WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT TO FOLLOW OPENING OF G.T.P.

Hon. George P. Graham Replies to Opposition Pessimism by Drawing Glowing Picture Based on Facts and Figures of the Growth and Prosperity the Transcontinental Will Induce ago there were no wheat land, and scarcely a hamlet. Today wheat belts of the west produce roughly 100,000,000 bushels of wheat, and the prospects were that Canada would be the wheat field of the entire world. Already the launching of the road had been justified by impulse it had given to other railway companies to develop their roads, and to settlement in districts tapped by the line. According to a statement prepared by R. E. Young, secretary of the G. T. P. Company, 15,389 homesteads had already been taken up in a belt 12 miles on either side of the Grand Trunk Pacific and had been roughly speaking cultivated over 25 per cent. In light of these facts a government could not hesitate to grant transportation facilities which condition demands.

Hon. Mr. Graham replied in one of the most effective speeches he has made in the house. He approached the question of the loan with the vision of an optimist who has abundant faith in Canada's future and unmeasurable confidence in the success of the Transcontinental. He emphasized the fact that the people were partners in the undertaking and drew a glowing picture based on facts and figures of the rapid development which may be looked for. He pointed out that the Transcontinental compared favorably with other lines on the continent, and to the question of whether a loan was justified he returned an unhesitating affirmative.

Mr. Borden in opening his criticism contrasted the statement made by the Prime Minister in 1907 that the mountain section of the Transcontinental would cost eighteen million dollars with the latest report that it would cost sixty-five million. He believed that the cost would be ultimately successful, but there were some risks and the country was assuming nine-tenths of these risks and the Grand Trunk only one-tenth.

OUT OF THE QUESTION.

But as a contract had been made would be out of the question to ask the Grand Trunk to hand over ten million dollars of preferred stock? Had the government, he asked, taken into consideration the difficulties arising from the withdrawal of the Grand Trunk? He was informed that the bridge could not be completed before 1915 or 1916, or a period of five or six years after the completion of the line from Quebec to Montreal. He pointed out that the government would have a portion of the road on their hands.

Hon. Mr. Graham said that the advantage of having a ferry across the river was not a serious matter. Mr. Borden did not think a ferry would be of much use in the transportation of wheat, and he suggested that under the contract the Grand Trunk might be required to operate the line from Moncton to Winnipeg until the bridge was completed. He thought that difficulties which the government might meet in the administration of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Fiedling said that the government would not have the matter under consideration with the view of any action at present. Their view was that there were so many uncertainties with the American tariff bill that it would be unwise to found action on it in its present form. If the bill passed its various stages there might be aspects demanding the consideration of the government, but in the meantime they did not think it would be wise to found any action upon it.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE VALLEY RAILWAY

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 28.—The contingency committee met this morning and passed the usual bills. It was decided to place all the pages on the same footing as regards pay, which was placed at $1.25 per day. Formerly it was the custom to give the chief page a larger remuneration than others, but the committee this morning after consideration decided to make all equal. A bonus of $25 was granted to the co-chairman of the legislative committee for his services about the same as in previous years.

THE HOUSE IN ALL PROBABILITY will complete its work this evening and prorogation will take place tomorrow. This is the prevailing opinion. The only bill that remains on which any discussion will take place is that of the Westmorland gerrymander. It is reported that no announcement will be made at this session in respect to the St. John Valley Railway. The public accounts committee have finished their work and the report from this committee will be presented to the House some time during the day.

NEW YORK HAVING ANOTHER WINTER

Snow and Frost Bothered the People This Morning

Cold Wave Has Reached the East—Chicago Troubled by a Heavy Electrical Storm.

CHICAGO, April 28.—A violent storm accompanied by thunder, lightning and rain struck this city shortly after midnight. The first indication of it came when persons in the loop district and those riding on surface cars and elevated trains were startled by a flash of lightning followed by a cannoning that seemed to shake the skyscrapers. Lightning struck two buildings but no damage resulted.

NEW YORK, April 28.—After nearly a month of extremely cold and unseasonable weather New York experienced a late April snow storm this morning. Snow began falling about six a. m. but after a slight flurry it ceased for a time. At 8 o'clock the snow flames were falling as thick and fast as though it were February. Although the cold northeast wind was blowing the snow melted as fast as it fell in the city, but in the suburbs the ground was covered with a white blanket. This is the latest snowstorm recorded in New York since that of May sixth, 1881, which was regarded as a freak of the season. Although the snow was a wintry appearance the temperature is no lower than it has been for some days past.

KEEPING ABOUT HAMID PRISONER

Packed Off to Saloniki

WIYES WITH HIM

Will be Kept a Prisoner in Large House—Great Rejoicing

VIENNA, April 28.—It is reported that the committee of union and progress intend to publish full particulars of the massacre in Asia Minor for the purpose of proving that they were instigated by Abdul Hamid in order to discredit the Young Turk rule and provoke foreign intervention. A dispatch from Constantinople gives a report that Kiamil Pasha, the former grand vizier, has been arrested.

START UNDER

Abdul Hamid, with daughters and two sons, was escorted to the palace at Saloniki. The party was taken from the train at Saloniki and started on a special train en route to the palace. The Constitutionalists would like to have the great part of the great sum of money that the former sultan is supposed to have abroad, not only because the government is in need of money but because it is desirable that he should be deprived of the resources for another coup d'etat. Speculation places Abdul Hamid's wealth at anything between $35,000,000 and $50,000,000.

THE city is illuminated tonight, and general rejoicing continues. Although this was a holiday, court martial were held and several of the principals in the mutiny of the troops were condemned to death. Later they were taken outside the walls of the city and shot. Fines were levied on the nephew of the Sultan, who was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the rising, has been liberated and his release has caused a good impression.

CHURCH NOTES FOR BUSY MEN.

ROMAN CATHOLIC A LOCAL CONVERT.

Mr. Louis Davies, Jr., son of Sir Louis H. Davies, formerly one of the members of the House of Commons for Queens, P. Island, but now one of the judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, has recently been received into the Roman Catholic Church in Ottawa.

A FITTING REBUKE.

Not long ago some American battleships cast anchor at Marseilles, France, and about one hundred and fifty sailors went to Mass. It seems that the sailors, who showed their religious proclivities, were derided and criticized by French naval officers and other anti-Catholic French. While feeling indignant the men evinced their feeling that... every one connected with the fleet who could get away, Protestants, Catholics, freethinkers and Catholics, to the number of fourteen hundred, went to Mass the next day. It was a silent but impressive rejoinder to the scoffing of the French on the day before.

A POTENT FACTOR.

The power of the press is thus described by an exchange: Other centuries have seen other forms of human activity, this is beyond all preceding times, the day of newspapers. The two Pontiffs, Leo XIII and Pius X, have expressed their views on the power for good in Catholic Journalism. That a Catholic Journal be a success is not only the best support of all people. Every subscriber and reader can do something towards extending the influence of Catholic Journalism. As to Catholic Truth Societies, they have proved their value in England and the United States, and there will always be a field for their activities. The general circulation of doctrinal literature will prove an influence of the first magnitude, in removing many prejudices.

THE ANGLICAN.

Rev. D. D. Moore. Mr. Moore was at one time pastor of the Carmarthen Methodist Church in this city. Later he became a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Singapore, Malaysia, and later on he was with the Anglicans, He was an Episcopalian pastor in Perth, Western Australia, and a Freemason.

NITARIAN.

Rev. D. D. Moore. The great ambition of our young men is when they have won sufficient distinction to have a delegation thrust upon them. Their are men who would rather be delegates to Ottawa than to be members of parliament. When there are two claimants for any thing this sort of a delegation one of them is bound off by being appointed a delegate. To be a delegate is to be a very important thing. The delegation has sometimes to nominate himself. One delegate last week seconded his own nomination. To ride in palatial cars, to be dined when you go whither to Ottawa for something you think you want and ought to get. To be introduced to cabinet ministers as "my very dear friend and supporter," and to have members of parliament listen very attentively and attentively while you tell your story, and to be told, "yes, we are very glad to have you gentlemen, and hear your story, and we will give this our best attention and favorable consideration," is to make a delegation feel very happy and to make the most of them they asked for.

THE PRESBYTERIAN RESIGNING.

Rev. Robt. Campbell, D. D., who for 43 years has been pastor of St. Gabriel's Presbyterian Church in Montreal, announces his intention to resign from active service next September. He belonged originally to the old Presbyterian union. In the present union movement he leads the opposition.

TRIENNIAL ASSEMBLIES.

There is a strong movement among the Presbyterians of the United States in favor of the triennial Assembly meeting triennially instead of annually. The feeling grows that not a few conferences and conventions could well be dispensed with.

FATHER CHINIQUE.

The Pembroke Synod has decided to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of the great French evangelist by a series of special services in July next.

A BAPTIST INNOVATION.

At the Fifth Avenue church, New York, on a recent Sabbath an "Infant Dedication" service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Aked. The children were presented by the parents and after prayer and singing the pastoral duties and responsibilities. The only difference between that and baptismal services in other churches was the absence of water.

BACK TO SCOTLAND.

After more than fifty years in Manchester, Dr. Alexander MacLaren is returning to his native Scotland. He will make his home in Edinburgh. For a year or two he has found the Manchester climate rather trying to his health.

HONORING A GOOD MAN.

A very pleasing and convincing demonstration of their high regard for Rev. Dr. Steele was given by the Amherst church, and the people of the town on Wednesday evening of last week. A reception was held for Dr. Steele in the school room of the church. A large number were present, including ministers and members of other denominations as well as Baptists. A number of addresses were given. Dr. Steele is held in high regard in Amherst, and the appreciation of his friends found tangible expression in a gift of $500.

THE METHODISTS A GREAT BOAST.

The Roman Catholic church is a thousand years ahead of the Protestant church in taking care of the child. They bring the children into the church. So spoke Rev. S. Travena Jackson, pastor of the Arlington St. M. church, in addressing the Women's Literary Club of that place at a recent meeting.

THEFT IN A CHURCH.

While a concert was in progress in Saint James street church, Montreal, a few evenings ago, a raid was made on the vestry, where the ladies had left their hats, cloaks, etc. The only clue to the affair is thus reported in the Star: "A woman of mature years asked one of the young ladies where they had left their clothing, purses and other valuables, to say nothing of a set of furs that could not be bought with the receipts of the night's entertainment. She was directed to the room where these had been left."

WATCHING HIS CHANCE.

CHICAGO, April 16.—A formal real estate transfer just made in the county recorder's office reveals that a Chicago minister has gained a fortune of $25,000 in his spare time from preaching. Four years ago he left Chicago with slender means. Today he is the owner of landed estates and an exclusive metropolitan apartment building. The thrifty clergyman is the Rev. Mr. Morley, pastor, who without missing a Sabbath or Wednesday evening service, has amassed a fortune. Began by buying a small ranch, and now as above stated is wealthy.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE DELEGATES.

This has been a great year for delegates and delegations. The spring has not been favorable for spring poets, but it has been a good sap year, and the maple sugar and maple candy this year is any connection between sap and delegates. It is simply a coincidence that more maple sap has gone into the sugar and maple candy this year than in any previous year. The parading of glucose in sugar lattes explains the purity of maple sugar and candy. But the number of delegations is unexplained. The passenger traffic to Fredericton has increased so that without motor cars are an imperative necessity. There is not a train going into Ottawa but what has one or more delegations. The most of the party of maple sugar and the most of the guests in hotels, and the lobbies of the house, are delegates.

CONSTITUTIONAL FORCES ADVANCE UPON THE CITY

WILL SAY GOVERNMENT BROKE ELECTION PLEDGES

PRERIDICTON, N. B., April 23.—The amended highway bill passed the legislature this evening and the House resumed at 10:30. The evening was made more interesting than usual by the singing of French songs, during the time after the bill passed and the calling in of the Speaker. On the adjournment the House again broke into music and Mr. Lyer of Gloucester furnished a solo which brought down the house, the other French members joining in at night. The house accomplished a large amount of work today. The debate, however, was of a quiet nature. Many bills were introduced for the first time and passed without debate. Several bills also were introduced and referred to cabinet ministers as "my very dear friend and supporter," and to have members of parliament listen very attentively and attentively while you tell your story, and to be told, "yes, we are very glad to have you gentlemen, and hear your story, and we will give this our best attention and favorable consideration," is to make a delegation feel very happy and to make the most of them they asked for.

OPPOSITION STAFF FOR HOME RULE FOR HIGHWAYS

PRERIDICTON, April 23.—At a late hour last night the bill to amend the Highway Act was considered in committee, Mr. Slipp in the chair. Mr. Lowell objected to the principle that the government had the appointing of the highway board, and he did not think it was right that one of the men elected by the people as a councillor in parishes where there were three councillors should not be allowed to serve on the board. In very few parishes were there three councillors and it was pretty hard legislation to say that one of them was not capable of serving on the board. He thought the money for the highway board should be made the choice of the roads and rates had a good road and he thought it should be retained.

JAPANESE CAPTAIN A CHINESE REBEL

YOKOHAMA, April 25.—A Japanese, Captain Kippu Kato, has been deprived of his rank at his own request. The most of the party of maple sugar and the most of the guests in hotels, and the lobbies of the house, are delegates. A GRATEFUL WOMAN Tells of the Remarkable Cure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Wrought in Her Case—Had Undergone Four Operations Without Help

When women approach that critical period in their lives known as the turn of life, they do so with a feeling of apprehension and uncertainty in the manner in which they pass that crisis determines the health of their life. During this most important time of their lives, a woman, her whole aim should be to build up and strengthen her system to meet the unusual demands upon her blood and fortify her whole system. Devotion to family should not lead to neglect of self. The hard work and worries of household cares should be avoided as far as possible. But whether she is able to do this or not, no woman should fail to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which will build up her blood and fortify her whole system, enabling her to pass this critical period with safety. We give the following strong proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do for a suffering woman.

Mrs. Margaret Wood, Southfield, N. B., says:—"Some years ago I became very ill. The troubles that afflict so many of my sex in the same way, I had to have my relief. During the two years I underwent four successive operations. During this time I had the best physicians. From each operation I received some benefit, but only of short duration, and when I drifted back into the same wretched condition as before, suffering all this time I was taking medicine to build up my system, but with no avail. I was reduced to a mere skeleton; my nerves were utterly broken down. My blood was a light yellowish color and I was so far gone that I took pills in which my lips, fingers and tongue would seem paralyzed. I cannot begin to express what I suffered and went through in those two years. I was completely discouraged and thought I could not live. Then on the urgent advice of friends I began to take Williams' Pink Pills, and after some weeks perceived a change for the better. I considered to take the Pills for several months, gradually growing stronger and suffering less, and in the end found myself once more a well woman and enjoying the blessing of such good health as I had not known for years. I now always keep these Pills in the house and after a hard day's work take them for a few days, they always seem to put new life and energy in my body. I sincerely hope my experience may be of benefit to some other suffering woman."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicines or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 23.—James Fatten said three months ago wheat would go to $1.25 Chicago market. Before he announced into the market in a big way this prophecy he had been making for some time. Top figures for May in Chicago were reached considerably in advance of the market, and he would the market at the quiet, nestlike man from the quiet, suburb of Evanston.

Mr. Fatten has made a lot of money in this wheat campaign. It is already has gone down into his pocket and it was not stage money. In profit he has another fortune. Mr. Fatten has made a lot of money in this wheat campaign. It is already has gone down into his pocket and it was not stage money. In profit he has another fortune. Mr. Fatten will come out of this campaign with a net profit of many hundreds of thousands of dollars ahead of the game.

JUDGMENT THE KEY.

In that word "judgment" probably more than in any other in the Bible, it is the faculty that has for long time distinguished the Evanston men from the big operators of the past. After he had successfully tried to an issue several battles in a row and a corn there was the old cry "hook" so consistent, was his single venture, however, that the result finally came to think it was more matter of judgment than chance. Mr. Fatten, whether fairly or unfairly, has earned recognition as a man of judgment who manages to reach a vast point where he can survey a wide view of the wheat fields and granaries of a single sweep than any other man is able to do this partly because of his source of information is so well gained and because he has so many shrewd scouts keeping vigil over the sources of supply. Supplementing the system of reports from a small array of trusted lieutenants is the fact that he has a very wide knowledge of the formation that reaches him from the Dakotas, Kansas, Argentine, Australia, Europe—wherever wheat is grown. He sits in his office and the conclusions. On these he acts, none is quicker than he to shift position if he persuades himself that he is wrong.

BETTER AND FERTILIZERS

Subject Thoroughly Suggested Appointed Horticulturist to

PRERIDICTON, N. B., April 24.—The agricultural committee held another enthusiastic session this morning. Chairman Dickson presiding. Col. Sheridan desired information regarding artificial fertilizers and the action of fertilizers upon the soil. He knew something of the action of the soil and how it left the soil in a barren and unproductive state. He knew that mangel seed was a real benefit to the soil and left it in good shape. Mr. Pinder said his experience was that fertilizer assisted to produce crops and was specially valuable.

PATTEN KNOWS STORY OF WHEAT FROM A TO Z

Born and Reared in Illinois --- Canadians Said to Have Profited by His Manipulations --- Men Handling the Heavy Guns on the Other Side Said to Easterners of Wealth.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 28.—James A. Patten said three months ago that May wheat would go to $1.25 in the Chicago market. Before he announced this into the market in a big way on his prophecy he had been quietly getting his theory. His forecast has come to pass. Top figures for May in this market have been considerably beyond the mark set by the quiet, businesslike man from the quiet, classic suburb of Evanston.

Mr. Patten has made a lot of money in this wheat market. His money has already gone down into his pocket, and it was not stage money. In paper profits he has another fortune, which may or may not be elusive. In any event, matters have progressed so far that the trade has satisfied itself that Mr. Patten will come out of his campaign many hundreds of thousands of dollars ahead of the game. Wherefore the quiet, businesslike man has been crowned "wheat king," the coronation being conducted by certain game loving sports who hang over the grain rail in the Board of Trade building and watched the mob below howling while the price of May wheat was passing the $1.25 mark.

Mr. Patten, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, was not very much interested in this particular proceeding. He would rather be called a successful operator than a "wheat king." He does not care to be classified in the list of plunders who try to "corner" grain. Indeed, he stakes his own money on the market, and especially he does not care to be classified in the list of plunders who try to "corner" grain. Indeed, he stakes his own money on the market, and especially he does not care to be classified in the list of plunders who try to "corner" grain.

In this opinion Mr. Patten has at least been consistent throughout this campaign. Last fall he said wheat would be scarce and hard to get before the new crop was ready to harvest. He reiterated the prophecy at the beginning of this year and he has kept harping on it ever since. If he did not really believe what he was saying the grain trade stands ready to admit he is one of the best actors who ever came into the spotlight. When the current season temporarily turned against him he sat at his ease in his office, coolly watching the game on his desk and declared his judgment would be vindicated.

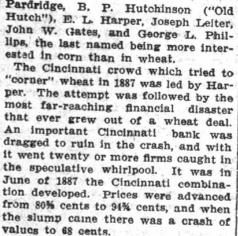

JUDGMENT THE KEY.

In that word "judgment" probably more than in any other is the Patten key. It is the faculty that has for a long time distinguished the Evanston man from the big operators of the past. After he had successfully carried to an issue several battles in oats and corn there was the old cry of "luck." So consistent was his winning ventures, however, that the trade finally came to think it was more a matter of judgment than of luck. Mr. Patten, whether fairly or unfairly, has earned recognition as a market student who manages to reach a vantage point where he can survey more of the wheat fields and granaries at a single sweep than any other man. He is able to do this partly because his source of information is so well organized and because he has so many shrewd scouts keeping vigil over the sources of supply. Supplementing this system of reports from a small army of trusted lieutenants is the Patten faculty for putting a value on the information that reaches him from the Dakotas, Kansas, Argentine, Australia, Europe—wherever wheat grows or is produced. On these he acts, and none is quicker than he to shift position if he perceives himself that he is wrong.

There have been some memorable wheat campaigns conducted from Chicago as headquarters. In most cases the leading manipulators have been "stuns" hard. Some have amassed fortunes only to lose them later. Familiar names in the list of so-called plunders are Edward Partridge, C. W.

JOSEPH LEITER.

JOHN W. GATES.

Partridge, E. P. Hutchinson ("Old Hutch"), E. L. Harper, Joseph Leiter, John W. Gates, and George L. Phillips, the last named being more interested in corn than in wheat. The Cincinnati crowd which tried to "corner" wheat in 1887 was led by Harper. The attempt was followed by the most far-reaching financial disaster that ever grew out of a wheat deal. An important Cincinnati combination was dragged to ruin in the crash, and with it went twenty or more firms caught in the whirlwind. It was in June of 1887 that the Cincinnati combination developed. Prices were advanced from 80¢ cents to 94¢ cents, and when the slump came there was a crash of values to 68 cents.

On January 1 May wheat sold at $1.07 and on the last day of that month it was only one-half cent higher. Up to that time receipts at Western primary centres had been much in excess of those of the like period the year before. Argentina and Australia, by that time had demonstrated that they had a lot of wheat to ship. But Mr. Patten was not disturbed by this apparent world showing. Steadfast in his convictions, he stood the time of stress like a knight of old, clothed in the impregnable mail of his faith, which faith was rooted in the carefulness of his calculations.

There was enough in the domestic situation, he said, to warrant the price prevailing. Production of wheat had not kept pace with the increase of population and demand at home. The prevailing price of wheat had advanced. He had information from the winter wheat area which convinced him the next harvest would be late, even if it were unusually satisfactory to the farmer. That meant, according to his presentation of the case, that the demand for last year's wheat must be carried over into a new crop month. Above all, he declared with emphasis, wheat in this country was scarce, despite the government report and bearing the contrary. In proof of this he pointed out that millers in Kansas and elsewhere were actually paying a big premium over the May price for cash wheat for their daily use in grinding. How far this argument is sound the trade must decide for itself, but the price results to date posed his face into "poker serenity" and began to take the public into his confidence on his theory of the future of the market. Prices had dropped to $1.04 before December was over. They in January there was little promise in the deal, so far as the general speculative public was concerned. Argentina had demonstrated that she had a lot of wheat to ship. But Mr. Patten was not disturbed by this apparent world showing. Steadfast in his convictions, he stood the time of stress like a knight of old, clothed in the impregnable mail of his faith, which faith was rooted in the carefulness of his calculations.

QUESTION OF DEMAND.

There was enough in the domestic situation, he said, to warrant the price prevailing. Production of wheat had not kept pace with the increase of population and demand at home. The prevailing price of wheat had advanced. He had information from the winter wheat area which convinced him the next harvest would be late, even if it were unusually satisfactory to the farmer. That meant, according to his presentation of the case, that the demand for last year's wheat must be carried over into a new crop month. beat out the Patten forecasts and go their several better. Popular imagination has credited Mr. Patten with holding as high as 300,000 bushels of May wheat. In an authorized interview published Thursday in the Herald he gives assurance he never has held 100,000 bushels at one time. The fanciful figures of the pit observer are, perhaps, natural. The transactions in Chicago have been on a tremendous scale since the first of the year, and as is almost the case the buying of the leading bulls impressed itself on the public mind more deeply than the simultaneous selling. Estimates of the profits to date, of what they promise to be, are purely conjectural. Volunteer statisticians can marshal the figures to make the harvest of gold anywhere from $1,000,000 to 5,000,000.

It is a fact worth bearing in mind that Mr. Patten is not yet out of the market, although he announces he is getting out as fast as he can. "And when I am out," he said, "wheat will go still higher. Why do I think so? Because millers want wheat and can't get it. In Portland wheat is virtually as high as it is in Chicago. It is high in Winnipeg and Buenos Ayres. No wheat here is making money. It is in those countries. The law of supply and demand is in force, that's all." Among those said to have profited by his manipulation are the Patten brothers, Charles E. Lewis, of Minneapolis; John T. Milliken, of St. Louis; B. C. Christopher, of Kansas City; William Carruthers, of Montreal; and F. W. Thompson of the Ogilvie Milling Company. Popular belief has it that the man handling the heavy guns on the other side are Easterners of wealth who can afford to lose and are willing to lose for the sake of the game.

HE KNOWS WHEAT.

One of the things contributing to the success of Mr. Patten is that he was born and reared in Illinois. He knows the story of wheat from the time it is put in the ground until it is distributed to the world in the shape of flour. He was born in De Kalb County, this state, and on the eighth day of next month, he will be fifty-seven years old. His father, Alexander Patten, was the proprietor of a general store in Jo Daviess County, on an old stage road. He had a good trade and was thrifty, but when the Burlington Railroad came alongside his little country plant things changed and he took his family to Sandwich, Ill. Here the boy "Patten" had his early schooling. Later he entered Northwestern Academy at Evanston and remained in that institution two years. While in Evanston he had lived at the home of his uncle, Governor Beveridge, who helped him on the way with his books. After that it was the great school of practical experience for the young man.

Young Patten hired out to a storekeeper at Sandwich at $25 a month. Out of this he paid his board and bought his clothes. In the year he saved a few dollars and changed his job for a new one worth $40 a month. That year he saved $100, an achievement he tells with more pride than any of his grain coups.

In 1874, by appointment of his uncle, he became a state grain inspector and continued at the job four years. It was while thus engaged he supplemented his boyhood knowledge of what was farm production with an expert knowledge of wheat as a commercial proposition. The subject interested him so greatly that he gave up a $1,000 place for one in a Board of Trade firm that paid him $1 a week. He had figured things out and cast up the prospects much as he does in his grain deals today.

Later he became associated with his brother George, and the firm did a shipping business to the Eastern trade. George Patten became ill and the partnership was dissolved. James became a sole owner and manager at the same time of an elevator concern. In 1893 he joined the firm of Bartlett, Frazer & Carrington, possibly the most extensive grain commission concern in the country. Last July the firm became Bartlett & Patten.

He does other worthy charitable, religious and educational institutions near home in the Presbyterian church he passes the collection plates with as much appearance of "at home" as when he walks into his office in the Western Union building with a huge cigar in his mouth.

He believes in recreation, and when the humor strikes him he goes fishing or hunting, or possibly travelling abroad. The woods of Northern Wisconsin have a fascination for him, and frequently he responds to this call of the wild. Of course, he owns a touring car and runs about, but for downright pleasure he would rather get on a favorite horse and take a canter up along the lake shore.

The Patten home, in Evanston, is a handsome stone pile, which cost something like $250,000. Here has a fine and well selected library. Instead of sleeping in the roomy chambers of his mansion, it is said, he prefers winter and summer to sleep in a canvas tent in the open air, where he can find mental and physical refreshment for the tasks of the next day. Wherever he goes he is good-natured, optimistic, democratic, alert and "on the job." He belongs in Chicago and Evanston to the Union League, Glen View, Polo and Evanston clubs. He is married and is the father of three children.

In his office he is serenely personified. No casual visitor there would expect a second, even in the most excited periods on the Board of Trade, a half block away. The Patten unusual was going on affecting the Patten mind of millions. The man seems out-of-proof in all he does. He never drinks, dissipates or gambles. He eats well, sleeps well, and his mind is always clear. That is believed to be one of the elements in his success.

He does not know anything about Mr. Patten's business affairs, says Mr. Patten. "He does not bring them home from his office. I only know that he is a devoted husband and that our home life is what we like to have it."

The "wheat king" is little given to talking of himself or his business. He says he is firmly of the opinion that a man must be thoroughly honest and above board to win real success, that he must abide invariably by his promise and deal justly with his fellows in business. He believes he has the right to look every man in the face and say he has "been on the square."

"There is speculation in the grain business, of course," he said. "It is the element of chance and hence speculation in all business. I have no present intention of getting out of the business. I like what I am doing and I have made a living at it ever since I began as a grain inspector. I believe a man who becomes well to do should spend some of his money for the good of others but I am also of the opinion that indiscriminate charity is very unwise and harmful. It is a vicious habit, those deserving of it needing help."

Mrs. Patten does not care for society, as it is understood from the newspaper columns. She is an enthusiastic member of the Evanston Woman's Club and is especially interested in the doing and throwing of Northwestern University. Once a year the Patten mansion is held open for reception to the students. These occasions are made a "clearing" for new acquaintances and are counted among the most desirable social functions of the school year.

The Patten story would not be complete without mention of George Patten, a brother, who is a part of the Patten household in Evanston. George Patten is quite as shrewd a student of grain situations as his more fully discussed brother. He helps map out the line of action and his counsel is invariably sought at crucial times. He has rendered great service to the wheat dealer by figuring out means of preventing a runaway market and such prices as would make Chicago the target for the wheat of the nation.

BETTER AND CHEAPER FERTILIZERS REQUIRED

Subject Thoroughly Discussed Saturday—Suggested Appointment of Provincial Horticulturist to Promote Fruit Raising

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 24.—The agricultural committee held another enthusiastic session this morning. Col. Sheridan presided. The subject of fertilizers was discussed. It was suggested that a provincial horticulturist be appointed to promote fruit raising.

Mr. Pinder, at the request of Mr. Sheridan, told in detail of his method of manufacturing fertilizer at home. Mr. Dickson suggested that it would be a splendid idea to have Mr. Pinder's methods and experience printed for general distribution for information of the farmers of the province. Mr. Woods approved of the suggestion and instanced the value of instruction issued by the department for mixing and application of the Bordeaux mixture. Mr. C. M. Leger thought the resolution one of the most important to the farmers that had been before the committee. He knew of successful farmers who were manufacturing fertilizers used on their farms at a cost of about $10 a ton, whereas good commercial fertilizers sell at $20 a ton. Deputy Commissioner Peters told of the action of various kinds of fertilizers, phosphate, gypsum, etc., upon the soil. Some general discussion took place on the subject of fruit growing participated in by all present. Mr. Allan moved the following resolution: "Whereas it has been demonstrated that apples and various other fruits can be profitably grown in many parts of the province, and, whereas experts of wide experience state there is a larger area of apple growing territory in New Brunswick than in Nova Scotia therefore

Resolved that in the opinion of this committee this important industry should be developed and as a first step towards securing this development, a provincial horticulturist should be appointed."

Deputy Commissioner Peters doubted the wisdom of the resolution. The department was doing all possible with the means at its disposal and was carrying on a beneficial work of education. It would take a much larger appropriation to do all that the department would like to do.

Mr. Woods said that the trouble was that the department had not asked for nor received a large enough appropriation. Mr. Dickson believed that it was necessary to employ a specialist to accomplish what was intended to get the committee should point out to the farmers the needs of agriculture and it was for the department to get the money from the House. Other departments did not hesitate to make their requirements known. The resolution was discussed by Mr. Woods, Mr. Allan, Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Pinder and unanimously adopted. The committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

FOLLOWED ABROAD, LATER ARRESTED

Paul S. Lesser, of Winnipeg Taken Into Custody on the Adriatic

NEW YORK, April 25.—Followed to England by a fellow employe, Paul S. Lesser, twenty-five years old, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, who arrived yesterday in the second cabin of the Adriatic of the White Star line, was arrested on the arrival of the liner in Juarantine. Lesser is charged with the embezzlement of $1,500 from a firm by which he was employed in Winnipeg. His alleged shortage was discovered after he had left several months ago to join his wife, who had gone to England to claim an inheritance.

Lesser travelled under the name of P. La Salle, but was quickly found by Deputy United States marshals and LEUTENANT PRICE OF THE DETECTIVE BUREAU, WHO ACCOMPANIED HIM. HE ACKNOWLEDGED HIS NAME BUT DENIED THAT HE WAS GUILTY OF ANY EMBEZZLEMENT. HE WAS TAKEN TO POLICE HEADQUARTERS TO AWAIT EXTRADITION PAPERS WHICH ARE TO BE SENT FROM CANADA.

REGINALD TROWEN, SON OF THE FORMER PUBLIC PROSECUTOR OF WINNEPEG AND A FELLOW EMPLOYE OF LESSER, FOLLOWED HIM FROM WINNEPEG TO THIS CITY, TO LONDON AND TO CITIES ON THE CONTINENT, AND FINALLY CALLED THE INFORMATION WHICH RESULTED IN LESSER'S ARREST.

IN ARGENTINA NOW

VALPARAISO, Chile, via Galveston, Texas, April 25.—It is rumored in usually well-informed circles here that Dr. Roque Saenz Pena is elected president of Argentina. The Chilean government will negotiate a defensive treaty with Brazil, as peace would be seriously menaced should he ascend to power. Dr. Saenz Pena is an Argentine subject, but was a Peruvian general and was taken prisoner by the Chileans in the storming of Arica in the late war with turbulent Peru. The government has granted leave of absence to the Chilean general at Callao, instructing him to return home as soon as possible.

GARRISON SURRENDERS; CONSTITUTIONALISTS ARE NOW IN FULL CONTROL

LONDON, April 25.—The Daily Telegraph's Vienna correspondent sends the report that the Sultan has taken over the palace by force at a late hour tonight, and that Mohammed Reshad Effendi was installed in his place.

Special dispatch says that few of the inhabitants of Constantinople are aware of how dangerous a crisis was passed through last week, while the army was in the hands of the military officers. It is stated that the military officers clamored for money and threatened to attack and loot the European quarter. In view of the urgent need the government succeeded in borrowing $1,000,000 and was able to pacify the men.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25.—The Yildiz garrison surrendered today to the Constitutional forces. The commanders of these battalions began sending in their submission to Mahmud Scheffer Pasha last night and the whole of the troops protecting the palace gave their formal and unconditional surrender shortly after dawn. Niaz Bey, who is called the hero of the July revolution, is now in command of the garrison.

Sultan Abdul Hamid has been permitted to remain within the walls of the Yildiz Kiosk, where yesterday with his ministers, he awaited the outcome of the struggle between his loyal troops and the army of investment, each hour bringing to him word of a fresh disaster. It has been stated, since victory rested with the Constitutionalists, that the Sultan himself gave orders to his men not to resist. Whether or not this is true, it can be safely said of the troops within, the capital that they made a stubborn resistance at all points and the casualties on both sides are exceedingly heavy for the length of time the engagement was in progress.

ADJUDICATE INQUIRY. A representative of the commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalists, is authorized for saying that the Sultan will be dealt with by the parliament and that there will be an adequate inquiry into the sovereign's alleged complicity in the recent mutiny. Up to the present the ministry has not disclosed, but Constantinople and a number of other places have been declared in a state of martial law. The streets and while there is uneasiness among the people, order has been maintained with a strict hand. The last garrison to surrender was the Selimieh artillery barracks in Scutari opposite Stamboul. Four thousand stationed there with a hundred guns, threatened to blow the city into ruins, but today General Behar ordered sixty big guns and several batteries of machine guns to positions which commanded the barracks and the cruiser Medjed steamed off to sea. The troops of the other garrisons already have been treated and made temporary prisoners without arms.

REPORT OF BOMBARDMENT. The report of the coming bombardment of the city, causing great uneasiness. In the forenoon the ferries being used to transfer infantry and artillery to the opposite side. Sixty guns were placed in position and trained on the barracks and several batteries of machine guns were brought into position. The harbor steamed out of range of the field pieces, but closed down when she reached a distance where her guns could be fired. When everything was ready another demand was made for the surrender of the Selimieh artillerymen, accompanied by the infantry and artillery, as useless for them to engage against odds, particularly since the Sultan had himself consented to the troops of the palace yielding to the Constitutionalists. The barracks late in the afternoon agreed to the surrender, and the shifting of the garrison probably will begin tomorrow without a shot being fired.

QUARTER ASPECT. Following yesterday's fighting, the city took on an aspect of strange quiet toward evening. There was some fear that there would be further fighting during the night, for the forces of General Scheffer were strongly posted round the palace. But beyond a few scattering shots there was nothing to disturb the peace of the city. The investing troops were reinforced, however, in the fear that the Yildiz garrison would remain loyal to the Sultan and continue the struggle to the end. Fortunately the officers in command of these soldiers saw the hopelessness of resistance and there was no opposition when various commanders laid down their arms and gave over their detachments to the sternly-attached "Army of Liberty."

SCORES OF THOUSANDS OF CHRISTIANS SLAIN; 15,000 IN ADANA ALONE

BEIRUT, April 25.—The situation in Asiatic Turkey is one of extreme gravity. How many thousands have been massacred cannot even be estimated, because the disturbances have been so widespread that it is impossible to secure details of the happenings during the past ten days. The latest estimates of the number killed in the vilayet of Adana reaches approximately 25,000 in the towns of other districts. The state of siege which several of the places are under, has had the effect of despair to the verge of starvation and death. The ill-treatment of the Christians has been such that they have been driven from their homes and are now in the hands of the Turkish soldiers, who are being used as a means of retaliation against the Christians.

CONFIRMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED OF THE burning of the Armenian village of Kessab. All the men and many women and children have been slain. The American property of Kessab was destroyed. Miss Chambers, an American missionary, is safe. A British warship has been ordered from Alexandria to Swedish, where conditions have become worse. All the property of the Christians at Deje-Berda has been destroyed. The loss is unknown but it will be enormous. Reports state that Hadjin, in the vilayet of Adana, is on fire. There are five American women quartered here, including Miss Lambert, who has been sent out on appeal for help. Miss Virginia A. Billings and Miss Bowman. The authorities have refused permission to Messrs. Lawson and Chambers, also American missionaries, to go to their relief. Frantic appeals for protection and for food are coming in from all sections. PREMIER HAZE PLANS A CERRYMANDER ACT FOR WESTMORLAND

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 25.—The legislature might not now propose nearly as soon as was expected, judging from proceedings in the House yesterday, and it may be difficult to wind up at the end of the week. Two motions of want of confidence, one by Mr. Copp and the other by Mr. Robinson, of which due notice was given on Saturday, add considerable to the programme of these mean a big debate. The first motion comes up Monday afternoon, and as it is said no adjournment will be allowed. This means a very late or all night session.

He wished the house to understand that he did not make a practice of repudiating any statements he made in the house. Neither was he given to the practice of making reckless statements in his official reports to the house. He felt somewhat flattered the other day at the attention given to his remarks by members of the house. He did not repudiate any statement he had made, but he would not assume responsibility for the unfair and unjust statements that are sent out in official reports of the speeches of members.

PARTY VOTE ON POLL TAX; MR. McMULLEN CLAIMS TWO HIGHWAY POLICIES

FREDERICTON, April 28.—The legislature had a lively session both this afternoon and evening, and the amendment called for several divisions and fought the legislation before the house with all their power.

The St. John Assessment Act was the first to be brought forward. It was introduced by Mr. McLean and moved to be placed at 10 o'clock.

The Highway Act was next taken up for its third reading, and the amendments were made by the opposition and the vote taken on the amendments was as follows:

The bill to amend the act relating to the construction of buildings in the city of St. John was read a third time and passed.

On motion for the third reading of the bill relating to civil servants in St. John, Mr. McLean moved that it be referred back to the committee to fix the poll tax on incomes less than $300 at 3¢.

The house went into committee to consider the bill to amend the act relating to school districts, and the amendments were made by the opposition.

Mr. Wilson said that when the bill came before the house he took the same stand as that now taken by the hon. member for the county of St. John (Lebanon).

STAUNTON SPEAKS OUT Judge Grants Writ of Certiorari—Will Delay Inquest

TORONTO, April 26.—Before Justice Teetzel, in chambers, this morning, George Lynch, Staunton, K.S., of Hamilton, moved for a writ of certiorari to bring up a warrant of commitment for contempt of court issued by Coroner Anderson, M. D., for forcing Kinrade, M. D., to return to court on Wednesday before the divisional court.

Staunton argued that the coroner's court was not a common law court, but purely a statutory court. He claimed the extent of the coroner's power by statute was to summon witnesses, not to subpoena, and to fine delinquent witnesses. He said that while the law of England was introduced into this country, the courts of England were not. He knew of no law in England empowering the coroner to issue a warrant or for executing a warrant outside of his jurisdiction.

Staunton criticized the request. "This young woman was brought into court at 8 o'clock and kept till three in the morning. She was examined upon not only her case, but upon every conceivable thing about the night before her how she slept the night before. Then they brought her in again and kept her on the stand from 4 till 8 o'clock. At the end of this time he charged her with the murder," most dramatically," as a newspaper said.

No language can describe the infamy of this procedure.

The family was subjected to questions which should make the questioner ashamed to show his face in a court room again. He cast aspersions upon every member of the family and tried to undermine their reputation. I have not met a counsel in Ontario who has not condemned the methods of the crown counsel in the most pronounced form.

"They did everything in their power to break this girl up. If there is anything left of her, it is because of the way she was treated. He kept at her till 3 o'clock in the morning, and then again for four more hours to try to break her down, and then he accused her of the murder.

"Counsel in this civilized country accuse a girl of 27 years of age of murdering her own sister. He asks her feeble as possible and then threatens her to get her to say she murdered her sister. If the wings of justice are badly broken, it is because of this case. Then justice in Canada has been dragged in the mud.

"The girl is sitting on this bench with her hands tied. This is not the license of counsel. It is the license of a man who has yet to meet a proceeding in most unimpeachable terms. The attitude of counsel engaged in private. There is no necessity for making a theatrical spectacle out of it.

Justice Teetzel interrupted Staunton. "There is no reason why the case should be discussed this way. Nothing can be gained by the learned counsel reproaching counsel on the other side. The attitude of counsel engaged in private representative in a case like this should not be confined perhaps to the limits of sensibilities of himself or witness for a moment. It may be necessary, perhaps, to answer questions that are harrowing to the witness and members of family. I cannot say that counsel should be asked questions that were outside the line of his duty to the public."

"But he made charges," said Staunton. "He made a charge of murder against this girl and then recalled her to give evidence. There is no doubt this case should be probed to the bottom, but I submit that it should not be done this way."

Judge Teetzel for crown submitted that it was all regular.

"Judge Teetzel—I never heard of a motion being made to quash a warrant before it was executed, but there may have been cases. It does not seem that I have power to pass upon this matter. Warrant is not before me. It is not here. Subject to common consent I would prefer to return to a divisional court. My decision would probably not be satisfactory to either party.

His lordship then gave his decision: "I direct that the writ of certiorari should be issued, reserving all objections offered by the crown, returnable to divisional court now sitting. This may mean the adjournment of the inquest at Hamilton, but it cannot be helped."

The writ will be returnable to the divisional court Wednesday. His lordship directed that the warrant for Miss Kinrade's arrest, together with a copy of the evidence given by Detective Miller, which led to the warrant, being issued, be filed with the registrar of the divisional court.

Justice Teetzel stated that the inquest would not be proceeded with unless the crown could call Miss Florence Kinrade as a witness.

Staunton says he will apply to the court for an injunction to prevent the newspapers publishing Miss Kinrade's picture.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Glorious weather prevailed during the day of the encaenia week, which marks the close of the college year at Kings. Large numbers turned out to hear the bacca-laureate sermon in the college chapel. Rex, George R. Martel, M. A., of All Windsor, was the preacher and delivered a truly eloquent sermon. The beautiful Hensley Memorial chapel was crowded to the doors by the expected people eager to hear this gifted preacher. The chapel looked extremely pretty with its delightful decorations of cut flowers and plants. The music was of a high order. The service was read by the Rev. T. H. Hunt, M. HEALING CLUB.

The annual meeting and dinner of the Healing Club took place in the evening and was certainly the greatest success in the history of the club. Much credit is due M. K. Parlee, the efficient secretary, for the delightful and successful programme of the evening was as follows:

A paper by the Rev. Neil Herman, B. S., D., on the place of the University Man in a Nation. The Rev. N. Herman is always listened to with profound respect and his paper was well received. The best. Francis Walker sang of his usual exquisite tenor. L. A. Forsythe rendered in his witty and graceful style the poem of the late Dr. Drummond's French-Canadian. Mr. Forsythe has often been heard with great pleasure, but on Monday he surpassed all expectations. Hon. Justice Longley, of the Kings College, who presided at the dinner, presided at the dinner. The learned Justice is too well known all over Canada for his wit and eloquence to require further commendation here.

Gerald Bullock, B.A., well known to all Kings men as "the sweetest singer of college songs," favored the club with a charming selection. L. Der. Chipman gave a short reading from Kipling's Barrack Room Ballad.

Rev. C. W. Vernon M.A., B.A., the talented editor of Church World, delivered an able and carefully prepared paper.

After the formal part of the evening the guests adjourned to the "commons hall" at three o'clock for a supper and repeat provided by caterer M. Edouard D. Andouilly.

Those Seven Aldermen Still Out

Legislature May Adjourn Before Case is Settled

MONTREAL, April 26.—The seven Montreal aldermen unseated and disqualified by the court of review are getting a great deal more law than they desired these days. When the decision of the court was announced at once entered an appeal to the court of appeal, though the statutes plainly forbid that such an appeal should be made for a while longer. In the meantime application was made to the legislature for an act reading the decision of the court out of existence on the condition that the aldermen secured re-election from their constituents. The legislature was found willing to do this, but to the horror of the aldermen, the court of appeal decided this afternoon that the issues at stake were broader than that of quo warranto, and that the right of appeal did exist. The result of this decision is that the legislature will hold that the case is still sub judice, and that it is not for it to interfere. By the time the court sits the legislature will have adjourned, and so if the court decided against them the aldermen will have to go through the rigors of the law instead of having their sin wiped out by the legislature.

G. K. CHESTERTON'S VIEW OF THE WAR SCARE

(The Graphic)

Everyone is taking just now about machines of death made out of steel and iron. People whisper in a panic-stricken way that Germany is building ironclads of the size of small islands; and one can almost fancy that the sun is darkened at noon with flying ships, like a flight of iron birds. I have my doubts about both the moral and the military value of this sort of imagination. Machinery is only armor, and armor is only clothing; and urban dandies will suffice to show that it is no good to have clothes if you do not calculate them carefully, so as to repel the shafts and bullets of the enemy. And this making of helmets and breast plates was a very stupid thing to do in the days of the Middle Ages. It was a very stupid thing to do in the days of the Middle Ages. It was a very stupid thing to do in the days of the Middle Ages.

Still, these fears were kept within the four corners of dignity. I absolutely refuse to believe that any English gentleman at the time of Crecy ever shrieked at the top of his voice: "Nine more new visors for the Knights of Aquitaine!" or "Seven more barbary horses seen in Gascony!" or "French Government still buying national competition, and the advisers of a nation said: 'Remember that you have to meet the steel coats of Milan,' or 'Remember that your enemies have admirable blades from Damascus.'"

Jordan listened to the medical testimony today which dealt with certain bruises found on the arm and blood stains on the flat iron with which, it is claimed, he killed his wife.

PRINCIPAL WITNESSES.

The two principal witnesses were Medical Examiner George H. McGrath and Dr. Leary of Tufts College, who assisted. The deductions of these two experts will be reviewed later by Dr. Pratt, the government expert pathologist for the defense and the instructor in the medical school of both Dr. McGrath and Dr. Leary.

Dr. McGrath has already figured in the trial, although not as yet as a witness. Saturday all the government exhibits were turned over to him for examination, and the cross-examination of the defense and the prosecution conducted today after the lawyers for the defense had learned of the results of his researches.

It is expected that the main points upon which the defense hopes to clear the young man of the terrible charge will be outlined by Attorney Harvey H. Pratt at the opening of the trial tomorrow.

That is the obvious difference between the medieval Englishman and the modern. He talked of contending against a German knight, not against a German lance. Nor would he have been scared if you had told him that German lances were growing longer and longer and that whereas ten years ago a German lance was forty feet long, it was now two hundred and forty feet long, and would soon be a mile long. He would deny that this was any reason for his really being afraid of the German knight—a degree of degradation which he would, indeed, have refused altogether to discuss. He would have denied it for two very forcible reasons, both of which are in their turn worth consideration at the present time.

He would have denied it, first, because his common-sense would have told him that the mere elongation of lances, at enormous expense and without any reference to the swift accents of battle, was a piece of chumpishness and stupidity in the more art of war. It would be much more worth while to teach a lance number of healthy men to manage a short lance than to teach a few acrobats to manage a partially a long lance that could not really be managed. And while a lengthy spear might be likely to strike an enemy, it would be much worse than useless if it did not strike him at all; as he would simply sit smiling with a spiked lance in his hand until the monotonous lengths of timber had gone by him.

Now, the average citizen is not an expert either upon lances or battleships. He cannot know much about the subject, but he can (I think) know a good deal about the expert. The good citizen possesses a sense of smell, given to him by God, like that of the dog; he has, in a mystical way, a nose for nonsense. And he smells something wrong when people go on talking

There is any affection or institution or creed on which we can combine—that is increasingly the question. It is our dreadful condition that we agree too much on all the things in which we ought to disagree—motives, reasons, and beliefs. In the things of life and love we are separated; in the things of death and blood we imitate each other. In a hasty existence the inmost thing should be secure, but the outer gestures energetic and varied. But with modern Europe it is the inmost that is heavy and the heart that has unrest.

In Letter He Testifies Made by Jaile

PREDEBITION, April 26.—The following letter recently received from Sheriff J. B. Hawthorn from Sheriff Frederick, N. B., April 24th, 1929.

John B. Hawthorn, Esq.:

Dear Sir:—It is well known that during the long time you have held the position of jailer of York county you have most faithfully and efficiently discharged the duties of that position. The jail and premises have been kept in the best of order, and the prisoners committed to your custody were treated with all the kindness and consideration possible under the circumstances.

I made an inspection of the jail in Friday-ville, and an great deal to state that I found the building in perfect order, all the rooms show the best of care, and were neat, clean and wholesome. The manner in which Sheriff Hawthorn and yourself have kept the jail during all the years you have had charge, and under what at times must have been trying conditions, most commendable.

I may add, as high sheriff of the county, I am responsible as long as you hold that position, for the officials in management of the jail, and that I notice you received on the 13th last, a disapproving with your services as jailer, giving you notice to quit the 26th inst.

Yours truly,
Frederick, N. B.

PREDEBITION, N. B., April 27.—The public accounts committee occupied the entire morning of this date in the bill in connection with the public works department, under the heading of "Bridges." Chief Commissioner Morley was the mover of the bill. The bill shows that he had always been the custom to charge under repairs such articles as axes, shovels, peevies, tools and many other things to the maintenance of bridges. The idea, what had become of what was supplied, and he was strong in his language in condemnation of such a system.

The chief also criticized the high price paid for lumber and regarded certain work done, said it was over 100 cents more than was paid for lumber. He said the bridge contractor's bill were criticized at length. In the case of the Shearbridge, Kent county, a statement showed that Haines had received $200 in advance to procure articles. His bill showed but one expenditure of $157. The commission said, Mr. Haines' attention had been called to the matter and that this morning he had returned the balance. The chief said that he did not think that the articles that came to his notice amounted to more than a few dollars.

There is not a Trace of Opium or Morphine in "Father Morriory's No. 10" (Lung Tonic).

A cough is merely a symptom of an irritated, inflamed or diseased condition of the air passages or the lungs themselves.

Many cough mixtures are simply preparations containing enough opium, morphine or similar drugs to deaden the irritation. They relieve the cough but they do not remove the unhealthy condition that caused it. Moreover, such medicine containing morphine or opium is unsafe unless prescribed by a competent physician.

"Father Morriory's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) contains absolutely no drugs of this character. It relieves a cough by removing the cause.

Made of Roots, Barks and Balsams, Nature's own remedies, it clears the mucus from the passages, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane, and strengthens the lungs and whole system so that they can throw off the cause of the cough.
