A Struggle For Life

Former Nova Scotia Newspaper Man has a Thrilling Experience and Narrow Escape from Drowning.

The Michigan City (Indiana) News, of July 24th, contains a thrilling account of the narrow escape from drowning of Mr. F. F. Lawson, a former newspaper man of this province personally known to many of our readers.

Mr. Lawson and a comrade named Tryon had left Chicago about four o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, July 22nd, in a yacht, intending to sail to Michigan City. Shortly after sunset the wind failed and they did not reach their destination till day-break.

In the afternoon they started on the return to Chicago. Several squalls were weathered. Suddenly one of great force struck the sloop; the mast broke and the vessel shot up into the air and turned turtle.

Mr. Lawson says:—"I was clinging to the bottom, but my feet became entangled in the mainmast and I went under. After extricating myself I came to the surface and Tryon pulled me upon the keel. During the continuance of the squall we had difficulty in keeping on the bottom of the overturned boat."

Miss Maud Staiger and two gentlemen were driving along the shore on Monday about noon, when they caught sight of the waterlogged boat. They could not agree as to what it was, but the lady insisted that help was needed and the party got a boat and rowed out. When they reached the boat Mr. Lawson was delirious and had to be taken by main force from the wreck. He was taken to a hotel where his rescuers with the landlady nursed him back to life and sanity and he was able to return to Chicago on Tuesday.

"The sea became higher and higher, and more than half our time we were actively under water. Going under one big sea I lost my hold on the line around Tryon and when I came up he had gone further aft. Before I could reach him he threw up his hands, groaned and fell over backwards. I scrambled aft hoping that when he came up I could get hold of the line, but sea after sea smashed over the boat and if he did come up I failed to see him."

"Twice after I lost Tryon the sea knocked me overboard, but I managed to cling to a line. At daybreak I began to suffer from cramps, but seeing I was drifting inshore my spirits kept up and I managed to get into a sitting posture, wedged in so that I could not wash overboard. About 9 o'clock I dropped off to sleep and remember nothing more until I found myself in bed in a hotel at New Buffalo, just across the Indiana-Michigan line."

Rev. R. J. Campbell Becomes Socialist

LONDON, August 5.—The Rev. R. J. Campbell, whose curious change in his theological views recently caused a sensation and offended a large section of his congregation, seems now inclined to enter the field of politics in the socialist-labor interests. He was formally invited to-day by the labor party to contest the next vacancy in the parliamentary representation of Cardiff, but he replied that he could not at present say whether he would accept the proposal or not.

Addressing a political meeting just prior to this, Mr. Campbell declared his conviction that socialism is the practical expression of Christianity as he understood it. The land question, social evils, the first need of the people, he continued, was to get hold of land and to decrease the cost of transportation.

He also strongly advocated secular education and turning the parson, whether church or chapel, out of the schools, "for," said he, "the physical well being of the children is far more important than their religious instruction."

It is noteworthy that during the war in South Africa Mr. Campbell was a strong imperialist, and he aroused considerable discussion by roundly denouncing the workmen as idle and worthless.

PAPER FROM RICE STRAW.

Galveston, Texas, is building a paper mill to convert rice straw into pulp for the manufacture of paper. The development of the manufacture of rice paper is looked forward to with much interest by consumers of paper, as well as producers of rice. It is a well known fact that at the present rate of consumption forests in the United States and Canada are being depleted by pulp mills, and it is a question of only a few years before raw material other than wood must be procured for the manufacture of paper. It is claimed that wood pulp now costs the paper maker $50 to $55 per ton, whereas a few seasons ago it was offered freely at $10 to $20.

The manufacture of rice paper will certainly be a boon to southwestern growers of the crop, providing it is as successful as those behind the enterprise claim it will prove.

Countess de Castellane, Daughter of Jay Gould to Marry.

NEW YORK, August 4.—The Countess de Castellane, who was Miss Anna Gould, has found a worse spendthrift than the little Count Boni, and she is going to marry him.

This was the report brought here from Paris to-day by Edmond Kelly, the American-Parisian lawyer, who disentangled the Gould heiress from Castellane in the French divorce courts. Mr. Kelly arrived in the Atlantic transport liner Minneapolis and said what he thought of the new French aspirant for the millions—and the hand—of Anna Gould.

IT'S A PRINCE THIS TIME.

"Before I left Paris," said Mr. Kelly, "it was frequently rumored that the Countess de Castellane was to marry the Prince de Sagan. This would be a serious mistake for her, as the prince is more of a spendthrift than Boni ever has been. Anyway, there could be no marriage under six months, according to the French divorce law, and many things might happen before then."

The life of the countess is made a burden because of her reputed wealth. She is even annoyed on the streets by proposals of marriage. From fortune hunting relics of the nobility, and it is no uncommon thing, while she is driving, to have some scion of noble blood press forward and thrust an effusive proposal of marriage into her hand.

IT TAKES TWO MEN TO CARRY HER MAIL.

Then, too, her secretary reports that it takes two letter carriers each morning to convey the missives addressed to the countess to her place of abode. Many of the letters are from those who beg for various sums of money, but many others are from impecunious counts, princes, marquises and the like, not to mention a few dukes, who wait for her hand and incidentally her millions.

During the divorce proceedings I formed a very high opinion of George and Miss Helen Gould and admired the way in which they struck to their sister and did all they could for her.

Charities of the Duchess of Marlboro

LONDON, August 5.—The Daily Mirror publishes a story of the benefactions of the Duchess of Marlborough in behalf of the wives and children of convicts. The duchess, it says, has taken two houses in London, which are being comfortably and tastefully furnished. One will be for the wives of prisoners serving sentences and the duchess hopes to find room for about twenty such women, who will be taught laundry work and plain sewing. The Bishop of London is to dedicate the two houses, probably in September.

Another charity which the duchess already has in progress is a home where mothers, whose husbands are serving sentences, may take their babies and leave them from eight in the morning until six o'clock in the evening.

The duchess goes there every day, and it is stated, to complete her work, she is giving up her visit to America this year.

Tragic Drowning Accident at Montreal

MONTREAL, August 5.—Verennes, a summer resort, a few miles down the St. Lawrence, from this city, was the scene of a double drowning accident yesterday in which Shirley Davidson, son of Mr. Justice Davidson, and Miss Eileen Hingston, daughter of the late Sir William Hingston, lost their lives.

The two were out skiff sailing on the river and only the empty canoe has been found. Mr. Davidson accompanied his cousin to spend the weekend at Lady Hingston's summer residence at Verennes.

About eleven o'clock Sunday morning Mr. Davidson and Miss Hingston went out sailing.

At noon, when they had not returned for luncheon, their absence did not arouse fears, but later on in the day the family commenced to feel anxious and a search was commenced.

It was not until late in the afternoon that the empty canoe was found, indicating that there had been a tragedy.

The search for the bodies was kept up all last night, but without success. How the accident took place is a matter of pure conjecture.

The canoe when found, evidently had not been overturned.

How the two came to fall out without upsetting such a frail craft is the peculiar part of the case.

It is believed that Miss Hingston, who was at the tiller, may have been thrown overboard by a sudden lurch of the canoe. Naturally Mr. Davidson would leap into the river to go to the rescue.

The current at that point is quite swift, and it is presumed that Mr. Davidson was unable to recover the canoe, which would be rushed out of reach.

As they were too far from the shore to reach it by swimming and no help being at hand, it is believed the two struggled as long as they could and gave up the struggle through fatigue.

Mr. Davidson was a civil engineer, and was at one time employed by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company.

MARCONI STATION STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

The Marconi station on Cape Island was struck by lightning during the storm of Friday morning, causing considerable damage inside. Mr. Karpou, who was on duty at the time, was hurriedly across the room. The discharge also passed within a few inches of Mr. Ashley's head, breaking down the partitions and tearing out the window sashes. The bolt entered the ground about ten feet from the station, setting fire to some rubbish through which it passed.

HE MARRIED FIVE SISTERS.

Arthur Herkimer, the Missouri historian, told at a dinner in St. Louis a story about the famous Governor Claiborne F. Jackson.

"Jackson," he said, "married, one after another, five sisters. The thing is incredible, but it is a fact. When, for the fifth time, Claiborne Jackson broached a marital proposition to his father-in-law, the old man was 80 and quite deaf. This is the conversation that ensued:

"I want Lizzie."

"Hey!"

"I want you—to give me—Elizabeth."

"Oh, you want me to give you Elizabeth, do you? What for?"

"For my wife."

"For your life?"

"I want to—marry—Lizzie!"

"Oh, yes, I hear you. You needn't rouse the neighborhood."

"Well, do you consent?"

"Yes, I consent," said the old man. He shook his head and added slowly:

"Yes, you can have her. You've got 'em all now, my boy. But for goodness sake, if anything happens to that poor, misguided girl, don't come back here and ask me for her mother."

BRAKEMAN CURSED

THE PRESIDENT.

The late President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, never lost his temper except under the greatest provocation.

His consideration for others was shown once on a train where he was not known to conductor or brakeman. The train came to a standstill owing to some trifling accident, and after ten minutes Mr. Cassatt asked the brakeman if it was not customary to send a man back with a red flag to warn trains behind. The brakeman admitted it.

"Then why don't you do it?" asked Mr. Cassatt.

"If you will mind your own business," was the reply, "the railroad men in charge of this train will attend to theirs. We know what to do, and want no interference from you."

When Mr. Cassatt arrived in the Broad street station, Philadelphia, he hunted up the superintendent and related the circumstance. The superintendent started to have the brakeman discharged, but Mr. Cassatt restrained him.

"Don't do that," he said. "Just call him into your office and tell him he's cursed the president, and that hereafter he should be more polite to passengers."—Baltimore News.

THE NATURE STUDENT'S CAT.

John Burroughs, the famous nature student, is never tired of ridiculing the new school of nature writers, the school that attributes a quite human intelligence to animals and insects.

"Mr. Burroughs dined with me one night," said a magazine editor of New York, "and among my guests was a young nature writer of the new school. This young man told a wonderful story about the intelligence of oysters. He said he was going to put the story in his new book. Mr. Burroughs gave a dry laugh and said:

"Let me tell you about a cat. This story is quite as authentic as the oyster one, and it should do for your book nicely."

"The venerable student paused impressively, then said:

"A Springfield couple had a cat that age had rendered helpless, and they put it out of its misery by means of chloroform. They buried it in the garden and planted a rose bush over its remains. The next morning a familiar scratching took them to the front door, and there was the cat waiting to be let in, with the rose bush under its arm."

FATHER'S OCCUPATION.

(New York Globe.)

A boy about fourteen years old had been put on the stand by the defense, and the district-attorney was examining him, according to a story credited to Senator Dixon. After the usual preliminary questions as to the witness' age, residence and the like he proceeded:

"Have you any occupation?"

"No."

"Just loaf about home?"

"That's about all."

"What does your father do?"

"Nothing much."

"Does he do anything to support the family?"

"He does odd jobs once in a while, when he can get them."

"As a matter of fact, isn't your father a pretty worthless, a dead beat, and a loafer?"

"I don't know, sir, you'd better ask him. He's sitting over there in the jury."

An Open Letter to the Board of Trade of the Maritime Provinces

As there will soon be a meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade in the city of St. John, and at that meeting all subjects of importance to the country, whether of trade, production, or finance, can be legitimately, and should be intelligently, discussed and acted upon, each local Board should therefore be prepared to give instructions to its delegates regarding the subjects which they wish brought up for discussion.

Several subjects have been mentioned in the local press, but there is one of great importance to the Maritime Provinces that has not yet been mooted for discussion, and that is the rapid destruction of our young spruce forests by the exportation of pulp-wood to the United States.

Sir William Van Horne has sounded a note of warning that every Canadian should read and digest, showing that while pulp wood is only worth 86 per cord at the port of shipment, if converted into pulp it would be worth $19, per into paper $37.50. Should we not then insist upon a heavy export duty on logs, piling and pulp-wood and by this means encourage the manufacture of pulp and paper where we have the raw material to work upon, with plenty of unemployed waterpower to develop for the purpose?

There is another phase of the subject which we in this part of Nova Scotia must consider, and that is the consumption of our spruce woods in the manufacture of barrels for the export of apples and potatoes. The demand for staves and heading is largely increasing and raising in price each year, and the trees from which the stock is cut is about the same as that used for pulp.

At the present day the yearly consumption of spruce in this county of Kings must be more than double the annual growth of the forests. How long then will it be before we shall be without spruce timber for any purpose, unless something is done to conserve our forests?

Taking these points into consideration it is not the duty of the Maritime Board of Trade to pass a strong resolution asking the Dominion Government to impose an export duty on all unmanufactured products of the forest, heavy enough to ensure the manufacture of logs and pulp wood into lumber and pulp before it is exported, thus doubling the value of the logs, and trebling the value of the pulp-wood to the country when exported to other countries.

In writing the above, the Halifax Herald has published an able article on the subject which should be read by everybody, as it covers the ground completely.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I am,

Your obedient servant,

A MEMBER OF THE WOLFVILLE BOARD OF TRADE.

"Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain. Today he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for."—Mrs. E. J. Johnson, Linton, Miss. For sale by W. A. WARREN, Phm. B.

RUSSIAN DUMA DISSOLVED.

The second Russian duma has been dissolved by the czar with practically nothing accomplished. Premier Stolypin demanded the surrender to the government by the duma of 55 deputies, members of the social democratic party, it being alleged by the government that this party was conspiring against the government. The demand was refused; whereupon the emperor issued a manifesto declaring the duma dissolved and ordering another to take its place to be elected September 11th. The election is to be under a restricted franchise barring out many of the laboring classes permitted to vote at the preceding election.

Dear Puzzle Editor:

I am very much interested in the Puzzle Corner, and think the paper much more interesting than ever for the children, but the conundrums are hard to answer as you can not tell when they are right. I go to school every day, like it quite well, and am in the 5th grade. My father has a farm and a vinegar factory. He is quite busy at the factory, so in the summer I have to work on the farm.

Yours truly,

OWEN GRAVES

Dear Puzzle Editor:

Enclosed find my answers to the puzzles. I hope that they are correct. I really know what to write you, for I am interested in all the subjects that you want me to write about. At school I like my geography lesson better than any other one. I like my music lessons, too, for I am very fond of music. I was twelve years old in June. I am in the sixth grade at school. I have not written a very long letter. Hoping to hear that my answers are all right.

I remain,

Yours truly,

Dear Boys and Girls:

You must be having too good a time this vacation to take time to read, or we should have had more letters and answers to puzzles. Shannon Tanch has won the prize this time. He deserves it, as he has sent solutions to puzzles more frequently than any other reader. No girl has competed for the prize, consequently we give but one this time.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1907.

The attention of all who have an interest in the preservation of our forests should read the open letter published on another page from a member of the Wolfville board of trade. The annual destruction of our forests cannot go unchecked without resulting in the ruin of the country. Re-forestation is being largely practiced in the United States and elsewhere. If this has not become necessary in our provinces it will soon do so unless our present wealth of timber is preserved by careful selection of mature wood and attention to the natural growth of the young trees of which the country is now being depleted. There are grand opportunities here for the manufacture of pulp-wood, and we expect to see a large increase of this industry in the province in the next few years. In the meantime, laws should be enacted which should, while encouraging the use, prevent the abuse of this precious source of wealth, health and happiness, our forests.

A YOUNG HEROINE.

Little Louise Munro, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Munro of our town, is justly regarded as a heroine in Pugwash.

Mr. and Mrs. Munro and family are spending their vacation in their summer cottage at that place, and on Monday last their nine-year-old daughter was playing in a boat which was anchored to the shore. The six-year-old boy of Gilbert Allan climbed into the boat and lifted the anchor. The boat was caught in the tide and rapidly borne seaward. The young lad jumped overboard to wade to shore but the water was fully ten feet deep. Miss Louise saw his danger and grasped his hand. She was not strong enough to pull him on board, but grasped his hand and kept his head out of water for over twenty minutes until help arrived, and rescued the children from their precarious position. The presence of mind that little Miss Munro displayed is greatly praised in Pugwash.—News.

The little heroine above referred to is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Rice of Bear River.

ORDINATION AT BEAR RIVER.

On the afternoon of July 31st, a council composed of delegates representing Baptist Churches in Digby and Annapolis Counties convened at the Baptist Church at Bear River to consider the propriety of ordaining Mr. C. W. Walden to the work of the Christian ministry. After a very thorough examination of the candidate relative to his religious experience, call to the ministry, and views of Christian doctrine, the council, by a unanimous vote, advised the Bear River Church to proceed with the ordination. In the evening at 8 o'clock a large audience assembled to participate in the exercises. The sermon was preached by the Rev. D. H. Simpson. His text was "As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you." (John 20:21). After the sermon the candidate was called to the platform. The ordination prayer was offered by the moderator, Rev. J. W. Bancroft. The "hand of welcome" was given by the Rev. C. H. Martell, and "the charge" by the Rev. I. W. Porter. Excellent music was rendered by the choir. The service closed with benediction by the Rev. C. W. Walden.

HAD AN AWEFUL TIME

But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him. It is with pleasure that I give you this unqualified testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through sheer gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam. H. Gwin, Concord, Ga. For sale by W. A. WARREN, Pharm. B.

PERSON-WOODBURY.

(Copied from the Attleboro Sun, Mass.) Mr. Axel Person and Miss Grace Woodbury were united in marriage at 27 Holman Street, July 17th, by Rev. Sherman E. Ellis, pastor of the Methodist church. About fifty guests were in attendance, and a reception followed the ceremony.

Miss Woodbury was an employee of the Attleboro Manufacturing Company and Mr. Person of Fontaineau & Cook. The bride wore a charming creation of tulle and net over white silk, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Many beautiful presents were received, among them being a set of silver plate from the Attleboro Manufacturing Company. Other presents were of cut glass, silver, and gold.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Person disappeared from view and the guests, who were preparing to give them a rousing sendoff at the depot, when they started on their wedding tour to Nova Scotia, were disappointed. The couple was supposed to take the 10:32 train for Boston but did not show up at the station, and no traces of them could be found at Mansfield or West Mansfield.

PHOTOS OF THE SOUL.

New York, July 1.—The unheard of claim that he has discovered a method by which he can photograph the human soul was advanced last night by Henry Price, a retired professor of music at Mount Vernon. Prof. Price announced that he is actually seeking permission to make experiments at Bellevue Hospital that will demonstrate the extraordinary scientific value of his discovery.

Mr. Price, who was for forty years the baritone soloist at Trinity church, New York, says he has made the subject a life study and he is convinced that the soul has a real existence, and that the reason it cannot be seen in taking its flight from the body is because those present at the time of death are invariably hypnotized. The theory that the soul really exists, Prof. Price says, is borne out by the fact that the body lightens immediately after death.

His plan is to photograph the soul as it departs from the body with a number of quick snapshots. It would be impossible, he says, to hypnotize the camera, as it records many things not visible to the naked eye.

Prof. Price was asked if he had formed any idea regarding the organization of the soul. "Necessarily," replied he, "the organism must be very small. It may be like an oyster or a mollusk. We cannot see its organism, yet we know it has life."

CONDITION OF LIVE STOCK.

Nova Scotia Crops

Government of Nova Scotia
Office of Agriculture
Truro, N. S., July 26, 1907
To the Hon. George H. Murray
Provincial Secretary
Halifax, N. S.

Sir:—
I have the honor to submit the returns received at this office, during the month of July, of the present stage and prospects of the Field and Orchard crops and of the condition of the live stock throughout the Province of Nova Scotia.

I have the honor, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
M. CUMMING,
Secretary for Agriculture,
SUMMER, 1907.

The spring of 1907 was one of the coldest and most protracted that has ever been experienced in Nova Scotia. As a result the crops are from one to two weeks later than those of last year, which, it will be remembered, were about ten days later than the average. This season, unlike that of last year, was free from excessive rain fall and afforded the farmers every opportunity to plant and sow all their crops. As a result, the area of land in cultivated crops is generally estimated at from 10 per cent to 25 per cent greater than last year. There were few injurious frosts during the spring, but the lack of rain fall and the cold weather greatly retarded vegetation. Even in the most forward sections little work was done on the land until the first week of May and throughout a great part of Nova Scotia much of the crop was not put in until June. The rain fall during June was light, but since the first of July there have been regular showers, the weather has been warm, and the conditions ideal for growth.

The statements made below represent the average of reports from 120 correspondents, representing every County of the Province, an average crop indicated by 100. The figures quoted give the relative yield for this year as compared with this average.

HAY.

Estimated yield: Upland hay eighty five per cent. Marsh hay ninety per cent. Intervals may vary five per cent. As far as the writer's observations go, these figures seem a little high, still, they represent the estimate of, as stated above, a large number of correspondents. In the early part of the year it looked as if this crop would be a total failure. However, the ideal weather of the past few weeks has effected a marked improvement. There was considerable winter killing, especially in the older fields. In some sections the clover will be a total failure. Returns vary from a fifty per cent crop, stated by correspondents in parts of Cumberland, Colchester and Pictou, to a one hundred and twenty-five per cent crop estimated in Victoria and other Cape Breton Counties.

Generally fields that have been seeded down a number of years are more than usually infested with oxeye daisies and other weeds, and will produce a short crop. Well cultivated fields will for the most part be fully up to the average.

Throughout the greater part of the Province there is not a ton of last year's hay left on hand and, hence, should the yield come up to the highest expectation, there will be none too much for next winter's feed.

POTATOES AND ROOT CROPS.

Estimated yield 105 per cent. Correspondents almost unanimously agree that this crop will be, at least on average, and the general estimate is above that. The average of these crops is, at least, 10 per cent more than last year. If present conditions are maintained, it is likely that the potato and root crop will be a record one. A number state that the potato bug is less prevalent than formerly.

OATS AND OTHER GRAIN CROPS.

Estimated yield 105 per cent. While the crop is from two to three weeks later than average, yet the fields never had a more healthy color and were never more promising. The lowest estimate is 75 per cent and the highest 125 per cent. By far the majority look for, at least, 100 per cent or higher. There is also a 10 per cent increase in yield with last year.

PASTURES.

Early spring pastures were unusually backward. Owing to a shortage of winter feed, many cattle were turned out early in May, but there was little good feed until June 15th. Since the first of July pastures have been excellent, better than at the same date for several years previous.

CONDITION OF LIVE STOCK.

Cattle and sheep were generally turned out sooner than they should have been and in rather thin condition. A shortage of winter feed made this imperative. Up to the middle of June they were in anything but good condition, but the excellent pastures since that time have wrought a great improvement. An increase in the number of Dairy cattle is reported in Colchester, Cumberland, Hants, Yarmouth and parts of Kings and Annapolis. An increase in beef cattle is quoted in parts of Cumberland, Hants and Kings. From 10 per cent to 25 per cent increase in sheep is quoted in Antigonish, Inverness, Victoria, Richmond and Queens Counties.

FRUIT.

The fruit estimate is considerable above that of last year. None of the correspondents estimate less than a medium crop and quite a few look for a record yield. All agree in stating that the trees never looked more healthy or luxuriant. It is generally expected that the fruit will be larger and of better quality than usual. Although the period of blossoming was two weeks later than average, yet, owing to the favorable season, the fall fruit is almost as far forward as last year. Estimates from the different sections vary so much that they are presented in some detail below.

Apples.—Promising, cherries abundant.

Granville Ferry, Granville and Upper Granville.—Three correspondents agree in estimating a light crop of apples, small fruits good.

Bonhill and Tapperville.—Some orchards light yield; others a full crop. There will be at least an average crop in the district. The quality is exceptional.

Cherries.—Apples average, of large size and good quality; plums abundant, cherries scarce.

Windsor.—Early prospect good, present prospect only medium, but excellent quality.

Paradise.—Trees generally set only fairly well. Good set Blantons, Kings, Ironsides, Golden Russets, fair set of Nonpareils.

Nictaux.—Medium set, excellent quality; strawberries light, other small fruits average.

St. Saviours.—Best crop of clean apples ever grown, other fruit satisfactory.

Kingston.—Apples excellent, good quality.

Aylesford.—Apples, except early varieties, such as Gravensteins and August apples, set well and are maturing well.

Berwick.—One correspondent states: Apples never better, strawberries a failure, other small fruits medium. Another states the indications are for a medium crop (below first expectations) of excellent quality; cherries and plums abundant.

Scott's Bay.—Apples very promising.

Port Williams.—Apples looking well, Baldwin's generally off. Gravensteins almost done, although good in some orchards; test caterpillars and canker worms very abundant.

Wolville.—Appearance of record crop of apples, plums scarce; other small fruit average.

Gasparaux.—Fair crop; excellent quality.

Horton.—Good crop; excellent quality.

Windsor.—Apples promising. Insect pests abundant.

Newport Landing.—Apples average; Baldwin's off, plums light.

Kemp.—Apples about 75 per cent crop; Baldwin's extra good.

South Brookfield.—Prospects promising, except where sprays have been neglected.

Lunenburg County.—All but one correspondent regard the prospect for apples good, considerably above last year.

Yarmouth County.—Not more than half a crop.

Other Counties.—Correspondents from other counties who report on the fruit yield, almost unanimously state that it will be considerably below average.

Altogether it would appear that the apple crop for the Province will be considerably in excess of last year and the quality will be exceptionally good. There has been about a 10 per cent increase in the average of land set out to fruit trees.

The season of 1907, so far as can be judged at the present day, will be decidedly more favorable for farmers generally than the previous three years. Of course it is too early to make a final estimate, but correspondents are almost unanimous in considering the outlook bright.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

For the above information the Department is indebted to 125 correspondents who have voluntarily contributed their estimates for the various sections in which they reside. In order to abbreviate the report, their names will not, as heretofore, be published, but are kept on file in the Office for Agriculture. We take the occasion

Famous Scott Act Case Closed

The End of the Townshend Appeal Cases to the Privy Council Has Been Reached.

Mr. W. E. Roscoe, K. C., who has had the conduct of the proceedings on behalf of the prosecution in reference to litigation to quash proceedings under which a quantity of liquor of W. H. Townshend of this town was destroyed at Canning over a year ago, received a cablegram on Wednesday from London stating that the appeals of Townshend to the Privy Council had been dismissed with costs.

The result of this decision is to end litigation which has been in progress for more than a year and to declare valid the steps taken to confiscate the liquor which was destroyed under an order made by Justice Beakwith and Eaton.

A further result is that the suit brought by Mr. Townshend against the Magistrates Beakwith and Eaton is practically ended and a number of threatened actions against the people who took part in what is now called "the raid" at Kentville will not be brought and many plans for actions at law by the liquor party with which the temperance people of the county would have been harassed have gone quite astray.

Any other termination of these suits than what has taken place would have been an absolute calamity to the moral interests of the county at large as well as to the members of the Temperance Alliance, who had so energetically determined to put an end to the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquor in the county, who no doubt would have been worried by numerous suits for steps taken by them.

Wilmington, Early prospect good, present prospect only medium, but excellent quality.

HEADED FOR THE TOP.

Businessness is the star accomplishment. It is the master-key that fits all locks of business requirements. I recently heard a good story about an office boy—my wife's friend! He took the message to Garcia and got it there on time.

The boy was given a letter to be delivered to a man at his home that evening, and was told that it was very important that the man should have the letter before 8 o'clock. When he got there "Garcia" had gone out, and his family did not know where. The boy asked where he might possibly find him, but they could not even guess. Then he asked for the names of two or three of the man's most intimate friends. When these were given he made haste to the nearest telephone and explained the situation to one or two of the friends and got them to guess where he was. Then he telephoned to one of the guesses and found that Garcia had just been there but had gone out with the man of the house, and his family did not know where. But they made a good guess, which proved true. The boy got Garcia on the telephone at a clubhouse two miles away and explained that it was now three minutes to 8, and asked permission to tear open the letter and read it to him. The man agreed to, and received the information just in time to enable him to be present at an important meeting.

DENATURIZED ALCOHOL.

Alcohol made repugnant to the taste is being used as an incandescent light. Instead of being drunk, it is burned. It propels the farm motor, the automobile and the launch, and the simple fact of obtaining denaturization permits each private citizen to light his farm or factory, to heat his home, to do farm work, or to transport himself. One of the secrets of the many new devices used in Germany is an alcohol flation with a small reservoir, which being filled with alcohol and lit, heats the iron for the hour's work, at a cost of less than two cents. The cleanliness and economy of these figures to the housekeeper are obvious. For farm motors, alcohol is a perfect fuel because of its complete combustion, the absence of its noxious odors, its uniform quality and its unlimited and universal sources. While it is true that the heat of combustion of alcohol is practically only half that of gasoline, yet twice as large a percentage of heat can be converted into useful work as in gasoline, and hence, point for point alcohol is as efficient as gasoline.

Only slight modifications of gasoline engines adapt them to the use of alcohol, a fact which is of much importance, since an engine to be efficient and practical for general use must not be too highly specialized. Because of the great elasticity of the charge after ignition, the stroke on an alcohol engine is to be most efficient, ought to be about double the bore of the cylinder. A high compression and comparatively cool mixture should be attained, and a good spark, complete vaporization and a complex mixture of the charge secured. Alcohol of 90 per cent strength, with 10 per cent of water, is usually employed. Wherever small engines can be used and a power safe in every respect is of value, the alcohol motor can be advantageously employed. Its spread during the few years of its existence in Europe has attained quite unexpected proportions, and will doubtless continue. Since 1896 the law in Belgium has exempted from taxation alcohol for industrial uses. Since that time this has also been done in France, Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Italy and Russia—Government Bulletin.

Last Friday was the forty-seventh birthday of James A. Hennessey, Junior United States Senator from Indiana. As a boy he was a bootblack and newsboy. Recently a friend said to him: "Jim, how'd you get up there anyway? I remember when you used to shine my shoes, and I didn't see any senatorial possibilities sticking out on you then." He replied: "You saw me working and hustling, didn't you? That's the only way I can answer your question."

Russia for New Policy of Peaceful Development

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce.)

London has lately reported moderate investment buying, and private advice from France state that investors there have shown more interest since the half-yearly settlements passed off without disaster. There is a vast amount of money lying idle in various parts of the world, a costly part of which would find its way to the investment markets were confidence in matters financial and political restored. In the meantime, a period of calm speculative and industrial, would hasten the convalescence of disordered security markets. In America, at least, a quiet trade, with more rational prices, seems to be assured, and this, of course, will tend to prevent embarrassing financial stringency.

Day by day, money movements have been of a satisfactory nature. Thus far this week the banks have gained from the sub-treasury $2,692,000, and official disbursements are likely to continue on a larger scale than usual on account of bond redemption. The receipt of new money from the west has also been a factor. During the current month and will continue to be so owing to the rapid growth of our gold yield. Money rates reflect easier underlying conditions, call money is obtainable around 3 per cent, but cheap time money does not seem imminent. Demand sterling rose to 4 1/2, and the output of finance bills may not check the tendency of exchange to advance in the absence of commercial remittance. Gold exports may, therefore, again become not only practicable, but profitable.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—The signing yesterday at the foreign office here of the treaties of commerce, navigation and fishery between Russia and Japan will be followed soon by the publication of a political entente wiping out the last traces of the contentions and hostilities arising from the late war.

The foreign office today confirmed the despatch to the Associated Press from Tokio on this matter and admitted officially that a general political agreement between the two states was in course of preparation, that the negotiations in this end had almost reached their conclusion, and that the signatures would be affixed to this document within a few days.

Russia and Japan will mutually guarantee their rights. It was learned today that Foreign Minister Isvolsky's desire to settle pending questions in the Far East and inaugurate a new policy of peaceful colonization and development in the Russian provinces bordering on the Pacific, was met in a spirit of moderation and through, or under them, or either of conciliation on the part of Japan them, or of the late Willard P. Morse, of, in and to all that certain to be made and assured a successful piece or parcel of land situated lying outside.

The relations between Russia and Japan are on such a satisfactory basis that the recent occurrences in Korea exercised no influence upon them. Russia considers herself bound content to give other nations, whose hands are free, a chance to champion the Koreans.

The commercial treaty between the two countries is of a temporary nature. It will expire in 1911. No provision is made for a tariff agreement, but in place of such an understanding the two powers agree mutually to apply the most favored nation clause.

WAR TALK SUBSIDING.

Fortunately, the silly war talk with Japan is subsiding, says an exchange. There never has been either reason or feeling to justify the flood of nonsense which has been circulated on this subject during the last few weeks. If the truth were known, it is probable that much of this war talk has been inspired by international politics.

Both Russia and Germany probably imagine that their interests would be promoted by a conflict between Japan and the United States. Often the wish is father to the thought; and these nations would gladly see Japan crippled in order that they might secure a stronger foothold in the Pacific; their ambitions in this respect having been gravely disappointed by the Japanese victory over Russia.

Japan is Britain's ally, and it would give these two nations additional pleasure to see that combination weakened or broken. For it is well known that England could not be induced to take any part in a war between Japan and the United States.

A MOTHER'S DEVOTION.

(Brookville Times.)

A wonderful example of heroism and maternal love was that recent incident of the woman at Liskeard, who in order to save her little child from death thrust her arm beneath the wheels of the freight train and prevented the child from raising its head. Ordinary cases of heroic deeds performed under the stress of great excitement seem tame compared to this act of motherly devotion.

Potter was a former resident of the town but has been away for over twenty years.

Mr. Ernest Ruggles arrived home Thursday from Montreal, where he had accompanied his daughter, Miss Blanche, who underwent a successful operation for appendicitis at the Victoria Hospital.

Mr. Ruggles speaks very highly of the attention received by himself and the patient at the hands of the hospital staff and others. When he left Montreal he was convalescing very rapidly and expects to be home in a short time.

About thirty from here attended a clam bake at "Argonaut Knoll," Smith's Cove, on last Friday evening.

There will be a Temperance Concert in the Advent Church next Sunday evening, August 11th, at 7.30 p. m.

(D. V.) Mrs. Danquog and Mrs. Lovell, from Mass., will help with the singing. All are welcome.

Mr. Walter Pyle, an aged resident of Walpole West, died very suddenly last Thursday. He, with his son, Albert, had been having all day and had pooled considerable hay in the barn, and while his son went to the house to prepare supper the old gentleman went into the barn to tramp the hay in the bay.

In about a half hour Albert called him and reëntering the bay went into the hay, where he found his father lying dead. He was 76 years of age and respected by all who knew him. The funeral took place on Saturday.

Wills E. Kempton, who is visiting his brother, Isaac Kempton, is returning from church on last Sunday evening alone, he walked over the bank near the foot of the Inbert hill, falling a distance of about twelve feet, striking on his head, among the rocks, cutting and bruising him quite badly. His groans were heard by some men who were passing and he was assisted to a house nearby. A physician was called who dressed his wounds, but Mr. Kempton, being an aged man, will feel the effects of the fall for some time, it being a narrow escape for him.

A large number of people attended the annual festival on the Indian Reserve on Friday, St. Anne's Day. The attraction of the morning was the marriage of John McBean, the popular guide, to Miss Minnie McLaughlin, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father McKinnon. Through the day, a number of sports were pulled off among the residents of the Reserve in a very pleasing manner, one of the very noticeable features being the absence of the white man's fire water in great contrast to some of the past years' celebration. The rain in the latter part of the afternoon interfered somewhat with the sports and pleasure of the assembled numbers and spoiled the festivities of the evening. The dinner and tea served by the ladies of the church was very well patronized and was a credit to their culinary art.

Miss Frances Ruggles is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Porter, at Yarmouth.

Rev. William Inglis Morse, Mrs. Morse, daughter and maid, of Lynn, are expected today to spend the month of August with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morse.

PHINNEY COVE.

A few days ago, as Mr. and Mrs. Earl Biglow were out driving, a flock of sheep sprung into the road from thick bushes close by the horse, which took fright, and, owing to a defect in the harness, took a speedy departure for home, leaving the wagon and occupants sitting in the road, unhurt.

The horse, when nearing home, evidently slipped on a rocky place in the road and fell, breaking its leg. The best available local help was procured at once and the wound dressed to await the arrival of a veterinarian, who arrived a few days later. The horse is now doing well and complete recovery in a few weeks seems very probable.

Elmer Farnsworth has come home, probably to stay, and has made some decided improvements in the house, notably by the addition of a veranda.

Miss Anna MacKenzie, of Dartmouth, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Howard Smith.

Mr. Robert Young, after spending some time with her mother, has returned to her home at Young's Cove.
