CAMPAIGN FOR ************ LORD'S DAY

and Elks' Club Booze-Selling Secure Attention

Vigorous Steps to be Taken in the Maple City-Oil Corporation on Trial To-morrow

If the Lord's Day Alliance does not weary in well doing, and carries through the somewhat drastic program it has outlined for the Maple City, the residents thereof are about to experience some genuinely strenuous times. As a curtain-raiser to the Chatham campaign the Alliance will to-morrow enter the lists with the Bothwell oil corporations in a case which promises a bitter fight and lots of complications to be tried belots of complications to be tried be-fore Judge Houston at the County Police Court. In this case for viola-tion of the Lord's Day Act it is understood that the Alliance have asked aid from the Attorney Gen-eral's department and that Crown Attorney Smith will vigorously con-duct the case on behalf of the Crown.

An authoritative statement has also been made by the Alliance as to the nature of their subsequent to the nature of their subsequent campaign. An emphatic attempt is to be made at once to stop the sale of the Sunday American papers in Chatham. They allege, moreover, that gambling is being carried on generally at rooms on King street and one barber shop is mentioned in anticular where gaming is said to particular where gaming is said to be carried on among the young men every Sunday.

The selling of liquor in the Elks Club, prohibited by the law and permission denied by the Provincial Government, is also to be dealt with. In this connection assurance has been given that the matter will be taken given that the matter will be taken up earnestly in various city pulpits. It is also stated that the right of the electric road to run their cars on Sunday is to be contested, notwith-standing that the company operates under a Dominion charter.

FINE INSTITUTION

The Chatham Loan and Savings Com pany Receive Proposal to Merge With The Reliance Loan and Savings Company—Addit-ional Security Provided

One of the most trusted and popul ar financial institutions of the County is The Chatham Loan & Savings Company. It has been, to a large extent, the Bank of the laboring man and the farmer. Its Board of Directors has always comprised Jome of our best and most progressive business men. Its last appointment is Mr. Manson Campbell, whose presence on any Board would insure public confidence. The Company has always been carefully and economically managed and its stock and debentures are amongst the most satisfactory investments.

There is a growing feeling amongst those best acquainted with such institutions in favor of amalgamation or merger. It is urged that union would add strength, afford increased security to depositors and debenture holders and permit of more economical management. The Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Commerce and several other Banks have recently holders and permit of more economical management. The Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Commerce and several other Banks have recently taken over the business of other banking fustitutions. Two of the largest loan corporations of London are now settling terms of amalgamation, and rumor has it that other companies are to be included. The shareholders of The Chatham Loan & Savings Company will therefore not be surprised that they are called to consider a proposal from The Reliance Loan & Savings Company to purchase the business and assets of their company. The Reliance has the reputation of being one of the best conducted of the younger Loan and Savings companies. Its stock yields the holder a half yearly dividend of six per cent, per annum. An examination of its affairs is now being made by the accoustants of the Chatham dompany and their report will be presented to the shareholders. The terms of the proposed agreement are understood to be very favorable to this company, and will be made known to the shareholders this week, but before its adoption the agreement will require to be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the shareholders of each company. If ratified the new company will have assets exceeding $2,000,000, and capital stock will total apwards of $1,000,000, all of which will be security to the depositors and debenture holders. It is the intention that the Chatham office shall be retained, and the business which will be directed by a local Board very much increased.

Talk is cheap, in spite of the fact that most of us indulge in extrava-gant assertions.

APPETITES THAT | CARRIED 886 UNMAKE MEN

Excellent Discourse in Victoria Avenue Church

Was Crowded to the Doors With In terested Audience-Special Music Rendered

Victoria Ave. Church was crowded to its utmost capacity last night by attentive listeners, who followed closely Mr. Malott's second sermon to young men. The text was taken from I. Kings, ii., 2,-"Be thou strong and show thyself a man."

and show thyself a man."

These were King David's dying words to his son Solomon. Solomon was about 15 years of age—a critical age in any boy's life. At 15 a boy is, at the threshold of yeung manhood. At this age a boy begins to feel the stirrings of a new life, the awakening of new powers. From 15 to 25 is the most critical period in a boy's life. During these 10 years he will either make or unmake a man.

A WORD TO FATHERS.

A WORD TO FATHERS. A appeal was made to parents, especially to fathers, to give their boys the most sympathetic and careful handling at this period, and above all, to give them a chance to become men by setting them an example of true manliness.

A WORD TO BOYS AND YOUNG MEN.

The highest ambition any boy can have is to make a man of himself. Most boys want to be men; but many boys do not know the meaning of manhood. Mr. Malott announced manhood. Mr. Malott announced that in a subsequent sermon he meant to deal with that question, but that he wanted to sound first a word of kindly fivarning against two appetites that unmake men. There is very great danger that the boys of our day will unmake the man that is in them.

UNNATURAL APPETITES.

There are two unnatural appet tes, acquired appetites, that are unmaking men. The speaker di tinguished between natural appetites and acquired appetites. All natural appetites should be kept under perfect control, but unnatural a petites should never be c.l.ivated. Alcohol and tobroco are doing more to unmake men than anything else under heaven. The speaker said he knew he would be criticised for putting these together, but, while admitting that in many respects liquor was more harmful than tobacco, in other respects tobacco was worse, because it is more widely used, the habit is acquired earlier and in many instances awakens the appetite for liquid stimulants, UNNATURAL APPETITES.

The speaker said he put the two together because physicians, educationists, military men, heads of jails, reformatories, asylums, leaders in the commercial world, all put them together. No man has a right to say that either tobacco or liquor is not injurious until he has made a thorough and scientific investigation of its effects on himself and others. EXPERT TESTIMONY.

After investigating thoroughly the expert testimony on the subject to supplement his own observation the speaker said he had come to the conclusion that both tobacco and liquor unmake men in every sense of the

Another side of the financial aspect

After summing up the evil effects of indulgence in narcotics and stimulants the speaker made a strong appeal to the boys and young men to out these things out of their lives altogether, to be strong and shew themselves men that they might rescue others and play their part bravely in life's battles.

At the morning service two excellent addresses were given by Mr. A. D. Westman and Mrs. Graham, President of the W. C. T. U.

At the evening service a fine program of music was given. The choir sang the anthem "It is a good thing to Give Thanks." Miss Jackson sang "Save the Boys." A choir of 49 boys sang "Have Courage my Boy to say No." Ferris Weaver, Harry Horstead and George Holmes taking the solo parts.

What the new electric road will do for the county and the two terminal towns was demonstrated on Saturday, when, with but two cars running, it carried exactly 886 round trips.

From the first car at 6.30 in the morning until midnight the stream of passenger traffic continued without abatement. The general offices at the power house were be seged all the time and scores of ticket books were purchased. By these books the round trip to Wallaceburg is made 64 cents, with corresponding reduction for intervening points.

On the market all the country visitors were enthusiastic. "The cars stopped right at our gates for us," they declared, "and gave us every convenience and courtesy." City merchants likewise are heartily praising the enterprise.

The Towanda, Pa., Daily Review, speaking of the project. says:—

Between the two terminals of the road there are no towns, but a rich agricultural section, and as the road can carry freight as well as passengers, it is expected to prove a remunerative property.

The Planet.

Business Office ... ... ... ... Editorial Room ... .. ... ... 102 MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1905.

BANISH THE USURER.

City Clerk Gaston will hereafter enforce a law passed by the last leg-islature. It provides that persons who file chattel mortgages must produce affidavits that the loans made are genuine and the money given was adequate for the consideration named in the paper.—Detroit Free Press.

One of the serious public abuses in our Province-serious, because of the apparent respectability and immunity of its contemptible dishones ty; doubly serious, because of its far-reaching, inhuman and oftimes terrible results - is the legal latitude permitted to usury. Every now and then the public shudders as it hears of the ghastly climax to the career of some victim of these lynxlike money-fenders, who so largely infest our communities and prey upon the misfortunes of their fellow-men. But little or nothing is said - and less is done.

It may be that the press, the pulpit and pronounced public opinion has been held in check by the clever cloak of respectability with which so many of these creatures surround themselves. They preserve a demeanor of unctious and pious rectitude; they identify themselves with the churches, become prominent and regular attendants-and the churches tolerate, if they do not fondle, them. The fate of the money-changers in the Temple at Jerusalem has evidently been forgotten in several of our sanctuaries.

With these modern Pharisees of the shekle and the pound of flesh this journal has no sympathy. Yet it aims at none personally-it refers to no one case, or no one man. But The Planet believes there is a publicspirited mission to be performed in putting an effective legislative stop to the nefarious practice of usury so freely and extensively carried on and it proposes to do its part vigorously and energetically.

Kent county has been particularly afflicted during the past few years. Cases can be recalled by the score, principally of unfortunate farmers who have become ensnared in the meshes of the chattel mortgage operator and lost their homes and goods. A poor widow woman today, who lost her little farm in like manner, is being pitch-forked between the County House of Refuge and the jail. Chatham, too, has lost her share of bright young men in good positions and capable of worthy things, who unwisely dealt with the note-shaver, struggled with the thirty and forty per cent. interest for a time, found themselves only drawn in deeper, and finally sought a blighting refuge in flight. There is hardly a resident of our county who has not come personally in touch with a case of the kind. The Michigan state legislative enactment quoted above suggests a remedy from this evil, which will well bear early consideration at the hands of the Ontario Government. Premier Whitney and his able Attorney General should have their attention emphatically directed towards the stamping out of all legal possibilities for usury.

The Melney suggests a Holmes conducted the services at the Ridgetown church.

Mrs. Geo. Vester, who has been spending the summer with her son, H. G. Pickering, at Amherstburg, was town visiting relatives. She leaves shortly to visit another son, Geo. Pickering, at Hannibal, Miss.

Messrs. Thos. Taylor, John Cocker, A. D. Findlay and Fred. Loth have returned from Purity Lodge, Erieau, where they spent a week duck shooting.

The Planet would earnestly urge the esteemed and energetic member for East Kent, Mr. P. H. Bowyer, M. P. P., who has already proved himself such a whole-hearted champion of the public rights and in whom the people, irrespective of party affiliations, deservedly place so great a confidence, to bring to the Government's attention this grave and serious abuse and introduce at the coming session of the Legislature such an enactment as will forever put an end to its existence.

The Planet does not exaggerate the exigencies of the case, or the modus operandi of these creatures. Enquiry at the office of our Sheriff shows that, right here in Kent County, farmers have paid $3 for the drawing of their chattel mortgage, 50 cents for registering the same, 50 cents for "attendance" and $1 for the affidavit. This the lender pockets at the beginning of the transaction; thereafter he collects his interest at the rate of two to three per cent. per month, or allows it to accumulate at compound interest until he is ready to take over everything in sight.

These men have no right to any protection in such practices. Addison truly said of each of them. "He serves you in the present tense; he lends you in the conditional mood keeps you in the subjunctive; and ruins you in the future!"

WANT AND NEED.

There's a big difference between what a baby wants and what he needs. Deny him the one, give him the other. Most babies need Scott's Emulsion—it's the right thing for a baby. It contains a lot of strengthbuilding qualities that their food may not contain. After a while they get to want it. Why? Because it makes them comfortable. Those dimples and round cheeks mean health and ease. Scott's Emulsion makes children easy; keeps them so, too. SCOTT & BOWNE, Toronto, Ont. # FRIENDLY WARNING

No Need to be Alarmed About Stomach Troubles if you Use Mi-o-na

The most frequent affection of the stomach is catarrh, as the delicate membrane which lines the stomach is easily irritated by harmful food or overeating. Keep a strict watch for the first symptoms of stomach trouble. Take this friendly warning in the spirit in which it is given and profit by it.

Shortness of breath, black specks before the eyes, furred tongue, dizziness, belching of gases or sour food, weakness and debility are all signs of catarrh of the stomach. There is no need to be unduly alarmed, for this disease can be cured by Mi-o-na. It

This hour is heralded by the rooster crowing, not this time to announce the hour of dawn, but as though he were a watchman speeding the course of night. To wind up the story only barely begun we will remark that we are selling more garments than ever before. We account it to a general excellence desirableness and low prices.

A RIGHT WAY and A WRONG WAY

Many people have many ways to bring about the same result. Most of them are mistaken ways, but this is not known until the test of time points plainly to the error. Practically there are but two ways to accomplish anything: a right way and a wrong way. Take, for instance, a man with a bad back, there are lots of them, and of various kinds, some with stiches and twitches, others with cricks and twinges; then there's the dull, heavy continuous kind that lasts all day and doesn't sleep at night. They're all bad enough, they're all hard enough to get rid of. Some people rub the back with liniment, others cover it with plasters, either or both means often bring relief, but the pain comes back—it's the wrong way to cure the trouble.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

have a way to cure backache, a way that's all their own—the right way. They're made for the kidneys only. When the kidneys fail in their work of filtering the blood the back aches because they are situated in the small of the back; backache is the kidney's warning of trouble, and every day you let the warning go it brings you nearer to urinary disorders, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, etc,

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills and that's why they bring such quick relief from bachache. Mr. Fred Gray, Good Corner, N.B., writes: "I was greatly troubled with pain across my back. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received so much benefit from them that I consider them the best remedy for kidney trouble there is. I would not be without them in my house."

So far good, but that tea, black as ink, sweetened with molasses or sugar house crup, is always near the fire by day and by night and is used in vast quantities. His Views On Education and An Alliance Between Great Britain, Ameri ca and France-His Hospitality and Generosity-Demand For Libraries Now Coming in At the Rate of One

Andrew Carnegie has always stood for a close alliance between Great Britain and United States, and now he adds France to the league of friendship and urges that these "three republics, two uncrowned and one crowned," stand together and safeguard the peace of the world. "Why should English sailors have to

GETTING OUT OF BED. Take Your Time About It and Don

Don't jump up the first thing your eyes are open. Remember that while you sleep the vital organs are at rest. The vitality is lowered and the circulation not so strong. A sudden spring out of bed is a shock to these organs, especially to the heart, as it starts to pumping blood suddenly.

Take your time in getting up. Yawn and stretch; wake up slowly; give the vital organs a chance to resume their work gradually.

Notice how a baby wakes up. ft stretches its arms and legs, rubs its eyes and yawns and wakes up slowly. Watch a kitten wake up. First it stretches out one leg, then another, rubs its face, rolls over and stretches the whole body. The birds do not wake up and fly as soon as their eyes are open. They shake out their wings and stretch their legs, waking up slowly. This is the natural way to wake up. Don't jump up suddenly, don't be in such a hurry, but stretch and yawn and yawn and stretch. Stretch the arms and the legs; stretch the whole body. A good yawn and stretch is better even than a cold bath. It will get you thoroughly awake, and then you will enjoy the bath all the more.-Medical Talk.

Now take a piece of stiff wire, loon it around the neck and carry it out at right angles each side of the body, so that the ends of the wire are over each cart wheel.

Twist the ends as shown and conneceach to the cart wheels by freely turning cranks of wood or stiff wire. You must not have your wheel revolution any greater than the difference be tween the spring's height when compressed and extended.

Weight the wagon body with lead, so the wagon will move forward more steadily, and then note the result at the first revolution of the wheels and you will see the transformed doll now full of life rising and squatting with each turn of the cranks.

The amusement you will get will more than make up for your time and trouble in bringing the dead doll to

YOUR FINGERS.

Some Facts About Their Tips and Couple of Tricks. Press the finger tips of one hand forcibly against those of the other hand and open and shut the hands slightly. Shut your eyes and do this several times, and the feeling will be such that you can easily believe you are holding coins between the finger tips.

Bend the fingers of each hand, holding them far apart, and shake the hands swiftly, freely and forcibly from the wrist for several seconds The air currents between the fingers will give a sensation as if the hands were full of cotton or some substance.

Look closely at the inside of the fingers near the tips. You will see furrows running in curved lines. They appear like mere lines, but if you look at them through a magnifying glass you will see they are really slight fur-rows, or rub chalk or powder over them, and they will be outlined in white. It is said that no two persons have these markings exactly alike, and also that the markings remain the same through life in each individual. You may test this by taking a print of your own. Spread some ink thinly over a piece of glass or paper; when the ink is nearly dry press the fingers on it lightly and then on a piece of clean white paper. A few trials will give you some very good prints. By taking these prints every year you may find out for yourself whether these lines remain unchanged.

A Miracetons Apple.

To divide an apple into several parts without cutting the skin pass a needle and thread under the rind of the apple, which is easily done by putting the needle in again at the same hole it came out of, and so passing on until you have got round the apple. Then take both ends of the thread and draw them tight, by which means the apple them tight, by which means the apple will be divided into two parts. In the same manner you may divide it into as many parts as you please, and yet the rind will remain entire. Present the apple to any one to peel and it will immediately fall to pieces.

David's Perplexity. "I wonder why," said David Brown,
"Apples should not hang up, but down,
And why should leaves be green instead
Of being purple, blue or red?

"Why should boys only have two feet
When four would make them much more fleet,
And why should morning come feet when
We want to go to sleep again?"

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neigh Help Help Ayers of the nair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayers Hair Vigor. The hair was saved In gratitude, it grew long and heavy, and with all the deep, rich color of early life. Druggists have sold it in all parts of the world for 60 years.

An Innocent Gambler. "Cheyenne was a wide open town in the old days, and every hotel and bar had its little faro game and roulette wheel and stud poker game," said a man who was there. "Our party was staying at the Inter Ocean hotel. A long, loose jointed Missourian ambled in one night and butted into the poker game. There were two or three card sharps at the table, and every citizen carried his shooting iron. This long Missourian looked rather easy, but before he had been playing an hour he was $1,500 to the good. John Chase. proprietor of the hotel, became interested and watched the game. In a few moments he saw the Missourian turn a trick that was not strictly according to Hoyle, and he called the Missourian outside.

"'Now, see here,' said Chase, 'I want to warn you. You'd better be pretty careful. Those fellows are all professional gamblers and are armed to the teeth. You don't seem to realize what you're doing.'

"'Say,' replied the long Missourian, with a look of childlike innocence, 'are they cheating me?"

Prevention Better Than Cure In these days, when most medical men are on the still hunt for miracu lous cures, specifics in one or other form, it is easy to lose sight of, at least to fail to give sufficient attention to, the matter of the cause or causes of disease and of the means of preven tion as well as of the really scientific because so often simple measures cal-culated so to help nature as to enable her to successfully perform a cure.

We all remember how the profession ransacked the entire earth for some medicament that should "cure" vy. No better illustration of what good old Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes de-clared to be shameful to the profession could be given than the various "treatments" for scurvy till some thoughtful layman discovered the true cause of the disease to be lack of vegetabl food. A rational supply of vegetables or fruit and fruit juices and a diminished ration of salt meat sufficed to render all the armies, navies and camp dwellers of the world "immune." — Health Culture.

Siberian Convicts. Some interesting phases of Siberiaa life are described in Samuel Turner's book on that country. Of the exiles he writes: "When I told a Siberian friend that I carried a revolver as a protec-tion against wolves I was promptly informed that I had much more reason to fear the human wolves I might encounter, and this, I found, was a gen eral view of the case. About one-third of the criminal exiles escape all control. Armed with a stick, to attached a strong piece of cord or cat gut, they will approach the unwary traveler from behind, throw the cord round his neck and quietly strangle him by twisting the stick, to rob him

A Siberian Wonder. The scientists have for years been perplexed over the wonderful frozen well at Yakutsk, Siberia. As long age as 1828 it was announced that the ground was frozen to an abnormal depth at the place referred to. In the summer of 1829 a Russian merchant set a gang of men to the task of ascertaining the depth of the frozen stratum. They gave up the job after digging some thirty feet in solidly frozen ground. The Russian Academy of Sciences took the matter in hand and between 1838 and 1844 dug to a depth of 382 feet and then abandoned the shaft because the earth was still frozen as hard as a rock. Natural cold could never penetrate to such a depth, and the phenomenon is still unexplained.

The Horse as a Jumper. A horse can certainly jump higher than a man. There is at least one ay thentic case of a hunter clearing seven foot paling, and a century or so ago a Mr. Bingham leaped his horse over the wall of Hyde park, which was six and one-half feet high on the inside and eight feet on the outside. The horse cleared this obstacle twice in rapid succession, and we are quite certain that no man who has ever lived could do it.—London Answers.

A GOOD MAN

William Hamil One of the Most Respected Residents of the Count is Called to the Great Beyond

The death occurred on Saturday evening of one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of this county in the person of Wm. Hamil, Murray street. Deceased was 83 years of age and has been ailing for some time. About a week ago he was taken seriously ill and he gradually sank until death resulted on Saturday.

Mr. Hamil was born in Ireland and came out to this country with his parents when he was eight years of age. The family stayed for some little time near Brockville, but later came to Kent and settled down on the old Hamil homestead on the townline between Howard and Har-wich. Deceased was a son in a fam-ily of four boys and three girls. Three of his brothers—John, Robert and David—are still living.

When he was a young man he purchased a farm near Charing Cross, where he lived until 15 years ago, when he retired from active farming life and purchased a home on Murray street, where he spent the remaining years of his life.

At that time both were in good health and even up till a few months ago Mr. Hamil seemed quite hale and hearty for a man of his years. Besides his widow a fam-ily of two sons and four daughters are left to mourn his death. They are Meredith, who lives on the Com-munication Road, two miles from Blenheim; William J., a farmer, of Charing Cross, who has recently been living with his parents; Mrs. E. E. Tait, of Bradford, Penn.; Mrs. White, of Charing Cross; Mrs. Tanner, of of Charing Cross; Mrs. Tanner, of Sarnia, and Mrs. A. H. Going, of Exeter. There is no other family in the

Strong Legal Argument of W. G. Richards Secures Acquittal For Parker-Crown May Appeal

The case of Randolph Parker, of Bothwell, charged with giving liquor to an Indian, came up for argument before Judge Houston at County Court this morning.

W. G. Richards, who appeared for the defence, argued for acquittal on the legal grounds that the evidence of Constable Marcus, the informer, was not corroborated, citing cases from the High Court judgments.

Crown Attorney Smith asked for a conviction on the evidence, which, he claimed, was indisputable.

The judge held that the cases subtimitted by Mr. Richards were clear, and dismissed the accused. The Crown intimated that an appeal would be made.

Powers' Fleet Has Arrived at the Island of Mytilene.

Moslems May Declare War, as Natives Believe That an Attempt Is to Be Made to Drive Turkish Rule From Europe-Sultan Not His Own Master-The Porte Grants a Hopeful Conference.

Constantinople, Nov. 27.-The fleet of the allied powers arrived at the sland of Mytliene yesterday.

A further sign, however, of the yielding attitude of the Porte is that the Foreign Minister, Tewfik Pasha, on Saturday visited the British Ambassa dor, Sir Nichols R. O'Connor, and the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, Baron Von Calice, with the object of proposing a modification of the Macedonian reform scheme, by which the financial delegates of the powers in Macedonia should be appointed by the Porte and designated as Ottoman financial councillors. It is doubtful whether powers will accept this modification, but the position is more hopeful as this is the first time any visit has been made between the Porte and the Am bassadors since Oct. 27, when the Porte refused the request of the Ambassadors for a collective audience of the Sultan, with the exception of the German Ambassador, Baron Von Bieberstein, who on three occasions during this interval visited Tewfik Pasha. The last conference between the Ambassador and the Minister was held Friday last, and it was a prolonged Moslems May Resist.

London, Nov. 27.—Information from Constantinople and other Islam and other Constantinople Islam ources indicates that the time at last has arrived when the Moslem w is prepared to resist with all its sources the encroachments of the Christian or civilized powers.

European statesmen take little cog-nizance of Moslem public opinion. It is a factor nevertheless which the Sultan himself dares not ignore in its present himself dares not ignore in its present condition. Intelligent Mussulmans deeply resent the attitude of Europe at this juncture. The present movement, in their opinion, is simply a disguised plan to drive Turkish rule from Europe. 0404040404040404040404040 There is a certain little inn on the Thames, a quiet, unpretentious little affair with ivy running all over its low walls, and a stretch of velvet lawn before it running down to the river, where fussy little launches go whisking up and down importantly and gay young couples loiter along in punts.

Some one had recommended the inn to Bellingham long ago, and in his present state of mind it seemed to him the very place to hide from the world until his heartache was over—the very place in which to think it all over and adjust himself to the new conditions in which Katherine had no part.

Therefore, as soon as his baggage was released by the custom house, he sought the little inn on the Thames, engaged rooms for two months, and prepared to blot the memory of a certain young woman in New York from his mind, if such a thing were possible.

The inn was well patronized, but most of its guests were staid people past middle life, who sat all day be neath the awnings on the lawn, watching the gay life on the river in which they had no part. It was all very satisfactory to Bellingham. This exaggerated quiet was the very thing he was looking for. He was outte content, he thought, to spend his days beneath the striped awnings or reading down by the river. Very few of the other guests tried to penetrate his reserve, and these few met with so little encouragement that even they desisted. and Bellingham was left to his own de

Now, Bellingham was a young man of normal mind despite the fact that he believed himself to be the victim of melancholia. A week of this sort of monotony bred in him a restless desire for action. He decided to take up ounting, and, with all the American be lief that punting is something ridicu ously easy to master, he hired a trim looking punt and set forth.

He had not gone far on his erration course when his respect for punting and punters was vastly increase Somehow it wasn't as easy to get the hang of the thing as he had imagined. The pole had a most irritating habit of sticking in the bottom; moreover, the depth of the river seemed most vari oosen it. The punt careened dangerously. It was a case of letting go the pole or getting a spill. Bellingham chose the lesser evil. The pole was left sticking upright in the water as the punt drifted away from it.

Bellingham looked about him help-lessly. As he did so he heard a laughing hail from the bank and, turning saw a young woman just stepping into a punt beneath the willows. She poled out to him skillfully and brought her punt alongside his helpless craft.

"Just catch the gunwale of my pun and I'll have you ashore in a mon she said.

"Thanks." said Bellingham, doing as he was bidden. "It's very good of "I wouldn't have come out if I hadn't recognized a fellow countryman in dis-tress," she laughed. "It really isn't as easy as it looks, is it?" "I've discovered it isn't," said he ruefully. "Very kind of you to give me this assistance. It was a decidedly wkward fix I was in." They had reached the willows on the bank, and Bellingham helped her ashore. It was a cozy spot. Books and cushions lay against the trees and a spirit kettle blazed away cheerfully on a flat stone.

"You might tie your punt here, and then I'll take you out to your pole," she suggested. Bellingham's eyes were resting with no uncertain meaning on the spirit "Perhaps you'd like a cup of tea first," she said. "I suppose, since we're fellow Americans, formalities may be he laughed. "And, thanks, I will delay long enough for the tea."

They made themselves comfortabl on the bank, and while they drank tea and nibbled thin biscuits they chatted gayly. Bellingham was surprised to find that he was enjoying himself immensely. He had not realized before how his isolation at the inn had palled on him. Miss Holt was a remarkably charming girl, he decided, and beside this she was possessed of a ready wit that inspired Bellingham to his best epigram, and epigram was Belling ham's long suit.

Some two hours passed pleasantly before they went out for the pole which still stuck up from the river. When Bellingham had loaded the books and cushions into the girl's punt and embarked in his own he stood for a time surveying her thoughtfully.

"I want to thank you for a delightful afternoon," he said at length. "I'm staying down at The Keys. I came there to cure a broken heart. To tell the truth, I haven't succeeded tremendously." She smiled comprehendingly. "Sinc confessions seem to be in order," she said, "I may as well tell you I'm staying with my aunt at The Bunch of Grapes farther up the river. I'm supposed to be there to heal the wound of a broken engagement. I haven't suc ceeded amazingly either," she ended naively.

"I say," Bellingham proposed, "let's form a mutual consolation society and have tea again here tomorrow after-

"All right. Agreed!" she laughed as she started up the stream.

During the following weeks Belling ham left the striped awnings on the lawn to the other guests. He spent most of his time at a certain patch of willows on the banks of the river. where there were cushions and books and tea-and a pretty girl. He learned to pole a punt with something approaching the English skill, and they poked about the stream discovering other quiet nooks. The pain in his heart was considerably lessened, and certain disturbing memories ceased to disturb him longer. The two months slipped past and the time of his return drew near. The afternoon before his departure they were on the river together. Bellingham poling and the girl pensively silent. The punt drew up to the willows on the bank where he had first seen her.

"I hate the idea of breaking up this ociety for mutual consolation," he. "It's been wonderfully successful, as far as I am concerned. I wish it might continue. "For about how long?" she asked rchly. "Forever," said he flatly, She rose and abstractedly broke off a piece of the low hanging willow branch. He noticed that her hands

He was celebrated in each country par-ish, where by far the greater part of his life was spent, as doctor and mag-istrate, combining these offices with those of a faithful and hard working clergyman. The home side of Sydney Smith is too little appreciated. Why He Dropped His Shovel. A few years ago a witty but not overindustrious Celt was one of the street gang at Newburyport, and a few minutes before noon he threw his shovel into the gutter, sat down on the curbstone and proceeded to fill and light his pipe. Just as he extracted the first puff of smoke the superintendent of streets came around a co ner and, seeing Pat, roared out: "Here What are you throwing down your shovel for at this time of day?"

"To cool it, sir-r," said Pat, where upon the superintendent dodged around the corner to get his face together.—

THE HIGH CLASS KOREAN.

Being a Drawing Room Gentleman The Korean is above everything else a man of the drawing room, and all his instincts move along the leisurely ways of life. Anything like haste of "en pressement" is unknown to the eternal laws that govern him. This characteristic of his is evident in all his actions at all times and under all conceivable circumstances. Being a drawing room gentleman, dress is the great ambition of his life. From the shoes of his feet to the topknot on the top of his head he is ordered so as to be seen and admired of men. His shoes while in mourning must be spotlessly white. No atom of dust or fly speck shall mar them. His socks, beautifully puffed, are stitched to perfection; his pantaloons, big enough for Brobdingnag, are padded, quilted and ironed until they come forth looking like some mysterious fabric of pol-ished marble; his jacket likewise and his overcoat and wristlets.

Not only has he a headband, a topknot and a hat on his head, but he buys a pair of spectacles and adds them to his already overcharged headgear, and thus rigged, with a ring on his finger and a fan in his hand, he goes forth to make his way through this troubled world.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. ## BIG PROFITS DUE CO.

Earnings of Loans of New York Life Co. to Third Parties.

$59,310 Paid to "Insurance Legislative Generalissimo," Andrew Hamilton, and No Entry of Transaction Appeared on Books-Similarly to Geo. W. Perkins, the Amount Being $40, 000-Loss Through Rentals.

New York, Nov. 25.—Startling developments were brought out at yesterday's session of the Armstrong committee on insurance investigation in the course of a minute inquiry by Charles E. Hughes, counsel to the committee, into the syndicate transactions particlpated in by the New York Life Insurance Co. The most important witness of the day was Milton M. Madison, a book-keeper of the New York Life Insurance Co., during whose examination it was brought out that in the case of the United States Steel Corporation Syndicate, the managers of which were J. P. Morgan & Co., there appeared in one instance a profit due to the New York Life of $87,187, from which was deducted, no reason being given, the sum of $59,310, paid to Andrew Hamilton, who has been described in the course of the investigation is "the insurance legislative generalisimo."

Pressed by Mr. Hughes to tell whether he knew of any other instance of money due the New York Life being paid to a third party. Mr. Madison re-called the payment in 1904 of $40,000 to George W. Perkins, representing the profit on a loan of $930,000 to the Boston firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co. The profit, witness said, came in the form of a cheque on the First National Bank, which he cashed and gave the money to Mr. Perkins. What the latter did with it the witness did not know. No entry of the transaction was made on the books of the New York Life.

Gerald Brown, in charge of the bond department of the Equitable, produced a list of the tenants of the Equitable building at 120 Broadway. Mr. Hughes looked the list over and then asked the witness if he thought the rentals were adequate. Mr. Brown replied that he considered the rental of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Co. was inadequate. He also thought that the Equitable Trust Co. rental of $20,000 a year was

Mr. Brown said, in reply to ques-tions, that the King Model Houses on 138th street, New York, were taken by the Equitable Society under a foreclosure, sold to H. H. King, Jr., and that the Equitable Society supplied $3,100,000 for construction and improvements. The society held a mortgage on the houses and when completed Mr. King deeded them back. Mr. Brown said he supposed King "was there" to make a profit in sub-letting the contracts.

"The Equitable put up all the money and King took all the profit?" asked Mr. Hughes. "Yes, if you want to put it that way," said Mr. Brown. "What offices are responsible for this The executive 'committee," said Mr.

CONVENTION NEXT AUTUMN. Dominion Conservatives Are to Gather In Winnipeg.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—(Toronto News Special.)—A Dominion Conservative convention will be held next autumn, probably in Winnipeg. It is proposed to have a full representation of the party from all parts of Canada, and to take the eastern members of the party to the gateway of the west, there to get in touch with the new problems which and at it to settle the several questions which pressed for solution, including that of the leadership. The time, however, was too short to organize so large a gathering, while in addition the winter was not a suitable time. The project next broached was to hold it this autumn, but the lateness of the session and the disorganization in the party blocked that proposal.

LET YOUR STOMACH HAVE ITS OWN WAY

Do Not Try to Drive and Force it to Work When it is Not Able or You Will Suffer All The More.

You cannot treat your stomach as some men treat a balky horse; force, drive or even starve it into doing work at which it rebels. The stomach is a patient and faithful servant and will stand much abuse and ill treatment before it "balks". and ill treatment before it 'balks,' but when it does you had better go slow with it and not attempt to make it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their

it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their stomach work by starving themselves. They might cure the stomach that way, but it would take so long that they would have no use for a stomach when they got through. The sensible way out of the difficulty is to let the stomach rest if it wants to and employ a substitute to do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work of your stomach for you and digest your food just as your stomach used to when it was well. You can prove this by putting your food in a glass jar with one of the tablets and sufficient water and you will see the food digested in just the same time as the digestive fluids of the stomach would do it. That will satisfy your mind. Now, to satisfy both your mind and body take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating—eat all and what you want—and you will feel in your mind that your food is being digested because you will feel no disturbance or weight in your stomach, in fact, you will forget all about having a stomach just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl. you will forget all about having a stomach just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act in a natural way because they contain only the natural elements of the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach. It makes no difference what condition the stomach is in, they go right ahead of their own accord and do their work They know their business and sur-rounding conditions do not influence them in the least. They thus re-lieve the weak stomach of all its burdens and give it its much needed res

PORTE'S VEILED THREAT.

Reprisals on Christians If Powers Per sist In the Warlike Demonstration For Macedonian Reforms.

Constantinople, via Sofia, Bulgaria Nov. 25.—The Porte's reply to the de mands of the powers is not only a categoric rejection, but contains thinly-velled threats that the pressure of Europe will possibly excite the Turkish population to reprisals on the Christians. The note declares that the Ottoman Government loyally introduc ed the reforms demanded by the Muerz-teg program, and says that if these did not entirely succeed the fault was in the hatred dividing the nationalities in Macedonia and instigation from abroad. The communication states that the Turkish Government finds it absolutely impossible to accept financial control of Macedonia, as it would violate the Sui tan's sovereignty. After agreeing to the prolongation of the mandates of the foreign civil agents, the note con-cludes: "If the powers increase the pressure in order to compel the accept ance of the control scheme, the Imper ial Government declines all responsibility for the consequences which may arise from the discontent among the public."

The Pillory In England.

It is difficult to realize that as late as June 26, 1830, so barbarous a pun-ishment as that of the pillory was still inflicted. One Peter James Bossy stood in the pillory in the Old Bailey on that day for perjury and was the last of a long line of victims, for it was abolished immediately afterward. Originally, like most mediaeval punish-ment, it was intended more as a disgrace than as a bodily discomfort, but a crowd that would watch all night to gloat over a public hanging in the morning naturally did not spare the victims of the pillory, who sometimes died from the treatment they received. More humane was the punishment for perjury in 1468, when the offenders were merely sentenced to ride from Newgate to Cornhill with paper miter on their heads. But they knew a thing or two in the middle ages, and no doubt there was a street boy even in 1468.-London Chronicle.

He received his prelimination ary education at Madras College, and coming to Canada he entered Knox College, from which he graduated in 1866. His first charge was at Both-well, where he remained for eight years. In 1874 he accepted the agency of Knox College, and in 1875 went from Toronto to Montreal as an agent of the church. Later he became secretary of the French evangelistic work and of the French, evangelistic work and treasurer of the Presbyterian College, from which he received the degree of D. D. He was first secretary and later convenor of the home mission committee of the Presbyterian Church. Not since 1875 did he have a charge of his own, his executive and financial ability enabling him to serve his church in the direction these talents fitted him

His place was as an administrator rather than a shepherd, and his finest orational effort was made in the Gen-eral Assembly, when he moved that the Century Fund be established. The idea was received somewhat dubiously, but when he sat down after delivering a most telling argument in its favor a most telling argument in its favor the assembly was convinced of the feasibility of the scheme. The result proved the soundness of his reasoning. Under his guiding hand the fund grew like a rolling snowball until it reached he splendid figure of one hundred and

He became generally recognized as an authority in financial matters, and refused many tempting offers for the sake of his church.
