PLEASANT FUNCTION AT DANCE

Shiretown Returned Soldiers Entertained by Women's Institute of that Town.

Dalhousie, May 27.—One of the most pleasing events connected with the return of our Soldiers, was the Supper at St. Mary's Hall, prepared by the members of the Women's Institute, of the shiretown. With a Bill of Fare, headed with "Boiled Restigouche Salmon," one can guess all the rest. At each plate there was a "Place Card" for each soldier, most attractive in its form. On it were the words "Institute Supper to Returned Boys, May 23rd, 1919. Inside 'Just a taste of 'Home Sweet Home.'"

The Hall was splendidly decorated with flags representing all our allies. This work was done by Miss Emma Wright, Mrs. J. Tomlinson, Mrs. R. J. Coleman, Mrs. W. J. Simpson, Willie McNeill and Wilfred Golin. Mrs. Ed. Paquet and Miss Cimon worked nobly. The boys were received at the door by Mrs. S. J. Beekingham, President of the Institute, Mrs. S. T. Clifford, and Miss Harquail. The tables were under the supervision of Mrs. Ed. Shirley, Mrs. T. G. Scott, Mrs. T. C. Cool and were nicely decorated with flowers and fruit. When the boys were seated a few words of welcome were addressed them by Miss Harquail.

Mayor W. S. Montgomery acted as Toast Master in a very able manner. The health of the King was proposed by Rev. R. J. Coleman; the Veterans by Capt. J. R. Diabrow; the Ladies by Rev. J. H. McLean, in admirable speeches. Capt. Diabrow proposed a toast to the Red Cross in a most eloquent address, which was responded to by Miss Vera Dean, who has had considerable experience in Hospitals in France.

Mrs. H. J. Hubert played several songs on the piano during the Supper.

The Dance which was held the same evening in the D. A. C. rooms was superintended by Mrs. H. J. Harquail and Mrs. W. J. Simpson. The room presented a bright appearance and the floor was in splendid order. All had a grand time. 84 invitations had been issued and all returned men.

EMPIRE DAY AT GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Interesting Program Rendered in Assembly Hall Last Friday.

On Friday afternoon in the Assembly Hall of the Grammar School the annual Empire Day Exercises were carried out. A fine programme of patriotic recitations, drills and songs was enjoyed by a large audience composed of the parents and friends of the school children. The children's orchestra played several numbers. The teachers are to be congratulated upon the success of these exercises.

An additional feature of Empire Day proceedings was the presenting of the medals and High School Certificates to the winners. This would have been done at the closing exercises at Christmas last, but owing to the "Flu," all the children were closed at that time.

The Governor-General's Medal awarded for the highest mark made at the University Matriculation examination, was awarded to Miss Isabel McNeill of Campbellton, who not only secured the highest average for the County of Restigouche but also led the province.

The presentation was made by Mayor Murray and the winner, Miss McNeill, was accompanied by her father, present taking a special course of study in the University of Toronto. The presentation was made on the platform by her father. His Worship in making the presentation stated that the awarding of the medals dates back to the year 1860, when His Excellency Lord Aberdeen, then Governor-General of Canada, inaugurated the scheme in order to encourage higher education in the Dominion, by awarding medals for competition in our High Schools. This example has been followed by every Governor-General since that time.

The first pupil in Restigouche County to win that coveted distinction was Miss Katie Muir of this town. Miss Muir afterwards took a full University course and graduated as a full-fledged B. A. after which she obtained a Grammar School License and taught successfully the eighth grade in our Grammar School for several years, until she resigned to devote her life to Foreign Mission work in Korea. After spending several years in that field she married the Rev. Mr. Young, who was also a missionary in the same field. Mrs. Young continued to devote her life to mission work in that foreign field until the time of her death which occurred a few weeks ago. She spent her life in the service of her great Maker and her early death will be universally mourned not only by her immediate friends but by the whole Christian world.

Before concluding his remarks His Worship suggested that it would be most fitting that a tablet should be erected in a suitable place to commemorate the distinguished services of Campbellton's first missionary in a foreign field.

The Lieut. Governor's medal for the highest average of marks in Grade 8, won by Miss Vera Dean, was presented by Judge McLaughlin and accompanied by her father, Mr. J. H. Dean, who is a member of the Board of Education. The medal was presented to her in recognition of her high marks in the good work being done in our schools and congratulated the winners of medals and certificates on the success when attending school.

THE CLERK—MR. ASKER.

Coun. Devereaux thought some action should be taken to make all householders clean up their premises.

Coun. Matthews from the Fire Protection Committee reported that the committee had arranged with Walter Dowse to store hose reel in his shed at $1.00 per month. The committee was empowered to enter into an agreement with Mr. Dowse.

Coun. Matthews brought up the necessity of erecting a fire station this year. The present quarters were fit for neither man or beast, and would require the expenditure of a considerable amount to make habitable this winter. The committee had looked over plans for a fire station and decided to ask the Council to decide in the matter.

The plans could be made to accommodate the Town offices and Council Chambers. It was proposed to procure a lot in a central location.

Coun. McKay said the building now used was a disgrace to the town. In fact it was a public nuisance and were it owned by a private individual the town would be moving to have it removed. The town was paying a big rental for the present building which would be the interest on a considerable amount.

Coun. Devereaux spoke of the disgraceful condition of the lockup, it was a disgrace to civilization to lock a man up in the cells there. Had heard it was bad, but never thought it was as bad as he found it. Thought it was up to the Council to go ahead with the plans.

Other councillors spoke in favor of the project and Coun. Dickie moved that Fire Protection Committee be authorized to procure options on a lot and also get estimates of cost of building.

Coun. Bissett brought up the matter of supplying electric current for cooking.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Golden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Present, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—head flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work."
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Golden, 225 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as head aches, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by the famous root and herb remedy Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter will be in strict confidence.

NEW RICHMOND, QUE.

Harold S. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery of New Richmond Centre, P. Q., was married on April 30th, to Miss Margaret Allan, daughter of Mr. James Allan of Garretts Hill, Town Head, Glasgow, Scotland.

Harold enlisted in June 28th, 1915 in the signalling corps. He escaped wonderfully from wounds, although he was in hospital with measles, typhoid and Spanish Influenza. He and his Scottish bride are expected home in June, and a warm welcome awaits them from both relatives and friends.

One of his sisters, Miss Elsie A. has offered herself as a nurse in Missionary work in the foreign field.

BLACK CAPE.

Pte. Edgar A. Campbell, son of Ex-Mayor and Mrs. Angus M. Campbell returned home on Saturday after a long service overseas. He enlisted at Swift Current, Sask., with the 209th Battalion in January 1915 going overseas in October of the same year. Arriving in England he was transferred to the 25th Battalion and later to the 22nd Battalion.

He was wounded at the battle of St. Elie but on recovery was again sent to France.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Abraham Sharpe which occurred at her home in Dee Side, Que. on Wednesday the 21st, after a brief illness.

Deceased was formerly Miss Ellen Campbell of Black Cape. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Bateman of London, Ont. and Mrs. Duncan Campbell of Caplin River. Four brothers, John, Neil, William and James all of this place. Much sympathy is being extended to the family.

Pte. Wm. Johnston has gone to Montreal where he will take the position he had before enlisting.

Mrs. Duncan Campbell of Caplin River was in Dee Side last week attending the funeral of her sister, the late Mrs. Abraham Sharpe.

Mr. Clement Fairweather, who had the misfortune to have his knee badly crushed some time ago, while hunting, is still confined to the house. He visited Campbellton recently where he received treatment.

The people of the east end of the district are to have a new Post Office in the near future, the name to be Gary's Hill.

Mr. Duncan Campbell paid New Carlisle a short visit recently.

KEMPT ROAD.

If on Sabbath last while Rev. J. R. Mackay was laying special emphasis on the observance of the 5th Commandment, "Honor thy father and mother," his hearers in Kempt Road congregation were dealing with the problem of how best to honour their pastor, they surely, when all things are taken into account, will be forgiven for "any mind-wandering." At the close of the service Mr. Thomas Justus requested the congregation to direct their departure from the sanctuary for a short while, for he had been asked to perform, what was to him a very pleasing duty, viz: to voice the feelings of the Kempt Road section of the congregation, in recognition of the services of their pastor, whose labours among them, he regretted to say were now ended and to present him with a little token of their love and esteem, and tangible token of their love and esteem, and gave to Mr. Mackay a well-filled purse.

Dear Mr. Mackay: As you are about to take your departure from our midst to return to your native Scotland, the Kempt Road adherents of your congregation desire on this occasion to place on record its deep appreciation of your services among them.

Your field was a scattered one and your tasks arduous but you were always untiring and conscientious in your endeavors to carry on and further the Master's work.

For nearly two years you have faithfully performed your duties amid storm and shine, ever ready, ever willing to do your best.

While deeply regretting the cause which renders necessary the severance of the pastoral tie, we shall ever cherish with feelings of deep esteem and regard your presence with us.

We are exceedingly sorry that circumstances prevented us seeing more of Mrs. Mackay, although unable to go about, she took a deep and sympathetic interest in all that pertained to the welfare and good of the congregation.

Those who have had the pleasure of meeting her, greatly appreciate her character and worth and sincerely trust that she return to her native land will prove beneficial to her health.

We beg to assure you that Mrs. Mackay and yourself will be followed across the ocean by the best wishes of your people here.

To-day we kindly request your acceptance of this purse given as a further token of our esteem and regard. Signed on behalf of the Congregation: MRS. THOMAS JUSTUS, MRS. F. P. ADAMS.

THE SPRAYING OF PLANTS FOR THE PREVENTION OF INJURY BY INSECTS AND DISEASE.

Experimental Farms Note.

At this season of the year particular attention should be paid to the prevention of ravages by diseases and insects. It is possible by a timely application of the proper sprays to control effectively many of our worst diseases and pests.

Spray materials may be divided into three classes. First, there are the fungicides, such as Bordeaux mixture and lime sulphur wash, which are used to control or to prevent the development of fungous diseases such as Apple Scab and Potato Blight. Secondly, there are insecticides, such as lead arsenate, for the control of biting insects such as the Potato Beetle, Tent Caterpillars, etc., and, thirdly, the contact sprays, such as kerosene emulsion or nicotine sulphate for the control of sucking insects like plant lice.

By selecting the proper sprays under each of these three headings, a combined spray containing all three can be used, and, thus, in a single application, one has a fungicide and a complete insecticide combined. A good combined spray is made up as follows: 4-4-40-Bordeaux, consisting of 4 pounds of unslaked lime, 4 pounds of copper sulphate, and 40 gallons of water, to which is added 3 pounds of arsenate of lead or 2 pounds of arsenate of lime in paste form (if the dry form is used, use one-half this quantity) for controlling biting insects, and if aphids or plant lice are present, one-third of a pint of nicotine sulphate should be added or, as an alternative, the lime sulphur could replace the Bordeaux mixture.

Do not delay the application until the disease or pest has become evident by its ravages, but make the application in time to prevent the damage. An application of spray is not a cure, it is a preventive.

Do not think that one application is sufficient. Remember that at this season of the year foliage grows rapidly and a large amount of new leaf surface is soon exposed after an application is made, and it is this new unexposed surface which is a source of infection. Three to four sprays during the season will be necessary to keep the leaves covered and the plants free from disease and pests.

Make the applications thoroughly, drenching all parts of the plant with a fine, mist-like spray. A coarse spray is not as effective as a finely divided one.

If you have not already done so, make application at once to your nearest Experimental Farm or District Representative for a Spray Calendar, or apply direct to the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. These Calendars will give you full instructions as to mixing and applying sprays for the control of all pests and diseases. Don't delay. Do it now.

THE CROW.

Christian Science Monitor: It may take farther time to persuade the great majority of farmers that they really ought to feel friendly towards crows, but a beginning is made by the published results of an extensive study of the crow by the Dominion Entomological Department in Canada. Like the farmer, says the report the crow follows the plough, and the number of destroyers of farm produce that crows annually remove from newly ploughed land more than makes up for whatever harm the birds do to the growing plants.

The goodness of people is exceedingly tiresome.

COL. GUTHRIE GIVEN BIG WELCOME

Former McLean Militia Carry Him on Shoulders.

(Boston Globe, Friday.)

Lieut. Col. Percy A. Guthrie of the 236th McLean Militia, returning to Boston for the first time since the recruiting campaign which he conducted here in 1917, was given a royal welcome at the North Station on arriving from Fredericton, N. B., at 9.15 last night by 100 or more men of his old command.

They seized the colonel's hands, slapped him on the back, embraced him and, in a few instances, even kissed him. He was raised on the shoulders of his men, who carried him through cheering throngs in the train shed to Causeway street to the music of two bands.

Boston's welcome to Col. Guthrie was delivered by Major L. J. Walters, formerly of the Royal Engineers. An enormous bunch of pink roses was presented Col. Guthrie by Malvern J. Thompson, in the name of the 236th McLean Militia. Another bunch of flowers was presented to Mrs. Guthrie by Mrs. McKenzie.

The Militia escorted Col. Guthrie with his wife and three children, who rode in the limousine of Freeman I. Davison, president of the Canadian Club of Boston, to the Parker House.

In response to cries for a speech from a great crowd there, Col. Guthrie climbed upon the top of the automobile and addressed the assemblage. The colonel was wildly cheered again by the multitude of his speech and the cheering of the three children—Ronald, aged 9; Margaret, aged 8; and Douglas, aged 6—shared in the welcome.

Col. Guthrie, who was wounded overseas after his recruiting campaign here, is in this city primarily to participate in the Empire Day Festival at Mechanics' Building to-morrow night where he is to be the principal speaker.

GALLANT AVIATORS ARE OFF NORTH OF SCOTLAND

Both Men Picked Up in Mid-Ocean By Danish Steamer Mary, But Machine Abandoned.

London, May 25.—Harry G. Hawker and Lieutenant-Commander McKenzie Grieve, the two aviators who started last Sunday in an attempt to fly across the Atlantic ocean from St. John's, Nfld., have been picked up at sea and landed in Scotland.

Both men in perfect health. It is officially announced by the Admiralty that both aviators were picked up in north latitude 50.20, west longitude 28.30, having alighted close to the little Danish steamer, Mary, owing to a stoppage of circulation in the water pipes between the radiator and the water pump. The airship, a Sopwith machine, was not salvaged.

The first report of the aviators since their famous "jumpoff" last Sunday came when the Mary, which was bound from Norfolk to Aarhus, Denmark, rounded the Butt of Lewis to-day and wig-wagged the fact that she had Hawker and Grieve aboard.

"Saved hands of Sopwith airplane," was the signal.

"Is it Hawker?" was the question sent out by the flags from the Butt, which is the most northwesterly point of the Hebrides group off Scotland.

"Yes," replied the vessel.

Conquers His Shyness.

A certain surgeon, who was very young, rather shy, was invited to dinner by a lady, who was at least fifty, but, frivolous enough for twenty. She imagined herself very clever when making rude remarks. At dinner she asked the doctor, "Do you suffer from a fowl, and, not having done so before, he failed lamentably. Instead of trying to cover his confusion, the hostess looked down at the table and saying loudly:

"Well, you may be a very clever surgeon, but if I wanted a leg off I should not come for you to do it."

"No, madam," he replied politely, "but then, you see, you are not a chicken."

It is the things that are made to look at that cost the most.

$4 Saved Two Fingers

The fingers were those of Mr. J. W. Bonard, of 539 Craig St., Montreal. He says,—"A falling beam badly smashed my hand. Two fingers were so severely crushed that I thought they would have to be amputated. Naturally I didn't want this, so I decided to try Zambuk first. I applied Zambuk daily, and by the time I had used $4 worth, the injury was completely healed. My fingers were saved!"

Just another illustration of the healing power of Zambuk. Accidents will happen. It may be your turn next. Better get a box and keep it handy. Accidents are less frequent than skin diseases, and remember this—

Zambuk is just as good for eczema, stews, skin diseases, and bites, as for cuts, burns, bruises. All druggists and stores 50c. box, or 2 for $1.25. Refuse substitutes.

Just try it! Get the three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

"We must be careful not to pauperize," say some comfortable wiseacres. We pension, Royalty, noblemen, statesmen, judges, civil servants, industrial magnates, army and naval officers, all in receipt of good salaries during their lives. Is there any reason why our widowed mothers with young children should not be pensioned? Thirty-three bishops and archbishops in the House of Lords in England draw large pensions for practically doing nothing but opposing progressive measures introduced for the amelioration of the lot of the poor. Would anyone suggest that these noble lords are being pauperized by their pensions?

The Mothers' Pension Act aims to protect the home as the center of human life and activity. We hold that the family ties, deeply embedded as they are in the laws of nature and life, are the greatest source of the strength, morality and stability of the social order, and should not be broken. We aim to direct the money now spent on matrons and institutions to the maintenance of the child in its proper environment, the home, to employ the mother to bring up her own children in her own home, instead of a matron in an institution. We aim to save tax payers and philanthropists half the money now paid by keeping children in their own home at half the expense. Nations have risen to power and eminence and have fallen, because the children, mothers and homes of the masses were not taken into account, and nations will again rise and fall until we recognize that no nation can be great until built on the stable foundation of good, strong men and women. That foundation must be built in the home; by the motherhood and childhood of the nation. Let our watchword be "save the nation!"

The church and nation proclaim the sanctity of the home. To subsidize the dependent mother to carry out her parental duties in the home, is but putting our belief, which we admit to be right, into practical form, applying our Christianity.

The injustice to the child we can never estimate. Thousands of fatherless children are sent out into the world annually unfitted, both in mind and body to earn a living. These untrained, unskilled boys and girls, half-educated, and often half-nourished, soon become the prey of older and more worldly companions. Untrained in business or ways of city life they seem to be plastic material for these chance undesirable acquaintances; and before long they are brought up in the juvenile or police courts, and the step to the jail and penitentiary is but a short and often an easy one.

It is not possible for a mother, and her assistants, to generate mother love or give individual care. They are not there to perform that service, nor could they if they wish. Their duty is to run the institution as cleanly and as cheaply as possible; institutions are rarely, if ever, overburdened with any surplus save a surplus of mouths to feed it; it is either the food or the expenses it is usually the children who feel it most; it is either the food or service which must be economized on.

The widowed mother with the helpless family should count the pity and admiration of every right-thinking man and woman; yet what is the treatment meted out to her by society today? When the support of the father is lost the home is destroyed, the children are placed in different institutions according to age and rule, and the mother is left childless. This is a real cruelty to the mother and a terrible disadvantage to the children, and the fact that poverty alone enforces these conditions is a stain on the nation.

One there be so crueler or more unhuman or unchristian way of dealing with a mother than to separate her from her children through no fault of her own with only poverty as an excuse. The good men and women of the South rose up in their might and beat slavery out of the country, and one of their greatest grievances was the separation of the children from their mothers, yet nearly all over this country we are separating mothers from their children, breaking ties that were made by either Church or State, and above all else secret and dividing separating these mothers from their children, and the children from the one human being above all others who loves them the most, and not this alone, but the children from one another—depriving them from God's greatest gift to mankind—home love of mothers and brothers and sisters.

The mothers of the poor love their children intensely. They are all they have in life, their only comfort, their only hope, the only thing which brightens and makes life worth striving for, what tongue or pen can describe the feeling of these mothers whose children would never have been taken from them had it not been for poverty? The world sees little of their sorrow, like their love, is deep and to sacred for the cold, cruel, critical world to let see. They are sensitive—their poverty, crushes, and makes them so—they suffer in silence, knowing from experience that they will receive but cold comfort heard so often the note of blame and censure for their poverty, their ignorance, their inertia and degeneracy, they keep silent.

We are continually saying "woman's place is the home, women should be satisfied and gloried in their motherhood." We reel these self-satisfied platitudes off year after year, giving motherhood and childhood scarcely any concern. Now I am going to put this as a test to our country and find out if our babies and mothers are really of any account; if animals, agriculture forests and mines are of more importance than our native-born Canadian babies, and motherhood is a curse to thousands of mothers in this country and childhood a sorrow. I have seen mothers fade and wither, grow weaker and weaker, and when weary and disheartened, lose all hope and ambition; I have seen little children grow up to be brutalized and exploited, their virtues turned to shame and sin, their morals, bodies and minds distorted until they have lost almost semblance to human beings, a helping hand at the proper time, before they have taken their downward step.

What can you do? Organize a league to educate the public to the necessity and advantages of this pension. Investigate the institutions. Find out how many should be with their mothers. Write to your members of parliament, both Federal and Provincial, urging immediate action. Give lectures, write articles and letters to the newspapers, and generally make the agitation as public as possible. This is Patriotism, Morality and Christianity in its truest sense.

THE LAST BERTH Took Her About 15 Minutes To Tell How Badly She Felt.

"I want a nice lower berth in the middle of the Pullman," said the middle-aged lady with the somewhat agitated look, some ladies always assume when they are travelling. "Sorry, ma'am; but the berths are taken," replied the ticket agent with no marked sign of grief on his face, his whole interest seeming to be focused on a pear he was peeling. "What! All the berths are taken?" "Yes, I sold the last one not more than five minutes ago." "And I suppose that it was a lower berth, too?" "Yes, 'twas."

"And if I had been here five or six minutes sooner I could have had it?" "You sure could." "Who got it?" "Some man." "Do you suppose that you could get him to take an upper berth and let me—"

"There are no upper berths to be had. Every berth in the car is taken." "And it hasn't been more than five minutes, since you sold the last berth?" "Not longer than that."

"Well, if that isn't too provoking! I stopped at a store to get something I could just as well have done without and it took them so long to make change! I told the girl who waited on me that I was in a hurry to get a train, but you know that never makes any difference to one of those shop girls, and here if I had been only five minutes earlier I could have had that nice lower berth? You say that it is only about five minutes since it was taken?" "That's all, ma'am."

"And I told my sister whom I have been visiting that I was afraid I would be late and I wanted to come away without any of the dessert she had made for luncheon, but she said she had made it especially for me, because it was something she knew I was fond of. It was coffee mousse, but, my goodness, I would rather never have seen any more coffee mousse than to have missed getting that berth. And you say it was taken not more than five minutes ago?" "It's nearer 15 minutes now."

"Well, but you said that it was only five minutes when I first came to the window, and I could have been here 10 minutes earlier just as well as not if I hadn't waited for that dessert I didn't need, and then gone into that store to get something I could have waited until I got home to get it. I think I could have got here in time to get that berth anyhow if they hadn't been so long making change in that store, and here I have an all-night and all-day and all-night ride before me, and you say that there is not a berth to be had. Do you suppose any holder of a berth will be likely to be giving it up?"

"It isn't likely, with the train starting in seven minutes." "My soul, does it start that soon? And I haven't checked my trunk yet! Of course I ought to have ordered the berth in advance, but I didn't expect to go home until the end of the week. Then I got a letter that made me change my mind; but even then—and you say that it is only five minutes since that last berth was taken? I do think that—where is the baggage room?" "If I had only been five minutes earlier, I could have—in which direction did you say that baggage room was?"

Sometimes a little white lie does a lot of good.

"So dark and yet so light," said the funny man as he looked at a top of coal the driver had just delivered.

Eddy's

Washtubs and Washboards

form a combination which save you much extra labor. Indurated Fibreware tubs are much easier to lift and to move about. They keep the water hot for a much longer space of time, because they do not conduct heat so much. They are easier to keep clean, because they are made in one piece without joint or seam, and the hard, glazed surface is impervious to liquids or odors. And they cost no more. Last longer, too.

Eddy's Twin Better Washboard has a double rubbing surface of Indurated Fibreware which loosens the dirt quickly and saves many tire-some motions.
