Majority of Council Favor Tender of Highest Bidder—Coun. Moores to Resign

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Town Hall on Friday the 25th inst.

His Worship Mayor McKay was in the chair and Councillors Gorham, Graham, Duncan, Marquis, Moores, St. Onge, Gilker and Belle-lale were present.

Moved by Coun. Belle-lale seconded by Coun. Gilker that the minutes of the last meeting be dispensed with—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Belle-lale, seconded by Coun. Gilker that F. A. O'Leary be appointed town clerk pro-tem. Carried.

Tenders for street paving were then read by Coun. Duncan. Coun. Graham moved the following resolution which was seconded by Coun. Gorham—Resolved that the tender of the Stevens Construction Co., St. John be accepted for paving the streets of the town of Campbellton in accordance with their tender for 21,000 square yards completed work for the sum of $72,000 in compliance with the plans and specifications of the said town.

Further resolved that the Public Property and Street Commission be authorized to have the town solicitor prepare the necessary legal agreement with the above mentioned contractor as set out in the tender.

Moved as an amendment by Coun. Moores, seconded by Coun. Marquis that the Grant Construction Co., of Ottawa be granted the contract for paving the streets. The town solicitor to prepare the necessary legal agreement.

Mayor McKay requested deputy Mayor Marquis to take the chair.

Mayor McKay speaking on the question strongly advised the council to accept the tender of the Grant Construction Co., as the town would save some $9000 and stated that any other course did not seem right to him as the Stevens Con. Co., had been given too many chances to tender.

Coun. Belle-lale objected to the Mayor discussing the question but later withdrew his objection. Mayor resumed the chair.

A standing vote was then taken on Councillor Moores' amendment that the Grant Company be awarded the tender. Coun. Moores and Marquis voting for and Coun. Graham, Gorham, Duncan, St. Onge, Belle-lale voting nay. Coun. Gilker did not vote.

A standing vote was then taken on the original Resolution that the Stevens Con. Co., be awarded the tender. The vote carried. Coun. Graham, Gorham, Duncan, St. Onge, Gilker and Belle-lale voting in favor and Coun. Moores and Marquis voting against.

Coun. Moores stated that he felt it his duty to tender his resignation at the next meeting as he felt that the Council were throwing away about $6000 of the rate payers money.

Council then adjourned.

The Graphic has heard many rumors and much adverse criticism of the action of the council majority, and there are many ugly stories in circulation which are not a credit to the town council.

So far no contract has been awarded, His Worship having refused to sign same and we feel that in this action he will have the support of a majority of rate payers.

Campbellton wants paved streets and it should insist upon good honest work by a company which is above reproach. We want no bungling as we have already wasted thousands of dollars in providing needed public utilities.

By the resignation of Coun. Moores the town will lose a valuable member, one who has consistently looked after the best interests of the town.

Campaign Officially Opens Week from To-morrow, but you Should Enter Your Name at Once and Get Started Right Away—Every Active Candidate Will Win a Prize or Cash Award—There Will be No Losers—This is Their Opportunity—ACT AT ONCE.

Announcement is made to-day by The Graphic of a great circulation boosting campaign. Over $3500 in valuable prizes will be given to the people who enter the campaign and secure subscriptions for The Graphic during the next few weeks.

This is by far the most liberal offer The Graphic has ever made. On other occasions the readers have been invited to participate in the efforts of the paper, but never before have such appropriate costly awards been offered to those who will join The Graphic in its plans for progressive action in ever-increasing fields of circulation.

The ideas involved in this campaign are sound and practicable. Sound, because they are reasonable from every point of view and practicable because there are no insurmountable obstacles and no surrounding unreasonable restrictions or difficulties. There is nothing hard or impossible of accomplishment connected with The Graphic's big prize distribution campaign.

You Are Invited to Enter This big $3500 Prize Competition is open to all reputable people. There will be two first automobiles and more than $1000 in cash prizes and commission awards guaranteed to non-winners of regular prizes—every person in this campaign is bound to win a prize. The prizes will be given to those who secure the most votes in return for subscriptions collected for The Graphic.

The Capital Prizes Splendid awards await the candidates who secure the highest total votes in the campaign. A Durant Sport Touring Car, valued $1545, purchased from Harrison & Jamieson Limited, Campbellton, is the award awaiting you for the time and effort you will devote to this pleasant work during the next few weeks for First Grand Prize. The Second Grand Prize is a Durant-Star touring car, purchased from Harrison & Jamieson Limited, Campbellton. Both these valuable prizes should meet with a hearty response from the residents of Campbellton and surrounding towns and rural districts, as this is an opportunity for some ambitious and energetic persons to win real prizes. There are many valuable prizes to be given away absolutely free in The Graphic's Great Prize Campaign. It is fortunate greeting to every man and woman, and every boy and girl in every section of the territory covered by The Graphic.

Many Valuable Prizes. There are many costly and valuable prizes in The Graphic's competition and every prize should be well worth the efforts of many ambitious people for the next few weeks—besides the regular prizes there will be 10 per cent cash commission prizes to all non-winners of regular prizes.

A Candidate in The Graphic's competition should find it an easy matter to be a winner of a real prize with very little effort, so send in your name at once and get the early start. Now is the time to get the most votes for your efforts.

How to Enter the Contest There is no formality necessary in entering The Graphic's great prize campaign. All that is necessary is to clip out the information blank found below or the nomination blank on the page advertisement and mail or bring it to the Prize Campaign Department of The Graphic and receipt books and all information will be given to you for your name as enrolled as a candidate get your friends and acquaintances to subscribe, get them to pay in advance or pay you their back account. You will receive votes on every subscription turned in by you or for you. Write to your friends and tell them that you are in the campaign and in to win. Early energy spells success. Your friends will subscribe, and will be glad to help you. Nothing is gained by standing back and allowing other people to get the start of you. Whatever else you do, begin at once.

Early Work Counts Most Subscriptions secured the first period of the campaign count most votes. The eight weeks of the campaign have been divided into four voting periods. After the first period the regular vote schedule on all subscriptions, new or old, will earn less votes. After the second period a further reduction will be made and a further reduction in case of the other periods will be made on the regular vote schedule for subscriptions.

Send for a receipt book to-day, write the Campaign Department, or Telephone 108, The Graphic.

Receipt Books Ready The Graphic has printed a number of receipt books for the use of the candidates and their friends. These receipt books will be mailed out as fast as nominations are received and will be delivered to those who call at the Campaign Offices for them. The system of accounts that will be used during the campaign demands that receipt books be used by all candidates. They have been prepared in such a manner as to make the work of the contestants very easy.

ENROLL YOUR NAME NOW—ACT AT ONCE. Nominate the Grand Prize Winners and Win $25 in Cash To the person who introduces the name or sends in by nomination the names of the candidates who win either of the first two Grand Prizes in the big campaign, The Graphic will award $25 in cash. Fill out the nomination blank on the page advertisement or the information blank found above, and mail it at once with your favorite candidate's name on it. You understand, of course, you are privileged to nominate any person that you wish to see win one of the big automobiles or one of the other big prizes. Send in your own name or your favorite candidate's name now.

LOCAL MILLS ARE NOW RUNNING

Five Mills Now in Full Swing—Approximate Daily Output 750,000 sft.

Although at least two weeks behind time in beginning their summer operations owing to the late spring, all the lumber mills on the north shore except the lower mill of the Richards Mfg. Co. at Richardsville are now in full swing. The long lumber mill of Stetson, Cutler Co., at Athol began operations yesterday while the mills of Fraser Company, W. H. Miller Co., and the Bay Chaleur Mills have been running since the middle of last week. The opening of the lower mill of the Richards Mfg. Co., has been delayed owing to the disastrous fire of last Thursday which destroyed the cook-house. Arrangements for the accommodation of the workmen are being made, however, and it is expected that this plant will be in operation in about a week's time. The upper mill of this concern started the season's run this week.

When all six mills are in full swing the lumber in the Restigouche will be called on for approximately 20,000 pieces a day while the combined output of long lumber will, it is estimated, average in the vicinity of three quarters of a million special feet per day. In addition to the mills in this district, the four lumber mills in Dalhousie are now well started on the season's cut. The benefit of this increased activity in the lumber business is eagerly welcomed by laborers there as only one mill operated last year.

Shipping. Present activity at the local port seems to forecast a good season in shipping. Another steamer, the "Sarmatia" 1438 tons, the largest boat which has docked here since opening of navigation, arrived here yesterday afternoon from New York. It is understood she will load long lumber for a foreign market. The Danish steamer Berlin has completed her cargo and will sail this evening for an American port. Two schooners now docked at Dalhousie are expected at this port within the next day or two.

Although activity in building does not promise to reach the level of last year's summer building boom, several residences and other buildings are under construction. This work together with the revival of shipping and other work has attracted laborers from down both sides of the coast and the influx of those in search of work has not yet ended. It is probable that many of these may be obliged to seek other fields, however, as laborers are plentiful throughout the whole North Shore district and wages still comparatively small.

HAS RECOVERED. The many friends of Mr. A. I. Morrison will be glad to know that he is recovering from his serious illness at the Soldiers Memorial Hospital where he recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Morrison is now able to be about again.

AGITATION FOR A GOLF CLUB

Committee Appointed to Report Friday Evening—Many Interested.

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a Golf Club met in the club room of the Curling Rink on Friday evening last and initial steps in the proposed movement were taken. Only a comparatively small number attended, but those present were strongly in favor of the organizing of a club and presented many optimistic arguments in its favor.

Mr. Max M. Mowat was appointed chairman and Mr. H. A. Carr, secretary of the meeting. Mrs. W. S. Montgomery, Dr. Fleck and Mr. G. E. Scott of Dalhousie were also present and declared themselves heartily in favor of the proposed golf club. After different phases of the movement had been considered a committee of four was appointed to investigate the matter of a suitable location for the golf course. Both Dalhousie and Campbellton are represented on this committee as it is composed of two members from each town, Campbellton being represented by Messrs. H. A. Carr and Geo. G. McKenzie and the shiretown by Mr. G. E. Scott and Dr. Fleck. Other points in connection with the formation of the club were then discussed and a motion passed that a second meeting be held on Friday evening, June 1st at the Curling Rink and that the committee report their findings at that meeting.

Despite the small number of enthusiasts present at last week's meeting the Graphic has reason to believe that there are a great many citizens who are much interested in the idea of a golf club. If such an organization can be got under way—and there is no apparent reason why it cannot—it should soon enroll a large membership and become a flourishing association and the source of much healthy enjoyment in the open air. Campbellton has always been a little slow in going after organized outdoor sport of any kind. It may take some time and a little effort to establish a self-supporting organization of this kind but the movement should not be delayed. The golf idea is a good one and deserves hearty support.

Join the Red Cross—$1.00 pays for one year—Money for health work.

GAME CASE. A game case was taken before the court this week by one of the wardens of this district. The controversy arose from a hunter from Balmoral refusing to show his license. A fine of $25.00 was imposed by Judge Matheson.

ACCIDENTAL IS VERDICT. An inquest into the cause of the fire which destroyed the cookhouse of the Richards Mfg. Co.'s lower mill early last Thursday morning was held late in the afternoon of the same day by Coroner Dr. A. Martin and a verdict of "fire originating accidentally" was returned by the jury.

June 4th to 9th inclusive—Red Cross Drive. Join up and help the Public Health Work.

PROTECTION FOR WORKMEN'S EYES

200,000 Accidents to Eyes of Workmen in U. S. Occur Annually.

New York, May 22.—Two hundred thousand accidents to the eyes of workmen occur in industry each year, and approximately 16 per cent. of the total blind population of the country, or 15,000, represent the industrial blind; these are two of the facts developed in an investigation of the hazards of industrial occupations...

which were conducted last year by the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness. The study covered every state in the union and every industrial occupation in which there is an accident hazard.

The report points out that much already has been accomplished toward alleviation of the eye accident problem in industry, but all this is merely a beginning.

"There are still countless plants whose operations present serious eye hazards, in which no goggle or other protective equipment are available. There are many plants where workmen still wear goggles in their pockets except when they are watched. There are still plants in which toothpicks, matches, hankchiefs, pocket knives and even the tongues of workmen are the instruments employed to remove cinders and other particles from the eyes of fellow workers."

Industrial accidents, the report says, are responsible for an injury to a human eye every 2 1/2 minutes, day and night, 365 days a year.

"The solution of this problem," the report says, "depends upon three forces: legislation, education, and actual accident prevention service to industry."

GRENIER GAINS 18 LBS. ON TANLAC

Says Famous Medicine Ended Long-Standing Dyspepsia and Restored Perfect Health.

"The Tanlac treatment not only ended my stomach trouble, but it built me up eighteen pounds, and I never felt better in my life," is the positive statement of Armand Grenier, 250 Marquette Street, Montreal.

"Dyspepsia had me in such awful shape I scarcely dared to eat, knowing the misery I would have to suffer. My nerves were shattered I would lie awake sometimes all night, and once I woke up from a dose feeling like I was about to another, and thought my end was near. Then for months I was mighty careful about my eating, but I didn't seem to get any better until I took a friend's advice and started on Tanlac.

"Every day I got better, till now I enjoy tip-top health. I have a voracious appetite, perfect digestion, and can sleep like a top every night. Tanlac gets my best work every time."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

CHRISTIAN STANDING IN BUSINESS

Plea by Head of Steel Corporation—Religion, Politics and Steel.

New York, May 26.—Religion and politics were the main topics at the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute yesterday. Robert H. Gary, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation and president of the Institute, devoted most of his annual address to a defence of the Bible and plea for the turning toward Christian principles in business as well as in personal affairs.

Last night, at the annual dinner, Prince Caetan, Italian ambassador to the U. S., delivered a defence of Facism, which he declared was "the great spiritual movement," founded on the principle that every individual must be ready to sacrifice himself for the good of the community.

Facism, he declared, was the direct antithesis of Bolshevism, aiming to preserve religion, and the rights of individuals, while Bolshevism aimed to destroy both.

The outstanding industrial phases of the Institute's session were: 1.—A declaration by Mr. Gary that "there is nothing in sight to indicate that there will be a substantial diminution of the demand for finished steel in this country during the next six months at least."

2.—Unanimous approval of a report of a special committee, advising against any attempt to eliminate at this time the 12-hour day in the steel industry. This committee, with Mr. Gary at its head, had considered the question of inaugurating an eight hour day at the suggestion of President Harding.

OLD NOTORIOUS CASE IS RECALLED

After Twenty-Eight Years Imprisonment Effort is Made to Get Parole.

Ottawa, May 26—After twenty-eight years of imprisonment in Kingston penitentiary, an effort is being made to secure the release of Valentine Shortis, who killed two people at Valleyfield, Que., wounded another and gave rise to a most sensational trial with many after-developments. The case nearly wrecked a Government, made the vice-regal representative the subject of angry controversy, altered the political complexion of a constituency and is said to have been the cause of a present day Cabinet Minister changing his politics and becoming Liberal, because of resentment at the Conservative Government of the day.

Shortis was an Englishman, coming from a good family, who was employed at the Valleyfield Cotton Mills and, starting out on a hold-up game, was obstructed and killed two men, and other escaping in a vault.

There was a sensational trial and Shortis was found guilty of murder. In the ordinary course, the case came before the Government at Ottawa in 1895 and the decision of the Cabinet was that there should be no interference and that the man should hang. When this recommendation went to Lord Aberdeen he refused to concur in it, this being about the only case where anything of the kind happened. There were charges of social influence and Lady Aberdeen was brought into the case. The Government of the day became much perturbed and the exchanges with Rideau Hall were numerous.

In any event Aberdeen would not sign the death warrant and the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. The case cut a big figure in the politics of Bonaventure and the seat was won from the Conservatives by a Liberal who was father of one of the murdered men.

The application for release on parole is now before the State Department and is promoted by the Prisoners' Welfare branch of the Salvation Army. It is very doubtful if it succeeds.

Kennedy one of our promising young men and a much respected and highly esteemed resident of this village has opened a grocery store in the Dimock Block Water St. Campbellton, N. B. ### GREAT OIL FIRE LOSS HEAVY

Half Million Gallons Ablaze At Rochester—Probable Loss $350,000.

Rochester, N. Y., May 28—Five hundred thousand gallons of oil stored at the plant of P. R. Roe Oil Company, were ablaze last night. Starting with two explosions which shook the city a little after seven o'clock the fire quickly spread and enveloped every one of the twenty-five oil tanks in which the thousands of gallons of oil, kerosene, gasoline, lubricating oil and other products were stored. The oil is valued at $250,000 but it is believed the property damage will bring the total loss to about $350,000.

A few minutes after the first two tanks exploded, scattering flame oil in all directions, four others blew up. A heavy pall of smoke settled over the city, making necessary the use of lights in the downtown office buildings. Firemen were helpless to combat the flames and turned their efforts to prevent the spreading of the fire.

Twenty-three streams of water were used. Fire Chief J. J. Jones said the fire would probably burn for a couple of days but no serious consequences are feared unless it reaches the 330,000 gallons of turpentine.

The roads in this vicinity are drying up rapidly under the combined influence of sun and wind. There seems to have been an exceptional amount of frost the past winter, with the result that many roads have rather large spongy spots that are the source of considerable worry to motorists.

DR. ROBERTS PLEADS FOR MARITIMES

N. B. Minister of Public Health Advocates All-Canadian Conference.

London, Ont., May 26—Hon. W. F. Roberts, minister of public health of the province of New Brunswick, who delivered the principal address at the convocation exercises of the University of Western Ontario, declares that the Maritime Provinces are being strangled by adverse freight rates to Upper and Western Canada markets and that in view of these conditions he suggested the holding of an all-Canadian conference to discuss the situation.

"Secession of the Maritimes and the formation of the Maritime Dominion," he stated, "is an imminent possibility unless a truly Canadian national policy is outlined and adhered to. Citizens of the Maritime Provinces could, if made a separate dominion, build up a true wall against tariff, develop its own resources, establish its own factories and carry on trade with their natural markets to the south."

"We do not want to do this," he said, "but our representation is decreasing and something must be done at an early date to bring our problems to the attention of the provincial family of Canada."

MINISTER ASKS FOR CO-OPERATION

Join Up As a Forest Guard in Appeal of Hon. C. W. Robinson.

As the dry season is again approaching, I would like to emphasize the importance of our forests in this Province, and the desirability of carefulness on the part of our citizens who are likely to be in the woods camping or fishing, or who may be interested in clearing land for settlement purposes.

Statistics show that about one half of the fires in New Brunswick are caused by the carelessness of campers and fishermen. If our forests are all destroyed, New Brunswick will be a pretty poor place to live in. Our population will be greatly reduced; many towns will cease to exist; railway traffic would be so reduced that lines would have to be abandoned. Already we have suffered tremendous losses. Nature has done her best for us, but the carelessness of a few people can counteract all the efforts of nature.

We hope that the 1923 season will prove that our citizens are fully alive to their own interests and that the destruction will be reduced to a minimum.

New Population from Pulp Planted in New Brunswick

By Hubert Black, manager, Canadian Forestry Association.
Probably no single industry has developed as rapidly in New Brunswick during the past twenty years as the pulp industry. In 1903 there was no pulp mill. Today there are five, with a total daily capacity of 385 tons of ground-wood, sulphite pulp. In addition the construction of a large paper mill is well under way, and the site for a second mill located. The capital investment in this industry in 1921 was $28,000,000 with an annual payroll of over a million dollars, and giving employment to one thousand men. This does not include the labor required to cut the pulpwood in the woods and transport it to the mills, which requires 4,000 more men.

The pulpwood industry is thus expanding rapidly in New Brunswick as in other parts of Canada. The diminishing supply of softwoods in the United States and the fact that mills must be established near the raw material has meant that expansion in the pulpwood industry is moving northward. New Brunswick still ranks fourth among the provinces in pulp production, being surpassed only by Quebec, Ontario, and British Columbia. No doubt the time is not far distant when this industry will surpass the sawmill industry in volume. It has resulted already in much closer utilization of the log and in some cases it has been possible for sawmill refuse to be used, not only as fuel in the pulp mills, but also as pulp. In the woods operations for pulpwood, smaller and more defective material can be taken out and utilized.

Increasing expansion of this industry has meant a greater demand on the forests. It is hard to realize what an immense quantity of wood is required to feed these pulp mills. As stated above, the daily capacity of all the mills combined is 385 tons of pulp, requiring about 800 cords of pulpwood per day—a whole trainload of wood disappearing daily in the grinders to appear again as pulp increased in value, under present prices, from $10.00 to $30.00 per cord. Estimating the average stand of timberland cut over for pulp at 3 cords per acre (and this is probably a high average), it means that every day 100 acres of forest land must be cut over to keep the mills operating. Figure this for a year and then over a period of fifty years, and the amount of pulpwood required is enormous. In 1921, 121,110 cords of pulpwood were consumed by the pulp mills, some of which were not running at full capacity the entire year.

A year's supply means a pile of pulpwood in cordwood length piled four feet high reaching for a distance of 350 miles or about halfway across the province. Piled 11 feet high it would reach in a continuous line from St. Croix, in the southwest corner of the province, along the International Boundary to St. Francis, in the northwest corner of New Brunswick. Piled in box cars it would require an unbroken string of cars reaching from St. John to Sackville. In addition to the amount of pulpwood exported, thus tripling the length of the line.

Plants graduated as to the height—the tallest in the back ground—planted along the foundation of buildings soften the harsh outlines and serve as a sort of connecting link in the correlation of buildings and grounds. It is avoided by skillfully massing appropriate varieties, so that the groups do not appear in an irregular fashion. Trees, if used at all, on places of limited areas, are usually better in the background. Those that contain a large size are decidedly out of place in a planting scheme for small yards.

Even the distinctive city yard has its planting possibilities. If the small patch is well sodded or sown with a high grade of lawn mixture, the resulting green sward, bordered with flowering plants and graceful shrubs of the enclosure will form an oasis that will prove pleasing to the eye, rest to the nerves and a fitting recompense for all the effort put forth and for the faith implied.

Summer Care of Milk

(By Prof. H. H. Dean, Ontario Agricultural College.)
Thousands of dollars are lost each year by dairy farmers, through lack of care in the handling of milk and cream. These losses occur in two ways—directly when the product is returned to the farm from city dairy, cheese factory, condensary or creamery, because it is too high in acid or has an objectionable flavor; indirectly, because of the losses sustained by the manufacturer who has accepted second or off-grade raw material out of which he has tried to make first-class finished goods, and failed—not through any fault of his, but simply because the raw material, milk or cream was not properly cared for by the producer. In the long run, these indirect losses also come back to the farmer as well as the direct ones.

The rules concerning for milk and cream are comparatively simple, and their application does not require much skill or time. What is mostly needed, is "the will to do." I am aware that in the rush of work on the farm, something has to be neglected and that something is frequently the milk or cream, especially where it is accepted by the manufacturer, and is paid for at current rates. But a change is rapidly taking place in the methods of paying for milk and cream, particularly the latter, as many creameries are now grading cream and paying a premium of three to five cents a pound fat for sweet cream of good flavor.

This makes it doubly important for the producer to be certain that his product grade "Extra" or "Number One," as the premium usually pays high wages for the extra care needed. We shall not say anything about the importance of having clean cows and keeping the pails, strainers, cans, etc. in a clean condition, as this is now realized by most dairy farmers in Canada. If they are not now seized of the importance of cleanliness in the dairy business, there is very little use writing about it at the present time.

The first and most important point after cleanliness, which is frequently overlooked, is the necessity for cooling immediately after milking where milk is sold or delivered, and at once after separating, where the cream is sent from the farm. To do this efficiently a large supply of cold water is needed; or, better still, water and ice.

Water Better Agent than Air.
Water cools milk or cream much more quickly than does air. A can of the annual pulpwood pile which would reach around the province.

The pulpwood industry is thus a very important one to the province. Its continued development depends entirely on the supply of raw material which present supplies are to be taken must be carefully guarded from forest fires. Forest land of young growth must be as carefully protected for the future supplies, while fire must be prevented from burning over cut-over land, which must be protected so as to reproduce a new forest. Burnt land unfortunately forms too large a percentage of the forest area of the province. It is estimated that 2,000,000 acres have been burned over in the last forty years. In other words a supply of timber large enough to keep a dozen pulp mills running for forty years has been thus lost to the people of New Brunswick. This area under proper conservation would thus through growth, form a perpetual supply.

Green forests guarantee a perpetuation of this great industry. Burnt forests mean the onward march of this industry northward. For even as forest fires hastened the destruction of pulpwood supplies in the Eastern States and finally stopped the construction of more mills, so will forest fires do the same in New Brunswick, only in a much more rapid manner, unless the annual forest fire damage of the past is prevented which is only possible if everyone going into our forests is careful and extinguishes his camp fires, his cigars and cigarettes before throwing away.

milk or cream set in a cold room, or in a cool cellar, does not cool nearly so rapidly as does milk or cream set in cold water at the same temperature and particularly if the water be in motion. It is because of this latter fact that water under pressure, and forced through a milk or cream cooler is the most effective and rapid method of cooling, practicable on a farm. Something similar can be got by forcing water from the well through a cooling tank on its way to the trough to be used for watering livestock.

Water for cooling should be at a temperature lower than 60 degrees F. If good results may be expected. Where the water is not cold enough, or where it is limited in supply, tepid should be used in a tank to supplement the cooling done with water. A very good rule is, always have some ice in the tank, in which case a person may know that the water is cold enough for cooling milk and cream, where no thermometer is available, which is the case at most dairy farms.

Poultry

Leg Color in Baby Chicks.
If a chicken from white-plumaged and white-legged parents has bluish colored shanks, it will have such colored shanks when mature.

Chickens from buff-colored, white-legged parents—like the Buff Orpington—are hatched with yellowish or reddish-yellow shanks, but these shanks gradually fade to the regulation white.

The chickens of the Barred Plymouth Rock frequently show a greenish-yellow shank or one mottled with black. They are generally pullets and the shanks generally turn to the desired yellow. If the shanks are yellow—not orange—when the chicks are hatched, they frequently become too light in color. But strange as it may appear, if the chicks from willow-legged birds are hatched with yellow shanks, the shanks in time will become willow.

The shanks of Black Orpington chicks at first are not black, but are somewhat mottled or black near the hocks and lower down a pinkish yellow.

BIG INCREASE IN NEW AUTOMOBILES

Premier Veniot Says Outlook is for Largest Sales in History.

"There is every indication that there will be more automobiles sold in New Brunswick this year than ever before," Premier Veniot said this morning. The Premier made the remark in discussing the issuance of license plates for automobiles, which he said was keeping the Motor Vehicle Branch of the Provincial Department of Public Works working day and night. As yet, he said, it was too early to give any definite figures, but the number of new cars being licensed is abnormally large.

"The fact that automobile owners seem to have about all put off sending their license fees in until a few days before they want to use their cars and the retarded spring season have combined to make the worst congestion the Motor Vehicle Branch have ever experienced," said the Premier. "An enlarged staff are working day and night, but there have been but 6,000 and 7,000 applications for license plates this month and the staff simply cannot catch up."

Premier Veniot said that the patrol system for the trunk highways was being organized as rapidly as possible, but its inauguration had been delayed by the unusual frost conditions and the necessity for immediate repairs which were engrossing the attention of the Public Works Department staff. Some of the patrol crews are already at work, the Premier said.

Six Delightful Dishes Contrived of Cooked Fish

It is always a bit of a problem for the inexperienced housewife to know just what to do with her cooked, leftover fish. It is hard to buy just what will be used up at the first cooking and there is always some apt to be left over.

There are several ways in which the fish may be used—in little dishes for luncheon, or in dishes that make a fish course for the next day's dinner if it is freed from skin and bone and flaked—while it is fresh, and always put away in the sauce or gravy that may be left over. This way of preserving it, keeps it soft so that the edges do not dry out.

The variety of fish does not matter so much when left over from boiled, baked or broiled fish, but fried fish is apt to be pretty well dried-out, so it is not as good for second use, although even this can be used and should not be wasted.

SHAD RAMEKINS
Add to one cupful and a half of flaked cooked shad—mixed with enough sauce to soften it—pepper, salt, a tablespoonful of grated onion, a quarter cupful crumbs, oil them inside and out. Add to a teaspoonful of chopped caper, or washed capers, and a tablespoonful of soft butter. If there was no sauce cupful of dry crumbs, a tablespoonful of butter ramekins and fill them lightly with the mixture. Bake 10 to 12 minutes.

FISH PASTIES
Make a good rich pastry, roll it out thin and cut in squares, about four inches square. Prepare the fish—one cupful of it flaked—by adding pepper, salt, a beaten egg, a few capers, a tablespoonful of soft butter, cream to soften slightly, a teaspoonful each of onion juice and flour, place a tablespoonful of the mixture in each square of crust, fold over like turnovers, seal the edges with white of egg, lay in a buttered pan and bake a delicate brown.

FISH SALAD
To two cupfuls of flaked fish add a cupful and a half of minced celery, a tablespoonful each of minced pepper and grated onion and a cucumber peeled, seeded and diced. Add four tablespoonfuls of French dressing that is well seasoned, then enough mayonnaise to lighten the mixture, serve in lettuce leaves garnished with finely shredded red pepper.

BOSTON BAKED
Spread the bottom of a small buttered baking dish with mashed potato. Take a cupful of flaked fish and add to it a beaten egg, pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of sugar, a few drops of onion juice, a little cream to soften and spread over the potato. Cover with another thin layer of potato, dot the dish gets heated through, then uncover and cook until nicely browned. If there is enough sauce left over fold the fish in it and then add only the needed dry seasoning.

FISH PEPPERS
Cut large peppers in halves lengthwise, removing the seed cones, then wash them inside and out. Add to a cupful of flaked fish one cupful of well made cream sauce, a quarter of a cupful of dry crumbs, a tablespoonful of butter ramekins and fill them lightly with the mixture. Bake 10 to 12 minutes.

FISH SOUFFLE
Take two cupfuls of flaked white fish, two cupfuls of thick cream sauce, a beaten egg, a few capers, a tablespoonful of soft butter, cream to soften slightly, a teaspoonful teaspoonful of sugar. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and pour the mixture into a well-buttered deep-pudding-dish. Cover the top with two cupfuls of well-buttered, or oiled crumbs and bake for 10 minutes in a hot oven. This makes a light fluffy dish. Tartar sauce is excellent served with it. Garnish with anchovies and parsley.

Do You Know These Secrets of True Hospitality

Hospitality is a most excellent virtue, though care should be taken that love of too much company does not turn it into a disposition which is disastrous to the purse and the peace of the family. The real friend whose arrival means the addition only of another plate to the family table is a joy. But the guest whose visit means the adding of extra foods and a complete change of daily customs is apt to be a pleasure seldom yearned for in a busy and simple household.

A great deal was demanded of the girl who married in olden times. She was expected to be proficient in her duties instead of acquiring the knowledge after marriage, as is done in modern days. She was required to know how to cook, bake, attend the dairy, distill wines and perfumes, brew, weave, spin, sew, dye and thoroughly understand dressing and preparing textiles for the family wardrobe. She also was prepared to understand the care of barnyard fowls, though she might not perform any of the actual labor in caring for them. The average girl of to-day thinks if she acquires an ordinary education and a few accomplishments that she has done all that can be expected of her.

In Anglo-Saxon days the "nappe" or tablecloth was spread. Then the salt was placed, in a more or less elaborate container, and he who sat above or opposite the salt had the place of honor.

"This matter decided, a small loaf of 'manchet' was placed for each person. Then the fish, flesh or fowl was set on in a trencher, and the carver, whose rule was never to lay more than the thumb and two fingers on the meat to hold it for the knife, 'dis-membered it and each guest took a portion in their fingers and placed it on a piece of their manchet.

A basin and towel were passed before, after and at intervals during the meal in which the guests rinsed their fingers. Under Henry the Eighth manners progressed and food was passed on a broad flat knife, and a wide silver potato-ring was slipped over the plate to keep the potatoes from rolling off the dish. Desserts took the form of sweetmeats or kick-staws and a small table was arranged especially for them with a handsome fruit piece in the centre. So hospitality was practiced without ceremony, when dishes and silver were scarce and even napkins were not in use.

Modern hospitality is quite different and with each meal a guest means extra food, extra dish washing, extra laundry, and unless the guest is worthwhile from all points of view, the hostess should be very discreet in distinguishing her hospitality.

Times have changed, living methods have changed, and the people who live in small homes to-day—houses or apartments—have not the conveniences to entertain that our grandmothers and fathers had. It is too bad that it is so, but such is the case. And that is why with the disappearance of the guest-room, hospitality of the home seems to be disappearing with it.

It is becoming customary to entertain for meals, wedding, and so on. Even funerals are held away from home. Some say it is lack of help. This problem we know is acute. Others say it is lack of room. But those who say it is expensive to have company hit the nail most surely on the head. It is expensive to have guests because we have lost the art of simplicity, which is real hospitality.

If we turn backward and simplify our tables in service and in food provision we might still save the day. We need not go as far back as the trencher and the taking of food in our fingers. But we can have simple, old-fashioned meals, where a main dish

Mrs. Robichaud Finds Relief From Distressing Digestive Troubles in Dreco, the Famous Herbal Remedy.

Again has Dreco proved its value as a tonic and regulator for ailing digestive systems, by restoring Mrs. Edie Robichaud, of Woodstock Road, Fredericton, N. B., to health. Mrs. Robichaud's troubles were all traceable to the organs of digestion for which Dreco is especially prepared.

"Dreco relieved me when I had abandoned all hope of ever recovering my health," says Mrs. Robichaud. "I suffered terribly with dyspepsia. I had it for years and all the medicines which I took did not do me any good. I read about Dreco being good for all stomach troubles and disorders of digestion, so I gave it a trial.

"After taking three bottles of Dreco, I was entirely relieved of the dyspepsia, and my general health was restored. I cannot praise Dreco too highly for the wonderful help I got from it. I had a very poor appetite and was very restless and nervous at night and before taking Dreco I was unable to eat meat. I suffered terribly with heartburn and water brash. But my health has been completely restored after taking three bottles of this splendid medicine.

One secret of Dreco's effectiveness is that it is all the scientific skill with which it is a compound has been directed towards one object only—the production of reliable tonic and corrective for digestive troubles. This Dreco is undoubtedly is, as every user testifies. Dreco is prepared from roots, herbs, bark and leaves, whose medicinal value has been established for years. It contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs and may be taken with safety and certainty of result.

"Dreco is being especially introduced in Campbellton by Wran's Drug Store and is sold by good druggists everywhere.

It is too bad that it is so, but such is the case. And that is why with the disappearance of the guest-room, hospitality of the home seems to be disappearing with it.

It is becoming customary to entertain for meals, wedding, and so on. Even funerals are held away from home. Some say it is lack of help. This problem we know is acute. Others say it is lack of room. But those who say it is expensive to have company hit the nail most surely on the head. It is expensive to have guests because we have lost the art of simplicity, which is real hospitality.

If we turn backward and simplify our tables in service and in food provision we might still save the day. We need not go as far back as the trencher and the taking of food in our fingers. But we can have simple, old-fashioned meals, where a main dish

WILL CO-OPERATE TO FIGHT FIRES

Quebec and Maine Will Join Forces in Fighting Forest Fires.

Augusta, Maine, May 26.—For the first time forest fire wardens of Maine and the Province of Quebec will co-operate this season in fighting fires near the boundary line. Arrangements have been made whereby in case of fire Maine wardens can cross the line and act with authority, and wardens from Quebec can do the same in Maine. Several of the chief wardens in Quebec and a number of wardens in the Province have been given appointments as special wardens in this State.

Maine forestry officials are pleased with this spirit of co-operation and see in it a big boon for forest protection. Its value can be seen from the fact that several of the largest fires in Maine last season came from across the boundary line.

All that time Maine wardens were unable to act with authority in the work of extinguishing the flames before they reached Maine territory. Rain and cold weather minimized the danger of fire in the woods this spring and they are just beginning to dry out, increasing the number of watchmen and Commissioner Dana is gradually increasing the maximum force will be reached early in June.

DALHOUSIE GIRL IS FAMOUS MODEL

At Eighteen, Miss Erminie Gagnon Is New York's Favorite Model.

Miss Erminie Gagnon was born in 1904 at Dalhousie, N. B. At the age of thirteen she was in a convent at Three Rivers, P. Q. A eighteen she is the most sought after model in New York, and well on her way to becoming a famous movie star. Her late father carried on a lumber business in Bonaventure County. Shortly after Erminie Gagnon's birth the family returned to Quebec. An American magazine contains a very interesting article about the young girl, who is remembered here as a child. Many readers of the Graphic will be glad to read the article, which was written by Courtney Savage.

"An artist whose name is nationally known for his pictures, the out of doors was talking over the telephone to a fellow craftsman.

"By the way," he switched their conversation abruptly. "I need a model, a good model, you know a lot of girls, can't you send me one?"

The man at the other end of the wire said he could. "I need a fresh and blooded girl, somebody inspirational, not one of those darn skinny flappers" was the artist's further comment. "I want a girl who knows many models understand exactly the type required. That was why he sent Erminie Gagnon, the beautiful little Canadian girl, who stormed the studios of New York City at fifteen, and who has, in three short years, laid a foundation for a remarkable success through her ability to inspire the greatest artists of North America as we posed for them.

It was at the request of the editor of the new magazine that I sought out this young Canadian girl who had never been marked in art circles in New York.

I found her a tiny slip of a girl with big startled eyes, a shock of dark hair in which the red soil of coppery plaited and a complexion that makes one think of country lanes. As she discovered how she had found life in the studios to me she seemed lost in the depths of a big leather chair.

"It's all more or less of an adventure," said Miss Erminie Gagnon, "but she lifted the small something that you can take an adventure in two ways—either it's real, something that counts, or else it's a haphazard hour spent in hoping that you'll have a good time. Of course, if you're only out for a good time you don't get very far." Then, after half a minute of retrospection. "Of course, I'm out to earn my living and to get in the world. And I know that if I work hard I'll be a success."

Which, though after all, is a pretty good foundation for a career, no matter if one plans to be a diplomat, successful business man or an artist's model, the career chosen by petite Erminie.

Erminie Gagnon was born in Dalhousie, N. B., in 1904, her father owned timber concessions and sawmills. Shortly after her birth the family returned to Quebec to establish a permanent home and here the little girl grew up amid the contrasts of the city that is both old and new. Her grandfather was Commodore J. P. Gregory, of the Department of Marine of Quebec, while her father's family still clung to the customs of the 17th century, so the child saw both the stately dignity of the military life and the romance of the more courtly days.

When it became time for her to be sent to school her family chose the Ursuline Convent at Three Rivers, and there she stayed until she graduated at fifteen, a rather timid little girl who was frightened by the world, and who confesses that she often thought of becoming a nun. Fate, however, was waiting to deal a different card.

"I know it seems a long way from the convent to the studios of the great artists," she laughed, "and it really came about because—well, because I read a motion picture magazine."

"The inference that leaps into one's mind, of course, is that the little convent girl became stage, actress, and became a model instead. But as the song says, 'It was not like that at all.'"

The motion picture magazine that attracted the particular attention of Erminie Gagnon was one that spurned pageantry, touting of the beauty and success of reigning stars of the silver sheet, and suggesting to pretty little girls in far away towns that they, too, might become famous. At length they could send their photographs to the contest editor, who would judge of their beauty. Erminie Gagnon at once decided to try her luck.

She sojourne'd to the city! And that city received her—not with open arms, but with a smile of approval. Her beauty was a beauty prize, which was to carry with it the promise of a place in a motion picture, and the publicity that comes to a motion picture beauty. Little fifteen year old Erminie telegraphed the news back home, and then settled herself to wait for the hour when they would hail her as a picture queen, waited, waited, waited.

(To be continued next week.)

Young Lady Had A Narrow Escape From Poisoning

About twenty young people held a Picnic on the Loch Arna grounds on Victoria Day. One of the amusements during the day was a walk on the beach, the digging and eating of clams. A young lad picked some mussels and handed them to a young lady, who thinking them to be a species of clams, ate several and became so ill that she was rushed to her home in an automobile, and the services of a doctor called. Doctor Disbrow responded quickly and treated what might have been a serious case if not attended to in time.

Goods Things Coming to Our Theatres

During the month of June, two important performances will take place in Dalhousie. The object is to raise funds, in aid of the two Campbellton hospitals.

It has been finally arranged that the Lyric Dramatic Club of Campbellton, will present the well known comedy "A Pair of Sixes" at the Convent Hall, Dalhousie on Monday evening, June 4th. The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Campbellton.

On Thursday evening, June 14th, an entertainment under the able direction of Mrs. S. L. T. Clifford, will be held in the Star Theatre, Dalhousie.

The proceeds to go towards assisting the Soldiers Memorial Hospital. Your correspondent predicts crowded houses in both cases. The people appreciate the splendid work that is being done in the two hospitals, during these days of terrible sickness and frightful accidents.

The Hotel Dieu Hospital was established many years ago by noble women, nuns of the Hotel Dieu Order, and a great work has been done in Campbellton by that institution.

"The Soldiers Memorial Hospital, recently built as a monument to the soldier boys of the course of Restigouche, Bonaventure and Gaspe, who died in France and Flanders, to save the empire and civilization. The people should not forget their heroes. Let us by our acts show our admiration and respect, and let our sympathy go forth to the sick and injured, by encouraging the able medical men, the devoted nurses, the unflinching and courteous nurses, who give of their best talent and industry in our two hospitals for the relief of mankind.

New York boxing experts are impressed with Eugene Criqui, European featherweight champion, who will attempt to take the world's title of the division away from Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, at the Polo Grounds, June 3. Madame Criqui, a striking brunette, overlooks her husband's training ring with frequent voluble outbursts in her native tongue between puffs of a cigarette.

Two Teams of Dalhousie Baseball Club Met on Victoria Day.

The Dalhousie Baseball Club opened its season's activities on Victoria Day with an exhibition game on the diamond here. The contesting teams were the Diamond H. nine and a picked team of town players. The result was a 10-5 victory for the former squad.

The game, although not very closely contested, was interesting throughout. After the long winter of inactivity the players were naturally not up to their best form but put up a very engaging match. Some heavy slugging added to the interest at times and several neat plays were pulled off by both the outfielders and the men at the sacks.

Mr. G. E. Scott refereed the game to the satisfaction of all. Although a small event of its kind, the Victoria Day game gives ample promise of a good summer in baseball.

From all appearances the league series will soon be in full swing, and it is hoped that the Club may be able to secure a team from Campbellton for an exhibition game here on July 2nd.

Club officials are thankful to have got such an early and auspicious start and are also grateful for the many manifestations of interest on the part of our merchants and citizens generally.

DALHOUSIE GRAPHIC HAS WIDE APPEAL

Readers of The Graphic in Various Districts Express Their Interest.

According to the comment we have managed to elicit from readers of the Graphic in various parts of the country in a recent issue, recently inaugurated, is regarded as a notable feature to your paper. Many subscribers, in speaking of the new feature have been quite enthusiastic and have handed out some flattering remarks. A former resident of this country, now living in the West, who had made numerous acquaintances in the shiretown, wrote that he often wished that the Graphic would pay more attention to Dalhousie news and declared the "Dalhousie Graphic" met with his hearty approval.

He also stated that he felt there must be many more readers in different parts of the Dominion and in the States who felt as he did and sided that the incorporation of the Dalhousie page was a progressive step in the right direction which would doubtless meet with approval everywhere and which, incidentally, should tend to increase the circulation of the paper.

"As for the Graphic itself," he continued, "it is doubtless one of the best weekly papers in the maritime provinces and in some respects is, I believe, the leading weekly in New Brunswick."

"In conclusion I feel impelled to say that the inauguration of the Dalhousie page is something that the people of the shiretown should take advantage of for it is an opportunity to advertise the town and keep it before the provincial eye which could not be secured through any other medium. I feel no hesitation in saying that the citizens of the town should co-operate heartily in making the Dalhousie Graphic a success. There is no doubt but what their efforts would be amply repaid."

BRITISH EMBARGO WILL AFFECT PRICES HERE

Montreal, May 22.—The raising of the embargo on Canadian cattle in England is having an adverse reflection here, where the price of meat has been increased two cents—and in some cases four cents—a pound. The reason given is that the supplying of the English market has had the corresponding effect of decreasing the available supply for the Canadian domestic market with the result noted. Whether the increase will be temporary or permanent, local wholesalers do not at the moment indicate.

No Reason Why This Should Not Be Undertaken—Young People Enthusiastic. LINKING CANADA AND THE STATES. THE automobile has become a national institution for transcontinental touring and in United States five million persons last year are recorded as having whirled from one national park to another. Boston to the Pacific Coast by motor is getting to be as casual as train travel. With a camp outfit tied to the run-down motor, the motorist is able to dress in their sport clothes, take care to the open and cook over a camp fire, or as is the case throughout the West, over specially built camp stoves established in the open places. Rustic camps are also placed in most of the national parks where motorists may rest for a few days or weeks in cabins rented at a moderate price and within a short walk of a community house and dining room. The Canadian Pacific Rockies are this year to be opened to all such motor tourists, for the Canadian Government in co-operation with the Canadian Pacific Railway, has completed the West-Whitewater automobile road which throws open the West-Whitewater automobile road to motorists. Bungalow camps are being planned at convenient and beautiful places to accommodate just such travel in addition to the regular travel which comes by rail. The new road will be formally opened on June 30th and will permit the whole idea of motor travel up and down the Pacific Coast to travel from San Diego to Portland, at home, pay the motor tourist.
