It was announced that the line up of the Chicago team this afternoon would probably be identical with that of the day when the disputed game was played as follows: Hayden, right field; Evers, second base; Schulke, left field; Chance, first base; Steinfield, third base; Hofman, centre field; Tinker, short stop; Kling, catcher; Pfeister, pitcher.

The weather outlook gave promise of almost ideal conditions. Early in the day a thick mist hung over the city, but this rapidly dissipated before the morning sun, which by 10 o'clock shone brightly from a clear sky.

THE WHEEL O' FORTUNE

By LOUIS TRACY

"Go ahead! That's fair." "Well, I have spent many a day, since I was a boy of ten until I was nearly twenty, sailing a schooner-rigged yacht on Windermere. My companion and tutor was a retired commodore of the Royal Navy, and he amused himself by teaching me navigation. I learnt it better than any of the orthodox sciences I had to study at school. You see, that was my hobby, while a wholesome respect for my skipper led me to work hard. I had just let the ship's anchor down when the only stretch of water I have seen during the last few years in the Thames from its bridges, and I honestly believe that if you will put up with my want of experience of the sea for a week or so, I shall be quite capable of doing any work you may entrust to me."

"By gad!" said Stump admiringly, "you're a wonder. Come on deck. I'll give you a tip or two as we go into Calais." During the journey across France it was neutral that Royon should take the lead. He spoke the language fluently, whereas Stump's vocabulary was limited to a few forcible expressions he had picked up from brother mariners. There was a break down on the line near Dijon, which delayed them eight hours. Stump might have had apoplexy were not Royon at hand to translate the curt explanations of railway officials. But the two returned good friends, which was an excellent thing for Dick, and the latter soon discovered, to his great surprise, that Stump had never set eyes on the Aphrodite.

"No," he said, when some chance remark from Royon had elicited this curious fact, "she's a stranger to me. My an' Tagg—Tagg is my first mate, you see—had just let the ship's anchor down when he sold to the Germans out of the East Indian trade, and I was looking about for work when I met the Aphrodite put us on to this job. Tagg has gone ahead with most of the crew, but I had to stop in London a few days—to see after things a bit."

Stump had really remained behind in order to buy a complete set of charts, but he checked his conscience at that point, for did Royon endeavor to probe further into the recent history of the yacht.

Instead of traversing Marseilles at night they drove through its picturesque streets in broad daylight. Both Royon and the captain were delighted with the lines of the Aphrodite when they saw her in the spacious dock. Her tapering bows and rakish build gave her an appearance of greater size than her tonnage warranted. Royon was sailor enough to perceive that her masts and spars were intended for use, and when he reached her deck, to which much scrubbing and vigorous hosing had given the color of new brass, he knew that none but men trained on warship had coiled each rope and polished every inch of shining brass.

And his heart sank a little then. The look and carriage of the few sailors visible at the moment betokened their training. How could he be hope to hold his own with them? The first day at sea must reveal his incompetence. He would be the laughing-stock of the crew.

He was almost nervous when an undersized hairy personage showed a grinning face up a companionway, and hailed Stump joyfully. Then the captain did things which went far to prove that truthfulness is not a matter of department or mining phrase.

"Keep mum before this crowd," he muttered. "Stand by, and I'll pull you through."

Stump extended a gigantic hand to the hairy one. "Glad to see you again, old Never-fail," he roared. "Let me introduce our second mate. Mr. Tagg—Mr. King—An' now, Tagg, who's for boy-dadst? Mr. King an' me can eat a Frenchman if you

The carriage drew nearer, and became dimly visible—it was one of the tiny vehicles peculiar to French towns. Suddenly the listeners heard a shout. The horse's feet ceased their regular beat on the roadway. Royon began to run, but Tagg vociferated:

"Wait for me, you long lip! If you turn up alone they'll knife you before you can say 'Jack Robinson.' Dick had no intention of saying 'Jack Robinson,' but he moderated his pace, and helped Tagg over the ground by grasping his arm. They soon saw that two men had pulled the driver off the box, and were holding him down—indeed, trying his hand and foot. Royon prevented the success of this operation by a running kick and an upper cut which placed two Marsellais' arms in a state of insensibility. He then stepped forward, and essayed to plunge into a fearsome struggle that was going on inside the car-

WHERE SAVAGES BEAT US

The rude, uncultured savage did not sit most of the day in a padded office chair, a carriage or car. His food was not prepared by a chef. He had to hunt for something to eat. And dinner, when he got it, was none too rich.

"None of us want to go back to the days of wigwags and tomahawks but a lot of us certainly would like to have the digestion of the savages."

"We can be taking 'Fruit-tives.' 'Fruit-tives' act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys and skin, and keep those organs in perfect condition. 'Fruit-tives' bring back lost appetite and round digestion to the Dyspeptic—regulate the bowels of those who suffer from Constipation—and build up the whole system. Trial size 50c. Regular size 80c. or for $2.75.

riage. Frantic calls in German and Italian lent peculiar significance to a flourishing of naked knives. But that which stirred the blood in his veins was his recognition of Baron von Kerber's high-pitched voice, alternately cursing and pleading for mercy. He had evidently meant to show scant mercy. One man who, out of tail of his eye, had witnessed Dick's discomfiture at the coachman's capture, drew a revolver, a weapon not meant for show, as its six loaded chambers proved when Dick picked it up subsequently.

Royon sprang into the midst of them, found von Kerber's pistol, and, with a varying trick which saved Miss Zenshaw in Buckingham Palace Road, threw the small vehicle over on its side. "No doubt the pistol animal in the shafts wondered what was happening, but the five struggling men in the interior were even more surprised when they were pitched violently into the road."

"You're all right now, Baron. We can whip the head off these rascals." The sound of his English tongue seemed to all the fight out of the remaining warriors. Tagg had closed valiantly with one, and the others had fled. Von Kerber rose to his feet, and, with a grateful nod, said: "I am indebted to your assistance. He heard the Baron shriek, in a falsetto of rage: "You may have recovered the apparus, Alfieri, but it is of no value to you. Name of an Italian dog! I have outwitted you even now!"

While kneeling to pinion the footpad's arms behind his back, thus receding Tagg from a professor of the savate, Dick tried to guess von Kerber's motive in hurrying such an extraordinary tauter after one of his runaway adventures, and in French, too, whereas the other had an Italian name, and, in all likelihood, spoke only Italian. Was this Alfieri the man who 'faced' von Kerber, who 'brought' very serious charges against him? But Royon was given no time for consecutive thought. The Baron, breathing heavily, and seemingly in pain, came to him and said, in the low tone of one who does not wish to be overheard:

"I am all right, and everlastingly obliged to you, but I do not wish to be detained in Marseilles while the slow French law is pending. So let him go. He is nothing—a mere hireling, yes? And we sail to-morrow."

Neil-Edgcombe

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the residence of A. G. Edgcombe, 124 Princess street, yesterday afternoon, when his second daughter, Miss Dorothy Edgcombe, was married to John Neil, son of J. S. Neil, Fredericton. Rev. Dr. Flauder officiated. The wedding took place in the parlors of the Edgcombe residence. The decorations were in cut flowers. Miss Gladys Edgcombe, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride wore a costume of pink embroidered chiffon, and her going-away gown was a tailored suit of moleskin grey and hat of grey trimmed with brown. The bridesmaid wore blue crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony the guests partook of luncheon, friends of the bride serving at the function. Mr. and Mrs. Neil left on the C. P. R. for a ten days' trip to Magalloway Lake. They will reside in Fredericton after their honeymoon.

C. T. White, of Sussex, was registered at the Victoria yesterday.

FIRST CLASS PICTURES AT THE PALACE

The big increase in attendance at the Palace is a very plain indication that the efforts of the new management to give the Carlton people a first-class show are being appreciated. The pictures for Monday and Tuesday were far above the average, and the new machine is now working to perfection. For tonight a far better set of pictures is announced than those shown on Monday and Tuesday.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

FUR FABRIC TRIMMED HATS ARE ULTRA SMART.

Natural and dyed camel, seal and chinchilla are imitated cleverly in the fur fabrics now so much employed either as coverings for shapes or merely as bands for the crowns of hats, such as the new Cordays. These fur fabric bands rarely are used on felt shapes, but on those covered with silk, satin or velvet they are wonderfully effective. Large and flat velvet four-looped bows with fancy buckles are used in connection with these bands, and also fluffy aigrettes or a bunch of feathers. Soft feathers are tabooed utterly, as they do not accord well with fur trimmings.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

THE MCAULIFFE BENEFIT

Others may come and go, but it always remains for Jerry McAuliffe to show the theatre-loving public of this city what a vast amount of amusement can be presented for a small sum of money. Each year he has been paying a visit to St. John, and each year every play has been presented in a manner that has always pleased. Independent of the drama, McAuliffe has been the leader in vaudeville features, and the engagement which will start tomorrow night will be no exception. The opening will be a testimonial benefit to his son Eugene, who was so terribly injured on June 22, and who is still confined in the general hospital. The plays are "Shipwrecked" Friday night, "A Daughter of the People" Saturday matinee, and "The Tramp Detective" Saturday night. Among those in the vaudeville party are: Hyens and Bohes, colored body operatic singers; Mile, Le veau, serpentine dancer; Gay sisters; Johnnie Taylor in bag punning; Al W. Wilson, ventriloquist; Jerry in new paradises; Gonyer and Gay, dancers and singers, and Fred Marshall, baritone soloist.

AT THE NICKEL

Master Harrington's popularity at the Nickel increases daily. It is now the talk of the town and children are flocking to the big picture house in throngs to hear and see him. Yesterday's performance, "Have to Wait Till My Ship Comes In," is already being heard in the streets. No child that ever performed so greatly appreciated the attention of the public as he. The picture of the day in the Nickel is a Pathe picture in colors and is replete in dramatic situations. "The Girl in the Red Coat" is a picture of the day in the Nickel. It is a picture of the day in the Nickel.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE C. P. RAILWAY

It Was Held in Montreal Yesterday—President Reviews the Year in His Report to Shareholders.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the C. P. R. Company to-day the report of the directors was unanimously adopted. Hon. Sir George A. Drummond, Sir Sanford Fleming, Wilnot D. Matthews and Robert McEwen were re-elected.

In moving the adoption of the report the president said: "The estimate of the western crops made a year ago was not far astray as to quantity, but the quality was seriously affected by bad weather, and, therefore, the amount realized by the producers was much below the average."

"About the end of October there was a disarrangement of business affairs approaching a panic in the United States, and the feeling of uncertainty and distrust reached Canada in a more rational and less pronounced form, resulting in a drastic but prudent contraction of bank credits and a consequent shrinkage of business activity in all lines of manufacture and commerce."

"These conditions had a serious effect on your business, but more particularly on your west-bound and local traffic, with the result that your gross income showed important decreases month by month, without any possibility of making reductions that were at all commensurate in the cost of transportation."

"Your directors, convinced that the depression was but temporary, did not feel warranted in changing their policy by curtailing the expenditure for the maintenance of the railway and equipment. As a consequence, your gross income was $33,000 and your net revenue $20,000 below the previous year."

"The crops just harvested are bountiful and of excellent quality, and we have every reason to believe that there will be an early return of sound and active business conditions. Fair progress has been made during the year with all the works of construction and improvement that we have in hand, but it is very desirable that the several railway lines now being built should be brought to a completion before other works of a like character are undertaken, and, therefore, your directors have decided to restrict operations in this respect for the present, at any rate."

"As explained in the annual report, you will be asked at the special general meeting to be held immediately after this meeting, to sanction an increase in the ordinary capital stock of the company from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000, and to empower your directors to utilize the additional stock in such amounts from time to time, as may be desirable in connection with the company's capital requirements."

"It is not easy to designate in advance with any degree of particularity the purposes for which money will be required, excepting in the matter of rolling stock. In the six years, 1902 to 1908, there was an increase in your equipment of 639 locomotives, 522 sleeping cars and day coaches, and 25,193 freight cars, at an approximate cost of $37,000,000. This is equivalent to one locomotive every working day, one passenger car every two days and fourteen freight cars each day during the entire period of six years, and yet the prospects are that within the next six weeks the demand will be in excess of the supply of freight cars."

"While it is a healthy sign to have a shortage rather than an excess of equipment, it is also to the public and in the best interests of the company, that neither money nor effort should be spared to meet the reasonable requirements of shippers along your line, and, therefore, we must continue to build purchase locomotives and cars as quickly as the development of traffic may warrant."

"In the ordinary course of events the traffic on your lines should increase with a fair degree of rapidity, and an expansion of traffic necessarily involves not only additional cars and locomotives, but enlarged accommodation and greater facilities to care for it at many new points. You will, I am sure, recognize the desirability of having your financial arrangements in such shape that your directors can, without avoidable delay, secure funds for your purposes at intervals as circumstances may justify or require, and to that end will invest them with the proposed power."

"The distribution from the land interest account will be the same in the current year as in the last, namely, one per cent. in two semi-annual instalments of one-half of one per cent. each."

"At a meeting of the board subsequently held, Sir William C. Van Horne was re-elected chairman of the board, Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, president, and David McNicoll vice-president of the company and the executive committee was appointed as follows:—Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, and William C. Van Horne, Richard B. Angus, Edmund B. Oler, M. P., and David McNicoll."

"CHOICE TOMATOES" TRIAL UP IN JUNE

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 7.—(Special).—The prosecution in the Colchester bribery case against A. R. Bayne, announced at Truro today when the trial came on, that they were not prepared to proceed. For one thing an important witness was absent. Finally the judge put the case over till June, taking $200 bail from Bayne and $200 more from a surety.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must suffer. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by all Druggists.

A very interesting race was trotted on the Marsh road yesterday afternoon between Black Diamond, owned by James Flood, and Lucy Smith, owned by Hazen Campbell, of the west side. The race was the best three in five heats and Black Diamond won three straight. Quite a number of spectators gathered to see the contest, which was for a stake of $100.

Black's bowling alleys have been put in first class shape for the tournament which will take place on Nov. 11 and 12. Entries have been received from Amherst, Fredericton, Calais, and the Marathons, a local team. This makes one more team than the tournament last year.

James E. Wilson was married on Monday evening at Mrs. Annie McLeod's home, Main street, Fairville, to Miss Eva Resch. Rev. LeBaron McKel presided at the ceremony.

Minister of Public Works and the Liberal Candidate in Charlotte Spoke at Oak Bay and Milltown Yesterday—Dr. Pugsley Tells What Government Has Done for the Country.

St. Stephen, N. B., Oct. 7.—If the attendance and enthusiasm at two great gatherings in this neighborhood today in the interest of W. F. Todd, the Liberal candidate, are any criterion, his success in the coming election is assured. In the afternoon a picnic at Oak Bay there were more than 1,000 people present from all parts of Charlotte. Speeches were made by Hon. Wm. Pugsley, and the candidate, and the attention with which they were listened to, and the cheers which greeted each speaker, were such as to leave no doubt that from one end of the county to the other the tide of Liberalism will sweep the Conservatives with their campaign of slander before it when the day of election comes.

In the evening in Eaton's Hill, Milltown, an audience which filled the hall to overflowing, heard a clear and concise statement of the political issues from the same speakers, and with no less enthusiasm. Dr. Pugsley in one of the best speeches of his career exposed the wily cry tactics of his opponents and was greeted with round after round of applause in the course of his eloquent address. Mr. Todd put forward a strong and convincing argument in favor of Liberal principles, and had his hearers with him from the start. Charlotte county is talking nobly to the Liberal standard. The electors have apparently concluded that as far as their representative is concerned it is time for a change.

The picnic in the afternoon was held on the property of William Berry, at Oak Bay, five miles from St. Stephen, and was a complete success. There were about 1,000 people present. Farmers drove from distant parishes and the large number of vehicles of all kinds and descriptions scattered over the ground or ranged around the temporary platform. The Liberal cause for the welfare of Charlotte county. A quartette then delighted the audience with a musical setting of "The Canadian Song" which was enthusiastically received.

Dr. Pugsley was given a great reception. He referred to the magnificent record of progress Canada had made under Liberal rule. He concluded upon the work being undertaken in the harbors of the country and dealt with the able administration of the post office department which had enabled the farmers to have a free rural delivery. In closing he touched upon some of the scandals which were being perpetrated by the opposition and exposed the falsity of their statements. He was greeted with round after round of applause.

A CONSERVATIVE TRIBUTE TO SIR WILFRID LAURIER

The Canadian Courier is edited by a Conservative. Yet in a recent issue, commenting on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's tour through Ontario, that journal says: "Sir Wilfrid's oratory may be less impassioned than it was in the days before 'the snows of winter' got into his head. But it is still the pierias spring; still the noble and dignified utterances that by its music and form suggest the eloquence of the Roman forum and eliminate the petty bignities and aspirations of party politics. There is about the premier that which makes him a larger man than a party. At the Tercentenary the man was profoundly in evidence; the stately dignity that had no vain desire for empty plaudits and ignored the feral offerings of a multitude—attested to be known as the French Premier of Canada.

"Independent of election Sir Wilfrid is a great Canadian, a man who would honor to any civilized country and government in the world. His tour in English speaking Ontario may be the last he will ever undertake; but to many thousands of the sober toilers of a practical province the man Sir Wilfrid disengaged from the toils of a premiership has been one of those rare delinquents such as come from reading good books and looking at fine pictures. Other men might have spoken as convincingly as Sir Wilfrid about the Grand Trunk Pacific, Civil Service Reform and the enlargement of provincial boundaries. But when it comes to the 'snows of winter' and the personal desire to serve his 'nauc dimittis,' it is possible for even a Conservative to forget that there is such an institution as graft.

"When Sir Wilfrid decides to make his last speech it will be set down in the annals that in his person Canada laid claim to a man who while he was in the world was a better man than he knew, yet was able to put in a lifetime with the spirit of real individual greatness."

HON. WM. PUGSLEY.

Pugsley spoke of the better prices which farmers received for their produce, which had resulted in their purchasing power being increased. He also took up the case of the postal department, contrasting the deficit of $700,000 under the Conservatives with the reduced rates for postage inaugurated by the Liberal government and the surplus of more than $1,000,000 which had been obtained.

W. F. TODD, Liberal Candidate in Charlotte.

With general acceptance. (Renewed cheers.) There was a great opportunity, Dr. Pugsley continued, for a representative of this county to do splendid work for his constituents. The county had a most important coast line, a number of fine harbors, including St. Andrew's, St. George and Letang, all of which, if properly developed, might attract very considerable shipping to the great advantage of the locality and the prestige and importance of the whole county. (Cheers.)

His harbors offered the advantage of being the ports nearest Montreal and the great centres of traffic in the west which were open at all seasons of the year. The Dominion was in its infancy, but the grain and cattle trade of the west, as well as the products of the farm, had already attained large proportions and were making vast inductions for the St. Lawrence in summer, and of the ports of the maritime provinces in the winter.

Dr. Pugsley, in his opening remarks, referred to the attempt being made by many of the Conservative speakers to distract attention from the important issues of the campaign by making unjust attacks upon himself in regard to his course while a member of the provincial government.

The vile and miserable slander, he added, was not a new creation. He had existed from time immemorial. In olden days, as at the present time, men were found who had been universally felt to be a warm tribute to the memory of his intimate friend, Hon. James Mitchell, whose loss had been universally felt, and who had been a member of the provincial house for Charlotte county. Having been well acquainted with the public men of New Brunswick for the last quarter of a century, he was in a position to say that no man had ever occupied a seat in the legislature who had brought to the aid of his constituents a greater care, greater zeal for the welfare of his constituents and the province at large than had Mr. Todd. (Loud cheers.)

While at the same time his uniform courtesy and gentlemanly bearing had won for him the respect and confidence of members on both sides of the house.

In the larger sphere of Dominion politics he felt sure that Mr. Todd would be recognized as the representative of his country, discharge the duties of a representative in a manner that would meet the approval of his constituents.

He had been a matter of regret that, owing to the obstructive tactics of the opposition in holding up the estimates, the final supply bill had been passed only on July 18, so that the best portion of the summer had passed away before he could take steps to have plans and specifications prepared and contracts entered on. As a result, however, the supply bill had passed, he had had his engineers to work and yesterday he had received a telegram from the chief engineer of the department that the plans and specifications had been completed and advertisements calling for tenders would be issued in a few days (loud cheers.)

The unfair advantage which members of the opposition took of the privilege allowed them in committee of the whole of talking as long as they pleased had brought prominently to the front the need of making a rapid amendment to the law, while allowing every reasonable opportunity for fair discussion, prevent them utilizing their ability as talking machines in committee of the whole. His department and the government had been criticised by the opposition for building wharves and breakwaters at the smaller harbors, but in his opinion there was no purpose to which the expanding revenue of the country could be better applied than by giving the necessary conveniences and protection to fishermen along the seaboard and by creating harbors where vessels might be safely accommodated. The Liberal party could appeal with confidence to the public for approval of expenditure in this direction, and while there was this general criticism the opposition had not the courage to point to any particular work as unnecessary or not in the public interest. Of all the items for which money was asked they had not voted against a single one.

INCREASING SIGNS OF BIG LIBERAL VICTORY IN THIS PROVINCE IN ELECTION DAY

Conservative Hopes of Success are Very Rapidly Crumbling Away.

Nelson W. Brown Putting Up a Great Campaign in York—Donald Morrison is Already Beaten in Northumberland, While Reid's Election in Restigouche is Conceded.

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 7. (Special)—Nelson W. Brown, the Liberal candidate, already has the Tories on the run in York and if he continues his aggressive campaign for another fortnight he will undoubtedly carry the county on October 26. Never before in the history of the county has a Liberal candidate put up such a winning campaign and if he had won an election, Brown will be York's representative at Ottawa without a doubt.

The Liberal candidate in this week campaigning in the Tory stronghold of Stanley and is meeting with most gratifying success. Last evening he addressed a meeting at Cross Creek and, although every effort was made to induce the people to go to Stanley, two miles distant, where the Tory candidate was holding forth, the Liberals succeeded in assembling an audience of 100 people. Brown spoke for more than an hour and it was freely admitted that no such campaign deliverance had been heard in that locality since the palmy days of the late Hon. A. G. Blair.

Today Mr. Brown attended the annual fair of the Stanley Agricultural Society, and met scores of people who pledged him hearty support. On Saturday evening he will speak in the agricultural hall in Stanley and has issued a challenge to the Tory candidate to attend and discuss the issues of the campaign. He has declared his willingness to face Crockett and Meigs on the platform and if they accept a lively time may be expected.

The Liberals of the city are warming up for the fight and are confident of greatly increasing the majority of 102 recorded against Crockett here four years ago. The district where Crockett resided and is best known gave him the large vote adverse majority in the election of 1904.

A Northumberland Conservative who was in the city recently told a friend here that Morrison, Tory candidate, has no ghost of a chance of success in that county. Advice from Carleton County are to the effect that Smith, realizing that his hope of the Conservatives in Northumberland went with the departure, for western Canada, of James Robinson, ex-Prime Minister, carries a big vote in the parishes. It was hoped by the party workers, who realized too late their mistake in turning him out, that he would fight at the last moment and turn the tide setting against Morrison. Mr. Robinson will not be back until after the election, however, and Mr. Morrison is still carrying on the campaign alone in splendid isolation.

Surveying parties are getting along well with the proposed route of the I. C. R. through town. The bringing of the road into the town is regarded as a crowning achievement for Mr. Loggie's efforts for the advancement of the interests of Chatham.

MR. EMERSON'S ENGAGEMENTS He is Doing Splendid Work in Westmorland and Kent.

Moncton, N. B., Oct. 7. (Special)—Hon. H. R. Emerson, J. L. Ralston, the Liberal candidate in Cumberland, and John P. Poiry, Liberal candidate in Dorchester (Que.), spoke at an enthusiastic Liberal meeting here this evening. Over 2,000 people were present.

Richardson, N. B., Oct. 7. (Special)—Hon. H. R. Emerson, Hon. O. J. LeBlanc, John T. Hawke, and others are invited to speak in the public hall on Saturday evening next. All indications point to a Liberal victory in Kent.

Go to the blood, if you are to drive out Rheumatism. A Wisconsin physician, Dr. R. S. Shoop, does this with his Rheumatic Remedy—and with seeming success. Ruben says the doctor never did cure Rheumatism. It is more than skin deep—it is constitutional always. Because of this principle, Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy is perhaps the most popular in existence day draws nearer. The attendance at Liberal headquarters is far ahead of that at any previous elections. The presence of many Conservatives at these meetings is an indication of the sentiment that is sweeping this county. Visitors from out of town are bringing in the most encouraging reports.

LAURIER IN QUEBEC He Delivers a Strong Vigorous Appeal and Predicts a Sweeping Victory.

Senator Gilmour, of Charlotte.

"You're truly, (Sgd.) 'B. L. BORDEN'."

LAURIER IN QUEBEC He Delivers a Strong Vigorous Appeal and Predicts a Sweeping Victory.

(Montreal Star.) Sir Wilfrid Laurier in speaking in Quebec on Monday night made no new declaration of policy and no promises regarding public works, but called attention to what had already been accomplished in the way of harbor improvements, the Transcontinental Railway and the connections and the appointment of the Quebec Bridge Commission.

In appealing for support for Messrs. Lachance and Power, he intimated that for them meant votes for himself. He also referred to the government's special claims upon the support of the Dominion on exactly the same lines as in his speeches in other parts of the country.

He looked back to the days of 1877, when he first was invited to seek the suffrages of his present electors of Quebec East, and traced his own political career and the story of his party from that night to the present time, laying special emphasis upon his efforts to promote peace and harmony of the people of different nationalities and provinces.

He alluded to those who had worked with him at various times, including Messrs. Tarte, Sifton, Fildes, LeBlanc, and Birtwell, the mention of the last two, who were present, meeting with considerable enthusiasm.

In closing Dr. Pugsley expressed his conviction that the Liberal government would receive an emphatic renewal of confidence on October 26. From reports from the various sections of Charlotte County he believed that the Liberal party would send Mr. Todd to parliament and that the constituency would again raise itself under the Liberal banner and declare its adherence to the policy which had made for national development, progress and prosperity.

The meeting cheered again and again as he resumed his seat. George M. Byron brought the meeting to a close in a fitting speech which was greatly to the liking of his audience. His witty sallies at the expense of the opposition kept his hearers in roars of laughter.

Cheers for the speakers and a selection by the band concluding with the national anthem drew the meeting to its close. Political gatherings were held in this town.

KEEP TO THE ISSUE
The chief aim of the opposition in this constituency is to divert public attention from the issue which is vital to the interests of St. John.

When reference is made to Courtenay Bay and the Grand Trunk Pacific, it is turned aside with a sneer, as if the minister of public works and Mr. Pender were merely seeking to humbug the people.
When reference is made to the proposed wharf extension on the west side, it is asserted that this work must be done, no matter who is elected, and the further assertion is made that Borden's policy includes the nationalization of ports. But the whole subject is avoided as much as possible.

And yet this is the great local issue. Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Pender stand for a policy which will dredge Courtenay Bay and provide Grand Trunk Pacific terminals there for the handling of ocean-borne traffic, just as is now being done by the C. P. R. at Sand Point. And it is proposed to have the facilities in readiness for the trade when it comes. This policy also provides for the construction as they are needed of thirteen new steamship berths below Sand Point.

What guarantee is there that all this will be done?
(1) The dredging that has already been done since Dr. Pugsley became minister.
(2) The action of the government in taking over at Dr. Pugsley's suggestion the construction of the new wharves in extension to the Clark & Adams wharf.
(3) The provision made for cleaning up the I. C. R. steamship berths before the coming season's steamship service begins.
(4) The calling for tenders for dredging at Courtenay Bay.
(5) The completion of plans by the government engineer for the wharves both at Courtenay Bay and below Sand Point.

There is no getting away from these evidences of good faith, and of determination on the part of Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Pender to do this policy carried out. There is no doubt in reasoning minds as to the general result of the elections. The government will be sustained. Whether its majority be large or small, the effect will be the same. St. John must continue to have a representative in that government, to guard its interests and press forward the work that will make it a terminus of another great transatlantic railway, giving employment to a very large number of mechanics and laborers, and further strengthening the position of St. John as one of the great port cities of Canada. This is the policy whose representatives are Dr. Pugsley and Mr. James Pender.

DR. DANIEL MISLEADS
"You notice," said Dr. Daniel, "that the government claims credit for recent good times. Then if you find the present times not very good, the government is also responsible. How is it with the working men of St. John to day? Have they found plenty of profitable employment? Is it not rather true that many were out of work last winter, and some are so yet? Are wages so high and is the cost of living so low that the working men are prosperous? If the workmen find times hard, let them remember that the Laurier government claims the control of that." (Standard.)

Dr. Daniel does not fairly or correctly state the case. He takes care not to say that there has lately been a world-wide depression, the effects of which were disastrous to labor in the United States, the United Kingdom and parts of Europe, while in Canada, thanks to Liberal policy, the effects were but lightly felt. The Conservative candidate places too low an estimate on the intelligence of his audience when he attempts to influence them by buncombe of this sort. It was fortunate for Canada that, at a time when other nations were suffering severely, the depression, thanks to the sound conditions under Liberal rule, was but slightly felt in this country. Already the cloud has passed and the forward movement is beginning, with the promise of another era of unexampled prosperity. To ensure such an era the government should be sustained.

"The providing of these facilities at Sand Point and Courtenay Bay, will necessarily cost a good deal of money, and the furnishing of them will take considerable time, but with the great development of the west, the early completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the avowed determination of that company, as well as the Canadian Pacific, to bring the traffic of the west to Canadian ports, it will not be long before the most extensive terminal facilities which can be provided at St. John and other Maritime Province ports will be taxed to their full capacity in the winter season."—Hon. Dr. Pugsley.

Nothing should be taken for granted by the Liberals in this campaign. The opposition are asserting with great vigor and persistence that the government will be defeated, and that therefore St. John should defeat the government candidates. If the electors were persuaded that there was any reasonable possibility of the defeat of the government the other argument might appeal to them, and in that case the city, after Oct. 26th, would find itself out in the cold; for the government will not be defeated, and it would be a blow to the interests of the port to elect the opposition candidates.

The election of Dr. Pugsley in this constituency is privately conceded by shrewd Conservatives, but they hope that Dr. Daniel may get in by a narrow majority over Mr. Pender, who is new to politics. Publicly, however, they claim everything. The Liberals should redouble their efforts to make Mr. Pender's majority an overwhelming one.

At Athens, Ont., yesterday, Hon. Mr. Fielding fully denounced the course of Mr. Borden, in making a sectional plea to gain votes in British Columbia. Fair treatment for all the provinces is the policy of the Liberal government. The opposition, in their desire to attain power, resort to any method that seems to promise votes.

Dr. Daniel says the G. T. P. contract has sidetracked St. John. This is pretty close to the limit of partisan folly. No reasonable citizen doubts for a moment that the transcontinental will have a terminus here. Dr. Pugsley proposes to prepare for its coming. Which of these two men is the best friend of St. John's interests?

At a Liberal meeting at St. George on Tuesday evening a Conservative of twenty-five years standing, from Deer Island, announced that he would vote for Mr. Todd. He will support the party which is doing justice to the people along the coast and on the islands.

"The north shore goes Liberal. All reliable reports from that section tell the same story. Where does the opposition expect to make its boasted gains in this province? In every constituency the government party presents a stronger front than in the last federal elections.

Beneath all the clamor and noise and abuse lies the solid fact of twelve prosperous years under Liberal rule. This is the argument that appeals to the thoughtful elector, and he desires a continuance of this prosperity.

Mr. Mullin spoke at Salisbury last night in the interests of Mr. Sumner. He was heard for several miles, and great results are predicted by the Standard.

Dr. Daniel says the Courtenay Bay programme of the government is "a mere humbug and pretence." The doctor stands for the claim industry. Compliant is made that the Liberals claim everything. Has any Conservative journal been caught admitting the loss of anything? It has not yet been decided whether Mr. Dickson of Albert will be one of the speakers at the Whitney-Hazen meeting on Monday evening.

"They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adder's poison is under their tongues." Support the government, and its policy of national ports and a national transportation policy.

IN CHARLOTTE

In Charlotte county yesterday Hon. Dr. Pugsley dealt with matters of special interest to the people of that county in a manner which proved to them that their interests are not overlooked by the government. That county is interested in the great transportation question of the day, and in having its coast line equipped with wharves and breakwaters. With Mr. Todd as its next representative these matters will be brought still more effectively to the attention of the government during the next parliamentary term.

Dr. Pugsley paid a warm tribute to Mr. Todd, with whose qualities as a legislator he had become well acquainted at Fredericton. The Liberals in Charlotte are fortunate in having a man so able and popular as their candidate, and one who can successfully dispute Mr. Ganong's claim to representative honors.

The minister, in the course of his able address at Milltown, replied effectively to Hon. Mr. Bower of British Columbia on the Japanese question, and made plain to his auditors the firm and statesmanlike course pursued by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who could not be prevailed upon by sectional claims to ignore the larger questions of imperial relations which was involved. He set forth also the general policy of the government in a manner which showed very clearly how Canada has prospered under twelve years of Liberal rule. This is the fact that destroys the hope of the opposition, and which has driven them to the miserable expedient of a campaign of scandal and abuse.

The Standard this morning, with a hardihood which must appear extremely silly to any person who knows anything about Charlotte county, tries to make it appear that Dr. Pugsley was not welcomed there, and that the meetings held were not successful. The returns on October 28 will effectively answer the Standard.

keep! I don't know which way to vote—the "Purity Fund" has not arrived, some call it the "Political Purifier." Well, at the train, Billy Goldberg stepped off the car. He is a son of an old neighbor. I hardly knew him. He is just from New York. He has been following elections in the States, selling "Hot Chestnuts." People buy them just for the heat, throw them away. Goldberg picks them up and uses them over again. They say HR's a million-are. He used to work for me, chopping in the woods. His hair grew long, and the fir balsam held it together—both together held Billy together. A stranger could not tell his place in the annual kingdom. Why, sir! he came off the train like an heir to the throne. I said, "How are you, Billy?" He gave me a withering glance. Burns says: "Dearly bought the hidden treasures, Finer feelings can bestow." Well, I felt out. I went home, lighted the lamp—lighted the "Pipe of Peace." I tried to think it out. New York's all right, but I'm here in the Settlement. Emerson says: "If we are here it is proof that Nature has need of an organ here." While I was smoking Billy Goldberg emerged through the clouds. I extended my hand; he would not shake. Through his nose, he said, "I was down to Coney Island. Hannah and the children went in swimming, eighteen red heads above the water. They looked like a pond of water lilies. The tide rose a foot, I got my feet wet, caught a cold and spoiled a pair of patent leather shoes. Here's a note Hannah sent you." I asked him to be seated. He said it would take the crease out of his pants. As he went out of the door, he said, "I've brought a grip full of chestnuts. I must warm them up and turn a penny on this election. I'll hand them out left and right. He left my feet wet, caught a cold and spoiled a package, which prevents the coming in contact with articles that would affect its flavor. Bullish special operations seem likely in the stock market today. Otherwise daily operators may find it advisable to maintain temporarily a cautious neutrality...

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE CAMPAIGN

HE IS PROUD OF LAURIER.

The Montreal Star is inviting its readers to express their preference for one of the political parties and give reasons for so doing. The following is a fair sample of the majority of the replies received.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star: Sir—I shall cast my first Liberal vote for the following reasons: (1) Because the Opposition present no constructive policy for consideration by the electors...

THE SAME OLD STORY.

In all the meetings so far held in Quebec, P. E. L., the Conservative candidates have not given any intimation as to what that party will do for the country. All they have done so far is to rake up scandals, condemn the Government and reiterate that treason and exploit...

TWELVE YEARS OF PROGRESS.

"In this growing nation of Canada, with its splendid heritage, we ought to feel it our duty to look to the needs of this country. We are proud we have spent each generous sum of money for the benefit of our country. In doing this we have kept within the bounds of our revenue. We don't for a moment pretend there is no fault. There will never come a time when there is not room for attack upon a Government. In twelve years of Liberal rule there has been splendid progress, blessed peace and grand prosperity."

OH, TOMATOES!

R. L. Borden sent the following congratulatory telegram to Hon. John Stanfield after the election in Colchester county was "tomatoed" last November:

A SOLID THIRTY-FIVE.

Monday's nominations in Manitoba and Saskatchewan complete the Liberal ticket in the West from Ontario to the Pacific Ocean. There are thirty-five conservative and thirty-five liberal candidates in the field—a very considerable majority of whom, says the Winnipeg Free Press, it may safely be said will be elected.

CABINET TIMBER! NO MATCHWOOD.

Mr. Borden says that he could form "three Cabinets" out of his following. He could, but what would they be like? The most prominent members of the Opposition, apart from Mr. Borden, are Messrs. Foster, Bennett, Geo. Taylor, Mowbray, Monk, Beaton and A. Smith. Would you be willing to risk the destiny of Canada to these men? Think it over.

ANOTHER LIBERAL GAIN.

J. B. Moran, of Dorchester, who held for many years one of the few seats of conservative seats in Quebec, will not be a candidate this year owing to his illness. The most prominent members of the party management has been conducted. This means still another seat for the Liberals in Quebec.

LOYALISTS' ATTENTION.

Ottawa Free Press:—Four years ago the slogan of the Conservative party was: "Keep both hands on the Union Jack." But the year having agreed to oppose the All-Red steamship project and to do all in their power to render the British flag as conspicuous as possible, they have just decided to abandon that cry, and instead to put forward the motto that "Laurier is a traitor to the most good."

A PLEASANT FIRESIDE.

There is nothing so pleasant as the cool evenings are coming up as a bright opportunity to sit by a fire. The celebrated Old Mine Sydney Coal leads all other coals for grate purposes. It is a clean, bright, and long-burning coal. The Old Mine Sydney Coal is a clean, bright, and long-burning coal. The Old Mine Sydney Coal is a clean, bright, and long-burning coal.

AN UNCERTAIN MARKET.

While the present condition of affairs continues in the Balkans, the market is apt to be somewhat feverish and irregular, although I think the tendency will be to ignore this feature more and more. The natural tendency of prices I feel confident is upward and I therefore think stocks should be bought on all weak spots. It will probably pay to take profits on part of stocks as bought on the bulges as there are apt to be plenty of chances to buy them back again. The Montreal, Oct. 7.—A special London cable says:—'A semi-official German union of chambers of commerce in Berlin is considering remarkable proposals to combat the Canadian and Australian preferences and the expected early adoption of imperial reciprocity when Mr. Balfour returns to power.'

The general comment here is that any such German movement is certain to precipitate a British reciprocal tariff forming the basis of a compact trade family. The Belgians are also likely to be attracted to the prospect for a European confederation.

BLESS THE END

'Well, next month is to settle this,' he said to the man on the rear platform of the car with him. 'You mean the campaign?' was queried.

'Suffered much? Why, I have suffered day and night for months past. My home here is a wife, three children, a sister, a cook and two other servants. We began to take sides early in the game and you can guess what the feeling is about this time. My wife and I haven't spoken a decent word to each other for the last two weeks because she is for the anti-suffrage cause.'

WHAT STOPPED HIM

'While I am aware of the fact,' said the Philadelphian drummer, 'that no president has ever been given three terms, I am not sure that Mr. Roosevelt would not have been made an exception but for an uncle of mine in Vermont. He lives in a village, and in the summer he has a bunch of strawberries from which he picks berries at six cents a quart. I was up there last March, and among the things I talked of was the Panama Canal. At least, I tried to get him to talk of it as a great international thing, but he had no interest in the matter until I said: 'I can't see how' was his reply. 'I'll tell you. When they get the canal in operation they can bring strawberries through from Aspinwall for two cents a quart and sell 'em right in this town for three. Where will be your market then? 'He thought the matter over for a time, asked a few questions, and then set his jaw and left the house. He went straight to the telephone office in the village and sent the following dispatch to President Roosevelt: 'If you don't stop the Panama Canal I will stop you. In general, let me say that I believe it to be the coming winter, and in addition I shall carry a red-hot gas stove strapped to my back. I don't propose to lose my life for a political party. I look to see every coin in America has its tail frozen off before January 1.'

THIRTEEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF C.P.R. ELEVATOR IN RICHFORD, VT.—THREE MASTED SCHOONER SINKS OFF GRAND BANKS AND 25 LOST—CAMPBELLTON SCHOONER LOST AT SEA.

Richford, Vt., Oct. 7.—An explosion of dust and gases in a large grain elevator, owned by the Canadian Pacific and the Boston & Maine Railroad in this village, caused the death of at least thirteen persons this afternoon, while it is possible that the death roll may be still further increased.

The explosion, it is supposed, was due to spontaneous combustion of the grain dust, ignited possibly by the sun's rays through a window. With a concussion which could be heard for miles and which was felt in the town, the roof was blown away, while flames burst from every window and door of the structure. The roof, of the greater part of it, was carried a long distance and fell in a field. Several freight cars, which were standing on the track beside the building were thrown over and broken into a mass of wreckage and every person within a radius of a quarter of a mile of the structure was knocked off his feet and wholly or partially stunned.

The schooner was riding at anchor when a gale came on and so strained her that she opened at the bow and before the crew could make any effort to save themselves the vessel had plunged bow first, carrying to death twenty-five of her crew.

Doma La Porte, 21, single. A workman, name unknown, who is known to have been in the building and who is reported missing. Mrs. Jelliffe. Mrs. Guard, aged 40. The only body recovered is that of Robert Mandigo. He was at work near the top of the elevator. A short time before the explosion occurred he was seen looking from a window near the top. He was carried aloft when the explosion took place and his body, mangled and terribly mangled, was found late tonight near the wreckage of the roof, far from the site of the building.

Hullifax, N.S., Oct. 7.—(Special)—A despatch from North Sydney says: "The three-masted schooner Junia has foundered on the Grand Banks by her crew of twenty-five. The captain, Capt. J. H. H. Brown, and his wife, Mrs. J. H. H. Brown, were on board. The schooner was riding at anchor when a gale came on and so strained her that she opened at the bow and before the crew could make any effort to save themselves the vessel had plunged bow first, carrying to death twenty-five of her crew."

YOU TAKE YOUR CHOICE

'As mayor of the town of Podunk, which is growing faster than any other town in the United States, I reply to the question in your circular by saying that this is going to be a very mild winter. None of the chickens in this vicinity are growing fat, and there seems to be no disposition on the part of the frogs to crawl into leather beds. I shouldn't be a bit surprised to see a delicious blizzard in January.'

'I am only a United States senator, and have paid no attention to the weather for the last 20 years, but if you want my opinion on the coming winter, I will predict that it's going to be a cold one for five or six presidential candidates.'

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM AN AWFUL DEATH Chatham, N. B., Oct. 8.—(Special).—Walter McPherson had a narrow escape from an awful death yesterday while working above a fire pit in Snowball's mill. He was seized with a sudden dizziness while near one of the fire holes, and would have fallen into the scorching mass of flames beneath it a fellow workman had not caught him. His condition proved so serious that medical assistance was necessary. Some years ago a Frenchman fell through one of these holes and was literally roasted alive before any aid could be extended to him.

FIRE AT SUSSEX A local man who arrived from Sussex this morning, told a Times representative of a slight fire at that town this morning which with a few minutes more time would have developed into a big conflagration. Several painters were burning oil paint on a building using a spirit lamp when the clap boards ignited and unknown to the workmen the fire was spreading rapidly when noticed by R. I. McKinnon of this city who was passing on the opposite side of the street. The smoke was issuing from the copings of the house in clouds and when Mr. McKinnon acquainted the painters of the situation they immediately set in an alarm of fire, but before the apparatus appeared on the scene Mr. McKinnon had seized an axe and made an opening in the burning wood through which he threw several pails of water extinguishing the blaze. The building is the property of a Mr. Whalen and is opposite the bank.

DR. McALISTER IS WORKING FOR KING'S CO.

Already the Next Member for King's County has Shown His Ability to do Things for His Prospective Constituents

Quite recently a petition from the residents along the Intercolonial, asking that the winter suburban service should be continued this winter the same as last, was sent to the minister of railways and he immediately forwarded it to the Liberal candidate, Dr. McAlister, for his recommendation. It is now stated that the winter suburban service has been secured. Dr. McAlister, while in Rothesay a short time ago, expressed the hope that any effort of his might assist in obtaining this additional accommodation for the suburban homes, will be able to make arrangements that will insure them a longer sojourn in the country. Dr. McAlister's prompt attention to this and other matters affecting the interests of the people augurs well for his popularity as a candidate and as a representative.

HURD CLAIMS HE WAS OUSTED

Interesting Case in the City Court This Morning.

Interesting statements were brought out in the proceedings at the city court this morning during the case of the Empire Chemical Co. vs. Dr. J. M. Smith for telephone service amounting to $14. J. M. Price who conducted the case for the plaintiff called J. E. Hurd who is a co-defendant in the suit to testify and it was during his examination that the witness accused Dr. Smith of ousting him from the Empire Chemical Co. Hurd swore that in the month of June, 1907, he was manufacturing a disinfectant entitled "Lightning Insecticide" with offices on Dock street, Cape James St. Dr. Smith arrived from Boston with a formula which he designated "a sure money maker" and in consideration of a one-fourth interest in the profits of the enterprise the witness entered into partnership with Smith under the style of the Empire Chemical Co. Only verbal agreement was made between him and Smith, the latter agreeing to have the papers drawn up was to finance the undertaking and own 3/4 of the business. Hurd was office manager with quarters at 40 Princess street but under no consideration was he to handle any of the money. The name of the disinfectant decided upon was Cyclone Insecticide. It was contemplated by the witness and Smith to organize a stock company and interest-financiers in the project of establishing a big factory here for the manufacture of chemical preparations and altogether to enlarge the business on an extensive scale. The climax came on January 1st, when Hurd claims that Dr. Smith refused emphatically to enter into a compact with him and ousted the witness from the partnership and brought charges in.

The witness was positive that he had received no money from the firm as his share of the profits or otherwise; he was not salaried. It was with Smith's consent that the witness had signed a contract with the telephone company and a telephone was installed in the office.

Hurd did not think he should be liable for debts of the company after his retirement, as Dr. Smith agreed to pay all bills incurred.

Police Clerk Henderson will take the defendant's testimony at his home where he is confined through an attack of rheumatism and further hearing will be resumed next Thursday.

J. B. Baxter appeared for the defence and E. S. Ritchie acted as counsel for Hurd.
