THRILLS AND PATHOS
In Mother Love Film

Mother love, idealized, glorified and immortalized, is the theme of "The Sage Hen" the Edgar Lewis production which was shown at the Queen Square Theatre yesterday and continues today. The film is a masterpiece of western comedy drama.

15 ENGLISH
BABY PILGRIMS

Come to America to Take Domestic Refuge—Will be Cared for Until Adopted.

New York, May 26.—Plymouth Rock history repeated itself on Sunday with some variations, when fifteen English baby pilgrims, each less than a year old, landed here upon an America as they were being taken to their adoptive parents who had been waiting for them on the good ship Mayflower on the New England coast.

These infant adventurers, however, are not suffering from the aftermath of a storm-tossed voyage, for they have been tenderly swaddled in the cabins of the luxury steamship Aquatania by nurses who will care for them until they are adopted in sumptuous homes in New York society.

Through the influence of the National Adoption Society of England and the American committee of that organization, these findlings within a few days will be listed in the social register, instead of fighting an uphill battle in London slums.

A number of governmental immigration regulations had to be abrogated to allow the infants to take domestic refuge in America. Through the Department of Labor the literacy test at Ellis Island was eliminated, there being no need for the infants to be tested. The chairman of the adoption committee of the National Adoption Society, Miss Charlotte Baker, Bishop William T. Lusk, Hotel de Ville, New York; Dr. and Mrs. Henry Dwight Chapin, and Miss Josephine Fowdrey, an English nurse, who has been associated with the London headquarters of the society.

NEW QUEBEC
LAW FALLS ON TECHNICALITY

Montreal, May 26.—The first prosecution by the officers of the Quebec liquor commission under the new liquor act failed yesterday in the police court here when Judge Lanctot dismissed an action against P. Garreau, an employee of Lunenburg, who had been charged with charging interference with the liquor commission police during a raid on May 25.

An irregularity in the signing of the complaint on which Garreau was arrested was the cause of the dismissal of the case after a lengthy argument. It had not been signed by the collector of provincial revenue, as required by law, but by an officer of the liquor commission police during a raid on May 25.

MOB FIGHTS POLICE
IN RAID ON SALOON

Shots Fired and Clubs Used by Detectives and Patrolmen in Lively Battle.

(New York Times.)
Eleventh avenue residents in the vicinity of Fifty-first street showed some of their old time fighting spirit yesterday after a riot broke out when they resisted a raid by two detectives on a saloon at 719 Eleventh avenue. The last two weeks by James Campbell, twenty-five, of 789 Amsterdam avenue.

The riot and three patrolmen who went to their assistance were badly hurt in a struggle in the street, with a large crowd not in sympathy with the state dry laws, while a number of the attacking party went away with money. The riot-sticks which the officers used freely after shots fired into the air had been informed the owner that the "hard" staff discovered the safe, Mondelka walked over to the saloon and was snatched open the door. Meanwhile his partner was leaning over the bar. Finding two quart bottles, one partly filled with Scotch whisky and the other containing gin, the detective called to Campbell that he had found the safe.

Campbell, according to the detectives, asserted that Mondelka could not get into the safe, and they immediately sided with the owner of the saloon. They gathered around the two detectives, who by this time had taken Campbell into custody, and indulged in abusive language.

Mondelka broke through the crowd and to the front door, where he blew his police whistle. The signal was promptly answered by Patrolmen James Herrell, Frank Reilly and John Kitson, all of the West Forty-seventh street station. The crowd meanwhile had grown rapidly. Fighting their way through the mob the patrolmen reached the detectives and their prisoner, and after battling with the crowd for several minutes got Campbell into a passing taxicab.

The patrolman started to take the trouble over. As Patrolman Kitson got half way down the street, man, later identified as William Sheridan, forty-six years old, of 542 West Forty-sixth street, made a dive for the officer's feet and the patrolman fell. Then the crowd surged around the policeman, who lay prone for several minutes.

The other patrolmen rushed to the assistance of their fellow officer. Drawing their revolvers, they called to the crowd to stand back. This had little effect and the patrolmen fired several shots into the air. The crowd fell back a few feet and the policemen got to Kitson, who by this time was on his feet. Bats and sticks were picked up by the attacking party and hurled at the policemen, some of the missiles hitting their mark. The crowd surged about for some time before the officers finally got Sheridan into a taxicab bound for the police station. Sheridan, who said he was a freeman on the toughest of the police station, was charged with disorderly conduct. He was somewhat disfigured as a result of the melee, but not seriously hurt.

HARBOR COMMISSION

The question of harbor commission is never recurring because the city council does not reject the impossible scheme which was prepared at Ottawa, without consulting the citizens. The two or three advocates of commission keep on assuring the people in anonymous letters that great benefits would be derived from handing over the harbor from Green Head to Red Head without any assurance from the government that anything whatever would be done along the line of harbor improvement. If the government does not now see the necessity of providing terminals here for its own military and steamship lines, and if it regards its signed agreement with the city as a scrap of paper, a harbor commission would not change its attitude. Nor is a commission at all necessary if the government renews its pledges and provides the terminals needed for the traffic of its own railways and steamships. The citizens must bear in mind that not only is harbor revenue under the commission scheme called upon to pay the increased cost of administration and the interest on past government expenditure here, including the marine wharf and grain elevator, but the interest and sinking fund on all new expenditures. We are told by the two or three advocates of commission that the government would be generous and absorb all deficits, but who would be willing to depend on the government's generosity? There is no talk of harbor commission in Halifax. If the city council will pass a resolution rejecting the scheme the way will then be paved for a demand for harbor improvement.

THE U. S. AND THE LEAGUE

Just how far was Col. Harvey, the American ambassador in London, justified in declaring the United States would have nothing to do with the League of Nations? Did he express the real views of President Harding? Senator Hitchcock thinks not, for he says: "I shall be very much surprised, however, if President Harding gave him the authority to do so. Neither the ambassador to Great Britain nor the ambassador to any other country is in any position to announce the foreign policy of the United States."

There is a suggestion that the president and his advisers, especially Hughes and Hoover, may be moving cautiously in the direction Col. Harvey says they will not take, and that they are moving thus cautiously to avoid a break with the senate group which was responsible for the rejection of the League of Nations proposal. Col. Harvey was quite as cautious in declaring the desire of his government to co-operate with that of Britain as he was in repudiating the League of Nations. He said: "I shall fall miserably in my mission if I do not so greatly strengthen those bonds of friendship and mutual helpfulness that heretofore our respective governments will not only prefer desirable agreements to tentative compromises as between themselves, but will instinctively approach all world problems from the same angle as of common sense and inseparable concern."

One American writer declares that "what our new ambassador is preaching at the capital seat is a real country of purpose and action between the English-speaking peoples" and he adds: "It is in connection with his further statement that he could personally testify that the king and president see eye-to-eye, Col. Harvey's address was accepted as having great significance as an indication of not merely static agreement between the two countries but dynamic co-operation between them."

One Washington correspondent suggests that the president may gradually swerve toward the League of Nations, perhaps in a modified form, but such a swerve would mean American participation in world affairs, instead of attempting to maintain a policy of isolation. The Manchester (Eng.) Guardian is by no means discouraged. It says: "We have heard that even President Harding favors an association of nations. If we cannot gain the goal in one leap we must proceed little by little. On the whole we welcome Ambassador Harvey's words as quite comforting after the bleak reports of complete American isolation."

The Bangor Commercial agrees with the Guardian that the case is by no means hopeless. It says: "The main fact is that the United States, with or without its consent is a participant in European politics. Our position would be much stronger if we are a member of an association of nations that is moving along a definite channel course, an association in which our influence would be felt and in which that influence could be used for the benefit of the world generally and not be confined to acting as a possible umpire on one side or the other of the contentions arising from personal interests in the Allied Council. Col. Harvey may have been speaking by the card when he told Europe that the United States would not enter the League of Nations in any guise, but we believe, whatever may be the present intention, that the time will speedily arrive when the administration will find that American interests demand an association of nations to straighten out European controversies and powerful enough to make any nation hesitant in making its decisions."

LADY TILLEY

Lady Tilley, whose passing is universally mourned today, would have been an outstanding figure in any society. She possessed the qualities that make for leadership, and her broad human sympathy would have rendered it impossible for her to remain apart from the life of the people. It was her happy fortune to begin her married life in the year that saw the union of the provinces, and to become the wife of one of the founders of the confederation. Thus she was thrown into the midst of the political and social life of the new Canada, with which for nearly thirty years thereafter, until the death of Sir Leonard Tilley, she was most intimately associated. Upon his death she went into retirement, but never lost touch with the causes which it had been her great joy to promote for the benefit of human suffering. Her name is associated with the Red Cross, the Boys' Industrial Home, the hospitals, the Seamen's Institute, the Council of Women, the Women's Canadian Club and other organizations. Her life was full of good works. She was not merely content to be a social leader, but sought ever to exert the influence of social position to advance those causes which merited her devotion. Whether in Ottawa, Fredericton, St. John or St. Andrews, her heart and mind were ever busy over matters related to community welfare, and it was always a delight to her to learn of the good work of others. To forward the movements in which she was interested called for tact, patience and organizing ability of a high order; and all these she possessed in a marked degree. The name of Lady Tilley will be best remembered, however, in connection with the work of the Red Cross. She organized the New Brunswick Red Cross Society at the time of the Boer war, and reorganized it at the beginning of the last great conflict. For her services she received royal recognition, as well as the high regard and affection of the people of her native province.

As typical of the work accomplished by Lady Tilley may be cited the Boys' Industrial Home. One of the daily newspapers printed a series of articles describing the conditions under which mere boys were herded with criminals in the common jail. The whole party of the city joined in urging Lady Tilley, through her influence with the powers at Ottawa, secured the use of the building at East St. John, gained also the sympathy and support of the provincial government and legislature, and the Boys' Industrial Home was established. When she essayed a task there was no pause until real results were achieved. The influence of such a life cannot be measured. It is both an example and an inspiration. Lady Tilley lived a long life and retained her interest in all that pertained to the welfare of Canada and its people until the last.

The women of this province, who best know her, will not let her memory pass unremembered. It is a worthy help-meet to a man the people delighted to honor in his life and in his death; and the sum of the labor of these two lives, measured in its effect upon public welfare, will stand as an inspiration to those who come after them.

A NOTABLE TRIBUTE

Hon. George H. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, has received a remarkable and well deserved honor at the hands of the people's representatives in the legislature. Not only have they by unanimous vote extended their congratulations on the approaching twenty-fifth anniversary of his rise to the premiership of the province, but they have granted him an annuity of $5,000 per year, to begin on his retirement from public life, which all will hope may not be for years to come. Politicians are very frequently denounced as a class, and without real justification, for they are not all cast in the same mould. Here was a man whose sincerity and high-mindedness so appealed to the people that for twenty-five years they have followed his leadership. The Halifax Chronicle well says: "The occasion was unique. Never before in the history of the British Empire has one man for so long a time guided the destinies either of the mother country or any one of the states which go to make up the great British commonwealth. Twenty-five years a prime minister; a quarter of a century to guide the affairs of his fellow countrymen; twenty-five years in which he labored and watched and sacrificed for the love of his native land."

In the house of assembly members of both parties paid their tribute to Mr. Murray and sunk all their differences while they praised the leader who is today a national figure, and one of the most beloved men of his generation. His most ardent admirers would not contend that Mr. Murray never erred in judgment, but even his opponents agree that his motives were always above suspicion. That he may be restored to health and to the public service which he admires will be the hope and the wish of all Canadians.

The U. S. General Presbyterian Assembly urged President Harding to call a conference of the nations for progressive disarmament.

A DAFFODIL FROM VIMY RIDGE

Daffodil, springing from field so grim,
Daffodil, kiss me, kiss me from him.
And give me his message! Answer me!
How did he fall on that piteous day?
Say.

Was it on crest of the highest hill?
Where he lay lying - Daffodil?
"O tender companion of sun and of rain,
For this we have blossomed on Vimy again."

"For this—without ceremony's gleaming grace
We have covered the fallen in every place."

"Yes, with billowy flutter of pale, pale gold
Your dead here we hidden in love-unfold."
—Florence Randal Livesey.

THE COMMODORE HAD A BIRTHDAY

(J. L. Stewart in Chatham World.)
One of my many pleasant memories of the pilgrim's trip to the coast of the Atlantic which I was the guest of honor. It was organized without my getting the slightest idea of it. I was simply told that, instead of dining as usual at our quartette table, we were to dine at the Commodore. I cut the cake, one cut, and left the rest of the carrying to the chairman. The guests were all ladies (imaginary, any ladies) except two. There was a presentation and a poetical address. One of the ladies read the address and Mr. J. W. Davison of Rothesay made the presentation speech. The presents included a cane and a miniature yacht, and on board the yacht was a pink-gowned lady with golden hair. She was supposed to be on a yacht in the harbor with me, the orator of the evening, and I noticed that she had had the chairman's picture and was excited to cut my birthday cake. There was the cake before me, a fine specimen of the confederate era, and it suddenly dawned on me that this was my birthday and this a birthday dinner in my honor. I cut the cake, one cut, and left the rest of the carrying to the chairman. The guests were all ladies (imaginary, any ladies) except two. There was a presentation and a poetical address. One of the ladies read the address and Mr. J. W. Davison of Rothesay made the presentation speech. The presents included a cane and a miniature yacht, and on board the yacht was a pink-gowned lady with golden hair. She was supposed to be on a yacht in the harbor with me, the orator of the evening, and I noticed that she had had the chairman's picture and was excited to cut my birthday cake. RECENT DEATHS

Lady Tilley
After a lifetime abundantly fruitful in good works Lady Tilley passed away yesterday afternoon at her residence, Carleton House, Germain street. Word of her death was received in the city with great sorrow.

Lady Tilley, who before her marriage was Miss Alice Starr Chipman, was born in St. Stephen, Charlotte county, in 1844, and was the eldest child of Zachariah Chipman and his wife, formerly Miss Mary DeWolfe. She had three sisters and two brothers, Col. John D. Chipman, who died two years ago; the late Mrs. Owen Jones, and Mrs. Frederick Toller, of Ottawa, and Mrs. W. H. Harland of London, England, who survive.

She was educated in St. John and in London, England. In October, 1867, she married, as his second wife, Sir Leonard Tilley, K. C. M. G., one of the Fathers of Confederation who was minister of Finance under Sir John A. Macdonald, a privy councillor and for thirteen years Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick.

Lady Tilley was a leader in public life and in social circles in Ottawa, Fredericton and St. John. She was presented to the late Queen Victoria at Osborne in 1884 and to the late King Edward and Queen Alexandra when they were Prince and Princess of Wales. On the death of her husband in 1896 she took up her residence in St. John and her country homes at St. Andrews and Hothesay.

No good cause ever lacked her support and she was a pioneer in many of the greatest philanthropic works in her native province, but her outstanding work was done in connection with the Red Cross Society. She organized the New Brunswick Red Cross Society during the Boer War and reorganized it at the outbreak of the Great War, being called from St. Andrews to undertake that responsible task. She was in turn organizing president, treasurer, president and honorary president of the New Brunswick division of the Red Cross Society. She was made an honorary member of the Canadian Central Council of the Red Cross and vice-president for the province of New Brunswick and was decorated with the Order of Lady of Grace in recognition of her work for the Red Cross Society.

Her ability as an organizer was very great and her efforts in hospital matters and the care of the sick were the most outstanding of all her good works. She organized and founded the Victoria Hospital in Fredericton. She united with her brother and sisters to present the old homestead, the fine residence in St. Stephen, to the province as the Chipman Memorial Hospital, commemorating the life of her parents. Having had a share in presenting that gift, Lady Tilley organized the present hospital. She founded the nurses' home of the general public hospital in St. John, which soon is to be replaced by the newly erected home. She was a member of the board of directors of the Boys' Industrial Home and one of its founders. She took keen interest in the work of the Seaman's Institute and, during the war, in Queen Mary's Needlework Guild.

She was one of the founders of the St. John Local Council of Women and its first president. At one time she was a director of the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and of the St. John Women's Art Association. She founded the Women's Canadian Club in St. John and was its first president.

The funeral service is to be held at Stone church on Friday afternoon at 2:30 and interment will be made in Fernhill cemetery, where Sir Leonard Tilley is buried.

Lady Tilley had two sons, Herbert Chipman Tilley, who died in 1909, and Leonard P. D. Tilley, who survives. She leaves also three grandchildren, children of Leonard Tilley, Alice Harland and Leonard, and two step-children, Mrs. Burpee and Mrs. John B. Chipman of

There is a difference and there is a reason.

THE DIFFERENCE—When compared with other coals, RADIO shows a big percentage less ash; a big percentage less stone and a lot less bother in as much as it burns cleanly.

THE REASON—The quality of Radio, the efficiency with which an order is handled and the prompt and courteous way in which it is delivered.

The DELTOR

That Saves 50c to $10—or More on Materials Alone

By a "PICTURE-CHART", The Deltor shows you exactly how the expert cutter would lay out every size, every view of your pattern, on every width of suitable material, to get the most marvellously economical use of the goods. And with the chart before you, you can instantly do what it took the expert hours to work out!

By a "PICTURE-GUIDE", The Deltor shows you exactly how the expert fitter joined each piece to the next. It makes every single step so plain that, without the least effort, you almost unconsciously achieve that perfect "set" of collar, sleeve—every part—which is the despair of all but the artists of the famous shops of Paris or Fifth Avenue.

By "FINISHING-HINTS", The Deltor gives you all those clever little tricks—those means of securing distinction in ornament, trimming and finishing—that so absolutely differentiate the finished charm of Parisian handiwork from either "home-made" or "ready-made".

The DELTOR
now accompanies every new Butterick pattern—giving you, in addition to Butterick's Parisian style, the ability to create the exact counterpart of what heretofore only Paris or Fifth Avenue could produce. Ask for "Butterick pattern with Deltor" for the very next garment you plan to make.

Joseph Guichon Had Accumulated Great Wealth in 37 Years.

Vancouver, May 26.—One of the last of the great cattle barons of the continent died in Vancouver a few days ago in the person of Joseph Guichon, owner of 88,000 acres of land in the Nicola Valley and many thousand head of cattle. The estate remains in the hands of his widow, four sons and three daughters, who will operate on a joint stock basis.

France, in 1844, in a district famous for colporteurs. Naturally enough, Mr. Guichon followed the fashion, and with his pack on his back left home at a very early age. In 1864 he came to British Columbia, travelling round the Horn, and made his way to the gold diggings at Yale. Later he joined the Caribon gold rush, being the youngest man to brave the hardships of the then scarcely known country.

Falling to make a stake at gold mining, Mr. Guichon turned his attention to packing, by which means he amassed considerable wealth. When an effort was made to establish camel pack trails on the Caribon road—a venture which ended disastrously for the backers—Mr. Guichon sold all his outfit, bought land at Quilchena, and went into the stock raising business.

In those early days land was to be had almost for the taking, and by judicious investments, Mr. Guichon added to his holdings until he had the largest ranch in southern British Columbia. A few years ago he bought a 18,000 acre adjoining his own estates, for spot cash. Before the days of prohibition the old pioneer ran a large hotel as a side line, but this was closed when the province went "dry." Like most of the rich old-timers, the late Mr. Guichon was extremely generous, and his reputation as a Catholic philanthropist was Dominion-wide for many years. For some time he had been leading a retired life in Vancouver, where he had the misfortune to break a leg last January, complications from this in a great measure being responsible for his death.

WILL ROGERS IS AGAIN VERY FUNNY

Imperial Showing Him in "Honest Hutch," a Golden Rural Story.

Folks who like homely, rural fiction revel in Will Rogers pictures. Some have heard and seen Rogers in the New York. Folks of late years and his droveries whilst he works fancy stunts with a lasso have made him a dead certain favorite with them. How the comedian impart his droveries and absolutely true life wit to the screen makes him a sort of a duplex artist. At the Imperial again today he will be seen in one of his very best Golden productions, a story entitled "Honest Hutch," otherwise known to the readers as Garret Smith's magazine story.

Will Rogers plays Old Hutch, the latest man in the latest village in the world. The most strenuous thing Hutch ever did was to extract tobacco money from his work-riding wife. A mysterious ailment of the neck prevented his engaging in anything remotely resembling labor, but he was able, by an almost super-human effort, to drag himself to the river bank on sunny days to fish for mythical trout.

It was on one of these excursions that Hutch collided with the miracle that changed his life. He needed worms, and dug up instead a tin box containing fifty one-thousand dollar notes—the fruits of a bank robbery in Vancouver. The bank robber made a tactical error in burying his loot upon the exact spot where Hutch was wont to realize his every length on sultry afternoons.

Hutch, electrified by his find, does some tentative thinking. He knows if he ever dashed a thousand note in the village, the natives would crip him behind iron bars just as soon as they could securely recover from the shock. So he decides to become respectable, work, save, and thus prepare them for his wealth.

The astonishment of his wife and children at the sight of Hutch plowing a field and otherwise comporting himself like a diligent farmer will only be equalled by the astonishment of the audience. And the story of how he becomes respectable, industrious—and honest—is a story that, for surprise, for pathos and for genuine entertainment has seldom been equalled upon the screen.

This Rogers picture was complemented by one of the newest and funniest Buster Keaton comedies, a yarn of a terribly bad gal who got into the penitentiary because of it. It is called "Convict 13" and is a scream.

CHILDREN BURIED ALIVE.
Chicago, May 26.—Several children were reported by the police to have been buried alive in the collapse of a four-story building on the West Side. The building had been vacant for some time. The building was located on the southwest side beside a structure wrecked by an explosion of fireworks with the loss of six lives several weeks ago. The children were playing in the vacant structure when the walls fell.

What do you Know about the Mattress you Sleep on

A WOMAN would be shocked if she could know the true inside history of many a mattress that looks so nice on her beds.

Its beautiful ticking may be filled with anything—even material "renovated" from old hospital mattresses, or mattresses discarded from homes where there has been infectious disease.

She bought it in good faith.

Her merchant sold it to her in good faith.

Perhaps it is pure and clean. Perhaps not.

It all depends on the integrity of the manufacturer. There are no Dominion-wide pure bedding laws.

There is nothing but his conscience to prevent anyone from making mattresses in sweat-shops or disease-ridden tenements. Nothing to prevent the use of "renovated" material. Nothing to prevent a mattress from being hauled uncovered in an open truck through the dust and dirt of the streets.

SIMMONS LIMITED is going out to clean up the whole mattress situation. Remember, please, that we say this without prejudice to any mattress maker of integrity.

We do not for a moment imply that Simmons Limited are the only makers of sanitary mattresses.

But as originators of Simmons Beds, Springs and Mattresses Built for Sleep—as the largest single factor in the business, we are concerned for the integrity of the industry, and the consequent well-being of the people of Canada.

We are putting at your service a mattress built of new, clean materials through and through, without equivocation or excuse.

Here is our statement to the merchant

"Cut open any Simmons Mattress that comes into your store. If you do not find it up to specifications or better—ship back every item of Simmons merchandise and never send us another order."

THE Label of Simmons Limited is your unfailing assurance of a mattress built for sleep, of clean, pure, new materials. A mattress built—not stuffed.

Built in airy, sun-flooded work-rooms, by highly skilled work-people.

Ticking of the best. Stitching and tufting close, firm, uniform. Roll edge.

A mattress resilient, luxurious. Built for sleep.

EVERY Simmons Mattress comes to you in a sealed carton roll.

It is sealed in our sunlight work-rooms.

It is delivered sealed to your dealer.

It is never opened until you break the seal in your own home.

Each carton bears the seal of Simmons Limited on each end.

These seals are your guarantee that inside the carton is a complete Simmons Mattress—through and through precisely the same grade as your merchant offered for your inspection in the store.

A mattress made wholly of new, clean, sanitary cotton—an invitation to ease of mind as well as ease of muscle and nerve, and such sleep as you have never known before.

Simmons Limited offers these fine sanitary mattresses, built for sleep, in four styles, distinguished by Labels of different color

Blue Label—$35 Green Label—$19.50

Red Label—$25 White Label—$12.75

A range of prices to suit every purse and every need.

The Simmons Label is our pledge to you that, so far at least as Simmons Limited is concerned, you may buy Mattresses with a mind wholly at ease about their sanitary quality—mattresses built for sleep.

Canada has no Pure Bedding Laws—but Simmons Limited has!

CHINESE LEARN NEW WAYS. This is Shown in Their Goods and in the Selling Methods.

Chinese silk manufacturers are realizing that modern methods must be adopted if they are to obtain western trade, and they have made a great innovation in opening a mail order and export department in Shanghai, said a Chinese merchant in New York. The silks are manufactured in Hang-Show and Suichow, and heretofore, even with those firms having purchasing agents in Shanghai, the agent was obliged to give his orders. Now he goes to the Shanghai headquarters, where he can comfortably talk business. This innovation will make several weeks' difference in time in the delivery of the goods, whether the order is given personally or sent by mail. The name of the manufacturing firm, woven into the end of a despatch to the London Times.

OF the piece of silk, is another concession of the Chinese to modern ideas and an acknowledgment of their recent appreciation of the value of advertising. For some time now Chinese silk manufacturers have been making concessions in the matter of width and yardage of their products. The silks, as originally manufactured, were exceedingly narrow, not much wider than material used in this country for scarves or sashes, and they ran about eighteen yards to a piece. Now they run up to thirty-odd inches in width and forty or more yards to a piece. They will, in fact, give any width or yardage ordered.

WHY SHE BECAME MAYOR. Mrs. Ousley Was Inspired to Run by Injustice Done to a Boy.

St. Louis, Mo., May 26.-The mayor of St. James, Mo., in a pale gray satin gown, with hat, hose and pumps to match, pink cheeks and dark eyes, told the St. Louis League of Women Voters how she came to be elected.

"What is this?" she said she exclaimed to the officer. "You take little boys to the reformatory without even a trial in court! Why, you would treat the worst criminal like that."

From that day, she said, she announced her candidacy for the mayoralty. "It was a joke," she added, "until about seven o'clock election night."

Disband Bavarian Guard. London, May 26.-Decision that the Bavarian citizens' guard must submit to disbandment was reached today by the Bavarian council of ministers, says a despatch to the London Times.

ORDERS ARE ORDERS. "We Who Are About to Die, Salute Thee?"

Quebec, May 25.-Instructions have been received by Captain T. M. Street of the United States army, from the department at Washington, asking him to proceed at the end of the month with four river transport boats, which were inbound here all winter, to New York via the Gulf. Captain Street says that the boats are unseaworthy and that after they were built last year they were almost wrecked in a storm on Lake Erie. Despite his protest, however, the orders stand, and in signifying his willingness to carry them out he wrote his salute. "We who are about to die, salute thee."

WEST SAYS IT'S BEYOND MONEY

Wouldn't Sell Good Tanlac Did Him For Any Amount, Declares Winnipeg Man.

"You couldn't pile up money enough around me to buy the good Tanlac has done me," said Harry West, 1018 Notre Dame Ave., Winnipeg.

"I had indigestion so bad I was really afraid to eat on account of the awful pains after meals. Why, they nearly drew me double. I was so nervous that honestly, I had about forgotten how it felt to get a good night's sleep. But my worst trouble was rheumatism, for my whole body ached from head to foot."

"I couldn't bend my knees, in fact my legs were as stiff as a board. My arms were practically useless, for I couldn't even fasten my collar and tie. I had an awful time every morning getting my clothes on. These troubles bothered me for several years, and it seemed to me I tried everything that was going store, but nothing ever helped me."

"Well, Tanlac didn't stop at that either, for it has knocked out my rheumatism completely, something I never dreamed it would do. I can bend my knees, use my arms and get around in every way as well as I ever could. It has been three months since I finished my last bottle of Tanlac, and I haven't a pain in all that time. In fact, the medicine has put me on my feet, feeling like a brand new man. It certainly is great."

POWER COMPANY ISSUES STATEMENT

A statement was issued yesterday afternoon by the general manager of the N. B. Power Company, which stated that because of the notification given the company by the employees, the manager wishes to inform them that the company would hereafter deal with its employees direct, and that after June 15 there would be a cut in wages of approximately twenty per cent. The statement also announced that the com-

Those Nasty Little Pimples That Come On The Face Are Caused By Bad Blood

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by the unsightly pimples and various other skin troubles caused wholly by bad blood.

Many a cheek and brow cast in the mould of beauty have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and the possessor of the "pimply face" rendered unhappy for years.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted as well as pain and regret to their friends.

There is an effective remedy for these facial defects and that is Burdock Blood Bitters, the old reliable medicine that has been on the market for over 40 years.

It drives out all the impurities from the blood, and leaves the complexion clear and healthy.

Mrs. James Williams, Waterford, Ont., writes: "My face was covered with pimples for nearly a year. I used different kinds of remedies to get rid of them and finally thought there was no relief. A friend dropped in one day and told me I should try Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and used three bottles, and found the pimples were all disappearing from my face, and now I have a clear complexion again."

B. B. B. is manufactured only by the B. Williams Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"The trouble lasted two weeks before I tried Cuticura. When I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment for about two weeks I was healed." (Signed) Reginald Daigle, R. F. D. 2, Fort Kent, Maine.

Young Girls Need Care

FROM the age of twelve a girl needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter make life easier for her.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions. It can be taken in safety by any woman, young or old.

Cobourg, Ont.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition, with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She has become regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable Compound, and attends school regularly. She is gaining steadily and I have no hesitation in recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine."—Mrs. JOHN TOME, Ball St., Cobourg.

Carbon, Alta.—"I was in a general run-down condition with a weak back and a tired feeling so that I did not feel like working. My mother was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me, so I have taken it and my back is better and I am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my neighbors and you may publish my letter."—Mrs. JOSEPHAT A. GREINER, Box 47, Carbon, Alta.
