BEATIE GOES TO DEATH UNSHAKEN

Urged to Confess the Murder, He Utters No Word SMILES AT QUESTION Little Disturbed as Minister Prays—No Member of Family Near as Death March is Begun—Electric Current's Work Quickly Done

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was electrocuted in the state prison today at twenty-five minutes to seven o'clock. One minute after the shock was pronounced dead. He went to the cell chamber unshaken, and although urged by his spiritual adviser to confess the murder of his wife, last July, he smiled.

To go before your Maker with a lie on your lips," exhorted the pastor, "is a crime, if guilty speak." Beattie smiled, it doggedly shook his head. He was ordered. Later when asked by James B. Wood, superintendent of the prison, if he was anything to say before the execution, he was silent.

Beattie is said to have left a statement with his spiritual advisers, Rev. John Fox and Benjamin Dennis. It is not a confession.

BLOCKADE OF DARDANELLES BY ITALIANS

Constantinople, Nov. 24—Neutral commerce is seriously threatened by the proposed blockade of the Dardanelles by Italy and Turkey's consequent defensive measures. The ambassadors of the foreign powers here are conferring on the subject as it is believed that Italian action will not be delayed much longer. It is thought that Italy may even try to force the Dardanelles and dictate her terms of peace at Constantinople.

PROJECTS HANG FIRE

Street Railway Extension and the New Bridge Across the Falls The plans for extending the street car lines out beyond the Marsh bridge are still being held up until an agreement regarding the crossing of the railway tracks at Haymarket Square can be arrived at between the St. John Railway Company and the I. C. R. It is understood that a proposition regarding the terms under which the crossing could be made, the provision for safe-guarding it, etc., was made to the company by the railway, but as the terms were regarded as too onerous, a counter offer was made, and the negotiations are still going on.

ONTARIO CENSORSHIP OF MOVING PICTURES

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 24—G. E. Armstrong, chairman of the provincial board of censors of moving picture films, said yesterday that after December 1 all films not showing the board's stamp of approval would be confiscated. The act came into force on July 1 last, and since that time several thousand reels of films have been examined. With reference to the cutting out of the stars and stripes, shown in many films, not all films will be examined. He prohibited, but in all the films with the exception of the coronation pictures, scarcely a Union Jack was noted.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK TO FAR OFF BAFFIN'S LAND

Wycliffe Student Missionaries Report on Their Work Toronto, Nov. 24—(Special)—Six Wycliffe student missionaries, Messrs. O. P. D. Hurford, A. L. Fleming, J. W. McDonald, C. S. Ferguson, A. D. Greene and W. S. A. Larter, have seven minute accounts of their work at the annual meeting of the society last night. Their experiences covered the country from Fredericton, N. B., to the Columbia Coast Mission and north to Baffin Land. It was a common thing for them to report holding four services on a Sunday and driving fifty miles in the process. The field covered work in the railroad construction and lumber camps, in the newly settled prairie districts and so on. Several of the speakers spoke with regret of the overlapping in mission work by the various churches and Mr. McDonald advocated the establishment of an inter-denominational board of missions to regulate this and to release a number of the men who would then be free to go to the foreign fields.

NO DIRECT AID TO McNAMARA

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 24—The American Federation of Labor will make no direct appropriation for the defense of the McNamara. The opportunity to do so passed yesterday when the convention adopted the recommendations of a committee that the labor organizations throughout the country should appeal to for more funds. By a vote of 196 to 7 the convention requested all salaried officers of the federation and affiliated unions to give one week's pay to the McNamara defense fund. President Gompers estimates about $80,000 will be thus added to the fund, now reported to be $200,000.

GOLD FIND REPORTED

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 24—Some excitement has been caused here by the alleged discovery of gold by the Pleasant Ridge syndicate, Ontario township, of which Thomas A. Cox is the chief promoter. It is said a vein was struck twelve feet below the ground, while drilling operations for oil were in progress. An analysis showed possibilities of important discoveries.

NEW RECORD MADE IN LOADING COLLIER

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 24—The world's record for coal loading was broken here yesterday by the Collier, Captain Arthur Abbott, of the New England Coal Coke Company, of Massachusetts. Seven thousand tons of coal and 600 tons of extra fuel were loaded, the cargo trimmed and a vessel made ready for sailing in four hours and 35 minutes.

The Whirligig of Time in the Life of Beautiful Countess—A 500 Gallon Cask of Ale Awaits Coming of Age of Earl of Carnarvon

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company.)

The whirligig of time brings about many odd changes. Some thirty years ago, the fascinating Countess Alexandra Hiten Czapska, wife of young Nicholas de Kolomine, secretary of the Russian legation at Bernes, was the toast of the town in the Swiss capital.

A Noble Archaeologist Lord Carnarvon, whose name was on two occasions published as about to contract an American matrimonial alliance, has in the press and is about to publish a most interesting illustrated volume dealing with the excavations which have been carried on during the last five years at his expense, and largely under his direction.

There are few peers with more remarkable records for travel. Indeed, he had already been several times round the world and had visited all sorts of remote corners of the globe in his big steam yacht before he attained his majority and the result was, that when at twenty-five he was coupled to the great fortune of his father—which is still growing—and to all the responsibilities entailed by the possession of vast landed estates in England, in Canada, and in the Antipodes, he did not regard himself guilty of those follies and adventures so often associated with fledgling peers.

He is married to Miss Almina Wombwell, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Wombwell, who was Miss Boyer, of French birth, and who is a sort of adopted child of the bachelor Alfred de Rothschild and is destined to inherit a considerable portion of the latter's great wealth.

Someone betrayed him to the queen. He was summoned to her presence near midnight on the same day, and under the threat of ostracism by the courts of Great Britain and of Berlin, the stoppage of his allowance from the queen's privy purse, and the elimination of his own name and that of his interests from her will, he gave his consent to the deportation, that same night, of Mme. de Kolomine from his dominions by the police without even seeing her again.

Mme. de Kolomine received as a solace the Hessian title of Countess of Romrod in an annuity of $10,000 a year for the remainder of her life. The son born of her union with the grandduke was brought up by his half-sister, the present Empress of Russia, and is now serving as an officer in the Russian army.

The Countess of Romrod, two years after her brief marriage to the Grandduke of Hesse, married the Russian diplomat, de Bacharach, who has recently been appointed as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of Russia at Bernes, whither the former Mme. de Kolomine, now Mme. de Bacharach and Countess of Romrod, has returned as Muscovite mistress. She still retains many traces of her former beauty, is as witty and as clever as ever, but is no longer considered dangerous by the Swiss government, except in the role of a political intrigante.

Evidently the Count was not consulted about the matter. Otherwise it is improbable in the extreme, that he would have sanctioned the appointment of the Kolomine to the court of his nephew, the late Grand Duke Louis of Hesse; for no sooner was Mme. de Kolomine established at Darmstadt than she straightway began to set her feet upon the grandduke, who, a widower, fell particularly lonely.

The grandduke would have married Mme. de Kolomine once—morganatically of course—had he not been afraid of his first wife's mother, Queen Victoria. He was largely dependent upon her, in a financial sense, and also was aware of the benefits which his children were to receive under the terms of her will, and he knew that since she had remained faithful to the memory of her own husband, the late Prince Consort, she viewed with pronounced disfavor second marriages, and would certainly regard any union on his part with Mme. de Kolomine as an almost unpardonable affront.

Someone betrayed him to the queen. He was summoned to her presence near midnight on the same day, and under the

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

YES, I know she's a nice girl. I think I'd like her first rate if she wasn't one of those maddening self-congratulators. So Molly, the little stenographer lady, described a new acquaintance when the wants-to-be-cynic inquired for the third time why she didn't seem to like "such a thoroughly nice girl."

"Now what might that be?" inquired the wants-to-be-cynic, scornfully. "Really, Molly, to tell the truth, I think you are jealous of her." Molly's blue eyes opened alarmingly wide—it is a trick she has when aroused—she parted her lips as if to speak, then shut them tight and gave the fire, in front of which she was sitting, a vigorous dab with the tongue.

"Oh, I didn't mean jealous of anyone in particular," amiably explained the wants-to-be-cynic, who by the way has been saying a good deal of attention to the lady under discussion. "I just meant jealous of her in a general way, because she is so pretty. Other girls never like a girl who is very pretty."

"That," said Molly, "is absurd. I should think that you, who pretend to be a real deep student of human nature, would know better than that. That is one of the silly things that men have been saying with no grounds at all for centuries. I don't doubt that Adam said it to Eve about Cain or Abel's wife. The truth is that girls admire a pretty girl almost more than men do. Remember Jane Wiley at school? She was one of the prettiest girls I ever knew and half the girls in school were devoted to her. Of course, girls don't like a silly, conceited, disagreeable girl and when a pretty girl gets that way they drop her. But as for this idea that whenever a girl doesn't like some pretty girl it's because she's jealous of her prettiness," concluded Molly, with a grand finale of mixed pronouns and a lip quivering from the wrath of her feelings and the injustice of the accusation, "why that's all nonsense."

"My graces," said Molly. "It's evident you haven't met her or you wouldn't have to ask. Why, you know what I mean—one of those irritating people who are always patting themselves on the back; praising themselves and their belongings and everything they have anything to do with."

"For instance, when she came into the office this morning, I said her hair looked nice—she patted it and said, 'Yes, I have remarkably thick hair and I'm so glad it's curly. I do hate straight hair!'"

"Then she pulled her waist down and said, 'How do you like my new waist?' and then before I could answer, 'I think it fits splendidly. The dressmaker says it's easy to fit me because I have such a good figure.'"

"A little later she showed me her hands to see how beautifully they were manicured, told me she did them herself and that she thought it was quite wonderful when she never had taken any lessons at all, that she could make them look as well as any professional manicurist."

"She never buys anything without congratulating herself on her discrimination and taste in getting such artistic, pretty things so reasonably. She never wears anything new without patting herself on the back because it fits so well and looks so well on her. She never does a piece of work in the office without showing it to someone and saying how good it is."

"Most of the time the things she says are true, and I'd probably say them myself if she'd give me a chance, but she never does. Of course, she is terribly pretty, capable and smart. It would be splendid to be half so clever and nice to look at. Here Molly paused, poked the fire a moment, looking very wistful, and then burst out to everyone's surprise, "Oh, big sister, you don't suppose I am jealous of her."

"Molly," quoth the wants-to-be-cynic after he had stopped laughing. "Molly, you are the limit. And oddly enough, the words that sound like a slangy expression of disgust as I write them, sounded strangely gentle, and almost tender, as the wants-to-be-cynic said them."

brewed when he was born in honor of the occasion, and placed in a cask made from oak grown on the Highclere estate, hooped with brass, and bearing an eagle's crest and inscription plate of the same metal. The inscription runs: "My Highclere flourish. This cask of ale, containing 500 gallons, was brewed in commemoration of the birth of Lord Portchester, born November 7, 1888, Albert Streetfield, Butler, Highclere Castle. This cask will not be opened until the boy attains his majority, when it will be drunk in his honor by the members of his family, by the retainers and servants, by the tenants and employees of the estate, and by the neighbors during the festivities in connection with his coming of age. Young Lord Portchester was not, however born at Highclere, but in London; not at Lord Carnarvon's town house, which is 18 Berkeley Square, but in a neighboring mansion which had been specially rented for the occasion; far while neither the Earl nor Lady Carnarvon is afraid for themselves, they did not consider it right that their boy's thoughts should ever be darkened in after life by the feeling that he had been born in a house bearing a number that is proverbially unlucky. Highclere, which is the favorite home of Lord and Lady Carnarvon, is in Hampshire and, commanding magnificent views, stands in a park fourteen miles in circumference, swarming with game. It was once the mansion of the Bishops of Winchester. Robert Sawyer, Defender of the Seven Bishops, owned it in the reign of James II, and left it to his only daughter, wife of Thomas, Earl of Pembroke, from whom it passed to her second son, uncle of the first of the present Earls of Carnarvon. The house is full of treasures, including some of the finest Gainsboroughs and Reynolds in the kingdom; among them the portrait of Lord Chesterfield who succeeded the writer of the historic "Letters."

In the hall is preserved the chair on which the great Napoleon sat when he signed his abdication at Fontainebleau, and which he habitually used when holding council with his submissive ministers. Chesterfield is also preserved the wonderful collection of books and manuscripts which formerly belonged to the Earls of Chesterfield, particularly to the most famous of that ilk, including the famous Chesterfield Letters, which were bequeathed by the seventh Lord Chesterfield on his death, without issue, to his sister, Lady Evelyn Stanhope, married to the fourth Earl of Carnarvon, along with all the enlarged property of the Lords of Chesterfield. MORE SUFFRAGETTES DEALT WITH

London, Nov. 24.—Lady Constance Lytton, and Lady Sybil Smith, both of whom have been prominent in the suffragette movement, were charged in the Dow street police court today with violating windows during the demonstration of Tuesday last. They were sentenced respectively to a fortnight and a week in jail in default of the payment of fines.

SLEW NEIGHBORS' CATS
German Court Defendant In Court in Unique Suit for Damages

Berlin, Nov. 24.—An unusual spectacle was witnessed in a Darmstadt court when the dressed and prepared skins of about fifty cats were laid out for identification by their former owners. The case was one in which the well-known sportsman, Count Solms-Laubach, figured as defendant on a charge of causing the untimely end of the domestic pets of the neighbors.

Count Solms-Laubach had a favorite hobby of keeping several tamed wildcats and other birds of prey in his home, and was in the habit of occasionally releasing them from their cages and allowing them the free run of his garden. Finding, however, that frequent conflicts ensued between his pets and the cats of the neighbors, he resorted to shooting at the cats at night, had spring traps and other pitfalls for many years.

At first the count disposed of his victims by burying them in the garden. When the landlady objected to this he began to throw the bodies into the dust bin, which, however, soon drew forth protests from the sanitary authorities. Then the count hit upon the idea of skinning the cats, burning their bodies piecemeal, and having the skins pressed.

Finally the count's neighbors brought a concerted action against the slayer of their cats and demanded, through the public prosecutor, damages to the extent of $75. The court declared that he was under the impression that his victims had been merely stray cats of the district and he did not know that he had been damaging his neighbors' property, and as none of the plaintiffs were able to swear positively to the last remains of their departed pets, the action was dismissed.

FOUR PAIRS OF ELOPERS MARRY AT NIAGARA

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 24.—There were four eloping couples married here today. All but one couple were married by Rev. A. P. Quinn, pastor of the Main street Baptist church, who recently resigned from membership in the International Interdenominational Ministerial Association.

A Syracuse couple indulged in the most sensational of elopements. They came here early and purchased a marriage license from the Michigan Central station agent, Jackson. Jackson admitted that he sold the license. He also refused to give the name of the minister who performed the ceremony. The bride's father followed the elopers here, but arrived too late to prevent the wedding.

Joseph Geiger, aged 24, North Collins, N. Y., and Catherine Spangler, 19, same place, and Richard Sylvester, 22, North Marilla, N. Y., and Helster Munro, 24, Buffalo, were married by the Baptist minister.

The elopement of sixty-year old James Hubbard and Miss Plummer, aged fifty, both of Fulton, N. Y., was the most pathetic of all. They had been school teachers, but had become estranged after planning an elopement. After reconciliation, a few days ago they decided to marry at their former place and eloped to this city.

ENGINEER'S SCHEME AT NIAGARA FALLS

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 24.—An apparently practical plan for stopping the rapid erosion of rock in the centre of the Horse Shoe falls at Niagara, which has grown to serious proportions, was proposed last year or so, was explained to the members of the Toronto Engineers' Club last night by J. H. Randolph, a distinguished hydraulic expert.

The rock development threatens in time to seriously impair the hydroelectric resources, not to mention destruction of the scenic beauty.

His proposition is as simple as it is unorthodox. He wishes to stretch two strong cables across the river just above the brink, and by these to transport blocks of granite, weighing ten tons each, to the edge of the gorge, where they are to be dropped into the current.

"If a cable, he said, would not suffice as a single block would undoubtedly be swept away by the force of the water, but by letting them down two at a time, a pair would be certain to wedge together, sooner or later, directly in the Y after which more blocks could be poured in until the big hole had been filled up, level with the surface of the cliff.

"His proposition has already been submitted to president Tat, and Canadian government officials.

French Official Also Killed Dog And Cat in House And Fleed

LARGE SUM MISSING

Was Collector of Taxes and Accounts Were Found in Disorder Calmly Drew Money From Bank After Crime and Left by Taxi

Paris, Nov. 24—A ghastly tragedy is reported from Laval, near Senlis. A man named Fouquet, who for some years has acted as collector for the receiver of taxes at Senlis, disappeared, and as a sum of nearly $50,000 was missing, inquiries were made at his residence. Fouquet lived with his wife and little son, aged three years, in the Rue Carnot at Laval and had the reputation of being a model official. When the messenger arrived at the house he was unable to obtain admission and the police were called in. The officers forced a window, and entered the dining-room. Here everything was in order, but on going into the hall they were surprised to find a dog and a cat lying dead at the foot of the stairs, and the house absolutely still and apparently deserted.

They proceeded to make a thorough examination of the premises. To their horror, in a bedroom on the first floor, they found the dead body of Madame Fouquet lying on the bed. She had apparently been shot in the mouth while asleep and killed instantly as there was not the least sign of struggle. In an adjoining room lay the body of her little son, also dead from a bullet wound in the head. The poor child had also evidently been shot while asleep and lay with a smile on his face. The fatal shot had been fired close behind the left ear, and the bullet had come out at the top of the head. There was no trace of the murderer.

An old woman who lived in an adjoining house told the police that she had awakened a little after midnight, by what she thought were shots but as the noise appeared to come from some distance she took no notice and went to sleep again. Fouquet went to his office as usual the day after, and has not since been seen. He is supposed to have been killed by the murderer, and his body was found in a ditch near the town. The police are actively sought for by the police. At eight o'clock on the morning of the murder he was met by a fellow official near the house, and then appeared quite calm and unconcerned. The two men chatted together for five minutes. Fouquet left, saying that he was going to the bank to draw the money and hand it over to the receiver. He did present him self at the bank as soon as it opened, and took a considerable sum of money. He then returned to his office for a brief visit. Leaving it, he drove to a taxi-cab and returned home by train. From that moment he disappeared. No surprise was felt at M. Fouquet's absence until the next day when the dreadful discovery was made at his home.

An investigation of the man's books and numerous doubts as to the reason for the crime. All his accounts were in order and numerous books relating to the collection of taxes, which he should have returned to his office, were found in the house. Madame Fouquet was a somewhat delicate woman and it is supposed that when her husband made up his mind to fly he determined to kill her and their child rather than to induce them to go with him. It is also suggested that he asked his wife to accompany him, and that on her refusal he had killed her. The position of the body, however, is conclusive that the deed was committed while the woman lay fast asleep.

JUDGE KNAPP'S REMARK CREATES STIR

Presiding Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the United States Court of Commerce, has created quite a stir in government and financial circles by his remarks in Philadelphia recently that the only solution of the economic problem confronting the people of the United States was a general increase in the wage of all workers.

Judge Knapp's remarks stirred his audience, among whom were some prominent railroad heads, when he said that government ownership of the railroads might yet become the only alternative in the present railroad situation.

They proceeded to make a thorough examination of the premises. To their horror, in a bedroom on the first floor, they found the dead body of Madame Fouquet lying on the bed. She had apparently been shot in the mouth while asleep and killed instantly as there was not the least sign of struggle. ## The Ideal Reading Lamp

Opticians agree that the light from a good oil lamp is easier on the eyes than any other artificial light. The Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made. It gives a strong, yet soft, white light, and it does not flicker. It preserves the eyesight of the young; it helps and quickens that of the old. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for the lamps, but you cannot get better light than the low-priced Rayo lamp. Made of solid brass, nickel-plated. Easily lighted, without removing shade or chimney. Easy to clean and pack. Dealers everywhere. Write for descriptive circular direct to any agency of The Imperial Oil Company, Limited.

GREATER SIMPLICITY IN BURYING THE DEAD

Suggestions By Archdeacon Raymond and Rev. Dr. Flinders at Fernhill Ceremony

The new receiving vault and mortuary chapel which has just been completed at Fernhill, was dedicated yesterday afternoon. A large number of clergymen and others from the city were present. Hon. J. G. Forbes acted as chairman. Rev. Gordon J. Flinders offered the dedicatory prayer and read a very appropriate address prepared by the venerable Archdeacon Raymond, who had been called out of the city and so unable to attend the service. In opening his address, Archdeacon Raymond said: "Ven. Archdeacon Raymond as senior legation, in point of service in the community, delivered an interesting address. He said in part: "I venture in closing this address to offer a plea for greater simplicity in the burial of the dead. The masses of humanity are, I feel, following blindly the lead of the plutocrats with regard to expensive funerals. There is nothing people are so willing to expend money upon as the moment of death—the mourning, the funeral, the casket, the grave, the monument. The motives that prompt this expenditure are often of the most sacred and tender character. And yet I believe as would be wiser as a community of Christian people to revert more nearly to the primitive idea of approaching as nearly as possible an 'earth to earth' burial. The fashion of having solid coffins and almost impishable caskets, introduced of late years in America, is extending downward, and in imitation of the rich, the poorer classes are straining their resources with a false idea that in so doing they are honoring the dead. This modern tendency is condemned by modern science. Rev. Dr. Flinders, in his remarks, said: "The ceremony was a most interesting one, and it is to be hoped that the suggestions made will be adopted in the future."

SALLOW SKIN, BILIOUS HEADACHE AND SOUR STOMACH INDICATES YOU NEED CASCARETS

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow with dark rings under your eyes, your lips are parched. No wonder you feel dizzy, nervous and listless. Your system is full of bile and not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleansing system. Don't continue to be bilious and unwell, and don't let your system become so clogged that you are obliged to resort to harsh purgatives that irritate and burn. Instead, get a box of Cascarets, a pleasant laxative that cleanses the system gently, through the bowels, and restores you to good health. Cascarets are a good, gentle, safe, and reliable laxative. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

MONK AGAIN TARGET IN THE HOUSE

Says Borden on Navy Gave Way To Demands Of Nationalists

LIBERALS GRILL HIM

"I Don't Want to Discuss the Matter Further," He Says, When Hard Pressed—Session of Commons a Very Illuminating One

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—It looks now as if the debate on the address will last the balance of the week and that the session would run to March with adjournment for Christmas. At 8 o'clock tonight the house of commons was as dark as was the naval policy of the coalition government after Mr. Monk had finished the initial eclipse of his own explanation by the final unilluminating declaration: "We are here and you are there."

Just before 6 hon. Mr. Lemieux had thrown considerable light on the Nationalist-Conservative combination of opposing politics and sectional appeals. He had followed a long and labored explanation by Mr. Monk, which did not explain or justify the condition. Mr. Mendon, Nationalist of Yamaska, had just started a reply to the criticism, when the house rose for recess at 6. Half an hour after the electric power supply of the Ottawa Electric Company failed and the parliament buildings, with a large part of the city, were left in almost total darkness. When 8 o'clock the members assembled in a dimly lit chamber, and Mr. Monk, who was again leading the government, in the absence of the premier, promptly moved the adjournment. The lights came on half an hour later, but the members had been tired. Most of them still groping for the light which was to lead the government out of its present embarrassment.

Monk on the Grill. Hon. F. D. Monk concluded the speech which he terminated yesterday by calling 6 o'clock at ten minutes before that hour, to escape questions which were being put to him by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Liberals continued to ask how he and Mr. Borden got together after the way Mr. Monk and his Nationalist friends had abused him for several years. "Mr. Borden is such a charming man," said Mr. Monk, "that I can not imagine how it is possible for any man to have a serious difference with him."

Mr. Monk said that the Canadian navy was not fit to take part in the defence of the Empire. "What type of navy ship does the minister favor?" asked Mr. Sinclair, of Guysboro, asked renewed laughter. "That is a problem my leader has under consideration, and I am sure he will solve it satisfactorily."

Mr. Lemieux retorted that this was hardly statesmanlike attitude to take, but that he was sure the speaker would be satisfied with the answer. Mr. Monk replied that he was aware of the fact that the speaker was a certain extent a seaman, while he was not, but he did not know that cruisers were used as battleships. "I don't want to be heavily armed ships. I don't want to discuss the matter further," added Mr. Monk, amid another roar of Liberal laughter.

"We are here and you are there," repeated Mr. Monk, indicating that the government and then the opposition benches. "That is the answer."

TO BE MARRIED NEXT MONTH

Miss Evelyn K. Dean, one of the celebrated Dean twin sisters, widely known in society from Bar Harbor to New Beach, who was courted by dukes and lords until driven to making the announcement that when she accepted a husband he would be a good American citizen, is to be a bride on December 5 next. The bridegroom will be Mr. Charles F. Keboe, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and the union will bear the hallmark of a real romance, for the first time Miss Dean saw her prospective husband he was lying in the roadside unconscious after having been run down by an automobile.

A REASONABLE PLEA FOR THE STOMACH

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try. Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires protein, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestine, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives. Chemical Laboratory, Telegraphic address, "Dyspepsia," London. Telephone, 11029 Central, 20 Cullum street, Finchbury street, E. C.

I have analyzed postcardularly a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself) at a city chemist's shop for the purpose, manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., 80 Clerkenwell Road, London, E. C. Can you report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poison. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are intended. (John R. Brooke, F. I. C., F. C. S.)

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendations of eminent physicians in the United States and Canada. They are a popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water-brash, constipation, dizziness and general debility. They are not only safe, but they are also thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy. One grain of these tablets, dissolved in water (or best) to digest 3,000 grains of steak, eggs and other foods, is a powerful remedy. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach fails.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent box or send us direct for a free trial sample package and you will be surprised at the result. Write to Stuart's, 129 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MR. TEAKLE HERE FOR SEASON

"The outlook is good, in fact we have had such prospects for many years." This statement was made by R. B. Teakle, manager of the Allan line, who arrived yesterday for the winter port season. "The bookings are ahead of the past three years for cargo," said Mr. Teakle. The business from the other side is also good and there is promise of a large passenger business. The same class of steamers will be on the Liverpool route and there are four more sailings on the London and Havre service than last season. The steamer Hungarian, which has been added to this route, will not carry passengers, however. "We look for a big lot of grain, and are anticipating some nice contracts," added Mr. Teakle. Mr. Teakle and the other members of the staff, Messrs. Loxton, P. Fantasy, and H. E. Baird, will be here Monday. Mr. Blair will be here about Tuesday. Mr. Superintendent McGibbin, of the Allan line, will be here probably today or Saturday, and the wharf staff will probably be the same as last year.

THE WORK OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Secretary Has Dealt With 2,315 Applications in The Year

ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Hall Commended for Her Good Work—Will Ask for Larger Grant From the City—W. S. Fisher Again President

The twelfth annual meeting of the Associated Charities was held last night in the board of trade rooms with the president, W. S. Fisher, in the chair. Mrs. Hall, the secretary, on account of illness, was not present, and Miss Grace Osborne Robertson, the assistant secretary, acted in her place. During the evening the excellent work of Mrs. Hall was referred to, and the hope expressed that she would speedily regain her health. The meeting was very largely attended, and the secretary's report proved the best yet presented during the history of the society, this view being expressed by several speakers. That the organization is more than ever doing the work for which it was formed was evident by the very large number of cases of various kinds that have been dealt with. It was shown, however, that with the increased work the needs from a financial point of view have been most heavy. Several addresses were delivered during the evening. Dr. George G. Melvin, medical health officer, spoke on sanitation, lack of which among the poor was responsible for much disease and consequent poverty. W. F. Hatheway, M. P., spoke of the poverty, suggesting a scheme that he believed would do away with such conditions. Rev. H. A. Gody, rector of St. James Episcopal church, gave much praise to Mrs. Hall, Miss Robertson and the society in preventing from the destitution to interference and drunkenness, citing some of the many cases that came before him daily.

Rev. W. R. Robinson, pastor of Ludlow street Baptist church, told of some sad experiences in Carlton and advocated the teaching of cleanliness among the poor. Adjutant Carter, of the Salvation Army, spoke encouragingly of the society's work. W. J. Willard Smith felt that the "dram" was the root of all distress and poverty. Mrs. Miles McDuchon, pastor of Brunel street Baptist church, told of the manner of doing things by Boston charities, and urged the society to do the same. Treasurer's Report. The first report was that of the treasurer, William Young, and was as follows: Balance from previous year ..... $ 41.88 City grant ..... 309.00

Receipts. Swinney fund, Trinity church, $10.00 Leinster St. Baptist church, 3.00 Rev. H. A. Gody, rector of St. James St. David's church, 5.00 Subscriptions and donations, 413.99 Innumerable donations, 3.00 Amount due treasurer, 28.00 Expenses. Mrs. Hall's salary, $420.00 Rev. H. A. Gody, 200.00 Rent of office, 20.00 Telephone, 15.00 Printing, etc., 22.17 Admiration of King's Daughters, 2.00 Balance, $729.17 Certified as correct. HUNTER WHITE, Auditor.

In part the secretary reported that 2,315 applications had been received, of which 770 were for employment, 788 for seeking relief, 237 for men, 294 for women, 136 for boys, 18 for young girls, 85 nurses, 81 sewing at home, 12 recommended to employers, 798 relief was procured for 121; advance given to 294; letters written, 210; visits made, 630; cases investigated, 165. Of this number 31 were for other cities; people not to be found at given address, 12; clothing was given to 31 families; transportation was procured for five; two were sent to Montreal and through a combined effort of different societies and individuals a family of three was sent home to England. The first business after the reading of reports was the matter of an increased grant from the city, and the subject referred to the sitting by walking out of the chamber.

WOMEN ATTEMPT THE ST. BERNARD PASS

Overcome, They Are Rescued By the Monks—Had no Money to Buy Railway Tickets. Geneva, Nov. 23.—A pathetic Alpine story came from the Grand St. Bernard Hospice. Two Italian women, one aged about fifty and the other her daughter, aged twenty-five, were found by the pass half-buried in the snow and exhausted from fatigue and cold. The monks carried the woman to the hospice. The elder woman, on coming around first, explained that her two sons had been working at Martigny for several months, but had been suddenly called away to the war and had left them penniless. The woman, who has relations at a village near Milan, attempted to cross the St. Bernard pass, as they could not buy tickets for the railway, and were only saved by dogs from the consequence of their rash act. After a rest in the hospice under the kindly care of the monks, the women, if hoped, will be able to return to Italy.

FREE FIGHT ON FLOORS OF AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT

Vienna, Nov. 24.—A free fight on a large scale broke out in the Austrian parliament the other afternoon, as a result of which many M. P.'s had to be taken home in cabs, their clothes being torn to ribbons. The trouble began when Herr Malik drew out a dog whip and with three cuts sliced open the face of Herr Hummer, his opponent. Herr Hummer retaliated by thrashing Herr Malik, and other members joined in the fray. Eventually the president suspended the sitting by walking out of the chamber.

ENGLISH LANDLORD OFFERS 999 YEARS LEASES TO TENANTS

London, Nov. 24.—Lord Howard de Walden, one of the greatest land-owners of England, has offered to grant 999-year leases to the tenants on his Marblebone estate, but very few of them seem disposed to accept or even consider the offer. "This is the first time that a landlord of a big estate has made such an offer," said the tenant of some premises in Oxford street, "and Lord Howard de Walden deserves all credit for introducing such a scheme. If any man who has made or is making a business on the estate wishes, he will now be able to ensure permanent possession of his shop at his present rental. But many will be prepared to take a 999-year lease? The majority of people are content with an ordinary lease, and few, I think, will want to ensure possession of their premises for such an extended term. Lord Howard de Walden offers to leave two-thirds of the price of reversion upon mortgage at 3% per cent for five years; but even with that inducement I doubt if he will get many offers."

DARING ROBBER THIS

Took One Chance Too Many When He Went To Police Court. Paris, Nov. 24.—A criminal named Emile Louis Rousseau, who effected a sensational escape from the Palais de Justice in October, has just been re-arrested through his own excess of audacity. Rousseau, a plumber, succeeded in stealing a key from the tip of the twenty-six lighting conductors surrounding the national library. He was therefore arrested and sentenced to eight years' penal servitude. While awaiting transfer to a provincial prison he accomplished a wonderful feat of agility, scaling high walls bristling with spikes, and thus obtaining access to the corridors of the Palais de Justice, which he left by the front entrance. All trace of him was lost. He did not leave Paris, however, and at ten o'clock one morning, completely disguised, he went to a drinking saloon in the Rue de Reuilly, where he succeeded in stealing $35 from the till while the landlady was in another room. When he returned he had the front entry to tell her that two customers who had just left had robbed the till. Rousseau offered to go to the police station with her and give evidence.

SUGGEST TIME OF TROUBLE FOR BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Story That Sir Edward Grey May Resign and Maybe Other Ministers—The German Situation

London, Nov. 23.—The belief prevails in political circles that Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, will retire from the cabinet after his eagerly expected exposition on foreign relations on Nov. 27, in the house of commons, and that James Bryce, ambassador to the United States, will succeed him.

The resignation of the foreign secretary will almost certainly be handed to the prime minister should any lack of confidence be shown in his policy during the debate which will follow his statement on Monday.

The secrecy with which diplomatic negotiations have been carried on has aroused the ire of the Radicals, who latterly have received some support from the more moderate Liberals. The disclosures regarding the Anglo-German conversations with respect to Morocco and the statements that these two countries were on the verge of war have given the Radicals another opening, and they are now, it is understood, pressing for the retirement of Sir Edward, declaring: "We won't be drawn into war without knowing the reason why."

The Radicals favor an Anglo-German understanding, and accuse Sir Edward Grey of backing their efforts in this direction, either by his own design or through the influence of anti-German officials in the foreign office. Should Sir Edward resign, Viscount Haldane, secretary of war, and Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, will likely follow him.

By a tacit understanding the Unionist leaders support the government's foreign policy, or at least refrain from criticizing it. They like the moderate Liberals, argue: Why turn a brilliant diplomatic victory into defeat by sacrificing the victory in order to secure the good will of vanquished Germans?

The lobby is full of rumors of other troubles besetting the government. It is said in Unionist quarters that Sir Edward is not able to satisfy John Redmond's Home Rule demands which have increased through fear of the growing O'Brienite strength in Ireland, and the Laborites are dissatisfied with the findings of the royal commission last August, with respect to the railway strike. They blame the cabinet for failure to secure recognition of the unionists.

Cologne, Germany, Nov. 23.—Foreign Secretary Von Kiderlin-Vaschler's explanation leaves no doubt that an Anglo-German clash was imminent in July, according to an apparently indisputable despatch from Berlin in the Cologne Gazette, which adds: "The acute crisis is past, but the situation remains grave. Germany avails itself with even greater tension Great Britain's coming explanations. Upon these will depend the relations of the two countries in the future."

WAS A GREAT SUFFERER FOR FIVE YEARS FROM DYSPEPSIA.

Dyspepsia is one of the most prevalent troubles of civilized life and the hands of people suffering from it are never weary of trying every remedy that enters a weak dyspeptic stomach such as an irritant.

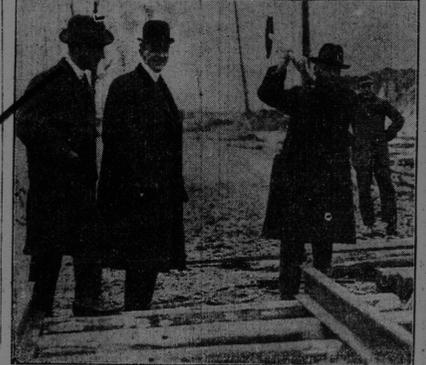

The long train of distressing symptoms, which render life a burden to the victim of dyspepsia, may be speedily cured by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Wm. J. Byrne, Lezrau, N.B., writes: "I thought I would write and tell you of the good Burdock Blood Bitters has done me and also tell you how thankful I am."

"For five years I had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and tried different doctors and proprietary medicines, but could get no relief. One day a friend told me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I did not have much faith in it, but I thought I would give it a trial. Today I am completely cured, and I will always recommend it."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for about thirty-five years and is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TORONTO GOES INTO STREET RAILWAY BUSINESS

Mayor Geary driving the first spike in the new municipally-owned line of street railway which Toronto is opening up in opposition to the corporation owned by Mackenzie-Mann interests. Toronto is determined to be no longer dependent upon "the interests" for its city transportation, and this line they are opening up in Gerard street is just the commencement of a movement that has been felt for some time in Toronto in the direction of public ownership of all the public utilities. In addition to overhead street railways, the people have endorsed a complete system of underground or tube railway to be owned and controlled by the people. Already tenders have been received for the work and soon it is expected that operations will be commenced.

HOW THE M. P.'S GET PASSES ON THE RAILWAY LINES

Members of parliament in Canada travel free of cost on railways of the dominion, and the words "members of parliament" include both senators and members of the House of Commons; but there is this important difference—while senators are given their certificates of transportation upon their appointment and retain them for life, or as long as they are mentally and physically qualified, the members of the House of Commons have to yield up their certificates the day they are defeated at the polling booth or as soon thereafter as their conscience permits.

This privilege is secured to the legislators by an amendment made to the railway act of 1903, when it was provided that all companies in receipt of subsidies from the dominion shall furnish free transportation on any of their trains to members of the senate and House of Commons with their baggage.

The Recd.
The working out of this arrangement is quite interesting. The certificates which are issued by the clerks of the two houses of parliament are usually for a calendar year, but in a year such as this when there is a general election and a complete overhaul of the personnel of the House of Commons there is a reviving of the certificates issued to those who are defeated, and the issuance of new certificates to those who are elected. As the result of the general elections which took place in Canada on September 21 last, there are about two hundred members in the last house, and who had to be provided for in the matter of railway passes.

Should any member of the House of Commons lose his certificate he notifies the clerk of the House of Commons and a duplicate is issued, the railway company being notified to that effect, and if the member is a member of the House of Commons, the conductor takes the pass, and compiles the register to pay his fare like any ordinary individual.

PSORIASIS WAS CURED

After Five Years of Suffering—Three Doctors Failed and Said Case Was Incurable.

Itching and Burning Was Terrible Until Relief and Cure Was Affected by Dr. Chase's Ointment

Psoriasis is another name for chronic eczema. It is the most distressing and dreadful itching skin disease. Once eczema has reached this stage it is usually considered incurable.

But here is a case which proves again the wonderful healing power of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Not only does relief come quickly, but the resulting benefits are thorough and lasting.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Concession, Ont., writes: "I thought if my duty to you, telling you the great benefit I received from using Dr. Chase's Ointment. For five years I suffered with what three doctors called Psoriasis. A doctor with three different doctors, with no good results, and one of our noted doctors told me as if one could not be cured, as it was on my face and limbs, and it was burning and itching all over, even on my face and limbs. The itching and burning was hard to bear. At last my brother read in the paper about Dr. Chase's Ointment as a healer. I used it in boxes, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can now go about my duties, and you are not a liability to induce others to suffer to try the same."

Many of the new members think that they are entitled to carry their wives and families upon their parliamentary certificates, but they are soon disillusioned, and find out that the privilege is a personal one.

Previous to the passage of the free pass law, the members of both houses were given an allowance of ten cents a mile from their homes to the capital and back again, and as most of them travelled upon passenger cars, this amounted to a substantial addition to their indemnity. But now they are not altogether free of financial concern. Those who reside within a circle of 400 miles from Ottawa get their actual out-of-pocket expenses such as hotel bills, meals, on cars, etc., once each way during the session, but those who come from farther afield receive an allowance of $15 a day both ways, which, in the case of men from the maritime provinces or from the western provinces, reaches quite a nice total, averaging about $100, though in the case of the member for the Yukon, it goes up as high as $200.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Are the Best Remedy in the World FOR BACKACHE.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

Overtax the kidneys—give them more work than they can possibly do—their backs will ache and their heads will ache and all kidney troubles is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Backache is simply kidneyache and the best remedy for backache is Doan's Kidney Pills.

We have thousands of testimonials from all quarters of the globe to prove this. Here is one from a party who was afflicted with backache, today passed the million dollar mark and is well on the way to the fifteen hundred thousand dollar point which the committee must reach to obtain the $100,000 subscription of Robert Belford, who offered the sum on the express condition that a million and a half be raised.

Tomorrow is the last day of the campaign and the canvassing committee have until 6:30 p. m. to collect $300,000. Today's subscription included $300,000. To-day's subscription included $300,000. To-day's subscription included $300,000.

Woodstock, N. B., Nov. 23.—The formal opening of the Carleton county L. P. Fisher Memorial Hospital took place this afternoon and evening. Hundreds of people from town and county were present. A lunch was served all in attendance by the ladies' auxiliary to the hospital.

Speeches were made by Rev. F. J. Murray, chairman of the board of control; F. H. J. Dibble, one of the excovertors of the Fisher estate, and a member of the board; Mayor T. C. L. Ketchum, member of the board; Warden H. D. Stevens, a member of the board; Donald Munro, M. P., chairman of the building committee; W. B. Pelyea, a member of the board; and Dr. T. F. Sprague.

Votes of thanks were given to the ladies' auxiliary, to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. for furnishing a ward for children, and to Miss Lane, the matron of the hospital.

A letter was read from Premier Fleming regretting his absence and enclosing a check for $25.

The excovertors of the Fisher estate, A. B. Connel and Colonel Dibble, have set apart $10,000 to be invested to assist in the maintenance of the hospital, the committee gives $70 a year, the town $50 a year, and the province $500 annually. A rental building has been used as the hospital since March 11, 1902. The first directors were W. B. Pelyea, G. D. Ireland, Dix, Rankine, Hand and Sprague, and W. B. Pelyea.

The directors in charge of the new hospital are Rev. Father McMurphy, chairman; W. B. Pelyea, G. D. Ireland, Dix, Rankine, Hand and Sprague, and W. B. Pelyea.

Every time the baby looks into my face he smiles," said Mr. Mesking. "Well," answered his wife, "it may not be exactly polite, but it shows he has a sense of humor."

Annapolis, N. S., Nov. 23.—"For God's sake men can't you save my boy?" was the cry of Charles Hubley as his seven-year-old son sank into the waters of the Annapolis River at Granville yesterday.

Little Gordon Hubley with a brother and another comrade had been playing on the wharf and the younger of the trio fell into the water. Richard Ray's mastiff dog was sent off to bring the boy ashore. A little bare arm was raised for help out of the water, the dog circled around it three times but would not touch it. He had been taught by his owner not to touch the children. Had there been some loose clothing about the boy he would have seized it quickly and brought the boy ashore. The dog came back.

The boy drowned for no one there could swim.

Five broke out in a woodshed attached to the residence of Mrs. W. C. E. Allan, King street, Carleton, about two o'clock this morning. By an hour's work the firemen prevented the spread of the flames to the dwelling and the damage was done amounted to about $60, and was covered by insurance.

McGILL FUND EXCEEDS MILLION

Montreal, Nov. 23.—The fund for the relief of McGill, which is being raised by a five-day whirlwind campaign, today passed the million dollar mark and is well on the way to the fifteen hundred thousand dollar point which the committee must reach to obtain the $100,000 subscription of Robert Belford, who offered the sum on the express condition that a million and a half be raised.

Tomorrow is the last day of the campaign and the canvassing committee have until 6:30 p. m. to collect $300,000. Today's subscription included $300,000. To-day's subscription included $300,000.

Woodstock, N. B., Nov. 23.—The formal opening of the Carleton county L. P. Fisher Memorial Hospital took place this afternoon and evening. Hundreds of people from town and county were present. A lunch was served all in attendance by the ladies' auxiliary to the hospital.

Speeches were made by Rev. F. J. Murray, chairman of the board of control; F. H. J. Dibble, one of the excovertors of the Fisher estate, and a member of the board; Mayor T. C. L. Ketchum, member of the board; Warden H. D. Stevens, a member of the board; Donald Munro, M. P., chairman of the building committee; W. B. Pelyea, a member of the board; and Dr. T. F. Sprague.

Votes of thanks were given to the ladies' auxiliary, to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. for furnishing a ward for children, and to Miss Lane, the matron of the hospital.

A letter was read from Premier Fleming regretting his absence and enclosing a check for $25.

The excovertors of the Fisher estate, A. B. Connel and Colonel Dibble, have set apart $10,000 to be invested to assist in the maintenance of the hospital, the committee gives $70 a year, the town $50 a year, and the province $500 annually. A rental building has been used as the hospital since March 11, 1902. The first directors were W. B. Pelyea, G. D. Ireland, Dix, Rankine, Hand and Sprague, and W. B. Pelyea.

The directors in charge of the new hospital are Rev. Father McMurphy, chairman; W. B. Pelyea, G. D. Ireland, Dix, Rankine, Hand and Sprague, and W. B. Pelyea.

Every time the baby looks into my face he smiles," said Mr. Mesking. "Well," answered his wife, "it may not be exactly polite, but it shows he has a sense of humor."

Annapolis, N. S., Nov. 23.—"For God's sake men can't you save my boy?" was the cry of Charles Hubley as his seven-year-old son sank into the waters of the Annapolis River at Granville yesterday.

Little Gordon Hubley with a brother and another comrade had been playing on the wharf and the younger of the trio fell into the water. Richard Ray's mastiff dog was sent off to bring the boy ashore. A little bare arm was raised for help out of the water, the dog circled around it three times but would not touch it. He had been taught by his owner not to touch the children. Had there been some loose clothing about the boy he would have seized it quickly and brought the boy ashore. The dog came back.

The boy drowned for no one there could swim.

FOR BALDNESS

This Treatment Costs Nothing if it Fails

I want you to try three large bottles of Recall "Oil" Hair Tonic on my pate, and guarantee that I will refund your money. For the more advice it does not cost you anything to try it. I am talking about Recall "Oil" Hair Tonic. It will cure baldness, and where baldness has been such a long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead.

I am a hair dresser and I have seen what has already been accomplished by the use of Recall "Oil" Hair Tonic. I believe that what it has done for thousands of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on my liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 25c. and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Recall Remedies in this community only at my store—The Recall Store, Ches. R. Watson, 100 King street.

The smallest republic in the world is that of Tavolara, a little island situated about seven and a half miles from Sardinia. It is a little more than a mile long and has a population of fifty-five. The sovereignty of the island was accorded in 1826 by King Charles Albert to the Bartoloni family. Up to 1882 Paul I. reigned peacefully over his little island kingdom, but at his death the islanders proclaimed a republic. By the constitution of the republic the president is elected for ten years, and women exercise the franchise.

The food of the Turkish army is fragrant but sufficient. Aras are adequate, many carrying riles captured from the enemy. The correspondent did not find any dissensions among the Arabs and the Turks. The Arabs whose forces had just been swelled by the fierce warlike natives of Mesuria are most enthusiastic, insisting that they should be marching towards Tripoli to recapture it.

The correspondent is unable to divulge the numbers or plan of defence and offense of the Turks, merely saying that their foreign military attaches must have had helpful observations.

NA-DRU-CO LAXATIVES

are new and entirely different from ordinary purgatives. They accomplish their purpose without disturbing the rest of the system, and therefore the ideal laxative for the nursing mother, as they do not act on the child.

Compounded, like all NA-DRU-CO preparations, by expert chemists. If unsatisfactory we'll gladly return your money.

NICKEL
The Nickel promises one of its regular old-time bills for today and all day Saturday, but that is not meant one of those roaring comedy pictures, a mysterious and laughable trick picture, a thrilling and animal picture, a cowboy picture and a good wholesome drama with a few odd lessons. The comedy is called Betty's Boat, and is the simple story of a child who turns on the kitchen faucet and floods three floors of an apartment house. The deluge and excitement is simply a flood of fun. The Little Animal Farmer shows how a mere baby takes his injured father's place among the lions, leopards, hyenas and other ferocious beasts and tames them all. The trick picture, called Wonderful Transformations, is a colored Pathé creation of the old school. There will be a stirring tale of the mountains, Gypsies Against Cowboys, with fine scenery and great horsemanship; while the closing piece of the bill will be Lubin's His Best Friend After All. Miss Breck will sing and there will be the usual good music and illustrated songs. It is arranged by the management of the Nickel that this is an especially fine programme. For Saturday afternoon it is expected to attract very large crowds.

THE GEM
The kindness of a pretty "false-face" incident to a starving Indian is the basis of a thrilling western story at the Gem Theatre for the weekend. "A Prisoner of the Mohicans," in which the Red man reciprocates for the hospitality shown him and saves the life of the girl when she has been taken captive by a hostile band. With John Bunny in the title role the Vitagraph Company offers a comedy of a unique nature, entitled "The Fired, Absent Minded Man," in which he is so absent-minded as to forget that he has just seen married and loses his bride on his wedding day, causing her to go "back a mommer." It is not often that a young man makes love to his lady-fairy means of his feet and hands, but in the Vitagraph comedy romance, "Ove the ha'ing Dab," even to the popping of the question is thus shown, and the story and idea are both entertaining and novel, as well as providing hearty laughter. The Selig Company offers a pretty western story entitled "The Rival Stage Lines," in which there is an exciting old-time race stage-coach for the possession of a comely fair-haired girl. "Ove the ha'ing Dab," "The Rival Stage Lines," and "The Fired, Absent Minded Man" are all new and original. The programme is well planned and the story and idea are both entertaining and novel, as well as providing hearty laughter. The Ring
Parson Davies Loses Two Years.
Two years is what Charles E. "Parson" Davies got for a trip across the Atlantic and back, and a short stay of five months in Ireland. The two years were not in the form of a sentence, but were added to Mr. Davies' admitted age. He arrived in New York the other afternoon on board the Caldonia of the Anchor line.

"When I left New York six months ago," said Mr. Davies, who is widely known in sporting and theatrical circles, "I supposed that I was 28 years old. I went to Antrim, Ireland, to visit my mother, Mrs. Hugh Sullern. Antrim is the place where I was born, and from curiosity I looked up the old records in the parish church. To my surprise I found that I was sixty years old. It was a terrible shock, but I think I shall return to my home before reaching the Olerization point. I love the sea and the trip was a revelation to me—but never again. At the rate of two years a trip I would soon begin to be a risk for the insurance companies, and the spring, I think, I shall return to my land and I'll stay there to die."

Athletic
A New Club.
Some of the members of a company (and Regiment met last evening and decided to form an athletic club. The membership, it is understood, will not be confined to members of the company, but others will become members. Already sixteen of the best hockey players in the city, have decided to try for positions on the team which will be run by the new organization. One of the things decided on was that the hockey team would have a trip to Boston where it is expected the Harvard team will be their opponents. Communications have been received from U. N. B. M. Allison and the Halifax Wanderers promising games in St. John.

The new club will also have a basketball team and some of the players who were members of the Y. M. C. A. senior team last year are said to have promised to turn out with a company.

The work of organization will be completed immediately. It is understood that Malcolm McAvity is very active in the new organization.

Baseball
P. Y. M. A. Basketball
In the Portland Y. M. A. basketball league last evening two very exciting games took place. In the first game the Tigers defeated the Maple Leaves by sixteen to eleven. The second game was very close, and the outcome was in doubt until the end, when the Athletics were declared winners over the Crescents by the score of nineteen to fifteen.

The teams lined up as follows:
Tigers: Forwards, J. Shannon, W. Perret, E. O. Penny, Centre, W. Kirk, Guards, T. Clark, F. Latham, Backs, E. McEachern, Murray Latham acted as referee.

A Fast Game
In a fast game of basketball at St. John's (Stone) church school room last evening the Y. M. C. A. boys scouts defeated the Stone church troop by a score of 85. The lineup was:
Stone Church: Forwards, Y. M. C. A. Lane, Jordan, Evans, Duncan, Myles, Deleance, Millidge, Stewart, Climo, F. Bolton referred.

Beattie Goes to Death Unshaken
On the night of July 19 last, Beattie drove his automobile into Richmond, carrying with him the body of his wife who had a gaping shot wound in the head. He declared that a tall bearded man had accosted him on the Millbrook road, five miles from Richmond, and when he had requested the man to make room for him in the car, the stranger without warning had fired the shot which killed Mrs. Beattie.

For a brief time Beattie's story was given some degree of credence, but within a day or two suspicion began to point to him, and he was kept under the closest surveillance. Bloodhounds, taken to the scene of the crime, refused to follow the man, and a dog named "Bobby," proved the means of sending the young man to the electric chair.

The trial moved swiftly, though many witnesses testified, and on Sept. 8, after 28 minutes of consideration and prayer, the jury, in chorus read through its foreman, declared Beattie to be guilty of the murder of his wife. Motion for a new trial was denied and Nov. 21 set as the day for the execution.

On Nov. 21 the Virginia supreme court of appeals refused to grant an appeal on a writ of error, and two days later Governor Mann, who had been appealed to for commutation or reprieve, issued a statement declaring that the interests of the people of Virginia demanded that Beattie should die in the electric chair.

In the colony of Upper Senegal and Niger, near Diskay, there exists an edible clay, of which the natives are very fond. It is found in a layer between strata of limestone, and a gallery has been driven into the earth for the extraction of the substance. It is not only eaten on the spot, but broken into pieces a few inches across, is sold to the inhabitants of the surrounding country, over a radius of some twenty miles. It is said by French explorers that some natives consume several pounds of this clay every day. A similar custom is found in the Sudan and in other parts of Africa.

Some daughters wonder what excuse mother had for bringing father into the family.

TROUBLE IN COURT OVER FISHING NET

A very interesting case came up for hearing in the police court this morning. It was that of John Sherwood and William Saunders, charged with stealing a fishing net. The complainant was F. P. Wilson, of Chesley street. The case arises from the dissolution of a partnership formed in August between the men, and John Martin to carry on a fishing business. The complainant alleges that the two defendants went to his wharf on Tuesday last and took away the fishing net after he had forbidden them to do so.

TROUBLE IN COURT OVER FISHING NET

A very interesting case came up for hearing in the police court this morning. It was that of John Sherwood and William Saunders, charged with stealing a fishing net. The complainant was F. P. Wilson, of Chesley street. The case arises from the dissolution of a partnership formed in August between the men, and John Martin to carry on a fishing business. The complainant alleges that the two defendants went to his wharf on Tuesday last and took away the fishing net after he had forbidden them to do so.

KING STREET COR. GERMAIN GREATER OAK HALL SCOVIL BROS. LIMITED, St. John, N.B.

DEAR SIR:
Whatever the price may be that you have mentally decided to pay for your Winter Overcoat, just come to me and I will give you a coat that will be worth more than that price, but will cost you less!
I can do this because I do not have to pay the extravagant rentals demanded up-town. Then, my whole scheme of expense is less than the merchants up-town. I save in a hundred ways and instead of putting those savings altogether into my own pocket, I give them to my customers. The result is that my trade is increasing more rapidly than in any other store in New Brunswick.
"Birds always flock where the best food lies." You have seen these canny feathered creatures surrounding some spot in a multitude and perhaps have wondered why. The answer is the same as in the case of my store. People flock in a swarm here because they get the biggest values for their money—their precious, hard earned money. They are willing to go just a little out of their way to save this money.
This big trade—constant and certain—enables me to buy in big quantities and consequently at cheaper prices. Therefore, the assortment of goods is the largest and best to be found in the city of Saint John. One visit will convince you of the truth of these statements and then you will never buy anywhere else. Come and look my store over. It will pay you well.
