise to take steps to resume communication between the two countries by post, telegraph and wireless.

The agreement is described in its text as "provisional" intended to serve as a basis of economic relations pending the conclusion of a future trade treaty.

TERRACE, B.C., June 15.—A reminder of the old days before even the river steamboats plied their way up the Skeena was discovered in Little's Island a short time ago. A cedar tree from which the bark had been stripped when small had years ago been used to write upon. Workmen upon felling the tree and cutting away the overlying wood found an inscription written in pencil of "E. L. T. (day and month illegible) 1873, Montreal, Canada." The date is authentic as the wood cut away has sufficient annual rings to account for the ensuing years.

The hotels and grounds and the entire village look exceptionally well and citizens have done a great deal in making the resort attractive. The Ladies' Aid Society has been an important factor in the many improvements this year.

Made a Fast Flight. Kingston—A high-powered Bishop Barker hydro-aeroplane from Alexandria Bay made the trip to the city and flew around the harbor several times before alighting at the Brock street wharf for petrol. The trip from Gananoque was made in twenty-one minutes.

FELL FROM LOAD OF HAY; BROKE LEG N TWO PLACES. Port Hope—Mr. George Peacock, Oak Hill, is confined to the hospital with a fractured leg. CONTROL HEATING PLANT DECIDED ON AT KINGSTON. Kingston—The governors of the General Hospital met, and among the important matters dealt with was the proposal to install a central heating plant in conjunction with Queen's University. The announcement was made that the hostry mill site had been acquired and the central plant would be erected as soon as the present buildings were taken down. The work will be proceeded with at once. The power house will be connected with the hospital and the university by means of a large tunnel. The laundry will be located at this site.

GAS IN LAKE BURNS Curious Sight in B. C. is Explained as Explosion. BURNS LAKE B.C., June 15.—A curious phenomenon was observed in the lake here recently when a spout of water was sent up many yards into the air, probably owing to an explosion of natural gas at the bottom of the lake. A series of these explosions a year ago drew attention to the oil possibilities and led to the staking of land and installation of drills. Oil seepages have been found here and the lake is often covered with an oily scum. Drilling operations await issuance of government licenses.

IRRIGATION UNDER TRIAL B. C. Plans Biggest Venture and Spends $225,000. VICTORIA, B.C., June 15.—Formation of British Columbia's latest irrigation district, at Grand Forks, B.C., near the border, has been announced by the Interior department. The government is to advance $225,000 from the Conservation Fund for construction of the irrigation works there. All money spent on the works will be repayable to the government, the cost ultimately being borne by the land benefited.

CANADIAN MINES OF ZINC PAYING WELL Output Has More Than Quadrupled Since 1916, Says Official Report. LONDON, June 15.—A report issued by the Imperial Mineral Resources Bureau shows that the output of zinc from Canadian mines, has more than quadrupled since 1916. Previous to that year the output was negligible and the Bureau did not keep a record of it. According to figures given in the report, the output from Canadian mines in 1916 was 2,655. In 1919 production had jumped to 11,005 tons.

Reporting on the deposits within the Empire the report attached special significance to the zinc-lead-silver ores in British Columbia and to the development of proper handling facilities at Trail, B. C. Much still remains to be done before the British Empire can be considered self-supporting in the matter of spelter production, the report stated. In this connection the construction of a successful electrolytic-treatment plant at Trail, with a capacity of 15,000 tons of spelter a year was given as a hopeful indication.

WILL OIL THE ROAD CITY TO CORBYVILLE County Council Deals With Road Problems—Frankford Bridge Considered. The County Road Superintendent was given power by the County Council to oil the road between Belleville and Corbyville, on the request of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company, Limited.

Warden Embury expressed his pleasure that the County Clerk, Mr. W. H. Nugent was able to attend, but he felt counsel should give him an extended leave of absence in order to give him an opportunity to recover completely his health.

Mr. E. Guss Porter wrote stating that he would take up the question of the proposal of having a foot-bridge walk built on the Frankford Bridge.

Council decided to make a strong request to the government in support of the footbridge proposal.

MINISTERS' SALARIES. Of more practical benefit than church union was the action taken by the Presbyterian assembly in increasing salaries of its active ministry, and also the pensions of those aged and infirm, and widows. Meagre remuneration has long been a standing reproach that applies to no particular denomination alone, and any sign of its amendment is most commendable; for to no other profession should the divine injunction, "that the laborer is worthy of his hire," apply more forcibly than to those who minister to the spiritual needs of their fellows.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE CANADIAN LEADER. Mr. Meighen goes to London not as the leader of a political party; but as the representative of Canada; and as such he carries with him the best wishes and, in large measure, we think, the confidence of the people of Canada. The field of Imperial politics is new to him; it might be fairly said that, so immersed has he been in domestic controversies, he has until recently paid little attention to the wide problem of Canada's external relations. But he has great capacity for studying and mastering the facts bearing upon difficult questions; and his recent speeches in Parliament indicate that he is getting a firm grip upon the essential factors of this problem.—Manitoba Free Press (Lib.).

REVIVE SEALING IN SOUTH SEAS

One of the Most Picturesque Industries Nova Scotia Men Engage in

VETERANS OF THE SEA

Eva June, Two Topmasts, One Hundred Tons, is Best Type of Boat

HALIFAX, N.S., June 13.—(By Canadian Press)—Sealing in the south seas, one of the most picturesque industries in which Nova Scotia mariners have engaged, has been revived after a five year period of inactivity by the hundred ton two top-mast schooner Eva June out of Halifax. This vessel has just returned to port after nine months absence in the sealing grounds of the South Atlantic. She is owned by H. R. Silver Ltd. and commanded by Captain Matthew Ryan of North Sydney. The Eva June sailed from Halifax September 2 of last year and cast anchor again in this harbor May 31. Captain Ryan said he had encountered unusually stormy weather which curtailed the schooner's pack. The trip was, however, successful and many hundreds of pelts were shipped by the Eva June from Montevideo to London. A small number were brought to Halifax for shipment to England from this port. The sealing waters in which the Eva June operates lie between forty and fifty-five south latitude and from one hundred and fifty to one thousand miles of the South American coast. On October 3 last year the crew of the schooner saw land and from their view to reappear so more until they put into Montevideo on January 30. They left Montevideo February 25 and again were out of sight of land until April 12 when they began their homeward voyage to Halifax.

Matthew Ryan, commander of the Eva June, has been aloft the greater part of his life and has trailed the seal since 1889 north and south in the Pacific and Atlantic and around the globe. He says that to his knowledge Nova Scotia fishing vessels have been in the sealing industry since 1888. Around the Horn and to the Behring Sea was the goal in the old days. The majority of the vessels put out from Halifax and the Sydney. It is noteworthy that Nova Scotia and British Columbia the southern frontiers of the Dominion, joined hands in this industry and pooled many of their interests. Victoria was the last Canadian port of call for Nova Scotia vessels and they sailed from there accompanied by the ships of the western province. From Victoria the fleets would follow the Canadian coasts north or strike across the Pacific to the Japanese and Russian coasts. On this latter ocean trail Yokohama was the favorite port of call. Captain Ryan believes the Schooner Pathfinder in command of Captain Will O'Leary of Musquodoboit, was the first Nova Scotia vessel to voyage around the North and South American continents to hunt the seal in the Northern Pacific. Captain Ryan thinks Captain O'Leary is now living in Victoria B.C. The Annie C. Moore from North Sydney in command of Captain Charles Hackett, followed the Pathfinder in the same year. After the pioneers came such well known vessels as the Umbria, Brenda, Libby, William MacGowan, Geneva, C. H. Tupper, and Agnes MacDonald.

Round the World Captain Ryan made his first trip to the North Pacific in the Schooner Carmelite which sailed from Sydney in 1889. Two of the most interesting trips in the history of the sealing industry were made by Captain Ryan in the schooner Hilda R. These took him around the world over a route from Nova Scotia to Australia, around the Cape of Good Hope and through the Indian Ocean, thence to New Zealand and subsequently home. The Hilda R. was finally torpedoed during the Great War by a German submarine near Gibraltar. Sealing in the Behring Sea continued until 1910 when an international treaty put a stop to it for twenty-five years. As far back as 1900, however, the South Atlantic began to attract Nova Scotia and British Columbia sealing mariners. Captain Fred Gilbert in the Schooner Edward Rye was probably the first on these grounds. The Beatrice L. Corkum, Captain Reuben Balcom, joined the Edward Rye in 1901. 1902 saw the Florence M. Smith, commanded by Captain Ryan and the E. B. Marvin, Captain John Anderson sail south from Victoria and join the fleet out of Halifax in the South Atlantic. Succeeding years there were many other Nova Scotia and British Columbia vessels, scouring the southern ocean. The number gradually diminished, however, until in 1913 the Ida M. Clarke, commanded by Captain Ryan, went alone from Nova Scotia. She returned in 1914 when the shadow of war was throwing itself over land and sea. None followed her in the succeeding years. Best Type of Boat. The Eva June type of vessel, two topmasts and one hundred tons, is the most useful in the sealing industry. Larger vessels break their boats in rough weather. The Eva June carries eight hunting boats, each of which is manned by two men armed with double-barrelled shot-guns. Although many of the old sealing vessels have passed out of service, few met with serious misfortune while engaged in the industry. Probably the only Nova Scotia craft lost in the South Atlantic were the Edith K. Blacomin and the Edna Powell, both of which ran ashore. Whether Nova Scotia and British Columbia vessels will again enter the sealing industry to the extent that they did in years passed, it is impossible to forecast, but it is almost a certainty that August will see Captain Ryan back in Halifax superintending the fitting out of the Eva June for another trip south.

NAPLES, June 11.—Enrico Caruso, noted opera singer, arrived yesterday on the steamship President Wilson and was met by throngs of friends and admirers. The singer appeared in a jolly mood and said he had come to Italy to have a perfect rest among his native people. He added that his voyage across the Atlantic had greatly contributed toward recuperation of his strength and vigor and that now he feels completely fit. Caruso said he hoped to return to the United States ready to sing next autumn.

BROCKVILLE AND ELECTRIC SERVICE

Eastern Town Would Welcome Innovation Between There and Westport

BRING IN BUSINESS

Officials Down There Not Sure That Car Now at Belleville Will Go.

A Brockville despatch contains the following:—Should the report that the Canadian National lines are to institute an electric service between Brockville and Westport prove correct, there will be widespread gratification, not only among residents of the neighboring district, but also among the business men of the town who realize that with this service in operation there would be an added incentive to trading in Brockville.

Local officials of the Canadian National lines were still to-day without information in substantiation of the Belleville report that an electric storage car service was to be started on the Brockville sub-division similar to that which was in operation between Belleville and Trenton on the Central Ontario lines.

It will be remembered that at the time President D. B. Hanna, of the Canadian National Railways, spoke here before the Board of Trade, he intimated that in course of time the railway would try out an electrically operated service on the Brockville sub-division. This announcement followed efforts made by the mayor at that time, W. A. Lewis, to bring about electrification of this section of the Canadian National lines by having it taken over by the municipalities through which it passed and having power furnished by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario. The scheme was submitted to the different municipalities and their approval in a majority of cases secured. At the same time the Hydro-Electric Power Commission was authorized to carry out a survey of the territory with a view to the adoption of the scheme. Here the matter rested. As there is some dissatisfaction with the service at present on the line between here and Westport, one train each way having been discontinued this spring, the inauguration of the proposed electric service would be received with open arms by the residents of the district as it would relieve the situation and be most convenient to those having business in any of the Leeds county centres located on the line.

There are more in the Gagetown waters, but most fishermen report the dainty baking fish are rare although large.

He found a fine wild berry on May 30 last. Every-thing is at least two weeks in advance of its season in New Brunswick this year, but the strawberry sets the pace.

Kingston—A little girl has come to stay at the county jail. Her mother was recently sentenced to serve a term of three months. It is a rare thing for a child to spend its early days in the local jail's cells, but she will be a welcome companion for her mother in her confinement. The new arrival is about two years of age and has been in the care of relatives since her mother's incarceration.

Kingston—John Olsen, blacksmith, Kingston, is the proud possessor of an Armadillo colt, born to his mare, Lady Direct. The youngster is vigorous, and as both the dam and sire are pacers, Mr. Olsen places a very high value upon the colt. Needless to say he is being heartily congratulated by members of the Kingston Club. An armadillo last year broke all previous records on the Kingston track, and made for himself a mark of 2:54. He is now in possession of a Rochester, N.Y., sportsman, and Mr. Olsen's colt is the first reported.

PADEREWSKI'S PEOPLE.

The Poles have remained singularly free from Eastern influence. Their melodic invention is sometimes rather limited, but their tunes are always wonderfully embellished, and they often make use of difficult intervals which would seem to be more suitable for an instrument than for the voice. The effect of these songs is sad but full of interest, and in hearing them it is easy to realize that Chopin was a thoroughly "national" composer.

STUDENTS LISTEN TO FINE SERMON

Rev. W. B. Caswell, M. A., B. A., Preaches to Albert College Men on Sunday

SOVEREIGNTY OF CHRIST

World Could do Without Art and Philosophy But Could Not Without His Word

Albert College pennants and daisies which decorated the pulpit railing and the organ of the Tabernacle Church on Sunday morning signified a day big with spiritual interest in the calendar of the institution. It was commencement day and Rev. W. B. Caswell, M. A., B. A., bursar of Victoria College, Toronto, was the preacher.

"If there is one thing I am anxious about in the lives of boys and girls, it is right standards." "You get tired of the veneer. You want something solid. What is it that keeps nature fresh and strong? Something true, beautiful and just," he told the students.

"Jesus is the one interpreter of life. Everything He did, abides today. He knew the thing that was worth shedding tears for, worth dying for.

"The world could do without its art, its philosophy, but it cannot do without one word of Christ's." His theme was "The Sovereignty of Christ."

"Our Lord was the greatest expert on man this world has ever had. That day he looked into Pilate's face a look that the Roman governor never forgot. "Christ claimed His kingship, and Pilate thought of gorgeous palaces along the Tiber. 'Thou art a wanderer,' he declared. Pilate thought of the armies of Caesar and the legions of Rome."

All through the years Pilate has stood before Christ. Ask him, 'Art thou king, where are all thy palaces?' The greatest palaces in the world are churches dedicated to Christ. As for wealth, men are more and more pouring it out for the Master.

"Think of the mighty gifts of the people, think of the soul-saving, and answer Pilate, 'Jesus is King'." "Wherever there is an unnecessary cross bearing on humanity, the church of Christ is in the way to the end of the world."

What is truth? That is the one supreme question of life. He who does not know it has failed in life. Break in on the stock market and ask, 'do you know why you were born?' and the brokers would shake their heads and say, "Poor fellow, he needs care."

Thousands of lives that are called successful could be summed up in these words: 'He has eaten all his bread, drunk his drink and gone to bed.' Truth is the one big thing that abides.

Rev. W. B. Caswell is an old Albert College student. Thirty years ago he completed his matriculation at Albert and entered into the work of the ministry. He is bursar of Victoria College, Toronto, but is returning to the active ministry. He is of the third generation of Methodist ministers.

"I rejoice," said Mr. Caswell, "in the splendid work of Albert College, the old College for Albert is one which we can now call old."

During the service Mrs. Grant took the solo part in the anthem, "Still With Thee." Prof. Staples sang "How Long, O Lord."

National Council of women In Session Now in Calgary

CALGARY, Alta., June 13.—Not until today was the National Council of Women annual meeting to be formally opened to the public. Sessions consisted of the convening of its fifteen standing committees, ranging from Immigration to Conservation of Natural Resources. At noon Mrs. Nellie McClung's address was a special treat.

Though unusually enthusiastic, this year's meeting seems likely to be small in actual delegates, and but seven of the fifteen conveners have been able to come. Judge R. E. Jamieson, who made an able substitute, convened the committee on Equal Moral Standards, which reported how the criminal code was being strengthened to help this work. Demands for severer sentences in cases against woman were a feature of this.

Mrs. E. Pents, the woman advisory member of the Halifax Movie Board, led the discussions on objectionable printed matter, which now includes not only some books, etc., but noxious movies. To this committee was also referred Bolshevik literature being sent from Brooklyn which revived British rule throughout the world.

Mrs. C. O. Edwards, the Council's Convener on Laws, whose book on "Alberta Laws for Women" has just been published by the Provincial Government, reported much improved legislation introduced throughout Canada. Advance in British Columbia, the Dower Act of Manitoba and a fine child welfare Bill and illegitimacy bill of Ontario were dwelt upon.

Mrs. L. M. Parsons, Immigration Committee, emphasized the growing care in the selection of Canada's immigrants and our women's share in the Government's work in this regard. Satisfaction was expressed by both the Public Health and Mental Hygiene Committee for the increased public interest in the safeguarding of Canada's existing population and especially the child welfare work.

Announcement was made of a national bureau of information about to be started in Ottawa by Mrs. Amelia Sears and a woman's board to which anybody could send any inquiries concerning Canadian goods of matters of interest to women.

Woodstock's Local Council resolution that executions should take place in only some central place in each province, evoked much discussion. Many considered that the resolution should contain a preamble implying the hope of the National Council for the approaching abolition of capital punishment. Others sustained the member who pointing to the return of four States across the border to capital punishment, contended that such a move as was mentioned was not opportune here. On vote the committee threw out the preamble. Opinion was strongly expressed of the need, both for more private executions, and for more immediate removal of Mrs. Drummond's name from the Quebec's vice-presidents' assembly. Mrs. Drummond has resulted in Dr. Ritchie England's election. The latter is missing from this year's delegates however.

Last evening's reception at Senator Leughed's beautiful home and gardens gave Calgary's citizen an opportunity to extend a further warm welcome to the delegates. They leave to-night for a two-day stay in Banff, where much informal discussion will be held concerning council problems.

At the first day's luncheon Mrs. E. M. Murray in a call for unity among Canadian women appealed not necessarily for unity in words or ideas,

WAGE REVISION BEGINS FRIDAY

All Canadian Roads Will Have Conferences With Their Leading Employees

NO CUT TILL JULY 1 Canadian Wages Determined by Chicago Award—Men Were Not Surprised

MONTREAL, June 15.—Preliminary steps toward a downward revision of twelve per cent. in wages to operating staffs of Canadian railways—to be followed by an effort to revise working conditions—will be taken here next Friday.

Concurrent action has been decided upon by all Canadian roads. At Montreal Grant Hall, vice president in charge of operation, will meet representatives of the operating employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway. W. D. Robb, vice-president of the Grand Trunk, will perform a similar office for that line. Canadian National officials and employees will meet at Toronto on Friday.

The men will be advised that effective July 1 such decreases in wages as have been finally approved by the Railway Labor Board at Chicago will become operative in Canada. The majority of revisions have already been decided and they average about twelve per cent. of the general scale. Wages of shop crafts and maintenance of way employes are to be taken up Monday at Chicago and it is expected that the final ruling in these divisions will be made in time to have it become effective with other changes at July 1.

It is not expected that any discussion as to the merits of proposed revisions will take place next week. Canadian railway wages have been determined by Chicago since its inception and the entire merits of the issue have been exhaustively studied there prior to the recent announcement of the downward revision.

An issue of even greater interest to Canadian railways than wages is said to be that of working conditions. Railway executives here assert that working regulations now in force are wholly in need of revision. In some directions they are declared to be grossly unfair to the railways and in others to the men.

As an example of their operation it was recently shown that they make it possible for conductors on stub lines to earn as high as $750 per month, while other employes could not obtain sufficient time to maintain their families.

The question of working conditions will not be taken up here next week, but will be left to the Chicago Board. Local railway employes exhibited interest but no surprise when apprised of the coming conference on wages. They had apparently been notified in advance by their officials that any reduction in the United States would also have to be effective here. For the most part they seem hopeful that the reduction would result in more employment as many have suffered materially through the enforced closing of shops and other activities on three occasions since the New Year.

Railway officials declined to comment upon the probable result of the reductions upon existing freight rates, though it was suggested that certain shippers would take advantage of the reduction to apply to the railway commission for a downward revision of rates.

Real Facts About Red Russia Sorry Spectacle Bared to View

THE FOLLOWING article on Soviet Russia is taken from the Canadian Reconstruction Association of Toronto. The facts are vouched for by that organization of which Sir John Williamson is head.

The complete collapse of Russia and the utter misery of its inhabitants under Bolshevism are strikingly set forth in a White Paper issued by the British Government, containing a report of the special committee appointed in May last year to collect information on the Russian situation.

Conditions in the Northern Empire are now such that the country is in a state of economic collapse. Industry is practically ruined. A special campaign had to be inaugurated to restore the transportation system. Disease is widespread owing to malnutrition and neglect of sanitation. The annual mortality is said to be no less than 4 per cent. of the population. Release of the peasants to supply the towns with food has placed the Soviet Government under the necessity of requisitioning agricultural produce. The areas of land under cultivation have declined 40 per cent. Workers are paid partly in practically worthless money and partly in a food ration upon which it is impossible to support life, and partly in small and irregular issues of other commodities.

The committee, presided over by Lord Emmott, summarizes the conclusions of its investigations as follows:

(1) That the complete renunciation by the Soviet Government, by the Russian Communist Party and by the Third or Communist International of propaganda directed towards the destruction of the political and economic order existing in other countries is the fundamental premise, without the acceptance of which there can be no question of capitalist aid in the economic reconstruction of Russia.

(2) That the possibility of extending credit to Russia on a scale in any way commensurate with her existing needs will be dependent on the faithful observation of the above condition.

(3) That the co-operation of the peasantry is indispensable to the economic reconstruction of Russia.

(4) That the settlement of the agrarian question on a basis which will provide inducements for agricultural production, now lacking, is essential to the provision of adequate supplies of food for the industrial worker in the towns.

(5) That the restoration of rail and river transport is necessary if such food supplies are to be conveyed to the towns with regularity to the industrial areas of Russia.

(6) That the state of administrative incompetence and corruption into which the departments of the Soviet Government have fallen militates against the proper distribution of available supplies among the population, and must be remedied if the Russian worker is to be restored to the standard of health and strength necessary to re-establish the diminished productivity of his labor.

A General Summary. In a general summary the committee details briefly in various stages, the collapse of Russia. It touches upon the effects of the European war and then summarizes the results of the Revolution in February, 1917, as follows:

(1) The establishment of Soviets of workers in the factories adversely affected industrial administration, and was largely responsible for the rapid fall of production in the manufacturing industries.

(2) The establishment of Soviets among the troops, who were weary and desired peace, contributed further to destroy the Russian army as a fighting machine. Wholesale desertion began, and the army became a powerful factor in the process of disintegration throughout Russia after the February revolution, 1917.

(3) The peasants, from the moment of the revolution, 1917, began to seize the estates of the land-owners, and were encouraged in this course by the Bolsheviks during the summer of 1917.

(4) The area of land under cultivation began to decrease as a result of the disturbed state of the countryside.

(5) The peasants ceased bringing their grain to the towns as a result of the fall in production and the great rise in the prices of manufactured goods. Such food as the peasants did bring to the towns was commandeered by the Government at fixed prices, but the price given was that it did not enable them to purchase the articles of common necessity which they needed.

(6) The disturbance of the balance of exchange between towns and country was a general result of the events accompanying and following the February revolution.

Of the Bolshevik Revolution and its results up to the end of 1919, the committee says:

(1) The Soviet Government proceeded to manage its policy of nationalization of industry and to institute an organization for the State collection and distribution of food.

(2) The Soviet Government established the collegiate system of administration in industry, with a view to controlling the hitherto unrestrained actions of the factory Soviets.

(3) The Soviet Government, in a situation calling for the exercise of the utmost discrimination and care, carried out the policy of nationalization in haste, without taking account of the disorder already prevailing in Russia, of the complex structure of modern industry, of the absence of expert technical assistance, and of the disabilities resulting from the lack of knowledge and experience under which they themselves laboured.

(4) As a result of nationalization, carried out in the above conditions, production continued to fall, and with ever-increasing rapidity.

(5) In the summer of 1918 the outbreak of civil war, accompanied by foreign intervention, caused the Soviet Government to divert to military purposes all its energy and the residue of Russia's industrial capacity. In these circumstances the collapse of all other than war industry became complete.

(6) The uninterrupted fall of production in the towns was compounded by the further decline in supplies of food received by the towns from the villages, which were unable to obtain less and less in exchange for their produce. The organization of transport also made it impossible to move with speed and regularity to the towns with supplies available in the country districts.

(7) The reluctance of the peasants to supply the towns with food has placed the Soviet Government under the necessity of requisitioning agricultural produce. This requisitioning has evoked peasant revolts, which the Soviet Government endeavoured to suppress by sending punitive expeditions to quell them.

(8) The shortage of food in the towns, due to the cessation of exchange between town and country, was further accentuated by incompetence and corruption on the part of the Soviet Food Administration.

(9) The industrial worker was paid partly in money, which he found in purchasing power was succeeding month, and partly in a food ration, upon which it was impossible to support life, and partly in small and irregular issues of other commodities.

(10) The worker was thus compelled to devote much of his working time trying to supplement by illegal purchase the insufficient rations which he and those dependent upon him received, and to which by law he was limited. Government shops nominally existed where the worker might make supplementary purchases at moderate prices; but little or nothing could be purchased at these shops, partly owing to the meagre supplies available in them and partly to the fact that such commodities as might be available were mostly reserved for favoured classes.

(11) An organized system of requisitioning, which the Bolshevik authorities endeavoured unsuccessfully to suppress, and in which they ultimately came to participate, grew up side by side with the Soviet Administration, and made it possible to permit the sale of the means of purchase and exchange to keep body and soul together.

(12) Since the revolution of October, 1917, disease has been widespread, particularly among the poorer classes, owing to malnutrition and neglected sanitation. The annual mortality of Russia is said to be 4 per cent. of the population at the present time.

Such was the position at the end of 1919. The Soviet Government, then realizing the real gravity of the situation proceeded to repudiate its policies of land and industrial nationalization.

The collegiate system, says the British Committee, which was established to control the Soviet system in industry has given place in the majority of cases to individual control, a return to principles of industrial administration which have received their fullest development under capitalism.

A special campaign had to be inaugurated to repair locomotives and rolling-stock as an essential step towards the restoration of transport. The Soviet Government introduced a policy of conscription and the militarization of labour as the only means of carrying on the industry of the country, industry practically ruined owing to the demoralization prevailing among the industrial proletariat as a result of malnutrition and the absence of any of the primary necessities of life. The Soviet Government further proceeded.

To conduct an energetic propaganda campaign against bureaucracy and red tape which have threatened to paralyze the Soviet Administration.

To contemplate the possibility of receiving economic assistance from abroad on a resumption of trade relations with the "bourgeois countries."

So far the British Committee has not sufficient information to determine how far the restoration of individual control in industry has contributed to increase production. It believes that while the measures taken to restore transport have resulted in some improvements, only the importation of locomotives and spare parts from abroad will enable the Soviet Government to maintain transport at its present level, and to achieve any further improvement. Also, the British Committee says: "We have not been able to obtain such information as would allow us to judge how far the policy of labour conscription and militarization of labour has been successful or otherwise, in solving the problem of the shortage of labour, and to what extent conscription labour has been utilized in industry, and how far—where used—it has been productive."

With regard to the future, the British Committee says: "The practical efforts of Bolshevism to the present time, so far as they affect the economic life of Russia, are a failure. The magnitude of the industrial collapse in Russia and the consequent cessation of exchange of products between town and country are of a disorder already prevailing in Russia, of the complex structure of modern industry, of the absence of expert technical assistance, and of the disabilities resulting from the lack of knowledge and experience under which they themselves laboured."

While the British Committee agrees that the policy of Soviet Government has been worth and that opportunities have been restricted, the committee doubts "whether so much human misery as has existed in Russia during the last three years has ever been the lot of any people within so short a time in the history of the modern world. While we are prepared to admit that the European war, the events following the first year of the civil war and intervention, are contributing factors in causing this misery, it is impossible to dissociate the Soviet Government from a large measure of responsibility for the recent sufferings of the Russian people."

With regard to the resumption of trade between Russia and other countries, the British Committee is convinced that "there is no possibility of the economic revival of Russia in the near future without the assistance of capitalist countries."

The Committee's conclusions with regard to the rendering of such assistance are guided by the following considerations: "That among other, considerations: 'That the credit and capital required for Russia's urgent needs are large, that no Government can give this credit and capital on the scale required, and that such aid can only be furnished by individual capitalists or financial groups who are willing to provide the necessary supplies in money or goods.'

It is inconceivable that the credit and capital required in Russia should be provided by foreign capitalists as long as the destruction of capitalism and the violent overthrow of Russia are avowed by the Governments of the world. It is inconceivable that the Russian Government, or of the political forces by which it is controlled, 'That if the Soviet Government renounces and abstains from propaganda and the establishment of capitalism in other countries, it still remains to be seen how far in the near future they will be able to arrest the process of disintegration and to lay a foundation upon which it will be possible for Russian industry and agriculture once more to develop and expand.'

DEMAND NEW STYLE IN HOUSE FURNITURE Faded Antiques and Near Obsolete Not Good Enough to Suit Manufacturers.

PARIS, June 11.—A new style in furniture was demanded by representatives of the French furniture industry at the Furniture Congress recently held here. Architects are blamed by the president of the Furniture Makers' Association for the continued production of false Louis XV, Louis XVI and other styles of antiques. They design interiors to go with such furniture and naturally the manufacturers have to meet the demand, he says.

The president proposed that the teachers in the fine arts school should begin the campaign for a modern original style by inspiring original ideas upon the general direction of a committee composed of artists, architects and furniture makers. He hopes this method will produce an entirely new style that will mark this epoch as did the styles of the two Louis of the Empire and the Renaissance.

WORK OF CANADA ON INCREASE

OTTAWA, June 11.—Employment conditions throughout Canada are looking up. At the worst, in March, they improved, and then slumped again in April, and since May have been improving steadily. Between July of last year and March last, employment declined 25 per cent.

One factor was the closing down of railway shops but when they reopened in April, employment increased not only in that line, but also in iron and steel industries. While there have been decreases in the number engaged in pulp and paper mills, textile plants and lumbering operations, they have been more than offset by new employment opportunities in the lumber mills, on railway construction and marine transport.

The 5,233 firms reporting to the employment service office this year, were employing at the first of this month 609,173 persons, while 5,364 firms a year ago had 777,774 persons on their pay list.

Farm labor is much more easily procurable this year. Up to May 1, 16,000 hands had been secured, whereas a year ago only 10,000 had registered at farm labor bureaus.

DEMPSEY-CARPENTIER BOUT THIRD OF THE KIND TO BE HELD

NEW YORK, June 11.—The third bout for the world's heavyweight championship under no decision rules at a limited number of rounds will be under way when Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier square off in the Jersey City ring, July 2.

The only previous title contests held under similar conditions were the Willard-Moran 10-round battle at New York, March 25, 1916, and the Willard-Dempsey contest at Toledo, July 4, 1919. The first bout went the limit, Willard gaining the popular verdict. At Toledo, Dempsey knocked out his ponderous opponent in the third round of the scheduled 12-round bout.

Modern ring history in the heavyweight division is considered to have begun when John L. Sullivan knocked out Paddy Ryan in nine rounds at Mississippi City, Miss., Feb. 7, 1882. Including that contest and the one in which Marvin Hart defeated Jack Root to gain the title relinquished by Jim Jeffries, there have been 24 championship bouts. The longest was that in which John L. Sullivan knocked out Jake Kilrain in 75 rounds at Richburg, Miss., the shortest that in which Tommy Burns defeated Bill Squires in one round at Colma, Cal., July 4, 1907.

By the average duration of these championship contests, which is a trifle under 15 rounds, Dempsey and Carpentier, scheduled for only 12 sessions, would seem likely to go the prescribed route. The length of the Sullivan-Kilrain duel, however, stretches this average and examination of the records show that 11 of the 24 battles have stopped short of the 12-round mark, while the most recent championship fight, in New York last December, ended with the knockout of Bill Brennan by Dempsey in the twelfth round.

Persons who wager on an official result in the Jersey City bout, can win or lose only in two events, a knockout or a disqualification on a foul. To make possible a clean-cut decision, it has been suggested that Promoter "Tex" Rickard appoint three judges who shall sit at the ringside and announce a verdict after returning to New York following the bout.

A list of the heavyweight championship bouts beginning with Sullivan's defeat of Ryan in 1882 is appended:

1882, February 7—John L. Sullivan knocked out Paddy Ryan in nine rounds at Mississippi City, Miss.

1889, July 8—John L. Sullivan knocked out Jake Kilrain in 75 rounds at Richburg, Miss. in the last championship bout with bare knuckles.

1892, September 7—James J. Corbett knocked out John L. Sullivan in 21 rounds with big gloves at New Orleans.

1894, January 25—James J. Corbett stopped Charley Mitchell in three rounds at Jacksonville, Fla.

1897, March 17—Bob Fitzsimmons stopped James J. Corbett in 14 rounds at San Francisco, Cal.

1899, June 9—James J. Jeffries stopped Bob Fitzsimmons in 11 rounds at Coney Island.

1899, Nov. 3—James J. Jeffries defeated Tom Sharkey in 25 rounds at Coney Island.

1902, July 25—James J. Jeffries stopped Bob Fitzsimmons in eight rounds at San Francisco, Cal.

1903, August 14—James J. Corbett knocked out James J. Corbett in ten rounds at San Francisco, Cal.

1904, August 24—James J. Jeffries knocked out Jack Munroe in two rounds at San Francisco, Cal.

1905—James J. Jeffries retired and handed title to Martin Hart after the latter had stopped Jack Root in 12 rounds at Reno, Nev.

1906, Feb. 23—Tommy Burns beat Marvin Hart in 20 rounds at Los Angeles, Cal.

1907, May 7—Tommy Burns beat Philadelphia Jack O'Brien in 20 rounds at Los Angeles, Cal.

1907, July 4—Tommy Burns stopped Bill Squires of Australia in one round at Colma, Cal.

1908, December 25—Jack Johnson defeated Tommy Burns in 14 rounds at Sydney, N. S. W., the police interfering.

1909, October 14—Jack Johnson knocked out Stanley Ketcher in 12 rounds at Colma, Cal.

FINE ASSORTMENT OF BOX ORATORS IN LOS ANGELES

Another Sprightly Letter From McDiarmid Tells All About It

FREE SPEECH ASSURED That Reminds "Mac" of Strike in The Ontario Just 30 Years Ago

FROM W. S. MACDIARMID

LOS ANGELES, June 6, 1921—One of the great outdoor amusements of the city of the Angels, is the open forum. On Los Angeles streets from First Avenue to Third every evening from 7 until 9 o'clock is devoted to speech making. Here come all those with messages to save the world. The rule is five feet from the curb and you can speak from a soap box or an automobile. Free speech is guaranteed in the constitution. If you don't believe it ask Eugene Debs. The talent that takes part at these nightly meetings are good, bad and indifferent. Each have their group of followers. Socialism and religion have the largest following. A lone atheist with a hoop from a sugar barrel endeavors to prove that the earth is made of a collection of atoms which gradually took shape and cooled. He had a little silver ball suspended by a string in the centre of the hoop and he showed how the world happened to be here. He had an accent that reminded me of Chief Newton and it is always interesting to hear an Englishman talk English.

One of the speakers was a coal black Negro, dressed in a shiny black suit and a glistening silk hat. He said he was prepared to prove beyond the shadow—a black shadow of a doubt—that there were no white men in the Ark. He contended that the negro was the only genuine thoroughbred and the whites were mongrels. In Texas he would be hung for a statement like that. His hearers merely laughed and said he might be right. He said the climate made the white man as they lost their color by travel. When the European hiked started all men were black and they lost their kinky hair when they hatted in Canada and other cold climates.

One speaker was an old Irishman who claimed his sweetheart was Calamity Jane and he had been friends with Jesse James and all that nighad said got more nickels than any of the speakers. He was witty and he was lying, but he made a hit.

The Socialists are not the drawing card they were before the war. The socialist is willing to give you half what he has but he has nothing. The Bolshevik has workers, but not brains and he will go on voting Tory the rest of his life and get nowhere. Down at the end of the line was the noisiest bunch of Salvation Army lasses in the world. They were doing their best to drown out the rest of the speakers.

Of all the messages that are being handed out none seem to save the sick man of the world. The human race is not progressing. The world will not be safe for the Democrats in a million years at the rate it is improving. This was brought home with great conviction as the writer was heading homewards. On the newstands were signs reading: "Get your magazines early. Printers strike back east."

Here was proof that the race has not improved in thirty years for it was that long ago the printers had a strike at the Ontario. One beautiful morning in June the staff surprised the proprietor in the front office with a demand that if the week's stipend was not boosted they would walk out and leave the great paper lying flat on its back. It is said that a pact has no honor in his own country. Neither has a humorist. The proprietor was one, but only a few knew it. He tried to register surprise but he could hardly keep from laughing. None in the crowd expected a raise and they were not disappointed. The boss told them that they were making a demand in a call season when everyone was saving up their money to go to the bank. He also told them that they knew there were more people in West Hastings and they thought The Intelligencer and borrowed The Ontario. He paid as much money as the other paper for as was a Grit and Liberal. He thought it was too sudden a demand and suggested that they put it off another six months. The hot heads won and soon the staff with the exception of the Foreman and the Printer's Devil were headed for the Bay of Quinte on a fishing expedition. The customary bait in those days was Corby's I.X.L. and if you didn't catch any fish it didn't make much difference. Before the bait was used up it was decided to start a new paper which would be better than the two old ones put together. It was to print the truth, carry no advertisements, and soak the Grits and Tories alike.

Four bells was the time for The Ontario to go to press and the printers were anxious to see what kind of a paper had reached the public without their assistance. The newsboys were at Tisdale's boat house with fresh copies as the boat landed. One of those papers should be in the British museum. It looked like the London Illustrated Weekly and the New York Medical Journal combined.

Mr. Bowser and his wife were scrapping all over the front page. St. Jacob and Lydia Pinkham were having a conversation up in the corner near the weatherman. Lydia was advised to use St. Jacob's Oil for that tired feeling. Old Wooden Face who held a bunch of cigars in his hand in front of John Penn's tobacco store told of the wonders of Pink Pills for pale people. He said he hadn't walked for four years and after taking two boxes he attended Hunter and Crozier's meetings every night and was converted. Jimmy Babcock who carried a paper for his employer and could not read looked at it upside down. He saw all the steamboat paddles and he told the neighbors on Pinnacle street there must have been a big storm as the paper was full of shipwrecks.

The strikers were on the job the following day. All the benefit derived was a day shy in the pay envelope on Saturday night. There was no fear of the strikers losing their jobs, for when they walked out of the office they had most of the type of the cases in their pockets. Had the boss capitalized there would have been several burials at sea without benefit of clergy. The printers' strike of today will be a little longer but the result will be the same as thirty years ago, only it will lack the humor for every employer is not a David Harum. Laugh and the world laughs with you—snore and you sleep alone.

DRURY HAS SORE THROAT His Intended Speech in Quebec on Thursday Postponed

TORONTO, June 13—Premier Drury was to have delivered a speech at Quebec next Thursday, but it has been found necessary to postpone the visit to the "ancient capital." The Prime Minister since the prorogation of the Ontario legislature, has delivered a great many addresses. A number of them open air meetings, as a result throat trouble has developed, and on advice of physicians he will rest for a week or so.

A record of 8,000 arrests in 19 years without once having fired a shot, is the boast of Matt Starwick, sheriff of King County Wash. Truth would be frightened to death if it happened to encounter some people in a dark alley.

WEDDINGS

BOYLE-FITZGERALD.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at 11:30 a.m. at St. Michael's Church when Miss Aileen Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. J. V. Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyle.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was charmingly attired in a gown of grey tulle with a hat to match, carrying a bouquet of American beauty roses and carnations.

The groom's gift to the bride was a rope of pearls, to the bridesmaid a sterling silver vanity case, to the groomsmen, a pair of gold cuff links. The estimation and popularity of the young couple was expressed in no mean way by a host of beautiful gifts of which they were the recipients.

After the wedding ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of at the bride's home, 358 Bleeker Ave., the dining room being prettily decorated for the occasion. The happy couple left on the 11:45 a.m. G.T.R. for Toledo, Cleveland and other western points. The bride's going away suit was of navy blue gabardine with hat to match.

The bride for the past four years has been a valued employee of the G.T. superintendent's staff. The groom is a member of the Canadian Industrial Alcohol staff, Corbyville, and is well and favorably known. Best wishes of hosts of friends accompany the happy couple on their voyage through life.

Out-of-town guests were present from Montreal, Ottawa, Sherbrooke, Toronto and other points.

McDONALD-PALMER. The marriage of Mrs. Esther Palmer to Mr. John McDonald, both of Point Anne, took place Saturday at Christ Church rectory, Rev. W. G. Swayne officiating. The bridal couple were unattended. They left for points east on their honeymoon.

POWER SHORTAGE DUE TO ACCIDENT AT HEALEY FALLS

Two of the Turbine Units are Flooded and Damage to the Plant Serious 25% LESS "JUICE"

In Belleville and Throughout Trent Valley Difference is Keenly Felt

In Belleville and throughout the Trent Valley system today, about twenty-five per cent. less power is available, through an accident which put out of commission the Healey Falls plant, about six-thirty o'clock on Saturday evening.

One of three units in the station had been down for repairs and the manhole covering of the turbine left open, so that workmen could get in and out. A stop log at the gate where the water was cut off, leading into the pipe line, broke at the bottom, causing the pipe line to fill up with water and the fluid then poured in an arch-like stream by the ton into the power house through the opening and poured down upon the two units in operation.

These machines were badly damaged and it will take some time to repair them as they require to be re-wound.

The unit that was not operating, will, it is expected, be running about the end of this week, after it has dried out.

The water flooded the power house several feet deep. None of the electricians were injured.

Healey Falls development totals about 15,000 horsepower, about 10,000 of which is used. This is now entirely off.

Some power is being secured from other companies in the district and all the available power in the system will be utilized, so that the public will not be inconvenienced more than necessary.

Mr. G. B. Smith, superintendent of power, has arrived home from the scene of the accident, having made arrangements for repairs.

CAR STAYS ON ROUTE HERE Belleville C. N. E. Officially Known Nothing of Its Future

C.N.E. officials here know nothing regarding the future of the Edison trolleyless car operating between Belleville and Trenton. Reports that the car was to be run between Brockville and Westport are unfounded. As far as known the car will remain on the present route. If it is removed, it will likely be replaced by another. So Belleville need not worry.

Foot Caught in Belt. Cobourg—Frank Corbett, an employee at the Lanctot Laminating factory, had his foot painfully crushed when it was caught between the belt and the pulley of a machine he was working on. Fortunately no bones were broken, but the injury confined him to the house for some days.

Performing Truck Puts on "Circus" on Hill Corner TRUTH is stranger than fiction, even in Belleville, and this is no fictitious tale. It happened on Victoria Avenue hill at five fifty-five o'clock, to be exact, on Saturday evening.

A small delivery truck was stopped before a residence near the top of the hill. No sooner was the back of the driver, who started to go into the house with a parcel, turned than the performing driverless jitney began to glide down the hill. It was easy sailing and needed no "gas," needed nothing except released brakes. But the sailing soon got difficult.

Victoria Avenue Baptist Church stands on the continuation of the street line and the mechanical device took no notice of the turn, but jumped the track and sidewalk and up the lawn it went. Mr. John Irvine, who was on the walk had to make a dash for safety up the terrace lawn and just missed the senseless bus. The climb up the terrace turned the front wheels and the machine took a veer to the south, side-swiped a standing car and dashed into a brick house just opposite the church. There its career ended. It was not too badly wrecked at that.

The runaway belonged to Green & Co. butchers and Mr. Terry Scowell owns the car that was struck.

CIRCUS PARADE LIKE OLD TIMES

Elephants, Monkeys, Clowns, the Well-Known Callopo All "Present"

With elephants and camels, monkeys and wild beasts, gamely dressed horsemen and horsewomen, gaily caparisoned horses and gilded wagons, John Robinson's Circus paraded Belleville streets at eleven o'clock today, passing through an aisle formed by thousands of citizens and visitors. It was reminiscent of the old time circus, but it had novel features all its own.

Following two Union Jacks which led the parade came beasts of the wild in cages, ring horses driven in tandem by fair equestrians, a huge tractor hauling a cage of the King of Beasts, tigers, seals, parrots, polar and grizzly bears, a magnificent herd of nine elephants, leopards, a hippopotamus, camels hauling the cages of the monkey tribe, troupes of girl acrobats, rough riders of the western plains, which furnish moviedom with some of its greatest feats of physical prowess and strength, a bevy of clowns, originally dressed, and droll as the race usually is, colored bands, zypsy musicians, clown bands, and lastly two musical instruments, one the well-known callopo, and the other an organ.

Splendor and variety marked the parade. It was not padded like some others that have been seen here, but carried the true flavor of the circus.

This year some circuses have cut out parades as too expensive. Belleville residents should feel flattered that the John Robinson aggregation put on a parade for their edification.

There was a big crowd at the grounds this afternoon. There are many visitors in town who took in the performance. A big attendance of townspeople is looked forward to for tonight.

NEED TWO-THIRDS VOTE TO CONTINUE

Mine Leader Declares Coal Strike Off Unless Men Stand Pat MIXED FEELINGS SHOWN

LONDON, June 13—Reports from various mining centres indicate a growing feeling among the men in favor of accepting the coal owners' latest offer. A meeting to explain the details of the offer will be held in many districts before the ballot of miners on Wednesday.

A few of the miners' leaders remain irreconcilable, declaring that the owners' terms are "surrender" and the longer men stay out the greater will be the pressure brought to bear upon the Government to force the owners to make concessions. Against these sentiments is the definite declaration of the acting president of the union that a two-thirds majority against the owners' proposals will be considered necessary to continue the strike.

BABCOCK PLEADS GUILTY Case is Enlarged After Judge Denies Hearing His Plea

Stanley Babcock, of Deseronto, who was last week committed for trial by Magistrate Bedford on a charge of stealing a quantity of whiskey belonging to a man named Harold, on Edmund street, Deseronto, pleaded guilty before County Judge Deroche today and the case was enlarged.

At Deseronto Magistrate Bedford convicted him on a charge of having liquor in his possession in a place other than his usual dwelling house and fined him two hundred dollars and costs or three months in default.

HUMAN SACRIFICE OFFERED IN INDIA BRINGS ON RIOTS

Government Report is Made on Serious Disturbances in Northern District. OLD WOMAN BURNED

Sepoys Who Attempt Rescue Attacked—Seven Killed, 10 Wounded as result

SIMLA, India, June 13—The government report on the serious riots which took place recently in Sirohi village in Rajputana Agency, states it was caused by the offering of a human sacrifice. During the disorders seven persons were killed and ten wounded.

The village, which is the home of many members of the Ancient Sect of Charaya, became greatly excited over the refusal of the Charaya to pay the usual revenue contributions. Sepoys were sent to enforce the collection, the report says, and found the Charaya had followed traditional methods of bringing the vengeance of Heaven upon the state by burning an old woman alive. She had been placed upon the pyre, which was lighted by her nearest relatives. When the troops attempted to rescue the victim, the villagers opposed them with knives and swords, wounding several soldiers.

The sepoy detachment fired a volley into the crowd, which scattered but the attempt at rescue came too late to save the woman.

GIRL IS TARGET OF DAD'S RIFLE; MOTIVE UNKNOWN

Daughter of Cannis Tyron, of Kalarad, Has Chance of Recovery, Doctors Say IN KINGSTON HOSPITAL

Mysterious Shooting Takes Place at Summer Resort—Well Known in Belleville

KINGSTON, June 10.—Cannis Tyron, of Kalarad, is under arrest in Napanee jail, charged with shooting his daughter, Cecil Tyron, aged 17, yesterday, with intent to do bodily harm.

The girl is at present in a general hospital critically ill, although doctors state she has an even chance for recovery. She is suffering considerably from loss of blood, from a wound in her left breast.

The affair took place at ten o'clock on Thursday morning. The rifle which caused the wound is said to have been in the hands of Tyron.

The girl had been living with a first cousin, in Kalarad, but there was no evidence, according to the villagers, of any disagreement between father and daughter. Mr. Tyron has been a resident of Kalarad for over a quarter of a century, except for a short residence in Napanee.

Kalarad district is well known to Belleville campers as it is on the way to Lake Madawaska, the summer resort. Northbrook, the village to which Tyron was first taken is on the road leading from Belleville to Lake Madawaska.

FIRE SHOT AT VICTORIA

Man Who Attempted Murder of Queen in '22 is Dead

LONDON, June 10.—Roderick McLean, who attempted to shoot Queen Victoria on March 2, 1882, and was subsequently incarcerated as a dangerous lunatic, has just died at Broadmoor Asylum.

The attempted murder of the Queen occurred at Windsor following the arrival of the Royal train conveying the Queen, Princess Beatrice and the Court, from London. The Queen had just walked across the platform of the Windsor station to the carriage-in-waiting when McLean, who was standing among a number of spectators, deliberately fired a revolver at her.

The shot missed and the Queen was at once driven to the Castle.

PRESQU'ILE PROVINCIAL PARK; COTTAGERS MUST NOW PAY RENT TO PROVINCE NOT THE TOWNSHIP

The province of Ontario is getting without cost a new provincial park of 1,680 acres on the peninsula known as Presqu'ile Point, that juts out into Lake Ontario near Brighton.

It is about the size and shape of Toronto Island. Back in 1871 the province had this land, but the Dominion then took it over, largely because of the highbush necessary to navigation. The federal authorities are now willing to turn it back to the province and Hon. Mr. Bowman inspected the peninsula and nearby island when he was down yesterday.

Six or seven farmers are located on Presqu'ile Point, along with about one hundred summer cottagers none of whom have title. The province probably will charge them a rental and take over the care of the road from the township which has been charging taxes and which it henceforth will be unable to collect.

RUMANIA AND REDS TO SETTLE SQUABBLE

Take Jozesco Foresees No Difficulty in Bringing Peace to Warring Frontier

BUCHAREST, June 10.—Peace between Rumania and Soviet Russia seems assured, says Jozesco, Rumanian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

"We do not meddle in internal Russian affairs," he said, "any more than we would permit any meddling in ours. The Soviets reiterate that they have no intention of attacking us. I am bound to believe them and I know that we shall not attack."

According to our information there are fewer Bolshevik troops on our frontier than there were during the winter.

"Likewise we have truly friendly, fraternal relations with Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Greece. With Poland we are in agreement to maintain peace on our eastern frontiers. We are opposed to the return of the Hapsburgs which would be a great danger for the peace of Europe."

Economic conditions in Rumania, he said, were improving, the finances were in good condition and the future seemed favorable.

The cutting of these legumes should be general in a few days, judging by the growth made in various parts of the Province during the past fortnight. By being ready for the first cutting nearly a month ahead of the regular haying period the farmer is aiding the farmer by spreading out the season's work more evenly.

ASSEMBLY SEES PEACEFUL CLOSE; CONNOR LAUDED

Today Finds Delegates Scattering to Homes all Over Dominion LAMBETH APPEAL UP United Church of Canada is Brought Distinctly Nearer by Debates

TORONTO, June 10.—Presbyterians whose deliberations at the General Assembly here were the subject of Dominion-wide interest for the past week were scattered today, some back home, some on trains carrying them to more distant parts, but all were agreed, doubtless, that the Toronto general assembly would go down in history as one of the most important ever held.

The assembly voted almost four to one for church union and made the minimum pay for ministers $1,800.

A Peaceful Closing. But from the peaceful atmosphere which pervaded the closing scenes of the 47th Presbyterian General Assembly in St. James' Square, Church last evening, one could never have supposed that it had passed through the throes of a debate which threatened to cleave the church in twain. The momentous issue of church union had been decisively pronounced upon, the vision of a United Church of Canada brought nearer, the realization, the Moderator, in his closing speech, predicted that the Toronto General Assembly would, in after years, be regarded as an historic one.

One of the most important reports passed upon during the day was that of the Committee on the Lambeth Conference appeal on Church reunion. The Assembly authorized the holding of local conferences with the Anglican and other churches on the question of the reunion of Christendom, and more particularly on the proposals of the Lambeth Conference.

The Assembly adopted a strongly worded resolution condemning race-track gambling, and declaring that the Federal Government was responsible for the continuance of this vice by refusing to make it an offense against the law.

A warm discussion took place at the afternoon session over the resolution of the Board of Education to recommend the appointment of a professor of religious education to Knox College. It is understood that the attitude of the board was due to its looking forward to the carrying into effect of the co-operation among the colleges as proposed by the report of the Church Union Committee.

Commissioners of all shades of opinion were unanimous in their praise of the Darlings' manner in which the Moderator has presided over the deliberations of the Assembly. It was freely stated that "Kale Connor" had proved himself an ideal master of assemblies.

The opening day of the Argyll Light Infantry Tennis Club was a very successful social event of yesterday. Many of the younger set in town were there and enjoyed a cup of tea and a bite of food. While the more strenuously inclined players mostly mixed doubles on the turf courts which for so early in the season, were in excellent condition. Mrs. McManus, wife of Capt. D. T. McManus, Adjutant of the Regiment and president of the club, presided at the tea table and assisting were Miss Ruth Sinclair, Miss Pearl Smith, Miss Phyllis McManus, Miss Sylvia Pinkerton, Miss George Springer, Miss Currie, and others. The Armouries lawn presented a gay appearance and many comments were heard to the effect that the courts there with their implied suggestion of gaiety and life were a decided improvement over their former condition of "splendid isolation."

HOUSES IN EAST HOARY WITH AGE

Fine Residences in St. John, N. B., Are Links With The Early Times

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 13.—When the fine old residences of William McLean, was destroyed by fire here recently another link with the past century was snapped. The house was built over one hundred years ago.

There is in St. John, however, a house which antedates the McLean residence. This is the one at the corner of Union and Germain streets which was built by David Merritt over one hundred and thirteen years ago and is still occupied by descendants of the original family.

The house was originally built upon a knoll with a mere covering of soil upon the primary rock. In later years the street was cut alongside the house so that at the present time David Merritt's handiwork stands a full ten feet above the St. Germain Street sidewalk, perched on a solid rock base.

When the Loyalists came to St. John they erected several splendid houses quite as good as the Merritt home, but most of them were lost in the great fire of 1877. As far as is known, the Merritt house is the oldest in St. John and probably one of the most ancient in the province of New Brunswick.

Wm. Davis and Mrs. Davis are in the city for a few days visiting old associates, stopping at Mr. Donald McLean's, Alexander street.
