the third reading of the bill. The two clauses of the bylaw were passed with one amendment. As amended the bill reads : That any shopkeeper hereafter taking out a shop license, as defined in the said act, for the sale of liquor in the city of Toronto, shall be required to confine the business of his shop solely and exclusively to the keeping and sell-ing of liquor. That the elerk of this council transmit a copy of this bylaw to the license commission-ers for the city of Toronto on or before Feb. 29, 1881. THE FAMOUS BYLAW RECEIVES ITS THIRD READING.

More Stirring Scenes in the Council Chamber—Joy Among the Temperance People After the Vote.

"This is the best drawing card we've Several amendments were moved and had for many a day," said one of the comi-cal members of the city council yesterday afternoon to a World reporter, as he squeezed through the jam and reached his seat at the table. To be sure it was a good drawing card, as far as filling the chamber was concerned. When Mayor Boswell took the chair at 3.30 there were two ladies in gallery, a perfect jam of citizens all round, and three or four canines disported them-selves around the feet of the reporters, while one of them occasionally tripped over to the civic throne and paid his respects to his worship. As far as The World re-

The above was the relative strength of both sides on all questions pertaining to the immediate reading of the bylaw. The only change in other divisions of a similar na-ture was that Ald. Irwin went over to the other side on an amendment by Ald. Defoe that the bill be read a third time the first meeting after June 1 next. On this diviporter could discern, two of them were temperance dogs, and two others belonged to the opposite side. They did not, however, wrangle half as much as their masters. The only members of the council absent were Ald. Shaw and Moore, the latter, as meeting after June 1 next. On this divi-sion Ald. Pape and Lobb did not vote. The latter said he did not want to waste Before the orders of the day were called.

Smith, chairman of the legislation committee, to say if he were correct or not. Ald. Smith admitted that the Globe was in error in this particular clause, but would not fully exonerate the three gentlemen named from the charges which the Globe had made. The explanation of Ald. Smith, however, was not a direct answer to the question put by Ald. Turner. Mayor Boswell also spoke to a question of privilege. He read from the Yonge street gutter journal, which had spoken of him as a "contemptible creature" (in con-nection with his action in the injunction matter). Bay street, which had every appearance of being the work of a nre bug. But after the proceeding of last night a World reporter "smelled a mice," especially when he saw Ald. Farley and Alfred Perry of Montreal were on the spot. Apparently they had been hiding in the lane. They were the fire bugs, and this was the method they had taken to test the brigade. But it is a questionable proceeding. Mr. Sheppard of the opera house had just got to his home and rushed down in great haste thinking that the theatre might be on fire. The house was only moderately filled, but had it been erowded and the audience got it into their head that there was a fire in the rear a panic might have ensued. Sensible men will not attach importance to these tests. It looked to the reporter that the firemen had "got the tip." They were all elegantly dressed in their newly-painted helmets, the chief arrived on the scene in fine style in his cutter driven by his coachman, and the reels were there in no time. Extra precautions were taken last night to guard the parliamentary buildings. Reports are current that the police have arrested several persons found to have dynamite in their possession. The police refuse to confirm or deny the re-ports. A genuine fire (like that at Adamson's grain warehouse) furnishes the only genu-ine test.

He reviewed the financial history of the country for the past decade. He said the credit of the country abroad was never better than at the present time. He stated that it would be necessary to raise £2,000,000 next year and as much the following year to meet maturing bonds, but he added that there never was a time more favorable than the present to go to Eng-land for capital, and within a year or two the 5 per cent debentures will be redeemed. It was not possible for the national policy to avert over productions, but had it not been for that policy the present depression would be very much worse.

Sir Richard Cartwright replied, occupy ing till after midnight. He remarked that on the 20th February last there was a surplus of five millions, but he predicted that before many months there would be a deficit instead of a surplus and he said the policy pursued was plunging the country into financial ruin which must soon end in disaster. He charged the government with exercising a policy towards the Northwest which was driving the settlers into the States, and the government has given the promoters of the two Hudson's bay railway schemes a week to amalgate. The Division on Thursday Night. The division which took place in the legislative assembly on Thursday night was in some ways an interesting one. Every member that has a seat at present in the house voted, though the division did not come off till after midnight. Forty-nin members stood upon the ministerial side and thirty-five on the opposition. The how to put down slavery is the great ques speaker made the eighty fifth member, and tion for Africe to-day. there are three seats vacant, those for Muskoka, South Oxford and Eest Grey. The government will probably carry two of these, making their normal majority fifteen in a full house, Mr. Hart, one of the socalled independents, has voted steadily called independence, has voted section, and another, Mr. Lees, has voted just as stead-ily against them. Mr. Neelon, who has all along been regarded as the only really doubtful man in the assembly, voted this time with the government. Now that the time with the government. Now that the opposition know precisely where they stand they had better abandon all hope of an diate change of government and settle down to another four years of the cold shades. The ministerial following is now a solid phalanx, and it is not likely that a body whose members resisted the offers of hard cash made to them when the fate of the government trembled in the balance is going to break up now unde the attacks of Mr. Meredith and his followers. The Real Trouble in Egypt.

The principal cause of trouble in Egypt has been found by some in the greed and rapacity of Ismail, the late khedive, who appropriated" to himself untold millions; and by others to the incapacity o his son Tewfik, who has shown but small capacity as a ruler. Mistakes made by England at one time, and by France at another, have also been set down as main causes. For one thing, it seems clear now that the Gladstone government made a great blunder in proclaiming that the British forces were to be hurried out of all winter in small quantities at from $5 to Fgypt as soon as possible. Major Allan made the announcement that battalion drill would be resumed on the 13th inst. Much regret is expressed amongst the members of "F" Co'y that their popular captain (Capt. Hamilton) is about to sever his connection with the company. The retirement of Col. Otter will probably be followed by the appoint-ment of Major Miller and Major Allan as colonel and senior major respectively and colonel and senior major respectively and Capt. Hamilton, being next in seniority, will be promoted to the post of junior major.

The bill enabling the episcopal corporation of the Roman catholic diocese of Toronto to sell the Richmond street property was passed without opposition, and a bill enabling the town of Strathroy to purchase a cemetery plot also passed through the committee.

Loyal Orange Brotherhood.

The regular monthly meeting of the L.O. B. lodge No. 1, was held on Thursday evening, 28th inst., Bro. Chas. Benseley, W. M., in the chair. A large volume of busi-ness was transacted. Four new members ness was transacted. Four new memoers were admitted and eight applications for the R.A. degree received. The discredit-able course pursued by the Orange grand lodge in reference to the withdrawal of the incorporation bill now before the Ottawa parliament was severely criticised. After which the matter was referred to a comthe subject and report to a special meeting to be held next week.
