28 CHARLOTTE STREET

The Viper of Milan.

A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY. BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

Back to camp! he cried wildly. 'We are betrayed again, by a woman who loves Visconti! The Duke of Milan is fortune-hunting and he has turned down the bank and sank to the ground. Leave us, all is over for tonight, the Prince and I will follow.'

'He is much moved,' returned one of the officers. 'All his hopes were on it,' said Liguzzo bitterly. 'His wife, his God.'

In disappointed groups the men moved off, to spread the evil news. It was now fully dark, but not so dark that the three left by the cave could not see each other in the faint starlight.

Mastino called to Tomaso. His voice was hoarse and strained. 'Tell me all, boy; tell how it happened.'

'My Lord,' faltered Tomaso, 'it is too painful.' 'Painful!' And Della Scala laughed harshly. 'I am well used to that; tell me how it happened.'

He had risen, and standing in the shadow of the trees, only the outline of his great figure was visible to Tomaso and Liguzzo, standing a few paces before him.

'There is not much to tell,' said the boy uneasily; he was sick with disappointment and the pain of his wound and leant against heavily against his father.

'Agnolo opened the door to me—as had been arranged; he told me, with a wild face, his daughter was gone; Visconti had carried her off, he vowed. He was half-dressed, and as he spoke, even as he spoke, the courtyard had filled with soldiers, the courtyard soldiers. The girl had fled to the palace, and told the Duke all we were betrayed!'

'They laughed to see me there; vowed I should die a merry death, trusted you would follow and let them give you warm welcome. Agnolo they mocked with talk of pardon, for his daughter's sake, his daughter the Duchess to be, whom Visconti had proclaimed to all his court, if he would tell them a little more of what you meant to do! But Vistarnini met them with defiance.'

'At least Visconti shall not claim us both!' he cried, and then they laughed and killed him. That was the Duke's word, they said, not pardon.'

'Tomaso paused. 'And his daughter lives to be Duchess of Milan!' said Della Scala. 'It is the will of Heaven!' He laughed again harshly.

'I escaped while they argued over the poor painter's body, and as they dared not follow, being in terror of an ambush, if it had not been for saving thee, I would I might have died! And he said his head upon his father's shoulder with heart-wrung sob.'

'Take him to the camp,' said Mastino turning. 'How can I comfort him or thee, trying how so much myself!' And he turned away through the trees.

The air was perfumed and soft, it fanned the heavy hair back from his face and rustled the flowers around his feet. He walked fast, in a fury of hate. It came to him to rush into Milan and die upon the soldiers' spears, if he might only get his hands upon Visconti. 'I will challenge him to fight, to single combat,' he

EVEN HER BLOOD TURNED TO WATER
When Dying of Pernicious Anemia Her Life was Saved by FERROZONE

Probably very few cases are on record in which an absolute cure has been made of pernicious anemia.

But Ferrozone did cure Miss Elaine Stanhope—cured her absolutely, and her mother, Mrs. G. Stanhope, of Roxbury, Ont., says the following:

'My daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless and kept losing strength till too weak to attend school. The doctors prescribed different bottles of medicine, but Elaine kept getting worse instead of better. She had anemia and we were afraid for a while that she might never rally. We read of a similar case, that of Miss Descent, of Stirling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and this induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three boxes of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six boxes were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure, and I am convinced that there is no better blood-maker than Ferrozone. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained ten pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of spirits. The credit of her recovery is entirely due to Ferrozone.'

It makes blood, nerve and tissue—makes it last—makes it to stay. Complexion soon becomes perfect, nerves get new strength, tiredness vanishes—perfect health is the reward for using Ferrozone, which is sold by all druggists—price 50c. per box; don't fail to try it.

FILET NET EFFECTIVELY EMBELLISHED.

Filet lace and filet net, say the smartest designers. You must use filet and to small extent, in your summer wardrobe if you would be strictly up to the minute this season. The prettiest dressy blouses are made of it in white and cream, and it is not uncommon in colors, complementing the tones of the costume with which the waists to be worn. A bewildering combination of laces is to be noted in this French model of pure white filet net worn over a slip of white sate silk. The yoke is of point d'esprit, embellished with Irish crochet applique and Irish and Cluny insertion. The blouse portion is heavily trimmed with the Irish applique and more crochet, all over in this instance, makes the deep elbow cuffs set between the arm and puff and that of point d'esprit.

of the sun, there was not a cloud in the purple sky, and Graziosa's heart was singing in pure happiness. She rose from her chair impulsively, and walked to the edge of the terrace, leaning over the balustrade, the ladies behind her.

'The sun to think there should be fighting on such a day as this,' said one, handing Graziosa her fan. 'God grant it may soon be peace!'

'God grant it!' repeated the painter's daughter fervently. 'They say the Venetians cannot hold out much longer,' said another. 'Bassano has fallen, there is no news.'

Graziosa picked a cluster of roses and buried her face in them. 'How beautiful they are!' she said. 'See they have little hearts all gold, never showing till they die, a pretty notion, is it not?' And she stroked them tenderly. 'Bassano has fallen!' she repeated idly.

'Yes, and 'tis said they cannot fall in getting Reggio.' 'Then my lord's arms are everywhere victorious!' cried Graziosa with sparkling eyes. 'As ever, lady,' was the answer. 'And we can hope for peace,' continued Graziosa soothly.

'And when peace is proclaimed you will be Duchess—almost Queen—of Lombardy, Gian Visconti and I will make a note of envy in the speaker's voice at such a splendid destiny, but Graziosa did not notice it. She even smiled faintly at Visconti's name; it had been associated with awe and terror too long for her to be able to easily shake the fear away.

'Meanwhile, the sun is shining hot, lady,' said a third attendant. 'Will you not come into the shelter?' (To be continued.)

Here's the Cure for Sick Kidneys TEST THEM FREE

Perhaps you are skeptical about GIN PILLS. So was I. But when I had tried so many things for my kidneys, without getting any better, that he had just about made up his mind that he couldn't get well.

When he first read about GIN PILLS he laughed at it. But when he thought, 'The third time, he said "I would write for a sample just to see if there was any chance of getting well. They did him so much good that he would have paid $5 a box for the rest of his life. The dizziness, headaches and backaches stopped. Those shooting pains in his legs died away. He had lost its high color. He slept through the night without being disturbed by bladder trouble. His appetite began to pick up and he felt better than he had been for years.'

Being a sufferer from my Kidneys and Diseases in the Head, and could get nothing to help me, I saw in the papers what good GIN PILLS were doing. I got a sample box, and they did me so much good that I bought three boxes and am taking them. They have worked wonders for me. I can recommend them to any similar sufferer. Geo. A. Bawes.

SECOND DREDGE IS NOW ASSURED

Ald. Bullock, who went to Ottawa last Thursday at the instigation of a number of prominent citizens to get more information as to the government's intention with regard to harbor improvements, returned home yesterday. He reports having had a most satisfactory interview with Hon. Sydney Fisher, acting minister of public works. It is proposed, if a new dredge cannot be secured, that the latter should be brought here without delay, and that the dredge Fielding, which will arrive in the fall, should be put to work dredging out the channel all winter.

For the cost of dredging at St. John from April, 1907, to April, 1908, $200,000 has been voted with an additional $150,000 for the purchase of a dredge which will be permanently located at the winter port.

Ald. Bullock was told by western members, who recently paid a visit here, that it was their intention before the session closed to wait on the minister's body and urge the claims of St. John for greater facilities.

WINNIPEG WOMEN SMOKING OPIUM

Startling Discoveries Made as to the Number of Dives in the Western City.

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The Free Press has it on good authority that some kind of an investigation as to the character of the business carried on by some persons in Winnipeg who have licenses for restaurants or to sell cigars or tobacco is being pretty fully investigated.

It is said that some startling discoveries have already been made which go to show that some of the restaurants are regular dives, in which the business of sale of tobacco and cigars, were apparently the mainstay of the establishments.

It is further stated that officers making the investigation came across many strange scenes in the course of their work.

In one case, after a little persistence entrance was secured to a room in which there were some women, some of whom were smoking opium. The place gave every evidence of being a regular dive operating under the name of a restaurant. In several other places it was found that stores, on the outside appearing to be a confectionery, sale of tobacco and cigars, were apparently places of resort for very undesirable characters.

The investigation as far as it has proceeded is said to have been quite a revelation as to the number of crooked joints and dives in the city.

SKIN DISEASES

Salt Rheum, Pimples, Eruptions, Ringworm, Shingles, Scald Head, Itching Sores.

All diseases of the skin are more or less directly caused by a bad state of the blood, which produces acid humors and corrupts the secretions.

No one can expect to have a clear, bright skin when the blood is in a disordered condition, and the stomach, liver and bowels acting feebly in consequence.

All the above skin diseases, in fact, any disease arising from a bad condition of the blood, are curable by

He writes: 'For years I suffered with Salt Rheum, and was unable to find a curable remedy out of all the medicines I took, and Physicians consulted. Finally I was urged by a friend to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after a very short space of time I was completely cured. I shall always recommend B.B.B. for such cases, as I consider it an indispensable medicine for such cases.'

HALDANE GIVEN AN OBJECT LESSON

London, April 22.—The "cry of the unemployed" was raised in London tonight, when several thousand skilled workmen who had been discharged from Woolwich arsenal as an outcome of War Secretary Haldane's scheme of reducing military expenses, marched with hands and banners the long distance from Woolwich to the house of commons to impress their grievances upon the government. The complaints of the men are far-reaching, representing not only loss of employment but the wiping out of their savings, invested in little properties located in the historical and heretofore prosperous town of Woolwich.

Some of the discharged men had been employed in the arsenal for more than thirty years. A number of printers and other tradesmen, laborers and citizens joined the procession, which was further augmented by a strong body of workers from the army clothing factory at Pimlico. The entire eight miles of the route was thickly lined with spectators.

The procession, which was perfectly orderly, was halted at St. George's Circle, one mile from the house of parliament, and here a deputation of picked men proceeded to the house of commons to lay the grievances of themselves and their comrades before Premier Campbell-Bannerman.

The premier received the deputation in a private room. War Secretary Haldane and Baron Tweedmouth, first lord of the admiralty being present.

William Crofts, member of the house of commons, introduced the deputation and the men then explained their grievances. The premier made a sympathetic reply, and assured the men of the government's anxiety that these inevitable discharges should entail as little hardship as possible. Secretary Haldane then explained the necessity of the reduction in military expenditures.

Mr. George A. Cossaboom Digby, N. S., April 22.—(Special)—Mrs. George Cossaboom died at her home in Tiverton yesterday. The body was brought to Weymouth today on the steamship Westport for interment in her native village. She had only been married about a year.

DR. PUGSLEY THE CHOICE

The nomination at Friday's convention, of Hon. Dr. Pugsley as the Liberal parliamentary candidate is assured. His name swept the primaries last evening. The enthusiasm which marked Saturday night's meeting in Berryman's hall was every where evident. Whatever dissatisfaction may have been expressed by individuals here and there had to do with details of ward management rather than with the candidate. There is every indication that Dr. Pugsley will receive a unanimous nomination, and that he will be elected without opposition. To oppose him would be to suffer a crushing defeat, for he is the candidate of the people.

This is a small honor the people of St. John have conferred upon Dr. Pugsley. In his most sanguine mood as a politician in years that are past, he could scarcely have dreamed of a more striking and unanimous tribute to his ability and his devotion to the interests of his constituency. He is confronted by as great an opportunity as has come to any New Brunswick public man of this generation, and by responsibilities which he will not hesitate cheerfully to assume. Dr. Pugsley frankly admits that he has a liking for public life, for which he is so admirably suited by temperament and training. His friends feel that in laying down the premiership of the province and going to Ottawa he is but entering a larger field and larger opportunities, which he will not fail to improve for the benefit of this city and province.

PROF. LEACOCK'S COMING

"Find for us something more than mere colonial stagnation, something nobler than annexation, greater in purpose than a little Canada. Find us a way. Build us a plan, that shall make us, in hope at least, an empire permanent and indivisible." In these words, Prof. Stephen Leacock, who will address the Canadian Club of St. John on Thursday of this week, concludes an article entitled "Greater Canada: An Appeal," in the University Magazine for April. In another paragraph he says: "We cannot in Canada continue as we are. We must become something greater and nobler. We can no longer be a mere colony and a dumping ground of some other nation's surplus. As a colony, we are things of the past. In the good old days of Governor Howe, when your emigrant officer sat amid the pine stumps of his Canadian clearing and reared his children in the feast of God and in the love of England—right enough then, wrong enough now. We cannot continue as we are. In the history of every nation as of every man there is no such thing as standing still. The time to pause upon the path of progress is no stagnation but the hush of a storm."

The author of these fervid sentences must be a man of inspiration whose message whether hallowed or entertained or not is worth the heaving. And in St. John he will find as in a part of Canada. He is setting out as Mr. Parkin did a score of years ago, on a tour of the empire, to lecture on the development and organization of the empire. His first address will thus be delivered here, at the Canadian winter point, and when he has returned from his world-tour we shall doubtless hear him again, summing up the impressions of that significant pilgrimage. The Canadian Club is to be congratulated. It has done more in a brief time to bring St. John people into close touch with the larger questions of national and imperial concern than any other organization has done in years. The coming of Prof. Leacock will be regarded as a notable event in the history of the Club since it will bring St. John people into close touch with the educational campaign upon which, under the auspices of the Rhodes trust, he is about to enter.

A CHEERFUL OUTLOOK

Ald. Bullock's interview with Hon. Mr. Fisher appears to have been entirely satisfactory. The sum of $150,000 has been set aside to secure a dredge to be permanently in St. John harbor. This step, that has been urged and earnestly desired by members of the board of trade. The sum of $200,000 is appropriated for new dredging work this year, and if that is not enough there is a general fund of $250,000 to draw from. A new dredge will be bought at once if one cannot be secured, and if not a government dredge will be sent here from the St. Lawrence. The Fielding will be sent here in the fall to dredge the channel. Looking back a few months it must be admitted that St. John has fared even better than had been hoped for, even if no better than the merits of the case demanded. The outlook is distinctly hopeful from all points of view, the more so that the city will soon have a representative at Ottawa who will keep the interests of the winter port constantly in mind and constantly in the mind of the government.

The relative merits of specified lumber and other lumber is again an issue in wharf building on the west side of the harbor.

A SHAMEFUL OCCURENCE

"I am a British subject. I am proud of it. But today I felt ashamed that the Union Jack floated over St. John. Why did you emancipate us? Perhaps if we were still slaves we would be better off." These were the stinging words of a colored man, who went to work in a St. John machine shop yesterday morning, and was forced to quit at noon because the other workmen would not work with "a nigger." This colored man comes from Barbadoes. He is well educated, has some skill as a machinist, and is a clever musician. He has been in St. John for some time, and was about to go away because he could get nothing to do. On Saturday he got a job, and began work yesterday morning with the result stated. The members of the Every Day Club, where he has played the piano and organ in the evenings for some weeks past, did the most generous and patriotic thing they could do when they denounced the action of those workmen as utterly un-Canadian and unworthy of British subjects; and when, as a further protest, and expressive of their own sympathy, they offered Mr. Sandford a position temporarily as pianist of the club. The enthusiasm with which they resolved to do this was not less eloquent of their feelings than the shameful silence in which they heard the statement that a group of St. John workmen had practically denied a fellow man, because his face was black, the right to earn an honest living. It may be hoped that the like will never occur again, in the history of St. John.

WHY NOT ACCEPT?

Premier Botha, of the Transvaal, wants Premier Laurier of Canada to visit South Africa and tell the people how happy the French-Canadians have been and are under British rule. Such a visit, were it possible, would be an event of vast imperial significance, and perhaps do more than even a conference of premiers to strengthen imperial sentiment. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier could spare the time and bear the fatigue of the ocean journey, he could not better serve the interests of the empire to which he is devoted, or do more to strengthen commercial bonds between South Africa and Canada, than to accept Premier Botha's invitation. To have the French-Canadian who, as premier, sent Canadian soldiers to South Africa to fight for the British flag, tell the Boers why he displayed that devotion to the flag, would do more to remove racial bitterness than almost any other course that could be pursued.

The laborer on railway construction work will have no difficulty in securing work this year. Between the International Railway and the New Brunswick-Quebec section of the Grand Trunk Pacific, there will be a great demand for laborers during the season now opening.

The western members of parliament who recently visited St. John will tell the minister of public works what in their opinion this winter port needs in the line of development. Their visit will be of benefit to this city.

CADET CORPS TO HOLD ANNUAL RIFLE MEETS

Major Charles F. Winter, secretary treasurer of the Canadian Military Rifle League, has written to several local cadet corps captains notifying them that the cadet corps throughout the dominion will hold annual rifle meets. Major Winter also states that 64 rounds of cordite cartridges will be given to each corps entering the competition. The range of the St. John Rifle Association will probably be used for the match. The dates fixed for the cadet competitions are Saturday, June 1; Saturday, June 8; Saturday, June 15, and Saturday, June 22. The ranges to be shot from are 200 and 500 yards. Prizes in proportion to the number of entries will be awarded to those teams with the highest aggregate score. If there are less than six teams entered no prizes will be awarded. A cadet marksmanship badge will be presented to the individual making the highest score in each team.

The 50th anniversary of Oddfellowship was celebrated last night by a joint meeting in Union hall of Sileam and Pioneer Lodges, O. O. F. District Deputy Grand Master, E. W. Sager, presided. Speeches were made by Mr. Sager, C. N. Skinner, past grand master; W. F. Hatheway, Dr. A. D. Small and W. G. Ingraham, of Ottawa; piano solos were played by H. V. McKinnon and songs sung by J. Bennett, John Salm and Joseph Murdoch.

W. J. Frier, P. G. was taken by surprise when C. N. Skinner, P. G. Master on behalf of the lodges, presented him with a 25-cent veteran's jewel.

Have You Got It?

THE LOOSE LEAF SYSTEM. General stenographers and dry goods merchants cannot afford to ignore the value of a simplified system of book-keeping. No business man should attempt to run his business without what has come to be known as the loose leaf or continuous ledger system. The man who has not yet introduced this system into his business should do it today. It will be the cheapest investment he ever made. No matter if you look after your own books or employ book-keepers it will cut down expenses and save time. In this way the system pays for itself over and over again. More general stenographers have failed through lack of system than from any other cause—Dry Goods Record.

Write us a card or telephone 51A and we will send our expert, who will fully explain this system to you, and install one if you want it.

OUTLOOK

Close not your door—the world is glad with Spring. And through the lanes there falls a silent snow. Hither and thither where the petals blow, Blown from the apple branches blossoming; Sweet, sweet the scents the drowsy breeze bring Of greenish forests where the first flowers grow. Sweetest the stream-song, murmuring and low— Joy in the world, and love in everything! Close not your door—for on the winding way There yet may come a lonely traveler, Who little knows of Spring or aught of great wonderment—sight of wealth or May's Oh, open wide your heart, no dream of care. Thus may you shelter angels unawares"—Thomas S. Jones, Jr., in April Almanac.

LUMBER TRADE WITH THE WEST

Miramichi Man May Run Line of Boats from North Shore to Toronto.

TORONTO, April 22.—(Special)—Mr. O. W. Nordin, of Nordin, N. B., is in Toronto to establish lumber trade connections with this city. He is a member of the Rosebank Lumber Company, running two mills which employ 150 men, near the mouth of the Miramichi River. Mr. Nordin, who is a Swede, brought a colony of Swedes to Canada, settling them in the little town of Nordin.

"Sweden," he says, "is far ahead of other countries in the lumber trade, and my men are experts." The larger part of the output of the Company's mills has been shipped to France, Paris, receiving most of it. Spain, Belgium and Germany have also imported largely.

"If Toronto proves a good market," said Mr. Nordin, "we are going to put a line of steamships to carry our lumber. We require a great deal of hay and oats and similar products, and those can be carried on the return journey. It is altogether a matter of price."

From here he is going to Hamilton on a similar errand, and perhaps to Buffalo. If it turns out as Mr. Nordin hopes, and a sufficient market can be obtained, the proposed line of vessels will take in Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo, and later on probably will extend to Fort William.

SHE GAVE THE SECRETS OF HIS LODGE AWAY

Pauline Ambrosio's Thoughtlessness May Have Been the Indirect Cause of Antonio Santoro's Murder.

NEW YORK, April 21—Pauline Ambrosio, a pretty girl of Port Chester, believes that her fiancé, Antonio Santoro, to whom she was to have been married last Wednesday, has been killed by members of a secret society to which he and a rival belonged. The reason the girl gives for her belief is that she foolishly talked to a rival of Santoro in a spirit of jest about the secrets of the order, which, in a wild burst of affectionate confidence, her sweetheart had revealed to her. She and the authorities believe her life is in danger, and she voluntarily went to jail in White Plains for safety. It was two weeks ago that the man, in chatting with the girl who was soon to be his wife, forgot the solemn vows he had taken in the gathering place of the society and told his fiancée the secrets. He gave to her the mystic password and told the names of members. The girl didn't realize the danger and when a rival suitor called she twisted him with his activity in the order and to prove that she knew much she gave to him the password. He was arrested by the police and Santoro had talked too freely. He realized the significance of it all and told her that it was necessary for him to go to the lodge. "I'll explain it all right," he said when he was leaving. Hated for Santoro as a rival, possibly taken in connection with loyalty to the organization, prompted this man to hasten away and convey to the Master of the Lodge the fact that Santoro had violated the secrecy of the band. Two days later she was approached by a man who proposed that she leave Port Chester and go immediately to Italy, promising not to return to the United States. She refused. She was told that she must not marry Santoro. She refused to make any such sacrifice. Efforts toward those ends were continued until Wednesday, but without avail, and that afternoon Santoro called on her. She has not seen him since, and she and the county authorities believe that he might be either killed or shipped away to Italy. "I must go to the meeting of the society tonight," said Santoro, as he was leaving the girl. "I think I can explain about telling you of the pass word, and I guess it will be all right."

THREE THINGS TO DO TO END THE GREAT WARS

Notable Speech by Ambassador Bryce at the Peace Conference in New York Last Week—King and President for Peace.

(Associated Press Report.) Mr. Bryce was not able to proceed for some moments, because of the applause. When the applause had subsided, he said: "This is the fourth day on which able speakers, including some of the most eminent men from both sides of the ocean, have been demonstrating the folly and wickedness of war and the blessedness of peace. What is there left for us who speak now to add to what has been so well said on that topic? The weight of authority is great. Your president, who, like my sovereign, King Edward, has shown that he is a true lover of peace, has sent you a message of cordial sympathy. The weight of argument has been great. Members of the congress have abundantly shown to one another's satisfaction that war is not only irrational, immoral, amorphous and unchristian, but is also unprofitable. Besides being bad in other ways, it is also bad business. If there was time to go through the history of the last two centuries, it would be easy to show that whatever may be said for war, in the abstract, nearly every war within that period, has done far more harm than good. Looking back for the last sixty years, I can think of only one war, that could be called necessary, that is to say, in all the other cases either the object was not worth fighting for or the desired result might have been better obtained without fighting. "But what we have now, in this congress, got to do is to consider how we can best work for preventing wars in the future. The difficulty about such a meeting as this is that we are already agreed and convinced. I can imagine a cynical critic saying to us: 'Gentlemen, you are all, as the French say, preaching to the choir. What you have got to do is to preach to the unconvinced who are not here, to convince those whom the Scriptures call 'The people that delight in war.' You are, so this cynic, would say, 'like an assembly of sheep, asleep with irremediably white fleeces, passing resolutions which entreat the wolves to leave off biting.' To answer this cynical critic, to see what we can really do to prevent war, we have at heart, let us ask ourselves how it is that war begins. We all have seen the phenomena. Some differences arise between two nations. Each nation has what it thinks is a good case, but each nation thinks only of itself, and takes little trouble to understand the case on the other side. "The newspapers throw themselves into the fray. They embitter feeling not only by denouncing the other side, but by dwelling only on their own case, and entirely neglecting to state the case of the other nation. Every angry or spiteful thing that is said by the newspapers of the other country is reported. Everything that tends to mitigate passion is omitted. In this respect there is not a pin to choose between the newspapers of all countries. The value of the object at stake is exaggerated, and each nation is told that its honor is involved in fighting for its own views. Thus the bulk of the people are lashed into fury. The wolves are masters of the field and not a few of the sheep who had in quiet times professed their devotion to peace are suddenly turned into wolves. The governments think that the people want to fight and thus war is declared. "WHO IS TO BLAME FOR WAR? "Now, who is to blame for this? Is it the governments? No doubt they sometimes show a want of firmness in resisting popular passion, for they say, and often with truth, that it is popular feeling that

A SAD FEATURE OF WESTERN LIFE

Winnipeg Will Bury 130 Unclaimed Bodies in Free Graves This Spring.

(Winnipeg Free Press.) Approximately 440 bodies in the charnel houses of the city await burial. For nearly five months, from about the first of December until May 1, interments, owing to the severe climatic conditions, are impossible. This year grave digging will not be resumed until about the fifth or tenth of May, a week or ten days later than ordinarily. This winter, there are about forty more bodies than last year. Every spring the city is called upon to bury a number of unclaimed bodies and this year 130 or more "free" graves will be dug. Owing to the large number of strangers coming into the city there are probably buried in the most unclaimed bodies than in any other city of similar size on the continent.

THE COLD STORAGE PLAN TO COMMITTEE

Such Was the Decision of the Board of Works Yesterday.

At a meeting of the board of works yesterday considerable routine business was transacted. A committee was appointed to decide the question of the city storing salt in the warehouse and also to decide the rate at which the dredge should be loaned to work at the Fredericton booms. A committee will also decide the location of street railway terminus on Rodney wharf. The cold storage proposition was taken up on a letter from E. J. Graham offering certain terms on which his company would start operations and referred to a committee having the matter in hand. Ald. McGoldrick occupied the chair, and Ald. Hamm, Tilley, Sprout, Holder, Lantalam, Rowan, Christie, Baxter, Vanwart, Bullock and Lewis were present with the director, consulting engineer, harbor master, superintendent and common clerk. The water and sewerage board advised for the removal of the asphalt plant from the premises in Carmarthen street. It was decided to transfer the plant in the stable yard across the street. D. C. Clark asked that he be permitted to lay hemlock deals in the lower thickness on the floor of the wharf. The contract calls for spruce. Both the director and the engineer agreed that hemlock was more durable, but the board decided that the contract must be adhered to. Permission for Clark & Adams to build their crabs in Nelson slip was granted. The contractors, it was said, expected to start in about a week. The director said the street railway were anxious to start building the trestle down Rodney wharf. The ferry committee were looking into the question of moving the ferry boats and the board should decide where the track should terminate at the eastern end. On motion of Ald. Baxter, the chairman, Ald. Baxter, Tilley, Lockhart, Bullock, Vanwart and Holder were appointed to go over and decide the location of the terminus near the head of the foists. A communication from R. J. Graham with reference to the boat's terms for the cold storage warehouse was read. Mr. Graham stated that the site consisting of five lots near the new wharves would be accepted at a rental of $50 a year with tax exemption except for water and school taxes, and asked that the site might be dredged to a depth of nine feet at high tide. With reference to F. E. Williams' objection to any reason in taxes being granted Mr. Graham wrote that if Mr. Williams would guarantee to build this year his company was prepared to do business with the city on the same terms. After some discussion the matter was left to the previous committee to report back. Several minor matters were discussed and dealt with.

EVERY DAY CLUB STOOD BY HIM

J. A. Sandaford Employed by Every Day Club After His Fellow Workmen in Fleming's Objected to His Color.

The Every Day Club does not draw the color line. In this respect it differs from the men in one St. John workshop, who struck yesterday because a colored man was set at work. The Every Day Club last night engaged the same man as pianist, and amid loud applause the members pledged themselves to contribute toward his salary until such time as he can secure other employment. The man in the case is J. A. Sandaford, a native of Barbados, an educated man, a machinist of some degree of experience, and an accomplished musician. He has played the piano at the Every Day Club nearly every evening for weeks past, and had been unable to get other employment. Yesterday morning he secured a job at Fleming's but at noon had to quit because the other men in the machine shop would not work with a "nigger." When the announcement was made at a meeting of the active members of the Every Day Club last evening several members expressed their indignation in no measured terms, and it was unanimously resolved to engage Mr. Sandaford, the members present pledging themselves to pay his salary. In thanking them, Mr. Sandaford observed that he was a British subject, and added with a bitter and deep indignation his hearers that it was hardly fair to emancipate the slaves and then deny them the right to earn an honest living. He was assured by several speakers that the men in question did not represent the sentiments of the Canadian people. WAYS AND MEANS. Physician's Wife—I shall soon be wanting a new evening dress, dear. Physician—All right, my dear; I'll look over my list and find some fellow who can afford an operation for appendicitis. "Where was he struck by the motor car?" asked the coroner. "At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," answered the surgeon. "Will you please point that out on the map?" asked the coroner, indicating one that hung on the wall.

Overgarments. Notwithstanding the large stock of Raincoats, Top pers and Spring Overcoats with which we began the season we have been obliged, quite cheerfully, to reorder several times and further lots are daily expected. Black Cheviot Overcoats, silk-faced and plain, have been good sellers, at $18 and $15. Dark greys, at $12, $15 and $18 are also in brisk demand. Overcoats, in medium and light greys and in Scotch Tweeds sell well and are much in vogue in the fashion centres. A new cloth is a pretty shade of purple mixed with brown. Raincoats show no decline in popularity. We are showing exclusive patterns in high-class cloths—one or two coats of a pattern. Our range of qualities is large, $8.50 to $24. New patterns at $12 came in yesterday.

Wash Vests.

From Overgarments to Washable Vests is quite a remove. Men buy several at a time because of the good assortment and ample variety at moderate prices. The largest stock we ever carried as our sales are rapidly increasing. Men are finding out that the best selection of up-to-date vests is obtainable here.

Those who are not familiar with our stock have little idea of the variety of patterns to select from, all in wardrobes, convenient and saving both your time and ours. Every suit finished to measure. ROLLER SKATING RACE. The six day team roller skating contest was started at the Queen's Roller Rink last night, with seven teams on the scratch. Some fine and fast skating was done by the contestants. Nison and Alward seemed to be the favorites with the number present, and they put up a great fight for first position, with Gibson and Wilson 2nd. The same teams will go at it again this evening. It is too early in the race to pick a winner. Judges should be on the floor tonight to see that no foul take place, and the skaters cautioned about picking up their mate while skating.

Toronto, April 22.—Determined not to submit to an ultimatum handed them by officers of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters giving them the choice of paying $12 per week instead of $10 and requiring them to work only six twelve hour days per week or have a strike, several leading lively stable men have declared a lockout unless the men would consent to work under the old conditions. The result is that about 200 men are out. The city is without a cab driver, and even funerals have to be held without cabs, although a few livery rigs, automobiles and street cars are available. PUGSLEY SUPPORTERS WON GREAT VICTORY AT PRIMARIES LAST NIGHT

Ward and Parish Delegations Presented Unbroken Front in Favor of the Premier as St. John's Candidate--Primaries Were Well Attended and Were Practically Unanimous for Pugsley.

The Liberal primaries Monday were swept by the supporters of Hon. Dr. Pugsley for the St. John city and county nomination and an overwhelming majority of delegates favorable to Dr. Pugsley as the candidate were chosen to represent the Liberal electors at the nomination convention to be held Friday night. Nearly every ward returned the Pugsley ticket of delegates intact; in some wards there was no opposition to the delegates who were known to favor Dr. Pugsley, and as over Monday it was said that in only one ward was it sure that a delegate favorable to some candidate other than Dr. Pugsley had been chosen, while among the total list that man stood alone.

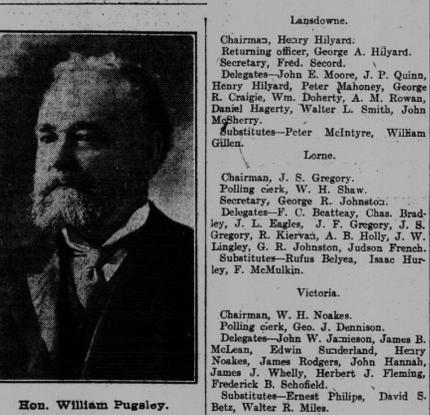

The meetings were much more largely attended than usual and marked with much interest, and there was very strong evidence of the great tide of popular opinion which has swept over the city and county in favor of the return of Dr. Pugsley to Ottawa for the seat rendered vacant by the death of Dr. Stockton.

The meetings were well conducted, and it was noticed that there was an improvement in methods over those which have prevailed at previous primaries. In former times the voting was done in a less manly and the universal balloting, then merely collected in a hat. Monday evening, however, a ballot box was found in every ward and in an systematic manner as would prevail at a general election.

In the county parishes, as well as in the city, there appears to have been a great interest, as the reports that come in tell of good gatherings and the universal balloting, then merely collected in a hat. Monday evening, however, a ballot box was found in every ward and in an systematic manner as would prevail at a general election.

At all the meetings places were very noticeable how strong the feeling was in favor of Dr. Pugsley as the candidate. SIR WILFRID AND BOTHA CARRIED THEIR POINTS IN A COLONIAL CONFERENCE

Montreal, April 22.—A special London cable says: The bald official summary of the colonial conference debates gives but a crude idea of the really sharp differences of opinion which exist among the members. For practical purposes the conference is now divided into two distinct camps. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and General Botha, of the Transvaal, constitute one and Premier Deakin, of Australia; Ward, of New Zealand; James, of Cape Colony, and Moore, of Natal, constitute the other.

British and colonial governments, the colonial office being left to manage the colonies. Sir Wilfrid Laurier only agreed to the creation of a secretariat of conference for the purpose of the British taxpayers will entirely pay, because by the natural expansion of the role of high commissioner. Again with the help of Lord Elgin, Sir Wilfrid was chiefly instrumental in defeating the other premiers' desire for disclosure of the proceedings of the conference. In order to educate the public, he held that publicity would turn what should be a kind of a cabinet meeting into a debating society, hence the adopted compromise under which the colonial office issues to the press its own well edited précis of the chief points raised by each minister.

been expressed whether it was suitable for a fast mail service. The deputation quoted the success of the ferry between Denmark and Germany and also the proposal argued before parliament to adopt a ferry between Dover and Calais. The deputation represented that all the necessary money for the scheme, including Lord Strathcona's conditional promise of $500,000, was now in sight, provided that Canada co-operates.

MORE MONEY FOR N. S. LEGISLATORS

Halifax, N. S., April 22.—The provincial estimates were brought down in the legislature today. Receipts are figured at $1,483,888, which is $108,671 more than last year. Of the difference, $85,000 is expected from mine royalties. The opposition, which objected to the recent advance in salaries of members of the government, will also oppose this sessional increase.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, castor oil, which will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man. If physicians can but find Nature's way to health, and this is strictly true with regard to Constipation, the bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes etc. this Sennacasa bark is given its greatest possible power to correct Constipation. A fashionable Druggist, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Sippy Laboratories, 125 Union Street, New York City. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Stomach and Bowel Complaints, etc. is indeed prompt and satisfying.

Lax-ets Spring Flowers
