SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 7, 1872

Town and County News.

HENRY DUCKWORTH, jr., of Garafraxa, new days ago shot a full-grown bear on Henry Hewitt's farm, lot 15, con. 6.

ANNIVERSARY SERMONS.—Remember the anniversary sermons in the Wesleyan Church to-morrow. See advertisement.

The nomination for Municipal Officers takes place in the various Municipalities throughout the country on Monday, 23d inst.

The bake house of Mr. John Fisher, Drayton, had a narrow escape from being burned on Friday morning last, as it was, part of the roof was damaged.

The Wesleyan Methodists on the Peel circuit have just concluded the purchase of a fine property in the village of Glen Allan, to be used as a parsonage hereafter.

CHROMOS.—One more collection of fine oil Chromos, neatly framed at F. C. Allan's, will be sold cheap. This is the last chance of getting good pictures for a mere trifle.

The Tribune says that the name of Harrison, as a produce market, is now above par. Farmers from the North of Wingham are going there daily with their grain and pork.

Mr. Thomas Sims of Lot 25, Con. 1, Luther, has threshed, and the yield of his grain was about 1,200 bushels, from 50 acres. A portion of the soil upon which this grain was sown was swamp a few years ago.

The Reporter says that Mr. John Mandell, for many years past freight agent on the Great Western Railway at Galt, has been appointed station-master at Paisley station on the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway.

BONUS TO THE WELLINGTON, GREY AND BRUCE.—The Durham by-law, granting the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway $20,000 bonus in aid of the Clifford and Durham branch, was voted on at village on Friday with not one vote against it.

ENGLISH ANECDOTES.—Mr. Anderson has sent us a neat book, containing a large collection of modern English anecdotes. It is a fit companion to the book of Scotch anecdotes, both of which are for sale at Anderson's bookstore.

On the 29th ult., Mr. George Bolan, of East Garafraxa, had four good sheep killed by wolves. The ravenous brutes were quite close to the barn, to commit the depredation. A few nights ago Mr. Adam Stewart, of the same Township, had 6 sheep killed by these voracious proflers.

On Wednesday evening, while Mr. Jas. Griffith, of Erasmus, was ascending the mow in his barn to feed his cattle, he fell back a distance of 14 feet, lighting on his back across a log. Mr. Griffith lay for a time insensible, but afterwards so far recovered as to be able to crawl to the house on his hands and knees. He was severely bruised.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.—The Leonard Scott Publishing Company have sent us Blackwood for November. Some of the papers in this number are of a very interesting character. The Parisians No. 2; The Shores of Biscaya; On a Resurrection; and on the night of the 1st of Montebanquet; La Bruyere; The End of the Banquet; and Our Autumn Manoeuvres. For sale at the bookstores in town.

FIRE IN NASSAGAWEXA.—A correspondent sends us the following more correct account of the fire in Nassagawexa than we had in Thursday's issue:—On Wednesday afternoon, between one and two o'clock, a fire broke out in the barn on the west half of Lot 27, Con. 2, Nassagawexa, during the absence of the owner, Mr. Henry Atkinson, and family at Guelph. The fire consumed the barn and stables, with their contents, the whole of his hay and straw, a large quantity of which was last year's straw, 130 bushels of oats, 30 bushels of peas, 30 bushels of wheat, and all of his turnips, together with a valuable horse. The neighbors, by great exertions, succeeded in saving his driving shed, with some little damage, together with the agricultural implements therein. As none of the family were about the place at the time, the origin of the fire is a mystery. Loss heavy, but partially covered by an insurance of $1,600.

WARDEN'S SUPPER.—The Warden on Friday night gave his annual supper to the members of the County Council and a number of other invited guests, at Ellis's American Hotel. After the company had dined with good appetites the excellent repast provided by mine host of the American, the Warden, who presided, gave in very appropriate terms the usual loyal and patriotic toasts. To that of the "Army and Navy and Volunteers." Dr. Orton and Lieut. Nicol responded. Mr. John McKerie, Vice-Chairman, proposed the "House of Commons," which called for a brief but suitable response from Col. Higginbotham. Mr. Massie gave "The health of the Warden," and in doing so paid a well-deserved tribute to his worth and to the great ability manifested in the discharge of his responsible duties. He had held the position of Warden for four years, and no one who ever filled the chair had made himself better acquainted with the affairs of the County, or had manifested a more earnest desire to discharge his duties with efficiency, and to advance the interests of the County. The toast was drunk with all the honours, and "he's a jolly good fellow." The Warden responded in fitting terms to the compliment paid him. "The commercial and manufacturing interests of Guelph" were next given, and suitably acknowledged by Mr. James Massie. "The County evening officials" followed, which elicited short, witty and pithy speeches from Messrs. Reynolds, Beattie, Guthrie, and Harvey. "The press" was responded to by Messrs. Chadwick and Innes, and "The Agricultural interests" were done full justice to by Mr. James Laidlaw, Mr. John Rae, and Mr. Brown, from the County of Bruce. Among other toasts which followed were "The legal profession," responded to by Mr. J. P. McMillan, and the "Host and Hostess," which was acknowledged by Mr. Ellis. Some general songs, recitations, &c., were given during the evening, which was one of the most pleasant and enjoyable "Warden's nights" ever held under the present worthy and popular incumbent.

Hope On.

When days grow dark with autumn showers,
And summer beauty slowly dies,
Among deserted woodland bowers,
And under sadly frowning skies;
When in the valley, on the hill,
We sadly wander, search in vain
For gleams of light, my song is still,
With dim eyes I read to you again.
Hope on, the spring will shine again.
When lives grow dark with earthly loss,
And weary hearts beat low with pain;
When sad souls bow beneath their cross,
And household bands are rent in twain;
When spirits faint beneath their trials,
Of this world's life, my song is still,
With dim eyes I read to you again.
Hope on, there comes a brighter Spring.
H. T. T. HAZELWOOD.

BY TELEGRAPH

Bronze Statue to Horace Greeley.

New York, Dec. 7.—A bronze statue is to be erected to Greeley in Central Park. The subscriptions now being made for the children may perhaps be used for that purpose.

The Maryboro' Trouble.
We learn that the trouble in Maryboro' between the Sheriff's officers and the people in regard to the taking possession of Mrs. Gray's farm on an ejection suit, has quieted down. The Reeve put himself in communication with two or three leading men in the Township, who exerted their influence in preventing a riot or anything which would savour of defiance of the law. We are glad to say they succeeded in this, and that the indignation of the people was so allayed as to give hope that the Sheriff's officers will be allowed to perform their unpleasant duty in peace and quietness. At the same time there is a strong feeling of sympathy for Mrs. Gray, and a movement is on foot to get up a subscription in her behalf, to enable her to put the case in Chancery for the recovery of the lot which she considers she has been unjustly deprived of.

Local and Other Items.

THE RAILWAY TO LISTOWEL.—The iron on the Southern Extension is laid to within a short distance of Listowel. The formal opening of the road will take place on the 19th inst.

ISAAC LOTTREID, an Indian, from the Reserve near Bradford, and who escaped from the Kingston Penitentiary some two years ago, having been placed there for life, for committing rape, was arrested on Tuesday last in the house of one Saker, another Indian residing on the Reserve.

THE STRATFORD BEACON says that on Monday last one of the men employed on the railway had a very narrow escape. He was going along the track to his work when he was knocked over by the rails by an engine, which passed over him, but, singular to say, without causing him any worse consequences than a fright.

On Thursday a melancholy shooting case occurred in the Township of Adelaide. Mr. Robert Freeler rose before daylight, and his son, leaving his footsteps, thought him a prowling robber, and fired a gun at him. The charge lodged in a vital place, and the case of the unfortunate man is pronounced hopeless.

T. G. & B. R.—The surveyors of the T. G. & B. R. arrived at Teeswater on the 22nd ult., and expect to have finished in about ten days, and let the contract on the 15th December. The work on the road between Wroxeter and Harrison is being rapidly pushed forward, a great part of it being already graded, and the Company have the prospect of finishing it to Teeswater, their present terminus, by November next.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.—Wm. Armstrong, a colored man from the neighbourhood of Buffalo, on Thursday evening entered the house of a family named Sailor, in Bertie Township, under the pretence of wanting to get warmed, and, there being no men in the house, made a criminal assault on a girl about 17 years of age. Falling to accomplish his design, owing to the determined resistance of the girl and her mother, he then assaulted the latter with intent, but was stabbed with a carving knife by her son, who is about ten years of age. Being unable to escape, from loss of blood, the negro was brought to Erin, and lodged in the lock-up. Next morning, after a preliminary examination, he was committed to stand his trial at the ensuing assizes.

ACCUMULATED GRIEF.—The deep affliction of the daughters of the late Horace Greeley—Ida L. and Gabrielle Miriam—in having lost within a single month their beloved mother and their kind and indulgent father, has been the subject of much pathetic comment. The grief of Miss Ida is also augmented by the loss, within the same period, of her accepted lover, who was the pursuer of the ill-fated steamer Missouri. And now the orphan sisters are menaced with a still further bereavement, their aunt, Mrs. John F. Cleveland, sister of Horace Greeley, being dangerously ill at her residence in New York. The experience of these estimable young ladies is, indeed, most bitter.

EXPLORATION OF AFRICA.—Stanley's recent expedition to find Livingstone has given a renewed interest to African exploration, and the expedition now fitting out by the Berlin Geographical Society for the capture of the Central Africa is attracting unusual attention in Europe. The German Society is acting upon the theory that there is an area in the middle of Africa of about a million square miles, which has never yet been entered by any travellers, although Livingston, Burton, Grant, Speke, Mungo Park, Barth, Du Chaillu, Dr. Schweinfurth, and others have approached it on all sides. It is believed that it constitutes one and the same geographical province, with different flora and fauna from the rest of Africa, and inhabited by different people. The great obstacle to travellers hitherto has been the slave trade, and the dangerous condition of the country to which it gives rise, which renders passports or arrangements for safe conduct of no avail. The expedition of the German Society will be organized with reference to overcoming this obstacle, and if, as is similar instance of so rapid a payment of a great national debt to be found in the history of nations.

Wellington County Council.

Friday.
The Council met this morning pursuant to adjournment at 10 o'clock. The Warden in the chair and all the members. The minutes of the previous meetings were read and confirmed.

The Warden read an account from the Elora Observer for $18 72; also account for $3, for publishing Division Court List, accompanied by a letter from Mr. John Smith protesting against the latter item being rejected by the Finance Committee.

Mr. Massie read the reply to the Warden's Address, which on motion was adopted.

The Warden read a communication from Mr. H. C. Kaye, Township Clerk of Minto, relative to some official dispute between him and the County Treasurer in regard to the return of rates on non-resident lands in Minto by 1st of Nov. in each year, so that they might be included in the municipal roll of the year. The Council went into Committee of the whole. Mr. Darby in the chair.

The Treasurer was heard in explanation of his conduct in the matter, showing that he acted on the recommendation of the Finance Committee and endorsed by the Council. Messrs. Connell and Brain made a few explanatory remarks on behalf of the Minto Council, after which the Committee rose reporting no action.

Mr. Leslie presented the report of the Commissioners of Dundas and Guelph Road, showing that there had been expended the sum of $428 95 in repairs, $50 of which was expended in planking the Dundas bridge, and leaving an unexpended balance of $50. The road will require a good deal of graving next season.

The Warden read an account from the Orangeville Advertiser for $16 for printing. Referred to Finance Committee.

Mr. Massie presented report from Special Committee on General Hospital, Guelph, recommending that whilst no grant could be made at this session, yet that it was a scheme worthy of the best consideration of the Council. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Connell, seconded by Mr. Brain, leave was given to introduce a By-law incorporating the village of Harrison. Read a first and second time. The Council then adjourned.

REFER TO WARDEN'S ADDRESS.
The Special Committee appointed to consider the Warden's Address beg to report in reference to the first part, where attention is directed to the petitions addressed to be presented to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario for the dividing of a portion of this County, with others, into the formation of new counties, upon enquiry, and from information obtained from the representatives of the township in this County, they find that the great majority of them are opposed to any separation, desiring rather to remain and form a part of the County of Wellington, and would recommend that a petition on their behalf be sent from the Council praying the Legislative Assembly not to entertain any of the petitions, in so far as this County is interested.

In reference to the second part of the Address, giving particulars of the appeal made by the Town of Guelph against the equalization of the assessment by this County, they would express their appreciation of the prompt action taken by the Warden, and the satisfactory result obtained through his management of the matter, and that there is much valuable information contained in the decision of His Honour Judge Macdonald, they would recommend that it be engrossed in the minutes of this Council, since it will direct the attention of assessors throughout the County to the necessity of a more careful performance of their duties, they being fully defined in his decision.

They have pleasure in recommending that the sale of the County Debentures, as made by the Warden, be confirmed. JAS. MASSIE, Chairman.

Friday afternoon.
The Council met this afternoon at two o'clock, pursuant to adjournment. Present, the Warden and the rest of the members.

On motion of Mr. Robinson a By-law was introduced, and read a first and second time, for forming Mount Forest village into a High School District.

On motion of Mr. Sutherland, the Warden, a Clerk, Messrs. Laidlaw and Johnson were paid $8, and Mr. Leslie $4 for services rendered during the hearing of the recent appeal case.

Mr. Leslie read the report of the Special Committee appointed to consider the communication of the Ontario Temperance and Prohibitory League, which recommended that the question be made a test at the polls. The recommendation was on, although received with great laughter, obtained the unanimous approval of the Council.

The Council then went into Committee of the whole on the By-law to incorporate the village of Harrison. Mr. H. Hamilton in the chair. The Council rose and reported the blanks as filled up. Mr. John Livingstone being appointed returning officer for the holding of the first election.

Dr. Orton moved, seconded by Mr. Busehien, to divert the $600 voted last session by By-law to aid in building a High School at Fergus, to the purchase of a site for the same, but was withdrawn after some discussion, it being pointed out that any such diversion could only be effected by By-law.

Mr. Massie presented an account which had been sent into the Guelph Town Council from the Sheriff, for the payment of the funeral expenses of one James Mitchell, committed to gaol as a vagrant, and during his term of imprisonment had died. Mr. Massie stated that the Council of Guelph did not think that they should be called upon to pay the account, but several Councilors stated that the practice in their respective municipalities was to pay the funeral expenses of indigents.

Mr. Howard read the report of the Education Committee, which expressed their satisfaction at the Government reduction by By-law to aid in building Mutes at the Belleville Institution, and recommending that Mr. James Graham's daughter be sent to the Deaf and Dumb Institution at the Council's expense. Referred to Finance Committee.

On motion of Dr. Orton the sum of $17 was refunded to the Council of Fergus, being amount paid by that corporation for a quarter's support of James Graham's daughter at the Deaf and Dumb Institution. Carried.

On motion of Mr. Robinson, the Council went into Committee of the whole to fill up the blanks in the Mount Forest High School District. Present, the in the chair. The names of the Trustees filled in were John Kennedy, Dr. Ercoyd, H. P. Yeomans, John McFadden, Robert Kilgour and H. H. Stovel, two trustees, in the order named, to retire annually. The Committee then rose and reported the blanks as filled up.

Mr. Darby read the report of the Road and Bridge Committee, which merely recapitulated the reports presented by the various Commissioners and already reported in our issue of Thursday, and that they have all been audited and found correct; also that the action of the Reeve and Deputy Reeve of Luther in diverting the grant from the building of bridges to the purchase of a road allowance as already reported. Be approved. The Council then adjourned till tomorrow at 9 o'clock.

Guelph Evening Mercury
FRIDAY EVENING, DEC. 6, 1872

The Situation in France.
Matters are still in a very unsettled state in France. The Committee of Thirty has been chosen, and has commenced its deliberations, the result of which will be looked for with the greatest curiosity and eagerness. Meantime the feeling is generally prevalent that this Committee is hostile to the Republic, and the Republican journals, growing emboldened by the excitement and war of parties, are beginning to denounce the Assembly, and to assert that it does not represent the will of the people of France. President Thiers in the midst of all these does not well know what to do. Demands are made on one side for them to resign, and on the other there are equally strenuous demands for them to stand firm and to resist the pressure brought to bear on them by the Republicans, who are bent on driving matters to extremes. It is inferred from the political composition of the Committee that any proposition for the dissolution of the Assembly will be rejected, and nothing more radical than a partial renewal of the Chamber once a year, or once every two years, like the American Senate, will be entertained. Thiers has resolved that there shall be no change in the Ministry until the report of the Committee of Thirty is presented. Then if the report is unfavourable to him he will propose it in the Assembly. The extreme Republicans are agitating for a dissolution of the Assembly, and are inciting their friends all over the country to send in petitions to that effect. This move is rapidly gaining in favour, and petitions are coming in from all sections. Evidently matters are approaching a crisis, which may result in a sudden break-up of the present government.

MAILS FOR THE NORTH WEST.—The public are advised that mails are made up at Windsor for the Provinces of British Columbia and Manitoba; and letters for those colonies are now forwarded in closed bags, via Detroit daily. Letters for Thunder Bay, including Prince Arthur's Landing, Nipigon, Red Rock, Pic, Fort William and Silver Islet, Lake Superior, are also made up at Windsor in closed bags, and forwarded twice per week via Detroit and Duluth. Letters for Batchewana, Bruce Mines, Byng Inlet, Collin's Inlet, Garden River, Killarney Little Current, Manitowaning, Michael Bay, Michipicooton River, Point au Pins, Sault Ste. Marie and Spanish River, are forwarded three times per month during the winter by Toronto, via Penetanguishene. The postage on letters for all the above named colonies and places is the same as to other parts of the Dominion.

The appointment of Chief Justice Morris, as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, appears to give satisfaction to the people of that Province. At a meeting held at Winnipeg, on Thursday, Governor Morris said that after several months' acquaintance with the people of the Province, he was not at all afraid to accept the position.

By a proclamation in Saturday's Ontario Gazette the Legislature is called together for the despatch of business, on the 8th of January.

The Commissioners appointed to examine into and report upon the suitability of the Mimico and other sites for an agricultural college and model farm, visited Whitchy on Friday. They were Mr. John Dunlop, of Woodstock; Mr. Robert N. Ball, of Niagara; Mr. John Miller, of Pickering; Mr. John Dryden, President of the South Ontario Agricultural Society. They were accompanied by the Hon. Mr. McKellar, Commissioner of Agriculture. They visited several farms, deemed to be suitable for the model farm, and made careful examinations of the soil, etc.

INDIANS.—Some of those skeptics, who are never alling, are surprised at Dr. Depew's Medical Victory so suddenly becoming a theme of conversation, and already esteemed so highly for diseases of the lungs, liver, kidneys and bladder, and prized for rheumatism, neuralgia, biliousness, and general weakness and debility. You will not be surprised if you realize that health depends chiefly on the condition of the blood, and that Depew's Medical Victory is a Real Blood Purifier. Ask those who have suffered for years, from costiveness, female weakness and dyspepsia, in spite of other treatment, yet cured by the Medical Victory, why they prize it.

"How I found Livingston."

But the Paradise has its drawbacks. There are terrible flies and a more horrible fever. By the 3rd of April the two horses were dead, and out of a force of twenty-five men one had deserted and ten were on the sick list. Nevertheless Mr. Stanley pushed on, now passing through horrid jungle, where the miasma of decayed vegetation and the pungent odour of rank plants almost overwhelmed the men; then coming to some large or town where the inhabitants set them as though they had fallen from the clouds. In this way the distance of 119 miles from Cango to Simbamweni was got over in fourteen marches and twenty-nine days.

This was the season of the early rains, which the savages of Bango had declared would continue incessantly for 40 days. They lasted just 39 days, and of these only 18 were really wet. The rains produced floods, and Mr. Stanley gives an illustration of the discomforts of African travel—a picture of his caravan struggling up to their waists in water, across the Maku-ta swamp. The march to Chunya was rendered memorable by the quarrel of the two white men. Shaw and Farquhar's Company had previously set out, having grown to a body of four hundred men, to cross the waterless wilderness of Marenge Mhala, a distance of thirty miles. Here Mr. Stanley had an attack of fever, but got over in a day. Beyond this wilderness lay a pleasant country, and about a month was occupied in reaching Unyanyembe, where the whole expedition was to make. The friendly Sheikh met the travellers and took him in state to his house in Kikuru, the capital. A house was found for Mr. Stanley, his carriers paid off, his suite installed in their apartments, and the first, second, and fourth caravans inspected, and their leaders rewarded. Tabora, which is close to Kikuru, is the chief Arab settlement in Central Africa. It contains a thousand houses, and five thousand people. On the second day of Mr. Stanley's arrival the Arab magnates of that city all came to see him, and he learned that there was war in the country between him and Ujiji. A few days afterwards he felt listless and languid and began to see visions and dreams. At last he woke up, and his attendant told him that for a fortnight he had been down with fever. At the end of the month all were well, and started on the further west journey, accompanying the Arab army of some two thousand men who were going valiantly to finish the war. The expedition ended disastrously, and Mr. Stanley returned to Unyanyembe in a state of discouragement. On the 7th August he wrote in his diary, "If Livingston is at Ujiji, he is not locked up with very small means of escape. I may consider myself also locked up at Unyanyembe, and I suppose cannot go to Ujiji until this war with Mirambo is settled." At this place he was detained till the 20th September, tortured by the treacherous behaviour of his man Shaw, tempted to turn back, yet holding on to his mission, and at length resolving to recognize his expedition and made a detour southwards to avoid the war. He set out with 24 men and boys. For his adventures on this journey, his health breath escapes, his resolute management of grumbling companions, we must refer our readers to Mr. Stanley's own pages. On the 9th November he sees the hills from which Lake Tanganika can be seen, and could hardly contain himself at the sight. On the next day—29th from Bagamoyo, the 61st from Unyanyembe—they set out on a glorious morning on the last stage.

"In two hours I am warned to prepare for a view of the Tanganika, from the top of a steep mountain the Kirangozi says I can see it. I almost vent the feelings of my heart in cries. But wait; we must behold it first. And we press up the hill breathlessly, lest the great scene hasten away. We are at last on the summit. Ah! not yet can it be seen. A little further on, just yonder—oh! there it is—a silvery gleam. I merely catch sight of it between the trees, and—but here it is at last. True, the Tanganika! and there are the blue, black mountains of Ugomu and Ukaramba. An immense broad sheet, a burnished bed of silver—lucid canopy of blue above—lofty mountains are its valences, palm forests form its fringes! The Tangika—Hurrah! and the men respond by a exultant cry, the Anglo-Saxon with the lungs of Stators, and the great forests and the hills seem to share in our triumph."

They descend the mountain, pushing on rapidly, lest news of their coming should reach Ujiji before them. Presently they halt at a little brook; then ascend a naked ridge, the very last of myriads they have climbed. They reach its summit and cross to its western edge, and the port of Ujiji is below, embowered in palms, only five hundred yards off. They unfurl their flags, fire a salute, and march to the village. The people swarm out to meet them. At two or three hundred yards from the village, Mr. Stanley hears a voice say, "Good morning, sir." It is a merry-faced black man in a turban. I ask, says Mr. Stanley, who the mischief are you?—Yes, sir. In this village?—Yes, sir. Are you sure?—Sure, sure, sir; why I leave him just now. "Good morning, sir," said another voice. Hello, said I, what is your name?—My name is Chennab, sir. What are you Chennab the friend of Wokotani?—Yes, sir. And is the Doctor well?—Not very well, sir. Where has he been so long?—In Manyema. Now you run, Susie, and tell the Doctor I am coming. By this time we were within two hundred yards of the village, and the multitude was getting denser, almost preventing our march. Flags and streamers were out, Arabs and Wangwana were pushing their way through the natives in order to greet us, for according to their account we belonged to them. But the great wonder of all was—How did you come from Unyanyembe?

The sequel of this story is known all over the world—how the two white men kept up their dignity before the Arab crowd. "I would have run up to him," says Mr. Stanley, "only I was a coward in the presence of such a mob—would have embraced him, only that he being an Englishman I did not know how he would receive me; so I did what cowardice and false pride suggested was the best thing—walked deliberately to him, took off my hat, and said, 'Dr. Livingston, I presume.'" "Yes," said he with a kind smile, lifting his cap slightly. I replace my hat on my head, and he puts on his cap, and we both grasp hands, and I then said aloud, "I thank God, Doctor, I have been permitted to see you." He answered, "I feel thankful that I am here to welcome you."

Of the talk of the two men who thus met as it were at the end of the world, Mr. Stanley gives an extended and interesting account. After some time had been spent in pleasant intercourse, while the discoverer rested from his journey and the discoverer got the news of the great world from which he had so long been missed, they set out together to explore the northern end of the lake. Coasting along it they proceeded to its most northern extremity, where it was supposed by some that the Rusizi river ran out on its way out to the Albert Nyanza and the Nile. Captain Speke had concluded that the universal testimony of the natives that the Rusizi was an affluent proved it to be an affluent; some geographers had declared Tanganika to be the southernmost reservoir of the Nile. Busisi flows into the lake and not out of it, and its connection with the Nile is so far disproved. The voyage on the Tanganika occupied twenty-eight days, and during that time some 300 miles has been traversed. They got back on the 18th of December, and having spent Christmas together, started down the lake to Urumbi, just one degree of latitude below Ujiji, as a more convenient point from which to begin the return journey. From Urumbi Dr. Livingston accompanied Mr. Stanley to Unyanyembe on his return journey, where Dr. Livingston took possession of his stores, and where, in the middle of last March, they parted after four months' pleasant intercourse—Mr. Stanley to find his way to the coast and home, bringing home Dr. Livingston's sealed journal and despatches with him; Dr. Livingston himself to return to the lake and make his tramp all round it, so as to fill up with certainties the blank in his water, across the Maku-ta swamp. The march to Chunya was rendered memorable by the quarrel of the two white men. Shaw and Farquhar's Company had previously set out, having grown to a body of four hundred men, to cross the waterless wilderness of Marenge Mhala, a distance of thirty miles. The Foster Brother;

The Orphan of the Wreck.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

THE DEATH OF WALLY. The solemn circumstances precluded the realization of the truth and all that it involved.

Once and again it seemed as if the final moment had come, yet as often did the sinking energies rally, and the cold grey light of the winter morning merged into the fuller clearness of the moon, his strength had so wonderfully returned that George expressed the hope to Manby that he would recover.

But the doctor only slowly shook his head.

"It is the power that keeps him up," he said; "that and the excitement attendant on the consciousness to which he has returned, the latter especially, coupled with the strong personal interest he feels in what we have been telling him concerning you, and the fraud by which you have been kept out of your inheritance has summoned every particle of force in his constitution to expend itself utterly ere death can ensue.

The tone in which Manby delivered this opinion was such as to destroy all further expectation—so decided was it, so certain in its assurance, so void of all peradventure. The eyes of the doctor could look beneath mere superficial signs into the interior working of the organism, and see there the movements which produced that substantial and unsupported glow of vigor which to the unprofessional skill of George and Harry seemed tokens of returning life.

As the day advanced the doctor had to leave them to make his rounds of the Asylum, and he was gone the most of the afternoon. George never quitted Walley's bedside. What little food he was able to take was brought to him there, and he was ever at hand to minister to the dying one's wants.

And it was wonderful how Walley entered into the event preceding the shipwreck, telling George all about the life of his parents in Jamaica, the story of their love, and the reasons for their secret marriage. We know that story pretty well already. Nathan Garrett told it at Ardgowan many years before, and told it truly in all its essential facts, though perverting the truth by substituting Hangoon and her child for Felicia Wentworth and Georgey.

Walley in his turn eagerly desired to know all that had taken place during the years of his mental darkness, and George detailed the particulars in so far as the time and strength of the listener allowed. As the tale was told him, in the excitement and intensity of his feelings, forgot his weakness, and grew so absorbed in the recital that his eyes melted with tenderness or flashed with indignation.

When he had learned all that George had to tell, and taken in the present state and future prospect of affairs, he lay quiet for a time, as if ruminating; then he drew a long sigh, and the light in his eyes altogether changed. The eager glittering aspect was gone, and a soft, quiet, solemn look had come in its room.

"Georgey," he faintly said. "Yes, Walley."

"I did not know it till a little ago, but I know it now, and—I am content."

"Content with what, dear Walley?" "Content to die. If I could have been of any use to you, I should like to have lived, but you are a man now, and do not want me take care of you."

"I wish you would live, Walley, and let me take care of you," said George, huskily.

"No—no. Better for you, and me too, that I should go now. You have the means of gaining your own, and I am glad—oh, very glad—that had my reason given me to me—to-day to enable you to do that. Now, there is nothing more for me to do here, and I want to go to my dear mistress. It does not seem to me that we have been parted for twenty years. It looks as if last night was the awful night of the wreck, and the rest a vague dream. Georgey dear, will you lay me beside your mother in the solitary churchyard you told me of? Will you lay me at her feet?"

"Yes, Walley; if it please God to take you from us now, I shall sacredly respect your wish."

"Then am I happy—happy. I am done with earth now. Help me, Georgey, to ask forgiveness for all my sins, and mercy, for my Saviour's sake."

"Will I bring the minister to see you?" whispered George.

"I would rather that you would speak to me, and read to me, and pray for me. We all prayed together in the little cabin before the ship struck. I am coming to the rocks now; I want to reach the Rock of Ages. Help me Georgey—help me!"

A Bible lay near, and, opening it, George turned up some sweet and comforting passages, and read these in his rich, clear, impressive voice. Then kneeling down, George prayed with fervent earnestness, and the motion of Walley's lips showed that he accompanied him. While this sacred service was going on the doctor entered, and joined in the devotion. When the prayer was ended, the amen was uttered by every lip; and when they rose in tears they saw that the angels had come for Walley's ransomed spirit. And, oh! how peaceful was his end; no pain, no struggle, but a gentle breathing of his soul away. Poor hapless soul, he had long been in the mysterious darkness, but at eventide there came a gleam of light. All his troubles were ended, his sufferings were over, and God gave His beloved sleep. Never did infant sink into its cradle slumber with greater peacefulness.

The Labour Question in England.
Land and labour will form subjects of discussion and agitation in England. They are viewed on all sides, and as a matter of course considered from different political standpoints. Yet it is generally conceded that the condition of the agricultural labourer demands improvement. The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol tries hard to explain away his "horsepower" speech. The more liberal statements acknowledge also the necessity of great changes in the land laws. The Attorney-General, in an address delivered at Liverpool on the 7th ult., selected the latter as one of his topics. He said that there was a whole cluster of questions connected with the land which must be considered by Parliament before long, and he specified, among these, the law of entail and primogeniture, of mortmain, the game laws, and above all, the transference of heritable property. Singling out the last named, he gave it as his opinion that land could be as cheaply conveyed from hand to hand as any other kind of property, instancing what Sir Robert Torrens had done in one of our Australian colonies, and stating that the great landowners of the country ought, for their own sakes, to move in this matter. Sir John Coleridge could scarcely find words strong enough to express his destination of the game laws, by means of which we turned the agricultural population into criminals.

DO GOOD TO OTHERS.
"Who blesses others in his daily deeds, Shall find the healing that his spirit needs, For every flower in others' pathway throws Confers its fragrant beauty on his own." If this be true, the proprietors of the Canadian Pain Destroyer must be the recipients of blessings innumerable. It is the safest and most sure remedy for sudden colds, rheumatism, burns, sprains, etc., and removes all kinds of pains almost directly it is applied. 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all medicine dealers.

M. Poncelet, in his great work, "The Universe," says that "Anatomically and physically speaking, the human mechanism is very rude and coarse compared to the exquisite delicacy revealed in the organization of certain animals. But in us, the intellect, the moral empire of the mind, prevails predominately over the apparent imperfection of matter. Through it man alone approaches the chosen creatures who shine near the throne of the Eternal, and form a bond of union between heaven and earth. A grand and philosophic truth. Were man to conform more to the laws of health and nature, and be less addicted to the gratification of his passions, it would not be necessary to advertise Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites as a restorative for the powers of the brain and nervous system, while the world's progress in enlightenment would indeed be marvellous.

If a man wants a Bottle of Whiskey, let him buy it and take it home like a man, and not sneak home with a bottle of "Bitters," or "Cordial," and pretend that it is medicine. If he wants a tonic that is something better than a temporary stimulant, he should get a bottle of Peruvian Syrup (an Iron Tonic), that will vitalize the blood and give durable strength to the system.

BRADFORD-EPPE'S COCOA - GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Eppe has produced his breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled "James Eppe & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Eppe's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

Now, as heretofore, THE TRIBUNE strives to be first of all and preeminently a news paper.
France a Republic—England and Germany gradually permeated with Republican ideas—Spain swaying in the nervous grasp of a ruler too good for a king and too weak for a Republican, who is unable to govern the great island that blocks the entrance to our Gulf of Mexico, and equally unable to give it up—the German speaking peoples agitated by the Protestantism, peacefully, and the See of Rome on the Dogma of Infallibility, and assuming to recognize the "Old Catholicism" which the Protestants have persecuted by the intellectual ferment that comes of the conflict between old ideas, philosophical, theological, and the advances of physical science—Russia and Great Britain running a race for the final goal that shall determine Asiatic supremacy—China seeking ready to abandon her advances and restless her half open states—Japan abolishing feudalism and inviting Western civilization to radiate Western empire—such are phases of the times from which we live, and the more our continents and the wires under all seas are daily bearing to us. With able and trusted correspondents in the leading capitals, and wherever great changes are in progress, THE TRIBUNE aims, at whatever cost, to lay before its readers the most prompt, complete, and popular presentation of these diverse and conflicting movements—through all which, as it fondly trusts, the long masses are everywhere struggling up towards recognition and a brighter future.

At home the struggle for Freedom seems over. The last slave has long been a citizen; the last opposition to emancipation and citizenship equal civil rights, has been formally abandoned. No party, North or South, longer disputes the result. The great Union all declares that these results must never be undone, and with a whole people thus united on the grand principle, the prolonged civil contests that followed have led to the Republic closes the records of the bitter, hateful Past, and turns peacefully, hopefully, to the less alarming, because less vital problems of the Future. To whatever may elucidate the general discussion or action on these, THE TRIBUNE gives ample space and most impartial record. Whatever parties may propose, whatever political leaders may say, whatever course they do, is fairly set down in its columns, whether this news helps or hinders its own views. Its readers have the right to an honest statement of the facts, and that they always get.

But as to its own political principle, THE TRIBUNE is of course to be broken as heretofore, the champion of Equal Rights, irrespective of Race, Nativity, or Color. It stands indelibly by the amendments to the permanent security of these rights, which have been solemnly incorporated into the Constitution of the United States. Independent of all political parties, it endeavors to treat them with judicial impartiality. It labors to purify the administration of Government, National, State and Municipal, and whenever there is authority, whether in National, State, or Municipal affairs, take the lead in this work, it will therein give them the most candid and fearless criticism, never be the servitor of any political party; nor will it surrender or even waive its right to criticize and condemn when it deems it commendable to do so. It will not be swayed by the action of any party or of any public men.

Now, as always, THE TRIBUNE labors with all its heart for the promotion of the great material interests of the country. The progress of inventing and most important record, the champion of Equal Rights, irrespective of Race, Nativity, or Color. Osborn Second Prizes,
Hamilton, Woodstock, Parkhill, Markham, Port Hope, Perth.

OSBORN
25 First Prizes, 3 Second Prizes and two Diplomas, for 1871

At each competition the contests were keen, the leading Machines of Canada and the States being represented.
FIRST PRIZE
THE OSBORN is warranted for three years, will do every variety of sewing, and the fact that it has carried off the highest awards at the Provincial, Central, Western, and other leading Exhibitions, which no other Machine in Canada has done, attests its superiority over all competitors.

SEWING MACHINE!

Give "THE OSBORN" a trial before purchasing any other; you are certain to be pleased with its work.
Beware of cheap, flashy machines claiming to have received first prizes. Also leading about the season. As they have been awarded any. Competent judges have declared them unworthy, both as regards principle of construction, material employed, and work performed.
Machines given against easy terms of payment.
AGENTS and others in want of employment during the winter will do well to give us a call. Chances to make money unprecedented.
