Suffragettes Begin Campaign To Extend All Over England

PREMIER ASSAULTED

One Attacks Mr. Asquith and Is Thrown Down Stairs, a Diamond Brooch and Having Watch Broken

(Canadian Press) London, June 28—A general campaign of destruction in the post offices throughout the country was inaugurated today by the suffragettes. They smashed the windows of the Central Post Office in Manchester and in the same city shattered those of the Reform Club. Some of the London branch offices and also those at Hitchin and Letchworth were similarly ravaged.

Several women were arrested and at the police station announced that their action today was the beginning of a plan to smash the windows of every post office in England. Premier Asquith was subjected to another assault last evening while he was attending a reception. A woman whose identity has not yet been divulged caught him by the lapels of his coat and shook him vigorously until the premier was breathless. The two men among the guests present caught Mr. Asquith's assailant and hurled her down the stairs. The struggle was so violent that a sleeve was torn out of the suffragette's dress, her comb fell out of her hair, her gold watch was broken and the lost her diamond brooch.

NO ONE NO BLAME FOR CATASTROPHE OF LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

Deck Collapsed Because it Was Rotten and Too Many People Were on It

(Canadian Press)

Buffalo, June 28—After an inquest into one of the thirty-nine deaths which occurred last Sunday night, when an excursion dock at Eagle Park, Grand Island, collapsed and dropped a crowd of nearly 200 excursionists into the Niagara River, Guy B. Moore, first assistant district attorney, said today that probably nobody could be held criminally liable for the catastrophe. "It was established," said Mr. Moore, "that the dock went down because it had rotted, and because there were too many people on it. The law does not impose upon any one the duty of inspecting or of keeping in repair these docks. Since this is so, there could be no charge of manslaughter because manslaughter is based upon willful neglect and there can be no willful neglect where nobody is charged with a duty. It was developed that national or state legislation is needed for the examination of docks and their maintenance in a safe condition for the use of the public."

INVITE THE ROYAL GOVERNOR TO CHICAGO

Chicago, June 28—The Duke of Connaught is to be invited by a delegation of the Chicago Association of Commerce to visit Chicago this summer to investigate the business methods of the city. The delegation will leave Chicago on July 9 on one of a series of transcontinental trips and one of the social functions will be a reception to be tendered the visitor by the government. At that it is the purpose of the Chicago business men to invite their host to Chicago.

CLARK LEADS ON FIRST DEMOCRATIC BALLOT

Not Nearly Enough, Though, For Nomination

ALL NIGHT SESSION

Eight Hours of Oratory and Demonstration Ended by Test Vote in Baltimore Convention—Looks Like a Long Race Ahead

(Canadian Press)

Baltimore, June 28—After sitting all through the night the Democratic national convention reached the first ballot on the presidential nomination a little before seven o'clock this morning. There was no choice, in fact all the candidates were so far away from the two-thirds vote necessary to nominate that the delegates today looked forward to a long, hard fight. After the first ballot the convention took a recess until four o'clock this afternoon. In the meantime there will be much studying of the figures on the vote and many conferences among the leaders. As was expected, Champ Clark led all of the other candidates on the first ballot. He received 46 1/2 to 32 1/2 for Woodrow Wilson, his nearest rival. This, however, left the speaker 28 1/2 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority. Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio, aided by New York's solid block of ninety votes, was third with 14 1/2. Representative O. W. Underwood of Alabama, had 11 1/2 votes. William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, got one vote from the Ohio delegation. Some of his friends had expected that he would receive more than that, but the fact that he did not show any strength on the first ballot did not discourage them. They still felt that in the event of a deadlock, which early today seemed more than probable, Mr. Bryan might be asked again to lead his party in the presidential race. The totals of the various candidates on the first ballot were: Clark, 46 1/2; Wilson, 32 1/2; Harmon, 14 1/2; Underwood, 11 1/2; Marshall, thirty-one; Baldwin, twenty-two; Smith, secretary for choice, 22. Speaker Champ's vote was less than his own party's vote for him, but was about what the other candidates had conceded. The speaker's adherents were declaring that they would support him in the balloting in the convention progressed and at the same time were busy with their own party's vote. The Wilson people, on the other hand, held that now that various instructed delegates had cast their votes, the first ballot in accordance with these instructions, they would be later able to switch to a second choice. They expected to win greatly in these changes. It had been known for weeks that, because of the great number of candidates and "favorite sons" in the fight for the nomination, a selection on the first ballot was entirely out of the question. The first morning bore out these expectations to the fullest degree. It was because the delegates knew the situation was complex that they partly sat through the night listening to many hours of oratory and then agreed to a test vote before adjourning for sleep. Every one wanted to know how matters stood and the roll call gave a definite idea of the preliminary lineup. New York Was In Doubt The big doubtful quantity in it, was the vote of New York. That delegation, at a caucus last night, gave its first ninety votes to Governor Harmon on the first ballot. They probably will be other candidates in the caucus. They still believe there is a chance that a big block of votes may be thrown at any time to Clark, Wilson or some other candidate. In addition to the renewed talk of a possibility of Mr. Bryan's nomination, there was a report that the speaker had been instructed by the caucus to support him. The light ran along in the convention through six or seven ballots, before trying to reach agreements with opposing forces. There seemed today to be little chance of a stamped. Any attempt to nominate Mr. Bryan would meet with stubborn resistance from some of the southern states, instructed primarily by Underwood, and held subject to his release, and from the conservative element including possibly some of the so-called Clark states. The all night session of the convention was picturesque in many ways. In all there were about eight hours of oratory and demonstrations. The Clark and Wilson forces were the principal contestants in the struggle to see which could keep up the cheering longest. The Clark demonstrators, the first big one of the evening, lasted one hour and five minutes. The Wilson people when their turn came, declined to quiet down until they had passed the first roll call with a whoop. The test vote was carried on with great rapidity, and little or no confusion. The galleries were all but forsaken. Strangely enough, the women seemed to outnumber the men among the spectators who had spent the night at the hall, and were also much more keenly alert to the proceedings. Two or three of them had collapsed into sound slumber. Men were asleep and snoring in groups. It required half an hour to call the roll and figure the results. Then came the recess motion and it was carried despite the throaty voiced protests of some delegates who were ready to go on with the ballot to the bitter end. The session over, the big hall was emptied in a few minutes.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

This is the latest picture of the man who was defeated this week for the chairmanship of the national Democratic convention in Baltimore—but he is still fighting a hard battle for his fourth nomination for the presidency of the United States.

CHANGE IN DOMINION EXPRESS COMPANY ORGANIZATION SOON

J. J. Murray Head of Eastern, V. C. R. Vickers of Atlantic Division—J. A. Boswell Retires

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, June 28—The approaching retirement of J. A. Boswell, as superintendent of the eastern division of the Dominion Express company, after fifty-two years of connection with the express business, will result in the Montreal office of that division being done away with, and the work of the department being attached to the office of J. A. Murray in Toronto. Mr. Murray has been superintendent of the southern division and that title will now be done away with, and the southern division and the eastern division territory will be combined together under the name of the eastern division. This practically means that all Ontario will be under his jurisdiction, while V. C. R. Vickers, as superintendent of the Atlantic division, with headquarters in Montreal will have charge of the maritime provinces and Quebec.

GETS ANOTHER CHANCE

Negro Member of Canadian Athletic Team is Reinstated

London, June 28—J. A. Howard, the negro member of the Canadian Olympic team, the announcement of whose dismissal on the charge of insubordination was made by the coach, W. Knox, on Wednesday, was officially reinstated today. J. G. Merrick, secretary of the Canadian committee, who accompanies the team, says that Howard became such a nuisance to the team that it was decided to send him back. Upon Howard pleading to be reinstated, and promising to place himself absolutely under the control of the coaches and not to interfere with other members of the team, it has been agreed to give him another chance. The team will leave for Stockholm tomorrow.

ANNIVERSARY DAY OF C. P. R.

First Transcontinental Train Sent Out on June 28, 1886

GREAT GROWTH SINCE

Montreal, Not St. John Was Their Eastern Terminus—Some Figures Which Show How Business Has Expanded

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, June 28—Twenty-six years ago today, the first transcontinental train of the Canadian Pacific Railway left Halifax station for the Pacific coast. The western terminus was then Port Moody, but was soon after changed to Vancouver, and the eastern terminus of the road was Montreal, and not St. John, N. B., as it is today. During the interval, marvellous changes have taken place in the growth of this company. In 1886 the mileage controlled by the C. P. R., amounted to 4,315 miles. Today it is more than 16,000 miles, and still steadily increasing. The company has no steamships in 1886, today there are about seventy-five in commission, sailing on the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific on the great lakes, and in the inland waters of British Columbia. In 1886 the locomotive numbered 800, against 1945, in 1912 there were 7,853 freight cars in 1886 and 62,488 today. And large orders for both kinds of equipment, and passenger and first class passenger cars, are being placed. It was decided to send observation cars to be even invaded Australia, where they are operated on the railway of that country. In 1886 the gross earnings amounted to $8,203,400 and the net earnings to $3,225,217. After twenty-six years the gross earnings have grown to more than $120,000,000, and the net earnings more than $40,000,000.

BRITAIN'S WIRELESS CIRCLE AROUND WORLD

Details of Agreement With the Marconi Company Are Learned—Effect on Commercial Use

New York, June 28—A London cable circuit of communication around the earth, independent of cables. Each station is to be built as a fortress capable of successful defence. When the stations are to be built by the Marconi Company, they will be the property of the government. When completed, the stations are to be ready for service, the Marconi interest ceases. The $3,000,000 supplied by the government will pay only for the wireless installation. The grounds, the buildings and everything except what relates solely to communication, will be furnished by the government. The British government now owns all the country's telegraph and telephone systems and will now also own its own round-the-world communication. This is the reason, the other government monopoly, that wireless convention still finds itself helpless to make rules and regulations for commercial wireless. It was believed that a knowledge of the provisions of the British government's agreement with the Marconi Company, would simplify the question of commercial rates, but despite this, it still appears that the convention will adjourn with nothing done to regulate, commercially, the wireless business.

It provides that the British government supply the Marconi Company with 85,000,000 with which to build five great wireless stations, Australia to supply 850,000 for another station, the six to form a wireless circle around the globe at nine points. One station is to be in England, at Port Said. The other two it is presumed, will be in South Africa and Hong Kong. There is already a station at Okara Bay with land installations across Canada. It is estimated that if the work is begun immediately the stations will be finished in a year, and England will then have a circuit of communication around the earth, independent of cables. Each station is to be built as a fortress capable of successful defence. When the stations are to be built by the Marconi Company, they will be the property of the government. When completed, the stations are to be ready for service, the Marconi interest ceases. The $3,000,000 supplied by the government will pay only for the wireless installation. The grounds, the buildings and everything except what relates solely to communication, will be furnished by the government. The British government now owns all the country's telegraph and telephone systems and will now also own its own round-the-world communication. This is the reason, the other government monopoly, that wireless convention still finds itself helpless to make rules and regulations for commercial wireless. It was believed that a knowledge of the provisions of the British government's agreement with the Marconi Company, would simplify the question of commercial rates, but despite this, it still appears that the convention will adjourn with nothing done to regulate, commercially, the wireless business.

POISON IS FOUND

Another Body to Be Exhumed in Chicago Murder Case

Chicago, Ill., June 28—Professor Walter S. Haines has reported to coroner Hoffman that he has found arsenic in the viscera of William and Alma Linloff, husband and daughter of Mrs. Louis Linloff, who is held on a charge of killing her son Arthur. Upon receiving the chemist's report, coroner Hoffman began planning for an examination of the body of Frida Granke, another daughter of Mrs. Linloff, who died June 11, 1908.

Band of Seventy Assassins Leave Shanghai For Peking

London, June 28—A Tien Tsin despatch to the Daily Mail says, "Inspired by the Chen Chi Mei party of Shanghai, seventy assassins have proceeded to Peking with the intention of assassinating the cabinet ministers."

DECLINES TO SUPPORT TAFT

Des Moines, June 28—"I will not be a member of any committee managing President Taft's campaign, neither will I personally support him." This was the declaration of C. F. Franks, chairman of the Iowa Republican state central committee. Mr. Franks took the position that the entire republican state ticket should receive the support of republicans but that any republican "knowing the exact condition of national affairs, and who stands for honesty in politics, is justified in not supporting Mr. Taft."

J. D. TRUEMAN'S DEATH HEROIC

Word Came Today

Three in Light Craft Which Upset in Swift-Running Water—Mr. Trueman Helped Save Dr. Walcott and Then Started to Swim Ashore

As was surmised by his friends, Dr. J. Douglas Trueman, of this city, who was drowned in the Rainy River District, Ontario, in a canoe with Doctor Walcott, secretary of the Geological Department, gave his life for his companions. After gallantly rescuing Doctor Walcott, who could not swim, he gave up his own chance of safety rather than further imperil the lives of the others. His self-sacrifice was successful in saving the others, but his noble deed cost him his own life. Some further details of the tragedy were received this morning in a telegram to MacMillan Trueman, from Dr. R. W. Brock, director of the geological department, who left Ottawa for the west as soon as he was advised of the accident. At the time it took place Mr. Trueman was in a canoe with Doctor Walcott, a young man named Knox, a second year student of Toronto University, who was with Mr. Trueman as an assistant. They were running the rapids in Steep Rock River, below Steep Rock Falls, near the lake of the same name. Doctor Walcott could not swim and Knox was not very familiar with the handling of a canoe. When the canoe was upset the three men were thrown into the water and Mr. Trueman and Knox rescued Doctor Walcott and helped him to the overturned canoe, to which they clung. Doctor Trueman, believing that the frail craft was not sufficient support for three men started to swim to the shore to give them a better chance and also to seek assistance. He was swimming strongly without signs of distress, when suddenly his companions heard him cry for help. Knox started to his assistance, but was too late and Doctor Trueman sank in thirty fathoms of swift-running water. From the conditions surrounding the place, Doctor Brock says that he fears that it may be a week or more before the body is recovered. A couple of years ago Mr. Trueman was accidentally shot through the foot while on another expedition, and this left the limb somewhat weakened. It is thought that this may have caused a cramp or other trouble which made it impossible for him to swim and thus resulted in his death.

FEAR LITTLE BOY DROWNED

Water Clark Missing From His Home in Main Street

His Cap is Found

Fell in Yesterday and Was Rescued and Warned—Father, Fred. Clark, Has Had a Very Heavy Load of Affliction—Here Only Short Time

The waters of the St. John River it is believed have claimed another victim, this time a little six-year-old child, Walter Clark, son of Frederick Clark, of 40 Main street. The last seen of the child was last evening between six and six o'clock when he was playing around the wharves, and was warned several times by his grandmother to keep away from the water front. Several times of late he has been rescued from the river, and only yesterday he fell in again. He was rescued with some difficulty and was taken to his home. His grandmother put on his dry clothes and wanted to keep him in the house, but he pleaded to be allowed out, and she let him go on condition that he would keep away from the water. He evidently disobeyed orders, and went down to the wharf and fell over again. This morning his little cap was found floating in the river, and it is now believed that, while running around the wharf, he fell over and has been drowned. The little lad, a very bright boy, was fond of playing around the wharves, and was warned several times by his grandmother to keep away from the water front. Several times of late he has been rescued from the river, and only yesterday he fell in again. He was rescued with some difficulty and was taken to his home. His grandmother put on his dry clothes and wanted to keep him in the house, but he pleaded to be allowed out, and she let him go on condition that he would keep away from the water. He evidently disobeyed orders, and went down to the wharf and fell over again. This morning his little cap was found floating in the river, and it is now believed that, while running around the wharf, he fell over and has been drowned.

LEADER OF THE REBELS IS DEAD

Believed the Insurrection in Cuba Will Now be Soon Ended

Havana, June 28—General Estero, leader of the insurrection, is officially reported to have been killed. President Gomez received a despatch from General Montenegro, the Cuban Commander-in-chief in Oriente, announcing that Colonel Caguaga had reported the rebel leader dead and his body at Songa. The government is satisfied that this will end the insurrection, the hunting down or the surrender of the minor leaders now being a matter of only a few days. He declared that the most satisfactory effect of the law, however, was the effect it had had on public opinion in the province of Quebec. "Since two or three years," he said, "the French-Canadians have become more susceptible on the subject of their language. When it is attacked they arouse themselves more quickly to its defense. When it experiences a defeat they are more sorrowful. Political barriers and prejudices of the party are disappearing before the interests of the language."

FUSILIERS MAKE FINE SHOWING IN MARCH TO TRAIN ON CAMP TRIP

Headed by the 62nd Fusiliers Brass Band and also the bugle band, the 62nd Fusiliers, under command of Col. J. L. McAvity, left this morning for Camp Sussex, where they will remain for three days. The regiment presented a fine appearance marching from the barracks to the station. The men all carried haversacks, kit bags and camping utensils, along with their other equipment. The officers who went along besides Colonel McAvity were Adjutant Miller, Captains May, Warren, Frost, McArthur, Peters and Lieutenant Simme. Lieutenant Keefe, Knowlton, Pottsman and other officers are already in Sussex. The regiment will return on Tuesday morning. This is the first time in about fifteen years that the 62nd Regiment has been training at Camp Sussex. They can be counted upon to make a good showing with the others in camp.

(Special to Times) Sussex, N. B., June 28—The strength of the already large military encampment was increased by 200 this morning by the arrival of the 62nd Fusiliers, under command of Colonel J. L. McAvity, who marched to their lines just as the bugles were sounding the call to mess at noon. They found their lines awaiting them in good order, Quartermaster Captain McAvity and others of the advance party having done effective work in preparing for their coming. The men will commence their five days drill immediately. Their detrain-

LAVERGNE LAW IS DEEMED SATISFACTORY

Abbe Camille Tessier's Report to the French Language Congress

Quebec, June 28—The results of the Lavergne law in Quebec are satisfactory, according to a report made to day by Abbe Camille Tessier to the Congress du Parole Francaise. Nevertheless, he declared that there were still certain things to be done, and that the French-Canadians should continue to demand from the companies complete compliance with the law and should gain the end, patronize the companies which most closely live up to it and boycott the others. He also suggested that a committee be formed with a fund which would enable them to take actions against such companies as do not comply with the law. He declared that the most satisfactory effect of the law, however, was the effect it had had on public opinion in the province of Quebec. "Since two or three years," he said, "the French-Canadians have become more susceptible on the subject of their language. When it is attacked they arouse themselves more quickly to its defense. When it experiences a defeat they are more sorrowful. Political barriers and prejudices of the party are disappearing before the interests of the language."

WESTINGHOUSE WINS THE EDISON MEDAL

Boston, June 28—The culminating event of the session of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was a banquet last night in the Hotel Somerset, when the Edison medal was presented to George Westinghouse. It was the second year in a row that the medal was awarded to this man, instituted by old associates of Thomas A. Edison, and it was made to Mr. Westinghouse for meritorious achievements in development of the alternating current system of light and power. Former Edison medalists have been Elihu Thomson, in 1909, and Frank L. Spang, in 1910. Mr. Thomson made the presentation address last evening. When the Edison Medal Association was formed in 1904 a trust fund was subscribed to award the medal annually. It was intended to give it to college students, but in 1908 it was decided to award it each year to the person in this country or Canada performing the most meritorious achievement in electrical science. "The institute will close its sessions today."

PERSONALS Mrs. Lawrence W. McGrath, formerly Ellen S. Hill, only daughter of the late John Hill, accompanied by her three children will leave on Saturday to visit her old home and her brother, John Hill of Campbellton.

PERSONALS Mrs. William F. Doherty, Doctor Agatha Doherty, Miss Josephine Doherty and Miss Margarette Doherty, of "Abbeycourt," Eglington, sailed for England on Wednesday on the steamer Royal George. They expect to remain in London and Paris for some months. Manning Doherty went to Montreal to bid bon voyage to his mother and sisters.

PERSONALS So you want a position in my firm? said the merchant to the applicant. "Well, what were you in your last job?" "A door, sir," answered the sad-eyed applicant. "What's that?" asked the employer. "Well, sir," said the sad-eyed one, "I was the door and the rest were the takers. When my gun'vor wanted a thing done he would tell the cashier, the cashier would tell it to the bookkeeper, and the bookkeeper would tell it to his assistant, his assistant would tell it to the chief clerk, and the chief clerk would tell it to me."

PERSONALS Ducks need no more water than chickens until they are three months old. Neither pond nor stream is necessary until the ducklings have their feathers. In fact, until the ducklings are well feathered it is best that they be not allowed to see their own reflection.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 28, 1912

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Cartwright Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

AN EMPLOYER'S PROBLEM

An employer of female labor writes to The Times about the difficulty of securing satisfactory help. As an illustration he tells of two advertisements which he placed in a newspaper, one asking for a girl for office work and the other asking for girls to do manual work in his establishment. To the latter he received practically no response. To the former he received quite a number of applications, badly written, showing that the writers were not competent for the work for which they had applied. Household, on the other hand, tell us that it is difficult to secure domestic help, because so many girls seem to prefer work in factories or elsewhere. Perhaps the question of wages has something to do with the case, but the condition that exists in regard to female help is doubtless more largely due to wrong notions about the dignity of labor. The problem is not one that is easy of solution. It would be interesting to know whether in establishments where the proprietors enable their help to work under healthy conditions and not too many hours per day, at a fair wage, have consistently better results in securing sufficient help of the same kind. The conditions of life in the city at present, where the cost of living is so high, and there are so many demands upon the purse, are such that one would expect to find a degree of eagerness on the part of all able to work to contribute something to the maintenance of the home, or at least to be independent and pay their own way. The fact remains, however, that many employers complain, as already stated, of great difficulty in getting efficient help.

POLITICS CREEPS IN

Even so non-political an institution as the Carnegie Foundation may not be free from the influence of political bias. The "Popular Science Monthly" tells this story in connection with Widrow Wilson, who is a possible Democratic candidate for the presidency of the United States:— "The Carnegie Foundation was originally established to grant pensions for length of service as well for old age and disability. The length of service pensions were abandoned through lack of means, but the trustees, practically all of whom are university or college presidents, instructed the executive committee to 'safeguard the interests of those whose twenty-five years of service includes service as a college president.' Under this clause Dr. Wilson, when retiring from the presidency of Princeton University to be a candidate for governor of New Jersey, applied for the pension to which he was entitled by his services. The application was refused, and in some way information in regard to the matter was made public to Governor Wilson's political injury. The trustees at their last meeting rescinded the resolution in favor of the university president, and Dr. Fritchett states in his report that 'no person has ever been retired under this authority.' But the president of the State University of Iowa, not in an accepted institution and not eligible to retire for age, was granted a pension in August, 1911. The members of the executive committee of the foundation are in politics strongly opposed to Governor Wilson, and the secretary of the foundation was elected to the vacancy caused by the retirement of the president of the University of Iowa. Their members may have been altogether unimpaired by these considerations; but they illustrate the dangers possible under a centralized pension system in which the pensions may be used by the president and the executive committee for ulterior purposes."

FARMING AND CAPITAL

The Montreal Financial Times, a new journal which made its appearance last week, and which gives promise of being a valuable addition to the financial journals of the country, has an interesting article on Farming and Capital. It is based on the remark of one of the British touring party now in Canada that waste of opportunity due to limited capital is the great drawback in agriculture in the Maritime Provinces. We quote: "The fact, of course, is that the Eastern Canadian farmer is very seldom a capitalist, even of the most limited variety; that he does not regard his own recreation as a business requiring capital, and that when he does accumulate a few dollars beyond his actual needs of the moment he deposits them in the bank to draw three per cent, or loans them on a mortgage at five or thereabouts. Scientific farming is impossible without a fairly expensive 'plant.' A good many farmers still laugh at scientific farming as a fad of the legislators and agriculture departments, although they do not laugh quite so confidently as they used to. There is still a marked reluctance among the agriculturists to borrow money for the sake of investment in plant, even though such investment is a sure source of increased profits far in excess of its interest charge. It is a reluctance that dates from the old days, when the Canadian farmer was a pioneer working on a mortgaged farm for a bare subsistence, and liable to the danger of foreclosure in any year of poor crops. Conditions have utterly changed, but the farmer's mind has not yet changed with them, and it may be that the banker's mind has not changed either—that the banker is still less willing to advance money for farm plant than he would be if the outfitting of any other industry. If so, there is need in Eastern Canada for a general change of heart about the loaning of capital and the incurring of obligations for farm betterment."

It is probable that the greater need of change is in the heart of the banker, but as that is likely to be a slow process, the obvious thing to do is for the governments of the provinces to provide a system of state aid to farmers, enabling them to secure necessary capital on long terms of payment at a low rate of interest.

There will be many visitors in St. John in the Back to New Brunswick week. The citizens generally should now be planning their share of work to make the city attractive to all comers.

The strike of the waiters in New York has failed. The strikers were at a disadvantage, since the men who took their places could stay on the premises and avoid being approached either with arguments or clubs.

One reads with regret that acts of vandalism are sometimes committed at Rockwood Park. The park was established and maintained for the benefit of all the people. It is, in reality, their park. They should protect it.

More definite news concerning the drowning of Mr. J. Douglas Trueman of this city shows that he died a hero's death. Realizing that the frail canoe, in which there were three persons when it overturned, would only keep two of them afloat, he turned his face to the shore and, as the sad event proved, relinquished the chance of life. Those who mourn will have at least the sad consolation that he died as a brave man should.

A serious problem is that of getting skilled female labor for factories where dry-goods specialties, clothing and the like are made. There is no way in which they may become skilled except by working for very small wages for a considerable period, and this they seem unwilling to do. A city that hopes to be a large manufacturing centre should be able to supply labor of all kinds.

The Democratic national convention has formally set loose from the plutocrats. It has declared that it will not accept as a candidate for the presidency any man who is the representative of or under any obligation to the privilege hunting and favor seeking class represented by J. Pierpont Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont and others of that ilk. This is a grandstand play which is expected to have considerable effect on the country. A much more lasting effect would be produced by the nomination of a candidate whose name and record would be a guarantee that he would stand for a square deal. There seems some hope that this course will be pursued.

Mr. Louis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, opposes the agitation for the total suppression of the opium traffic. He says that the compulsory reduction of the traffic has already led to an increase of the use of morphine and cocaine. Mr. Harcourt is merely stating in another way the fact that to insure the total suppression of a habit something more than mere legal enactment and restriction is necessary. That is found to be the case in Canada, for example, in connection with the liquor traffic. The adoption of the Scott Act in a New Brunswick county does not put an end to consumption of liquor. There must be behind the law a public sentiment so strong as to utterly discredit those who sell and those who drink liquor before prohibition can be made effective.

GALLERY TICKET SALE MONDAY

Good $1 Seats For Anglin Engagement Next Week — Sale Begins at Ten O'Clock For The Four Performances.

The tickets for the gallery will go on sale at the Opera House box office Monday morning at ten o'clock for the four Anglin performances next week. These cost only $1, and although unreserved, give an excellent opportunity to hear the great attraction at a low figure. As only a limited number will be sold, it would be wise for intending purchasers to be at the box office Monday morning.

ENGLISH CAPITAL IN NIAGARA POWER

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 27.—A recent visit of Lord Montague, a noted engineer, to Niagara Falls was of more than ordinary interest, and it is said that he came for the purpose of making an inspection of the local power development with a view of gathering data on which to base a report to a English investor who may or may not subscribe to a proposed stock and bond issue of the Niagara Falls Power Company, recently authorized by the Public Service Commission of the State of New York.

It is probable that the entire issue of $3,000,000 will be underwritten. The major portion is for the purpose of additions to the plant, and transmission lines of the Canadian Niagara Company.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

NOTHING SO CHEAP.
"Are you girls going to have a daisy chain at your commencement exercises?"
"I should say not. There are none but rich girls at our school. We are going to have an orchestra chain."

A CONCLUSION.
"If it is a crime for a man to fall in love—
"Then I suppose marriage is a capital punishment."—Baltimore American.

HER LIFE A PROBLEM.
Half a woman's time is occupied in thinking up what to have for dinner, and the other half in finding a girl to cook it.—Baltimore Sun.

AWFUL THOUGHT.
Bixby—"What do you think about the new 3-cent piece?"
Bagee—"It's fine. I'm not so sure about the half-cent."

GOT DESPERATE.
An Italian who kept a fruit stand was much annoyed by possible customers who made a practice of handling the fruit and pinching it, thereby having it softened and often spoiled. Exasperated beyond endurance, he finally put up a sign which read:—
"If you mus pincha da fruit—
Pincha da coccaunt!"
Lippincott's Magazine.

"Contentment is better than riches," said the ready-made philosopher. "True," replied Mr. Dustin Stutz; "but my observation is that a man who is rich has a better chance of becoming content than a man who is contented has of becoming rich."—Washington Star.

Farmer (to one of his laborers, who had come home after his first training in the militia):—"Which would you rather be, a soldier or a farm-hand, Paddy?"
Pat—"A soldier, of course."
Farmer—"And why so, Paddy?"
Pat—"Well, you see, you'd be a long time working for a farmer before he'd tell you to stand at ease."

"What do you mean by laying hands on this young man?" asked the policeman.
"Why," replied Mr. Cortes, "them clothes—"
"That's all right. He's a marionette runner."
"Excuse me. I thought he was walking in his sleep."—Washington Star.

MADE THE MOST OF IT.
A poor peasant on his deathbed, made his will. He called his wife to him and told her of it.
"I have left," he said, "my horse to my parents. Sell it, and hand over to them the money you receive. I leave you my dog; he is valuable and will serve you faithfully."
The wife promised to obey, and in due time set out to the neighboring market with the horse and the dog.
"How much do you want for your horse?" enquired a farmer.
"I cannot sell the horse alone, but you can have both at a reasonable rate. Give me ten pounds for the dog, and five shillings for the horse."
The farmer laughed, but as the terms were low, he willingly accepted them. Then the worthy woman handed her husband's parents the five shillings for the horse, and kept the ten pounds for herself.

MAN WHO SCALED HEIGHTS OF MOUNT McKinley

Professor Hershell Parker, of Columbia University, who is reported to have scaled Mount McKinley, being the first to do so, although Doctor Cook once declared he had done so, and received a medal for it.

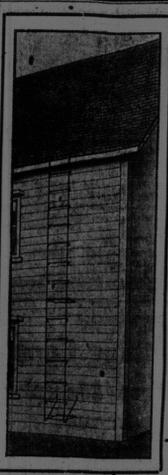

THIS MAN A TANK

Morristown, N. J., June 28.—The testimony of Adolph Hagan in the suit for alimony brought by his wife, that he had spent $225 on beer in a period of 277 days, furnished material for some energetic figuring on the part of those who were present.
At five cents a glass, Hagan's beer investment stand for a total of 14,550 glasses or sixty-three glasses a day. The total for the 277 days is 189 cubic feet of beer, enough to fill a pool six feet wide, fifteen feet long and two feet deep.

ONE HAIR IN YOUR HEAD

is worth several in your hair brush. Everyone you get in your hair brush proves that conditions in your scalp are not as they should be, but they would be if you used EAU de QUININE. Every time that your hair comes out it is a reminder that you need to use it. It's a splendid preparation for the toning of the scalp for dressing the hair and preventing the hair from falling out. Good value for you in every bottle. 50c.

ONE OF THE ADVANTAGES OF LOCAL UNIVERSITIES

One of the advantages of having local universities rather than only a central state institution is illustrated by the co-operative engineering course of the University of Cincinnati, from which students were this year, for the first time, graduated, and it is an interesting fact that the first experiment of this character should have been initiated by the first municipal university. Owing to the initiative and skill of the dean of the college, Professor Herman Schneider, arrangements have been made by which students work alternate weeks at the university and at commercial shops. The theory is taught at the university and the practice is obtained in the manufacturing plants. Students are paid for their work in the shops at the same rate as other men doing the same work, and no inconvenience is caused by the plan of alternate weeks, as the men work continually in the shops in two relays. Students can thus practically support themselves while they are taking the engineering courses in the university. They probably learn more in the shops than by practical courses which the universities could arrange, and the shops obtain superior men. The course is five years, and students probably can gain as valuable an education during this time as in four years wholly devoted to engineering studies. Night schools, extension courses, correspondence schools and the like are all useful, but the plan of working half the time at the university and half the time in practice seems to be superior to any other. There is no reason why the system should not be extended in other directions, as to teachers in the public schools of a city. The University of Cincinnati is certainly to be congratulated on having inaugurated a movement which demon-

RAILWAY EXTENSION

The New Line Across the Island Continent—New Elastic and Liberal Land Laws—Project to Breed Horses for British Army Mounts

(Times' Special Correspondence)
Sydney, N. S. W., June 2—In the course of a vigorous protest against what it describes as "the immigration muddle," the "Australasian" takes a gloomy view of the commonwealth's prospects in the matter of attracting settlers. "Many strange and mysterious things," it remarks, "are done in the name of a white Australia. The other week we were treated to the curious spectacle of a customs official asserting his right to conduct the educational test in any European language he chose, so that he could examine a Russian, Spaniard, and exclude a Norwegian for his ignorance of Greek. Then we have the still more extraordinary case of Mrs. Elliott, the widow of an Englishman and the daughter of a Scotch father and a Saxonian mother. She, it appears, is in New Zealand, and wishes to return to her home in Ceylon, but the Union Company refuses to take her to Sydney because the Orient Company has announced that it cannot, under the alien law, take her to Sydney via Australian ports.

"Obviously this is a case that demands immediate inquiry; if such incidents are to be allowed to occur and to be noted abroad, Australia will soon cease to attract immigrants. And while these things are being done at this end, the emigration agencies at the other end appear to be blundering along in a hopelessly slipshod way which tends to make Australia an object of derision to her smarter competitor, Canada. The representatives of various countries have spent great sums of money on pamphlets, lectures, and other forms of advertisement, but have made no effective provision for shipping the would-be immigrants to Australia.

"Nearly 70,000 emigrants left Britain for this country last year; this year, according to the calculations, the figure could easily be doubled. If Australia were earnest about it, but it appears that shipping accommodation is not available for more than 75,000 at the outside.

Conditions Unsettled

The shipping companies are not willing to make arrangements for coping with a greatly-increased volume of passenger traffic because they know the attitude of the Australian labor party towards immigration, and they fear that any day a new government will reverse the immigration policy of its state. And that is not an unnatural thing. There is a persistent rumor in England, and in Western Australia that the Seaden government intends to cease assisting immigration as soon as the current shipping contracts expire; and even if that rumor be unfounded, still it undoubtedly reflects the known temper of the labor party remains in power there will probably continue to official hostility, which, indeed, has not been less deadly, to immigration, because that party has never yet been cured of its client delusion that the wealth of a country is a fixed quantity and the greater the number of mouths to consume it the smaller the share of each individual consumer.

Following the example of the federal house of representatives, who a year or two ago voted themselves a substantial increase of salary, the New South Wales labor government has brought forward a bill to raise the remuneration of members of the state legislative assembly from $1,000 to $2,500 per annum. The measure also provides a special allowance of $1,250 for the leader of the opposition.

On a motion to go into committee on the proposal to introduce the bill, Mr. Wade, leader of the opposition, said he considered it most unfair to discuss the bill without any discussion such a highly-contentious measure. If parliament dipped its hand into the treasury chest and took the amount proposed, without a word of approval or authority from its constituents, it would be doing wrong and would be misusing its powers. Assuming that members were entitled to a larger salary, parliament had no right to make their proposed raid upon the treasury without consultation with the people for whom in members were working in the house.

The bill was introduced by thirty-five votes to fourteen, and read a first time.

Doan's Kidney Pills
Are the Best Remedy in The World FOR BACKACHE.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

You overtax the kidneys—give them more work than they can possibly do—then they cry out in protest through the pain in the back.

Backache is simply kidneyache and the best remedy is the world for backache and all kidney troubles is Doan's Kidney Pills.

We have thousands of testimonials from all quarters of the globe to prove this. Here is one from a party who used them in England, but who is now a resident of Canada.

Mr. P. R. Chauville, Wyldiff, B.C. writes: "When living in the 'Old Country,' three years ago, I suffered severely from pains in the back, and had to give up work. The pain was so bad that when I stooped down to pick anything up, I felt my back must break. I tried all sorts of remedies and several doctors, but all to no purpose. One day I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, and thought I might as well try them, and to my surprise, before I was half through one box the backache had entirely disappeared, and it has not caused me any trouble since. I always keep Doan's in the house and shall always recommend them to all sufferers."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Railway Extension

Now that the trans-continental railway to connect Perth with Melbourne and Sydney is well under way, attention is once more being directed to the kindred scheme for the construction of a line across the continent from north to south. This is a new proposal, but the urgent necessity for the opening up of the vast northern territory has now brought it well within the region of practical politics. Unfortunately its realization is likely to involve a good deal of interstate jealousy.

Queensland and New South Wales want the extension of the existing Darwin to Pine Creek line to run in a south-easterly direction, through the pastoral areas of Queensland, straight to Sydney. But South Australia has already constructed a narrow-gauge line from Adelaide, 700 miles to north, to Oodnadatta, and by the agreement with the federal government, under which the northern territory was handed over to federal administration, South Australia contends that the north-south line must be built from Darwin to Oodnadatta.

The federal minister for external affairs, in whose department the northern territory is controlled, now advances yet a third possible route, to touch the north-western border of Western Australia, where much good land is waiting to be opened up.

It appears to be generally recognized that through communication between north and south is an indispensable preliminary to the white settlement of the northern territory. The federal government is pledged to spare no effort to test the "white Australia" policy, and there is not much doubt that an overland railway would remove most of the objections which white men today have to taking their families to the remotest corner north.

For this reason alone, it is contended, the scheme cannot be much longer delayed.

The new land ordinances for the territory provide what are officially described as the most elastic and liberal land laws ever devised. The minister for external affairs states, for instance, that the government do not purpose charging any rent for agricultural and mixed farming leases for the first ten years. Further, about 6,000 leases will be picked out in different parts of the territory, which will be deemed pioneering leases. These will be granted on the understanding that no rent is to be charged for the lifetime of the person to whom the lease is granted, with a minimum of twenty-years.

Breeding Horses for Army

Lord Denham, the governor general, is interesting himself in a project of more than local value, and one which many Australians have long recognized as of vast importance—the breeding of army horses. Over and over again it has been pointed out that the northern table-lands of the continent, especially near the Gulf of Carpentaria, are ideal regions for horse breeding, and that Darwin is a natural outlet for an overseas trade with India for army remounts. Speaking at a big agricultural show the other day, Lord Denham said that not only had the Indian remount market to be provided for, but under the new commonwealth defence scheme double the number of horses would be required for the light horse regiments and for artillery and transport in the near future. He therefore thought that breeders in their own interests as well as on patriotic grounds, might turn their attention to the improvement of this particular class of stock.

It is now stated that army horse breeding in the north will probably soon begin in real earnest. The Berkeley tablelands country is a region upon which the energetic new administrator of the northern territory has promptly fixed his attention, and under his encouragement big pastoral developments are being started. One of the leaders of an expedition that set out fourteen months ago on a travelling inspection of this country has just returned to the south. He describes the climate as perfect, with regular and beautiful rains. Rich grasses abound. The expedition was despatched to select sites for new wells on the stock routes, and to ascertain whether or not a port could be made readily in the Gulf of Carpentaria for the Eastern Tableland. The expedition passed through 5,000,000 acres of green meadow land, which is reached six miles from Borroloola, a little township fifty miles up the navigable M'Arthur River.

Cut Worms and Army-Worms

Two species of caterpillar, the cut worm and the army-worm, have been considered by the officials of the experimental farms to be of sufficient interest to the crop growers in Canada to warrant the preparation of a bulletin upon them for public distribution. These two common enemies of crops are credited with causing every year damage amounting to a large sum of money, reaching in some seasons hundreds of thousands of dollars. They are both night feeders and are most destructive early in the season when vegetation is tender, and therefore, easily eaten off.

Clean cultivation and the encouragement of birds are recommended as factors in the control of cut worms. The distribution of poisoned bran and fresh clover is also advised where practical whenever the worms are detected. To check the progress of army-worms on marsh furrows with holes dug at intervals are said to be effective. This illustrated bulletin of 29 pages, No. 3, of the division of entomology and No. 7, of the experimental farms, was prepared at the request of the Dominion entomologist by his chief assistant, Arthur Gibson. It is published by direction of Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture. Copies may be obtained by applying to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

FIRST VOTE CAST FOR OLD HOME WEEK QUEEN

At nine o'clock yesterday morning the first ballot was cast for Miss Ethel Alcorn, giving her 100 votes, and a lead in the voting contest. It is expected that about forty candidates will enter. The voting contest will be watched with increasing interest, on being the first time a contest of this kind has ever been carried on in St. John.

Thos. F. McCarthy, promoter of the contest, when asked in regard to how the contest is carried on made the following remarks: It is carried on in all the big cities throughout the country, and is considered one of the most noted contests ever carried on, showing how much power the women have in regard to the voting, and how careful they are in casting their votes for various candidates.

The way to vote: Secure your envelopes in the main stores throughout the cities. Write name of candidate on the outside of envelope, marking the amount of votes cast.

Nominations will be open to any unmarried young lady residing in St. John or vicinity. The prizes to be awarded are as follows: First prize, a $100 diamond ring; second prize, a fancy gold silver manicuring set; third prize, a white gold-headed umbrella. The prizes are on exhibition in Gundry's jewelry store window, where they may be seen.

The recent investment in the plant here will result in a decided improvement in the earnings of the common stock of the steel corporation during the current year.
The advantageous position of the steel department and the fact that the demand is rapidly increasing makes the prospects in this branch of the business extremely bright. COMPLETE WORK ON ST. JOHN RIVER

Final Report of Engineers is Soon to Be Submitted

IMPORTANT MEETING

Witnesses Were Heard Concerning Chamberlain Lake, at Session of International Commission Which Has Just Been Held at Van Buren

(Bangor Commercial)
The final report of a board of consulting engineers of the International St. John River Commission is to be filed before the 15th of August with the members of the commission according to the statement made by the engineers at the hearing held at Van Buren during the latter part of the month of June. This is the consulting engineers are chief engineer of the Van Buren water works, S. Ferguson, of New York city, chief engineer of the International Paper Co., and S. J. Chaplain, of the Department of Public Works, Dominion of Canada. Under their direction the lake has been carefully surveyed and a report containing estimates on the possible amount of storage in the river, both for the lumbering interests and for the power purposes together with the locations of dams and the carrying out of the work, is the result.
The members of the commission were present at the hearing in Van Buren together with the consulting engineers and counsel for the United States and the Dominion. Hon. Oscar P. Folow of this city is counsel for the United States.
During the time the commission was in session additional testimony concerning the Chamberlain lake dams, which figure largely in the plans of the St. John River Commission, was heard. The testimony was taken. The commissioners heard witnesses who described the time in 1888 when the dam Chamberlain was blown down to allow more water to come down the St. John, and again in 1905—the year of the great Van Buren water works—when the dam was again blown by the lumber interests along the river.
Messrs. Ferguson and Chaplain, chief engineer with W. H. Ranney, the chief engineer, were questioned in relation to the dam which they had in mind. The engineers and as to their report.
A report of progress was submitted by the engineers to the commission, and it is possible to submit the final report at this session, and in this report some important questions asked by the commission were answered.
According to the report the amount of water which may be conserved by the erection of dams, without exceeding the present high water level on the St. John River, is 1,000,000,000 cubic feet, and is as follows:
On the Upper St. John, 1,000 millions of cubic feet.
On the Allagash, 10,000 millions of cubic feet.
On the Baker Brook, 810 millions of cubic feet.
On the Madawaska, 11,610 millions of cubic feet.
This estimate supposes the erection of new dams or the raising of the existing dams to the level of the present high water.
The engineers find that the driving of the river and the damming of the river with such storage carried out to this extent, and would greatly benefit the industry there. They do not, however, consider it wise to depend on power development to take care of all the products of the farms and dairies. Something new in the milk business will be the marketing of a high grade of milk of especially good quality, under the name of Primrose brand, which will be produced under the most careful hygienic conditions in the farm and dairy, and which will receive special care in the bottling. The surplus milk of usual quality will be sold at the regular price also.
Such products as potatoes and pork, which are produced in large quantities, may be sold retail, but with their storage facilities and selling organization they will also be able to take advantage of the best market wherever it may be found to suit the producer. This is one of the objects of the J. V. Hoag, recently manager of the Sussex Packing Company, and formerly of the J. V. Hoag Canning Co.
The goods supplied by each member will be accounted for separately, and will be marked with a distinguishing number so that any complaint may be taken up directly with the person at fault. This will stimulate the farmers to greater care and will ensure satisfaction to their customers.
Each member will be credited with the goods he supplies at the wholesale price and after the selling expenses have been paid he will receive his share of the profits in proportion to the value of the goods he has supplied. In this way the goods have to carry only one profit and the farmers will receive the surplus which ordinarily goes to the middlemen.
That something of this sort is necessary is shown, the farmers contend, by a study of market conditions. While the selling price of farm and dairy products has advanced considerably in some cases, it has remained almost stationary in others, although the general cost of production has gone up almost eighty per cent. vastly more than the increase in the retail price of any of their goods. This is one of the conditions which have made farming unprofitable, and driven so many men from the farm to the city. The practical methods adopted by the new organization will increase their profits without raising prices and if it receives support it is expected to do much to encourage farming and dairying in this section of the province.
The credit for the organization of this cooperative company is largely due to E. Allan Schofield of this city, who operates a model farm at Hampton, and who has always displayed a deep and practical interest in agricultural matters.

FARMERS' DAIRY AND PRODUCE COMPANY TO START IN FEW DAYS

Banded Together to Market Products; St. John Headquarters
Shareholders All Residents of District Between Penobscot and Jubilee—Saving the Middlemen's Profits—The System Explained
An experiment of great interest to farmers and the consumers of farm products, thus including practically everybody in the province, is to be made by the Farmers' Dairy and Produce Company, an organization recently incorporated to do business in St. John. The object of the company is to bring the producers and consumers of dairy and dairy products together, to save the farmers the larger portion of the profits which usually go to the middlemen and to enable the producers of their products to secure supplies of the best grade, fresh from the dairy and at a reasonable price.
The advancing cost of production, which greatly exceeded the advance in selling prices, has made something of a situation necessary if the farmers are to make a living. The plan adopted will enable them to continue to produce without advancing the cost to the consumer. Both classes, it is claimed, will benefit and as the experiment is new to the province, it will be watched with deep interest.
The company is a co-operative organization of about sixty farmers and dairymen, which will be enlarged to include several producers in all. Each holds the same share in the capital of the venture and each will have the same voice in the direction of its affairs. The shareholders at St. John are all residents of the district between Penobscot and Jubilee Station on the I. C. R., who have banded together to produce and market their products. They are located in the N. B. old Spruce Lodge for the week. Mrs. W. F. Small and little son, Melvin, of Grand Bay, are the guests of Mrs. Small's mother, Mrs. C. A. Stuart, Main street. Mrs. W. S. Thomas, of Fredericton, is the guest of Mrs. George W. Fowler. Mr. Thomas is expected for the week-end.
Sussex Record.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Salisbury, on Friday evening, Principal G. N. Belys will be married to Miss Myrtle E. Brown. After the ceremony the principals will leave for Carleton county, where Mr. Belys will continue his business with his brother.
Fredericton Mail.—Miss Katie F. Corbett of Cambridgeport, Mass., and Miss Mary Corbett, of St. John, are the guests of Mrs. Fred Corbett, Forest Hill. West Bay Kitchens left yesterday for the west, where he purposes spending the summer. Mr. Kitchen first intends visiting his son who has located in the west and, subsequently making a tour of the western states and Canada.
"Oh, mother," sobbed the young wife, "I've discovered that John doesn't trust me."
"Why, child, what has he done?"
"Well, you know, I cooked my first dinner for him today and he invited a friend to dine with him."
The sob broke out afresh. "And, oh, mother, the man he invited was a doctor!"—Pathfinder.

Mrs. Norman Mack, at the national Democratic convention in Baltimore, wife of the permanent chairman of the national Democratic committee.

REGENT DEATHS
Moncton, N. B., June 27.—(Special)—Lawrence Lezer, a former well known I. C. R. employe, who retired a few years ago on the provident fund, passed away this afternoon, aged 77 years. He had lived in Moncton about thirty-five years, working on the I. C. R. the greater part of that time. Three daughters, Mrs. C. W. Moffat, of Amherst; Mrs. Joseph Baker, of Boston; Miss Alice Lezer, of Moncton, and one son, Herbert, of Boston, survive.
Toronto, June 27.—J. S. Russell, one of Canada's most prominent curlers and founders of the Ontario Curling Association, died suddenly at 2 o'clock this afternoon at No. 722 Dover Court road. Mr. Russell was born in Scotland 57 years ago and was always keenly interested in sports and did much to further bowling and curling in Ontario. For years he was on all the championship teams. Of late years, Mr. Russell had had to give up his active interest in the sports, but in his business as importer of curling stones, lawn bowls, etc., he kept in touch with his favorite recreations.
Mrs. Elias Tower, of Rockport, aged seventy-nine years, was found dead in bed Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Maxwell, Sackville. She leaves one son, Capt. Leonard Tower, and three daughters—Mrs. Mariner Fowler, Westmount Point; Mrs. Terah Ayer, Frosty Hollow; Mrs. Frank Maxwell, Sackville.
The death of Lawrence Lezer, occurred yesterday in Moncton. He was in his 77th year. He leaves three daughters and one son. The daughters are: Mrs. Charles Moffat, of Amherst; Mrs. Joseph Baker, of Boston, and Alice at home, the son is Herbert, of Boston.
The death of William Rochford, aged twenty-eight years, occurred in Fredericton, N. B., on Wednesday. He was a native of Chipman. He was confined to Victoria Hospital, where he lately underwent an operation.

BRYAN RESOLUTION AGAINST BIG MONEY MEN IS ADOPTED

Baltimore, Md., June 27.—William Jennings Bryan tonight led the Democratic convention into a declaration of progressive unbelief in political history. A resolution introduced by him, which was passed by a two-thirds majority, declared the convention opposed to the nomination of any candidate for president who had ever received a dollar from a privilege-granting class.
At the conclusion of the roll call of his resolution, Mr. Bryan had the following to say in regard thereto: "This vote eliminates all of the reactionaries and we can now proceed to the election of a progressive, put him on a progressive platform, and go out and win. There are some things which I think it would be wise for the candidate to do, but they need not be announced until his nomination."
Before the result of the roll call was announced, Delaware, Florida, Connecticut, Montana, and half a dozen other states shifted votes to the eye column, then others followed.
The official result was: Yes, 889; no, 100; not voting, 2; absent, 1.
WEDDINGS
Hazen-Parlee.
A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at half past eight o'clock in St. Mary's church, when the rector, Archbishop Raymond, united in marriage Miss Florence J. Parlee and Frank G. Hazen, both of this city. The bride was attended by Miss Anne Marfin Guna, and the groom was supported by the bride's brother, Chas. E. Parlee. The groom's present to the bride was a watch and diamond brooch. The bridesmaid a signet brooch. The bride was dressed in white all over lace over pale blue silk, wore a large white hat and carried a white prayer book. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the bride's home in Fredericton street. Mr. and Mrs. Hazen will reside at 85 Marsh Road.

APPELLING MISTAKE

"At the prayer meeting the other night," confessed Mrs. Goodale, wife of the pastor, "Brother Joffler made the most awful blunder you ever heard of."
"What was it?" inquired Mrs. Hardy.
"He started the hymn, 'Tell me the old story,' to the tune of 'His anshy here seen Kelly!'"

NOVA SCOTIA LOBSTER MEN ARE HART HIT

French Bill Means a Lot Of Money Out of Their Pockets

DRAYTON GETS THE JOB Toronto Corporation Counsel To Succeed Judge Mabey—Detective Says Lawyer Tried to Bribe Him—Dr. Nesbitt on the Witness Stand

Halifax, June 27.—The French chamber of deputies have before them a bill which provides that all species of canned fish shall have the name of the country of its origin embossed upon the tin in which they are packed.

This is of special importance to the lobster packers of Nova Scotia. Several thousands of cases of canned lobsters are now on the way from Canada to France, and if the bill becomes operative at once these would be liable to be refused admittance to that country. The goods already packed for that market, without any knowledge of the proposed change, are about 50,000 cases of lobsters. The trade would be considerably affected if the bill were to become law. The 50,000 cases of lobsters at present market rates would be worth $300,000.

A meeting in Halifax drew up a memorial to the government, showing that as canned lobsters are produced commercially only in British North America, and none are or can be packed in France, that the stamping or embossing of the name of the country thereon would mean an inconvenience and expense to the packers, and prove of no advantage to the consumer in France, but rather tend to increase the cost, and to the detriment of the operation of the Canadian authorities in an effort to have the government's provisions that if such a law comes into operation, that the canners of the country shall have at least a month's notice to enable them to provide cans in conformity with such requirements.

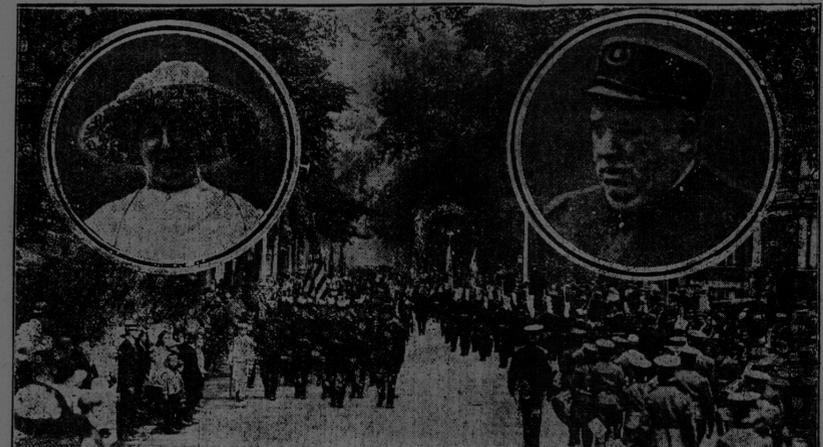

Ottawa, June 27.—The corporation counsel for Toronto for the past four years, has finally decided to accept the government's repeated offer of the chairmanship of the railway commission in succession to the late Judge Mabey.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 27.—For the first time a witness in the Darrow trial today charged Clarence S. Darrow with having personally offered him a bribe to testify to his certain evidence against the McNamara brothers.

The witness, Guy Biddinger, a Chicago detective, one of the men who arrested James B. McNamara and Arthur McLaughlin, testified he had pretended to be Darrow's lawyer, and that Darrow told him he wanted to learn the inner details of the McNamara defense, had been "tipping off" secret information to Detective W. J. Burns.

Mr. Park was one of the few survivors of the body of journeymen tailors which the old time firm of James S. May & Co. brought to the city from Scotland about forty years ago. For the last fourteen years he was employed by W. H. Turner, of the north end, and had always been a faithful and valued employee, giving up his position nine months ago on account of ill health. He was twice married, and his second wife died many years ago. His sons, James and Thomas, and a daughter, Mrs. L. T. Wetmore, all of this city, survive.

INTERNATIONAL PARADE, KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN, IN TORONTO

This picture shows the big organization moving in two directions in Jarvis street. There was considerable comment made as the result of the fact that there was no sign of the Union Jack in the parade. The Stars and Stripes predominated. The picture in front represents Miss Johanna White of Kentucky, supreme secretary of the ladies' auxiliary, and General W. T. Hornor, supreme treasurer of Covington, Kentucky.

DEATH OF THOMAS PARK

Found With Head Submerged in Newman Brook—Suffered From Heart Trouble

With his head submerged in Newman Brook, which at that point is not more than three feet deep, Thomas Park, a well known and much respected citizen of the North End, was found dead just after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by James W. Speight. Mr. Speight was returning from a gunning trip and was crossing the rifle range behind Fort Howe on the plank sidewalk, when he caught sight of the body lying face downward just off the sidewalk, with the head under water. He turned the body over quickly but saw no signs of life, and at once sent word to Dr. W. F. Roberts, the coroner.

Dr. Roberts examined the body and found no signs of violence, giving permission to have the body removed to Chamberlain's undertaking rooms where he made a thorough examination later in the evening.

Mr. Park had been in ill health for some months suffering from heart trouble, but had been working yesterday morning. He lives with his son in High street and went out yesterday afternoon for a walk. Robert Elliott, of Rim street, saw him on the ranges at 2 o'clock and Mr. Park at that time complained of his health, but appeared capable of taking care of himself. It is thought he fell from the sidewalk when attacked by heart trouble, and when his head went under water died before he regained consciousness.

THE NICKEL'S FINE WEEK END BILL

The Nickel opened its end-week programme this afternoon with a wig and a budget of fine features. This being the merry bridal season the highly hilarious Lubin comedy "The Honeymooners," came in very opportunely. If ever there was a comedy handsomely costumed, elaborately staged and sprightly enacted this farce de luxe is that. It is a terrible warning to late brides or brides of any month and will cause a furore of fun for the next two days.

The other stories included "An Eucy Mix-Up," which is typically a New York comedy-drama with many fine metropolitan scenes. The dramatic element is contained in the western story, "The Ring's Daughter," or an adventure with home thieves. Miss Pearson is closing her engagement with the Nickel in the song "Take Me Back to Old Virginia," and Mr. Colton's offering is "Down By the Old Meadow Lane."

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The new $5 dominion bills will be issued on July 1. On one side is a scene in the Wentworth Valley in Nova Scotia, with an intercolonial train coming down the grade on the Poleg Mountain.

The waters and other hotel employes have declared their strike off and say they are prepared to return to work. They have lost.

James Bradley was convicted of common assault in the season of the county court in Andover yesterday presided over by Judge Gorton and was sentenced to a term of three months in the county jail with hard labor.

Harry Thomassen, charged with the murder of Emma Walker, a hired man on the steamer Wacousta at North Sydney last November, was found guilty at Sydney to night after the jury deliberated about three hours. Thomassen was tried at the February term but the jury disagreed.

The steamer Labrador, bunkering at Sydney, reports that Joseph Dubois, a fisherman, was lost overboard on the night of June 18.

Rome, June 27.—Baron Vincenzo Paterno, a former cavalry lieutenant in the Italian army, was today sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Princess Trisouni Di Sant'Elia, lady in waiting to Queen Helena, on March 2, 1911.

MORNING LOCALS

The police investigation with Commissioner McEllan presiding was resumed at city hall yesterday afternoon and after additional witnesses including a member of the police force had been examined, adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon when one or two witnesses will be heard and the investigation concluded.

Results of the examinations in the music department of McGill University include the following from the maritime provinces. Passed, first examination for Mrs. Rose, Miss Florence De Courcy, Campbell; final examination for Mrs. Mac, (passed in parts of this examination); Miss Katrina Mackenzie, Moncton; final examination for lieutenant, Miss Ellen Gillis, St. John; special harmony class, Miss Nancy L. Raymond, Woodville.

There was a large crowd in the King Square last evening when St. Mary's band played last evening. The band was led by Mr. Williams played a fine programme. There were many compliments on their excellent work.

The foreman of the park gardens complains that while the band concert was in progress at Rockwood on Wednesday evening, some boys defaced one of the new seats in the garden. They also used foul language. He wants more police protection on the park on concert nights.

At the Conservative headquarters in Beauséjour last evening the victory of the government candidates was celebrated. Speeches were made by J. B. M. Baxter, W. T. White and several other members of the party.

Final arrangements were made for December 1st, at a meeting of "The Boys' Association" on Wednesday evening. On Sunday July 28 the members of No. 30 will assemble on the west side and march to Fairville where they will be met by the members of No. 40. The two lodges will then march to Cedar Hill, where they will decorate the graves of their departed members. Committees have been appointed to decorate the graves of those who died in Lorneville and Fernhill.

According to an Ottawa despatch Hon. W. T. White has accepted an invitation to be present at the formal opening of the Courtenay Bay Works here on July 11. It is understood that the railway department will decorate the work on the drydock.

Commissioner Wigmore has given instructions to the water department to lay a water main down Egbert street to supply water for use in connection with the work on the Courtenay Bay Works. Construction Company has agreed to put up the guarantee asked by the city.

TORPID LIVER IN THE SPRING

In the spring both the liver and kidneys are overworked in an effort to remove the poisonous impurities which accumulate in the system during the winter and in overcoming the trying effect of the changing temperature.

Once the liver gets sluggish and torpid, digestive system, sour stomach, flatulency, wind on the stomach, acute indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and bilious headache are among the symptoms.

The liver must be assisted, and the process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened, for on these two organs depends entirely the purification of the blood. Both these filtering organs are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

For this reason there is no treatment which will more quickly rid the blood of poisonous waste matter than this great prescription of Dr. Chase. Put it to the test this spring and escape the tired, languid feelings consequent on a poisoned system.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Robertson-Tweedie. The marriage of Miss Minnie Isabella Tweedie and James Alexander Robertson, both of this city, took place last evening at the summer residence of Rev. L. A. McLean, at Millidgeville. The ceremony was witnessed by several relatives and friends of the contracting parties. A large number of valuable presents were received attesting to the popularity of bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will reside at 11 Stanley street.

Connell-McKinley. A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the groom's mother, 199 Brunswick street, when Miss Minnie McKinley was united in marriage to Robert Connell. The ceremony was performed by Archbishop Raymond. The bride was attired in a dress of golden silk and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Mabel Connell, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a dress of cream serge, with satin trimmings carrying a bouquet of carnations. The groom was supported by George Fry, the wedding march was played by Robert Moore, uncle of the groom. The parlour was beautifully decorated with ferns and garlands. The Miss Eva Costley acted as flower girl. The groom's present to the bride was a check and to the bride a diamond ring. The groomsmen were Mr. and Mrs. Connell will reside at 88 Marsh Road.

Maga-Gulbert. A very popular young couple of this town were united in marriage this afternoon in the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Dawson, when the bride, Miss Louise Maga, and groom, Mr. William H. Gulbert, daughter of William H. Gulbert, and Mrs. Arthur Maga, were united in matrimony. The church was tastefully decorated in ferns and flowers, and was thronged with the friends of the young couple, with whom they are very popular.

Miss Gulbert was prettily attired in a white dress, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mrs. D. H. McAllister acted as bridesmaid, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mr. D. H. Turner was best man and H. A. Clarke and H. T. Begg acted as ushers. A number of gifts were presented to the bride and groom, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Flewelling, rector of Canterbury.

VERDICTS IN TWO CASES In the circuit court yesterday afternoon the case of William Morris vs. Thomas Williams, contractor was taken up. This is an action to recover $4,000 damages for injuries received by the plaintiff, who is blind, by falling into an excavation, being dug by the defendant on Watson street, west side, one Sept. 6, 1911. It was contended for the plaintiff that there was negligence on the part of the defendant, by reason of his not having the trench properly fenced.

The defence put in no appearance, and Dr. F. L. Kenney, of Wells, Wilson, Whalen, Walter L. McLeod, William Morris and the latter's wife gave evidence for the plaintiff who was represented by A. A. Wilson, K. C., and S. B. Bustin. The jury was composed of Robert A. Watson, Percy Holman, Thomas J. Kee, John Edgewood, Harry I. Morton, F. Deane Smith and William Keane. A verdict for the plaintiff of $800 and costs was given.

In the case of William Carlton Hale vs. Joseph Thompson, an action to recover $2,000 civil damages on the ground of assault and battery, the jury, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for the defendant. At the morning session the defendant, Sherman Johnston, and William R. Garrison, George H. V. Bell, appeared for the plaintiff and Recorder Barker, K. C., for the defendant. This case will be appealed.

HOW IT HAPPENED The lead—"De Hamme must have seen that trouble coming. Why didn't he get out of the truck?" The Heavy—"In a moment of preoccupation he mistook the headlight for a spotlight and struck a post."

MR. INGRAHAM OF ST. JOHN IS REGISTRAR

The Pharmaceutical Society Meeting—Lightning Strikes Sheffield Barr

Fredericton, June 27.—The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Pharmaceutical Society was held at Pine Bluff Camp, Springhill, today amid very pleasant surroundings. There was a good attendance, most of the Fredericton druggists being present as well as a large delegation from St. John.

After the usual reports had been read and adopted the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. President, J. Ryan, Fredericton; vice-presidents, J. Magee Cook, Moncton; treasurer, G. Y. Dibblee, Fredericton; secretary, C. Fred Cheaston, Fredericton; registrar, E. B. W. Ingraham, St. John; council—the officers, J. M. Wiley, Altona Staples, A. W. Combes, C. A. Burchill, J. M. Cook, B. Spencer, E. Mair, E. R. W. Ingraham; delegates to dominion pharmaceutical meeting at Vancouver (B. C.), D. B. McKenzie, Chatham; George Y. Dibblee, Fredericton; substitutes, J. M. Cook, E. Mason.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Moncton. After the conclusion of the regular business the members of the society were entertained at dinner by the Fredericton druggists. An excellent report was received and was followed by a round of toasts and speeches.

At the meeting of the New Brunswick Educational Institute held this afternoon a paper by John T. Hawke, of Moncton, chairman of the Moncton school board was read. It was entitled: "Does our school system meet modern industrial needs?" The discussion was opened by Dr. H. S. Bridges, of St. John. It was discussed by several members of the institute. The subject of "Industrial continuation schools" was taken up and discussion led by Prof. Sexton, director of technical education, Halifax.

During the course of a severe thunderstorm which passed over Sheffield yesterday, the barn of George W. Bridges was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Mr. Bridges, who was on horseback near the barn at the time, was knocked off his horse and received by severe shock, but otherwise escaped serious injury.

Fortunately there was no live stock in the barn at the time, and very little hay. The contents consisting of only some empty barrels and farming implements. It is understood that the loss is covered by insurance.

MR. DUGAL DENIES A YARN

To the Editor of The Telegraph. Sir—I have read in some newspapers that I was to support the Premier's address yesterday. I am sorry to state that my good Liberal friends in Madawaska county have elected me as a supporter of the opposition and I shall remain faithful to my party. Hoping that you will publish the above explanation, I am, Sir, Yours very truly, L. AUGUSTE DUGAL, Edmundston (N. B.), June 28, 1912.

WAS A GREAT SUFFERER FOR FIVE YEARS FROM DYSPEPSIA.

Dyspepsia is one of the most prevalent troubles of civilized life, and thousands of people suffer untold agony every year, for nearly everything that enters a weak dyspeptic stomach acts as an irritant.

The long train of distressing symptoms, which render life a burden to the victim of dyspepsia, may be promptly cured by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

"I have suffered from dyspepsia for five years, and tried different doctors and proprietary medicines, but could get no relief. I was finally cured by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. I do not have much faith in it, but I thought I would give it a trial. To my surprise, I am completely cured, and I will always recommend it."

HOLIDAY TO BE BIG ONE AT CAMP SUSSEX

July 1 Attractive to Both The Soldiers and Visitors

WILL BE FIELD SPORTS Bonfire and "Sing Song" to Close The Day—The Work of The Signallers—Baking the Bread For The Hungry Men

Sussex, N. B., June 27.—All was activity at Sussex Camp today. Old Sol cast warm and radiant sunshine over a busy scene. From early morning parade until the command "dismis" was given late this afternoon, the big green field presented an animated spectacle with nearly 3,000 men in uniform dress, khaki shirt and trousers and "Panama" hats, executing orders of drill in various and multiple manoeuvres, marching, wheeling, forming fours, reforming and in other ways following the diverse commands given by their officers or instructors.

The camp has settled to a definite programme of action and the men are becoming accustomed to the daily routine and familiarizing themselves with matters of detail. The "Rookies," as recruits are termed, are sharpening their wits and though still members of the "awkward squad," they are improving considerably and know which way to turn when the commands "right wheel," "right about," or others similar are given. They have soon learned also which foot to first place in action on marching off with in addition to matters of drill and discipline they have become painfully wise concerning some of the old soldiers' tricks which were found for instance, there are few to be found who will start off with brush and pall to "whitewash the last post."

Holiday Programme. Arrangements are being made whereby Dominion day, July 1, will be attractive to both soldiers and visitors. At noon a royal salute of twenty-one guns will be fired with the whole infantry brigade and infantry standing at rigid attention. As there is no artillery in camp, the salute will be fired by a detachment of infantry. In the afternoon a programme of field sports will be held, beginning on the broad expanse of level ground in the lower portion of the field at 4.30 o'clock, after the bugle has sounded the retreat from parade.

In the afternoon a programme of field sports will be held, beginning on the broad expanse of level ground in the lower portion of the field at 4.30 o'clock, after the bugle has sounded the retreat from parade. Captain T. Malcolm McAlvay has donated a handsome silver cup and individual prizes will also be presented. Preliminary events will be held before Monday, when all of the corps will compete in baseball, running, pole vaulting, broad jump, tests of horsemanship, and a score of other features.

In the afternoon, also, a social event of interest will be a reception held by Miss C. Herbert McLean in a large marquee in the Dragon lines. A large number of invitations have been extended and a pleasant time is anticipated. In the evening a huge bonfire and "sing-song" will be held in the hollow. This is a feature of camp life which has many admirers amongst the soldiers. Through out the day teams and men are kept at work on collecting logs, trees, brush and other material to keep the fire high and deep and when a match kindling the "sing-song" begins. The programme this year will be furnished by the Army Service Corps and 62nd Battalion of St. John.

The patients in No. 2 hospital, conducted by No. 2 Canadian A. M. C., in charge of Captain F. S. L. Ford, of Liverpool (N. S.), are convalescent today, but another was added to the number being treated by the physicians and attendants of this body today. Private Bruce McVicar, of the 29th N. B. Dragoons, suffered painful injuries on being kicked by a horse in the side. He was taken to the field hospital in an ambulance and is somewhat improved tonight. His injuries are not serious, but he will be unable to drill again during camp.

Signallers at Work. The instructions being given at signalling are being accorded great attention by the largest classes for this camp of military study yet up on the coast. Capt. T. E. Powers is in command and is being ably assisted by J. Arthur Lindsay, I. M. S., and the subordinate members of the No. 8 section.

The recruits are being taught the art of flag waving in the semaphore, while the more advanced classes are receiving instructions in sending words, letters and figures by "dots and dashes" in the Morse code. Some of those who have more experience are given telegraphs and signalling from one station to another, with generally a transmitting post, by means of flagging their mirrors to the sun. This is an interesting procedure and is regarded with careful attention by those unfamiliar with the "umpy-itydy" language, the sending of messages through the air for varied distances by means of the Morse code and the aid of the sun.

Major J. R. Kirkpatrick, 6th Regiment, was field officer today, and Major J. W. S. Black will act in that capacity tomorrow. Major S. T. A. Wainwright, 71st Regiment, was orderly medical officer, and Lieut. G. B. Peat, of the 6th Regiment, will attend to this duty tomorrow.

Bread Supply. The huge ovens embedded in the clay in the rear of the Army Service Corps lines are now turning out the bread supply for the vast host of men in camp and as most of them are the happy possessors of healthy appetites it is no mean task to keep them in bread. For the first day or two of the camping season this important table article was furnished by contract with Sussex firms, but now the big baking ovens have been put in shape and the members of the bakers' division of No. 7 A. S. C. work them to the limit in supplying bread for the tables in camp, officers and men alike.

Most of the regiments now have covered tables set up for the men. For the opening days, and even until this morning, the privates were compelled to "rough it," but they did so uncomplainingly and cheerfully. They ran with their tin plate, tin cup, knife and fork to the field kitchen cook house at the call to mess, and received their rations of coffee, tea, meat, and potatoes, which they discussed while spouted about on the grass. This has now been abandoned as tables and benches have been placed for the different companies and the men can eat in comfort.

Fredericton, N.S., Woodstock, 3.
Fredericton, June 27.—(Special)—In a very loose game of ball today the locals trimmed Woodstock 13 to 3. Fredericton had the game well in hand in the early stages and young Brennan was sent in for a tryout. The fans were much impressed with his work and it is altogether likely that he will continue in a Fredericton uniform. Belliveau was hit hard and was very wild.

Charge Against Mack Men.
The sporting writers in Washington are up in arms over recent injuries to the National star players by members of the world's champion aggregation, headed by Connie Mack. They say the White Elephants players are deliberately trying to injure Griffith's stars so as to put them out of the running, and here is one of the many kicks which the scribes are putting before the fans daily.

Chick Gandil has a broken nose, a badly bruised cheek and a black eye as a result of a collision with Eddie Collins in the first game on Thursday. Gandil was standing when Collins deliberately shoved his knee into his face as he was passing Gandil though badly hurt, played throughout the afternoon and played yesterday, although suffering terrible pain.

The Washington players are up in arms against the tactics which the Athletics have employed in the series in Quaker town. Several attempts to injure Griffith's players have been made and the clubhouse boys told several of them that he had overheard a number of the champions say that they were going to cut down the Nationals.

Mack's players have been quick to howl whenever any one of them was scratched in the series in Quaker town. Several times that Cobb tried to spike Baker, but no players ever have been so deliberate in trying to injure opponents as have the Athletics. There is now a general feud between the members of the two teams, which may result in more trouble. Manager Griffith took three of his main athletes to St. Peter's Hospital, in Philadelphia—Groom, Ginn and Grand—and the physicians, after examining the recently lamed aces in Groom's back held the pitcher to go back to the hotel and to bed. Complete rest for Gandil was also advised.

"Shank's knee is far from well, but all three played yesterday afternoon."

Gibbons Knows Money Value.
Mike Gibbons is one boxer who knows the value of money. Instead of holding up before a crowd of excited spectators, Michael is unusually reasonable in his demands. The other night he boxed an obscure middleweight at a Brooklyn club and received $1,000 for his services.

"A thousand bucks," said Mr. Gibbons, "will buy a lot of things, and is not to be sneezed at. Whenever I can get that much for boxing 30 minutes it's mine. I won't be a young fellow long and I intend to pick up all the loose change I can. Better to box for $1,000 or $1,500 and get it than ask for $3,000 or $4,000 and be turned down."

At the Training Camp.
East Las Vegas, N. M., June 25.—Great crowds saw the dusky champion and the white challenger cut up their usual training camp captures yesterday afternoon. The S. R. O. sign was on display at Johnsonville a full hour. Treasurer "Red" Shelly took the 15 cent admission price from 2,783 persons, and estimates that just about that number were turned away. Training chief Tom Flanagan held the watch and prescribed all the work.

Johnson began by fighting the big fifteen minutes but he tossed the medicine ball around for the same length of time. His boxing consisted of two stalling rounds, with George Debray, a Chicago fighter, as the opponent.

THE JULY ROD AND GUN.
"Reminiscences of a Sojourn at a Hudson Bay Post" by Frank Houghton, the opening number in the July issue of Rod and Gun in Canada (W. J. Taylor, Limited, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont.), contains an interesting comparison between the characters of the white man and the Indian, illustrated in the almost quixotic honesty displayed by "Wahon Annung" when temptation, in the guise of imminent starvation, might well have proved overpowering. A profusely illustrated chapter of the popular continued article, "The Culture of Black and Silver Foxes" is another feature of this issue which contains many stories and articles of outdoor life in the various Canadian provinces.

The Montezuma Springs training camp also attracted a big mob. Now that Flynn is in condition and confident he is to become the champion, he is wearing the smile that won't come off, and can be christened "Smiling Jim" again. As a result all Las Vegas is strong for the Puebloan. Close to 1,000 persons made the eight mile trip to the Flynn camp yesterday afternoon. The crowd had a good workout, his eighth in as many successive afternoons. After going through his full course of gymnasium work Flynn did nine rounds. Ray Marshall got the first three, Al Williams the next four, and Abdul, the Turk, the last two.

WANT GERMAN TO MAKE ARMY STILL LARGER
Vigorous Agitation to Show That Fighting Force is Below That of France

Berlin, June 28.—Official military experts, led by the newly founded "Defence League," are already dissatisfied with the new law strengthening the army. There are signs of a vigorous agitation to show that the German army is in some departments inferior to the French in strength and in other departments inferior to the organization. The "Defence League" has issued a pamphlet on "The Deficiency of the Army Measures," in which the army is represented as unfit for a European struggle.

The pamphlet declares that Germany's army strength is below that of France. It puts the French infantry of the line at 600 battalions, including thirty-two battalions of the colonial infantry now stationed in France, and the German strength as only 420 battalions. The new German law provides for the gradual increase of the German strength to 600 battalions, and the French strength under the new law at 675.

The Defence League declares that in case of war the German army would be inferior to the French in strength and in other departments inferior to the organization. THE VALUE OF SCIENTIFIC MEN
Scientific ability is as rare as executive or legal ability, and is far more valuable to society. The lawyer who receives a fee of $800,000 for enabling a group of promoters to get ten times as much by evading the intent of the law, does not add to the wealth of society. The scientific man who increases the yield of the cereal crop by one per cent. adds $10,000,000 a year to the wealth of the country and five times as much to the wealth of the world. The scientific man who discovered and those who have developed the Bessemer process of making steel have, according to the estimate of Abram S. Hewitt, added $2,000,000,000 yearly to the world's wealth.

THREE GIVEN TERMS IN DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY

Arnold Reid, Five Years; James Walsh and Geo. Wadman, Two Years Each—Sentenced By Judge Forbes

Three criminal cases were quickly disposed of by Judge Forbes this morning, and stiff sentences were handed out to the trio, who appeared before him, under the Speedy Trials Act. Arnold Reid, committed for trial on a charge of stealing a box of chocolates, was sentenced to serve five years in Dorchester penitentiary with hard labor; James Walsh, charged with stealing a $25 gold watch, was given two years in the penitentiary, and George Wadman, who denied indecently assaulting a fifteen-year-old girl in Carleton, was also sentenced to two years in Dorchester penitentiary.

The first case was that of the King vs. James Walsh. He was not represented by counsel. Wm. H. Irving, jeweller, gave evidence of missing a gold watch from the counter in his store, and of suspecting Walsh, who was in the store about the time the watch was missed. Sergeant Caples testified to arresting the prisoner and of finding the watch in his possession. The defendant said he had no recollection of stealing but had been drinking.

His Honor—"Do you think that will help you out any? That makes it worse. A man like you who gets drunk and commits a crime is twice guilty. The sentence of this court is that you be sent to Dorchester for two years with hard labor. I'll stop you from drinking."

In the case of the King vs. Arnold Reid, the prisoner pleaded guilty to stealing a box of chocolates from St. Clair McKell, a few weeks ago. He was not represented by counsel.

"You seem to have a record of running riot," said His Honor. "You've been in the reformatory; you've been in and out of jail. You seem to be a perfect pest to the community. You are not only doing evil to yourself but you are also injuring others. When you go to penitentiary you can learn a trade. It is the case of this lad, who is not yet seventeen years of age, is a pitiable one. His boyhood record shows him up rather poorly in police circles, and with no one to be any interest in his career, he has almost a marked last, as it were, and unable to obtain any work in the city. When first sentenced the boy burst into tears, and weeping, he said he had been almost starving lately and was glad he was going to the penitentiary for five years."

The defendant said he had no recollection of assaulting Grace Robbison, a large lying on the West Side, and of which the defendant was captain, and was represented by Geo. H. V. Byles, Sergeant W. H. Finley, an eye witness, gave evidence, and Geo. Emery Robbison also testified. Four witnesses for the defence testified to the defendant's previous good character. The prisoner was then found guilty and sentenced as reported. C. H. Ferguson prosecuted in all three cases.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON SHOOT IS DROPPED

Gun Club Meeting—New Conditions of Contest

At a meeting of the managing committee of the St. John Gun Club it was decided to hold the club shoots only on Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons until further notice, thus leaving out the Wednesday afternoon shoot. At this meeting W. G. McIntyre was added to the managing committee in the capacity of secretary.

As the conditions in the contest for the Nobel case donated by the Dominion Cartridge company had not been decided with in some cases, it was decided to cancel all previous arrangements, unless objections were offered, and to have a new fifty target match on July 11, which is to be a public holiday. Also the handicap system is to be changed for the Wednesday trophy events to the following system as recommended by the Dupont Powder company—

"At the beginning of the competition each shooter starts with a handicap based on his previous record, handicapping himself for each succeeding event by the actual number of targets broken in the event immediately preceding. A shooter to receive more than 100 per cent or a perfect score; that is, if a shooter in a 25-target race breaks ten targets, the 'added targets,' and breaks twenty-five but not twenty-six, his handicap for the scale of this handicap, based on a 25-target event, is as follows:

A shooter breaking twenty-three, twenty-four or twenty-five receives no added targets.

A shooter breaking twenty-two receives one added target.

A shooter breaking twenty-one receives two added targets.

A shooter breaking twenty receives three added targets.

A shooter breaking nineteen receives four added targets.

A shooter breaking eighteen receives five added targets.

A shooter breaking seventeen receives six added targets.

A shooter breaking sixteen receives seven added targets.

A shooter breaking fifteen receives eight added targets.

EXPLANATION.

From previous records "A" is a shooter capable of breaking twenty-three or better out of twenty-five, hence, according to above scale "A" will receive no added targets at the first shoot. At this first shoot he breaks but twenty-three he was to receive no added targets, his actual score for this shoot is twenty, but breaking only twenty entitles him to his next shoot of three added targets. At the next shoot he breaks twenty-three—this with his handicap of three gives him a perfect score of twenty-five but not twenty-six. His breaking twenty-three again places him in the class where no added targets are given for the next succeeding shoot.

From previous records "B" is a shooter who averages fifteen out of twenty-five. This places "B" at a start in a class entitling him to eight added targets. He breaks in his first race seventeen which with his handicap of eight makes his score twenty-five. However his breaking seventeen entitles him to but six added targets on his next shoot. At his first shoot he breaks but fifteen, giving him a score of twenty-one and placing him again in the fifteen class for the next shoot and entitling to eight added targets.

To determine the winner, suppose, for example, the series comprises ten events at twenty-five targets each—the ten events to cover a period of ten or more club shooting days—the winner of the series will be the contestant making the highest total score in the ten events.

DANISH SCHOONER SAID TO BE BOUND HERE LOST HER WAY

The S. S. Montclair, of the C. P. R. Atlantic line, which arrived at Montreal this week, interrupted what might have become one of the never-explicated mysteries of the sea.

On Friday the 21st, the Montclair sighted a large Danish schooner, the Ludvig, bound from Thuro, Denmark, for St. John, N. B. The actions of the vessel attracted the attention of the officer on watch, and the schooner, the captain of the latter vessel hoisted up to the peak. When the Montclair got within speaking distance of the schooner, the captain of the latter vessel shouted through the megaphone that he was lost and had no idea of his whereabouts.

The situation was given by the Montclair officer of the officers had taken an observation and the Danish captain was profuse in his thanks. "He had not been explained, to signal his wants because he was not equipped with signalling apparatus. He was rather dazed, in answering the question as to how long he had been lost, and preferred to wave his hand and shout, "Thank you," as if he had not understood the question.

BOTH WATER CLUBS TO HAVE OUTINGS

R. K. Y. C. and Power Boat Club Outings Over the Holiday

The members of both the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club and the St. John Power Boat Club are anticipating spending a very enjoyable time on the river on the holiday, July 1. The R. K. Y. C. boys will get away from Millidgeville on Saturday afternoon and will cruise along the river on Sunday. On Monday morning at eight o'clock the motor boats of the fleet will assemble at Gagetown and will race down to Millidgeville. Quite a number of the club boats are entered and an exciting race is expected. The judges for the race will be Robert Thomson, A. E. Everett, T. T. Lantaulum and J. H. Kimball. Handsome prizes will be awarded to the owners of the first six boats finishing. The prizes are now in the window of A. E. Everett in Charlotte street.

The Power Boat Club members will set off on a cruise on the river going as far as Glenwood. The boats will leave the club house tomorrow night at six o'clock and will go as far as Craig's Point where they will stay all night. A bonfire will be started and a sing-song will be held. On Sunday morning at half past ten o'clock the boats will lift anchor and start for Glenwood, arriving there about half past eleven o'clock. On arrival there dinner will be enjoyed. In the afternoon religious service will be held. On Monday morning there will be sports for which suitable prizes have been secured. The boats will leave Glenwood Monday afternoon at two o'clock and expect to reach the Commodore S. P. Gierow point of the cruise in the flagship Lolita and will be assisted in looking after the cruise by Fleet Captain F. L. Corey. It is expected that more than 175 boats will take part in the cruise.

DEAR SIR:

It takes an alarm clock to get the attention of some people. There are others who can "hear a dollar bill drop."

If a dollar bill should drop at your feet, it would be less important to you than the reading of this letter.

Just imagine I am looking you square in the eye. Lend me your ear. I want to say a few words to you straight from the heart.

You are anxious to get the most actual value possible to secure for every dollar you spend for clothes. That's why you should investigate the extraordinary values we are now offering.

You like to buy goods you can depend upon—the kind you know are right in style, right in quality and right in price.

You will find only that sort of clothes here.

I am determined that I will gain for this store a host of new customers this season by the giving of exceptional values. I am succeeding. We are doing the largest business in the history of this store.

An investigation will prove to YOU that this store is giving better values for the same money or the same values for less money than any other store.

I know beyond the shadow of a doubt, that if you investigate the unusual values we now present in stylish, serviceable clothing and compare them with what you can get elsewhere, you are sure to buy here.

You certainly cannot afford to buy a dollar's worth of clothes before you see what we offer.

It is better to find out about these values before you buy, than later to wish you had.

We'll be just as glad to see you if you come simply to look as though you come to buy.

Yours for economy,

TODAY'S POLICE COURT

One prisoner charged with drunkenness was fined $8 or two months in jail with hard labor in the police court this morning. One other prisoner on remand, charged with a similar offense, was fined $8 or two months in jail.

James MacKenzie, who was reported for having a large in Exmouth street a savage dog, which bit a boy, did not appear in court. His daughter appeared instead, saying that she was the owner of the dog. The magistrate told her to have the animal destroyed.

There was another dog charge. James J. Flood appeared to answer to a charge of allowing two ferocious bull terriers to run at large unattended. He was let off with a fine of $5.

There was a charge of assault placed against George Bushara, by Leo Smith. As there was a mix-up as to the witness, the magistrate adjourned the case till next Tuesday.

John Kelly, charged with driving an omnibus for hire without a license, was each fined $2.
