SERIOUS AFFAIR CAUSED BY COTTON EMPLOYEES STRIKE IN LANCASHIRE TRADE

Several enquiries having been made by citizens regarding the installation of the ornamental street lighting system, the question was taken up today at the office of the Hydro-Electric department.

The guaranteed dates of delivery for the various items of equipment are as follows: Cast iron Standards—half Oct. 1st, Conduit bends—Oct. 23rd, Cable joining material, terminals, etc.—Oct. 15th.

The order of work will be as follows: First, the foundations for the standards will be installed. Each foundation will be a block of concrete 20 inches square and 20 inches deep. Four anchor bolts will be set in the concrete for securely fastening the standards.

Parks Board

General Matters of Importance Taken Up at Meeting Last Night.

At an important meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners held in the Mayor's Office last night at which all the members of the Board were present the city was dealt with and other important business transacted.

A communication was received from the City Clerk stating over to the Board of Works the control of the Grand River Avenue, the street that was recently opened below Jubilee Terrace. It is proposed to call West Mill St. by that name.

The Waterworks Board notified the Park Commissioners of the handing over of five acres of land at the corner of West Mill and Morrell St. for a public playground.

The Board accepted the proposition of the Anglo-American Insurance Co. through their agent, K. V. Bunnell offering the Board $292 for damages caused by the grand stand at Agricultural Park by fire.

The amount to the credit of the Board at present in the hands of the City Treasurer is $4,439.53. There is yet a lot of heavy work to be done by the Board this Fall, but they are fortunate in having funds on hand to meet same.

Churchill Is Some Flyer

(Canadian Press Despatch.) NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A Herald cable from London says: Winston Churchill made two flights from Cromartie Firth yesterday. First he went for a trip on a Farman biplane with Lieut. Longmore ascending more than fifteen hundred feet. Afterward he made a long flight in a monoplane, traversing the entire length of the Firth, being absent about forty minutes.

TRESPASSING ON THE GRAND TRUNK

Was Charge Against Two Men in Police Court To-day.

Charged with being drunk and trespassing on the G. T. R. property, Wm. Dowling and Frank McGuire appeared in police court this morning. John Nichol, a signaller, stated that the accused men with one other man climbed up the ladder to his signal station and continued to bother him during the early hours of the night, by asking to get in for the night. Cross examined by the prisoners he was unable to swear positively that these were the men, but thought that their voices were the same.

Constable Blanchard stated that he arrested the men on the G. T. R. station platform on the complaint of the G. T. R. authorities. They had been drinking, he said, but were not too drunk. The men claimed that they were at the station waiting for a train to Hamilton. They denied being near the signal station.

On account of the fact that the plaintiff could not identify the men as those who had been bothering him, Magistrate Livingston refused to commit and dismissed the charges. He warned the accused to stay away from the G.T.R. property, unless they had business there.

Fine Imposed. When the case in which Andrew McMeans was charged with a breach of the health by law, in allowing a house under his control to be occupied after it had been condemned, was called, it was reported that the defendant was too ill to be in attendance but in his absence the case proceeded with. Sanitary Inspector Glover stated that the house was condemned at different times but had been repeatedly torn down. Very little attempt had been made to put the house in required condition.

Counsel for McMeans argued that the defendant was in very poor physical condition and was doing all in his power to live up to the requirements. Magistrate Livingston expressed the opinion that McMeans would not do any more than he was forced to do and imposed a fine of $5.00 and costs, and imposed a fine of $5.00 and costs.

Charge Dismissed. Because the police could not locate an important witness, it being reported that he had gone to New York, the charge of procuring liquor while on the "billed" list, preferred against Frank Clawsey was dismissed.

FIRE IN NEW YORK. NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Fire broke out this afternoon in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, and did about $50,000 damage before it was got under control. The church is one of the most historic in greater New York, and its pulpit was once occupied by Henry Ward Beecher.

WOMAN IS GUILTY. BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Oct. 3.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Laura M. Reuter, charged with the murder of her husband, a prominent attorney at Tulsa, Okla., last year, returned a verdict of guilty to-day. The jury recommended life imprisonment.

Regina's Y. M. C. A., destroyed in the 1912 cyclone, has been reconstructed.

SCENE AND AVIATORS AT INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET.

SWINGING INTO THE COURSE

The international aviation meet at Rheims, France, is one of the biggest events in the aeroplane world, for nearly every nation has entered its crack pilots and machines. The United States representative cannot fly, as no machine could be secured for him.

Mr. Eugene Gilbert's Deperdussin monoplane is one of the fastest machines in the contest and is capable of flying 118 miles an hour. Mr. Rene Caudron, on a Caudron 2500, 575.

HANS SCHMIDT, SLAYER OF GIRL SHOWS OFF HIS TEMPER TO-DAY

He Was Found Guilty of Murder by Jury of Millionaires—Took Rosary and Tore it in Shreds, Throwing it at Newspaper Men—Stirring Scene in Court Room.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Hans Schmidt, the priest who murdered Anna Amutter, became frenzied to-day at the coroner's inquest into the death of his victim, rose from his seat, ripped from his neck the rosary he had worn ever since his incarceration, tore it into many bits and hurled them at the newspaper reporters sitting half a dozen steps away. The jury found him responsible for the girl's death.

Schmidt's outburst of temper occurred in the presence of a jury of millionaires empanelled to conduct the inquest. The verdict was quickly found. It follows: "We, the jury, believe that Anna Amutter, came to her death on September 2, 1913, at No. 8 Bradhurst Ave., at the hands of Hans Schmidt."

Schmidt was immediately remanded to the Tombs without bail to await the action of the grand jury. Theodore P. Shontz, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, was foreman of the jury. His fellow jurors included Vincent Astor, B. J. Greenhut, merchant; Mortimer Regensberg, cigar manufacturer and E. S. Marston, banker.

Schmidt was brought into the courtroom between two detectives. He appeared to be calm and walked rapidly to his seat. During the brief examination of witnesses not a trace of emotion crossed his face. He sat upright, and made no unusual move until the coroner had concluded his charge to the jury.

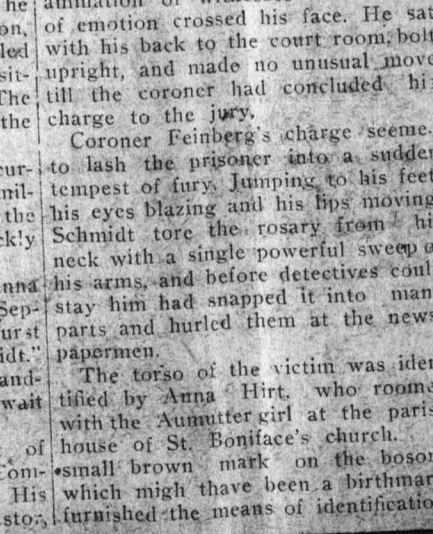

Coroner Feinberg's charge seemed to lash the prisoner into a sudden temper of fury. Jumping to his feet, his eyes blazing and his lips moving, he took the rosary from his neck with a single powerful sweep of his arms, and before detectives could start him had snapped it into many parts and hurled them at the newspapermen.

The torso of the victim was identified by Anna Hirt, who roomed with the Amutter girl at the parish house of St. Boniface's church. A small brown mark on the bosom, which might have been a birthmark, furnished the means of identification.

Princess' Health is Much Improved. Bride of King Manuel is Reported to be Much Better.

MUNICH, Oct. 3.—The health of Princess Augustine Victoria of Hohenzollern, wife of former King Manuel of Portugal, is improving so rapidly that she and her husband will soon be able to undertake the journey to Sigmaringen and London promised before her illness according to bulletins issued by the physicians in attendance this afternoon.

W. A. HARRIMAN. A PRODIGIOUS WORKER

William Averell Harriman, son of E. H. Harriman, can be found any day laboriously going over railroad reports at his desk in the offices of the Union Pacific Railroad Company.

Although elected a director of the Union Pacific last year it was not until recently that Mr. Harriman actually began taking a vital interest in the property. He represents the large holdings of Union Pacific shares held by Mrs. E. H. Harriman.

A Hamilton bride renounced the Christian faith for Judaism, changing her name from Mabel to Sarah.

BRITISH MAJOR KILLED TO-DAY

His Aeroplane Collapsed Suddenly, Ending in Fatality.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) SALISBURY, Eng., Oct. 4.—Major George Charlton Merrick of the British army flying corps, was killed while flying over the military aviation ground at Salisbury Plain to-day. His aeroplane suddenly collapsed and crashed to the earth and the aviator was picked up dead.

Major Merrick, who was an artillery officer, was only 41 years old and one of the most distinguished of the younger officers attached to the general staff of the British army. He had seen much war service in British India and West Africa, and had been decorated by the King with the distinguished service order for bravery in the field.

FATALITY INJURED. TORONTO, Oct. 3.—Riding his bicycle along College street to work at the T. Eaton Co's, store this morning, Louis Speers, a harness maker of 211 Bloor street west, was run over by a traction engine belonging to Jennings and Ross, the contractors and fatally injured.

The pavement was slippery and the skidding of his wheel spilled him under the rear wheel of the engine, which passed over his abdomen, inflicting grave internal injuries.

CASE PRESENTED IN A FAULTY WAY—DID NOT DISAGREE WITH VERDICT

The Courier has been asked to explain without legal phraseology, just how it was that members of the Court of Appeals "threw out the finding of a jury at Simcoe in connection with the Meredith case.

It was not the finding with which the Judges interfered, for they plainly stated that they did not intend to express any opinion as to the merits of the evidence or the verdict.

What they did do was to declare that in their opinion the case had been improperly joined. Briefly speaking, the pleadings charged all four defendants jointly with conspiracy, false arrest and assault. The doctor in the case knew nothing whatever of any of the police movements, yet he was included in that category and in other respects individual prosecutions were deemed to be the method which should have been properly followed.

The outcome has not been animus towards the plaintiff, at Simcoe, or the jury finding there, but with regard to what has been adjudged the style of presentation.

Friends of the plaintiff declare they will proceed with a new trial along the lines directed by Chief Justice Mulock, and on the result of the next trial will depend the costs of the entire litigation.

They Resent It Deeply

(Canadian Press Despatch.) LONDON, Oct. 3.—The action of the American immigration authorities in ordering the deportation of Marie Lloyd, was the subject of general conversation in Vaudeville clubs and other gathering places of London variety artists. Daisy Jerome, who has just returned from America, said: "What a disgraceful proceeding. It is a deadly insult to the British artists, and I am sure the American people won't endorse it."

Mark Sheridan also expressed the utmost surprise, and said: "It is enough to make all British entertainers swear off America in future. The whole musical profession here is deeply moved by what it regards as an affront upon one of its leading members."

Germinating News Of Dastardly Type

Sensational Statement About Brantford Milk Doesn't Stand Scrutiny.

An agent for some kind of a centrifugal milk clarifier dropped into Brantford yesterday in an effort to sell a machine designed to remove the germs from milk. According to the statement of the gent with the machine, anyone who takes 17 drops of milk gets along with the fluid, some 2,400,000,000 bacterial germs, both lactic and pathogenic. A local paper announced that the agent knew what he was talking about as he was a graduate of a great American University, Cornell. It might also have been announced that he was a representative American salesman as well.

As a result of the sensational announcement some people in Brantford this morning told their milk dealer not to call anymore. Others, who have been in the habit of consuming the lactiferous fluid, made a raid on the drug stores in order to sterilize themselves properly and get several odd billion of germs out of their system.

However, there is nothing to worry about. Medical Health Officer Pearson together with every milk dealer in Brantford were incensed to-day. "It is the most ridiculous thing for a supposedly reputable paper to publish such a heinous lie. It looks to me as if every milk dealer in Brantford had a chance for a libel suit," said the doctor. "This man made a statement about the milk in Brantford and he conducted no bacteriological test whatever. He made all the statement to sell some kind of a machine or other. Our milk in Brantford is as good as in any other place in the Province. There is no milk free entirely from bacteria, but milk which is not exposed to the air and comes fresh from the cows of safety by adults or children. The inspection of the milk supply requires the greatest and most careful scrutiny both at the source of supply and time of delivery, but the state drops of Brantford milk, makes a best-house out of his body is ridiculous beyond expression."

Force versus the Gilbert Realty company was with reference to the title of a piece of property sold by him to that firm and which the latter desired to have decided as to its effectiveness. The land used to be owned by the Brook estate, and after reading the will of the late Daniel Brook the court decided that the executors had the power of sale and that the vendor had a good title.

Re Ames Trusts was for the interpretation of the will involving a Paris estate of some $10,000 be paid by defendant in any event.

In this case goods to the value of $200 were claimed. J. E. Brethour and nephews and the sheriff wished an interpretation as to ownership.

EMPEROR BILL'S FAMILY TROUBLE

Young Prince Refuses to Become Sovereign of Brunswick.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) BERLIN, Oct. 3.—An utter deadlock has apparently been reached in negotiations for the placing of Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and his bride, Princess Victoria Louise of Prussia on the throne of Brunswick and the Emperor William may be disappointed in his hope of seeing his only daughter the wife of a reigning sovereign. This has been brought about by the failure of the Prussian officials to realize clearly before the betrothal of the young prince and princess the determination of Prince Ernest August and his father, the Duke of Cumberland, to never formally recognize their rights to the Hanoverian succession.

Prince Ernest August declared flatly to Prince August Wilhelm, the Emperor William's lawyer-son, who was sent to confer with him at Karlsruhe before the betrothal in order to induce him to renounce his rights: "For me and my family honor comes first, then love."

The authorized publication of this statement to-day is taken as indicating that he still occupies the same standpoint.

The Duke of Cumberland, according to the same publication, declares that the throne of Brunswick is not essential to him or to his son and that neither of them will renounce Hanover under any circumstances.

Princess Victoria Louise may therefore find herself the wife of a pretender in the same position as former King Manuel of Portugal.

Miss Melita Raymond Is Much Improved Artist

Large and Fashionable Audience at Grand Opera Last Evening Delighted With Charm and Beauty of Brantford's Sopranoist.

The song recital given by Miss Melita C. Raymond, at the Opera House last night, assisted by Mr. Edward J. Boyle, tenor, of New York, was an unqualified success in every particular. There was a large and fashionable audience in attendance, who listened with pleasure and delight to what can be unequivocally pronounced one of the best balanced vocal programmes heard in Brantford for many a day.

It is three years ago since Miss Melita was last heard here in public, and it has been a well spent trio of years. The last twelve months she has been under the instructions of that well known English teacher, Dr. Sauvage, a fellow of the Royal Academy of London, now of New York, and he has done much for her. She has wonderfully improved in style, singing with much greater ease and confidence; is much more temperamental whilst her phrasing and enunciation too now leave little to be desired.

Miss Raymond's two heaviest numbers were the Mozart aria "Voi ce Sapete," and the Charpentier aria "Depuis Le Jour." The latter was undoubtedly the piece of resistance of the evening. It was interpreted with great grace and charm.

A delightful group of old English and Modern English songs was (a) "Phillis Has Such Charming Graces" (Anthony Young); (b) "Shepherd Thy Demeanour Vary" (Thomas Brown); (c) "Down in the Forest" (Landon Ronald); (d) "The Fairy Pipers" (Harriet Brewster).

This group was sung with a crispness and brightness quite irresistible; Miss Raymond's other solo offerings were the 18th century Chansons "Bergere Legere" and "Jennes Fillettes," McDowell's "Largago" and Sprou's "Will o' the Wisp." The latter lilting melody was most artistically interpreted.

The fast young artist was most enthusiastically received, and had to respond to numerous encores, among other extra numbers and repeats.

SOME OF THOSE PRESENT AT BRILLIANT RECITAL

Raymond's concert recital last evening at the Opera House upon which occasion the fast young Brantford singer secured such a distinct and artistic success were: Col. and Mrs. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. W. Great Start is Made By Industrial Classes

Enrollment Last Night at Collegiate Institute Was 391—Classes Are Well Organized—Higher Education Spirit Shown

The night classes at the Collegiate Institute including industrial science, millinery, dressmaking, etc., got off to a fine start last evening and judging by the enrollment made, the season's work will be enthusiastically entered into by a greater number of young Brantford men and women than ever. Since the inception of the classes great success has attended the work. This year Mr. J. Mutter will be supervisor. It will be seen that the enrollment opening night was 391—certainly an excellent start.

VERDICT GIVEN AT THE INQUEST

Major Creedy's Death No Blame Attached to Anyone

"We find that the deceased came to his death on the night of Saturday, Sept. 27th, by being struck by a train or engine while on the property of the G. T. Railway Company and that so far as the evidence discloses, no blame is attached to any person."

Such was the verdict rendered at the coroner's inquest last night, by the jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Major Creedy, whose dead body was discovered late on Saturday evening last on the devil strip of the main line G. T. R. track about three miles west of this city. The proceedings last night were decidedly brief. Only two witnesses were called, Edwin Atkinson, who discovered the body, giving evidence regarding the finding of the deceased, while James Nunn, a farmer of Paris district was called to state that he saw Creedy leaving Paris for Brantford about 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. He was alone and appeared to be sober. No evidence of a sensation of nature was adduced and the jury was absent only five minutes. Coroner Dr. Ashton presided and Crown Attorney Wilkes was present in the interests of the Crown.

Edwin Atkinson.

Mr. Edwin Atkinson stated that he was a laborer, and at the present time he was a member of the Grant and Campbell construction gang. On Saturday night, about 10 o'clock he was proceeding along the G. T. R. tracks eastward towards the camp, on his way home from Paris, when he discovered the body of the deceased lying on the west bound track. When the witness discovered the body, he said, "Hello, there Major, what are you doing here?" and receiving no answer, he felt the body and was unable to find any pulse beat although the body was quite warm. Atkinson lit a match and saw a pool of blood, following which he went to a farmer's home and gave the alarm. The farmer returned with the witness to the scene of the accident and later the police were notified. Witness noticed that there was a hole in the man's head in which a man's fist could have been placed almost. Witness noticed some brain matter on the north side of the rail against which the man's head was lying. In the joint of the rail, slightly nearer Paris was some more brain matter. The man's hat lay about five yards east of the body.

He Was Alone.

James Nunn, a farmer, residing near Paris, said he knew the deceased. He saw Creedy about 5 o'clock on the night he met his death on the foot bridge crossing the Grand River at Paris. He was alone and was walking according to his own peculiar fashion with his head down. Witness said, "Hello Major," but the deceased did not answer, except to turn around a few seconds later and smile. He did not appear to be the worse of liquor.

Coroner Ashton.

Coroner Dr. Ashton pointed out that none of the man's limbs were broken, this being in his opinion a peculiarity in an accident of this kind. In addition to the injury to the man's head, there was also severe injury to the shoulder, evidently caused by a blow. The coroner believed that the injuries pointed to accident having occurred while Creedy was lying with his head on the rail, rather than when he was standing in a walking position. The blow on the head, he thought, was a glancing one while the injury to the shoulder may have been caused by the body being struck by some outlying portion of the train. The coroner stated that it had been his experience that in accidents where a man had been struck while walking or in a standing position there had been injuries to the legs and had not been even bruised.

Twenty-five Years Of Splendid Work Done

Women's Missionary Society of Colborne Street Methodist Church Held Anniversary Last Evening.

On the 31st day of September in the year 1888 the Colborne St. Methodist church auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society was organized at a small gathering in the church parlors. Twenty-five years have elapsed and last evening the Silver Anniversary of the society was celebrated in somewhat of a novel manner when fully 200 gathered including a goodly number of the sterner sex.

Pretty Scene.

A scene of wonderful beauty greeted the visitor. At the left was Japan with all its wonders including the Japanese girls gowned in odd but pretty costumes. Let us remain a short time with the maids of Japan show as the wonders of their country. Stretching across the room we see Japanese lanterns and yonder in a corner we spy a parasol and over here we see many ornaments and here placed on a table are numerous Japanese dishes. We leave Japan to visit the Indian territory.

The Indian Territory.

The wigwam and its surroundings look very interesting and we remain a short time. We talk with the Indian girls and they give us the privilege to look around. At once we notice the fire over which is hung a pot. The wigwam is next visited and we find it very interesting. All around us are moccasins and snowshoes and many other things.

China Visited.

China is next visited. We secure permission from the Chinese girls to view the many wonders. A quantity of China is first viewed; then a table cover which the girls have made. An effort is made to read the portion of scripture written on a banner which hangs on the wall but as we are not versed in the Chinese language and do not wish to bother the girls we will pass on. Lanterns, fans, chop sticks and many other interesting things are seen ere we leave for Canada again.

The Maple Leaf.

The Maple Leaf now turned a pretty red by the elements was much in evidence. Beautiful bouquets of asters added to the brightness of the scene.

The Maids.

The young ladies of Japan were Misses Gladys Canfield, Gladys Avery, M. Eleanor Cowherd, Grace Cowherd, Irene Turnbull, and Evelyn Holling. Misses Laurine Hutchinson, Edith Ham, Nellie Bedford, Leah Bradshaw, Clara Riddolls, Ruby Zyle and Mrs. Robert Reid represented the Chinese girls. Girls from the intermediate mission band played the part of Indian girls and were in charge of Miss Butler.

Mrs. W. E. Rose.

There was a splendid program of speeches and solos. Mrs. W. E. Rose, president of the Dominion board and a resident of Hamilton was the principal speaker of the evening. Mrs. Rose after expressing her pleasure at being present spoke of the wonderful progress the society had made during the past. There had been a very big increase in the number of members, also in the amount of money raised. Last year $192,000 was the total amount raised in the Dominion, $25,000 of this being an increase over last. Mrs. Rose spoke of the splendid work done by the society and urged the ladies to go forward and do greater things; also to become more efficient. The aim for the year was the development and extension of the work. The speaker impressed it upon the ladies that one plan of work should be followed during the year. The ladies of the society need to have faith in God, fellowship with Jesus and faith in God and faith in self. Mrs. Rose also dealt with the work in the home and foreign field.

Welcomed by President.

Mrs. Eli Riddolls, president of the society presided. She welcomed the gathering and stated that at the close of last season the society had a membership of 242. Of the original members of 16, to were still associated with the society. The aim of the society is to have every lady in the church a member of the society.

Other Speakers.

Mrs. George Chrysler, Brantford district organizer, Mrs. Lavell, corresponding secretary of the Hamilton branch of the E.T. A.G. C.M.F.W.V. (branch); Mrs. T. S. Wade, the first corresponding secretary, Miss Ada Rounds, recording secretary of the auxiliary, Mrs. J. E. Baker, president of the Hamilton branch were the other speakers, each dealing with the work of the society, some dealing with the presentation to Mrs. J. E. Perrin of a life certificate, Mrs. Fred Mann, Mrs. H. V. Hutton and Mrs. R. J. Dick have become life members, also a member from the circle and band are life members.

Life Certificate Presented.

A pleasing part of the program was the presentation to Mrs. J. E. Perrin of a life certificate, Mrs. Fred Mann, Mrs. H. V. Hutton and Mrs. R. J. Dick have become life members, also a member from the circle and band are life members.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. Frank Leeming, Mrs. W. S. Bates, Mrs. Cudmore of Detroit, the guest of Mrs. T. S. Wade and Mr. J. B. Hills.

Rev. T. R. Holling and Mr. John Mann led in the devotional exercises.

Dainty Lunch.

The lunch served was characteristic of the splendid program which preceded it. A number of the ladies of the societies had charge and well they executed their work. The young ladies who were in the booths assisted in serving.

The Officers.

The following are the present officers: President, Mrs. Eli Riddolls, first vice-president, Mrs. (Rev.) T. E. Holling; second vice-president, Mrs. Fred Mann, recording secretary, Miss Ada Rounds; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Chas. Warne; treasurer, Mrs. Hoskin.

PROCKS.

"Mercy, aren't you afraid he'll be shot?"
"Oh, no. You see, he's disguised as a deer."

NOT A VILLAGE IN ALL CANADA

But Can Tell of Genuine Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dunnet, Ont., Man Tells How Quickly they Built Him Up and Brought Him Back to Perfect Health.

DUNNET, Ont., Sept. 29.—That there is not a village or post-office in Canada that cannot provide a genuine cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills has been shown again and again. In this little village many people bear grateful testimony to the wonderful curative powers of this simple remedy.

"I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for a run-down system," Mr. Roy states. "My head ached, my limbs were heavy, and my skin had a harsh, dry feeling, and would itch and burn at night. Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply cure the kidneys. The work of the kidneys is to strain all the waste matter out of the blood. If the kidneys are out of order they fail to do their work, the waste matter remains in the blood, putrefies and causes serious diseases. The natural cure is to make the kidneys do their work. Dodd's Kidney Pills always do this.

RURAL LABORERS IN PRESSING NEED

Wages Do Not Maintain Level of Physical Efficiency.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A summary of the first part of the land enquiry report on which will be based the next step of the Government's programme of social legislation has been made public and shows the pressing need of relief for rural laborers.

The report, which is made under the direction of David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, states that the wages now paid do not allow the level of physical efficiency to be maintained. The question, it is urged, is the more pressing because since 1900 prices have risen disproportionately to wages. Objection is shown to an increasing degree by laborers to the wages being partly paid in kind. The laborer feels the long hours and the absence of holidays nearly as much as the loss of wages. The loss of wages through wet weather is a strong subject of complaint.

A surprising feature of the report is the absence of any reference to the much-discussed minimum wage of $5 a week.

CONSOLING.

"Why, the size of your bill," cried the angry patient to the doctor, "makes me boil all over!"
"Ah," said the eminent practitioner calmly, "that will be ten dollars more for sterilizing your system!"

STUDIED PROBLEMS AFFECTING LABOR

Hon. T. W. Crothers Back at His Desk After Trip to England

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor returned to Ottawa yesterday after his trip to England. He was accompanied by Mrs. Crothers. The Minister in fine form, and lost no time in getting down to the work of his department with a view of clearing up some arrears of work prior to leaving for Western Ontario, where he will take part in the bye-election campaigns. When in England Mr. Crothers was an interested visitor to the Trades Congress, where he was assigned a position of honor and followed the discussions with much interest. He afterwards visited the principal industrial centres and devoted much time to investigation and study of the industrial problems of the Old Country, with particular reference to their bearing upon Canada and the interest and advancement of Canadian labor.

The Minister of Labor would not comment upon the criticism of himself by a small and unimportant faction at the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. He said he would wait and see just what complaint and criticism had been made, and might express an opinion later.

"I've noticed something funny about you lately, Cissy," remarked the first chorus lady.

"What is it, Gertie?" asked the second chorus lady anxiously.

"I don't know, dear, but it smokes cigarettes and carries a cane."

THAW'S PROTEST WILL BE IGNORED

British Embassy Not to be Asked to Explain Deportation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The protest of Harry K. Thaw, which was sent to the State Department by Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania, was taken under consideration by former Judge Folke, of Missouri, who is now solicitor of the department. Mr. Folke is having an examination made of the treaty which Thaw claims was violated in his deportation by Canadian officers, and it is expected that a decision will be rendered to-morrow morning.

The Thaw appeal probably will not be referred to the British Embassy, it was indicated at the State Department yesterday. The general opinion is that the department will not take the action desired by Thaw, who asks that the British Government be requested to explain. The fact that Thaw is no longer in Canada is regarded as having an important bearing on the case. It was pointed out yesterday that the deportation of Thaw was practically on the invitation of the United States Government, which is requested to complain to the British Government for the action of the Canadian officials. The requests of the ten rival Governors of New York, Abner and Glynn, for the detention of Thaw was transmitted to the British Government by the State Department. The department contented itself with merely calling the attention of the British Embassy to the action in New York.

"John! John! there's a horrid hen nibbling a huge worm—and we're eating her eggs all the week!"—London Opinion.

The Monk who Went Into the World and Then Renounced It.

Lived and Loved after Leaving the Monastery but Ultimately Returned.

"The Garden of Allah" Company contains probably the most cosmopolitan aggregation of talent that has ever been put together in any one company. Canadians have witnessed plays presented by all French, all German, all British and all Russian players, and even of players of other nationalities, Japanese, Chinese, Italian, but never before it is believed have so many different nationalities been crowded into one organization. Primarily the locale of "The Garden of Allah" is Morocco and French possessions in North Africa and its environs in the desert. What could be more natural than that French should be the official language of the organization. That such is the fact is evidenced in the company are found many French people, the programme containing the names of Messieurs Motlin, Grossen, Laroche, Braconnier, Dufréne, Lecomte, Durand and Nollet. The characters represented are French soldiers, and it is also quite true that all these men have been in the army of France, either as regulars or recruits. Next come the hangers-on of the French army and these are recruited from among all classes of people of all nationalities, British, Italian, Armenians, Arabians, Africans and the like. Among these strange wanderers is a motley collection of trades and vocations is represented. But none of the quaint characters is more interesting to the occasional visitor to the camp than the Mahomet Rani, who sits all day long at the head of his bed, engaged in the manufacture of Macreme lace of marvelous workmanship. In Morocco, El Rani, was what they call a "Lace-dancer" with many skilled workers in his employ. Among the principals the nationalities are also well distributed, the ladies of the company are Misses Sarah

There are five camels, eight goats and six donkeys or asses and seven horses used in the play. All of the twenty-six animals are from the desert, and their health depends on a vigilant regard for the climatic differences between this country and the sands that stretch across Africa. The camels, oddly enough, often less of a problem than the goats and asses, are easier to satisfy in the matter of food and quarters. "The Garden of Allah" will be presented in Hamilton on Monday Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Surely for the little gown that lady wishes to look her best in, nothing is too good. PHILOSOPHICAL PHELI AND THE WEATHER

Commenting upon the absence of warships and armed men along the boundary between Canada and the United States, the Philadelphia North American publishes the remarkable article, well worthy of being quoted at considerable length.

"Perhaps history does not present such another case," says the writer, "of two peoples under separate sovereignties, with no purpose or design of governmental unity or even of formal treaty, and yet with so universal a feeling of oneness: No American holds a Canadian to be a foreigner. No Canadian looks upon an American as alien."

"Instead of a feeling of distrust, because we are so rich and populous and powerful, the Canadian feels in that very fact, the greatest sense of security; next to the security of his own manly self-reliance—a feeling that Americans can understand and respect. They share its inspiration. For we know that the United States, the American people and the American republic were laid by a stream of pioneers that poured from those Celtic islands of which England is the mother country."

"What a marvel has been this England! For nearly a thousand years her shores have been inviolate from the foot of an invader, while all the rest of Europe has been crosshatched in paths of the invader's boot. For purpose, unparalleled since the Romans marked the earth for their own, the sons of England have driven towards the outer marches of the world. Eastward and westward has gone their genius for empire. It subdued the virgin forests and the trackless prairies of North America, and with equal assurance it built up the raveled steeps of ancient civilizations and imposed order on the chaotic despotisms of India. Then, with undiminished vigor, it turned to the jungles of Africa and let light into the remotest corners of the Dark Continent."

"But never it has gone into the ideal of liberty. Freedom of conduct is not an English invention. But out of England have come the men who have spread it over the face of the earth. Her parliament is the mother of representative government, and to-day remains the most responsible and the most responsive government on the face of the earth—with the possible exceptions of those improved governments set up in the newer England beyond the sea."

"Her language, in the vehicle of poetry unmatched, since the golden days of Greece. Her Cromwell and Marlborough are the nearest rivals for the crown of the greatest soldier of the modern world. Her Drake, Drake to Nelson, were on the sea for 300 years that Napoleon was on the land for 15. Her mighty navy is now the most powerful single influence for peace in the world."

"Back of all history is the firm unyielding English character, with its love for order, its respect for law, its intense devotion to duty, its indomitable will to do what is to be done, its quickness to see the rights of man, and its unyielding courage to maintain them."

WOOD BLOCK PAVING

Pine Proving Good Substitute For Asphalt in Canadian Cities

The paving of city streets with wood is again coming into vogue. The method of laying the pavements making this one of the most satisfactory of pavements. Vancouver's pavements are largely of wood. Eighty per cent of the paving in Chicago, Minneapolis is wood-block, and Saskatoon and other Western towns are giving the wood-block paving the preference.

Best results are obtained from rectangular-shaped blocks cut from Southern or Norway pine which are thoroughly seasoned and creosoted. This latter process not only lengthens the life of the wood but reduces its absorbent capacity for water, thus preventing the weakening of the wood fibres and reducing its tendency to buckle. The most approved method of laying this pavement used in London, New York and other large cities, is to first make a concrete foundation four to six inches thick on which is laid a thin layer of sand, or better still, of moist Portland cement, into which the blocks are closely set.

The blocks are set from five to nine inches in depth and must be free from defects. Care must be taken to place them with the grain perpendicular to the road-bed. If laid with the long edges at right angles to the curb the joints are apt to become worn by the calks on horses' shoes, so to prevent this and to best provide for possible expansion, the paving is laid at an angle of about sixty-seven degrees with the curb. The joints are usually filled with ground cement and the surface of the paving is then covered with a film dressing of coarse sand, which binds into the pores of the blocks and roughens them. Such a pavement has the smoothness of asphalt and will last almost without repair for fifteen years under ordinary conditions.

Relics of Early Montreal—A number of interesting curios and coins having been found in one of the tunnels underneath the St. Marie Convent on Notre Dame Street, Montreal, by Mr. Peter Schneider, proprietor of the Cafe Princess Louise. One of the several tunnels is believed to lead to the St. Lawrence River.

Knock For Montreal—According to Mr. T. H. Dawson of the University of Liverpool, an acknowledged authority on the subject of town planning, Montreal's streets, and city site, are the worst on the continent.

THEORETICALLY EASY TO FLY ACROSS OCEAN

Inventor of Telephone Thinks It Not Impossible With Present Day Machines

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone and a pioneer in the use of heavier-than-air flying machines, believes that Lord Northcliffe's offer of $50,000 for the first flight across the Atlantic in a hydro-aeroplane within 72 consecutive hours will soon be claimed.

While certain modifications in existing machines ought to be affected, Doctor Bell says that as aerial science stands to-day the offer is a good sporting chance for airmen.

"There are machines existing now," said Doctor Bell, "which, if they are carefully doing for twenty-four hours what they have done already in shorter periods, will make the flight possible in a single day. The 72 hours is a much longer time than will be needed. If the ocean is to be traversed in an airship at all, it will be in less time than Lord Northcliffe allows."

"If I were to make the flight," said the veteran inventor, "I would make any allowances for alighting at sea and replenishing my fuel. To make the trip at all it ought to be done in a single spurt."

"While hydro-aeroplanes can take to the water and rise again into the air, the chances are against their doing anything of the sort. There is a very little likelihood of their finding the supply ship from which to replenish their tanks. Even if the wings of the airship are not injured by the descent, the chances are that, once on the water it would remain there until picked up, or until, under the buffeting of the sea, it went lower still and disappeared."

Doctor Bell referred to his laboratory notes and stenographic reports of conversations with the Canadian inventor, F. W. Baldwin, a couple of years ago, looking to long flights by aeroplanes through high altitudes.

Doctor Bell's ideas, based on his investigations made with Mr. Baldwin, is that the greatest service will be got from the aeroplanes flying at great heights. Mr. Baldwin advanced the idea which Doctor Bell at once accepted, that the resistance to the forward rush of an airship diminishes in exact ratio with the density of the air. He found that life could be sustained at a great height if the density of the air was one-third the normal density at sea level.

Therefore a machine capable of sufficient propeller revolutions of driving 40 miles an hour at sea level, and much greater speed had actually been attained—would go at a rate of 120 miles an hour in the rarer atmosphere.

Even if the atmosphere were thinned to one-third its normal density, a speed of three times the normal rate would project the aviator against exactly the same number of particles of oxygen as if he went 40 miles an hour on sea level, Dr. Bell declared.

In other words, the onward rush of the machine would preserve a normal atmosphere. At the same time, the higher speed would give the lighter air precisely the supporting power of heavier air at sea level with the lowest speed.

"Starting at Halifax," said one passage in Doctor Bell's notebook, "in the early morning by daylight, we should reach the coast of Ireland in time for late dinner. This is assuming that the distance is 2,000 miles."

Doctor Bell's calculations were based on an airship capable of 40 miles an hour at normal elevations. The proper factor to fly actually five miles high in one third the atmosphere with a triple speed.

"MAN A QUADRUPED"

Learned Savant Thinks Physical Erection is Wrong

Is the "upright carriage" of the body a mistake? Dr. Ernest Klotz, a well known Leipzig physician, thinks it is a very great mistake, and in a learned book, "Man, a Quadruped," tries to prove that human beings ought to crawl about on all fours.

The cause of our illness and of nearly all our digestive derangements is, says Dr. Klotz, the vicious practice of walking erect. "The spinal column, not the head, is the natural support of man. Walking erect displaces all the organs, which hang lower in the body than nature intended them to be. If a man crawls instead of walking the organs tend to hang in the right position from the spinal column."

The best results yet attained in various attempts that have been made to produce a wearable cloth from paper are said to be those produced by a patented process employed in Saxony. Narrow strips of paper are spun into yarn, which may be woven to form cloth. Better results are had by spinning paper and cotton together, and still better cloth is made by a combination of paper and woolen yarn.

The fabrics do not, of course, possess the strength and durability of ordinary cloth, but useful clothing may be made of them at a low price, and may be washed without injury.

When Buttons Were Unknown

How did the world manage for centuries without buttons? In early ages they were unknown. The voluminous garments of oriental peoples were still attached to their waists by means of straps, as were those of the Greeks and Romans. The Normans were responsible for the invention. The etymology of the word points to the derivation of the idea. But, an end or extremity, and "bouter," to push, show that the buttons of our modern dress are the result of the "bouter" knots of their furniture, on which most likely they hung their garments.

Once introduced, buttons came rapidly into common use.

City News Items

Finest at Paris.

Frank Robins and Alex Forbes, said to be Brantford men, were fined $5 and costs this week in Paris for being drunk and disorderly.

City Treasurer's Report.

The following is the City Treasurer's report for the month of September: Receipts to Sept. 30, 1913, $85,165.35; expenditure to September 30, 1913, $83,814.20. Balance, $1,351.15.

Too Crowded.

Complaint has been made that Brantford's market thoroughfares are too crowded, the produce being allowed to be spread several feet over the sidewalk, resulting in making things very congested for those desirous of getting around. It is felt that an improvement can be made by having the produce kept closer to the curbstone.

Lightning Did It.

The October lightning storm which passed over Brantford and surrounding district to-day, did not get by without doing some damage. It obliterated the barn of Peter Vansickle, one and a half miles east of Pine Grove. By dint of strenuous effort the live stock was gotten out, but Mr. Vansickle lost a large quantity of grain; in fact, all the season's crop. It also took hard work to save the dwelling house and a drive shed.

Carpetball Notes.

A few of the carpetballers met in H. S. Pierce's office last night and talked over the prospects of the game during the coming season and of forming the league. President Alf Dowling told those present that all the old articles of the league in the league this winter and probably some new teams would apply for admission. It was decided to call a meeting of the league on the evening of the 16th, when officers for the ensuing year would be chosen.

Only Four Runs.

During the month of September the city fire departments, have only been called out four times. This is a remarkably small number of runs during a month. Thus far this year the departments have been called out on an average of 12 times a month. The damage this month amounted to $150. Runs were made to the Hamilton Box Co., the grandstands at Agricultural Park, 169 Dalhousie St. where a playhouse was on fire, and to a barn on the Mt. Pleasant Road.

B. C. I. Field Sports.

The annual B. C. I. field day will be held to-morrow afternoon at Agricultural Park. The event of the day will be the rugby game between the first and second teams. The teams have held several very strenuous practices and a good exhibition of the game is looked forward to.

The other events are the 100 and 220 yd. dashes, the half mile, 12 pound shot put, running, high and broad jump, hop, step and jump, standing broad jump and ball throwing contest. The program starts at 1:30.

QUITE SARCASTIC.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 3.—The deportment of Marie Lloyd, the music hall singer, is commented on to-day by the Brantford Mail Gazette, which writes somewhat sarcastically about what it describes as the "sensitiveness of public opinion." It says: "One can only wonder that the excessive propriety governs the regulations for the admission of aliens to America corresponds with the daily life of the citizen within its discreet borders."

BENDER AND SCHANG TO OPEN FOR MACK

Probable Athletic Battery for First World's Series Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Only four and one-half innings of the first game of the double-header with the New York team were played to-day. While New York was at bat in the fifth inning, with the score 0 to 0, a hard shover caused Empire Evans to suspend play. In a few minutes the field was so soggy that the game was called off. A double-header between the two teams will be played to-morrow.

For the first time in a week Manager Mack had his full strength in the field. All the members of his infield—McInnis, Collins, Baker and Barry—were in their usual positions. The outfield was composed of Eddie Murphy, Strunk and Oldring.

When Bender and Schang were sent in at the start of the game it was taken as an indication that they would form a battery in the world's series, and that they would probably be the men selected to do this work in the first engagement of the big series.

The fans have been guessing as to who Mack would pair off with Bender. Many believed that Thomas, who did the bulk of the backstopping for the Philadelphia team in the world's series against Chicago in 1910 and against New York in 1911, would again team up with the noted Indian twirler. The indications are, however, that Schang has been decided upon to receive Bender's delivery.

Schang was slightly hurt in yesterday's contest. A foul tip off Peckinpugh's bat in the third inning struck Schang on the right hand and bruised one of his fingers. Manager Mack declared this evening that he did not believe the accident would turn out to be serious. Schang continued to catch until the side was retired. Bender pitched only three innings. He had excellent control, and only two hits were made off him, Maisei getting an infield single in the first inning, and Peckinpugh making a base hit to centerfield in the third. Only nine batters faced the Indian, as Maisei was thrown out by Schang trying to steal second, and Peckinpugh was doublet up with Sweeney.

on the latter's grounder to Barry Brown and Lapp became Philadelphia's battery in the fourth inning, two batsmen getting to first base on passes and one on a fumble by Barry. The American League champions put up a snappy exhibition in the field, the infielders showing no sign of staleness from their layoff. At the bat Philadelphia did not size up as being in form, although they usually have trouble hitting Caldwell, who pitched for New York.

In Caldwell's last appearance against Philadelphia at New York he shut them out and allowed only two hits. Yesterday the home team made two singles in four innings. Oldring and Baker each getting a hit. These were the only times when Philadelphia could bat the ball out of the field.

Two games to-morrow will give Manager Mack the opportunity to use a large number of twirlers. The chances are that Bender, Plank and several of the young pitchers will work a few innings in the game.

The final game in the John Hill Charity Cup series will be played at Agricultural Park on Saturday afternoon when the Holmedale Tigers and the Cocksbutt United teams meet. The game is scheduled to commence at 4 o'clock sharp. Referee, F. A. Worth will handle the game. John Hill, the donor of the handsome cup will kick the ball off and start the game.

Mayor Hartman will be on hand and will present the cup to the winning team. A benefit game will be played on Thanksgiving Day afternoon and the proceeds will be donated to W. Mayscock, who was unfortunate enough to have his leg broken in the game last Saturday.

The semi-finals in the Courier Cup series will be played on October 11th and 12th. The Y. M. C. A. and Dufferin Rifles teams will play on the former date and the All Scots and Cocksbutt United on the latter.

The Cocksbutt United team will meet the Holmedale Tigers in the final of the John Hill Charity Cup at Agricultural Park, Saturday, Oct. 4th, with the kick off at 4 p.m. Players are requested to meet at the armories at 3:30 p.m. The Cocksbutt team will turn out in the following order: Goal, H. Carey; backs, J. Anderson, C. Stubbs; half backs, A. March, T. Robertson and J. Gouick; forwards, R. Plant, A. Paul, G. Richardson, W. Richardson and R. Richardson. Reserves, T. Brodd, F. Leaming.

RUGBY.

The opening game of the Inter-scholastic Rugby League will take place to-morrow afternoon at Agricultural Park, when the Galt Collegiate boys will meet the B.C.I. team. The locals expect to get away to a good start this year, and would greatly appreciate the patronage of all lovers of the sport and pupils of the school.

Capt. Slemm thinks he has a team that can turn the trick on Galt on Saturday, which will make the locals' chances for the cup pretty good.

The game is called for 2:30 p.m. and the home team promises to put up a good stiff fight for the first game. A charge of fifteen cents will be taken at the gate. The probable line-up will be: Flying wing, F. Smith; right half, A. Livingston; left half, H. Macdonald; centre half, C. Slemm; quarter back, K. Wood; outside wings, D. Jones, R. Waterous; middle wings, H. Ryerson, A. Secord; inside wings, W. Fraser, Mr. Haynes; scrummage, W. Bennett, J. Baskard, L. Brandon, Spares, F. Cassidy, H. Sage.

Wanted—Hockey boosters to get the hockey season started by organizing a good strong hockey club for Brantford for 1913-14.

It looks like a hockey boom in Brantford this winter. Everybody will be a booster for Canada's great winter pastime this season.

The National Baseball Commission says the players shall not write. The ball players say "We will write," and the fans will sit idly by and watch the fun.

Reports from other sections of Western Ontario state that the hockey season will be the best on record. What will Brantford do? It's time some responsible person was calling a meeting to talk things over and get the local club organized. Let us have your suggestions, you hockey boosters.

The Big Four Rugby football season opens on Saturday when the Toronto Argonauts will meet the Hamilton Tigers in the Ambitious City. The Tigers have just returned from a victorious trip to the West and should be in great shape. The Argonauts are said to have a great aggregation gathered together this year, and everything points to a great opening.

Although McGraw has made no announcement yet regarding whom he will send in to do the twirling in the first world series game, the popular opinion is that the old reliable Matty will be on the mound. Others, however, think that the wise old Mugsy will send either Marquard or Demaree to do the twirling in the opener at home, saving Mathewson for the first contest away from home.

To-morrow the Rugby season in Brantford will open in earnest when the team representing the Brantford Collegiate will meet the gridiron aggregation from Galt C. I. The Brantford students have been practicing faithfully for the past few weeks, and when the whistle calls them together to-morrow they should be right on edge. Here's hoping the youngsters start the season with a win anyway.

The annual field day of sports in connection with the Brantford Collegiate Institute is being held to-day. In past years, the B. C. I. boys have always provided an interesting program of athletics for those who took the time and trouble to be in attendance, and no doubt to-day's events will be fully as interesting. The school this year has a number of good athletes, and there will be some tall hustling before a champion is decided.

PLAYERS FRATERNITY TO BACK UP WRITERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Baseball players who write articles for newspapers on the coming world's series will have the support of the Baseball Players' Fraternity. It was announced today by Daniel L. Fultz, lawyer, who is president of the organization. Fultz made a statement regarding the rule laid down by the National Commission prohibiting players of the competing teams from writing on the championship games or allowing their names to be signed to articles written by others.

"We do not pass upon the statute of the author, as in our opinion the matter rests entirely with the writer and the paper itself," said Fultz, referring to the franchise's attitude toward the National Commission's rule. "But if our support should become necessary to enable one of our members to carry out a contract which he has had a perfect right to enter into with him in good faith, we would back him up to the limit."

Officials of the New York Club announced that they have returned $50,000 to persons who sent the money to buy tickets to the championship games. Under the rules, no mail orders for tickets are to be honored and would-be purchasers must await their turns at the gates. The applications came from all parts of the country. John B. Foster, secretary of the New York club, said indications point to an attendance of 50,000 persons at the opening game here next Tuesday, if the weather is fair.

BASEBALL NOTES

Newark fans presented Manager Smith with $1,000 in gold at the close of the season, with an additional thousand for division among the players.

President McCaffery is in Rochester attending to the removal of Outfielder Callahan from a hospital there to his home in Massachusetts. Callahan's broken leg is mending rapidly.

A tour of the world with the Chicago Americans and New York Nationals next winter will be the honeymoon of Louis J. Comiskey, son of the owner of the local club, and Miss Grace Reidy, who were married in Chicago, Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Comiskey will join the baseball aggregation at Portland, Ore., in November next.

The Athletics continue to use recruit batteries against opposing teams. All of the veterans are being prepared for the world's series. Although only a few members of the Giants are willing to make the trip around the world this fall, McGraw is not having any trouble in lining up players for the team. Several National League stars have signed to make the trip, and word came from Boston last night that "Hub" Pudge, the star pitcher of the Braves, was included.

CONNIE'S OPINION ON THE RULING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, in a statement here last night, declared that he would not prevent two of his players, Baker and Collins, from writing special newspaper articles on the world's series, against which a ruling was recently issued by the National Baseball Commission. "It seems that the commission is making the ruling entirely too late," said Mr. Mack, "and if any such action is contemplated the players should have been notified long since." He expressed the opinion that the players would go ahead with their plans without serious opposition.

Hugh Jennings Knows What He is Doing. DETROIT, Oct. 2.—Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, does not intend to antagonize the National Commission as regards writing on the world's series. Jennings declared that he would not fulfill his contract unless the Triumvirate approved.

Applicant (overwhelmed)—"And shall I have to clean that?"

Express Train Escapes Little Short of Miracle

Accident to a Train at Speed of Fifty-Five Miles an Hour.

An East Coast train which left Newcastle at five minutes past five on Saturday morning for Edinburgh (Friday night's 11.30 Scotch express from King's Cross) ran off the rails near Chevington station between Mowpeth and Almouth.

It was little short of a miracle that there was not in consequence a disaster to equal Aisgill in horror.

The train, approaching the station by Warkworth Harbour, was travelling at the great speed of fifty-five miles an hour. There was a bump, and six bogey passenger carriages flew off the line.

There was the marvellous part of the affair. The wheels on leaving the rails sank and were buried in ballast, but not only acted as a brake but prevented the carriages from overturning.

Although remaining upright the carriages were forced in zig-zag across both rails. The permanent way was torn up and destroyed for 200 yards.

There were only ten passengers in the carriages, but the shock of these was comparatively slight.

The one serious result of the accident was that the main route between London and Edinburgh was completely closed. The accident occurred on the stroke of six, but before eight o'clock a breakdown gang was on the scene and started to repair the damage.

Meantime the Scotch express which followed about an hour after the broken down train could not get past the wreckage and had to be returned to Newcastle. An Edinburgh excursion from Newcastle was sent round by Carlisle, and this route was used by all the subsequent trains from the south.

It was not until half-past one on Saturday afternoon that it was found possible to open the single line for traffic. By the shock of the derailment the train was broken into sections, and the carriage windows were broken.

The driver and guard of the ill-fated express were local men. The conductor was a London man. The guard received a severe shaking, as did also the passengers.

The One Sufferer's Experiences. An Edinburgh message says the only person injured was Mr. E. W. S. Watson, managing director of the Schofield Piano Manufacturing Company, London, who sustained a sprained ankle. On the arrival of the relief train at the Waverley Station, Edinburgh, he was lying disabled in one of the first-class compartments.

He stated that at the time of the accident he was asleep and was awakened by the noise and the shock. He was thrown across the compartment and managed to get out on to the permanent way.

The driver immediately applied the brakes and the couplings broke. This as it happened, was fortunate. The tender left the rails, along with the carriages, and the mighty roo-ton engine alone stood on the rails. It was remarkable that the carriages stood upright, as one of the large compartments stood at a dangerous angle. He had to cancel his arrangements to proceed to Aberdeen, and decided to return to London.

Mr. Watson's injuries were attended to by the Sergeant-Major Storrie of the R.A.M.C. Edinburgh.

Some passengers in the train which passed over the scene of the accident stated that they felt a roughness in the running. The guard said he was thrown to the floor by the jolting. There is an impression among railway officials that this might have been accounted for by subsidence of the surface owing to the mineral working giving way. It is believed that that will be found to be the real cause of the accident.

RAPHAEL FOUND IN RUSSIA COMING TO AMERICA.

MADONNA AND CHILD by Raphael.

There will soon arrive in the United States from St. Petersburg a "Madonna and Child," described as being a work of Raphael. It was identified a year ago by Mr. Sidorow, chief restorer of pictures to the Hermitage, in St. Petersburg. The owner will send the painting to the United States, where it will be exhibited and offered to American collectors.

A recent issue of Soltize-Rossi, a Russian art magazine, says the picture was bought by a Russian educator about 1885 or 1890 from a little monastery in Northern Italy. It was not then recognized as a Raphael.

The work is declared to be almost identical with the Madonna of Raphael known as the Madonna Niccolini, or the Cowper Madonna.

Magistrate And
The Shop Thie

Refuses to Accept Plea of Drugs and Nerves.

On behalf of a young woman of independent means, who was charged at Marlborough-street on Wednesday with shop-lifting, a vain plea was put forward that she was a victim of drugs and nerves.

At the close of the case the magistrate, Mr. Mead, said, "I never saw any greater method in madness than has been shown in this case. I have come to the conclusion that the prisoner is responsible in every possible way, mentally and morally, for what she admits she has done. I cannot find anything in the evidence, either her own or that of the witnesses, to show anything but that she was completely sane on this occasion."

"Therefore, I find her guilty. I shall take into consideration the fact that she has been unwell and is doubtless suffering from the effects of the drug habit which may weaken her moral will, and be an explanation of what has occurred. But to my mind, that is not an excuse for her action. She must pay a fine of £10 and £3 3s. costs."

The woman accused was Jane MacLachlan, twentysix, residing at Staines and temporarily staying at a nursing home in London.

Bessie Unstead, shop walker at Messrs. Bourne and Hollingsworth's Oxford-street, said MacLachlan entered the shop and asked to be shown some black blouses. When the assistant, Miss Best, showed her some she said they were not good enough. The assistant went to fetch some of better material. While she was gone MacLachlan was seen to pick up one of the black blouses from the counter before her and hurriedly put it in a bag she was carrying.

Herbert William Coates, manager, said that within the last few months MacLachlan had lost by death her father, her mother, and two brothers. Following upon that she had a nervous breakdown. She came to London from her residence at Staines a fortnight ago and consulted a doctor, who saw at once she was suffering from the taking of drugs. He sent her to a nursing home at York-place, Baker street, where she had been for some days.

She had a gentleman friend, with her during the early part of Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of seeing that she did not get into any trouble. Unfortunately she left that friend and went into a restaurant in Oxford-street where she took sparkling hock and veronal. From there she went into the shop of Messrs. Bourne and Hollingsworth, having no idea of what she was doing. Under these circumstances it could not be said that she was responsible for her actions.

MacLachlan, who was dressed in deep black bore out her collector's statements. She said she was dazed and did not realize to the full extent that she was stealing.

Cross-examined by Mr. Barrington Matthews (for the prosecution), MacLachlan said she did not suggest that she was the worse for drink.

It is a fact that at the police station you gave a false name and address—Miss Ure, Ibrox Park, Edinburgh?—Yes.

You gave the name and address of a lady living at that address?—Yes, a lady with whom I stayed at one time.

Dr. Anstruther Milligan said he attended MacLachlan and advised her to go into the nursing home, Veronal, if taken with sparkling hock, would in all probability give her a dazed feeling. It would cause her not to know what she was doing. She might have lucid intervals of intelligence, but that would pass off again.

LADIES' SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Agent, T. George Bowles.

A Special Feature

When a reporter made a visit at the Temple Shoe Store yesterday, he was greatly impressed with the manner in which this firm were conducting their semi-annual opening. In a conversation, the Manager stated that he intends to keep it up at each season of the year, that is, to lay aside one day for a special display of their high class stock of footwear and at the same time to give all visitors at the store a special welcome. The aim of the manager in doing this is to get acquainted with the people and at the same time to show the class of footwear they carry in stock.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather yesterday the affair was not as successful as was anticipated, as the people could not come out. The manager notified us that he would therefore continue same for the balance of the week, and we are sure that the residents of Brantford who will take the time to pay a visit to the store, during this time, will be given most courteous treatment. The courteous manner in which visitors are treated while in the store, both by manager and clerks, regardless of whether their visit is of a business nature or not, proves that they are pleased to show their high class footwear to the public of this city.

If more of the merchants would consider a proposition of this kind we are satisfied that it could be made a successful affair and one that would be looked forward to by the residents of this city each season.

With Edged Tools

By Henry Seton Merriman, Copyright, 1894, by Harper & Bros.

Oscar administered the soup. He tended Durnovo with all the gentleness of a woman and a fortitude that was above the fortune of men. Despite himself his hands trembled, big and strong as they were. His whole being was contracted with horror and pain. Whatever Victor Durnovo had been he was now an object of such pity that before it all possible human sins faded into spotlessness. There was no crime in all that human nature has found to commit for which such cruelty as this would be justly meted out in punishment.

Durnovo spoke from time to time, but he could see the effect that his hissing speech had upon his companion and in time he gave it up. He told haltingly of the horrors of the simlacine plateau; of the last grim tragedy acted there; how at last, blinded with his blood matted, stupefied by agony, he had been hounded down the slope by a yelling, laughing horde of torturers.

There was not much to be done, and presently Guy Oscar moved away to his camp chair, where he sat staring into the night. Sleep was impossible. Strong, hardened, weather-beaten man that he was, his nerves were all a-tingle, his flesh creeping and jumping with horror. Gradually he collected his faculties enough to begin to think about the future. What was he to do with this man? He could not take him to Loango. He could not risk that Jocelyn or even Maurice Gordon should look upon this horror.

Joseph had crept back into the inner room, where he had no light, and could be heard breathing hard, wide awake, in his hammock.

Suddenly the silence was broken by a loud cry:

"Oscar! Oscar!"

In a moment Joseph and Oscar were at the bedside.

Durnovo was sitting up, and he grabbed at Oscar's arm.

"For God's sake!" he cried. "For God's sake, man, don't let me go to sleep!"

"What do you mean?" asked Oscar. They both thought that he had gone mad. Sleep had nothing more to do with Durnovo's eyes—protruding, staring, terrible to look at.

"Don't let me go to sleep," he repeated. "Don't! Don't!"

"All right," said Oscar soothingly—"all right. We'll look after you."

He fell back on the bed. In the flickering light his eyeballs gleamed.

Then, quite suddenly, he rose to a sitting position again with a wild effort.

"I've got it! I've got it!" he cried.

"Got what?"

"The sleeping sickness!"

The two listeners knew of this strange disease. Oscar had seen a whole village devastated by it, the inhabitants lying about their own doors, stricken down by a deadly sleep from which they never awake. It is known on the west coast of Africa, and the cure for it is unknown.

"Hold me!" cried Durnovo. "Don't let me sleep!"

His head fell forward even as he spoke, and the staring, wide open eyes that could not sleep made a horror of him.

Oscar took him by the arms and held him in a sitting position. Durnovo's fingers were clutching at his sleeve.

"Shake me! God! Shake me!"

Then Oscar took him in his strong arms and set him on his feet. He shook him gently at first, but as the dread somnolence crept on he shook harder, until the mutilated inhuman head rolled upon his shoulders.

"It's a sin to let that man live," exclaimed Joseph, turning away in horror.

"It's a sin to let any man die," replied Oscar, and with his great strength he shook Durnovo like a garment.

And so Victor Durnovo died. His stained soul left his body in Guy Oscar's hands, and the big Englishman shook the corpse, trying to awake it from that sleep which knows no earthly waking.

So, after all, heaven stepped in and laid its softening hand on the judgment of men. But there was a strange irony in the mode of death. It was strange that this man, who never could have closed his eyes again, should have been stricken down by the sleeping sickness.

They laid the body on the floor and covered the face, which was less gruesome in death, for the pity of the eyes had given place to peace.

The morning light, bursting suddenly through the trees as it does in equatorial Africa, showed the room set in order and Guy Oscar sleeping in his camp chair. Behind him, on the floor, lay the form of Victor Durnovo.

Joseph, less iron-nerved than the great big game hunter, was awake and astir with the dawn. He, too, was calmer now. He had seen death face to face too often to be appalled by it in broad daylight.

So they buried Victor Durnovo between the two giant palms at Masila, with his feet turned toward the river which he had made his, as if ready to arise when the call comes, and undertake one of those marvelous journeys of his which are yet a household word on the west coast.

The cloth fluttered as they lowered him into his narrow resting place, and the face they covered had a strange mystic grin, as if he saw something that they could not perceive. Perhaps he did. Perhaps he saw the simlacine plateau, and knew that after all, he had won the last throw, for up there, far above the table lands of central Africa, there lay beneath high heaven a charnel house. Hounded down the slope by his tormentors, he had left a moment behind him surer than their torturing knives, keener than their sharpest steel. He had left the sleeping sickness behind him.

And so we leave Victor Durnovo. His sins are buried with him, and beneath the giant palms at Masila lies Maurice Gordon's secret.

And so we leave Masila, the accursed camp. Far up the Ogowe river, on the left bank, the giant palms still stand sentry, and beneath their shade the crumbling walls of a cursed house are slowly disappearing beneath luxuriant growths of grass and brushwood.

The Real Difficulty

Talking of the recent Christian Science case, it has been remarked that the children of Christian Scientists are sometimes more convinced devotees than the parents themselves. The children try bravely to think that when they are hurt they really don't feel pain, and the story is told of a little girl who fell down one day and bumped her head. She began to cry and her mother came running to see what was the matter.

BRANTFORD BRANCH, 40 GEORGE STREET.

Are you hurt, Mary?

"N-no, I'm not hurt," sobbed Mary. "Then, if you're no hurt, why are you crying?" was the natural question. Mary strove hard to master her tears. "I'm cross, 'cos I'm c-cross," she sobbed. "But what are you cross about?" persisted her mother. "I'm c-cross," she explained between her sobs, "'cos I can't feel I'm not hurt!"

No Caddy For Prime Minister

So Newspaper Lad Carries His Golf Clubs Round Links.

Mr. Asquith, who was sixty-one on Friday, had an experience on the Lonsdown golf links on the previous day such as to make political friends and foes chuckle in unison. The incident is described by the Aberdeen Daily Journal.
He drove up to the links with his son Cyril, probably with the intention of proving that the old brigade was by no means a mean adversary for the young guard. But a little episode at the outset put the Prime Minister quite off his game. Where suffragette assaults and threats wholly failed to upset his composure a strike of caddies succeeded.

"Caddy," said Mr. Asquith casually, as he entered the enclosure and began to stroll toward the first tee. "I'm very sorry, sir," the caddy-master stammered. He looked round helplessly, and then explained that the boys had struck.
"But what about these lads?" said the Premier, pointing to a crowd of big, ungainly youths who were sprawling about the caddies' enclosure.
"You can't have them!" was the hasty reply. "The Insurance Act, you know, sir. We're not allowed by the club to employ boys over sixteen, because if we did we'd have to insure them."
"H'm," said Mr. Asquith. The caddy-master had a sudden inspiration. "I'm sure, sir," he said, "they'd be highly honored to carry for you if you'd take them as friends of yours."
"But they're not friends of mine," replied the Premier, looking very much annoyed as he caught sight of the strikers' amusing themselves on the forecourse.
Then it was that a newspaper lad saw his opportunity. He gallantly shouldered Mr. Asquith's clubs, but Mr. Cyril Asquith cheerfully took his clubs round himself.
But the little incident had such an effect upon Mr. Asquith's nerves that he played stroked a hole by his son, the Prime Minister was beaten by three and two. Details:—Out: 7 6 5 5 6 7 7 8—51. In: 6 8 6 6 7 4 3 6 6—34.

CARLISLE INDIANS TO PLAY IN TORONTO

Will Play the All-Stars on Thanksgiving Day—Gridiron Gossip.

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 3.—Yesterday afternoon arrangements were completed in Carlisle by a representative of an All-Canadian football team for the Carlisle Indians to play the stars of the Dominion at the University of Toronto on Canada's Thanksgiving Day, Monday, October 20. The game will be played under Canadian rules, owing to the feeling that it was unfair to Canada to abide by American intercollegiate regulations, although the proposition to do so last year came from the Dominion players. The Redskins easily defeated a University of Toronto alumni team at American rules in the first half of last year's game. The second half was played under Canadian rules and the contest was close.

Coach Warner has a wholesome respect for the open field work of the Dominion team. Carlisle's pretensions to be devoted to practice specifically for the big Canadian game, but Coach Warner and the Carlisle officials have been influenced in adding to the game already very difficult schedule by a desire to help their football friends over the border to an understanding of American athletic methods and customs. The Indian players themselves are much pleased over the prospects of playing in Toronto, having had a fine reception there last year.

UNIQUE SITUATION IN MAJOR LEAGUE BALL

Giants and Phillies Played Two Games and Part of Third.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The best the Giants got was the worst of it at the Polo Grounds yesterday with the Phillies, for besides winning the uncompleted game which Umpire Bill Brennan stopped in the ninth inning at Philadelphia on August 30, the Phillies also split even on the day's program of a twofold bill. Philadelphia took the prodigious Brennan mistake by a score of 8 to 6, the Giants the first tussle of a double-header by 8 to 3, and the Phillies absorbed the second clash, a six-inning affair, by a tally of 4 to 3.

The situation was unique in major league baseball. At 1 o'clock the two clubs lined up as they were when the officious umpire, clogged the game on August 30. At that time there was one Giant down in the ninth, and 'Red' Murray was waving the willow. Yesterday, Murray rolled to Bobby Bryne and was thrown out at first. Chief Meyers rapped a single to right, and Grant ran for him. Larry McLean was shoved in to bat for Snodgrass, and he forced the Grant at second, and that was the end of it. Manager McGraw is giving the veterans a rest and used a lot of second string men in the second game. Larry Doyle, with his 'automobile shoulder' played for a while in the second game, and his arm is still a trifle stiff. He thinks it will be all right next Tuesday, however. The scores in the double-header were as follows: First game: New York 8, Philadelphia 3; second game, Philadelphia 4, New York 3.

It begins to look as if neither Holden nor Whiteman will be retained as regular outfielders by Chance next year. Holden probably will be farmed out to Jersey City, where he will have an opportunity to learn something about base running, of which he knows little or nothing at present. Whiteman, it seems, cannot hit curve pitching and is not up to date as an outfielder. Gilhooley, the Montreal recruit, is a fixture and Chance thinks he will be a star hitter in 1914.

LUCK WILL PLAY PROMINENT PART

Close Games and Low Scores Are Expected to Predominate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Opinion regarding the outcome of the world's series appears to be unusually divided this year. Prominent baseball players and writers are predicting a very close series of games with low scores predominating. All speak of the luck or break of the game being an important factor in the ultimate winning of the championship. The same situation has developed in the past. Outside of the home cities of the two competing clubs the wagering is at even money. In Philadelphia the Athletics are slight favorites over the New York team and here local supporters are quoting odds of 10 to 9 on the Giants to defeat the American League representatives.

Expressions of opinion on the part of managers and players of other clubs are beginning to be heard here with the gathering of the advance guard for the opening game next Tuesday. Among those favoring the Athletics are Frank Chance, Napoleon Lajoie, Clark Griffith and Umpire Billy Evans. Some of those who are naming the Giants as probable winners are George Stallings, Johnny Evers, Fred Clarke and Ty Cobb. Hughie Jennings and Bill Dahlen have stated that the teams are so evenly matched that the outcome of the series is a toss up with luck playing a leading part.

A consensus among 30 of the leading baseball writers of the big league circuit shows that 18 favor the Giants to win against 9 for the Athletics, and 3 frankly undecided. Almost without exception, however, they qualify their predictions by stating that the series of 1913 will be very evenly contested and that the slightest break in the luck of the game will swing the championship one way or the other. The chief advantage accorded the Giants is their strength in the pitching department. The Athletics' adherents concede this point but contend that the superior batting ability of the Philadelphia club will more than offset the slight difference in the twirling form of the two staffs.

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

I've just seen Ray and Varden play. It was a glorious sight. Confirming all I'd read about these champions, golf might I followed them in silent awe. Around the sporting course, And revelled in their perfect swing. And scientific force. My word! it was a joy to watch their drives from off the "tee." To mark the flight of Ray's long ball. And Vardon's artistry. To me it all seemed marvelous. Beyond my feeble ken. Except for this I saw them miss. Short "putts" like other men. —W. H. WEBLING.

Brilliant and Remarkable Opening of Football Season —Reece's Records.

The football season has opened in remarkable fashion. It has been especially noticeable for the extraordinary crowds that have been attracted by the initial games. To a large measure this is explained away by the splendid weather which accompanied September's dawn. Another feature has been the astonishing success of the visiting teams, which, if it continues, will immeasurably add to the charm of the game which is represented by its uncertainty. There are several circumstances which go to explain the gradual disappearing advantage of playing on a club's own ground. The most important of course is that football grounds are becoming so much improved all over the country—and especially in the three big leagues—that practically none are possessed of a peculiarity sufficiently pronounced to become a handicap to visiting sides, and, generally speaking, the home club do not now start off with that one-goal advantage which stood as a golden rule for so long.

But there is another potential reason why it is that visiting eleven now start on level terms with their hosts in a league contest. The wholesale migration of players has been arrested by the operation of the transfer system, and the consequence is that from season to season the majority of clubs are served by teams of a personnel that is becoming less and less varied. Players are fulfilling the fixtures of their clubs year in and year out. They are repeatedly playing on grounds which in the course of time are bound to become almost as familiar to them as their own. At the same time it is astounding that last Saturday in the first league, out of ten matches, six were won by visiting teams, whilst two others were drawn. There is every promise of this increased uncertainty extending to the other competitions, and if it does the game will capture a greater degree of national interest than the immense one it already holds.

Brilliant and Remarkable Opening of Football Season —Reece's Records.

Speaking of national interest, reminds one that at last an almost unanswerable defence has been made out for the spectator, that much maligned individual whom a good many people have been pleased to regard as a moral invertebrate. Now, however, he must be spoken of as an artist. No less a personage than Monsignor Benson, son of a former Archbishop of Canterbury, has made this declaration. He brings forward the quite new argument that whilst the man who plays the game very imperfectly may be more sportsmanlike, he is not half so artistic as he is capable of appreciating it when played by experts. After all, football is now like a music hall entertainment, and the great mass are left to develop sufficient artistic ability to appreciate what they are seeing. It is good to know that the watching of football matches has at last been so amply justified.

As far as it can enter into billiards at all, last season furnished enough sensationalism as one could have wished for within the compass of a few months. But this season has begun young to afford thrills, and the first game on Monday when Tom Reece, the Oldham professional, in his match with Falkner, set up three world's records by scoring two 600 breaks in one session, 886 points in forty-eight minutes, and 2,738 points in one day (4h. 10m.). Reece has given plenty of evidence of being a much prettier and a more effective player than the champion, Melbourne Inman, but he has never yet been able to beat the latter in a championship match. In the days before the "cradle cannon" shot was barred, Reece once compiled the amazing break of 499,135. Jack Hatfield, England's amateur swimming champion, created a world's record at his native Middlesbrough for 300 yards on Tuesday night. The previous figures set up by F. E. Beaurepaire at Exeter in August, 1910, were 3m. 30s., and this time Hatfield beat by 3 3-5s., for he covered the distance in 3m. 26 2-5s. In achieving this noteworthy feat Hatfield used the "trudgion" stroke throughout. Another record was broken on Wednesday at Worthing, where H. E. Annison (Croydon) won the 440 Southern Counties Championship in 5m. 43s., compared with T. H. Derbyshire's 5m. 43s., established at Beckenham last year. It has thus been a worthy swimming week.

MR. ASQUITH STRUCK OFF.

The Prime Minister Informs Revision Court He Has No Right to Vote.

At the Abingdon Registration Court Mr. Asquith, whose name had been included in the overseers' list as occupier of a riverside house at Sutton Courtney, was on Wednesday objected to by the Conservatives on the ground that Mrs. Asquith owned the property. The claim was not persisted in, Mr. Asquith having written: "I apprehend I have no right to vote." The Prime Minister's name was accordingly struck off.
