Talks Interestingly of Impressions Gathered

Returning from a trip around the world in which he visited Australia, India, France and Great Britain, Mr. Frank Hatheway arrived in St. John this morning on the a. s. Empress of Britain.

Speaking of the trade conference at Sydney, Mr. Hatheway said that the feature of greatest importance to Canada was the recommendation that a trade preference to the colonies should be granted to the colonies but that from what he had heard in Great Britain he did not think that this recommendation would carry very much weight with the Imperial government.

GAME FOR WANDERERS
All St. John Loses at Halifax
—Score 5 to 0
Members of the Home Team Penalized—
St. John Players Put Up a Good Game.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 7.—Less than four hundred people saw the Wanderers lose the colors of the All-St. John hockey aggregation at the arena to-night, the score being five to nothing. Although the ice was not in any condition for fast hockey, both teams hit a pretty lively clip. It was only by the good work of the Wanderers' defence that stopped the visitors from scoring. The Wanderers' players were penalized for 16 minutes, while the visitors did not have man put off.

UNIVERSITY WILL DRAW
THE BATTLE LINE

CHELSEA, Jan. 7.—Football battle lines will be drawn at the University of Chicago this week, with Coach T. Alton Slag the headliner in the mix-up. With the expected return of the coach today from the east the merry holiday on the same football question will be called for, and the board of athletics has threatened to demand more in the way of 1909 changes than the coach will stand for.

THE WOMAN BEAUTIFUL

Happiness is benevolence in tablet form. Much of the sweetness of life is disappearing because of the affections of civilization. We no longer gather about the piano on a Sunday evening and sing "In the Gloaming," because the younger members of the family are likely to cackle with laughter. In fact the younger members rule the day. Let them; they'll bump up against the sorrow and the ill soon enough. Poor darlings.

The annual meeting of the St. Stephen's Scott Cadets was held last evening. Reports showed the body to be in a good condition, with $217 dollars in the funds. The money in hand will be expended to buy new uniforms, and the order for these will be given next week. There are now about sixty-eight boys in the corps, and it is expected that in a short time they will be up to the strength of about eighty or ninety.

SYNDICATE BASEBALL
OFFICIALLY DECRIED
August Herrman Strongly Denounces the Evil

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 7.—A straight declaration against "syndicate baseball" in the report of August Herrman, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, was the feature of the annual meeting of that body to-day. Several decisions were handed down after adjournment.

Another finding declared that players of the California State League, the "outlaw" organization which recently subscribed to the national agreement, must make personal application for restoration to good standing. This ruling followed a hearing by which "Happy" Smith, outfielder of the Oakland club, was awarded to the Chicago Nationals.

Manager Barrow of the Montreal Eastern League Club started from Toronto Thursday on a two-week trip in search of players. The Peasoup manager will visit Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia and Washington, and expects to land a shortstop, a catcher, and an outfielder before he returns to Montreal on Jan. 20. The manager's trip will also include a visit to the spring training ground of the Royals. The Montreal owners have secured an office in the Renour building, St. Catherine and University streets, and after his return to Montreal Manager Barrow will be permanently located there.

Music
Lessons Free

IN YOUR OWN HOME.
A wonderful offer to every lover of music whether a beginner or an advanced player. Ninety-six lessons (or a less number, if you desire) for either Piano, Organ, Violin, Guitar, Banjo, Cornet, Saxophone, Singing, Mandolin or Cello will be given free to make our home study course for these instruments known in your locality. You will get one lesson weekly, and your only expense during the time you take the lessons will be the cost of postage and the music you use, which is small. Write at once. It will mean much to you if you never write again. You and your friends should know of this work. Hundreds of our pupils write: "With I had known of your school before." "Have learned more in one term in my home with your weekly lessons than in three terms with private teachers, and at a great deal less expense." "Everything is so thorough and complete." "The lessons are marvellous of simplicity, and my 11 year old boy has not had the least trouble to learn." One minister writes: "As each succeeding lesson comes I am more and more fully persuaded I made no mistake in becoming your pupil." Established 1888—have thousands of pupils from seven years of age to seventy.

BASEBALL GAME CHANGING
DECLARES CLARK GRIFFITH

Batters are Getting Wise—Pitchers Need Speed and Ability
—Could Win Pennant if He Had Overard and Brown.

"Baseball is constantly changing," said Clark Griffith at Chicago, a day or two ago, while discussing the game with a number of players. The wily manager of the Cincinnati Reds smiled as he continued: "Why, I don't almost as much speed when I quit pitching as ever in my career. I had more curves, far better control, and, I think, more generalship."

"What put you out of it, then?" inquired an interested bystander. "The change in the game," answered Griffith. "Take a great pitcher of today, for example. He may have wonderful speed and marvelous curves. But the batters get wise to him after a while. Then his day is over. I remember in my own experience. I always had a jump on the ball, its life, in other words. But finally that left. It happens all the time."

Manager Chance of the Cubs echoed Griffith's remark. "That is true in the case of our club," he said. "Take Carl Lundberg. Carl was a bully fine pitcher and had all the batters guessing. He would go along and win a lot of games, for they couldn't hit him. He had just as much speed and ability as the best pitcher in the league. But the game had changed. The batters were beginning to like that swift break in experience. Overard and Brown are perhaps as great curve ball pitchers as there are in the country. 'Didn't you often and believe that the ball was not there some days?' inquired Griffith.

AMUSEMENTS

NICKEL-TWO-NIGHT AND MONDAY

This is to be the Nickel's grand day for the children again, and a right programme awaits the little ones.

There will be two biograph comedies, a sell melodrama, and a fine travel view, to say nothing of an extra western picture in the afternoon.

Miss LeRoy is to sing her concert numbers, and Master Packer will have an illustrated number. The evening show is to be out of the ordinary in excellence.

On Monday one of the Nickel's new educational features will be shown, namely, "A visit to the Pasteur Institute in Paris," and Miss LeRoy will sing the novelty, "The pretty things you say." New pictures, etc.

WHERE TO GET CARNIVAL AND MASQUERADE COSTUMES

What the people of New Brunswick have needed for a long while is an up-to-date costume house, a reliable, well-known firm, from whom they can secure fancy, original, and comical get-ups for carnavals, masquerades, and little house parties.

These costumes are prettily displayed in the large dressing rooms of Nickel Theatre, and are to be seen at any hour of the day or evening.

W. H. Golding of this playhouse lends every assistance to patrons in making their selections. The name with this new concern is the Canadian Costume Company, and it is in the business of supplying costumes for theatrical characters, traditional personages, straight costumes of the chivalrous era, courtly raiment outfits of the different Louis periods, national costumes, military uniforms, humorous outfits, and characters in fiction, etc.

These costumes are prettily displayed in the large dressing rooms of Nickel Theatre, and are to be seen at any hour of the day or evening.

THE GEM

To appreciate the programme which the management of this theatre is offering to its patrons, one must see the subject. As was expected "Sixteen Blows," the great Scotland Yard detective story, pleased the large audience which attended this theatre last evening. The story is in two acts, and it is noted that this is the fourth feature subject shown at the Gem which has required two reels.

A beautiful travel scene in Norway mountains is also shown. When the winter snow clad mountains, below away in the distance is seen the green valleys with villages dotted the plains. The ride down the mountain is one of the most beautiful scenes ever shown on the passenger alights in the valley.

A strong comedy, "An Emigrant's Troubles" is one huge laugh, containing good comedy. Two other subjects are also shown which give the public a show seldom equalled.

Mrs. Gibson in "When You've Won the Only Girl You Care For" a splendid illustrated ballet, scored a hit, responding to encores at each performance. A treat is in store for all who visit the Gem.

MARTHA WILL BE REPEATED TONIGHT

The Robinson Opera Company delighted a large audience at the Opera House last night with its fine presentation of "Martha." The second act performance was easily the best put on by the Robinson Company during its stay in St. John.

Owing to Mr. Anderson, the manager of the Opera House, receiving a number of requests, it was decided to have the Robinson Opera Company repeat "Martha" tonight, "Mikado" and "The Merry Widow." The company will again be the bill.

This is highly appreciating, not only to those who have seen the performance, but also to those who do not have the opportunity of witnessing so splendid a performance. As everybody who was present were loud in their praise of this excellent organization.

MISS NOLA as Lady Harriet carried off the honors. Her solo, "The Last Rose of Summer" in the second act, was received with a tremendous burst of applause and encores.

Clara Fulton as Lionel also scored a hit during the performance and encores repeatedly. Her solo, "Like a Dream," in the third act, was sung with great effect and encores.

"Spring Has Returned," Miss Nola and Mr. Fulton sang this in the last act.

The second act there were two quartettes, "The Spinning Wheel" and "The Good Night" song. Miss Storm and Mr. Nelson sang in both of these in a manner which left nothing to be desired.

The first act of "Heaven May Forgive You" was also one of the numbers which took the audience by storm. The chorus was excellent and showed the result of long and hard preparation.

THE LATOOR SPORTS NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT THE VIC.

The first sports held under the auspices of the La Tour Rowing Association will be given at the Victoria rink next Wednesday evening, 12th inst.

The programme will be rendered by the Queen's Own Band. Doors open all day.

Price of admission to all.

ARE YOU READY FOR MONDAY'S CARNIVAL AT THE VIC?

There has been a big demand by the patrons of Monday evening's carnival for costumes, and those keeping these in stock will doubtless reap a rich harvest.

The Canadian Costume Co. at the Nickel Theatre have hundreds of elaborate and original outfits which can be secured at reasonable prices.

This also is possible at 143 Union St., where a splendid assortment of costumes are awaiting renters. There will be a good inducement for skaters to contest for supremacy in the matter of originality, and elaborateness, by the chances of receiving one of the five prizes in gold.

Also it will be delightful to enjoy the magnificent programme prepared by the Sixty-second band, whose numbers will be augmented for the occasion. Then for those who do not skate, the pleasure of watching the array and variety of costumes on the ice, is sufficient inducement to attract fully a thousand spectators.

BRASS BAND AT THE ORPHEUM NEXT WEEK

The Barbeau Family of ten people, six adults and four clever children, a full brass band and vaudeville show of five acts in themselves, is the attraction at the Orpheum next week, and should cause record breaking business.

GERMANY AND THE UNIONIST PARTY

Berlin Papers View of the Present Agitation

German Empire Will Inevitably Watch the Policy of the Balfour Party Who Make War an Issue.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—In an article on the election campaign in England the Kreuz Zeitung says that events have moved forward with the anticipation it expressed long before the decision respecting the budget of the Reichstag.

"We deplore the fact, of course," it states, "that there is a strong party in England whose attitude towards Germany is imbued with such implacable hatred that, following a notorious ancient example, it can, after due deliberation, write Germanists out of its ranks, and hopes to conquer under this standard in the electoral field; but we are not surprised at it. We also see no reason to regret," it adds, "that Germanophiles has been given the preference openly by Unionists to the observance of principles which would have to be accepted should the Unionists be victorious in the elections."

"The British electors know now," continues the leading Conservative organ, "what is at stake in the coming elections. They are in a position similar to that which was once occupied by the Carthaginian senators, and they will have to decide in the face of the ballot-box whether they will vote for war or peace, for Liberals or Unionists. It would be pursuing a fatal course to close our eyes to what is happening in England. The German people is, however, not nervous, and will wait with composure to see how the dice fall and what form the future takes. We shall in any case make every possible endeavor to live at peace with England, for which we have an honest attachment, and shall not be induced by any calumny or by any threat to assume an unfriendly attitude towards her. But we cannot disregard the possibility of danger, and we must keep a sharp watch on adversity."

"So long as it is only a question of the senseless 'title-tattle' of a Hatchford," continues the Kreuz Zeitung, "we could smile, but we cannot afford to ignore the fact that the whole Unionist party is beginning to gather round that paid partisan, and that distinguished politician employ in public life, who has been so long in the front of the fight, and draw the same sole, 'Like a Dream,' in the third act, was sung with great effect and encores."

"Spring Has Returned," Miss Nola and Mr. Fulton sang this in the last act.

LIBERTY VERSUS GREENS.

A colored man from Georgia had been in Washington but a few days when he was arrested for some slight violation of the city ordinances. Upon hearing that the negro was in jail the secretary of the colored Y. M. C. A. secured the services of a minister to go with him and sign the prisoner's bail bond. They reached the jail shortly before noon and told the negro the object of their visit, in response to the proffered kindness he said: "Matam Jolinah, I is glad you all is going to get me out, but I want you all to fix it so I can't get out to late dis abnoon!"

Of course the two Samaritans were somewhat taken aback by the unusual request. But a moment later they lost their breath when in answer to the secretary's question the Georgia negro replied in a whisper: "Well, sah, dey's a-gittin' dinnah ready, an' dey's cookin' greens, an' I 'dno would like to git some o' dem greens befo' I leades dis place!"—Lippincott's.

SUBSTITUTE FOR HAT PINS.

An English woman has invented a substitute for hat pins which may prove to be a boon for women. The device consists of an elastic bandon of very fine steel, covered with velvet, which is placed inside the hat or bonnet. It is very light, and when fixed to the crown, this being done by a few stitches, it makes any hat or bonnet fit quite closely and comfortably on the head. It is claimed that the long hat pins so much in use are not only dangerous, but that they will ruin any fine hat in the course of time.

Sable Muff and Boa

BY A. T. ASHMORE.

FURS, jewels and laces never lose their charm, and the woman who does not care for them is to be avoided as not mentally well balanced. Furs more than the others are an important possession in any save a tropical climate, and this winter more than ever are to be reckoned with as one of the principal items in the problem of dress expenditures. It is interesting to note from year to year how fashion rules the question of furs. There are often years when comparatively little fur is worn, when apparently the question of warmth and comfort matters nothing and the coldest blasts of winter are deduced in a cloth or velvet costume, when a small neckpiece on the order of a high collar of fur is deemed quite sufficient as recognition that the winter season is here. Another time, during the summer, a cool evening will provide an excuse for the display of a sable or ermine stole, or even a cape with a lace gown, but the comfort loving woman knows that while there may be "warmth in a bit of lace, in the fine sable stole or wrap there is everything that could possibly be wished for, as a wrap affords protection from either a summer sea breeze or a winter key-blast.

Muffs Enormous and Eccentric. Muffs are this season most extraordinary, not only as regards size and shape but variety of style and the skins that are used. Apparently many new species of fur bearing animals have been discovered within the last twelve months, and even the best informed naturalist would find it difficult to classify many of the new furs that are so proudly worn by the smartly gowned women to-day. Fox is a name applied most indiscriminately to various furs. Seal skin has more different species, not to say imitations, than were ever hitherto discovered; ermine, with or without tails, often bearing a singular resemblance to rabbit and coney; bear and wolf are some of the novelties of the season. Alaska sable, better known as skunk fur, which has attained to such dizzy heights of popularity as to be classed with the expensive furs, is now not only made up into neckpieces and muffs, but trim gowns to be worn in the house. There was a time when such a thing would have been deemed quite impossible for many reasons.

Imitation furs have always been ranked as impossible by the woman with refined taste and inexhaustible pocketbook, but today the sort of the imitation is satisfactory enough to those who feel that because an article is costly it is necessarily most desirable. Consequently the possessor of a piece of sable is quite willing to have her apron, cloak, trimmed with some of the latest fashionable furs like fisher and to have a muff and neckpiece of the same.

Made Without Interlining. There would seem to be just as much uncertainty over the size and shape of the muffs as of the hats this year. Abundantly large and even grotesque are many, the apparent object in view being to give the effect of reckless extravagance. As a matter of comfort and warmth the old fashioned small round muffs were much better than the flat wide open ones that are made with so little interlining.

The body of the muff made separately from the fur is one of the favorite fashions this winter. Of large size, but more often round rather than flat, the muff itself is of satin. The fur is so arranged as to show the markings of the skins to best advantage by leaving them flat as much as a rug; indeed, it is known as the "flat" muff. The satin of which the muff itself is made can be black, white or any color desired, and while it is not conspicuous it is quite evident. The skins are not sewed together but left each intact and fastened to a flat lining of chiffon or satin, quite apart from the muff, which gives a much richer effect than when they are sewed close together; but both styles are fashionable. The latter fashion, however, carried out on quite a different plan from that of former seasons, shows off any beauty of natural markings or coloring to great advantage.

Apparently the end aim of fashion is to give the appearance of fur being used most lavishly; the stoles, and indeed all neckpieces, are much wider and longer than last year, and with the exception of a large muff, the equally exaggerated large scarf or stole, and a hat trimmed with a broad band of the same fur a woman looks as though she were completely clothed in fur. The wide shawl collars on the cloth coats, the big muffs to match and again the same fur in the hand around the velvet turbans or the entire fur hat, are only other variations of the same scheme. It is not so practical to have the fur collar on the coat attached, but that detail is decided by the individual; then the wide cuffs of fur must not be forgotten, for they add still another touch, giving even more the effect of warmth and lavish expenditure.

New Kinds of Fur. Fisher, "skinner," mouton, all are comparatively new names, but ones that are already well known to the fashionably minded. The evening wraps afford a fine opportunity to display these furs, and the wide band around the bottom of the coat or the medium width one that encircles it completely and the very long shawl collar are all most popular. Gray mouton on a dull blue brocade or heavy ribbon ottoman silk coat is extremely smart, while a pale yellow satin with chinchilla is exceptionally beautiful. Chinchilla is extremely fashionable this season and is made up in all the new styles of muff and scarf. The markings of this fur as well as its exquisite softness were never shown to greater advantage than in this winter's fashions, and it is not strange that women feel the outlay for a chinchilla set is worth even the price that must be paid for it. It is not a universally becoming fur, and, furthermore, is sadly perishable—two details that endear it to the hearts of those whom it graces. The skunk fur is extremely becoming, and the dark coloring and the length of the hair make a good contrast with both light and dark colors and materials.

Fancy muffs of all kinds are most popular this winter, and it would seem as though there was no end to the new shapes. Satin and satin ribbon, velvet and velvet ribbon and the best quality of chiffon, all are combined with fur, and often there is less of the fur than of the other materials. Flat, without stuffing, oblong in shape and of goodly size, these muffs are most decorative and add greatly to any smart costume; but it should be borne in mind that they are not appropriate with a plain street costume. With this the simple style in furs is far smarter, and there are plenty of smart sets in the simpler styles, as well.

Apparently the end aim of fashion is to give the appearance of fur being used most lavishly; the stoles, and indeed all neckpieces, are much wider and longer than last year, and with the exception of a large muff, the equally exaggerated large scarf or stole, and a hat trimmed with a broad band of the same fur a woman looks as though she were completely clothed in fur. The wide shawl collars on the cloth coats, the big muffs to match and again the same fur in the hand around the velvet turbans or the entire fur hat, are only other variations of the same scheme. It is not so practical to have the fur collar on the coat

One of the fads of this season is not this winter, though. The round muffs, the round stuffed muffs of large size quite that are fashionable this winter are most on the lines of the old fashioned ones, and clumsy and unwieldy and have nothing there are signs and indications that it will be recommodated save that they are a bit longer before the small, round fur new fashion. It seems strange to speak of muffs of old time but again be in style—a muff as becoming, but that is one of the points in favor of the flat styles and the reason for their never waning popularity. For the benefit of those forced to be economical it is recalled this winter that the fur is of good quality.

Fashion Details That Every Woman Should Know

VERY beautiful are the fur coat and skirt costumes, of which almost all women who lay claim to a place in fashion's van possess at least one. They are in a great majority made of broadtail with trimmings of the longer furs. One most charming suit was made with a rather close fitting skirt of broadtail trimmed around the foot with a broad band of skunk. The rather short semi-fitting jacket was made so that, except in the coldest weather, it came together only at the waist line. It was trimmed with a rolling collar and turned back fronts of skunk. The long sleeves were also bordered with skunk. A broadtail turban with a black aigrette, a skunk muff and a black satin blouse with cream lace chemisette and collar completed this costume.

Another most charming costume of broadtail was trimmed with chinchilla. The costume consisted of a black frock with a very deep band of broadtail forming the lower half of the skirt, which was bordered at the lower edge with a band of chinchilla. With this was worn a Russian blouse coat, which reached down to the broadtail on the skirt. The coat was bordered with chinchilla around the lower edge and the cuffs. Jet buttons were used on the coat, and at the throat there was a knot of gray velvet. With this costume was worn a large velvet hat trimmed with very full black aigrettes.

IN Figure 1 is shown a charming model for a cloth, velvet or cashmere gown trimmed with embroidery. The costume made. The coat was also trimmed with beaded buttons and with a little very dark violet velvet, which forms the tiny waistcoat at the top of the jacket fronts and appears again on the lower edge. With this costume a black velvet hat was worn and fox muff, with stole, if necessary for warmth, but the coat is particularly effective when the fine collar and plot of cream batiste are permitted to show.

With another costume, made in the same model, the waistcoat was of seal skin, and muff and hat of the same. This effect was both rich and becoming. Seal skin is particularly fashionable when used in this way to trim handsome beaded costumes or coats. The fur is so quiet in effect because of its close, short hair and deep color that the beaded seams are necessary to give the garment a striking quality. Other short haired furs, ermine, etc., are used in the same manner for waistcoats in beaded costumes.

A little girl's frock was made of plain straight front, belted in just above the velvet lace and skirt. The little frock was of dark gray velvet. It was a straight box pleated affair. The skirt was of white satin of medium weight, with some pink trim, finished with seal skin. The collar, cuffs and the seat and bow at the back were made of gray silk.

FIG. 2—BRAIDED CLOTH COSTUME. The coat was also trimmed with beaded buttons and with a little very dark violet velvet, which forms the tiny waistcoat at the top of the jacket fronts and appears again on the lower edge. With this costume a black velvet hat was worn and fox muff, with stole, if necessary for warmth, but the coat is particularly effective when the fine collar and plot of cream batiste are permitted to show.

AN APPRECIATION OF SHAUGHNESSY

English Writer Calls Him a
Builder of Empire

Interesting Sketch of Canada's Leading Railroad Man's Career Since He

(By F. A. McKenzie)

The Macaulay or the proud of tomorrow, when dealing with the affairs of our age, will find his imagination fired not by the speeches and campaigns of partisan statesmen, but by the work of the Empire builders who today are creating new nations of English-speaking people where yesterday there was wilderness. Among these Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will take high place.

His present visit to Europe affords occasion for recalling something of his achievements.

Forty years ago Tom Shaughnessy, a poor lad in Wisconsin, joined a railway in St. Paul, starting at the bottom of the ladder. Nature had given him parents to be proud of and good fighting Irish blood in his veins—not a bad beginning in life. Today he possesses more actual power than many kings. He is head of the greatest railway in the world. Eighty thousand picked men glorify in his bidding. The line over which he presides is the

CLEAN THE KIDNEYS AND BACKACHE GOES

Just a Few Doses Regulate the Kidneys and Make You Feel Fine

ENDS BLADDER MISERY

Out-of-order kidneys act first and backache or bladder misery is relieved after a few doses of Pope's Diuretic. Pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, debilitating headache, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, wormy feeling and many other symptoms of clogged, inactive kidneys quickly vanish.

Frequent, painful and uncontrollable urination due to a weak or irritable bladder is promptly overcome. The moment you suspect any kidney, bladder or urinary disorder, or feel rheumatism coming, begin taking this harmless remedy, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure, as a fifty-cent treatment of Pope's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

This unusual preparation goes direct to the out-of-order kidneys, bladder and urinary system, clearing, healing and strengthening these organs and glands, and completes the cure before you realize it.

A few days' treatment with Pope's Diuretic means clean, active, healthy kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pope, Thompson & Pope, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

veritable backbone of the premier of the British over-seas dominions. The Canadian Pacific Railway stretches from the waters of the Atlantic to the Pacific; its steamers do their business from Antwerp to Hong Kong and from Liverpool to Shanghai.

For a man to be born in the West is, for those able to seize the opportunities, to be a favorite of fortune. Thomas Shaughnessy started when the West was in the beginning of its making. He rose rapidly from post to post on the St. Paul system, and thirteen years later he was invited to join the Canadian Pacific Railway.

THE FIRST STEP.

The step required courage. The line was not yet completed to the Pacific, and was faced by serious financial and engineering difficulties. The two major minds that set out to make it, George Stephen and Donald Smith, must at times have wondered at their own daring. The railway was stretching to accomplish the passage of the Rockies. Money was none too plentiful, and the property of Canada—on which the Canadian Pacific Railway must ever depend—was the subject of many doubts. Most of the brightest young men left the Dominion year by year to settle in the States, and men freely said that Canada must before long beg for annexation by the union. The West was almost undeveloped. Winnipeg, the greatest city from its life as a Hudson Bay fort, and Vancouver was an outpost of civilization cut off from the world by the sea. The Canadian Pacific Railway counted as its chief asset, apart from its line, twelve million acres of land which no one then wanted.

That was twenty-six years ago. The tale of what has been done since then is the most remarkable romance of business that the modern world has known. The making of the new West, with its vast cities, its great wealth, and its overwhelming prosperity, could never have come as it has but for Stephen and Smith—now known to us all as Lord Mount Stephen and Lord Strathcona—and the pioneers behind them, in this band of pioneers Shaughnessy soon came to the front.

Ten years ago, when Van Horne, the president, retired to the summer home of chairman, the lad from Wisconsin was chosen in his place. The story of those ten years has been written in the history of the world. The advance of the past decade has been phenomenal; but if the plot of this fighting leader is realized they will be as nothing in constant touch with all sides of the newest West in the decade now before us.

In a quarter of a century $200,000,000 of new values has been created beyond the great lakes. For this Canada has to thank the railway makers. It is the fashion to depict Sir Thomas Shaughnessy as a stern and unbending personality. Who it was started the idea I do not know, but it is wrong. He is an intensely human Irishman, kindly, sympathetic, and a man of many friends. In business he is a relentless fighter, and those who come into collision with him find that he hits first and hits hard. Not long since, for example, a rival railway proposed to extend itself into what he considered his railway sphere of influence. He promptly laid down a new line almost parallel to the route proposed by his opposition. In the West one can ride mile after mile on one system and see the rails of the other a few hundred yards off.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

How has Sir Thomas Shaughnessy succeeded? How, above all, has he managed to retain the vigor, the strength, and the buoyancy which today display themselves in his bearing and incisive speech, despite his tremendous duties? First, he works on system. He is a ruler and, as every great railroad president must be, he is largely an autocrat. He is an untiring student of detail, and nothing is too small for his attention. He plans, but he leaves the execution to others, while keeping in constant touch with all sides of the work. He is master of his work, and is a strong believer in the theory that he works best who remembers that work is not all.

During office hours he is a machine, mastering, directing, controlling. When he leaves office he leaves business cares behind. "I never want to see my secretary when business hours are over," he declares. "The hustler man should be able to end his work in business hours, and should have evenings clear for home and family and friends."

It is not given to many men to see within a few years such evidence of success mark their work. As the railway king contemplates the 14,500 miles of track under his control, the main Canadian telegraph system in his hands, the lines of hotels under him, examines to any in the world, and the great communities created by the deliberate activities of his emigration agencies, he may well feel pride. The development of the Canadian Pacific Railway has brought not merely wealth, titles and great power to its creators. It has brought new empires to Greater Britain and prosperity to millions.

The Annoyance Of Flatulence

Many People Are Annoyed With Gas In The Stomach And Intestines

A TRIAL PACKAGE OF STUART'S
CHARCOAL LOZENGES
SENT FREE.

Flatulence is due to the presence of gas in the stomach and intestines, which often rolls about, producing burps, or rumbling noises in the intestinal system, and causes the victim of this trouble considerable embarrassment, when such noises occur while in company.

An analysis of gas from the stomach shows that it consists to a great extent of nitrogen and carbonic acid. It is therefore probable that some of the air which has been swallowed, although for the most part, the source of the gas in the abdominal processes of decomposition, is a rapid evolution of gas from the blood.

In cases of chronic gastric catarrh, the secretion of gastric juice in the stomach is deficient, and fermentation occurs with the evolution of gas. Swallowed air, however, plays a more important part in causing flatulence. Gas in the stomach and intestines is generally supposed, and while food is being digested, without carrying air into the stomach with it, fluids, especially those of a tenacious character, such as pea-soup, appear to carry down a great deal.

Flatulent distention of the intestines occurs when a large amount of gas or air, either swallowed or evolved from the decomposition of food, escapes through the pylorus. The enormous distention of the stomach with gas, and the rapidity with which such flatulence occurs, has long been a puzzle to medical men, and has led some to think that the only possible explanation thereof, is a rapid evolution of gas from the blood.

In the treatment of gas in the stomach and intestines, charcoal is considered by most physicians as the leading and most effective remedy. Carminatives, or medicines, such as peppermint, cardamon, sodium bicarb, etc., which expel the gas from the stomach in large volumes through the mouth, are resorted to by some people, but their use is disagreeable, and the frequent expulsion of gas through the mouth, most annoying, and after taking a remedy of this kind, one is compelled to remain out of company the rest of the day, on account of the continued belching of air.

STUART'S CHARCOAL LOZENGES go away with the necessity of undergoing the disagreeable experience of belching or expelling stomach gases through the mouth, by completely absorbing every particle of gas or swallowed air in the stomach, and also in the intestinal system, which prevents such an over-distention with accumulated air.

These wonderful lozenges should be used for all cases of flatulence and decomposition of food in the stomach, as well as for bad breath resulting from catarrh, decayed teeth, or stomach trouble.

GALE DEVASTATES FRANCANARIA ISLAND

Trainmen Killed and Injured In Collision

Fatal Coasting Accident—Dog Prevented
Professor's Escape—Mrs. Morsa
Leaves Atlanta.

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, Jan. 7.—A violent gale today devastated the entire island of Francanaria, destroying many houses and ruining bananas and other crops. The damage is heavy.

FRANCANARIA lies in the center of the group of the Canary Islands. It has an area of 140 miles. Las Palmas is the chief city of the island.

NORTHEAST, Pa., Jan. 7.—Two trainmen were killed and two others injured as the result of Lake Shore passenger train No. 23, the Western Express, crashing into a work train here today. All wires are down and information regarding the accident delayed in transmission. None of the passengers were injured.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—One girl was instantly killed and two of her companions, a girl and a boy, were seriously injured in a collision accident at Niagara Falls, N. Y., a school train here today. All wires are down and information regarding the accident delayed in transmission.

STUTTGART, Germany, Jan. 7.—Karl Hau, former professor of Roman law in George Washington University, Washington, who is under a sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Melton, in 1906, made a vain attempt to escape from the jail at Bruchsal, Baden, last night. A warden's dog upset the prisoner in the attempt.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Sarah Frances Norton, one of the first recipients of woman suffrage in America and widely known as one of the militant women of the country thirty or forty years ago, died tonight in this city. Mrs. Norton left pinned to the wall of her room, this note: "This is the end; friendlessness, dissolution and death. Let no one play the game of philanthropy with my body. She was 70 years old and was born in Ithaca, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The Rev. Dr. William Rogers Richards, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church in this city since 1892, died suddenly at his home today.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse left for New York today without paying a further visit to the Federal Prison here.

FED 1,400 HUNGRY MEN IN FIVE HOURS

N.W. Paymaster Farwell of the Tacoma
Fled Up Estrella's Captives.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, Jan. 7.—Via New Orleans, Jan. 7.—The preparedness of an American warship to cope with the unexpected has been shown here in many ways, but in particular by the establishment of "Camp Nihack" where Paymaster Neal Farwell of the Tacoma, is feeding 1,400 prisoners taken at the battle of Recreo and feeding them in a style undreamed of in the native land.

The camp was informally named by Farwell after his commander, but that was a second thought, after a big range of steel rails had been improvised, a shelter for the sailors provided, and nothing else was needed save the name and an American flag.

When it was suddenly decided by Thomas K. Morfat, that the increase of the town's population by 1400 of the dirtiest of human beings endangered the health of Americans, "El Blue" was chosen as a camp for them. The blur just in between the sea some eight or ten miles east of Bluefields and a shallow lagoon. There is embarrassment of housing and guarding the prisoners. They habitually sleep in the open and all of the Zelayans in christendom could not drive them from the smell of a savory pot.

The latter has to be provided, however, and the Americans in the five hours given them for preparation were equal to the task.

A rough sea was running, but tinned meats, bread, beans, onions, sea biscuit, and other commissary "gear" were safely stowed aboard the small boats and landed. Half a dozen obsolete railroad rails were secured, but the custom house officials who lent every possible aid and soon eight pots were simmering with rich, nutritious soup. Night had fallen when the first batch of prisoners, 300 strong, (or more properly waked, for they were nearly starved) arrived.

There was a fearful "viva American" as the wretched, tottering prisoners saw the sailors moving about with lanterns.

Farwell served 1200 rations soup that night or about four quarts to each prisoner. They would eat and then sleep for an hour or so, then beg for more. When daybreak came the outfit was for the most part enjoying the miracle of unlimited food. Some who had eaten until they could eat no more gazed with looks of envy and disappointment at their more fortunate comrades whose capacity had not yet been satisfied.

The prisoners, to appearances, at least, are somewhat resembled to Indians. It is said that they had just come from many weeks of starvation in the bush and appeared at their worst. A singularity noted among them was their desire for salt. They asked for it so often that Farwell now keeps an open box of it where any one can get it when he wants. The prisoners take it by the handful and walk about eating it like a lot of sheep.

When the ship with the Red Cross supplies arrived a few days ago the poor fishermen indeed opened their eyes. There was coffee for all, condensed milk, tea, (they had never heard of tea), meat, tinned goods of all sorts, beans, rice—a veritable dream of feasting.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 7.—Albert Bonbrook of Chicago, Ill., was tonight elected captain of the 1910 University of Michigan eleven to replace Captain Joy Miller.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Jan. 7.—Henry G. Brownell of this city has been selected as the next Rhodes scholar at Oxford from Vermont. He is a graduate of the University of Vermont and is now teaching in the Canton Christian College, China.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 7.—The fight over class officers and committees for the 1910 commencement at Harvard University between the so-called "gold coast" party and "the yard" was continued tonight in the election of class secretary, class committee and class day and photograph committees.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 7.—Albert Bonbrook of Chicago, Ill., was tonight elected captain of the 1910 University of Michigan eleven to replace Captain Joy Miller.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BIBLE SOCIETY

Raised $4,538 and Distributed 143,000
Copies of Bible—Interesting Addresses —Organization De'ferred.

Last night there was a large attendance at the ninety-first annual meeting of the New Brunswick auxiliary of the Canadian Bible Society, which was held in St. Andrew's church. Chief Justice Barker presided and the work of the society was reviewed in an interesting manner by the chairman, Chief Justice Barker, the secretary, G. A. Henderson, and the president, Hon. J. G. Forbes. Addresses were given by Rev. W. Camp, Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, Rev. Dr. Heine and his lordship Bishop Richardson.

Secretary Henderson reported that during the past year the receipts amounted to $4,538, and Judge Forbes announced that during the past year 143,000 copies of the Bible were circulated throughout Canada in 95 different languages.

An organ solo was given by Mr. Emery and solos were sung by Mrs. J. Henning, Mrs. F. C. McNeill and F. C. McKeen.

Don't Boil Clothes

It isn't necessary—it's expensive and it means doubling your work. You don't have to boil clothes when you use Taylor's Borax Soap, for it dissolves and removes the dirt in a jiffy—yet it never harms the daintiest textures, nor shrinks woollens.

TUB TALK No. 2

To wash colored muslins, linsens or lawns, first make a strong suds with Taylor's Borax Soap and luke warm water. Wet but one piece at a time. Unless the article is very much soiled, do not run the soap directly on the article. Rub gently with the hands until perfectly clean. Wring out the clothes, and rinse thoroughly in water of the same temperature as that previously used. Never boil colored clothes. A very little Taylor's Borax Soap added to boiled starch will prevent it from sticking, and makes the clothes iron smoother and easier.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 8, 1910.

HOISTING THE BRIDGE.

A hundred and twenty-five business men, representative of the industrial and mercantile interests of St. John, yesterday decided that in their opinion there is no pressing need for a harbor bridge. They expressed as well the belief that the information now at hand on the bridge proposal is insufficient to justify a plebiscite, and suggested that any movement looking to an expression at the polls, would at the present time be injudicious. Many of those who attended the Board of Trade meeting entertained the hope that before long the increasing trade at St. John will render the construction of a bridge imperative, but until such time comes the city will be more advantageously employed in endeavoring to improve its streets and giving proper attention to other works of greater immediate importance.

This is entirely along the line advocated by the Star, and clearly shows that while there is little strong feeling in the city against the bridge project, the general opinion is that this matter can afford to wait. Meanwhile the Board of Trade endorses the action of the Board of Public Works in declaring for the adoption of a plan whereby permanent pavements may be gradually constructed. Those who urged caution at yesterday's meeting offered certain suggestions which the aldermen will do well to consider. Among the points given prominence was that relating to the renewal of weakened water mains. This work might be carried on previous to laying the pavements in order to avoid costly repairs later. But indeed before any definite plan is adopted the whole scheme will have to be carefully considered and the undertaking developed systematically.

THE KING DURING AN ELECTION.

During the course of a general election the campaign King Edward is a very busy man. It is true that the King is not an active participant, he does not belong to any party, but he is above parties, yet when a parliament is dissolved His Majesty is personally affected in several ways. Between the dissolution of a parliament and the election of a new one the King holds no official functions of any sort, he receives no visits from any ministers of the crown, excepting when personally summons such ministers on occasions of great importance. The King is not deprived of his ministers by the dissolution, for the government of course continues in power until the result of the election is known. Yet as the ministers derive all their authority from parliament they cease to advise His Majesty for the time being the moment parliament is dissolved. During such a campaign as the present one, no criminal is relieved, for respites are only granted by the King on the advice of the Home Secretary, and the Home Secretary is not in touch with the crown during a general election. Nor are any crown appointments made at such a time. Indeed the Imperial household itself is to some extent affected, for there are numerous important positions in it which are filled on the recommendation of the Prime Minister, and although these officers continue to occupy their offices there are many details in connection with their duties in the household which are at ordinary times attended to without reference to the King but which during the progress of a general election have to be referred to His Majesty. This greatly increases the amount of correspondence and other work which King Edward has to attend to, and during the course of an election His Majesty has to be assisted by several secretaries, King Edward, while parliament is in session, receives every night from the Prime Minister a letter informing His Majesty of the progress of business and all important matters engaging the attention of ministers of the crown. When parliament is dissolved no further communication from the ministers is received. The results of election contests are wired to the King, but no information concerning the campaign comes to him from any of his own advisers.

MORSE.

Class. W. Morse has gone to Atlanta to begin his sentence of fifteen years for violating the banking laws. Mr. Morse has expressed himself quite emphatically with regard to his sentence and the manner of his trial. He believes he is a much wronged individual and that he is being made a victim of the enmity of the government, which under popular pressure was forced to find a victim somewhere. It is true as Mr. Morse says, that on the technical charge of violating the banking laws he has been rather severely punished, but Mr. Morse is very ready to forget those many offenses upon which the charge made against him was based. He has been convicted of most flagrant deception of clients and of long continued dishonesty in his administration of trusts over which he had control. It is not a rule in law that the return of stolen goods relieves a criminal from punishment, yet Mr. Morse is inclined to the belief that because he paid his debts he should be set free. In law he has no defense, there is not a loophole by which he can escape, for his trial was fair and there was overwhelming evidence of his guilt. His is one of the few cases in which a man high in financial affairs in the United States has been sentenced for his crimes and has failed to secure his freedom on some technicality. There will, however, be a reaction in favor of Morse. The disposition is not to punish any man too severely if he shows repentance, and although the prisoner in the present case is still inclined to amuse at the law, it is believed that if he were once again established in business he would conduct his affairs in a more honorable manner. Under this impression petitions are being circulated in the Eastern States praying for his release. It is altogether probable that he will be discharged from jail long before the expiration of his fifteen years' sentence.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

TALKED TO DEATH.

I called to see a sick man once, and his wife met me at the door and in a loud boisterous voice asked me in. In answer to my inquiry about her husband's condition, she told me in the same high pitched tones that he would never be any better, he could not get well, I wondered at the woman's talking so loudly, since I gave it no more thought. What was my surprise to find out that the sick man had heard every word, and that on an average he heard his wife telling a dozen times a day every caller that he could not live.

"I asked, when I could get a chance, that disease her husband was suffering from. 'The doctors can't tell what it is. They don't seem to know. One doctor told me he would get better if I gave him all the encouragement I could. I don't know what he meant for I am sure I tell him all the time. I want him to get well, sickness is no expense.'"

Fortunately (since his wife lived on and had her second husband) the man died, and my diagnosis of his disease was "Talked to Death."

More persons than we know are talked to death. Places, as well as persons, are talked to death.

St. John has been injured by pessimistic tongues. A sordid, disgruntled newspaper writer in a city, paralyze a town, and kill a village, by preaching blue ruin.

When a man thinks he is going to die and is told by his friends "that he cannot live long," there is almost sure to be a funeral in that man's house.

Tell your neighbors that the town is going to ruin, nothing doing and the town will prosper. Our city is growing in importance each year. It will grow and prosper until more than you can handle. It, that it will pay our young men to stay in their native city and work for its prosperity and that of their own souls in the young men who give their strength to the building up of the city are making a good investment.

Let pulpit and press and every father and mother teach patriotism and love of home and we will dwell in no "mean city."

ST. JOHN IS GOING AHEAD.

The Sun and Star want to help it grow.

Do you?

Will you lend a hand for a boost?

We want a slogan, a phrase of progress, a battlecry — call it what you will.

Something that will boil the gospel of go-ahead down to half a dozen words in a sentence that will hit home like a hammer blow.

Something that the papers can use for a headline or business man on a letter head.

If you can think of a good slogan, send it in.

The Sun and Star will pay $10 for the best slogan, and $5 for the next best.

Scores have already been received — all of them good. Send more.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

This is a preachment on the value of the appeal. I was most interested the other day to hear of a woman in St. Louis who by a simple, earnest appeal to a burglar, caused him to return the money and jewelry he had stolen. She waked up one night and saw a burglar rummaging in her bureau drawer, and instead of screaming for help she appealed to him. "You are a burglar, aren't you?" she asked. "I am not going to take you to task for that. My husband is an invalid and I'm trying to support this little family. I know you need the money or you wouldn't be here, but I probably need it more than you. You see these children are dependent on me, a woman. You are a man. It is for you to decide who needs the money most. And the burglar decided. He showed that the man in him that she appealed to did exist, by tossing her husband's pocket book on to the foot of the bed, alluring the jewelry onto the dresser and disappearing. Most people are better than we think them. I do not think many people realize to the full the power of an appeal.

FRANK E. PORTER, PRESIDENT OF THE DRUGGIST, Union and St. Patrick Sts.

It is for you to decide who needs the money most. And the burglar decided. He showed that the man in him that she appealed to did exist, by tossing her husband's pocket book on to the foot of the bed, alluring the jewelry onto the dresser and disappearing. Most people are better than we think them. I do not think many people realize to the full the power of an appeal. I believe there is a great deal of goodness and kindness and desire to help under the surface in the average person that a well put appeal will bring out. Of course, I do not mean that many of us are apt to meet burglars, but we are apt to sometimes be in positions where an appeal to someone's goodness and kindness of heart would be the very best way to cut the Gordian knot of our difficulties, if we only had sufficient trust in human nature to realize it. Most people like to be appealed to. An appeal puts him to whom it is made on a pedestal of superiority of some kind or other, and everyone likes that. That always touched his vanity and used to be sent on difficult assignments to outlandish places and could not find my way I discovered that far better than to ask questions about my destination was to make a frank appeal to some friendly looking policeman, throwing myself wholly on his mercy. Appeals sometimes even create the qualities they appeal to. When you had to go shopping alone and simply didn't know whether the garment you were trying on looked well on you or not, did you ever try appealing to the saleslady and asking her to cease being a saleslady for a few moments and really tell you frankly whether you looked a fright or not? It seldom fails, I assure you. Appeals sometimes even create the qualities they appeal to. For instance, an appeal from a woman will sometimes make a coward into a brave man. An appeal is like mercy, in that — "It is twice blessed. It blesses him that gives and him that takes." It blesses him that gives and his goodness and good intentions this would be a happier place. Next time you get into some difficulty, instead of trying to find your way out by your own wit or strength or ingenuity, why not try the possibilities of an appeal to someone. I wouldn't wonder if it paid.

The Lighter Side of Life

STICK TO THE FARM.

"Stick to the farm," says the President of the wide-eyed farmer boy. Then he lies him back to his White House home, with his air of rustic joy.

"Stick to the farm," says the railroad man. Then he lies him back on the double to his rustic private car.

"Stick to the farm," says the clergyman. To the youth on the worm ground he says, "Stick to the farm." Then he lies him back to the ground to call to a city church.

"Stick to the farm," says the doctor. To those who would break the rut, then lies him where the appendix crows. In bountiful crops to cut.

HIS INTRODUCTION.

"A hundred years ago we were satisfied to travel ten miles an hour." "Fifteen years ago we thought fifteen miles an hour was going some."

"Ten years ago sixty miles an hour was considered the limit speed." "Now we are hitting up nearly a hundred miles an hour."

"And it won't be long before one hundred and twenty miles an hour is slow."

"Well, what are you trying to get me to look over to you the necessity of accident insurance, as I represent."

But the other man was walking away at the rate of six miles an hour.

ERROR OF THE TYPES.

The editor wrote that the speaker's address was "notable," but the printer spaced it wrong and it read "not able." — Kansas City Star.

REASON WHY.

"I think I have appendicitis." "Nonsense, you haven't money enough for that!"

APPRECIATED TOO LATE

"She has a good husband," said Mrs. Babbleton. "But she got a divorce from him." "Yes, she didn't know what a good husband he was till she saw how generously he behaved about the alimony."

HIS SMILE CAME OFF.

In a Pennsylvania town, where the Friends abound, a prim old Quaker spinster recently attended the marriage of her grand-nephew, a young person who had in the course of his twenty-one years received much discipline at her hands.

The old lady was at her best on this festive occasion, and, at a pause in the wedding breakfast, the happy bridegroom looked over at her with a beaming smile.

"Well, why they never married, Aunt Patience?" he said, teasingly. "That is soon-to-be," said the old Quakeress, calmly. "It was because I was not as easily pleased as thy wife was."

It doesn't take a man long to become used to making a fool of himself.

When the housewife is preparing home made dishes with cold meat which has been left over, she tries to give a new relish to the dish by adding various kinds of spices and flavorings. How frequently the result is a failure! Just a little too much pepper and the dish is too hot, or a slight error in the mixing and one particular flavour drowns all the others.

The wise home-cook has recently made up her mind that the ideal way of flavouring all made-up dishes, soups, etc., is to have a bottle of the Dole H. P. Sauce at hand, for the express purpose of enriching soups and gravies.

In each bottle there is a delicious blending of the choicest Oriental fruits and spices, and pure malt vinegar, the not beyond the mark to say that a bottle of H. P. is a crust in itself. Just a spoonful added—that's all!—and the success of the dish is assured. What trouble it saves! No wonder the best housewives always keep a bottle of H. P. Sauce handy, it is useful in so many ways.

Just dip the soup, or with hot or cold meat, fish, or even bread and cheese. It is delicious and gives quite a new enjoyment to the meal.

1,000 manufacturers' sample pieces of ladies' and children's white-wear will be on sale at P. W. Daniel & Co.'s tonight and Monday. The saving on every garment is from twenty-five to thirty-three per cent. See special advertisement on page five.

A COLUMN FOR WOMEN

Household Hints

No matter how full may be the skirts or draperies that are coming, they must fall limp and as straight as possible. Therefore the lines of the natural figure must be kept in as close confinement as for the past two or three seasons. There are many novelties among the new foulards. One is so pretty as to resemble jersey silk, and is shown in small figured effects. Another is diagonal in appearance, while a third shows the peking stripe, overfaded in many designs. To fit present fashions, the neck of the petticoat must be perfectly fitted, with little or no fullness at the back. It should fit closely to below the hips, and then gradually flare out to considerable fullness at the hem or bottom of its flounce.

Raisins will make a delightful beverage. Take one pound, seeded, two pounds loaf sugar, three lemons and two gallons of boiling water. Cut the thin yellow peel from the lemon, cover it with boiling water and when the water has cooled add the juice of the lemons and the raisins and sugar. After it has stood for several days strain through a jelly bag and bottle. It is then ready for use.

A receipt for sugar cookies is as follows. Four even teaspoons of flour, one even teaspoonful of soda, two even teaspoonsful of cream of tartar, one heaping coffee-cupful of butter, two teaspoonsful of sugar and milk enough to make pastry. Mix the flour, soda, cream of tartar and butter and rub together. Put in the sugar, break in two eggs, add a little vanilla and the milk. Roll out and bake.

Beeswax and turpentine is a capital polish for furniture which is not French polished. To make it spread half an ounce of beeswax very fine and add to it a quarter of a pint of spirits of turpentine. Stir well and put aside until the next day. Then stir again and let it stand for another day, when it will be ready for use. Never melt beeswax and turpentine over a hot fire, as it is highly inflammable.

Crotonas for soup are most easily made by cutting stale bread about half an inch thick, dipping it thickly on both sides, cutting in half inch squares, and baking in the oven until brown.

In cooking broilers all the juice is saved and much of the flavor otherwise lost is retained by completely brushing over the fowl with olive oil before submitting it to the flames.

To keep an iron sink in good condition, scrub it once or twice a week with soap and kerosene. Every night put a little chloride of lime over the strainer, and pour through it a kettle of boiling water.

Paradise cement is ordinary fudge made with more than the usual amount of several kinds of nuts, ground very fine and the white of an egg beaten light and incorporated after the mass has been stirred to a cream.

There is nothing better for cleaning copper utensils than hot vinegar, salt and water. Take a cupful of warm vinegar, add a quarter of a cupful of hot water and a tablespoonful of salt. Rub on hard with a flannel rag.

Worn brooms or whisks may be dipped in hot water and the uneven edges trimmed with shears, and then dipped in cold water and all water shaken out. This makes the straws harder and the trimming makes the brush almost as good as new.

LADIES' HOUSE COULDER

Paris Pattern No. 314. All Seams Allowed. The house gown is the one thing a woman cannot get along without, and to be of desirable design it should be comfortable first of all, then pretty and becoming, also not of difficult construction, all of which requirements the garment pictured fills to perfection.

The collar neck is a particularly pleasing feature, and the neat wrist-length sleeves will be appreciated. The skirt has pretty flairs, but the entire effect is certain to attract. In the large view the gown is made of gray and scarlet flannel with the entire hands of plain scarlet silk. Other materials suitable for its construction are flannel, cashmere, etc.

The pattern is cut in four sizes, from 32 to 44 inches bust measure. For 36 bust the gown requires 7 1/2 yards of material 36 inches wide, with as in the front view 17 1/2 yards of contrasting material 20 inches wide.

Price of Pattern, 10 cents.

Synopsis of Canadian North West Land Regulations.

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on an arm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader is permitted to stand on a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Price $200 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres each year.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may take a purchased hom

COUNT WITTE AGAIN SNUBBED BY EMPEROR

Street, Named in His Honor, Has been Changed—Financial Career for Him.

ST. PETERSBURG, Saturday, Dec. 25.—It is officially announced that the Emperor has cancelled the name of Witte street, recently given to one of the important avenues by the City Council, and has ordered it to be renamed the "Street of Peter the Great." This public mark of imperial disfavour has convinced the friends of Count Witte that there is no chance of his playing an important role in public life under present conditions. He will probably accept the post of president of the council or a similar position to be formed by the consolidation of the Russo-Chinese and Northern Banks, two important financial institutions.

ARCHIBALD CAPSON.

The death of an old and highly respected citizen of the North End took place yesterday when Archibald Capson succumbed to paralysis from which he has been suffering for several years. The deceased was a native of Ireland and came to St. John when about twenty years of age. In his earlier years he followed the trade of a ship carpenter and builder. He is survived by four sons and two daughters. They are: Samuel, George, Archibald and William Capson; Mrs. George Titus, Mrs. Jane Cummings, of this city; Mrs. Charles Tipper and Mrs. Burke, of Boston. There are also a large number of grandchildren. The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, 109 Chesley street.

LEVEL CROSSING HAS ONE MORE VICTIM

Tender of $5.00 for Carfare Did Not Justify Assault

Disastrous Fire at North Bay—Gasoline Tank Blew Up—$100 Fine for Drunken Engineer.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 8.—Thomas Gallagher, conductor on a Dundas street car, and Joseph Butler, the motorman, were each fined $5 and costs yesterday for committing assault upon a passenger, Frank McCarron, who raised their ire by tendering a $5 bill for fare.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Jan. 8.—Miss Marion Zufelt, aged about 30 years, died at Woodstock Hospital yesterday morning, making the second death resulting from a level crossing accident on the C. P. R. at Woodstock. A blaze at North Bay yesterday destroyed buildings on Oak street, causing a loss of twenty-two thousand dollars. The buildings were owned by A. G. Browning, Mrs. V. Devlin and John Blacconett. The stores burned included J. J. Owen and Company, tailors; A. Jackson, confectionery and fruits; Angus and Co., tobaccos and fancy goods; P. Adams, clothing; Frank Phil, fruits and tobacco, and two restaurants. Mr. Angus' son Robert, in the back part of the store was covered with debris when the gasoline tank exploded, and was dragged out unconscious.

Michael McEldine, a C. P. R. locomotive engineer, pleaded guilty before the police magistrate at Perth to being intoxicated while on duty in charge of his train, and was fined $100 and costs or six months' imprisonment.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 8.—Wm. Dobson, late cashier for the Canadian Express Company, and Paul Whittier, his accomplice in the $14,000 Express Company robbery here in November last, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Praeger and were remanded for sentence.

About twenty ladies and gentlemen assembled at the residence of Mr. F. St. Murray, King street east, last evening and after enjoying a few hours socially, presented Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Pearce, who leave today for London, Ont., with a handsome cut glass pitcher. Mr. Pearce made a fitting reply in which he expressed regret at leaving the city, Mr. and Mrs. Pearce have been active workers in the St. B. Pearce Church during their stay here. Mr. Pearce has been promoted to the head office of the Canadian Express Co. at London, Ont. The many friends he has made here, while congratulating him on his advancement, regret his departure from the city.

THE PEERS PUT UP A MAGNIFICENT FIGHT

All the greater therefore is the indignation at the apparently organized attempts to break up every meeting addressed by the peers. The Times says: "It is not a genuine audience that spontaneously moves and whistles down a speaker or breaks up a meeting. The thing is got up and planned, if not paid for, by somebody. The same gangs of men are observed at different meetings in different constituencies night after night."

Mr. Lansdowne said quietly last night, there has never been an election in which the methods have been resorted to. He especially indicated as a stimulating cause of this disorder the peers' meetings in general by men imported into the constituency from outside and contrasted strangely with the entire absence of disorder at Radical meetings. If persisted in grave disturbances are inevitable, for an ugly temper is being engendered. Meanwhile a new law imposes a fine of £5 or a month's imprisonment for this very act of breaking up meetings or inciting thereto.

Today's official trade returns for 1909 add highly combustible fuel to the flames. Radical journals lump together the increases in imports, exports and re-exports, and triumphantly point to the total increase of forty-four million sterling as a great trade boom. Says the Daily Chronicle: "The death blow to tariff reform is struck in the biggest year British trade ever saw since its foundation." The Tariff Reform League issues a leaflet reading: "Workmen! Look at this! See why you are unemployed. Last year we exported three hundred and seventy-eight million pounds worth of goods and imported six hundred and twenty-four million pounds worth. One hundred and forty-seven million of these imports were manufactured articles. The foreigners got your jobs. Support tariff reform and work for British workers. A group of three hundred and forty-three influential 'Toronto'ians, including Senator Ross, Hon. Hanna, Mayor Geary, Col. Denison and Professor Mavor send a cable to Balfour urging the desirability of the presence of Richard Jebb in British parliament. Jebb and Boynton, both Unionists, are fighting for a safe Unionist seat in East Marylebone which Lord Robert Cecil formerly presented. If both persist they will sit in a Radical. This Canadian intervention reads curiously in the light of the fact that some days ago Sir Alexander Acland Hood, Unionist whip, approved Boynton, not Jebb's, candidature on the ground that Boynton was chosen by the only accredited long-established local Unionist Association. Balfour, writing Boynton yesterday, also warmly wished him success as the selected representative of the local organization.

WOMAN IN A TAXICAB REPLACES HIGHWAYMAN

Italian He'd Up in Chicago Street by a Woman Who Seemed to Know Her Business.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The mounted highwayman of other days has given way to the woman robber in a taxicab. She descended on Tony Loaso last night as he was walking under the Rock Island railroad viaduct as 21st street, took his money and sped away. The woman was walking when she approached him, said Lenzo, who is a barber. As he drew near she cried out as if in fear and then fell as if fainting. Lenzo gallantly stepped forward and stooped down to give assistance. As he did so he found himself face to face with a revolver. The woman laughed and arose, bidding Lenzo to stand still. He did so without effort. She added that it was timely that he had over his money. "Now beat it down the street," she said when she had cleaned out all I had, taking my purse and watch. I beat it all right, said Lenzo, not looking back until I had gone half a block. Then I stood and watched her. She entered a waiting taxicab and disappeared.

REVENUE OF CANADA SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Total for December Was $8,733,571, an Increase of $1,550,216 Over the Same Month in 1908.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 7.—The financial statement of the Dominion for the month of December and nine months of the fiscal year again tells the story of rapidly growing revenues.

The total revenue for December was $8,733,571, an increase of $1,550,216, or over twenty per cent. compared with December of 1908.

The increase in customs revenue has been $351,421. The expenditure on the other hand shows for the nine months a decrease of $2,034,482 on the consolidated fund account, and of $2,290,206 on capital account.

During December the net debt of the Dominion decreased by $890,658 and now stands at $22,234,079.

Rumors of new industries have been very plentiful of late and one of the most recent is to the effect that an English syndicate interested in the manufacture of cement has been negotiating for a site for a cement making plant in the near vicinity of St. John.

STEWART AND CUTLER IN CONFERENCE HERE

Second Attempt to Get Tobique Dam Bill Through—To Erect Big Mill.

J. E. Stewart of Andover was in the city yesterday to confer with George Cutler, of St. John, on the bill for a second attempt to get through the provincial house the bill for the Tobique Dam and Milling Company which was turned down at the last session.

Changes will be made in the requisites of the company which will make it assume a favorable aspect in the eyes of the government. The chief change will be that as to the fishway in the dam which it is proposed to erect across the St. John river at a point half a mile above that at which the Tobique joins the main stream.

Up to the Tobique the company proposes to build a sawing plant which will cost over a million dollars, and will cover a space ten acres in extent. A spur railway is to be built which will be elevated as it runs into the mill so that everything can be dumped.

Stewart and Cutler, who are very largely interested in the scheme, have several hundred square miles of timber in the Tobique section. Mr. Cutler has left for New York yesterday and Mr. Stewart went to Andover last evening.

SPICY EVIDENCE IN BAWDY HOUSE CASE

Ethel Biggar Tells of Calls Made by Young Men at Hotel—Charge Withdrawn.

MONCTON, N.B., Jan. 7.—The case against David Isner, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, charged with keeping a bawdy house, was before Magistrate Kay in the Police Court today, and some spicy evidence was given by the girl inmates of the house.

After Chief Rideout had given evidence, Ethel Biggar, who said she was a boarder at the Commercial, was called, and her testimony was taken behind closed doors, and the witness gave the names of other girls, she saw about the house, and said young men were in the habit of coming to the house every evening.

Monday's Big Carnival at the Victoria bids fair to be the most successful of the kind ever held in the rink. Thirty dollars in gold prizes. Wednesday night next the LaTour sports will find all the fast local skaters on the ice.

On Wednesday night the La Tour Rowing Club will hold skating races at the Victoria rink, which should be among the best of the season. All the flyers of the city are expected to be entered, and some of the entries have already been headed in to Manager Fred Tutts. The entries will be published Monday.

EDUCATIONAL CLASSES TO OPEN ON TUESDAY

Regular Monthly Meeting of the King's Daughters Held

The regular monthly meeting of the King's Daughters was held yesterday afternoon in the guild, the president, Mrs. Geo. A. Henderson, presiding. After the usual opening exercises, reports were heard from the different committees.

A vote of thanks was also passed, thanking the St. John public for so generously responding to the appeal through the press, to fill a barrel with clothing to give to the poor.

The quarterly meeting of the second term of the girls' educational classes will begin on Tuesday evening next at the guild. Two capable licensed teachers will attend on each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7.30 until 8.30 o'clock.

On Monday evening next at 7.30 o'clock the quarterly meeting of the reports for the quarter will be held at the guild, and other important business will be transacted. A large attendance is desired.

PINCHOT GETS HIS WALKING TICKET

Chief Forester is Dismissed—Political Situation at Washington Tense.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Gifford Pinchot, chief forester and intimate friend of Theodore Roosevelt, was dismissed from the service of the United States tonight by President Taft for insubordination. Associate Forester Overton W. Price and Assistant Law Officer Alexander C. Shaw, Pinchot's immediate assistants in the forestry bureau, followed their chief out of the government's employ.

Thoroughly indignant over the action of Mr. Pinchot in inducing Senator Dolliver of Iowa to read a letter from him in the Senate yesterday, President Taft would listen to no advice today that the forester's violation of executive orders be overlooked, pending the inquiry soon to be undertaken by Congress.

The president tried to avoid the threatened war as long as he could, but declared today that patience had ceased to be a virtue. He picked up the gauge of battle thrown down by Mr. Pinchot by the hand of Senator Dolliver in the senate and with the administration supporters, is ready for the fray which is certain to ensue.

BRITAIN TAKES HAND IN ROW

Must be No Fighting in Graytown—Gen. Diaz Drowned on Way to Arraigo Peace Post.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—The majority of houses in Graytown being owned by British subjects, there must be no fighting within that town. If any does take place there, I shall consider myself at liberty to land a strong armed party and guns to stop it.

It is said at the State Department that the British commander is well within his rights in prohibiting fighting within the city of Graytown.

BLUEFIELDS, Jan. 7.—General Pedro Andres Fornas Diaz, who started out yesterday for Managua in order to arrest for peace with Premier Madriz, met with a tragic end last night on Graytown bar. The canoe in which he was attempting to make a landing was caught by a gigantic wave and broke amidships, and Diaz disappeared from view in the turbulent sea.

The voyage which ended the life of General Diaz was in keeping with his career. He was a personal friend of President Madriz, and was of the belief that he could persuade him to give way to General Estrada as head of the Republic.

UNION BLEND TEA the Tea that satisfies

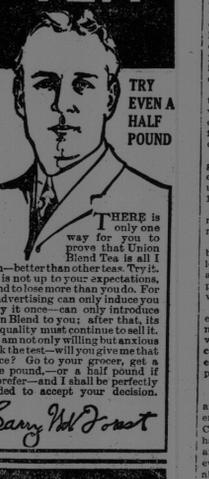

THE best customers I have are people who simply cannot learn to like ordinary tea—they find in Union Blend a richness and delicacy coupled with a strength that other teas do not even approach.

They gladly pay the price—forty cents a pound—because they realize it is tea economy. It is economy, because it goes half as far again as ordinary tea; indeed, being unaccustomed to its strength, most people make it too strong at first. Then, they learn that a little Union Blend makes more tea and makes it far better than can be made from a good deal of the common kind.

Go to your grocer and get a pound packet of Union Blend—be sure my picture is on the end—and try it for yourself. One single pound carries conviction.

40c. There is only one way for you to prove that Union Blend Tea is all I claim—better than other teas. Try it. If it is not up to your expectations, I stand to lose more than you do. For try advertising can only induce you to try it once—can only introduce Union Blend to you; after that, its own quality must continue to sell. Yet I am not only willing but anxious to risk the test—will you give me the chance? Go to your grocer, get a single pound—or a half pound if you prefer—and I shall be perfectly satisfied to accept your decision.

Union Blend one pound packets—the pound packets only—contain coupons that are worth money to you. But this is only an advertisement—the tea itself is worth the price, fully.

COSTS TO BE MAYOR IN HUB

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 7.—The political thermometer in the municipal contest neared white heat today, with all other issues except that of personal honesty thrown aside. Several politicians who have felt the sting of the political whip have sought the courts in an effort to obtain writs for alleged criminal libel.

The local papers contain little else than politics, both in the news and advertising columns, and the newspaper composing rooms have been ransacked for the largest display type in the cases. With every public automobile engaged and several hundred motor cars engaged, it is expected that a vote well up to 90 per cent of the registration of 115,000 will be polled.

Mr. Fitzgerald spoke at 24 rallies to-night while Mr. Storrow attended more than a dozen meetings. Mayor George A. Hibbard has not been quite so active, but he nevertheless made a round of the wards tonight and while his voice was only a whisper, his supporters gave him a hearty welcome.

Mr. Storrow and Mr. Fitzgerald have each charged that the other was using money to further his own interests, while Mr. Fitzgerald went outside the city today and alleged that his opponent had purchased the support of papers in New York.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Jan. 7.—The affinity case so called which has been engaging the attention of the Supreme Court here for the past few days, and has occasioned much interest, came to an end shortly before six o'clock this evening when the jury after being out about an hour brought a unanimous verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

POLICE CATCH THE BURROWER

NEW YORK, N.Y., Jan. 7.—Isaac Pinkelstein, the burrower of Ludlow street, was found trapped in his tunnel to-night like a rabbit in his warren. Workmen had been digging thirty-six hours to find him.

Nothing more miserably futile was ever seen in New York. There he lay under the middle of the street, a crushed, mummy semblance of a man, his face in the dirt, his two hands stretched out before him, pointed toward the unattainable millions in the vaults of the East Side branch of the Fourteenth Street Bank, and the diamonds in the window of the jewelry shop next door.

PILES CURED AT HOME

by New Absorption Method. If you suffer from bleeding, itching, blind or protruding Piles, send me your address, and I will tell you how to cure yourself at home by the absorption treatment; and will also send some of this home treatment free for trial, with references from your own locality if requested. Immediate relief and permanent cure assured. Send no money, but tell others of this offer. Write to-day to Mrs. M. Summers, Box 887 Windsor, Ont.

FALSE RUMOR OF MORGAN'S DEATH

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A rumor that J. P. Morgan was dying, threw Wall street into wild confusion today, until it could be run down. The doors of the Morgan office were closed for an hour during the funeral of E. H. Robinson, a member of the firm of Drexel and Company, of Philadelphia, and until an official explanation was forthcoming, there was increasing excitement and a sharp selling movement.

GUARDING SACRED MONKEYS.

Hindu Fakir Who Lives in Comfort on a Hilltop With His Charges. In the very top of Jakkoo, the hill that rises above Simla, there lives a solitary Hindu fakir, an old man clothed in yellow, with saffron plastered cheeks and caste marks on his forehead. He's the guardian priest of the sacred monkeys.

Like the inhabitants of ancient Egypt, who worshipped cats and crocodiles, the Hindus of today hold many animals in superstitious reverence. Indeed, the Hindus of today is even more fanatical than formerly, and resents more passionately the smallest injury or insult offered to the creatures he worships. Among this hierarchy of animals the monkey holds a place of honor second only to the cow; for in the Ramayana, the sacred epics of the Hindus, it is written how Hanuman, the monkey god, allied himself with Vishnu the Preserver, helping him to overcome his enemies and recover his lost wife Sita. So the monkey, especially the com-

SEVEN ORDINARY DRUNKS IN THE POLICE COURTS

Including Charles Diggs Who Besides Being Full Had a Bottle Left Over.

"We are seven" was the remark made in the police court this morning when that many prisoners took their seats on the bench. They were strangers, with the exception of Charles Diggs, and all were drunks.

Diggs pleaded not guilty to drunkenness, and Policeman McFarlane gave evidence that Diggs was so drunk that he had to be carried from Charlotte street to the police station, and in addition to the liquor he had consumed he had a bottle full in his pocket. He was remanded to jail.

Joseph McKinnon was charged with Company's sloop on North Wharf. The prisoner said he arrived in the city about three weeks ago from England and was employed by the coal company and thought he had a right to remain near his work. He was remanded to jail for two months in default of paying a fine of eight dollars.

The others charged with drunkenness were fined the usual amount.

WILL GIVE PROPOSED WHARF SALE A REST

Board of Trade Had Not Time to Discuss It Yesterday and Will Likely Defer Action Until Later.

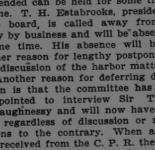

It is not likely that the Board of Trade will meet to consider the matter of the proposed sale of the city's wharves on West Side to the Canadian Pacific Railway for some time. Yesterday's meeting was for the purpose of discussing three matters of great importance to the business section of the community—permanent streets, the harbor bridge and the proposed sale of the West Side wharves. Discussion of the first two matters took up almost three hours and the lateness of the hour when the third subject was proposed caused a motion to adjourn to be made.

The members of the board by their eagerness to leave seemed to show that they had not the same interest in the question of the sale of the wharves as they had in the other matters.

Yesterday's meeting of the board was one of the largest that has been held for some time, one hundred and seventy-five being present. It is not thought likely that a meeting so well attended can be held for some time to come. T. H. Estabrook, president of the board, is called away from the city by business and will be absent for some time. His absence will be another reason for lengthy postponement of discussion of the harbor matter.

Another reason for deferring discussion is that the committee has been appointed to interview Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and will now have to do so regardless of discussion or resolutions to the contrary. When a reply is received from the C. P. R. the board will have every opportunity to discuss the proposition before the city is committed definitely to any bargain.

FAIRVILLE MAN A SUCCESSFUL INVENTOR

Frank Seelye, Now of Yonkers, Has a New Trolley Car Guard to His Credit—Tests Satisfactory.

A former Fairville man has gained distinction in New York by an invention which lessens the number of accidents on trolley cars. Frank Seelye is the successful person, and his patent in the invention is C. G. Fowler of Yonkers, N. Y., who was once a mechanic in this city.

Mr. Seelye's device is an automatic wheel guard. A test of the guard was made in New York before a number of city officials. In the test car ran at a speed of four, eight, fifteen and twenty miles an hour. A dummy was placed on the track and spiked up. When released it was not in the least damaged. The guard takes the place of the fender and rests behind the wheels under the front platform. The guard drops horizontally, instead of vertically, as fenders do.

It is quite probable that the city will adopt Mr. Seelye's appliance. His friends in St. John will wish him every success with his invention.

GATTLE SHIPMENTS ARE LESS THAN LAST YEAR

December Figures Only Half of Last Year's—Removal of Embargo the Chief Cause.

Shipments of Canadian cattle from St. John since the commencement of the winter port season has shown a distinct falling off. The steamers are carrying only a small number compared with other seasons. Not one head of American cattle has passed through this port, largely due to the fact that the embargo which was in force last year on several states in the union has been removed. During December the shipments of cattle totalled 2,523. Steamship agents look for heavier shipments during the present month.

The shipments by steamers are as follows:

Dec. 3—Salacia, Glasgow via Liverpool.....	661
Dec. 8—Montrose, London.....	411
Dec. 8—Cassandra, Glasgow.....	175
Dec. 10—Monmouth, Bristol via Liverpool.....	548
Dec. 16—Lakonia, Glasgow.....	15
Dec. 22—Loke, Michigan, London.....	405
Dec. 26—Athenia, Glasgow.....	696

Total for December..... 2,933

The Manchester Mariner, which sailed on New Year's Day, took 99 head of cattle. Eight vessels in December, 1908, took away 5,448. The shipments for December, 1907, were 2,288. The total shipments during the 1908-1909 season were 22,923.

The seventy-third annual report of the council of the A. F. M. of London has been received. Lt. Col. Sturges of this city has placed New Brunswick in the lead among the agencies of the union. He sent in for the second year in succession the remarkable return of over one hundred and thirty subscribers. The council returns its thanks to the to all the agencies for their co-operation.

The funeral of the late Francis Carvill was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of his brother George Carvill, Esplanade street. The remains were taken to the Cathedral, where Rev. M. O'Brien read the burial service. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

Mr. Justice McEwen in Chambers this morning in the matter of the winding up of the Francis Kerr Company, Limited, appointed Mr. E. N. Herrington permanent liquidator, some time ago Mr. Herrington was appointed provisional liquidator by the court. J. K. Kelley appeared for the company and Barnhill, Ewing and Sanford for creditors.
