Mercantile Summary.

—Orillia is progressing. A private bank has recently been established.

—Smelt fishing has been, quite lively of late at Tabusintac, New Brunswick, and other places along the North Shore.

—Maple sugar was made during the latter weeks in January in various parts of the Province of Ontario.

—We learn that counterfeit $10 bills on the Canadian Bank of Commerce have been seen of late in the Ottawa District.

—The revenue of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway for the week ended Jan. 19, shows an increase of $2,149.69, as compared with the corresponding week in 1877.

—A block of coal is to be sent from the Old Sydney Mines to the Paris Exhibition. This representative of Cape Breton's best mine weighs 1800 lbs., is log-shaped, and measures on the lower side 90 1/2 inches, by 30 1/2; top side 54 inches by 27, and is 54 inches thick.

— A large number of men are daily employed on the bridge at Grand Falls, N. B., and it is expected that it will be finished early in the spring. All the piers but two centre ones are built.

— In our article on London, Ontario, last week, we omitted to state that Mr. John Labatt obtained the medal at the recent exhibition in Australia for ale, both on draught and in bottle, against the English competitors.

— The Charlottetown City Council is about to cause sign-boards, with the names of the streets painted thereon, to be put up at the several street corners in that city. It is high time that something like this were done.

— The deal shipments from St. John, N. B. for January, 1878, were smaller this year than either in 1877 or 1876, being only 1,360,594 superficial feet, while the shipments for January, 1877, were 1,655,823 feet, and for January, 1876, 1,903,914 feet.

— Adam Hall, boot and shoe dealer, Peterboro, is selling out his stock and retiring from that line of trade. He has purchased the stove and tinware business of the late T. Lannin, which he intends henceforth to carry on.

— Messrs. Henry Fry and R. R. Dobell have been appointed delegates to represent the Dominion Board of Trade at the annual meeting of the British Chamber of Commerce, which is to be held this month.

— Extensive sugar frauds have been discovered at the New Orleans Custom House involving the Belcher Sugar Refinery, of St. Louis. A large shipment has been ordered to be seized for undervaluation, by which the Government would lose $30,000.

— A good bed of gypsum has been discovered near Brown's plaster mill at Brighton harbor. It has been ground, tested, and found equal to any obtainable on the other side of the lake. A tram railway from the mill to the quarry is being built, with a view of entering largely into the manufacture early in the spring.

— The growing of flax and the manufacture of linen are restricted to the province of Ulster, Ireland. Some idea of the magnitude of the Irish linen trade may be gathered from the fact that the quantity exported to foreign countries last December amounted to 13,937,200 yards, being an increase over the corresponding month of 1876 of 1,899,000 yards. Spain and Italy used to be the best customers of the Irish linen manufacturers, but the United States and Canada now consume nearly as much as all other foreign countries put together.

— A new style of sidewalk is being tested in Toronto. No nails are used, the planks being held together by means of screws. One section of the sidewalk is closely planked, and the other has interstices to permit of the passage of air, which it is supposed should prevent rot.

— The Western Dairymen's Association of Ontario will hold its annual convention at Ingersoll on Wednesday, the 13th inst., and two following days. The Eastern Dairymen's Association of Ontario will hold its annual convention at Belleville on the 21st inst. and two following days.

— An Exchange says — The price of cordwood in Orangeville, Ontario, and vicinity, this winter is much lower than it has been at any time within the past six years. Good dry firewood, principally maple and beech, which formerly cost about $4 a cord, can be had at from $2 to $2 50, delivered; while an inferior quality may be bought for $1 50 to $1 75.

— Active measures are being adopted in St. John, N.B., to place and keep the Fire Brigade on an efficient footing. A competent and energetic chief has been appointed who will be no mere figure head. Any case of insubordination or drunkenness will be visited by instant dismissal. The St. John authorities are evidently determined that a repetition of the disasters which have of late visited their city shall not occur if vigilance and efficiency on the part of the fire department can prevent.

— We have to express our regret that, through inadvertence, a paragraph was inserted in our last number having reference to a note said to have been discounted at one of the banks, and commenting on the conduct of the Bank with regard to a business transaction. Our regret has been increased from information which we have received that the reference to a professional gentleman recently high in office was without foundation. Our rule is to abstain from noticing private transactions in which the public have no interest, and, as we have already stated, the paragraph in question found its way into our columns through inadvertence.

— A Parry Sound paper says: — Saw logging is being vigorously carried on this winter. Two camps belonging to the Guelph Lumber Co. have already taken out seven million feet. This Company will take out in all this season twelve million feet. The other companies are also operating largely and making rapid headway.

— The agricultural insurance companies have had more than ordinary difficulties to contend with during the past year, owing, doubtless, to the indiscriminate cutting of rates, chiefly on the part of the Canada Agricultural in its expiring hours. The Isolated Risk refused to enter into such a suicidal competition, and the honest report published in our last issue is the result. The stock list of the company is first-class, affording undoubted security to the public, and we trust the company will continue to adhere to its tariff of rates even at the loss of an occasional renewal.

— Mr. Robert Giffen read a paper before the Statistical Society of Great Britain, on Jan. 15, giving the facts of the rapid growth of British capital in the present century. The gross income taxed in Great Britain rose from $575, 000,000 at the beginning of the century to $1,310,000,000 in 1853; in the United Kingdom the gross income taxed grew from $1,540,000,000, in 1855, to $1,980,000,000 in 1865, and $2,755,000,000 in 1875. The total capital of the United Kingdom Mr. Giffen calculated at $26,000,000,000 in 1865, and this capital had increased since 1865 at the rate of $1,150,000,000 a year.

—The mercantile disasters reported in New York city during the past month show an increase of twenty-three over those for December, and were the largest in number that have occurred in any single month since the panic of 1873. There were 129 failures, suspensions, and assignments, in which the aggregate liabilities are $7,113,030 and assets $1,433,939. The merchandise liabilities were greater than in the last month of the year 1877, in which the total was about $8,000,000, but the latter was swelled by the failures of banks, trust companies, and defalcations to the amount of over $4,200,000.

—The revenue of the Great Western Railway has largely increased of late, owing to improved traffic. For the three weeks ending January 18th the earnings were $230,637, or $105,521 in excess of the same period last year. In London a statement for the five months ended 31st of December, has been issued, which shows that the estimated gross earnings were £384,200, and the working expenses £263,200, leaving as net revenue £121,000, which is an increase of £55,900, on the revenue of the last five months of 1876. The interest on the bonds and debenture stock, etc., amounts to £82,000, consequently there is a surplus of £39,000 up to the date above mentioned.

—It is stated, says the Halifax Chronicle, that the Nictaux and Atlantic Railway Company have obtained financial assistance in New York, and will shortly pay all liabilities, and resume the construction of the road. We are of opinion that, before entering into new arrangements for this enterprise, the Government should require some better evidence than they have yet obtained that the company possess the capital that is needed to enable them to carry on the work. Before paying any more money the Government should have some guarantee that that the collapse that lately occurred will not be repeated a little later.

—Everybody interested in the success of our home institutions, and more especially those in the immediate vicinity, will be gratified in reading the first report of the London Loan Company, the youngest effort in that direction made by the enterprising business men of the Forest City. Our readers will observe that, notwithstanding the expenses of organization, etc., the profits of the business have enabled the company to carry forward the sum of $15,000 to the reserve fund, after declaring the very handsome dividend of nine per cent., which, under the circumstances, might have been greater had they not had regard rather for stability than for immediate profits. It will be observed that the report covers a period of only seven months in all.

—A review of the excellent annual report of the Victoria Mutual on another page is unavoidably postponed this week.

—Press of other matter compels us to defer any notice of the annual report of the Citizens' Insurance Company this week.

—The directors of the Jacques Cartier Bank have leased to parties the coal mine lately acquired in Nova Scotia, at a rental of $20,000, being 10 per cent. of the purchase money.

—Judgment in the case of Hon. L. H. Holton against the West End Building Society of this city has been pronounced in favour of the plaintiff for $31,000.

—The Stadacona Insurance Company has re-elected its old board of directors, and has eliminated the Life branch altogether. The Stadacona is doubtless well acquainted with the expense and value of organization.

—Gingras & Langlois, grocers, of Quebec, are in trouble, and have called a meeting of their creditors. Liabilities are close on to $20,- —Ford & Dalziel, paper makers, of Portneuf and Quebec, whose failure has been noticed in our columns recently, have effected a compromise at ten shillings in the pound, secured, and payable in 4, 8 and 12 months. We understand Mr. Ford will continue the business alone.

—Mr. Wm. Angus has made an offer of $36,000 for his estate, payable in 6, 12, 18 and 24 months, which offer has been accepted by his creditors. Mr. Angus is to be congratulated upon having thus arrived at a happy issue out of his difficulties.

—Proceedings in insolvency have been taken against J. T. Hutchison, grocer, whose mysterious disappearance some weeks ago has been the cause of much speculation ever since. Affairs are not in a very satisfactory shape, and we understand Mrs. Tompkins, who is, we believe, an aunt, has made an offer of 40 cents for the estate.

—A new firm has been formed to carry on the brewing business, formerly run by the now insolvent firm of McLeod, Leveillé & McNaughton. The new firm will be known as "The Montreal Brewing Company," and is composed of two gentlemen of means who have acquired the estate of the late firm from the assignee on most favorable terms, and will likely make their venture a successful one.

— McGarity & Duncan, a firm of city grocers but recent establishment, have been attached in insolvency at suit of E. G. Green & Co. Both members of the firm have been through the mill before, and but a short time ago. There are certain circumstances in connection with their failure which require elucidation, and which will militate strongly against their getting a compromise.

— Mr. A. R. Bethune, in addition to his other agencies, has been appointed manager in this city of the Lancashire Fire Insurance Company; Mr. Knowlton, till lately associated with the office of Simpson & Bethune in this city, has obtained the agency of the Canada Fire and Marine. Mr. Thomas Simpson is agent of the Travellers and the Steam Users Insurance Companies.

— A meeting of R. Mitchell & Co.'s creditors was held on the 4th inst., at which a statement was submitted showing direct liabilities to be about $80,000, and apparent assets in the neighborhood of $100,000. Three inspectors, Messrs. Trotter, Clendinning and King, were appointed to investigate the firm's affairs, and the meeting adjourned till the 13th inst., when the insolvents will be prepared with an offer. The indirect liabilities are pretty large.

— There have been some additional changes among the wholesale grocery trade since our last issue. Messrs Beattie & Broster have dissolved, by the retirement of Mr. Broster, and the business is continued by Mr. Beattie under the title of Henry Beattie & Co., as may be seen by their advertisement elsewhere. A new firm has been formed under the style of Kirk, Lockerby & Co., composed of J. M. Kirk, late of Douglass, Kirk & Co., and D. L. Lockerby late of Kingan & Kinlock. Mr. Broster, late of Beattie & Broster, has formed a partnership with J. Pinder, under the style of Broster & Pinder, who purpose doing a general grocery commission and brokerage business.

— The suspension of David Robertson, wholesale teas, is an event for which the grocery trade was not prepared, and the announcement of his stoppage caused wide-spread surprise, his credit having been maintained up to the last moment. His troubles have been caused nearly altogether by the heavy shrinkage in Teas: three years ago he was worth $50,000, to-day he owes $100,000 and shows about $40,000 to pay with. A meeting of creditors was held on Wednesday, at which a settlement was arranged for at the rate of 35 cents on the dollar, payable in 3, 6, and 9 months, his wife waiving her claim of $30,000, until all the other creditors are paid.

— Leblanc & Robitaille, jobbing grocers, of this city, have been attached by La Banque du Peuple. An informal meeting was held on Wednesday, at which liabilities were shown to be between $40,000 and $45,000; assets about $23,000. They have only been in business four years, and during that short period have sunk some $28,000 in bad debts, besides $5,000 in

An offer of 30 cents secured and 5 cents unsecured was submitted, but was not accepted, and the creditors ordered a thorough examination into their affairs before accepting any offer of compromise. Considerable feeling was evinced at the meeting by some of the creditors, and the insolvents have, beyond doubt, shown a lack of judgment and proper management in the conduct of their business.

— The announcement that Samuel Woods & Co., importers of woollens and findings, were in difficulties, was not unexpected, as it has been known to those interested for some time back that they had found it difficult to meet their engagements. Mr. Samuel Woods is the only partner in the firm, and was formerly of Whalley & Woods: upon the death of Mr. Whalley, about two years ago, he assumed the whole business, including the liabilities of the old firm, and it is those old liabilities which have brought about his troubles, the assets of the old business not realizing as well as was expected. The liabilities outside the Molsons Bank are nearly altogether in England and in few hands: the exact amount cannot yet be ascertained. Mr. Woods has always enjoyed an excellent reputation as a man of business, being in this respect as far removed from his namesakes, W. S. Woods & Co., of recent notoriety, as Paradise is from Hades, and it is

— Matters in the shoe and leather trade still continue unsettled. A writ of attachment has been issued vs. Donovan, Williams & Shannon, wholesale shoes, whose failure was noticed in our columns of last week, at the instance of Shaw Bros. & Cassils. The feeling among the larger creditors seems to be unfavorable to accept the offer of 50 cents secured or 60 cents unsecured, made at the meeting held last week, and unless some higher bid be made, it is probable the estate will be wound up in insolvency.
So far as we can understand it, this feeling does not seem to be induced by any harsh feelings towards the insolvents, or from any suspicion of fraud, but from the fear of establishing a sort of precedent, and being called upon to do the same sort of thing for others. The same feeling, intensified from the fact of their having suspended and compromised before in 1873, exists in the case of J. & J.
Woodley of Quebec, who have again stopped payment, and whose creditors were to meet yesterday. No figures of liabilities in this latter case have as yet been made public, but they

FINANCE AND INSURANCE REVIEW.

MONTREAL, FEBRUARY 8, 1878.

FREE TRADE AND RECIPROCIDTY.

The January number of Frazer's Magazine contains an article on the commercial policy of the Empire over the signature C. Halford Thompson, which is well deserving of the consideration of Canadian statesmen. The writer gives an alarming account of the result of the free-trade policy which has been on trial for a considerable number of years. The inference we draw is that the writer is not prepared to dispute that unrestricted trade would be a boon to the whole world, but that he is fully convinced that one country cannot afford to adopt a free-trade policy while its immediate neighbors are pursuing one of an opposite character. Those countries must be made to see that we are determined to obtain reciprocity even at the cost of a return to import duties. The article, which will well repay perusal, commences with a reference to two recent speeches on the subject by statesmen holding very opposite opinions, viz., the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford

Northcote and Professor Fawcett. Both of those statesmen admit that the expectations held forth that other nations would be converted to free-trade principles have been falsified, and that great injury has been inflicted on our manufactures by the enormous import duties levied by foreign governments. Both statesmen, after making these admissions, concur in the opinion that it would be unwise to re-impose import duties on our side. Mr. Fawcett, however, acknowledges that we are much too prone to overrate the advantage of free-trade. The writer in Frazer's dissents altogether from the views of the Chancellor of the Exchequer and Professor Fawcett. We quote from the article:

Another thing that is lost sight of, or kept carefully in the back ground, is that when we first commenced our attempts at free trade we were in a totally different position to that which we now hold, and it is time for us to fairly consider this. We were then undisputed masters of the world of commerce. Our machinery was far superior to that possessed by other nations, our workmen were more skilful, and we had apparently inexhaustible mineral resources ready to our hand, whereas other nations had, at any rate not yet developed any such resources. We threw open our markets to all the world and got all the advantages that the first start in either a large or a small enterprise always confers. We appeared to think that the superiority that we then possessed would allow us to, as it were, give any amount of points in the game to our opponents; but we forgot that by allowing our machinery and our coal to be exported, foreign manufacturers, having got our workmen to teach theirs, would soon diminish the superiority we once possessed. We still have to play the game, giving as many, if not more, points than before, and our opponent now plays as well as we do.

Unfortunately, by abolishing our import duties, instead of gradually reducing them, we have cut the ground from under our feet. Other nations will say to us when we press them to lower their prohibitory tariff, what the French Government replied to our unfortunate glass manufacturers, when they made a similar request, viz: "To accord the request of the English glass manufacturers would be contrary to French interests. You ask us to reduce a duty that may bring us in revenue. What duty in England would you repeal as an equivalent for our giving up the duty on sheet and plate glass."

The writer proceeds to notice the French Treaty of 1860, and censures the neglect of various British industries which was exhibited on the occasion of its negotiation. He then goes at some length into detail, commencing with the ruin brought on the ribbon manufacturers. In the two years following the treaty 1400 weavers' houses were empty in Coventry, 10,000 weavers were totally destitute, and 4000 receiving partial relief. While England was admitting manufactured silk from France free of duty, France was exacting an export duty on the raw silk required by England. The next article referred to is glass, which before the treaty was a most flourishing trade, while at present one-third of all the plate glass, and three-fourths of all the sheet window glass used in the United Kingdom is imported from France and Belgium. The paper trade is the next subject for consideration. The imports are now more than treble the value of our exports, and the former are increasing, while the latter are as steadily decreasing. In most of the countries from which we import, our paper manufactures are excluded, while the rags, which are indispensable for making the better sorts of writing paper, are subjected to export duties. Sugar is the next article referred to, and it is alleged that there is a considerable bounty paid on the export of sugar from France, the result of which has been the ruin of the sugar-loaf trade of the United Kingdom. About twenty-one loaf sugar refineries out of twenty-three have been closed. Not long since the raw sugar that passed through the refineries in a year was valued at from fifteen to twenty millions sterling. The iron and hardware trade is next referred to. The iron trade of France is protected by a bounty on exportations very similar to that on sugar, and even in Birmingham itself French competition is beginning to be felt. But Belgium seems to be the country from which opposition in this important branch of trade is most to be feared. Freights by sea to London from Antwerp are lower than by rail from Staffordshire, and the Belgian railways being the property of the government, freights are regulated so as to assist the export trade of the country. The writer takes a most gloomy view of the prospects of this important branch of trade and maintains that, if we continue to admit foreign iron free, while we are debarred from finding a market abroad for our own, there will be ultimate ruin to the trade, and the effects of such a disaster are frightful to think of. In the opinion of the writer in Frazer's it would be difficult to point to a trade not affected by our present system, and it would be the greatest folly to wait until each trade is ruined separately before we interfere. Even in the woolen and the cotton manufactures the thin edge of the wedge has been inserted. There have been alarming indications of ruinous American competition in the cotton trade, and the French are competing vigorously in woollens. We have given as briefly as in our power the leading points of the article in Frazer's, which has an important bearing on a question which has occupied the thoughts of the Canadian people for a considerable period. It was the belief of many in England that her manufactures were so well established that she could defy foreign competition, but with us the case is reversed. It is the country which has all the advantages derived from long-established manufactures which imposes heavy duties on our manufactures and products, while we admit hers on much more advantageous terms. It is not to be wondered at that, with the results which have attended free-trade in the United Kingdom, and which are deplored even by its advocates, there should be a strong feeling in Canada that reciprocity with the United States should be insisted on.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

People in remote parts of Canada, in the United States and even in Great Britain have latterly begun to look upon Montreal as the principal exponent of the commercial depression in Canada; and visitors who see the occasional "To Let" along some of our oldest thoroughfares are impressed with the idea that the city is losing its population, while the opposite is the fact. The readiness with which well-constructed and accessible residences, stores and offices are leased is sufficient proof of this. In this respect, strangers will be surprised perhaps to learn that upwards of four hundred houses were erected in Montreal during 1877, being fifty more than during the previous year, and those who are acquainted with the excellence of our building materials, and the fact that we do not build wooden houses, will form some impression of the progress thus indicated. A great deal of money has doubtless been squandered in suburban land speculation, as is usually the case with all wealthy and rapidly growing cities, and some of our leading business men have come to grief thereby. The losses by Montreal merchants have been very great during the years of depression, chiefly owing to their greater ability to grant indulgences to unfortunate customers, thus leaving them more liable to losses, aggravated by the gradual shrinkage in values. It is generally admitted that 1877 on the whole was not of itself a disastrous year, but the effect of former shortcomings was severely felt in the several small back street failures of that year; emphasizing the reflection that hard times are like a stone rolling down stairs, which always bumps most heavily on the lowest step. The news of these small failures was telegraphed to Toronto, New York and Chicago, and there read by the masses of the people as indicating principally prominent business houses. A man with a total capital of $50 to $200 in a back street was set down in the telegram to Chicago and New York as "the prominent dry goods house of ———." The business world may with greater reason conclude that New York with her 129 failures last month is largely composed of rotten concerns. Those who visit our city are readily disabused of the idea. When it is remembered that out of upwards of sixty wholesale dry goods houses in Montreal there have scarcely been half a dozen failures during the entire period of depression, our distant friends will not imagine business in Montreal to be so bad as represented; and in other departments, except perhaps in the hardware trade, the proportion has not been so great. The stability of the great majority of Montreal firms is beyond being affected by such impressions abroad, although some of the younger houses among them may occasionally have their sensibilities wounded by frequent reference to supposed or exaggerated troubles in our midst. It is a mistake to imagine that Montreal has contributed more than a proportionate share of the troubles of the period. The millions of dollars worth of her manufactures, her importations her banking and insurance capital that have been scattered over the country far and wide during the last three years, without a return in many cases of even ten cents on the dollar, have gone towards enriching the consumers, who in this way have been enabled to supply their wants more easily than in more prosperous times.

QUEBEC RAILROAD POLICY.

The Quebec Government has found out before this that, in undertaking to assist in the construction of railroads, it took a white elephant into keeping. It was said a great many years ago by Sir Allan Macnab that his politics were "Railroads," and most assuredly such were the politics of a very large portion of the most influential inhabitants of the Province of Quebec a few years ago. If the excitement on the subject was more lively in some places than others, the cities of Montreal and Quebec are fairly entitled to be considered the most active promoters of the lines on the North side of the St. Lawrence. Each of those cities promised to the Companies empowered to construct the North Shore and Northern Colonization Railways a million of dollars, and the city of Montreal had advanced of this sum no less than $350,000 when the embarrassments of both companies became so serious as to lead to apprehensions that the entire expenditure would be wasted. Such was the state of matters when pressure was brought to bear on the Government representing the whole Province to assume and complete the works. Among those who most urgently pressed this line of action on the Government, the citizens of Montreal and Quebec were the foremost. No class of the population was more interested than they were in obtaining the aid of the Province. And yet at the present moment there is intense excitement in both cities against the railroad policy of the Government.

It has for some time been tolerably apparent that both cities as well as other municipalities in the same position are anxious to be relieved of the liability, which they voluntarily and with great unanimity assumed. It is, however, beyond a doubt that the Government and Legislature of Quebec would never have undertaken the construction of the railroad but for the assurance given them of municipal aid. The Government and Legislature have lately evinced a determination to compel the defaulting municipalities to fulfil their agreements; and the latter are not only deeply offended at the strong measures adopted, by which their amour propre has been wounded, but the city of Montreal, through its organ, the Finance Committee of the Corporation, gives reasons which no doubt appear to it satisfactory why the city of Montreal should be relieved of its remaining liability at the cost of other portions of the Province. These reasons are: 1st. That when the city of Montreal agreed to aid the Northern Colonization Road, it had good ground for believing that another road, the North Shore, would be constructed by a line crossing the river at Bout de l'Isle, and that inasmuch as the railway commissioners have adopted another line to Montreal on professional advice, the city is entitled to repudiate its agreement. 2nd. It is alleged that work shops were to be erected within the city limits, whereas, instead of work shops there are only to be repair shops. The fact is, if we fully comprehend the argument of Alderman Nelson, the chairman of the Finance Committee and its spokesman, that body insist, as a condition of their aid, that the Government shall, on behalf of the Province of Quebec, enter into the business of constructing rolling stock of all kinds.

We propose to examine these objections, but in the first place we must observe that the policy of which such complaint is made is not directed specially against Quebec and Montreal, or either of those cities, but against all the Municipalities which entered into agreements to contribute to the construction of the railroad! As matters stand the question is, what is just and fair between the people at large of the Province of Quebec and the contributing municipalities, and likewise between each of the latter? There was a time, if we are not greatly mistaken, when grievous complaint was made by the citizens of Montreal that the county of Ottawa was going to repudiate its liability, and we are quite sure that if there was not a demand for coercion on the part of the Legislature there would have been little sympathy evinced in Montreal at that time in favor of any defaulting Municipality which had been subjected to coercion.

Repudiation of engagements such as that of the city of Montreal for the Railroad is a serious matter, and there is no telling where it will end. All the legislation that has taken place has been based on the good faith of the Municipalities, and the Legislature which represents the population of the whole Province cannot, and ought not, to permit sections of that population to relieve themselves by their own act of a liability, and to impose that liability upon others. Even if the case of the Finance Committee were ten times stronger than it is, it would not justify the repudiation of a liability voluntarily incurred by the parties interested in relieving themselves at the cost of persons who have a clear right to be consulted. The case seems to us so clear that we cannot imagine that our discontented fellow citizens see the matter in the same light. Practically Montreal demands that at her own will and pleasure she shall be relieved of a liability which must in consequence be thrown on the Eastern Townships and the people on the south shore of the St. Lawrence. Surely if a difficulty has arisen the Legislature is the proper tribunal to which an appeal should be made, and not the parties interested.

That the citizens of Montreal would like to get rid of this railroad liability is beyond a doubt. On that point there would be perfect unanimity of opinion. The difficulty is that they are bound in justice to the Province at large, and in honor to adhere to their pledge, and they ought not to claim to be judges in their own case. We must add a few words on the objections made by the Finance Committee, and which we have stated above. We do not profess to be competent to decide between rival engineers which is the best line for the railroad between Quebec and Montreal, that by Bout de l'Isle, or that by Terrebonne. We know that by the former route it would be necessary to have a draw-bridge, a most objectionable structure, and which would involve in all probability a delay greater than would be caused by the increased distance of the line via Terrebonne. The engineering difficulties may have been exaggerated, but the commissioners have at least acted on the advice of competent engineers. With regard to the workshop question, we are of opinion that there are grave objections to the Government undertaking the construction of rolling stock, and, moreover, we hardly see how it would be possible for them to compel the lessees of the road to set up works for the construction of locomotives or cars.

The Government of Quebec has acted, so far as we can judge, in perfect good faith to Montreal. But what shall we say of Quebec which is equally agitated on the subject and equally desirous of repudiation? Quebec is dissatisfied because Montreal has not been cut off by running the line to St. Thérèse, which would be a shorter route to Hull than that by Montreal. Can it be believed that this complaint is urged with sincerity, and not as an excuse for repudiation? Not only was their own North Shore line designed solely for communication with Montreal, which was to be its terminus, but if the line had been originally projected between Quebec and Hull, or any other point further west, it never would have entered the imagination of any railway promoters to avoid such a city as Montreal. Entertaining the views which we have placed before our readers, we cannot but deplore the heat that has been manifested both in Montreal and Quebec on this question, or refrain from expressing our sympathy with the Quebec Government, which finds itself compelled, in justice to the whole population of the Province, to insist on certain municipalities fulfilling pledges on the faith of which the Government, with the concurrence of the Legislature, was induced to undertake a work of a most formidable character.

HEALTH AND BUSINESS.

Few persons outside of the mercantile community have any idea of the effect success in life, or the want of it, has upon the general health of the man of business. He who mechanically toils for his daily or weekly wages, often envies the employer whose capital is at stake in his enterprise. He has no idea of the feverish days, the sleepless nights, anxiously spent by the business man in devising means to tide over some first difficulty; of the struggles against failure; of the struggles with the tempter who whispers "dishonesty" in his ear; of the terrible sinking step by step after he has once transgressed; of the wounded conscience which stings him daily in the sight of his fellowmen; of the humiliation which must be felt by the man who after years of drudgery had found a respectable position and name in the community only to be cast down again in his declining years, bringing with him a family reared in comfort if not in luxury; of the sensation with which he pronounces daily or weekly the words, "we have done those things which we ought not to have done, and left undone those things which we ought to have done," while the still small voice questions him whether he is trying to do better.

A leading dry goods merchant of Toronto once said that no man need fail in business. This doubtless was expressed as a rule to which there might be some exceptions. The great trouble is that men do not proceed cautiously enough, or do not "put on the brakes" in time, or in a careless moment, a friend is accommodated, and very few know how to refuse a second request. C'est le premier pas qui coûte, and it costs in mind and body as well as substance. Ill luck, misfortune, are the terms often applied to these consequences of a first wrong act, just as

"When lovely women go astray,
The stars are more in fault than they."

If Jacob who made him a present of that elegant gold watch had not asked him for that accommodation note he would not be where he is now,—or, if he had not handled pitch, he would not have soiled his hands.

Although there are some persons so constituted that failure in life has little effect upon their spirits, generally speaking, we can easily detect the man who is going down hill by his physiognomy and general tone. And who does not know the beaming, assuring face of the successful man. There is an intoxication in success of which the strongly constituted drinker has not even the faintest idea, of which the flattered have no conception. Success in life generally implies superior qualities, for there is no more absurd idea than that contained in the remark, "any man can make money; any man may become rich." There is no part of human life in which the Darwinian theory applies more readily than in business: as a rule the fittest will survive. Knavery may succeed for a while, but honesty with ability is the surest guide.

Many of our ablest merchants attend so closely to business that the ordinary rules of health are often disregarded. The mid-day meal is frequently neglected, or, from motives of economy, it is taken at a cheap restaurant, where a few cents' worth of bad coffee and indigestible buns are swallowed hastily. The active brain of the successful man of business requires better nourishment; the body which nourishes the mind requires proper nourishment itself. But a more noticeable fact is in the want of sunlight in business offices. We can point to several sad instances of broken constitutions and shortened lives among merchants who, in order to allow the greater facility for the exhibition of merchandise, placed their offices in the darkest corner of the warehouse, where no ray of sunlight ever entered, and where in cloudy weather they were compelled to burn gas at mid-day issuing from their desks at night, more like moles than human beings, with impaired tone and little appetite. We do not require to look far, for examples. "Let there be light." Time is money; many a man shortens his life ten or twenty years by continuing to work day after day in a dark office, and even for the limited period of his life his efforts are more irksome and less effective. While taxing ourselves to provide parks (which are the lungs of a city) for our citizens, let us not forget to let the sun shine upon our own daily labors, that they may be more productive, and that, while providing for the necessities or luxuries of life, we may retain the capacity for enjoying them, by realizing that which was esteemed of highest value in the ancient Greek civilization—a sound mind in a sound body.

THE QUEBEC BUDGET.

Whatever opinions may be formed on the subject of the Quebec Treasurer's scheme of obtaining that additional revenue which, owing to the public works undertaken by the Province of Quebec, it has become absolutely necessary to raise, it must, we think, be admitted that Mr. Church has made a lucid exposition of the affairs of the Province. We regret very much that, owing to the limited space at our disposal, and owing to our having occupied a considerable portion of it with the consideration of the railway policy of the government, which has led to the necessity of supplementing the revenue in some way, we are unable to analyze the Treasurer's speech at such length as we would desire to do. We have endeavored to examine it with strict impartiality, and if we are unable to come to the conclusion that the proposals of the Government are the best that could have been made, we are very far indeed from joining in the censure which has been accorded to them by their opponents.

We have endeavored in another article to do justice to the Government with regard to the railway policy which was almost forced upon it by the public opinion of the Province. We cannot but express our deep regret at finding in a journal of the character of the Canadian Spectator what, in our opinion, is a most unfair judgment on that policy. If the terms "swindling legislation," "robbery," "monstrous proceedings" are justly applicable to that policy, then, we should like much to be informed whether, if the Government and Legislature were to annul the bargain by which municipal aid was secured for the construction of the railroads, the people in other parts of the Province would not be entitled to use similar expressions. We find nothing in the Treasurer's most satisfactory statement to justify what he has very properly designated the unpatriotic cry of those who remained silent when the country was undertaking great public enterprises, or who approved of them, and who now rush eagerly forward and shout that ruin and decay and bankruptcy are imminent. We find nothing in the Treasurer's statement to cause any apprehension as to the ability of the Province to meet all its engagements. The Treasurer has in our opinion disposed most satisfactorily of the charge made against him, of borrowing temporarily from the Bank of Montreal at the market rate of money. The Province had negotiated a large loan on most favorable terms, indeed we would be justified in stating on terms better than what might reasonably have been expected. The consequence was that the contractors were unable to place the debentures with the public as rapidly as they could have done had they obtained them at the fair market value. It would under the circumstances have been injudicious in the treasurer to have attempted the negotiation of a fresh loan in London, and he acted judiciously in making a temporary arrangement with the Bank of Montreal, at the market rate of interest. Every kind of misrepresentation has been resorted to in order to lead the public to believe that this transaction was open to censure. The rate of interest charged by the Bank of Montreal is 7 per cent., and the Hon. Mr. Starnes declared in the court that he could have negotiated a loan at 6½, the best answer to which is that the Bank of Montreal is ready at any moment, as we have been assured, to transfer the loan to any other bank desiring to assume it. Mr. Starnes can therefore indicate the bank, as he scarcely expects a commission.

We do not deem it necessary to enter into the details either of the revenue or expenditure. It is possible that many items of expenditure might be curtailed if the views of individual objectors were allowed to prevail. For our own part we could make some large reductions if we were permitted to exercise our uncontrolled judgment, but we are not inclined to criticize expenditures proposed by a responsible Government and approved of by a majority of the representatives of the people. As to the revenue, that is a matter of estimate, and if we were inclined to criticize the Treasurer's statement we should express our apprehension that he has been over sanguine in his expectations from the recent discoveries of phosphate of lime. Most sincerely do we wish that he may not have been misled, but we own that we have not the implicit confidence that he has expressed in the results of those discoveries.

There is little use in dwelling on details. It has become absolutely necessary to obtain an increase to the revenue, and the question offered for our consideration is, how is that additional revenue to be obtained? Mr. Church appears to have been well aware that it is impossible to propose new taxes without causing dissatisfaction. He cited Mr. Lowe's remark that taxation might be defined to be "the distribution of just so much misery which it is the duty of the financier to make as tolerable as possible" and that of M. Turgot who said "it is the science of plucking the goose without making it cry." The last definition has certainly no applicability here, if we may judge by the public meeting in Montreal on last Tuesday, and by the petition to the legislature which is in circulation. A finance minister who has to propose new taxes is well entitled to public sympathy. He can have no doubt that, whatever proposition he may make, it will be denounced by every man who is opposed to the government. One set of politicians will raise the cry "the priestly De Boucherville Government" and whatever may be the proposition it will be condemned without discussion. Others again who have no sympathy with those who raise the broad Protestant cry will, nevertheless, find sufficient reasons to condemn any new scheme of taxation. Then, again, there are among those who are willing to give fair play to the government many whose interests are affected by the particular tax which the finance minister may find it necessary to propose. For our own part our inclination is, when a new tax has to be levied to require from those who object to it a statement of what they would substitute in its place. Additional taxes are an evil, but we have to choose the least of two evils, and the question for our consideration at present is whether the 10 cent per $100 tax on transfers and the 25 cent per $100 tax on contracts is the best mode of raising an additional revenue. We are met at starting with the difficulty of the constitutionality of the proposed taxes. Are they direct or indirect? This question may be considered to be sub-judice at present, and it may be hoped that the judgment in the case which is pending will set at rest the question as to what is direct and what indirect taxation. We own that we find it difficult to believe that it was intended to confer upon two different legislatures the right to impose the same description of taxes. There can be no doubt, we imagine, that it would be competent for the Dominion Parliament to impose precisely the taxes which are recommended by the government of Quebec. What would be the consequence if it were to do so? A system of double taxation! It is, however, useless to discuss this point. The Quebec government is clear as to its constitutional power, and, unless controlled by the courts or by the veto power of the Dominion Government, will adhere to its convictions.

Mr. Church cited some high authorities in support of his proposition that a direct tax is one which is demanded from the very persons who it is intended or desired shall pay it." Of the new taxes proposed by the Government, that upon contracts 25 cents per $100, limited as it is by the numerous exemptions, which would in all probability be further extended on a satisfactory case being made out, appears open to less objection than the one on transfers of 10 cents per $100. A good deal of unnecessary alarm has been created, owing to an impression having prevailed that a tax would be levied first on the contract, and then on the transfer, and that both buyer and seller would have to pay it. We feel assured that the 10 cent tax is intended to cover each transaction, and that whereas, as a general rule, the broker's commission, on a transaction amounts to 50 cents per $100, the tax would be only 10. In New York, the commissions are 12½ cents per $100 on each side, so that if our brokers charged 20 cents to each, and buyer and seller paid each one-half of the government tax, the charge would be no higher than at present. But without this reduction the charge even upon ordinary speculative transactions and investments would not be oppressive. The difficulties are to be found elsewhere, and we confess they seem to be formidable. It would be very difficult indeed to apply the tax equitably to stocks, such as insurance where a small portion only is paid up. Mr. Oswald has illustrated the hardship of the tax by a reference to the transfer of the Royal Canadian Insurance stock, on which only a small percentage is paid up, and the stock at a discount. The case is well put, but it may be observed that the charge of brokerage which is always, if we are not mistaken, on the par value comes very high on stocks which are either not paid up or of a merely nominal value. This difficulty is one that might possibly be met, but there is a much more serious one, viz., transfers made merely to change loans without any actual change of property. Mr. Oswald explained very clearly that a call loan might be made which might only last for a few days, so that on one bona fide sale a dozen transfers might be made. Whether it is possible to grapple with all these objections is more than we can pretend to judge. We wish very much that the Quebec Government had found itself able to meet the financial difficulty by throwing a considerable portion of the expenses of the administration of justice on the municipalities. We learn from Mr. Church's statement that last year the Government of Ontario expended on this account $197,000 or 12½ cents per head of the population, while Quebec expended $373,538 or 31 cents per head. Mr. Church urged this very fairly to prove that the taxation was not excessive in Quebec, but rather distributed in a different way, the municipal taxation being much heavier in Ontario. The most statesmanlike policy for the Quebec Government would be to relieve the public treasury by throwing a larger amount of strictly local expenditure on the municipalities. It is far from improbable, however, that, if such a policy had been recommended, it would have been denounced by the whole Opposition, and by many others, as strongly as the present scheme has been.

— Application will be made at the coming session of the New Brunswick Legislature for an Act to incorporate the bondholders in the European and North American Railway Co. for extension from Saint John westward, under the name of "The Saint John and Maine Railway Company," and to enable the Company so incorporated to purchase the railway property and franchise of the European and North American Railway Co. for extension from Saint John westward, mortgaged to secure the said bondholders at any sale of the same, and to hold such property and operate such railway when so bought.

THE NEW ROUTE BETWEEN MONTREAL AND OTTAWA.—This direct route to the capital known as the Q. M. O. & O. Railway, is likely to be a favorite with travellers. It avoids the delays and the want of close connection by the old route. Mr. Duncan Macdonald, well known as a railway contractor, built the line, and will continue to operate it.

—The Grand Trunk Railway is giving the Eastern railroad combination much uneasiness by refusing to enter fully into the little game of the "magnates" to squeeze the people on freight going East. It is possible that, as heretofore, individual avarice may stand between shippers and the much more dangerous aggression of combined and organized greed.—Chicago Tribune.

—The St. John Globe says:—A case of considerable interest to ship-owners and the mercantile community has just been decided by arbitration. Messrs. S. J. King acting for Messrs. Scammell Bros. as agents for owners of schr. "Alaska," and Mr. D. A. Smith for T. McCarthy, as Esq. Mr. Howard D. Troop having been chosen umpire. The facts are as follows: The vessel sailed from New York on or about the 9th Dec., bound for this port, and arrived here about the 17th Jan., making a passage of about 39 days. Mr. McCarthy avows that the long passage was caused by overloading the vessel, and in consequence, coal having fallen in price in this market, he has suffered a loss, and for this loss he claims of the owner compensation. The award, which is signed in full by the three arbitrators, is as follows:

St. John, N. B., 2d Feb'y, 1878.

S. J. King, D. A. Smith and H. D. Troop, of the City of St. John, having been appointed arbitrators, by and with the consent of T. McCarthy, Esq., of the said City of St. John, and G. M. Clark, master of the schr. "Alaska," to take into consideration and finally determine all matters in dispute between the said T. McCarthy and the said G. M. Clark, touching the loss alleged by the said T. McCarthy to have been sustained by him through the long passage of the said schr. "Alaska," while on a voyage from New York to St. John, laden with coal for account of said McCarthy—said long passage in the opinion of the said McCarthy having been occasioned by overloading and want of due diligence in the prosecution of the said voyage. We, the said arbitrators, do hereby award and determine that the said Timothy McCarthy has no claim for damages in respect of the matter above-mentioned. The costs of this award to be equally divided.

LIFE INSURANCE IN GREAT BRITAIN.—The receipts of the British life insurance companies from all sources were $88,053,275 in 1877, against $84,635,090 in 1876. The excess of the income of the British companies over expenditure was $19,218,945 in 1877, and $16,350,830 in 1876. Claims paid amounted, in 1877, to $47,610,535, and the expenses of management to $10,059,610. The amount of insurance policies in force was $1,976,961,500; the life insurance and annuity fund, $544,499,270; and the percentage of expenses to premium income was 16.66 per cent.

—Here, for once, says the London Punch, is a candid advertiser who proclaims himself with blast from the trumpet of the Glasgow Herald:

THE CANADIAN EXHIBIT AT PARIS.—A letter from Paris, France, says:—"The Canadian Government steamer Newfield, while at Havre, was visited by a deputation from the Chamber of Commerce, with M. Pouyer-Quertier, its president, and also President of the Senate of France, at their head. He expressed to Mr. Keefer, our Commissioner to Paris, much pleasure at seeing in their port the first Government vessel of the western Dominion, and presented Capt. Parry with a gold medal. On reaching Rouen the transshipment of goods for the Exhibition took place. The French authorities have acted with a good deal of civility towards Canada. No charge was made for docking at Havre; permission was given for the transshipment of the cargo from Rouen to Paris without inspection, and no exception was taken by the Customs to the loading of the barges with our bulky, rather than heavy, articles above the usual level."

—The savings bank system in Newfoundland is worth describing. It is under the supervision of the Government, and the general revenue of the colony is by law made liable for all deposits and interest thereon. The Governor appoints the cashier and the eight governors of the bank, five from the Assembly, including the Speaker, and three from the Council. These governors elect annually from among their number three directors, on whom devolves the active management of the bank; no governor is allowed to be officially connected with any other bank. The directors are empowered to lend the deposits on Government, real, and personal securities; they superintend all business, examine and audit the cashier's accounts, and transmit them annually to the Legislature. Deposits are received up to $250; above that sum special permission to make the deposit must be obtained. Three per cent. interest is allowed. The maximum of annual expense for the management of the bank—salaries, rent, stationery, &c.—is prescribed by law. The bank contains deposits to the amount of $1,011,880, on which $29,083 interest was paid last year, $13,915 being added to the reserve fund after the payment of all expenses. There are 2,160 depositors, (or one in every seventy-four inhabitants), and of these 1,014 have deposits of less than $200 at their credit, 613 of more than $200 and less than $500, and 398 of more than $500 and less than $1,000.

PARTNERSHIP.—A general merchant in the country, whose business does not pay, wishes partnership in a similar concern where his goods and services would suit, and where there is room for extending. Knows all the branches thoroughly. Is sober and in excellent credit. The above presents a grand opportunity to a merchant on the eve of his retirement as advertiser could eventually effect a purchase. Apply, in confidence, &c.

Probably the "merchant on the eve of his retirement" might soon learn that in effecting a purchase, the advertiser had also effected "a sell."

THE LONDON LOAN COMPANY OF CANADA.

FIRST REPORT.

The Directors of this Company have pleasure in submitting to the stockholders their first report and financial statement for the broken period of seven months from 1st June to 31st December, 1877.

Your Directors can point with satisfaction to the rapid progress of the Company, both as regards its rapidly increasing business and the favorable position it already occupies as one of the monetary institutions of the country.

By referring to the statement it will be seen that the receipts during the seven months amounted to $294,622.47, of which sum $123,400 is permanent stock alone, the balance being mainly from accumulating stock, savings bank deposits, and premium on stock sold.

The Savings Bank Department was opened on the 1st of August last, and, as will be seen, the balance of deposits now amounts to the large sum of $39,381.29.

The large amount of nearly $200,000 has been invested on the security of property carefully estimated to be worth, in cash, $373,498.00.

The net profits of the Company for the seven months, excluding premium on stock, amount to $5,828.44, out of which have been paid all current expenses, including building vault and the cost of office furniture, dividends on accumulating and permanent stocks at the rate of nine per cent per annum, and interest on savings bank deposits, leaving a balance of $1,169.45 carried to reserve fund.

In addition to the above is the profit arising from the premium on stock sold by the Company, amounting to the sum of $13,900.20, which has also been carried forward to the reserve fund, making the total amount of said fund the sum of $15,129.65.

It will be observed that the profits alone, exclusive of premium on stock, have enabled the Directors to fulfil the hope expressed in the circular of September last, being able to declare a nine per cent. dividend, besides paying all expenses, and carrying an amount to reserve fund which would have justified a dividend at a still higher rate.

When it is taken into consideration that the expenses in the establishment of the Company, for fitting up office, advertising, printing, books, stationery, &c., were necessarily large, and that the whole amount has been actually paid, the above result cannot be other wise than most gratifying to the stockholders.

The securities have been most carefully valued at the rate of interest at which the investments were made, and the books and vouchers thoroughly examined by the Auditors, and found correct and satisfactory.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. KENT, President.

M. J. KENT, Manager.

whom he pleased; he differed from Dr. Billings, and considered that, so long as any member of the Board did his duty, he should be sustained. The Company is one of the best managed institutions in the country, and hence its proud position and good standing.

The President called for separate nominations for the new Board, when a number of gentlemen were nominated, and their names printed at once on balloting slips.

On motion Messrs. Thos. Beasley and Lyman Moore were appointed Scrutineers.

After the balloting the Scrutineers reported as follows:

Hamilton, January 29th, 1878.

We, the undersigned Scrutineers, do hereby certify that the gentlemen named hereunder have been duly elected Directors of the Victoria Mutual Insurance Company for the current year: Messrs. Geo. H. Mills, Joseph Rymal, Thads. Ghent, Regd. Kennedy, Peter Balfour, Henry Hall, W. Haskins, J. M. Williams, A. T. Wood, C. M. Counsell, Dennis Moore, Jno. Renton, James Cummings, Jas. H. Mills and John Mitchell.

(Signed,) THOS. BEASLEY.
" LYMAN MOORE.

After a vote of thanks had been given to the Scrutineers, the meeting adjourned, and the new Board met for organization, when Geo. H. Mills, Esq., was appointed President and Joseph Rymal, Esq., M.P., Vice-President.

MONTREAL GENERAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, FEB. 7th, 1878.

The winter of 1877-8 will long be remembered by its extraordinary mildness, for although there is a fair quantity of snow in this province, the province of Ontario has not any winter usually speaking as yet. The warlike tone of European despatches does not seem to affect prices in any department. The money market is unchanged. The article under the heading of dry goods elsewhere will be read with interest.

ASHES.—Receipts, have been more liberal. First Pots sold all the week at $3.75 to $3.77½; Seconds, $3.35; Thirds, nominal. No Pearls have been received, and the sales comprise only 7 brls. Firsts, for local use. We quote nominal. The receipts since 1st January have been 387 brls. Pot and 23 brls. Pearls; the deliveries, 33 brls. Pots and 30 brls. Pearls; and the stock in store at six o'clock on Wednesday evening, was 2,448 brls. Pots and 646 brls. Pearls.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Travellers returning from their Spring trips, speak of the condition of the retail business in the west as being absolutely discouraging, as, owing to want of sleighing, stocks are largely unbroken. In the Maritime Provinces a good business has been done. There is no change in prices, which we do not repeat here, as our subscribers will find them in our comprehensive prices current.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.—We have no change to note either in the amount of business doing or in prices. Country stocks are beginning to run short, but buyers hold off as long as they possibly can. We expect some improvement however, towards the end of this month. Chemical manufacturers in England are still despondent at the gloomy outlook, and would make contracts for forward delivery at very low rates. There is, however, an entire absence of any speculative feeling.

DRY GOODS.—In reference to remittance, many complaints are made, and we regret to learn that very few are, as in former times, anticipating their coming due notes. Reports from the trade's representatives now out with samples are not so unsatisfactory as was feared they would be, a good many nice orders have been sent in, and with anything like an early spring there appears to be strong indications of a satisfactory trade being done. Stocks of winter goods held in the west are not large, and the reason why is, that when the first purchases for the fall were made, crops were not safely housed, and the great majority of men who buy in this market bought very lightly, intending to repeat their purchases on the sorting up trip, but by the time this trip was made the wet weather and open season plainly indicated the danger of buying again, hence the small stocks of winter goods, and therefore, we may reasonably infer that as crops were safely got in, and that if the winter trade has not been what it ought to be, it was not lack of means that prevented people from buying, but simply that the weather was so mild they really did not require heavy winter wear, and, therefore, we cannot help thinking that a very fair average business will be done this ensuing season. Our city retail trade is less complained of than usual, no doubt the splendid roads leading to the city from all directions contribute largely to make things better than they were.

FISH.—There is little or no business being done in fish of any kind, and our quotations are merely what would be asked if there were any transactions of consequence:—Salmon No. 1 is held at $12; No. 2 at $11. and No. 3 at $10. Labrador Herrings may be quoted at $5 to $5.50; Dry Cod, $4.25 to $4.50; Green Cod No. 1 at $3.50; No. 2 $4.50. Fresh Cod and Haddock scarce at $4.50; Fresh Herrings $1 per 100 fish. Finnan Haddies scarce at $6.50 to $7 per 100 lbs; Smoked Herrings 22½c. per box; Brook Trout 10c per lb; Bloaters $2 per 100 fish. No Mackerel in the market. Canned Salmon, Lobster and Mackerel scarce. The Advent of the Lenten season will doubtless show some improvement, although not to the extent of former years.

FLOUR AND WHEAT.—Notwithstanding the warlike tone of to-day's telegrams from Europe, prices are not materially changed in this market, and there is no disposition to speculate on the future. There is no demand, and, if there were, prices would not be materially changed from our quotations.

Liverpool, 7th Feb., 11.30 p.m. Quotations for Wheat entirely nominal, transactions unimportant. Flour, 26s 0d to 28s; Spring 10s 2d to 11s; Red Winter, 11s 0d to 11s 2d; White, 12s 4d to 12s 9d; Club, 12s 7d to 13s 0d; Corn, new 26s 9d to 27s; Oats, 3s; Peas, 3s 6d; Barley, 3s 11d; Pork, 55s; Lard, 40s; Bacon, 29s 6d to 30s 6d; Cheese, 60s; Tallow, 40s 6d; Beef, 83s.

London, 11.30 a.m.—Consols opened 96, now 95 1-16; on rumours of fleet ordered Constantinoe, four and halves, 103½; fives, 104½; Erie, 9½; pfd, 22; N. Y. C., 105; I. C., 77½.

Chicago, 7th Feb., 11.45 a.m.—Wheat, $1.05 1/2; Corn, 42½ to 42½; Oats 26½; Pork, 10.60 Apr.; Lard, $7.45 Apr. Receipts and Shipments.—Wheat, 79,060 and 129,060; Corn, 54,000 and 108,000; Oats, 18,600 and 22,000; Barley, 13,000 and 14,000.

PUNS AND STRIPS.—We revise our price list to-day from reports of the sales which have taken place in London. The decline has been general on the whole list, as will be seen, taking the single line of muskrat as an illustration. Coon, 25c. to 50c.; Rat, Fall, large, 6c. to 8c.; Rat, Fall, small, 3c. to 5c.; Rats, Kitts, 2c.; Rat, Winter, large, 8c. to 10c.; Rat, Spring, 10c. to 12c.; Marten, in no demand, 75c.; Fox, Red, 75c. to 90c.; Skunk, small stripe, 25c. to 40c.; Mink, Western, prime, dark colors, $1.00 to $1.50; Mink, Western, prime, pale, 50c. to 75c.; Fisher, $4.00 to $6.00; Lynx, $1 to $1.50; Beaver, Fall, clean pelt, per lb, $1.00 to $1.20; Winter do., $1.25 to $1.50; Bear, large prime, $6.00 to $10.00; Cub do, $2.00 to $5.00.

HARDWARE.—Travellers are preparing for spring trips, but there is little movement as yet to indicate how business in this department is likely to declare itself. A sale of 1,000 boxes of tin took place this week, at a somewhat reduced figure, but as this was a lot held on consignment, it affords no indication of the season's prices, which we learn are likely to be maintained in most divisions of this trade to agree with our prices current. Nails are still disposed of at unremunerative prices. The late arrangement is, for 500 kegs, two fives off; for 1000 kegs three fives off at four months, or three per cent off for cash. A combination has been formed in the United States to limit iron manufacturing and stimulate prices. The New York manager of the Steel and Iron Association states that the Nail Association agreed in December last to stop work in the mills for the equivalent of six weeks out of the thirteen weeks from that time until April. The Western nail men then advanced the price 20 cents a keg. This, it is claimed, was done to prevent an oversupply. For some time, Mr. Humphreys says, the Pittsburgh manufacturers have been working over old bar iron, and, by representing it to be first-class stock, have been underselling New York dealers. A few days ago the Western Iron Association, embracing all the merchant iron mills west of the Alleghenies, agreed to co-operate to curtail production by limiting the various mills to running a single turn or its equivalent on all finished iron on and after February 4. The effect of this action, in which it is said the Eastern Iron Association agree to co-operate, without taking any formal action, is shown, Mr. Humphreys states, in the advance of jobbers' prices of fully $2.50 per ton. The managers of the Bessemer Steel Mills, having failed to make a formal combination, have agreed, it is said, not to manufacture any more steel rails, but to hold back for higher prices.

LEATHER.—The dullness of last week still continues. There is little or no demand for leather, and prices are the turn easier.

LIVE STOCK.—The arrivals of live stock at Point St. Charles last week were comparatively light, consisting of only thirteen carloads of cattle, two carloads of sheep and two mixed loads of cattle and sheep. Forty-six of the best cattle on the market were shipped to England. The local demand, however, continues light, and prices are low. We quote good cattle, $3.75 to $4.00 per 100 lbs. Dressed hogs, $5 per 100 lbs. by the carload. Hides are lower and may be quoted:—No. 1, $7 to $7.25; No. 2, $6 to $6.25, and No. 3, $5 to $5.25 per 100 lbs.; calfskins, 10c per lb; sheepskins, $1 to $1.20 each; tallow, rough, 4½c per lb.

LUMBER.—The Pembroke Observer says:—“The timber makers are still busy at work in most if not all the shanties in this section, but very little drawing has yet been done. Some concerns have certainly not drawn anything at all, while few have drawn much. John Rowan, who is taking out timber on O’Meara’s limit, Black River, is an exception to this. A feeling of utter carelessness as to whether the timber cut reaches market next season is singularly prevalent among the people of this section—both lumbermen and farmers. An impression very generally prevails that if there is to be any improvement in the condition of the trade at all approaching the flush times, it would be much more rapidly brought about by the entire winter’s production being cut off from the Quebec market. There is some truth in this, and yet it would occasion an immense amount of loss and trouble to many. Still, if the very large stocks now lying at Quebec were sold at good paying prices, and thus clearing the market for next year’s supply, it might in the end eventuate to the advantage of all interested in the trade.” Another exchange says:—“It is feared by many that, in the event of England going to war with Russia, it will tend still further to depress the lumber trade. Although some are of a contrary opinion, and contend that, in that case, England will have to depend on Canada alone for lumber supplies. As has been previously remarked, over-production is the primary cause of the depression prevailing in this important branch of trade. The revival of trade in the United States will give an impetus to the trade in sawn lumber this year, and no doubt the great depression of which existed in all branches of trade in the Great Republic, last year, had its effect on the Dominion also.” No change in the local market. Any quotation of prices would be nominal.

ONS.—Goods in this line continue slow of sale, and prices are nominal. We notice a continued drooping tendency in linned oil in England. Castor oil is considerably higher on account of short shipments from Calcutta. Other oils unchanged. Naval Stores are dull and unchanged. Paints have a downward tendency, and the feeling is that lower prices for leads will prevail when spring business opens.

PROVISIONS.—Butter.—The demand for strictly choice qualities is rather in excess of the supply, and full former rates are well maintained. During the week several purchases have been made for the American market, and it is believed that from this time the American buyers will be keen competitors for our finest selections of Pail-made Dairies, which are scarce, and it is possible that prices may be advanced beyond a shipping point. On the medium and poorer grades the situation remains more or less mixed, and at the moment there does not seem much disposition on the part of buyers to take hold of such at present, excepting at prices below the views of holders. The latest cable advices report a better tone to the markets abroad, and it is the general opinion that, with colder weather, we shall experience a decided improvement in all grades below finest, which eventually must be taken on account of the scarcity of strictly Gilt Edge lots. We note sales of 190 packages Fine Townships at 19c, also 160 pkgs. of fair Brockvilles at 16c, also 320 pkgs. of choice Townships at 20c per lb.

Cheese.—Nothing doing excepting for home consumption. Public cable quotation 65s. being 1s. lower.

SEEDS.—The outlook for clover and timothy seed the present season is very dull. The British market will apparently receive all necessary supplies of clover from France; the yield in the United States is in excess of the demand; and throughout Canada exceptionally large stocks are reported to be held by farmers. No orders from Britain have reached this market, and few are expected. Local dealers are purchasing in very limited amounts, mostly to supply requirements in Ontario. The price is from $3.75 to $4. There is no demand for shipment. Timothy nominal, at $1.75 per bushel.

TOBACCOS.—There is no change to note; business remains dull. Prices steady as last quoted. Cigars.—Domestics continue in fair demand for low and medium grades; better grades as well as the finer imported Havanas, are neglected.

WHOLESALE GROCERY MARKET.—Unfair competition has been justly complained of, and it is to be regretted that this is still cause of complaint. When business men sanction selling some goods not only without profit but at positive loss, and excuse this because of making it up, or intending to make it up, on other goods, the foundations of right undoubtedly are affected. Let this sort of thing be ended at once and for ever. Sugars are rather firmer, and advance may be set down as about ¼th for the week, for all kinds. Teas.—Quiet and fairly steady. U. S. markets rather off on account of apparent abandonment of duty question. Molasses and Syrups.—Dull. Import of Molasses lately rather beyond actual wants. Barbadoes 43c. to 47c. Rice, Spices and Chemicals continue without special change here. Fruits.—Choice Valentias reported higher in England; damaged dull, and low there and here.

WINES AND SPIRITS.—Nothing doing beyond retail transactions. Stocks in the country are not heavy, and there is not an over-supply in distributing centres. Prices are unchanged, as may be seen on another page.

—Mr. Rudolph Betancourt, long and favorably known to the Canadian trade as representative of Messrs. J. Rattray & Co., of this city; the well-known wholesale tobacco and cigar merchants, is about to make a trip through the Prairie Province in the interest of the above firm, and will doubtless be as successful among the Manitoba merchants as he has hitherto been in other sections of the Dominion. Advt.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—Return of traffic for week ending January 26th, 1878, and the corresponding week, 1877. 1878.—Passengers, Mails, and Express Freight, $11,709; Merchandise, $129,520; Total, $171,229. Corresponding week, 1877, $167,200. Increase, 1878, $4,029.

TO THE TRADE.

In order the better to meet the demands of our Customers, we were induced, five years ago, to commence the manufacture of White Shirts, and since that time, by devoting special attention to the Shirt Department, have succeeded in doing, we believe, by far the largest Retail Shirt Trade in the Dominion.

We are now in a position to supply the Trade with same Goods which have proved so successful with us, and would take this opportunity of giving a few reasons that, doubtless, are among the chief causes of their success:

Firstly.—Each size Shirt is cut in proportion to the Neck-band, thus preventing the complaint usually made of the small and large Necks being made with the same size Yoke and Body.

Secondly.—Being manufactured for a First-class Retail Trade, and laundered as well as made upon the premises, each garment is carefully examined, thus preventing the possibility of anything being passed into stock except quite perfect Goods.

Thirdly.—The lowest price being made as full in size as the higher numbers, also the quality of the work being the same, there is a uniform character of excellence in each of the four numbers we make.

Fourthly.—The intrinsic value being right, and all attention being given to details, they are serviceable and give satisfaction to the wearer.

All orders are executed in their turn; but as we always keep on hand a large Stock of each style and price, no delay in filling orders is likely to occur.

Orders for $50 and over can be stamped with the buyer's own name if desired, but afterwards repeats for any quantity can also be stamped.

This Company insures nothing more hazardous than Farm Property and Private Residences.

INSURES AGAINST LOSS OR DAMAGE BY FIRE & LIGHTNING

Farm Property, Private Residences, Churches, Convents, and Risks of a similar Class.

Also Contents of such Risks.

No Insurance effected on Manufacturing or Commercial Risks, thus avoiding losses from sweeping fires, to which many Companies are liable.

Farmers and others owning Private Dwelling Houses will find it very much to their advantage to Insure with this Company,

As its Rates and the provisions of its policies are much more liberal than those of Companies doing a general business.

The Insuring Public will notice that our DEPOSIT is in CASH, and not Debentures or Stock which may be of doubtful value.

Rates and all information required given on application to
