

DILEMMA

Man's Hired Pen than His Sword

Affair of a Recent Mandate in light, Innocently or Otherwise,
a Serious Dilemma.

SAVES THE SITUATION

Would all hands go and join the rebels?
Or would they overturn the Republic and create a new monarchy? Or would they slaughter the writer of the mandate?
That was the set of questions. Such a storm arose that the President was for a time unrecognised. He had not carefully studied the mandate, nor had any of his trusted secretaries. The scholars had it all to themselves, and the President had placed his seal upon it, unsuspecting that it contained a grave charge against his best supporters.

What could he say to the gallant General Wang? He was, once a notorious freedomer in Hunan, now head of the Hoklo Gendarmes?

What explanation could he make to Generals Chang Choh-ching and Feng Lingkio, once zealous leaders of Hingthuen in the provinces of the three Eastern provinces, now distinguished commanders of the 7th and 8th regiments respectively?

Availing the Catastrophe.

The electric light in the atmosphere suggested catastrophe, but it was avoided by a happy accident. The mandate had not yet received permanent registration by being printed in the Gazette proper, and the copies of the lapus calami metemporally flew to the Chinese office to prevent the document, under the unlucky slip to be destroyed and delete the offending phrases.

The twelve characters contained in the intentional charge were replaced by twelve others, and the allusions to the rascals in parliament and the rogues in the army became a statement to the effect that law and discipline had been resisted a rubbish and the official system had become corrupt. That was general enough to fit those who wished to wear the cap, and the Gazette issued promptly next morning offensive only to those leading the Southern campaign.

Liang Chih-shao, the celebrated literature-one who was banished in 1896 with Kang Yu-wei—is said to be the author of these essays, and though he is endeavoring to avoid further success coming to those who are staphily searching for slips made by his able pen, he occasionally gives to them food for amusement.
His last effort, in fact, committed the President to a declaration that when the present trouble is suppressed he will im-poch himself. How he is to do that was not said, but those brave members of the opposition party who have been vainly endeavoring to impeach lesser lights than the President will watch with interest in order to learn the wrinkle which they so far have not been able to pick up.

ANK' OVER 'LOW BROWS'

The chief source of the high degree of resemblance between weak-mindedness and crime probably resides in the fact that the criminal thing which we call criminality is a habit which leads to the perpetration of crimes. If not most, of the antisocial instincts of today, is not inherent wickedness, but natural stupidity, says Dr.
Goring.

Does not find that drink is a cause of crime, except in the cases of violent offenses against the person.

CLOTH FAIR SOON

WILL DISAPPEAR

MODERN Improvement has another bit of the rapidly vanishing old London. This time it is Cloth Fair, near the ancient church of St. Bartholomew the Great, in Smithfield, a district which perhaps more than any other part of the metropolis holds its connection with the past and serves to recall the days when London was a walled city, whose gates were closed at night to keep out the stranger.
A scheme is now on foot to spend $100,000 in erecting a Cloth Fair to replace the old one, and to erect in its place of the fine four-story buildings of the past, creating a storage depot for the accumulation of the most treasured, which were the Smithfield Market.

KIRKBY STEPHEN, County of Westmoreland, England, Sept. 2.— Fifteen persons are believed to have been killed and thirty injured in the famous London-Scotland express early to-day. Official reports accounted for nine known dead, while correspondents on the spot reported that the fatalities numbered fifty.

The wreck occurred on the M-
and Railway near Hawkes Junction, the two sections being southbound.
The second section dashed into the rest of the first telescoping several coaches, which burst into flames.
Many persons were trapped, and inspectively, and the collision between them occurred fifty miles south of that place on a high and lonely moor.
The first section of the train had stopped to get up steam for a stan-up grade when the second section dashed into the rear, piling up the sleeping cars, which were crowded with passengers. Almost immediately afterward several of the cars caught fire, and many of their inmates found it impossible to get out.
Rescuers from farms in the vicinity soon came on the scene, but too late to save many of the passengers.
Nine charred bodies were taken from the wreck, and it was believed that several others were still among the debris. About thirty injured passengers, after receiving first aid from doctors on the spot, were sent on special trains to the Leeds and Carlisle hospitals.

Another disaster occurred near the same spot on December 26, 1910, when eight passengers lost their lives and 25 were injured.

After-Holiday Seance With Police To-Day

Street Railway Men Charged With Speeding—
Other Interesting Cases Heard.

Charged with running their cars contrary to law, Harry Clem-enhagen and Norman McKenzie, motorman and conductor on the Street Railway System, were in police court this morning. When it was admitted that Mr. McKenzie had no control whatever over the speed of the car, the charge against him was withdrawn, while Mr. Clem-enhagen denied the charge and entered a plea of not guilty.

Chief of Police Slemin testified that he had seen the car in question running up Brant avenue and in his opinion the speed was over twenty miles per hour. The chief stated that he had received other complaints regarding the speed of this car and had warned the motorman to run more slowly.

Harry Clemenhagen, the motorman on the car said that he was four minutes behind time on this night, but he did not think that he was running over the limit at the time that the chief saw the car.

Magistrate Livingston expressed the opinion that the street railway company should re-arrange its schedule so that the motorman would not have to run at excessive speed to keep within schedule. He found the accused guilty but sentence was suspended with a warning.

Samuel Salter, who said he was only a visitor here was on the carpet charged with stealing a chicken, the property of James Nightingale. Salter said he was drunk and wandered into the shop with no intention of stealing.

Witnesses, however, testified that Salter was not too drunk to put up a fight when he was apprehended, while stealing a fine bird.

The Magistrate was inclined to believe Salter's story that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing and on payment of court costs, amounting to $5.00 sentence was suspended.

On a charge of assault to a chicken,
which arose as a result of Salter's action in plucking the chicken while it was still alive, a fine of $2 and costs was imposed.
Geo. Treleaven and Harry Stewart were charged as vagrants, to which charge they pleaded not guilty. A constable testified that they were seen on the streets at 1.15 o'clock on Sunday morning unable to give a satisfactory account of themselves, and this was sufficient evidence for Magistrate Livingston to convict them and order them out of the city.

Harry Hoag was charged with reckless driving with his automobile. Geo.
Hoag the plaintiff stated that he was driving in a buggy on the Cocksfoot road when he met Hoag's automobile travelling at a fast rate of speed. Witnesses put up his hand to stop but attention was paid to the signal.

Hoag stated that he saw the signal, but not until he was too close to the buggy to stop. Hoag admitted that he was running his car under a wrong number which for a time baffled the police. The number, he said, was taken off another car without the permission of the owner.

A fine of $1.00 and costs, amounting in all to $10.50, was imposed.

Two Hungarians were charged with assault. A plea of not guilty was entered. The complainant stated that defendants owed him money and when he asked for it they knocked him down.

The accused were allowed to go on payment of costs.

Three Hungarians were charged with disorderly conduct and were fined three dollars each.

A colored man by the name of Newton, who had been an ordinan-d minister in the A. M. E. church, was charged with acting in a disorderly manner. The charge arose as the result of an argument that Newton had with members of a colored family in this city, during which he is alleged to have said some very insulting things. The case being trivial was soon disposed of.

A number of holiday drunks were allowed to go with a warning.

MRS. THOMAS WOODYATT DIED SATURDAY NIGHT

Greatly Beloved by Large Number of Friends.

There passed away Saturday evening Mary Kortum Woodyatt, wife of Mr. Thos. Woodyatt, barrister, of this city, at her late residence, 149 Alfred St. The deceased was 53 years old and had not been well during the past two years. She had partially recovered from a serious illness, but one week previous to her death she again became seriously ill and passed away Saturday.

The late Mrs. Woodyatt was a daughter of the late Frederick Kor-tum, architect of Hamilton, where she was born. In 1885 she was married and has resided in the city ever since. The deceased was a member of the Congregational Church.

The greatest sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones in their very sad loss. Besides the husband three sons and one daughter, and a brother and sister are left to mourn the loss.
The sons are James B., of Sherbrooke, Que., Kortum, civil engineer, located near Sudbury; Burnham, attending Trinity College. The daughter, Miss Doreen, is at home. The sister, Mrs. M. W. Simpson of Vancover and the brother, Mr. John T. Kortum of the Township of Townsend, Northfolk Co.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the deceased's residence to Greenwood cemetery. Rev. Mr. Kelly and Venerable Archdeacon MacKenzie officiated.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. R.
Mathison, H. F. Gardner, A. E.
Stanley, Joseph Stratford, W. R.
Turnbull and Thos. Watt.

The services were largely attended and many beautiful floral tributes were received, testifying to the esteem in which the late Mrs. Woodyatt was held.

MRS. JOHN LIND JOHN LIND

John Lind's journey from the capital to Vera Cruz was almost a continual informal reception.
Owing to a mistake in Mexico City the special car ordered for Mr. and Mrs. Lind was not attached to the regular morning train, and President Wilson's representative and wife were passengers on a regular day coach into which were crowded many Mexicans and a few Americans, who, frightened at what they considered a prospect of international troubles, were leaving the capital for foreign countries.

The passengers crowded into the aisles, but at every station Mexicans came aboard the train and shook hands with Mr. Lind, speaking to him in Spanish and expressing pleasure at meeting him.

OVER 3300 BRIGHT SCHOOL CHILDREN WENT BACK TO WORK THIS MORNING

Over 3,200 of the hope of Brantford returned to school this morning. Inspector Kilmer was in a great hustle, but only managed to get around to three schools, the Central, Victoria and Dufferin. At the latter two schools room is reported for more pupils, but Mr. Kilmer states that things are in a bad way at the Central school, where all the pupils could not be accommodated. The principals of each school will report after 4 o'clock to-day the attendance at their respective schools. Last year the total school enrollment was 3,000; this year it may exceed 3,300 and leaves a fine problem for trustees and ratepayers to settle.

ANGLO-AMERICAN AMITY CEMENTED

So Declares British Press in Regard to Haldane's Utterances.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The address of the British Lord high chancellor in Montreal yesterday is published full agree with the editorial prediction that Lord Haldane's utterances will help powerfully to cement Anglo-American amity. The Daily Telegraph says that the historian may some day look back upon it as one of the chief events leading to a new and beneficial relationship between three great peoples, the United Kingdom, the Dominion of Canada and the United States.

The Daily News says:
"A year or two ago an attempt was made to effect a permanent arbitration treaty between this country and the United States. It failed for reasons which we regret; but peace between the English-speaking race rests on a surer basis than any arbitration treaty. It is founded on that common sense to which Lord Haldane referred yesterday and there are abundant signs to-day that the example which the world will bear fruit in still wider spheres.

"If the democracies of Europe are true to themselves the abolition of armament will not be so remote a thing as Lord Haldane seems to suppose."

Machine Somersault
In Air.

VERSAILLES, France, Sept. 2.—
The thrilling manoeuvre of turning a somersault in the air with an aero-plane flying at rapid speed was repeated to-day by the French aviator, Pegoud over the aerodrome at Vic near here, with perfect success.

Pegoud had promised to demonstrate that his performance at Juvisy yesterday was not the result of an accident, but was a proof of proper control and also of the stability of the aeroplane and he carried out the dangerous feat with apparent ease again today in the presence of the second in command of the French army flying corps, about 100 military and civilian aviators and a large assemblage of the general public.

SHOT THE DOCTOR FOR CARELESSNESS

A Tragedy Happened at Cairo
—Insurance Man
Arrested.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 2.—Dr. E. E.
Gordon, a prominent physician of this city was shot and killed last night by Harvey R. Fields, an insurance solicitor. About ten days ago Gordon operated on Fields' mother. Her subsequent death was caused by the physician's carelessness. It was in return for her life that he took that of the doctor, he said.

Immediately after the shooting
Fields surrendered himself to the police.
He is 25 years old and has a wife and child.

Rear End Collision Which
Was Due to Heavy Fog.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2.— Running at a good speed in a thick fog which had rolled in from the Long Island Sound, over the meadows there, the first section of the White Mountain express, due at New York at 7.52 a.m., crashed into the second section of the Bar Harbor express, which had just been standing in a block at North Haven, four miles north of the station here at 6.55 this morning. The engine of the White Mountain express, No. 137, ploughed through the two rear sleepers of the Bar Harbor express and bowed over the third car from the rear. From this last mentioned sleeper seven bodies were later taken. The early death list indicated fifteen. The railroad company, shortly before 10 o'clock, issued a statement to the effect that thirteen persons were known to have been killed and about twenty injured. All accounts agree that there were practically no injured persons on the White Mountain express, and the passengers on it seemed to know very little of the collision until after their train had stopped. The engineer of the White Mountain express stuck to his post and was not badly hurt. The most seriously hurt appeared to have been in the third sleeper, which was thrown over the embankment.

MR. AND MRS. OGILVIE HAVE RETURNED HOME

Trip—An Interview.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ogilvie returned to the city on Sunday evening after an extended tour through England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France and Switzerland. Mr. Ogilvie looks fit and fine and much improved in health and reports a most enjoyable and successful trip. Mr. Ogilvie was one of the Canadian bowlers which made the tour through the British Isles and also a member of the rink that was most successful against the Old Countrymen, winning 18 games and losing 9. Each member of the rink was presented with a souvenir in the shape of a gold watch
fob. "The greens over there," exclaimed Mr. Ogilvie, "are beautiful to behold and a pleasure to play on as they are made of Cumberland turf and as true and level as a billiard table."

Mr. Ogilvie speaks in glowing terms of the hospitality shown the Canadians at all times and places by the bowlers of the Old Land. On Dominion Day, Lord Strathcona, a large amount of purchasing.

Mr. Ogilvie claims that he was very successful in buying on this trip and on the whole the trip was most pleasant and profitable. The return passage was made on the Royal Edward

Mr. O. Mattice is spending a couple of weeks in Toronto and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie, returned to the city through Aime Geoffrion as special representative and demands that steps be taken to bring about his liberation from the Sherbrooke jail, where for two weeks Thaw has defied deportation. His detention was branded as a scandal to the Dominion, the jail was described sarcastically as a "public boarding house." Thaw as one who had boasted that he laughed at outwitting the authorities.

Mr. Geoffrion and Samuel Jacobs representing the state of New York expressed these sentiments before Superior Judge Hutchinson in pressing for an immediate hearing of the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week.
The court conceded their point and arguments were in progress at noon.

If the writ is sustained Thaw may be in the hands of the immigration by night, possibly on his way to the border.

Arguments were concluded at one o'clock, and to the great disappointment of those representing New York, the court reserved its decision. "It is a matter of such grave import," said, "that I would not care to discuss the matter until I had given it careful consideration. Possibly tomorrow I shall announce my decision. I shall notify all counsel."

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 2.—
Through with visitors to the country fair and bathing in a brilliant sun, Sherbrooke was astir early to-day, ready and anxious to take whatever part it might in Harry K. Thaw's second battle in the superior court of St. Francis county. Thaw, resisting liberation from the Sherbrooke jail, last week after a coup of his old enemy William Travers Jerome, was instructed to be ready at 9 o'clock in order that he might be driven to court in a closed carriage.

The authorities were apprehensive lest there be a demonstration in his behalf such as marked the proceedings of Wednesday last, when his lawyers succeeded in withdrawing a writ which they themselves had obtained. For this reason, the scene of to-day's hearing was set in the judge's chambers.

According to an announcement made last night by Judge Hutchinson even reporters were to be barred, but this morning he intimated that at the last moment he might relent in this ruling.

Jerome was up early and had a conference with his Canadian lawyers. He was to take no part in the habeas corpus arguments, having no standing at the Dominion bar. The state's interests were in the hands of Samuel Jacobs, K. C., and Hector Verret, representing the Matteawan prisoners of the criminal insane.

Thaw's lawyers, headed by J. N.
Greenshields, conferred until after midnight. This morning they expressed again their belief that the writ would not be sustained and that New York could not force Thaw out of jail into the hands of the immigration authorities for deportation.

Should the writ be sustained they had mapped out a line of action to contest every inch of the way as it were, to the Vermont border.

The curious, the morbid, the mysteriously sympathetic and the merely idle began trooping toward the court house and congregating about the jail shortly after 8 o'clock. Denied the court proceedings, they seemed determined in any event, at least to see the famous prisoner. Plain clothes detectives, Dominion and Provincial mingled with the throng.
John Lanyon, a private detective from New York, clung close to Jerome. There have been repeated threats by letter and even in bar rooms of attempts on Jerome's life, and Lanyon declared to the case as the prosecutor's special guardian.

Probably two hundred persons waited without the jail to watch Thaw make the trip down to the court house. Just a few minutes before he came out a trunk was carried into the jail and the rumor spread the prisoner was about to be deported.
A hundred cameras clicked as he left, but as they approached the court house the crowd grew in numbers. Outside the main entrance, there were fully 15,000 persons. Several ran up to clap Thaw on the back as he made his way through the crowd but Lafore shoved them forcefully back. Thaw looked ill at ease, the possibility of an early deportation had evidently worried him, and the worry left traces on his face.

Aime Geoffrion, sent personally to represent the prime minister and the attorney-general of the province, Sir Lomer Gouin, reached Sherbrooke today to inquire into the status of the Thaw case. The New York forces hoped that, failing in to-day's court procedure, Geoffrion would see fit to step in for the premier and quash the charge.

Over the violent objection of Thaw's counsel, Judge Hutchinson ordered that the proceedings go on.

If he is not liberated on the writ, Mr. Geoffrion said, "other means will be taken. Thaw must not be harbored in the Canadian jails."

Thaw's face fell and his lawyers, arguing that the writ was irregular, spoke in turn, pleading for adjournment until Friday. "We must go on,"
said the court.

"I represent the attorney-general," said Mr. Geoffrion, "and it is of paramount importance that justice in this case move swiftly. Our jails are not public boarding houses. It is the attorney-general's desire that the case be settled instantly by the liberation of Mr. Thaw. The prisons of the province cannot be used to shield him from the federal law."

Scott's Opinion
"I have no legal right in Canada and I see absolutely nothing else to do," he sent him back to the United States," declared W. D. Scott, superintendent of Canadian immigration, before he left here this morning for Ottawa.

He said he would take up the case immediately upon his arrival. "I am not in touch with the details of the case, but my mind is practically made up that I have but one duty to perform," he asserted. "The question of whether Thaw is insane or has committed a crime need not be considered by me. He did not come into the country at a recognized port of entry and must be sent back."

Asked if the New York authorities would be permitted to take charge of Thaw, the superintendent replied that it would seem most obvious that he should be sent back where the Dominion authorities know he crossed the line.

Willie VanFleet, son of Mr. and suffering from a bullet wound in the right side of his neck. He was playing with some other boys yesterday evening on the street, and in some way one of his playmates discharged a 22-calibre rifle and the bullet lodged in his neck. He was taken to the hospital where Dr. Phillips was successful in extracting the bullet. His case is not considered serious.

Maple Leafs Won Two Games

cessful in winning two games from a team of that town, with Harwood the first game. The Brantford boys hustled away with the bacon to the tune of 11 to 8, while in the second contest, with Harwood on the mound all by himself, the "pickings" were easy, and the score ended 17 to 1. In both struggles the Leafs played an excellent brand of ball, and deserved to win. A feature of both games was the sensational playing of Pierce and Harwood. The batteries were: First

THE SITUATION

The situation in the province of Quebec is a most peculiar one. It is a situation which has arisen from the action of the Governor-General in appointing a new Governor for the province. The Governor-General has appointed a man who is not a native of the province, and who is not a member of the majority party in the legislature. This has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among the people of the province, and has led to a number of disturbances. The Governor-General has tried to explain his action, but he has not been able to do so in a way which is satisfactory to the people. The situation is a most delicate one, and it is to be hoped that it will be resolved in a peaceful manner.

The situation in the province of Quebec is a most peculiar one. It is a situation which has arisen from the action of the Governor-General in appointing a new Governor for the province. The Governor-General has appointed a man who is not a native of the province, and who is not a member of the majority party in the legislature. This has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among the people of the province, and has led to a number of disturbances. The Governor-General has tried to explain his action, but he has not been able to do so in a way which is satisfactory to the people. The situation is a most delicate one, and it is to be hoped that it will be resolved in a peaceful manner.

BAD WRECK REPORTED IN ENGLAND TO-DAY

Fifteen People Killed and Many Injured in Train Wreck—Crash Occurred at Same Spot as Wreck Did Last Year.

(Canadian Press Despatch) KIRKBY, Stephen, Eng. Sept. 2.—Fourteen incinerated bodies all recovered from the wreck of the Scottish express, a large portion of them apparently those of women, as most of the bodies were found with corset steels clinging to the burned flesh. The victims were laid out in a ghastly row on the desolate Aisgold Moor awaiting identification which, in many cases, is difficult, as the means of recognition left by the flames is so scanty.

ARKY STEPHEN, County of Hereford, England, Sept. 2.—Twenty persons are believed to have been killed and thirty persons injured in a collision of two sections of the London-Scotland express early to-day. Official reports issued for the first time known details of the accident on the spot reported the fatalities numbered fifteen. The wreck occurred on the Midland Railway near Hawkes Junction, two sections being southbound, the second section dived into the first telesecoing some 100 feet, which burst into flames. Persons were trapped, and 25 were injured.

After-Holiday Seance With Police To-Day

Street Railway Men Charged With Speeding—Other Interesting Cases Heard.

arged with running their car in a manner contrary to law, Harry Clemens and Norman McKenzie, motorman and conductor on Car No. 36 of the Street Railway, appeared before the Police this morning. When charged that Mr. McKenzie had run his car over the head of a pedestrian, Mr. Clemens denied the charge and entered a plea of not guilty. Police Stenin questioned the car in question running on the main avenue and in his opinion speed was over twenty miles an hour. The chief stated that he had other complaints regarding the car and had warned the motorman to run more slowly. The motorman, the motorman said that he was four minutes late on this night, but he thought that he was running over an hour at the time that the car was in the car.

MRS. THOMAS WOODYATT DIED SATURDAY NIGHT

Greatly Beloved by Large Number of Friends.

There passed away Saturday evening Mary Kortum Woodyatt, wife of Mr. Thos. Woodyatt, barrister, of this city, at her late residence, 41 Alfred St. The deceased was 22 years old and had not been well during the past two years. She had partially recovered from a serious illness, but one week previous to her death, she again became seriously ill and passed away Saturday.

French Airman Makes Machine Somersault in Air.

(Canadian Press Despatch) VERSAILLES, France, Sept. 2.—The thrilling manoeuvre of turning a somersault in the air with an aeroplane flying at rapid speed was repeated today by the French aviator, Peugeot over the aerodrome at Ve near here, with perfect success. Peugeot had promised to demonstrate that his performance at Duxbury yesterday was not the result of an accident, but was a proof of proper control and also of the stability of the aeroplane and he carried out the daring feat with apparent ease again today in the presence of the second in command of the French army flying corps, about 100 military and civilian aviators and a large assemblage of the general public.

MR. LIND'S JOURNEY FROM CAPITAL LIKE A RECEPTION.

MRS. JOHN LIND JOHN LIND

John Lind's journey from the capital to Vera Cruz was almost a continuous informal reception. Owing to a mistake in Mexico City the special car ordered for Mr. and Mrs. Lind was not attached to the regular morning train, and President Wilson's representative and wife were passengers on a regular day coach into which were crowded many Mexicans and a few Americans, who, frightened at what they considered a prospect of international troubles, were leaving the capital for foreign countries.

The passengers crowded into the aisles, but at every station Mexicans came aboard the train and shook hands with Mr. Lind, speaking to him in Spanish and expressing pleasure at meeting him.

OVER 3300 BRIGHT SCHOOL CHILDREN WENT BACK TO WORK THIS MORNING

Over 3,200 of the hope of Brantford returned to school this morning. Inspector Kilmer was in a great hustle, but only managed to get an-und to three schools, the Central, Victoria and Dufferin. At the latter two schools room is reported for more pupils, but Mr. Kilmer states that things are in a bad way at the Central school, where all the pupils could not be accommodated. The principals of each school will report after 4 o'clock to-day the attendance at their respective schools. Last year the total school enrollment was 3,000; this year it may exceed 3,300 and leaves a fine problem for trustees and ratepayers to settle.

ANGLO-AMERICAN AMITY CEMENTED

So Declares British Press in Regard to Haldane's Utterances.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The address of the British Lord high chancellor in Montreal yesterday is published full here with the editorial prediction that Lord Haldane's utterances will help amicably to cement Anglo-American unity. The Daily Telegraph says that the historian may some day look back upon it as one of the chief events leading to a new and beneficent relationship between three great peoples, the United Kingdom, the Dominion of Canada and the United States. The Daily News says: "A year of two ago an attempt was made to effect a permanent arbitration treaty between this country and the United States, it failed for reasons which we regret but peace between the English-speaking race rests on a surer basis than any arbitration treaty. It is founded on that common sense to which Lord Haldane refers yesterday and there are abundant signs to-day that the example which the Anglo-Saxon race has given to the world will bear fruit in still wider spheres."

Bad Wreck on Railway Near New York To-Day.

(Canadian Press Despatch) NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2.—Running at a good speed in a thick fog which had rolled in with the sun from Long Island Sound, over the meadows there, the first section of the White Mountain express, due at New York at 7:52 a.m., crashed into the second section of the Bar Harbor express, which had just been standing in a block at North Haven, four miles north of the station here, at 6:52 this morning. The engine of the White Mountain express, No. 132, ploughed through the two rear sleepers of the Bar Harbor express and bowled over the third car from the rear. From this last mentioned sleeper seven bodies were later taken. The early death list indicated fifteen. The rail-road company, shortly before 6 o'clock, issued a statement to the effect that thirteen persons were known to have been killed and about twenty injured. All accounts agree that there were practically no injured persons on the White Mountain express, and the passengers on it seemed to know very little of the collision until after their train had stopped. The engineer of the White Mountain express stuck to his post seriously hurt, but not hurt. The most serious hurt appeared to have been in the third sleeper, which was thrown over the embankment.

A Tragedy Happened at Cairo—Insurance Man Arrested.

(Canadian Press Despatch) CAIRO, Ill., Sept. 2.—Dr. E. E. Gordon, a prominent physician of this city was shot and killed last night by Harvey K. Fields, an insurance solicitor. About ten days ago Gordon operated on Field's mother. Her subsequent death was caused by the physician's carelessness. It was in return for her life that he took that of the doctor, he said. Immediately after the shooting Fields surrendered himself to the police. He is 25 years old and has a wife and child.

MR. AND MRS. OGILVIE HAVE RETURNED HOME

They Had a Delightful European Trip—An Interview.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ogilvie returned to the city on Sunday evening after an extended tour through England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France and Switzerland. Mr. Ogilvie looks fit and fine and much improved in health and reports a most enjoyable and successful trip. Mr. Ogilvie was one of the Canadian bowlers who made the tour through the British Isles and also a member of the rink that was most successful against the Old Countrymen, winning 18 games and losing 9. Each member of the rink was presented with a souvenir in the shape of a gold watch fob. "The greens over there," exclaimed Mr. Ogilvie, "are beautiful to behold and a pleasure to play on as they are made of Cumberland turf and as true and level as a billiard table." Mr. Ogilvie speaks in glowing terms of the hospitality shown the Canadians at all times and places, by the bowlers of the Old Land. On Dominion Day, Lord Strathcona entertained the tourists to a complimentary dinner. The Bowling tour ended on July 26th, after which Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie then started on a business trip to the principal manufacturing centres, where Mr. Ogilvie visited all the large wholesale houses in connection with his line of business. He spent some time in London and then went over to Dublin, Ireland. Mr. Ogilvie was many days in Paris, France, where he purchased a large amount of goods and then went on to Switzerland where he also did a large amount of purchasing. Mr. Ogilvie claims that he was very successful in buying on this trip and on the whole the trip was most pleasant and profitable. The return passage was made on the Royal Edward and though the sea at times was very rough, still the trip across was much enjoyed. These Britisners

NEW MOVE IS MADE IN THAW CASE TODAY

Special Representative of Premier of Quebec Asks That Thaw Be Put Out of Jail Immediately—Some Very Pointed References.

(Canadian Press Despatch) SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 2.—Harry K. Thaw came face to face with a new force in the province of Quebec to-day and the days before his return to Mattoon are numbered. Sir Louis Gouin, attorney-general and premier, intervened in the case through Aime Geoffrion's special representative and demands that steps at once be taken to bring about his liberation from the Sherbrooke jail, where for two weeks Thaw has defied deportation. His detention was regarded as a scandal to the Dominion, the jail was described sarcastically as a "public boarding house." Thaw as one who had boasted that he laughed at outwitting the authorities.

Mr. Geoffrion and Samuel Jacobs representing the state of New York, expressed these sentiments before Superior Judge Hutchinson in pressing for an immediate hearing of the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week. The court conceded their point and arguments were in progress at noon. If the writ is sustained Thaw may be in the hands of the immigration by night, possibly on his way to the border. Arguments were concluded at one o'clock, and to the great disappointment of those representing New York the court reserved its decision. "It is a matter of such grave import," he said, "that I would not care to discuss the matter until I had given it careful consideration. Possibly tomorrow I shall announce my decision. I shall notify all counsel."

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 2.—Thaw, with visitors to the country fair and bathed in a brilliant sun, Sherbrooke was astir early to-day, ready and anxious to take whatever part it might in Harry K. Thaw's second battle in the superior court of St. Francis county. Thaw, resisting liberation from the Sherbrooke jail on a writ of habeas corpus obtained last week after a coupe of his old enemy William Travers Jerome, was instructed to be ready at 9 o'clock in order that he might be driven to court in a closed carriage. The authorities were apparently less than ready for a demonstration in his behalf such as marked the proceedings of Wednesday last, when his lawyers succeeded in withdrawing a writ which they themselves had obtained. For this reason, the scene of today's hearing was set in the judge's chambers. According to an announcement made last night by Judge Hutchinson even reporters were to be barred, but this morning he intimated that at the last moment he might relent in this ruling. Jerome was up early and had a conference with his Canadian lawyers. He was to take no part in the habeas corpus arguments, having no standing at the Dominion bar. The state's interests were in the hands of Samuel Jacobs, K.C., and Hector Verret, representing the Mattoon asylum for the criminal insane. Thaw's lawyers, headed by J. N. Greenshield, contended until after midnight. This morning they expressed again their belief that the writ would not be sustained and that New York could not force Thaw out of jail into the hands of the immigration department for deportation. Should the writ be sustained they had mapped out a line of action to contest every inch of the way as it were, to the Vermont border. The prisoners, the morbid, the miserably sympathetic and the morosely idle began trooping toward the court house and congregating about the jail shortly after 8 o'clock. Denied the court proceedings, they seemed determined in any event, at least to see the famous prisoner, Plain clothes detectives, Dominion and Provincial mingled with the throng. John Lanyon, a private detective from New York, clung close to Jerome. There have been repeated threats by letter and even in bar rooms of attempts on Jerome's life, and Lanyon declared to the case at the prosecutor's special guardian, was taking no chances. Jerome himself said the threats of cranks gave him no concern. When the judge reached his chambers shortly after 10 o'clock he said he had decided to admit four reporters to the hearing.

Lenorant that the proceedings were to be held in chambers, crowds jammed the superior court room, swarmed the corridors and the stairways. SIX Dominion police kept order. There was no attempt, however to disturb those in the court. Probably two hundred persons waited without the jail to watch Thaw make the trip down the court house. Just a few minutes before he came out a trunk was carried into the jail and the rumor spread the prisoner was about to be deported. A hundred cameras clicked as he

BULLET LODGED IN LITTLE BOY'S NECK

Willie VanFleet, Oxford St., Was Victim of Accident Last Night.

Willie VanFleet, son of Mr. and Mrs. James VanFleet, who reside at 128 Oxford street, is in the hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the right side of his neck. He was playing with some other boys yesterday evening on the street, and in some way one of his playmates discharged a 22-calibre rifle and the bullet lodged in his neck. He was taken to the hospital where Dr. Phillips was successful in extracting the bullet. His case is not considered serious.

Maple Leafs Won Two Games

The Maple Leaf baseball club of Brantford journeyed to Dundas on the holiday, where they were successful in winning two games from a team of that town, with Harwood and Cleator doing the twirling in the first game. The Brantford boys hustled away with the bacon to the tune of 11 to 8, while in the second contest, with Harwood on the mound all by himself, the "pickings" were easy, and the score ended 17 to 1. In both struggles the Leafs played an excellent brand of ball, and deserved to win. A feature of both games was the sensational playing of Pierce and Harwood. The batteries were: First game: Maple Leafs, Harwood, Cleator and Lenington. Dundas, Nunn and Norton; 2nd game: Leafs, Harwood and Lenington; Dundas, Nunn and Norton.

Mary Stuart at the Apollo

The management of the Apollo is to be congratulated in bringing to this city such a well known historical drama, as the life of Mary Stuart, Queen of Scotland and France, and pretender to the throne of England. The life of the beautiful and much loved Queen Mary, forms one of the most pathetic and dramatic characters in history.

This magnificent photo drama has been produced by the greatest artists from the Thos. A. Edison studios and the public can be assured of a photo-play treat seldom offered. The cost umes and stage settings are of the most gorgeous character and the photography perfect. Every student of English history should endeavor to see this artistic masterpiece, which will be shown as a special holiday attraction Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 1st, 2nd, and 3rd.

PURSE OF GOLD FOR MISS HELEN FAWKES

Popular Brantford Soloist Honored by Brant Ave. Church.

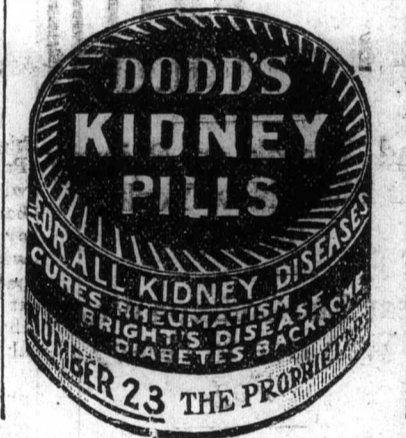

A very pleasing tribute was paid to a popular local vocalist who is leaving the city, in the presentation to Miss Helen Fawkes of an address and purse of gold.

The officials of Brant Ave. church at the close of the Sunday evening service requested the congregation to meet them in the school room.

Mr. T. H. Preston, president and read the address to Miss Fawkes, Mr. Lloyd Dymond, the organist, made the presentation, and Dr. Britton replied for Miss Fawkes. Short addresses were given by Messrs. E. A. Hughes, Dr. Watson for the congregation and Mr. R. C. Burns for the choir all expressing regret at Miss Fawkes' departure and their great appreciation of her services.

At the same time, farewell was said to the Rev. C. Fenton who has been occupying the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Rev. A. E. La-

cell on his holidays.

The following address was read to Miss Fawkes.

Dear Miss Fawkes—The official Board and members of Brant Avenue Methodist Church, have learned with extreme regret, that you are leaving Brantford, and must necessarily give up the position of soloist in this church, which you have so acceptably filled for some time past.

We desire to assure you that we have appreciated, more than can be said in this formal note the great satisfaction and pleasure you have given the congregation and choir, in the very able manner you have used your voice in connection with the church service.

In the purse which accompanies this, you will find something more useful and tangible than words, we ask you to kindly accept, coupled with our very best wishes for your future success in your new vocation.

Signed on behalf of the Congregation and choir.

EDMUND SWEET, Rec. Secy.
R. C. BURNS, Pres. of Choir.

As has been previously announced Miss Fawkes is leaving to become an undergraduate nurse in an American hospital.

Tortures of Chronic Dyspepsia Cured By "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLEY, Ont., Sept. 23 rd. 1910 "You certainly have the greatest Headache Cure in the world. Before 'Fruit-a-tives' came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders. One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging Headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications. He insisted on my trying 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Edison Ill.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 2.—Thos. A. Edison after a week spent in Monhegan on his first vacation in two years arrived here last night complaining of a slight illness. The inventor went to bed in a local hotel immediately upon his arrival. The nature of his ailment is not known, but members of his family, who accompanied him from Monhegan said it was not serious.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.

Chairman Flood of the House foreign affairs committee yesterday submitted to Secretary Bryan letters from a large sugar company in Vera Cruz, asking to whom its property should be entrusted if President Wilson's advice to all Americans to get out of Mexico were to be followed. The letter stated that the company's net cost $1,500,000, that it had a growing crop valued at $500,000, and that if those in charge left Mexico valuable property would be at the mercy of bandits.

TAMMANY'S REVENGE

While the antipathy of a large section of the public to condemning Sulzer on Tammany evidence is unjustifiable, it is none the less easily understandable. It is quite true that if Sulzer had not quarrelled with Boss Murphy, the latter would never have brought his charges.

It is regrettable that his fall should mean a Tammany triumph, for the most characteristic feature of recent American life is the growth of civic spirit. There may still be lots of graft, but there is now a public conscience intolerant of what is easily tolerated ten years ago.

THE TREATING SYSTEM

An Ottawa man who kept an "up-town saloon" for thirty-five years, says to abolish treating would be to strike a body blow at the drink evil. This man, who has left the liquor business and appears not to regret it, has had experience enough to make his views worthy of interest.

Did men drink but little, there would be less force in the appeal of the temperance people and fewer members in temperance associations. The fact that many men drink to excess gives force to the arguments in favor of more stringent temperance regulation.

If the bar-room may be said to have won a place in the life of a non-prohibition community, it has won its place as a social centre. Man is a social being. Anything that loosens his tongue and thrills his imagination is a boon to him, so long as it is not dangerous and depraving.

The experience of the man quoted above has been that no man will drink alone when he may drink in company. Everybody "stands treat."

Abolish the treating system and you will lessen the attraction of the bar-room, as well as lower the chances for a drinker to become a drunkard. That is the first step, and

ENCOURAGING THRIFT

Municipalities in the old world do some curious things, which are none the less interesting from their old world flavor. In two instances in England the municipal councils own race courses, one controls an oyster fishery, and several run places of entertainment. They were not created to one pattern as in the new world and often neighboring municipalities differ in their respective powers, as the results of their charters being granted by different kings at different times and under different reasons.

In Germany similar variety is found, and consequently the municipalities father different enterprises. At Schonberg, which is one of the towns that now go to make up greater Berlin, the council decided to open a banking account for every child born within the confines of the city, depositing to the credit of each the modest sum of one mark. The condition is that this one mark, must not be drawn out during life, but remains whatever misfortune may overtake the small capitalist, as a nest egg for continued growth.

The scheme came into operation on April first, 1909, and up to January first of the present year 8,602 books had been issued with that number of marks credited to the several youngsters. On the latter date this sum had increased by savings added to the original amounts to 296,501 marks, showing what a stimulus to thrift this modest beginning had effected.

It is believed that this will be more marked as time goes on. In the ups and downs of life when all may seem lost, the one mark will still remain, encouraging further efforts and heartening the possessor for a renewal of the struggle.

The immense sums held by the Canadian banks in their savings departments show that, despite some lamentation about the decay of thrift, a good deal is still practised, and when once a beginning is made the effort to increase becomes natural.

In Canada we have not reached the stage when we expect the municipalities to start such a work, but other agencies might well try the plan on a restricted scale and note the results. It is amongst those who are the least thrifty that the stimulus needs to be applied.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

There is little doubt but that the average housewife takes a much more malicious pleasure in pushing a vacuum carpet-cleaner than her soul-mate does with a lawn-mower.

Week-end trips from England to the U. S. and Canada, as initiated by Lord Haldane, are not likely to become extensively popular, but there should be more of them for the benefit of all concerned.

When organized labor declares in favor of boycotting the militia, organized labor exposes itself to the suspicion of being in favor of lawless violence as a means of obtaining its ends.

Dalhousie street occupants are not suffering to-day for the first time in weeks, with over-much riveting. Which means that the new post office is well under way.

A clear-cut indication of Canada's continued prosperity is furnished by the trade returns for July, which are about $9,000,000 in excess of the same month last year. A billion mark for the year promises to be considerably overstepped. All of which is very encouraging and a sufficient reply to those pessimists who can see nothing but woe ahead.

An able American citizen who has for many years lived in Mexico contributes to the Outlook a paper on conditions in that country. In his opinion, all attempts by the U. S. government to mediate between the political factions must prove unavailing, and that the only outcome of the present situation must be forcible intervention by the U. S. government for the purpose of restoring order.

Foresters' Position Now Impregnable

Provision for Extinguishing of Actual Deficiency—Benevolent Features of the Work Likely to Have More Attention in the Future—Changes Made in Important Offices.

The Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, has been meeting all last week. This session of the Supreme body has been the most important that was ever held in the history of the society. The adoption of the L. O. F. Bill and the acceptance of Plan No. 1 of that bill, which provides for the extinguishing of the actuarial deficiency, now places the Foresters in the position of being the largest fraternal insurance organization that is conducting fraternal insurance on adequate rates. Plan No. 1 was adopted by practically unanimous vote.

While the question of actuarial solvency and financial affairs of the order have occupied the attention of the Supreme body for the first two days of this session, the fraternal portion of the work has engrossed the balance of their time. The Orphans' Home, Sanatoriums, Purple Cross Nurses, and a number of other benevolent features of the society, have been under review. During the discussion yesterday many interesting facts were elicited. In one jurisdiction it was reported that some $32,000 had been spent in relief and hospital work, a large portion of this money being entirely voluntary. In another large city it was pointed out that the subordinate Company employed two nurses permanently to care for and nurse the sick and disabled members of the order, and in another jurisdiction over eight hundred situations had been procured for various members. Another report was to the effect that over $8,000 had been contributed for the relief of the sufferers from the recent floods in Ohio. These are only a few of the many varied and interesting reports which were made in regard to the fraternal work.

A Field to be Developed. As a result of these reports it is quite likely that in future plans will be devised providing for a more systematic development of this feature of the work that the society is engaged in.

A striking feature of the convention has been the spontaneous unanimity with which the members of the Supreme Court have applied themselves to the task of caring for the interests of the members at large. The discussions have been conducted plainly with a desire to bring about ideal conditions, as far as possible, for all present and future Foresters. In this respect, the proceedings of the present Supreme Court session will undoubtedly have a conspicuous place in the history of the L. O. F.

The elections were held on Friday last. The only changes in the officers of the society are that Mr. Alex. Stewart, Toronto, takes the position of Supreme Auditor and Mr. Robt. Mathison, the distinguished and able Supreme Secretary, takes the position of Supreme Treasurer and is succeeded by Mr. Darch.

The New Secretary. Mr. Frederick J. Darch, who was elected to the position of Supreme Secretary, comes from London, and is a well-known businessman of that city, having been for a number of years senior member of the firm of Darch & Hunter Seed Company. He has also had quite an extensive municipal career. Being a speaker of more than ordinary ability, when yet a young man, he entered public life, taking a prominent part in the municipal affairs of the city. His uncompromising integrity and business ability resulted in the people showing their confidence in him by electing him to the board of the Water Commission in the year 1909. He was elected by his colleagues he was selected Chairman of the Commission and it was during that period that the Hydro-electric system in London was launched, and much of the success of that undertaking was due to the careful and able attention he gave the project. He served the city for six years as Water Commissioner, but owing to the pressure of his personal business affairs, he was compelled to decline reelection. Mr. Darch will no doubt make a capable and efficient officer for the society.

Officers for Four Years. The officers who will conduct business for the next four years are: Victor Morin, B. A. LL. D., N. P., P. S. C. R., Montreal. J. D. Clark, S. V. C. R., Dayton, Ohio. Fred J. Darch, S. S., Toronto. Robt. Mathison S. T., Toronto. T. Millan, M. D., M. R. C. S. E., Toronto. W. H. Hunter, B. A. S. C., Toronto. Geo. E. Bailey, Antwerp, N. Y., and Alex. Stewart, Toronto, Auditors.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session Grand Crosses of Merit were conferred on the following: Geo. W. Wands, P. H. C. R., of Chatham, Ont.; W. D. Pettigrew, Winnipeg, Man.; Dr. Gauthier, of Montreal, Que.; W. J. Sutcliffe, Yorkshire, England. Edward Battersell, P. S. V. C. R., and J. B. Halkett, P. S. C. R., two of the first members of the Executive Council and of the first Supreme Court of the order, were presented with loving cups by the members of the Supreme Court.

INSECT ANAESTHETICS.

Wasp and Bees Paralyze Their Victims Before Killing.

That the sting of the wasp, which punctures the nerve centers of a captured caterpillar or spider, usually paralyzes the creature into helplessness rather than kills it is well known. The victim remains alive in the burrow or cell in which the wasp stores it as food for the larva which will emerge from the egg laid in the same cell. Therefore the newly hatched grub finds ready for it a provision of living meat instead of decayed carion.

That "wizard" among entomologists, the venerable Fabre, has discovered a similar yet even more extraordinary fact in the history of the glowworm beetle (Lampyris)—namely, that it anaesthetizes the prey upon which it itself feeds, so that it consumes it at leisure and predigested. This beetle, whose brilliant phosphorescence attracts the eye in the dusk of the summer evenings, habitually hunts and seizes upon a certain small snail in order to eat it.

The curious thing is that the beetle anaesthetizes the mollusk at the first attack, preventing it from escaping by withdrawing to safety deep within its shell. Upon finding the snail, the beetle dashes forward and, thrusting out its sharp, curved mandibles, repeatedly stabs the side of the body of its prey. After a few punctures the snail becomes insensible and remains in that dazed state for three or four hours—a time more than sufficient for the beetle to complete its meal.—Independent.

CAUGHT THE CAPTAIN.

He Was Not on the Early Morning Job, but the Kaiser Was.

Some time ago the Kaiser heard that a captain in one of the guards regiments at Potsdam had fixed the regulation hour of schooling for his men at 6 o'clock in the morning. The Kaiser, though doubting the fitness of such an early hour for the lesson and the ability of a popular young officer to keep up to this rather exacting standard of early rising, said nothing, but one day walked into the barrack room at 6 o'clock.

The captain was not there, but the emperor showed neither annoyance nor surprise. He asked where the lesson was to be found in the books, and without more ado, to the mingled anxiety and delight of the men, he took the lesson in hand and explained the passage in history which was the subject of the day. It was nearly 7 o'clock when the captain showed himself. The Kaiser returned his salute and made no allusion to his crestfallen countenance, but handed him the lesson book after pointing out how far the class had got and then left the room.

Nothing more was said of heard about the incident until a few days later, when the captain, respecting a handsome alarm clock; evidently from the Kaiser. What the officer wrote in his letter of thanks for the gift is not recorded.—"Ireland's Own."

A Strenuous Statesman.

Charles James Fox, the English statesman and sport, had wagered something about a waistcoat which could only be obtained in Paris; went off to Dover by night, caught the mail packet, posted to Paris and back to Calais, and remembered he had a horse racing at Newmarket. He chartered a fishing boat bound for the eastern counties, just got to Newmarket in time for the race, took the post back to London and stopped on the way to dine. In the middle of the dinner he was caught by a special messenger who had been tearing over half of England in search of him and reminded that he had to move to bring in a marriage bill in the house of commons. He rushed to the stables, reached the house in time to make a brilliant speech in reply to North and Burke and defeated North on a division by a single vote.

Almost Recognized.

Dinah was a product of New Orleans, a big, plump "yaller gal" who could cook the finest dinners for miles around. One day she was back at her post upon the scene, and Dinah's mistress noticed that she took a great interest in the man. At last her mistress could stand her curiosity no longer and asked: "Dinah, do you know that new man?" "Dinah took another long and scrutinizing look and then slowly and reluctantly replied: "Well, duano, Miss Alice, but I think he was me 'nust husband"—Everybody's Magazine.

Tobago Island.

Famed for its unfalling springs of pure, sparkling water, the island of Tobago lies about ten miles from the city of Panama, in the Pacific. Here the mail steamers plying between Balboa and San Francisco lie by for their supply of fresh water, as do also the steamers that sail southward from Panama. The island is also famous for its splendid pineapples.

Preoccupied.

The professor had fallen downstairs, and as he thoughtfully picked himself up he remarked, "I wonder what noise that was I just heard?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Just Rebuks.

"Is life worth living?" "Not if you have nothing better to occupy your mind than such questions as that!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

FEROCEOUS DOLPHINS.

Marine Monsters That Are Known as Whale Killers.

There really is such a sea monster as the whale killer. It is one of the largest and most ferocious of all the dolphin family. It also is known as the grampus. It is characterized as a genus by its large size and the conical and depressed head, devoid of a beak. The back fin is of great length, especially in the males, and the flippers are large and broadly ovate.

The teeth are comparatively few in number, varying from ten to thirteen on each side of the jaw, and are much larger than in any dolphins yet noticed, being often an inch or more in diameter and having an oval section. The coloration is striking, the upper parts and fins being black, while the lower jaw, chest and under parts are whitish.

The white area of the under parts does not, however, extend to the flukes, but ends posteriorly in a triangle, of which the lateral and shorter prongs extend obliquely upward on the flanks. There is a large white streak above and behind the eye, and frequently at least a purple crescentic area extends across the back behind the fin. The killer attains a length of at least twenty feet.—St. Louis Times.

LOBSTER AND BUTTERFLY.

Widely Apart in Appearance, They Are Close Relatives.

You would hardly think it to look at them, yet the lobster is a relative of the butterfly. The kinship is not merely that of two members of the animal kingdom. The lobster and the butterfly are actually in one and the same great group of the kingdom, like the clam and the snail or the whale and the giraffe, whose spheres of activity are so widely separated.

It is simply, as Darwin pointed out in the case of all other creatures a great many years ago, that the lobster and its friends, the crab, the prawn and the shrimp, chose one method of life, while the butterfly and its set chose another.

When Dead Men Eat.

In the medical press is a story of a man who believed that he was dead and who for that reason refused to take nourishment. "How can the dead eat and drink?" he asked when food was pressed upon him. It was obvious that he was something were done to bring him to his senses the delusion must soon become actuality he would die of starvation. The strangest ruse was tried. Half a dozen attendants, dressed in ghostly white, crept silently in single file into the room adjoining his and with the door open sat down where he could see them at a hearty meal. "Here, who are these people?" inquired the patient. "Dead men," answered the doctor. "What?" said the other. "Do dead men eat?" "To be sure they do, as you see for yourself," was the answer. "Well," said the corpse, "if that is so I'll join them, for I'm starving." The spell was broken, and he sat down and ate like forty famished men.

A Matter of Gender.

The bell of a Scottish church was giving out a very poor tone, and a committee was appointed to inquire as to what was wrong and to report on the best means of putting it right. After an examination the members were divided in their opinion, and the warden, who was in attendance, took the lead, and was asked his view. "Fine. A ken what's wrang w' the bell," he remarked. "It's a she-yin," meaning that it was of the feminine gender. Pressed to explain, he added, "It's tongue's owre long—it needs to be clipped." And this turned out to be really the fault. The tongue had become loosened to the extent of an inch or so and was overlapping the curve at the rim and therefore not striking truly.

Dogs of Belgium.

Belgian dogs that are harnessed to carts often work themselves to death. They may enjoy their work for a time when they hurl themselves into the collar to drag the milk cart and often the lazy milkman as well as his cans but they do not enjoy the ensuing paralysis. The sight of a dog dying of starvation in the streets because his with the legs, was asked to inquire as to what was wrong and to report on the best means of putting it right. After an examination the members were divided in their opinion, and the warden, who was in attendance, took the lead, and was asked his view. "Fine. A ken what's wrang w' the bell," he remarked. "It's a she-yin," meaning that it was of the feminine gender. Pressed to explain, he added, "It's tongue's owre long—it needs to be clipped." And this turned out to be really the fault. The tongue had become loosened to the extent of an inch or so and was overlapping the curve at the rim and therefore not striking truly.

He Didn't Put It Off.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Mr. Stapleton. "It's nearly midnight. I should be going pretty soon, I suppose." "Yes," replied Miss Pattence Gonne. "You know the old saying, 'Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.'"—Philadelphia Press.

Much Worse.

"Oh dear," pouted the pretty girl in irritation as the trolley car came to a standstill. "What is worse than waiting on a switch?" "Trying to piss on the same rail madam," responded a gentleman beside her.—Judge.

CLYDE YOUMANS PASSED AWAY

Popular Local Boy a Victim of Typhoid Fever.

After an illness extending over a period of three weeks, Clyde Bond Youmans, aged 17 years and youngest son of Mrs. Lucy Youmans, 60 Mary St. was called home. Typhoid fever was the cause of death. The deceased had been lying very low during his illness and death although not expected, came with startling suddenness.

Clyde was well and favorably known and was closely identified with several organizations. He was a member of Colborne St. Methodist church, the S. P. I. class Colborne St. Sunday school, the Boy Scout Patrol, Colborne St. church and the Y. M. C. A. In the several organizations there is left a vacant place. He was a favorite with all with whom he came in contact and had many friends. As a member of the Scout Patrol and S. P. I. class he will be especially missed.

A sorrowing mother and two brothers Wray and Fred are left to mourn the loss of a true brother and loyal son. The funeral is taking place this afternoon from the home of his mother to Mt. Vernon for interment.

A Mere Hint of the Many New and Beautiful Lines

Dress Goods and Silks

And Special Novelties Assembled Here, and NOW READY for Your Inspection!

Our stock of New Dress Goods and Silks is now virtually complete, and judging from the intense interest being taken in them, and the eulogistic remarks from all who see them, we have gathered together a most excellent and exclusive variety of materials and shades. There is a treat in store for those who insist on refined styles, sound quality, and real good value.

An Epitomised Description of Some of the New Things

SILK PLUSHES—Fashion has decreed that plain and brocaded plushes, velvets and pile fabrics will hold a large place in my lady's wardrobe. Velvets—Already a large consignment has been opened up ready for your inspection. Corduroys are a strong feature—rich in appearance and of great wearing quality, in all the new shades, as black, tawny, bishop's purple, taupe, grey, Royal Wine, navy and cream. And the price to suit every pocket. 50c., 59c., 75c. and up to $3.00 yard.

WOOL GOODS—Particular attention has been given to these materials and many of these are in exclusive lengths. The most popular weaves are Bedford Cords in two-tone effects; then the Bouche—a rough finished cloth in many pretty shades; wool Ratine, quite the correct novelty in blending colors of Bishop purple and black, tan and black, and navy and black. Eponge, a basket weave and rough in texture, very suitable for suits. Teddy Bear Cloth, a new goods for Children's coats, in all the new shades. Peau-de-Peach, for evening cloaks; decidedly new, has the finish of a peach skin; 4 colors are Pacific, blue, peach-lute and Gobelin; all of which we shall be pleased to show you.

SERGES—Are one of our strong points, we carry them in all weights; the soft finish for draping and the hard finish for children's dresses and the soap-sponged for ladies' suits. Prices from 50c. up to $3.00 a yard.

BROCADED CREPE DE CHENE in all the new shades for evening wear, some of the chords are Rust on Brass, flesh, old gold, apricot, helio, Russian green and rose.

SILKS AND SATINS—Brocades and plain weaves. Charmeuse, a dull finished satin and a full range of colors. 30 and 42 inches wide. Prices 75c. up to $2.50 a yard.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY THE DUFFERINS

Supremacy Was Settled On Saturday Before Large Crowd of Enthusiasts—Soldier Boys Made a Splendid Showing, and Easily Outpointed Holmedale Tigers.

The Dufferin Rifle Team—City League Champions for 1913.

By defeating the Holmedale Tigers 4 to 0 on Saturday afternoon the Dufferin Rifles team won the City League championship of 1913. There was a large number of followers of the game present and both teams had a large number of supporters. The result of the game meant a lot to the Duffins in as much as if they had lost it, would have given the Cooks United team another chance to try for the championship as they were only one game behind the champion Dufferins. The Duffins had to either play a draw or win to be

OTTAWA CHAMPS FOR SECOND TIME

Great Finish in the Canadian League Yesterday Afternoon.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—It was a glorious finish to the Canadian Baseball League season this afternoon, when the Ottawa defeated Peterboro, 14 to 2, and thus clinched the pennant. In the morning they were defeated 3 to 0, Belting and Tracey, letting the locals down lightly, but in the afternoon game the Senators went after their old jinx "Bob" Sterling, in the second inning and drove in three runs. Afterwards they played wonderful ball and piled up run after run. There were 7,500 people in the grand stand, and as the Ottawa obtained a safe lead the crowd went wild. Horns were tooted and time had to be called until order was restored. In the second inning Catcher McNeil of Peterboro clashed with Umpire Evans and struck him. Fox ran in from the field and hit Evans as the latter was arguing with McNeil but the police rushed out and restored order. A Presentation In the ninth inning Mar. Shaugnessy and his players were called to the home plate and presented with a floral pennant. The crowd gave the champions another great ovation, and after the last man had been retired they broke through on to the field and carried both Rogers and Shaugnessy off on their shoulders. Rogers pitched a great game, and when Shaugnessy was handed the floral pennant he turned and hung it

Sporting Comment

BY FREE LANCE
Ottawa are champions and it is only a question of figuring how much it cost to win the championship and secure those extra large attendances in the dying days of the season.

We don't for a minute say that with a populace baseball crazy and a championship within reach, that Brantford would not have broken the salary limit. It is quite within reason that Brantford would have gone the limit. But long before the championships became a matter of three or four games London and Ottawa spent money like water, with the result that they outclassed other clubs. Brantford never had a look-in and has no kick coming, but Canadian League clubs which endeavored to keep within the salary limit certainly had a good kick. At that, it is the writer's personal opinion that London spent more money on salary than did Ottawa.

There was an injustice pulled off in the Canadian League yesterday. With the pennant at stake on the two games, Peterboro never should have been allowed to transfer the two games to Ottawa. It was only one of the filthy tricks that prompted the move, despite all other alibis. If baseball championships are to be won or lost entirely for the enrichment of club owners, then baseball is a poor game. We believe, with the standing of the league as it was Labor Day morning, Ottawa should have been forced to play both games in Peterboro. Ottawa was a home team, if ever there was one and they secured an advantage over London when they had those two last games transferred from Peterboro to Ottawa.

Various members of the Red Sox today are departing for their homes. Brantford fans wish them a good departure as well as a speedy one. They have been jokes. If President Nelson continues to act, he has some tall thinking ahead of him for next winter. We would not be surprised if there was an entirely new team with about three exceptions in 1914.

SPLENDID TOURNAMENT WAS HELD LABOR DAY

Bowlers Had a Fine Outing—Results of Yesterday's Play Finals and Semi-Finals Still to be Fought for Other Interesting Notes of the Holiday Matches.

The Brantford Scotch doubles opened yesterday morning at nine o'clock in the Brantford, Heather, Pastime and Dufferin greens, and are being concluded this afternoon. Two trophies are being competed for, the first put up by the Courier's neighbor up the street, the second, the El Fair trophy, put up by J. J. Fair and Co. Although the tournament is called the Brantford Scotch doubles, it is a county contest. Short addresses of welcome were made at various greens. At the Pastime green, Mr. R. C. Burns made the address of welcome, at the Brantford green, Mr. E. McPhail, at the Heather green, Mr. F. S. Blain, and at the Dufferin green Mr. E. C. Tench. The weather man smiled on the tournament, and provided the finest of weather. There were no games bowled during the evening. The tournament progressed with despatch, and much credit is due the secretary treasurer and official scorer, Mr. F. S. Blain.

For the first trophy, the game progressed as far as the completion of the third round. Four clubs are represented in the fifth round for the first trophy. T. McPhail, Pastimes, bowled against E. J. Mabon, Brantford, and A. Gardner, Dufferin, bowled against J. Miller, Heather. Immediately after the games are concluded, the donors will present the trophies.

Result of yesterday's play is given:

SERG'T BISSETT
WON THE MEDAL

Great Day at the Ranges Yesterday—Some Good Shooting.

The 36th annual matches of the Dufferin Rifles Association took place at the ranges on Labor Day. There was a good attendance and the scoring was the best in the history of the corps. The weather in the early part of the day was hazy but cleared up splendidly. The wind, although never strong was lively and caused a large number of wide hits.

The Dufferin Rifles' medal was won by Sergeant Charles Bissett, who only dropped one point out of 50. He belongs to A Company and is rated one of the best shots in the corps. It might be mentioned that Bissett comes from a well known western Ontario family of marksmen and he is certainly keeping up the family name.

Sergeant Scanlon won the grand aggregate cup by one point over Bissett. Other results: Nursery—P. McIntyre, 200 yards—Sergeant Scanlon, 100 yards—Sergeant Barclay, 200 yards—Sergeant Bissett, 100 yards—Sergeant Barclay. A Company won 6-men team competition and the Robertson cup for the second time. Two extra series—Sergeant Scanlon, 100 yards series—Sergeant Davis. The results in full will be published in tomorrow's Courier.

CHAPTER VIII.
HAT Meredith proposed to do was to enter into a partnership with Victor Durnovo, and when the purpose of it was accomplished to let each man go his way. A month later Victor Durnovo was in London. He left behind him in Africa Jack Meredith, whose capacities for organization were developing very quickly.

There was plenty of work for each to do. In Africa Meredith had undertaken to get together men and beasts, while Durnovo went home to Europe for a threefold purpose. First, a visit to Europe was absolutely necessary for his health, shattered as it was by too long a sojourn in the fever ridden river beds of the west coast. Secondly, there were rifles, ammunition and stores to be purchased and packed in suitable cases. And, lastly, he was to find and enlist the third man, "the soldierly fellow, full of fight," who knew the natives and the country.

This, indeed, was his first care on reaching London, and before his eyes and brain were accustomed to the roar of the street life he took a cab to Russell square, going the number at the corner of a gloomy house in the least frequented corner of the stately quadrangle.

"Is Mr. Guy Oscar at home?" he inquired of the grave manservant. "He is, sir," replied the butler, stepping aside.

Oscar came forward and shook hands. His manner was not exactly effusive. The truth was that their acquaintanceship in Africa had been of the slightest, dating from some trivial services which Durnovo had been able and very eager to render to the sportsman.

"I'm all right, thanks," replied Durnovo. "I only landed at Liverpool yesterday. I'm home on business. I'm buying rifles and stores."

Guy Oscar's honest face lighted up at once—the curse of Ishmael was in him in its full force. He was destined to be a wanderer on God's earth, and all things appertaining to the wild life of the forests were music in his ears.

Durnovo was no mean diplomatist. He had learned to know man within a white or colored skin. The effect of his words was patent to him.

"You remember the simalacra?" he said abruptly. "Yes, sir," replied Durnovo. "The deuce you have! Sit down." Durnovo took the chair indicated.

"Yes, sir," he said, "I've got it. I've laid my hand on it at last. I've always been looking for it. That's a beautiful little game all the time. I did not tell you when we met out there, because I was afraid I should never find it and because I wanted to keep quiet about it."

Guy Oscar was looking out of the window across to the dull houses and chimneys that formed his horizon, and in his eyes there was the longing for a vaster horizon, a larger life.

"I have got a partner," continued Durnovo, "a good man, Jack Meredith, son of Sir John Meredith. You have, perhaps, met him."

"No," answered Oscar, "but I have heard his name, and I have met Sir John, the father, once or twice." "He is out there," went on Durnovo, "getting things together quietly. I have come home to buy rifles, ammunition and stores."

ed in two months, and each time you do the trip you will reduce your time." "Yes," replied Oscar simply. "You may do that."

When Durnovo had gone Guy sat down and wrote to Lady Cantourne accepting her invitation to spend a few days at Cantourne Place, on the Solent. He explained that his visit would be in the nature of a farewell, as he was about to leave for Africa for a little big game hunting.

Miss Millicent Clynne was walking on the sea wall at the end of the garden with Guy Oscar. One of the necessary requirements of a modern educational outfit is the power of looking perfectly at home in a score of different costumes during the year, and, needless to say, Miss Clynne was perfectly finished in this art.

"He is, sir," replied the butler, stepping aside. Oscar came forward and shook hands. His manner was not exactly effusive. The truth was that their acquaintanceship in Africa had been of the slightest, dating from some trivial services which Durnovo had been able and very eager to render to the sportsman.

"I'm all right, thanks," replied Durnovo. "I only landed at Liverpool yesterday. I'm home on business. I'm buying rifles and stores."

"I suppose," Guy said after a pause, "that there is the question of money?" "Yes," Meredith and I have talked that over. The plan we fixed upon was that you should be each put a thousand pounds into it. I put five hundred. For the first two years we share the profits equally. After that we must come to some fresh arrangement should you or Meredith wish to give up an active part in the affair. I presume you would not object to coming up at the end of the year with a handy squad of men to bring down the crop under escort?"

"No," responded Oscar after a moment's reflection. "I should be able to do that."

LONDON WON
ONLY ONE GAME

The Afternoon Was a Scoreless Tie in Eleven Innings.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 2.—London won the morning game and tied the afternoon session, yesterday, but at Ottawa won, the Indians failed to win the championship by one full game. It was a thrilling match to a great race, the pennant depending on the afternoon game. The morning session was won by the locals, 2 to 0, and the afternoon game ended in a tie—so to after ten innings of play. Beebe and Howick had a great battle in the first session, but the local heaver was better in pinches. He allowed but two hits and struck out 11 men, a record for the season. The Saints did not feel as well as the Tecumsehs and this lost the game.

Wilkinson and Heck were in rare form in the afternoon session, and at the end of ten innings, Clippie Davis had to call the game off. The fielding was brilliant at all times. The crowd was the largest seen in many years at a baseball game. Over five thousand people were inside the grounds and outside there were probably one thousand more. At times the feeling ran high, and once when a St. Thomas player got into an altercation with the crowd, which overflowed on to the field, the police had to come to the rescue of the Saint, and lead him away from the clutches of the mob.

The fans took the loss of the pennant philosophically, and there were bouquets on all sides handed to Rubie Deneau, though there was some criticism of the directorate for failing to get players of class principally pitchers, at an earlier day than they did. On the whole, however, baseball has been a freedom in her movements which had not been observed in London drawing rooms. This was Diana-like and in perfect keeping with the dainty sailor outfit; moreover, men out of the row would fail to attribute the difference to sundry evening strings within the (London) skirt.

"It is said," Millicent was saying, "to think that we shall have no more chances of sailing. The wind has quite dropped, that horrid tide is running, and this is your last day."

She ended with a little laugh, knowing full well that there was little sentiment in the big man by her side. "Really," she went on, "I think I should be able to manage a boat in time, don't you think so? Please encourage me. I am sure I have tried to learn."

"I do not know if you have learned much," he answered, "but I have." "What have you learned?" she asked in a low voice, half fascinated by the longer into which she knew that she was running.

"That I love you," he answered, standing squarely in front of her and unannouncing the fact with a deliberate sonnet which was rather startling. "I was not sure of it before, so I stayed away from you for three weeks; but now I must say certain."

"Oh, you mustn't say that!" (To be Continued)

BRANTFORD SEASON IS NOW REALLY CLOSED

Baseball Artists Won a Game on Holiday to Finish Up.

The Red Sox closed a disastrous season yesterday afternoon with a grand stand finish when they shut Berlin out 12 to 0 with Coose in the box. In the morning with the field damp and soggy, the Germans rained off with a slow game to the tune of 7 to 3.

Saturday Afternoon. On Saturday afternoon the Red Sox broke even with the St. Thomas team in a 1-1 tie. The game was a slow one, the first game 14 to 1, while the Saints took the last one 7 to 3.

Cash, Not Watches,
Was Dunlop's Answer

London Shortstop Refuses to Accept Paltry Gift of Directors.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 2.—"If that's the best you have for me, I don't want anything," said Dunlop, London's crack shortstop in the City Hotel last night when Rube Deneau tendered Dunlop a gold watch, suitably engraved, and a job and locker, on behalf of the directors of the London ball team. Dunlop was sold to Cleveland for $1,500, and the London Ball Club has the money. Dunlop went to the directors and demanded $200 as his share. "He was told he had no share, but to smooth matters over it was thought to surprise him with a watch and job."

The directors were flabbergasted when they heard his answer, especially as he emphatically declared to Deneau that he will make the London men shell out the 1,500 by refusing to report to Cleveland. He may do this, but he cannot play organized ball again. Deneau was given 150 bonds by the management last night, and the other players were given from $15 to $25. Neale and Steiger got the largest sum. Neale, Beebe and Steiger left for home last night, and the other players will leave to-day.

DOCTOR SAID HE HAD DIABETES

That's Why Mr. David Heon of Nicolet Co. Quebec, Is Recommending the Great Kidney Remedy To His Neighbors.

ST. WENCESLAS, Nicolet Co. Que., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—"I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills because the doctor told me I was threatened with diabetes. After taking ten boxes I was again examined by a doctor, and he told me that all trace of diabetes has disappeared."

This is the statement of Mr. David Heon, well-known and highly respected here, and he is only one of many in this neighborhood who have found a new lease of life in the great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

It is a cure such as this that have given Dodd's Kidney Pills their reputation. They are now known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as the remedy that never fails to cure kidney disease, no matter where or in what form it is found.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure diseased kidneys. The reason they cure backache, dropsy, rheumatism, neuralgia, diabetes, urinary troubles and Bright's disease is that all of these are either diseases of the kidneys or are caused by diseased kidneys failing to do their work.

IN SUCH PAIN
WOMAN TORE
HER CLOTHES

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Malone, N. Y.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it. I suffered from organic inflammation and would have spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was entirely cured. I am a woman of perfect health and my health and happiness came from Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. You may rest assured that I do all I can to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends."—Mrs. FRED STONE, Route No. 3, Malone, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down, feeling flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

It costs money to put soap into cakes and it doesn't improve the soap. See this: One bar of N.P. SOAP at 15 cents weighs more than four 5¢ cakes of soap—more than 5 cakes of some. And ask any woman if N.P. isn't the best soap.

NO DRINKING MAN NEED DESPAIR

The Neal Cure—Greatest of All Modern Discoveries—Offers a Means of Escape from the Curse of Drink. A cure of the Drink Habit is Guaranteed in Three Days no Matter Whether the Patient is a Hard and Constant Drinker, Social Tippler or Goes on Occasional Sprees.

There was wandering in the streets of Toronto lately a homeless man, who at one time held a splendid position, but drink was his downfall. To-day his wife, a cultured woman, works out by the day, endeavoring to support herself and little family. Think of it, you wives and mothers, who have homes of comfort and all that makes life worth living, what it would be to you to be deprived of these and forced to face the wash tub for an existence, as this poor wife has to do to-day?

But this home which was made a hell on earth through the strong drink—as every drunkard's is—may be made into a heaven upon earth, as many have been made, as a result of the Neal Treatment. Three days only—the wonder of it—to effect a cure and make the victim of strong drink a new man, physically, morally and mentally.

We undertake to guarantee to effect a cure of the Drink Habit in Three Days, no matter whether the patient is a hard and constant drinker, social tippler, or goes on occasional sprees. Are you interested in a poor fellow going down, down through the curse of drink? Then bring your influence to bear on him and bring him to the Neal Institute for treatment, drunk or sober, and we will undertake to remove the awful appetite for strong drink and deliver him to you a new man.

Here is an opportunity for REFORMATION SOCIETIES for INEBRIATES or any institution for the reformation of the drunkard: to test our ability to change the hard drinker into a new man, physically and mentally, in THREE DAYS' treatment. We invite these Societies or any institution interested in the poor drunkard and the problem of dealing with him, to send us for treatment any victim of the drink habit; it makes no difference how much enslaved, and we guarantee to effect a cure in each and every case. Can you spend your money to better advantage or in a way that will bring in greater returns than in redeeming these victims of strong drink and giving back to their families kind fathers, brothers, husbands, and to the country most desirable citizens? PHILOSOPHICAL PHOENIX AND THE WEATHER

'S FUNNY I CAN'T NEVER FIND THAT KIND WHEN I REALLY NEED HIM.

One of the most delightful retreats at the Toronto Exhibition is that of the Independent Order of Foresters.

The large tent overlooking the blue waters of Lake Ontario is surrounded on the outside with shrubs and foliage and presents an inviting appearance.

While the exterior is trim and neat the inside is beautiful to a degree. Upon the floor are laid carpets of a rich color while scattered around are easy chairs of the most inviting description.

Bright flowers and fresh looking palms add to the scene, while the pictures hanging from the beaded poles add a touch of interest that strikes a note of appealing timbre.

Upon the table is laid a register which has been signed by over a thousand people to date. Information with regard to the Order may be obtained at a moment's notice from the obliging and courteous officials in charge. Their knowledge to be gathered which will appeal to all interested as well as those who are not already in fraternal societies.

To date the Order, which was founded thirty-eight years ago, has a membership of 25,000 and is active in Great Britain, Canada and the United States. The triennial meeting of the Supreme and High Courts, which was held in Toronto this week, revealed the fact that the numbers added to the organization last year amounted to 10,200.

High Private is rated one of the most handsome looking and best bred horses which ever came into Canada.

Local News

Bulls on the Way Mr. W. Brooks of the Brantford Horticultural Society, received word this morning from a firm in Holland stating that the bulls ordered some months ago by the society, had been shipped.

Sold Good Horse.

Mr. Fred Westbrook recently disposed of his horse, High Private, to Mr. W. A. Clemons of St. George.

High Private is rated one of the most handsome looking and best bred horses which ever came into Canada.

A Fine Collection

Mayor Hartman stated this morning that he has a fine collection of picture post cards with the cut of the city hall of different cities on them. The Mayor says that he receives two or three per day, and thinks that every Brantfordite who goes out of the city sends him a post card with some cut of the hall on it. He has them from all over the world.

Nuptial Notes

BROOKER—MARTIN Rev. A. I. Snyder officiated at the marriage of Miss Kathleen Martin and Mr. Herbert G. Brooker, in this city on Saturday. The wedding was quiet but pretty.

THE beautifully equipped tent erected to take care of its invalids and in this the Foresters are to be congratulated. A beautiful sanitarium, one of the most beautiful parts of the Adirondack Mountains in New York. Fifty-three Foresters are there at the present time. That the place is doing a splendid work is borne out by the fact that so many invalids who have been sent there have been completely cured. The Independent Order of Foresters also have an Orphanage at Oakland at which there are fifty children, while the number of children cared for by the Order reaches the splendid number of 80.

The beautiful singing tent of the Exhibition is looked after by D. S. C. Ranvers, F. Egan and James Glendinning, assisted by Brothies Mohan and J. W. Pinyton. The magnificent gift of the Hon. Mr. Stebbins to the Independent Order of Foresters this week at the triennial meeting met with a remarkable reception. When the announcement was made the brethren rose to their feet and cheered for minutes on end. The members apart from the fact that the donor maintains the Institution as long as he lives, with the benefit as long life as possible.

Tennis Note Saturday afternoon the Paris Road Tennis Club journeyed to Tutela Heights and defeated the Tutela Heights Club 2-1. A return match will be played a week from next Saturday afternoon.

When the turnstiles at the Exhibition gates settled away for repose last night they were a thoroughly tired and dizzy lot. Since the Exhibition management, with chilly hearts unresponsive to the sufferings of the iron men, set on foot to crowd a million people into the Fair grounds, the turnstiles have made many a revolutionary and dizzy lot. Yesterday, when the gates were closed, the turnstiles were so tired that they were unable to do their duty. The result was that when the gates were opened after it was all over the million mark was in the air. The turnstiles were so tired that they were unable to do their duty. INSTINCT IN PLANTS.

Plants sometimes appear to possess reasoning power. Charles Darwin stated the case of the rootlet, which pierces its way through a hard cap in its path, will go round it without touching it. "How does the rootlet pierce its way through the cap? It is not by force, but by the nature of perception of some kind which is a mental operation."

DIARIEL'S Nuptial Joke.

There was a little joke between them (Diariel and his wife) which I heard from the late dean of Salisbury. "You know I married you for your money," Diariel would say to her charge.
