Seven Others Wounded.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 22.—A sheriff's posse fired on a crowd or riotous men near yesterday, killed two persons wounding seven others. Sheriff Toole and Deputies O'Donnel and Brenneman were called to Shenandoah to suppress the meb that threatened mine workers and colliery property. At quitting time the three sheriffs and a small posse whom the sheriff had summoned on the ground went to the Indian Ridge colliery of the Reading Company, to escort the working men to their homes. The colliery is located a short distance east of Shenandoah. The workmen left for home shortly after four o'clock. They walked up the middle of East Centre street and reached the Lehigh Valley Railway station. Here had gathered a large crowd of Poles, Slavs and Hungarians, men, women and children, who lined both sides of the street. A shot rang out from a saloon. This was followed by a shower of stones. Many of the crowd had picked up sticks and stones, and were acting in a threathening manner. Seeing this the sheriff, who had previously cautioned his men to keep cool and not to use their firearms, commanded them to fire. The order was obeyed with terrible results. The crowd pursued the sheriff and his posse to the Ferguson House, where they took refuge. Sheriff Toole shortly afterward telephoned to Harrisburg, and asked that a detachment of troops be sent here. It was learned that adjutant-General Stewart was in Philadelphia, and a telegram was sent him there.

In the Establishment of Separate Schools in Windsor.

The department of education ha given an opinion relative to the right of the Windsor board of education to turn over to a separate school board or any other body any of the school buildings under its control.

The opinion is to the effect that the public school board has no such right. but that if it should do so and not meet with objection from any one in Windsor, the department will not stand in the way. It is, of course, within the right of any Windsor ratepayer to take legal proceedings to pre-vent the transfer.

DATE OF THE ELECTIONS.

Speaking about the date of the com ing elections the Ottawa correspondent of the Globe says: The date of the election before the lists, election forms and poll books are ready is something which even the Premier would have some difficulty in determining. The Clerk of the Crown in Chancery has just taken over the lower room of the House of Commons for the purpose of arranging for the ap- thought of. proaching elections, but he has a great amount of work to de before an election is possible. The only thing really settled seems to be that an election will take place some time between now and January next. A prominent official, who has had a good deal to do with general elections in the past. said that it would take a couple of weeks yet, at the very least, to have everything ready for the announcement of an election, and that thirty days after that would be the shortest time possible for all the formalities for the issuing of the writs and the operations between that and polling

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

Although no official announcement has been made, the report that Sept. 25 has been set as the day for the dissolution of parliament is generally credited throughout Great Britain. For months past members of the cabipet have made no secret of the government's intention to appeal to the country as soon as the war in South | certain time, when the Education De-Africa was at an end. The flight of President Kruger into Portugese territory, following the proclamation of Lord Roberts annexing the Transvaal. has given the Salisbury government its opportunity to appeal on the "khaki" issue and no time is to be lost in taking advantage of it.

The present Salisbury ministry cam into power in 1895, parliament having been dissolved. July 8. Lord Salisbury had already been requested by the Queen to form a new ministry. In the elections held the latter part of -July the Conservatives gained a majority over all the other parties combined, the new parliament being composed of 411 Conservatives, 71 Liberal Unionists, 177 Liberals, 70 Anti-Parnellites, and 12 Parnellites, a ministerial majority of 152. The Salisbury government has now been in power five years. It is part of the unwritten law of Great Britain that the life of no parliament shall extend beyond seven years and naturally the Salisbury government has looked after its own interests alone in selecting this _time for an appeal to the country.

South Africa has not been altogether satisfactory to the British people, and ominous threats of vengeance have been-uttered from time to time, Mr. Chamberlain, who is now the most aggressive member of the cabinet, is confident that the "khaki" issue, as it is called, will prove irresistible. A successful war has been fought, whether it was fought as well as it might have been or not. In the words of Lord Roseberry, the government has managed to "blunder" through it, in the traditional British fashion. Two independent governments have been extinguished. There is no longer a South African Republic or an Orange Free State. They are not even geo-graphical terms. British supremacy in South Africa has been established and Mr. Chamberlain does not believe the British people are going to be over zealous in counting the cost. A new eastern question is coming to the front, too, and however wise it may have been, Lord Salisbury's Chi nese policy has never been popular with the British jingoists, whom the government must now 'rely on for support. There has been a steady decrease in British prestige in China for the last half decade, and a corresponding increase in Russian prestige, What new diplomatical humiliations the government may be compelled to submit to before the present Chinese question is settled, cannot be foreseen, and the government has wisely -resolved to take no unnecessary chances. A popular indorsement of the ministry's South African policy will not be difficult to obtain, but after a diplomatic reverse in the east, the government might be taking long chances in appealing to the country.

There are minor political reasons - too, for the hurried decision to dissolve parliament. The date allows the shortest possible time for nominations and elections. No nomination can be made after the last day of September, and the Liberals have no made up their list of candidates. The Liberal party is practically leaderless too. A great many of its most prominent members have strongly support ed the South African policy of Mr. Chamberlain, and the Salisbury government has made its plans shrewdly to take the utmost advantage of the L'eral disorganization. Under the circumstances it would not be surprising if the goverment's majority in the new parliament were even greater than the Conservative majority that followed the organization of the Salisbury ministry in 1895. Certainly,

"He Laughs Best Who Laughs Last."

THE SCHOOL BOOK ROBBERY.

The St. Catharines Star is engaged in a spirited and just war upon what it calls "the School Book Robbery." Our contemporary makes no mistake when it says that the daylight piracy to which those who have children attending the Public Schools and Collegiate Institutes are subjected is bringing homel to the average wageearning man the absolute rottenness of the whole system. It is a sort of legalized thimble-rigging game, in which pater familias is the victim every deal, and spoils are divided beween the plunderers.

The average wage-earning man with family of two or three children passing through school here has a more serious problem confronting him than $5 or $6 for school books for a boy or girl going from the Public School into the Collegiate, and about as much in proportion for others passing from form to form in the Public School. And these books are only good for a partment "changes" them in order that the publishers and writers of new books can rake in some more "change." It is a case of deliberate hold-up, and the parent has no remedy except to pay, pay, pay. No use trying to save the books now being used by Tommy or Mary in the higher forms of Collegiate for Johnny, who is coming along a form or two behind. By the time Johnny is ready for the higher forms the books will be "changed." Many households in Ontario contain costly monuments of this plunder in the shape of discarded books, but the wrong must be endured. The Education Department has been so long at this kind of work that it has become calloused, and works into the hands of publishers and writers quite naturally.

The evil might be lessened, if no abolished, if Boards of Trustees would wake up and do their duty. Let these Boards protest against the outrage on behalf of the people whose interests they are supposed to be guarding, and the Education Department will be forced to do something in the way of reform.

A proposal has been made in Que bee to give a testimonial to Rev. Fr. O'Leary. No man is more deserving of being honored by the Canadian people than is the brave priest.

ROSS ROBERTSON WON'T RUN

AGAIN. Toronto, September 21.-John Ross Robertson, M. P., has returned from a tour of Europe. In reply to a question whether he intended to be a candidate for re-election in East Toronto, his reply was "No." The definite decision of Mr. Robertson not to again contest the constituency leaves the field clear for aspirants for the Conservative nomination. President A. E. Kemp, of the Board of Trade, a large employer of labor in the constituency, Emerson Coats-worth, the former member, and Dr. J. Orr are spoken of as possible candidates. The seat is an absolutely safe one for the Conservatives, by nearly 2,000 majority.

HIS SENTIMENTS ON CHINA. Atlanta Constitution.

Here is a Georgia boy's composition on the trouble in China: "China is a land of Heathens that would ruther worship a wooden god that grins at you than go to church and pay pew rent. My pa was a missionary in China when the Boxers commenced to box; they knocked him out in the first run, an' he lost three fingers and a brand new hymnbook with a book-mark in it. Then he comed home. He has still got two legs an' two arms left; though the mission board told him that he had lost his head. He says home missions take the cake.

THE SLAVE-TRADE.

Inhuman Manner in Which Slaves Were Carried In The Old Ships.

In the larger ships the space between the op of the cargo and the under side of the eck was something as much as five feet. To devote all that space to air was, in the mind of the thrifty slaver, sheer waste. So ne built a shelf or gallery six feet wide all he way around the ship's hold, between the eck and the slave floor that was laid on top f cargo. On this shelf was placed another ayer of slaves, thus increasing the number layer of slaves, thus increasing the number carried by nearly lifty per cent.

The crowding in the big ships, having two decks regularly was still worse, for a slave-deck was built clear across between these two, and the galleries or shelves were built both under and above the slave-deck. There were ships where four layer of slaves were placed thus between permanent decks that were only eight feet apart, and there are records of cases where smaller ships ships having but three feet or so space be-tween cargo and deck-was fitted with galleries, so that the slaves stretched on their backs had but a foot or less of airspace between their faces and the deck or the next layer above them.

To increase the number carried, when stretched out on deck or shelf, the slaves were sometime placed on their sides, breast to back—"spoon fashion," as the slaver called it—and this made room for a considerable per cent. extra.

However, in the eighteenth century the usual practice was to place them on their backs, and to allow about two and a half eet of air space above the face of the slave, and in this way cargoes of over three hundred were carried.—From the Slave Trade in America," by John R. Spears, in the September Scribner's.

TO PACK EGGS FOR LONG KEEPING

The yolk of the eggs spoils much quicker than the white. For this reason it is im-portant that the yolk should be surrounded with a layer of white. If the egg is placed on the side or large end the heavy yolk will settle to the bottom and come in contact with the shell, which admits the air. If t is placed on the small end it will always have a layer of white between it and the shell. Eggs absorb ords easily, therefore only odorless materials should be used when packing them.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The days are growing short, alas!
The mellow autumn's here;
The grapes are crimson in the press.
The leaves are pale and sere. The grass is yellow on the meads,
The hills are blue with haze;
The cider mill begins to hum—
Ah, doleful autumn days!

Across the spreading fields the scent Of roses comes no more; The fence is bare that was so fair With fragrant peas before!

The summer's dead! The robin sings! Its farewell to the lark, And oh, it's such a little while From 3 o'clock till dark!

AT CAMP MEETING

A Reminder of the Gatherings of Fifty Years Ago.

A Thousand Voices Joined in Singing Old-time Hymns.

Rev. Chance for Burwash of Victoria University, in an interview with the Toronto Star, gave some interesting particulars of the great Indian encampment held on Christian Island, Georgian Bay, from which Dr. Bur-wash has just returned. This was the first encampment of the kind the doc-tor has attended, and therefore was to him especially interesting.

"The camp," he said, "was a dis tinctly Indian camp. There were full contingents from six Indian bends, among them Indians of Christian Island, Cape Croker, Parry Island, Rama and Georgina Islands. Altogether theer were from 800 to 1,000 Indians present.

"The camp was conducted in the good old-fashioned way, which brought back to one's mind memories of the back to one's mind memories of the early days. There was the early morning prayer meeting, then three services each day, Bible reading in the morning, and on the Sabbath morning there was early Methodist class meetings throughout the encampment, and a great love feast and sacramental service in the afternoon: The meetings were characterized by great religious fervor, there being many conversions, fervor, there being many conversions, attended with manifestations of that peculiar physical phenomena which was a feature of former great revivals, notably the Ulster revival of 1860. There must have been at least 20 eases of men being carried out in a complete state of exhaustion, brought on by their enthusiasm, But they all came out of this state seemingly perfectly happy. Such scenes are seldom seen

"The services closed with the oldfashioned march around the grounds, and with a general hand-shaking all

There were two notable features of There were two notable features of the meeting, with which I was greatly pleased. The first was the remarkable ability, shown by the Indian lay preachers. An address would be delivered by a white minister, and this would be followed by a sermon by one of the Indian preachers. In the delivery of these sermons 15 Indian local preachers took part, Their eloquence and the natural gracefulness of their gestures were most remarkable. There was none of the wild sawing of the air with their arms, nor none of that jerky movements sometimes seen in other places. Every movement was graceful and natural. erky movements

"Then their singing was magnificent. Many of the tunes I had not heard for 40 years. Sometimes over a thosand voices would take part, and the effect was something ever to be remembered. It gave me the greatest pleasure.

"A series of these camp meetings has been arranged extending over five years, which, from a moral and social point of view I consider will be of the greatest importance as bearing upon the well-being of the Indians. The bringing of them together under such influences cannot help but have the most beneficial effect.

"The only annovance we had was most beneficial effect.

"The only annoyance we had was from some liquor dealers who tried to introduce liquor on the grounds. Several cases of whiskey were seized by the constables. I saw no evidences however, that the liquor men succeeded in their efforts.

"These meetings commenced as far back as 1824, when a small party of Indians from Grape Island strolled into a prayer-meeting, and were converted. About the same time the farmous Peter Jones and John Sunday were converted. These men possessed great ability, and their influence was extensive.

"I have a report of the meeting of "I have a report of the meeting of 1831, which shows that at that time the Methodist church had nine mission stations, attended by 2,000 Indians, and 11 schools, attended by 400 children. The present gathering is the result of work commenced 75 years ago. As a result of this work, the Indians on many of the reserves, for the purity and simplicity of their lives will compare favorably with many other Christian communities. They are as honest as the day, scrupulously so.

"The houses on Christian Island are built with logs, and those that I en-tered were clean and comfortable, in some cases being tastily furnished. They do not live on their farms, but live together in villages, after their live together in villages, old tribal fashion. They have farms of 50 acres and more in extent outside their villages.

"The pagan village on Christian Island, I am told, is now entirely deserted, the old medicine man, the last one to stand out against the Christian belief, having taken up his abode on a deserted island, where he lives all

AN IRISH JUDGE.

Lord Morris, always a wit and now a distinguished judge, comes from Galway, and has never lost the mellifluous brogue of West of Ireland folk. This characteristic make the groundwork of a story which the London Telegraph tells of him. One day Lord Morris was sitting at the Four Courts as Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, when a young barrister from the north rose nervously to make his first mo-tion. The judge had declared that no one listening to himself would ever take him for anything but an Irish man, which was perfectly correct. But Galway could not understand Antrim. The lord chief justice leaned over to ask the associate where the "County Antrim," was the response.

Then asked his lordship of the official?

"Did ye iver come across sigh a frightful accint in the course of yer loife?"

At another time it fell to his lot to hear a case at Colcraine, in which damages were claimed from a veterinary surgeon for having poisoned a valuable horse. The issue depended upon whether a certain number of grains of a particular drug could be safely administered to the animal. The distribution of the control of th pensary doctor proved that he had often given eight grains to a man, from which it was to be inferred that twelve for a horse was not excessive.

"Never mind yer eight grains, docthor," said the judge. "We all know that some poisons are cumulative in effect, and ye may go to the edge of ruin with impunity. But tell me this: The twelve grains—wouldn't they kill the devil himself if ne swallowed them?"

The doctor was annoyed and pompously ephed: 'I don't know, my lord; I never had him for a patient."

From the bench came the enswer: "Ah.

no, docther, ye niver had, more's the pity The old bhoy's still aloive." THE BEAUTY OF FORBEARANCE.

How many persons, perhaps of fine abili ties and magnanimous virtues, we one and all say we would not wish to live with, because they are nervous and captious, and carry a timder with them that cauches every spark! Would you make yourself dear to every domestic scene you enter, form the habit of forbearance, and all your kindred will bless your face for its own benediction. Your very coming in at the door shall be as a balm; and that comfort is not insignicant which is repeated, a drop of sweetness in every draught, a thousand and a million times. While the effect of forbearance will

David A. Gordon, the Liberal nom-inee for Bothwell, was cheered for several minutes on rising. Mr. Gordon said that he did think the Liberal convention at Dresden could not be equal led, but he believed now that he had been mistaken. He was overjoyed to see that Mr. Stephens had been nom-inated. Like himself, Mr. Stephens was a business man and had every was a business man and had every means of knowing the wants of the farmers. He had early in life learn-ed that the farmers are the stamina of the country, and that a govern-ment, to do the country good, must legislate for their benefit. The name of Geo. Stephens was sub mitted to a standing vote and he was confirmed as the choice of the convenconfirmed as the choice of the conven-tion in the midst of a hurrisane of cheers and applause. The candidate ascended the platform and was given a great reception. He made a short address expressing the deep gratitude he felt at the honor which had been conferred upon him. This honor was, in his astimation exhaused by the fact "That we will win this contest, said Mr. Stephens, "I have no doubt. I will do everything in my power that is legal and gentlemanly to secure the victory and I feel assured that with the grand support which you will give me, success will be the ultimate result. (Applause.) By accepting this nomination I will be compelled to make some sacrifices, but I consider it every man's duty to make sacrifices in order that the grand administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier may be retained power. (Cheers.) I am not much a politician, but if I am elected I shall give my support to that Govern-ment. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has done more for this country in four years than the Conservatives accomplished

er for victory. (Loud applause.) Archibald Campbell, M. P., who was wildly cheered, spoke briefly. "I congratulate you heartily," he said, "upon the fine choice which you have made. Anyone of the nominees would have made a first class candidate. Mr. Stephens, I may say, without detracting in any way from the fine reputa-tion of the opposing candidate, is a gentleman who will do credit to the county of Kent. (Applause.) As regards the result of the contest but little need be said. With your assistance Mr. Stephens is going to carry this riding and you will undoubtedly see that the next member for this grand old county is Geo. Stephens, of the city of Chatham. (Loud applause.) I see before me many old faces of those who have fought for me in many a fight; of those who rallied round me in 1887 and who have helped to keep Kent in the Reform ranks ever since. There never was a time when it more behooved every Canadian to rally to the support of the honest, economical and progressive Government which we have at Ottawa. I am glad that my mantle has fallen upon such worthy shoulders. (Applause.) I had at first some misgivings as to your ability to bring out such a strong man, but now I shall go back to the constituency of West York, where I am fighting a battle against tremendous odds, confident that Kent will remain in line. Moreover, this convention here will nerve me on in my contest there, where, as I verily believe, with the support of the earnest Liberal workers of the county, combined with the marvellous record of our grand Government, I-will carry the constituency. (Loud cheers.) I thank you, gentlemen, from the bottom of my heart for the kind resolution which you have adopted and predict that Mr. Stephens' majority will be over 500."

(Cheers.) MR. GORDON.

NEW BEAN THRESHER. Messrs. King, Commingham & Drew have imported for the veteran thresher, Mr. Richard Gordon, of Chatham, a new and improved bean thresher, one of the latest and most successful bean threshers manufactured in the United States. The cipal is both new and novel to the farmers of this country. The threshing is done by four cylinders, the separation by a steel vibrating deck and lifting forks. All sand, seeds and small particles are separated from beaus and straw and discharged at the side of the machine by a screw bolt thus saving a great amount of work for the shoe. From the shoe the beans are elevated and run through a bolter where they are thoroughly polished by a system of rapid revoloughly polished by a system of rapid revol-ving brusher giving them a bright lustre-color and removing all amall and split beans from the market stock. So much appre-ciated by buyers the machine is now at work and is proving very successful not-withstanding that the crop is the most dif-ficult to handle that has been grown for many years. Mr. Gordon is to be compli-mented on his enterprise and deserves the patronage of the progressive farmers of this patronage of the progressive farmers of this section which we are pleased to say he has enjoyed for the last thirty years. God's Judgments Are Swift and Sure, Says Dr. Talmage.

THE BREADTH OF GOD'S LOVE state the friend of Richard Coeur de

onal Sins Are Punished by Keen In struments-No Calamity Happens by

Washington, Sept. 16 .- Dr. Taihage, in his journey westward hrough Europe; has recently visited of thriling historic events ie sends this sermon, in which ne hows that nations are judged this world and that God reward-them for their virtues and punishes them for their crimes. The text is Isaiah vii, 20, 'In the same day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them no-yond the river, by the king of As-

The Bible is the noblest book over written. There are no similitudes in Ossian or the Iliad or the Odyssey so daring. Its imagery some-times seems on the verge of reck-less, but only seems so. The facis that God would startle and arouse and propel men and nations. A tame and limping similitude would fail to accomplish the object. While there are times when he employs in the Bible the gentle dew in the morning cloud and the dove and the daybreak in the presentation of truth, we often find the iron chariot, the lightning, the earthquake, the spray the sword and, in my text, the has advanced in usefulness with the ages. In Bible times and lands the beard remained uncut save in the seasons of mourning and humilia-tion, but the razor was always a suggestive symbol. David said of Doeg, his antagonist, "Thy tong is a sharp razor working deceitfully" -that is, it pretends to clear the face, but it is really used for deadly incision.

In this striking text this weapon of the toilet appears under the following circumstances: Judaea needed to have some of its prosperities cut off, and God sends against three Assyrian kings—first Sennacherib, then Esarhaddon and afterward Nebuchadnezzar. These three sharp invasions that cut down the glory of Judaea are compared to so many sweeps of the razor across the face of the land. And these devastations were called a hired razor because God, took the kings of Assyria, with whom he had no symto do the work and paid them in palaces and spoils and arnexations. These kings were hire! to execute the divine behests. And now the text, which on its first eading may have seemed trival or inapt, is charged with momentous import, "In the same day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria."

Well, if God's judgments are razors, we had better be careful how we use them on other people. In careful sheath these domestic weapons are put away where no one by accident may touch them and where the hands of children may not reach them Such instruments must be carefully handled or not handled at all. But how recklessly some people wield the judgments of God! If a man meets with business misfortune, how many there are ready to cry out: "That is a judgment of God upon him because he was unscrupulous or arrogant or over-reaching or miserly. What a clean sweep of everything! His city louse and country house gone. His stables emptied of all the fine bays and sorrels and grays that used to prance by his door All his resources overthrown and all that he prided himself on tumbled into demolition. Good for him!" Stop, my brother, Don't sling around too freely the judgments of God, for they are razors. Some of the most wicked business men succeed, and they live and die in prosperity, and some of the most honest and conscientious are driven into bankruptcy. Perhaps the un-successful man's manner was unfortunate, and he was not really as proud as he looked to be. Some of those who carry their heads erect and look imperial are humble as a child, while many a man in seedy coat and slouch hat and unblacked shoes is as proud as Lucifer. You cannot tell by a man's look. Perhaps he was not unscrupulous in business, for there are two sides to every story, and everybody that ac-complishes anything for himself or others gets industriously lied about. Perhaps his business misfortune was not a punsihment, but the fatherly discipline to prepare him for heaven and God may love him far more than he loves you, who can pay dollar for dollar and are put down in the commercial catalogues as A1. Whom the Lord loveth he gives $400,000 and lets die on embroidered pillows? No; whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth. Better keep your hand of the Lord's razors, lest they cut and wound people that do not deserve it. If you want to shave off some of the bristling pride of your own heart, do so, but be very careful how you put the sharp edge on others. How I do dislike the behavior of those persons who when people are unfortunate say, "I told you so getting punished served him right!" If those I-told-you-so's got their desert, they would long have been pitched over the battlements, The mote in their neighbor's eyes, so small that it takes a microscope to find it, gives them more trouble than the beam which obscures their own optics. With air sometimes supercilious and etimes pharasaical and always blasphemous they take the razor of divine judgment and sharpen it on the hone of their own hard hearts and then go to work on men sprawl-out at full length under disaster, the sword of war was the Lord's razor. In 1862 again it went across the land: in 1863 again; in 1864 again. Then the sharp instrument was incased and put away. Never in the history of the ages was any land more thoroughly shaved than during those four years of civil combat, and, my brethren, if we do not quit some of our individual and national sins the Lord will again take us in hand. He has other razors within reach besides war — —grasshopper and locust — or our overtowering success may so far ex-cite the jealousy of other lands that under some pretext the great nations may combine to put us down. nation, so easily approached on north and south from both oceans, might have on hand at once more hostilities than were ever arrayed against any one power. I hope no such pow-any one power. I hope no such combination against us will ever be formed, but I want to show that, as Assyria was the hired razor against Judaea, and Cyrus the hired razor against Babylon, and the Huns the hired razor against the Goths, there are now many razors that the Lord could hire if, because of our national sins, he should undertake to shave us. In 1870 Germany was the razot with which the Lord shaved France. Japan was the razor with which he shaved China and America the razor with which he shaved arrogant, op pressive and Bible hating Spain. nations are to repent in a day. May a speedy and worldwide coming to God hinder on both sides the sea all national calamity. But do not let us as a nation either by unrighteous law at Washington or bad lives among ourselves defy the Almighty. One would think that our national symbol of the eagle might sometimes suggest another eagle—that which ancient Rome carried. In the talons of that eagle were clutched at time Britain, France, Spain, Italy, Dalmatia, Rhaetia, Noricum, Pan-nonia, Moesia, Dacia, Thrace, Macedonia, Greece, Asia Minor, Syria, Phoenicia, Palestine, Egypt and northern Africa and all the islands of the Mediterranean, indeed all the world that was worth having, a hundred and twenty millions of people under the wings of that one eagle. Where is she now? Ask Gibbon, the historian, in his prose poem, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Ask her gigantic ruins, bemoaning their sadness through the ages, the screech owl at windows out of which worldwide conquerors looked. Ask the day of judgment, when her crowned debauchees, modus and Pertinax and Caligula and Diocletian shall answer for their infamy. As men and as nations let us repent and have our trust in a pardoning God rather than depend on former successes for immunity! Out of 13 of the greatest battles of the world Napoleon had lost but one be-fore Waterloo. Pride and destruction often ride in the same saddle.

But notice once more, and more than all, in my text, that God is so kind and loving that when it is ne cessary for him to cut he has to go to others for the sharp edged wea-"In the same day shall the Lord shave with a razor that .s. hired." God is love. God is pity. God is help. God is shelter. God is rescue. There are no sharp edges about him, no thrusting points, no instruments of laceration. If you want balm for wounds, he has that. If you want divine salve for eyesight, he has that, But if there is sharp and cutting work to do, which requires a razor, that he hires. God has nothing about him that hurts, save when dire necessity demands, and then he has to go clear of to some one else to get the instrument. This divine clemency will be no novelty to those who have pondered the Calvarean massacre, where God submerged himself in human tear crimsoned himself from punctured arteries and let the terrestrial and infernal worlds maul him until the chandeliers of the sky had to be turned out, because the universe could not endure the outrage. Illustrious for love he must have been to take all that as our substitute, paying out his own heart the price of our admission to the gates of heaven.

King Henry II of England crowned his son as king and on the day of coronation put on a servant's garb and waited, he, the king, at the son's table, to the astonishment of all the princes. But we know of a more wondrous scene - the King of heaven and earth offering to put on you, his child, the crown of life and in the form of a servant waiting on you with blessing. Extol that love, all painting, all sculpture, all music all architecture, all worship! In Dresdenian gallery let Raphael hold him up as a child, and in Antwerp cathedral let Rubens hand him down from the cross as a martyr and Handel make all his oratorio vi brate around that one chord-"He was wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our iniquities." But not until all the redeemed get home, and from the countenances in all the gal-leries of the ransomed shall be revealed the wonders of redemption, shall either man or seraph or arch angel know the height and depth and length and breadth of the love of God.

At our national capital a monument to him who did more than any one to achieve our American independence was for scores of years in building, and most of us were discouraged and said it never would be completed. And how glad we all Further my text tells us that God were when in the presence of the same day shall the Lord shave with work was done! But will the monua razor that is hired." ment to him who died for the eternal liberation of the human race ever be completed? For ages the work has been going up. Evangelists and apos-tles and martyrs have been adding to the heavenly pile, and every one of the millions of redeemed going up from earth has made to it contribution of gladness, and weight of glory is swung at the top of other weight of glory, higher and higher as the centuries go by, higher and higher as the whole millenniums roll, sapphire on the top of jasper, sardonyx on the top of chalcedony and chryso-prasus above topaz, until far beneath shall be the walls and towers and domes of our earthly capitol, a monument forever and forever rising and yet never done, "Unto him who hath loved us and washed us from our sins in his own blood and made us kings and priests forever," Alleluia, amen.

A FEARLESS WOMAN.

The late Miss Mary Kingsley, who died in South Africa recently, may sometimes have been nervous, but it has been said more than once that she was quite ignorant of fear. A writer in the Spectator corroborates this by quoting Miss Kingsley herself. Once as she paused from telling an escape from drowning in a cataract, one of her hearers ventured to ask:

"Have you never known what it is to be frightened, or at least flustered, when you have seen death not only staring into your face, but shouting into your ear?"

A GREAT REPUTATION

HAS BEEN ACHIEVED BY DR. WIL-LIAM'S PINK PILLS.

Not Only in Canada, but in Every Civilized Country Throughout the World-Merit Alone Has Given This Medicine Its Great Prominence Over

Competitors Everywhere. The reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only in Canada, but throughout the world, rests upon a very solid basis, which may be summed up in two words—sterling merit. The Enterprise has had occasion to investigate a number of the production of the pr ber of cures effected by this medicine and knows that in some instances at and knows that in some instances at least these cures were wrought after other medicines had failed even to give relief. Recently another cure came under our notice that cannot fail to increase the popularity of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the locality in which it occurred, and as we can vouch for the facts, it may well bring hope to sufferers elsewhere.

Mr. Walter H. Johnson is one of the best known residents of the the best known residents of the northern section of Queen's county. He resides in the town of Caledonia, where he keeps a hotel, and also runs a stage that carries passengers and mail between that town and Liverpool, a distance of some thirty miles. Mr. Johnson was in Briegewater recently, on which occasion he gave a reporter of this paper that gave a reporter of this paper the following facts: About three years ago he was taken very ill. He had were concluded yesterday, with the Presidential review. The whole body of troops numbered 97,000 men, with 20;the best of medical attendance, but made very little progress towards re-covery, and the doctor told him there was very little hope that he would be able to return to his formmense concourse of spectators was present. President Loubst was receiv-ed with a salute of 101 guns. General Brugere and the General Staff on horseback placed themselves in front er work. The trouble appeared to have located itself in his kidneys, and for eight weeks or more he was con-fined to bed. He suffered greatly from constant pains in the back, his constitution generally appeared to be shattered. At this juncture he decid-ed to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got a half dozen boxes. In the course of a couple of weeks he noticed brigade of infantry and artillery rolled by, and cavalry followed. Later the whole mass of artiflery advanced to-together, unlimbered and fired a salvo of honor. The entire 80 squadrons of an improvement in his condition and he continued to use the pills until he had taken some ten or twelve boxes, when he not only felt that his cure was complete, but also felt that in all respects his health was better than it had been for years. Every man ought to rise in the morning re freshed by slumber and renewed by rest, eager for the struggle of the day. But how rarely this is so. Most people rise still unrefreshed, and dreading the strain of the day's labors. The cause of this is deficient vitality and behind this lies a deficient supply of pure, rich blood, and an inadequate nourishment of the body. There is pure, rich blood, and an inadequate nourishment of the body. There is nothing that will give a man strength and energy as will Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does this by increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. This nourished the nerves, feeds the brain, builds up enfeebled organs, and gives that sense of strength and power which makes the struggle of life a joy. The "good feeling" which follows the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" is not due to stimulant as it contains no alcohol. to stimulant as it contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. It does not brace up the body, but builds it up into a condition of sound health.

5,000 CHINESE MURDERED.

Driven into the River Amur by Rus sian Soldiers.

London, Sept, 22.—The Standard's Moscow correspondent reports a horrible massacre of Chinese at Blagovestchensk. He says: "The entire Chinese population of 5,000 persons was led in batches of a few hundreds to the river bank, and ordered to cross over to the Chinese side. No boats were provided, and the river is a mile wide. The Chinese were flung alive into the stream and were stabbed or shot at the least resistance, while Russian volunteers, who lined the bank, clubbed or shot any who attempted to land. Not one escaped alive. The river bank for miles was strewn with corpses."

A few months later a little daughter was been to the bride, he had left behind There were reasons why the captain should never know of the little daughter, and the wife's mother, a stern old woman, took the infant away and gave it to a good, honest woman before the mother had recovered sufficiently to recognize her

After his death the young wife pleaded with her mother to have her child returned to her, but her pleadings were in vain. The unrelenting grandmother died with the secret locked fast in her breast. For years the mother searched, but without sucess. Finally the foster mother of the infant died, and papers found in her desk revealed the child's identity.

A CURIOUS OLD CHURCH.

Boston Church, in Lincolnshire, England, the tower of which is better known as Boston Stump, has some very peculiar features. There are 365 very peculiar features. There are 365 steps in the tower corresponding to the number of days in the year. The church itself possesses twelve pillars, fifty-two windows, and seven doors, the analogy of which is obvious. Further simbols of time are to be found in the western porch, where, leading to the library, there are twenty-four steps, representing the hours constituting a day; whilst in the choir are two lots of steps, each numbering sixty, by means of which the roof may be reached, and, of course, representing minutes and seconds. The foundation stone was laid about six hundred years ago, and the work of erection occupied nearly a century.

How Russian Cossacks Murdered Unfortunate Chinese.

Details of how These People W Driven Into the River and Drowned.

New York, Sept. 22.—Concerning the massacre of five thousand Chinese at Blagovestchensk by Russians, the Evening Post to-day contains an account from G. Frederick Wright, one count from the of Oberlin Objo. Colof the faculty of Oberlin, Ohio, Col-lege, who was erroneously reported killed at Pekin. The letter is written from St. Rentensk, Siberia, under date of August 6. Up to July 1 relations between Russians and Chinese were cordial. Then the families of the engineers on the Chinese Eastern Railway, at Harbin, were forced to flee for safety. Troops gathered from every quarter to protect Harbin. As soon as the Russian troops went down the river on transports (July 14) the the river on transports (July 14) the fort at Aygun began, without warning, to fire upon passing steamboats, and on the 15th fire was opened upon Blagovestchensk, and some Russian villages were burned opposite the fort. The actual injury inflicted by the Chinese was slight; but the terror caused by it was indescribable, and it drove the Cossacks into a frenzy of rage. The peaceable Chinese, to the number of 3,000 or 4,000 in the city, were expelled in great haste, and berage. The peaceable Chimese, and benumber of 3,000 or 4,000 in the city, were expelled in great haste, and being forced upon rafts entirely inadequate, were most of them drowned in attempting to cross the river. The stream was fairly black with their bodies. "In our ride through the country to reach the city on Thursday, the 19th, we saw as many as thirty villages and hamlets of the Chinese in flames," says Mr. Wright. "One of them was a city of 8,000 or 10,000 inhabitants. We estimated that we saw the dwellings of 20,000 peaceable Chinese in flames that awful day, while parties of Cossacks were scouring the fields to find Chinese and shooting them down at sight. On our way up the river for 500 miles above the city, every Chinese hamlet was a charred the river for 500 miles above the city, every Chinese hamlet was a charred mass of ruins. The large village of Motcha was still smoking, and we were told that 4,000 Chinese had been killed. The wholesale destruction, both of property and of life, was thought to be a military necessity. Since we left we heard that Aygun has been taken amid a great loss of life to the Chinese. Work in the mines is paralyzed and the laborers mines is paralyzed and the laborers driven out. Peace between the Russians and the Chinese has come to an end. Years cannot wipe out the enmity engendered."

A DAILY NUISANCE

A Simple Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, general health, but sooner of later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symtoms being a profuse discharge of mucous, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in throat, causing coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent clearing of the throat and head.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

the mucous surfaces. A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablest.

If desired, they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will oure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taken."

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching, and local application and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tab lets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

One Price

Is a Guarantee

We have been too long in business, too long manufacturing Clothing for men and boys, Smocks, Shirts, Overalls and working men's Pants, to put prices upon goods that we can cut or our competitors undercut.

We make our Clothing the best we know. how, and out of the best we can buy. We fix the lowest and fairest price possible, and know no store can meet it-then we stick to it.

Otherwise how would you know when to stop dickering, and how would you know. that you got the lowest price after all? What would you think of the goods, anyway-goods that are not good enough to have a decent, respectable, fixed value.

We stand as squarely by our Goods as by our prices, and say to you, bring them back if not as represented. We won't haggle and dicker then, any more than we did in the selling.
