UNITED STATES CALLED ON BY WILSON TO DECLARE THAT "STATE OF WAR" EXISTS, AND RESOLUTION WILL BE CARRIED BY CONGRESS TODAY PLUNGING COUNTRY INTO THE WAR

NEUTRALITY NO LONGER DESIRABLE NOR FEASIBLE ALL RESOURCES OF NATION WILL AID THE ALLIES

Resolutions Will Be Passed This Morning Stating That War Has Been Thrust on America, Giving Wilson Power to Put Country in Thoro State of Defense, and to Exert All Power and Employ All Resources to Prosecute the War on the Allies' Side to Bring the Conflict to a Successful Conclusion

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Wilson tonight urged congress, assembled in joint session, to declare a state of war existing between the U. S. and Germany. In a dispassionate, but measured denunciation of the course of the imperial German Government, which he characterized as a challenge to all mankind and a warfare against all nations, the president declared that neutrality no longer was feasible or desirable where the peace of the world was involved; that armed neutrality had become ineffectual enough at best and was likely to produce what it was meant to prevent and urged that congress accept the stage of battle with all the resources of the nation. "I advise that the congress declare the recent course of the imperial German Government to be in fact nothing less than war against the government and people of the U. S.," said the president, "that it formally accept the status of belligerent which has thus been thrust upon it and that it take steps not only to put the country in a more thoro state of defense, but also to exert all its power and employ all its resources to bring the government of the German Empire to terms and end the war."

The War Resolution WASHINGTON, April 2.—Immediately after the president left the capitol, the senate and house re-convened and an identical joint resolution was introduced in both houses, declaring the existence of a state of war, and directing the president to employ all the resources of the country to carry on war against the imperial German Government and bring the conflict to a successful conclusion. Because of opposition to the measure by Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, the resolution was introduced in the senate by Senator Martin of Virginia, the Democratic floor leader. Representative Flood, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, introduced it in the house. The resolution follows: "Joint resolution declaring that a state of war exists between the imperial German Government and the government and people of the United States and making provision to prosecute the same. "Whereas, the recent acts of the imperial government are acts of war against the government and people of the United States. "Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the state of war between the United States and the imperial government, which has thus been thrust upon the United States, is hereby formally declared, and "That the president be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to take immediate steps, not only to put the country in a thoro state of defense, but also to exert all of its power and employ all of its resources to carry on war against the imperial German Government and to bring the conflict to a successful termination. The resolution was referred to the foreign affairs committees by both houses, and adjournment until tomorrow followed soon afterward. Both committees meet tomorrow morning.

"A State of War" If the United States Congress declares that a state of war exists with Germany, such a pronouncement will be tantamount to a formal war declaration. A declaration of war is defined as an announcement or proclamation of war by the sovereign authority of a country against another country. It was formerly customary to send a declaration of warlike purpose to the menaced power before beginning of hostilities, but a declaration of war is now more commonly merely an announcement of the actual existence of a state of war. know not what purpose, there can be no assured security for the democratic governments of the world. "The whole force of the nation, if necessary," the president declared, would be spent against "this natural foe to liberty and to check its pretensions and its power." "Towards Germany's allies," the president said, "the United States is taking no action at this time, because they were not engaged in warfare against Americans on the seas."

Points in Wilson's Speech ARMED neutrality, it now appears, is impracticable. German submarines are in effect outlaws. They must be dealt with on sight if dealt with at all. With a profound sense of the solemn and even tragical character of the step I am taking and of the grave responsibilities it involves, I advise that congress declare the recent course of the imperial government to be in fact nothing less than war against the government and people of the United States and that it formally accept the status of belligerent thus thrust upon it. This step will involve the utmost practicable co-operation with the governments now at war with Germany. . . . the extension of the most liberal financial credits. . . . mobilization of all the material resources of the country. . . . immediate full equipment of the navy. . . . and immediate addition to the armed forces of at least 500,000 men upon the principle of universal liability to service. We are now about to accept the stage of battle with this natural foe to liberty and shall, if necessary, spend the whole force of the nation to check and nullify its pretensions and power. We are glad. . . . to fight thus for the ultimate peace of the world and for the liberation of its peoples, the German peoples included. We enter this war only where we are clearly forced into it, because there are no other means of defending our rights. We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominions. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. The right is more precious than peace and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts, for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own government, for the rights and liberties of the universal dominion of right by such a concept of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free. The world must be made safe for democracy. Its peace must be planted upon the trusted foundations of political liberty. Does not every American feel that assurance has been added to our hope for the future peace of the world by the wonderful and heartening things that have been happening within the last few weeks in Russia? To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other.

view, at least, of what the heart and conscience of mankind demanded. This minimum of right the German Government has swept aside under the plea of retaliation and necessity, and because it had not weapons which it could use it has excepted those which it is impossible to employ as it is employing them without throwing to the winds all scruples of humanity, or of respect for the understandings that were supposed to underlie the intercourse of the world. I am not now thinking of the loss of the property involved, immense and serious as that is, but only of the wanton and wholesale destruction of the lives of non-combatants, men, women and children, engaged in pursuits which have always, even in the darkest period of modern history, been deemed innocent and legitimate. Property can be paid for; the lives of peaceful and innocent people cannot be. Challenge to Mankind. The present German warfare against commerce is a warfare against mankind. It is a war against all nations. American ships have been sunk, American lives taken, in ways which it has stirred us very deeply to learn of, but the ships and people of other nations have friendly nations have been sunk and overwhelmed in the waters in the same way. There has been no discrimination. The challenge is to all mankind. Each nation must decide for itself how it will meet it. The choice we make for ourselves must be made with a moderation of counsel and a temperateness of judgment befitting our character and our motives as a nation. We must put excited feeling away. Our motive will not be revenge or the victorious assertion of the physical might of the nation, but only the vindication of rights of human right, of which we are only a single champion. Armed Neutrality Impossible. When I addressed the congress Feb. 26 last, I thought that it would suffice to assert our neutral rights with arms our right to use these as against unlawful interference, our right to keep our people safe against unlawful violence. But armed neutrality, it now appears, is impracticable. Because submarines are in effect outlaws when used as the German submarines have been used against merchant shipping, it is impossible to defend ships against their attacks as the law of nations has assumed that merchantmen would defend themselves against privateers or cruisers, visible craft giving chase upon the open sea. It is common prudence in such circumstances, grim necessity indeed, to endeavor to destroy them before they have shown their own intention. They must be dealt with upon sight, if dealt with at all. Cannot Choose Submission. The German Government denies the right of neutrals to use arms at all within the areas of the sea which it has proscribed, even in the defence of rights which no modern publicist has ever before questioned their right to defend. The intimation is conveyed that the armed guards which we have placed on our merchantships will be treated as beyond the pale of law and subject to be dealt with as pirates would be. Armed neutrality is in effectual enough at best; in such circumstances and in the face of such pretensions it is worse than ineffectual; it is likely once to produce what it was meant to prevent; it is practically certain to draw us into the war with-

Objects in Entering War. The objects of the U. S. in entering the war, the president said, were to vindicate the principle of peace and justice against selfish and autocratic power. Without selfish ends, for conquest or dominion, seeking no indemnities, or material compensations for the sacrifices it shall make, the U. S. must enter the war, the president said, to make the world safe for democracy, as only one of the champions of the rights of mankind, and would be satisfied when those rights were as secure as the faith and freedom of nations could make them. The president's address was sent in full to Germany, by a German official news agency, for publication in that country. The text also went to England, and a summary of its contents was sent around the world to other nations. To carry on an effective warfare against the German Government, which he characterized as a "natural foe to liberty," the president recommended: "Most practical co-operation in counsel and action with the governments already at war with Germany. Extension of liberal financial credits to those governments so that the resources of America may be added so far as possible to theirs. Organization and mobilization of all the material resources of the country. Full equipment of the navy, particularly for means of dealing with submarine warfare. An army of at least 500,000 men, based on the principle of universal liability to service, and the authorization of additional increments of 500,000 each as they are needed or can be handled in training. Raising necessary money for the U. S. Government, so far as possible without borrowing, and on the basis of equitable taxation. All preparations, the president urged, should be made in such way as not to check the flow of war supplies to the nations already in the field against Germany. Measures to accomplish all these ends, the president told congress, would be presented with the best thought of the executive departments, which will be charged with the conduct of the war, and he begged consideration for them in that light. President Wilson's appearance before congress was marked by a scene of the greatest enthusiasm ever shown since he began the practice of delivering his addresses in person. Crowds on the outside of the capitol cheered him frantically as he entered and as he left. Congress roared cheer after cheer in an outburst of patriotic enthusiasm. From the galleries, the only members who appeared not to be joining in the demonstration were some senators of the group which the president branded as "wiffling men," who, by preventing a vote on the armed neutrality bill, had made the "great government of the United States contemptible." Chief Justice White was among those who cheered loudly and there was no division of spirit between Republicans and Democrats. Referring only briefly to the long diplomatic correspondence with Germany in his effort to bring her back to the bounds of the laws of humanity and nations, the president launched into his denunciation of the course of the German Government which he declared had forced the United States to become a belligerent. "The wrongs against which we now arm ourselves," he said, "are no common wrongs; they cut to the very roots of human life." "We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose," said the president, "because we know that in such a government, following such methods, we can never have a friend; and that in the presence of its organized power always lying in wait to accomplish we German Plots Exposed. In scathing terms the president referred to German plots against the United States. "One of the things that has served to convince us that the Prussian autocracy was not and never could be our friend is that from the very outset of the present war it has filled our unsuspecting communities and even our offices of government with spies, and set criminal intrigues everywhere afoot against our national unity of council, our peace within and without, our industries and our commerce." It was evident, the president added, that the spies were here even before the war began. That the German Government means to stir up enemies at the very doors of the United States was eloquently proved, he said, by the revelations of the plot to embed Japan and Mexico in war with the United States. "We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose," said the president, "because we know that in such a government, following such methods, we can never have a friend; and that in the presence of its organized power always lying in wait to accomplish we President's Speech. President Wilson spoke as follows: I have called the congress into extraordinary session because there are serious, very serious choices of policy to be made, and made immediately, which it was neither right nor constitutionally permissible that I should assume the responsibility of making. On the third of February last, I officially laid before you the extraordinary announcement of the imperial German Government, that on and after the first day of February it was its purpose to put aside all restraints of law or of humanity and use its submarines to sink every vessel that sought to approach either the ports of Great Britain and Ireland, or the western coasts of Europe, or any of the ports controlled by the enemies of Germany, within the Mediterranean. That had seemed to be the object of the German submarine warfare earlier in the war, but since April of last year the imperial government had somewhat restrained the commanders of its undersea craft in conformity with its promise, then given to us, that passenger boats should not be sunk, and that due warnings would be given to all other vessels which its submarines might seek to destroy, when no resistance was offered or escape attempted, and care taken that their crews were given at least a fair chance to save their lives in their open boats. The precautions taken were meagre and haphazard enough, as was proved in distressing instances of the cruel and unmanly business, but a certain degree of restraint was observed. Sweeps Restrictions Aside. The new policy has swept every restriction aside. Vessels of every kind, whatever their flag, their character, their cargo, their destination, their errand, have been ruthlessly sent to the bottom without warning, and without thought or help or mercy for those on board, the vessels of friendly neutrals along with those of belligerents. Even hospital ships and ships carrying relief to the sorely be-

Armed U.S. Ship Sunk Few of Crew Saved Aztec With Valuable Cargo Victim of German Submarine off Coast of France—Twenty-eight Men Including Americans Missing

New York, April 2.—The American steamship Aztec, owned by the Oriental Navigation Co., the first armed ship to sail from an American port, was sunk yesterday by a German submarine, according to advices received here tonight by the company from the U.S. consul at Brest, France. The cable message gave no information as to the fate of the crew. There were 39 men aboard the vessel, 16 of them Americans. A Paris cable says a French patrol picked up 19 of the crew of the Aztec and brought them to Brest. Twenty-eight men are reported missing and little hope is held that they can be saved, as the steamer was torpedoed at night while a heavy sea was running. The Aztec was armed with two 6-inch guns, one forward and one aft. The crew of naval gunners on board was in command of a warrant officer. The Aztec sailed from New York March 18 for Havre. She was commanded by Captain Walter O'Brien. Sixteen members of the crew were native-born Americans. The Oriental Navigation Co., owners of the Aztec, also own the Orleans, one of the first American vessels to run successfully Germany's submarine blockade. The Aztec carried a full cargo of foodstuffs and general supplies valued at more than $500,000.

BRITISH WIN OUTPOSTS OF HINDENBURG'S LINE Germans Hold Last Villages With Greatest Tenacity Owing to Unexpected Hurrying of Retreat—Canadians Take Prisoners. From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press. British Headquarters in France, April 2, via London.—There has been fighting along a wide front, south-east of Arras today, and the last strongly fortified villages held by the Germans in front of the so-called Hindenburg line are crumbling. These outposts have been held with the greatest tenacity, especially Croisilles, where intermittent fighting has been going on for the past week. The reason the Germans are holding these last villages with so great determination, it appears, because their retreat has been hurried to a much greater extent than they expected. A striking feature of today's fighting was that in some of the captured villages the British and French cooperated splendidly in suppressing counter-attacks. The Germans were forced to abandon six field guns, and nearly 200 prisoners were taken during the day, which indicates that the German casualties must have been heavy. The Canadians today took a remarkable German prisoner. As a matter of fact he was a deserter and came over the top with all his belongings, including a safety razor, an extra pair of boots and a box of German cigars. The cigars he distributed among the Canadians in the front line trench and they thoroughly enjoyed the smoke. They asked him if he intended to return to Germany after the war, and the prisoner said emphatically he was not, and was going to Chicago.

"The States" Come In!

Now that official action has struck off the fetters of neutrality, our cousins across the Line are free to throw their whole weight into the world's struggle for freedom and humanity.

Unofficially and individually they have already contributed much to the Allied cause—in moral and financial support, in munitions and machinery, and by no means least in those brilliant inventions for which they are famous. The Lewis gun, the Curtis hydroplane, and a wonderful submarine detector are products of their genius which in our hands have done most efficient work by land, air and sea; while the American-invented, Canadian-made Gillette Safety Razor has been a friend indeed to our officers and men on active service everywhere.

Much as men have appreciated the Gillette at home, its real test has come in barracks, billets, trenches and hospitals, and no article of equipment has proved more satisfactory. Those who have returned from the firing line speak with enthusiasm of the convenience—the comfort—the necessity of having a Gillette Safety Razor if the man at the Front is to enjoy a clean and regular shave.

If there is anyone dear to you in Canada or Overseas without a Gillette and a good supply of blades, it's a chance for you to do him a really good turn by completing his equipment

WILSON SURE OF NATION'S SUPPORT

Newspapers Welcome, With Enthusiasm, Declaration of State of War.

New York, April 2.—Following are brief excerpts from the leading newspapers of the United States on President Wilson's message to congress:

New York Tribune: No praise can be too high for the words and the purposes of the president. Never in all the long period in which he has directed American policy has he seemed to come nearer to the ideal of the American people, the ideal of a president who should lead.

New York Sun: At the eloquent call of the president we are at last free to face, thru no misadventure or lack of patience on our part, with the imperial government that has dared to make a wicked war on all mankind not subservient to its will. The day has come for us, like others, to do our part.

New York World: The address is more than an expression of a nation's patriotism. It is an appeal to every instinct, every impulse, every tradition of democracy.

Loyalty of Hyphenates

New York Staats Zeitung: We are to be one of the allies in fact as well as in name. The tremendous resources of the nation are to be mobilized and thrown into the scale against the imperial German Government. The president need have no concern as to the loyalty of Americans of German ancestry.

Providence Journal: Thank God that the land whose honor is more sacred than life to every true American, has at last taken her stand with those sister nations who have declared that the civilization and liberty of the world shall not die.

Pittsburg Dispatch: The indictment of the imperial German Government framed by the president of the U. S. is the most damning arraignment in history.

Cincinnati Volkblatt: We agree with the president that war exists between the U. S. and Germany, and that all citizens must comply with the duties arising out of the state of war. All other statements in the president's speech we disapprove and reject.

Congress Will Obey.

Washington Post: In an address

BRITISH ADVANCE MILE TOWARDS ST. QUENTIN

Latest Gains of Sir Douglas Haig's Troops Establish Lines at Points Within Two Miles of Town.

London, April 2.—Their latest gains have brought the British troops to within two miles of St. Quentin, says the official report from headquarters in France. In the investment of St. Quentin several more villages have been occupied by the British, including Francilly-Selency, Holnon and Selency. The text of tonight's statement reads:

"We made substantial progress again today at a number of points along the front of our advance. Northeast of Savy our troops this morning carried the villages of Francilly-Selency, Selency and Holnon; we captured 32 prisoners and six field guns. We are now within two miles of St. Quentin.

"St. Quentin wood, Villechollies and Biscourt have also been taken by us and a post has been established in Templeux-le-Guérard (northeast of Roisel), and at Aucolette (Vaucelles?) farm, two miles east of Houdcourt (Houdcourt?). We also attacked and captured early this morning on a front of about ten miles a series of strongly held trenches forming part of the enemy's advanced line of defence between the Bapaume-Cambrai road and Arras. In this operation, in which the enemy offered determined resistance and suffered heavy casualties, we captured the villages of Dolgnies, Louverval, Noreuil, Longatte, Ecourt-St. Mein and Croisilles and took 152 prisoners.

"An attempted counter-attack was broken up by our artillery fire.

"We carried out a successful raid during the night east of Tynes and secured a few prisoners.

"One hostile aeroplane was brought down yesterday in the air fighting; one of our machines is missing."

NO ROUTE DEFINED FOR RELIEF SHIPS

British Foreign Office Shows Up One More Berlin Falsehood.

London, April 2.—According to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam, a Berlin statement asserts that the British Government requested Germany to give safe conduct for four Belgian relief vessels in British ports to proceed to Holland by any route and at any time they should choose, on the ground that their cargoes were perishable.

"The official contention," says the correspondent, "is that granting such safe conduct would nullify the proclamation of the barred zone, and that the request was made with that intention."

With regard to this and the previous official statement from Berlin that Germany gave guarantees on condition that it be informed beforehand as to the number, the names, the cargoes and the ports, and that "the German request was only fulfilled in the case of four vessels, and the relief committee was informed as to the safe route," the British foreign office denies that it ever received a communication prescribing the route relief ships should follow to Rotterdam.

"Moreover," says the foreign office, "Germany refused safe conduct until May 1, although all particulars concerning the vessels were supplied to the Spanish ambassador as long ago as March 13, which is clear proof that the Germans only want to hold up shipping indefinitely."

that will ever rank among glorious documents in defense of right and liberty, President Wilson has arraigned Germany at the bar of justice and called upon congress to draw the sword. Congress will obey the will of the people as expressed by their president. There will be no peace until Germany is brought to terms, and the terms will not be German.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: With the U. S. an avowed participant in the European war comes a new obligation to every citizen of this country, viz: A determination to give of his or her best to the nation's service.

Meaning Is Clear.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: The president has met the expectations of the nation and has stated the case with a force and decision that leaves no room for doubt as to his precise meaning, and less room for questions by all impartial judges as to the absolute righteousness and justice of the cause for which we are to draw the sword.

Chicago Herald: The nation understands with what reluctance the president has abandoned successive positions which seemed to promise hope of an arrangement, forced to an attitude of greater and greater determination by the insolence and outrages of a war crazed militarism.

Minneapolis Morning Tribune: As the greatest exponent of democracy we would be false to our traditions if we should falter in this supreme hour of liberty's struggle with imperialism.

MEXICANS MAY UNITE IN WARRING UPON U. S.

Villa Reported to Have Made Truce Under German Influence.

El Paso, Tex., April 2.—A report that a truce has been arranged between Francisco Villa and Gen. Murria following an appeal by Carlos Ketelsen, a leading German resident of Chihuahua City, urging that the rebel leader cease his attacks on the city until the United States shall have declared war on Germany, was brought here today by a refugee from the state capital. The refugee said Ketelsen carried the proposal to Villa outside the city, representing that after such declaration of war both Mexican factions would unite against the United States.

NICKEL PROFITS ARE DISCUSSED

Vigorous Debate Follows Upon Second Reading of Tax Amendment.

NOT FAR ENOUGH

Opposition Declares Company's Payments Should Be Higher Than Proposed.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson's amendments to the Mining Tax Act will give several hundreds of thousands of dollars increase in taxation on nickel companies, according to a statement made in reply to N. W. Rowell, by the minister of lands, forests and mines in the house yesterday on the second reading of the bill.

"It is the intention of the government to assess the tax on the total net earnings of the company less a reasonable cost of production and refining," asked Mr. Rowell.

Mr. Rowell criticized the measure, saying that the country would be satisfied with nothing less than payment of the full amount of the taxes which the company should justly have paid since the inauguration of the present agreement between Wallace Nesbitt and the then minister of lands, forests and mines, Sir William Hearst. That is, the legislation should be made retroactive to 1912, and not merely for the last two years, as provided in the bill, he argued.

He contended further that the tax should be made to increase five per cent. for each five million dollars of profit over the first five million and not one per cent. as provided in the act. That is, if the company makes ten million dollars profit, the tax should not be six per cent. as arranged in the present bill, but ten per cent., and on fifteen millions profit, not seven per cent., but fifteen.

He argued that in 1916 the International Nickel Company had made a profit of $16,000,000, or a hundred per cent. He pointed out that while the announced profits were $9,400,000 in 1915, the stock had been raised, two and a half times in face value, and was selling at 183. If these factors were taken into consideration the amount of the actual profits of the company would be a shade above. He intimated further that in 1912 much of the stock of the company had been watered, and he hinted strongly that there was a very strong probability that the company had reserved some of their profits for a secret fund for contingencies.

The leader of the opposition went at some length into the history of the "flat rate" Nesbitt-Hearst agreement for the payment of $40,000 a year for 5 years by the Canada Copper Co. in lieu of taxes. "This bill shows that by reason of public opinion, the government has been compelled to go back on its own illegal agreement," said he.

He pointed out that the Mining Tax Act provided that the value of the ore was to be assessed every year, and the tax was to be based on that assessment. "The house alone had power to determine what method was to be employed."

The government, therefore, were entirely outside their rights and powers in making any such flat rate agreement. The member for South Wellington, Sam Carter, had been quite justified in terming the agreement "illegal" and "secret," he said.

Why had the Canada Copper Company made no returns as they were required to do annually since the agreement had been entered into? he asked. They should be required to bring down these returns.

Contract Was Not Legal.

The premier referred with some hesitation to the reference by Mr. Rowell to the Nesbitt-Hearst agreement under which the nickel company was to pay only $40,000 a year taxes from 1912 to 1916 inclusive. "It was not in his opinion a legal contract, and was therefore not binding either on the province or on the company. The $80,000 paid under it in 1912 and 1913 really exceeded what the province had no authority to tax property outside of Ontario, and the Mining Tax Act of 1917 only levied a tax on the ore at the pit's mouth. That ore unfortunately had no market value. That was ascertainable and the mining assessor had therefore hit upon a plan of taking the profits of the International Nickel company and allocating 40 per cent. of those profits to the mining end of the business."

"I am not prepared to say," the premier continued, "that the percentage of profit allotted to that end was a large enough percentage; but his general idea that we could collect nothing from the profits made from the smelting and refining end of the business was an absolutely correct interpretation of the present mining act. I suggested to him that we ought to get more than $40,000 a year, but he feared that we would get less if the case were taken into the courts. When the profits of the company became abnormally large the so-called agreement was canceled. We want to collect a fair share of tax on the ore; but we do not want to discourage investment in the north country, or to be unfair to citizens of the great republic for so many years our friend and in a few hours I hope to be our ally." (Applause.)

San Carter, of Guelph, said he did not blame the premier so much, but he was sorry that he had ever fallen into the hands of Wallace Nesbitt. He thought the company should pay at least ten per cent. tax on its profits when their profits got to twenty million for the state. He urged the government to take over the nickel industry, even though it might cost one hundred million a year, which he estimated, according to The Mail and Empire, the profits of the business for 1916 amounted to sixteen million dollars.

Mr. Ferguson, in moving the second reading of the bill, laid stress on the necessity of not frightening away foreign capital from investing in Ontario mines by taxation that was not equitable and stable. Mines were the unique in respect of their constant exhaustion. The average life of a mine was eight or ten years. Therefore the percentage of interest on capital invested must be greater than in a more permanent industry.

Mr. Rowell said: The tax should

REV. WILLIAM B. FINDLAY DIES AT THE JAIL FARM

Was Superintendent of Thornhill Institution for Four Years.

Rev. William Bruce Findlay, the superintendent of the Industrial Farm, Thornhill, died on the farm Sunday afternoon after an illness lasting many months.

He was forty-seven years of age and was born in Perth, Ont. As a youth he came to Toronto and studied for the ministry, at the same time learning the jeweler's trade. In 1897 he received his first call to the Presbyterian Church at Claremont, then to Drummond Hill in 1901. His last charge was at St. Enoch's Church, Toronto, which he held until 1915, when he was appointed superintendent of the prison farm. The late Mr. Findlay was a lover of men and in those five years on the farm he earned an enviable reputation for his efforts to reclaim the men and the women who came under his care. He is survived by his wife, one girl and three boys.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday from his late residence to Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock.

SCHERMERHORN REQUESTS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

Chief Justice Falconbridge in a judgment issued yesterday at Osgoode Hall advised the executors of the will of Reuben Daniel Schermernhorn of Richmond Township to distribute the bequests to the Children's Aid Society and for a house of refuge for Lennox and Addington, thru a trust corporation instead of thru the county treasury. The chief justice also confirms that these gifts come within the provisions of the will. Reuben Daniel Schermernhorn in his will of September 20, 1916, bequeathed an estate of $25,000, with specific bequests of $25,000. The remainder he ordered to be distributed for charitable and patriotic purposes at the discretion of the executors.

In the course of the judgment his lordship complains of the unpopularity of the county council of Lennox and Addington. "The courtroom is heated by two box stoves and the process of throwing in sticks of wood, stirring the fire and banging the stove doors forms a hardy pleading accompaniment to the argument of counsel. The halls are absolutely unheated."

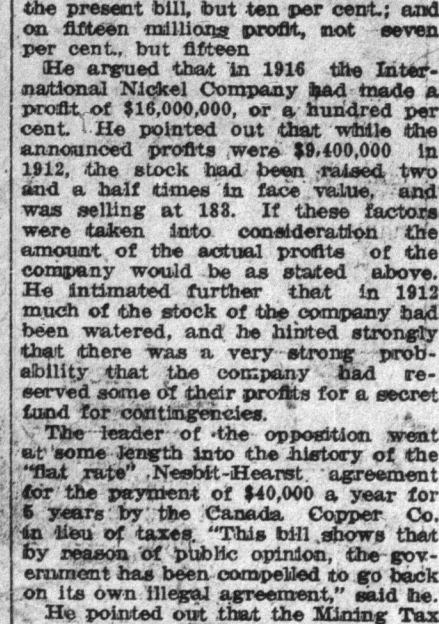

ACTION AGAINST NICKEL FIRM.

Before Justice Middleton at Osgoode Hall yesterday, the case of Suburban Dairy Co. v. Canada Copper Co. of Sudbury was argued.

The plaintiffs seek to restrain the defendants from allowing the emitting of sulphur smoke from their plant upon the lands of the plaintiffs, and also ask for damages. The plaintiffs claim that these sulphur fumes have done much injury to their crops.

Industry's Every Hose Requirement Met

Large Sums Spent to Make Better Industrial Hose For All Needs

Increasing efficiency in every line of industrial endeavor calls for better equipment. Equipment manufacturers are working with industry to eliminate waste and reduce overhead costs.

In the transmission of power and conservation of energy, the Goodyear organization serves many industrials. Mines, mills and factories know Goodyear quality and the worth of Goodyear service.

Extra Power Belting has won an enviable place because it transmits more power, is more economical.

Goodyear Industrial Hose is as good as Extra Power Belting. It should be. Every industrial condition has been studied to find why hose fails. A great deal of time and money has been spent in Goodyear laboratories perfecting hose that would overcome these conditions.

Scientists busied themselves selecting materials to meet special conditions. Workmen of long experience were put to work at the most modern machines. A distinct, individual hose was developed for each need—strong, durable, flexible.

Below we describe the more important kinds. The service these lines of hose have rendered has won for them recognition throughout industrial Canada.

"Extra Service" Air Drill Hose

A good hose for hard service. Has thick, long-wearing cover of tough rubber; heavy fabric; extra sturdy inner rubber tube. High-grade rubber is forced thoroughly into the fabric. Specially built to meet the extreme conditions of use—dragging over rock and ore, through tunnels.

"Goodyear" Quality Pneumatic Tool Hose

An inner rubber that is oil-resisting. Strong construction that holds the strain of great pressure for a long time. A heavy wall that prevents kinking.

"Goodyear Quality" Steam Hose

The inner rubber tube is crack-proof and steam-proof. Cover stock made to adhere firmly and avoid blisters, cracking or separation from the fabric. Rubber between plies remains elastic and active, welding fabric together.

"Goodyear Quality" Water Hose

The strength of Goodyear Water Hose lies in the quality of the materials used. It wears long under severe conditions of pressure and kinking. The cover does not expose the fabric to attack by peeling. The inner lining protects the fabric on the inside.

You may have had hose trouble. We have solved many hose problems for others. If you will write our nearest branch stating just what your difficulty is, we can probably help you.

Police Court Doing Well In Way of Liquor Case Fines

The use of the word "consecutive" instead of "concurrent" made all the difference in the world to James Harris when he appeared in the police court yesterday morning to face a charge of selling liquor, inasmuch as his fine, instead of being the usual $200 and costs, was $400 and costs.

Frank Davidson frankly acknowledged for $2 from a house on Adelaide street, but his candor did not save him from the usual penalty of $200 and costs or 90 days.

For having whiskey in a house containing seven roomers John Brodawsky Delamare made the mistake of his life when he got drunk in a house on Church street. This brought the police to the way to the police court and a fine of $200 and costs.

Planchon's man Marshall took a bottle of whiskey from Michael Gerard. Yesterday the court demanded $200 and costs or 90 days of the hapless gentleman's liberty, and the usual $10 and costs for their respects—and the usual $10 and costs for their respects.

APPEALS DISMISSED

Judge Costworth yesterday dismissed the appeal of the Toronto Trustee Co. from the decision of the court of revision, assessing it for part of the cost of widening Main avenue, and the appeal of the property owners against defraying part of the expense of grading and widening Christie street.

TRUSTEE DR. STEELE BETTER.

Trustee Dr. G. J. Steele, who has been away from the various committee meetings of the board of education for some time owing to a severe attack of a grippe, has now recovered and attended the meeting of the finance committee yesterday.

WILLS FOR PROBATE

A daughter, Amy E. G. Donovan, will inherit the estate of $5,153 left by her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Donovan, who died in Toronto March 10.

An estate of $1,500 was left by Malcolm McMillan, a carpenter who died intestate in Toronto March 20. His wife, Mrs. Janet McMillan, will receive $1,000, and one-half of the remainder and the residue will be divided by Mrs. Margaret McMillan, mother of Mr. McMillan, his brother Neil and his sisters Margaret, Grace and Janet.

HEARS ARGUMENTS TODAY

Arguments will be delivered this morning in the county court before Judge Costworth in the case of the defendants against H. Rogers and Company, for $490, alleged due for work done on two motor trucks. The defendants contend that when they bought the trucks the purchase price included the amount of necessary repair work.

WOULD SPEND LARGE AMOUNT FOR FLOWERS

Trustee Brown's Admonition Unheeded by Members of Finance Committee.

At a meeting of the finance committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon a letter was read from Commissioner Bradshaw, concerning the Teachers' Pension Bill, requesting the board to confer with the controllers. Chairman C. A. B. Brown said that he thought they should consult with the teachers before any other action was taken. "It is the teachers' money," he stated. "And they should be taken into our confidence. It is absurd to say our scheme is ineffectual, and we all know at the time some grants would have to be made, as it would not carry itself. The matter was left in absence to see if a conference can be arranged with the teachers and the superintendent."

Among the tenders recommended by Superintendent Kerr was the item of M. H. H. & Co. for $420 for bulbs, and plants. Trustee Brown said that as Commissioner Bradshaw is talking of lowering up several bulbs in the city in order to curtail expenses, perhaps they would be expected to cut out the item of flowers. "Let them stay, we must have flowers," said one trustee, and the item was passed. The motion of Dr. Hunter, which was referred back by the board, "that those who have enlisted for overseas be given free tuition" was passed. The various reports referred to the management committee were adopted.

HIGHWAY BUILDERS WANT MORE MONEY

City Council is Asked for Another Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Toronto-Hamilton highway commissioners have a hard struggle ahead to obtain another $75,000 or $100,000 from the city for the new road.

But Mr. Gooderham was not disturbed. He told them that it was in the interest of the citizens that the commission divert from the original plan to lay out 15-foot pavements with open ditches and substitute a 24-foot roadway with filled drainage.

The recommendation that the council agree to legislation enabling the commission carry out the extension was an eleventh hour effort of the board of control.

It was charged by Aid. Robbins that the commission had not lived up to its promise in constructing the highway.

Toronto was committed to the highway and must carry out its obligations, declared the mayor.

After a long argument against the recommendation, Controller Foster urged Mr. Gooderham not to arrange matters until more details were obtained.

Commissioner of Works Harris was not very clear as to the best step to take, and gave it as his belief that the share of the city would reach $75,000.

The recommendation was lost on a vote of 8 to 4 and an effort was made by Aid. Nesbitt to have the recommendation inserted in the board of control's report.

Mayor Church was more successful in his fight to have a granite block pavement, 24 feet wide on 8-inch concrete foundation, constructed on Cherry street opposite the National Iron Works.

The council allowed the new building at the Masonic Temple to occupy the city property at the corner of Yonge street and Davenport road.

Ald. Mc'Brien voted alone in support of his motion to strike out the recommendation to lower the water rates of the Board of Control.

If Toronto Hungers Next Winter Will Toronto be to Blame?

The world's available surplus of food is gone. That means Ontario's, too. It means Toronto's. If the 1917 harvest should be a failure Toronto, along with the rest of the world, will hunger, BUT—

Ontario's harvest, at least, need not be a failure, insofar as man can prevent, if the labor needed NOW on the farms is forthcoming.

You say: "Why worry—Ontario has always had an abundance of food. The farmer will get along—he's got to produce crops to live."

He has. But not necessarily enough for you and all our city folks. In fact, he can't. The farmer is as patriotic as any man, but remember, there is less than one man per hundred acres left on Ontario's farms.

And if but little food is produced in Ontario it will be the long purse that gets it. Toronto people in thousands will go short.

Toronto cannot afford to slur over this crisis. It may mean hunger within our gates next winter.

All this takes no account of the dire need for food on the part of Great Britain, our soldiers and sailors, who look to Canada for food.

Just think of Toronto, if no further—of your friends—your family—YOURSELF! And attend the

WAR SUMMARY

THE United States is about to enter the war as a full-fledged belligerent on the side of the allies.

President Wilson read his eagerly awaited message before congress last night, and he recommended that congress declare the existence of a state of war between the United States and Germany.

His message made it quite plain that the American republic could no longer remain at peace with Germany, but that Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria or Turkey, until their submarines commit overt acts. While congress was waiting for the president to appear before it, news came of the torpedoing of another American ship, the Aztec, with the probable loss of many American sailors. This gave an additional solemnity to the proceedings.

Immediately on the reading of the presidential message members introduced in both houses of congress resolutions to declare the existence of a state of war with Germany. These resolutions rectify the mistake of congress resolutions in 1914, when the United States declared war against Germany, but not against Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria or Turkey.

As a factor in the war in this, its last stage, the entry of the United States ought to assist the allies in a material sense, and it will give place large and successful. The chief function of the republic will be the financing of the allied war effort, and it will therefore assist materially in the rapid providing of an abundance of scouting and anti-submarine craft. The American navy will guard the Atlantic coast and assist in preventing shipping against commerce raiders, thereby releasing many British and French cruisers for service in the Atlantic.

They had to make records

The Chalmers was made for every-day business.

What measure of success the world accords Chalmers came from building a sensible car. Chalmers was content to let others speed to fame. Not so the Chalmers owners.

Business men seek adventure beyond the fields of markets and finance. Owners of Chalmers cars set out to gather speed—and endurance records for Chalmers.

These are but sidelights on the sensible car. Canadian Chalmers is essentially a business man's car.

It has the class, appearance, finish—the best of cars should have. A family car with comfort for five. A motor to put it through hard travel, over hills, crowded traffic.

Speed for emergencies, power to spare. There's safety in the way it holds the road. It was built to the Chalmers ideal for the man of sound motor-sense.

Chalmers efficiency holds down the cost. The Canadian Chalmers factory produces the ideal car for $1,625.

See this car. Talk with Chalmers men. Learn why men speak with pride of "their Chalmers." Drive the car that brought to Chalmers the big men of motordom. Feel the life of it. Swing it around in the road. Its a MOTOR Car and More.

Chalmers is a car, a man, an institution.

Chicago to New York in 31 hours

"On June 7 and 8, A. E. Walden and B. F. Durham, two Chalmers drivers, established a new record for the trip between Chicago, and New York, of 31 hours flat for the 1047 mile journey. The best previous record, of 35 hours and 43 minutes, was held by E. C. Patterson in a Packard Twin Six.

Wins the Giants' Despair Hill Test

"By winning the Giants' Despair Hill Climb at Wilkes-Barre, October 7th, in a Chalmers Six, Fred Junk brought a brilliant climax to a year of Chalmers triumphs. Junk defeated four twelve-cylinder cars, several well-known racing creations and some of the highest priced cars in America in the free-for-all event.

358 Miles thro City Traffic

"A record of unusual interest to Canadians was the traffic test made by Lord Douglas Gray, who drove a Chalmers Six 358.7 miles in 34 hours through the densest traffic of New York City. Lord Gray bettered the best previous traffic record of 251 miles in a Vauxhall car in London, two years previous.

Drinking Tea Upset Nerves

Mr. Burroughs compares Canadian Customs With Those in Old Land, and Tells How Nerves Were Set Right.

Orillia, Ont., April 2.—"How to be well and strong" is the question many are asking at this time of year, and in this letter you will find the answer.

It tells something of the blood-forming, nerve-invigorating influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great restorative which is causing so much talk here just now.

Nature's way of curing disease is by building up the vitality of the body, and this is exactly what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does. The blood is made rich and red, and it nourishes the exhausted nerves back to health and vigor.

The experience of Mr. Burroughs as described in this letter is similar to that of hundreds of others in this community who have recently put the well-known food cure to the test.

Mr. George Burroughs, 28 Peter street, Orillia, Ont., writes: "A few years ago, after coming out to this country from England, the change of customs seemed to have some effect on me. In the old country the habit of drinking strong tea was prevalent, and after arriving here I suffered very much from nervousness. If I put my arm down on the table it would shake very noticeably, and while performing my work I would easily tire, and want to sit down and rest. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I secured some and took a treatment. It built me up and made me strong and healthy. I have not had a trace of the nervousness since. I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment also, and find that it heals the skin very quickly. In fact I find all of Dr. Chase's medicines good."

ST. FRANCIS' BASEBALL CLUB

At a meeting of St. Francis' Baseball Club, which was held on Saturday afternoon, the following officers were elected: Hon. president, Rev. F. J. Finnigan; now. He will have to take it easy until the other boys reach his condition. He will supply his funny boy, and will bring already, and his every action is watched with interest. Taking it altogether, the camp is in rather an unsettled state owing to the fact that the players are slow in reporting. The fans must keep in mind the fact that the season opens on the 17th of April, and the Leafs will have to hustle to get a team drilled for the campaign.

CULTIVATED LAND LESS THAN EVER

Imperative Need Places a Patriotic Duty Before Every Holidaying Canadian.

A startling condition is revealed in the fact that last year there were in the Province of Ontario 850,000 acres less under cultivation than in the year 1914.

In order that this may be done, more help is absolutely essential. At the present time there is less than one man to every hundred acres of farm land in the province, and these men cannot so even a normal harvest without help.

Ontario's crops, so far as man can prevent it, need not be a failure if the labor force and the soil are properly cared for. This required labor plan is given the province in a carefully-laid plan given the province in a carefully-laid plan given the province in a carefully-laid plan.

CHALMERS CARS SAVED.

Local Firm Notified That Big Shipments is Under Way.

York Motors, Ltd., distributors of Chalmers cars for Toronto and district, have received word from Harry S. Lee, general manager of the Chalmers Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., that the Chalmers service in Canada has not been interrupted by the fire in their Walkerville plant. The telegram reads: "Factory destroyed by the last night. Automobiles not lost. Tracked shipment goes forward as per schedule. Full arrangements made to continue service without break. Keep on taking orders for immediate delivery."

The first reports of the fire appearing in Saturday's papers caused some concern among the prospective owners of Chalmers cars. This, fortunately, was unwarranted, as Mr. Lee's telegram proves. The resources of the Chalmers institution are so great as to make unnecessary even temporary embarrassment to the organization of Chalmers dealers or to Chalmers owners throughout Canada.

THE FORMAN MYSTERY

By GEORGE HUGHES.

"It is," he handed the leaden messenger of death back to Fortescue, and resumed. "The course of the wound was straight, and to judge by the arching of the flesh the weapon must have been fired close to the deceased's body."

This concluded the doctor's testimony.

"Edith Forman!"

The name passed from court crier to door-guard, thence to the bearer of it. The crowd gasped at the sound of it, then, with tense expectancy, awaited her coming.

Edith arose from her seat at the guard called. The long strain of waiting had told upon her, and she was pale and wan as she straightened herself and started toward the door held open for her. But halfway to the exit she suddenly weakened, staggered, and would have fallen had not Warren, anticipating her action, stepped up behind and caught her in his arms. She lay there for a long moment, while the audience watched intently. Suddenly she rallied every atom of will power to her aid. She disengaged herself from Warren's enfolding arm, and strode slowly toward the door.

The crowd announced her coming with a sharp intake of breath. She was the object of all eyes from the time she left the room until she stepped into the witness box. She was appraised to the full; every lineament of her face and every article of clothing that covered her being carefully dissected, catalogued and filed away in the minds of the spectators for future reference.

But as she noticed the attention showered upon her, she did not show it by word or glance. She regarded the entire scene as something in the abstract.

She took the oath without exhibiting the slightest emotion, and Mr. Fortescue began his cross-examination.

"Miss Forman, could you tell me like to hear anything that you have to tell concerning your sister's tragic death?"

"On the night my sister died," she began in a low, steady voice, "I was invited. I had attended the recital at the Conservatory of Music. Ethel—my sister—had expected to go, but at the last moment pleaded a headache and stayed at home. So I went alone. I left the recital at 10 o'clock and arrived home half an hour later. Thru the glass panel of the front door I could see the hall light still burning, so I judged that my sister was still up. I entered the house. Arrived opposite the sitting-room I noticed that the door was ajar. I called out to my sister, but received no answer. Thinking that probably she had gone to the sleep on the couch, I entered the room and found her lying on the floor. Her unnatural position alarmed me. I suspected that something was amiss. I stooped over and examined her. I found that she was dead, apparently shot thru the heart."

"What did you then, Miss Forman?"

Fortescue queried, as she paused. But she made no reply. Her head was bent, as if she were in deep thought. Thinking that she had not heard the question, he repeated it.

"She stared suddenly and appeared confused. Her eyes opened wide and fear shone in their depths. At last she spoke and her voice was low, little more than a whisper.

"I—I don't hardly know," she said. "I—cannot—remember."

A peculiar look swept over Fortescue's face. It was one of suspicion, not unminged with concern.

"Come, come," he cried sharply. "No prevarication, please. Answer my question promptly."

"Still she did not answer.

"Lying on the floor by my sister's side," she recalled at the sight of it.

"Ah!—see you recognize this toy?" he asked.

Still she was silent, and stared at the weapon with eyes dilated with terror, and hands raised before her breast as if trying to ward off the blow.

"The crown attorney was thoroughly angry now, and faced her with menace in his keen, grey eyes.

"Come, answer my question!—What did you do next?"

Suddenly her old manner reasserted itself, and she faced him defiantly. Her tone was cold as an icicle as she replied:

"I picked up the revolver."

"This one?"—indicating the weapon he held.

She nodded affirmation.

"It belonged to my sister?"

"Where did you find the weapon?"

"Lying on the floor by my sister's side."

"Yet it was not there when the body was found by Dr. Warren and Miss Ransart?"

"How do you account for that?"

Early Morning Delivery--Another Mark of Service

We have always endeavored to keep our "Service" ideals continually to the forefront. Whenever opportunities for rendering service occur we seek to take advantage of them.

Such an opportunity was presented to us in connection with our system of milk delivery.

During the Winter we were delivering milk in the daytime. It proved successful for the Winter. But now that the spring and summer days are upon us day delivery is not convenient to our customers. Therefore we are changing to early morning delivery. The advantages of the change are easily apparent. The milk will be delivered when the air is cool. It will reach you in time for breakfast.

The change means some inconvenience to us and makes some readjustments necessary in our organization. But we are glad if in that way we can render satisfying service to our many patrons.

If you are not already acquainted with the Farmers Dairy service and with the superiorities of the Farmer Dairy milk you should commence benefiting by them at once. You need this better milk. Get tickets from our salesman who passes your door. Or write or phone us.

License Board Tries to Stop Sale of Intoxicating Liquors

According to Inspector Robert Burrows, of the provincial license board, everything possible is being done to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors in the city. Three provincial inspectors are visiting the hotels regularly, and the police authorities have their plainclothes men out on the hunt for sellers and users of intoxicants. Consequent on a complaint made by the proprietors of local hotels, to the effect that persons bring liquor into their places and drink it in the lavatories, said proprietors have been warned that if they are caught permitting this practice, they will be prosecuted.

Extremely Severe! Dyspepsia

Halifax (N.S.) Sergeant in the C.E.F. Cured Completely by Dr. Cassell's Tablets.

SEARGENT DUNGAN MACNEIL, of the CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, writing from Europe (his home address, England, is 116, PLEASANT STREET, HALIFAX, N.S.) says:—

"For six years I suffered from frequent attacks of Dyspepsia, each attack being more acute than the last. During one of these attacks life would become almost unbearable, and I would have to regulate my diet to liquid foods only, often being in bed for days at a time. I was under the care of a Physician, and tried all the remedies on the market, spending a small fortune, but obtained little or no relief. I found human endurance, but not once became utterly discouraged, and had almost given up all hope of cure.

When the war broke out I joined the Expeditionary Force and came to Europe. I had not been long there, however, when my old trouble returned, and I had to go to hospital. While in hospital a friend told me of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and I decided to try them. The first box brought such pronounced relief that I continued the treatment. To make a long story short, a complete cure was effected.

"Since taking Dr. Cassell's Tablets I have been through hardships almost beyond human endurance, but not once become utterly discouraged, and had almost given up all hope of cure.

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are Nutritive, Restorative, Alterative, and Anti-Spasmotic, and are recognized remedy for Nervous Breakdown, Sleeplessness, Malnutrition, Nerve Paralysis, Anemia, Wasting Diseases, Infantile Weakness, Kidney Trouble, Palpitation, Neurasthenia, Dyspepsia, Vital Exhaustion. BRITISH HIT TURKS STAGGERING BLOW

Fog and Water Shortage Save Foe From Complete Disaster.

FELICITATES MURRAY

Gen. Nivelle Wires Congratulations on Inauguration of the Palestine-Syrian Campaign.

London, April 2.—The British operations against Gaza last week were most successful, said Mr. Bonar Law, in the commons, and had it not been for a fog which delayed the attack, and a shortage of water, complete disaster would have overtaken the Turks. The chancery denied categorically the Turkish report that 3000 British had been killed in the attack.

Official announcement was made that the French commander-in-chief, General Nivelle, had wired congratulations to Lieut.-General Murray, commander of the British troops in Egypt, saying the achievements of the British meant the inauguration under favorable conditions of the campaign in Palestine and Syria.

An account of the battle in which the British routed the Turkish force of 20,000, was given out here officially today. The statement follows:

A further report from the commander-in-chief in Egypt describing the action south of Gaza, dated April 1, follows: "The primary object was to seize Wadi Ghuzzeh to cover the advance of our railway. Wadi was occupied without a fight and advanced troops pushed forward in the direction of Gaza. It appeared to Lieut.-General Sir Charles Dobell, in command, that the enemy might resist without fighting and to attempt to capture Gaza by a coup de main.

"On the morning of the 28th a dense fog delayed operations, and it was not possible to attack the Gaza position until late in the afternoon, when the enemy first line trenches were captured. More than 700 prisoners were taken. The German commander, Von Kress, meanwhile moved up three columns towards Gaza to support his troops. These columns were admirably delayed by our mounted troops and heavy losses were inflicted upon the enemy at slight cost to ourselves. The commander and staff of the 5th division were captured during the fight.

"The time during which the operation could be carried out was limited by the supply of water available for the troops, the infantry being dependent upon what they could carry with them. Owing to delay by morning fog, the supply of water which the troops needed to allow the attack to be continued, and our troops took up a defensive position from a point just south of Gaza to Wadi Ghuzzeh. This position was attacked on the 27th by the Turks, who were repulsed everywhere with heavy losses, our troops completely defeating the Turkish cavalry divisions.

Foe Loses Heavily. "On the next day our artillery were withdrawn to Wadi Ghuzzeh, our cavalry remaining in contact with the enemy's main position. The enemy showing no desire to resume the offensive, our troops remained in occupation of Wadi Ghuzzeh. The enemy's total casualties are estimated by the general officer commanding in chief to be 6000. We captured 950 prisoners and two Austrian howitzers. Our total killed amounted to less than 400. Some small parties of our men, totaling less than 200 who are believed to have fought their way into Gaza and been out, are missing. "Finally, Sir Archibald Murray (commander of the British troops in Egypt) reports: 'The operation was most successful, and owing to the fog and waterless nature of the country around Gaza, just short of complete disaster to the enemy. Our troops are exceedingly proud of themselves, and I am delighted with their enterprise, endurance and skill and leadership. None of our troops were at any time harassed or hard pressed.' It will be seen from the above report that the enemy account of the operation is fantastic."

STRUGGLE WELDING BRITISH DOMINIONS

Premier Borden and Gen. Smuts Deliver Notable Addresses in London.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, April 2.—Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues, Gen. Smuts and other imperialists, were in the house of commons by the Empire Parliamentary Association, colonial secretary presiding. "I am proud to tell you today that Canada has sent forth more than 225,000 men for the war. Our total enlistments exceed four hundred thousand, and in the Canadian force alone more than three hundred thousand have left the shores of the Dominion. Their achievement under the sternest test has been splendid and worthy of the traditions which are their heritage," said Sir Robert.

Touching on the German submarine warfare, he said: "I speak in no despondent mood, but in one disposed to face the realities. The enemy are staking everything upon this last throw of the dice. All their energies are being concentrated upon this year's campaign, whether on land or at sea. Any sagging of our spirit or lack of effort, disastrous at any time, would be fatal now."

In concluding a reference to the imperial war conference, Sir Robert Borden said: "I shall not attempt to anticipate any conclusion which may be reached by the conference now sitting at London. I am confident, however, that the conference embracing India, who now for the first time, has taken her place at the national council of the empire as well as all the great dominions, except Australia, whose absence is deeply regretted. Except with regard to India the summoning of that conference does not mark a new stage of constitutional development. The present duty is to consider and, where necessary, to determine general questions of common concern which in some cases have an intimate relation to war and conditions after war. The British constitution is the most flexible instrument of government ever devised. The office of prime minister is invested with a power and authority which, under new conditions demanding progress and development, are of incalculable value."

Gen. Smuts' Views. Gen. Smuts, who followed, paid a generous tribute to Canada's contribution. He did not conceal from himself, he said, that the position was a grave one. The Germans were now putting forth their maximum effort. The submarine campaign was really a raid on communications. No nation had ever been defeated by such means, and he believed that the war would end earlier than some of us thought possible.
