FORMER CLERK GILLIS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Warrant is Sworn Out by J. M. Gray, a Building Contractor, Who Alleges That Gillis, Acting as His Solicitor, Misappropriated $2,400

GILLIS FURNISHES BAIL AND IS GIVEN LIBERTY

Gillis Refuses to Make Any Statement for Publication Further Than to Characterize His Arrest as an Outrage; Was City Clerk Six Years

FORMER City Clerk, Hugh E. Gillis, was yesterday arrested on a warrant sworn out by J. M. Gray and charging him with misappropriating funds to the extent of $2,400 which were in his possession while he was acting as solicitor for Gray, who is a building contractor. Gillis was released on $1,000 bail, $500 of which was furnished by himself, $500 by Stanley Gillingham and $1,000 by Henry Phillips. Mr. Gillis was arrested by Detectives Ritchie, and taken to the station where his bail was quickly arranged.

The information on the warrant which was sworn out states that on November 19, 1912, Gillis received from Mr. Gray a check for $1,200 which he converted to his own use and thereupon stole the same. It is stated that on this same day Mr. Gillis received from Mr. Gray a check for $1,200 which was made payable to Mr. Gray and that Gillis failed to credit the same to Mr. Gray's account.

Refuses to Make Statement
Mr. Gillis when asked to make a statement for publication refused to do so, only stating that the whole thing was an outrage and that there was nothing in it.

The prominence of the parties connected together with the receipt of the charge against Mr. Gillis was an unusual case in the city and is being watched with interest by the public. Mr. Gillis is not connected with the city of Calgary at the present time, having left the position of city clerk in 1907.

Mr. Gray, who is mentioned in the same case, is a well-known contractor in the city, having been in the city since 1907. He was appointed as city clerk in 1904 in which position he served for six years.

Mr. Gillis is a very well-known in the city, coming here from Annapolis, Nova Scotia, a number of years ago when he opened up a loan office. He was appointed as city clerk in 1904 in which position he served for six years.

RETURN OF LIBERALS CERTAIN; HAVE SEVEN SEATS AS STARTER

Three Certain and Four Likely Acclamations With Three Ridings Running Only Liberal Candidates, Assures Government Big Advance

BENNETT'S ELEVATORS BECOMING BIG ISSUE

Practically Certain All Farming Constituencies Will Vote to Break Big Monopoly and Return Government Supporters to Legislature; Politics

THAT the Liberal government will be returned is a foregone conclusion as is evidenced by the number of acclamations the government will have to start with on nomination day, and the number of constituencies in which, no matter who is elected from among the candidates running, the government will have a supporter.

There will not be less than seven or eight seats secured by the government. With such a number of seats sure, the government would only have to break even in the rest of the province in order to have a fair working majority in the legislature.

But that it will do vastly better than that and that it will have a very large majority, there seems no room for doubt.

In Calgary riding there is as yet no opposition candidate in the field and the indications are that George Smith will be returned by acclamation. The constituency of St. James, which has no opposition candidate, is nevertheless a Liberal and a supporter of the government.

In the constituency of St. Paul the only opposition of P. E. Leonard is a Liberal.

There are three candidates in any event and perhaps four but they are all avowed supporters of the government.

In Clearwater there is no Conservative candidate but an independent is running in the province, which has always been a Liberal, but whose intentions as to whether he will support the government or not seem to be somewhat indefinite. However, the seat is as certain for the government as a seat on a steamship can be.

The government is therefore assured of seven seats without opposition, and another six as good as certain.

As to the rest of the province, every seat is a farming seat, and the certainty as the farmers are not only avowed supporters of the government, but the breaking of the greatest monopoly that has ever existed in the province, through the medium of the establishment of farmers' elevators, has been a subject of keen interest and the reports received from such constituencies are to the effect that they will all return government supporters.

A conservative estimate of the result of the election is a dozen seats as the maximum and some estimators place the number considerably below that.

SOME TYPICAL ALBANIAN MOUNTAIN CHIEFS

THE NEW KINGDOM OF ALBANIA—Recently recognized by the great powers in the Balkans. The pictures show something of the country and its people. The Duc de Montenegro, a descendant of the Louis of France, has been proclaimed king. But the Montenegrins have practically captured Scutari, its capital, from the Turks and want to annex it to Montenegro. The great powers' ambassadors commenced conversations about the matter in London yesterday. The King of Montenegro is reported to have said he would resign in Scutari or die in its capture.

PREMIER WELCOMED AT HOME OF LEADER OF OPPOSITION

Refutes the Michener Fabrication About the Timber Limits Through Which the Dunvegan Road Is to Pass; Says There is no Truth in Story

CONSERVATIVE PRESS CONTROLLED IN EAST

Insists That the Settlement of the A. & G. W. Will Be Brought About as Soon as Possible; R. B. Wolliver, the Liberal Candidate, Makes Address

RED DEER, April 8.—Red Deer, the home and constituency of the late Premier, was the scene of a rousing welcome to Premier Bennett this evening and to R. B. Wolliver, Liberal candidate in the campaign. A large demonstration was held in the Empress Theatre, and though a few Conservatives were present at the start and interrupted a little, the close of the meeting was full of enthusiasm, and confidence was expressed that on April 17 the Conservative leader would go down to defeat.

The discontinuance of the Conservative interferences was brought about when one man said the Dunvegan railway had its road maintained by the government to pass through the timber limits of P. A. Burrows and the Imperial Pulp company. The railway went nowhere near those timber limits, said the premier, as neither Mr. Burrows nor the Imperial Pulp company had any limits west or north of the Athabasca River.

The premier, for the first time in his campaign, mentioned temperance reform. He said that the direct legislation act which he had passed gave the temperance people the best weapon with which to accomplish their ends. He could frame the act they wanted and demand its submission to the people. He said they should not be afraid of the people who would decide whether the bill would become law or not. Premier Sifton was received with loud cheers from all sides. He said Mr. Wolliver was a man who would show an intimacy with the legislation and the constituency which Mr. Michener, the late member, would have some difficulty in equalling. The opposition tried to make a case of "public works" as a matter of fact, the accounts through the department of public works was not kept by constituencies, and the works overlapped were large.

Opposition of Socialists
Unfortunately, socialists was the only platform on which the opposition was appealing to the people of Alberta. Mr. Wolliver, minister of finance, made the opening speech of the day. He quoted Mr. Wolliver as saying that the Canadian ships would be required for the defence of the empire and if they were not forthcoming they could be replaced and the burden laid not on them. He declared that the issue was not one of permanent contribution and he was opposed to permanent contribution and he believed the premier was also.

The policy of the Liberals, as defined by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the minister of justice, was to have a permanent contribution maintained by Canadians. That policy had, however, been modified by other members of the opposition and he would defy anyone to tell exactly what it was. It was a policy to judgment, remarked Mr. Wolliver, "but I am reminding to interrupt the Liberal policy."

"I think you will come to judgment," remarked Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "Members of the opposition had been declaring that the policy of permanent contributions to Great Britain, as is my duty, I am reminding to interrupt the Liberal policy."

Mr. Clark of Red Deer made another strong and able speech last night on the navy question. Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, made the opening speech of the day. He quoted Mr. Clark as saying that the Canadian ships would be required for the defence of the empire and if they were not forthcoming they could be replaced and the burden laid not on them. He declared that the issue was not one of permanent contribution and he was opposed to permanent contribution and he believed the premier was also.

Mr. Clark of Red Deer took exception to the quotation from the minister of finance as read by the minister of justice.

CLOSURE RESOLUTION WILL BE TAKEN UP IN COMMONS TODAY

Strong Speech on Navy Question by Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, Who Covers New Ground in a Very Excellent Address

BORDEN POLICY NOT ONE OF PERMANENT CONTRIBUTION

Red Michael Ridicules the Idea of a Naval Squadron Composed of Dreadnaughts Contributed by the Sultans of Malay and Manitoba

OTTAWA, April 8.—The announcement that the closure resolution, of which notice was given Monday night, will be taken up in the house on Wednesday was made when the house adjourned at 11:30 tonight. When F. B. Carvelly, who had been speaking since 10 o'clock sat down, Hon. Robert Rogers rose and remarked that the house had been having very pleasant and enjoyable discussions. "In order that we should make some progress," he added, "I would suggest that we pass this clause before we rise."

Hon. Geo. P. Graham thereupon remarked: "The suggestion of the acting leader of the government is very well mannered. But, unfortunately, there are a good many including myself, who would like to speak on this clause. As we have had such a good natured day, I would suggest that the debate be adjourned."

Mr. Rogers then moved that the committee rise and the house adjourn.

Mr. Graham asked what business would be taken up on Wednesday.

"The resolution standing in the prime minister's chair," replied the minister of public works, thereby indicating the closure necessary.

OUR PARISIAN LETTER

Paris, April 8.—In Paris the weather has turned mild, and the Parisians of leisure—particularly the retired bourgeoisie—have discovered a new occupation, a new means of enjoying themselves out of doors. First of all, they stand about at street corners and outside the Elysee in wait for M. Raymond Poincare; so that he may become familiar with the beard, smile, frock coat and general bearing and appearance of the new president of the Republic. It thrills him to see M. Poincare entering one of the Elysee motor cars and briskly descending from it. It rejoices him to behold the Chief of the State shaking hands with high officials, acknowledging the cheers of the public, and exchanging salutes with personal friends as he car speeds along. It is the duty of all true citizens to make it only from the kerbside, the acquaintance of their new president. M. Le Bourgeois declares imperatively: "Today I saw him three times. Each time I raised my hat and he returned my salute. His manner is elegant, his smile sympathetic. Tomorrow I shall resume my observations of the admirable Poincare."

But one can exhaust the department of news. A brand new Chief of the State; stare at him and salute him; mark his bow and his smiles, rotly through his teeth. What a difference between the two men! Loubet is fond of curiosity about, dandy old bookstalls, the barges on the Seine; and gives scope to children and beggars. But Fallieres never pauses; looks at nothing—labors onward, always blowing and passing, impossible, of course, to mistake the huge Fallieres, and he is respectfully saluted. But Loubet is rarely recognized; not even by the police. Ah, mon cher, what a book-philosophic, humorous, cynical, pathetic, entirely enigmatical, could write on my new occupation!"

There—my correspondent continues—there come "palpitating moments." A meeting between odd-faced, "cigar-smoking" M. Georges Clemenceau and M. Fallieres—and they salute one another curtly. M. Lefevre and M. Loubet face to face, and a gripping of hands. On turning a corner, the two ex-presidents almost run into one another, and whisper together, and up comes M. Briand, the prime minister, and next M. Etienne, minister of war, and Mounet-Sully of the National Chateau, and Dr. Doyen, the famous surgeon, and Calmette, the editor of "Figaro," and Richerpien, the great poet, and—

"There they all stand talking, ex-presidents, ministers, distinguished bourgeois." Suddenly, the motor car of Poincare. He salutes, and is saluted by the celebrated group on the pavement, and Vichy water bottles are pushed ones disperse. Only France could produce such a glorious spectacle!

Perfect Peace.

Also, my correspondent has been loitering about the modest but comfortable apartments of the ex-presidents. No doubt he has slipped silver into the greedy hands of the concierges. At all events, his "information" coincides with the statements in the boulevard journals that M. Fallieres and M. Loubet are living frugally and quietly. No telephone chez M. Loubet. When the apparatus rings chez M. Fallieres, it is his wife removes the receiver—unless it be the wife of an intimate friend. Mme. Fallieres does not hesitate to reply that her husband is out. Quite likely he is at home—collected, in carpet slippers, the homeliest of "citizens"; and there is a slow bubbling and steaming in the kitchen, to be succeeded only by grinders and coffee, and accompanied of other, and whizz together, and up white wine from M. Fallieres' own vineyards at Leulpsin. The concierge is reported to have proclaimed the ex-president "the most amiable of gentlemen." Only on complaint has he made of a parcel in the apartment immediately above him. But the parcel has been removed to the bath room and M. Fallieres is satisfied. Lights out, at ten or eleven o'clock, and peace, perfect peace.

Peace, too, cher M. Emile Loubet, in his flat in the Latin Quarter. Very often, only a milk soup, a boiled egg, and Vichy water. The dieting has ruined one's digestion. Only France cracked china, the musty books, the dim antiquities he has bought during the day. On his desk, documents regarding the many humane societies in which he so deeply interests himself since his retirement. These—while thus employed—a ring at the bell and a visit from his direct successor at the Elysee. More "palpitating moments!" Ex-presidents Loubet and Fallieres closed together—the first with a cigar, the second with a pipe—comparing their respective presidencies, recalling past difficulties and triumphs, discussing the prospects of M. Raymond Poincare's regime.

A regime that sends M. Delcasse to St. Petersburg; raises the period of compulsory military service from two to three years; demands a sum of twenty million pounds for so-called military reforms; "tancy"—although my bourgeois correspondent does not allude to the subject that M. Fallieres and M. Loubet, as ex-presidents of the republic, must be dismayed at and indignantly with M. Poincare's new occupation. As such he concluded the Franco-Chinese commercial treaty. He remained there until May, 1908. It was about this time that he rid France of General Boulanger, under the threat of prosecution. He then became minister of the Interior, from 1899 to 1896; senator in 1891 and ambassador to Turkey a post which he held until May, 1908. Just before he was withdrawn from Constantinople a circular sent out by the Young Turk said that an ambassador had accepted a large bribe for obtaining certain coal concessions. Constans felt that he was meant. He demanded and received an official apology. After he returned to Paris, a story gained circulation that he had received, for many months, $10,000 a month from Abdul Hamid, the deposed sultan.

Mr. Constans was in his eightieth year. For the past forty years he has been a conspicuous figure in French public life. He became a lawyer, and was professor of Roman law at Toulouse, when the Commune broke out in 1871. He induced the local rebels to surrender when they had taken possession of the castle, and when but five minutes were left them to make up their minds to give in or face a heavy artillery fire which would have destroyed them. This brought him into the public eye and shortly afterwards he was appointed town councillor.

In 1876, as a Republican, he was sent to the chamber of deputies. In 1878 he was appointed under secretary of state. In 1886 he became minister extraordinary to China. As such he concluded the Franco-Chinese commercial treaty. He remained there until May, 1908. It was about this time that he rid France of General Boulanger, under the threat of prosecution. He then became minister of the Interior, from 1899 to 1896; senator in 1891 and ambassador to Turkey a post which he held until May, 1908. Just before he was withdrawn from Constantinople a circular sent out by the Young Turk said that an ambassador had accepted a large bribe for obtaining certain coal concessions. Exclusion Comment in Japan

Tokio, April 8.—The hollowness of the American advocacy of equality in the subject of an editorial article in the Asahi, the leading independent newspaper of Japan, which says that California proposes to treat their neighbors across the Pacific worse than negroes. The article continues:

"This anti-Japanese agitation will improve with a keen sense of humiliation, which will require many years to efface. Americans must be prepared for a cool reception when they visit or settle in Japan."

The Asahi says that in the event of the passage and signature of the bill, Japan must immediately withdraw her support from the Panama-Pacific exposition, and deny to Americans the rights of ownership in Japan.

Mauretania Lands at Liverpool

London, April 8.—Owing to the bad weather along the English coast, the Mauretania did not land her passengers at Fishguard last night, but carried them to Liverpool, where they are due today.

A Problem in Maternity

London, April 8.—The commissioners who are carrying out the provisions of the national insurance act have a delicate problem to solve.

The wife of a Lancashire workman gave birth to a son on February 24, and obtained the maternity benefit of 30 shillings under the law. On April 4 she gave birth to a girl. The question is, can the mother demand another 30 shillings? She can if the first baby is regarded as another child, but if it is held that the second baby is a twin, it will have to be thrown into the first bargain, as twins count as one for insurance purposes.

The doctors say there is no doubt that the second baby is a twin, although the lapse of six weeks in such cases is extremely rare.

Australia Ships Beef to States

San Francisco, April 8.—The first of a series of shipments of Australian beef to the United States, to compete with the local product, probably will be released from cold storage tomorrow on order of the city board of health. It was held up because certain technicians had not been observed by the shippers.

It is said the Australian beef will be sold to consumers at prices twenty-five percent under those prevailing here and that the initial venture proves profitable, heavier shipments will be made before the end of April.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE RAILROAD DEVELOPMENTS

Of the 1550 miles of steel, which have been laid by the various railway corporations in the last three years, it is also interesting to note that more than 50% of this mileage was laid under the guarantee of the province.

During the year 1912, the Canadian Pacific railway built 93 miles, the Canadian Northern railway built 53 miles, the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, 254 miles, and the Edmonton, Dunvegan & British Columbia railway, 25 miles, making a total of steel actually laid on December 31st, 1912, of 385 miles.

5,542 PUPILS ATTEND PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF CALGARY

Board Contemplates the Erection of a School Building at Bridgeland.

WING to the fact that yesterday's meeting of the school board was the first that has been held since the beginning of April, most of the afternoon was taken up with the March reports of the various committees.

The superintendent's report for March shows that during the month there were in attendance 5,542 in the public schools and 804 in the collegiate institute. During the week following the Easter holidays the annual convention of the Alberta Educational Association was held at Edmonton at which there were 773 registered delegates in attendance and most successful meetings were held throughout the class in physical training for the male teachers of the city was opened last week under the Strathcona Trust. The instructor, Color Sergeant E. H. Smith, is furnished by the Strathcona Trust, 7000 Park, Stoneydale, West Calgary.

It has been impossible to accept all beginners who presented themselves since April 1, especially the schools of Riverside, Bridgeland, Crescent Heights, Truesdale Park, Stoneydale, and West Calgary. After the summer holidays provision will be made to meet the needs in most of these places. This difficulty has been overcome in some of the localities by renting rooms and properly equipping them.

More help is needed in the manual arts department and handicraft work. The new classes being formed, Supervisor Lynn's recommendation is for the employment of a lady supervisor for the junior grades.

It is recommended by the board that the superintendent contemplate taking a trip to Seattle for the purpose of studying the matter of pre-vocational schools conducted in that city.

The technical education committee reported that this branch of the public school work showed an enrollment of 1,040.

The committee expressed their gratitude to Jas. W. Davidson, F.R.C.S., for his lecture on "Disease Lessons from Japan," the concluding one of a series given in the public library. They also expressed their indebtedness to Jas. Murray, far a talk on leadwork to the plumbing class; to Jas. McCall for a talk on steam fitting and J. H. Estey, on the powers system of automatic control to the heating and ventilation classes; to Mr. A. Brown, city electrical engineer, for two talks on power station practice, in the second of which he was greatly aided by the mayor and commissioners who arranged for the students to visit the power stations; and to J. Gray, for a talk on electric wiring. They also expressed their thanks to the Westinghouse Electric Co. for the photographs donated of the latest electric apparatus and the garage and machinery workhouse, arranged for the students.

Arrangements have been made for a public meeting on Monday next in the Central school at which prizes will be given for industrial efficiency and an award delivered by Dr. A. O. McLean. There will also be an exhibit of students' work.

The school building committee recommended that the building superintendent

ARTISTIC SIMPLICITY—A truly picturesque spring toilet.

Calgary is fortunate in having among its residents an artist of the capabilities of Miss Maud Colclough, who held a very delightful exhibition of her work in the parlors of the Y.W.C.A. on Saturday afternoon.

SUCCESSFUL ART EXHIBITION

It is to be regretted that this exhibition was not held in some more public spot and that it could not have remained open for a longer period, in order that a larger number of the citizens might have availed themselves of this opportunity of viewing works which possessed many charming and interesting qualities chosen by the artist was fairly comprehensive—portraits, landscapes and still life, all of good evidence of her sound technique and excellent taste, and delicate touches of color. Subdued tones, a gray and cloudy sky, the breeze rustling through the leaves of a tree, the soft light of hill sides in Portugal, the faded shawl that drapes the shoulders of an old French peasant woman, would seem to appeal more strongly to the artist than the brighter hues of nature. There are, however, a few paintings in which she has expressed her appreciation of the lighter tones and shown an appreciation of the brilliant colors of the tropics. Her portrait of a "Young Swiss Girl" in bright, yet soft, colors, in which the daisies, is a note of color that immediately arrests the attention.

There is a study of still life that is warm and rich—the gray of the pewter of a clock, the red of a small copper pan, with the bright-hued tomatoes within and beside it. A small canvas of a woman in a white dress, a contrast of dense masses of somber, violet, hill-sides, with the Palace of Chino, the country residence of the King of Portugal, standing out strongly against the stormy brilliance of the evening sky.

There are some interesting studies of the Portuguese cathedral of Belem, the Moorish in character—the stained glass windows, in which blue and yellow predominate. A scene of a "Lack Working" in which the black marble elephants, which guard the tomb of the great explorer, are by the side of the Gama. In this cathedral are the remains of Catherine of Braganza, Queen of Charles II of England. A study of a scapular is here. Nothing but an old, somewhat dilapidated, brogue hat, dark and discolored, with time, on which the unwary often find a seat, now holds all that was mortal of a great man.

There are two small canvases which carry the tragedies of the "Forsaken" family down into our present day. These are two views of the "Forsaken" family, which is a succession of little covers which here indicate the coast line near Chino, as evidence of this very spot that the recently deposed young King Manuel made his escape to the island of Madeira, and awaited his short distance away from the rocky shore which is here depicted.

There is an interesting "Dutch Interior" with an old peasant woman bending over her pots and pans, making ready her frugal meal; a view of "Dutch Beach of Zaandam," both of which are worthy of notice as evidence of how well the artist has absorbed the atmosphere peculiar to the countries in which she has studied.

The portraits of old French peasant women are extremely interesting, the quiet, somewhat faded tones of the simple costumes; their homely tasks, on which the worn flannels are engaged, and a pathetic air of contentment with their paths in life, are marked characteristic of all these pictures. They are soothing and restful.

Landscape, showing scenes familiar to residents of the West, are also here; the beautiful "Lake Louise," the snow-capped summit of "Storm Mountain," the well-known, "Bow River Valley," and pleasing presentations of "Gull Lake," one of the loveliest of rest and refreshment for our city's sojourners.

And last, but by no means least, are portraits of our popular Calgary ladies. The lady seated by the lamp, in her dress of shimmering satin and quiet pearl cap, is very effective and rich in tone. The likeness of a "Lack Working" in which the older lady with her back to a window, through which the sunlight filters and plays on the silver hair, is a very excellent portrait. And the portrait drawing of the two little sons of the Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart, holding in the rippling waters of Gull Lake, is strong and effective in treatment.

The interest in art is evinced by the citizens of Calgary is somewhat backward, but much has already been gained by having such artistic exhibitions. The Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart, holding in the rippling waters of Gull Lake, is strong and effective in treatment.

FRANCIS CURSES MEET IN CONVENTION

A MOST interesting discussion on the proposed Registration bill for nurses followed the reading of a paper by Miss Nanton at the Alberta Association of Nurses convention held in the library yesterday afternoon. The convention which should have started in the morning postponed till 11 a.m. and was attended by members of the province and those from other provinces. Miss Nanton in her paper pointed out how nurses without public-aided training taking positions and making mistakes, the public-aided mistakes, not at the door of the individual nurse, but of the entire profession. She quoted one such nurse, who on being asked where she had trained, said, "I have no training, I am better than a trained nurse. These women never do anything but what the doctor orders." She pointed out how many took a 3 to 6 months course in midwifery, and then demanded the same money as a qualified nurse. Miss Nanton took exception, not to the nursing school, but to the fact that in many cases they passed themselves off as qualified, making their mistakes and inefficiency reflect on the profession as a whole.

Miss Nanton suggested that a two or three years' training be necessary and certificates be given only by hospitals or hospitals not of the expense then the government should supply the deficit in the interest of the public. She pointed out that the public might be misled by the name of the profession, whatever the public might think, that such a qualified nurse to add the letters "R. N." to her name, and then demand the same money as a qualified nurse. Big Rally at Blackie.

Blackie, April 9.—Many people of Alberta may not know that the little village of Blackie is on the map; nevertheless, the Liberal candidate for the riding, R. L. McMillan, met a large and enthusiastic gathering of his supporters on the night of April 7.

Among the speakers was E. M. Roberts, the retiring member, who gave some interesting facts concerning the A. & G. V. in a clever, terse and convincing manner. He also referred to the initiation and referendum as granted by the Sifton government, giving many of the electors a clearer comprehension of that subject.

Mr. Ed. Keating of Calgary, analyzed the provincial bonded indebtedness and made the point that no good progressive citizen could object to the items or the amounts appropriated for them. He also showed that the bonded indebtedness for the whole province was only about $14,000,000, less than that of Calgary alone, and this amount contracted in almost every case with the approval of the opposition.

Among the numerous good points made by him was one which showed the percentage of cost of debaring and applying appropriations in Manitoba, to be over five per cent, Saskatchewan four and a half per cent, and in Alberta four per cent. That is to say, for every dollar expended, 35 cents went

President Wilson's Message to Congress

Washington, April 8.—President Woodrow Wilson today communicated his first message to the United States Congress in extraordinary session. It was an unusually brief document, dealing actively with the need for such, moderate and well-considered revision of the tariff.

The message referred to no particular schedule, mentioned no rates, and included no statistics. The specific views and tariff revision. The specific views and tariff revision. The specific views and tariff revision.

The message urged that special privileges and exemptions from competition be cut out of the nation tariff system and that the revision be made square with the facts as they are.

The president's message is as follows: To the Senate and House of Representatives: I have called the Congress together in extraordinary session because a duty was laid upon me by the people in power, at the recent elections, which I ought to perform promptly.

It is plain that those principles must be maintained. We must abolish everything that bears even the semblance of privilege or of any kind of artificial advantage, and put our business men and producers under the stimulation of a constant necessity to be efficient, economical and enterprising.

Mr. Bennett's attempt to discredit the farmers' elevator bill, the minister provided a complete exposure. Mr. Bennett had declared, and his statement had been repeated by Conservatives all over the province, that because no sum of money was earmarked in the estimates for the financing of elevator loans, the government could render no assistance this year.

Through the progressive policy of the government the province, which ten years ago was in a primitive stage of development, had been converted into the home of a great and vital people.

Clyde Farmers Give John Boyle Great Reception

Welcome the Representative of a Government Which Has Done Its Best to Solve the Great Problem of Transportation

MISREPRESENTATIONS OF OPPOSITION EXPOSED Minister Says Bennett Is Anxious to Defeat Government Which Threatens Life of His Elevator Monopoly; A. & G. W. Discussed.

EDMONTON, April 8.—Farmers of the Pembina constituency, pleased with the meaning of a transportation problem, to whom the aggressive railway route of the Liberal government, and the program of road construction signify the maintenance of their livelihood, met at the meeting in support of the candidate for the constituency of Pembina.

Mr. John R. Boyle, minister of education, in an eloquent and effective speech, placed the issue squarely before the electors, showing the expediency of the measures passed at the recent session of the house for the benefit of the constituency to be present at the gathering cheered the Liberal candidates.

Mr. Bennett's attempt to discredit the farmers' elevator bill, the minister provided a complete exposure. Mr. Bennett had declared, and his statement had been repeated by Conservatives all over the province, that because no sum of money was earmarked in the estimates for the financing of elevator loans, the government could render no assistance this year.

Through the progressive policy of the government the province, which ten years ago was in a primitive stage of development, had been converted into the home of a great and vital people. A great and vital people, a land spider, webbed with railways, supplied with good roads and bridges and a telephone system, unexcelled in the Dominion.

As to the A.G.W. railway, the government had not lost a dollar, and not in the long run lose a dollar, on the other hand, millions of dollars had been added to the wealth of the community by the construction of new lines.

In able fashion, Mr. Boyle exposed the fallacious statements of provincial debt put forward by Mr. Bennett. The actual debt of $14,000,000, the Tory leader had added the sum which might be paid out when every train

Naturalized Iowa Farmer, Pleased With the Progressive Government of Alberta, Writes That He Will Be Glad to Vote Right Way

EDITOR ALBERTAN: I just about tore my heart up by the boots a place without making friends and turning old acquaintances into enemies. I have reached the time when I believe in mixed farming as being the most self-reliant. What's more, it feels like home and it is as much like old business as a wheat farm. I know said I want to end my days on a mixed farm.

I hope I am as good a citizen of the Union Jack as I was of Old Glory. I wouldn't mind being a citizen of the United States, but I don't want to be a citizen of the United States. I don't want to be a citizen of the United States.

WHICH ROAD—SIFTON AND PROGRESS OR MICHENER AND UNCERTAINTY?

SWAT THE FLY SLOGAN OF CALGARY HEALTH DEPARTMENT. Dr. Mahood Urges That This Active Agent of Disease Breeding Germs Be Handicapped by Keeping Premises Clean as Possible

BE VERY CAREFUL TO KEEP MILK IN COLD PLACE. Bacteria Multiply in Milk at Ordinary Temperature, but Cold Puts an Effective Kibosh on Their Health of City During Month

There were 126 cases of infectious diseases in the city during the past month, according to the report of Dr. Mahood, health officer, made public yesterday. Many of these were children, fit of the measles. The health officer is of the opinion that the epidemic is about stamped out.

Swat the fly is the slogan of the Calgary health department. Keep your backyards clean and see that there are no breeding places for this active agent of disease-breeding bacteria. Be careful about handling milk, and that it is kept in some cold place, to prevent the propagation of germs. The report is as follows:

Of infectious diseases 126 cases were reported, of which 30 were city and 96 from outside. Measles is still very prevalent. Of the 61 cases reported, 35 occurred in East Calgary, in close proximity to Col. Walker school. The high rate this month is due to the younger members of the families contracting the disease from those who were unacquainted enough to be exposed to the epidemic occurring at this school last month. With the strict surveillance of the health department, the danger of further outbreaks is greatly reduced. We are in hopes that no further cases will occur.

As the quarantine for measles is not a case quarantine, it is easily understood how this disease spreads. An improvement in the measles situation may be looked for from now on. As the weather becomes warmer, the houses and schools get opened up, and children spend more time in the open air, opportunities for contracting the same extent they have been by the close confinement indoors necessitated by the cold weather.

City is Pretty Healthy. But for the prevalence of measles, the city is remarkably free from infectious diseases. Of diphtheria, five; smallpox, three; scarlet fever, 15; chicken pox, 16; erysipelas, five; tuberculosis, six; typhoid, six cases were reported. Four of these cases came from outside the city. One of the remaining two was a suspect and the other a typhoid case, so the city had but one case of typhoid during the month. This case occurred in the Allen block, in which the lavatories were found to be in a very insanitary condition. Three deaths occurred during the month as follows: Tuberculosis, 1; Measles, 1; Whooping cough, 1.

DEAD ANIMALS FOUND NEAR PRINCESS ISLAND WALK

Bodies of Two Horses and a Dog Lie Within Few Feet of Tennis Court and Lover's Lane of Park in a State of Decomposition

PARK IS RENDEZVOUS OF TRAMPS AND VAGABONDS. Remnants of Camp Fires and Decayed Food Are Found in Portion of the City Frequently Visited in the Summer.

THOUGH Calgary is possessed of an incineration plant, dead animals are being dumped on Princess Island, within a few feet of a cinder path popularly traversed during the summer months. The spot referred to is not more than fifty yards from a tennis court in which two gentlemen were playing yesterday afternoon in apparent ignorance of their close proximity to the carcasses of a dead dog and two horses.

It seems that for some years there has been a complete arrest of British imagination in naval or military matters. The declining faculty, which was never very active or well exercised, staggered up to conception of the dreadnought and now seems to have set down for good. Its reply to every demand upon it has been "dreadnoughts." As we seem to see it, it is an avenue of dreadnoughts, super-dreadnoughts and super-super-dreadnoughts, getting bigger and bigger in a kind of inverted pyramid, but the ascendancy of great battleships in naval warfare, like the phase of huge composite armaments, has drawn to a close the progress of invention and makes both the big ships and the super-dreadnoughts not only obsolete and less effective.

WELLS DEPLORES THE BUILDING OF MORE DREADNOUGHTS. London, April 8.—H. G. Wells, in his second article on war, published in the Daily Mail this morning, preaches the vanity of the "dreadnought idea" of British confidence. He says that "these obsolescent monsters" are unreasonable and threaten to lead the nation into tragical disillusionment. He continues: "It seems that for some years there has been a complete arrest of British imagination in naval or military matters. The declining faculty, which was never very active or well exercised, staggered up to conception of the dreadnought and now seems to have set down for good. Its reply to every demand upon it has been 'dreadnoughts.' As we seem to see it, it is an avenue of dreadnoughts, super-dreadnoughts and super-super-dreadnoughts, getting bigger and bigger in a kind of inverted pyramid, but the ascendancy of great battleships in naval warfare, like the phase of huge composite armaments, has drawn to a close the progress of invention and makes both the big ships and the super-dreadnoughts not only obsolete and less effective."

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 8.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, left Montreal today for England. His mission is very important. He is to arrange a financial statement for the company to be presented to the board of directors. NEBRASKA'S BLUE SKY LAW. Lincoln, Neb., April 8.—The Nebraska "blue sky" bill, which promises soon to become a law, will in no way affect the sale of Canadian securities in Nebraska unless the same is sold in less than forty-acre tracts. Amendments to the bill have been introduced by the Nebraska legislature. The bill is designed to protect investors from the sale of securities in small lots. It is expected to become a law in the near future.

Beautiful Iowa Hotel Destroyed

Dubuque, Iowa, April 8.—The Julien hotel, one of the best known in the state, was destroyed by fire early today. The fire started in the kitchen and spread rapidly to the main building. The hotel was a fine structure, and its destruction is a great loss to the city. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Buffalo Strikers Make Battle. Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—Scenes of disorder followed the attempt of the International railway company last night to man its cars with strike breakers. The strikers fought back, and the situation is still tense. The company is determined to get its trains running, but the strikers are not giving in.

England's Exports and Imports. London, April 8.—The board of trade reports for March show that the imports for that month were $208,735,725, an increase of $802,655 over the same month in 1912. The exports for the same period amount to $208,445,725, an increase of $802,655 over the same month in 1912. The report for the last three months as compared with the first quarter of 1912 shows that the imports increased $42,326,825, while the exports for the same period increased $4,496,825.

Hans Wagner Is Incapacitated. Kansas City, Mo., April 8.—Hans Wagner, the premier shortstop of the National league, was injured while playing in the opening game at Cincinnati. Wagner was hit by a pitch from the pitcher, and the injury is serious. He is expected to be out of the game for some time.

Wilson Studies Jap Question. Washington, April 8.—President Wilson yesterday sought to avert a diplomatic tangle with Japan over the bill pending in the California legislature, through which Japanese would be prevented from owning property in that state. The Japanese government had filed formal protest with the state department against what it considered a proposed infringement of treaty obligations.

CALGARY IN BRIEF
 Mr. Harold B. Jacobson has returned to California after spending the winter in California and the Southern States.
 Mr. Jacobson has been connected with the Hotel Alexandra and the Hotel Lethbridge for some time.
 The city planning commission foregathered yesterday noon at the Crown's Bathhouse, where the luncheon was served. It was announced that C. H.
 Ford Jones and James Davidson would represent this city at the convention of town planners which is being held in Chicago shortly. It is possible that Alderman Garden will also be present.
 Fifteen horses, one cow, one colt, twenty-seven dogs, one load of fish, ten loads of decayed fruit, four hundred and ninety-one loads of manure, and one hundred and thirty-two loads of two loads of garbage were destroyed during the month of March, according to a report of the sanitary inspector, J. J. Dunn. The monthly statement also says that the Nose Creek incen-der is not ready for business in a short time.
 At foot is not a very great distance, but it was enough to save the lives of Dr. William Robertson and his daughter, who were driving in an automobile on the road leading to a sudden ending when the C. P. R. removed the bridge across the ditch. Commissioner Sams yesterday ordered out some workmen to erect a barricade across the dangerous place.
 Alderman Carstairs, chairman of the finance committee, and Acting Mayor Ross, at a short informal meeting yesterday, decided to ask for temporary loans to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars to allow the city to proceed with the public works at once. The council on Monday morning authorized steps being taken to secure the money on short notice.
 William Percy Scott was sentenced to two years at hard labor by Judge Sanders yesterday on a charge of procuring. The case is too revolting to permit of publication of the details.

LIBERALS WILL GET EVERYTHING EAST OF EDMONTON
 Three-Cornered Fight in Victoria, but Liberal Will Probably Win Out
LIBERAL CONVENTION BEING HELD TODAY
 Hon. A. G. McKay Made Good in Address at Edmonton on Monday
 Edmonton, Alta., April 8.—Four Liberal meetings were held in various parts of the city. Hon. A. G.
 McKay was not present, as he is assisting Liberal candidates in other parts of the province, but Senator Candidate C. W. Cross and other prominent Liberals were heard. Mr. Mac-Kay's great speech on Monday night at the monster Liberal rally was one of the ablest ever heard here, and it claimed that it won him hundreds of votes among people whom he had not been known to before.
 Mr. A. Bramley Moore, late representative for Laydminster, who is not a candidate in the present election, but who is taking very lively interest in the campaign nevertheless, returned from the eastern boundary of the province today, after having been through Wainwright and Battle River constituencies. Mr. Moore declares that there is a genuine fight going in that part of the province there is no doubt that the government candidates will carry every seat east of the city. He left for St. Paul to take a train to that constituency in a half of P. M.
 Lesnard.
 Hon. J. R. Boyle is campaigning in the Pembina district and other outlying points. Last night he spoke at Clyde on behalf of Gordon McDonald, the Liberal candidate for Pembina, where he received a great reception.
 James H. Wood, Mayor of Athabasca Landing, was nominated at a Conservative convention last night to contest the riding at the forthcoming general election. The selection was quite unanimous.
 Three-Cornered Fight in Victoria.—
 A nomination, which is in the nature of a forlorn hope, was made at Lacombe yesterday when R. A. Bennett, Canadian Northern agent in that town, was placed in the field by the Conservatives to contest Victoria, riding against Frank A. Walker, M.P.
 This makes it a three-cornered fight in that constituency, but the Conservative candidates will get practically no support and is almost certain to lose his deposit, while Michael Gowd, who is running as an independent, is dependent for his support upon the nationality Walker's re-election is said by his friends to be a certainty.
 The Liberal convention for the district of St. Paul will probably be the last of the present campaign. It will be held in St. Paul at 4 P. M. tomorrow afternoon, at which it is expected that representatives of every polling subdivision in riding will be represented. Nomation will in all probability be to sitting members, P. R. Lesnard, although Lawrence Gorman, former M.P. of Athabasca Landing, is a likely runner-up.
 The Conservative opposition in the riding is not probably as strong as gets the Liberal nomination is practically certain of election. Lesnard has been in the country keeping the voters and take care of children. Apply 321 8th Ave. West, P. M. 38-49
