The class of foreigners coming to our shores, with their old land customs and prejudices are the people that in a few years will have the vote and have a say in making our laws. Surely it is important that they get acquainted with the word of God which will help them to become good and loyal Canadians. Vast numbers of these people in our Canadian west are still with out any religious instruction— at all and the prospect of boys and girls born in these homes, with no early Christian training is not pleasant to contemplate. They need the word of God and the Bible Society is doing its utmost to give them that word in their own language.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

One evening recently a pleasant surprise awaited George Chambers, on his returning from getting the evening mail, to find the young people of the Methodist Sunday school (of which he is secretary) congregated at his home to spend a pleasant evening with him, prior to his leaving to take up his studies at Western University.

The evening was spent in playing games and music. A dainty lunch was served by the young people, after which George was called forward and was presented with a fountain pen and a nicely worded address.

The presentation was made by Charles M. Fitzgerald and the address was read by Miss Dorothy Fowler. George was taken entirely by surprise. He addressed the young people—thanking them for their kindness, the complete surprise, the pleasant evening and their remembrance. He assured them that the young folk of the Methodist Sunday School would not be forgotten. The evening closed by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

NORTHERN ONTARIO'S DEVASTATING FIRE

Personal Experience of Mrs. Neil Albert Edwards of Thornloe, formerly of Warwick

Mrs. Edwards writing to the Guide-Advocate under date of Wednesday, Oct. 25th, says:—

"It still makes me shudder when I think of my experience. About half past three the sky was one glare of red with dense black smoke coming from everywhere. At four o'clock our buildings all seemed to burst into flame at once. My son-in-law and I rushed out of the front door and my daughter and baby ran out the back door and in the darkness we got separated. A neighbor took his family and my daughter to a side hill which had been dug out and they laid with their faces down to keep from smothering. My son-in-law and myself laid on the roadside for over two hours with our faces in the grass. We could get no farther. The heat and flames were something terrible coming from everywhere. It seemed hard to see your home with all its comforts, with all your season's crops, eight pigs and five cattle all burned. After two hours the wind shifted to the north.

"I think we lost $5000 worth, but we have a small insurance. Our beautiful bush is ruined, but we are thankful that we escaped with our lives. I am staying with my son Milford. A kind Providence spared them their home and buildings, but it was a close call. Norman has lost all his out buildings and grain, pigs and two calves but his house was spared him. The Government is giving the settlers lumber to build a small house and stable. The relief trains are doing a grand work in helping out the sufferers. They are giving mattresses and blankets, provisions and clothing. My brother Wm. Doan and other friends of Appin and friends in Hamilton have sent me a grand donation of clothing and other comforts which help along wonderfully. My daughter Mrs. Houghton and children of Heaslip are staying here with us. They lost everything and the four small children all sick with whooping cough a week before the fire.

The Government is giving every settler a tent and at Thornloe where every place is burnt, the people are getting a street car given them to help them out.

The weather is terrible since the fire. It is either raining or snowing most of the time. The country is in a pitiful condition. Everything is black."

Onion growers of South Essex are "only a step from bankruptcy," according to a statement made by a Leamington banker. Although this year's crop has been a splendid one and the quality up to the usual standard growers are finding it almost impossible to market their product. The price this year has ranged from $1 to $1.25 per hundred pound bag, and last week this figure was cut to 70 cents. A year ago onions were in good demand at $3.50. A burlap bag costs 12 cents and added to this is cost of haulage from the marshes to the railway. With freight charges added little or nothing is left for the grower. A number of onion farmers of Point Pelee district are placing their product in cold storage at Leamington, hoping for an improvement in the eastern market later on.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw, Alvinston, celebrated their golden wedding on Oct. 23rd. Their eight children came to take part in the festivities. They have been residents of the village for over 40 years.

An interesting coincidence took place at the Petrolia plowing meet Thursday, in the class for men over 60. A. Parks, of Oil City, and Wm. Crawford, of Camlachie, competed against each other 50 years ago and met in competition again this year.

Have your clothing Art tailored for satisfaction.—Swift's.

It has not yet been demonstrated if the grasshopper chews tobacco. And now Peter McArthur has begun an investigation to determine why the horse has ceased to "slobber." But who cares, so long as the hen continues to cackle and the cow falloffs not to chew her cud.

Walter Smith, at Thamesville, had his fortune told by gypsies. He also had a $10 bill, which he missed after the strangers had gone. Police authorities were notified and the gypsies were trailed to Louisville and captured and fined to the extent of about $75.

The robbers who broke into Whitton's store, Alvinston, on Sunday evening have been discovered. They proved to be two local boys who performed the deed and not outsiders as at first supposed. The guilty parties gave up the stolen goods and as it was their first offence they were allowed to go with a warning.

William Knight, who, for about 25 years, has been employed on the G. T.R. section at Wyoming, died suddenly at his home after an illness of only three hours. Mr. Knight was cutting wood about 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when the axe slipped, cutting his foot badly. After his wife had dressed his foot he lay down for awhile, when he suddenly complained of a severe headache. Before help could be called he passed away. Mr. Knight at the time of his death was employed as watchman on the crossing over Main street. He is survived by his widow and seven children two daughters and five sons.

A very successful sale of pure-bred Holstein cows was held at the farm of R. Ailingham, Sarnia township, a total of $7,000 being realized for forty head of stock. Prices averaged better than at many sales in the Province, and for this reason outside purchasers were very quiet. The top price of $400 was brought by a two-year-old heifer, due to freshen in the spring, while a yearling bull brought $300, both animals being purchased by local breeders. The average for heifers would be about $190.

NOTE AND COMMENT

There is something the matter with either the intelligence or the backbone of the Irish Government if it cannot lay hands on De Valera and clap him in jail.

The League of Nations ranks Canada as the sixth industrial nation in the world, and fourth in export trade. The only countries which have a decided lead over Canada in exports are Great Britain and the United States.

The first Monday in December will mark the municipal election date in numerous Ontario towns this year. By avoiding the holiday rush, citizens should take a keener interest in municipal affairs. The innovation might be universally adopted with great benefit to every municipality.

In recognition of Canada's particular interest in maintenance of amicable relations with the United States, the British Government has decided to authorize the Canadians to negotiate directly with the American State Department in framing the new treaty to regulate naval strength on the Great Lakes.

Andrew Bonar Law having been elected party leader at a meeting of Unionists Monday of last week, immediately afterwards accepted his appointment as prime minister and first lord of the treasury, and thus became England's first Canadian-born premier. The King, on the advice of the new Prime Minister, proclaimed the dissolution of Parliament Thursday and according to present arrangements the elections will be held on November 15.

London Free Press:—While other nations painfully and laboriously are doing their utmost to pay their debts with promptness and exactitude, Germany hesitates, delays, procrastinates and in the end affirms she cannot meet her obligations by less than a third the amount due, and only after a time extension. In the meanwhile there are evidences everywhere in "Uber alles land" of a geting-rady spirit and activity. Naturally the question arises: Getting ready for what?

The Mount Forest Confederate says: "Whig" of the Fergus News-Record, while in Toronto last spring, had an opportunity in observing the way in which departmental examination papers are read and marked in these latter days. The markers are well paid—$12 per day; in fact, very well paid, and are allowed to mark only ten papers a day. That beats union bricklayers. We remember when we spent five or six summer holidays (one part of the teaching term) at that sort of work. We were paid from $4 to $6 a day, according to the money available, and the time we spent at it. We would mark as many papers as we could, say from 30 to 60, and we sometimes worked seven, eight or nine hours if our section got behind. "Whig" says one examiner marked nine the first morning and received orders to mark only one in the afternoon. It would have been possible to mark ten papers in two hours, but they were not allowed to do it. At this rate, it cost $1.20 to mark a student's paper in one subject. No wonder the examination fees keep going up from year to year. Even at the present fee there must be a big loss each year. This must be paid out of the provincial revenue. It looks as though the Ontario Department of Education was becoming all tangled up in red tape, says "Whig."

A power of its own—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its users are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

CANADIAN BOOK WEEK

This week is being observed all over Canada as Canadian Book Week. The idea is to bring before the readers of Canada the fact that they have good Canadian literature right in their midst—a fact that a great many Canadians do not seem to realize.

It is not a campaign to induce Canadians to read Canadian books irrespective of their merits, but because it is thought that the percentage of Canadian books read by Canadian people is much lower than it should be, when it is taken into consideration the merits of the Canadian article and the need of Canadians for a clearer and broader knowledge of their own country.

A few years ago it was a fact that Canada had very few books of her own, but this is very rapidly changing as will be shown by the fact that in 1920 200 Canadian written books were published while in 1921 there were 400 published.

The people who are developing this branch of Canadian life are undertaking a work quite as praiseworthy as that of our manufacturing and commercial kings. They should be encouraged in every way possible to continue in this work putting Canadian literature on a sound and lasting basis. If the Canadian public can be induced to double within the next year or two the amount of its reading of Canadian books it will seem that Canadian Book Week has made itself very much worth while.

Canadian Book Week is being observed at the Watford public library as in all other libraries in Canada. Here you will find a selection of the best of the books written by Canadians and the public should look over these books and see how really worth while they are.

CANADA'S DOLLAR ABOVE OURS

(New York Herald)
As measured on its home soil, the Canadian dollar is taller now by a fraction of a cent's worth than the dollar of Uncle Sam. A Toronto street car conductor has refused an American dollar on the ground that it was not worth its face value in Canada and that he must protect his employer's interests. It is true that the sequel of the story is that the owner of the snubbed Yankee dollar complained to the railroad management and that the conductor was reprimanded.

But the fact remains. Our dollar is below par in Canada. That our northern neighbor should be proud of this is natural. It is only a short time since Canadian currency was at a discount of 16 or 17 per cent. in United States money.

The change registers a story of prosperity and sound business conditions of which any country would have a right to be proud. Several things have combined to bring about this happy state of affairs.

In the first place Canada has turned an adverse balance on international trade into a favorable balance, and, of course, the very foundation stone of foreign exchange is imbedded in foreign trade balances.

Again, Canadian Government and industrial loans have met very hospitable receptions in American money markets, with the resultant flow of large sums across the border. Large amounts of money have been spent in Canada by bootlegging out-laws. A substantial boost to Canadian prosperity came from these two sources.

American motor car tourists have contributed to it importantly. In the last twelve months 600,000 American motor cars crossed the border into Canada. On the basis of an assumed seven-day trip and the expenditure of $25 a day for each car it is computed by Canadian statisticians that the total of American money thus left with our neighbor reached upward of $100,000,000. This is not a staggering amount, to be sure, it is a tidy sum.

Canada may well be exultant over the recovery of her currency.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that will hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds or if one does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, One.

AN IDEAL YEAR

The oldest inhabitant will not be able to recall a summer so nearly approaching the ideal as the one which is now passed into fall. From the standpoint of agriculture it would be hard to improve upon the season. An early spring brought timely rains which were only a trifle too abundant. There was warmth to promote growth, but no scorching heat. The June frosts were so light as to be harmless, and throughout the summer rain never failed to come when it was needed. All field crops did splendidly and throughout there was an abundance of fresh grass for the stock. There was a little trouble in harvesting the sweet clover, some being spoiled by rain, but the other hay crops were taken in in good condition. Then came the grain harvesting, a lot of wheat and oats going in to the barns with little or no rain. Corn gives all appearance of a bumper crop, and potatoes will be more plentiful than for a dozen years. Such a season is most fortunate for the country. Coming after two years of business depression, with only average crops, it will do much towards establishing confidence and reviving business.

HOW TO REGAIN YOUR GOOD HEALTH

It Can be Done Through Keeping the Blood Supply Rich and Pure.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the mines and lumber camps, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other kind words have been said for this medicine.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth, or anaemic girl who has been benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a third of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout the world as a reliable tonic, blood-enriching medicine.

The success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich, they strengthen the organs and nerves of the body. Mr. A. M. Large Victoria, P. E. I., adds his testimony to that of thousands of others who have found benefit through the use of this medicine. He says:—"About three years ago I became dreadfully run down. So much so that I had to stop work altogether, and being a carpenter, and busily engaged, the outlook was gloomy. I became so reduced that I would have to rest even after a short walk. My appetite almost completely failed. The doctor whom I consulted told me I would have to take a prolonged rest, and gave me a bottle medicine, which, however, did not help me. Then a good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a supply and before long felt an improvement. From that on I continued to gain and was able to resume my employment. I continued taking the pills for some time longer and now feel as vigorous as I ever did."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Essentially Different

There are two most important things about any Electric Range—the cooking element and the oven. Everything else is of lesser importance.

And in McClary's Electric Range both these points are different and superior.

The Cooking Elements are protected. The heating coils being embedded in tough porcelain, are protected from spilled food and other damage. They heat as quickly and remain hot much longer than any other kind.

The Seamless Oven—of welded steel, porcelain enameled with rounded corners is sanitary and easily kept clean. It operates like a freeness cooker, because when once heated it stays heated until the baking is done.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a Tonic and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

The sitting of the county court of Essex was resumed Tuesday, before Judge J. J. Coughlin, when the case of R. A. McKay and F. F. Paul, real estate agents of Windsor, was heard against Mrs. Minnie Stratford. The plaintiffs brought suit to recover $360 commission alleged to be due on property sold for the defendant on Wyandotte street. Disagreement as to terms and as to the value of the services performed by the plaintiffs caused the suit.

For his own protection every market gardener and farmer should acquaint himself with the provisions of the Root Vegetable Act, 1922, passed by the last session of the Dominion Parliament to regulate the sale and inspection of root vegetables. The act provides (except in certain cases) for the sale of the common root vegetables by weight, for the grading of potatoes and onions and for marking and packing, size of potato barrels, powers of inspectors, and the penalties incurred by the violation of the act.

A horticulturist advises that citizens instead of burning fallen leaves gather them up and hold them over till next year for fertilizer. He says they make the best humus that can be obtained for some purposes, particularly gladioli, and all that has to be done is to dig a space in the garden, put the leaves therein, press them down and then cover them up with soil. By next year they will be in splendid shape to work into the garden. Considering the need of most gardens for fertilizer this ought to prove a valuable pointer.

A runaway girl, 17 years old, having left the home of her "hard-hearted, old-fashioned" parents in the East, got as far as a big city on the Pacific Coast. After two months of experience, she wired her dad: "I had rather be a dishwasher in the house of my father than starve in these tents of the ungodly. Wire me transportation." She is back home now—the most contented little maid in her neighborhood; and she tells her girl friends: "Say, I got so near to the hot place that I could smell sulphur. No more for me. Do you know, our old kitchen looks just like heaven!"

Last week was a busy one for the Wanstead Farmers Club. On Monday they shipped five cars of stock to Toronto and then unloaded three cars of coal which was in great demand, some going to Forest, Petrolia Wyoming and Watford. Some people continue to find fault with and ridicule the efforts of the farmers, but a good live club is a mighty nice thing sometimes. Eh, What?

Farm Trespassers Scored.

Mrs. Bess Wilson, editor of the Redwood, Minn., Gazette, very properly censures town people who drive through country districts and raid the farmer of his tame and wild fruit and other products. "Everything that grows on a farmer's farm belongs to that farmer," is the way the Gazette puts it. "To take even wild fruit without his permission is as much a misdemeanor as to take his corn, potatoes or chickens."

Improving the Sink.

An old wooden sink was made handier by attaching a zinc drain board. Three shallow grooves were beaten into the zinc, and it was nailed to the wooden frame with a slight incline so the water easily drained back into the sink.

A remarkable incident is reported by Mason City, Iowa, physicians. An infant born in the hospital in that city is said to have called "mother" a few minutes after birth. The enunciation was so clear that attending physicians and nurses were amazed. Yes, it was a girl baby.

SUCCESS AND FAILURE

In Raising Young Pigs for Real Profit.

Pithy Paragraphs Full of Facts About Feeding Them—Fertilizers for Fall Wheat—Pregnant Ewes Require the Best of Care.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Causes of failure and success in the feeding of young pigs are pointed out in the following article: Causes of Failure In Feeding Young Pigs.

1. No one on hand to see that everything is right when pigs are born.
2. Excess of fat in mother's milk.
3. Cold, damp, uncomfortable quarters.
4. Intestinal parasites.
5. Shortage of sweet skim milk at weaning time.
6. Ration out of balance.
7. Ration composed of unsuitable grains.
8. Lack of mineral matter in food.
9. Housing conditions unsuitable.
10. Diseases—hog cholera, etc.
11. Neglect to alter male pigs at proper time.
- 12.—Neglect to supply ample feed for proper development, regularly.
13. Working with poor stock.
14. Treating the pig as a general scavenger.

Success In Feeding Young Pigs.

1. Mother's milk normal.
2. Clean, dry, bright, comfortable quarters.
3. Practice of disease preventive measures.
4. Ample yard room, protection from hot sun and flies.
5. Ample clean drinking water and wallow, during hot weather.
6. Mineral matter and conditions supplied during winter when on the soil conditions are not available.
7. Working with well-bred, vigorous stock.
8. Ample supply of green forage, such as alfalfa, red clover, sweet clover, rape and blue grass.—L. Stevenson, Sec. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

Fertilizers for Fall Wheat.

Fall wheat must have a strong well-rooted plant to withstand the winter. To insure this there should be an abundance of all kinds of available plant food in the soil. The two constituents the wheat plant has the greatest difficulty in getting out of the soil are nitrogen and phosphorus. If the land has been manured and summer fallowed, or, if a clover sod has been ploughed down, there will probably be no need of purchasing a further supply of nitrogen and an application of acid phosphate alone will probably be sufficient. If, on the other hand, the wheat is to follow oats, or if there is any fear that the plants will not develop a good top, then some form of readily available nitrogenous fertilizer may be used to advantage.

Cereal crops have little difficulty in getting their supply of potash, consequently it will rarely pay to purchase a fertilizer containing this constituent for application on the land to be sown wheat.

The Department of Chemistry at the Ontario Agricultural College has found that an application of from 200 to 400 pounds of acid phosphate and 100 pounds of ammonium sulphate per acre has very much increased the yield of wheat on the clay soils predominating in the Niagara Peninsula and in the area lying along the north shore of Lake Erie. It is probable, however, that when the soil contains a good supply of organic matter, enough to furnish sufficient nitrogen, the ammonium sulphate may be omitted.—Chemistry Dept., O. A. College, Guelph.

Pregnant Ewes Need Best of Feed and Care.

Lambing time is perhaps the most important season of the year for the shepherd. A successful lambing period helps to make a successful sheep year. It then behooves every shepherd to have as high a percentage of strong, healthy lambs as possible. The lambs, and perhaps here and there a ewe, that he will save by good feed and care will amply repay him.

If the ewes are to lamb before going on pasture they should receive some grain about one month before lambing. This insures a good flow of milk. Oats and wheat bran, either half and half or two parts of oats and one of bran, which is lower in price, should be fed. One-half pound a day of this mixture for each ewe should prove sufficient.

It is also very important that succulent feeds, such as corn silage or roots, be given pregnant ewes. These keep the bowels in good condition and serve as general tonics and regulators. The weight of the wool can also be increased by feeding good succulence. All winter long each ewe should receive daily from two to two and one-half pounds. After lambing this amount can be increased. It should be remembered that no frozen silage or roots should be fed to sheep. Either is very dangerous. The flock should be supplied with pure, fresh water at all times and barrel salt should be placed within their reach so that they can get it at will.

Winsome Soap

Here is reached the very pinnacle of achievement in toilet Soaps. Never have the world famous Vinolia Laboratories created a soap of which they are more proud than of this—the pure, white, dainty free lathering Winsome.

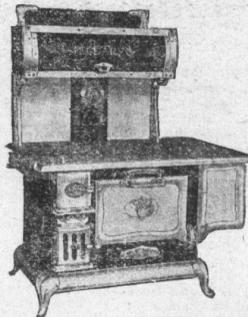

Only the very choicest coconut and palm oils from our own plantations are used.

And not only absolutely pure—but prepared after years of study of the water and climate conditions all over Canada—with a view of giving to Canadian women a soap made scientifically and exclusively for them.

Make a lather in warm water with 'Winsome' Soap. Use both hands and gently massage every inch of the face and neck, work the fingers into the skin and take a little time to it. Then rinse thoroughly and dry with a soft towel. If your skin is naturally dry, use a little Vinolia Vanishing Cream before you wash, and a little after. If your skin is naturally oily, wash in warm water, but always rinse in cold.

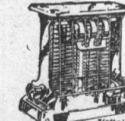

Keep this up daily and neither rouges nor powder, rough winds nor hot sun, can injure your skin. 'Winsome' Soap "treatment" will make it naturally robust and glowing with color and beauty.

Weddings

LUCAS—ANDREW

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Mary's Anglican church, Regina, Sask., Monday night, Oct. 23, at 7.30 when Miss Anne M. A. Andrew became the bride of Arnold Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Absolom Lucas of Watford. Rev. W. C. Western performed the ceremony, and the bride was given away by E. G. Hingley, Miss E. M. Cowan played the wedding march. The bride was attractive in a suit of reindeer velvet, seal trimmed, with handsomely beaded blouse of electric blue, and ducy-tyn hat to match. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of blush roses. Mrs. Ronald Hosegood, who was matron of honor, was attired in pekin blue broadcloth and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and fern.

Mr. Hosegood was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hingley, 2900 Regina avenue, where between 50 and 60 guests were received. The table honors were performed by Mrs. Murdo Cameron and Mrs. C. W. Rogers, assisted by the Misses Vera Mitchell, Dorothy Withy Louise Holbrook, and Constance King, and Mrs. L. W. Spence. The guests from out of town were: R. Lucas, of Imperial; Norman Andrew, Hodgeville; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilson, Indian Head; Miss Vera Mitchell of Pense, and Roy Anderson, Stilton. Many handsome gifts were received by the bride, and the gift to the matron of honor was a gold brooch; and to the organist an onyx brooch; and to the best man a gold scarf pin. Mr. and Mrs. Lucas left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a short honeymoon, and later will reside at 2257 Quebec street, Regina.

A few years ago Dolph Fox, of Olinda, planted seven or eight English walnuts. It was soon noticed that six little trees were peeping through the ground. They were carefully watched and cultivated, and this fall the first crop of nuts was gathered amounting to about five bushels. The trees are only about half grown and it is said from now on they will produce from three to five bushels to the tree each year.

BEFORE BABY COMES

Watchful Care Necessary

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and should be taken by the expectant mother. It will assist her in keeping well and strong. This is very necessary, not only for her own comfort but for the future as well.

Read the experience of Mrs. Barton of New Brunswick, and please bear in mind that every letter published recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine and unsolicited. It is the expression of gratitude from women who have been helped.

Cumberland Bay, N. B.—"I was troubled with weak feelings, headache, all the time, a cough, fainting spells and pains in my back and side. I could not do a single bit of work and had to be helped out to the hammock where I lay in the fresh air from morning until night and I had to be carried up and down stairs. After other medicines had failed a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she said it was excellent for anyone in the family way. Before the first bottle was taken I could walk alone and as I kept on with it I got stronger, until I was able to do all my work. My baby is now six weeks old and is a big fat healthy fellow. I am sure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for me and I recommend it."—Mrs. Murray J. BARNUM, R. R. No. 1, Cumberland Bay, N. B.

CULTURE OF GLADIOLI

Good Advice About Producing This Glorious Bloom.

A Deep, Rich Loamy Soil is Preferred—Get Good Varieties to Start With—About Asparagus—When to Cut Wheat—Poultry Increase Income.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Location.—An open, sunny position suits them best.

Soil.—They prefer a deep, well drained, fairly rich, loamy soil, but will do well in almost any good garden soil. Do not dig in fresh strawy manure at planting time. If any manure is used, it should be well rotted, and should be dug in so as not to come in direct contact with the corms or bulbs. Manure is best dug in the fall previous to planting. The ground should be dug over again just before planting the corms.

Planting.—The corms (bulbs) may be planted any time in May or early June. Flowering corms should not be less than one and a half inches in diameter. Plant the corms from three to four inches deep and about six inches apart. They may be set either in rows about two feet or three feet apart, or in groups convenient for staking and cultivating. The small cormels (small bulbs) should be planted about two inches deep with the old corms, or separately.

Cutting Blooms.—Cut those with fairly long stems when two or three of the bottom flowers have opened, and put in water as soon as cut. If about half an inch of the stem is cut off every day or two, the spikes will continue in flower for a long time after being cut. The old spikes of flowers not cut off should be cut when they are through flowering before the seed forms on them.

Storing for Winter.—Gladioli corms should be dug, and stored over winter. Dig the corms before severe frosts, about the middle of October. Cut off the tops a few inches above the ground, dig the corms, and put them in a shed or room away from the frost for about two weeks to dry, then put them in a cool fairly dry room or cellar, where they will not freeze, temperature about 40 deg. F. In very damp cellars they may be hung up in baskets, or tied in bunches and hung up to the joists. Before planting the corms for the next season's bloom, remove the remains of tops and the old corm at the bottom.

The small corms (or cormels) should also be removed. The small plants from the cormels should be kept during winter. In the same way as for the large flowering corms. Save cormels (small bulbs) from the best varieties. It will take three or four years to grow flowering corms from the small cormels to flower well.

Afterglow, America, Augusta, Blue Jay, Cardinal, Contrast, Dawn, Rochester White, Kunderl, Glory, Princeps, Pesto, Panama, La Luna, Mrs. Frank Pendleton, Niagara, Sulphur King, Schreben, Scribo, Wm. Falconer.

Collections of hybrid Gladioli will often give good results and are cheaper than named varieties if a large number is required. This list does not include many of the quite new varieties. Fairly good collections can be bought for from one to two dollars per dozen, and even cheaper. It pays to buy good varieties for a start, as they can be increased rapidly from the small cormels.

Note.—When cutting flower spikes for decorative purposes do not cut the stem too low down. Leave two or three leaves below where they are cut to assist the corm to grow and develop. Cutting off all the foliage prevents the corm from developing. The late Wm. Hunt, O. A. College, Guelph.

About Asparagus. At the beginning of July all cutting of asparagus should cease, the beds should be heavily top-dressed with manure, and the plants allowed to grow during the remainder of the season. Careful spraying of this crop with poison Bordeaux is necessary if the beetles are very active. Keep the wheel hoe going during the early morning, so that weeds will be killed during the heat of the sun. Apply water as often as necessary, so that the plants will make a constant growth. Never work among plants while they are wet, as this spreads diseases.

When to Cut Wheat.

Wheat may be cut with safety when the straw has lost nearly all its green color and the grains are not entirely hardened. If cut sooner than this, shriveled kernels will result. If left standing until fully ripe, a bleached appearance, due to the action of the elements, often results, and loss from shattering may ensue. Wheat that is fully ripe is also more difficult to handle. Where the area of wheat is large, cutting should begin as early as it can be done safely.

BEDDING FOR STABLES

Straw, Peat Moss, Sawdust and Shavings Considered.

Straw Preferred for Many Reasons—Measuring Hay in the Mow and in the Stack—Hand-feeding Lambs—Farm Trespassers Scored.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The materials used for bedding domestic animals are generally straw from the grain fields, peat moss from the swamp, or shavings from the saw or planing mill. Straw is used to a greater extent than any other material, first because of its abundance; secondly because the stable offers a medium for transferring this by-product of the field to manure, and thereby facilitating its return to the land; thirdly because it is a good absorbent of liquids. Straws from oats, peas, rye, wheat and oats vary in value as a litter or bedding material. The hard rye and wheat straws, while durable to the wear of animals, is not as good an absorbent as the softer oat, barley and pea straws. Wheat straw not being highly valued as a feed finds its greatest use as a stable bedding. The nitrogen, potash and phosphorus contained in a ton of wheat or rye straw has a value at commercial fertilizer price of $2.25, oat straw $2.60, and barley straw $2.10. Straws have a further value in that the organic matter content is large, and of such a nature as to be particularly valuable in soil improvement. Peat-moss is valuable as an absorbent of liquids, it is also valuable for its nitrogen content. The manure from stables where peat-moss is used as bedding is generally of considerably higher value than the manure from any other source. It has one objection in that it is not as clean as straw. Sawdust and shavings, while serving the purpose as a litter or bedding material, add little value to the manure. Useful as an aid in keeping the animals clean and preventing the loss of the liquid portion of the manure, sawdust or shavings serve a good purpose, but it must be remembered that the fertility value of sawdust is low. Those who have straw should use it. Those who have neither straw or peat moss should then use the sawdust or shavings.—L. Stevenson, Sec., Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

MEASURING HAY. The following simple and practical hints regarding the measuring of hay are worth noting and filing: Tons of Hay in the Mow. To find the number of tons of hay in a mow multiply the length by the breadth and then by depth of hay. This will give the number of cubic feet. Divide by 400, the resulting number will be the answer in tons. Hay varies in density due to the character of the grasses or clover from which it is made, the length of time it has been stored, the size and depth of the mow. Timothy and other grasses pack closer than clovers, shavings do not pack to the same density as do the deep mows, so judgment must be used in selecting a factor above or below 400 when estimating. The hay in the bottom of a mow 20 feet deep will be packed into half the space observed in a mow only 10 feet deep. If the mow is only 10 feet deep the factor used should be 600; if 20 feet deep 350 will be nearer correct. A fair average for all conditions is 400.

Tons of Hay in a Stack. To find the number of tons of hay in a stack, measure the overthrew distance of the stack and multiply by the length and breadth in feet, then divide by three. The resulting number will give the number of cubic feet. If the hay has been standing two months and the stack not over 12 feet high, divide by 500, the resulting number is the answer in tons.—L. Stevenson.

Hand-feeding Lambs.

Lambs that have lost their mothers or have milkless mothers can be successfully reared by using goat or cows' milk in a rubber-nipped nursing bottle. The newly-born lamb requires a small quantity of milk at very frequent intervals. Two or three teaspoonful every hour for the first day with a gradual increase as the lamb grows older. Many make the mistake of giving a newly-born lamb all the milk it will take at two or three feeds a day. This treatment is very frequently fatal. Keeping the feeding bottle clean and sweet and using the milk from a fresh cow and feeding every hour or two until the lamb is four weeks old will generally give good results. Milk may be continued as a feed as long as the lamb will take it. Should bottle-fed lambs develop scours, this condition can be checked usually by heating the milk to boiling point and then cooling quickly. A teaspoonful of castor oil given with the milk is also an effective remedy.—L. Stevenson.

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rooted out by using Holloway's Corn Remover.

WHERE COLDS STRIKE

The throat, breathing passages and lungs are the weak spots at which colds strike. And these are the very organs most difficult to treat, because only a breathable remedy is capable of reaching the troubled throats. Peps provide a breathable remedy, and their superiority over remedies which are swallowed into the stomach is therefore obvious. For convenience, this breathable remedy is condensed into tablet form. To take the treatment, merely dissolve Peps in your mouth, and the medicinal vapor that is released is carried by the breath to the remotest parts of the breathing passages and lungs, healing, soothing and strengthening every part with which it comes in contact. At the same time, by destroying all disease germs, these medicinal fumes prevent the development of colds, coughs and serious chest trouble.

Carry Peps with you, and when you go from an overheated building to the bitter cold of outdoors, put a pastille in your mouth. Also as a protection against germs, keep a Peps in your mouth, when breathing the impure air of a crowded theatre or store.

For colds, asthma, or chest troubles, which have already developed, Peps are equally invaluable; also for bronchitis, sore throat, laryngitis, etc. All dealers, 50c. box.
