

FRENCH ACTION IN OCCUPYING GERMAN TOWNS

Not Wholly Approved of by the Other Allied Nations Who Think it Was Premature.

SHOULD HAVE WAITED

Until the Situation Became More Extreme, When All the Allies Would Have Interfered in a Body.

London, April 8.—(By the Associated Press)—After a long conference, which the French Ambassador, Paul Cambon, had with Premier Lloyd George today, and a full discussion of the Franco-German incident by the Cabinet Council which the French view was fully explained to the British Minister an authoritative statement was issued to the effect that France acted entirely on her own initiative in deciding to occupy German towns.

The matter is under discussion of the British and French Governments, and the hope is expressed that the situation may be easily rectified by the statement which the British Government has issued.

The statement recites various expedients suggested for dealing with the Ruhr situation, among others, the sending of Allied officers with the German troops to supervise the German withdrawal. Another alternative was that the decision should be left with the German Government, with the stipulation that unless the status quo was sufficiently restored the Allies themselves would occupy German towns to enforce their demand.

The German Government appears to have acted precipitately and France to have responded by adopting a plan which was only intended as a last resort method, and even then to have been the affair of the Allies and not any one of them simply.

Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and the United States, it is declared, all felt that the task of restoring order should be left to Germany, and all were opposed to their respective forces being called upon, except as a last resort to undertake what are virtually police duties.

The statement concludes: "It is when France's suspicions of Germany's ulterior motives and deliberate flaunting of the terms of the peace treaty became accompanied by facts that the Allies would doubtless be prepared to act instantly and vigorously in concert to vindicate the position and report for the provisions of the treaty. But for the time being, it may be taken that no British soldier will participate in the occupation of German cities in the neutral zone."

PEACE RESOLUTION ON WAY IN HOUSE

It is Passing Through a Storm of Oratory and Discussion.

Washington, April 8.—The peace resolution had passed the half-way mark on its way through the House when echoes of the storm of oratory and report for the provisions of the treaty, but for the time being, it may be taken that no British soldier will participate in the occupation of German cities in the neutral zone."

He had arranged for the purchase of twelve acres of lime deposits from H. G. H. Adams at Brookville. The Government would install a grinder and crusher and the contractor with whom they had arranged to operate the plant would supply the additional machinery.

MR. T. B. CARSON TAKES PART IN BUDGET DEBATE

Member for St. John County Heard to Advantage in Short Speech

BUT RIGHT TO POINT

Showed up How Mr. Venio's "Permanent" Roads Are Constructed, and Just How "Permanent" They Can Be.

Fredricton, April 8.—It was late in the afternoon when the debate on the budget was resumed today. The greater part of the day was given over to the consideration of two bills of interest to Moncton which were heard before the municipalities committee.

It was 4.45 o'clock when the debate was taken up by Mr. Bordage, of the government, and he devoted his time to passing compliments to government speakers of the session, and especially to making the accomplishment of the Minister of Public Works. He considered the minister as the greatest man who ever directed the affairs of a department, and was a real wizard when it came to making roads for automobiles.

Mr. Carson, of St. John county, who followed Mr. Bordage, in a few words said much that was to the point, and entertained as well as instructed. He gave the Premier an uncomfortable few minutes when he threw a shot across the bow that hit and hurt. He said he thought any accusation by the government against a member who had charged opposition members of entering into questionable deals, came with great force from that side of the House. He thought the Premier's member who had been approached and asked to step aside that a seat might be made for the Premier. NEW FISHING REGULATIONS CONSIDERED

In Parliament Yesterday, as Outcome of Recommendations of Commission.

CANADA AND THE U. S.

Will Have a Reciprocal Policy in the Matter, Fishermen of Each Country Getting the Freedom of the Other.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, April 8.—Negotiations looking to the execution of a new Fisheries Treaty between Canada and the United States are now in progress and according to a statement to the House of Commons by Hon. C. C. Balfanzky are based upon the findings of the International Joint Fisheries Commission. That Commission, which was appointed in 1918, investigated the differences then existing between the two countries with respect to fishing on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and made a unanimous report. Agreements based upon this report were put into operation on both sides of the International boundary line as war measures.

As a result, fishermen of each country were given port privileges in the harbors of the other. Canadian fishermen were enabled to dispose of their catches, buy supplies obtain bait and ship crews in United States ports. They found free markets for their fish, and fresh fish are admitted to the United States free of customs duties. United States fishermen were enabled to land their catches at Canadian ports and sell them, subject to the Canadian duty. The Prince Edward Islands, which have been added to the United States, have also been included in the treaty.

The International Commission which investigated and sought to settle the long-standing international differences consisted of Chief Justice Sir J. D. Hazen of New Brunswick, G. J. Desbarres, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, and W. A. Pomeroy, Superintendent of Fisheries, acting for Canada, and Messrs. Redfield, Secretary of the United States Fish and Game Commission, and D. Smith, Commissioner of Fisheries, acting for the United States. The Commission's findings and its hearing upon Fisheries in the Great Lakes. The arrangement with respect to fisheries on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, based upon the report of the Commission, to their respective governments and put into force as a war measure in both countries is still operative. Inasmuch as the war has now ended, an arrangement has to be embodied in a treaty and ratified by both countries in the manner laid down in the Commission's report.

BAD OUTLOOK IN COAL SITUATION

No Chance of Any Drop in Price for Some Time to Come.

Toronto, Ont., April 8.—The coal situation never was so bad as at present, according to Geo. H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal Dealers Association, who addressed the Toronto Wholesale Coal Dealers Association at a meeting here today. There is a shortage of ten millions tons of bituminous coal in the United States, Mr. Cushing said. Inadequate transportation facilities had caused the shortage, and what was needed was more motive power rather than more railway cars.

Thorne, County Treasurer of St. John were also officers elected to the executive board.

One of the objects sought to be obtained by the Association is a standard of efficiency. Considerable discussion followed as to how this object might be attained. It was decided to hold a convention in each city or town where inferior service is being given. The executive will take up the matters of service and insist that every official shall give satisfactory service to the employing corporation.

The association decided to memorialize the Government to fix a minimum salary for officials. MONCTON TOOK UP LOT TIME IN COMMITTEE

On Municipalities Yesterday, With Bills Relating to Civic Affairs.

THE CITY COUNCIL

And the Labor Organizations Appear to be at Loggerheads Regarding Some Terms of the Proposed Legislation.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., April 8.—St. John has been crowded off the legislative map by Moncton. The Winter Port City has had the reputation of monopolizing the Legislative Committee in its efforts to settle disagreements. Moncton usurped that privilege today, and a large delegation arrived here in a special car to air their differences before the Committee on Municipalities. There were two bills in which the delegation was interested. One of the bills dealt with the qualifications of electors to vote, while the other referred to the general question of assessment.

Both bills are sponsored by the Federation of Labor at Moncton, and had strong opposition from the Board of Trade and business men in general. The question of the franchise, over which there seemed to be the greatest contention, would give the right of franchise to all poll tax payers who are bona fide citizens of the city. They would have the right to vote for Mayor and Aldermen, but would not be permitted to have a voice on questions relating to the expenditure of city monies. The present law requires that a qualified voter must have real or personal estate to the value of $100 at least.

The business men opposed the measure as they thought there was some ulterior motive behind the proposal which would be detrimental to the business interests of the city. They claimed that the bill had been snatched on them without any warning, and was done in the interests of the labor men with the idea of gaining control of city affairs. They strenuously opposed the move and asked the committee to postpone the bill a twelve months' hoist.

Another provision of the bill would change the election day to Saturday instead of the present day, it was said. The opponents argued that this was only a scheme of the Laborites to bring election day at a time when they were enjoying a half holiday, and the business men were obliged to be busy in their regular line of trade as Saturday was one of the best trade days of the week. Other provisions of the bill were of minor importance, and called for little consideration.

Supporters of the bill maintained there was nothing unwholesome in their presentation of the bill, and thought a poll tax man was just as intelligent as others who owned property, and should be permitted to exercise the rights of franchise.

They believed every citizen should have the right to vote in city affairs, and the matter of interests should be legalized oppressors. A certain ring of politicians was accused of being in the power behind those opposing the act.

At times the discussion became rather personal and arguments, pro and con, were given with an intense feeling.

Both bills will be considered by the committee at a private session.

(Official Report)

House of Assembly, Fredericton, N. B., April 8.—The Committee on Municipalities resumed at 2:30 o'clock and continued consideration of a bill to consolidate the several acts relating to the incorporation of the City of Moncton. Mr. Edgett was heard in reply to the statements made by those supporting the bill. He said that he had applied at City Hall for a copy of the bill, and had been unable to secure one. The Board of Trade had not accepted an invitation for a public discussion because they had felt it would serve no good purpose. They had invited the labor unions to send a committee to discuss the bill with them. One of the labor delegates informed the joint meeting that he was opposed to the bill; another delegate was not a voter.

MINISTER OF LANDS AND MINES PUT ON DEFENSIVE WHEN SPEAKING OF THE WORK OF HIS DEPARTMENT

In Course of a Lengthy But Not Uninteresting Speech, Hon. Dr. Smith Attempted to Answer the Critics that Have Been Levelled at the Working of the Crown Land Department, and While He Showed That Some Improvements Have Been Made, it is Apparent There is Much Still Left to Do.

House of Assembly, Fredericton, April 7.—Hon. Mr. Smith, on the occasion of the day being called, rose to continue the debate on the Budget. He congratulated the mover and second of the address, and also extended congratulations to the Hon. Provincial Secretary-Treasurer on the able and comprehensive statement of Provincial finances which he had laid before the House. He said he concurred in the remarks made by the Hon. Leader of the Opposition touching on the death of the late Mr. W. Sumner. He said he had known Mr. Sumner for many years and believed that much of the prosperity which had come to his native city of Moncton had been largely due to his efforts. With regard to the Agent-General of the Province in London he would say that while Mr. Sumner had accomplished good work during the war, he (Smith) was inclined to doubt that the Province received any great benefit from the maintenance of an office in London. In his opinion the Province could well afford to pay for the services of an Agent-General and have a man filling the position who would work constantly in the interests of New Brunswick. Some immigrants had come to the Province, but they were not always suitable to the requirements. What they wanted was men who could farm and have sufficient means to enable them to live until they became established. The man on salary could not produce results as Agent-General he would favor the abolition of the office.

Reform Measures.—The present Government on assuming office had felt the need of reform in the management of Crown lands. The first step taken towards the conservation of the forest was the Forest Act passed in 1918, along with the Fire Act. The Forest Act was the first of its kind in the Dominion, and as far as he knew in any State of the Dominion. It provided for the consolidation of the branches of the outside service for the protection of forests, standing timber and game. A permanent staff was employed, thereby eliminating the patronage evil and assuring greater efficiency. The Fire Act was most comprehensive and some of its features had been considered by other Provinces in amending their acts. An advisory board was appointed, and he wished to say that the outside members, Mrs. Archibald Fraser and Mr. D. J. Buckley, had been of great assistance in organizing the service and carrying out the policy of conservation. Time did not permit of complete organization in 1918, nevertheless there were splendid results in the protection of forests and game in 1919, with a staff of qualified men, the results were most gratifying. The fire loss was not large and compared most favorably with the Province of Quebec. In that Province some 32,561 acres had been burned over, while in New Brunswick, with 12,000,000 acres of private and public owned lands, only 11,000 acres had been burned. The loss in New Brunswick was 8,000 acres less than in 1918. Taking into consideration that last season was one of the driest experienced for many years, he thought it would be admitted that the organization had performed efficient work.

The fire at Redwood was the most disastrous that occurred during the year. It was caused by settlers burning their slash without obtaining a permit. Some thirty settlers lost their homes, and had it not been for a rain storm the whole settlement would likely have suffered. He felt sure that such a severe lesson would teach the settlers in future to abide by the law and secure a permit before starting fires. During the year every effort had been made to educate the public to a realization of the vital importance of saving the forests from fire. Letters were sent to the school children of the Province, and cards were placed in the smoking couches of railways warning the public against throwing cigarette and cigar butts from the car. It was their intention to continue the educational propaganda until the public was fully acquainted with the importance of forestry protection. The fire protection service consisted of 756 members, of which forty were present rangers and 490 were road commissioners. Co-operative wardens were named by lumber men and paid by them. The co-operation of road supervisors was secured through the active interest of the hon. Minister of Public Works, who had instructed those officials to lend every assistance in the fighting unexpected, but occurred long after the time after which the government could properly have readjusted the stumpage rate. Hon. member pointed out that the rate was not set gradually over the matter. The government would look after the interests of the people, and would in due course adjust the stumpage rates in accordance with the values of the manufactured articles.

While on the stumpage question it might be well to refer to the rate which prevailed in other provinces. In Quebec the charge was $1.50 for spruce on a five year term. In British Columbia the rate was $1.50 per M, and in Ontario it was $1.50 for pine and $1 for spruce. Quebec with 63,897 square miles under taxation collected a revenue in 1919 of $2,023,968.66, or less than $2 per M on an annual cut of one billion feet. Ontario with upwards of 30,000 square miles under license had a stumpage revenue of $1,756,000, and a cost of administration was $800,000, that sum not including game protection. British Columbia had an annual cut in excess of one and three-quarter billion and the revenue was $3,265,000 or a return of $1.60 per M board feet. He was not sure that the rate in New Brunswick should follow suit, but to show that the government had taken a business view of the matter, he had a number of proposals which might do, and would it see to that the people would receive a fair share of the profits from the lumbering industry.

Over-Expenditure.—There had been criticism because of an over-expenditure last year in the department of lands and mines. He had no apology to make as he believed every dollar was expended honestly and prudently. He would say that he was in fact in a position to report for a larger amount during the present session, in order to carry on the work so necessary for the conservation of the resources of the province. Whatever the cost might be he felt sure the returns would fully justify the expenditure. Had the old system of the department been continued, he estimated that there would be an increase in stumpage rates on that basis to $6.50 or thereabouts.

Mr. Smith (Charleton): "Do you know that that is true?" Hon. Mr. Smith: "No, I am basing my statement on the report of the department of lands and mines for the year ending October 31st, 1920 was $40,000,000 feet, the total revenue from stumpage alone should be $1,150,000, and the total of the department about $1,400,000." Mr. Smith (Charleton): "Do you know that that is true?" Hon. Mr. Smith: "No, I am basing my statement on the report of the department of lands and mines for the year ending October 31st, 1920 was $40,000,000 feet, the total revenue from stumpage alone should be $1,150,000, and the total of the department about $1,400,000."

The Annual Cut.—The speaker continued said that the hon. member for Charleton (Smith) had said that the total cut this year would be too great and had mentioned 200,000,000 feet as the proper annual cut off New Brunswick Crown Lands. He estimated that 5,000,000 acres were producing timber. Investigations by foresters had placed the estimate of annual growth at 50 feet per acre, this would produce a total annual growth of 250,000,000 feet. For several years the annual cut had exceeded that total, in fact it had exceeded it before the ranges of the bad worm had been observed. He hoped that it would continue to be exceeded for some years. In fact in 1919 the cut had exceeded it by the production of the diameter of logs, for the lumbermen to take out affected fire. There were several reasons for the cutting of large proportions in 1919-20. The cutting regulations affecting fire as he had mentioned, the ideal yarding season, and the absence of other mills, and the fact that the lumbermen were in the north. In answer to the same hon. member who had brought the attention of the House to the fact that logs were decreasing in size he might say that this was brought about very largely by the enforcement of the regulations requiring the Full Scale New Government.—The Government claimed for the people of the province that at last they were getting a full scale of the logs cut on Crown Lands and in making the statement he wished to impress upon the hon. member that this Government had made the first and only honest attempt to get a correct report of lumbering operations by an independent body. In 1915 the Government had been able to increase the best collection of the preceding governments. In 1915 amounting to $591,000 to $791,000 a year.

To Darken Hair Apply Sage Tea.—Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness. Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, and strained, gives hair a beautiful dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or thinning. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not what we all desire to retain our youthful appearance, and we are naturally anxious to do so. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does its work naturally, so you do not damage a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by pulling it through the fingers of your hand, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

difference of $200,000. In 1919 with a cut of 226,000,000 feet there had been a revenue of $61,000,000 an increase of $270,000 over that of 1918, although the cut was sixty-five million feet less. This was not a bad showing in spite of the editorial comment of the Fredericton Gleaser on February 13 to the effect that "all the departments are in miserable confusion." It must be admitted by his own admission that in the year 1914-15 the full scale of the lumber cut on Crown Lands was not returned to the Crown Land office by the lumbermen. The percentage of lumber was scaled and the returns were filled in merely by guess. Often during the administration of preceding governments, scales were not appointed until yarding operations were nearly over, and under the circumstances correct returns should have been $74,000, or a loss of about $204,000. On the three seasons 1914-15, 1915-16, 1916-17 the total revenue of the department was $92,200,000, instead of $90,000,000. There was in reality 483,000,000 feet and the total revenue should have been $948,000,000, instead of $92,200,000, a loss of $856,000,000, or a loss of 92.18 per cent. The total revenue of the department should have been $475,000,000, a loss of $383,000,000. For the season of 1916-17, 236,000,000 feet were returned with a total revenue of $540,000,000, the revenue should have been $744,000,000, or a loss of $204,000,000. On the three seasons the loss totalled $659,000,000. The estimated cut for the year ending October 31st, 1920 was 540,000,000 feet, the total revenue from stumpage alone should be $1,150,000, and the total of the department about $1,400,000.

The St. John Anti-Tuberculosis Assn.

By Speech and Example the Necessity of a Campaign Against Tuberculosis Was Shown at Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon.

In a splendidly vital way, both by speech and example, the necessity of a campaign against tuberculosis was shown yesterday at a deeply interesting meeting of women representing the churches in the City. The meeting was called by the Publicity Committee of the St. John Anti-Tuberculosis Assn., and was held in the Dispensary, Carmichael Street with Canon Murray MacLaren presiding. Two members from every church had been notified and the room was filled.

Colonel MacLaren first outlined the purpose of calling such a meeting which was to ask those present to form a permanent committee to spread the educational work of the Association, to give assistance to needy cases, to visit the Dispensary and to send to the Dispensary for Free treatment any members for the Association who may need it, as well as to spread the interest of the community in the important work of health preservation and prevention of disease. A lecture on this subject will be provided for any society which applies for one.

Dr. H. A. Farris, the next speaker, said that in St. John we had a fine organization if we could get started a publicity campaign which would wake up not only St. John, but Canada. Halifax is going to spend $75,000 yearly in this work which is educational and preventative and which will have a double effect. The death of tuberculosis in St. John represented in money a loss to the City of $140,000 to say nothing of the suffering and pain. Half at least of these lives could be saved without a very great effort.

Take Cases Early.
Dr. Farris emphasized the need of an early diagnosis and said "You hear that people die who go to the East St. John Hospital. Well, so they do but it is not because they go to East St. John but because they did not come soon enough."

He pointed out that the danger of infection is in early childhood when adults are weakened or run down in health. Better ventilation is needed in homes in the schools, and better houses.

The climate of St. John is just as good a place as any if a fair chance is given it.

Dr. Farris closed by asking all present to assist with a membership campaign saying that the Y. W. P. A. have undertaken this work and pointing out that it lends people to take an interest in the health measures of the Association.

Dr. Abramson stated that he thought all clergy men should be ex officio members of the Board of Health as the gospel of health surely comes next to the Gospel. There must be bodies in which to keep souls to be saved, and no one has greater opportunities of influencing large numbers of persons than ministers. He hoped that all the organizations in the Churches would take up this educational work.

Dr. Abramson gave an interesting account of the preventative measures taken in the city of Framingham, Mass. and told of some ways in which the disease is contracted. He too laid emphasis on keeping healthy so as to combat the disease and warned his hearers to learn about this scourge and not to fear its fatality. For 14 per cent of persons have of late had tuberculosis and have not died from it. It is a dark spot on our civilization for it can be eradicated and yet we are too lazy to take active measures against it. It is not hereditary but children of tubercular parents are naturally weak and predisposed to all infection.

Dr. A. E. Logie told of the hours of the Dispensary and asked for co-operation in this work. It is free and open three times a week.

Many arresting statements were made by Dr. Mabel Hamilton who in her medical inspection of schools comes in contact with the necessity for health education. She said two-thirds of the children of St. John (rich and poor alike) do not go to bed before ten, and that they show the results of too little fresh air and rest. In the Easter vacation one small boy admitted that he had seen a picture show, and many children spent far too much time in close places of amusement instead of in the open air. Those advocating health measures did not want to be a salvage corps picking up remnants of humanity, out to have the people training for themselves fine strong bodies. The Red Cross campaign along the lines of health was referred to and the fact that the local Red Cross in Farnham is an extra nurse for Anti-Tuberculosis work mentioned.

In the discussion which followed, the question was asked as to why the law against expectation on the streets and in street cars was not enforced and many present gave instances of how this law is disregarded.

Before the meeting opened, six children who were present, as it was the regular Children's Day at the Dispensary were examined. Miss Brophy, the white uniform nurse showed how the children's temperature is taken, how they are weighed and a paper with the history of the case made out. Next in the examining room, throat and nose were examined and the Von Pirquet test, a skin test made. Frequently throat trouble is found, or adenoids which when removed leads to a complete cure, but which if neglected, would end in serious disease.

Annual Inspection

The Department of Trade and Commerce has issued the following notice: Please take notice that the Weights and Measures Act as Amended by Chap. 75, "An Act to Amend the Weights and Measures Act," 1919, now requires all weights and measures to be inspected and stamped at least once a year instead of once every two years as formerly.

The high prices now prevailing on all commodities has rendered the accuracy of all weighing and measuring machines of the utmost importance. To insure a correct and a great loss to the merchant—to give short weight is an offence under the law, subject to prosecution and fine. The best and only protection against such is correct scales. This is the duty and object of the Government inspection of Weights and Measures and incidentally to protect the merchant from the honest competition and the public from dishonest weight and measure.

Co-operate with the Inspector then and lend him your assistance. He is paid a straight salary and does not benefit by one cent from the fees he collects, which are all covered by Government Revenue Stamps affixed to your Certificate and deposited to the credit of the Receiver General.

As the expenses of this service exceeded collections last year by $92,388.09 the fees have been increased to help pay for the increased cost of travelling, horse hire, freight and cartages, etc.

A merchant bought a new scale to be used in his business. The scale was new and had been inspected at the factory. Next year the Inspector called and found the scale was out of 100 lbs. against the merchant. Not much. The merchant had only shipped 40,000 bags—a loss of 2 tons of peas to save a dollar's inspection fee. Insure against such loss—welcome the Inspector.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble—Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and causes the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and acid right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

NEW FISHING REGULATIONS CONSIDERED

The bill was laid over for private consideration.

The bill to consolidate and amend the laws respecting the Levying, Assessing and Collection of Taxes in the City of Moncton was considered.

T. T. Goodwin was heard in opposition to the bill. He said there was not many points on which the supporters and the opponents of the bill differed, and suggested that they might be able to get together and reach an agreement to save the committee's time. Among the requests of the merchants was that the assessment valuation on stock in trade be reduced from one half to one third their value. He asked if the definition of income would not require a property owner to pay taxes on his rentals as well as his real estate tax.

Mr. Tilley said that a property owner charged his taxes as a fixed charge against his property and he saw no reason why the owner should not pay income tax on the net profits on the property. He drew attention to conflicting sections regarding money concerning income returns and the publication thereof.

Mr. Magee protested on behalf of non-resident workers against the provision to tax them on half of their earnings in Moncton. He felt that the bill should be laid over until a proper assessment bill should be prepared.

Mr. Smith (Albert) took the same ground as Mr. Magee in regard to non-residents.

Mayor Chapman, supporting the bill, said that he had spoken with one man who had been circulating a petition against the bill although he did not know what its provisions were. When the bill had been explained to him he said he was in favor of it. Two thousand signatures for a petition in support of the bill could easily be obtained.

City Solicitor Allan explained the provisions of the bill in detail and answered questions. Alderman Mc Kinnon also was heard in support.

Mr. Edgett said that two aldermen were members of the delegation opposing the bill, and two others were in sympathy with him. He asked for a year's delay in order that the committee might have an opportunity for more careful consideration.

Alderman Sherrard and Alderman Reid explained their opposition which was based chiefly on the sections concerning qualifications.

The committee took up consideration of a bill to amend an Act relating to the taxes of the Parish of Lunenburg.

T. P. Regan, President of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, asked that the promoters of the bill be heard. After an explanation by Mr. Baxter, Mr. Regan said that Councilor O'Brien had promised that the valuation of automobiles should be fixed at one-third of actual value. It was explained that this had been understood at the previous meeting of the committee and Mr. Baxter moved that the bill be so amended.

The bill was referred for private consideration.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are especially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

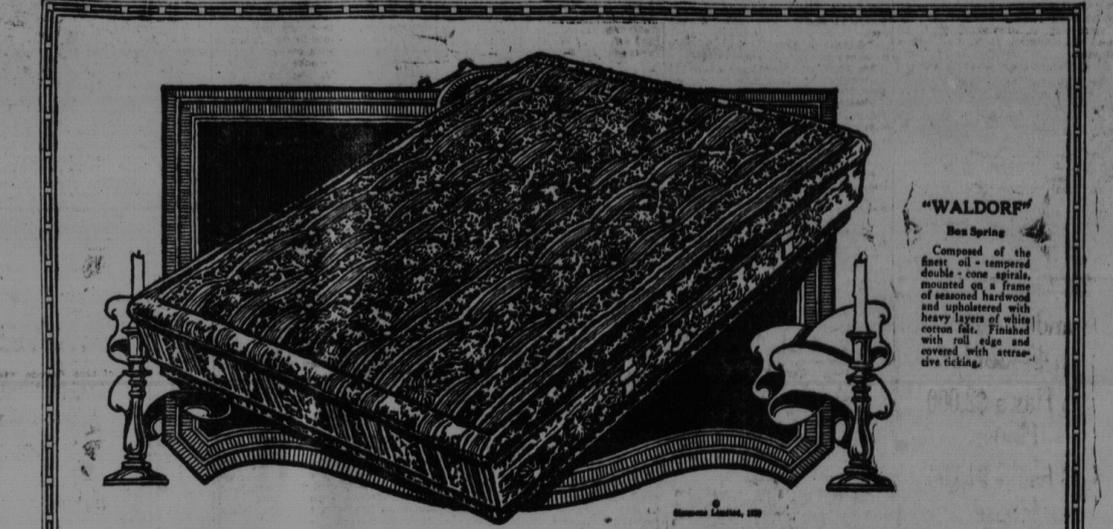

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its base is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The St. John Standard

Published by The Standard Limited, 23 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B., Canada. H. V. MACKINNON, Manager and Editor. THE STANDARD IS REPRESENTED BY Henry de Clerque, Malles Bldg., Chicago; Louis Klebahn, 1 West 24th St., New York; Freeman & Co., 9 Fleet St., London, Eng.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1920.

FRANCE AND THE RUHR VALLEY SITUATION.

Chairman Flavelle, of the License Board, says that during the nine months the liquor dispensaries of Ontario have been under Government control they have yielded a profit of $128,000, and he tells of one doctor who issued 2,905 whiskey prescriptions in a month at a charge of $2, and in some cases $3. In addition to this veritable tide of legal alcoholic beverages, there is a considerable quantity of "swamp" whiskey being sold in the Province, and there is the heavy volume of good Ontario wine to consider, and was upon this of Ontario beer also. Actually Ontario is quite evidently timid and uncertain. She has not recovered from the shock of war nor yet appreciated the fact of definite and decisive victory. She fears that the joyous dream may yet prove untrue. So she calls in Pech and tells him that under no pretext whatever must the letter or spirit of the Versailles treaty be varied or departed from.

With the German Government at Berlin the difficulty is plain enough, granted that the administration is sincere. If the Ruhr valley is in the hands of revolutionaries, these must be challenged lest the poison spread to other parts of Germany and the whole body politic become infected. It is impossible that Germany is preparing a fresh challenge to France. The Germans have had enough of war for the moment at least. It would be too much to expect that they have forever passed over the thought of revenge or forsaken the hope of one day recouping their losses in territory, goods and prestige. But not now, Germany is least able of all the crippled nations to resume the struggle. Any infringement upon the terms of the peace treaty, any trickery or deceit upon her part, would be foolish in the extreme, since it would bring down upon her the fresh indignation and the concerted action of virtually the whole world.

Great Britain will not act with France in any movement of Allied troops farther into Germany, it is indicated. This suggests that London is not taking the matter as seriously as does Paris. The practical English are already thinking of and engaging in trade with Germany and are unafraid.

THE VALUE OF THE CANADIAN MARKET TO THE U. S.

New York Sun: In the wide field of international trade there are always will be foreign markets where we can more naturally buy than sell. There always will be markets where we can more naturally sell. There can be as well as foreign markets where we not only sell rather than buy but sell more than any other foreign trader sells. Jealously must we regard our great selling markets and stoutly must we strive to cling to them, else we shall suffer in our buying markets as well; for the trader that does not sell cannot buy.

In February this country bought from Canada just short of $40,000,000 of goods. But we bought from Cuba nearly $73,000,000—$32,000,000 more than we bought from Canada. We bought from Japan $43,000,000—$2,000,000 more than from Canada. We bought from Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Uruguay, put together, $50,000,000—$10,000,000 more than we bought from Canada. We bought from China, British India and Egypt, put together, $58,000,000—$18,000,000 more than we bought from Canada.

But in the same February we sold to Canada $63,000,000, which was $23,000,000 more than we sold to Cuba. It was $29,000,000 more than we sold to Japan. It was $36,000,000 more than we sold to Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Uruguay put together. It was $47,000,000 more than we sold to China, British India and Egypt put together.

On the record of those hard, cold figures can we set up anywhere in the world trade credits more valuable to us in the golden fruits they bring us back than those which enable us to sell our goods right across our northern border as we do sell them, under normal peace conditions, to no other nations of the globe with the single exception of the United Kingdom?

Germany is professing indignation at the action of the French in occupying Frankfurt and Darmstadt and setting forth the claim that such is warlike aggression, but Berlin fails to note that Germany brought the occupation upon itself by its action in deliberately violating the Peace Treaty. France is playing safe, and it is wise to do so, although her action is not wholly approved by England and some other Entente nations. Germany may withdraw its troops from the Ruhr district as soon as the disturbances cease, and with Frankfurt and Darmstadt occupied by foreign troops doubtless will do so. But it is well that Germany is made to realize that treaty violations will be met by the action prescribed in the treaty and not suffered passively, which would simply be an encouragement to further violations of the treaty.

Mr. Carson is one of the few members of the House who make a practice of getting up to speak only when they have something worth while to say, and yesterday's effort was in keeping with his position. He took up only a few minutes, but in that time he got off as much sound common-sense criticism as would have provided a Government speaker with material for more than an hour's talk. As a practical man of business Mr. Carson was able to deal very intelligently and effectively with the subjects to which he referred, and the report of his remarks, which will be found elsewhere in this issue, will well repay perusal. The House would be better off with a few more men of Mr. Carson's stamp in it.

The Standard is being criticized for taking an unfriendly attitude towards Prohibition. What The Standard has said is mild when compared with the remarks of Mr. Mesereau, of Sunbury, in the Legislature on Tuesday, when he said the Act was "the most infamous, unfair and un-British measure ever placed on the statute books, and produced more bribery and forgery than all other Acts combined. He hoped that some Government would try to amend the Act along the line of British fair play."

Turkish threats continue and some fear is expressed in England that the Turks may precipitate active military measures by seizing as hostages British officers who are in isolated places. The Turks will be wiser to move slowly and not further exasperate the Allies. The terms as now planned are much more liberal to Turkey than the Turks had any reason to expect. President Wilson voices the sentiment of the United States in his view that the Turk should be expelled from Europe, and if there is further Turkish aggression it is very likely that England and France may reach a similar viewpoint.

It would be interesting to know just what Premier Foster thought yesterday when Mr. Mesereau declared that it was poor policy and poor tactics to have the Carleton County vacancy unfilled for four sessions. The member for Sunbury is a bigger man than his leader, who missed the opportunity of his life of showing that he could be big enough to give his opponents what everyone admits is their due. Premier Foster knows he cannot carry Carleton seat, or he would have called an election there long ago.

The Hon. Dr. Smith, Minister of Lands and Mines, made rather an interesting speech in the Budget debate on Tuesday evening, but we notice he omitted to say why he only estimated the stumpage returns at $1,000,000 for the present year, when the Premier says they will amount to $1,200,000. Dr. Smith should explain how it comes about the Premier knows so much more about the Crown Land affairs than he himself, as the Minister in charge, does.

Mr. Boudage, of Kent, in the course of his remarks yesterday, said that the roads in Kent were unequalled by those in any other section of the Province. Well, that is what they ought to be, for money has been poured out over them like water during the last couple of years. The people of Kent never saw so much money in their lives as they have gathered in since Mr. Venot got on the job. Every man and boy in the country districts has been employed on the roads.

Mrs. Amsterdam Schmidt, a Bronx woman, married three to husbands of assorted temperaments, says bald-headed men make the worst mates and bow-legged men the best. The information is interesting and perhaps valuable, but one would like to know the status of those quite numerous men who are both bow-legged and bald-headed.

SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Glouce Bay, N. S., April 8.—Brookside School, with accommodation for 200 pupils, was virtually destroyed by fire this afternoon. The loss is placed at $5,000. Firemen are convinced that the blaze was the work of an incendiary.

OFFICIAL REPORT MR. GEO. B. JONES' BUDGET SPEECH

Mr. Jones said his intention was to be brief as the debate had been drawn out to considerable length. Nevertheless, it was an occasion on which it was recognized that each hon. member had the right to express his opinion. The eyes of all the province were turned toward Fredericton, not to look at the aims of the government prior to the formation of the present government, or of the government defeated in 1917, but to the man occupying the front benches on the government side. No government had had such an opportunity. Money had been plentiful and there should have been efficient administration. The government could not cover up its misdeeds by reference to previous administrations. During the speech of the hon. Provincial Secretary at the beginning of this debate he had been asked, being asked a question by the hon. member for Albert (Pech) as to the reason for his failure to answer was his lack of knowledge of finance and the bond business. A burning question was that of highways. He could not complain that the county of Kings had not been dealt with in generous fashion. The hon. minister of public works had expended $166,874. The county was an important one and he was not finding fault with the expenditure, but he did make the point that a large amount of that money was being wilfully wasted. The expenditure on permanent roads in that county had been $18,000, very apart from the road between St. John and Rubeysay there were no permanent roads in the county. What those were, were gravel and ordinary earth roads. Accounts for tens of thousands of dollars had been sent in to the department, but the money was not being expended on "ordinary" roads, and had been altered to make it appear that the expenditure had been "permanent" roads. The hon. member pointed out that as soon as he was appointed he ran up and down the road in a motor truck. Work on that road was done in the summer after farmers work had been completed and had been continued after the snow came. Earth and other material had been excavated and dumped in the winter, very apart from top of six inches of snow. The work which had been done was what farmers or governments had done out of ordinary revenue. The people were watching these actions and he felt sure that if the present administration appealed to the electorate they could not be returned to power. The county of Kings contained 48 or 50 wharves. The present administration had done nothing toward keeping them up. While Hon. F. B. Beveridge had been Federal Minister of Public Works the government had been in an excellent position to have had something done in connection with those structures. If the matter had been pressed as it should have been by the hon. member, the wharves would have been repaired. He was informed that there was no other province in Canada in which the cost of repairs to wharves in tidal waters had not been met by the Dominion Government. The public domain was occupying an important place in the minds of the people. In this connection he wished to make reference to the question of stumpage rate. He had followed the lumbering business almost all his lifetime. At one time he had been Chief Clerk for a large lumbering firm in the county of Queens and for the past twenty years had been in business for himself. He would make statements which could not be contradicted. For the past three years the government has been charging a fair or equitable rate of stumpage. He had no desire to force the lumbermen out of business, but it was not fair that the mills should be going into their pockets, while the public services were being neglected for lack of funds. The hon. member discussed this matter and referred to the use of portable mills on small private lots in justification of a low rate of stumpage on the Crown Lands. The hon. member made a mistake in acquaintance with the lumbering industry in making his comparison between them and the large permanent mills. Lumbering by portable mills was carried on under heavy expense. Hauls to railway stations or wharves usual, usually miles in length, and slabs and other material were thrown away instead of being disposed of as by-products. Operators with large permanent mills had a different manner. Their logs were cut and broved on the banks of streams, and were driven and rafted to the mills. The cost of this was comparatively low. He would place it at $2.25 per thousand feet at the outside. In discussing the same question the hon. Premier had said that $7.00 was an excessive rate of stumpage. Never since he had been a member of the House had he heard so much talk among the people on the question of stumpage. The farmers were interested in the matter. Many of them had small blocks of timber on their farms, for which they had been receiving $5.00 to $10.00 stumpage. These blocks were in territory which had been lumbered over before. They were in contract with lands on the Miramichi and St. John rivers which had not been cut over. Anyone going into millyards on either of those rivers would notice the difference in specification. Reference had been made to the Order-in-Council passed by the former government under which a low rate of stumpage was to have been charged for ten years. The order had not been rescinded before the government had yet office. The hon. member for Westmorland (Leger) had referred to a steady advance in the price of lumber up to 1916. His statement had not been correct. There had been no advance in price until 1917 and since that date the market had gone back. He understood that on the north shore operators had not yet sold their cut. They were not satisfied with $40.00 but wanted $50.00. All hon. members of the House knew that the province was not getting enough from the Crown Lands. The big lumber operators of the province numbered not more than forty and they had made themselves millionaires out of what should have gone to the public services. The government had boasted of increasing the stumpage rates, but he recollected a reduction in rates from $4.50 to $2.50 when the "Big Four," who represented the lumber interests in the House brought influence to bear on the Premier. He could show that $7.00 would be a fair rate of stumpage in the election campaign of 1917 the hon. member for Moncton (Robinson) had said that $5.00 was a fair rate. If $5.00 had been a fair rate then the present rate should be $15. In 1919 the Premier had told the House of an increased rate, but at that time the increase should have been to $3.00 at least. The hon. Premier had spoken of the precarious condition of the lumber market in 1918. He (Jones) could not recollect any such condition in that year. True it was that in 1917-18 lumber had to be piled in the yards, but agents of the British and French governments were coming along and buying. The business had been improving since and there was no indication of a drop. The late market, however, he did not think would stay where it was. The hon. senior member for Northumberland had said that he had come to the Legislature at a great sacrifice.

And I sed, How old do yo think you'll be wen you get married? No old, Im not going to get married, sed Mary Watkins. Wat, never? I sed, Thinking, G, wiza, neck, and Mary Watkins sed, No, never, I wouldn't marry the best man on earth if I lived to be 200 years old. Wy not, goah? I sed. Because I aint got a good e nuff of an opinion of men to marry a single one of them, she sed. Well, maybe there'll be on a good man by the time you get redly to get married, I sed. Meeting me, and Mary Watkins sed, I dont think so, say, way, I've made up my mind no w add its too late to change it. And pritty soon she went in the house and I started to work home slow feeding wese heste d of better, and who did I meet but Lorester Mincer looking even prittler than Mary Watkins, saying, Hello Benny, were you going? and I sed, Home, were you? and she sed, Home, and I sed, Are you ever going to get married? You bet, I wouldn't be se prried if I was married before. Im 17, sed Lorester Mincer. And she kepp on going ho me, and so did I, thinking, G, Mary Watkins aint the ony girl in the world.

Mr. Burchill—I have no recollection of making such a statement. Mr. Jones said that he had taken down the statement as it had been made, but if wrong he would stand corrected. Hon. members should come to the House as a matter of duty. He always had understood that for the past twenty years that the hon. member was in the House to look after the interests of the large lumber operators. He would congratulate the hon. member on the manner in which he had carried out their desires. In closing he would make a suggestion to the Premier that, if the government would impose a fair and equitable rate of stumpage and get down to business it could raise teachers' salaries, double the amount spent on education and have $500,000 to spend each year for five years on "permanent" or "mud" roads as constructed by the hon. Minister of Public Works. The rate of stumpage was ridiculously low and it was almost a crime to let it remain. Hon. Mr. Robinson moved the adjournment of the debate. Do not throw hard, dry lemons away, but put them in a vessel and cover them with boiling water, place a cover over the pan and let them stand for two hours and they will be almost as good as new.

SEARCH your cupboard drawers; rummage through that space by the cellar stairway; perhaps you'll find it in the sewing machine, atop the medicine chest, on the highest pantry shelf or on your work-bench in the basement.

Wherever it is, get it out—take it down—have it filled—take it home—PUT IT TO WORK!

Remember how useful your Daylo was when you first bought it? You need it worse now than you did then. Tonight, perhaps, its use may prevent a fire, save a life. You can't afford to take chances, when all that your Daylo needs may be a new battery.

This is Daylo Battery Week. The idea is to put every idle Daylo and flashlight back on the job of making it easier, safer and sure to go into and look into dark or dimly lighted places. Dealers everywhere have just received a new supply of Eveready Tungsten Batteries—jammed and crammed full of power and pep, fresh as daisies and with a long life of useful service before every battery.

Eveready Tungsten Batteries fit all flashlights. They better every flashlight into which they're put—make it more useful—because they're the most power-full, longest-lasting, peppiest batteries made. Twenty years' experience in making and perfecting flashlight batteries show in the quality of every Eveready Tungsten Battery.

Business houses don't scrap a typewriter because it needs a new ribbon. Don't you lose the valuable services of your Daylo just because it needs a battery. Get it out—take it down—have it filled—take it home—PUT IT TO WORK!

COMING—Another Eveready Contest

$10,000.00 in Cash Prizes. $3,000.00 First Prize. $1,000.00 Second Prize. 102 other Prizes, $500.00 to $10.00. Ask your dealer for details.

THE ANNUAL EASTER TEA AND SALE HELD

The annual Easter Tea and Sale of the Ladies' Association of the Church of the Holy Trinity was held yesterday afternoon at the Institute, Princess Street.

A Spring Conversation. Hazel (to Myrtle)—And I say to Myrtle, "You'll never get suited in a spring hat, Myrtle," I say, "as long as you will keep slickin' your hair up out of sight. Why don't you do it down over your ears like all the other girls. I says, "and show some originality!"

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Food scientists claim that the leavener is largely responsible for the flavor, texture and wholesomeness of your home baking. That on no other one ingredient does so much depend. It is important, therefore, to use a baking powder that you know possesses the necessary leavening qualities.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

and is the only strictly high class baking powder in Canada selling at a moderate price. Its reputation is built on purity and highest quality.

The only well known medium priced baking powder made in Canada that does not contain alum and that has all its ingredients plainly stated on the label.

Many Cases Before Police Magistrate Fondlest Hopes Fully Realized

Fourteen Prisoners Were in the Police Court Yesterday—Theft, Having Liquor in Possession, Assault Cases and Common Drunks Among Charges.

In the police court yesterday afternoon the case of Clement Watts, charged with assault by his wife, Mrs. Rosalie Watts, was resumed.

The uncle of Mrs. Watts was the first witness called by the prosecution. He said that at about seven o'clock last Sunday evening he was going to church in company with his niece, the wife of the defendant, Mrs. Geo. Hector and Miss Muriel Goldsmith. He saw the defendant above a tree. There was another group behind composed of Messrs. Fraser and Burns. The defendant had words with his wife and passing her walked toward Fraser and struck him saying: "It's not for her sake I'm going to fight you, but for my child."

Magistrate—"That's all."

Witness—"That's quite enough, I think."

John Burns, the next witness, a resident of Spar Cove Road, said he saw the defendant hit his wife with a stone and then hit Fraser. Fraser did not want to fight but when the defendant hit him he took off his coat, which the witness held and pitched into a rough and tumble.

Magistrate—"Were you going to church?"

Witness—"Yes I was, judge, but when that fight was over, why it was too late to go."

William Harris said he had been to Watts' house last summer and while there he saw a razor which he assumed belonged to the defendant. They started to trade, but as each considered his the better instrument, no trade was effected.

Watts was recalled to the stand and declared he didn't know how the last witness had the heart to say he wanted to trade razors with him and he had never in his life seen him with a razor. When he met his wife on Sunday night, she and Fraser were "pretty near apart." His brother told Fraser not to be afraid of him as she had seen a woman beat him. He alleged that it was not the first time that his wife had taken him with the remark, in fact she and her friends in court who had framed the case on him, were accustomed to cast disparaging remarks concerning himself. He admitted that a woman had beaten him once but that was because he did not wish to have trouble with a female.

The case was adjourned to this afternoon at two o'clock. J. A. Barry for the defence and J. A. Starr Tait for the complainant.

Frank LaRogue arrested by Officers Pierce and Ryan of the C. N. R. police force was charged with selling liquor to A. H. Samsen. Samsen said he bought two bottles from the accused in the C. N. R. wash room. He and the defendant were about to have a drink when arrested.

Policeman Pierce said that he found the defendant and witness in the act of having a drink in the C. N. R. lavatory also noon. He was arrested and took a bottle from Samsen which he marked for identification and gave to Officer Ryan, who was with him. Later it dropped out of Ryan's pocket and was broken.

Policeman Ryan corroborated the evidence given by Policeman Pierce. The defendant said that he bought the whiskey for Samsen. He himself got it from a bootlegger on Main street. The magistrate told him that if he knew the name to whisper it, he would be let off. The defendant was fined before one could say "Jack Robinson."

The case was adjourned. The magistrate told Inspector McAlister he might take the defendant to Main street to see if he could find the bootlegger.

Morning Session.

In the morning Albert Arsenault was charged with stealing a bottle of brandy valued at $4, and with being in possession of other than his private dwelling. He pleaded not guilty. Several witnesses were called and the case was adjourned to this morning at ten o'clock. H. H. McLean appeared for the defence, and J. A. Barry for the accused.

William Lynch who pleaded guilty to being drunk on Clarendon street Wednesday night, but not guilty to having liquor in his possession was remanded.

James Elliot was charged with having liquor in his possession in the Ash Hotel. Inspector McAlister, McFarrell and Kerr said they searched the defendant's room and found a bottle of liquor concealed under his mattress. The case will be resumed this morning.

William Carr was charged with assault by his wife, who gave evidence of the accused having threatened to strike her with a chair. The defendant said it was his wife who struck him. He was remanded.

John Stewart was charged with assaulting his mother in her home at 41 St. Patrick street. His mother Mrs. Rosie Kilpatrick, said he was drunk and she ordered him out and he slung her face and spit at her. After a severe reprimand by the magistrate he was remanded.

Fred Vincent was charged with vagrancy and having on visible means of support. Sergeant Detective Powers said he went to a pool room and found the accused there and arrested him. The magistrate said he would sentence him to the Almshouse for three months.

Levi Salmon was charged with being drunk and having a loaded revolver in his possession. He was remanded.

John Williams was charged with stealing three black petticoats, two pairs of ladies' hose and a garter, the property of the C. P. R., valued at $10. On the request of J. A. Barry, counsel for the defence the case was postponed until Monday morning.

Four men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded to jail.

"Tanlac Did Even More for Me Than I Thought It Could" States Sydney Woman.

"A lot of wonderful things have been said about Tanlac, but not a word too much in praise of it. I am a well and happy woman today and I have to thank Tanlac for it," said Mrs. N. R. Brown of Cabot Street, Sydney, N. S., when speaking to the Tanlac representative at Turnbull's drug store, recently.

"You can't imagine what I've suffered during the last four years. During all that time I have had chronic indigestion. No matter how careful I was as to what I ate, my food would sour, the gas would burn so badly as to nearly choke me, and I would so bloat up that I felt I should explode. At night I would lay awake for hours unable to sleep, and in the morning would be so worn out that I simply had no energy or strength to do any work. I often thought I should have to give up entirely.

"I owe a debt of gratitude to the people who made statements in the papers about what Tanlac had done for them, because that is how I came to hear about it. My expectations were more than realized for from the very first dose I began to improve and now after taking four bottles I am not feeling the same woman. My stomach trouble has disappeared, easily and I can eat just anything I want without having the least trouble afterwards. My appetite is just splendid all the time, and I have neither headaches nor bilious spells any more. I sleep like a child at night and get up feeling fresh and strong. All my old Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company, and F. W. Munro, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

Had To Go To Bed Headaches So Bad Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills Made Her Well.

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple Ave., Amherst, N. S., writes—"I take pleasure in writing you of the good I have received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials here made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not grip, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after-effects. Price 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ACTIVITY IN PULP AND PAPER STOCKS

Decision of Supreme Court Has Considerable Effect.

Montreal, April 8.—While the burst of activity and strength in Spanish River stocks was coincident with the decision of the Supreme Court by which the price of Newsprint is freed from control of the Board of Commerce, it is not now thought that there was any particular connection between the two occurrences.

The strength in Montreal during the past few days is believed to have been directly due to the decision of the Supreme Court, the effect of which is seen by the retrenchment by the Board of Commerce of further control over prices.

Montreal, April 8.—(Canadian Press)—The whole market took on a briskness in latter part of today's trading and offerings found much more absorptive power underlying the feature yesterday, so that at the end of the day the list showed not less than 25 daily throughout. The paper stock were prominent in the reaction, with Steel of Canada, yesterday's feature, showing better resistance, and Spanish River preferred was a strong exception among the papers, reaching a high record of 142 again and closing at 140 1/2. The common stock showed a loss of 2 1/2 points at 95 1/2. Laurier's ranged 1 3/4 points at 38 1/2, and Brompton finishing down one point at 86. The other paper stocks were not so prominent by Abitibi lost 2 points at 138 and Price Brothers was down five points at 125. Only 350 shares of Steel of Canada changed hands, the stock being firm in the morning but eased towards the close and finished the day at a loss of a small fraction at 84 3/4.

The fractions all sold off; Brazilian a point at 46 1/2; Detroit, a fraction to 104 1/2; Quebec Railway, a fraction to 26 1/2, and Toronto Railway 1 1/4 points, 234.

FOR WOMEN A MUSEMENTS

WHAT IS WORN THIS SEASON ON THE RIVIERA

Black and White Favored by Large Majority of Most Fashionably Dressed Women.

BRIGHT SHADES IN THE EVENING

At Monte Carlo More of Sports Type of Dress Noted by Writer from Nice—Allover Embroidery Very Popular.

A writer from Nice says: "In travelling along the 'Cote d'Azur,' from one resort town to another, one has the same impression as at Paris, that since the war women to a great extent are wearing what they please. Those who enjoy the diversion of changing toilettes often indulge themselves and those who have fallen into the convenient habit of war days put comfort first and dress very conservatively. This is doubtless responsible for the numbers of women one meets in rather mannish costume. The strict tailor-made is accepted everywhere as the uniform of the traveller and covers many requirements. Then, too, the changing population of these towns is so cosmopolitan that one sees a little bit of everything. In certain of the smart hotels, as for instance the Hotel de Paris at Monte Carlo, the attendance at dinner hours seems to be almost entirely British. Certain tendencies in dress, however, stand out quite markedly, and of these the most striking is the tremendous success this season of the mourning effects. It is said that this is because there are so many women of France and England in half mourning, but whatever the cause, it is certain that the most fashionably dressed women are in black and white, all white, grey or one of the many shades of purple or mauve. The more mature women estimate the vogue of the black and white and the younger and prettier ones wear the grey and mauve. These colors reign for all daytime dressing. This does not mean that there are no brilliant sports effects on the fashionable morning promenade, but it is in the evening that the bright shades which have already had their success are most seen. Still there is much jade, mandarin and sapphire. At Monte Carlo there is much more of the sports type of garment worn than in Nice. There are certain changes which are constantly repeated. The white ascot-collared shirt, for instance, whether of serge or of silk crepe, has its place in practically every wardrobe of 'jeune fille' and is worn with pastel tinted cascade sweaters with hat to match of the same quality of tricot. It may also be worn with a blouse of white embroidered satin in simple cascade style if the sweater is not chosen. A very gay aspect is contributed to the scene by the number of foulard and crepeone parasols which are carried, the latter in very large design and daring colorings. The heavy tricot or sweater dresses are again very popular and bid fair to have another strong season; they are favorites in white especially, but there are many seen on mauve and grey as well. Those in wool striped silk or in silk striped in metal are the most popular and are worn with hose, pumps, gloves and all in the same tone as the frock. Almost everyone who affects the sports style of dress has the long white cape as wrap. It may be of angora, of heavy tricot or of white cloth sometimes cut with a hood top or double cape with slashed fringe. If the white cape is not worn, it is usually a cape of black satin over a white frock. Many of the one-piece frocks give the effect of skirt and separate blouse. Either the top is embroidered to the hip line and the skirt plain below or the top is plain to the hip line and the frock of plaid from there to the bottom, or pleatings start at the hip. Allover embroidery is very popular. Many coat dresses are seen covered with rather violent contrasting embroidery and always the design is pronounced either in large sprays of effect or in Chinese figures. There is none of the vague type of outline embroidery except where it is used for striping or plaiding. For instance, the white serge frock or suit may be adorned by a fine striping of gold or color. One sees quantities of dresses with the blouse embroidered and the skirt plain, or with the skirt embroidered and the blouse plain.

METALLIC CLOTH MUCH USED FOR HATS

There is a metallic cloth much on the order of a grass cloth, but with a metallic luster, that is being used by the French modistes for the later spring hats. Best shops are showing hats made of this fabric, and one in particular from Suzanne Talbot is a very large cloth in a gold color, which makes it look exactly like cloth of gold. This is covered with black Chantilly lace shirred softly over the entire shape, with just a touch of the lace hanging on the side. In another large cloche this same modiste uses 'tulle' in a dark brown, making the upper brim of three rows of beige ostrich insertion with a tiny fringe of the ostrich hanging over the brim edge. The combination of navy and white has been very well thought of by the buyers here, and there are many hats of this season have been taken to using kid in many strange and new ways and Elaine in particular has done some very effective things with the leather. One little tam effect of navy cloth is covered almost entirely with padded kid trim, which created a sensation here. Elaine has sold over 500 of these models.

SUGAR USED FOR HIGH EXPLOSIVES

May be One Reason for the High Price of This Important Article. Sugar is a very important item in the present-day high cost of living, but it likewise plays a part in the manufacture of high explosives. A new process has been perfected by the Government whereby glycerine is obtained from sugar and sweets and the glycerine, in turn, becomes an explosive through nitration. This chemistry has found a way to convert harmless sugar into a deadly explosive. Now that the war is over, however, there will be less demand for this form of explosive for such purposes, but there are many uses to which it can be turned in peace. It will be especially valuable in blowing up heavy armaments which ordinarily resist the farmer's plow. Excellent crops are secured from lands treated in this way, as the general shaking up is conducive to a better action of the nitrifying bacteria in the ground. It is expected that glycerine obtained in this way will also be used extensively in making transparent soaps and beautifying lotions, as a lubricant for gas meters, and as an ingredient in the manufacture of copying and printer's ink. — Illustrated World.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES.

Green peppers, stuffed with corn and baked, make a good winter dish. When drying blankets brush them frequently to make them fluffy. One search and one green vegetable should be served with meat or fish. Choose a perforated tin pie plate if you like the undermost perfectly cooked. Never let a thermos bottle lie in the dishwasher—wash it as quickly as possible.

Fine Lecture At St. John Art Club

Address Given at the Studio Last Evening by Miss Elizabeth S. Nutt, Director of Halifax Art School. One of the most delightful lectures heard for a long time was enjoyed by those who attended the meeting of the St. John Art Club at the Studio last evening when an address was given by Miss Elizabeth S. Nutt, Director of the Halifax Art School. Her subject was "Our Debt to the Past," and with views thrown upon the scene, and with beautifully worked descriptions, Miss Nutt traced the development of Art from the time of Donatello, Brunelleschi and others of the Golden Age of Italy through Michael Angelo, Raphael down to Millet, Velasquez and portrait painters of today. The speaker, who is most fluent and thoroughly conversant with her subject, told of how the laws underlying the world of appearance were first studied and how the heritage of artists of modern times was laboriously studied and gained by these old masters after years of patient effort. Their remarkable youth was mentioned and the fact cited that today men of twenty are only studying the old masters.

EXAMINATIONS AT RED CROSS DEPOT

Class of Nineteen Young Ladies Took Examinations Last Evening to Qualify for First Aid Certificates Issued by Ambulance Association. A class of nineteen young ladies took examinations last evening in the Red Cross Depot on Hassen avenue to qualify for the First Aid certificates issued by the St. John Ambulance Association. They were examined in bandaging, dressing wounds and burns, setting fractured limbs, resuscitating the drowning and other first aid work. Doctors Stanley Bridges and Stewart Skinner conducted the examinations, which are the first to have been held in the work during this year. There are several more classes to undergo the exams in the near future.

SOCIETY OF MUSIC MET LAST EVENING

At a meeting of the St. John Society of Music held in the Retail Merchants' Association rooms last evening, arrangements were made for the concert to be held by the society in the Imperial Theatre at the end of May. At this concert it is proposed to have an instrumentalist attend from some of the large cities, or a trio may be found who can come to St. John and who will be well worth hearing. It is expected that the singing will be furnished by the chorus who have been for some time practicing for such an event. Ned McLean presided at the meeting at which there was a good attendance and much enthusiasm shown in the affairs of the society.

TWO HUNDRED GUESTS AT SUPPER

A tea which had a number of critical features was given by the "Curious Catering Company" of the Carleton Methodist Church last evening and proved a very successful affair. Over two hundred guests enjoyed the supper which was served from six till eight and many compliments on the delicious refreshments served were paid the hostesses. The tables were bright with Spring flowers, daffodils, tulips, and hyacinths. The menu cards which were in the form of the letter 'C' gave the viands cleverly disguised under various names. The two young ladies of the Church who assisted as waitresses, were dressed in white. King Cole's "O' Be a Joyful Man This Christmas" was sung in charge of Mrs. L. O. Beattie. Great credit is due Mrs. Alfred Burley and Mrs. Waters for their artistic work on the menu cards and posters. The proceeds are for the organ fund and a substantial sum was realized. Mrs. Martinson, Mrs. George Barrett and Mrs. L. C. Beattie were the conveners.

CARUSO TAKES SUMMER COTTAGE

Ernesto Caruso finally will live in a house in this country. The great tenor, who has spent most of his time in America living in apartments or at hotels, has taken for the summer a country place in Easthampton, L. I., formerly the residence of Albert Horner, the painter. It is one of the show places of the district. Mr. and Mrs. Caruso and their baby girl are expected to occupy the cottage early in the season. Two positions in red and green show plainly; but when illuminated alternately with red and green lights, the sign becomes animated in a most startling and convincing manner.

LECTURE TO HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNAE

H. S. Culver Gave Interesting Address Last Evening at Manor House—Programme Was Greatly Enjoyed. An "Evening in Ireland" was delightfully spent last night by the High School Alumnae who travelled to that land of lovely scenery on an imaginary journey with H. S. Culver as guide. The meeting was held at the Manor House with about sixty members present. Miss Jessie Lawson presiding. A short business session opened the meeting at which two donations to the Memorial Scholarship were reported from Dr. H. L. Spangler and Bishop Loblaine. Miss Minnie Myers sang "The Wearing of the Green" after which H. S. Culver showed a number of fine views of Ireland describing the pictures with original verses. An interval in the address, a setting of a poem "Killarney" written by Mr. Culver and set to music by a friend of his, was sung for the first time by Miss Valde Penton. At the close of the lecture Miss Frances Murtlock sang "The Shannon River." The entire programme was greatly appreciated by all. Refreshments were served, and an informal social hour spent. The next meeting will take the form of a Book Party to which all members will come representing some well known book or poem.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustreous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

STEPS TO RESCUE MAROONED PARTY

To be Taken by British and Norwegian Governments.

Christiana, April 8.—Negotiations between the British and Norwegian foreign offices which followed the receipt of a wireless appeal from the steamer Solovet, ice bound in the Arctic with eight on board, has resulted in an ice breaker being placed at the disposal of a rescue party organized by Russian scientists.

The message of distress from the Solovet was received at Moscow by wireless last March 31, asking aid for the men, women and children who were in danger of perishing from cold and hunger. The vessel, the message said, became ice bound in the river Kara in January, finally drifting into the Kara. The position of the vessel on March 22, the message added, was latitude 72, longitude 69.

EDITH CAVELL IN MARBLE
Statue Unveiled by Queen Alexandra—Work by Sir George Frampton, R. A.—A Labor of Love.

"The countless thousands who will pass this spot in our time and in future generations will think with sorrow of her cruel death, with pride of her splendid fortitude, and with affection of her unselfish womanly character."

This was Queen Alexandra's moving tribute to the memory of Edith Cavell at the unveiling of the beautiful white marble statue of the heroic nurse near Trafalgar Square.

The crowd below, a distinguished gathering, including Princess Victoria, Lord Burgham, chairman of the Cavell Memorial Committee, Mrs. Wainwright and Miss Cavell, sisters of Miss Edith Cavell, and the Bishop of London (who offered a dedicatory prayer), the British Ambassador (who presented a Hitler) departed from the Ecole Edith Cavell at Brussels, Lord Knutsford, the matron and many nurses from the London Hospital, where she was treated.

The Nescos, like the Waco, developed turbine trouble at sea, having had the bearings of her reducing gears stripped. She was towed about a thousand miles to this port by the Western Comet, which is very near a record low for distressed steamers.

Highfield, April 6.—The annual meeting of the parishioners of the parish of St. John's Church Monday morning. ed, stood silent, with upturned faces gazing at the figure standing high on the altar, serenely and gently, as if strength, serenity, and gentleness blend in the marble presentment of the cloaked nurse. The work has been a labor of love to Sir George Frampton, R. A., the sculptor. It is the real Edith Cavell, possible but near, that Sir George has given to the hurrying crowd, with the hymn she sang on the rough-brown granite—"Humility," "Sacrifice," "Fortitude," "Devotion," and on the base the simple inscription, "Edith Cavell, Brussels, Dawn, October 12, 1915."

The hand of the Coldstream Guards played Queen Cavell's favorite hymn, "Abide With Me," the hymn she sang on that October morning, and there came poignant thoughts of Edith Cavell's last days as the buglers on the plinth sounded the "Last Post," mournful, impressive, triumphant.

ANNIVERSARY OF VIMY RIDGE WHERE N. B. SOLDIERS WON FAME

April 9, 1917, Was the Date — Officer of the 26th New Brunswick Battalion Tells Standard Story of the Battles — Provincial Soldiers Made Farthest Advance — The New Brunswick Trench.

Today is the anniversary of the Vimy Ridge engagement, in which the Canadian troops played such a prominent part and particularly the 5th (New Brunswick) battalion, which later on in the week penetrated to the deepest point in the German lines attained by the British advance at that time.

The Standard is indebted to one of the officers of the 26th, who took part in the "show" for the following very interesting description of the engagement:

"We had been for some two or three weeks in a training area at Grand Service, practicing over the tape for this battle, and on Easter Sunday morning we moved up to Mont St. Eloi and spent the entire day in the Boisvillers Wood. That night we moved into the trenches and at 5.30 on Monday morning went over the top. It was very dark and a heavy snow storm was raging accompanied by a driving wind.

The ground over which he had to advance was a sea of mud and shell holes and a very heavy going but we made our objective all right, Schwilshu-Stelling trench, which line we held until Friday, 13th.

On Friday we were moved into a new position on the crest of the ridge. At midnight the officer commanding, and company commanders, were summoned to headquarters where the details of a new advance were placed before us. The battalion was ordered to advance on the plain in front of Vimy Ridge by companies individually and rendezvous on the railway embankment in front of the town of Vimy. We were supported on the right by the First Brigade, on the left by the Third Brigade, to be preceded by a screen of cavalry and supported by machine gunners.

"When we reached the railway we found that our supports had not materialized and we were in a quandary, but made up our minds that the only thing to do was to see the thing through and at 5.30 on Saturday, April 14, we set off on our advance in the direction of Acheville. Our advance covered about 2500 yards and in due time we reached our objective, where we proceeded to dig in in front line and support trenches. This trench was named 'New Brunswick' and carried that name throughout the battle.

"This spot represented the farthest point of penetration attained by the British advance at that time. All day Saturday we were unsupported, but on the 15th our supports arrived on the scene and on the 16th we were relieved and moved back.

"This engagement was the hardest trip we had throughout the whole war and we were glad to get back into billets and have a chance to rest up.

"The attacks in both cases were made in two company formation. On April 8, when the Ridge was taken, A Company was on the left and C Company on the right with B and D Companies in support, carrying on mopping up operations. In the advance of the 14th B Company was in the front line on the right and D Company on the left, with C and A Companies in support.

"The casualties among the officers of the battalion in the Vimy 'show' were: Lieut. Mullane, killed; Capt. Shand and Lieut. Murray, Kenneth and Frank Armstrong, wounded.

The treasurer reported donations from Willard Smith and F. J. G. Knowlton.

Commissioner Fisher spoke on many matters in connection with the All-Playground at Rockwood Park, pointing out that when finished it would be a suitable place for young ladies as well as for young men.

New York Man Talks On Hearst

"Of course Hearst is not trying to arouse ill feeling against England for nothing," remarked J. O'Brien, of New York, who was in the city yesterday. "Nor is he interested in the cause of Ireland. His game is bigger than that, and his are not the only papers that are bent on making trouble.

"Hearst played the demagogue, and tried to stir up the masses of the people against what he called the plunderband, in the hope of realizing his political ambitions. But he has not been accepted as a political prophet even by his would-be dupes. And now he has to find a new target for the mob spirit to which he appeals. A lot of people do not take the Hearst propaganda seriously, but there are social forces in movement in the States which make it dangerous enough.

"Bolshevism is a menace in America and the negro problem is growing worse every day. The onslaught of the One Big Union has changed the tactics of the radicals. They abandoned the I. W. W., enlisted in the old line unions and started what they call their possiblist campaign. They outmaneuvered the Trade Union politicians, and forced them into a false position. By what they called boring from within the radicals were responsible for the extravagant demands made by the miners, the railway workers, the steel workers, and a host of other trades last year. Among the rank and file they preached the doctrine that the government was friendly to labor, and it was not difficult to persuade the foreign element that this was so, seeing that the government had played into the hands of labor during the war, giving nearly everything the asked for. To hold their jobs the old line trade union leaders had to present the extravagant demands of the rank and file. Then what the radicals expected happened; the government put its feet down and opposed the demands of the trade unions all along the line. The old line leaders lost prestige, and the radicals were able to say the government was against labor. The I. W. W. is practically dead, but the radicals are moving steadily towards their goal, the control of the great International labor unions. And they will soon be in a position to make serious trouble, if some disaster is not created.

"A foreign war would be such a diversion. It would stave off Bolshevism for a time, and also trouble from the negroes, whom the war has filled with new notions of their rights, and many of whom are openly saying: 'I'll have to die anyway—I might as well die fighting! So all the talk of a big navy, and Hearst's propaganda against England has its purpose. It is not idle chatter when politicians and economist say England is not utilizing the West Indies as they ought to be, and that these islands should be handed over to the United States. America needs tropical products in her business, just as she is beginning to need the products of Canada.

"If an unfriendly atmosphere between England and America can be developed, the urge of economic interests, combined with the very important determination of the rulers of America to sidetrack their social problems, may easily lead to a situation where foreign war will be regarded as the lesser evil."

Children's Aid Society Meeting

Pathetic Case Involving Ten Children Reported on Last Evening—Agent Reported Having Made Fifty-Three Visits Since Previous Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in the Children's Home last night, the President, A. M. Belding, in the chair. The agent gave particulars of a very pathetic case involving a family of ten children concerning which action will be taken. The society has a number of children ready to be placed in foster homes and it was decided to seek homes for them immediately. Mrs. David McLellan and Mrs. F. C. Bonnell were named visitors for the ensuing month. Two cases were brought to the attention of the meeting, one in Kings County and the other in Boston. The agent reported that he had advised the parents as to the proper action to be taken.

The usual monthly report of the agent, Rev. Mr. Scott, showed that since the previous meeting he had made fifty-three visits. Forty letters and post cards had been written and mailed. One little girl had been committed to the care of the Children's Society Rev. W. M. Duke and Rev. R. A. Armstrong. One child had been placed in another institution. At the present time thirty children are in the Children's Home, Garden street. One woman and her four year old child was placed in the Municipal Home and a number of other cases were investigated.
