AUSTRIAN STATESMEN AS PUPPETS OF GERMAN, KINDLED THE WAR

For Two Years, Declares London Mail Franz Joseph Was Politically Defunct, and of Good Health He Would Never Have Been Passive Agent of German Plot Which Caused War

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Nov. 22.—(New York Times cable)—News of the death of the Austrian Emperor last night at Schoenbrunn Castle was received in London too late to catch the ordinary editions of the papers, so no editorial comment is available as to the probable effect, if any, it will have on the course of the war or on the Austrian people.

"The Daily Mail" in a late special edition publishes a short obituary in which it says: "Emperor Francis Joseph had been politically defunct for two years. In the present war his play was very insignificant part and it is exceedingly doubtful whether had he been in vigorous health he would ever have consented to become the passive agent of a German plot.

"The initial disasters which befell Austria weighed heavily upon him. From then onwards the Emperor's life was a series of humiliations. The loss of Galicia in the autumn of 1914 he felt as a crushing blow. The virtual control of the dominions of the once proud Hapsburgs, a region which began with the abdication of his weak predecessor ended in his own virtual abdication in favor of Emperor William.

"From first to last his reign has been marked by a series of misfortunes which recall the fearful doom of the House of Habsburg. It has also been politically unfortunate. It has ended with civil war and disaster, it ended with the loss of his Italian provinces and provinces ruled in Italy by members of his family, Venetia, Lombardy, Parma, Modena, and Tuscany. It has closed amid the frightful ruin of the greatest war history has ever known—a war kindled by an ally of Austrian statesmen who allowed themselves to become German puppets."

Paris, Nov. 22.—Although no official confirmation of the death of Emperor Francis Joseph had been received in Paris early this morning, the press generally accepted the news as authentic. Special editions were brought out rapidly and the passing of the monarch was discussed with the greatest interest. In their comment the newspapers are merciless.

"The sinister old man, who for sixty eight years wore the double crown, disappears too soon, notwithstanding his eighty-six years, for he has not seen the approaching hour of expiation of the crimes for which he will bear eternally in history a crushing responsibility and stigma. But the spectre of punishment must haunt his latter days if it has been haughtily indifferent, was accessible to any feeling whatever—this man who witnesses unmoved by the worst catastrophes heaped upon his fate on his family and his country. The irony of fate!

"If he had disappeared from the scene three years sooner, the world would have forgotten his calculating cowardice, his ferocious egotism, his hypocrisy and would have remembered only the private and public misfortunes which marked almost all that these misfortunes were all deserved. He would perhaps have been pitted. But justice has not permitted that he swindle the world out of this supreme homage. It has made (Continued on page 3)

HEAVY FIGHTING IN MACEDONIA

Franco-Serbs Continue Advance, Taking 500 More Prisoners.

SPIRITED RESISTANCE Is Offered By Germano-Bulgarians, and Fighting Continues.

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Nov. 22.—Noon—Energetic resistance is being offered by the Germans and Bulgarians on the Macedonian front, north of Monastir, the war office announces. The advance of the Entente forces was delayed also by heavy fog. Five hundred more prisoners were taken.

The Germano-Bulgarian forces are accepting battle on a line running from Saesno, three miles north of Monastir, to Hill 1050, southwest of the town of Makovo, which is 13 miles northeast of Monastir.

The glass eye of John B. Miller, of Malaga, N. J., suddenly exploded and lacerated his face.

DEMAND FOR HYDRO POWER IS STILL SEARILY INCREASING

At Hydro Convention at Toronto, Municipal Representatives Urged the Expropriation of Power Plants—Mayor Bowlby is Prominent in Discussion

Meatless Days For France Two Per Week Decided On; Pastry and Cakes Banned.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—Representatives of over three hundred municipalities attended the joint meeting of the Ontario Power Union and the Hydro-Electric Railway Association at the city hall yesterday to discuss the power situation, also to consider the question at the forthcoming municipal elections to ascertain if they are favorable to co-operative action for the generation of power in the undertaking.

In addition to this on the motion of Mayor Bowlby, of Brantford, a unanimous request was made to the provincial commission to consider the advisability of immediately expropriating the plant of the Niagara Power Company. The export of power was condemned, and all that is being generated at Niagara Falls is required in Ontario. The form of by-laws to be submitted to the people on the two questions, of the generation of power and the construction of hydro-radials, was approved. About 170 municipalities will vote on the former and some 28 on the radial project.

Sir Adam Beck gave a review of the Hydro movement pointing out the success that had attended it and the tremendous demands that were being made for more power. Dealing with the local situation and the endeavors of the Ontario Development Company to evade its obligation to supply the Hydro with a block of 50,000 horse power, he read correspondence to show that Hon. Wallace Nesbitt was evading the issue when he said the company had not undertaken to give the Hydro more than 32,000 horse-power this year. The arrangement was for 50,000 horse-power, said Sir Adam and that was confirmed in a letter of Premier Hearst's and by conversation over the telephone. Mr. Nesbitt could not go back on that. The power companies were only permitted to export surplus power. Their first duty was to supply the requirements of Ontario and Ontario wanted and could use all the power generated. At present the commission was distributing 200,000 horse-power and it could distribute 250,000 if it were available and the demand was continually increasing and would have to be met. It was proposed to meet it in part by the Chippewa development, which, when completed would provide 200,000 at a cost of $7.50 per horse-power. The cost for the first 100,000 horse-power would be $8.50 per horse-power. The power companies would like to kill the project, but it would go on. The point has not been definitely settled, but it is probable the Hydro Commission will undertake the development work instead of awarding it to contractors. Sir Adam said there was no danger of international complications arising over the project.

"WE ALL PREFER DEATH TO SLAVERY UNDER GERMAN RULE"

French Chamber of Deputies Decides Upon Taking of a Census of the Conscript Class of 1918—Socialists Opposing Measure is Deprived of Right to Speak.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The Chamber of Deputies last night adopted a bill providing for the taking of a census of the 1918 conscripts. The debate was marked by the obstructive tactics of the Socialists, the intervention of Premier Briand and finally by a demand for a secret session. The chamber sat in secret for a short time and then resumed the public sitting during which the debate became tumultuous at times. Deputy Pierre Brizon, a Socialist, was finally deprived of the use of the floor for intemperate language. The chamber's strong confidence in the Government was shown by a vote of 450 to 38.

On the resumption of a public session, a number of speakers attacked the government, accusing it of having prevented a debate on the question of the 1918 class census. Deputy Brizon was particularly violent, and when called to order by President Deschanel, shouted: "Down with war." Brizon, who is one of the Socialists who recently conferred with German comrades in Switzerland, insisted on speaking in the midst of a general tumult and loud howling. "The calling of the 1918 class will not serve France," he shouted among other things. On this, the Chamber voted almost unanimously to deprive him of the further right to speak, and the bill was then adopted.

Longest Reign in History is Ended by Reaper Death

Franz Joseph Who Caused the War, is Dead After Occupying the Throne of Dual Monarchy For 68 Years—His Was a Lifetime of Tragedies and Domestic Unhappiness

London, Wednesday, November 22/Emperor Francis Joseph died last night at 9 o'clock at Schoenbrunn Castle, according to a Reuter despatch from Vienna by way of Amsterdam. The first intimation received here that Emperor Francis Joseph's health was again the subject of solicitation was contained in a despatch dated November 12, emanating from Vienna news agency, which reported that the emperor had been suffering for some days from a slight catarrh affection. Subsequent reports from various sources, more or less conflicting, represented that his condition was becoming worse, but none of them indicated that his illness threatened to reach a critical state, and what gave some credence to the suspicion that his illness was much graver than the official bulletins indicated was the report, which still lacks official confirmation, that it had been decided to associate the heir of the throne, Archduke Charles Francis, in the government of the country, and that he was to assume the position on December 2, on the 68th anniversary of the emperor's ascension to the throne.

So far as is known here Archduke Charles is still at the front in command of the army. Archduke Charles Francis, grand-nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, becomes heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary by the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand, prior to the outbreak of the war. He has been in command of the Austrian armies on various fronts during the past two years. Archduke Charles Francis was born on August 17, 1887. His wife was Princess Zita, of the Bourbon house of Parma. His father was the Archduke Otto, who was the younger brother of Francis Ferdinand.

CANDIDATES IN COURIER BIG CAMPAIGN HAVE FEW MORE DAYS

Candidates Will Make These Days Count For More Than Any That Have Gone Before; Opportunity's Last Knock

The contest closes Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Last week was a big week in the campaign department. Many candidates have surprised the manager with the amount of subscriptions they have secured. Others have not done so well, and it is up to those to get good and to try from now until 8 o'clock Saturday night in the great struggle. There still remain a few days in which to get extra votes. Candidates should make every effort until the close. This is a battle among candidates with a fair field and no favorites. The hardest and most energetic workers will win, but who the winners are will not be known and cannot be known until the final count is made.

HOSPITAL SHIP SUNK; 50 LOST

British Liner Britannic Was Largest Hospital Ship Afloat. London, Nov. 22.—The British hospital ship, Britannic, has been sunk with the loss of about 50 lives, says a British official announcement today. It was reported in a special despatch from London on December 6 last, that the 47,500-ton White Star Liner Britannic, which was recently completed, would be used as a hospital ship by the British Government, making her the largest hospital ship in commission, with an equipment of six thousand beds. Last June, however, it was reported in a news despatch from Liverpool that the Britannic had been returned to the White Star Line for restoration into a passenger steamer.

A CHANCE

To Have the Hon. Rupert Guinness.

Address a Brantford Meeting With Regard to the Navy. Ex-Mayor Spence, President of the Brant Recruiting League, is in receipt of the following letter:— Nov. 21st, 1916. Dear Sir,—Captain, the Hon. Rupert Guinness, has just wired me from Calgary that he could give me four talks in Ontario before returning to England. I have no doubt that this includes speeches by Lady Gwendollin Guinness as well. At this moment he is unable to advise the exact date of his being here, but expects to be here next week. Could you not arrange a special public meeting through the Mayor, so that the citizens of Brantford may have the opportunity of hearing him speak on naval affairs? I should appreciate your reply by wire.

Yours faithfully, EMILIOUS JARVIS, Royal Recruiting Officer, Overseas Division Area Ontario.

In accordance with the above, Mr. Spence has taken the necessary initial steps. General Goethals, Governor of the Panama Canal, rebukes calamity howlers in a report to the Secretary of War, asserting that the allied which halted traffic are being overcome. Lawrence Connelly, Jr., of South Braddock, Pa., was found dead, presumably murdered, within a short distance of the place where his father was found murdered less than a month ago.

"Since the beginning of the war, 3,322,000 tons of hostile shipping, of which 2,550,000 tons were English, have been lost owing to the war measures of the Central Powers."

Kaiser Supports THE CHANCELLOR

German Emperor Disapproves Critics of Bethmann-Hollweg.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Berlin, Nov. 21.—via London, Nov. 22.—Emperor William has just taken occasion to declare publicly his support of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg against attacks upon him by his opponents at home.

A number of prominent persons in Karlsruhe and vicinity having recently sent the chancellor a letter condemning the campaign of his opponents against him and the present methods of conducting the war, and having sent a copy of this document to the Emperor, the latter caused the chief of the civil cabinet to reply on the Emperor's behalf that he observed with lively satisfaction this demonstration from Karlsruhe.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH and CAMERON

THE LOCKED MIND.

"I have locked my heart and thrown away the key." If you have ever heard the inimitable One sing "She's the Lass for me," you doubtless remember that line.

I thought of it, or rather of a slightly different version, the other day, when, at the end of a discussion in which the Wants-to-Be-Cynic had unquestionably had the better of the argument, the author's wife turned away with a set expression about her mouth which said more plainly than words, "You can't convince me because I won't be convinced."

"The slightly different version of which I thought was, 'I have locked my mind, and thrown away the key.' Don't you know a good many people who could, with truth, say that?"

They Are The Most Exasperating People In The World.

I do. And I don't know anything in the world more exasperating. There are two kinds of arguments—arguments about matters of opinion and arguments about matters of fact.

Take the first. It is possible that one might honestly fail to be convinced about some question which was a matter of opinion, even if an opponent had some very telling arguments to bring up. Nevertheless, what a good many people think are not opinions, are not opinions, but their prejudices. Prejudices are opinions that have been put into cold storage. An honest opinion is a good thing to have. A prejudice is a rotten thing to have.

Opinions and Prejudices Look The Same On The Outside.

But both (like the cold storage and the fresh egg) look exactly the same on the outside and you can't tell which your opponent has.

But in the other kind of argument, that about matters of fact, to remain unconvinced, when a fact is presented to you, is perfectly good authority, is to show proof that you have indeed "locked your mind and thrown away the key."

We were arguing the other day, as to whether if a divorced man marries again his new wife is the stepmother of the children by the first marriage. Finally we agreed to look in the dictionary. We found "The wife of one's father by a subsequent marriage." Doesn't that settle the question since it was the meaning of the word that was in question?

She Simply Says "I Don't Believe It"

Yet the woman who had been upholding the opposite view simply said, "I don't believe it."

Plainly, she was not looking for truth. She preferred her opinion, and let truth get in and change it, she had "locked her mind and thrown away the key."

An open mind and an open heart—the mind open for truth and the heart open for sympathy—are two signs of the personality that is educated in the highest sense of the word.

PRUSSIAN POLAND NOT TO FORM PART

Of the Newly Established Independent Polish Kingdom.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 London, Nov. 21.—Before the Prussian diet yesterday, Count Friedrich Von Loebell, minister of the interior, said no part of Prussian Poland would be incorporated in the new kingdom of Poland, Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent cables. The Polish question was debated by the diet and Count Von Loebell, the correspondent says, made the following declaration: "The government takes its part of the responsibility for this step of world historical importance in the confident expectation it will be to the advantage of the German Empire, by closely connecting the Polish state with the German Empire and with Austro-Hungarian monarchy. We hope the German Empire's safety will forever be secured against the east. It is unnecessary to say that every inch of ground in the eastern frontier districts of Prussia is sacred and inalienable. The government confidently expects that Prussian Poles, without prejudice to the Polish national feeling will live more and more up to their duties as Prussian citizens."

The minister promised for the period after the war reorganization of laws concerning Prussian Poles and said future decisions of the government would be guided by good will toward the Polish population.

U-53 SANK SEVERAL MERCHANT SHIPS

On Return Journey, According To Message Found By Italian Seaman.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 New York, Nov. 22.—(Montreal Gazette)—Captain Angelo Sturlese of the Italian liner Dante Aleghiere, which arrived yesterday from Genoa, told of an interesting wireless message he had picked up on the eastward voyage, which was sent by Commander Hans Rose, of the submarine U-53 to the German ambassador. The captain said that he left New York on Sunday, October 8, about four hours after the steamer Westpoint had been sunk off Nantucket lightship, and took a zigzag course southward.

"At two o'clock on Monday morning," Captain Sturlese continued, "the chief operator picked up a message from the U-53, calling Siasconset station. No answer was received, and after repeating it three times, the German submarine flashed this message broadcast in the hope that it would be picked up by some friendly ship and forwarded to Washington."

"Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, Washington—Have sunk several merchant steamships to-day. Am looking for nine more vessels—Commandant U-53."

Captain Sturlese said that the zigzagged for five days after leaving New York, but did not see or hear anything more of the German submarine.

MINISTER TO BULGARIA

Amsterdam, Nov. 21.—via London 12.25 p.m.—Advices received here to-day from Vienna say that Count Ludwig Secehnyi, who, prior to the war, was Austro-Hungarian diplomatic agent and counsel-general at Cairo, Egypt, has been appointed minister of the dual monarchy at Sofia, Bulgaria. Count Secehnyi succeeds Count Tansowicz, who has been appointed Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States.

DRINK HOT WATER

IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To enjoy an inside bath, you must first flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous "sins" before you can absorb the good, which is the mineral phosphate of lime. This is the most important of all the elements of the alimentary system. It is the most important of all the elements of the alimentary system. It is the most important of all the elements of the alimentary system.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach, or constipation, should begin this phosphated hot water drinking, and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Rippling Rhymes
 by Walt Mason

Our problems ever face us, how ever elections go, and in our dreams they chase us, and fill our sleep with woe. No matter who may guide us, and sail our ship of state, our problems will still with us, we still must pay the freight. Oh, not the politician, whose larynx works 'on high,' will better our condition, or feed our children pie. No platform ever written will bring you window glass, or cat meat for the kitten, or pay for coal and gas. No politician's pledges, no whiskered campaign wheeze, will bring us goodly wedges of bread and Linburg cheese. And now the trouble's ended: the long campaign is done; and after efforts splendid the right (or wrong) man won. We, having whooped and hollered until our throats are sore, we'll hew the stately pollard, and halve our hay once more. To keep the kettle boiling, and buy the children braun, we now resume our tolling, as bravely as we can.

THE SITUATION.

The seriousness of the advance of Falkenhayn's army against the Roumanians has been still further emphasized by the taking of Craiova, the capital of Western Wallachia, a place of some 50,000 inhabitants. An added feature of menace is that the Roumanians have also in their hands the main line of railway which leads to Bucharest, the Roumanian capital, 120 miles distant from the point of their present advance.

The Serbs continue to supply an offset by the continuance of their victorious march in Macedonia. In two engagements they decisively defeated the Bulgar-German forces, recording the capture of nine more villages, together with the taking of many prisoners and much booty. The foe abandoned all stores and it is recorded that their retreat was in the nature of a disorderly rout.

There have been no developments of importance on the Somme front. However, it is stated that all the indications show that Haig is making his preparations for a fresh push.

THE LATE EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA.

In the modern sense, it brings the mind back to remote times, to record the passing of a man who ascended a throne sixty-eight years ago. When he assumed power, the late Queen Victoria was in her 29th year, the Crimean war was six years away, nineteen years had still to elapse in Canada before the consummation of Confederation, and the father of the present Kaiser was ten years from his installation as Emperor.

He was a born despot, a fact which perhaps was necessary in view of the diverse, and in many instances, not too friendly peoples constituting his kingdom. He was a man of loose morals, and the domestic tragedies through which he passed were without parallel. It is on record that he never stinted himself with regard to the duties of state, and all his life he was a hard worker. There is reason to believe that he only too willingly allowed himself to become the tool of the Prussian war party, and now he has passed out with his dual monarchy in the throes of a struggle which almost certainly will lead to a certain amount of dismemberment. Altogether he constituted a striking but not an emulative figure.

His demise will, of course, not have the slightest effect with regard to the progress of hostilities. Neither would that of any other one man, for the nations concerned are in the struggle to the close, no matter what individual comes or goes.

THE LENGTH OF THE WAR.

The Courier came in for some criticism about six months ago when it ventured the opinion that from all appearances the war would last for at least another two years. Such an estimate it will now be generally felt was under rather than over the mark. The truth might just as well be faced that Germany does not show any lessening of power either in men or war materials. Her population, by natural increase, gives her some 600,000 youths to be added to the colors each year and she is now supplementing her forces by the enslavement of the Belgians, who will be put at work in order to allow other Germans to take a place in the field. In the matter of provisions also, the Fatherland does not appear to face any threatened stringency. It is true that regulative restrictions have been introduced, but anything in the nature of starvation does not yet appear even upon the remote horizon. It must be remembered also that with diabolical cunning, the Huns have thus far seen to it that all the physical devastations of war have taken place in other countries than their own. Belgium, Northern France, and other regions have been blasted while the Fatherland has remained as free from assault as Canada itself. These are the facts and it would be idle to ignore them. The idea of a sudden collapse is not now held by anyone at all in a position to formulate an opinion. The warning comes from those in authority in the Old Land that there is still a herculean and lengthy task ahead. It will be accomplished without any doubt, but the message to the entire Empire is that there must be no let up in the contribution of all available resources. The need for giving in men and means alike, is even stronger and more imperative to-day than it has ever yet been, and if recruiting in Canada does not soon show signs of marked improvement, there would seem to be nothing for it but some form of conscription. Populous centres and counties have been pretty well combed on the voluntary appeal basis, and the large number who still remain unmoved by the call of a common duty should be got at in some other way.

Longest Reign

It is doubtful if in all history there has been an active authenticated reign longer than that closed by the death of Francis Joseph.

At nineteen years of age he ascended the throne of Austria, upon abdication of his uncle, Ferdinand I. Dec. 2, 1848, his death to-day ending an active reign of 68 years, all but the first twenty which he was also Apostolic King of Hungary.

In recorded history there certainly has been no reign equal in period of time of that of the Hapsburgs, which closed to-day. Louis XIV. of France was nominally king for 72 years. He actually occupied the throne for little more than half a century. A closer rival, and the only one of modern times, was Queen Victoria, who reigned for 64 years.

Francis Joseph's reign was as eventful as it was long. From his Imperial vantage point, he saw the French monarchy go down, the second empire rise and crumble, the commune flare briefly, and the Republic of to-day rise on its ashes; he saw the black plinths of the Prussian eagle stamped on the flag of the new German Empire; later he towered threateningly over Austria itself; he saw the papacy shorn of its territorial demesne, while a "bickering" family of petty principalities was welded into united Italy; he saw Spain, once the greatest of colonial powers, lose the last of her dependencies in two oceans; he saw Japan opened to western civilization, and later defeat the Colossus of two continents; he saw the most absolute despotisms—Russia, Turkey, and Persia—concede representation to the people; he saw at a distance the United States cement its federation with the blood of a great internecine war, and he saw his own brother, Emperor of Mexico, throne and shot.

In his own country he faced internal dissensions and external aggressions from the moment he came to the throne. By the war of 1859 with France and Sardinia, he was forced to cede Lombardy to Italy; by force of arms and treaty he lost the Duchy of Holstein to Prussia and Venice to Italy; and by the revolt of Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, he barely escaped having his dual empire cut in two.

Of the tragedies which marked his reign, and they were many, there was none which struck so deeply at him as the strange and still unsolved death of his son, which has popularly been attributed to suicide as a consequence of a dark and secret intrigue, and the assassination of his Empress. His marriage to Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria, was a match to which he had difficulty in obtaining the consent of his mother. The union, however, did not turn out happily, and after their son and heir to the throne was four years old, in his hunting lodge the Emperor and Empress gradually drifted apart. Her death at the hand of an assassin was the final blow struck by fate at the Emperor's domestic circle until the murder of the Grand Duke, who had been acclaimed his heir gave occasion for the present war.

Francis Joseph, a stranger to a large portion of his dominions and regarded as a foreigner in Hungary, was exceedingly popular in the army. As a soldier he never achieved distinction, but that fact did not effect the regard entertained for him in his capital. Like many of his predecessors, among the Hapsburgs, he was a tireless worker and permitted himself few recreations. In addition to his reputation for industry, he possessed in a high degree the confidence of the Austrian people, who credited him with having at heart the best interests of his Empire.

The circumstances surrounding the assassination of the heir to his throne from which the war now proceeds are well known. It is generally understood, too, that Francis Joseph was determined on war against Serbia in revenge for his kinsman's murder and required little encouragement from the German Kaiser to persist in his resolution, despite the protests of the other great European powers. Francis Joseph gave the signal for the conflict now raging in the Old World and when the German troops entered France through Belgium he sealed his alliance with the invaders by approving their action.

Long List of Tragedies With Francis Joseph's death in the midst of this great conflict there is a remarkable example to a long list of tragedies in the Hapsburg family—a list unparalleled in any

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, mother. See if tongue is coated, sour, dry, or sticky, and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs," because it is perfectly harmless, children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the wrapper. Beware of imitations sold here. Get the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.

other reigning house in Europe—including the assassination or violent death of seven near relatives. The fortitude with which the Emperor bore each blow, and in later health years, was the wonder of his people. Fears that the shock of the assassination of his heir, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort while on a state visit to Vienna on June 28th last, would kill the Emperor were answered in characteristic manner. Francis Joseph, then nearing his 68th birthday, recuperating at Ischl from a catarrhal affliction which each spring had borne heavily upon him, mustered strength to return to Vienna immediately, and take a firm grip on the confused state of affairs.

With the royal funeral rites observed and the new heir, the young Archduke Carl Francis Joseph recognized, the venerable emperor and his advisers turned to Serbia with demands which started all Europe. From the ultimatum of July 23, denouncing the anti-Austrian propaganda and demanding prompt punishment of the assassin of the Archduke Ferdinand, according to items supposedly dictated by Francis Joseph himself, practically dates the war now ravaging Europe.

With the City Police

At the police court this morning two local druggists were charged with a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act on account of selling Tincture of ginger, which is stated to contain 40 per cent alcohol. Mr. M. McEwen, for the defence, contended that the Act specially exempts drugs properly medicated under the formula of the British Pharmacopoeia Act. Brantford druggists had been selling same in good faith, just as they have before the act. After hearing argument the case was adjourned for one week. Basil Hawkins appeared in answer for the plaintiff, who to run at large, he promised to dispose of the offending animal and the charge was therefore dropped. An adjourned case of false price-gauging, involving the sale of a horse at a recent auction sale, was dismissed.

NEWS OF NORFOLK

Simcoe Ministerial Association to Aid Recruiting of 215th.

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Nov. 22.—The Simcoe Ministerial Association is alive to the pending campaign for men for the 215th. Ever since the beginning of the war, the pulpits of Simcoe have been a potent factor in the matter of assisting and encouraging recruiting. For the first year, up to the late autumn of 1915, the only support that Lt. Col. Aiken received publicly in the matter of recruiting the successive drafts of splendid men who answered the call up to last November, was the out-spoken pronouncement from the Anglican and Presbyterian pulpits of the town. Later, all turned in, and although the clergy had no representation on the civilian recruiting organization of the value of the proposition of the 133rd, was never underestimated. Yesterday, the association had a long session, the outcome of which is focused in the movement for a county-wide organization of the clergy and priesthood, to all of whom is being sent copies of the following circular letter.

The Ministerial Association of Simcoe invite you to attend a meeting of the clergymen of this county on Tuesday, November 28th, at 2 p.m., in Simcoe, to take united counsel as to our duty in relation to the world conflict in which we are engaged and the need of our forming a clerical and patriotic association to give effect to our plans. This matter is of intense and vital interest and importance. Please let the secretary know if you can come. Rev. Dr. Day, pres. Rev. A. B. Farney, secretary.

In celebrating the eightieth anniversary of the inception of the Baptist church in Simcoe on Monday night and during the services on Sunday, the congregation raised $400 to lift indebtedness of their new building.

Since Rev. H. Newcombe's departure as captain of the 133rd Battalion overseas, Rev. Mr. Pincock has latterly filled the pulpit as a worthy successor to the former incumbent.

The Canning factory is said to be handicapped on account of a shortage of men.

R. E. Gunton began this morning the hazardous task of rebuilding the brick factory occupied by McDonald's Barber Shop and Cross' Tailor Shop.

Mayor Williamson was in Toronto Monday afternoon, and on Tuesday Mrs. Geo. Fisher who was severely burned a fortnight ago, is still confined to her bed.

Major J. S. Hamilton and Mr. W. J. Atkins returned from a business trip to the Cobalt to-day.

A special meeting of the County Council was held yesterday, in the council chamber, at the Court House, to consider the possibility of augmenting the supply of recruits from the rural sections of Brant, to assist in bringing the strength of the 215th Battalion up to the required standard. The session was opened at two o'clock, with all the members present.

As a preliminary to the main object of the meeting, a deputation, consisting of Messrs. M. P. Pennell, secretary of the Montreal Harbor Commission; W. S. Brewster, K.C., and W. G. Raymond, presented the claims of the British Sailors' Relief Fund, with the view of obtaining a grant from the county in support of that institution. During the presentation of the case, the deputation made it perfectly clear that the beneficiaries of the fund were the families of those men who were not permanently connected with the Royal Navy, but who manned the trawlers, mine-sweepers and transports employed by the British Government in the prosecution of the war. No provision was made for the dependent of these men in the event of an accident, and in many cases actual destitution prevailed.

After giving the matter the full consideration, the council decided to make a grant of $2,500 in support of the worthy cause. The suggestion of the body was then directed to the recruiting situation in the county, outside the City of Brantford, and the Town of Paris, by the Town Clerk and County Clerk, who are the representatives of the council on the executive of the Brant County Recruiting League. Capt. McKegney, the 215th was also present, on behalf of Col. Morris, who was unavoidably absent to urge further action in the matter of adopting the method of registration by which the recruiting officers of the Battalion might be guided in seeking for eligibles.

It was stated that the great work being organized for the purpose of obtaining a complete record of the man power available. The council representatives on the executive of the recruiting league advocated the same measures being adopted by the county, and were supported in their contention by Capt. McKegney. Every county in the province, the county council declared that within their own personal knowledge, there were practically no men available for military service who had been asked to sign up, simply because he appeared to be older than was really the case, and who could not convince the recruiter of the fact that it was pointed out to the council by the Warden that a proper registration would obviate this difficulty, as the military authorities would not interfere with men whose record showed that they should be exempt from service. Much time and energy would thus be saved.

The result of a discussion of the entire question, the following motion was carried, with two dissenting votes: "That the council do take a complete registration of all men in the several minor municipalities of the county, exclusive of the City of Brantford and the Town of Paris, who are of military age; with details of their occupation and such other information as may be necessary to decide who may be available for recruiting purposes."

Russia Recovers From Serious Political Crisis

Clash Between Duma and People Seemed Inevitable, But Was Avoided, and Storm Has Now Passed.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Petrograd, Nov. 21.—via London 3.01 p.m.—Favorable developments in the last few days, which witnessed the recovery of the Russian nation from a most serious political crisis, make it now possible to describe briefly conditions and events which brought about a collision between the government and the duma and for a time threatened most serious consequences. Stripped of the tangle of alarming rumors and palpable exaggerations which magnified the prevailing unrest to a chaotic state, the past crisis has been nothing more or less than an inevitable clash between the present cabinet and the insistent voice of public opinion, which more and more loudly protested against the duma the storm broke, but the situation has now cleared without recourse to either extreme. The appearance of the war and marine ministers at the Friday meeting of the duma and their cordial greeting of Professor Paul Milukoff, leader of the Constitutional-Democrats, who made the principal attack on the government again gave promise of rapprochement between the duma and cabinet. The Associated press is informed on the best authority that an agreement has been reached which has entirely satisfied the representatives of the entire nation and the nature of the agreement probably will be disclosed in the course of a few days. The event is interpreted generally as a victory for the duma. Its chief significance is the political awakening of real public consciousness, which, perhaps for the first time in Russian history has become articulate and can be ignored no longer.

Riot of Pleasure is Condemned

Methodists of St. Thomas Favor Conscripted to Obtain Eligibles.

St. Thomas, Nov. 22.—The Methodists of St. Thomas district, in session here yesterday, unanimously passed the following resolution: "Whereas we believe the Empire to be facing at the present moment a most serious crisis, we strongly condemn the riot of pleasure indulged in by many of our people, particularly the dance hall, luring the young man, who ought to be engaged in the service of the Empire, away from all thought of military duty, and this district meeting hereby declares itself to be in favor of some form of conscription, with proper safeguards, so that young and eligible men might be available for overseas service."

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids—Splendid for System.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

"LET ME ENTER MONASTIR, IF BUT TO DIE"

Roumanian Officer Revisited Scene of Success and Failure in Past.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 London, Nov. 22.—(New York Times cable)—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from Athens, November 20, says:

The great victory at Monastir already had had far-reaching results. The enemy is in disorderly retreat along the whole front, abandoning dead and wounded and enormous quantities of material, and the still advancing Serbs are emphasizing the thorough nature of their triumph.

All reports agree that the enemy's losses must be enormous. For example, two regiments sent to reinforce the troops defending Hill 1212, were in two hours slaughtered to a man.

The great triumph has been received by the Serb army with pathetic joy. "Now," said an officer, who had just come here from the front, "we have a home again."

He told me a story of Colonel Vasatch. The invalid colonel took Monastir from the Turks just over four years ago. He is as all the world knows, held onto Babuna with 4000 men last November against vastly superior enemy forces. He had a reputation with his men of always being first into the enemy's position. Through ill, he is with the forces at the front, and a day or two ago, when it was suggested that he should go to the hospital, he replied: "No; only let me enter Monastir, if it be but to die there."

DUFFERIN SCHOOL LEAGUE MEETS

Election of Officers Takes Place, and Plans Made For Coming Year.

The annual meeting of the Dufferin School League was held on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. S. Brewster was appointed to occupy the chair in the absence of Mrs. M. E. B. Cutcliffe.

Mrs. Brewster, Gordon Duncan and Hurley gave interesting reports of the work done in the various departments during the past year.

The principal of the school, being called upon, complimented the league on the excellent work accomplished and acknowledged the assistance given the school in the matter of equipment and social work.

Following the election of officers, it was decided to again engage in a Cross work, two afternoons a month to be devoted to sewing. The matter of school gardens was also taken up and a committee of which Mrs. S. W. Secord is convenor was appointed to confer with Inspector Kilmer.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Hon. president, Mrs. J. J. Hurley; vice-pres., Mrs. W. S. Brewster; second vice-pres., Mrs. J. J. Harley; sec'y-treas., Mrs. James S. Rowe; convenor of Red Cross committee, Mrs. J. Hurley. A large number of members were in attendance and under the enthusiastic leadership of the president and her officers, good work will undoubtedly be again accomplished.

Wedding Bells

Nixon—Secord
 A quiet but charming wedding took place this afternoon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Secord, Dufferin Avenue, when their only daughter, Pearl Kathleen, was united in marriage to Mr. George P. Nixon of Hamilton.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. J. Thompson of the Congregational church. The bridal party entered the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with pink and white mums, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, brilliantly played by Mrs. Harold Miller. The bride, charmingly gowned in a suit of cream broadcloth, trimmed with seal, with large black velvet hat, was given away by her father. The bridal bouquet was an exquisite creation of Sunset roses.

Little Miss Isobel Secord, niece of the bride, made a dainty little flow or fairy in pink Georgette Crepe, bearing the bride's bouquet, and little Master Sandy Secord, a nephew, was quaint and charming as ring bearer, in white corded silk and pink velvet.

The bride's mother was gowned in midnight blue and silver. Mrs. Nixon, mother of the groom, was elegant in black satin. The bride's going-away costume was of black broadcloth, with black velvet hat and fox fur.

After a daintily served and recherche wedding luncheon, the newly wedded couple left by the 9-o'clock train for an extended wedding tour of the Eastern States.

Many rich and beautiful gifts bore abundant testimony of the good wishes of the hosts of friends of both bride and groom.

Women's Institute

In place of the regular meeting of Moyle Tranquility Women's Institute a social evening was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Passmore, St. George road, with about 90 present to enjoy a good programme and a social hour. The President, Mrs. G. T. Wood occupied the chair. Opening selection, "O Canada"; instrumental solo, Miss Arnold. Reports from committees were given showing that a box containing quilts and clothing, donated by the members had been sent to the fire sufferers in New Ontario, also that 17 Christmas boxes had been sent to the boys overseas. Miss Marjorie Osborne gave a reading, Miss Gibbins of East Oakland and Miss Ashbury of Tranquility rendered vocal solos. Addresses by Mr. Road of Cainsville and Mr. Simpson of Onondaga. Very instructive papers were given by Miss Emmott of Tranquility, Miss McKay of Moyle and Miss Simpson of Kitchen's school.

Mrs. McWebb, president of Grand View and Terrace Hill, Mrs. Rose president of Onondaga Women's Institutes were welcome visitors, and the chorus, "Camping on the Old Camp Grounds," led by Mrs. McWebb was a pleasing feature of the evening's programme. Supper was served and a vote of thanks given to Mrs. Passmore for her kind hospitality. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bailey, Oak Park, in December.

Once upon a time there was a little elf of a shoemaker who toiled about the fairy world in rags, mending shoes, but so many of the fairies went barefooted that he had a pretty hard time of it.

"Find the lily village," the Wind told him, but he didn't pay much attention to it and trudged on.

"Find the lily village!" said a sun-beam.

"Where is this wonderful lily village?" asked the little shoemaker crossly. "Everybody seems to talk about it. And why in the fairy world are they so much in need of a shoemaker there?" And so, pretty curious, he began to hunt. Every time he went the wrong way the wind blew his hat off and the sun shone brightly in his eyes and blinded him.

"You foolish old fellow!" cried the Wind. "Go the way I blow your caps!" And he did. And he found the lily village.

It was moonlight when he came to the pond where the lily village lay. It was a beautiful village. There were cottages of water-lilies and boats of water-lilies with waxen sails that opened in the morning to the sun and closed at night. There were leaf-green water churches with bell-towers made of violet spires of water-lilies. Instead of stars overhead, the stars were spangled all over the water and the little elf shoemaker saw that they were water-snowflake flowers. All of it was dimly aglow in the light from some elf-lanterns that the shoemaker soon saw were yellow poppies. But the village was deserted!

That seemed pretty queer, and night after night, when the moon shone, the shoemaker went back and stared and stared and stared at the empty village. Where on earth were the fairies? And then one night, glancing out upon the pond, he saw them dancing with silver shoes upon the ripples of the pond.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

"Why," said the little shoemaker, "I'm a foolish fellow and no mistake. That's what they're for, those fairies, and I'd never find them in the village when the moon is shining."

He waited then until the moon had gone to bed, but he grew so tired he fell asleep and when he woke up it was bright daylight. But still there was never a sign of the fairies. The poppy lanterns were out, the lily boat sails were up, but he couldn't see a single fairy. Here and there dew flashed in the sunlight.

"Oh, dear!" said a tired little voice from the lily village, "I do so love to dance upon the ripples, but I hate to polish up your shoes. And I wish I had a new pair anyway."

The little shoemaker couldn't see who spoke, but he answered anyway. "I'll make you a new pair of shoes!" he cried. "And I'll make them of moonlight and water-silver, for I'm a fairy shoemaker."

And with that all the fairies in the lily village burst out and crowded around him in delight. They were invisible by daylight and what he'd thought was dew was the light upon the fairy shoes they all were wearing. And so the little elf shoemaker went to live in the lily village and was happy ever after.

DEUTSCHLAND ON RETURN JOURNEY

Hun Sub Departs From New London, Evading Several Suits For Damage.
New London, Conn., Nov. 21.—The German submarine Deutschland sailed for Bremen shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. She was flying her flags and the crew were all on deck as she passed down the harbor. One of the Scott Companies tugs was at the pier when she started, but the undersea craft had no need of assistance. The tug followed her down the river.
This was the second start of the Deutschland for home from this port. The first was made early last Friday morning, when under convoy of the tugs T. A. Scott, jun., and Cassie, she slipped quietly out of her berth and down the river. Off Race Point light, however, she rammed and sank the T. Scott, jun., with its crew, and had to return to her berth for repairs.
After passing the lighthouse at the entrance to the harbor, the Deutschland headed for the open sea, apparently intending to set a straight course for the Race to take advantage of the tide and wind in passing through the narrow passage.
Crowds gathered along both sides of the river to watch the passage of the boat down the harbor.
Meanwhile several suits of damages were brought against the undersea craft, but yesterday bonds were filed to cover these suits, and the repairs completed the freighter was only waiting for favorable conditions before again starting homeward.

The town provided a lunch for the out-of-town guests who remained for services, which were held at 2:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church, which followed the private service conducted at the house. The public service was conducted by Rev. W. G. Hanna, of Cookstown, assisted by Rev. Mr. Gree, of Alliston.

Results in Death of 441 and Injured of Nearly Twice That Number.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Petrograd, Nov. 21, via London, 5:03 p.m.—It is announced officially that 341 persons have been killed and 667 wounded by an explosion at Bakaritza.
An official report says: "According to supplementary information, the number of persons killed by the explosion at Bakaritza was found, after clearing the debris of masonry, to be 314, while the number of persons injured, according to reports received from the hospitals, amounts to forty-nine officers, 437 soldiers, 131 civilians and twenty-five women. Of the crews of British merchant ships twenty-seven were killed and twenty-five were injured."
The large number of victims is explained by the fact that the explosion occurred during the dinner hour, when the men were resting in huts, wrecked by the explosion.
Bakaritza is the site of the great Russian Government arsenal not far from Petrograd.

British Plantation Rubber Is Saving Canada Millions

Low Prices of Rubbers and Overshoes Due to Britain's Control of Situation

Here in Canada many of us have fallen into the truly Anglo-Saxon habit of considering the "Mother of Parliaments" slow and a bit behind the times. The present price of rubber, when its cause is revealed, affords one of the many proofs that such an opinion is away off the mark.

Thanks to great rubber plantations established in the face of criticism and ridicule, many years before in her tropical Dominions, Great Britain at the outbreak of the war held a firm and tightening grip on the world's supply of raw rubber—a grip reinforced by her dominating navy. From 60% in 1914, the production of these plantations has grown this year to 75% of the whole world's output, leaving only about half the requirements of the United States alone to come from all other sources.

The result has been that the needs of the Allies, enormous though they are, have been plentifully supplied, while Germany has been reduced to registered mails and the "Deutschland" in desperate attempts to mitigate her rubber famine. Neutrals have been allowed all the rubber they want, at prices actually lower than before the war, so long as they prevent any of it from reaching the enemy, while Canada and other parts of the Empire have an abundant supply at equally favorable Government-regulated prices.

In this foresight and generosity of the British Government lies the reason why rubber alone, of all the great staples, has not gone up in price—why rubbers and overshoes, in spite of increased cost of fabric, chemicals and labor, are as inexpensive as ever, while shoes are costing several dollars a pair more. Wearing rubbers of overshoes through this winter to protect feet is not only a matter of practical thrift—it is gratefully patriotic, for in this saving leather we make it easier for the Government to secure the absolutely necessary supplies of this absolutely scarce material for our soldiers.

Both Thrift and Patriotism Point to Rubbers!

To The Editor

THE WATER QUESTION.

Brantford, Nov. 21st, 1916.

To the Editor of the Courier:—The can be no two opinions that a sufficient supply of pure water is the most important question in the city to-day, and I notice that the supply and its purity has recently been the subject of criticism in the City Council and elsewhere. Alderman Ward's resolution passed by the City Council, appointing officials to investigate and report to the Council on these matters might well have included a report whether all the recent expenditure and changes have been wisely made.

A similar resolution at a meeting of the Commissioners prior to this council meeting, could not get a second, although it asked that investigation be had at no expense to the city. The objection advanced was that it would prejudice the opinion of the Fire Underwriters which is connected with health and possible loss of industrial plants by fire, although later the underwriters water test last week found present supply very satisfactory. Yet the Mayor is reported as favoring Ald. Ward's resolution. Apparently it makes a difference to him where the report is introduced. The water reporters at the Commissioners meeting.

It has been a difficult problem during the summer months to provide sufficient water for domestic factory and sprinkling use, largely owing to the channel shifting away from both our river intakes and the low level of the river, often being dry over the dam, and a less supply from the land springs.

Our approximate requirement is three and one-half million gallons daily, one million being taken from the canal, one million from the river—at certain seasons—and the balance from the land springs, which are filtered through the ground before reaching the wells, and all chlorinated before reaching the main. The supply from the land springs is situated on the ground surface. When the ground supplies sufficient water alone, you can notice the care wrinkles leave the faces of the secretary and the engineer.

The Waterworks system cost the citizens to January 1st, 1916, about $800,000, of which we owe in bonds $475,000. This includes the $250,000 spent during the last three years to meet Fire Underwriters' demand and obtain lower insurance rates, provides pumping plant, mains and equipment for 40,000 population. All necessary water can now be distributed without further cost. Possibly another year new difficulties may arise with regard to supply and immediate provision should be made for an assured supply, which can be procured in various ways at an outlay of from $500 or $1000 per year.

Pending the report of the investigation by the Council Committee, I refrain from suggesting the various methods open, but more water we must have at all seasons. Next in importance is quality, and while the pollution of public water cannot entirely be prevented, it is the duty of every citizen to purify water before drinking it to the consumers. All water supplied now is filtered through the ground to the galleries, and wells. It is found, however, that the matter in the river water which the screen does not remove, has gradually filled up the vacuum in the sand and earth with sediment and slime, which must decrease the strength of the filtration after so many years of use. As is shown by the fact that the sand bottom is no higher than the surface, yet no water comes through. The ground cannot be washed out like a mechanical sand filter. The new booster pump which has lately been installed to force water through the ground to the galleries, and to increase supply, cause temporary extra expense to install and operate which could be saved if present filtration was supplemented by a mechanical sand filter.

Typhoid fever is practically eliminated in cities where filtration is used, as statistics abundantly prove. This saves both human life and expense. Where any public water supply is known to come from a source in any way liable to be contaminated by sewerage, every caution should be taken to provide the most modern purification system known.

The provincial board of health compel chlorinating through Southern Ontario and our medical health officer advised boiling during the summer months as a precaution. Yet analyses of our water by the Provincial Department does not show any typhoid pollution. A sand filtration plant is unavoidable. It must come. Then why delay. The pollution of the river water increases, and the strength of our ground filtration decreases. If filtration and chlorination ordinary sewerage water is clean, clear and ninety-nine per cent. pure.

This is a most vital question to all residents. The cost is secondary consideration which must be met. Delay does not supply the defect, or assure general health.

I will not burden you with figures of operation and give details, except to state that what is required is a mechanical sand filtering plant that can be washed by diverting the water when such is required by a reverse flow and the dirty water carried out in the waste.

Such a plant would cost near $125,000 for a population of 25,000. To pay the interest and sinking fund on this amount together with operating and other fixed expense would not be over 20 cents per capita of 25,000 to 50,000 population, as can be proven by statistics. Will any citizen consider that 20 cents a year to provide pure water is not justified, getting the support of the people for the expenditure to increase the pumping capacity and make to distribute increased supply which, when not and purified would make the system superior to any in Canada and self-supporting at the lowest rate for water of any city.

To install this filter will not increase the rate. We have sinking fund to retire as paid up $185,000 bonds next year, which would meet all expenditure for filtration plant. The policy of the Commissioners is that meters will be installed as fast as they can be procured. There will be reduced consumption and reduced operating expense, and the revenue increased with no increase to consumer.

Large cities, although they have temporized and delayed, have eventually had to install them and it would be impossible to name an instance where the people of any city would permit the removal of the plant.

The water commissioners, have been criticized from Dan, to Beersheba, perhaps deservedly, but they have had their own troubles to contend with. Many of the citizens are dissatisfied with existing conditions. The remedy is in their own hands. The placing of a modern filtering plant by your votes if a By-law is offered next January, getting absolutely pure water at a reasonable cost.

Yours respectfully,
A. G. MONTGOMERY.

One Killed; One Escaped

A moment later a German shell killed Walsh, while Kinman escaped with slight injuries.

Of Reports of American Officials on the Prison Camps in Germany.

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Nov. 21.—Washington's refusal to permit the publication of reports of American officials on prison camps in Germany was the subject of a question to-day in the House of Commons. Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, replying to the interrogation said he had some reason to believe that while the United States Government objected in principle to the publication of such reports, its consent might be obtained to the publication of individual reports.

A new contingent of 130 Newfoundland seamen has left for England for service in the navy.

Music and Drama

September Morn has been musicalized. It was bound to occur at some time, and the transplanting of Paul Chabon's painting into the form of musical comedy has happened. Arthur Gillespie Jr., staged it, Virgil Bennett taught it, "September Morn" how to dance—but the arch-conspirator is William Moore, the original joy germ, who is the star of the big musical comedy, along with Miss Ruth Williams, Maud K. Williams, Valerie True, Leslie Jones, J. J. Patton, James Baber and others.

One may imagine every musical play they have ever seen—then combine the lot and let it simmer down until it condenses, leaving "September Morn" a genuine delight with its happy players and Tango Dancers. "September Morn" carries the audience upon a tour through funland with a dash and whirl of real pleasure.

"September Morn" comes to the Grand Opera House for a return engagement.

U.S. Government Inquires Into Sinking of Arabia, Columbia and Lanao.

By Courier Leased Wire. Berlin, Nov. 21.—Via London, Nov. 22.—Charge d'Affaires Grew at the United States embassy, called at the foreign office this evening and presented the American Government's inquiry regarding the torpedoing of the steamers Arabia, Columbia and Lanao and two other steamers having Americans on board, which are alleged to have been sunk without warning.

The foreign office will refer the cases to the admiralty for a report, which is considered necessary as the details of the sinking of the vessels important respects from those advanced in the American representations. This is particularly true in the case of the Columbia, which, in the absence of any warning, was sunk without warning, was, according to the Wireless Press reported from Spain, as being laden with a mixed cargo of contraband and given a long period of grace to permit the rough sea to subside before she was torpedoed.
