UNITED WELFARE DRIVE GO-GETTERS GRIT TEETH AND START ON FINAL LAP

Success of Campaign Largely Depends on Liberality Shown Today.

$80,000 IN HAND

Canvassers Are Determined To Bring Drive to Conclusion
by Reaching Objective.

Welfare fund "go-getters" after the inspirational meeting of team captains last night, started out this morning in a final attempt to "put over" the big drive. A little over $10,000 was filed away in the treasury yesterday, bringing the total up to $80,000. This leaves $20,000 to get before the big meeting at Masonic Hall tonight.

When Chairman A. E. Silverwood makes his announcement this evening more than one individual will hold his breath in suspense. The attitude of all has been "die or live," and the efficacy of their optimism will be revealed when final reports are computed at the big Masonic gathering.

Today is the day for all those who have not previously contributed to give liberally. Everything depends on the generosity of citizens solicited this morning and afternoon.

Tomorrow London's traveling men take up the torch in their week-end cleanup. Headed by A. E. Barbour, the traveling troops will begin the first assault of their crusade Saturday. Two hundred and forty men will form a little battalion with which to invade London's pocketbook in the name of humanity. One year they swept the city to the extent of $25,000. It is this duplicated the welfare men need have no misgivings regarding the outcome of the drive.

In the spirit which characterizes their calling, the London travelers say it is a privilege to give this service, and this year, as has been the case for the last two years, the knights of the grip will visit more than 12,000 homes.

Helps Travelers.
George T. Hair, secretary of the association, says the welfare fund is one of the best things that ever happened in bringing the travelers closer to the community.

"In the nature of his work the commercial man does not come in contact with his fellow-citizens," said Mr. Hair. "The traveler is away from his home town more than he is in it. Just as community spirit has been advanced in every way in London, this work of getting out and helping has helped the traveler. The average traveler is intensely interested in his own work. He thinks of his firm and the goods he must sell all week. It is well to have such a work as this to give him new interest. He can sell the goods of the welfare work as well as anything else."

A. E. Barbour this morning broadcasted the following letter to all London traveling men:

"To you as a team member and to the Association of Commercial Travelers is awarded the post of honor in this splendid campaign. We are asked to sell to the homes of London for renewal policy for another year. This wonderful welfare fund, which provides so well and efficiently for the actual needs of fourteen institutions in London devoted to the care of the needy, the aged, the sick, the infirm, the blind, and the deaf."

"This is truly a work of necessity and one which gives keen personal satisfaction to each worker and subscriber. Aren't you pleased to do your part? Sure you are!"

Going for Record.
"If possible will you ask your fellow-workers attend the Friday meeting in the Masonic Hall, and also the noon luncheon for final instructions, and after that—let's pile up a record. As there was no employees' canvasser this year our field of opportunity and responsibility is greatly increased. LET'S MAKE GOOD. WE NEVER FAIL! This work makes us bigger and better men. Let's go!"

Secretary Gordon Philip, of the Chamber of Commerce, received today several good-sized subscriptions from out-of-town firms with branches in the city. One check came in from the "Robin Hood." As was pointed out by Mr. Silverwood last night a few larger subscriptions, notably Col. William Gartshore's, will come to hand after the campaign is over. These will probably amount to three or four thousand dollars.

The spirit that achieves in spite of adverse conditions and obstacles never turns to Page 2, Column 5.

NAME HARRY DOWN
HIGH CONSTABLE;
HE WILL ACCEPT

Member of the City Detective Department Recommended by County Committee.

TO GET $2,700 AND CAR
Complete Shake-Up of County
Constabulary Also Asked For in Report.

The appointment of Detective-Sergeant Harry Down, of the London police force, as high constable and special O. T. A. enforcement officer for Middlesex, and a complete shake-up of the present county constabulary system is called for in the report of the constabulary committee of the county council, which was submitted to the councillors in special session at the county buildings this morning.

The committee recommends that Detective Down be paid a salary of $2,700 a year; that he be furnished with a car, to be maintained by the county, and that he be given a full time assistant. Detective Down said at noon today that he would accept the appointment at the salary stated, and that he would be ready to take over the high constable's duties whenever the appointment is approved by the council.

Six Constables.
The recommendation is also made that six constables be appointed to form with the high constable the new county constabulary system, and that all constables at present in the employ of the county be asked for their resignations.

The report was read this morning, and discussion on the recommendations will take place this afternoon. The five recommendations submitted by the special committee are as follows:

- (1) That Detective Harry Down of London be appointed high constable and officer for the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act for the County of Middlesex at a salary of $2,700 a year. All fees and fines earned by him to be turned over to the county treasurer.
- (2) That he be furnished with a suitable car for his work in connection therewith.
- (3) That the county provide for the running and the maintenance of the said car.
- (4) That six constables be appointed throughout the county at a net salary of $1,000 per year each. Headquarters for one of the constables to be in London for the convenience of and to assist the high constable, and after that—let's pile up a record. As there was no employees' canvasser this year our field of opportunity and responsibility is greatly increased. LET'S MAKE GOOD. WE NEVER FAIL! This work makes us bigger and better men. Let's go!"
- (5) That His Honor Judge Macbeth be requested to ask for the resignation of all county constables previously appointed by him and to turn to Page 2, Column 2.

Resignations Asked.

The British Egyptologists are particularly anxious that work of finally removing the mummy shall not pass into American hands, but admit it is largely a question of funds.

Had Rare Antiques.
The disposition of the late Earl of Carnarvon's rare collection of antiques at his country seat already has become a question of public interest. Recognized as one of the most remarkable collections in the world, the Carnarvon treasures include many rarities of all periods, several of which were purchased at very high prices.

The gem of the collection is said to be a portrait statuette of Thothmes III, which was found in Egypt during the war by native excavators, seven inches in height, and is made of solid gold. It dates back to approximately 1850 B. C.

Whether the earl disposes of his collection in his will is unknown, but the hope is expressed that he may have bequeathed it to the nation. The possibility of it being sold is also suggested. The public knows little of Lord Carnarvon, the new Earl of Carnarvon, beyond the fact that he is an officer in a cavalry regiment, and that he is reputed to be a skillful horseman.

It is not known whether he will return to his duties in India or will retire to enjoy his new rank.

Superstitious World Awed
At the Death of Carnarvon

Americans May Be Invited To Complete Work of Removing the Mummified Figure of Ancient Pharaoh.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.
London, April 6.—Americans may be invited to take over the task of removing from his newly discovered tomb the mummified figure of that ancient Pharaoh—Tutankhamen.

Lord Carnarvon, son and heir of the explorer, who died yesterday after a lingering illness which was the superstitious world with its suggestion of a mysterious vengeance against him who violated the tomb, wishes to wash his hands of the whole affair.

Howard Carter, co-discoverer with Lord Carnarvon of the catafalque that lay hidden for thirty centuries in the cliffs of the Valley of Kings, may go on, but he said recently to his friends:

"This tomb has brought us bad luck."

Unless Carter is determined to continue with the work that was expected to be culminated next winter in the removal from the sepulchre of the mummy, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, which is to finance and continue the work.

World Debating.
The entire world appears, from despatches to London, to be debating the possibility of the curse of ancient Egyptian priests having descended upon Carnarvon. Conan Doyle's remarkable theory that "elemental" forces of the occult have started violent discussions in occult and scientific circles. British Egyptologists generally scoff at the suggestion of evil spirits, however. Sir Ernest Budge, keeper of antiquities in the British Museum, says:

What's It Worth To You To Make a Baby Smile?This Baby Is Smiling Happily Because He Knows Your Generosity Will Make Some Less Fortunate Baby Smile.

This little chap is a master baby. He has been selected from hundreds of other chubby, well-cared-for little fellows as a prize-winner.

He is a prize-winner—a perfect baby—because he has had a chance. But what might he have been under different circumstances? Suppose it was his fortune to be born into the world to parents unable to care for him.

What sort of baby would he be then? Certainly not the chubby, merry cherub shown here, but just one of those wan, wistful-looking babies, under-nourished, ill-kept, untended, perhaps unwanted—a little stray in a city that prides itself upon the humanity of its citizens.

There are wan, wistful-looking babies in London—babies who have never had a chance, and for whom there can be no bright outlook unless the men and women and the boys and girls of London take them to their community heart and see that public generosity will make up for the lack of private fortune.

Some of the money collected in the United Welfare Drive in London this week will be devoted to the work of making the wan, wistful-looking babies like this little lad in the picture.

Isn't that worth while? Isn't it something to know that your dollar or your ten will help in such an undertaking?

There's a Baby Smile In Every Dollar and That's the Finest Interest Your Dollar Ever Earned.

TO DECIDE ON MONDAY
IF DELORME TO BE TRIED

Abbe Will Be Removed From St. Michael Asylum If Pronounced Fit for Trial.

Special to The Advertiser.
Quebec, April 6.—Abbe Delorme, the St. Michael Asylum inmate, who was transferred from Bordeaux jail to that institution, after being declared unfit to stand his trial for the alleged murder of his half-brother, Raoul, will know whether he is to be brought before the criminal court in Montreal or not on Monday next, it was learned today.

Since his incarceration in the asylum, Abbe Delorme lost the control of his estate, and would have been more or less forgotten only for sensational certificates issued on the 27th of August last, and a few weeks ago by Dr. Brochu, superintendent of the Beaufort Asylum, to the effect that his patient was sane.

The lieutenant-governor was petitioned on the face of these certificates, and the insistence of Abbe Delorme to stand trial is to be definitely dealt with. Abbe Delorme will be advised of his future status next Monday by the proper authorities.

In the event of being declared fit to stand trial, the abbe will be transferred to Bordeaux jail immediately, and will come before the criminal assizes at the June term. Mr. Allyn Tassereau, K. C., the abbe's attorney, if the petition is favorably dealt with, will apply for the repeal of the interdiction pronounced against his client to the Montreal courts before the beginning of the trial, on the ground that his client is no longer insane.

MRS. W. T. ALLAN IS DEAD.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Collingwood, Ont., April 6.—After an illness of some months, Margaret Mackay, wife of W. T. Allan, M. L. A., died at 1 o'clock this morning.

The deceased was a daughter of Robert Mackay of Hamilton, and had lived in Collingwood 24 years. Besides Mr. Allan, one daughter, Margaret, survives.

COLBERT ALONE WITH THE MAYOR
IN SALARY FIGHT

Others Reluctant To Take Further Action Against
L. and P. S. Board.

SOME WANT TIME

Say Threat To Unseat Beck and Colleagues Is Serious, and Care Should Rule.

One lone member of the city council has so far stepped into the parade with Mayor Wenige.

While the aldermen voted unanimously that his worship should "go and get the Port Stanley pay list," they do not appear anxious, however, to join in the pursuit of Sir Adam Beck and his colleagues.

Ald. John Colbert, Labor councillor from Ward Three, is the outstanding exception to the rule, proclaiming that "he would like to see something attempted."

One or two of the councillors, including Ald. John T. May, ask more time to "think it over," while Ald. Gordon Drake predicts that the wholesale retirement of the railway board would "turn the town upside down."

The mayor is calling no special session of the city council today, as threatened, but insists that the next move is up to his associates, to whom he will report.

"They instructed me to get these salary lists," he stated, "and I considered that it is up to them to stand behind me in the move and take the necessary action to insure that I do get them."

How They Stand.
Several members of the council were quizzed today in this connection as follows:

Ald. John Colbert: "I suppose that the council would recall the commissioners if they chose, but I hardly think it would do any good. It would not be good business over such a trifling matter. I never considered that this was a question of much seriousness. I still think that they should give us the list, but I wouldn't fight any more about it."

Ald. John Colbert: "I stand right behind the mayor. This is the people's business, and they are anxious to see this list. Looks to me as though there was something to hide. I should think that the publication of the list would give us a tendency to put the thing on its feet. I would certainly like to see something accomplished, and I imagine that the council can recall Sir Adam Beck and his associates."

The mayor has done right, and I think that he will have a hard job to get the council to unseat Sir Adam Beck. In fact, I don't believe that the present council has anything further to do with his appointment. In any event, the mayor is going to have a lot of fun on his hands from present indications."

Ald. John Greer: "It would be drastic action for so small a matter. I'd have to hear more about it before I could decide to favor the move."

Ald. John T. May: "This would need a lot of consideration. The question would have to be to be thrashed out by the council."

Ald. William A. Wilson: "Yesterday's meeting was a corker, but I don't believe the council will recall the mayor. I'll bet $100 that the mayor will not get any supporters in the council to do that. Let him try it, and see if I will not stand behind the mayor in this new undertaking or in anything else that he will have the time of his life in this task."

Ald. Frank McKay: "I don't think it will be necessary. I understand that the mayor is presenting the list anyway."

Ald. Gordon Drake: "The mayor has the order from the council to get that pay list, but to unseat the council is a big question, and I wouldn't say offhand that I would support him. I do contend, however, that this is another instance where a commission should be elected by a vote of the people. If we do as the mayor asks and recall Sir Adam Beck and his colleagues, there'll be a terrible time. It will turn everything upside down."

Want More Time.
Ald. P. J. Watt: "I would not like to say that I'd favor such action without further consideration. I am glad that the mayor has taken his stand, however, and he was endeavoring to obey the wishes of the council. This information is a big question, and the commissioners should recall that they are appointees of the city council."

Ald. Patterson is still ill at his home, while Ald. Hayden and Douglas could not be located.

FAIR GRANT DEAD
UNLESS REDUCED
FEES DECIDED ON

City Can't Go Beyond $5,000
Offer of Assistance, Says
Mayor Wenige.

WILL NOT REOPEN

Up to the Fair Board Now, He Asserts, To Get Along With Grant Already Offered.

Mayor Wenige is just as confident as ever he was that he could conduct the Western Fair enterprise quite satisfactorily with a straight 25-cent admission fee.

It is his further opinion that the directorate of that association will be compelled to struggle along under the last arrangement with the city council, whereby the latter undertakes to guarantee to the extent of $5,000 any possible loss resulting Thursday and Friday of fair week through the inauguration of the lowered admission.

"The council can't do any more," he stated. "We have already threatened that out and offered $5,000. It is extremely unlikely that the council would open up this question again."

a Million.

Special to The Advertiser.
Hot Springs, Ark., April 6.—Many guests had a narrow escape last night when the Arlington Hotel, one of the most famous resorts of the south, was destroyed by fire.

Loss from the flames was estimated today at nearly a million dollars. One fireman was killed and two were injured fighting the blaze.

Chicago Roofer, Who Is Said To Have Advertised in Publication, Suffers Loss.

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, April 6.—Explosion of a bomb wrecked the publication office of Dawn, a Ku Klux Klan organ, last night. Twenty minutes later another bomb partly damaged the office of W. W. Gilliland, a roofer, who said he had advertised in the Klan publication. The two explosions, police said, probably were set off by the same person.

Soon after the bombing police telephoned advertisers of the Dawn to warn them of possible bombing.

Edwin J. Parke, publisher of Dawn, said he had been receiving threatening letters. "Only two days ago I received a telephone call warning me that my printing establishment and my home would be blown up," he said. Policemen were assigned to guard Parke's home.

EXPECT 2,000 TO INVADE THE NEW GOLD FIELDS

Government Orders Surveyors To Lay Out Three Townships.

Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, April 6.—Yet another development is forecast in connection with the gold rush now going on in the Temiscamingue and Abitibi counties. The department of lands and forests has issued instructions to surveyors to survey the township of Rouyn and three others in the same vicinity in order to help stakers to record their claims. This move of the authorities has been precipitated by the fact that within a few weeks it is expected over 2,000 prospectors will have invaded the new gold fields. In the near future other townships are also to be thoroughly surveyed, as recent reports have it that gold is being obtained over claims staked near Lake Demontigny, in Dubouison township.

DECLINES TO COMMENT ON QUESTION OF UNION

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, April 6.—In reply to reported assertions that deliberate and systematic attempts are being made to "pack" the forthcoming general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada with church union supporters, Rev. W. J. Clark, moderator, today said he would prefer not to make any reply at present, "as a statement will be issued shortly, but not by me personally."

I have been accused of not being impartial in this matter; my position as moderator is rather delicate, and therefore I cannot say anything at present," the moderator said, agreeing with a suggestion, however, that the fight over church union has reached a somewhat unfortunate stage.

WANT INCREASE IN WAGES AND CUT IN HOURS OF WORK

Associated Press Despatch. New York, April 6.—Dissatisfied with the 12-1/2 per cent wage increase recently granted by New England textile mills, the executive board of the United Textile Workers of America have decided on a campaign not only for an additional increase of 14.9 per cent, but for a cut in working hours from 54 to 48. President Thomas F. McMahon announced yesterday. This decision, Mr. McMahon said, was reached at a special meeting of the board yesterday.

OFFICIALS OF "FISH TRUST" SENTENCED TO PRISON

Associated Press Despatch. Boston, April 6.—Sentences of ten months each in the House of Correction and fines of $1,000 each were imposed yesterday upon Munroe Dyer, a New York banker, and five other officials of the Bay State Fishing Company, and sentences of five months each and fines of $500 were given nine other indicted with them in the so-called "fish trust" cases. They were found guilty of conspiring to increase the price of fish in war-time and to effect a monopoly.

Richard Crooks Delights In Musical Art Concert

London Choir Wins Great Appreciation By Excellence of the Presentation At Patricia Theatre.

By A MINOR. Is London warming up in appreciation of musical art? Or is it that London is being treated this season to an exceptionally superior order of art? Certain it is that with the exception of Kreisler the superb, no soloist appearing within recollection has met more immediate recognition, more demonstrative approbation than did Mr. Richard Crooks, tenor, who appeared in concert with the Musical Art Society Choir in the Patricia Theatre last evening.

Ovation Tendered. The choir and acting conductor Henri K. Jordan shared in the ovations tendered, and were obliged to respond again and again to encores during the progress of the program. When A. D. Jordan, magnetic and capable conductor of the Musical Art Society Choir was taken suddenly ill several weeks ago, he was fortunate in having in his own family a musician who could assume his duties with efficiency and distinction, his brother, Henri K. Jordan of Brantford. Mr. Henri Jordan thenceforth conducted the rehearsals, and last evening wielded the baton at the annual concert of the Musical Art Society of both chorists and audience.

Mr. A. D. Jordan had the pleasure of being present, though denied the privilege of even conducting one number. A supreme test of musicianship was set the choir in presenting the entire, and in many instances, extremely difficult program, without accompaniment. There was no sustaining of pitch with the aid of an instrument; no covering-up of imperfect attacks, releases or phrasings. The chorists were obliged to stand or fall absolutely on their merits, and the slip of one would mean disaster for all.

The conductor worked hard, and each and every member of the choir worked conscientiously and intelligently with him to win success and prevent any suggestion of failure. After the first few numbers a relaxing of tension (perhaps unconscious) was apparent, an accession of confidence, which reacted most happily on those who listened.

Most Striking Effects. Throughout, response to the conductor's baton was sharp and clear cut, balance of selections excellent, tone buoyant and capable of gradations from the finest pianissimo to sonorous and resonant fortissimo. The management, with nice artistic skill, providing most striking effects in such a work as "Glory to the Trinity," (Rachmanninoff) one of the finest efforts of the evening.

Beginning with the Latin version of "Jesus, the very thought is sweet," by Richard Dering, a composer of the period of the seventeenth century, and the better-known Italian, Palestrina, the great exponent of church musical composition of the fourteenth century in Italy, the program progressed from the distinctly church compositions through a captivating Russian dance form number, "Planting Flax," by Gretchaninov, the incarnation of the spirit of spring in "Awake, Awake" (Bantock), the setting of Shelley's "On Hymalaya," by the same composer, "Song of the Pedlar" (Williams), to a novel and realistic North American "Victory Song," in the musical setting of Miss Natalie Curtis of New York. In the last, the aid of a musical instrument was called upon for the first time throughout the concert, in this instance a kettledrum, manipulated with much realism and effectiveness. The rendition by the choir carried out most faithfully the idea of the song, as explained by Miss Curtis in notes appearing on the program: "The choral setting is an attempt to treat Indian music from an Indian standpoint. Rhythm, melody and dynamics, these are the musical elements out of which the Red Man creates his song."

An especially popular group included "Awake, Awake," and "On Hymalaya" (Bantock), and "Song of the Pedlar" (Williams), to which two recalls were demanded.

The gods have been most kind in bestowing gifts upon Richard Crooks. He is blessed with a pure tenor voice, rich in overtone, a voice that impresses one moment by an almost ethereal delicacy, and another by its rounded robustness. He has temperamental, finest artistic judgment, an exceptional endowment of dramatic ability. He has a lion's share of good looks and pleasing personality, a smile, radiant, spontaneous and irresistible. The audience liked him and the chorists liked him, and he liked and tried to please everybody. His success was absolute. Encore upon encore followed every number, every appearance. Once he turned back to the audience and faced the chorists during an encore. That pleased everyone as much as the music.

Richard Crooks, in addition to the advantages which are naturally his, gives evidence of most thorough training and a deep and sincere interest in his art. A memory to be long cherished was his singing of the recitative "My Arms Against This Gorgias" and the air, "Sound An Alarm," from Judas Macabreus (Handel). Grouped with these were "Moonlight" and "The Lotus Flower" (Schumann) exquisitely done.

Scope for Power.

Scope for his dramatic power was afforded in "Le Fleur Que Tu M'as Jetté" (Carmen). A touching bit of story-telling in song was "The Blind Piousman" (Clarke), shot with pathos despite its serene grandeur of climax. The ding-dong of the bell could be caught through the rhythmic presentation of "The Bellman" (Percy).

Each group seemed more acceptable than the preceding one. Greatest enthusiasm of all was aroused by the last, "Within the Garden of My Heart" (Scott). "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" (Quilter) and "The Nightingale" (Ward-Stevens).

Encore gracefully yielded included "Twilight" (Glen), "Pale Moon" (Logan), "The Last Hour," and finally, an Irish song. Miss Eva Goodman, L.T.C.M., accompanied Mr. Crooks with rare sympathy and finish, her part a most substantial contribution to the success of the evening.

The illuminating program notes were edited by Mr. Joseph Ryan.

J. NEWELL, CRAMPTON, DIES. Ingersoll, April 6.—Following an illness of nearly two years' duration the death of John Robert Newell of Crampton occurred at the family residence yesterday. He was born in the district and had spent his entire life there. He is survived by his wife,

J. R. BOOTH.

Ottawa winter magnate, celebrated his 96th birthday on April 5, when he attended to his usual daily office routine.

WEDDINGS

ASHLEY-GRELL.

A quiet wedding took place at Wellington Street Methodist parsonage on Thursday, when Rev. George T. Watts united in marriage Elsie, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Grell to Flight Lieut. H. E. W. Ashley, son of Capt. and Mrs. H. W. Ashley, both of this city. The bride looked charming in a gown of black canton crepe with silver trimmings, black picture hat and veil, with corsage of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. She was attended by immediate members of both families.

A dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom after which the happy couple left for points east amid showers of confetti and congratulations. On their return they will reside in the city.

GILBERT-SMITH

Hyde Park, April 5.—A wedding of interest to many in Hyde Park took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Esther Smith, when Miss Lorreen was united in marriage to Mr. Lloyd Gilbert of Byron, Ont.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, was gowned in pearl grey silk with steel trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her only attendant was little Miss Mary Howlett of Delaware, who was a dainty flower girl in a pretty dress of pink silk, carrying a basket of pink carnations.

Rev. H. J. Creacy of Arva, Ont., officiated, the ceremony taking place in the drawing-room, which had been prettily decorated with flowers for the occasion. Miss Winifred Winter of Lynde Park played the wedding march.

Mrs. Smith, the bride's mother, was dressed in black silk. Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served to the bride party and guests in the dining-room.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. The young couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for the groom's home in Byron, the bride traveling in a tailored suit of navy blue with picture hat to match.

BOLSHEVIKI EXECUTE PEASANTS WHO PROTEST

Serious Conflicts Between the Soviet Troops and People.

Associated Press Despatch. Berlin, April 6.—Serious conflicts in the Ukraine between Bolshevik troops and peasants are reported in despatches received here by way of Lemberg. The Bolsheviks are declared to have executed 340 peasants, apparently because of protests against the Soviet prosecution of high church dignitaries. Anti-Jewish pogroms also are reported from the Ukraine, and numerous Jewish families are fleeing toward the Polish frontier.

FIVE PERSONS ARE KILLED DURING BUCHAREST RIOT

Associated Press Despatch. Budapest, April 6.—A crowd led by deputies of the opposition broke into the palace of Prince Sorbely in Bucharest Wednesday, according to despatches received here, and was destroying the interior of the palace when the police arrived. In the fight that followed five persons were killed, it is reported. This is one of the series of incidents that have embittered the political controversies in the Rumanian capital between the Nationalists, led by Premier Bratiano, and the minority parties.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF FROME HONOR FUTURE NURSES

Special to The Advertiser. Frome, April 6.—Mrs. G. B. Dougherty was the hostess for a handkerchief shower by the young people at her home Saturday night in honor of the Misses Mabel Boyd and Bertha Lessan, who will enter Bethesda Hospital, London, Monday as nurses-in-training.

Miss Muriel Styles entertained the Mission Circle Tuesday afternoon. Ronald Cox was the guest of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Cox at the parsonage for the holidays.

SEEK TO STAY FLOODING BY RIVER AT BRANTFORD

Special to The Advertiser. Brantford, April 6.—The Grand River has risen five and one-half feet in the last two days and is still rising. It is now about six feet above normal, and with the heavy rainfall and snow of Thursday a further considerable increase is expected. All precautions possible have been taken against the possibility of the lower sections of the city being flooded. City Engineer Adams and Superintendent Under state that they do not think there is any danger. Much slush ice is still passing downstream.

FLORENCE METHODISTS STAGE SOCIAL EVENING

Special to The Advertiser. Florence, April 6.—A congregational meeting was held in the Methodist Church Monday night. A splendid supper and social time was enjoyed followed by a program, consisting of solos, quartets, violin selections and readings. A vote of thanks was tendered the out-of-town talent who assisted in making the evening a success. Rev. J. Button acted as chairman.

Woman Smoker Sets Hotel Afire

Special to The Advertiser. Windsor, April 6.—A cigarette stub thrown by a woman smoker into a basket of paper towels in a washroom on the mezzanine floor of the Prince Edward Hotel late Wednesday, started a blaze which alarmed guests of the hotel, and resulted in about $1,000 damage from smoke and water. Two guests were overcome by smoke, which rolled from the washroom in great clouds and filled lobby and halls. They were carried out and revived by firemen.

COUNCIL CENSURES POOL ROOM OWNERS

Wallaceburg Town Fathers Order Removal of Screens and Partitions.

Special to The Advertiser. Wallaceburg, April 6.—At the meeting of the council on Tuesday night, it was decided to authorize insurance for the thirteen volunteer firemen, and this insurance was awarded to C. E. Nightingale, insurance agent.

An application for a poolroom license was the cause of much discussion, and it was finally decided to repeal the bylaw which called for a limited number of poolrooms in the town, which in the past have been three, and also to instruct all holders of poolroom licenses to remove all partitions and screens which obstruct the view of the police from the outside, and a new bylaw to this effect was passed to take effect May 1st.

At the next meeting of the council applications for licenses will be considered and it will be left to the discretion of the council to grant further licenses to those already in existence.

Mr. Falls, acting under the instructions of the provincial auditor, has commenced an audit of the town's books following a petition from 145 ratepayers to have this done, although the matter had been turned down by the council at a recent meeting.

FINES WALLACEBURG MAN FOR ILLEGAL TRAPPING

Special to The Advertiser. Wallaceburg, April 6.—Archie Irwin and Frank Whitmarsh were yesterday charged before Magistrate Carscallen with stealing ten traps, the property of W. J. Catton. Both pleaded not guilty, but were convicted and ordered to pay the price of the traps and the costs. An appeal to the county judge is likely to be entered.

Irwin was further charged with trapping without being in possession of a license, and upon the evidence of License Inspector Boucher of Chatham was found guilty to a charge of intoxication and was remanded until Friday.

URGE CLOSER UNION

Special to The Advertiser. Brantford, April 6.—Closer craft union among the various trades was urged at a meeting of the local trades and labor council held Wednesday night. This will be done in an effort to meet present day trade conditions.

Paul Got Real Mad At Train Engineer As Attempt At Suicide He Did Queen

Detroit, April 6.—After attempting to "lick" the entire crew of a Michigan Central railroad freight train when they refused to run their locomotive over him so he "could end it all," Paul Budzik was held for investigation yesterday by Hamtramck police. Budzik was discovered with his Campau avenue crossing by the engineer, who brought his train to a stop within a few feet of him. As the engineer left his cab to investigate, Budzik leaped up and offered to fight, he said.

At police headquarters Budzik refused to tell his address or why he wanted to take his own life.

PRINCETON PEOPLE HONOR MR. AND MRS. BLACKMORE

Special to The Advertiser. Princeton, April 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Percy Blackmore and family leave this week to reside in London.

Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Oddfellows Mr. Blackmore was presented with a bill folder and a suitable address. The address was read by Bro. C. P. Cowan, and Mr. Blackmore thanked his fellow members in a suitable manner.

A community farewell party was given Mr. and Mrs. Blackmore Tuesday night in the I. O. O. F. Hall, at which about 150 residents of Princeton were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackmore were given a piano lamp, presented on behalf of the community by Mr. J. O. Reid.

HER THREE CHILDREN HAD WHOOPIING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but it is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

Is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble as it helps to clear the clogged-up air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. H. W. Mahar, Kentville, N. S., writes: "My three children had whooping cough. I tried every medicine I could think of until an old gentleman told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Before they had one bottle taken the cough seemed better, and after two bottles they were about well. It loosened the cough and relieved them of that hard, distressing and strangling feeling that goes with it."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c and 60c a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or itchy. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Iowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Adv.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't say gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur" for the hair, which is merely the old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and so evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, if another application or two, its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

"Raw From Eczema Doctors Do Their Best"

"Forty years I suffered. One leg raw from toes to body. No living man could believe what I suffered. It was D.D.D. that relieved me, and for three years I haven't had a sign of eczema."

These words are taken from the letter of R. H. Garrett, Chester, Ontario. Mr. Garrett will answer any questions you care to ask him.

If you haven't tried the cooling, healing D.D.D. for skin disease, write or call to get a bottle today on our personal guarantee. $1.00 a bottle. Try D.D.D. Soap, too.

"Shadows."

More than compensation for slight discrepancies in the vaudeville bill is afforded by "Shadows," the new feature starring the versatile Lon Chaney, which is now at Loew's.

Achieving his first fame in "The Miracle Man," one of the most widely known of films, Chaney is said to have scored his greatest success in "Shadows," and certainly the manner in which he presents the role of the subtle Chinaman is remarkably fine work.

To begin with, the make-up is a piece of excellence. The pose is sustained without a quiver and Chaney for not a second departs from the immobile expression of the Oriental, although cleverly enough he indicates the passing of a thought.

"Shadows" is essentially a mystery play, although it is not a series of murders or other lurid happenings. The solution of the mystery lies hidden behind the slanting eyes of the Chinaman, and to attempt a solution offers almost as many possibilities as that famous mystery of the stage, "The Bat."

The narrative is an altered version of "Kinch And The Fish," set in what is apparently a New England fishing village, affords

Your Backyard Garden

Pointers About Planting to Bring the Best Results.

The preparation of your ground having been finished, you are now ready to sow your seed. Before commencing to plant, it will be necessary to satisfy yourself that the time has arrived when planting is both safe and feasible. There is really nothing to be gained by too early a start and losing your first lot of plants and seed is a mighty discouraging way in which to commence your season's gardening.

The main thing in planting your seed is to do it in regular rows with regular spacing. A garden laid out systematically and with every row a straight one is much easier to attend to, not to mention that a slovenly planted garden usually receives less attention from the gardener than one in which he can take some pride.

To bring about this regularity, start in the proper way by first measuring the few simple articles of equipment that are absolutely necessary. You will require a good stout cord or line, a length of two by two inch studding to use as a straight edge, a rake, a hoe, and a "dibber." The last mentioned article is simply a pointed piece of wood (a piece of broom handle six or seven inches long will answer very well).

In sowing your seed, care must be taken not to open too many packages at once, or mixing and spilling is likely to occur. Follow the instructions on the envelope to the letter. All seeds should have been experimented with and only the best method of sowing is printed on the packet, and applies to the particular seed that the packet contains.

There are a few wrinkles, however, that are worth using which are not usually found in printed instructions. The practice of soaking early peas in water for a few hours before planting not only hastens germination, but has a tendency to bring the whole crop up at the same time, provided, of course, that the seed is all planted at a uniform depth.

Before sowing sweet corn you will do well to stir some lime into the soil in the seed, making sure that

MAKE EFFORTS TO SAVE STARVING SETTLERS

Newfoundland Government Endeavors to Get Supplies To People.

Canadian Press Despatch. St. John's, Nfld., April 6.—Determined efforts are being made by the Newfoundland government to send food supplies to starving settlements along the south coast, isolated for many weeks by the ice fields that block their harbors. The mail steamer Kyle, plying between this port and Sydney, N.S., yesterday, was taken off that route and will leave tomorrow for the southern settlements laden with provisions.

Already six vessels have put out on similar errands of mercy, but all have fallen victims to the ice. Tales of terrible suffering in many south coast villages have filtered through to the Newfoundland capital. The winter fell early, freezing in the herring fleet and thus leaving many fishermen without their usual means of winter sustenance. Later a series of bitter storms built a thick rim of ice along the coast, shutting out supplies that would have relieved the suffering of the people.

MONTREAL FIRMS WILL ADOPT DAYLIGHT SAVING

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, April 6.—Daylight saving will be put into effect by many leading firms of Montreal this summer regardless of the attitude that may be taken by the city council or other authorities.

The Montreal Stock Exchange has notified the Daylight Saving Association that they will follow the lead of that organization and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

ample scope for beautiful photography.

The entire cast is unusually good, including, in addition to Chaney, Harrison Ford, Marguerite de la Motte, John Sainpolis, who did such excellent work in "The Hero," Walter Long and Buddy Messenger.

Incidentally, it might be added that "Shadows" might be of educational value along missionary lines. One or two scenes at the conclusion are especially significant. By all means see "Shadows." It is a unique and diverse picture.

The first act of the vaudeville bill, an exhibition of billiard-playing along novel lines, was unusually clever, the second and third acts, although weaker, delighted the youngsters, who are reveling in the movies by reason of their Easter holidays.

"WIFE IN NAME ONLY" PROVES GOOD DRAMA

Play With Regular Heroine. Hero and Villain Delights Majestic Patrons.

"Why Girls Leave Home" and "Wife in Name Only" have been running neck and neck in the last two decades for come-back championship of the world. The latter play, especially, is sure to attract a good-sized audience, and it ran true to form last night at the Majestic Theatre.

The Marie Gladke Players are particularly good in "Wife in Name Only." The production is replete with the old-time dashes of melodramatists. A young woman, finding sorrow in the big city, returns to the farm and falls in love with the son of the old farmer. The bewitched villain camps on her trail, however, and nearly ruins everything when he reveals the girl's unfortunate past to the puritanical old farmer.

She is ousted from the pious roof, and the farmer's son follows her. Everything turns out admirably, but the interval sends shivers of apprehension up the spectator's spine. It's a good play to watch. Marie Gladke does the dramatic role well, and William Bailey, as the irresponsible country bumpkin, draws laughter.

each kernel is well smeared. This is probably the best known method of stopping the depredations of crows, blackbirds, your own and your neighbor's chickens.

When you are ready to sow your first row, stretch the cord taut between two stakes, and with a pointed stick scratch a small furrow the depth you intend to plant, using the line or cord as a guide. Care must be taken not to put too much seed in the furrow, and the seed must be pressed against the cord or a crooked drill will result, and your attempt at uniform spacing will be defeated.

Second, third, and fourth rows are sown in the same way simply by moving the cord and repeating the operation. The long straight edge is used in striking short rows and repeating the cord for this purpose. It will save some time when you come to set out plants if you mark out a few of the most used spacing along its edge with a jack-knife. Four, six, eight, ten and fourteen inches are spacings commonly used in setting out such small plants as lettuce, Dutch sets, onion seedlings, etc.

All seed thus planted can be best covered by drawing in enough soil to fill the drill, and this should be pressed down firmly with the foot to insure close contact between the seed and the soil particles to bring about rapid germination.

Rows of individual plants are made in the same way with the cord or straight edge, but instead of making a drill the full length of the row, holes are made at regular spacings with the pointed "dibber." The plants are placed in the holes with the left hand and the earth is pressed firmly about the roots with the right. Care must be taken in doing this to see that there is no air pocket left around the bottom of the roots which would result in the drying out and wilting of the plant.

Each row should be carefully marked immediately after planting with small stakes made of lath or bits of shingle with the name of the crop marked plainly on it.

Whatever you attempt in your garden, do it whole-heartedly. A few minutes' morning and evening each day will bring better results than spasmodic bursts of enthusiasm, because when the garden is left to shift for itself.

CONDUCTORS' AFFAIRS WILL NOT BE PROBED

C. P. R. Official Declares Ticket Thefts Have Been Cleared Up.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, April 6.—Reports which purported to establish general infraction of affairs of conductors and others engaged in the passenger service of the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with the ticket thefts were denied yesterday by Charles Murphy, general manager western lines here yesterday. Mr. Murphy said he was asked to make the statement in justice to the hundreds of honest men now in the service.

In addition to saying there is no justification for the reports, Mr. Murphy said the investigation had ended; there are no cases against employees pending or before the courts at the present time. The entire list of delinquents include 19 train conductors, eight sleeping-car conductors and two porters.

With respect to the report that said 5,000,000 tickets had been stolen annually for the last three or four years, the general manager characterized this as ridiculous, stating that no estimate had been given or made by the local officers of the company.

SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS FOR SLASHING HIS WIFE

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Catharines, April 6.—Melville Miller, colored, formerly of Guelph, was sentenced to two years yesterday for wounding his wife with a razor while in a jealous rage. Conviction was made on the evidence of others in the house. The woman, although she declined the police, declared today that she received the wounds by a fall against the stove pipe damper and on a broken dish. Police testified that Miller was still brandishing the razor when they arrived.

LIBRARY LOANS 36,151 VOLUMES DURING MARCH

Reference Department Kept Busy Supplying Material For Debates.

CHILDREN TAKE 7,500

Librarian Says Boys and Girls Show Great Interest In Essays.

March was a month in which Londoners evidently found time to do a great deal of reading, judging by the figures presented at the regular monthly meeting of the public library board last night. The number of books loaned out to citizens during the month was 36,151, or an average of about 1,450 for every day the library was open.

Children gave the library the benefit of their patronage to the extent of borrowing more than 7,500 books, which, it may be judged, kept most of them indoors in the evenings to some extent. The branches loaned out between twelve and thirteen thousand volumes.

At this time of the year the reference department is kept exceedingly busy with demands for all kinds of material for essays, speeches and debates of all kinds.

There appears to be more debating being done in London this winter than in any year since 15 have been connected with the public library. Librarian Landon stated to The Advertiser, "Naturally I think that of the district surrounding London, for nearly every day we have an appeal from somewhere in this part of the province asking if we have material on the affirmative or negative of some question that admits of dispute, and consequent debate."

Stimulates Debating. One stimulus to the debating is, of course, the backing given by the Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association. There is keen competition in most schools to make the debating team and the preliminary debates that weed out the weaker debaters and develop the more promising candidates stir many young people to participation where otherwise they would be sitting back and merely listening.

CONVENTION OF NURSES OPENS IN PETERBORO

Mrs. A. C. Joseph of London Presides At Annual Meeting.

Canadian Press Despatch. Peterboro, April 6.—The twentieth annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Ontario, held for the first time in Peterboro, opened at St. John's church parish hall yesterday with an attendance of 150 members of the association from all parts of Ontario. Owing to illness of the premier, Miss Ella Jamieson of Toronto, the meetings will be presided over by Mrs. A. C. Joseph of London, first vice-president of the society.

An invocation by Rev. C. B. Lagrave and addresses of welcome by Mayor W. H. Taylor opened this morning's proceedings, following by a brief talk from Dr. G. S. Cameron. Dr. Cameron said that there was, in his opinion, a tendency to over-train in some instances, and that the proper method was a high degree of training in practical work with sufficient technical knowledge to round it out.

The secretary-treasurer, Miss D. L. Ellis of Toronto, gave a review of the secretary's work during the past year. There are now 50 affiliated societies with a total membership of 3,381.

Receipts during the year amounted to $4,893.81, with disbursements of $5,671.72, reducing the balance on hand from $1,872.77 to $1,094.86. The excess in expenditures was caused by the payment of two years' affiliation fees to the National Board, large convention expenses, and a scholarship of $400 for public health work at the Toronto University, won by a Hamilton member.

A motion made by Miss Jean Gunn of Toronto and seconded by Miss L. Kinsella of London was carried by the meeting, to the effect that the registration committee communicate with all the affiliated nurses' organizations, pointing out the importance of early registration and giving full information as to the plan.

JURY DISAGREES.

Associated Press Despatch. St. Joseph, Mich., April 6.—The jury trying William Z. Foster on charges of criminal syndicalism disagreed and was discharged at five o'clock last night by Judge Chas. W. White. The jurors took 18 ballots, standing six to six all the time. They were out 21 hours and 15 minutes.

Who Financed Hydro?

Ontario Municipal Electric Association, in session at Hamilton, has placed itself on record as favoring steps that would relieve the provincial government of all responsibility in the matter. The plan favored would be for the municipalities concerned to assume all obligations.

Municipalities should not forget that all hydro-power debentures have been sold as Province of Ontario securities, with the credit of the province back of the sale. Were these bonds put up for sale as municipal securities, or as securities backed collectively by a number of municipalities, it is doubtful if there would be a ready market, and it is certain that a higher rate would have to be paid. It is quite true that Ontario municipalities are solvent, but it is also true that many of them are not very far from the limit of their borrowing powers, and in some cases assessments have been increased in order to extend these borrowing powers.

It is neither fair nor advisable for the municipalities to forget, now that the power scheme is on a paying basis, that the credit of the whole province was behind the work in securing the millions necessary to bring the undertaking to the point of commercial success. The municipalities themselves could not have done it.

It is well also to remember that the credit of the farmers of the province, who so far have received practically no use of hydro power or light, and the credit of villages and towns that are far removed from any power supply, was all behind the movement. The municipalities that have benefited owe a debt of gratitude to all these unseen favorable forces.

Is Britain To Pay All?

Britain sent her financiers to United States and entered into certain definite obligations to pay her war debts to that country.

Britain owes United States £220,000,000.

Britain paid her first installment of £820,000. For the next 62 years she will pay £35,000,000 per year. She has set herself to a definite undertaking.

France owes Britain £584,000,000. There has been no financial commission sent to London to arrange terms. Paris has not paid one penny in principal or interest.

Italy owes Britain £508,000,000. No step has been taken to pay this amount. No effort has been made to hand over a single dollar, and the debt stands as it stood when the war ceased, not even interest being paid.

Jugo-Slavia owes Britain £27,000,000.

Rumania owes Britain £24,000,000. War debts, summed up, give this result:

Britain owes U. S. ... £ 920,000,000

Owing to Britain .... 1,138,000,000

Is Britain alone to shoulder the war debt of the entire Allied forces?

The British sense of honor in tackling this terrific total is in startling contrast to the indifference displayed by Britain's debtors.

The Tariff Again.

As usual, the tariff is in the center of the ring in the by-election at Moose Jaw. It would indeed be a strange election where the tariff was not brought in to be battered up a bit. The Progressive candidate has as one of his backers Mr. Hoey, M.P. of Springfield, Man., one of the most effective debaters on the Progressive side of the House. His complaint is that the Liberal tariff had resulted in an increase of from an average of 15% per cent in 1921 to 17.5 per cent in 1922.

It is possible, by taking the total imports for the year, to show that this statement is correct, and yet there is nothing whatever in such a figure to show that the tariff is bearing any harder on the necessary purchases of consumers than in 1921. It would require a very exhaustive analysis of the tariff operations to prove the point. Duties are high on many of the articles imported. Automobiles come at 35 per cent, for instance, and many other lines that are imported pay the same. If the people of a nation are buying many lines of imported goods, some of them in the nature of luxuries, and others in the near-luxury class, the percentage collected by the tariff is going to increase. If they left these high-duty imports alone and purchased necessities only, and bought as many as possible of these at home, the tariff might even drop below the 15 per cent of 1921.

It is not a fair thing for Mr. Hoey or any other speaker to make the flat, unqualified statement that the Liberals have increased the tariff. Mr. Hoey knows better than that, and he must realize that at best he is stating only a half truth.

The Liberal party is undoubtedly committed to a policy of lesser rather than greater tariffs. Considering the tremendous national obligations to which Canada is committed for years to come, and the positive need for maintaining the revenue, there are restrictions placed upon any low tariff government. Mr. Fielding was wise when he recognized that the financial needs of Canada made it necessary to proceed slowly with tariff reductions. Changes he has made have been downward, and there is nothing to show that he has made his last move in that direction. He might do more if he had assistance, rather than the criticism, of the Western Progressives.

Giving Is a Privilege.

London is nearing the end of its annual campaign for the welfare fund. The giving to the worthy institutions is becoming more than a recognized duty in this city, and the 160 canvassers who are out doing the collecting report that the great majority of the people know all about it, and are ready to do what they can.

This attitude speaks well for the city. The fact that a member of the Roman Catholic Church and a member of a Protestant church are out soliciting together for a fund that is to help support institutions fostered by both these denominations is a pretty wholesome contribution to the broad-minded citizenship of London.

The demands on the people of any community for this class of work are not going to grow less. There will always be cases of want and there will always be those who require assistance. It is well to do what we can to bring about conditions that will make these cases as few as possible, but it is better still that the community should see in these cases an opportunity for giving vent to the very best feelings and impulses that any man or woman could have.

The man who gets past the stage where he sees in the claims of others less fortunate than himself a duty to be performed, and instead welcomes it as a privilege, is making progress.

In the very nature of things there will be those who will be missed in the canvass, no matter how thorough it may be. Some of these have already come forward voluntarily and asked to be classed as contributors.

London is not poorer, but richer, by reason of the money it gives to the United Welfare fund.

The Need of 1923.

Employers of New Brunswick have organized to act as an intermediary agency between employers and the workmen's compensation board, with a view to lessening demands on employers for compensation.

The organization needed in industry of today is one that brings each individual firm into closer touch with its employees.

There are plenty of forces pulling from both ends to keep employers and employees a good distance apart. These agencies seem to regard it as very bad if the proprietors and workers should get so close together that they would understand each other's problems.

We have enough general organizations now, but we are away short on organizations that shove open the door leading from the private office to the workshop.

Killing People.

A woman in New York equipped herself with a small derringer, or small double-barreled weapon, once very popular with gunmen. With this she shot a man. An officer describes the weapon as being "perfect for the use to which it was put."

Two days later, in the same city, a man walked down the street with his stenographer. They had a dispute, and he pulled a gun from his pocket and shot her.

Can any more concrete nonsense be imagined than having thousands of policemen and detectives chasing down criminals on the one hand, and at the same time having places manufacturing weapons for killing human beings?

The first reasonable step is that the U. S. government should send a man over some day and turn the key in the door of these places where they make murder weapons.

Note and Comment.

In Africa they are hunting lions and tigers with automobiles. Pedestrians must be scarce down there.

When it rains the women go out with thin slippers and silk hose, while men wade about in woolen socks, boots and rubbers. Each wonders why the other does it.

A Toronto man left a quantity of liquor in his premises when he died. The government took it away. It used to be considered good business to have an estate as liquid as possible, but times have changed.

Toronto has an investment of over $40,000,000 in its waterfront. The advantage this expenditure will give Toronto in attracting industries is enormous. It is an outstanding municipal enterprise of a people who have plenty of confidence in themselves as well as in the future.

The Young Liberals of Toronto showed good taste when they had as their speakers W. D. Euler of North Waterloo and Dr. Rankin of South Perth. They are room-mates at Ottawa, and exponents of the most wholesome brand of Progressive Liberalism. Mr. Euler was out flat-footed for a fair chance for the National Railways as publicly-owned enterprises before many of the Liberals had made up their minds on the matter. The cabinet would be strengthened by the presence of such a man as W. D. Euler of Waterloo.

RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS.

Sir,—The address of my genial military friend, Captain W. Riddford, as reported in your issue of the 28th of March, quite interested me. I thoroughly agree with him on the question of mixed marriages, as I have learned from thirty years' professional experience that they generally result disastrously for both parties. He is reported to have attacked "the plan to teach religion in the public schools." Would he attack a plan to teach Christianity in the public schools? Separate schools teach the Apostles' Creed, the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments and inculcate the great necessity of putting into practice the Golden Rule in all our words and actions. Should these not be taught in every Christian school? He is also reported to have said that "separate schools were forced on us" by a handful of Catholic priests. History tells me that they were established to protect the rights of Protestants in Lower Canada to pay their taxes to their own schools, and the same right was accorded to the Catholics of Upper Canada. The reverend captain's statement, among others, has a flavor of an appeal to prejudice and does not make for national unity. It is also a libel on the memory of Rev. Dr. Ryerson, a staunch Protestant, who founded our common school system and approved, recommended and emphasized the necessity of teaching Christianity in schools in order to have a Christian nation. Would his reverence be in favor of abolishing separate schools in Quebec?

The honorable treasurer of the province of Quebec, a Protestant, in an address at the Tecumseh House a short time ago, stated that the Protestant schools of Quebec received a full measure of justice, and he made it clear to his audience that the measure was heaped up and overflowing. Is it not a matter of regret that no treasurer of Ontario has ever been in a position to make a similar generous application of the Golden Rule in Ontario?

Sir Auckland Geddes stated in an address to the Canadian Club of New York, a few months ago, that the fundamental essence of civilization was in the spiritual life of the people. Is it not so? And if so, how can we have a spiritual life without Christianity, and how a Christian life without Christianity? There appears no religion than Christianity and too many "isms," and the most regrettable of them all is "indifferentism," and as a result the church has only an indirect influence on the great masses of the people whose education was received in the primary common school.

Tennyson saw the dark cloud of our time, and pointed out in the following lines that Christ is the light in darkness:

"Ring in the valiant man and true,
The kinder heart, the gentler hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be."

Christ taught the Golden Rule and its practical application breeds peace, satisfaction and contentment in both business and religion, between employer and employee, and among denominations, and tends towards the stabilizing of society.

PROVING HIS POINT.

(Chicago Tribune)
The old Scotch professor was trying to impress upon his students the value of observation.

"No," he complained, "ye dinna use your faculties of observation." "Ye dinna use 'em. For instance—"

Picking up a pot of chemicals of horrible odor he stuck a finger into it and then into his mouth.

"Taste of it, gentlemen," he commanded, as he passed the pot from student to student.

After each had licked a finger and had felt a rebellion through his whole soul, the old professor laughed in triumph.

"I told ye so!" he shouted. "Ye dinna use your faculties of observation! For if ye had observed ye would ha' seen that the finger which I stuck into the pot was na the finger which I stuck into my mouth!"

A PASSING AFFLICTION.

Maid—I've come to give notice, ma'am.

Mistress—Indeed?

Maid—And would you give me a good reference, ma'am? I'm going to Mrs. Jones, across the way.

Mistress—The best in the world, Maggie. I hate that woman.

RUMANIANS DEMAND REVISED CONSTITUTION

State of Siege Being Maintained in Principal Cities.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, April 5.—A Havas despatch from Bucharest says the situation in Rumania remains very critical, and throughout the country agitation continues for a revision of the new constitution.

A state of siege is being maintained by the government, which is resorting to a great display of military force to prevent manifestations in several cities. Disturbances have occurred with loss of life and persons wounded in Cernowitz and Jassy.

The despatch adds that King Ferdinand has sanctioned the new constitution, but that it is reported he has refused to take the oath again.

GALT ORANGEMEN CANCEL 12TH JULY CELEBRATION

Special to The Advertiser.
Galt, April 5.—Because of celebrations in nearby centers, and the fact that only two counties could be secured to celebrate here, which did not justify the expense, Galt Orangemen have called off the celebration planned for July 12.

While refused the city hall, the L. O. L. has secured the S. O. E. hall for a meeting Sunday night to be addressed by J. J. Maloney of Hamilton.

MOTHER SOBS AS CHILD FAILS TO RECOGNIZE HER

Pathetic Scene Is Witnessed In the Courthouse At Montreal.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, April 5.—Sobbing and beseeching her 7-year-old daughter, from whom she had been separated for four years, to recognize her, Madeleine Lafabvre, 25, presented a pathetic sight in court here today, when the judge sought to give her custody of her child. The case was that of Mrs. Annie Perodeau, who was charged with abducting the child. She had handed the child over to Mrs. Annie Edstrum of Quebec, failing paying of its upkeep by her mother. Mrs. Edstrum, who said she had come to love the little girl as if she were her own child, also broke down in court when ordered to give her to her mother.

The little girl, breaking into sobs, protested against being handed over to her mother. "No, no," she said, "You are not my mother. I don't want to go."

The case was adjourned, and the child went away with her mother and foster-mother.

INGERSOLL RESIDENT DIES.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingersoll, April 5.—An old resident of the town was called by death, in the person of Hardine Sharp, who passed away at the family residence, following a very brief illness. He was in his 74th year, and was a native of New Brunswick. Besides his wife, he is survived by four daughters and three sons.

NEW TELEPHONES INSTALLED

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, April 5.—It was announced at the C. N. R. depot here today that the new telephone equipment for the St. Thomas to Windsor division had arrived and installation work would commence immediately. Recently a new up-to-date telephone system was installed on the east-end division, and it is expected a similar installation will be completed on the west end within a few months.

MAY CHANGES DISCUSSED IN KING CABINET

SEES GENERAL ELECTION SHOULD LIBERALS SCORE VICTORY AT MOOSE JAW

Rumor Many Changes Being Planned in King Cabinet—Believe By-Election Will Demonstrate Strength of Government in West—Wing of Party Anxious To Secure a Clear Majority in the House.

PREMIER REFUSES TO MAKE COMMENT

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.
Ottawa, Ont., April 6.—Rumor in Ottawa is busy with the subject of cabinet changes, but they have not yet emerged from the realm of misty speculation.

Much will depend upon the result of the Moose Jaw by-election. If there is a decided majority against the government candidate, it is unlikely that the government will be able to carry on its present policy in the structure of the cabinet which might provoke difficult by-elections will take place before the end of the session. If, on the other hand, the bank act is held over for another year, the session cannot possibly be prolonged beyond the end of May, and Mackenzie King ought to be able to manage without any reinforcements on his front bench till prorogation comes and he can look around.

But, on the other hand, the idea persists that if the government succeeds in carrying Moose Jaw, the consequences upon the political situation might be very important. Such a result would demonstrate the possibility of Liberal gains in the west, and a judicious distribution of seats might pave the way for a reasonable contingent of supporters from the prairie provinces. It is generally admitted that before the year ends there must be a fairly drastic reorganization of the cabinet and a series of by-elections would be entailed by the process. The seats of outgoing ministers would have to be filled and the newcomers would have to secure re-indorsement from their constituents.

Want Clear Majority.

It is notorious that a substantial wing of the Liberal party has for some time been very dissatisfied with its precarious position in parliament and has been yearning for a clear majority over all other groups. These members contend that, given a victory in Moose Jaw, a plausible budget and the passage of the redistribution bill, a general election this summer would result in a general improvement in the Liberal position.

This view has been urged upon Mr. Mackenzie King by influential members of the party, but, naturally, he has not so far given it any definite encouragement. If, however, Mr. King found himself in a position to reconstruct his cabinet by supplying efficient substitutes for veterans like Mr. Fielding and D. D. MacKenzie, whose span of public life is obviously near an end; if he could simultaneously weed out a few of the weaker brethren, there would be a strong temptation to make the miniature general election, which would be necessary, into a by-election.

Conference Near.

The nearness of the imperial conference must be taken into consideration by political tacticians, and the chances that conditions for a sweeping Liberal success will be more propitious before the conference than after it. It is plain that at this conference Mackenzie King will be compelled to take some decisions or make pronouncements in regard to a variety of complicated problems concerning the mutual relations of the units of the British Commonwealth.

ONE WOMAN'S KILLED
AS TROLLEY RUNS WILD

New York Cars Crash While Motorman Is Repairing Fuse on Roof.

Special to The Advertiser.
New York, April 6.—One woman was killed, three persons seriously injured and half a dozen others received minor injuries, when a Bronx trolley car ran wild down hill and telescoped another car last night.

The motorman of the trolley had climbed on the roof to repair a fuse box. The car started down hill, gaining great speed, but he could not climb down. The passengers became panic-stricken, but were quieted by one of their number, who ordered them to stand on their toes in the center of the car if they would avoid serious injury.

When the crash came the entire front of the runaway car was demolished. Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, aged 60 years, died half an hour after the crash at the Lincoln Hospital. The motorman remained on top of the car and escaped with a broken arm.

BRITISH PRINCE TO UNVEIL BELGIUM WAR MEMORIAL

Associated Press Despatch.
London, April 6.—The Prince of Wales, who is going to Brussels as the guest of the King and Queen of Belgium, and will unveil the war memorial, which has been erected in a capital of Belgium in memory of ten British soldiers as a mark of Belgium's gratitude to Great Britain, leave London for Brussels on April 27, the day after the Duke's marriage to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon.

Britain. If, for instance, he makes any commitments in the matter of co-operative defence schemes then will arouse the suspicions of Quebec. If he adopts an attitude of aloofness to them, then he is likely to lose popularity in Ontario, British Columbia and in places like Halifax.

Will Gain Prominence.

In the coming years the Commonwealth problem and its numerous implications will bulk largely in our politics and may produce a very sharp cleavage. At present Mr. King could be comparatively immune from criticism in a campaign in which he sought a mandate to give effect to the wishes of the Canadian people at a conference, but once the conference has taken place, and he has committed himself to some line of action or other, it will be a totally different matter. Blasts of criticism will be blowing upon him from more than one direction, and he will be pinned down to a defensive strategy. In face of such contingencies he might well prefer to seize a psychological moment and appeal to the electorate about July. His chances of success would inevitably depend upon the quality of the recruits whom he could enlist for his cabinet. Presumably Mr. Fielding, Mr. MacKenzie, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Graham who is not in good health, and Mr. Bureau, who is tired of politics, would drop out.

Gouin May Resign.

It is also reported on good authority that Sir Lomer Gouin finds little satisfaction in his political life in Ottawa, and would be willing to retire if he could see his faithful friend and ally, Walter Mitchell, safely ensconced in the cabinet. In place of these elder statesmen there might be introduced to the sacred circle, E. M. MacDonald, Mr. Eulder, Mr. Malcolm, Dr. W. L. MacDougall, Mr. Archambault and E. J. McMurray, or A. B. Hudson.

A construction on such lines would mean a much younger and more vigorous cabinet, and the demand might be stressed that it should be given a chance. Meanwhile through the death of Senator Goudreau there is a vacancy in the upper chamber. It should be filled by somebody from the Quebec district, and there is no scarcity of applicants. The name of Mr. Bureau is mentioned in connection with the vacant seat, but it is unlikely that the prime minister will sanction his withdrawal from the Commons in the middle of a difficult session. The vacancy, however, may be kept warm for a future occasion.

Bureau Is Veteran.

Mr. Bureau is now one of the veteran members of the Commons. He has had his fill of politics, and his health is not robust. He has found the administration of the customs and inland revenue department very exacting and would not be averse to escape ministerial burdens and be able to survey the political turmoil from a laborious seat in the senate. There may be some senatorial vacancies in the near future. Some of the older members are in poor health, and if Senator M. J. O'Brien allows this session to elapse as he did last without once putting in an appearance he will automatically forfeit his seat. By tradition it belongs to an Irish Catholic, and the suggestion is heard that Senator O'Brien is deliberately planning the forfeiture of his seat to make a haven of repose for Charlie Murphy.

DELAY AUCTION OF WINE
HELD BY RUHR OFFICIALS

Associated Press Despatch.
London, April 6.—A Strasbourg despatch to the Times says the Ruhr occupation officials had announced for Wednesday an auction sale of 600,000 liters of fine Moselle wine which were seized in the cellars of Treves as the property of the municipal authorities.

The Germans, however, produced a contract purporting to show that the wine had already been sold to United States buyers. The auction was postponed.

USED CHICKEN NETTING TO CATCH BOMBS.
In the accompanying photographs are shown Rev. S. E. McKegney, late of Oxford University and Ireland, and one of the Free State armored cars much in evidence in the south of Ireland and used there in an effort to restore order. Over the rear part of the car can be seen the usual ingenious bomb-deflector in the form of a ridge roof of chicken netting. It is understood that the street cars are also encased in wire netting in order to prevent revolutionaries from hurling bombs among the passengers.

Tanks No Longer Rumble
In Busy Belfast Streets

Rev. S. E. McKegney, Now in London, Contrasts Present Peace in Ulster With Conditions Last Year.

A graphic account of conditions in Ulster and the Irish Free State was given by Rev. S. E. McKegney, late of Oxford University, who has arrived in London and is the guest of Rev. R. D. Mess, pastor of St. David's Church. Rev. Mr. McKegney spent a large part of last year in Ireland, and contrasted the conditions existing in Ulster and the Irish Free State. Speaking first about Ulster, he said that apart from the general depression from which practically the whole of Europe was suffering, Ulster is in no worse condition than England. The great shipyard of Harland and Wolff at Belfast is operating at a fair rate, and the city of Belfast shows little of the effects of the turmoil that has been going on in Ireland. McKegney attributes the peace in Ulster to the rigorous manner in which the British military authorities put down every attempt at insurrection, and to a division in the ranks of the Sinn Feiners themselves. Today Ulster is enjoying peace at last, while a year ago everything was confusion and the future looked black indeed. Instead of the hum of industry, the ominous rumble of armored cars filled the air and the rattle of machine guns broke the stillness of the night. "Ulster is entirely British," said Mr. McKegney, "and there is no real possibility of the people of Ulster joining the Irish Free State." The present quiet, prevailing in Ulster and more especially in Belfast, became apparent at about the same time that the De Valera faction staged the "Four Courts" battle in Dublin. Since that time Ulster has progressed steadily along the lines of reconstruction, while the south of Ireland has gone on from bad to worse under the Irish Free State government.

Ireland's Handicap.
When asked what held Ireland back from a realization of her hopes as a free commonwealth, he said that the lack of a strong national authority, checking the horrors, waste and destruction of De Valera's rebel army. In accounting for this, he explained that the Free State army was undisciplined and wretchedly officered. From Rev. McKegney's remarks it would appear that the majority of the Free State officers were granted commissions, not on account of their military suitability, but for bravado and daring in their past exploits of sniping at English officers and members of the Royal Irish Constabulary. In addition to the inefficiency of the officers, he explained that many of the troops were in full sympathy with De Valera, and that they joined the Free State army for opportunity to spy and hand over arms and supplies to the republican forces.

Speaking further on conditions in the south of Ireland, he said that practically the whole Protestant population had been forced to give up their holdings and migrate, some to Ulster, some to England and still others to Canada and the United States. Businessmen, during enough to remain with their businesses, were continually forced to pay blackmail or stand the risk of their lives. The only desperate rebel obtained his funds, but was in common use by all and sundry who preferred not to work for their living.

Discussing transportation in Ireland, Mr. McKegney said that while all services had been restored in Ulster, the main lines were operating in the south, as all attempts to keep the branch lines in continuous operation had been practically abandoned for the time being.

In the South.
The south of Ireland presents so many different features in its difficulties, said Rev. McKegney, that those most intimately acquainted with the situation had given up all hope of the Free State army being able to bring order out of the chaos existing at present. That they may do so, a probability and there are many well informed men in Ireland who are already predicting that before long the Free State army will be reinstated as a part of the United Kingdom in order to obtain that peace which Ulster is enjoying as a result of the suppression of republicanism by the British forces there.

Conditions in the south are beyond the imagination of outsiders to picture. "No man is safe who might become a survivor of established government, and on this account, people who would otherwise shrink from the violence, are today favoring De Valera because the national authorities are unable to protect them from the frightfulness of De Valera and his rebels."

Mr. McKegney stated that the Roman Catholic church had sent men high in the affairs of the church to appeal to the better instincts of the republicans, but the attempts carried little weight as the men were suspected of complicity with English interests.

To add to the confusion, the Free State customs boundary regulations went into effect on April 1 and Ulster is placed in an uncomfortable position. It seems that if Ulster declares herself as absolutely apart from Ireland, her trade with Ireland falls under the rulings of the Free State customs restrictions, and on the other hand were she to throw in her lot with the south of Ireland her infinitely more important trade with England and the rest of the world

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS TO SHOW GREAT CARE
Will Watch Power of Attorney on All Imported Goods.

London customs officials have received instructions from the department of excise to exercise particular care regarding the powers of attorney given to entries of imported goods. Hereafter, all entries are required to have the number of the power of attorney written thereon. The officials are also advised that in the case of power of attorney issued by a "limited" or an "incorporated" company, the corporate seal of the company should be affixed to the power of attorney and the power of attorney should be signed by an official duly authorized by bylaw to use such seal.

Attention is brought to the fact that the law requires a person to be 21 years of age before he may lawfully represent another in custom excise transactions. Instructions further state that in this connection, when the entries have been sworn to, a junior clerk or clerk holding the powers of attorney, and who has sworn to such entries, may not be interrupted in his general work.

Imports not exceeding $100, however, may be entered by persons acting as an agent for the importer without executing the power of attorney.

HARDING STATES STORY
GROTESQUE ABSURDITY

Denies He Will Advocate Further Participation in European Affairs.

Special to The Advertiser.
Augusta, Ga., April 6.—"Grotesque absurdity" was the characterization today by spokesman of President Harding of a story printed in London that Mr. Harding's campaign for reelection would be based on a platform of "European participation in European affairs" than is contemplated in joining the international court of justice.

According to the London story, the president would sponsor a new treaty, based on a program by Lord Cecil, foremost British protagonist of the League of Nations. This treaty, it was held, would supplant the league, and provide for America's entrance into European affairs.

The president's international program remains unchanged, the spokesman stated emphatically. He intends to make a strong campaign for reelection today by speaking at the international court of justice, which is under the auspices of the league.

Mr. Harding does not at this time contemplate any further step toward co-operation with Europe, it was stated. This government is in no position to suggest revision of the Versailles treaty, unless it is able to guarantee American participation in a new treaty, and such a guarantee is manifestly impossible, it was pointed out.

It would be hampered by Free State export and import duties. This is one of the reasons, said Rev. McKegney, why Ulster never can join the Irish Free State.

Says City Has Legal Right To Extra Taxes From Annex

City Auditor Ashplant Says as Much as $25,000 Can Be Collected.

WELCOMES ACTION.
Expresses Belief That City Can Win in Any Court of Competent Jurisdiction.

The city council retains a legal as well as a moral right to collect as much as $25,000 additional taxes in the annexed districts of East London, reasons ex-Ald. H. B. Ashplant, city auditor.

"And this could be accomplished," he asserts, "without any honest citizen having the slightest just cause for complaint, and, furthermore, it would not break the 15-mill agreement between the municipality of London and the township of London. There would be no cause for worry, and no legal entanglements would be involved."

"The order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, made to bind the annex agreement, will, in my judgment, be sustained in any court of competent jurisdiction."

"That order relates only to such taxes and is without the legal right of the contracting parties to agree upon; and it was not at that time and it is not today, within the rights of any municipality to grant exemption or freedom from school taxes due to the department of education."

No Illegal Clause.

"That order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, made to bind the annex agreement, does not contain any illegal clause. Freedom from school taxes on improved property value, or factory buildings, is not one of the principal clauses in the annex agreement at all, neither the city council of London nor the London Township Council possessed the legal right at the time of annexation to contract themselves out of obligations to the department of education, and the order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board covers only the legal agreement of these municipal corporations within their own respective spheres for taxation purposes," asserted H. B. Ashplant, "for municipal purposes only."

"Since 1911 this imposition has been put over in the face of strenuous and persistent opposition and protest. There has been no undisputed precedent established, and it is easy to produce evidence to this effect from official records extending over seven years back," said ex-Ald. Ashplant.

"The city council has the legal right to pay the rates of the department of education out of the 15-mill rate, if it so disposed, as it has in fact been doing for many years. That does not carry with it a legal right to exempt any improved property, or factory buildings, from the school rate, in the same way as the municipal council can exempt such property from the municipal rate."

Sees No Difficulty.

"There is no doubt in my own mind that the courts of competent jurisdiction would distinguish between the municipality rate and the school rate, as Ontario courts have always distinguished between them. It was the municipal rate only which the London Township Council had to pay, and to exempt factory property from the school rate, in the same way as the municipal council can exempt such property from the municipal rate."

A PRINCESS OF ORLEANS TO WED COUNT CHAPONAY

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, April 6.—The Duke and Duchess of Vendome announce the engagement of their daughter Princess Genevieve De Orleans to Count de Chaponay, a lieutenant of the Dragons.

Count de Chaponay is a son of Marquis de Chaponay and a great-grandson of Adolphe Schneider, founder of the famous iron works at Le Creusot. He is a widower, his first wife having been Diane Cousse Brissac, daughter of the Duke de Brissac.

The Duke of Orleans, the head of the French royal family, has decided by letters patent that Princess Genevieve may retain her title of royal highness as well as all the rights and prerogatives of a princess of the House of Orleans.

Count de Chaponay was decorated with the Croix de Guerre during the war.

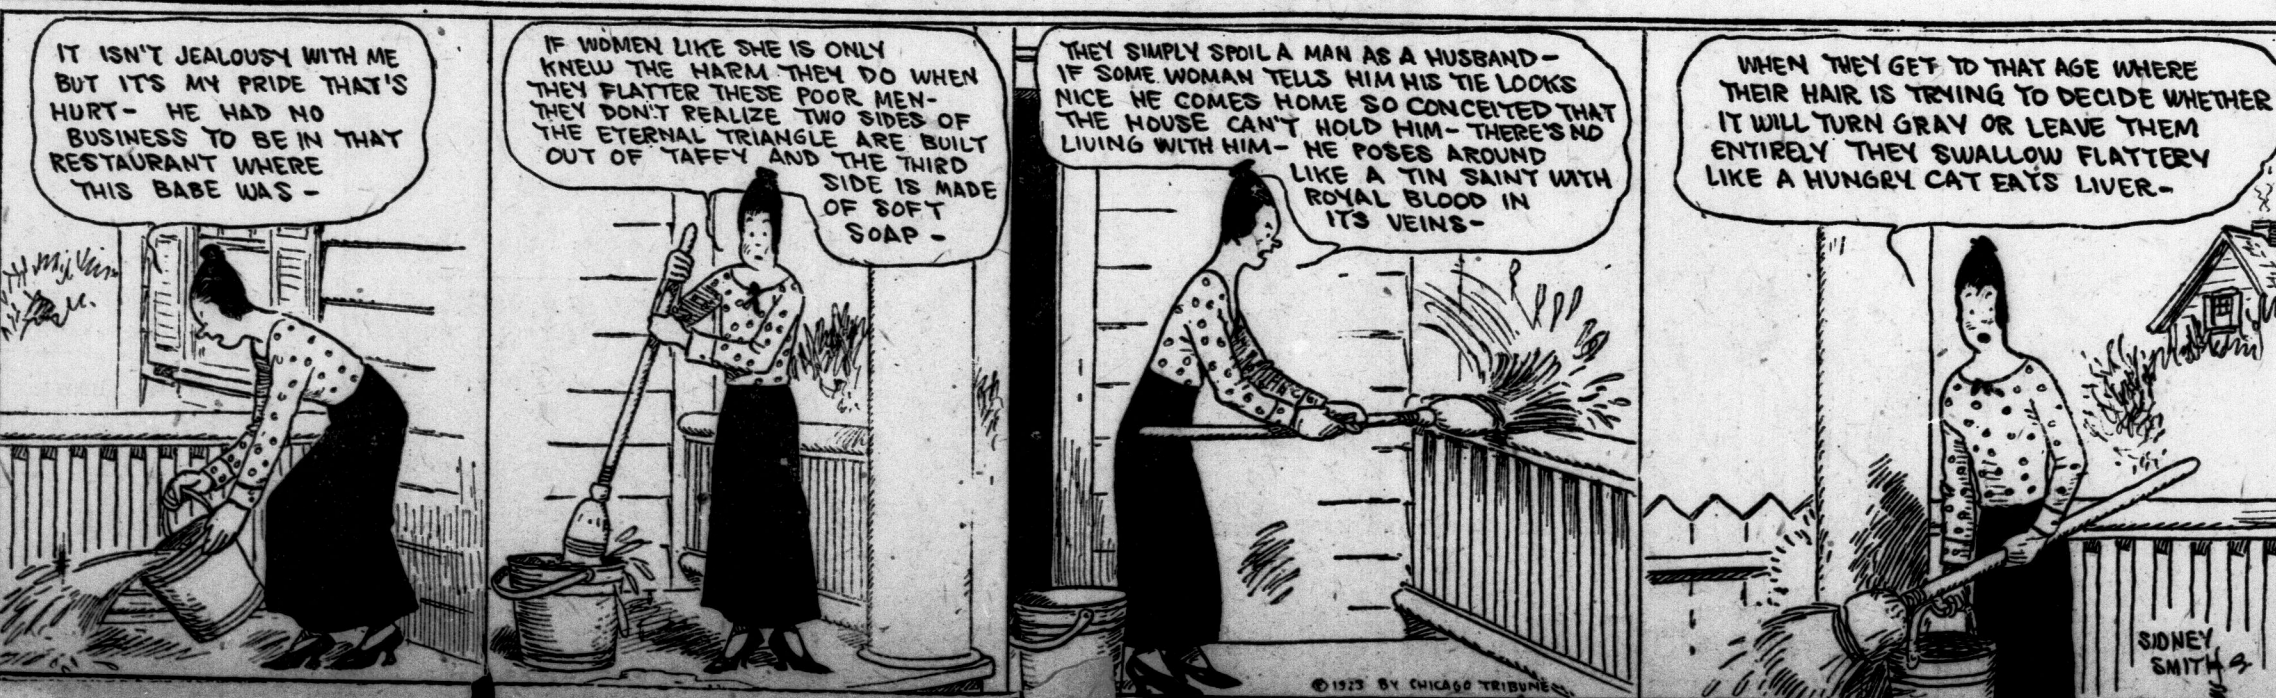

THINKS POLICE PROBE
NOW WOULD BE FUTILE

Ald. Colbert Not Sure That Good Result Would Come of It.

While he is practically reconciled to the conclusion that an investigation of the police department would be futile, Ald. John Colbert explains that he is waiting for Ald. Judd to introduce the same measure. "I am not going to seek any police investigation," he explained, "although I did not protest against the chief's increase in salary during December, 1922."

"What would be the use of a probe now if the city councilors have no jurisdiction over police affairs. It would be best not to do any, as we would be wasting our time from the looks of things."

Ald. Drake submits that the next move should be to obtain a definite ruling from the attorney-general as to the rights, if any, of the city council to revise the estimates submitted by the police commission.

Everything the Farmer Trades In ## PRICES HOLD SLIGHTLY ON CATTLE MARKET

Removed.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, April 6.—Trade has been good, the markets holding exceptionally strong, compared with the Easter week of former years. Usually a holiday followed by a week or so of a more active market at the opening, slackening off but very slightly in the second week. The market was a noticeable one, as the opening of a epoch in the cattle trade of Canada. Consequently, the remainder of the summer has been a period of activity in forwarding of cattle facts, and in the removal of the barrier, which for three years has barred the way to the British markets. Cargoes of cattle were ready on their way across the water, and the official lowering of the bars, can announce the first arrivals of Canadian cattle in the markets of London, Manchester and Glasgow. At both the cities there were general rejoicing, and the removal of the barrier, a regime, which means so much to the future and the welfare of all parties.

restrictions, regarded as necessary for the Old Country, which still remains there is no doubt but that the people of the British Empire (Dominion) will be immensely stimulated to the benefit of all concerned, which is open to this Easter week.

It is in fact an interesting week for grain in which practically steady, with slight fluctuations. Export fat steers and heifers have sold steadily from $3.00 to $3.00, and a few choice small calves to $3.25.

Store cattle for export have sold strong from $6.75 to $7.25. In the live stock market the prices for good to choice steers around $7 up to $7.40 for choice steers and heifers. Med to fat cows $5.75 to $6.25, and good med to fat $5.25 to $5.75.

ER BRANCH LINE T. AND N.O. TO KIRKLAND LAKE

Premier Drury States Decision Will Be Reached Soon.

IDEA CRITICIZED

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson
Declares Original Plan Has Been Discarded.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Toronto, April 6.—Premier Drury informed legislature yesterday that within a few days the government and the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission would decide whether a branch line of the road would be built to Kirkland Lake. He said that of all the possible branch lines, the one to Kirkland Lake was the only one that merited consideration. "Others would not pay for the axle grease," said the premier, who intimated that in his address on the budget he would make announcements as to the government's intentions and policy regarding the T. and N. O.

Sharp criticism came from Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, who declared that the prime minister in opening up the lines to produce revenue for the railway was far astray from the intentions of the railway, which was the development of the north, not to make money for the government. "As a matter of fact the minister treats Northern Ontario as an adjunct of the old part of the province. Why is this government ignoring the best mining district of the north? Are we to wait development before we give them any way, or will we take the right and build the road which will develop the north? The answer is waiting for these roads, but the northern people have no hope as long as this government is in power."

Commission to Report.
H. Casselman, arising before orders of the day, brought the question to the attention of the house. He thought the extension to James Bay might well be held until the mining areas were looked over with branch lines. Malcolm Cochrane, said both the main extension and branch lines should be built.

He saw the probability of the R. getting from the Quebec side and taking most of the business if it did. Ontario government did not reply to a question from the Conservative leader, the premier said the hydro inquiry commission would shortly make a report. Asked

RADIO ON A TROLLEY CAR.

After working on the details of their experiment for over a year, New York engineers finally succeeded in carrying on conversations of the utmost clearness between passengers in a moving car and an operator in the transportation company's substation.

An ordinary radio outfit was used, except that instead of broadcasting by antennae, the instrument is connected directly to the trolley feed wire by a condenser. A wave length of about 18,000 cycles was used.

If there was any more government legislation to be brought down, the premier said there was, including a bill recognizing Dr. Banting and Dr. Best, who have been so successful with their new treatment for diabetes. Attorney-General Rance said there would be some acts from his department, including one based on the report of the committee which investigated hotel conditions.

Praises Backus Bill.
Peter Heenan, Labor, Kenora, returning the debate on the Backus timber limits, and his connection with the town of Kenora. He defended the government action, and criticized the suggestion that the big limit should have been split up into four or five lots as not practicable. He declared that many limits had been sold without competition by the old Conservative government. He praised Mr. Drury for overcoming many obstacles in getting the Kenora difficulties straightened out, and declared that the enemies of the government had misrepresented the whole Backus business. He claimed that only 50 per cent of the limit was timber bearing and that Backus was paying the same price per cord as other big companies in the north. Mr. Heenan said in reply to a question that he had urged the government to give Mr. Backus the limit without public competition.

HOLD MARKET COURSE AT INGERSOLL PLANT

District Farmers Receive Instruction In Proper Grading of Hogs.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingersoll, April 6.—A swine marketing course opened at the Ingersoll Packing Company plant yesterday, with G. Barber, official grader, demonstrating to many farmers from near-by districts the correct grading and type of bacon hogs. Following this there was a cutting demonstration conducted by Mr. Barber and E. B. McPhee, plant superintendent. The plan is to show farmers not only the correct type of bacon hog and how it is graded, but also how it is cut and prepared for market. The course was under the joint auspices of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and the Ingersoll Packing Company.

APPLIES TO HAVE CASE OF ARMSTRONG DEFERRED

Canadian Press Despatch.
Edmonton, Alta., April 5.—Application was made by the crown yesterday for an adjournment of the trial of George Armstrong, former postmaster, who is charged with the theft of $50,000 from the local post office, until the next sitting of the criminal court here. Important witnesses do not appear, the crown counsel stated, if the trial was to proceed now. S. S. Woods, K. C., counsel for the accused, strongly objected to the adjournment and his motion Monday to reply to the points raised in the application.

ST. THOMAS CUSTOMS SHOW GREAT INCREASE

John Farrell, Department Head, States Returns Indicate Prosperity.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, April 6.—John J. Farrell of the customs department stated that the amount of customs collections in St. Thomas from April, 1922, to March, 1923, is $540,114.54. The cashier said this was the highest figure for some years. The increase has been consistent since last June, and has been most noticeable during the winter months. The March figure, which is about three times that of last May, is chiefly attributed to large importations of rails and other railroad requirements, but Mr. Farrell states that the returns indicate a general trade improvement.

ST. THOMAS PROPOSES NEW MARKET HOUSE

Council Empowers the City Engineer To Draw Up
Specifications.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, April 6.—At a special meeting of No. 4 committee of the city council in the city hall yesterday afternoon, City Engineer Miller was instructed to draw up plans for a new market building. The building is to be on a smaller scale than the one recommended by Aldermen Sloggett and Harding, who formed a committee last week to visit the Kitchener market buildings. The plan called for a two-story structure with space on the ground floor for vehicles and accommodation for selling.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT STANDS BY EXECUTION

Moscow Administration Refuses To Make Any Further Explanations.

Associated Press Despatch.
Moscow, April 6.—The Soviet government's attitude that the matter of the execution of Vicar-General Butchavitch and the imprisonment of Archbishop Zepiak was an internal problem and is now a closed incident, despite foreign protests, was reflected in the attitude of some of the foreign missions in Moscow. Rumors current in Ireland and the Polish legation might withdraw, brought forth a denial today from the legation.

The chief of the British mission, however, returned to the Soviet government the latter's note justifying the sentences imposed upon the prelates, and alluding to British executions in Ireland and India. To this the Soviet government replied that the contents of the note were probably already published and it trusted the British government was thereby informed and would not interfere in the future.

It appeared tonight that the Soviet administration has once again furnished the world with a fait accompli, the foreign effect of which will undoubtedly cause some nervousness, but no fear in Moscow.

WABASH PRESIDENT PRAISES ECONOMY

J. Cotter, Rail Head, Lauds
St. Thomas Trainmaster
For Saving In Fuel

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, April 6.—Trainmaster T. J. Cassidy of the Wabash Railway received a communication this week from J. E. Cotter, president of the road, complimenting him on the excellent saving in fuel made in Canada. There had been a saving of 15,626 tons in freight service, 26,066 tons in passenger service and 1,430 tons in yard service during the year 1922 over the year 1921.

This meant a saving to the company of 43,122 tons of fuel and of $148,001.

LIBERALS UNITE IN WALES TO SUPPORT SIR ROBERT

Associated Press Despatch.
London, April 5.—The move toward a reunion of the National and Independent Liberals has taken practical form in the constituency of Anglesey, Wales, where both wings have agreed to support Sir Robert Thomas, who is labeled Liberal without prefix. The Anglesey by-election has been rendered necessary by the death of Director-General Sir Owen Thomas, who was returned in the last election as an Independent.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

The signing of Shortstop Ernie Johnson, a holdout, from a few wrinkles out of the brow of Dick Gleason, White Sox daddy. The future looks rosy for Gleason's youngsters, and had he faced the necessity of breaking in another shortstop in his line-up it would have handicapped him.

Johnson is considered a rookie. Last year is called his first with the Sox. According to the records, however, he scored eight games at short for the White Sox eleven years ago. He was only 22 then, however, and had been playing but a year.

He broke into the pro game with Duquaine in the Three-Eye League in 1911. The next season he was sold to the White Sox, but at first refused to report, and jumped to the U. S. League, then in existence. The following season he joined the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League under a player agreement that club had with the Sox, and for two seasons played short for the "Angels." Then he jumped to the Federal League.

When the peace pact was signed he became the property of the Browns, and played short part of the time for over two seasons at short for the Browns. Then he was shipped to Vernon, which club promptly traded him to Salt Lake City. The White Sox paid the Utah club $27,000 and five players for Johnson and Sheeple late in 1920.

Last year Johnson played 141 games at the shortstop post, and ranked third in fielding. His hitting, however, was not so good. He closed the ball at a .245 rate. Gleason hopes to improve this mark this year, and his centered his efforts on the angle of Johnson's playing all spring.

HARRY KING, WOODSTOCK STAR, THROUGH HOCKEY

Woodstock, April 5.—Harry King, one of the best-known hockey players in Western Ontario, today announced that he is through as a hockey player, and that when the next season rolls around he will be found among the spectators. King has played O. H. A. hockey for ten seasons, and a few years ago was counted as one of the fastest skaters and expert stick-handlers in the game. He has had many chances to jump into the pro game but has always turned a deaf ear. "King" is in charge of a large confectionery business here and he finds that pressure of business makes it very difficult for him to take part in hockey.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK ESSEN-PARIS EXPRESS

Associated Press Despatch.
Essen, April 6.—An attempt to wreck the Essen-Paris express with dynamite occurred Thursday night between Kettwig and Werden. The express was proceeding cautiously, as usual in Ruhr district, when the locomotive struck a high explosive placed on the track, which at this point skirts the Ruhr River. The engine was wrecked by the terrific explosion, but the day coaches, sleeper and diner did not leave the tracks. No one was injured. General DeGoutte has fined Kettwig for this act 50,000 marks and Werden 20,000 marks.

BIG BARGAIN.

$16,000—Dufferin Ave. near Waterloo. One of London's high class residences just listed at a ridiculously low price of $16,000, includes so many beautiful features that cannot be enumerated in this space. Solid brick on stone foundation, with large one stone sunroom with tile floor, many beam ceilings, wonderful fixtures, 4 bedrooms with fireplaces on second floor, and two bedrooms and bathroom on third floor. A den behind the sunroom would make a good arrangement for a doctor's residence, quarter cut oak floors throughout, paneled walls and ceilings in large bright dining-room, lounge room with fireplace on second floor add to the attractiveness. Slate roof and hot water heated. Large brick stable with living quarters above and a bathroom, and brick garage has room for 4 cars. Many shrubs, trees, flowers, in a well-kept lawn make this a wonderful home in fine locality.

$10,500—Wellington St. central large 2-story brick, 4 bedrooms, den with fireplace, reception hall, living-room, dining-room, kitchen, fireplace in bedroom, full 4-part bathroom, 2-piece bathroom and furnace, lawn, on large lot.

$40.00 per foot. This splendid lot with a 45-foot frontage near Cheapside St. is an ideal situation for your new home. It is situated amidst many fine new homes.

$30.00 per foot. It is seldom we get north-end lots near Waterloo St. at anything near this price. I have these two 33-foot lots just east of Waterloo at a very low price.

GARAGE.

$7,000—I have been instructed to sell the garage at the rear of the Pure Gasoline Station on Dundas St. just east of Waterloo. A right-of-way front Dundas St. and a width of 66 feet at the rear on which a 60-foot modern garage constructed of stone on solid brick stands. The land alone is worth almost the asked price. You will have a Dundas St. garage at low tax rate. Plenty of land in front of garage will be allowed.

GARAGE.

$30,000—Fine new garage, now used as wholesale hardware warehouse, with office, etc., constructed of fancy brick. There are no posts and is of the most modern construction $30,000.

$200 down, $25 month, $2,500 for frame cottage, 3 bedrooms, veranda, parlor, kitchen, dining-room, bathroom, water, lot 4x13.

$4,000—$700 down, $30 month, brick cottage, Oxford St., 3 bedrooms, 2 clothes closets, parlor, dining-room, kitchen, 2-piece bathroom, veranda.

$3,000—$500 down, $20 month, brick cottage, Oxford St., 2 bedrooms, parlor, dining-room, kitchen, 2-piece bathroom, hydro, water.

Three-Hour Caucus Yesterday Fails To Bring Definite Decision.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, April 6.—A three-hour caucus held by the Drury government members of the Legislature yesterday did not come to a definite decision regarding proportional representation, the alternative vote and redistribution, but the air was cleared.

The matter was discussed from every angle with no little animation.

The result of the secret ballot which showed an overwhelming majority in favor of a trial of proportional representation, and the use of the alternative vote in single member constituencies, figured prominently in the discussion.

Two or three of the members balked at proportional representation, but there was little objection to the proposal to leave the whole question to the decision of the ministers, on the understanding that the latter would respect the general trend of sentiment. So there the matter stands.

The Toronto Star says it is likely the government will bring down a bill proposing redistribution, and that a special committee, representative of all the parties, will be appointed in the hope that it will not take more than two weeks to report the best method of dealing with the more

GILLET'S LYE

Comparatively few people realize to what extent Gillett's Lye can be used to advantage in every home.
For instance, with one can of Gillett's Lye and five and a half pounds of lard or grease, ten pounds of good hard soap can be made. Use one tablespoon Gillett's Lye in gallon of water for cleaning and disinfecting refrigerators, sinks, garbage cans, tiled floors, baths and toilets.

Useful for over 500
purposes.

of the communists of the province, who include the most important leaders of the party.

The conference adopted Lenine's plan to establish a control commission, with full powers to examine into the affairs of any department.
The articles of the plan were written from the sick-bed of the premier before his recent attack. He has put

and The Philadelphia Public Ledger.

London, April 6.—Europe is sick and scores of healers and witch doctors are proclaiming cure cures for all her ailments. I expressly exclude myself from that assemblage, but every flattering analyst who sets down a record of his impressions and observations is, under obligation to disclose his background. I was in Europe from August, 1914, until 1919. I saw war at first hand and at close range in all its phases and aspects. I saw some of the effects and conditions of the immediate post-war period.

Now after a lapse of years I propose to revisit England, France, Italy, Austria, Germany, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and other Balkan States to Constantinople.
I have allowed myself two weeks of inquiry and observation before beginning this record. So much by way of credentials and introduction before beginning this record. England is as solid as a rock. She is rebuilding on a broad, deep, secure foundation.

She has been through hard shaking times and has been stripped of much of her fat, but her basic structure has not cracked. English character has not cracked.

English Character Unchanged.

English character has not changed.
These people are still resolved to retain their dominant place in the world. They have not the faintest notion of letting go their hold or ceding one inch from the place they so long have held. This is true of all classes of society and all shades of political opinion. The city bankers and traders are firmly persuaded that London will again become the financial center of the world, that her present eclipse is only temporary, and they are making their plans to that effect. They are buying her debts and living within her means.

One hears it said that she is the only country in Europe that is paying taxes up to the limit of her capacity. Thousands of Englishmen are paying to their government one-third or more of their income. They grumble, but pay; they do not seek to evade or to deny. The funding of the debt to the United States will add ninepence to the income tax for 30 years. Many chafed at that, but now that this is done everyone is proud of the accomplishment. The fact of paying such taxes is the characteristic of a political motive, too.
The outstanding and most discernible British national policy at this moment is their aim to establish close relations with us. They seek a basis for a partnership, but to

FOUND WONDERFUL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

BY USING

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills

Constipation is one of the most prevalent troubles the human race is subject to, and is the greatest cause of many of our ailments, for if the bowels cease to perform their proper functions all the other organs will become deranged.

Keep your bowels working gently and naturally by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and thus do away with the constipation and all other troubles caused by it.

Mrs. A. R. Spence, Springhill, N. S., writes: "I have suffered for some time from constipation, and was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. After taking a trial of them I have found wonderful relief, and would advise all those who are constipated to give them a trial for I feel sure they will also receive the same benefit I did."

Says Germany Owes World Spiritual and Moral Debt

Sir Henry Newbolt Makes Outstanding Statements In Speech Before National Educational Conference In Toronto.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, April 6.—While the political phase of the world is in more or less of a state of chaos owing to the problem of Germany's financial reparations, there is another reparation due from the German people, that of the spiritual and moral debt which that country owes to the world, according to the statement of Sir Henry Newbolt, the English author and educationalist, who is taking part in the national conference of education and citizenship, and who,
in speaking in Convocation Hall this evening, pointed out that Germany's moral debt to the world is of little less importance to the future than are her financial obligations. Sir Henry felt that there could be no doubt of the fact that there is abroad a genuine and deep-seated desire for freedom from the doctrines of force and for something more like human unity.

So far as education was concerned, the speaker declared that it has more to do with life than was commonly believed in the old days. For education is not memorizing facts. "It really has little to do with facts," he went on, "it is really that training which is necessary for life itself, which helps people to gain an insight into the meaning of life and which records the experience of living spirits."

Not Straight Ascent.

"The progress of education has never been a straight ascent;
it is sometimes spiral; its course sometimes flattens out when opponents gain control, and it sometimes even drops to abysmal depths of pedagogical folly," he declared.
Prof. Gordon J. Laing, Ph.D., dean of the Faculty of Arts, McGill University, in his address on the subject of "Literature and Leisure."
Prof. Laing said he was not one of those who feared that because of an over-emphasized devotion to literature, people could reach a stage when games of recreation, such as golf, would be discarded, and when poker

England has not come yet to think of it as an equal partnership. Too many here who desire such an end quite inconspicuously take it for granted that they will be dominant and the senior partner. That is a detail that would have to be arranged. The basic idea is sound.

Wants Only Peace.

The whole inevitable drift of world politics is toward an agreement between the United States and Great Britain for concert of action and harmony of interest in the longer years of reconstruction that still lie ahead.
Great Britain's whole present desire is for peace and trade. Our interest lies in the same direction. All of the talk in England now in responsible quarters is about the necessity and desirability of finding a basis for a common policy that will restore actual peace and the flow of trade along normal, secure channels.

DEATH TOLL OF TORNADO INCREASES TODAY TO 20

Associated Press Despatch.

Alexandria, La., April 5.—The death toll as a result of the tornado which late yesterday swept Alexandria and Pineville, was placed this forenoon at 20.
A check by the authorities developed that undertaking establishments here had the bodies of 14 white victims and 6 negroes. The total injured was placed at 60, more than 30 of whom are in hospitals. The property damage was placed at $500,000.

ADVOCATE BUFFER STATE AS SOLUTION OF GERMAN TANGLE

French Demand the Arrest of Count Krupp Von Bohlen.

RENEW SABOTAGE

Proposed Area Would Be Admitted To World League.

and The Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Paris, April 6.—The rapid-fire sabotage going on in the Ruhr is causing an insistent demand in France for the arrest of Count Krupp Von Bohlen, described as "the master do-mon of Essen and the real power behind the riots, assassinations and train wrecks in the Ruhr." The arrest of the Krupp directors is insufficient, according to the French press.

French correspondents in the Ruhr describe with vividness how Count Von Bohlen, surrounded by a few faithful servants and directors, mounted to the famous tower on top of the Great Krupp mansion just outside Essen and contemplated the working out of his plans, and received reports of how the work of violent sabotage was proceeding and directed action of the Ruhr works by telephonic instructions.

In view of such opposition many French sources, even the most conservative, declare that the best solution is the establishment of a Rhine buffer state to include the Ruhr valley. It is proposed that the Rhine state be admitted to the League of Nations, which would supervise the installation of an Allied army of occupation and guarantee its security.

It is pointed out that Berlin still is far from a spirit of negotiations, that Hugo Stinnes is still imbued with the idea that France will submit to an international conference in which the Germans will play a leading role.
This idea, while described as ridiculous, nevertheless is significant and only likely to further consolidate the occupation by the French and Belgians.

The suppression of object of reunions, said Prof. J. A. Dale of McGill University, who presided, was a good understanding between the different provinces. The problems of education might seem English or they might seem French, but in the end they become Canadian.

Prof. Canon Emile Charlier, vice-rector of the University of Montreal, taking for his subject "The Teaching of Literature," spoke of the formation of a taste for that which was best. While French-Canadians might vaunt the fact that they had conserved the language of their ancestors of France, it had to be admitted that there had come cleavages and changes.

Aurelian Belanger, director of English-French schools of Ottawa, spoke on language as the vehicle of knowledge and development.

Prof. Henri Hauser of the University of Paris said finally that the educational conference had given him immense confidence in the perpetuation in Canada of both English and French culture.

Held on Charge of Stealing
$1,040 in Hamilton—City
Delays on Extradition.

Special to The Advertiser.

Hamilton, Ont., April 6.—"Left rotting in a hell on earth," as he says, Northerly Smith, known as Dumaurel, a one-time beauty doctor in Hamilton,
now held in Havana, Cuba, on a charge of stealing $1,040 from the Dumaurel beauty parlors, Hamilton, has made an appeal for justice through a letter written to a local newspaper.

Smith was arrested in Havana a month ago, after being traced by the police through the United States. While extradition proceedings have been carried on, he has been held in the old Spanish prison in Havana. Delay has followed delay, and still no signs of the completion of extradition have appeared.

The city has quarreled with the attorney-general over who should advance the money to bring him back, although the usual bond has been placed with the government by the complainants.
On several occasions it was expected that a detective would leave within a few days, but police headquarters have given out no information on the matter for weeks past, except that arrangements have not been completed.

Captain Collins sailed the sea for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss.
No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abortive operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

Captain Collins made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.
Anyone can use the same method;
it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive.

Every ruptured person in the world

CHICAGO ARMED BANDITS STEAL WHISKEY CARGO

Canadian Press Despatch.

Chicago, April 6.—Four armed bandits held up a dozen railroad employees yesterday, while four confederates loaded a truck with whiskey taken from a carload of lettuce. The robbery occurred in the downtown freight yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The robbers escaped with the truck under convoy of the armed men.

More than half the shipment was whiskey, according to the police, lettuce being added merely to garnish the liquor. It was shipped from Kentucky.

FIND TWO WOMEN WITH NECKS CUT ON LONELY ROAD

Bloody Butcher Knife Is Discovered Near Road by Dongan Hills. N. Y.

BOOTLEGGERS HAUNT FEAR TIKHON'S FATE

Believe Tragic Deaths Occurred in Early Morning Hours Today.

Special to The Advertiser.
New York, April 6.—Stabbed in the back and with their throats cut, the bodies of two young women were found lying beside a lonely road near the village of Dongan Hills at 6:30 today. Thirty feet from the road a bloody butcher knife was discovered. A receipted bill, found in the pocket of one of the women, bore the name of Mrs. Irene Blandina, Jersey City. This girl had auburn hair and an artificial leg, her companion, who was a blonde, had one wrist slashed, in addition to her other wounds.
Walter J. Donovan of the Castleton Daily, who found the bodies, told police there were no signs of a struggle and no bloodstains at the spot. It is a lonely district, with few houses and no sidewalks. The open lots are covered with dense brush, and there is a creek nearby, which is occasionally used as a landing place by bootleggers.
Examination of the bodies by police surgeons showed there were a number of stab wounds in the throat of each woman. They had evidently been inflicted with a short-bladed knife. The medical examiner said he believed death occurred four or five hours before the tragedy was discovered. This would put the time of the crime at 1 or 2 a.m.

CHARGE IS DISMISSED AGAINST MOTORIST

Court Remands Woman for a Week, Charged With Being Disorderly.

In police court this morning E. L. Edwards was charged with driving a car without proper markers. He was able in his own defense to prove to the satisfaction of the court that the constable was mistaken in his description of the driver of the car, and the case was dismissed.
Mrs. L. Vandier was in court charged with being drunk and disorderly. She was arrested in a helpless condition on South and Wellington streets last night, and though she stated in the witness box, and on oath that she was not in the condition described, and had had no intoxicants of any kind, the court decided that the charge was proved and she was remanded for a week.

RUSSIAN LEGATION STORMED BY MOB OF 10,000 POLES

Protest Execution of Catholic Prelate by Big Demonstration.

FEAR TIKHON'S FATE

Former Patriarch of All Russia Will Be Tried On April 11.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.
London, April 6.—A mob of more than 10,000 Poles attempted to storm the Russian legation at Warsaw today, in a demonstration of protest against the execution of the Catholic prelate, Butskovich, according to this afternoon's Evening News.
Police and mounted police broke up the attack.
Indignation over the execution of the Catholic prelate is now mingled with apprehension over the probable fate of the Most Reverend Dr. Tikhon, former Patriarch of All Russia, who will be tried on April 11 for resistance to the soviet system.
Russia has informed Great Britain that it is impossible to revise an original soviet reply to this country's protest against execution of the Catholic dignitary. Hope is expressed that England now will refrain from interference with Russia's internal affairs.
Pope Pius is understood to have abandoned the idea of protesting against the recent execution of Mgr. Butskovich.
Patriarch Tikhon will be tried on Wednesday on charges of high treason from interference with counter-revolutionary activities. With him will be tried Vicar-General Gourev and Bishop Amselev, all of Moscow.
Prosecutor Krylenko charges Tikhon kept in constant contact with the foreign clergy in occupied territories, and made public sermons in which he is quoted as stating that Christ loved the armies fighting the soviet government. It is further charged that at the Holy Sabor held at Karlovitz in the autumn of 1921, the patriarch advised passive and active resistance to famine relief measures in the Volga region.
Dr. Tikhon formerly was tried on charges of speculation with church candlesticks and other precious materials of the church.
The patriarch, who was at one time a bishop in Canada and also in the United States, speaks English fluently.

STANLEY MILLS COMPANY APPEALS LIBEL VERDICT

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, April 6.—The Stanley Mills Company, Limited, has entered an appeal against the verdict of a jury at the assizes awarding Miss Edith Garland $15,000 for libel. The alleged libel was contained in an advertisement in which referred to "the blonde at the glove counter." Miss Garland was the only blonde there and said the statement reflected on her. The appeal is based on an amendment to the plea of plaintiff allowed by Justice Lennox while the case was in progress.

MAYOR OF NEW YORK GETS JUBILEE FUNDS

Hylan Secures Money From Private Citizens—Defeats Temporary Injunction.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, April 6.—Prevented by a temporary injunction from using the city's money, Mayor Hylan has succeeded in having the necessary funds subscribed by private citizens with which to carry out his projected jubilee celebration of the 25th anniversary of the merging of the five boroughs that comprise New York. The amount pledged was not announced. The mayor had planned to spend $200,000 of the city's money on the jubilee, which is to be held in May.
Political opponents of the Hylan administration have opposed using taxpayers' money for the jubilee, declaring it was designed as propaganda to aid Tammany Hall, and that it would be money well spent on the jubilee's accomplishments while chief executive of the city.

LONDON NOT AFFECTED BY TRUSTEES' PARLEY

A. N. Udy Says the Toronto Deliberations Did Not Affect This City.

Little of importance relative to the schools of this city came out of the annual convention of the Ontario Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association, which met in Toronto this week, according to A. N. Udy, chairman of the board of education, and Trustee W. A. Casselman, who represented London at the meeting.
Mr. Udy stated that the greatest part of the business transacted had bearing on the rural school situation. This was due to the fact that the rural delegates greatly outnumbered the urban representatives.
The one thing that did interest the urban section of the convention was the discussion on the adolescent act. The delegates strongly favored the act as it now stands, which makes education in cities and towns compulsory up to 16 years of age, and leaves it optional in rural districts.

KRUPPS CONFER WITH CUNO.
Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, April 6.—Three members of the Krupp factory council met together with three representatives of various trade unions, conferred today with Chancellor Cuno, who has fully recovered from his illness and resumed his duties at the chancellery.
The situation in Essen was discussed, particularly with reference to the recent shooting at the Krupp plant.

WORLD CHAMPIONS LOSE TO CHICAGO WHITE SOX

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, April 6.—The exhibition series between the Giants and Chicago White Sox stood at 4-4 today after the Giants took their second successive defeat. At Vicksburg, Miss. Wretched pitching lost the game after the Giants' heavy batters had pounded out a big lead.
The New York Yankees went ahead of the Brooklyn Robins in their exhibition series, taking the fifth contest at Monroe, La., 9 to 4. Joe Dugan, Yankee third baseman, was injured Wednesday, did not get back into the line-up.

London's Commercial Men Will 'Comb' City Tomorrow

To Travelers Has Been Entrusted Privilege of "Selling" Welfare Drive to 12,000 Prospects.

Tomorrow London commercial travelers play humanity's role in a final cleanup for the benefit of the Welfare Fund. They are going to "sell" the drive to more than 12,000 prospects. Most of them return this evening from trips throughout the province, but the usual quiet week-end will be substituted for twenty-four hours of aggressive salesmanship.
All those in the city are asked to attend the dinner at the Masonic Temple this evening. After the subscription announcement has been made they will know just what they are depended on to get to make the $125,000 objective. "And we'll get it," Chairman A. E. Barbour said emphatically today. "We can't fail!"

YOUTHFUL CHESS MARVEL IS PLAYING IN MONTREAL

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, April 6.—Samuel Rzeszewski, the 11-year-old Polish chess marvel, commenced his play against picked chess players of this city at the National Chess Association Club here last night and at 2:30 this morning was playing a series of 20 games, of which 5 were at that hour drawn and 15 as yet undecided.
Earlier in the night he had beaten eleven players in simultaneous games.

How Each Dollar Paid to City Treasurer Will Be Divided Among Civic Services

Here's how the city taxpayers will spend their money during the current year—at least, this is how their representatives on the several spending bodies propose to do it for them.
This is the first official statement from City Treasurer James Bell, submitted to The Advertiser today. It will be seen that a considerable portion of the expenditure is uncontrollable and out of the jurisdiction of the mayor and city council.

MURDERER WILL PAY FOR CRIME WITH LIFE

Henry Stahmann Will Be Hanged at Regina Jail, July 6.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Regina, Sask., April 6.—At Regina jail, July 6, Henry Stahmann will be hanged to expiate the murder of Fred Barnsley at Hodgeville in November last. This was the sentence of Mr. Justice Bigelow in the king's bench court yesterday after the jury had adjudged the accused guilty of the crime in less than 30 minutes deliberation. Stahmann broke down completely.
Charles Stahmann, brother of the convicted man, charged by the crown with conspiracy to rob Barnsley, was freed when Mr. Justice Bigelow declined to allow a written statement, alleged to have been made by Henry Stahmann, to be admitted in evidence.

FRASER KEITH TO ADDRESS CITY ENGINEER'S INSTITUTE

Wife of Late ex-President of United States Remains in Building.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, April 6.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the late ex-president, braved a fire in the Double R Coffee House in West 44th street yesterday to aid restaurant attaches in rescuing two oil paintings of her husband.
Mrs. Roosevelt was the only one of fifty patrons in the place who did not flee when fire broke out in a coffee room under the kitchen, filling the restaurant with smoke.
Calmly holding her place, she directed the manager, Frank Sardi, and other employees to bring canvases to place over the pictures, which were featured in the restaurant, so that the firemen would not injure them when they turned their hose lines on the fire.

LAUD EXTENSION COURSE OF WESTERN UNIVERSITY

Colonel W. J. Brown Receives Letters Commending Action in Matter.

That Western Ontario fully appreciates the value of the extension courses of Western University and that various places are looking forward to future educational development along this line is shown conclusively in a letter received today by Col. W. J. Brown, executive officer of the school, from A. Gilmore, principal of the Port Elgin High School. Mr. Gilmore writes as follows:
"Dear Sir:—At the request of a number of citizens I am writing to express my appreciation of the four excellent lectures which we have had under the extension course of the Western University.
"The lectures were a financial success, for there was a surplus of $75 after all expenses had been met. But far above that, they were appreciated because of their educational value and because of the high type of men who have come to us. I am sure the memory of these men will remain long with us and association with them has awakened interest in the Western University.
"The fact that the people are zealous for a second course of lectures next winter. We are grateful to you for arranging them. Yours sincerely, 'A. GILMORE.'"
This is but one of the many letters of this nature which Col. Brown has received.

VISITOR FROM SCOTLAND.

A. N. Buchanan, brother of E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, arrived in this city today from Scotland.
Mr. Buchanan spent the past year in Scotland visiting his parents and other members of the family. He will spend a few days in this city before returning to Hamilton, where he will resume his engineering work with the Gaither-Thompson Company.

BRITISH FIRM SEEKS OIL LAND IN ALBANIA

Must First Obtain Approval of Cabinet—Hold Off U. S. Proposals.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, April 6.—Efforts are being made by companies of various nationalities to secure oil concessions in Albania, according to information reaching Paris. Thus far, however, these efforts have resulted only in a British project obtaining the approval of the Albanian cabinet. Up to date, this approval has not been ratified by the Albanian Parliament.
It is said the Standard Oil Company and the Sinclair Oil Company have representatives at Tirana, where the Albanian cabinet is sitting, but that the cabinet will not consider their proposals until the parliament has disposed of the British project.

LADY BADEN-POWELL INSPECTS GIRL GUIDES

Delivers Message From Princess Mary At Monster Rally
In Armories.

RECEIVES DONATION

Returns Thanks To Members For Sum Presented To Training Camp.

"As president of the Girl Guides I am deeply interested in the growth of the Guide movement throughout Canada, and I am exceedingly glad that the girls of the Dominion are taking their share in the sisterhood which has spread throughout the whole empire."

"To all I send my best wishes, and may they have great success and much happiness, both in their own lives and in the way they are able to do for others."

(Signed) "MARY."

The foregoing was the message from Her Royal Highness the Princess Mary, president of the Girl Guides, delivered by the founder of the movement yesterday afternoon at the meeting of London, and several points out in the province, at the rally held in the armories.

"This is for you Guides of London and of Ontario, for all of you, and for each one of you," said Lady Baden-Powell to the delighted young officers, rangers, guides and Guides, who applauded to the echo.

Girls Make Presentation.

In addition to an address by the founder, in the course of which she presented the greetings of the princess, the inspection of companies and march past, and the introduction of the Dominion commissioner, Mrs. H. D. Warren, the program of the rally included the presentation by Mrs. McLean, acting provincial commissioner, of an envelope containing $200, a gift from the Girl Guides of Ontario towards the furnishing of a Canadian room in the rest cottage at "Fosses," training camp and headquarters for guides in Hampshire, England, on the edge of the New Forest.

"Money, I do believe!" exclaimed Lady Baden-Powell, "is a very important thing, but it is not the only thing that counts. It is the spirit that counts, and the spirit that counts is the spirit of service."

Rank and file of Girl Guides had by the rally arranged in the armories of the Dominion commissioner, Mrs. C. H. Hill. At the luncheon, she had belonged to commissioners, officers and women prominent in various local organizations. In the armories, she was to receive the honor of coming out to meet her.

But she was much more than one of the girls, a big sister to the little sisters. One of the things which delighted her was to find her so young, enthusiastic and bubbling over with fun, even while she was giving crisp orders, or telling the juniors what they should do to grow up to be worth-while women for such a country as Canada.

Inspects Fifteen Companies.

After the inspection of fourteen or fifteen companies, including several in the city, one of the companies from Windsor, in charge of Miss Benfield, a company of guides from Windsor, rangers, officers and guides from Brantford, the march past took place. When the salute was taken by Lady Baden-Powell, Mrs. H. D. Warren, Dominion commissioner, Mrs. Allan McLean, acting provincial commissioner, Lady Baden-Powell considerably suggested that the guides should be given a uniform of warm coats before seating themselves on the floor in a circle while she talked to them.

"Once upon a time," she said, "two frogs dropped into a bowl of milk. One was a limp sort of creature, who decided to lie down and die. The other was a sturdy fellow, who swam and struggled about, whipping up the milk, until, to his surprise, he found he was on top of something solid. What do you suppose it was? A pat of butter. No matter in what difficulties you find yourself just keep on moving and trying, and, like the frog, you'll be on top of a pat of butter. (Laughter and applause.)"

"Get an ideal firmly fixed in your mind; work hard; stick to your job and be thorough," she advised. "A guide must be a guide, but not in the sense of wearing fine clothing, silk stockings and fine shoes, but in the sense of being clever and capable at your work, steady and plucky. People are watching to see what you are like, what you are made of. Some people think it is a game you are playing, just dressing up in uniform for fun. You must let them see that guides are capable and sensible beings."

Seek More Members.

"I've come from another sort of London to bring greetings to you, my guide sisters there. There are many numbers of them in the other London, 50,000 or so. You will have to start enrolling members if you want to catch up to them in numbers."

"I congratulate you upon what you have already done and are doing in London and upon coming out in such numbers a day like this. But, of course, guides do not mind little things."

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACK-HEADS—DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way to get them away, to get rid of them—a simple way, too, as it is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of peroxide powder—sprinkle a little on the blackheads, rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off, and you'll be surprised to see the blackheads have disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition.—Advt.

HERE'S NOVEL IDEA.
By ELOISE.

Egyptian prints and other figured materials may be leading the fashion procession just now, but the wise woman will choose plain colors if she is cut to ravage in the way of the text. It is quite probable that one would soon tire of a gay cloth covered with hieroglyphics if worn every day, but the dress of one color may be worn almost without change and never weary one, that is if it is a becoming model.

Here is a pretty spring style developed in the new cocoa shade. It is made of silk crepe in a straight line style which slips over the head. Many tiny, light pleats form the skirt and lower part of the blouse, but the unusual feature of the dress is the way bits of potted material are cut to ravage in the way of the text. It is quite probable that one would soon tire of a gay cloth covered with hieroglyphics if worn every day, but the dress of one color may be worn almost without change and never weary one, that is if it is a becoming model.

Lady Baden-Powell drew attention to the fact that there was another prominent visitor present in the person of the Dominion commissioner, Mrs. H. D. Warren. Introducing Mrs. Warren, she spoke for her warm support and backing and called for three cheers, which were lustily given. A rousing cheer followed the girls pouring out their hearts in the enthusiastic response.

Thirteen little Brownies from Windsor, in brown skirts and brown sweaters, almost lost the opportunity of sharing at all in the march past, which merged into a procession. They had been dismissed and hurried from their place in the line to a dressing-room for their coats. Just at the door they discovered things were going on. They wanted to go back. Officer in charge saw the march past three abreast and were ready to weep. It was difficult to convince small mathematicians who have not yet reached multiplication and division, that three went into thirteen an even number of times.

Brownies Assent Selves.

When the marching party was reached they couldn't stand their isolation any longer. An heroic little maiden took the law into her own hands, and the lines of spectators and head foremost into the parade area, a dozen other brown sweaters and skirted down on her heels, a veritable up-to-date "charge of the light brigade." A moment later they had been absorbed in the crowd, and the girls were triumphant over the success of their coup.

Following the review Lady Baden-Powell and Mrs. Warren drove with Mrs. C. H. Hill, London commissioner, to her residence at the barracks to chat over the tea cups with London officers about their plans and problems.

The return trip was made to Toronto by C. P. R. at 7:15 o'clock.

FLOWERS.

J. Gammage & Sons are particularly pleased with the showing of flowers this spring. Saturday they are offering spring flowers at exceptionally low prices. The display is well equipped with the idea of being ready for Easter. The cold weather delayed the bloom, with the result this week a wealth of flowers seldom seen at this season.

Mothers and Their Children

Carrots are a very good food for children, but they tire of them, so I disguise them at times. For carrot ramkins use one cup of grated carrots, one-half cup of bread crumbs, two eggs, one-fourth cup of sugar, one-half cup of milk, and a pinch of salt. Cook all except the whites of eggs in a double boiler. When thick all the ramkins and cook in the oven until brown. Make a meringue of the white of one egg, a pinch of sugar, and a dash of lemon juice, and brown in the oven. (Copyright, 1922, Associated Editors.)

JONES-GUDGEON.

The wedding took place at St. Mark's Anglican Church, London Junction, yesterday afternoon of Rebecca Gudgeon of England and Mr. Herbert Jones, formerly of Merlin. Miss Louise Gudgeon, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Cyril H. Davies acted as best man. The bride wore a smart suit of navy blue, with hat to match, and a corsage of roses, and the bridesmaid was also gowned in navy blue. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left later on a honeymoon to western points, and upon their return they will reside in Kathleen avenue, London Junction. Rev. A. L. Beverley performed the ceremony.

AYTON-HARDING.

The marriage of Miss Lillian K. Harding, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Harding, 70 Colborne street, to Mr. Bert A. Ayton, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ayton of Ramsgate, Kent, England, was a charming event of yesterday in Christ Church, Rev. Canon Gunne officiating.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a suit of navy blue, with peach crepe de chine blouse and lace shade hat with garniture of French flowers. She carried pink carnations.

Mrs. Gladys, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, gowned in navy blue with lace trimmings. Mr. Bert Walsh was groomsmen. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Currie and son Clifford of Glencoe.

Chopin and Interpretive Dancing Combined Makes Charming Program

One of the largest audiences of the season yesterday afternoon attended the fortnightly recital of the Women's Music Club in the Normal School to enjoy one of the most delightful club programs of many a season, arranged by Mrs. Harris Elliott and Mrs. Walter J. Brown. Picturesqueness of an airy, fairy, springlike melody was added by the costumes worn for interpretive dances, which, with Chopin piano numbers, constituted the entire program.

Mrs. S. Walter Mower of Ann Arbor, for some years a resident of London, during which she was a leader in musical circles as well as most popular socially, presented the piano numbers first in two groups. Numbers included (a) five preludes and (b) Ballade in A flat. A brief interval was followed with the solo in A flat and a group of études. Solo and group dances of grace and charm were the novel and altogether delightful feature of the second half of the recital.

Mrs. Mower, in command of a wealth of technique, has achieved a combination of appealingly melodious tone with sparkling brilliancy. Firm, clear, authoritative come the notes, woven into intriguing melodies and harmonies. Logic was beautifully balanced by imagination in her reading of her numbers, richly colorful and at the same time marked by artistic restraint.

The freedom of assured technique was especially apparent in the "Pompador" danced by Catherine Margaret Dickinson, Arab Johnstone and Ruth Westland.

Quaintness and dignity were combined in the "Pompador" danced by Catherine Margaret Dickinson, Arab Johnstone and Ruth Westland.

UTILITIES BOARD OPPOSES PRINTING LIST OF SALARIES

Refuse Wenige's Demand For Publication In City Year Book.

COMMISSION UNITED

Pocock Claims Mayor's Idea Is "Old Woman's Request."

Once more the mayor of London was defeated in his request for a salary list, when at a meeting of the public utilities commission yesterday afternoon he was refused the list, which he wanted for inclusion in the city year book.

The meeting went along pursuing the even tenor of its way until, when all the ordinary business was concluded, the mayor, speaking in the stillness that precedes the storm, asked the commission if they would accede to the resolution of the city council, and allow the salary list of the commission to be printed in the year book.

In presenting the case for the inclusion of the list the mayor said: "I think this is only fair to the ratepayers and the public bodies who have no objection to publishing their salaries, and that it is in any case good business. We are publishing a year book of the city this year, and I don't see why it should be incomplete by the absence of this list."

Pocock Questions Mayor.

"Do you publish the salary you make in your business?" asked Philip Pocock.

"That's a different thing altogether," answered the mayor.

"The publication of this list will disorganize the commission," declared T. W. McFarland. "This board is elected by the people to supply light and power as cheaply and efficiently as possible, which I think we have succeeded in doing. We have had no strikes, and no friction, and I call it an insult to any member of the commission to suggest that the salary list should be made known in a public newspaper to be read by people who would not understand it."

"It has been reported," he continued, "that the mayor said he had never been given by any member of the commission a valid reason why the salary list should not be published. If the mayor really said this then it was not a correct statement."

"Why," he went on, "no private corporation would do such a thing, and I ask the mayor for one good reason why he should publish it."

"Ford does," suggested Mayor Wenige.

"Oh, well, he's a freak," retorted Mr. McFarland.

"Perhaps he is, but you cannot expect he is a good business executive. The mayor offered as a reason the fact that there were good businessmen in the council and that they thought they were right in this contention."

Vining Supports Colleagues.

"So have we," Jared Vining joined in. "We have three good businessmen on this commission, and they use their discretion and say no."

The mayor then read clause 36 of the act, dealing with the right of the council to have access to the books of the commission, in reply to which Jared Vining stated that the commission had always complied in every way with the act, but that it did not authorize publication of the list.

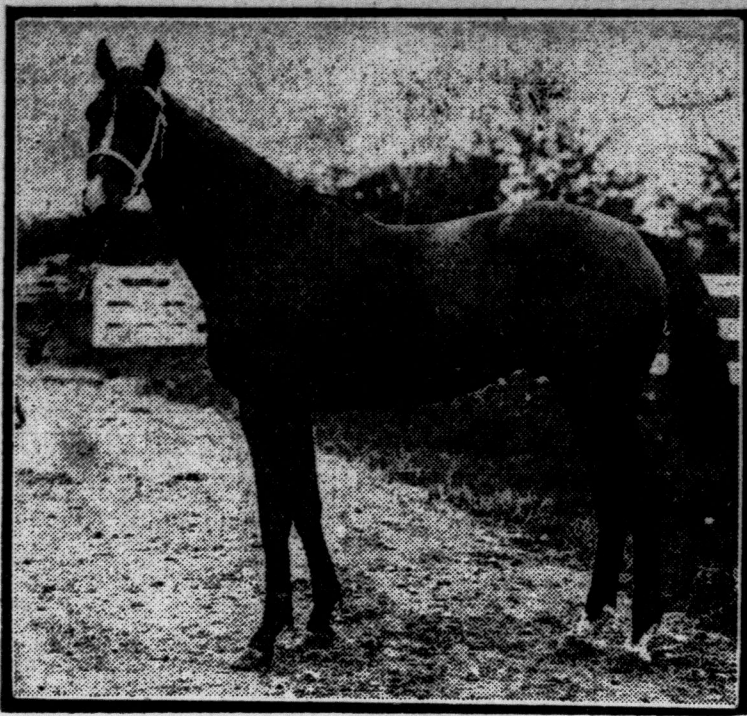

"I am ready," declared Mr. McFarland, "to stand or fall on our record and on our refusal to agree to this suggestion."

Commissioner Webster, who up to this time had been a silent watcher of the argument, joined battle on behalf of his fellow-commissioners. "I think," he said, "that the citizens have no right to any more information than they have always been getting."

"Do you mean to say," asked the mayor, "that an alderman has no right to these salaries?"

Webster Speaks.

"I don't think," the chairman intervened, "that the interpretation of the act permits you to have this list. This is a responsible body elected by the people, and I doubt very much whether any court of law would say that we should publish this."

"Why," declared Commissioner Pocock, "you may as well ask for the list of the salaries of the city council, and the bricks we use as our salaries."

"You have never had any information refused you," said the chairman.

"Yes, I have," the mayor claimed; "this one."

"Do any of the aldermen say they have been refused information?"

"I'm not speaking about aldermen. You can't prevent the council from having this list."

At this stage the meeting became more or less incoherent, all the commissioners speaking at once, and the mayor, leaning back in his chair, looked rather bewildered at the horrid noise he had stirred up.

Above the din the voice of the chairman could be heard saying, "As far as this commission is concerned, we refuse to publish the figures."

There was a lull in the storm for a second, and Commissioner Pocock took advantage of it to tell the mayor that the whole idea was an "old woman's request, anyway."

"I think it is a very good remark," said the mayor. "I am a businessman and I am not making an old woman's request."

Tumult Lessens.

"The meeting is adjourned," came the voice of the chairman through the cross-tangle smoke of the skirmish, and as the members moved into the coat-room the sounds of battle died and grew fainter.

Again the chief magistrate has been defeated in upholding the resolution, and the city year-book remains as innocent of utility salary lists as it was before.

In considering the estimates for the year submitted by the electrical department there was some discussion on the erection of a new sub-station in the vacant in the autumn.

Mr. Buchanan pointed out the great need of the station by the fact that at present the city is losing some $2,000 a year which the new station would very largely save. The new station is to cost $4,000 and the commission seemed to favor its erection.

Mr. Buchanan also reported that No. 1 sub-committee is greatly over-worked, and that some means of lessening the load was an ever-increasing necessity.

Objects To Tax.

The public utilities commission pays a business assessment every year of $4,415. Commissioner Pocock objected to paying this on the ground that it was illegal to charge this tax on any other ground than on the area of the land. It was decided to ask the manager to take this problem before the city council at its next meeting.

The matter of the overhead wiring, which the commission had asked the C. P. R. to do on their system from the Grand Trunk track, up Richmond as far as the C. P. R. lines, was also taken up.

The railway offered to comply with

FAIRBOARD WANTS PRESENT GATE FEE TO BE MAINTAINED

Claim Exhibition Will Not Pay With Lower Admission.

DISCUSS ALL ANGLES

Alderman May Tells Members High Admission Causes Animosity.

When the Western Fair Board held its regular business meeting Thursday afternoon in the board room in the Dominion Savings Building, several resolutions were submitted by the various standing committees, the most important of which was one to allow brood mares of the heavy classes to be shown as a separate entry, as one of a team by paying $1 in addition to the regular fee, and another resolution doing away with the class of grade dairy cattle, which was seldom filled, and adding the prize money to the prize list of the stock-judging competition.

Better lighting facilities for the butter-making contest room was asked for and granted. The decision was also taken to close the Horticultural Building during Monday of Exhibitors and judges a chance to work uninterrupted until all exhibits were placed and judged.

The matter of supplying uniform caps to Western Fair attendants and caretakers was discussed and the matter referred to the executive committee.

Discuss New Buildings.

Following the disposal of the usual routine business, the board turned to the question of the advisability of erecting the new Western Fair building this year. Several aldermen were present and spoke from the viewpoint of the city council. Although nothing definite was reached, the opinion of the meeting seemed to be that, having signed up contracts for 75 per cent of the exhibiting concessions in the proposed building, and the opinion of the city council being favorable, the fair board would be quite justified in going forward with the building.

The keenest interest was shown throughout the discussion on admission fees, which took up the greater part of the meeting. This was not broached until the latter part of the meeting, because if introduced earlier it would have put the routine matters to one side, with nothing being accomplished. The subject was treated fully from every possible angle.

In order to facilitate the discussion the secretary gave the figures covering the gate receipts for the last three years under the 25c and 50c fees. The years 1917, 1918 and 1919 with a 25c gate showed earnings to the amount of $2,102, $18,247 and $23,100 respectively. In contrast to that the three years at the 50c fee were shown to have brought in $41,068, $35,514 and $38,527 respectively.

Ask 25c Admission.

It was mentioned that Mayor Wenige did not want the fair to fall below the earnings of 1922, and with in view the city council had voted to guarantee the fair board $5,000 against the possibility of a shrinkage in gate receipts that would put the fair behind its low water mark of 1922 in the event of the 25c admission being adopted.

Alderman May made a strong plea for the reduction of the gate admission to 25c, saying that the past method of putting aside one-fifty-cent day as Farmer's Day, another as Citizens' Day, and so forth, had engendered animosity in that these particular classes felt that they were being exploited.

In reply to Alderman May, George G. McCormick said: "The Western Fair, even with attendance at the full capacity of the present grounds, cannot be made to pay if the public is allowed more than three days at the 25c rate." He added that the fair board was not out to antagonize the public, and that if it were possible he would be among the first to recommend a return to the lower rate, but that he was convinced that this is impossible.

John Pringle sustained Mr. McCormick and added that while the receipts under the higher charge showed greatly increased earnings, the cost of conducting the fair had increased proportionately, and with the erection of the new building in prospect it would be unwise to attempt a return to the lower fee.

Seeks Park Improvement.

A. E. Silverwood stated that he considered the additional third day at the lower rate could be allowed if the city would guarantee the $5,000 mentioned and in addition spend an equal amount in maintenance and improvements to Queen's Park adding that, after all, Queen's Park is the property of the city.

Secretary A. M. Hunt said that, judging from past experience, the board had little to expect in the way of co-operation in the upkeep of the park from the parks commission, stating that the Western Fair stood unique among exhibitors, in that from its infancy it had always paid its own way, even to the last cent.

Confer With Council.

It was then proposed by A. E. Silverwood that the executive be empowered to go into the matter at some length with the city council and explain more fully the need for upholding the 50c admission fee, and come to a definite arrangement with the civic authorities before the next board meeting.

This suggestion was adopted, and the question of reducing the admission to our local fair once more relegated to the dim future.

A suggestion from Richard Oke that the different employers and factory owners be asked to close down Tuesday of Fair Week to allow their employees to attend the fair was heartily approved.

PRISONERS FAIL TO BLAST THEIR WAY OUT OF JAIL

Associated Press Despatch.

Warren, Ohio, April 6.—Three prisoners were injured, cell windows shattered, and iron shutters broken from their fastenings in an attempt by prisoners to dynamite their way from the county jail here early yesterday.

The explosive was placed in the cell corridor, about ten feet from the cell block in which the injured prisoners were sleeping. The three were struck by pieces of the stone wall, and were removed to the jail hospital, all suffering from cuts about the face and legs.

WILL SEEK NAVY'S AID TO CHECK RUM-RUNNING

U. S. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes Will Take Immediate Action.

Special to The Advertiser.

Washington, April 6.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes finally has taken steps to blockade New Jersey's "rum fleet," which he declares so blandly to be non-existent, an optical illusion of "wet" propagandists.

Recourse is to be had to the navy to check what has become a public scandal through the brazen operations of the so-called "rum row."

Legal authority is being sought for the transfer of fast naval vessels, chiefly Eagle boats, from the navy to the coastguard, which has primary responsibility to prevent smuggling.

It is proposed also to detail, if possible, petty officers of the navy to command the Eagle boats. There are 55 of these vessels now in commission. A like number are not in service, due to lack of navy personnel to man them.

Although no serious legal obstacle to the development of such a "dry navy" was anticipated, it was believed advisable to have a survey made of existing statutes to remove possibility of trouble on that score.

The inquiry into the law is being made by government experts, most familiar with national statutes. It was requested specifically by the prohibition enforcement unit.

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL AGREES TO ASSIST BOUNDARY SURVEY

Appoint Deputy Reeve Winter To Act Jointly With City of London.

PAVE HURON STREET

Property Owners To Pay For New Asphalt On Frontage Basis.

The London Township Council met in the town hall, St. Johns, Tuesday, W. J. Fuller, reeve; A. C. Hodgins and Austin Winter, first and second deputy reeves, respectively; and John Marshall and J. E. Butler, councillors, were present.

A communication was read from S. Baker, city clerk of London, stating that the city will pay half the cost up to $100 for a survey of the boundary between the city on the west side from Oxford street to the river and the township. Mr. F. W. Farncomb presented a plan of the proposed change in the dividing line, and it was agreed that Deputy Reeve Winter be added to the committee appointed February 12, to act in the boundary matter jointly with the city.

Drain Action.
A letter was received from Lewis & Richards, solicitors for Kelly & Crowley, demanding full payment for the excavation of the Ox Bow drain within one week. The clerk was ordered to notify Messrs. Lewis & Richards that as W. R. Meredith of the firm of Meredith & Meredith, solicitors for the township, died last week it will take some time for the solicitor to be retained in the case to become familiar with the details, and to request Messrs. Lewis & Richards

Speeding Miss To Prison Would Go She Saw Patrol Then Answered "No"

New York, April 6.—Mildred Simon, 19, social service student, thrilled at the adventure of going to jail yesterday, but after 10 minutes of "experience" used the female prerogative and changed her mind.

"Twenty-five dollars or two days in jail," said Magistrate McQuade, when Miss Simon was arraigned charged with speeding. The girl's father, standing near, started to peel off bills from his roll.

"Oh, father," said the girl, "I think I'll serve it. It will be a wonderful experience for my social service course."

to allow the council time to prepare an answer to their demand.

It was moved by Austin Winter and seconded by J. E. Butler that J. C. Elliott be requested to act in the interest of the township re this case. A petition signed by A. O. Telfer and others asking for a drain at Alderton under the municipal drainage act was accepted and referred to the clerk to prepare a bylaw to appoint an engineer to make a report of the work required.

Appoint Delegates.
A communication from T. J. Hannigan, secretary Ontario Municipal Electric Association, was read, stating that the annual meeting will be held at Hamilton, April 4, and asking that delegates from the township hydro members be appointed to attend. The reeve and the clerk were selected to attend this meeting.

A letter from Dr. H. L. Brittain was also read stating that the first convention of the Canadian tax conference of the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada will be held in Toronto, April 26, 27 and 28, and asking that delegates be appointed. First Deputy Reeve Hodgins and the clerk were appointed as township delegates to this convention.

Pave Huron Street.
A petition for a pavement on Huron street from Richmond to Waterloo streets, signed by the owners, was received, and it was agreed to proceed to have the work done by the city of London, payment to be made by the owners on the frontage basis.

Papa Simon protested, but finally put the rubber band back on the roll. Outside the court a patrol wagon backed up, and the guard told Miss Simon to climb in. Several shop-lifters, a couple of women alcoholics and several other unfortunate were to take the ride with her.

At that moment the girl's craving for experience began to ooze. Right then the plans for her future took a sudden change. She said she wanted to see the judge again. To him she confessed that she thought she might be willing to pay $25 if it suited him. It did, and the records were changed.

PRaises Horticultural Association in Ontario

Ottawa, April 5.—That there was no other horticultural organization in the world to compare with the Ontario Horticultural Association, with a total membership of 40,000, and that the Ottawa Horticultural Society was the largest of its kind, were some of the statements contained in a brief address given by President R. M. Mott, of the Ottawa Horticultural Society, last night at the inaugural of the series of lectures, J. E. Carter and Professor Tomlinson, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, were speakers.

POLICE AT GUELPH ARREST TWO MEN IN STORE ROBBERY

E. Snell and T. Robinson Held In Connection With Owen Sound Burglary.

DASHES FOR LIBERTY

Prisoner Recaptured in Laundry Basement After Thrilling Chase.

Special to The Advertiser.
Guelph, April 6.—The alertness of Detective Thomas Greenaway and Sergeant Phil Hauck of the local police force resulted in the arrest yesterday of two young men who are believed to have been connected with the robbery of a department store at Owen Sound on Monday night, when hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise was stolen.

The alleged thieves, who were spotted by the police officers in the downtown section of the city shortly after 8 o'clock, and who were placed in custody less than an hour later, have given their names as Ernest Snell and Thomas Robinson. An officer from Owen Sound will escort the prisoners back to the northern city, where they will face charges of entering and theft which have been preferred against them.

Discovered Eleven Suits.
According to information given out by the local authorities, the arrest of the two men resulted from the receipt of a police circular which was sent out from Owen Sound immediately after the store robbery was committed. Upon making the rounds of the second-hand stores of the city yesterday, Detective Greenaway discovered eleven suits of clothes and a number of shirts at Spiegel's shop on Macdonnell street which tallied with the description of the goods listed on the police report.

Snell, who entered the second-hand store while Detective Greenaway and Sergeant Hauck were making some inquiries, was at once taken in charge by the officers. As the officers were leaving the store with their prisoner, he made a bold dash for liberty and succeeded in gaining his freedom. He outdistanced the officers in a race along Macdonnell street. With Detective Greenaway close on his heels, the young man turned off Macdonnell to Woodlawn street, where he darted through the yard at a private residence near the courthouse and made his way to Quebec street. In the meantime, Sergeant Hauck had jumped into the police car and was making his way along Quebec street to head the man off, when he spied him heading for the Globe Laundry building. It was several minutes after the officers entered the building that they finally located Snell crouched behind one of the furnaces in the basement. Identified by Police.

His partner, who had not accompanied him to the second-hand store, was identified by the police later on Wyndham street, and captured by Sergeant Hauck as he was walking along the main street in front of Ryan's store.

Following the arrest of the two men, the police learned that more goods taken from the Owen Sound store had been left at a home in this city.

ASKED TO GIVE RULINGS OF THE PENSIONS BOARD

Royal Commissioners Seek Information of Medical Procedure.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, April 6.—At the close of yesterday's session of royal commission investigating soldiers' pensions, grievances, etc., at Osogood Hall, Chairman Ralston requested Captain Patton, secretary of the board of pension commissioners, to submit a statement of all rulings of the pension board with regard to cases of natural progression and subsequent progression aggravated by disease as applied in determining pensions. Considerable discussion ensued on the question during the examination of Dr. Sutton, former medical examiner at Peterboro. Chairman Ralston said he was inclined to treat normal progression of disease exclusive of the question of age of a soldier.

Chairman Ralston questioned Dr. Kee, assistant chief medical examiner to the pension board, as to the degree into which the age of a man entered into his estimate of disability, to which Dr. Kee replied: "Age is not a disability for pension purposes. A man of 40 years and under should be considered in comparison with a normal man of his age. The estimate of a man's disability is made upon the degree in which he would be adversely affected in the general labor market. Commissioner McKewen thought the matter of labor market should never be considered until the percentage of disability had been determined.

Laxative Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

It is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 28 Caldwell Building, Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

lieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do so claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

Mrs. Geo. Reeve, of Galt, Ont., uses Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin with good results and is greatly pleased with it, and Mrs. K. Jennings, of Toronto, Ont., finds it very satisfactory. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

By North American Newspaper Alliance.
New York, April 5.—"Votes for women" is making heavy inroads on the traditions of the Orient. Women will soon have a powerful part in shaping the policies of Asia's nation.
So says Grace Thompson Seton, long prominent among writers and suffrage workers, who today is back home after a five months' tour of Japan and China.
While in Tokyo, Mrs. Seton was accorded an unusual honor—she was granted an interview by Premier Kato. Never before has a woman of any race been able to interview the premier, but with Mrs. Seton the head of the government discussed not only the advance of suffrage and feminism but matters of policy connected with the five-power treaty for reduction of armaments which Kato helped to negotiate at the Washington conference.Noblewomen Are Eager.
"The hope of new progress in China rests in its women," said Mrs. Seton to a correspondent of the North American Newspaper Alliance today.
"All the way from Egypt to Japan, the era of seclusion and of the foot crippled with bindings is coming to a close."
"Women of the Far East areGRACE THOMPSON SETON, been done by their sisters in America and England and Europe. Much is being done by them toward the creation of scientific sanitary conditions in different provinces.

"We must bear in mind that of China's 400,000,000 inhabitants, only 200,000 men and women have had the benefit of foreign training."
"In Japan as well as China the women are actually forming business clubs of their own, similar to those we have in America."Mrs. Seton undertook her visit to China and Japan shortly after returning from a trip to Egypt, described in her latest book, "A Woman Tendrefoot in Egypt."King Tut Adds to Interest.
There, too, she found suffrage advancing and women in the larger cities organizing political meetings accompanied by parades and even more spectacular manifestations. In spite of their entrance into politics, the women of Egypt are not abandoning their veils.Much of Mrs. Seton's Egyptian book has been given additional interest by the recent Tutankhamen discoveries.In addition to her work in suffrage and as an author, Mrs. Seton was given two medals by the French government for war work, which included the organization of a women's motor unit.KATO'S TALK APPEARS TOMORROW.The interview with Premier Kato of Japan, mentioned above by Mrs. Seton, will appear in The Advertiser tomorrow. The premier's statements to Mrs.
Seton are remarkable for frankness and scope, and outline Japan's policy in matters vital to world reconstruction.
