SHANGHAI NOW IN HANDS OF REBELS

City was Taken with Only Few Shots Fired, and No Resistance.

British Soldiers on Guard Prevent Damage to Shanghai.

Text of New Constitution Secured for People of China Through Efforts of Assembly.

Shanghai, Nov. 3.—Except for the foreign concessions Shanghai tonight is entirely in the hands of the revolutionists who captured the city late this afternoon. There was practically no resistance, only a few shots being fired. All the Chinese soldiers have joined the rebels and the police and firemen apparently are sympathizing with them for they are wearing white badges on their arms.

After taking over the arsenal the rebels burned the Taotais Yamen in the native city. The Associated Press correspondent this afternoon covered the entire outlying section of Shanghai but did not discover a single instance of disorder. Even in the native city where the revolutionists were burned to the ground, complete order prevailed. Every courtesy is being shown foreigners.

While the action of the rebels was expected the movement was made quickly.

About four o'clock a slight disturbance occurred in the northern section of the city and shortly afterwards throughout the native city notices were posted announcing that the military government of China had taken over Shanghai. It warned the population against disorder.

The arsenal where recently there had been the greatest activity preparatory to assisting the upriver forts and providing ammunition for Admiral Siah was called on to surrender by the revolutionaries. The chief officials of the arsenal quietly disappeared but a few other officials continued to hold it without, however, any show of force. A few shots were fired there, but the revolutionists warned the officials remaining that they intended to take the arsenal even if they had to fight for it. No one was killed.

British Soldiers on Guard.

Quickly following the demands for the surrender of the arsenal came an attempt to cut the wires of the Nanking-Shanghai railway which was frustrated personally by A. W. U. Pope, general manager of the company.

Guest of Evening, in Response to Toast in His Honor, Deals With Government's Success.

Premier Given Handsome and Costly Silver Service as Tribute of Affection from Many Friends.

Special to The Standard.

Woodstock, Nov. 3.—The most successful banquet ever held in this town and county, and the equal of which will not likely be given here again for many years was held tonight in the New Theatre. Every part of the county was represented to do honor to Premier Fleming, a native son of Carleton county, and many friends came from other parts of the province to assist in the celebration.

Upon the arrival of the train from the north at 5:30 p. m., Premier Fleming was met by the band, and many autos. Preceded by the band, the autos and citizens formed a procession and escorted the distinguished guest to the Carlisle Hotel.

The banquet started at ten o'clock with Dr. W. D. Rankin in the chair. The following menu shows that a splendid repast was served and the guests, one and all, were warm in their praises for the excellent service provided by Mrs. C. J. Taber, the proprietress of the Carlisle Hotel.

There were five toasts proposed and responded to as follows:—The King, the Governor General, Our Guest, the Provincial and Dominion Legislatures, and the Town of Woodstock.

Speeches were made by the chairman, Dr. W. D. Rankin, Premier Fleming, O. S. Crockett, M. P., Senator Baird, Hon. Mesars. Grimmer, McLeod, Murray and Maxwell, J. K. Fleming, M. P., John Young, M. P., Donald Munro, M. P. and Mayor P. G. Henderson.

The Premier's Reply.

After the toasts to the King and the Governor General had been duly honored, the chairman proposed the toast of the evening, "Welcome to Premier Fleming, a native son of Carleton county, and many friends came from other parts of the province to assist in the celebration."

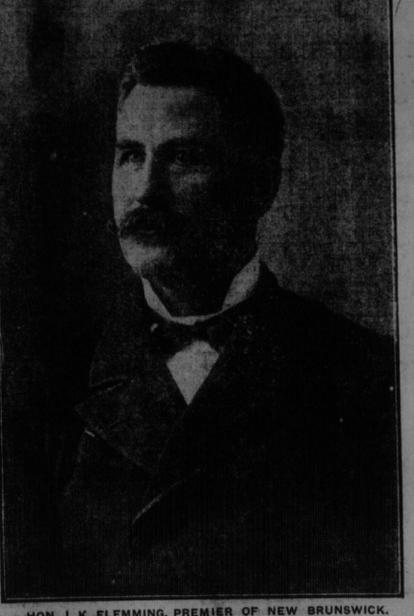

Premier Fleming in replying, said that he intended to run the government entirely independent of federal issues, and all the other departments and especially toward maritime representation. He thanked them heartily for the complimentary banquet, gave a short review of the past sixteen years of the provincial government, telling of the conditions as they existed prior to 1906, as compared with the conditions today.

He asked only that the people judge the government on its merits when it went to the people. He briefly touched on the different departments of the government and showed the great change for the better during the last three years.

Never before was the theatre so elaborately decorated. Large mottoes over the stage and on the walls contained the inscriptions, "Welcome to Premier Fleming, a native son of Carleton county, and many friends came from other parts of the province to assist in the celebration." "Agricultural Development."

Letters of regret were read by the chairman from Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. George J. Clark, A. H. Hale, H. I. Taylor, J. E. Wilson, W. B. Dickson, H. G. Noble, Dr. Bourke, O. M. Melanson, Dr. H. Henderson, Hon. D. V. Landry, L. P. D. Tilley and A. R. Gould contractor for the Valley Railway.

HON. J. K. FLEMING, PREMIER OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

AWFUL SLAUGHTER OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN

PLUNGED TO DEATH FROM HIGH BRIDGE

Freight Engine and Part of Train Fell Through a Bridge 75 Feet to the Bottom of Salt Creek.

THREE KILLED.

Clinton, Ill., Nov. 3.—Three men were killed outright and a fourth so severely injured he may die, when a freight engine today broke through a bridge under course of construction over Salt Creek, near here and dragged part of its train to the creek bottom, 75 feet below.

Engineer Harry Emmett, of Clinton, was brought here tonight in a serious condition.

Freeman Grisoom, of Pana, Ill., Brazenham Crum, of Clinton, and a young man who was learning to fire the locomotive were carried to the bottom of the declivity with the engine and killed. Two bodies still remain under the wreckage at a late hour tonight.

English Officer Tells of Fiendish Atrocities by Italian Soldiers.

Mosque in Tripoli Filled with Bodies of Mutilated Innocents.

Calls on England to Stop Horrible Butchery without Parallel in History of War.

London, Nov. 3.—The agitation against alleged atrocities by Italians in Tripoli which has sprung up in the British press and been taken up by a few members of the House of Commons since uncorroborated reports arrived here from English newspaper correspondents concerning recent occurrences in Tripoli, received fresh impetus tonight through a telegram received by a news agency from Herbert Montague, a second lieutenant of the Fifth Fusiliers.

Lieut. Montague telegraphed from Sockelghema by way of Debaba, on the frontier of Tunis, as follows: "I feel it my duty to send to you the following telegram and I beg you in the name of Christianity to publish it throughout England. I am an English officer now voluntarily serving in the Turkish army here. As you know already about the ferocious resistance which the Turks and Arabs are offering the Italians, I will only express my admiration for their bravery and fortitude which would warm the heart of any Englishman or of any true soldier in the world."

"Imagine my feelings when on entering and driving the Italians out of Arab houses which they had fortified and were holding, was discovered the bodies of some 120 women and children with their hands and feet bound, mutilated, pierced, and torn."

"Later on at the name of the town was lost in transmission we found mosques filled with bodies of women and children mutilated almost beyond recognition. I could not count them, but there must have been three or four hundred."

Calls on England's Aid.

"In this European war are such crimes to be committed? Cannot England do something to stop such horrors? In our civilization and times you can hardly believe but it is true, nevertheless, I myself have seen it, so I know."

"Even now we are getting news of further massacres of women and children, who were discovered in different farms lately occupied by Italians. The idea of the Italians when they slaughtered the innocents obviously was one of revenge for their heavy losses in battle."

"We are at this moment under a heavy shrapnel fire, so you must excuse me if these sentences are somewhat disjointed. There is also an aeroplane circling over our position and directing the enemy's gun fire on us."

Lieut. Montague's message is dated Nov. 2.

M'GILL TO HONOR THE GOVERNOR

Duke of Connaught to Get Degree of Doctor of Laws When He Visits Montreal on December 12th.

GOVIN HONORED.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—At a special convention of McGill University this afternoon attended by many prominent citizens and leading educationalists, the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec province. Principal Peterson, in the course of his address, announced that one of the first visits paid by the new Governor General, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, on his arrival in Montreal, Dec. 12, would be to the university and that the same degree would be conferred upon the royal visitor.

The following men showed that a splendid repast was served and the guests, one and all, were warm in their praises for the excellent service provided by Mrs. C. J. Taber, the proprietress of the Carlisle Hotel.

FRANCE AND GERMANY IN ACCORD NOW

Germany Gets Slice of Territory in Congo and Recognizes Morocco as Protectorate of France.

TREATY AGREED TO.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—In making public tonight a summary of the treaty concerning Morocco arranged by Foreign Secretary Herr von Kiderling and the French ambassador M. Cambon, the foreign office issued the following statement:

"The German government believe that both parties can be in agreement over the contents of the new treaty. It will have a calming effect not only upon conditions between Germany and France but also upon the general political situation."

"Germany stands at the conclusion of this treaty in the same position as to French undertakings in Morocco as does England. It is especially emphasized that England has not interfered in the negotiations."

Paris, Nov. 3.—France as compensation for German recognition of her protectorate in Morocco cedes to Germany about 25,000 square kilometers in northern French Congo touching the German Kameruns.

The territory ceded is inhabited by about 1,000,000 negroes and has a commerce valued at $2,400,000 annually. The accord does not affect Togoland, but Germany cedes her duchy's bill, extending from Chari river to Logone river. France and Germany agree to submit to The Hague tribunal all difficulties arising from the operation of the accord.

In reference to Morocco France agrees to safeguard the economic equality and commercial liberty for which provision is made in existing treaties. The only reference to commercial rights in the ceded territory is the mutual agreement to take over the rights and obligations in connection with the companies holding concessions there.

WOULD GET RICH FROM CAT SKINS

Here's a Scheme for Easy Wealth Which Was Put Up to the Postmaster of Chicago.

HE DIDN'T BITE.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 3.—"Get rich quick" schemes of J. Rufus Wallford, facile financier, or the tried and true roads to wealth by thrift and industry which have met with more or less success when pursued by John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan, and others, are as the blundering activities of children compared to a plan submitted to Postmaster Campbell today.

"The plan is nothing more or less than to feed rats to cats, skin the cats and feed the cats back to the rats, in endless succession, the only break being the deduction of the cat skins in sale of which is to supply the profit, outlining his plan, said: 'We will start a cat ranch getting 1,000,000 cats. Each will have twelve kittens a year. Cat skins are worth 10 cents for white ones and 75 cents for black ones. They will average 30 cents each. There are 12,000,000 cat skins a year, a daily gross income of some $10,000. A man can skin fifty cats for $2 and it will take 100 men to operate the ranch, leaving our profit over $8,000 a day. We will have to feed the cats.'

"Start a rat ranch next door. Rats multiply four times as fast as cats. We will have, therefore, four rats a day for each cat, a plenty. How to feed the rats.

"Simply feed them on the cat bodies—a fourth of a cat per rat—apply sufficient. Thus, you see, the business will be self-supporting automatically.

"The cats will eat the rats, and the rats will eat the cats, and we get the skins and the wealth. Are you with me?"

DISASTER FOLLOWS CORNER IN WHEAT

Frightened by Threatened Inspection Chicago Wheat Holders Glut Market and Brokers Go Down in Wreck.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 3.—One brokerage firm today suspended and another transferred its trades to avoid going to the wall, when the heavy holders of wheat poured the holdings into trade channels to clear decks, in common belief for the threatened inspection by federal authorities on a hunt for possible wheat corners.

The suspended firm, a small one, was that of Sam Finney-Pringle & Wing, got under cover by transfer of trades when the call for margins went out.

The unloading is being done carefully to avoid severe financial upheaval.

Commission to Probe Case of Farmers' Bank

People will Find Out Why Late Government Gave Bank Certificate—Another Defunct Bank May Realize Surplus.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The day following the assembly of the Dominion parliament at Ottawa, the defence committee representing some six hundred shareholders of the defunct Farmers' Bank will file a petition with the government asking for the appointment of a royal commission to report on the circumstances regarding the issue of the certificate for the opening of the bank.

Some accounts are being nursed and something more will come of it in real money.

When it is all over there will be a surplus, a considerable one, perhaps, so that the shareholders will get back a share of what they have paid in double liability.

MAKES NEW AIR RECORD

Aviator Rodgers Wings it for 133 Miles in 125 Minutes—His Speed About 64 Miles Per Hour.

Imperial Junction, Ont., Nov. 2.—C. P. Rodgers, the transcontinental flyer, arrived here at 10:27 a. m. today, 174 miles from the finish of his ocean-to-ocean flight, which began at Sibleyhead Bay, N. Y., Sept. 17th. Engine trouble brought him down, but not until he had established what is believed to be a new world's record in aviation.

Rodgers flew 123 miles from Stoval Sliding, Ariz., the desert water tank, where he was forced to spend last night, in 125 minutes, using fifteen gallons of gasoline. Rodgers started out to fly the entire 127 miles from Stoval Sliding to Pasadena without a stop but when he arrived over this place, his motor was "missing" badly and he was forced to alight.

His mechanics arrived shortly afterwards on the aviator's special train and went to work on the motor, but the engine was in such a condition that Rodgers thought it impossible to make Pasadena before tomorrow afternoon. It is possible that his arrival may be further delayed until Sunday.

The men who had worked were greeted with hisses and derisive language. One man was hit upon the side of the face by a stone thrown by some one in the crowd. Today all is quiet.

OTTAWA WILL GET AN HISTORIC GUN

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—The twelve pound gun which was part of the armament of D Battery, Royal Canadian Field Artillery in the South African campaign, and in the defence of which at Lillifontain three Victoria Crosses were awarded, is to be placed on the city hall square here.

Darcy Scott, of the railway commission, while mayor, applied for the gun and carriage and the militia department has notified the city that the gun has been superseded by a more modern one, so that the city may now have it.

GERMAN SPY GOES TO ENGLISH JAIL

Exeter, Eng., Nov. 3.—Lieut. Phillip M. Schultz, of the 13th Hussars, stationed at Frankfort-on-the-Main, was convicted at the Assizes today on the charge of spying. The German officer was sentenced by the Lord Chief Justice, Lord Alverstone, to twenty months imprisonment.

Lieut. Schultz was arrested at Plymouth on Aug. 10 last, it was alleged by the prosecution that he was especially commissioned by the German authorities to take information as to how far the British government was supporting France in the dispute over Morocco.

RIOT ACT READ BY MAYOR OF FERNIE TO ANGRY MINERS

Fernie, B. C., Nov. 3.—The riot act was read in Fernie last night by Mayor Beardsell after a violent outbreak on the part of the miners when a train arrived from Coal Creek with men on board who had gone to work in the mines without waiting until the agreement now under consideration at Fernie had been signed and ratified.

Large numbers of miners were on hand when the train reached here and

MISSIONARIES MAY BE IN MUCH DANGER

Canadian Missionaries Home on Furlough from China are Advised Not to Return to Fields Yet.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Two cablegrams were received at the missionary offices of the Presbyterian church, Toronto, this morning advising missionaries in China not to return to their fields of work yet. Explanations will follow in letters, but from indications it appears that the missionaries are not altogether in a safe position although no harm has come so far as it is known.

DON'T PAY DUTY ON YOUR GLASS EYES; SMUGGLE THEM IN

New York, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Illicit traffic in glass eyes between Germany and the United States has been conducted for some time, it is charged, by persons who are said to have been supplying some New York oculists with the articles free of duty.

The customs authorities today issued warrants for two men charged with the smuggling and have already it is said seized $1,000 worth of the artificial optics at the smugglers' supposed headquarters. The officials say they have been aware for some time that the smuggling was going on, but had found difficulty in learning how it was done. Employees of the steamship lines are declared to have helped the smugglers.

OWNERS OF SWEAT SHOP PLEADED NOT GUILTY

New York, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Max Blanck and Isaac Harris, the proprietors of the Triangle Waist Factory, 146 of whose employees lost their lives in the memorable fire of March 25, were called to plead today on seven indictments charging manslaughter in the first and second degrees. Both Blanck and Harris pleaded not guilty.

THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

The department of labor is among those whose methods, if not usefulness, can be vastly improved. The department was a conception of Sir William Mulock and seems to have been designed for making votes rather than for mending troubles of the industrial situation. Its first outfit of officials included men who for years had been notoriously engaged in promoting the interests of the Liberal party among the trade organizations of Ontario. The department in none of its activities has had the confidence of the people who watched its proceedings. Much of the legislation passed at the instance of the Department of Labor is open to question as infringing on the powers of the Provinces, which include what is connected with civil rights and the enforcement of contracts. In the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk strikes, as well as in the western coal strike or lockout of the present year, the Department of Labor has shown itself to be powerless to prevent a rupture or to heal it after it has occurred. And as the Montreal Gazette points out, if a department with such a record is to be made useful it must be "by the man at the head cutting away from the past and proceeding in a manner which will convince the public first of its impartiality and then of its capacity."

It is questionable, in addition, whether this department is not conducted with too little regard for proper economy. It publishes a series of pamphlets containing statistics of a minimum of public value, and the huge total of its operating expenses has been severely criticised in Parliament. But the chief cause of its administration has been due to the open manner in which it has been manipulated for the political benefit of the Government. The new Minister of Labor, Hon. T. W. Crothers, may be depended upon to move promptly to the correction of the abuses that have impaired a department which can be made a valuable agency for the adjustment of industrial difficulties.

THE BANQUET TO PREMIER BORDEN.

As banquets go, that which was tendered to Mr. Borden, the Prime Minister, at Halifax on Thursday evening, was the greatest event of its kind in the history of Canada. Over seven hundred guests were assembled to do honor to the distinguished son of Nova Scotia who now holds the important post of First Minister of Canada. To say that the gathering was enthusiastic only partially expresses the actual conditions. The speeches were all good but will be disappointing to some who hoped for a strong pronouncement of the policy of the new Government. Mr. Borden, in his speech, left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that the policy he enunciated during the campaign would be followed out in its entirety. There will be no departure from the policy laid down in the early years of Confederation and the development of the country will be carried on in the future as it has been in the past. Every Province will be treated fairly and every effort will be made to bring about as nearly uniform development of the country as possible.

Mr. Borden referred to his highway policy by which he hopes to secure better roads in the rural districts. That there is room for improvement in this direction is admitted on every hand. There are, however, difficulties in the way of working out a feasible scheme. If the roads were all in the care of the municipalities, the granting of aid conditionally to these municipalities would be easy, but in this Province, particularly, the municipalities have only partial control of road expenditure. However, these are details and will be worked out satisfactorily at the proper time. It was not expected that Mr. Borden would give any indication of his legislative programme at the first session to be held this month. For various reasons this is not likely to be very extensive, but will be confined to the passing of estimates which were held over when Parliament was dissolved.

Mr. Borden's reception at Halifax is an indication of the personal popularity of the Prime Minister in his home constituency, and the same heartiness shown to Mr. Borden was extended to the other members of his Cabinet, who accompanied him. Public opinion has undergone a considerable change, so far as Mr. Borden is concerned. Even those who expressed dissatisfaction at his leadership while in opposition, have come to recognize that he has held fast to the one policy under which Canada has become prosperous. He has proposed changes in some of the details but in the main has shown a preference for a policy which has created a home market for our agriculturists and brought about a magnificent industrial development of the whole country.

Mr. Borden has done well so far, as Prime Minister. He has secured a good working Cabinet, representative of every section of Canada and will meet Parliament with a strong majority. It may be worth mentioning that Mr. Borden is the third Prime Minister of Canada to come from Nova Scotia. His predecessors were Sir John Thompson and Sir Charles Tupper.

THE AGE OF EFFICIENCY.

A few years ago the captains of industry became obsessed with the idea that young men made the best executive officers. Soon after this theory was put into practice the old hands were in many instances called in again to straighten out the tangles the young ones had made. It was found that while young men had the nerve for certain dashing operations they had not the experience necessary to weather industrial storms. The notion that a man reached his maximum efficiency at 35 years of age was by and by relegated to the limbo wherein repose many such revolutionary discoveries which have turned out to be no discoveries at all.

President Beveridge, who has just been appointed to the University of Vermont, finds that, as has been believed for centuries, maturity of experience and life-long training of every section of Canada and will meet Parliament with a strong majority. It may be worth mentioning that Mr. Borden is the third Prime Minister of Canada to come from Nova Scotia. His predecessors were Sir John Thompson and Sir Charles Tupper.

The Spokesman Review draws the corollary that this is not the age of the young man. "It is," it says, "the age of the prepared man, he is 35 or 70. The limit of efficiency has risen since 1860 from the age of 50 to that of 65, though Osler was popularly reported as asserting that the average man should be chloroformed at 60. The simple fact seems to be that, as the race ages and life becomes more complex, the individual matures more slowly. Modern civilization demands much more time for men to ripen and to prepare themselves to meet its multiplied requirements. The trained man, if he contain the capacity of growth, waxes stronger and more efficient through his work every year of the 50 to 70. So to live that at 50 one is reaching the real fulness of his powers ought to be the ideal and endeavor of every hearty and honest worker. Then the prepared man need have little fear as to the next two decades."

Let it be observed, however, that it is the "prepared" man who is spoken of. There are men who are not prepared at sixty that were at thirty; who, in fact, are less prepared having lost the elasticity of youth without obtaining the compensating advantage of clear-headed knowledge as a foundation for instant and right judgment. But that the "prepared" man at fifty is a better prepared man than he was at thirty, the work of great judges, great statesmen and great organizers of industry gives convincing proof.

AUTOMOBILE CASUALTIES.

The statistics and particulars of automobile accidents gathered in the past year by the Highway Commission in the State of Massachusetts, will give little comfort to the hater of the automobile, for they show that in many cases where a pedestrian was hurt or killed the driver of the machine was blameless. The commission has found that adults as well as children grow careless when they become familiar with the automobile; that children playing in the streets heedlessly run into danger when the driver of a car is doing his best to avoid them, and that grown persons forget there may be an automobile rolling along the street on the other side of a trolley car from which they have alighted, and stumble right in front of the automobile when it is too late to put the brakes on. Cases of unpreventable casualties are not always easily proved, but the disposition is to give the pedestrian the benefit of the doubt, especially when there is any evidence that the driver was exceeding the speed limit or going faster than he should have done in view of conditions of traffic.

The commission's report last year showed that during the preceding twelve months the deaths from automobile accidents, the list including bicycle and motor cycle riders and users of carriages and automobiles as well as pedestrians, increased 42 per cent. The present report shows an increase of 29 per cent. in deaths, although there were 25 per cent. more automobiles registered in Massachusetts. It is a fair inference, then, that drivers are becoming more careful and pedestrians and others less careless. According to a tabulation that covers the time from December 1, 1910, to October 1, 1911, there were eighty-five deaths, divided as follows: Pedestrians, 50; occupants of motor vehicles, 26; bicycle riders, 5; occupants of carriages, 3; street car passengers, 1. There were 994 persons injured in the same time; 419 occupants of motor vehicles, 395 pedestrians, 116 occupants of carriages, 55 bicycle riders, and 9 street car passengers.

To those who do not own or ride in automobiles it is a great comfort to know that they injure about ten times as many persons as they kill. A general calculation can be made for the consolation of those who would like to own or ride in automobiles but have the money or the opportunity, and that is if the Massachusetts figures are characteristic, that the risk of injury to occupants of motor vehicles is very much greater than that to pedestrians. A small minority of persons ride, and yet in Massachusetts during the eleven months under observation 419 occupants of motor vehicles were injured in accidents, and only 395 pedestrians. Perhaps there would be another story to tell if so many pedestrians did not waive their highway rights and take to their heels long before danger casts its shadow over them.

Current Comment

(Toronto World.)

The new doctrine in this progressive Province of Ontario is the principle of expropriation and the principle of "getting into the business" by the people through their government organization. No man should be elected to the Legislature not pledged to these theories, whether he be Liberal or Conservative. These two principles mean more for the people of Canada than any two principles enunciated in this twentieth century; but you have got to think about them a long time before you grasp their enormous significance, and it took Sir James a long while to see what they meant; and he is rather shy yet of seeing how far they go; but he is on the way and while he is on the way we propose to help him along.

"Single tax," according to yesterday's announcement, is to be dealt with by the Ottawa Board of Trade. "Single tax" is an assessment taken entirely on land values, is largely favored in Ottawa, but there are those who, while they favor the idea, see red at the term "single tax," simply because one harmless deceased gentleman, Henry George, who was accused of Socialism and various other heresies, strongly upheld this idea as part of his regenerated social system. And there are those who would rather lose the benefits this simple assessment change promises, than in any way adopt any suggestion of Henry George.

In the Alberta provincial by-elections the Conservatives carried all four seats, three of which were previously held by Liberals. It is believed that this will herald the downfall of the Sifton Liberal Administration, as the growing strength of the Conservative opposition is likely to bring about at an early date a coalition with the dissatisfied Liberals in the Local House. Thus things are coming our way, even in Alberta.

Oldham, England, has a lady as mayor who has just concluded her year of office, and her term has been highly successful, so successful indeed that she can be re-elected if she will again offer herself as a candidate. Oldham is a place of half a million people and it must have required no little executive ability to manage its civic business for a year. After that who says that women should not have a right to vote?

(Detroit Free Press.)

Taken all in all, Hon. R. L. Borden enters upon the administration of Canada with a Cabinet that ought to make for success. What is more, he takes over the country as a "going concern," at a time when it is in full business efflorescence. That the new Government will steer a "safe and sane" course on trade matters seems assured.

It is not unfair to say that the hope and expectation of some of those who are most strongly in favor of a referendum on the naval question is that it would mean the "endum" of Canada's participation in Imperial defence.

Some London papers are reported as refusing to believe that arbitration can prevent war. Neither does medicine always prevent death, but is that a convincing reason for not using it for what good there is in it?

THE VATICAN AND MIXED MARRIAGES

To the Editor of The Standard:
Sir—Lord Kinnaird has issued an appeal to the Protestant citizens of London and England to support the great meeting to be held in the Queen's Hall, on Wednesday evening, November 15th, to protest against the publication in the British Empire of the No Temere Decree of the Council of Trent. May I be permitted to state five facts which may help to explain and reveal the full meaning of the No Temere Decree?
1. If it be true that in the presence of the parish priest himself, "or of another priest acting with the license of the parish priest, or of the ordinary, and in the presence of two or three witnesses, shall attempt to contract matrimony, the Holy Synod contracts incapable of contracting marriage thus, and decrees that contracts of this kind are null and void."
2. The decree is a menace to the Empire. It strikes at and threatens the peace and harmony of thousands of homes. If the decree of a foreign authority can enter a British home to break it up, that decree is a menace to the State.
3. The decree challenges British law. It says a mixed marriage is no marriage at all unless solemnized by a Roman Catholic priest, in accordance with the Roman Catholic ritual. Which is to rule in Great Britain, the laws made at Westminster, or those made at Rome?
4. The decree is insulting to Protestant clergy and ministers of every denomination. No mixed marriage is valid if performed in accordance with the rites of a Protestant church.
5. The decree permits the Roman Catholic Church to abolish a man from his solemn marriage vow, in other words, an unscrupulous Roman Catholic can go through a form of marriage with a Protestant girl and subsequently desert her, with the approval and sanction of his church.
6. The decree inflicts hardship and cruelty on the children of mixed marriages; they are pronounced illegitimate.
7. When the decree was about to be promulgated in Germany, citizens of Germany rose in arms against it, likewise Austro-Hungary. What will England do? The decree is already law in Malta, where the liberties of Englishmen are trampled under foot by the Roman Catholic Church. Ireland, Scotland, and Canada have spoken. It remains for the Protestant citizens of London, and England, to record their feeling concerning this new menace to our civil and religious liberty.
Yours faithfully,
H. M. GOOCH,
Evangelical Alliance Adam Street, Strand, London, Oct. 24.

Word reached the city yesterday that Martin Burns, formerly of St. John had passed away at Shenectady, N. Y. Mr. Burns leaves a wife, six daughters and two sons to mourn their loss. The daughters are Mrs. M. H. Downing, of St. John; Mrs. N. H. Price, Mrs. M. Coffin, Miss Mame, Miss Margaret, and Miss Gertrude, of Shenectady. The sons are, Martin J. Burns, 101 Brussels street, St. John, and George Burns, of Shenectady. Mr. Burns had many friends in this city who will be grieved to hear of his death.

NEVER before has such rich fullness of delicate smoothness of flavor been within your reach to multiply the keen enjoyment of your tea-cup!

Because King Cole tea sets a new and higher flavor standard. It is blended to excel even those good teas which you and your neighbors had always held as favorites.

The delightful vigor of its flavor, the delicious zest of your very first cup of King Cole tea, will make it your life-long friend.

Why not tear this out as a reminder to ask your grocer for an introduction to King Cole?

UNCERTAINTY IN THE STOCK MARKET

New York, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The aggressive buying of stocks which raised prices rapidly earlier in the week was largely suspended today. Quotations moved uncertainly, ranging at times above yesterday's closing and again below it. During most of the day, however, prices were higher. It was noted that the market still possessed a large degree of the underlying strength which has developed recently. The pause in the advance suggested hesitation as to the extent of the improvement justified at this time rather than a change in sentiment. Continuation of realizing sales was a material factor in the course of the market. Profit-taking sales has been carried on so extensively that it is now generally assumed that the short interest particularly in U. S. Steel and three or four other active stocks has been reduced materially. The moderation of the demand for the speculative leaders today doubtless was due to this condition. To some extent this tendency was offset by the increasing prominence of conservative railroad stocks in the trading. The demand for the high priced dividend paying issues was heavier. Investment buying of this nature helped to sustain the market. Reading rose 3/4 points to 145 1/2. It was the strongest among the principal stocks. All through the day this stock was firm at rising prices, being unaffected by the depressions in the remainder of the market. Canadian Pacific and Erie, which has been associated with the selling since the beginning of a fustian of interests, was exceptionally strong. American Smelting halted after its swift advance. For a time it moved at 60, the highest of the movement, but it fell back and closed at a net loss. U. S. Steel apparently has assumed the selling since the beginning of the movement, showing no further effects of the dissolution suit. The recent improvement in the price of industrial stocks was continued, a number of the active shares moving forward. Some of them retained their gains, although the majority of more prominent issues closed with only small changes. London again took profits here. Its transactions ran to about 15,000 shares chiefly on the highest of the day, the bulk of the trading in U. S. Steel and Almagamat Copper. Announcement of the formation of a corporation with $25,000,000 capital stock, the largest enterprise of the kind to be floated for some time, was accepted as a further indication of better conditions. Stocks of general merchandise and dry goods in the hands of distributors throughout the country, whose retail trade, are much below normal, being estimated by a trade authority at 30 per cent. under the average of the last few years for this period. The demand for replenishment of stocks is expected to stimulate trade during the next few months. The hardening in call money during the last day or two was followed today by a relaxation of rates, in spite of loss of cash by the banks. Preliminary estimates based on the known movements of money indicated a loss for the week of about $2,000,000. Trading in bonds contracted today. The tone was firm. Total sales, par value $2,045,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW MARITIME HORSES IN THE CHARMED CIRCLE

List of Performers in the 2.30 Class on Maritime Tracks During Season — Some Records Which Were Reduced.

The Halifax Recorder's annual list of new 2.30 performers on Maritime Province tracks is not as numerous as last year, but never before in any one season has there been such a reduction of records. Twenty-five trotters and pacers have entered the list while twenty-one already in the charmed circle have reduced their records.

Frank Patch, owned by James Adams, Halifax, like last season, is the fastest horse of the year. Twice at Halifax he paced 2:13 1/4, which was not only the fastest mile of the year, but he lowered the Maritime Province stallion record, and is the fastest time ever made in a provincial track brought here without a record.

Leonard Wilton, owned by A. E. Tritos, Salisbury, N. B., is the fastest pacing gelding of the season, with a third heat at Fredericton in 2:14 1/4.

Mary Cromwell, owned by R. A. Corbett, Halifax, was the fastest mare of the year, with her third heat in 2:15 1/4 at Fredericton, and which she later duplicated at Halifax.

P. K., now owned by A. McBride, St. Stephen, lowered the record for provincial bred pacers on a provincial track to 2:15 1/4 at Halifax.

Oswego Boy, by Anteo Wilkes, owned by W. V. Doue, Attleboro, Mass., is the fastest new performer of the season, taking a record of 2:15 1/4 at Halifax.

Three times during the season was Estill Boy's trotting record of 2:16 1/4 equalled, by Stanley Mack, at Fredericton, entered by F. B. Rideout, Medford, Mass.; Walter H., owned by J. L. Martin, Sydney, at Halifax; and Billy C., owned by H. B. Chipman, Point Beate, at Chatham. Walter H. and Billy C. also share the honors of making the fastest time of a provincial bred trotter on a Maritime Province track.

Baring, owned by Frank Boutillier, Halifax, is the fastest trotter of the season in a Provincial track, with a record of 2:19 1/2 at Moncton. Baring the Great, owned by F. Murchie, St. Stephen, made a similar record, but it was on a Maine track.

Achille the Great, owned by Howard Musgrave, Halifax, lowered the three-year-old trotting record of 2:20 1/2, made by Tom Phinney, six years ago, to 2:23 3/4, at Halifax, and Briar Queen, owned by H. C. Lydard, Kentville, lowered the four-year-old record of 2:24 1/4, made by Brazilian, 81 years previous, to 2:18 at Halifax.

FELL FROM A HAY LOFT

Suffered Tortures With His Kidneys Until He Tried Gin Pills.

You might think that Mr. Baker needed a surgeon more than GIN PILLS. But there were no bones broken. His back was strained, which was harder to cure because nothing seemed to do any good. It is the same with a sprained ankle and broken leg. You can set the fracture and it will be well in six weeks—but the sprain may take months to get well.

However, Mr. Baker found the quick way to get relief from the pain—here are his words:

Aultville, Ont.
 "I have been a great sufferer from Kidney Trouble from an injury to my back caused by falling from a hay loft about six years ago. This left my kidneys weak, so that every cold I got would settle in my kidneys and cause intense suffering. I was advised to try GIN PILLS. I found, to my surprise, after taking two boxes that the pains were relieved and I began to feel better. I am still taking GIN PILLS and feel sure I will be completely cured. I recommend GIN PILLS to all who suffer from any Kidney Trouble."

C. BAKER.

You see, the fall had strained the kidneys and they were affected by the slightest chill. GIN PILLS immediately strengthened the kidneys—soothed any irritation and thus enabled the kidneys to overcome the effects of the fall.

A Bad Fall.

If you are having pain in the back—or trouble with kidneys or bladder through accident or overwork—do just as Mr. Baker did—take GIN PILLS. They will help you—cure you—or we will promptly refund your money. Buy six boxes at your dealer's. If, after taking them, you feel that Gin Pills have not helped you, return the empty boxes and get your money. We will take your word for it. One a box, 6 for $2.50. FOOTBALL FANS WILL HAVE PLENTY OF SPORT TODAY

The football triple header promises good sport this afternoon as the teams that will struggle for the supremacy of the gridiron are very evenly matched. The High School-Normal School match will be of especial interest, as the Normalites and Fredericton High School played a tie game in Fredericton a few weeks ago and the local High School and Fredericton High School split even in their games in the interscholastic league. Since then both teams have learned new plays, and with the improved combination stellar football will be played.

The Rotheray College-Carlton game will also be worth while seeing as these two teams will meet for the first time.

The third game between a picked junior team from the North End and the second High School will be interesting, in as much that those interested in interscholastic football will be glad to see the promising material that is on hand from which to pick next season's St. John High School team.

The opposing teams in all the matches will line up as follows:

English Contractor Here.

Sir John Jackson, one of the English contractors who tendered for the work at Courtenay Bay, was in the city yesterday in company with A. Brooks, of Montreal. They drove out to Courtenay Bay in an automobile and took in the sights of the harbor. They left on the afternoon train for Montreal. It is understood that some of the contractors who bid on the Courtenay Bay work are moving to have the government call for new tenders on the grounds that the specifications prepared in connection with the call for tenders last July were not all they might have been.

Boys of Industrial Home Entertained.

Mrs. Seymour entertained the boys of the Industrial Home on Wednesday evening at her home on Duke-street. A good musical programme was carried out in which the boys helped materially. The superintendent of the home feels that such entertainments are greatly beneficial to the boys as also are the weekly church services which the boys attend. The Protestant boys go to the Exmouth street Methodist church and the Catholic boys to the cathedral.

of the old folk very pleasantly in honor of H. L. Somers, who has supplied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church during the summer months. He was honored in a like manner on Thursday evening by the young people at Mrs. James Curry's. Mr. Somers leaves today for Humphrey's Mills where he will take charge of the Presbyterian churches in that mission. The people of this place will regret his departure and hope he may return next summer.

Why Men Desert Wives

A Large Per cent. of the Wife Desertions and Divorces Due to Female Weakness.

This is the story of one who knows: "I should have taken better care of myself, I suppose. I was sick, suffering and despondent. No one but a woman who has suffered as I have, can ever know how terrible was my suffering. I was irritable, nervous and could not be to my husband the loving, care-free, pleasant dispositioned wife that I once was."

What Thousands of Suffering Women Are Doing Every Day—Praying for Health and Strength.

"He tried very hard to persuade me to make some effort to throw off this horrible affliction that was fast robbing me of a loving husband, friends, health and all that is worth living for, but in vain. I know now that I am all to blame. We drifted apart. He sought his pleasure elsewhere, in the club, the theatre, at his office. He left me alone to nurse my accumulating self-inflicted sorrows. Finally there was nothing but the divorce court that could settle our difficulties."

This is the sad story of so many, many women who have passed through the ordeal of the divorce court, as well as the countless thousands of deserted wives who are not divorced, know, down deep in their hearts, was the real cause of their trouble. If you suffer constantly or only occasionally with the illa peculiar to women you owe it to yourself to at once make the effort that is so simple and so easy that there's no excuse left for you to continue suffering. Our Home Treatment is especially prepared for the treatment of female diseases such as Leucorrhoea (whites), irregularities, inflammation, and congestion of the womb, ulceration of the vagina, hot flashes and nervousness. Also piles from any cause or no matter of how long standing. It will cost you but 2c to mail us the coupon and a very little effort to fill in your name and address. We have made it so easy that there's no excuse left for you to continue suffering. DO NOT DELAY. SEND COUPON TODAY.

I Am Willing To Prove I Can Cure You

To That End I Am Giving Away $10,000 Worth of Medicine

In order to show beyond all doubt that I am in possession of a medicine that will cure kidney trouble, bladder trouble, rheumatism, and all the other ailments that are the result of a diseased kidney, I have decided to give away ten thousand dollars' worth of this medicine. If you have any of the above diseases can get a box of it absolutely free. All that is necessary is to send me your address. I don't ask them to believe me, nor even to take the word of reliable people, but I ask that they allow me to send them the medicine at my own cost. This is surely fair. I don't see how you can be cured of any of these ailments unless you get the medicine that I have. I have a medicine that cures these diseases. TORTURED FOR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS

I Really Could Not Live Without "Fruit-a-tives."

Fenaghvale, Ont., Jan. 29th, 1910. "For thirty-five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation. W. E. SKILLEN WILL LIVE IN BOSTON

St. Martins, Nov. 2.—William E. Skillen of St. Martins was the recipient on the evening of the 31st of October, of a farewell supper and presentation given him at the Hunter House, St. Martins, by leading citizens of the town.

After an excellent repast served by Proprietor Hunter, Mr. Skillen was presented with an address by W. H. Moran, representing the committee and townspeople present, and followed by J. E. Hodson, who on behalf of Mr. Skillen's friends presented him with a gold headed cane.

Mr. Skillen in responding to the cordial and appreciative remarks accompanying the presentations, touched on his connection with the business, religious, social and political life of St. Martins during the past forty years, expressing much regret that business takes him away from the scene of his past activities.

Following Mr. Skillen, Dr. H. E. Gilmor, chairman of the occasion, introduced many gentlemen who took the opportunity to express their appreciation of the guest of the evening as a friend and fellow citizen.

Mr. Skillen has been a life long resident of the town, and has for years been in active business and always identified himself with the interests of public interest and whatever was for the welfare of his town.

Mr. and Mrs. Skillen leave shortly for Boston, where they will reside for the present. They will be genuinely missed by their many friends in St. Martins.

THE REVIVAL AT NORTON.

Norton, Nov. 2.—For four weeks this community has given itself in co-operation with the ministers and churches, to an evangelistic campaign under the direction and earnest preaching of Rev. C. P. Goodson, B.A. and B.D., of New York, and has witnessed the most marvellous demonstration of the power of God ever known in these parts.

The influence of the movement spread early in its beginning to nearby towns and communities and reached out for thirty and forty miles. People have attended from great distances and have testified to the effect of the work in their hearts and lives. Scores of men and women in all walks of life have been brought under the power of the simply earnest preaching of the Gospel.

The special services close Sunday, Nov. 5th. Mr. Goodson preaches again to men only on Saturday night at 8.15. This service is at the urgent request of the citizens of the community, who were at the service last Saturday night. Sunday morning the Rev. Stanley Young, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach, relieving Mr. Goodson, who will speak at 7 and 7 p. m.

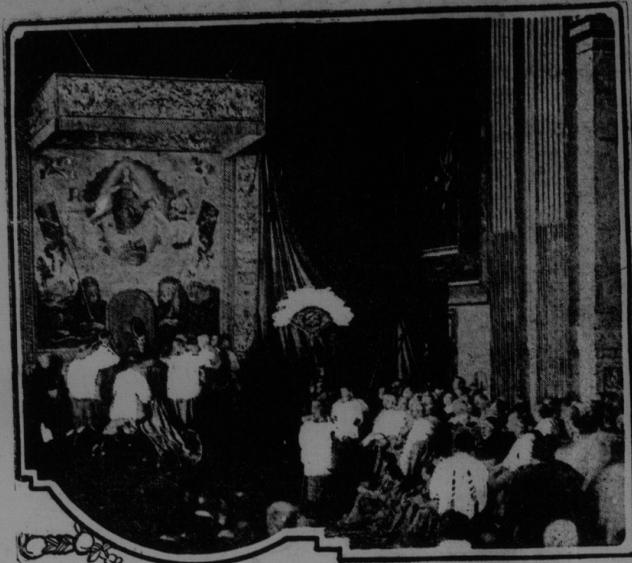

On Monday Mr. Goodson will leave for Williamstown, Mass., where his family are living for the winter.

HOW THREE AMERICANS WILL BE MADE CARDINALS

THIS PHOTOGRAPH, TAKEN AT THE TIME OF THE LAST CONSISTORY, IN DECEMBER, 1907, SHOWS POPE PIUS X IN THE ACT OF BESTOWING THE "RED HAT," SYMBOLICAL OF CARDINAL HONORS, UPON THE LAST TO BE MADE "PRINCES OF THE CHURCH."

One of the privileges a cardinal has is to be styled "His Eminence." The college of cardinals, or the "Sacred College" as it is most often called, is restricted to 70 members. The chief outward and visible signs of cardinal dignity are the scarlet robes and hats.

When a cardinal-to-be is first notified of his elevation he receives by special messenger the first of the symbols of his rank, a square red hat, known as the "biretta." Then he is required to proceed to Rome, where the second of two imposing functions called consistories, in the presence of the papal court, the ambassadors and envoys accredited to the Vatican, and many Catholics of importance who have been invited, the cardinal-designate is presented with a second hat, the red hat proper, a round topped affair with a broad, curly brim, which is usually never worn again, except at functions in Rome commemorative of the pope's coronation.

The usual headgear of a cardinal is the scarlet skull cap called the zucchetto.

Cardinals are called the princes of the church, and as such take rank in Europe over all except members of royal families.

THREE AMERICAN PRELATES TO BE MADE CARDINALS

Archbishop John Murphy Farley, who is soon to be an American cardinal, has spent most of his life in New York city. He has shown great executive ability. From a small parsonage 40 years ago the venerable clergyman has risen to the highest ranks in American Catholicism.

He was born at Newton Hamilton, county of Armagh, Ireland, April 20, 1842. While yet a boy he emigrated to America, receiving his early education in Troy, N. Y. Four years were spent in the American College at Rome, where he was ordained a priest in 1849. Two years later he resigned his rectory to become secretary to Archbishop McCloskey. In 1884 he was made private chamberlain to Pope XIII., with the title of monsignore. In 1885 he was appointed auxiliary bishop of New York, and upon the death of Archbishop Corrigan, was made administrator of New York, advancing to the archbishop's title Sept. 15, 1902.

Of the three new American cardinals to be named, Archbishop O'Connell is the youngest of American cardinals, and the third youngest in the whole college. He was born at Lowell, Mass., Dec. 8, 1859, and after pursuing his theological studies in the American college at Rome was ordained a priest June 8, 1884. In 1901 he returned to America, becoming bishop of Portland, Me. In 1905 he was named assistant at the pontifical throne in Rome; and in the same year was sent to Japan as the special envoy to the Emperor, his successful negotiations with the Mikado resulting in a better understanding between the Catholic church and the government gave the American bishop a pre-eminent standing in the Vatican. A year later he was given the honor of being consecrated titular archbishop of Constance. On Aug. 30, 1907, he succeeded to the see of Boston on the death of Archbishop Williams.

Apostolic delegate Falconio has his mother to thank for the great honor to be named, Archbishop Falconio was born in the Abruzzi, Italy, in 1842. His father had mapped out for him a business life, but this did not meet with the approval of the mother. After many family arguments the religious mother quietly sent the boy, then nearing 18, to the Franciscan order, which he entered and began his studies for the priesthood.

In 1865 he finished his studies and came to America as a missionary, being ordained a priest in 1866 by Bishop Timon of Buffalo. For several years he was a professor of theology in Catholic colleges. He went to Italy in 1883 and was elected provincial of Franciscans in the Abruzzi. For the next 16 years he remained with the Franciscans, rising to the rank of archbishop. In 1899 he was sent to Canada as the papal delegate, being transferred to the United States Sept. 30, 1902.

M'INTOSH'S WEEKLY REVIEW. The continued easiness of money has made for an active trading market. Perhaps the outstanding feature about the Montreal market during the past week has been the manner in which it has shown that it is now able to ignore the Wall street market absolutely. Even when the latter market was subjected to almost panicky conditions, owing to the action of the United States government in taking suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation, the Montreal market not only held its own but a number of the standard issues made steady gains. It has been apparent for some time past that the market conditions were so different in the two countries that traders were devoting their undivided attention to Canadian securities with the result that when the severe setback came in New York they were practically unaffected by it. It is doubtful if there has ever been such a severe decline in Wall street which has had such slight effect on the Canadian market as has that of the past week. For some days past money has again been offered very freely on the local Street and this has favored operators in creating a better market for their securities.

"RED CROSS" GIN TO THE FORE! THE DANGER OF IMPORTED SPIRITS. The danger of imported gins lies in the impurities that they contain, ethers, acids, etc., which are most injurious to the health. Gin manufactured abroad, not being submitted to any sort of official inspection may be regarded with suspicion, especially that destined for exportation, and furthermore because it is delivered to the consumer on this side without examination, once the duty is paid. This is not the case with "Red Cross" Gin, every operation in the manufacture of which is performed under the strict inspection of a staff of Excise officers, from the weighing of the grain to the affixing of the Government stamp on each bottle before it leaves the distillery. "RED CROSS" GIN manufactured from the best Juniper berries and the choicest grains from the Canadian west, offers the consumer every guarantee of purity, quality and maturity. It is best, the source of energy, in a concentrated form, and is a valuable product for sustaining energy and saving strength. It should be prudently used not abused. The Gin that is Guaranteed. McClary's Burnished Surface. Easier to Shine. The slightly rough surface of the ordinary stove catches the dust—gets dirty quickly. It is hard to clean—takes a lot of black lead to fill in the pores—requires a lot of polishing-labor to produce a bright shine. You know that by experience. But the Sask-Alta burnished surface—the new finish invented by McClary's—is very, very easy to polish. So smooth the dust does not cling to it. Easy to clean. Requires very little black lead. Takes a many times more lustrous and lasting shine. Burnished surface only needs polishing once a week, whereas an ordinary stove requires shining every day to keep it bright. Less polishing-labor, less time, less black lead will be required when you have the Sask-Alta in your kitchen. Why not have it put there right away? 26

The Canadian propositions in Mexico and South America have again attracted considerable attention, mainly on buying which was reported to be for London account. Back some months ago all these securities attracted considerable attention, but had been neglected for some little time. In the interval, however, the companies have shown big increases in earnings, and higher dividends are looked for in all three cases. This refers to Mexican Light and Power, Rio de Janeiro, and Sao Paulo. In connection with Rio there was a report from London that there might be the payment of a bonus at the end of the present fiscal year and that after that time an increased dividend would be paid. Mexican Light and Power which has only been receiving 4 per cent. is now said to be on the right road for a 5 per cent. or 6 per cent. dividend. Canadians have no longer a very great interest in this stock, but from time to time London comes in and picks up a lot of it on the Canadian exchanges. Sao Paulo has been persistently bulled for higher prices by Toronto interests. It has been paying 10 per cent., but the Toronto interests are now looking for 12 per cent. within the next twelve months. Richelieu Acting Strangely. Notwithstanding continual reports as to the probability of a 8 per cent. dividend for Richelieu and Ontario, this stock has not acted particularly well. There seems to be some difference of opinion amongst the members of the board of directors as to the advisability of paying an 8 per cent. dividend on Dec. 1st, even though the company may have shown very large earnings for the past season. What seems to have affected the market most of all, as far as Richelieu is concerned, is the uncertainty as to just what very large proportion of the stock is held speculatively, and which will likely be marketed if very much higher prices are reached. Making a Market For New Stocks. The upward movement in both Canadian Cement and Steel Company of Canada have continued. A good deal of the recent activity in these securities has undoubtedly been laid down to the fact that the principal interests behind them are making a better market for the stocks, it may be that the same interests are taking advantage of the conditions to secure better distribution for the securities. Cotton Crop Outlook. The certainty of an unusually large cotton crop is referred to as being of advantage to Canadian cotton concerns. For some time past our Canadian companies have been confronted with very high prices for the material and should therefore do very much better. Up to the present time though there is some uncertainty as to quality.

THREE

IT STARTS off like "three blind mice," doesn't it? The only similarity between the title of the page and the old nursery rhyme is the fact that your fingers will fairly run over the design, so quickly will you be able to work out the pretty patterns. You can purchase huck by the yard, the 18-inch width being the usual size. Damask, too, is excellent; but for the design showing the new darned work huck is necessary. Transfer the design to one end of the towel that you intend to work; on the other end draw only the scalloped border. The pretty flower design has been arranged to form an oval space for an initial, which you will buy and apply on the outer line. A monogram, too, will add much to any gift. This design has been planned for wall-chian stitches—buttonhole stitches, you know. Work them from a center line, with the puri edge forming the outline of each petal. The center should be solid. Outline the short stems and work the long leaves with the quick wall-chian stitches, using an imaginary center line for a guide. If you do not like this quick work, the design is just as good when done in solid stitches. Pad the scalloped and buttonhole as for any edge. Give towels a second treatment to prevent fraying. Pad with darning cotton and use long, loose stitches or a chain stitch. The new darned work is given a chance in our page. You have probably noticed the towels done in this pretty style. FRILLS AND F. THIS number of pretty accessories to the toilette that a clever needle-woman can make is almost limitless. From the crown of her head to the tip of her dainty satin slipper, every addition to her costume can show the personal touch, the mark of individuality, by the application of a bit of lace or embroidery. So, then, let us begin with ornaments for the toilette and consider in detail the frills and furbelows. On half a yard of gold ribbon four inches wide sew a wreath of tiny blossoms made of varied colored ribbon and join at the side with a rose or rosette of yellow ribbon. This makes an attractive bandeau for the hair. A bow made of five or six loops of fine-lace wired so that it will stand erect and fastened to a band of satin or metal ribbon is also a pretty coiffure ornament; with a wreath of ribbon roses attached to a ribbon-covered wire and joined with a large artificial rose is just the daintiest kind of hair decoration for the young girl. Ribbon roses are not difficult to make. You simply fold a strip of satin ribbon through the center, using two-inch-wide ribbon for small flowers and four inch for large ones. Beginning at one end, roll the ribbon around on itself until the desired size is obtained, sewing it fast at the sevice edge. Large satin roses are made by cutting

THREETO WEL ENDS

The New Darned Work.

Solid and French Knots.

IT STARTS off like "three blind mice," doesn't it? The only similarity between the title of the page and the old nursery rhyme is the fact that your fingers will fairly run over the design, so quickly will you be able to work out the pretty patterns.

You can purchase huck by the yard, the 18-inch width being the usual size. Damask, too, is excellent; but for the design showing the new darned work huck is necessary.

Transfer the design to one end of the towel that you intend to work; on the other end draw only the scalloped border.

The pretty flower design has been arranged to form an oval space for an initial, which you will buy and apply on the outer line. A monogram, too, will add much to any gift. This design has been planned for wallachian stitches—buttonhole stitches, you know. Work them from a center line, with the puri edge forming the outline of each petal. The center should be solid. Outline the short stems and work the long leaves with the quick wallachian stitches, using an imaginary center line for a guide.

If you do not like this quick work, the design is just as good when done in solid stitches.

Pad the scallops and buttonhole as for any edge. Give towels a second treatment to prevent fraying. Pad with darned cotton and use long, loose stitches or a chain stitch.

The new darned work is given a chance in our page. You have probably noticed the towels done in this pretty style. White thread is used to outline the flowers, stems and leaves. Then the weave of the huck guides you in the rest of your work. With colored thread—pale blue, yellow, pink—darn the petals and leaves, using the parallel lines of the huck for the guides. Catch up one thick thread and then make stitches of uniform size in straight lines. All must run either horizontally or vertically. The effect is solid work at a distance, yet the little breaks in the lines give a white effect that makes a delicate color in the pattern.

After working the flowers in the new and quick way, pad the scallops and buttonhole as usual.

Last is a lovely pond-lily design that combines solid work and French knots. There is not very much solid work, as you can see at a glance.

Outline the leaves and the veins, and work solid the turned-over portions as shown.

Work the rear rows of petals on the flowers in solid stitches, and after outlining the rest fill in with French knots or seed stitches. A double line of outline stitches will give a good stem effect. If you wish, you can work the stems in the regular stem stitch.

Pad the scallops and buttonhole as a final touch to the border.

What is more desirable than fine towels? They wear well, they are always used and appreciated and one can never have too many of them. A single towel makes a beautiful gift; a set of them is enough to make a bride-to-be or a "settled" married woman hug you for joy. Try this, if you like to give acceptable presents.

One Half of an End.

Fancy Bonbon Box

THE foundation of a very dainty bonbon box is nothing more than a small tin cracker box. The entire outside surface has been covered with an odd piece of brocaded satin glued on perfectly smooth, lapsing well over on the inside. The lid is treated in the same way and has a trail of narrow pale-green satin ribbon worked over the top and tied in a smart bow at one side. The box is lined with heavy glazed paper, pasted on right up to the edge and covering the satin that was turned in from the outside. Such a box lined with silk or velvet would serve as a jewel case, a handkerchief box or a receptacle for any trinkets. If lined with silk, pad the bottom with a layer or two of cotton batting perfumed with a delicate sachet.

FOR THE PROSPECTIVE BRIDE

GIRLS who are contemplating matrimony should have a dowry chest.

An old German fashion, but one that is being extensively revived, it is not possible for one person to present a prospective bride with a full chest; therefore, the custom of giving linen "showers" has become quite the thing among the young woman's friends.

A member of her family or an intimate friend presents her with the chest, cedar lined, with the bride's initials carved or stamped in the center of the lid. Every member of the family, as well as relatives and friends, then proceed to contribute to the filling of the chest by making all sorts of useful articles.

Household linen is given, linen sheets and pillow cases with the bride's initials embroidered just under the hem or on it. Large and small towels, also embroidered with initials, and having scalloped edges—embroidered with heavy white linen thread. Napkins, three sets, one for each daily meal, and hemmed neatly by hand, and have the initials embroidered in one corner.

Scares for bureau, sideboard and stands ornamented with embroidery or drawn work; pillow shams, kitchen towels and wash cloths.

Squares of soft cheesecloth, hemmed neatly for dusters, and coarse linen squares, hemmed for dishcloths.

Each complete set is tied with a dainty ribbon.

The addition of kitchen and pantry towels is a new and very acceptable idea; the pantry towels are used only for drying cut glass and silver, and are of fine soft striped linen, having the ends scalloped and buttonholed with colored thread.

Another pretty set that is added to the dowry chest consists of embroidered cushion covers.

Some large enough to slip on over a sofa cushion, others designed for pin-cushions. Modern women will not use pin-cushions covered with fancy silk and lace that cannot be washed. They are not considered to be sanitary, but the embroidered linen covers that can be changed every few weeks are very much in demand.

Several sets of these covers for the top and bottom of the cushion, which have scalloped edges and small slits, buttonholed to run ribbon through, are part of the dowry outfit.

The bride's initials are embroidered in the center of the cover, and a set of a dozen tied with ribbon and a cake of scented soap on top is a practical gift.

Sachet pads for bureau drawers are another addition to the chest. Make these of gayly colored silk or pongee. They are made by covering a double fold of cotton wadding, thickly sprinkled with the bride's favorite sachet, with silk.

Put the pads with a few stitches of colored floss. You can make any one of these articles for your friend, the prospective bride, with the assurance that she will be gratefully pleased with your gift.

FRILLS AND FURBELOWS

THE number of pretty accessories to the toilette that a clever needlewoman can make is almost limitless.

From the crown of her head to the tip of her dainty satin slipper, every addition to her costume can show the personal touch, the mark of individuality, by the application of a bit of lace or embroidery. So, then, let us begin with ornaments for the coiffure and consider in detail the frills and furbebows.

On half a yard of gold ribbon four inches wide sew a wreath of tiny blossoms made of varied colored ribbon and join at the side with a rose or rosette of yellow ribbon. This makes an attractive bandeau for the hair. A bow made of five or six loops of fine lace wired so that it will stand erect and fastened to a band of satin or metal ribbon is also a pretty coiffure ornament; while a wreath of ribbon roses attached to a ribbon-covered wire and joined with a large artificial rose is just the daintiest kind of hair decoration for the young girl.

Ribbon roses are not difficult to make. You simply fold a strip of satin ribbon through the center, using two-inch-wide ribbon for small flowers and four inch for large ones. Beginning at one end, roll the ribbon around on itself until the desired size is obtained, sewing it fast at the selvage edge.

Large satin roses are made by cutting oval-shaped petals of varied sizes, lining them and threading a very fine wire around the edge of the seam. Sew all to a small circular foundation, using the smaller petals in the center, the larger on the outer edge and placing a small ball of cotton, satin covered, directly in the center. One large satin rose, with a few dark-green velvet leaves attached to the stem, makes a dainty coiffure decoration.

Now for the frilly collars and jabots. Fine net and mulline are to be much in evidence this season, made up into dainty neckties. Lace, of course, will always be extensively used, and you can fashion any number of very beautiful jabots and collars by combining these materials. Make a high stock collar of tulle net, having a jabot made by edging a half yard of plain net with narrow lace. Lay the jabot in narrow folds and attach it to the center front of the collar.

Ruffs of mulline are made by sewing a two-inch pleating of double mulline to both edges of a two-inch band of ribbon that is cut to fit the neck and fastened over with hooks and eyes.

Black and white are the favorite colors for these ruffs, but you may have one to match any colored gown you choose. They are decidedly chic.

Embroidered belts are dainty and fashionable. A little handwork on the belt worn with the tailored suit improves its looks wonderfully. Stockings embroidered in self-toned floss, when you do this yourself, are exquisitely dainty and inexpensive. And plain satin slippers embroidered or beaded in a pretty conventional design add greatly to the beauty of the entire costume.

Every woman who enjoys needlework should provide herself with as many handmade dress accessories as she can.

Wool Caps for Girls

IF YOU are clever with a crochet needle, make your small daughter or little niece one of the warm but fashionable caps of thick sepry. It can be bought in all colors, but the dark ones are best and most serviceable for winter wear.

Blue, red, brown, maroon are good colors to choose. Trimmings of a contrasting color or a different shade of the color used make pretty caps. They are crocheted round, like a skull-cap, but made long enough to have a broad band turned up all the way around. This band can be of contrasting color of yarn. The band can be turned up all around, up in front and down to protect the neck in the center or it can be left slit open in the center of the front and laid back, like two small flaps, on either side. A ribbon is often woven in and out of the loose crochet stitch and tied in a rosette or flat bow on one side.

Any desired stitch may be employed in the making of these caps; they can be as plain or as elaborate as you wish.

To Transfer

HERE are suggestions for transferring the pattern before you to any material before working.

Perhaps the easiest way is the "window-pane" method. This is successful when the material is thin, like linen, batiste, etc. Pin the sheet of paper and the material together and hold them up against the glass of a window. With a sharp pencil draw on the material the design, which can be easily seen through the goods. If one-half of the design only be given, unpin the paper and turn the other side to the fabric. The strong light behind will make it plain.

If you have carbon paper, you should place the sheet between your fabric and the newspaper. This latter is on top. With a sharp pencil go over the outline of the design. The impression will be left in fine lines and will last until worked. This method is successful on heavy material.

The last way is also easy. On wax paper or ordinary tissue paper trace the pattern before you. When the design is completed, turn over the paper and outline the pattern with a heavy lead pencil. Then place the design down on the fabric and redraw the outline, pressing hard with the pencil. The pattern will be transferred without difficulty. Surely the way is easy.

Embroidery Hint

EMBROIDERY is apt to become drawn and puckered in working. It can be perfectly straightened in the following manner:

Wring a thick clean cloth out of clear cold water and rack it firmly to a board. Stretch the embroidery work over this and pin the edges evenly to the wet cloth, being sure it is stretched perfectly straight. Leave it on overnight, or until it is dry. If it is then not quite smooth, repeat the process.

Another good way to lay thick flannel on a board and lay the embroidery, face down on it. Dampen and press with a moderately hot iron. Be sure to press with the grain of the material.

Embroidery on Kid

FRENCHWOMEN are enthusiastic over the fact of using kid trimmings on their outdoor costumes.

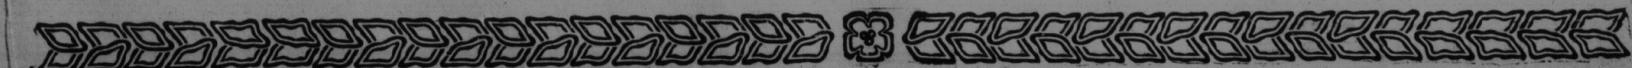

But the kid must be embroidered. Soft white or very light-colored kid is used, and is fashioned into belts, collars, cuffs and fever bands.

Any shape that suits the fancy is used, but all must correspond. The work is done in silk and metal threads, and the raw edge of the kid is finished off with a cord or heavy thread of dull gold or silver. Any simple design can be worked on it. But be sure to let the design be simple; one does not wish to cover too closely the beauty of the kid. A favorite adaptation of the work is the loose "contours," or fronts, worn beneath the fashionable boleros of cloth or velvet.

The kid fits in the space between the fronts of the bolero and reaches to the belt line. It is then embroidered, using white or two tones of silk that correspond with the color of the gown. Little loops are placed at the sides, and these fasten to hooks sewed inside the bolero. Sleevebands to match add another trig touch to the costume. The work has many other uses besides dress trimmings. It can be made into charming opera bags, holders for various things, or mounted on cardboard for picture frames, fancy boxes, etc.

ST. JOHN IS THE ONLY PORT IN CANADA PLANNING FOR A DRY DOCK

Edward Bath, of Norton Griffiths Company, in City Yesterday, Thinks There is No Possibility of Dock and Ship Repair Plant Going to Any Other Atlantic Port.

That the new government at Ottawa will do all in its power to facilitate the working out of the project of establishing a dry dock at Courtenay Bay, is the opinion of Edward Bath, M.A., B.Sc., consulting engineer for the Campbell Laird Shipbuilding Company, and the Norton Griffiths Co. He believes that when Parliament assembles the present dry dock subsidy act, which provides for the construction of a dry dock 900 feet in length, with an entrance 90 feet in breadth and a depth on the sill of feet, will be amended to provide for the construction of a dock between 1,100 and 1,300 feet in length with an entrance of 110 feet and a depth of at least 40 feet. A larger dock, he thinks has been made necessary by recent developments which point to the possibility of a great increase in the size of the ships trading between Canada and the Mother Country.

Mr. Bath arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of consulting with the minister of marine. When seen at the Royal by a Standard reporter he said he had no authority to say anything in reference to the proposed harbor works at Courtenay Bay, as there was a matter under the jurisdiction of the Dominion engineers acting on instructions from the government, but as consulting engineer for the proposed dry dock and shipbuilding plant with which he has been identified since its inception, he made the following statement:

"My present visit to St. John has special and particular reference to the dry dock and I shall take up the consideration of certain details which must be worked out. I don't think the change of government at all affects the position of the project. An official dry dock is an outstanding and admitted need of the Atlantic coast of Canada, and it is also recognized that a shipbuilding plant should be located at the same place to maintain and retain a class of workmen able to do all kinds of work connected with ship repairing.

Must Have Larger Dock.
"In my opinion it would be an absolute waste of money to construct a dry dock at this or any other spot of the limited dimensions stipulated by the Dry Dock Subsidy Act of 1910. That act when it was framed was intended to cover all the requirements of modern shipbuilding, but during the short period which has elapsed the tonnage of ocean going steamships has increased by leaps and bounds, and orders are about to be placed for express steamers for the Canadian mail service of a size which could not be accommodated by the stipulations of the act of 1910.

"The attention of the late government was called to this fact and some amendments were promised to meet the case. Negotiations are now proceeding with the present government to remove certain difficulties as to the application of the subsidies, and to provide for an enlargement of the dry dock. Every effort is being made by the government to meet the new conditions, and full consideration is being given to the question of facilitating the necessary amendments to the act.

Thanksgiving Concert.
The Thanksgiving concert held in St. Luke's church last evening was well attended and a pleasing musical programme was carried out. The programme consisted of the following numbers: Processional hymn, Come Ye Thankful People Come, choir; prayers, solo, Oh Clap Your Hands, W. H. Smith; solo, Crystal River, Miss B. A. Irvine; anthem, The Waters of the Hills, choir, the solo parts being taken by Miss E. Bridgton and R. D. Farmer; solo, God that Made Earth and Heaven, W. H. Smith; anthem, Sing Hallelujah Forth, choir, the solo parts being taken by P. J. Hardman, Recessional, Praise Oh Praise Our God and King, choir. After the programme the choir were served with refreshments by Mrs. McKim. Much credit is due Choirmaster Peacock for the splendid work of this choir, which is considered to be one of the best in this city.
