Around Sir Oliver's Grave Final Tributes Are Paid

Closing Scenes in the Earth Career of Ontario's Lieu- tenant-Governor.

With the devotion due a great patriot and an illustrious statesman, amid manifestations of general sorrow, the remains of the late Sir Oliver Mowat, lieutenant-governor, were laid to rest yesterday afternoon. The family plot in the funeral home was banked with the floral offerings of the nation. The funeral cortege was one of the largest ever seen in Toronto. It was witnessed by thousands of citizens of all ranks, who lined the sidewalks and crowded the windows along the route.

From Government House along King and Yonge streets as far as the C. P. R. tracks there was an unbroken crowd, four and five deep, on either side, and from the tracks to the cemetery many more were gathered in groups at every point of vantage.

All Business Suspended.

Business was suspended down town during the afternoon, or part of the afternoon. Many of the shop windows were draped and portraits of Sir Oliver were conspicuous among the sombre decorations. Hundreds of spectators were mourning ribbons or portraits of the dead lieutenant-governor, displayed on buttons. "Eulogies" were read by the lay line of citizens, and the funeral marches of the bands of the Ontario Grenadiers mingled with the general evidences of grief.

At Government House.

The greatest crush was at the corner of King and Simcoe streets, where several thousand people gathered to see the coffin carried from Government House to the waiting hearse. The representatives of various societies and governing bodies took their places in the adjoining streets, officials being in readiness to direct the procession each should occupy. Inside the house many citizens of prominence had gathered to take a last look at the face of the departed. Prominent among them were J. P. Whitney and several of his followers in the legislature. Almost immediately after them came Premier Ross and all his colleagues of the cabinet. Major Maude, A.D.C. to Lord Minto, in uniform, bore a handsome wreath of lilies of the valley from Lord and Lady Minto. After him came many of the members of the House of Commons, High Court, members of the legal fraternity, Speakers Charlton, college professors and provincial officials. Sir Wil-

ESTIMATES IN THE HOUSE TO BE CONSIDERED TO-DAY

Business of the Provincial Law- Makers Will Be Resumed

Premier Ross will bring down the estimates of the province to-day. This will be the feature of the session, which has already prolonged to a greater extent than was considered probable when the legislature was called to meet. The address in reply to the speech, which is always the first matter cleared from the order paper, will also be adopted with the understanding that it will be discussed later on. The formality of adopting the address is recognized by both leaders as the proper course to pursue under the circumstances. It was during the first hours of the session that the debate on the address was interrupted by R. H. Gamney when he launched his now-famous charge of conspiracy to bribe him.

Accomplished at Last.

The Ontario Gas Company, always in the front rank in carbide invention, has perfected a form of the celebrated tubular electric light, which lies at the base of the Sicche patents, which feeds carbide sixteen times as large as the carbide machines, while still retaining the low temperature of generation necessary to the chemical reaction that produces the light. The carbide is fed into a chamber, as opposed to acetylene gas (the carbide used in the ordinary carbide lamp), ammonia, calcium and other impurities. This solves the problem of large municipal lighting systems. FUNERAL CORTEGE OF THE LATE SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

Gamey Now in Toronto Much Excited Before Leaving Buffalo, But Regains Confidence. Ready for Trial To-day

GAMEY RETURNS AND DEFENCE THREATEN ARREST.

R. R. Gamey arrived in Toronto late yesterday afternoon. With him was a swarm of newspaper men, who had followed him from Buffalo, and a number of personal friends. He went to his room at the Walker House, and seemed quite indifferent to the sensation his eccentric actions of the past three days have provoked. He declared that his determination to start home last night, instead of Thursday morning, as he previously announced, was due to the accusations of the counsel for the defence that he had gone away to remain, and his realization that this view was accepted seriously by many.

J. E. McEvoy, junior counsel for the defence, said last night the counsel had conferred during the day as to the advisability of having Mr. Gamey arrested and charged with theft in taking from the bank the deposit slip, perjury in connection with his evidence and the falsification of evidence for the mutilation of the Crossin cash book. He declared they finally decided not to do so at this time, because it would appear to be taking advantage of the situation and might retard the investigation. Gamey admitted that if an officer had greeted him in view of the bluster of the counsel for the defence if an officer had greeted him at the Union Station here, but he ridiculed this feature of the case as a grand bluff to keep him away.

The situation is admitted to be remarkable, but comment is general that Gamey is evidently at the present time in need of a friend; a real friend; not a man who will flatter him—not a man who will frighten or abuse him, but a man who will persuade him to tell the whole truth, whatever person or party it may hurt, and who will tell him that if he tells the truth he has nothing to fear. From the manner in which the judges have acted throughout the trial, it is observed, they seem disposed and qualified to give him that kind of advice. Further, the view is accepted that they are acting for the people, who want the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, about these charges. Those taking a serious view of the case assert that to impress this idea upon Mr. Gamey is the most important duty of the hour.

Everything points to some lively developments before the commission at the morning session. In fact, it will probably be the most exciting day of the whole trial, but just what direction these developments may be expected to take is uncertain.

LEAVING BUFFALO YESTERDAY

Gamey Appeared Much Worried
Over Train Affairs Had Talked.

Mr. Gamey looked careworn yesterday morning in the limousine. His face showed evidences of a sleepless night. The lines of worry cut deep furrows in the suburb visage of Manitoulin member. The change was very noticeable. He had every appearance of a man torn by conflicting emotions. Mr. Gamey greeted The World's staff with his customary geniality. "Are you going home to-day?" he queried. "Probably. Isn't this a wet day?" was the laconic reply of R. R. Gamey as he passed on to the droop of a conference with a number of his friends. The result of the discussion was the leaving of Mr. Gamey for Toronto on the 1 o'clock train.

When Gamey walked the platform of the station prior to the leaving of the train, he did so with the air of a man whose mind was fully made up. His brow had lost the wrinkles of care. His eye was clear. His nerve was steady. Robert was himself again. He boarded the Toronto-bound train whistling. "Causure of All Eyes." The journey to the Queen City was practically without incident. Mr. Gamey sat with Mr. Masson. He would not talk to the newspaper men. The fact that the most trusted man in Canada to-day was on the train speedily became known. At Suspension Bridge, a little crowd had gathered. They peered into the car and whispered among themselves. At Hamilton, fifty people crowded into the car to see the man of the hour. The news spread like wildfire. Gamey was on his way back to home again. He was himself again. He boarded the Toronto-bound train whistling.

Quick to See Disadvantage.

There is no doubt that he recognized the foolishness of his move immediately after it was made. That he recognized the importance that hedged him in the case, no one will admit. Mr. Gamey is a man of many parts. Shrewd to a degree, he shows many traces of almost bucolic innocence and ignorance. He cannot realize the important part he is playing in this exciting drama that is focusing the attention of the whole country.

SULLIVAN AND McEVoy BACK.

They Return From Rochester With a Badly Wanted Witness.

J. E. McEvoy, the junior counsel for the defence, arrived in town from Rochester last night, in company with Frank Sullivan and the latter's father-in-law. In conversation with a World man the question of the arrest of Mr. Gamey was brought up. Mr. McEvoy said that the counsel for the prosecution had met in consultation yesterday, when the subject was discussed, pro and con. They assert that Mr. Gamey is liable to arrest on three charges, viz., defal-

Enthusiastic Mr. Borden At Big Montreal Banquet

Sir John A. Macdonald Club Boys Show Conservative Leader Time of His Life.

Montreal, April 22.—The Sir John A. Macdonald Club boys are jubilant to-night, for their demonstration at the Windsor in honor of R. L. Borden was in reality a magnificent function. There were over 400 guests present, and the big feature was the presence of the leading manufacturers of the city.

Many Notables There.

D. A. McCaskill presided, and at the table of honor were R. L. Borden, Messrs. Monck, Casgrain, Pope, Kenn, McLaren, Roddick and other well-known M.P.'s, with Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Senators Ferguson, Owens, Wood, Kirchhoff, Baker, Lochhead, Wm. McDonald, McKen and others. A great disappointment was felt at Hon. Geo. E. Foster's absence, the ex-Finance Minister having wired that illness prevented his leaving Lake Wood.

Refusal of Ottawa to Renew Bell Contract Illustrates Municipal Ownership Feeling.

Ottawa, April 22.—(Special.)—The Evening Journal says to-night: "The rejection by a majority of the Ottawa City Council at a loss of some $270,000 of a temporary arrangement with the Bell Company, seems to illustrate that some public representatives seem to fancy that the growing popular feeling in favor of municipal ownership ought to be accepted as a reason to show fight with public companies, irrespective of whether you are in an immediate position to do anything worth while or at a certainty of some loss. Perhaps a more sensible notion would be to steadily pursue the municipal ownership idea without hurting civic interests meanwhile any more than necessary."

After further argument along similar lines, it says: "Meanwhile it may be noted that an effort in Port William to coerce the Bell Company has come to grief in the courts. The town, which has established a competing municipal system, obtained a local injunction preventing the Bell Company from extending its poles and wires. The injunction has been dissolved by the Court of Appeal. The Bell Company has an advantage of having municipal telephones to offer to the people instead of Bell ones. Yet the Court of Appeal ruled against the town for some reason. In Ottawa we cannot even offer alternative poles."

PEOPLE TIRED WAITING ON PRIVATE ENTERPRISES

Mr. Borden then addressed his host, the trade with the United States was against Canada, and told how this country would be swamped when depression came to the United States. Canada, he said, would receive the brunt of the American surplus, even at a loss to the manufacturers of that country. We should invite capital and protect labor, said the speaker, who proceeded to show the insufficiency of the present tariff. He compared the two policies, and said that the Conservatives had not changed the same gospel in the west as in the east.

Home Market Comes First.

Mr. Borden contended Mr. Fielding's statement that no capitalist was afraid to invest his money in Canada. He spoke of the importance of the home market, which he said was infinitely more important than the foreign. What we want is a tariff that will give every industry more than a fighting chance. He adhered to his position with regard to the preference. The interests of Canada must be attended to first, but after that the Briton should be favored in preference to the foreigner.

Canada's Ports Improperly Treated.

The leader of the Conservative party then addressed himself to the working classes, and said that they must understand that if the manufacturers were not protected their wages could not be increased, but rather lowered. He regarded transportation as a speaker claimed it had not been treated in a systematic manner. He said the great Canadian ports had not been treated as they should, and he wanted the St. Lawrence route to be made as absolutely safe as it can be made.

The Spring Grey Alpines.

Light grey Alpines are fashionable now and come in many varieties. This season's designs are considerably different from those of last year, but are equally attractive. They are minus the wide rim effect. Most of the big ones have been made with black bands. The Dineen Co. have all the new blocks and special ones by Dunlop and Heath, for whom they are sole Canadian agents.

PROBABILITIES.

Moderate winds, fair and a little milder.

Smoking Perfection Mixture, nothing to equal it. Alvord.

KING ESCAPES THE GIBBET FOR SLAYING FREEMAN BOY

St. Thomas, April 22.—(Special).—The jury in the Freeman murder case, after being out three hours this evening, returned a verdict of "guilty of manslaughter" against Charles King, who had been recommended of mercy. King heard the verdict unmoved, the only sign of emotion being a slight coloring of the face. He was then taken back to jail. Sentence will be passed tomorrow.

The prisoner was placed on trial in the morning, and after a large number of jurymen had been challenged the case proceeded with T. F. Heyd, K.C., of Toronto, as assisted in the prosecution by D. J. Donahue, K.C., Crown Attorney, and Inspector John Murray of the provincial detective force. W. L. McLaw of St. Thomas conducted the case for the prisoner.

Introduced Weapon Used. The gun alleged to have been used for the shooting, the blood-stained wooden pin on which the boy had been engaged in slaying with a draw knife at the time the deed was done, the straw hat worn by Willie Freeman, the victim, and a photograph showing the effect of the shot on the head of the deceased were exhibited in court.

No Confession Admitted. The case of the prosecution was weakened considerably when Justice Street ruled out all evidence relating to what King said after the murder had been committed. This included the testimony of Detective Murray, to whom King had confessed. The reason for this ruling was that Crown Attorney Donahue, who had charge of the case, had asked D. B. Freeman in question King as to whether King had taken the gun, and that he had not taken it upstairs, and that he had nothing to do with the shooting at all.

Medical Testimony. Several physicians gave medical testimony as to the cause of death. Dr. Wilson and Dr. Webster gave important evidence regarding a wound in the back of the head, which was not taken into account by the jury. Dr. Wilson and Dr. Webster were called, but nothing new was brought out. Magistrate Walsh, who had King in reference to his saying that he intended to go to the jail, presented the case, reviewing the evidence carefully, and thought that King had committed the crime.

Curious Customs in England. Observances Connected with May-Day Shrove Day and Other Feast Days. In England tradition and custom die hard, for, although the superstitions and beliefs of the medieval past are almost extinct, many ancient observances, some of them most trivial, have become part of our national ceremonial habit.

Among the gentry of England lots were drawn by the young people to find their respective valentines, and it was considered probable that those thus picked as valentines would be the recipients of the most interesting letters. Wall Street Greets New Building With Impressive and Brief Ceremonies.

WERE TWO YEARS IN BUILDING. Many Guests Were Present—Mayor Low and President Keppeler Give Addresses.

New York, April 22.—Members of the New York Stock Exchange abandoned business to-day for the dedication of their handsome new building...

The ceremonies were brief, but impressive. After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix of Trinity Church, Ransom H. Thomas, chairman of the Building Committee, formally handed the new building over to Donald McKay...

In accepting the building, Mr. Keppeler delivered an address. An address by Mayor Low on behalf of the citizens and invited guests followed.

It is just two years since the work of tearing down the old building was commenced. During that time the Stock Exchange members have occupied part of the Produce Exchange floor...

The board and other rooms are large and beautifully decorated. The new building fronts on Broad-street and extends thru to New-street, with an open front on Wall, as in the old Exchange...

Six Doctors Failed to Cure Him.

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM WAS THE TROUBLE.

Burdock Blood Bitters

DID MORE THAN SIX DOCTORS COULD DO.

Mrs. Theo. Newell, Argyle Sound, N.S., expresses her opinion on this wonderful blood remedy in the following letter:

"It is with the greatest gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of Burdock Blood Bitters. For years my husband suffered terribly with Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. He was so bad at times that he could not sleep on account of the itching and burning. He had been under the care of six different doctors, but they failed to do him any good. I had read their failures in the wonderful cures being made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so advised him to give it a trial. He did so, and after taking five bottles was cured without a doubt. I would strongly advise any person troubled with blood disorders to give B.B.B. a trial for I am sure it will cure them."

SATISFIED THEIR HONOR.

In Bloodless Duel and Earned Foot Month's Imprisonment Thereby.

Berlin, April 22.—Two medical students, Boehm and Witt, have been sentenced by the Griminal Court to four months' imprisonment for fighting a bloodless duel with pistols. Boehm avowed that Witt purposely sought to injure him in the street, but a Court of Honor of university students decided that a challenge was not necessary, as Witt was lame, and probably did not mean to touch Boehm's person. Boehm, then, in the Court of Honor, slapped Witt, who struck him on the chin. The Court of Honor then decided that they must fight a duel with pistols, as Boehm's right arm was weak from a recent skull fracture. Three shots were exchanged at 15 paces in the Grunewald Forest. Neither of the duellists was touched.

LAND BILL ON MAY 4.

London, April 22.—Premier Balfour announced in the House of Commons to-day that the Irish land bill will be taken up May 4, or May 5.

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

Question of Flying the Flag.

London, April 22.—In the House of Commons Thomas Gibson Bowles (Cons) complained of allowing the British vessels purchased by the International Mercantile Marine Co. to remain under the British flag while the agreement was being completed.

In his opinion they were not entitled to fly any flag, and in some respects had the attributes of pirates. Premier Balfour said that law officers of the Crown had declared that the vessels had a right to fly the British flag.
