59TH YEAR. NO. 23430 | LONDON, ONTARIO, FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1922. | PRICE, THREE CENTS

AGAIN ATTACK FOUR COURTS IN DUBLIN

WAY CONVICTED OF ASSAULT ON GORDON WRIGHT

Magistrate Graydon Refers to Case As Unfortunate Affair.

NO PENALTY FIXED

Court Decides To Wait and See If Restitution Made.

"I think it is very unfortunate that two men of your prominence should come here with a matter of this kind," declared Magistrate Graydon, when he convicted Thomas Way, of Elmwood avenue, of committing an assault, occasioning bodily harm, on Gordon Wright, of Ridout street, in police court this morning.

No penalty was fixed, the court deciding to let this phase of the question stand for several days to see whether Way would make restitution.

According to Wright, Way stopped him when he picked some pears on property which the complainant claimed he owned.

"He told me to put down the baskets, and that I had no right on the property," declared Wright. "Then he became very abusive. I went back to pick some more pears to show him that I owned the property. I heard a woman calling, 'Put that down. Don't take that. Set the dog on him.'"

"Way knocked the basket from my hand as I was picking the pears. When I turned around he hit me on the head with a hoe, causing a wound which required three stitches to close. He kept on chopping at me, assuring me that he would brain me. Then he got me by the throat. I was reaching for his. I got my thumb on his windpipe and his grip loosened.

"I was bleeding profusely. Then Mr. Farr came and said: 'Let him up.' I instructed Mr. Farr to disarm him. Mr. Farr then took the hoe. We had been struggling for possession of it."

The clothes which Mr. Wright wore on the day of the assault were produced. They were covered with blood.

"I didn't dream he would use anything other than verbal artillery," Wright explained.

Mr. Wright declared he did not have his cane with him in the orchard, but had left it and the pears he had previously picked on the street, in charge of a boy.

Walter Weston, 9 years old, corroborated this statement.

Mrs. Wright denied she had ever allowed Way to use the lot and pick the fruit this year. On the contrary, she stated, she had ordered Way to keep off the lot. She denied that when he bought the house and property adjoining the lot that she had given him permission to use the lot and that this was part of the agreement of sale. She admitted Way had been allowed to cultivate the lot two years, but added that he had planted vegetables on it this year, despite her orders forbidding him. Later she had told him he could gather the crops, but at his own risk. She had forbidden him, however, to pick any fruit.

Way declared he had cultivated the land for three years, and picked the fruit for two years. He declared the arrangements made three years ago had not been terminated. There had been a dispute about the matter, but it had been left an open question, he remarked.

Mr. Wright carried a cane into the orchard, he testified. It was in warding off a blow from the cane that he hit the complainant, he claimed. Way declared he intended to hit Wright on the hand. He regretted blood had been spilled, claiming he would sooner lose all the pears than have such an unfortunate affair happen. Mr. Wright used profane language, he asserted, and called him a "squatter."

John Farr declared Wright had a cane in his hand when he stopped the battle.

Seeks Reciprocal Treaty With Canada

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(Canadian Press cable). — The ministry of customs of Victoria, Australia, has asked the tariff board for a prepared schedule of items on which to form the basis of a reciprocal trade treaty with Canada, according to a Reuter dispatch from Melbourne. It is understood that Canada is drawing up a similar schedule.

APPOINTS PINE LAWN ARBITER

London Housing Commission Chooses Building Inspector of Sarnia.

Will Notify Contractors and Ask Them to Submit Representative.

F. Walton, building inspector for the city of Sarnia, has been appointed to represent the London Housing Commission as an arbitrator on the board, which will decide the controversy between that body and Hayman & Willis, contractors, over repairs to roofs of dwellings erected on the Pine Lawn survey.

Building Inspector Walton was appointed at a special meeting of the housing commission, held for that purpose Friday afternoon, and he has consented to act.

In moving that Mr. Walton be appointed arbitrator, Commissioner D. J. Tallant pointed out that he was not acquainted with the inspector, but that his civic position in Sarnia was a guarantee of his integrity and efficiency.

"He is no contractor with an axe to grind," declared Mr. Tallant, "but is independent, being paid by the city. He will, therefore, deal fairly with Hayman and Willis, the contractors, and the commission which he will represent. He has consented to act if appointed."

Commissioner J. W. Cunliffe seconded the motion. E. R. Dennis, who intended to submit a name as arbitrator, was absent from the meeting.

The contractors will be notified of the appointment of Inspector Walton, by G. N. Weekes, solicitor for the commission, and within two days of notification must appoint their arbitrator. The two arbitrators will decide upon a third man as chairman, and the new body will then decide on the defects in Pine Lawn houses erected by the contractors, and will direct whoever is responsible to remedy them. The board of arbitration is expected to get under way next week.

FEAR THAT MINERS WILL NOT BE RESCUED ALIVE

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 1.—Fear that rescue crews would pierce the depths of the Argonaut mine too late to save 47 entombed miners was growing this morning on the fifth day of the task of tunneling through several hundred feet of rock and earth. Officials agreed that the workings could not be penetrated before next week.

FRENCH CABINET STAYS DECISION ON REPARATIONS

Members Neither Approve or Disapprove of Agreement Reached.

EXPECT INDEMNITY CUT

Look For Conference On Cancellation of Inter-Allied Debts.

Paris, Sept. 1—The French cabinet today simply "took cognizance" of the decision of the reparations commission on the German moratorium question, neither approving nor disapproving it. It specifically reserved, however, "entire liberty of action" in case later developments made other action necessary.

Premier Poincare was won over to the settlement yesterday only after the very definite statement had been circulated in allied circles that independent action by France against Germany at the present juncture would be construed in London and Rome as nullification of the treaty of Versailles. Consequently, no doubt was felt this morning that the cabinet would, although perhaps reluctantly, indorse the commission's resolution.

Between Berlin and Brussels.

The first effect of the decision is to take the reparations question out of the hands of the commission for the present and to make it a matter for negotiation directly between the Berlin and Brussels governments. Belgium is left to determine what guarantees she deems necessary to acceptance of the short term notes.

Should the two countries fail to agree on the necessary guarantees, Germany then is required to deposit an unfixed sum of gold with some foreign bank approved by Belgium. It is believed, however, that a speedy agreement will be reached, as Herr Schrowder, the German spokesman, yesterday virtually promised M. Delacroix, the Belgian representative, that Germany would give any guarantees demanded.

The decision also anticipated an allied conference in the near future, at which a reduction of the indemnity to about 50,000,000,000 gold marks, and the settlement by cancellation of the inter-allied debts will be considered.

Consider Moratorium.

The reparations commission promises to consider at a later date Germany's request for a moratorium of several years' duration. This will be taken up after a new scheme for radical reform of Germany's finances, including the balancing of the budget, is presented to the Berlin government.

The relief granted at the present time is for the purpose of giving the commission time in which to complete the new scheme of reform and Germany opportunity of carrying it out.

The manner in which the decision was arrived at was dramatic. M. Dubois, the French representative, and president of the commission, held up the meeting for an hour and a half while he pleaded with Premier Poincare to accept the compromise, and thereby preserve against Germany the united front of the entente.

He returned to the meeting on the run, and when he breathlessly announced that the French accept, the members of the commission restrained a cheer with the greatest difficulty and immediately took their unanimous decision.

Approved Plan.

Mr. Lloyd George is also believed to have approved the pain over the telephone only a few moments before the decision was announced, and the Italian and Belgian delegates are known to have been in telephonic

ELECTROCUTED WHILE WORKING

Warren P. Brooks of Brooks Brothers Touched Live Wire.

Coroner Wilson, Holding Death Accidental, Decides No Inquest Necessary.

While oiling the motor of an electric saw at Brooks Bros.' coal and wood yard, at Adelaide street and the Grand Trunk tracks, about 10 o'clock Friday morning, Warren P. Brooks, a member of the firm, who resided at 767 King street, accidentally touched a live wire and was electrocuted. He was working alone at the time.

Dr. James Cameron Wilson, coroner, who was called to the scene, states that there were no eyewitnesses to the tragedy, and that there was no mark of a burn on any portion of Mr. Brooks' body to indicate where he came in contact with the wire.

Coroner Wilson decided that the tragedy was accidental, and therefore no inquest was necessary. It is stated that Mr. Brooks possessed a weak heart, and that the shock from the wire, while not sufficient to kill a man in perfect health, caused his death.

According to persons familiar with the saw at the wood yard, Mr. Brooks, prior to attempting to oil the machinery threw off the electric switch, but in some manner the wire grounded, and the fatal accident resulted. The saw is operated by a 2½-horsepower motor, supplied by an ordinary house-lighting wire and electric current.

Mr. Brooks was 35 years old, and was well and favorably known in London, as a citizen of the best type, possessing a pleasant personality. He numbered a host of friends, to whom news of his death wil be received with much regret. In addition to his widow, Mrs. Eva Brooks, he is survived by four children: William, the eldest, 14 years old; Bert, Jean, and a baby, Teddy, 2 years old.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. B. L. Harrington, Former London Woman, Injured Near Flint, Michigan.

Car Turns Turtle When Attempting To Pass Roadster.

Two people were killed and two others, one of them a former Londoner, seriously injured in an automobile accident which occured at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon between Flint and East Jordan in the state of Michigan.

Mrs. B. L. Harrington, 517 E. Third street, Flint, formerly Miss Alma Gruber of London and a sister of Mrs. H. Burch, Elias street, was seriously injured and her husband, Burton L. Harrington, killed instantly.

Mrs. J. H. Hendricks was also killed, being dead when taken from the car by the people following. The deceased is the wife of Joseph H. Hendricks, who was driving the car at the time of the accident, and who was injured and in a very serious condition, suffering from five ribs being broken and possible internal injuries.

The two couples were returning from East Jordon, Mich., in the Hendricks' automobile, where they had gone together annually for the past seven years. Mr. Hendricks was at the wheel at the time of the accident.

He was attempting to pass a roadster, which was ahead. Several times he attempted to pass the car, but in each instance the driver of the smaller machine speeded up. Hendricks signalled the driver ahead that he intended to pass, and as he drew up alongside the smaller machine darted ahead, forcing Hendricks to the left side of the road, where the car struck a rock, breaking the left wheel.

The car turned over in the ditch, struck a concrete abutment and turned over twice more. The roadster speeded ahead, leaving the dead and injured in the wrecked car.

Mrs. Florence Hendricks was born in Sheridan Township, Michigan, on May 24, 1885. She is survived by her husband, who is in a serious condition at Hurley Hospital, her parents, six sisters and three brothers.

B. L. Harrington was born in Blissfield, Mich., June 10, 1873. He is survived by his mother, two brothers, two sisters and his wife.

BRITISH CONSERVATIVES PREDICT COALITION'S END

Lord Salisbury and Arthur Henderson Hold That General Election Cannot Be Long Delayed.

London, Sept. 1.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Two pronouncements heralding the opening of the political campaign in view of the next election, have appeared from the opposite camps.

The first pronouncement has come from Lord Salisbury to the Unionist clubs throughout the country, in which he says: "We have good news from all parts of England and Wales. The feeling against the coalition is general, and our friends are beginning to see that with a little effort the Conservative party can, in the next parliament, regain its freedom. Fight for clean politics and Conservative principles."

The second was in a speech made by Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, secretary of the Labor party, predicting that the election could not be long delayed, and declaring that whether it came this autumn or early next year, it would be a most momentous election.

REPORT HON. J. A. STUART TO BE IN SERIOUS STATE

Montreal, Sept. 1.—The condition of Hon. J. A. Stuart, former minister of railways, seriously ill in the Royal Victoria Hospital here, was reported unchanged at an early hour this morning. TRANSFERS OF PROPERTY LAST MONTH HEAVY

REAL ESTATE BOOMS

Majority of Transfers Registered Are in Residential Districts.

Totaling more than three times the figures of August, 1921, property transfers in London last month registered an aggregate of $865,849. The figures for August of last year were $267,846. A total of 117 realty transfers were made in London during August of this year, in contrast to 95 in the same month in 1921.

The largest transfer during the month was that of the sale of the Carling Brewery and premises, on Talbot street, near Piccadilly street, by the Carling Brewing and Malting Company to the Carling Export Brewing and Malting Company, Limited, for $447,911.13.

Other larger transfers include the sale of the Merchants Bank building, at Talbot and King streets, to Cecil Mann, for $11,000; sale of a residence on Dufferin avenue, near Picton street, by Annie M. Strong to John R. Armstrong for $10,000, and sale of a residence on the east side of Ridout street, near Fullarton street, by the estate of Sarah J. Green to Thomas F. Kingsmill, Junior, for $15,000.

As the majority of the 117 transfers registered are for residences, and do not involve large considerations, this feature is interpreted as a indication that realty is booming in this city, a factor which augurs well for the general prosperity of London.

REPORT TURKS AND GREEKS BATTLING AT TOULOUBUNAR

Reinforcements Being Rushed to Grecian Front to Stop Retreat.

Smyrna, Sept. 1.—The battle in Asia Minor, opened by the Turkish nationalist attack in force on the Greek lines several days ago is still in full swing, according to reports from the front today. Heavy fighting is continuing in the vicinity of Touloubunar, where attacks were made upon the Greeks by large nationalist forces well equipped with heavy artillery and aircraft. In Thursday's official Greek communique, covering the engagement in the Afiun Karahissar region, it was stated that in the Oloudjak Touloubunar sector, the Greeks were falling back, fighting under very strong pressure.

FRANCE TO USE WAR-TIME BREAD

Paris, Sept. 1.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Beginning today, whole wheat bread will replace throughout France the pure white loaves and rolls that since the war have received such a warm welcome back to the French dinner table. This is due directly to the fact that this year's wheat harvest in France is estimated much below the yield of last year, when there was a bumper crop of 88,000,000 quintals. It is feared that before the 1923 wheat crop can be reaped the country will have to buy some 20,000,000 quintals of foreign-grown wheat to meet the requirements of the population.

EXPECT TROOPS TO LEAVE MINES

Nova Scotia Citizens Sign a Petition Asking Withdrawal of Soldiers.

Miners Vote Three to One in Favor of Accepting Agreement.

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 1.—Requests for the military evacuation of New Aberdeen were signed here this morning by the civil authorities responsible.

It is expected that the troops will move as soon as camp can be broken, and that a majority of the 1,200 soldiers will be en route to the mainland by Saturday night. This morning, for the first time since August 15, some of the colliery whistles blew the customary work signals, although until next Tuesday no one except the maintenance employees will return to the mines. The miners will continue idle until after Labor Day, returning to the pits Tuesday morning.

With all locals heard from, the official result in the Sydney agreement referendum stands as follows:

For the agreement, 7,768; against, 2,920.

Practically complete returns at midnight last night indicated that the miners of Nova Scotia voted about three to one to accept the Sydney wage proposal, negotiated Friday night between representatives of the British Empire Steel Corporation and the miners' officers, and to thereby terminate the general strike which has paralyzed the coal industry of the province for the past seventeen days.

By next Tuesday it is expected the miners will be back in the pits, and nearly all the collieries will be working full blast to catch up on accumulated orders and shipments.

The military evacuation of New Aberdeen will shortly be authorized, and the troops sent to Cape Breton

REBELS ASSAIL GUARDIANS OF FAMOUS RUINS

Reports Again Prevail That Griffith Was Poinsoned.

PHYSICIANS DENY RUMOR

London, England, Sept. 1.—A vigorous attack on the Four Courts Building in Dublin, the scene of Rory O'Connor's stand against the free state troops, was started this morning, according to a dispatch to the Press Association. The message gave no details, but it is assumed here that the rebels are attacking the free state troops guarding the ruins of the building.

Reports that Arthur Griffith was poisoned, circulated in Dublin at the time of his death three weeks ago, have again become prevalent. Inquiry among the physicians who attended the dail president have evoked the categorical statement that he died from natural causes, probably from heart disease.

There is still talk of exhuming the body for examination.

The main line of the Great Southern Railway was blown up last night at Hazel Hatch, ten miles from Dublin, by bands of Irregulars. They destroyed the permanent way by the blast, and burned a signal cabin.

REPARATIONS DECISIONS EFFECT FINANCIAL LONDON

German and French Money Strengthens, While War Loan Securities Improve.

London, Sept. 1. — Although considered only in the nature of a respite, the reparations decision rendered in Paris yesterday had quite a marked effect upon financial London. Quotations on the mark on the foreign exchange market, which yesterday ruled around 7,500 to the pound sterling, ruled 5,700 at noon today. Paris exchange strengthened to 57.50, as against 58.53 yesterday.

A similar effect was experienced on the stock exchange, where repurchases hardened the war loan to 100, while other gilt edge stocks and French bonds showed fractional improvement. Renewed speculation in the oil shares also was induced.

Claim Pension Refused Veteran Judged Insane

COMMISSIONER DEFENDS ACTION.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—A remarkable case of pension being refused to a discharged soldier, wounded in the head in France, and now in an asylum with the mental condition of a boy of 12, according to medical evidence, came today before the royal commission inquiring into the G. W. V. A. charges against the pensions board.

Pension had been refused on the ground that the present condition of the man was not attributable to service, nor had been aggravated on service; and series of questions were levelled on the point how, if his mental condition had not been aggravated, he was ever passed for overseas service.

"Surely," commented Commissioner McKeown, who is himself a physician, "they did not take an idiot into the army?"

Dr. J. W Wickwire, unit medical director, Regina, pressed the point that he did not consider the case pensionable on the ground that there had been no aggravation, although admitting that the present mental condition might have been accelerated.

Evidence today showed that the case had not been submitted to the whole board of pension commissioners, and Commissioner McKeown emphasized that this course should be followed in all such difficult cases.

Body of New-Born Babe Found On Sandwich Beach

NO IDENTIFICATION MARK.

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—The body of a new-born babe was found washed ashore on the Huron Line beach, Sandwich, this morning, at 8:30 o'clock, by Charles Vetor, 364 Victoria street, Sandwich, while gathering wood along the shores of the Detroit River.

The police were immediately notified, and Coroner J. S. Labelle was told. The body bore no marks or clothing to make identification possible. Coroner Labelle stated that in his opinion the child had been in the water about ten days. The body was badly decomposed owing to its lengthy submersion.

That the body was thrown overboard from one of the lake or river boats was another opinion put forth by the coroner. After a formal examination of the remains, Coroner Labelle ordered the body removed to the undertaking parlors of Anderson at Sandwich, where an autopsy will be performed this afternoon.

CABINET FACES BIG PROBLEMS

Will Probably Announce Personnel of New Canadian Railway Board.

Government Leaders Keep Secret Name of Chairman in View.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—(By Canadian Press.)—With the return of the prime minister from Toronto tomorrow morning, the cabinet council will meet for the first time in two weeks, when it is understood there are many important matters to be taken up. One of the questions which is expected to come before the cabinet at tomorrow's meeting is that of the new National Railways board of management.

It is understood that matters have now progressed far enough so that the government is about ready to make its promised announcement as to the personnel of that body. Ordinarily such an announcement would await the return to Ottawa of Hon. W. G. Kennedy, minister of railways and canals, but indications now are that the cabinet will deal with the matter and probably announce the board before Mr. Kennedy is sufficiently recovered to return to his office.

Interest attaches to the name of the probable chairman and executive head, but while the government is understood to have in sight a man for the position, his name remains a secret outside of actual cabinet circles. It is understood that there is no change in plans with regard to the rest of the board, the idea being to have all parts of the country and the different classes given representation.

STAYS DECISION ON REPARATIONS

communication with their capitals during the late afternoon. Thus the decision came primarily from the very seats of the entente governments.

The opponents of the government give free rein to their wit. l'Oeuvre Poincare's most relentless critic, says that, translated into non-diplomatic language, the decision can be summarized thus: "First, Germany cannot pay; second, we will postpone proclaiming her insolvent until the day when she has made herself solvent; third, in lieu of a moratorium we grant a delay of six months for paying all.

"This is more touching than ridiculous."

In a statement to the press, M. Dubois declares the solution pledges the guarantees which the French government demanded, and is bound to have an assuaging effect.

The French cabinet has held that inasmuch as no moratorium had been granted Germany it could only "recognize" the situation, but it insisted that a conference should be called, attended by all the allies without exception, at which the questions of inter-allied debts and reparations should be fully considered.

RAILWAY IMPROVES WOODSTOCK YARDS

Grand Trunk Installs Foot Bridges At Crossings Leading To Station.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, August 31. — The Grand Trunk Railway Company has been making various improvements to the local yards and crossings. New steel foot bridges have been added to the Wellington and Bay st. bridges leading to the station and tarvia macadam approaches are now to be installed at the bridges both to and from the station.

Similar crossings are to be laid on three other roads where the G. T. R. crosses in the city. The company is also erecting a new interlocker two hundred yards east of the station which will greatly facilitate the operation of the yard switches and the clearing of freight and passenger trains.

The outstanding success of the horticultural society's show is likely now to lead to the formation of a "Gladioli Club." The exhibits of gladioli at the show far surpassed anything ever attempted in this city both in number, variety and wealth of coloring. The club will be launched under most favorable auspices.

REUNION CLOSES AT TILLSONBURG

Special to London Advertiser.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 31. — The closing day of the old boys' reunion and jubilee brought forth a wonderful surprise in the matter of attendance and entertainment and the three days' attendance, it is estimated, has easily passed the 20,000 mark, a record for the town.

Excellent music was furnished by the Galt Kiltie Band and the Guelph Jazz Band, while the Great Empire Shows were well patronized and will lengthen their engagement until Saturday evening.

The balloon ascensions and airplane flights drew large crowds and the only serious accident happened this afternoon when Mr. George Walsh of London, formerly of Tillsonburg received a severe bruising when Alvin Merrill, the horse he was driving in the 2:17 pace, fell into the fence and two other horses piled in on top of him.

The horse received a broken hip and is injured internally and will have to be shot. Mr. Walsh was removed to Dr. Weston's office where his injuries were attended to and he was able to go home. There were eight horses in this event, and after five heats could not be decided, so the judges decided that Alfred Elko, owned by J. Bailey, Toronto, and Della Unko, owned by M. Pearce, Bothwell, would have to run for first and second money, Alfred Elko winning by a head.

The results:

RAILMEN STATE CASE TO BOARD

Expect Decision On 48c Per Hour Minimum Wage in Two Weeks.

U. S. Attorney-General Files Injunction Suit Against Strikers.

BULLETIN.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The United States government today was granted a temporary restraining order against the six striking railroad shop crafts unions, their officials and members, from interfering in any way with the operation of the railroads and their properties. The order will remain in force until September 11, pending hearing on the government's application for a permanent writ of injunction.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Spokesmen for the 105 railroads involved in the hearing of the petition of 400,000 maintenance of way men for a minimum wage of 48 cents an hour, had their turn before the United States Railroad Labor Board today. The board is expected to hand down its decision in the case within the next two weeks.

The trackmen finished their presentations yesterday. The carriers expected to complete their side of the case during the day.

Suit for an injunction against all striking employees of the railroads of the United States and their union officials was filed in United States district court by Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty here today.

The suit was filed shortly after the arrival of Attorney-General Daugherty in Chicago this morning. The plea for injunction named the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, the six striking shop crafts and 120 system federations. The suit seeks to restrain all strikers from interfering in any way with the operation of the railroads. It was filed before United States District Judge Wilkerson.

Besides the railway employees' department, the six international unions—International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, International Association of Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, International Machinists, International Electric Workers, as well as 120 system federations, were named as the objects of the injunction.

SECURE 270 CORDS OF WOOD AT GALT

Authorities Take No Action To Secure Coal For Winter.

Special to London Advertiser.

GALT, Aug. 31.—While the civic authorities have done nothing so far to get a supply of coal for the city this winter, all are hoping that the strike will be settled shortly. The fuel committee has secured 270 of the 500 cords of wood it was authorized to purchase, and is negotiating for the balance of the quantity.

Galt Council K. of C. presented three scholarships of $10 each to the separate school pupils of Galt, Preston and Hespeler attaining the highest marks at the entrance examinations.

The winners were Helen Finn, Galt; Master Fisher, Preston, and Genevieve Mallick of Hespeler.

Having suffered a loss on their field day of sports on July 1, the local veterans have accepted the offer of the H. L. I. of C. Band to give a concert to help raise funds for them.

To date Galt has done nothing towards erecting a war memorial, but since 1918 a number of times a memorial bridge across the Grand River at Main street has been talked of, and now Dr. Soper, in a letter published today, comes out with another suggestion. An appeal to the citizens to subscribe $30,000 to acquire the Scott's Opera House property and a lot at the rear of it, which he would have taken in as an extension of Queen's Square Park, and rename it Memorial Park.

He has secured an option for the amount mentioned, and says he knows of a citizen who is willing to contribute $1,000 towards the scheme.

ORGANIZE SOFT-BALL LEAGUE

Special to London Advertiser.

BOTHWELL, Aug. 31.—The local churches have organized a softball league; games are played by different churches each night. The standing of the churches to date are: Latter Day Saints 12 and Presbyterians 10, Methodists defeated Baptists 11—2; Roman Catholics badly defeated Latter Day Saints 11—2; Catholics and Methodists played a tie game 7—7; the Anglicans defeated the Presbyterians 25—9.

Wednesday night the Catholics and Baptists met and the former beat the latter 11—2. So far the Catholics head the league. Father McCarthy is proving a splendid pitcher.

The captains of the teams are: Presbyterian, B. Hankinson; Catholics, Howard Crotly; Baptists, George Brandie; Latter Day Saints, J. Dent; Methodist, F. Beamish; Anglicans, P. Johnston.

No surcharge will be collected on international business, either freight or passenger.

Urges Use of Substitutes For Hard Coal During Autumn Months.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—"Make your preparations for substitutes for hard coal until the middle of December," urged J. A. Ellis, Ontario fuel controller, today, when he addressed the Ontario Municipal Association on the fuel situation. "If you get hard coal keep it for the hard part of the winter.

Mr. Ellis placed the probable hard coal shortage at 33 per cent.

"The shortage may be taken for granted," said Mr. Ellis. "It follows, therefore, that there must be substitutes. Whose duty is it to obtain them? The fuel dealers, I should say.

"My advice to municipalities is to meet the dealers. If the dealers are unwilling to handle the situation, then the municipalities must go in for themselves."

WILL SET PRICE OF COAL IF NECESSARY

J. A. Ellis Addresses Ontario Municipal Association At Annual Convention.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—J. A. Ellis, Ontario fuel controller, addressing the Ontario Municipal Association at its annual convention here today, said he had power to fix coal prices, and would not hesitate to use his power if the need arose.

"Gentlemen," he said, "if you know any case where action is necessary let me know."

In answer to a question as to what he would do if a dealer were to refuse to produce his coal vouchers for the controller's inspection, he replied: "I would fix a maximum price and make him sell at that."

Mr. Ellis urged everybody to be frugal in the matter of fuel, to use wood in the fall and spring and save hard coal for the winter.

"Hard coal has become a habit with us," the controller said. He intimated that the approaching season would be a good time to break away from that habit.

NEWSPAPERMEN GATHER AT FAIR

Stage Annual Press Day at Toronto Exhibition.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Today is press day at the Canadian National Exhibition and newspapermen from all parts of Canada are the guests of the officials of the fair. It is estimated that hundreds of editors of both daily and weekly papers throughout the province and various parts of Canada will take possession of the grounds today. There will also be present scores of the staffs and executives of the numerous Canadian Periodicals.

This annual honoring of the press is one manner in which the exhibition endeavors to express its appreciation of the work and support given the exhibition by the press.

The program for the day is replete with new activities. Throughout the morning the members of "the fourth estate" will register at the press bureau on the grounds. In past years the annual registration has been in the neighborhood of 200 and a good deal of rivalry has been noticed as to who would be the first to register.

At 1 o'clock the pressmen will be dined at the directors' luncheon.

Owing to a recent illness, Hon. George P. Graham will not be able to speak at the dinner, so that the speaker will be Hon. T. A. Low, minister without portfolio in the King cabinet. Officials of the various newspaper associations and organizations will also speak.

FIRE BURNS RACEHORSE IN COLLINGWOOD STABLE

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 31. — At 1 o'clock this afternoon a fire broke out in the stables of the Arlington Hotel, which were damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars. Fifteen to twenty horses belonging to visiting farmers were rescued, but the racing mare, Ally Brino, owned by Oliver Allison, also one cow and a number of pigs were destroyed. The loss on the building, which is owned by U. Muller, is partially covered by insurance.

At 6 o'clock this evening fire broke out in the upper story of the office of the Enterprise Printing Company. Before it was extinguished a considerable quantity of the stock of paper was destroyed. Some damage was done to two presses and to some type by water. The loss is covered by insurance.

ATHENS PANIC-STRICKEN AT ADVANCE OF TURKS

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The latest reports received here from the Near East on the military situation declare Athens is panic-stricken as a result of the victorious advance of the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor, the Turks having taken Mount Ushak, towards which the Greeks retreated after the loss of Afiumkarahissar, it is declared. In Athens a demand is being made for a change of the generals in command, the cry being for the restoration of Generals Papoulas and Dousmanis.

The French foreign office considers the situation a pressing reason for the hastening of the Venice conference for the settlement of the Near Eastern difficulties.

URGES CARE IN APPLE PACKING

William Noxon, Ontario Agent General at London, Gives Farmers Advice.

Declares Britain Is Prepared to Buy Foodstuffs From Province.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—William Noxon, agent general at London for the province of Ontario, reached the city yesterday to confer with the government concerning the advancement of Ontario's interests in Britain. Mr. Noxon has come prepared to offer a number of recommendations to the government as the result of trade investigations carried on by his London office.

It is believed that through the department of agriculture, Mr. Noxon will urge upon the fruit growers of Ontario the vital necessity of bettering their packing and marketing methods, if they are to compete in the British market.

Britain, said Mr. Noxon, was out to purchase large quantities of foodstuffs—natural products of the soil—from Ontario, and to give the province generous treatment.

But successful trading with Britain, he added, could not be counted upon unless, as in any business, quality and price were favorable. The agent general predicted considerable activity in Canadian apples in Britain.

Generally speaking, said Mr. Noxon financial and industrial conditions were on the upgrade in Britain. Although the country was still in the throes of post-war depression, he saw light ahead and, with the lifting clouds, increasing opportunities for the development of provincial trade under very favorable conditions.

THORNDALE WOMEN VISIT KINTORE W. I.

Give Splendid Program of Address and Musical Numbers.

Special to London Advertiser.

THORNDALE, Aug. 31. — The Thorndale Women's Institute visited Kintore Institute on Wednesday afternoon and rendered the program. There were over 150 women present, and the meeting was opened by Mrs. MacDonald of Kintore. The minutes of the last meeting were given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Armstrong, after which Mrs. Skelton gave an address of welcome to the Thorndale branch.

The program was then placed in charge of the Thorndale president, Mrs. Bolton Fitzgerald. Mrs. J. K. Fitzsimmons gave a splendid talk on "Pictures in the Home," in which she depicted the value of a proper selection as an influence upon the whole family life.

A topic on "What Gold Cannot Buy" was very ably taken by Miss Florence Harrison.

An interesting musical program was rendered and consisted of the following numbers: Vocal solos, Miss Jessie Brown, Miss Verna L. Angus and Miss Myrtle Bilyea; piano solos, Mrs. G. B. Vining and Miss Marion Logan; duet, Mrs. B. Fitzgerald and Miss Myrtle Bilyea.

Miss Mary Duffin rendered a reading, and Miss Evelyn Logan delighted the audience with her humorous selections.

Mrs. F. J. Greenaway of London, honorary secretary of the War Memorial Hospital; J. J. Foote and R. Watson of London addressed the meeting on the work of the hospital, the equipment, the cost and means of raising the funds, and emphasized the importance of having such a hospital in Western Ontario, where the most approved scientific medical and surgical care for sick children is provided.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Kintore ladies.

The Thorndale Institute will hold the September meeting at the home of Mrs. John McMartin on Wednesday, Sept 6, instead of on Thursday, owing to the induction service being held at Crumlin Presbyterian Church that day.

The community corn roast will be held on Thorndale fair grounds on Friday evening, under the supervision of the Public Library.

EXONERATES MARGESON OF PENSIONS CHARGE

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—(By the Canadian Press).—Exoneration of Judge Margeson, formerly a pension commissioner, featured this morning's proceedings of the royal commission investigating G. W. V. A. charges against the pension board.

"From certain remarks made by Judge Margeson while on the stand," formally declared C. G. MacNeil, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Command, G. W. V. A., during today's hearing, "we gained the impression that possibly he thought that he was included in those against whom charges were made. I would like to correct that impression. We do not consider that he has been in any way responsible for the conditions of which we complained before the parliamentary committee."

This morning's evidence was mainly technical, dealing with interpretations of various sections of the pensions act.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 31.—Douglas Nancekivell, 15-year-old son of Reuben Nancekivell of Salford, was the victim of an accident recently which may result in the loss of one eye. South Waterloo M. L. A. Wins Dime in Race.

GALT, Aug. 31.—Karl K. Homuth, M.L.A. for South Waterloo, entered another race and won out. The young politician is a real mixer among his constituents, and at the U. F. O. picnic in Wilmot Township on Wednesday he entered the fat man's race, and while he got away to a bad start, showed his speed on the home stretch, finishing an easy winner. His prize, it is said, was 10 cents, and his friends are wondering if he will now be professionalized.

ADJOURN SITTINGS OF PENSION BOARD

Royal Commission Not To Meet Again Until Tuesday, October 5.

OTTAWA, August 31.—(By Canadian Press.)—It is expected that the royal commission investigating the Great War Veterans' Association charges against the board of pension commissioners will adjourn tomorrow evening until the morning of Tuesday October 5. Col. J. L. Ralston, chairman of the commission stated this afternoon that the question of adjournment over Labor Day had been discussed and that it had practically decided not to sit on Saturday or Monday next.

Examination of three witnesses this afternoon brought out little that was new. E. G. Ahern, former secretary of the pensions board, was on the stand for a short time being followed by Dr. James F. Ellis, unit medical director for the Maritime Provinces. Dr. Ellis gave way to Dr. James W. Wickware, unit medical director with headquarters at Regina, who was on the stand when the commission adjourned.

There was some amusement when Dr. Gordon Henderson questioned Mr. Ahern in regard to the 1920 amendments to the pension's act.

"Did any of the members of the parlimentary committee to which the amendments were submitted seem as if they did not understand them?" queried Henderson.

"No, they all seemed intelligent," replied Mr. Ahern seriously.

The commissioners laughed.

ARREST ALLEGED BANDIT AT SARNIA

Police Find Loaded Revolver On Man Suspected of Robbery.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Aug. 31.—With the arrest this afternoon of James H. Harris by Provincial Officer Leslie Atkins, police believe they hold the perpetrator of series of bank robberies in New York State and a man who heads the "wanted" list of the New York State police.

According to the advice received from Toronto, American officials are prepared to commence extradition proceedings in order to get Harris into their hands.

Only 5 feet 2 inches tall, Harris when accosted by Constable Atkins, is alleged to have made a movement to his inside pocket, but was frustrated.

In the pocket was found a 32 automatic pistol fully loaded. He is held for unlawfully carrying firearms pending advice from provincial police headquarters at Toronto, with regard to extradition proceedings.

When arrested Harris denied the name under which he was registered at Colonial Hotel, stating also his home was Montreal. He is believed to have crossed to Canada for fear his diminutive stature would prove his downfall on the American side.

FAVORS NEW "Y" BUILDING

Miss Marjorie Morton Takes Secretaryship of London Y. W. C. A.

Wants to See Swimming Pool and Gymnasium Installed.

"From the very beginning I am taking a stand for a new building for the work of London," said a bright-eyed, purposeful looking little woman to The Advertiser Friday morning, Miss Marjorie Morton, new general secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association.

For the first time in many months, the tiny office at "Lenmore," the down-town headquarters on King street, had an appearance of cheerful occupancy, due to the presence of an official vested with authority.

After the resignation of Mrs. Alex Henderson in December last, the board waited and debated long before making the choice of a successor, taking the view that appointment in the end of a woman ideally adapted and trained for the position would compensate for the delay. Following Miss Morton's acceptance, an additional wait of some months was necessary to afford her an opportunity to tender her resignation to the board in Regina, where she had been general secretary for twelve years, and to get the work there in shape to be passed on.

Miss Morton reached the city late Thursday evening, and was on duty bright and early Friday morning, September 1.

"About a new building," she continued to The Advertiser, "from what I have been able to gather of the splendid work which is being done by the association here through the various departments, I am fairly convinced that a new building is essential to the continuing and developing of the activities, which mean so much to the girlhood and young womanhood, and through them to the city and its future.

Appreciates Gymnasium.

"In my long experience in this work I have come to appreciate the inestimable value of gymnasium and swimming pool as a part of equipment. While I have not been in London long enough to say anything about the local situation, I can fully understand what a handicap the lack of gymnasium and swimming pool must be. Other places have found them invaluable, and greatly appreciated by women and girls of all ages.

"I do not know whether London is fortunate enough to have a suitable building in which women's organizations can meet regularly. The Y. M. C. A. furnishes this accommodation in many cities that are fortunate enough to have adequate buildings, and there is no doubt that an association building of this kind is a great asset to any city."

"But how about funds for such a building?" was a question asked.

"If the need is urgent enough and you can convince the public the cause is worthy enough, you can always get the necessary financial support,'" answered the new general secretary, with a friend-winning smile and courageous light in her eyes. "It has been done in other places. I'm sure it can be done in London."

The fact was recalled that Miss Morton had pioneered as first general secretary of Regina Y. W. C. A., and taken a leading part in raising funds to erect a beautiful new building the second year of the history of the association.

Started With $15,000.

"We started out with a grant of $15,000 from the city in lieu of a site," said Miss Morton. "The city first offered us a site, but as they had none suitable for our purpose, they gave us the money instead, and we purchased an ideal location overlooking the park in the center of the city."

Will Miss Morton find the work in London very different from that in Regina? "Very much the same, I believe," she said. "You know, girls are girls wherever you find them, and we have had a good many London and Western Ontario girls in Regina. Conditions have changed greatly in the west in the past ten years, in such a city as Regina. When we first organized there we were the only organization doing work for girls in the way of providing home environment and influences for those who were away from their own homes, holding educational classes, and putting strangers in touch with the right kind of friends and opportunities. Since then the Canadian Women's Hostel provides for the old country girls, brought out under government auspices. Rosary Hall looks after the Roman Catholic Girls and Regina College, a number of the students.

Had she any further comments to make on the London situation?

"None," she said firmly. "Why, I haven't even been properly introduced to it yet."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

When He giveth quietness, who can make trouble? And when He hideth his face, who can behold Him? Whether it be done against a nation or against a man only. —Job xxxiv.:29.

WHY should we desire to meet difficulties prematurely when we have neither strength nor light provided for them? Let us give heed to the present, whose duties are pressing; it is fidelity to the present which prepares us for fidelity to the future.—Fenelon.

DELORME WINS TILT IN INTERDICTION PROCEEDINGS

Mr. Justice Panneton Grants Counsel's Request to Delay Action Until Septmber 4.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Father Adelard Delorme today won the first preliminary skirmish in his fight to retain control of the administration of his own fortune, and of the family estate, which his brother-in-law, Adelard Tetrault, is seeking to have taken from him by having the court decline the priest an interdict.

When the hearing of interdictory petition came up in the practice division of the superior court before Mr. Justice Panneton this morning, the plea of Delorme's counsel, Leopold Houle, for aten-days delay in which to file his contestation in writing was granted. Houle further won the permission of the attorney-general, Premier Taschereau, to visit and confer with Delorme, at the Beauport Asylum on Monday to lay out their plan of campaign.

No evidence was heard this morning, the case being adjourned until Sept. 14, when the formal contestation and the plea for the interdiction will be argued.

GETS SUPPLY OF POCAHONTAS COAL

City Receives Four Cars of Fuel For Municipal Distribution.

Four carloads of Pocahontas coal for municipal distribution arrived in London Friday, which makes the total receipt of civic-purchased coal 29 cars. Twenty-five more cars of Ohio lump coal are due to arrive in London in the near future, and this shipment will complete the 2,000 tons ordered by the city to avert a fuel crisis next winter.

The Pocahontas coal, which is of better grade than the Ohio lump variety, will be distributed by city dealers at $18 per ton. It arrived by C. P. R., and delivery from the coal yards will not likely be made until next week. The Ohio lump coal, which is selling fast, is quoted by the dealers at $15 per ton.

This emergency fuel is being distributed as equitably as possible, the merchants responsible alloting only one ton to a customer, with a view to "tiding them over" until anthracite coal reaches London.

STAFF OF J. A. BROWNLEE PICNICS AT PORT STANLEY

Employees of the J. A Brownlee Co., and their families held a very enjoyable frolic at Invererie Heights, Port Stanley, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 30. The prizes were particularly good, having been well selected.

One of the items which caused much merriment was the needle and thread race. Many of the lady competitors who have had much experience in threading needles in haste found it very hard to entice the thread to enter the seemingly very small hole of the needle. This caused much laughter upon the part of the onlookers. The married men's race was another feature on the program, a razor being awarded to the man coming in first. The second man in received a razor strop. Many who were present are hoping that the winner will use it only for the purpose it was made for.

The concluding event on the sports' program was the baseball match between the "Ups" and "Downs," which was won by the Downs on a close score of 12 to 8. The referee for the game was N. Styrker.

Supper, having been served at 6 o'clock in the cafeteria, where some fifty people enjoyed the tasty meal, the program for the day, which had been carried out with such precision was concluded with great reluctance upon the part of the children.

Following are the prize winners in the various contests:

100 yards dash for men—G. Bryant, K. Peckham.

Ladies' walking race—Mrs. Stryker, Mrs. Blackwell.

Blind pig race—L. Best, Miss Abell.

Single ladies' race—Miss A. Brownlee, Miss Newman.

Married men's race—G. Lutman, G. Clancy.

Balloon race—Mrs. Blackwell.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. Lutman, Mrs. Clancy.

Needle and thread race—M. Lutman.

Pie plate race—Mrs. Stryker, F. Homer.

Time race—Mrs. Stryker.

Coat race—Mrs. G. Rudd, Miss Newan.

Ball game—Downs.

Supper at cafeteria.

SELL CARLING'S BREWERY, LONDON, FOR $477,911.13

New Organization Expected to Begin Operations Immediately.

One of the most important real estate deals consummated in London this year is that of the sale of the buildings and premises known as the Carling Brewery at Talbot and Piccadilly streets for $477,911.13, which was announced Friday.

This important real estate and buildings were sold to the Carling Export Brewing and Malting Company, Limited, which has branches in Montreal and other Canadian centers, by the Carling Brewing and Malting Company. The intention of the purchasers is to begin manufacturing beer for export purposes at once, the first operation of the new firm in London being scheduled for Friday.

BEGINS NEW PASTORATE AT SOUTHERN CONGREGATIONAL

Rev. Herbert B. Storey, Formerly of Port Huron, Preaches First Sermon on Sunday.

Rev. Herbert B. Storey, formerly of Port Huron, commences his duties as pastor of the Southern Congregational Church, Horton street, next Sunday.

Although the church has been organized for the past 29 years, Mr. Storey is only the second minister to be in charge. Rev. W. H. A. Claris, who retired a few months ago was the minister from the time of the church's inception until his retirement.

Mr. Storey comes to London bearing the reputation of a thoroughly evangelical, and in every way excellent preacher. The Southern Congregational Church is numerically stronger now than at any time in its history, and the church is looking forward to even greater success under the forthcoming leadership.

Kills Five Hundred Billion Flies This Summer

MAYOR EFFICIENT SWATTER.

IN THE midst of an imaginary conference at the city hall, Mayor Cameron Wilson leaned forward in his chair and dealt a death blow to an unsuspecting fly, which had just made a landing on his desk.

"That's the way to do it," declared Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, who was in attendance at the conference. "Kill every fly that you can. Do you know that one pair of those pests will indirectly produce 1,555,200,000 others between the first of May and the first of August?"

"Well, this is rather late in August" replied the mayor, "but at that rate I have killed about five hundred billion flies this summer."

"O well, you are just doing it for personal comfort and amusement," commented City Clerk Baker. "Think of the good work done by the women folks at home in their daily fly-swatting campaigns."

"They do fine work," agreed Dr. Downham, "and are helping to keep up the city's health. Of course, I laud such action, aside from the fact that it makes my duties lighter."

At this juncture City Treasurer Bell interrupted by killing two flies with one blow from a rolled paper in his hand.

"Kill them off now, and you will have less flies and disease to cope with next summer," declared Dr. Downham.

"Good work," snapped Mayor Wilson. "If a report of this battle were published it would show the citizens of London that their mayor and his officials are doing their duty, and setting them a splendid example."

CLAIMS MILLION MARKS HELD HERE

F. B. Clarke, Money Broker, Says German Residents Have Good Percentage.

That Londoners are holding more than 1,000,000 German marks for speculation purposes is the firm opinion of F. B. Clarke, well-known money broker and steamship agent in the city, based on sales during the past year or so.

Mr. Clarke stated that businessmen are the heaviest investors, although a good percentage of German residents of London have anywhere from 1,000 to 50,000 marks.

So great has been the demand for this form of currency during the past few weeks that Mr. Clarke is now unable to obtain 1,000-mark notes, but can only buy them in denominations of 10,000 and upwards.

In local financial circles the opinion is expressed that the mark is due for a fluctuation very shortly through the allied reparations commission having relieved Germany of the necessity of making any further cash payments in reparations for the remainder of 1922. The commission, however, deferred its decision on the question of a moratorium until radical reforms in Germany's finances were carried out.

"Speculation in marks is a gamble pure and simple," declared Mr. Clarke, "the closest comparison I can make are the lotteries that used to be held 25 or 30 years ago."

The demand for Soviet roubles in the city is also very good, Mr. Clarke stated, but the Russian mark has not made a favorable impression on the citizens of London. Other foreign currency in which many people in this district are interested are Rumanian leis and Austrian kronen.

DUNDAS STREET EAST SOON TO BE OPEN TO TRAFFIC

City Engineer Announces Time as One Week From Saturday.

Barring unforeseen accidents, traffic will be permitted to utilize Dundas street east, which is being paved, one week from Saturday night, according to City Engineer H. A. Brazier. However, the rails of the London Street Railway Company will not be laid and in place by this date.

Traffic is now open on the street from Ashland to Oakland avenue, where asphalt surface has been laid north of the car tracks. City employees are now surfacing between the city limits and St. Mary's branch of the G. T. R., hoping to complete it by Saturday night, thus permitting a much shorter detour by Hale and King streets and Beatrice avenue to be made by motorists.

Although the traffic will be allowed to use Dundas street a week from Saturday, a small section near the Grand Trunk tracks and street car loop will not be surfaced because special curved rails must be laid at this point. Motor cars and other vehicles will be allowed to traverse the concrete base of the road at this section.

Progress is being made on the new Hamilton road pavement, between Egerton and St. Julien streets, and the city engineer reports that all grading of this section will be completed ready for concreting Friday night.

ALLEGES POLICE NURSED GRUDGE

Tom Cake Claims Persecution in Disorderly Conduct Case.

"There are some good policemen on the force, but you're not one of them," declared Thomas Cake, charged with disorderly conduct in police court this morning, when cross-examining Constable George Tomblin. "Even your brother officers have no use for you," added the defendant.

"Your worship, he's had a grudge against me for three years, and he's threatened to 'get' me," explained Cake.

Constable Tomblin told of hearing loud talking at 176 Grey street last night, and of investigating, along with Constable William Snell, and finding Cake and Frank Robinson in the house. Robinson was asleep, he admitted. Robinson was still asleep in court this morning, for he stood up in the prisoners' box long after the court had imposed a $10 fine, and did not say a word during the whole case.

"What do you do, Cake?" asked the court.

"Odd jobs," the prisoner replied.

"I guess they are odd."

"Well, if you get me work I'll take it," Cake promised.

"All you think about is walking about the market and looking for drinks. Why, you're not in fit condition to go out now."

Cake declared he had not been in court for a year.

"Well, I will admit you haven't been here for a long time," the magistrate remarked. "Ten dollars and costs or ten days."

PRACTICAL PRIZES FEATURE PARTY

Campbell Becher Chapter, I.O.D.E., Celebrates Birthday at Port Stanley.

Novel and eminently practical prizes were offered for the winners in the various events of an entertaining sports program at the birthday party of Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E., held Thursday afternoon at the summer residence of Mrs. J. E. Richards, Invererie Heights, Port Stanley. The children were particularly fortunate, every one getting a prize in the events arranged for them.

In the snowshoe race, Mrs. Harry Morgan led, capturing a package of tea, while Mrs. Bert Hookaway came following a close second, and was rewarded with a bag of flour. Mrs. Stevenson made the best record in throwing the medicine ball, and her skill was recognized with a pair of electric curling tongs. Mrs. J. E. Richards, the hostess, made the best score in throwing the air ball, and won a dainty vase.

In the 25-yard dash, Mrs. Harry Morgan was again to the fore, winning this time ten pounds of sugar, while Mrs. Richards captured peanut butter, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway came off with flying colors in the 50-yard dash, receiving as her emblem of victory a substantial package of loaf sugar. In the walking race, the first prize, three pounds of tea, was won by Miss Street, while Mrs. Smith "walked off" with the second, a sack of flour.

The first consolation prize, a cream and sugar, went to Mrs. W. A. McWilliams, and the second, loaf sugar, to Mrs. Andrews. Mr. W. A. McWilliams led in a balloon blowing contest for the men. Supper at the cafeteria followed, the evening winding up with dancing.

Weatherman Reports Increased Rainfall During Month of August

Figures obtained from the weather bureau show that during the past month there was a decided increase in rainfall over the month of August, 1921. It has been a noticeable fact that no dry spells of any great have occurred this summer. Lawns have kept green throughout the entire season, and there has been little or no need for citizens to bring the hose into play.

August, 1922, shows a rainfall of 3.32 inches, while August, 1921, shows only 2.53 inches.

The temperature during the same month this year reached greater extremes than in August of 1921.

The maximum reached on Aug. 16 was 95, as against the maximum of 92 reached in 1921, on Aug. 30. The minimum this year was 41, reached on Aug. 21, while in 1921 it was 45, on the 23rd of the month.

DR. DELAMETER TALKS HYGIENE

Missouri Director Delivers Instructive Address at Local Kiwanis Luncheon.

Hygiene, properly taught in the public schools, is the greatest asset of which a community can boast, according to Dr. Delameter, director of hygiene in the public schools of St. Joseph, Missouri, who was the speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, held Friday in the Tecumseh House.

Successfully Carried Out.

Amongst the many important factors in the carrying out of public health work in the schools, which Dr. Delameter stressed, was that of supplying milk to the children at stated intervals each day, a practice which had been successfully carried out in the public schools of London. He was extremely definite in his statement that a good breakfast of nourishing food was necessary for school children, and scorned the statement, recently issued by a commission of doctors, that if people wanted pie for breakfast they could have it.

The centralization of schools came in for much commendation by Dr. Delameter, who stated that the one big school could be operated and maintained at a less cost and under more sanitary conditions than a number of small schools scattered throughout the city.

"Architects in the future, must build schools as schools and not on the style of apartment houses or stores. In the newer schools, I think you will find the basements eliminated completely. Toilet facilities are obsolete unless placed on the different floors, and the basements are in use very little of the time."

"I am glad to find Londoners going ahead with the juvenile court plan," he continued.

Will Justify Existence.

"With a large hearted man and one fond of children as its judge, the juvenile court will more than justify its existence in lessening the number of juvenile delinquents. In many cases the fault does not lie with these children and they should not be herded into the common police court."

Dr. Delameter's suggestion that one big school was preferable to a number of small ones was received with much applause by the Kiwanians, and Edwin Smith, chairman of the board of education, in his reply, expressed himself as heartily in accord with the idea, further adding that he would have been glad to see the plan carried into effect some time ago.

Kiwanians heard also what has been accomplished by the London Board of Education in the way of school sanitation and the care of subnormal children. With five nurses and three dentists in constant attendance, a preventorium for tubercular children, and special classes for sub-normal children, Chairman Smith showed that London had an easy claim to first place among educational centers in the province.

Enjoyable Additions.

Scotch dancing by Dorothy Tagg and Helen Wilkie, a vocal solo by Allen Tagg, and a piano solo by Hugo Depillito, formed enjoyable additions to the Kiwanis program.

The results of the silent boosting carried out last week by Booster F. H. Yull were announced. The winners in the intelligence test which formed the contest were W. Wortman, Bev. Hay and Dr. C. L. Holmes.

Harry McCallum was "booster for the day" and E. Knowles, Geo. Fox and Chas. Thomas were the winners.

Three new members were officially introduced to the Kiwanis Club. They were Arthur King, Fred Ross and Charlie Johnston.

EXPECT BUYERS DURING FAIR WEEK

London's report to Bradstreet's say that while business here is as yet seasonably dull, everything points to a marked improvement in the near future. The Western Fair is expected to bring many buyers into the city and should result in a big increase in sales of all kinds of goods. Manufacturers are looking for improved business shortly. It is expected that there will be a much heavier demand for implements this coming year owing to the good crops which have been reaped and which are in prospect, and which should increase the farmers purchasing power materially. Owing to efforts which have been made to provide coal it is not expected that there will be any serious scarcity this year here.

Crops.—Root crops continue to make good progress, and the corn crop has improved materially.

LIQUOR PRICES GO UP SEPTEMBER 5

On Sept. 5 the Ontario government dispensaries will put into effect a revised price list of medicinal and other non-beverage liquors, revision having been necessitated by the recent increase in sales tax and other factors which are unavoidable. Among the changes may be cited Canadian, Irish and Scotch whiskey, brandy, gins and rums.

Straw Hats Pass With Coming of Fall

THERE were few straw hats to be seen on the streets today. Patrons of the straw hat industry took warning. With the ushering in of September every man, woman or child automatically attains the right to take a stick and utterly destroy what elegance there may yet remain in the head-dress of a past season.

Not many men were caught unawares, and for the most part felt hats of wintry appearance held forth.

STORK LEAVES 66 BOYS AND 67 GIRLS IN AUGUST

Statistics For Month Show 57 Marriages and 54 Deaths Against 52 and 75 Last Year.

Vital statistics for the month of August in this city show that 57 marriages were consummated in London in contrast to Cupid's record of 52 during the same month last year. Dr. Stork visited 133 homes in this city last month, where he left 66 baby boys, and 67 girls. In August, 1921, the stork made 151 calls in London, so that he fell down on his record this year.

A total of 54 deaths were registered in this city during August, of which number 23 were females and 31 were males. The grim reaper was more busy in August, 1921, when a total of 75 deaths was registered.

As there were 18 more births in London in August, 1921, than the same month this year, and 21 less deaths in August, 1922, the population of London did not suffer so much this year, there being a difference of three persons in the vital statistics.

Balancing 133 births for August this year against 54 deaths shows an increase of population of 79 for the month.

SALVATIONISTS TO ERECT NEW CITADEL IN SOUTH

Old Structure at Edward Street and Tecumseh Avenue To Be Replaced.

Plans are still under discussion for the new Salvation Army citadel, which is to be erected at the corner of Tecumseh avenue and Edward street.

Although operations have not yet commenced on the present structure there, it is expected that it will be completely torn down and the material used in the construction of a larger building, which when completed will have a stucco finish, and be of a very handsome appearance.

Consideration of a new building to replace the small brick hall at present in use by the London South corps has been under way for some time. The increasing attendance has necessitated the finding of larger quarters. The final decision was, however, to reconstruct the present building, as the site on the corner of Tecumseh and Edward is in every way satisfactory.

BOY SCOUTS WILL STAGE DEMONSTRATION AT FAIR

Participants From All Over Western Ontario To Attend London Exhibition.

Tenting accommodation for Boy Scouts at the Western Fair has been laid out near the general offices. Groups of boys from many points in Western Ontario are coming here for the big parade on Monday, and will set up their tents Saturday night.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Guides are to have no small share in the program. In addition to parades, there will be exhibitions of gymnastics and scout work, which are expected to attract a great amount of attention.

Wednesday and Thursday are the days when the Girl Guides will be a feature. They are preparing a fine exhibition of their work, and from all accounts, are ready to equal if not better the exhibition to be given by the Boy Scouts.

Work at the fair offices is still piling up. Secretary Hunt Friday morning reported the largest mail yet, much of which was formed of applications for space. Extra help has been taken on and only favorable weather conditions are needed to make success a certainty.

SAYS SHOPMEN BACK AT WORK

H. E. Whittenberger Declares G. T. R. Has 60 Per Cent of Staff Employed.

Believes Crisis of Anthracite Coal Strike Nearing End.

"Fully 60 per cent of the normal staff of shopmen employed on the western lines of the Grand Trunk Railway are at work today," declared H. E. Whittenberger, general manager of the western lines of the Grand Trunk system, who passed through the city en route to Detroit at noon Friday.

Mr. Whittenberger further stated that the G. T. R. was never seriously affected by the shopmen's strike, and that the men are voluntarily returning to work in greater numbers every day.

"We are not worrying over the situation in the least. A short while ago some of our passenger trains were temporarily withdrawn from the service partly on account of the strike of the shop employees and partly to conserve coal. The trains withdrawn, however, were in nearly every case local trains, and their cancellation did not impede the efficiency of the passenger service in any way.

Mr. Whittenberger expressed the opinion that within the next few weeks the crisis of the anthracite coal situation would be passed. All the railroads in the country have enough coal, he said, and at no time did the G. T. R. feel the shortage of coal.

Regarding the report that the western lines of the Grand Trunk were experiencing some difficulty in handling the coal cars, Mr. Whittenberger stated smilingly that on the contrary he only wished he had more coal cars to handle.

"You know," he said, "that when a large industry in the habit of handling thousands of coal cars a day suddenly faces the situation of having the supply stopped altogether, and then within a few weeks have things come back to normal it takes more than a day or two, regardless of the opinions of some, before everything is running smoothly again."

Canada's Dollar.

THE RETURN of the Canadian dollar to par in the United States constitutes a circumstance that is of much interest. It has attracted the attention of financiers and economists in the republic to the south. All are at a loss to provide the routine explanation that is usually present at such an occurrence.

It is an indication that Canada is one of the nations to have first repaired the damage to the currency wrought by the war. It is an augury of returning stability in industry and business.

"The Canadian dollar is at par. The importance of this economic event is evident. By it Canada is added to the small list of nations in which paper currencies serve only as substitute or subsidiary money, a list until lately confined to the United States and a very few lesser countries.

"The steady rise of the Canadian dollar is left unexplained by official trade figures. Exports from the United States to Canada in the fiscal year 1922 amounted to only $308,000,000, it is true, as compared with $789,000,000 in 1921, but this is offset by a corresponding decline of imports from Canada from $529,000,000 to $308,000,000. Among the other possible sources of Canadian cash receipts must be counted American investment in Canadian properties.

"The equalizing of Canadian exchange will doubtless affect this country in two ways; it will stimulate trade with our northern neighbor, and it will add materially to our exports of gold. The rise of the Swiss franc to par some months ago caused the mountain republic to become the recipient of no little gold. Whether or not we may expect a similar event in Canada depends on whether the movement in progress for many months past goes on."

There is no doubt that trade between United States and Canada is becoming stabilized, and the probability is that the discount on the Canadian dollar will not return, and perhaps never will. It is plain that with the crop movement still to come from Canada, the products of her fisheries and mines and many other things the heavy imports from the States will be offset, and there will no longer be a balance of trade against Canada. This is as it should be, for the United States and Canada are neighbors, and must do business together. Canada is an excellent customer of the United States, and Uncle Sam offers a good market for all that Canada has to sell.

Service to Canada.

AS TO the extent to which Canada will benefit by the removal of the British cattle embargo, opinion in this country is divided, says the Ottawa Journal. It is not unanimously accepted that the embargo worked injury to Canadian industry. But in the process of the conversion of the British Parliament to the determination to remove the embargo an incidental service was done to Canada about which there is no question. This was the dissipation of the impression that unfortunately was conveyed to British people by the indiscreet activities of a few persons from Canada that the embargo question was regarded as a political issue between the two countries, and that the failure of Great Britain to concede the abolition of the embargo would threaten the bonds holding this Dominion within the empire. The debates in the two houses of the British Parliament served to place Canada's attitude in the matter in its proper light. The British Parliament now understands that Canada did not regard the question as a political issue, that Canadians did not contest the right of Great Britain to impose such restrictions as she saw fit on importations of cattle, and that their quarrel with the embargo was on the score of a libel on the health of Canadian cattle being employed as an excuse for restrictions.

In both the Lords and the Commons participants in the debate took the trouble to put Canada's position in its true light. The real issue before Great Britain was ably and effectively presented by LIEUT.-COL. GRANT MORDEN, Canadian member of the House of Commons. As a Canadian, and as a stock breeder in England, COL. MORDEN was able to approach the question from both sides. From the standpoint of a British cattle breeder he contested the necessity of the embargo as a protection to the old country stock-raising industry. He contended that the extension of the British market for Canadian cattle would expand the Canadian market for purebred stock from the mother country. Canada might profit by the removal of the restrictions. "If I were the prime minister of Canada I would be more inclined to put an embargo on the export of cattle and keep the by-products in Canada, and also provide employment in the making of tin cans," COL. MORDEN said. But he was convinced that the British people would not eat tinned beef when they could get fresh beef from healthy cattle fatted in England. Canada, however, had justification in protesting against the allegation of disease in her cattle. If pledge had been given that the embargo resting on the assumption of such disease would be removed, and Great Britain, he maintained, was in honor bound to respect it.

This country recognizes that the matter of restricting imports of cattle or anything else is strictly a matter for the decision of Great Britain alone. The shutting out of Canadian cattle in the interests of British industry has not had or would not have had any effect on the loyalty of Canada to the empire. The only excuse we had for interfering in the question was the stigma on Canadian cattle on which the restrictions rested.

French Birthrate.

A DISPATCH from Mayence summarizing French problems as seen from a Rhineland point of view comes to the conclusion that the greatest single problem of France is the low birthrate. The implication is that this is not due to physical reasons, but that it is a result of economic causes. The peasant, under the pressure of the bitter conditions of his life, has been obliged to practise a grinding economy, which leaves him no margin for a large family.

Whatever the explanation, the fact exists, and so ominously that France is discovered two or three decades hence with scarcely more than half her present population, if the present trend continues. An analysis of the report of vital statistics for 1921, published by the French minister of labor, leads science to observe that "it is an unfavorable report from every point of view." As compared with 1920, there are fewer births and more deaths; also fewer marriages. But if one turns back to 1913 for purposes of comparison, one finds that though France had in 1921 fewer people by over two million—the great war losses—than in 1913, the number of births was actually greater than in 1913, and the number of deaths actually smaller, with the result that the excess of births over deaths was 117,023 in 1921, as compared with 58,914 in 1913.

On the other side of the Rhine, however, in spite of what are supposed to be more unfavorable financial conditions, the excess of births over deaths in all Germany, exclusive of Wirttemberg and Mecklenberg, for 1920 (those for 1921 not being as yet available) was 623,367; while on the other side of the channel, in England, the excess was approximately a half-million in 1920, and an excess of nearly four hundred thousand in 1921. France had a heroic deathrate during the war. What she needs now is a heroic birthrate.

Voluntary Vagrancy.

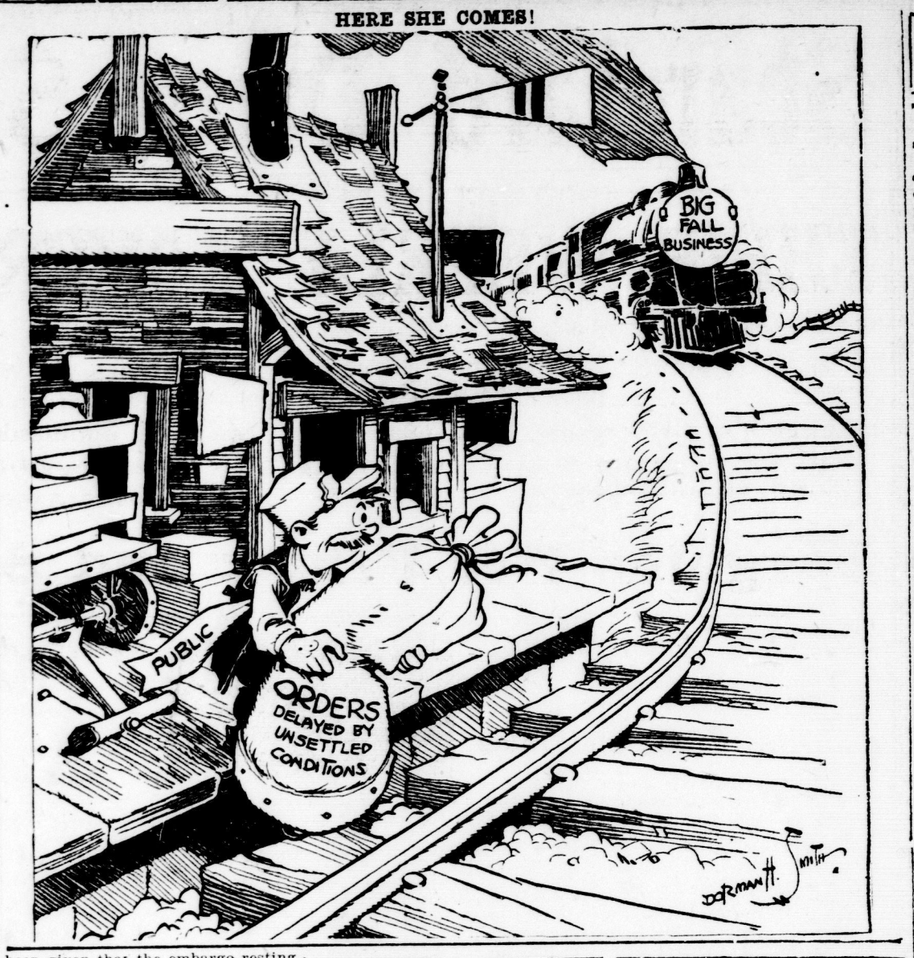

A SUGGESTION for the cure and prevention of voluntary vagrancy comes from the county of York police court, where MAGISTRATE BRUNTON lately said to JOSEPH PRICELY, who, it was stated, had not worked for six weeks, and that his wife and family had been supported by the neighbors.

"We'll hire you out. You will be at home for the week-ends. Your maintenance will be deducted from your wages, and the remainder will go to your wife and family. If you refuse work when it is obtained for you I'll send you to the jail farm for two years." PRICELY was given a week to get to work if he didn't want to go to Burwash.

This is the way all who are fit but who are too lazy to work for the support of their dependents should be dealt with. There are far too many who are quite willing that they should be a burden on private or public charity.

In this class is the wife-deserter, who since the war has become far too common. If they were given the choice of supporting their families voluntarily or going to Burwash they might prefer to work and board at home rather than at the jail farm.

Many a story teller is put out if the joke is not put over.

There is never any use in trying to argue against a human windmill.

Do not be impressed when a man flashes a bankbook—the account may be overdrawn.

"When will the next war break?" asks a statesman. We don't know when, but we know whom.

We still live in hope that some genius will invent a lather to make lawn grass easy to cut.

Strange how things outlive their usefulness. We've had bathtubs for years, and perfume is on the market still.

The reason radio concerts are popular is because none of the initialed sending stations have adopted C. O. D.

It probably didn't take Eve long to discover that she could make Adam happiest by listening while he bragged.

Our opinion is that you can measure the decline of a civilization by the annual consumption of anti-fat nostrums.

The penalty of being a highbrow is that you must be always on your guard to keep from seeming to enjoy anything.

"A profiteer is without honor," says a politician. But what makes his game popular is that his checks are honored.

Even though a man does not know whether he is coming or going, he is capable of giving advice on how to run the government.

When a man has attained considerable success in acquiring property he wonders why the poor are not more contented.

The only thing that grows in transit and gives the consumer more than the shipper sent him is a price advance at the mines.

Well, bobbed hair is all right. The modern husband doesn't use her braids as a handle while mopping up the floor with her, anyway.

The slow-motion picture doubtless was suggested by the chap who says, "Let me pay for it," and reaches tardily for his purse.

The Kincardine Reporter has the following in its last edition: "MISS AGNES C. MACPHAIL, M.P., does not seem to think much of PREMIER KING'S ability. She calls him a juggler of words, and says he says nothing. We cannot help but wonder why great intellects, like AGNES displays, are not called to high places. AGNES is only following the lead of Conservative papers in trying to belittle the premier. He may be all she and they say he is, but the fact remains that he holds the highest position in the gift of the Canadian people. This in itself belies the smallness of the sniper class that never fail to try and empty their brainstorms on the premier. Now don't mix brainstorms with brains, for this latter is what the snipers who assail the premier lack.

NOT WANTED.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 311—HOW THE "FLOPPER" WRITES.

You know the "flopper." He has been discussed in these articles before. He is the fellow, usually young, who flops down in a chair instead of sitting in it, who lolls around and prefers to lean against anything that is handy rather than stand up on his own feet.

There is nothing exact, precise or definite about his physical actions, and nothing precise, exact or definite about his mental processes. He never gets a perfect mark in school, though he may "skin" through. Sometimes he hits the target, but never the bull's eye unless by pure accident. He's a reckless and easy starter, but a poor finisher.

Often he wakes up after he has squandered several years of his life, and through self-discipline, usually enforced by unyielding circumstances, gets down to real conscientious effort and develops efficiency and character.

But in the mentime, what kind of a hand does he write?

His writing looks rather diffuse, spread more or less irregularly over the page. It is poorly spaced; that is to say, there are not equal spaces between the words and lines. He makes large letters, and more likely than not his capitals will be large and ornate, though not symmetrically made. His writing may be either light or heavy, angular or rounded, and may be vertical or slanting in either direction, though probably forward.

TWO FOF A KIND.

Two Irishmen had just laid a wreath of flowers on a comrade's grave, and while crossing another section of the cemetery they saw a Jap lay some rice on the grave of a countryman.

One of the Irishmen asked, "When do you expect your friend to come and eat the rice?"

"When your friend comes to smell the flowers," was the quick reply.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

SEPT. 1, 1897.

Weather—Mostly fair; some showers.

The new $30,000 central school at Chatham is to be formally opened today.

Sir John Carling was in Seaforth last week and bought a fine horse from Mr. David Donovan.

Col. Leys, president of the Western Fair board, who has been out of town on business for some time, has returned. Before his departure, the president had the satisfaction of knowing that the arrangements for the great exhibition, which begins in this city next week, were in a forward state.

Now that he has returned, he will devote his time nad energies with the pushing secretary and his active directors to still further perfect the preliminaries and to make the Western Fair a record-breaker, as well as all we desire it shall be.

Harold Jarvis, the Detroit tenor, is at the Tecumseh House.

The marriage of Mr. Dawson Keenleyside to Miss Mary Brock is to take place this evening at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie Brock, 425 Horton street. Rev. E. B. Lanceley will officiate.

Mayor Little's greeting, on behalf of London, sent to Toronto yesterday by carrier pigeon, arrived all right. It was as follows:

"To Lady Kirkpatrick, Toronto:

"London sends her greetings to Toronto, with best wishes for a successful exhibition. She congratulates the directors of the Industrial Exhibition on their first omen of success ini the opening of the fair by your ladyship.

"J. W. LITTLE, Mayor.

"London, 6 a.m., Aug. 31, 1897."

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

GOITER

THE very fear that goiter may be the direct cause of one. This is because the thyroid gland is affected easily by fear, worry and other strong emotions. A goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland, or a condition of undue activity on its part.

The thyroid gland is located in the lower part of the neck and a certain amount of secretion is necessary to promote good health, while an excessive supply causes many bad symptoms.

The best preventive of goiter in those inclined to be afflicted thus is rest under medical supervision, and the banishment of all worry.

In the first stages of goiter, iodine should be given. It has been found that people living at sea level are free from goiter symptoms, there being sufficient iodine in the food to permit the proper functions of the gland.

If the goiter has progressed to a more serious stage the whole system is poisoned—the heart usually first, then the liver, kidneys and so on.

Some rules for goiter patients are:

Avoid all excitement or irritation. Get an abundance of rest. Go to bed early, sleeping long hours and taking a midday nap. Sleep in a thoroughly ventilated room. Eat and drink nothing that irritates the nervous system. Eat slowly and chew thoroughly. Avoid foods that are difficult of digestion. Eat but little meat. Do not eat it oftener than three times a week and then only a small portion of beef, mutton, chicken or fish. Drink plenty of milk, also great quantities of water, making sure that it is absolutely pure.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is—FLUX.

It's pronounced — flux, as spelled.

As ordinarily used at the present day, it means—flowing, unstable, inconstant; undergoing change; in process of fusion; in a liquid state, usually through heat.

It comes from —Latin "fluxum," to flow.

It's used like this—"Largely due to the effects of the war, economic and many other conditions are in a state of flux, practically throughout the world."

TRUE TO HER FIRST LOVE.

Her Fiance—"Would you like me better if I'd shave off my beard?"

His Fiance—"By no means. I accepted you on account of it. It makes you look so much like a dear little Skye terrier that I lost."

COULDN'T BE A PLEASURE.

First Gentleman (bowing)—"I believe I've had the pleasure of meeting your wife once before."

Second Gentleman—"If it really was a pleasure I doubt very much if it was my wife you met."

CURRENT RATES OF EXCHANGE

Mr. Sappe—"It's quite a shock, your refusing me. I never expected it. You make me feel like thirty cents."

Miss Dill—"You overvalue yourself. You look like a Soviet ruble to me."

FANTASTIC.

RAILROAD BUILDING.

Q.—To what extent have railways been built in Canada since Confederation, in 1867?

A.—Whereas there were only 2,288 miles of railways in Canada at Confederation in 1867, now there are nearly 40,000, giving a larger per capita mileage than any other country.

LEPERS IN CANADA.

A.—Canada had 13 cases of leprosy, under treatment in two hospitals or lazarettos, in British Columbia and New Brunswick in 1921.

BENOIT DEFEATS SOULIN IN IBERVILLE ELECTION

S. JOHNS, Que., Aug. 31.—A. J. Benoit, farmer and merchant of the town of Iberville, was elected member of Parliament for the county of St. Johns-Iberville today, defeating Stanislas Poulin, lawyer, of St. Johns, by a majority which, it is estimated when all returns are in, will run to around 2,500. With two rural polls to hear from the majority was 2,352. Mr. Poulin may lose his deposit.

Both candidates ran as Liberals. Mr. Poulin was the choice of the official convention held two weeks ago, but feeling in the country was such that Senator Dandurand refused to recognize him as official candidate, and declared that the Liberal party officially would take no side in the matter.

The election was necessitated by the fact that Joseph Demers, former member, was appointed a judge of the superior court.

HOMUTH CALLS MEETING TO DISCUSS HIGHWAYS

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, Aug. 31.—A meeting of representatives of the various municipalities in the county has been called for Sept. 15 in Preston by Karl Homuth, M. L. A., to discuss the provincial highway program as it affects Waterloo County.

The views of the municipalities are to be heard and the county's view as a whole subsequently placed before the minister of public works, Hon. Mr. Biggs. The municipal councils, boards of trade and suburban roads commissions have been requested to send delegates. The various Kitchener bodies have received invitations to each send several representatives to the conference.

RAISE ST. THOMAS HYDRO POWER RATE

Officials State Increase Necessary To Operate System At Cost.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, August 31. — The rate per horse power for St. Thomas has been raised from $25 to $30, the Hydro - Electric Power Commission announces.

The raise will date from January 1, 1922, and is claimed to be necessary to operate the system at cost. The 1921 rate of $25 was found to be too low, it is stated.

Although the rate has been increased to the city, it has not been found necessary to increase the rate to the users of domestic or commercial lighting. It has been found, however, that the commercial power users have been paying insufficient and a slight increase in this branch will be necessary.

Two substantial reductions in the power rates have been granted to the local users during the past four years and it has been found that the last low rate announced was insufficient to provide for actual cost, hence the necessity for a slightly increased rate which is still lower than the rate charged prior to the last reduction.

CHILD BY PRESENCE OF MIND SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

Special to London Advertiser.

BOTHWELL, Aug. 31.—Many accidents have befallen the school children this vacation. Arthur Boon broke his leg, Willie McLean broke his arm, Ross Hickey injured his kneecap and Carlyle Dent dislocated his collarbone.

Miss Margaret Kribbs was badly cut on the leg. While horse-back riding another horse attacked her horse.

The other animal kicked her on the leg, severing an artery. Only the presence of mind of her little companion, Margaret Marsh, saved her from bleeding to death. The little girl tore up her skirt and made a tourniquet.

All fuels this winter will command famine prices—ALL EXCEPT HYDRO.

Canada's white coal, generated in Canada, is the one fuel directly controlled by London and the associated hydro municipalities.

No other fuel compares with it for all-round satisfactory results in the kitchen, and it's cheaper, even in normal times, than gas, coal, wood or oil.

Council of League of Nations Insists On Real Investigation.

APPROVE CECIL'S PLAN

Proposal of British Statesman Favored by Geneva Delegates.

GENEVA, Aug. 31.—The council of the League of Nations today concluded that it was necessary at the present time to take a census of those who will be entitled in 1935 to vote on the question whether the Saar Valley is French or German. It was also decided by the council that a report by a financial committee would be necessary before a decision could be taken regarding the question of lending aid to Austria. The remainder of today's session was occupied in a discussion concerning the protection of the interests of the various sects in the holy places of Palestine.

The sub-committee on armament during the day approved a plan of Lord Robert Cecil for regional agreements, or continental pacts, for mutual guarantees of security and simultaneous reduction of armaments. The probable acceptance of the plan by the full committee made Lord Robert Cecil optimistic over the prosposal by the forthcoming assembly of the league, which begins next week.

The refusal of the United States to ratify the convention signed at St. Germain for restriction of private traffic in arms and ammunition was brought to the attention of the sub-committee. It was decided that this refusal had created an entirely new situation, and that therefore it would be necessary to begin all over consideration of the possibility of controlling private trade in arms.

It was regarded today as most likely that the sub-committee would suggest another international conference on this subject, with the United States represented.

CONFIDENT CALF WILL WIN PRIZE

Brant House of Refuge Has Fine Specimen On Exhibition At Toronto.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 31.—The House of Refuge is exhibiting a calf at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, and in the words of Supervisor Storey of the House of Refuge the calf is expected to bring home nothing less than the first prize. It is a purebred Holstein of eight months of age and weighs 800 pounds. The calf is classed with the senior calf grade and will be judged today. Superintendent Storey is attending the exhibition and expects to see the House of Refuge pride decorated with the coveted red ribbon.

The Kiwanis Club is holding their first luncheon since last spring at the golf club on Tuesday at noon. Mr. W. G. Raymond, M.P., will be the speaker of the day. Mrs. Hawton, "Mother" of the girls' camp and Edna Gignac, "Sister" of the camp, will be present and reports will be made on the Kiwanis camp. The secretary will give a complete review of the activities. Today is the last day of the camp at Dover.

Ten dollars and costs or 30 days in castle Cook was the sentence meted out by William Buskard, J.P., Thursday morning, to a local man who appeared on a charge of having been intoxicated. The accused claimed that he purchased a bottle of rubbing alcohol from one of the local druggists and had proceeded to partake of the "beverage." He was picked up on Curtis street by the arm of the law and taken to the station. He paid the necessary ten and was allowed to wend his way home.

An Erie avenue resident was apprehended by the police on Wednesday evening on a charge of being insane and dangerous. It is alleged that the man had been a patient at the Hamilton Asylum for some years and local physicians have been requested to examine the man as to his mentality in order to make some arrangements for treatment. It is alleged that he has been threatening persons and residents near his home and as a result many complaints have been made to the police.

SOCIETY and NEWS of INTEREST to WOMEN

WELFARE TENT IS MOTHERS' CORNER

Association Plans Rest Marquee With Educational Features For Exhibition.

The London Child Welfare Association will again have headquarters at the Western Fair this year, a roomy tent between the main entrance on Dundas street and exhibition offices, where mothers may come and see demonstrations of proper feeding and clothing of their little ones, "bide-a-wee" to rest, and obtain helpful literature on care of children.

A meeting called for Friday afternoon of the ladies of the association at the Institute of Public Health has as its avowed object the making of plans in connection with the exhibition marquee. Miss Bertha Smith, supervisor of child welfare nurses, will be in charge, assisted by the members of her staff and volunteers from the board, or others who are friends of the work.

In the marquee, it is proposed to have a refrigerator where milk can be kept sweet for the benefit of the wee tots which mothers must take along with them to the big fair, or stay at home themselves. A further convenience will be an electric stove for demonstration purposes and preparing food, where necessary.

The marquee will be open throughout exhibition week, during which it has been deemed advisable to withdraw the regular clinics in the schools. These will be resumed the week after.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E., Holds Party At Invererie Heights.

With perfect weather, an amusing program of sports, practical prizes to appeal to the hearts of the homemaker members, the arrival of "mere husbands" to share in the tempting picnic dinner, and dancing as a wind-up, the annual birthday party of the Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E., held Thursday afternoon at the charming summer home of Mrs. J. E. Richards, Invererie Heights, Port Stanley, proved an exceptionally happy event for all who attended.

Members of the chapter went down early in the afternoon, and after a most cordial welcome had been received by everyone from the hostess a brief business meeting was called to order on the veranda by the regent, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, to arrange for the ice cream booth at the Western Fair. Mrs. Claude White and Mrs. W. H. McWilliams will be general conveners of the booth upstairs in the main building. It was decided to introduce an innovation this year for the benefit of the people taking their lunches to the exhibition. Individual bricks of ice cream will be sold in boxes with spoons, to be carried away to the picnicking spot chosen. The booth will be in full swing throughout the entire exhibition week.

The men of the party arrived in time for the picnic dinner, served in a beautiful spot overlooking the lake, Mrs. W. Hodgins and Mrs. H. Morgan assisting the hostess with arrangements.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just plain Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure you get Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.—Advt.

It was a veritable fairyland frolic which was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Morley Aylsworth, Bridport street, when she gave a party in honor of the third birthday of her wee daughter, Katherine. Eighteen little folks in their best bibs and tuckers arrived bright and early in the afternoon to receive a warm welcome from the grown-up hostess, the joyous little girl hostess, and the small sons of the house, Masters Winston and Allen. Kindergarten games were soon in full swing, the little folks as they skipped and romped about the lawn presenting a picture to delight the eyes of grown-ups. Afterwards a wonderful treasure hunt began for favors hidden throughout the house, the discovery of each prize bringing ecstatic shouts from the enthusiastic guests.

Low tables, just the right height for everybody, were arranged on the lawn and in the garden, decorated with flowers and favors, and even boasting appropriate place cards. A gorgeous birthday cake with three candles contained the traditional necessities for such an occasion, ring, thimble, bodkin, money, and the babies were even more thrilled with them than young people many years their senior could have been. Among the guests present were Mary and Elaine Spittal, Louise Melville, Helenith Hyslop of Mexico, Phyllis Murray, Tom Mara, John, Margaret and Wallace Muir, Marion Keene, Bessie McPetrie, Jean Lawson, Margaret and Jacqueline Thorpe, Betty Fenlin, Isabel McLanders, Mac McLanders and Billie Clarke.

WITH THE BRIDES

SCOTT—LEWIS.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lewis of Glanworth was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday, August 30, when their eldest daughter, Margaret Jane (Jean), was united in marriage to Walter Harold Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Scott, also of Glanworth.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of silk and wool canton, and carried a beautiful bouquet of Sweetheart roses. The bride was attended by her sister Edith, while Dr. J. H. Lewis, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Following the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. M. Crawford of Wilton Grove, a dainty buffet luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott left on a honeymoon to Toronto and points east, the bride traveling in a suit of navy tricotine with blue taffeta hat to match. Upon their return, the young couple will reside in Glanworth.

STEPHENSON—GIBSON-RUPPE.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday, August 30, at 4:30 o'clock, at the beautiful home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Gibson, 157 Oxford street, when Louisa Hazel Gibson-Ruppe, daughter of Mr. C. W. Ruppe of New York, became the bride of Robert L. Stephenson, son of Mrs. J. C. Stephenson of this city.

The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and banks of pink and white asters. Rev. Canon G. B. Sage, of St. George's Anglican Church, officiated, Mr. Frank Humphries playing the Lohengrin Bridal Chorus and the Mendelssohn Wedding March, and also very softly during the service. Miss Merlyn Pococke, who wore cream lace over pink ninon, sank "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white canton crepe, with court train, and radium lace undersleeves, the panels of skirt falling in points and trimmed with pearls. The veil was embroidered, and the orange blossoms were those worn by the bride's mother. She carried a shower of Ophelia roses and pink sweet peas, and wore the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls.

Miss Alice Andrewes, as bridesmaid, was prettily frocked in sky blue canton crepe, with wide-brimmed picture hat, and carried a lovely cluster of Columbia roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, G. W. Stephenson, also of this city.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony.

The bride's grandmother wore a gown of black lace over satin, with corsage of mauve sweet peas. The groom's mother was dressed in black canton crepe and wore red roses.

Later in the evening, the happy couple left for a trip to eastern points. The bride traveled in a suit of navy blue broadcloth trimmed with beaver and small blue velvet hat with veil.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ruppe of New York, Miss Lyle Flint of Los Angeles and others from Philadelphia, Toronto, Clinton and Ailsa Craig.

MARTIN—ELGIE.

On August 30, at 2:15 o'clock, in Cronyn Memorial Church, the marriage of Alice Elgie, youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary Elgie, Glebe street, to Andrew Ralph Martin of this city, was performed by Professor Anderson. The bride wore a smart suit of navy tricotine with ermine trimmings and black panne velvet hat. Mr. and Mrs. Martin left on a honeymoon which will spent in Detroit. On their return they will reside in the city.

EMBRO C. G. I. T.

Miss McKay of Montreal was guest of honor at a recent meeting of Embro C. G. I. T., giving a helpful address. Miss Jean Holmes gave a piano selection and Miss Margaret Smith sang a solo. It was decided to hold a corn roast before the end of the season.

FUR AND FABRIC.

An evening coat of ermine has insets of green metal crinkled cloth for trimming and illustrates the popular method of combining fur and fancy materials.

SHAWLS.

The favorite evening wrap of the moment is the Canton crepe shawl or scarf, embroidered solidly and fringed. American beauty, jade and yellow are the popular colors.

SMART HAT.

A smart hat is of rust-colored plush, with a rolling brim and a deep crown. It is trimmed with two wings, one pointing up and the other down, of feathers in varying shades of rust, yellow and brown.

HEADBANDS.

Headbands will be worn extensively this season, particularly those made of tiny leaves of flowers. There are also many wide, swathed bands of metallic tissue.

PLEATING.

Accordion pleating is used to excellent advantage on many of the new frocks. It is used in the form of panels, deep collars and side draperies, and gives the long graceful lines so desirable now.

VELVET FROCKS.

Draped velvet frocks increase in number as the season advances. This year's velvet is so soft and supple that it is the ideal material for draping into the fashionable lines of the present.

CIRCULAR HEMLINE.

The circular hemline is noticed on many of the new frocks as well as the handkerchiefs or irregular, pointed line.

Strangely sent to Resurrection Rock by a communication from the spirit of

PHILIP CAREW, an American officer killed in France,

BARNEY LOUTRELLE arrives in Northern Michigan, and proceeds to the spot in Lake Huron where he learns the island is located. There he meets

ETHEL CAREW, daughter of the slain officer, who is going to visit her grandfather,

LUCAS CULLEN, SENIOR, the grim and hardy old man who struggled successfully in days of violence for millions' worth of timber. Loutrelle learns that Resurrection Rock is an island of mystery, the symbol of a great wrong in the past and that on it has been erected a house never occupied. In some way he feels that his own mysterious life, his obscure parentage, his life as a white child reared by Indians, is linked with Resurrection Rock and with Ethel. GO ON WITH THE STORY.

The sun, only a little lower to the west, was glaring down upon the snow, and as the road reached the top of a ridge the smooth ice-sheet over Lake Huron came into view.

The western rise of the rock, upon which the sun was shining, seemed sheer and towering; only about the base, where the lake had tossed uc heaps and hummocks of ice, and upon the top had snow gathered.

"Resurrection Rock!" Ethel said, gazing at it with no need to point as they stood upon the top of the ridge.

Loutrelle nodded, his eyes narrowing a little as he tried to see it better through the glare.

"Why's the house there?" he demanded. He had asked this before but not with the present amazement.

"Of course it's quite different in summer."

"But you said it's never been occupied, summer or winter."

"No never."

"Except possibly," he said, glancing at her and away to the house again, "by the dead."

He spoke in a queer, neutral tone, neither quite seriously nor at all lightly.

Ethel went ahead slightly to guide the way. The Rock now was constantly in sight; and glancing again and again at it, Ethel felt it dominating her mood.

They entered woods again and soon heard a whip cracking and the voice of a man calling to straining horses.

"That's Sam Green Sky," Ethel informed; and they came upon a white and roan team.

"B'jou, Miss Ethel!" Sam hailed and waved his arm, while he set about turning his team back into the tracks they had just cleared.

He was a younger man than Redbird, not more than thirty and fat and swarthy.

"Old man pretty well; pretty mad this morning, old lady well too." Green Sky vouchsafed genial information without urging. "Somebody come to Wheedon's yesterday; and go out to Rock. Old man want to know about it; damn mad."

Ethel glanced at Loutrelle whom she found gazing at her and waiting for her to ask the question.

"The name of the man—Sam?"

"Mr. Bagley. That's all."

Ethel gazed at the Rock again and felt the blood running a bit colder within her. She looked back to Loutrelle who had pulled off his glove to offer his hand.

"B'jou, Miss Carew," he said, his eyes meeting hers. "You've been mighty good to me."

He turned about once and waved at her; then, proceeding more swiftly, he soon vanished in a ravine. A few hundred yards further on she heard the distant echo of a vigorous voice singing the lively tune of an old French song of the time of Napoleon:

". . . a Paris, a Paris . . .
Ah, j'y etais mousquetaire!"

Danger! No fear for him if the danger were honest and open. She glanced ahead and suddenly saw a dark figure, tall and broad but bent a little, standing with back toward her on the top of the ridge—her grandfather.

"Well, my dear, you're here, are you? Where's your friend from the train?"

"He said to thank you; he'd call later. He wanted to go first to the Rock."

"So he'll call later, eh? Now who is he? I'll know all about that fellow."

Ethel gazed into her grandfather's eyes—little, blood-shot but keen under his low, bushy, white brows. She said nothing aloud as she closed her lips; but to herself, defiance spoke.

"Not from me," the unuttered words determined. "Never from me."

CHAPTER IV.

WHEN she was obliged to reply, she only repeated the fact of her meeting with Barney Loutrelle as she had related it over the telephone.

Everyone was well at the house, Lucas assured in reply to Ethel's questions.

The persons whom he grouped under "everyone" were his wife and "Miss Platt" and "Miss Platt's husband." Miss Platt had been his private secretary for many years.

Her salary was sufficient to enable her to attract a lazy, good-looking youth named Merrill Kincheloe, seven years younger than herself. She married him and thereafter supported him, to her employer's exceeding disgust.

Lucas never let her marriage change her name to him and, when he had been obliged to refer to Kincheloe, it had been always as "Miss Platt's husband."

All but Miss Platt's husband were at the door as the sled drew up before the porch; and Ethel felt a rush of love as she saw her grandmother. She was a little woman, thin and shrunken now but erect, with spirit unbroken by her many years.

Later in the day Ethel had her business talk with Lucas.

"I've come for money, grandfather," she confessed at once. "A good deal of money, some of which I need immediately."

"Well, how much,"

"I've the total here; the dates mean the time when I ought to have the different amounts," she explained, trembling in spite of herself.

"Those are the names of irrigation and development companies and waterpower plants in Montana and Wyoming. I want the money marked 'immediate' to complete the first five and get them running. If I do not do that, the leases—or the purchase contracts—will lapse."

He only grunted as he glanced over it and stopped chewing his cigar. "All right; what happens if they lapse?"

"Father's interest—my interest now," Ethel said quietly, "of course is lost. But that's not most important. It's to see that father's friends and our neighbors out west get their money back. They thought he was going to live and see everything through."

"So you came to work upon my natural affections for you."

"Yes," Ethel said. "Yes; I suppose you may say I've done that."

Her grandfather slowly drew his leg back from the desk-drawer; suddenly he kicked the drawer shut and with his hands upon the desk, he pushed himself up to his feet. He was still a towering man in spite of the slight stoop which took more than an inch from the stature which had distinguished the days of his great vigor.

A DARK FIGURE, TALL AND BROAD, BUT BENT A LITTLE.

"Your father believed he was so smart—so smart," he gloated over her. He carried off my daughter and thought he could win against me! He sided with John—John," he repeated the name of his brother violently. "Well, it did look like good business then. John seemed to have stronger hold on the property than I had. But your father forgot about longevity.

"John was under the sod before he was seventy. Your father forgot about my sons, too. John had Oliver—damn weakling; so he's under the sod, too; his wife's below the waves; and everything they had's in court. But it's coming to me! It's got to come to me!" he repeated, snapping off each word short and flailing with his arm for emphasis. "And you got to come to me if you want anything; everything, everybody's got to come to me! For I'm alive and they're all dead!"

He jerked about and strode across the room.

Ethel watched him as he went to a window and stood staring out while he recovered himself. For a few moments he seemed not to be seeing but simply to be staring. Then he jerked straight, and Ethel knew that he had begun to see and that what he saw was the Rock, gaught and glistening in the last rays of the declining sun.

Her grandfather slowly turned about.

"You want about two hundred thousand dollars immediately?"

"One hundred and eighty-five thousand is the total I put down as necessary now, grandfather," she said.

"Practically two hundred thousand; call it that," he corrected generously. "Well—well, it may be managed." He was attempting to reproduce, now, the indulgent manner he used to take with her long ago when she was a little girl and came to him for dimes and quarters and half dollars for children's trinkets.

He patted Ethel's arm fondly.

"Now, my dear, tell me about that fellow Loutrelle."

She drew back a little from him. Then it was his sight of the Rock which, the minute before, had changed him!

"Why, grandfather," she said. "I just met him on the train this morning."

He seized her, as the passion which he had with difficulty put down rose to mastery of him again.

"That's a lie—a lie!" he charged. "You're friends; you know all about him. You're—friends."

She struggled to break the hold of his hand upon her shoulder, the blood hot within her. "I don't lie!" she defied him. "I do know more about him than I told you; but what I said was true. I told you he was going to the Rock."

"Are you going to tell me about him?"

"No."

"What?"

"No."

He bent over her. "All right; all right!" he said at last, pulling her papers from his pocket and thrusting them at her. He put his hand to a push button. Ethel could hear a bell ringing in some other part of the house and knowing that she was dismissed, she went out, meeting Miss Platt in the hall.

"Beautiful afternoon," Miss Platt said agreeably.

"Beautiful," Ethel acquiesced and returned to her bedroom.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — BY ELTON

WHEN THE CHIEF RETURNED TO THE CAMP HE WAS INFORMED BY HIS MEN THAT JACK HAD FALLEN ASLEEP ON HIS LOOKOUT POST. HE WENT OVER TO WHERE JACK WAS TIED, LOOKING VERY SERIOUS.

Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways Demonstrate "The National Way" At the Canadian National Exhibition.

The position the Canadian National-Grand Trunk System occupies as "The National Way" from the Atlantic to the Pacific, entirely through Canadian territory, is plainly depicted in their exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto.

Most Modern Methods Employed.

The exhibit is installed in two compartments of the Railway Building. One compartment is given up to a topographical map of Canada, forty-five feet in width, which shows the outstanding physical features of Canada in bold relief, across which is placed a model of "The Continental Limited," the Canadian National's "Across Continent" train. In order to impart to it a realistic appearance, the wheels of locomotive and cars are kept revolving, which with the artificial light effects gives the impression of the train being in motion. To the left of the map is located one of the units of the train dispatcher's telephone system, such as is used by the railway. Both the sending and the receiving equipment is shown, and as demonstrations will be given visitors will be able to obtain a grasp of the mechanism of the most modern train dispatching system extant. At the right of the map is another interesting equipment in the shape of the multiplex printing telegraph system, such as is used by the Canadian National Telegraph. It embodies the last word in telegraphy, both in respect to speed and limitation of errors in transmission, while the operator, in sending a message, merely operates the keyboard similar to that of a typewriter, and a machine at the receiving point automatically prints it. The instrument shown is of the two-channel type, permitting four messages to be transmitted over the wire simultaneously. On the wall immediately opposite to the map, is a painting of about 25 feet in width of Jasper Park Lodge, the new hostelry which the railway has established at Lac Beauvert, with the Colin Range, crowned by Old Man Mountain, standing out clear and bold in the background.

Interesting Motion Pictures.

Motion pictures showing various points of outstanding interest and beauty on the transcontinental route of the railway are a feature of the exhibit. The visitor is given particularly realistic views of the mountains, valleys, rivers and waterfalls to be found in Jasper, Mount Robson and Algonquin Parks, and of the magnificent scenic effects the famous "Inside Passage," which follows the Pacific coast from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, the Portland Canal and Alaska.

A Great Pictorial Exhibit.

One hundred transparent photographs showing in sequence noted points of interest in each of the nine provinces from the Atlantic to the Pacific on the lines of the Canadian National-Grand Trunk System, form the basis of the second compartment's exhibit. Another realistic scene is a section of the Algonquin Provincial Park, and the "Highland Inn," with bathing beach and lake dotted with boats and canoes in motion. The scene is typical of Algonquin Park in September, and by the working of automatic lights is alternately turned into day and night views. At one end of the room is a large case containing specimens of such small wild animals and wild fowl as are common to the backwoods of Canada.

An All-Steel Train.

The comfort, not to say luxury, of present-day travel is strikingly illustrated by the magnificent all-steel standard passenger train which the Canadian National Railways has on exhibition at the Dufferin street entrance. As well as bearing witness to the progress and enterprise, it also is evidence of Canada's progress generally. Another special feature is that this splendid train de luxe represents skilled workmanship employed in Canadian National shops, the respective units having just come from C. N. R. shops in Eastern and Western Canada. A new observation car, specially designed for service in the mountains, attached to this model train, is the very latest in observation cars in the mountains. Its special feature is what may be described as double-decked windows, by means of which travelers will be enabled to view all scenic vistas from both sides, while sitting at their ease. The two cars now ready for commission have been named respectively "Mount Edith Cavell" and "Mount Robson," after two of the notable scenic objects on the Canadian National Railway route through the Rockies.

New Type of Cars for Branch Lines.

Illustrating another development of Canadian National Railway service in Canada is an exhibit of self-propelled motor coaches, intended for better and more economical passenger service on branch lines. There are three types of these coaches, the electric, with storage-battery power, the gasoline and steam. Though small, compared with standard coaches, they are well designed to meet requirements for their particular field of traffic. The Canadian National is the pioneer of this line of public service improvement.—Advt.

Radio Radiations

Want to call up a friend? Plug in on "line radio."

These are the two forms of radio communication suggested for future adoption by Dr. Louis Cohen, engineer "Space radio," for broadcasting. "Line radio," for personal and business calls.

"Space radio," Dr. Cohen defines as a "means of transmission of wireless waves radiating in all directions from a central source, an antenna."

"Line radio," he says, "is a limited form of radio transmission guided by wires, is rapidly coming into wide use."

Increasing demands for radio communication and growth of the industry all over the world, are Dr. Cohen's reasons for suggesting the division of communication into these two forms.

Advantages.

"Line radio," says Dr. Cohen, "could take care of individual communications, leaving all the available wave channels in space radio for communication between mobile stations, such as ships and airplanes, places inaccessible to wire lines, and broadcasting. By the use of line radio the existing telephone and telegraph lines may be loaded up by multiplying the number of messages carried on any single line so as to take care of all possible public requirements for personal communication, and in a very economical manner at that.

"Broadcasting is a service that can be accomplished only by space radio and the use of space radio should be limited as far as possible to that service. On the other hand, in line radio the number of circuit channels can be increased almost indefinitely and always kept up to capacity to meet all public needs for individual communication, personal or business."

RADIO PRIMER.

STAND-BY CIRCUIT—Also called "pick-up" circuit. One that is constructed so that it will respond to a wide variety of wave lengths. It is used in listening for possible calls from a number of stations. Tuning for this circuit, therefore, must be broad and the coupling close.

CIRCULAR CAPES.

Circular capes of tweed, in plain subdued tones or with shepherd's checks or large conspicuous plaids, are liked for sports wear. They have turnover collars and no gathers, the fullness being provided for by the gored cut.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The new program for fuel movement to the Northwest will be in operation the first of next week, it was announced today by the central coal committee which expects that coal loaded for movement to the Great Lakes will total 800,000 tons this week, and 1,000,000 tons next week.

Coal for the northwest, officials said, is being shipped from Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky.

William W. Potter, fuel administrator for Michigan, applied today to the central coal committee for an additional allocation of 50,000 tons of coal which, officials said, probably could be provided from mines in Western Kentucky.

Queen's Own Rifles Adjudged Best Musical Organization.

Brampton Citizens' Band Is Awarded High Honors in Class B.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—The Canadian National Exhibition band contest held in connection with "Music Day" celebration today, resulted in premier honors going to the band of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto. The winning band has been a consistent competitor for years, but hitherto had failed to win first prize, and the victory was a popular one with the large crowd. The contest was a close one in class A, only 2 1-3 points separating the leading band from that in fourth position. Second place went to St. Catharines Concert Band, with the 13th Regiment Band, winners a year ago, in third place, and the Imperial Concert Band, Toronto, fourth. The judges were Captain Light, R. C. H. A., Kingston; Conductor H. A. Fricker, of the Mendelssohn Choir, Toronto, and Conductor Pat Conway of the Conway Band, Chicago. The overture from Rienzi was the test selection for the bands.

The points scored by the bands competing were:

ST. THOMAS KIWANIS CLUB CIRCUS IS SUCCESS

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 31. — With a record crowd of 5,000, the Kiwanis circus was brought to a close Thursday night. The success of the venture, the funds of which are to go for playgrounds, is very pleasing to the members of the club, and it is thought that another entertainment of a similar nature may be staged later in the season.

A spectacular street parade opened the evening's performance, headed by the band, and including a number of clever floats.

Dozens of baskets of fruit were raffled off on the wheels, and the fortune tellers and sideshows played to packed houses. The feature of the big show was a ten-minute wrestling bout between Peter Laing and Ernest Goddard, both of this city.

HAS SUPPLY TO LAST FOUR DAYS

St. Thomas Municipal Gas Plant Faces Early Coal Famine.

Receives Many Advance Orders From Citizens For Coke As Fuel.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 31.—Although there is only four days' supply of coal on hand for the city's gas plant, very little anxiety was expressed at a meeting of the gas committee of the city council Thursday afternoon.

The belief that the situation is in better condition is borne out by a telegram received Thursday by Superintendent Christie from C. A. Magrath, Dominion fuel controller, in reference to the local department's request to be placed on the preference list for 750 tons of coal a month. The controller wrote that he had wired the Lake Erie Coal Company of Walkerville for the name of the coal company which supplies the local department, in order to take the matter up with them and endeavor to have the plant supplied directly.

Despite the fact that the gas coal is costing $14 and more a ton laid down in St. Thomas, as against between $6 and $7 last year, Superintendent Christie informed the committee that the cost of manufacturing gas had only been increased about 20 cents per thousand feet, so far due to economical operation and the use of oil gas. He was congratulated by the committee members.

He reported that many members are ordering coke and making advance payments to the city treasurer, although the sales were stopped several weeks ago, and no assurance can be given them when deliveries will be made.

The suggestion of Ald. J. Jagoe that the ratepayers be again asked to vote on a bylaw for vertical retorts for the gas works was not enthusiastically received by some members of the committee. It was pointed out that only about 20 per cent of the voters turned out on the last voting day, when the bylaw was defeated.

The cost of repairing the old equipment will be very great, Ald. Jagoe said, and in consideration of the fact that the vertical retorts can now be purchased at a lower figure than formerly, Ald. Jagoe thought that the project should have another chance.

7-Year-Old Boy Seeks Job in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—On Tuesday John Stevens, 313 Main street east, this city, manager of the Hagersville Construction Company, reported Anthony, his 7-year-old son, missing. All efforts to locate the lad failed till Wednesday afternoon, when he turned up at the city hall to look for a job. It was the city treasurer's office that received his application. He offered his services at $1 per week, and, not knowing the aristocratic hours kept by the city hall staff, promised to be on duty at 7 a.m. Tony said he was an orphan, but disclosed sufficient of his identity to enable the treasurer to find a couple of anxious parents.

He stated that he had spent the time away from home with a friend.

National Safety Congress Speakers Want Traffic Rules Standardized.

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—Standardization of traffic codes and signals throughout the United States was one of the chief subjects before the National Safety Congress today.

Speakers at today's session asserted that standardization would reduce accidents by eliminating confusion in all cities and towns, and more especially along country roads.

FORD CO. PROFIT IS $60,000,000

Motor Concern's Financial Statement For Year Made Public in N. Y.

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—A financial statement of the Ford Motor Company, given out in New York, is said by officials of the company here to be correct.

The statement shows a $60,000,000 net profit during the year ending April 30.

Officials of the company say the report was not made public by Mr. Ford, and it was the latter's belief that it had been taken from the public records in New Jersey or Massachusetts.

On April 30 the report from New York states, the company had $148,615,348 cash and debts receivable, an increase of $58,620,000 during the year. Accounts and notes payable decreased more than $15,000,000. Total accumulated surplus earnings were $240,478,000, compared with $182,877,000 twelve months before.

Since April 1, it was announced today at the Ford plant by officials, that the company has been a month behind in filing orders for Ford cars, while orders for Lincoln automobiles are two months behind.

HOW TO CLEAR ALL URIC ACID, KIDNEY AND LIVER POISONS OUT OF THE SYSTEM.

Medical Men Decide Saltrated Water Is the Quickest Permanent Cure for Organic Disorders Causing Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Stomach Trouble, Etc.

By ALICE LANDLES, Qualified Nurse

Clogged, sluggish, and congested liver, kidneys or intestines, with the attendant rheumatism, langour, biliousness, defective vision, catarrh, indigestion, and impure blood, should never be neglected. They mean constipation, "the beginning of all diseases," for dangerous toxins are then being constantly absorbed straight into the blood, although sufferers seldom even suspect the real cause of all their troubles. Powerful mixtures and drugs like calomel (mercury), may irritate the liver to convulsive action, but do not stop adherence to walls of the intestines, nor cleanse and strengthen the delicate network of secretory ducts and absorbent glands. For this latter purpose doctors agree there is no solvent, cleansing and blood-purifying agent equal to the deposits of certain natural medicinal waters. These deposits are obtainable at slight cost from any chemist as pure refined Alkia Saltrates. Take before breakfast a level teaspoonful of this pleasant-tasting compound in a half tumbler of water, and notice how all symptoms of rheumatic or other body poisons vanish within two or three days, and you begin to enjoy life as Nature intended. Mental effort and concentration become easy again, hard work a pleasure, and any pain or constant tired feeling will disappear. Even gall-stone or other painful concretions of sharp uric acid crystals and impure mineral salts may thus be dissolved. Avoid all strong cathartic pills, patent medicines, lowering salts, drugs or highly-alcoholic stimulants, eat moderately, and drink occasionally a little saltrated water—Nature's own blood clarifier, uric acid solvent and eliminant of all impurities—then you need never fear a recurrence—Advt.

Typical specimen of uric acid crystals, highly magnified. No wonder they hurt.

again brings to the front the vital importance of providing the proper pen for every student and scholar.

Every attention is paid to having text books easy to read, in order to avoid eye-strain.

Too often, little attention is given to the choice of a pen—with the result that the wrong size or shape of the ordinary pen tires the hand, writing becomes irksome, and the handwriting grows more illegible.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen

is an education in smooth, easy, effortless writing. The steady, uninterrupted flow of ink allows the pen to keep pace with the student's thoughts.

It provides a size to perfectly fit every hand, from boy and girl just entering the graded schools to those attending college and university.

There is a point to suit every style of writing, including the point recommended by Boards of Education, fitted to three distinct types of barrel—regular, safety and self-filling.

See that your boy or girl has the right pen to do his or her best work at school.

KITCHENER TO WELCOME KING

Will Likely Observe Half-Holiday On Occasion of the Premier's Visit.

Council Considers New Solution of City Hall Site Disagreement.

Special to London Advertiser.

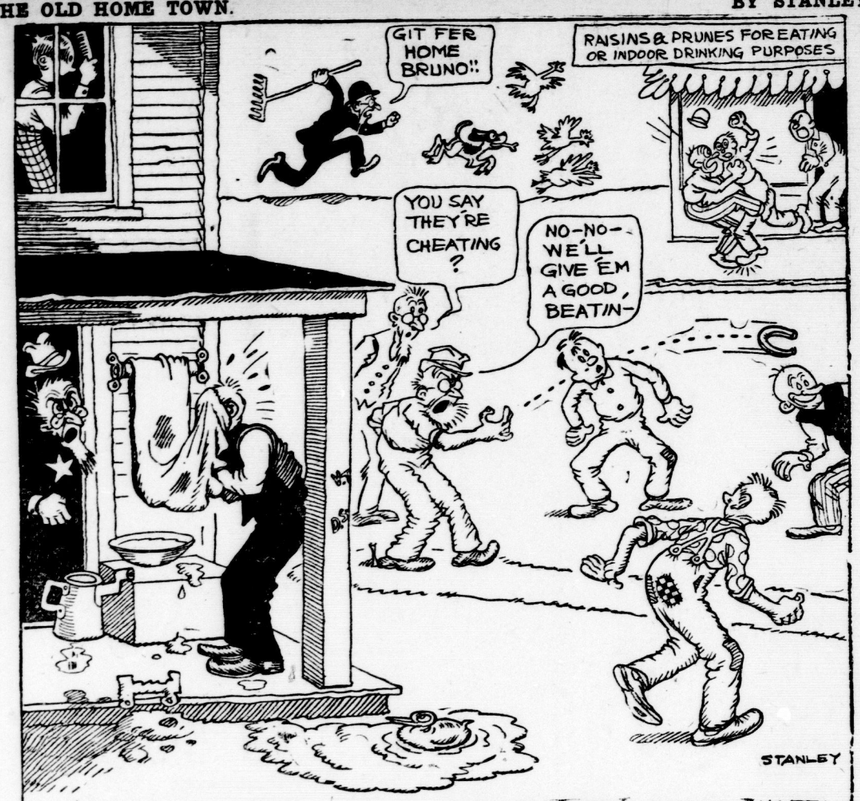

KITCHENER, Aug. 31. — The finance committee of the city council, which has charge of the preparations for the welcome which will be extended to Premier King upon his visit to the city on Sept. 13, has decided to request Mayor Greb to proclaim a half-holiday on the afternoon of the day on which Mr. King will be here.

The tentative plans of the committee now include the hiring of the Kitchener Regiment Band for the afternoon, the inviting of the mayor and council of Waterloo to participate in the reception, and the using of Victoria Park as the spot where the public will be given a chance to meet Canada's prime minister and Kitchener's native son. It is expected the mayor will issue his proclamation for a half-holiday as soon as he receives the request from the committee.

The prolonged controversy between groups of the city council in connection with the location of the waiting-room and comfort station on the grounds of the new city hall seems about to settle itself, with the agreement of the light commission to the elimination of the waiting-room. This will likely result in a revision of the plans to place the comfort station in the basement of the city hall building.

The light commission has decided to have the waiting-room and ticket office transferred to the new car barns, which will shortly be in the course of erection. It is said that at the regular meeting of the city council on Tuesday night a resolution will be passed, eliminating the comfort station and waiting-room from the ground plan of the city hall square.

OPEN NEW STRETCH OF KENT PAVEMENT

Thamesville To Wabash Highway Put Into Use After Ceremony.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 31.—The new stretch of pavement from Thamesville to Wabash was opened for traffic yesterday afternoon. The ceremony of cutting the ribbon was performed by county officials.

The lack of sufficient gravel is holding up some other paving activities in other parts of the county, but it is hoped that this will be remedied in a few days' time.

Following up their campaign to enforce civic ordinances, which was announced a few days ago, the city police are bringing offenders into the city police court every day. Two prominent citizens paid fines this morning, and another batch is slated to appear tomorrow morning, it is stated.

County highway charges for highway construction for the month of August were given out this afternoon by County Clerk Fletcher. The figures showed that the sum of $64,154.32 was expended. Maintenance charges for the operation of the motor equipment of the roads department for the same period amounted to $5,694.94. Most of the trucks are engaged in gravelling and improving the side roads.

The death took place this morning of Mrs. Legate, a well-known resident of this city. She had been ailing for some time, but death was unexpected.

The funeral arrangements have not as yet made.

Robs Aged Woman of Dime and Box of Pills.

Special to London Advertiser.

WALLACEBURG, Aug. 31.—A daring hold-up took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McKay on Water street.

Mrs. McKay, who is an aged lady, was alone in her house when a man entered and demanded her money. At the time the old lady had but 10 cents in the house, which she handed over to the miscreant, who also took possession of a box of heart pills which Mrs. McKay had just received from her doctor.

The man then left, and the matter was reported to the police as soon as Mrs. McKay's son arrived home from work. However, no further trace has been found of the intruder.

SENATE PASSES SOLDIERS' BONUS

U. S. Upper House Carries Measure by Vote of 47 To 22.

Government Experts Estimate Total Cost Will Be $3,845,659,481.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. — The United States Senate today passed the soldiers' bonus bill and sent it to the house for conference. Favorable action on the bill came after months of debate. The vote stood 47 to 22.

There are few differences between the house and the Senate which will need adjustment in conference and it is expected that the bill will go to President Harding in the same form as passed today.

Whether or not the bill will reach the statute books is a matter of speculation among both friends and foes of the measure. President Harding has gone on record as opposed to the measure and it is considered altogether unlikely that there could be obtained in the Senate the necessary two-thirds majority to pass the bill over the executive veto.

Four hours of debate preceded Senate action.

Government experts estimate the total cost of the bonus at $3,845,659,481, on the basis of 75 per cent of the veterans electing to the certificate plan, 22 1-2 per cent the farm and home aid, and 2 1-2 per cent the vocational training.

DELORME PLANS TO COMBAT PETITION

Objects To Application To Have Him Interdicted.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Although hearing of the petition asking the superior court to interdict Adelard Delorme as being insane, was adjourned until tomorrow, the lawyers engaged in the case do not epect it will go on. All other business of the practice court has precedence over this case and as the roll is already overburdened, it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the Delorme case will not even be called tomorrow.

Justice Monette who presided over the case when Delorme appeared in the criminal court and was found by a jury mentally unfit to be tried on the charge of having murdered his half-brother Raoul Delorme, urged on the other hand that case should come to a hearing at once.

That Delorme intends to fight against being interdicted is indicated by the letters he has written authorizing the retention of counsel to contest his brother-in-law's petition. He insists he is quite capable of continuing to administer the family estate and that in any event, as the law has provided for the appointment of the medical superintendent as his curator in the situation which he now occupies, there is no need for the present petition before the civil courts.

POLLING OPENS QUIETLY IN ST. JEAN IBERVILLE

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—With the Liberal organization committee smiling benevolently upon both candidates in the St. Jean Iberville federal byelection, but backing neither, polling opened this morning without stirring more than a slight ripple of interest.

The women's vote, while expected to be light, is generally looked upon as the deciding factor in the battle, as both Stanislas Poulin and A. J. Benoit share an almost equal popularity, the slight favor, if any, leaning to Poulin, who has long been prominent in local political activities.

The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Joseph Demers to accept an appointment to the bench. The riding has been Liberal since 1896.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN AND SEASON'S CROPS

MOUNT FOREST, Aug. 31.—Fire broke out in the barn of George Francis, about 5 o'clock this afternoon, while threshing operations were in progress, destroying the entire season's crop, building and machinery. This was formerly the Connor farm, about half a mile from town, and considered one of the best-equipped buildings in the province, being fitted out with electric lights, chopper and all machinery utilized by progressive farmers. The cause of the fire is given as a heated part of the separator, while the loss is estimated in the neighborhood of some $7,000 over the insurance carried.

PRESS RESENTS LLOYD GEORGE WRITING BOOK

British Journals Heap Invective Upon Premier For Literary Ambitions.

FEAR SECRETS' BETRAYAL

Question Value of Volume If State Confidences Are Respected.

LONDON, England, Aug. 31.—Announcement that Mr. Lloyd George is going to write a book about his experiences, a book whose British and American rights will bring him $450,000, and the continental rights perhaps another $50,000, has been received by the public in not too friendly a fashion.

It isn't done.

No prime minister has ever written a book while in office. The prime minister's oath as a member of the privy councly pledges him to secrecy. People are wondering how Mr. Lloyd George will get around that fact. Will he tell what he is pledged not to tell? Or will he tell what he is privileged to tell, and that alone? If he takes the latter alternative, will his book be worth anything?

Expresses View.

The Outlook puts it like this:

"What would be utterly inexcusable in a prime miniser is a hasty, catch-penny narrative which a 'distinguished literary agent' can hawk about among the publishers. Such a narrative must be either an outrage or a fraud. If it is honestly worth its money, it will contain information which no prime minister can use without the gravest impropriety. If it is not honestly worth its money, then the case is simply one of the chief servant of the crown selling his name to the publisher and helping to gull the public. The one thing is as intolerable as the other. The nation has a right to demand that its chief servant shall treat as confidential such of its business as is not considered fit to be communicated even to parliament. The nation has equally a right to demand that its chief servant, whose reputation is bound up with its own, shall not expose himself, at any rate while still in office, to the censure of every critic as a mere book-maker."

Morning Post Bitter.

The Morning Post is even more captious and bitter, saying:

"Milton was content with £5 for 'Paradise Lost.' Judged by Lloyd Georgian standards, Milton's excursion into literature was a miserable failure. The prime minister's war book must be accounted 20,000 times more 'successful'; and yet the prime minister is a mere unlettered politician who thinks that Kharkoff is the name of a Russian general, while Milton was a scholar and a poet who earned the title of 'great organ-voice of England.' Ah! if he had only been the mouth-organ voice of England his rewards also might have been numbered in the tens of thousands. . . .

"It is not strange that in all the long succession of prime ministers none before Mr. Lloyd George should have seen the news value of their experiences, or should have recognized how they might be made to provide that retiring allowance which a parsimonious state has grudged to its foremost public servants? Is it not strange that no previous Prime Minister should have had enough zeal in 'the interests of historical accuracy' to put aside foolish scruples of decorum? Who would not congratulate Mr. Lloyd George not only on his courage in creating another precedent, but on his businesslike aptitude in disposing of all his rights at home and abroad?

A Good Bargain.

"Some prime ministers might, in their headlong zeal for 'the interests of historical accuracy,' have forgotten to get the best possible terms out of the trade; but Mr. Lloyd George has remembered that those who serve the altar of Truth must live by the altar. And what could be more fitting than that 'the man who won the war' should also be one of those who have done so well out of it?"

Doubtless these criticisms go too far. Doubtless Mr. Lloyd George will be able to reply to numerous critics without giving away any cabinet secrets. Plenty of stories have gained currency to which Mr. Lloyd George could reply, plenty of garbled versions are abroad, misleading a public which is entitled to the truth, not half a century from now, but at the present moment. And many of these matters are not concerned with secrets of the cabinet.

What is the truth, for instance, about the intrigue by which Mr. Asquith was forced to resign as prime minister. Lord Northcliffe was concerned in it, and Lord Beaverbrook, and neither of them were members of the cabinet. There are many accounts of what took place, all differing more or less in important particulars. Mr. Lloyd George could, if he would, tell what actually happened.

Others Have Written.

Moreover, a precedent has been set. Mr. Churchill has written for the newspapers while a member of the government, and so has Lord Birkenhead. It is true that they have been criticized for it—but it cannot be said that they gave away secrets of state. Mr. Lloyd George could probably turn the trick just as well.

But to many people the whole idea is distasteful. It is almost as if the King himself had announced that he intended to publish his memoirs. Kings and prime ministers are not supposed to do these things while they hold office. At least, not in England. It is no part of their business to set contemporary history right. Not even for half a million, though doubtless the Georges, both Lloyd and V., could use the money.

In one section of the press there is a hint that announcement that Mr. George will write his memoirs is a prelude to his retirement. It is considered doubtful whether he will find spare time enough, even during the vacation of Parliament, to do the necessary work of writing and revision.

LA BELLE CONSERVATIVES WILL DEMAND RECOUNT

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Five ballot box returns are still missing, and official announcement of the result of the La Belle county byelection has been postponed for a second time. Thursday next has been fixed for the proclamation.

A recount before a judge will be demanded by the Conservatives as soon as the official proclamation has been made, according to Conservative headquarters here today. Alleged irregularities have led the Conservatives to the decision that a recount before a judge is desirable.

The majority of Desire LaHaie, Liberal, over J. C. Langlois, opposition candidate, is generally accepted, but the charge of irregularities portend the unwinding of considerable red tape before the Conservatives allow Mr. LaHaie to sit in the Quebec Legislature.

The employees are represented on the board by Thomas Taylor of Toronto, and the company by Melville P. White, also of Toronto. The dispute arises from proposed wage reductions and changes in working conditions.

POSTPONE CASH PAYMENTS ON GERMAN DEBT

Members of Reparations Commission Arrive At Basis of Agreement.

COMPROMISE EFFECTED

Question of Moratorium Is Shelved Until Teutons Carry Out Economic Reforms.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The reparations commission has relieved Germany of the necessity of making any further cash payments in reparations for the remainder of 1922, but defers its decision on the question of a moratorium until radical reforms in Germany's finances are carried out.

These include the balancing of her budget, reduction of Germany's foreign obligations, currency reform and the issue of foreign and internal loans. In rendering its decision, the reparations commission takes into account the fact that "the German state has lost its credit and the mark has depreciated continuously."

Announcement of the commission's action was made by Sir John Bradbury this evening after a session lasting an hour and twenty minutes. The decision was immediately communicated to the German delegates and the various governments by telephone. It is understood that Premier Lloyd George personally approved the settlement by telephone this afternoon.

Comes As Surprise.

The decision came as a surprise to some circles, where it was expected that M. Dubois, representing France, would vote against any solution other than one complying with the original demands of Premier Poincare.

As accepted, the settlement constitutes a modified form of the Belgian compromise proposal, and Belgium is given the honor of having brought about the last minute agreement, when a break in the commission seemed inevitable and the members of the commission felt that the very existence of the commission was at stake.

Premier Poincare gave his approval upon condition that Germany furnish a gold deposit sufficient to guarantee the deferred payments involved. The threatened breach in the Franco-British relations has thus been averted by the French premier, who was only prevailed upon to withdraw his objection to the compromise after it became certain that independent action by France would be interpreted by Great Britain as a virtual tearing up of the treaty of Versailles.

Accept Treasury Bills.

The question now passes out of the hands of the reparations commission and becomes a matter of negotiation between Germany and Belgium, the latter agreeing to accept treasury bills from the German government payable in six months in lieu of cash payments to which Belgium is entitled under a priority agreement.

The commission took the view that the proposals of the German government respecting deliveries of coal and wood in 1922 and 1923, which involved private contracts between the German government and German industrial interests, was condition on granting a full moratorium, and therefore the commission did not feel justified in accepting it, but reserved the right to accept the offer if present arrangements for the delivery of coal and wood were deemed to be unsatisfactory. It is believed that this offer will be accepted within a short time.

The text of the decision reads:

"The reparations commission, after examing the new request for a moratorium, dated July 12, 1922, and taking into account the fact that the German state has lost its credit, both internal and external, and that the mark has depreciated continuously, down to three one-thousandths of its normal value, decides:

Defers Decision.

"Firstly—To defer its decision on the request of the German government until the commission has completed its scheme for the radical reform of German public finances, including: (a) balancing of the budget; (b) in the event of the governments represented on the reparations commission giving their prior consent thereto, reduction of Germany's foreign obligations in so far as may be considered necessary for the restoration of her credit; (c) currency reform; (d) the issue of foreign and internal loans in order to consolidate the financial situation.

"Secondly—With a view to giving time for reparations and the carrying out of the measures referred to under paragraph 1 above, the commission agrees to accept, in payment of the cash installments falling due August 15 and September 15, and, unless in the meantime other arrangements are made, of the further cash installments falling due between October 15 and December 31, 1922, the German government sixth month's treasury bills payable in gold and guaranteed in such manner as may be agreed upon between the German government and the government of Belgium (to which power the payments have been assigned); or in default of such agreement, by the deposit of gold in a foreign bank approved by Belgium."

FEARS EFFECT OF U. S. LEGISLATION

Sir Frederick Lewis Sees Principles of Shipping Reciprocity At Stake.

LONDON, England, Aug. 31.—Legislation now being considered in the United States would entirely destroy the principle of reciprocity, on which the present relations between the mercantile marines of the British empire and the United States are founded, according to Sir Frederick Lewis, president of the chamber of shipping of the United Kingdom, speaking tonight at the annual meeting of Furness, Withy & Co., the shipping concern he heads.

According to the Times, Sir Frederick said that the legislation appeared to be "inconsistent with the spirit of the Washington conference." He pointed out that the British ship owners claimed no right to express an opinion on the direct subsidy proposals, which were contemplated for the benefit of the United States mercantile marine, but when these proposals were extended to the point of discrimination against British and other shipping in United States ports then "different considerations arose."

BASEBALL and LATE SPORTING NEWS

TECS WIN SECOND TILT ON SLENDER 2--1 MARGIN

Coogan Allows But Three Hit s and Help Fields Well Behind Him—Ump Fyfe Knocke d Out, But Gamely Re-enters Game.

WILLIAM (BILL) COOGAN, who has been away on vacation in the outfield for some time, returned to the mound yesterday and allowed the Saints but three hits, thereby beating them 2—1, in one of the peppiest clashes seen and heard at the west side resort this aging season. Bill, moreover, nonchalantly dropped his glove to receive a sizzling knee-high liner off Ashley's bat in the seventh, doubling up on Goulait at first base, to discourage any designs the Saints may have had on another of those razor-like one-run edges.

Eddie Reis, a new outfielder, batted 1,000 with three hits in three journeys to the plate, and in the eighth with Boyle, who made a jumping stab at Getsie's liner, made a fielding feature that aided in putting the Saints off until the ninth, where Coogan again stepped into the glare by striking out Brown and making the next two ground out to Gadsby.

Lou Fyfe was knocked out by a foul tip while Gadsby was batting in the sixth, but gamely came back in the eighth, and got a whole-hearted hand from the crowd on the strength of it.

Nap Opens.

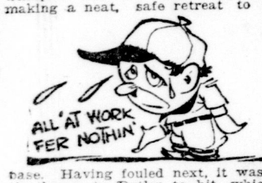

"Nap" Goulait nicked Coogins for the first hit in the third, and Ashley sacrificed him along. Winters sliced a pop toward third, Goulait scoring and Winters being safe.

The Tecs got this back smartly, Reis singling to start the retrenchment. Stimpson sacrificed and Butler popped out. Malmquest smote the needful swat though, a single to center, scoring Reis, and Malm. went to second when Goulait's peg to the plate went wide.

The next frame the Saints threatened to become nasty, Brown opening with a low single to center. Kaylor was safe and Brown went to third when Churry grabbed the former's attempted sacrifice and heaved it half a telephone pole above Boyle's head. Blake lifted a high fly to Reis, with the full intention of collecting a sacrifice fly, but Mister Reis, who as an underhand throwing fielder is a novelty, casually like made a perfect peg to the plate to cut Brown o. Ashley in the next frame collected the Saints' last hit, a clean single to right, and really a double if Schaefer hadn' played it the way he did.

All Knotted Up.

Reis realized when the sixth came along that this sort of thing wasn't getting anywhere nearer the "co'n pone" than when the affair started, so shot one at Worley that had the talkative shortstop wishing he had a pair of gloves. Stimpson then stopped into the frame and also into a three-bagger as it developed when Goulait after having run in, made a despairing jumping one-hand stab, twenty feet short, of the flying spheroid. Butler was up and apparently, with nobody gone, under sealed orders to bunt. Stimpson started and he missed fire at the same, and Stimpson started a game of tag, finally making a neat, safe retreat to third base. Having fouled next, it was distinctly up to Butler to hit, which he did—a nice sacrifice fly to left. Stimpson had crossed the plate when Umpire Legg made it known to the customers that Stimpson was out, having been a little premature in his departure from third base. This was bad, as instead of one man out and a run in, two were gone and departed, and Malmquest made the third. However, it was enough as it turned out, though the action continued right to the end.

IMPROVING THE HAIR.

For improving the general condition of the hair the bob is said to be the most beneficial thing. Many women who do not care for bobbed hair are having their hair cut shoulder length, just long enough to do up under a net. Beauty specialists also recommend sun baths and letting the hair hang as much as possible.

BEAVERS SPLIT.

KITCHENER, Aug. 31.—Lefty MacCallum failed in the ironman stunt today, though he made a gallant try, winning the first game 4 to 3, it being the fifth straight win of the Beavers, but losing the second, 2 to 0. Schelberg pitched fine ball in the last game, allowing the Beavers only two hits up to the seventh. Good fielding and timely hitting gave the first game to the Beavers.

PADDOCK WORLD'S FLEETEST HUMAN

Says All One Needs To Sprint Is Ability—Development—Condition

CHARLES PADDOCK.

PASADENA, Cal., Aug. 31.—Charlie Paddock, fleetest-footed man in the world, in his home town is the hero of all the youngsters.

He's instructing a lot of them how to race, and among them, he says, he expects it won't be long before two or three are starting after his own record of 9 3-5 seconds for the 100 yards.

Charlie began sprinting when he was 14. Now he's 22.

"Three things go to make up a good sprinter," he says.

"1. Natural ability—a combination of energy, balance and rhythm, with which some boys seem to be born.

"2. Development—learning the tricks of the game.

"3. Condition—keeping in good health.

"Of course, any boy, regardless of natural ability, can improve his speed by developing and keeping fit.

"For those who want to excel, it is important to learn—

"1. To start.

"2. To stride.

"3. To finish.

"The best starting position is the crouch, poised on fingers and toes, an attitude which Jack Donaldson, the great Australian runner, learned from watching the kangaroos in his own country.

"Running consists of a succession of arrested falls forward.

"The sprinter's body is poised just at the edge of falling. At the crack of the pistol he lunges forward, catches himself swiftly and is off in his first stride.

Lift Your Knees.

"If he has started properly, he comes out of that first jumping stride low, pulling his body upward and swinging his arms to help his legs.

"Always remember to lift your knees high as you run.

"The higher you lift them the longer your step and the more power as you shoot your feet forward.

"That's all I think about when sprinting—just to keep my knees coming high. The body automatically does the rest.

"Then the runner nears the finish. He sees the tape ahead. His rival may be just inches ahead or behind. The final few strides count.

"There are three distinct finish strides—

"1. The lunge, introduced by Bernie Wefers, once world's champion, which is accomplished by throwing the arms back smartly and the chest out, thus pitching the runner forward sharply at the last jump toward the tape.

"2. The shrug, introduced by Arthur Duffy, another champion, in 1903, by which the runner throws his side and shoulder at the tape, gaining a few inches at the finish.

"3. The jump, which I introduced myself, by which the runner literally hurls himself from the ground, with his feet low, as in the running broad jump. I cover 15 feet in this fashion on my last stride."

3 New Teams Enter City Softball League and Kiwanians Form Circuit

Six softball games will be staged in the City League Saturday. Fifteen teams will be playing in the league, three new entries having been received, it was announced at last night's meeting, from Murray Shoe, Civil Service and Public Utilities.

Owing to the R. C. R.'s being called away, the schedule has had to be rearranged somewhat, but it is expected that they will be back shortly and a new schedule will be drafted, taking in the new teams.

Softball's growing popularity is attested further by the formation of a four-team league of Kiwanians, and it is freely predicted by enthusiasts that next summer will see every available playing ground taken up with softball games every evening.

It is possible that some inter-city games will be staged before the season is over, and Ingersoll has already made inquiries regarding a game. Inquiries of this nature addressed to Ed. Walker, president of the league, who can be reached by phone, or in care of the W. O. R., London Armories, will receive attention, and if possible games will be arranged.

The games Saturday will be:

Bottrills.
W. O. R. vs. Penmans.
Y. M. C. A. vs. McCormicks.

Tecumseh.
Free Press vs. 12th Battery.
Murray Shoe vs. St. Pauls.

Thames Park.
Advertiser vs. Thames Park.
L. O. L. vs. West Stars.

LUCAN WINS IN NINTH

With Two Gone Singles Fill Bags, and Crawley Triples.

LUCAN, Aug. 31.—The locals went into the ninth here today in the second game of the N. W. B. A. semi-finals with Fullarton, two runs down. With two men already passed away, singles by Ross, George and Langford, filled the bases and which cleaned the bags and gave the Irish nine the right to enter the finals.

Lucal booted 12 chances, but to offset this horrible exhibition nicked Woodley for 12 hits, while Hindmarsh was holding the Fullarton swatters to four scattered hits.

Lucan will meet the winner of Palmerston-Wingham series.

ANNUAL GUELPH RIFLE MEET TO BE BIG EVENT

GUELPH, Aug. 31.—What is expected to be a record meet will be the annual two-day shooting matches of the Wellington Rifle Association, which will take place at the Guelph ranges Sept. 15 and 16 next.

Several thousand dollars have been expended on the ranges during the last year, and they are now regarded as the best in Ontario west of Ottawa.

One of the big events at the matches will be the shoot for the John Crowe gold challenge cup, which is for teams of six men each from any regiment or military unit.

Inforamtion regarding the meet can be secured from Lieut. J. A. Steele, postoffice box 119, Guelph.

PETER EARLY WINS IN CLASSY FIELD

Trots Fastest Mile Credited To 3-Year-Old This Year.

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 31.—Peter Earl, the colt owned by James J. Archbold of Brooklyn, and in the stable of Nat Ray, won the American Horse Breeders' Futurity for three-year-olds at the grand circuit races this afternoon, defeating a high-class field as well as trotting the fastest mile to the credit of a youngster of his age this season.

The winner lost the first heat to Lee Wynolot, driven by Harry Fleming, chiefly because Ray allowed the youngster to go to the half-mile post at too slow a clip, but in the next two heats Peter Earl was clearly the class of the field, although he had to trot in 2:04¾ to head off Helen Dillon in the second round.

Bill Sharon, a member of the Murphy stable, outclassed the field in the 2:13 trotting class, never being in trouble at any time during the race.

Great Britton did not have such an easy time in the Blue Hill, for 2:05 trotters, the horses being very evenly matched.

MINT Patter

If London could get an injunction out against Bay City going to Hamilton for today and tomorrow things would look still brighter.

* * *

* * *

Tomlin is still with the Hams and Petie, though he had made a request to pitch two games yesterday and held the Aces to five hits in the first game, retired in favor of the big Bison for the second.

* * *

The salary limit has disclosed a lot of reversible outfielder-pitchers to Mint fans.

BUZZ FLIRTIN' AGAIN.

* * *

Poleon Goulait looks good when they're good and awfully bad when they're the least bit hard, but he makes up for it with lots of experience, a sunny nature, timely hitting and some good pitching now and again.

* * *

A good game like yesterday always makes Cox and company, grandstand Banners and Kidders, do better work. They went after Brownie yesterday and Worley, and even had Johnny Blake taking an angry cut at the ball. Corker Legg also got a few splinters.

* * *

Looked yesterday as if Reis were trying to beat Carmen out of that outfield job.

* * *

Calbert these days turns pale every time he sees a telegraph messengr boy, so many realls have come that way.

* * *

Both the Beavers and Flint Vehics sympathize with the striking miners. They know what underground work is.

* * *

The last that will be seen of Buck Boyle some day will be astride a blazing liner going over some ball park fence.

* * *

Two games and a half and ten more games to play. It looks brighter.

FLOWER LOVERS STAGE BIG SHOW

Guelph Township Horticultural Society Holds First Ontario Exhibition of Kind.

Special to London Advertiser.

GUELPH, Aug. 31. — Hundreds of visitors were attracted to Riverside Park here this afternoon and evening, where the first annual flower and vegetable show under the auspices of the Guelph Township Horticultural Society, and incidentally the first of its kind ever held in Ontario, took place.

This organization, which was only established last spring, has developed into an active body, and results of the good work accomplished through the members' efforts to beautify the township were to be seen in the large and attractive exhibition of flowers sent from all sections in the township.

The exhibits were tastefully arranged, and the show is sure to promote a keener pride in beautifying the township. The organization already has several hundred members.

This evening the results of the lawn garden and vegetable competitions conducted by the society were announced as follows:

Lawn and flower gardens on farms more than 30 acres—1, Walter McDonald; 2, A. Smith; 3, Misses McIntosh.

On farms under 20 acres—1, R. Ames; 2, T. J. Hannigan; 3, J. Mitchell.

Vegetables on farms more than 20 acres—1, J. P. Henderson; 2, Mrs. G. Goetz; 3, J. W. Atkinson.

On farms under 20 acres—1, John Conker.

Prof. J. A. Neilson of the O. A. C. judged the various township competitions, and in making his awards paid high tribute to the wonderful work the new society is doing.

The nice thing about fall is cussing the ice man goodby.

Urges Galt Citizens To Acquire Property and Extend City Park

Special to London Advertiser.

GALT, Aug. 31.—Dr. A. Soper, who has given to Galt one of the finest parks to be found in the Province of Ontario, is always looking to the beautification of the city, and today in a letter to the press suggests that since it is expected that the city will erect a new bridge over the Grand River at Main street as a memorial to the Galt men who fell in the Great War, that the citizens cooperate and acquire Scott's opera house and a vacant property at the rear to extend Queen's Square Park, he would move the opera house building and would rename the park, Memorial Park. He has obtained an option on the property mentioned for $30,000 and announces that there is one citizen who will contribute $1,000 towards a fund to carry his scheme out.

MAKES BITTER ATTACK ON BECK

Toronto Paper Brands Sir Adam as Author of Crisis.

Says He Is Forcing Monstrous Agreement Down City's Throat.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—The Toronto Star comes out editorially today with a bitter personal attack on Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. Contending that it has heretofore been an "unwavering backer" of Sir Adam in his long fight for the establishment and development of hydro, the Star says: "Affairs in Toronto have reached a crisis which demands straight thinking and plain speaking. The author of that crisis is Sir Adam Beck.

"It has been precipitated by Sir Adam's lust for power. It is the fruit of insensate desire to prove that he can force a monstrous agreement down Toronto's throat—that he can do this with all public bodies against him. This craving of Sir Adam Beck to prove his horsemanship by riding rough-shod over Toronto on the back of Toronto's own city council is responsible for the present situation. It is a situation in which it would be folly to mince words. . . . Is the waterfront to be thrown into provincial hands in order that Sir Adam Beck may pin a new halo on his hat? Are Toronto's most precious franchises to be alienated to an outside commission for 50 years in order that Sir Adam may vaunt himself upon them for five or perhaps not one?

"The proposal is an enormity, and members of the city council who lend themselves to the aggrandizement of Sir Adam Beck when that aggrandizement involves the betrayal of Toronto's interests, are sowing the seeds of a harvest of opprobrium from which they will never recover."

Indian Chief Predicts Mild Weather Till December

SELKIRK, Man., Sept. 1.—An open fall, with no cold weather until late in December, was predicted yesterday by Henry Prince, a grandson of the great Indian chief Peguis, who spoke with all the confidence of a man who knew what he was talking about.

He based his opinion principally on the position and movements of the stars, and declared that the dipper is exceptionally slow in its turning movements this season.

COMPLIMENT TREASURER ON CITY'S FINANCE SYSTEM

Ontario Municipal Association Hears Instructive Address by London Official.

Those who heard City Treasurer James S. Bell deliver an address on "City Financing," before the Ontario Municipal Association in session in Toronto Thursday morning, declare that the London official provided many new features which will be utilized by the municipalities interested in the near future.

A point in his address which was the subject of much comment and approval was the statement that of a revenue of $1,929,999 brought to the city in taxes in 1920, the actual amount of loss was $4,500, which is regarded as exceptionally low. This was looked upon as an extra good showing by the convention, which complimented Mr. Bell for the excellent system of city financing conducted in London.

Speaking in regard to the convention Friday morning, Mr. Bell said: "The chief discussion Thursday hinged on local improvement work and how it affects the taxes. Every representative present admitted being in the same boat on this thing. All municipalities of Ontario have somewhat large expenditures to face on local improvements, and they discussed at length whether this outlay is warranted."

St. Thomas Topics

Staff Correspondent, St. Thomas, A. J. McKenna, 631 Talbot Street, Phones 2446. Circulation and Advertising Office, 648 Talbot Street. Phone 1510.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 31.—For failing to answer a summons for reckless driving, Harry Jackson, metal dealer of this city, was arrested Thursday for contempt of court. Mr. Jackson was in London Wednesday night, it is reported, and did not reach the city in time to attend the court.

DISCREPANCIES between the story told by Harry Hopper, recently convicted of breaking into Charlton's grocery store, and information received from his people in Cleveland, necessitate his being kept in the county jail until his movements are looked into. He told the magistrate that he had given most of his money to his mother before leaving Cleveland to find work and had broken into the store to obtain food. His relatives declare, however, that he was working in the Ford plant in Detroit before coming to St. Thomas.

THE PRICE OF fall wheat fell to 96 cents here Thursday. Heavy offerings of western wheat are given as the reason for the drop, and even lower prices may be expected, local millers state. Considering that the yield in this district has not been heavy, farmers feel that much of their labor this year will be a loss.

SEEKING THE co-operation of the chamber of commerce, promoters are in the city offering to establish a factory here, which they claim will employ fifty men when operating at full capacity. They hope to sell a large amount of stock here.

ELEVEN LADIES from the Stratford Golf Club were in the city Thursday playing with ladies of the St. Thomas Club. The members of the party were: Mrs. Silcox, Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Copus, Mrs. McHaffie, Mrs. Makins, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Miller, Mrs. Rutledge and Miss Stewart.

A MEETING of No. 2 committee scheduled for Thursday night was postponed on account of the absence of its chairman, Dr. J. D. Curtis.

PRINCETON

Special to London Advertiser.

PRINCETON, Aug. 31.—The Guild League held a citizens' meeting a few evenings ago and was addressed by Rev. D. Lane and Miss Reba Conybeare, teacher in West Lorne schools, and a former resident of Princeton. Instrumental music was given by Mrs. J. O. Reid. Miss A. Lawrence and Harry Kerton and a reading was given by Mrs. McCaul.

Fourteen men went in four autos Saturday afternoon to spend the week-end camping at Normandale. Although the weather was rather chilly, they had a pleasant outing.

Little Glen Hobbs met with a peculiar and painful accident a few days ago. An older brother was reaching apples from the tree with a hoe, which slipped and sliced a piece of bone about two inches in length off the little boy's head. The child is doing well. Only a few days previously, Glen trod on a broken bottle getting two pieces of broken glass in his foot, one of which was only extracted the day of his second accident.

Dr. and Mrs. Myron Craft of Detroit were guests of their aunt, Mrs. E. Crettenden from Friday to Monday.

Mrs. Mary Stitt has been spending two weeks in Galt with Miss McKenzie and Miss Brown.

Port Dover civic holiday being observed on Monday, Mr. Clark Freeman, manager of the Royal Bank, and his wife, motored over to spend the day with Mr. Freeman's parents.

LONDON KIWANIS JOURNEYS TO GALT

Galt, Sept. 1.—A party of London Kiwanians, headed by Harry Muir, district trustee, joined the local club at luncheon at noon today at the Iroquois Hotel.

The London men furnished speakers, including Fred Lawrason, Joe Hickey, Will Murray and Harry Muir. The latter pointed out the opportunity of the Kiwanis convention in Windsor Sept. 21-22, for all Kiwanians of the Ontario-Quebec division to get together for the purpose of enacting sound legislation for the guidance of Kiwanis activity in service to the community.

Fred Lawrason, well-known manufacturer of the Forest City, reviewed the accomplishments of 2,000 members of 22 clubs of Ontario-Quebec division during the past year.

"Men of Ontario and Quebec are working unitedly in the great cause of helping under-privileged boys to manhood's front rank of honor and respect, and in so doing are learning to honor and respect each other more every day," declared the speaker, amid vociferous applause.

"Billy" Murray, architect, stressed the value of a little music and frolic in the plans for successful club building.

Joe Hickey dispensed some rare Irish wit while advocating a healthy program of sports for Kiwanis boys, of both short and long-pant estate.

President Norman MacRae, of the Galt Club, promised the London men whole-hearted support in making the coming convention in Windsor productive of much good for the sound growth of the high ideals of Kiwanis.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, Sept. 1—12:30 p.m.—Activity continues in several issues on the stock market this forenoon, and the tendency throughout seemed to be toward further advances. During the session Spanish River preferred jumped to a new high at 110 on relatively small buying. The common stock was traded in extensively, and was more active than any other issue on the list. Beginning at 100¾, it rose to 101⅝, and the feeling on the street was that yet higher prices may be looked for in the near future.

Cement came into prominence with unusually active buying, and a jump in price to a new high record on the movement at 75. Brazilian was again active at fractionally better than 46.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Business was fairly active on the local stock exchange this morning, and price changes were unusually pronounced. British Empire Steel second preferred, and Canadian Bread were weak, the former selling off a point to 34¾, and the latter 2¼ points at 35½. C. P. R. was a point lower at 150. General Electric lost ½ at 82, and Twin City ½ at 58. Brazilian was in good demand at higher prices, advancing a point to 46½.

Mining stocks in the unlisted section were fairly active at steady prices.
