Letters from the Front

Letters from Our Boys Who Are Fighting for Us

France, Sept. 6, 1918.

My Dear Mother:—

I am just sending you a few lines to let you know that I am well and hope they will find you the same. We are having some nice weather here now and, are working hard while it is with us.

Believe me, this is some place over here, but I will be glad when I am back home again. I have been trying to get some photos taken, but can't find a place to have them. If I am lucky enough to get another pass I will have about four dozen taken so I will have one for everybody.

Say, is Henry Stonhouse over here, I was over to see Earl last night, but I forgot to ask him. I heard he was killed, but I didn't see Lloyd Binkley, but I saw Russell Carey, and he told me the boys were getting along fine. I also saw Vern Willis. I had a letter from Henry Jackson the other day and he says he expects to come to France any day now.

Well, mother, I don't think this will last very much longer, but it is hard to say. I, for one, will be glad when it is all over and we are home again. I can't think of anything more, so will close.

From your loving son,
SPR. J. A. MORDEN.

The following extracts from a letter of Clyde M. Holbrook, who was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Alton before going to France, will be of interest to all who met the young man while he was here.

"I am with a squadron of fighting Scouts whose duty it is to keep the air free from Huns so our artillery, photography machines, etc., can do their work without being molested; also to escort bombing parties. So far, I have had three scraps. The first one I had to break away from on account of my gun coming loose from its mounting. The next I followed a Hun down to about 8,000 feet but I couldn't get close enough to be effective; scared him anyway. The next happened day before yesterday and I got my man so I feel very much pleased with myself. No, I have no regrets, for I know that he would gladly do the same for me.

We have to go well over the lines to find Huns here. Don't know whether they are afraid to venture on our side or whether they haven't the machines. All our scraps take place over Hun territory and they throw lead in all shapes and sizes at us on our way back.

I had quite an experience on the afternoon patrol the same day as the last scrap. My engine just naturally quit when I was about four miles inside the Hun lines. I had height enough to glide to our side and managed to land a bare mile behind our own front line trenches. Could plainly see both the Huns and Tommies as I came down. Had no choice of a landing ground as it was all cut up with reserve trenches and barbed wire entanglements. I tried to pick out a soft spot, but it turned out to be pretty hard. I hit a trench and stopped instantly. The jar sent me forward and I busted a few things with my head, including goggles, wind screen and the skin on my face in several places.

I am having a nice rest in the hospital now, hence this letter. Will probably be back on the job in a week's time."

"The success of the Victory Loan is absolutely essential to the prosperity of Canada and every class and individual in Canada."—Sir Thomas White.

Prayer of a Sister

It's worse for mothers, God, oh, help them first,

But after you have comforted each mother

In all the land, then hear! I dread the worst,

Oh, send me news, good news from him, my brother.

The little boy with whom, not long ago,

I played at soldiers on our kitchen floor;

And walked on stilts; and cut and bent a bow,

And whittled arrows—shall I see him more?

He has his mother and his sweetheart praying,

I'm just his sister—but I care, I care!

(It's hard, this new game he and I are playing.)

After the others, God, oh, hear my prayer.

Five Ways of Saving Fuel

Canada faces a shortage of coal, and it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to save coal in heating his home. About 1,500,000 homes in this country are to be heated through the winter. If everybody "does his bit," a ton of coal at each home can be saved easily during the winter. Now when the appeal for Thrift is being made, the coal situation brings to us a unique opportunity for saving money as well as coal. By effecting the economies noted here, Canadian householders can save, taking the price of coal at $11 per ton, as much as $16,500,000 this winter.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines has recently published a pamphlet which contains excellent advice for the Canadian householder. It outlines five ways in which coal can be saved. They are as follows:—

1. Of the coals available in your market select the one that requires the least attention in burning.
2. Use an economical method of burning your coal.
3. Keep your house temperature 62 degrees to 65 degrees fahrenheit, instead of 72 degrees to 75 degrees fahrenheit.
4. Heat as few rooms as the comfort of your family will permit.
5. Shorten the heating season as much as possible.

NO TIME TO WAVER

"It is possible that Germany's peace offensive may cause wavering, not among our gallant armies, but among our civilian population. Who can tell what the effect on the world would be of a great over-subscription in the approaching Victory Loan campaign in Canada? That would be a magnificent answer for Canada to make to the enemy's new campaign of whining insincerity.

"When the Hun first used his poison gas on the battlefield, it was a lone Canadian division that saved the situation. It may be possible for Canadians at home to render a similar service now.

"The watchword, therefore, for the Victory Loan organization and for the Canadian people until unconditional surrender by the foe is an accomplished fact is not to relax but to redouble every effort.

"There is this further consideration, that supposing peace could be declared to-morrow, on terms satisfactory to the allies, Canada's war expenditure would continue for at least another twelvemonth, and consequently the necessity for raising the full amount of the loan would be none the less urgent."

E. R. WOOD, Chairman,
Dominion Victory Loan Committee.

Waterdown Casualties

Three Well Known Waterdown Boys Who Have Died

Mr. Michael Crane was notified on Tuesday last that his son Edward had been killed in action in France. Private Crane enlisted with the 2nd C. O. R. in Hamilton last winter and went overseas on Feb. 10th. Only a few weeks ago he went to France and after a brief period on the line was killed on September 30th. This is the second bereavement the family have been called upon to bear within a short time; their eldest son James having died on Sept. 13th. Ed. was a general favorite with all, his kindly, genial disposition, making him many friends who will deeply regret his untimely death.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fretwell received word last Thursday that their son George had been killed in action on Sept. 27th. Gunner Fretwell enlisted in Hamilton last winter, going overseas early in the spring. After training in England he was sent to France with a Canadian Machine Gun battalion where met his death a month later. Gunner Fretwell was born and lived in Waterdown all his life. He attended the Public school here and was a medical student for two years at the Toronto University. He was in his 24th year when he gave his life for liberty.

Mrs. Ben Rayner has received a telegram from Ottawa stating that her husband had died of wounds in the 8th Canadian Clearing Station, France, on the 3rd of October. Pte. Rayner was born in Beverly, moving to Waterdown recently. He leaves to mourn his death a wife and two small children.

Mrs. D. Ribson received word last Tuesday morning from Ottawa, that her son Austin was reported as missing since the 1st of October. He left here for England early last spring and after several months training he was allowed to go to France, reaching the trenches about the 1st of September. While no further word has been received, it is hoped that no worse fate than being a prisoner of war has befallen him.

Relatives of Sergt. Jas. Robertson have been notified that he is reported as missing since Oct. 14th. Sergt. Robertson has seen a lot of service and has a splendid record. His many friends are looking for a more favorable report.

Parents of Pte. C. Carson have received word that he is dangerously ill in a hospital in England. His speedy recovery is hoped for.

CANADIANS

Who nobly crossed the ocean wide
Of their free will to take the side
Of right and who for Freedom died?
Canadians.

Who saved the day by fighting grand,
When poisoned gas by breezes fanned
At Ypres discomforts Gallie band?
Canadians.

Who took the Vimy ridge so high
And said they'd do it or they'd die,
Who glorious fell without a sigh?
Canadians.

Who faced the guns and bullets hall,
With spirit brave that ne'er will quail?
Who ne'er in their objective fail?
Canadians.

Who fought in many a fateful hour
With wondrous pluck and spirit dour
And ne'er before the Huns will cower?
Canadians.

Who ne'er before the foe retire
But face unflinching hottest fire
With dauntless courage cut the wire?
Canadians.

Whose name shall live for aye and aye
Mid fiercest fight who stand at bay
And fall on many a glorious day?
Canadians.

LOCAL MENTION

Are you saving for Victory Bonds?

Miss Ruth McGregor is home from her school in Windsor.

Mr. Jas. Rutledge is confined to his bed with the Spanish Influenza.

Miss Ann Raybould has resumed her duties after a weeks illness.

Mr. John Spence is wearing a happy smile these days. It's a boy.

Mr. C. P. McGregor and daughter Miss Lena spent Wednesday in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Spence, of Dundas, spent the week end with friends in the village.

We are sorry to state that Miss Bernice Simpson is still confined to her bed with rheumatic fever.

The several cases of Influenza in the village are all reported to be progressing favorably. No new cases have been reported.

The Waterdown Poultry Association will hold their regular meeting in the Bell House on Friday evening Oct. 25th, at 8 p. m.

Nursing Sisters Warren and Jean Drummond have returned from their western trip and are now on duty at the Military Hospital, Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Mr. Albert Slater has purchased from Mr. Fred Cairns his fine new bungalow and property on Dundas street. The interior of the house will be made thoroughly up to date in every particular, as bath room, closets and a modern water system are to be installed, and when completed will be one of the handsomest private residences in Waterdown.

To J. J. Creen belongs the honor of securing the highest price for fowl ever recorded in Waterdown. A few days ago he sold to Mr. Wilcox, of Hamilton, one cock and two cockerels. The price paid for the birds being $100. Mr. Creen has been a successful exhibitor at all the fall fairs and winter poultry shows. The secret of his success is that he purchases all his feed from the Corn Club.

The following conversation was overheard on the street the other day between two young ladies of our village. "Do you know that really I am getting alarmed at the rapid manner I am gaining in weight, and I must really do something to check it; dresses that fitted me perfectly a year ago will not peep on me now. Could you suggest a remedy, one that would stop any further increase to my weight? Really if something is not done I fear that my chances of matrimony are slim. My daily walks with the Club do not seem to benefit me, but on the contrary have the effect of still further increasing my avoirdupois. True, my appetite is abnormal, but this is not to be wondered at when one considers all the rich food consumed while on our jaunts into the county." Her friend seemed to be in a deep study, but finally answered saying, "My friend I have listened attentively to your tale of woe, and would strongly advise cutting out the consumption of rich food while taking your jaunts with your Club. You might also try 'Anti Fat' a remedy which has been thoroughly tested and is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. This remedy can be secured at our local Drug store for a trifling amount. If your dresses are on the small side for you, hand them to the Red Cross, they will find use for them." Don't worry about your increased weight, either of the remedies will surely cure.

The lack of local news this week is evidence that the citizens are living strictly up to the Medical Health Officers advice and are staying at home.

The "Flu"

When your head is blazing and burning,
And your brain within is turning
Into buttermilk from churning—
It's the "Flu."

When your bones are creaking and cracking,
As if all the fiends were racking—
And all the devils were attacking—
It's the "Flu."

CHORUS

It's the Flu, Flu, Flu,
Which has You, You, You,
It's caught you, it's got you,
And it sticks like glue,
It's the latest thing in fashion,
It's the Doctor's pet and passion,
So sneeze a bit, wheeze a bit,
Ka Chew, Chew, Chew.

A. R.

Waterdown, Oct. 1918.

Greenville

Miss S. Clark has returned from a visit to St. Clair, Mich.

Norman Greightmire has been taken to the hospital. Pneumonia set in after a recent illness.

Mr. Geo. Riley is under the doctor's care.

The Patriotic League meeting has been cancelled. A committee meeting will be held at Mrs. W. Nicholson's to arrange for the Xmas boxes.

C. D. King, of the United Cigar Stores, Toronto, has been transferred to Brantford as sales manager for that firm.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill, of Dundas, were the guests of Mr. Peter McGregor on Monday last.

The Misses Mary and M. Harrison, of Toronto, were the guests of Miss Janet McGregor last Monday.

THE MUSICAL CATBIRD.

This Canadian Has Ugly Name But Beautiful Song.

The apple-blooms in the solitary apple tree in the backyard, the only survivor of the ravage of the San Jose scale, have been scattered by the winds. In their place is an assemblage of little green buttons, which it is hoped will one day develop into pippins.

From the uppermost twig of this tree, the family in the house and all the neighbors have been furnished, morning after morning, with a musical melody, the delight of all who hear it.

Poets on this side of the Atlantic have indulged in raptures over the song of the nightingale, which they have never heard but have taken second-hand from European rhymers. Deaf are they to the wonderful vocalist singing in the apple tree to whom, native Canadian that he is, has been accorded no sounding title. He is called—one may blush to write it—the catbird.

This name has been given, it is said, because of one of its cries, which resembles the mew of a cat, and this mew of the cat is the least of this bird's accomplishments. His musical matinee from the top of the apple tree lasts a full half hour each morning, and what a variety, with no number repeated!

A handsomely-shaped chap he is, about eight and one-half inches long from the tip of his bill to the longest of his tail feathers. His suit is of a dark slate color with crown and tail black, and under tail coverts chestnut. Other birds arrive in this neighborhood somewhat earlier in the spring, but do not deserve and should not receive a warmer welcome, not even the red-chested robin, who has impudence and style but small song power.

The catbird is related to the mocking bird, and that warbler may well be proud of his relative, who is better known in the north than he is.

Science has come to give this bird a name quite as objectionable as "catbird." No one need be expected to pronounce as the name of this species the syllabic monstrosity "galeoscoptes carolinensis." Certainly not, especially as the translation of these words gives to us that in English the syllable "gale" is Greek for "weasel," and from "skoptes" comes the word "mocker."

And there he swings on the toppling twig of the apple tree and sings and sings, wholly careless of any of the names given to him in either Greek or English. The bird breeds in the north and winters from Florida southward.

The nightingale is a smaller bird than our catbird. It sings for the most part after dusk. Our independent Canadian bird sings at any time he chooses. He is an early riser and under the summer schedule now opens his repertory at 4.30 a.m.

Enlists at 53; Says He's 59.

The July American Magazine has an article about "Foghorn" Macdonald who enlisted as a private in the Canadian forces at 53 and is now a major at 57. The author of the article says:

"By canoe for thirty-one days through the wilderness, by an old tub of a leaky steamboat, by whatever means of travel he could find, including his own feet, he made his way back to Winnipeg, only to find that the troops had left. All right! A machine gun company was being formed and he applied for that."

"The recruiting officer was a friend of his, had helped celebrate Foghorn's fifty-third birthday the previous January. But when in making out the papers he came to the question: 'How old are you?' and Foghorn whipped out, 'Thirty-nine!' he never batted an eyelash."

"Before his official cronies at Ottawa knew it, Macdonald was on his way to England—a private at fifty-three! Two years later he was a major; the only man, in the forces of the Allies, who has risen from the ranks to that grade in the present war."

When will it end?

Thousands upon thousands, endless thousands, hold their lives cheap as the price of Victorious Peace.

And we—as we watch from afar their heroic efforts—may we be able to say, that the little we at home could do, we have done;

—that in so far as we could support them, lighten their burdens, bring them comforts, we have done it;

—that we have striven unceasingly to shorten their stay in the Hun made Hell;

—that freely, fervently, unitedly, we have laid our humble offerings alongside their noble sacrifices on the altar of Victory—and Peace.

Another opportunity to lend your individual weight to the blow that will shorten the war comes with the offering of Victory Bonds about to be made. Let not the privilege to do your share find you unprepared.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in cooperation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

Refused a Decoration.

The London Gazette has announced that the name of James Wood, of the Canadian Munitions Board, should be omitted at his own request from the list of those receiving the Order of the British Empire.

Mr. Wood is a Toronto man. He was formerly connected with the Imperial Munitions Board, but has since resigned. He is president of the British Forgings Co., and also president of the Amalgamated Ammunition Co.

Change.

Ruth is an abolitionist I know,
And so I'll have to drop her,
For every time I'm out with her
My silver turns to copper.

In These Days.

"It's as useless as the fifth wheel to a wagon."
"That adage is out of date. All au-

A Candid Editor.

A Canadian acknowledgment of exceeding frankness is this in the Morse News: We made an awful muddle in our last issue in announcing the arrival in town of Mrs. C. L.
Whitby and her sister, Miss Robb, getting Mrs. Whitby's name in as
Mrs. Miles and Miss Robb's as Miss Russ. We apologise for the error and with us.

SAVE FOR VICTORY

Tribute to Canada.

Canada has done wonderfully well thus far with its war finance, and there is every reason to expect that she will keep this pace to the end. Canada is enormously rich in undeveloped resources and her promises to pay are among the best securities in the world. As a matter of fact, there is practically no difference between Canada and the United States so far as financial responsibility is concerned. After the war there is bound to be a rapid development of Canada's resources with great increase in the visible wealth.—Buffalo Express.

Art of Weaving.

The arts of weaving and rope and net-making are practiced by some of the lower forms of life, notably among caterpillars and spiders. The weaver birds of Africa and India, which are a species of finch, construct wonderful nests out of leaves by sewing them together.

Brave Barnardo Boys.

Six thousand Barnardo boys have enlisted for overseas service in the Canadian forces. Of these about 350 have paid the supreme sacrifice. Accounts of the boys are most encouraging and they are proving themselves a splendid type of soldier.
