

MEXICAN "REBELS" WILL RESTORE ORDER IN NORTH

United States Officials Believe Responsible Government Near at Hand.

HUERTA'S SOLDIERS ARE FLYING FOR THEIR LIVES

Refugees from Chihuahua Near Texas Line After Five Days of Travel in Desert on Short Rations.

Mexico City, Dec. 4.—Col. Exequiel Bardsos, federal officer, who was left for dead with a bullet through his chest after facing a firing squad of rebels at Torreon, arrived in the capital today. He relates that he was captured by General Villa when the federal troops commanded by General Alvarez were wiped out just before the evacuation of Torreon.

Col. Bardsos is the only one to escape death of the 109 officers captured by General Villa on that occasion. He says that he and all other rebels were shot down. Later, however, he recovered consciousness while his captors were feeding. He crawled away from the spot and managed to get to a ranch in the vicinity where he was given help. Some time later he got away and reached a military camp where a doctor dressed his wounds. When he was able to walk he made his way from the mining camp to Zacatecas and from there to Mexico City.

Huerta's Soldiers Flee

Marfa, Texas, Dec. 4.—Five days on a desert without any more food or water than they could carry with them, the refugees from Chihuahua City, evacuated by the federals, were today within a few miles of Ojinaga, on the border opposite Presidio, Texas. United States customs and immigration inspectors left Marfa to meet the strangers in the expectation that they would cross the border, and also to meet any contingency that might arise should any of the Mexican federal army officers seek safety in this country.

At the head of the refugees, the United States military commander in Northern Mexico, who evacuated Chihuahua City, is General G. G. Scott, who is being followed by a column of about two thousand federal troops, with members of some of the richest families in Mexico, and in the caravan.

Unable to procure vehicles, and given a short time to gather such of their portable possessions as they could, the refugees started on foot to the border is more than 130 miles of desert, without towns, railroads, or wagon trails. The refugees are in dire straits, and it is thought inevitable. Luis Terrazas, one of the refugees, is said to have withdrawn 5,000,000 pesos from the bank before leaving.

Almost every one in Marfa left for the border to witness the arrival of the refugees. Marfa is fifty miles from Presidio, and connected only by wagon road and telephone.

Some semblance of the authority also is beginning to appear in the Northern States and is meeting with recognition at the hands of the military leaders. Altogether, officials here see indications that a regularly organized civil government is about to be evolved from the chaotic conditions that have prevailed in a section of Mexico for the past nine months.

It is believed that the Constitutionalist themselves are divided on the question of seeking formal recognition from the United States. A considerable portion of them are said to incline to the view ascribed to General Villa that such recognition of their government in its present condition might encourage a movement for the separation of the northern states from the remainder of the country.

The State Department, so far, has had no confirmation from official sources of reports that the great oil companies in the State of Vera Cruz, under threats from the insurgents, have cancelled their contract obligations.

ALASKAN COAL MINE FRAUD UNFATHED BY GOVERNMENT

Twenty-one of Claims of McAlpine Group on Cook Inlet Cancelled—Promoters Indicted—Clerks and Stenographers Chief Victims of Swindlers.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 4.—The registrar of the land office at Juneau, Alaska, decided on November 28 that twenty-one coal claims of the so-called McAlpine group, held for cancellation because of fraud. The promoters of the McAlpine group, Wilbur W. McAlpine, Albert H. Andrus, Arthur L. W. Ross, Frank D. Andrus, George Holmes and McCurdy C. Lebeau, all of Chicago, and John M. Bushnell, of Detroit, Mich., were indicted on March 6, 1911, for conspiracy to defraud the United States. The defendants have not been brought to trial.

The claimants were mostly clerks and stenographers employed by large corporations in Detroit, who are alleged to have signed powers of attorney for the McAlpine lands when required by their employers to do so.

The government alleges that the Cook Inlet Coal Fields Company, which filed on the McAlpine lands soon after 1900, sold millions of dollars worth of stock in the company, among the investors being John D. Rockefeller and the late H. H. Rogers. This company sent north, the government charges, a number of grading engines, dump cars, and street cars, and built the uninhabited town of Homer with saloons, dance halls, hotels, etc., in order that pictures might

PARLIAMENT CALLED TO MEET JANUARY 15th; BUSY SESSION IS FORECAST

Date of Opening Deferred for Week So that Western Ministers Will Not Have to Leave Homes During New Year Week.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL HAS BEEN INCLUDED IN PROGRAMME.

Branch Lines Bill to be Re-introduced at Coming Session—Liberal Farmers Sending in Protests Against Free Food Policy—Grits Likely to Present Broken Front.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 4.—The third session of Canada's twelfth parliament has been summoned for the departure of business on Thursday, January 15. The date was definitely determined and the formal proclamation ordered at this afternoon's sitting of the cabinet, January eighth has been considerably postponed of late as the probable date and this was favored by several of the ministers, but as this would necessitate western members leaving home at New Year's, and as the twelfth of January is a holiday in the service in Ottawa it was finally agreed to call the house for the fifteenth.

Daily cabinet councils are now being held in preparation for the opening. The session programme so far determined is substantially as has been forecasted. It includes a redistribution bill based upon the last census, a bill respecting the incorporation of trust and loan companies, the re-introduction of the highways and branch lines bills, an amendment to the insurance Act, certain amendments to the criminal code, the revision of the Merchants' Shipping Act, the consolidation of the Railway Act, amendments to the Civil Service Act, along lines suggested by Sir George Murray, and a number of other measures, the consideration of which is now in progress.

There is as yet no definite information available as to the course which the government will pursue in regard to the Naval Aid Bill, but there is no doubt but that the question of Canada's share in the naval defence of the Empire will be under discussion, probably at an early stage of the session.

The list of applications for private legislation is already fairly large and is growing daily. The applications for bills of divorce are closing on to forty.

The prospect is for a fighting session of about five months. The opposition will be called in caucus as soon as the members arrive in Ottawa and the proposals of the Ottawa ring will be placed before them. There is every likelihood of a sharp division of opinion on a number of subjects.

The Liberal party is already at loggerheads over the free food bungle in apparent events now taking place at Ottawa. The Laurier followers are urging him in different directions. He has gone too far and he has not gone far enough. One element is urging him to enlarge his new policy to provide for a general revision of the tariff downward, including an increase in the British preference from one third to one half, while the other element insists just as strongly that he has already said too much and ought to be some sort of a graceful retreat.

Mr. Rowell, the leader of the opposition, the Liberal party, was in Ottawa today, and he is expected to be in Ottawa tomorrow. The opening of parliament will find the opposition confronted with the proposal of stopping the fight in their own ranks before they can make any sort of show of fighting the government.

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY LOSS IN FORT KENT

Seven Stores, Hotel and Other Buildings Burned—Railway Station Saved by Hard Fight.

Fort Kent, Dec. 3.—The most disastrous conflagration in the history of this town broke out last night and before it could be controlled burned the Fort Kent Hotel, seven stores and several dwellings and practically all their contents, besides making many families who lived over the stores homeless. The Bangor & Aroostook railroad buildings were saved by a hard fight. A special train brought up to estimate the loss tonight. The burned buildings are: The Fort Kent Hotel, The Corey & Hobert, dry-goods, Tony Hobert, fruit store, R. J. Romanus, groceries, A. J. Laumiere, barber shop and groceries, New York Bargain Store, L. J. Zitter, groceries, John Nadeau, barber shop and confectionery.

SHOW INCREASE

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The Ontario government report of births, marriages and deaths for 1912 states there were 58,870 births, 28,845 marriages and 32,150 deaths. The births show an increase of 2,774 over the previous year. Legitimate births numbered 1,256 against 1,087 in 1911, of which 72 per cent. took place in cities. Ottawa leads in this respect, 86.1 legitimate in every 1,000 births. Toronto has about half that rate. London's rate is 63.2 and Hamilton 25.8. Of the mothers of illegitimate children 335 were domestic against 34 factory hands, 12 stenographers, 12 saleswomen and 15 clerks.

WILL EXCLUDE LIQUOR FROM PARCELS POST

Temperance Societies Pass Resolutions Against Using New System for Purpose—Regulations Not Yet Public.

Ottawa, Dec. 4.—Special—Although no official decision will be given until full text of regulations governing the parcels post has been published, it has practically been decided by the Post Office Department not to allow liquor to be carried by means of this new facility for transmission.

Resolutions opposing the use of the parcels post for the carriage of liquor in any form have been passed by a number of prominent temperance organizations and women's societies and some of these have been forwarded to the government. It was learned today that among the regulation governing the inauguration of the parcels post would be one prohibiting the sending of the spirituous liquors in this manner which will ensure the result the widespread temperance agitation has been working for.

PRISONERS IN DYNAMITE PLOT

Twenty Sticks of Explosives Found Hidden Near Alberta Penitentiary—Packed in Paper and Concealed.

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 4.—Preparations for an attempt to blow up either the Alberta penitentiary or the mine operated by the prison for the Dominion government were discovered today. Twenty-one sticks of dynamite were found hidden in the brushwood by one of the prisoners. Snuggly packed in a paper box, apparently placed in this manner so that suspicion might not be aroused, should the eye of any passer-by fall on the package, the explosive had been concealed in the bushes on the hill and just above the prison mine.

As prisoners were at work cutting away the brushwood, late this afternoon, one of the convicts drove his spade into some of the bushes and when he lifted the brushwood discovered the box.

The dynamite was carried to the penitentiary.

GENERAL LABOR STRIKE FACES IN INDIANAPOLIS

Teamsters Vote for Sympathy Strike of all Organizations in City.

STRIKERS OBSERVE BEST OF DISCIPLINE

Proposal for Part of Membership to Return to Work Cried Down—Unanimous for General Walk Out.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 4.—After hoisting down a proposition for a part of the membership to return to work, the teamsters union, at a meeting today, adopted a resolution demanding that the Central Labor Union call a general walkout in sympathy with the teamsters strike, which started four days ago. The request was to be taken up at a meeting tonight of the strike committee of the Central Labor Union.

A recommendation that the union vote to permit the employees of team owners, who had signed an agreement to pay the union scale of wages and not to discriminate against union men, was made by Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer of the union. Farrell said the employees of about 1,500 men had signed the agreement, and asked that these men be permitted to return to work. "Cries of 'no, no,' greeted the recommendation, and it was hoisted down.

Before Farrell made the recommendation, John F. McNamee, editor of the locomotive firemen's and engineers' magazine, and Cal. Wyatt, representing the American Federation of Labor, addressed the teamsters and asked them to consider wisely and propose that they would submit. The plan was suggested by the Central Labor Union.

The resolution for a general strike was passed by a unanimous vote, and was cheered loudly. William G. Beatty, president of the central body, who attended the teamsters meeting, said he did not know what action the committee would take on the request for a general strike.

Farrell's statement that the employees of 1,500 men had signed the union contract was disputed at the office of the Commercial Vehicle Owners' Protective Association. It was said there that only a few of the smaller employers had signed.

Business was almost normal today, more wagons, including a number for the collection of garbage, were running today, and there was less interference than at any time since the calling of the strike.

DEVASTATION BY FLOODS REACHES INTO MILLIONS

ALL-RED LINE TO BUILD ROAD ACROSS CANADA

Seek Permission for Line from Cape St. Charles to Pacific Coast.

BRITISH CAPITAL BEHIND THE SCHEME

Plans Mooted for First Time Yesterday in Montreal—Western Terminus at Head of Dean's Channel.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—The All-Red Line Railway has entered an application with the government for permission to build a transcontinental line from Cape St. Charles on the Atlantic coast to the head of Dean's Channel on the Pacific. The announcement of the building of this new railway across Canada has been kept quiet by the British capitalists who are backing the scheme. The first knowledge of the actual incorporation was received in Montreal early this afternoon. Who capitalized the new scheme has, and who are the backers, is not definitely known. J. K. Dowley, solicitor of Prescott, Ontario, is named as the company's legal agent.

The line of the All-Red route, which is part of a scheme to circle the earth with a transportation line in the British Empire, is much further north than any of the other sea-to-sea routes. The line proposed in the charter application is as follows:

"From near St. Charles, on the Atlantic coast, westerly, north of lat. 52, to Lake Ashunipi, then southerly to the southern end of Lake Mistassini, and intersecting the projected Ottawa and Ungava Railroad, crossing the Nottaway, and Harricana rivers, to the Quebec-Ontario boundary, reaching the Albany river at Martin's Falls, thence on westerly to the mouth of Lake Winnipeg, crossing the Dominion government railway to Hudson Bay at Corcoran Falls, Man., keeping north of Montreal Lake, Sask., and south of Lac De La Biche, to Athabaska Landing, Alta., thence north to Lesser Slave Lake, to Peace river landing, then on to Parsnip river, and continuing via Fort Fraser to a terminus at the head of Dean's Channel, on the Pacific coast."

Power is also being asked by the charter to build branch lines from boundary, Falls to Winnipeg, thence back to the main line near Moosejaw, Sask., from the Peace River Valley to the Yukon territory, and via the Peribonka Valley to Quebec city.

Overflow of Rivers in Texas Cost Twenty-four Thier Lives.

CESSATION OF RAIN RELIEVES SITUATION.

Flood Centre Moves Towards Gulf—Hundreds of Mexicans and Negroes in Wild Flight to Escape Drowning.

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 4.—The Texas flood center shifted southward tonight toward the Gulf, centering from Hearne to Richmond, where the flood crest of Brazos River continued to do great damage and caused some loss of life. At the same time the general flood situation improved when rains began to cease after three days continuous downpour over most of the state and the creeks in North and West Texas began to fall slowly. Before relief came the floods had overspread five large river basins from the headwaters of the Sabine, in Northwest Texas, to the San Antonio river in the southwest.

The total number of dead as a result of the floods stood early tonight at twenty-four. Estimates of property damage ranged between one and two million dollars, with Waco and San Antonio the heaviest sufferers among the cities. The San Antonio loss was a quarter of a million, and Waco's damage was expected to be as great.

Cattle Carried Away by Waters.

As the water receded pilfering began in Waco and militia was put on duty in East Waco this afternoon to guard property in deserted houses and stores. Waco this afternoon also reported its first fatalities, when W. Ray and C. McDaniel fell from a railroad bridge into the Waco and were given up for drowned.

From Hearne, where seven negroes were drowned today in the unexpected rush of the Brazos rise, it was reported that houses, horses, mules and cattle floated down the river.

Several hundred Mexicans and negroes fled from Valley Junction to escape the water which was being floated away by the cotton at the junction. The Brazos levee, 27 miles in length, near Bryan, was reported holding well, with no water within three feet of its top. The State Agricultural and Mechanical College, at College Station, reported that miles of farm lands bordering on the Brazos were under water in that section. At Richmond, warnings were sent out for everyone to get out of the Brazos lowlands immediately.

San Marcos, near San Antonio, was caught in a zealous flood which lasted only a few hours when Purgatory Creek and the San Marcos river suddenly went out of their banks early today. Considerable cotton floated away at San Marcos. At Belton a ferryboat was being used for a few days near the center of the city.

Many cattle were reported to have been drowned in the Colorado river, near Wharton.

FAIL TO DETERMINE IDENTITY OF DR. HELEN KNABE'S SLAYER

Several Witnesses in Case Against Dr. Craig Charged With Killing Female Physician in Indiana, Say Description of Murder Doesn't Fit Prisoner.

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 4.—The state continued to present testimony today to support its theory of murder and to fasten the crime on Dr. William B. Craig, who is on trial here charged with killing Dr. Helen Knabe.

So confident was the defense that nothing would be brought out to connect the accused veterinary with the death of Dr. Knabe that the announcement was made late today that a motion to dismiss the case would be filed to the court the moment the prosecution rested. Indications were that this would occur some time tomorrow.

Three witnesses swore that they heard the shrill scream of a woman in the vicinity of Dr. Knabe's apartment some time after midnight on the night she met her death. Joseph Carr, one of these witnesses, who was passing the apartment building at the time, said he saw a man who was holding a man walking briskly out of the alley in the rear of the structure. The man was holding a handkerchief over his nose, the witness said.

His description of the man did not fit Dr. Craig any better than that given yesterday by a witness who said he met a man coming out of the passenger way on the other side of the house about an hour earlier in the evening. Mr. Carr said the man he saw was about five feet nine inches in height, and weighed about 180 pounds. Dr. Craig measures six feet one inch and weighs more than 200 pounds.

In an effort to establish a motive for the alleged murder, the prosecution introduced as its witness Miss Katherine Fleming, of Avon, Ind., who admitted that Dr. Craig had been attentive to her for the past three years. Miss Fleming denied, however, that any engagement existed between them although she said the subject of marriage had been discussed.

Judge Blair blocked an attempt by the prosecution to get Dr. Knabe's blood stained kimono before the jury through the testimony of a chemist who had examined the garment. Alonzo M. Ragsdale, an undertaker, was indicted jointly with Dr. Craig because he admitted that Dr. Craig had been attending to her for the past three years. The court ruled that the state must first show some connection between Craig and Ragsdale before the kimono would be competent evidence. Two of the state's most important witnesses are yet to be heard. They are Miss Katherine McPherson, the office girl who discovered the doctor's dead body, and Augusta Knabe, the doctor's cousin, who was the first person summoned to the apartment after the discovery.

BATTLE OF WATERLOO

Thousands Cheered Great Film at Imperial.

The "Battle of Waterloo" feature at the Imperial packed the big theatre both afternoon and evening yesterday and if ever St. John patriotism broke loose indoors it did so as the thrilling scenes of this world's greatest fight were acted over again on the big white curtain. The English cinematograph camera who produced this picture have unquestionably created a masterpiece, following closely authentic historical data. Thousands of men, horses and pieces of artillery were utilized in the battle array, the zone of strife covering miles of territory and showing the spirited encounters at the famous ford at Hougoumont, Haye-Sainte, Belle Alliance and other points roundabout Waterloo. The dashing ardor of the British regiments, the trepid charges of Lancers, French Cuirassiers, thundering cannon, etc., made the battle most realistic and everybody in the house gave vent to their feelings without stint. It was a great British occasion and on the strength of yesterday's showing, the battle of Waterloo will doubtless pack the Imperial again this afternoon and tonight to say nothing of the Saturday matinee and Saturday evening. This afternoon the picture will be presented at 2:15 and 3:30, being preceded by a new reel of comedy bouffons to the usual week-end programme. The vaudeville and singing artists will also be heard. In the evening the programme commences at 6:45 and will be nearly an hour and a half duration. It is a wonderfully patriotic story and one that all parents should have their children enjoy. It certainly makes up for the overdose of heroic pictures belonging to other nations which St. John people have been looking at for too long a time.

FIRE LADDIES HOLD A PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT

There was a happy gathering in the room of No. 1 Hose Company, on Charlotte street, last night, when the members of the company united with the members of No. 1 H. and L. Company in entertaining their friends. Some time ago the two companies united in putting on successful sports in the Queen's rink and last night's affair was the winding up of the affair. Captain George Barker, of No. 1 H. and L. Co., presided and was assisted in making up the programme by Foreman Harry McBeath of No. 1 Hose Co. The evening's entertainment opened with a selection by a real Scotch piper and then there was a lengthy musical and literary programme, along with some addresses. An excellent committee served oyster stew and smokes which were highly appreciated. During the holding of the sports Engineer Seeds and Fireman Atchison of No. 1 Hose Company, had most of the corresponding to do and on behalf of the two companies last evening these gentlemen were presented by Captain Barker with handsome fountain pens. The evening was a most enjoyable one.

Over Hundred Members attend Function in School Room--Music and Speeches Pleasing Features.

The Men's Guild of St. Stephen's Church, with a number of invited guests banqueted last evening in the school room of the church when the occasion was marked by an interesting programme of addresses by several prominent speakers. The room was handsomely decorated for the event and over a hundred men sat down to tables laden with tempting dishes which had been prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. Members of the Young Men's Bible Class had carefully decorated the hall with flags and bunting. After the sumptuous repast had been partaken of a very interesting programme was carried out with music furnished by an orchestra which was in attendance. Kenneth Macrae presided during the evening and presented the different speakers. Rev. Gordon Dickie, pastor of the church, extended a very cordial welcome to the members of the guild and their guests in a few opening remarks. Orchestra selections were rendered during the evening. "A Son of the Desert" was sung by Fred McKean. A solo was rendered by Jack Griffiths, and in reply to an encore "O Canada" was sung with those present joining in the chorus. FOREIGNER IS FINED FIFTY DOLLARS FOR LIQUOR SELLING

In the police court yesterday morning an assault case in which Helen Raymond, a sixteen-year-old girl and George Leitton, a travelling man figured, developed that the man in question had been living in a Richmond street house with three girls who were known to neighbors as his relatives. Leitton was charged with assaulting the Raymond girl; and it was brought out in evidence that a quarrel arose through jealousy. Leitton was remanded on the charge of assault.

Frank Cole, colored, charged with beating his wife was brought before the Magistrate and remanded. The woman testified that the defendant had beaten her on several occasions.
The case of Disenzie Frederico, an Italian, charged with selling liquor on the West side, was taken up this afternoon. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50. He said that he had not the money to pay the fine, but his boss a man for whom he worked, was selling the liquor, was coming in on the train today from Woodstock and would pay it. He was sent to jail.
Two of the gypsies who have been camped in Douglas avenue were before the court, one charged with building a house without a license and also with building it on another man's property, and the other charged with telling fortunes in Main street without a license. Both pleaded guilty, but were allowed to go on condition that they would leave town before next Saturday.

ST. SABAS

The first order of Christian anchorites established in Palestine was founded by St. Sabas, whose festival is observed today, the anniversary of his death in the year 532. This renowned patriarch of the monks of Palestine came of a wealthy family, but a dispute among relatives about the settlement of an estate so disgusted him that he forsook the world and entered a monastery. At the age of eighteen he went to Jerusalem, but later sought seclusion in the wilderness. He made his home in a cave on the top of a mountain. The fame of his holiness spread abroad, and many came to him, desiring to serve God under his direction. He finally founded a new monastery of men who desired to devote themselves to the praise and service of God without interruption, and gained hundreds of adherents. Some of the oldest Christian monasteries in the world, scattered in remote places over the deserts of Asia and Africa, were founded by monks who had received inspiration from St. Sabas. In the latter part of his long life St. Sabas was the superior general of all the anchorites of Palestine.

to supply the Mexican government with the oil necessary to operate the locomotives on the railways. Reports to the department indicate there is enough oil already above ground to meet all the needs of the railroad for at least three months, and it is said there is no question as to the power or the disposition of the Huerta government to take forcible possession of this fuel.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Administration officials here are viewing with satisfaction evidences of the growing sense of responsibility on the part of the rebel leaders in northern Mexico for the protection of life and property within the territory in their possession. The State Department's requests for the release of Americans held for ransom or arrested on suspicion are now receiving prompt attention at the hands of the Constitutionalist generals and it is apparent that these officers, in turn, are gradually exerting more power and imposing greater restraints over their subordinates.

While going through L'Etage Passage the dredge Asp struck on a ledge, punching a hole which caused her to fill and sink. The report said she went down in deep water and would probably be a total loss. The Asp is a local built dredge of the orange peel type. Her crew were on the tug and escaped injury.

Soon others will start on the annual ice patrol to warn the great Atlantic lines of the approach of dangerous icebergs and floes. Child Had Bronchitis

Once people get acquainted with the wonderful control which Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine exerts over bronchitis, whooping cough, croup and colds it is not easy to persuade them that anything else is "just as good." This is why the imitators never get very far.

In 1902 Mrs. Eugene Iler, Bing street, Truro, N. S., wrote as follows: "From an infant one of my children was troubled with bronchitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We could not get anything to help him, and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis, we used it, and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine, and have never known it to fail to bring relief."

Mrs. Iler now writes that she has since proven this medicine to be a cure for whooping cough, and would not be without it in the house.

"THE TARIFF ISSUE"

In an article which apparently sprung as much from a desire to indulge in sarcastic references to this newspaper, as from any hope to throw light on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's remarkable pronouncement at Hamilton, Ontario, the Telegraph notes with approval the New York Journal of Commerce. The Journal of Commerce is a very excellent newspaper, but not the only reputable journal in New York whose opinions are entitled to consideration. For instance, the New York Tribune was one of the journals that lauded Sir Wilfrid when he was in the midst of his endeavors for the tariff policy to "make Canada only an adjunct of the United States," but it is a much more dispassionate critic of the line of goods the Liberal leader is at present carrying. The Tribune thinks but little of Sir Wilfrid's "free food" cry, and is not convinced that the people of Canada should take it seriously. This is what the Tribune has to say of the policy:

"The high cost of living continues its disturbing advance in Canada as well as here, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, having no trusts—meat, cold storage or other—to attack there, has fastened upon the poor old tariff as his scapegoat. In his fight for 'free food before bread' he is not to be deterred, apparently, by the case of the tariff reformers at Washington, whose inability to stem the tide of high prices by this method they themselves freely admit.

"What earthly difference it would make, for instance, to wipe out Canada's duty on wheat when she exports ten times as much of this foodstuffs as she consumes is difficult to understand. Sir Wilfrid complains that the reduction of the American duties is causing the United States to drain Canada of food, but this can only be if the prices here are higher than they are in Canada, and while they remain higher Canada surely cannot import wheat from the United States, duty or no duty. Nor can she import it from any other part of the world unless her bid equals Uncle Sam's.

"Free food is a grand old slogan, but Sir Wilfrid should be warned that to raise false hopes even in politics is to incur a penalty never pays in the long run."

In a matter affecting Canada, and practically Canada alone, it is doubtful if the opinions of any New York publications have any bearing upon the subject under discussion. In this, as in any other public question, one can not practically any opinion one desires, but if the Journal of Commerce can be cited as "a well informed authority on fiscal matters," why not the Tribune, which is a much more outstanding force in American Journalism than the first named newspaper?

After quoting its "well informed authority on fiscal matters," the Telegraph proceeds to abuse The Standard, but carefully evades any real defence of Sir Wilfrid's attitude. The Pugsley organ seizes upon two typographical errors in a Standard editorial as excuses for the delivery of the following gem: "The Standard cannot even spell some of the words which in its excitement it applies to the situation growing out of the Hamilton meeting."

Aside from the fact that such a method of attack illustrates to what utter cheapness the newspaper once edited by an Elder and a Hannay has now descended, the Telegraph's comment is not worth consideration. It is, however, typical of the present "bought and paid for" utterances of the Pugsley organ.

The Standard is not alone in its opinion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's address at Hamilton, or of the policy he there enunciated. The Ottawa Citizen, a well edited newspaper, has this to say:

"The recent Liberal meeting in Hamilton was a capital illustration of what eloquence can accomplish without ideas. It recalls the time when a negro orator came to the town of Mitchell to deliver a lecture. In his address there was no pretence at sense or continuity in the expression of ideas. One sentence would give an illustration of his style; then his mind would grow impetuous by the spontaneous arguments of dissatisfaction. Nobody knew what it meant, for the simple reason that it was not intended to mean anything."

And again we find this caustic comment:

"And this more one reads over the text of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech at Hamilton, the more one feels that he was eloquently juggling with words and phrases, rather than dealing with fundamental issues and principles. The spontaneous arguments of dissatisfaction are not to be too closely studied. The cry of 'free food' was intended to be made the slogan for those who required one to shout out, rather than to think out."

The real objection to this political platform, if such it can be called, is that it is superficial and studied. The cry of 'free food' was intended to be made the slogan for those who required one to shout out, rather than to think out."

of Liberalism. It is designed to regain power, not to reform conditions."

Is the editorial writer of the Telegraph prepared to squirm away from the Ottawa Citizen's arraignment with the assistance of two typographical errors? Such a course will hardly satisfy the reading, thinking Canadian who, despite all the "bought and paid for" fulminations of the Telegraph, wants to know just how much sincerity there was behind the eloquence of the Liberal leader. If the Telegraph is unable to defend Sir Wilfrid's Hamilton speech any more effectively than it did his St. Hyacinthe utterance, it would almost appear that the Liberal machine, in its latest purchase of Canterbury street editorial opinions, got but indifferent value for its money.

THE TUNISIAN MAILS

The nature of the telegrams exchanged yesterday between Mayor Frink and the heads of the Post Office department in Ottawa still further indicates that the order routing the Tunisian mails from St. John to Montreal via the I. C. R. was made without correct understanding of the existing conditions, and with no intention of discrimination against this port.

If one may be permitted to read between the lines, the message to the mayor, from the Deputy Postmaster General, is indicative of surprise that there should be dissatisfaction with the plan proposed. On no other ground except that of unfamiliarity with conditions can such an attitude be justified. Mayor Frink's reply should do much to supply the information which appears to be necessary. It plainly sets forth the aspirations of St. John and clearly explains the existing dissatisfaction regarding the arrangement.

There is no reasonable cause for doubt that the matter will speedily be adjusted and in conformity with the best interests not only of St. John but of the people of the whole of Canada west of this port to whom the postal service owes the duty of delivering the mails by the shortest and most direct route.

Fate, in the form of British policemen, continues to be unkind to Mrs. Paankhurst. After completing her American lecture tour, and sailing for home, she was arrested just as she reached the shores of England. The Suffragettes had a rescue party ready armed with clubs, but even nature was against them and we learn from despatches that so rough was the sea, and so high the wind, that the police officers were able to effect the arrest before the rescuers could get within striking distance. The Suffragette leader, however, can congratulate herself that the profits of her lecture tour will more than suffice to pay quite a number of fines.

"Grow Food," says Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor. "Free Food," says Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Is it not much more reasonable to assume that the growing of food more abundantly would reduce the cost of living? Mr. Crothers' expression savors of common sense. Sir Wilfrid is merely intended as a political catchword.

A comedian is suing a Cincinnati newspaper because of adverse criticism of his acting. If he wins his suit and others follow his example it will be interesting to see what happens. Perhaps the newspapers will be driven to cease reporting the doings of the stage folks, a thing they would hardly relish.

Western newspapers allege that the milkdealers of Winnipeg, and vicinity, have formed a combine with the object of keeping up the price of the lactical fluid to the consumer. If there is any such combine in the West it is fair to assume that much of the stock in it is watered.

CURRENT COMMENT

While There's Life There's Hope. (Ottawa Journal.)

So long as life remains, and the power of pardon is partly political, as it is in all civilized countries, so long is personal or political pull certain to be used more, or less to effect the release of criminals from prison. This is a condition that must exist in our civilization, and criminals or violent tempered persons will always bank on this condition. Capital punishment should not be looked upon as merely the taking of a human life under forms of law. Capital punishment is the protection under forms of law of infinitely greater numbers of human lives than can ever be sacrificed by capital punishment.

Cost of War. (Montreal Mail.)

The latest estimates of the cost of the Balkan wars are that 345,000 men were killed or wounded and that the cost was $24,000,000. As to comparisons, the list is a long one, but here are a few comparisons: Crimean war: Casualties, 785,000; cost, $240,000,000. American civil war: Casualties, 800,000; cost, $1,400,000,000. Franco-German war: Casualties, 853,000; cost, $444,000,000. South African war: Casualties, 45,700; cost, $170,000,000. Russo-Japanese war: Casualties, 485,000; cost, $385,000,000.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

The Ven. Dr. Edwin Sandys Westmore Pentreath, whose long and useful career as a religious leader and teacher ended with his death in California a few months ago, was born in Clifton, New Brunswick, sixty-seven years ago today. He was the eldest son of Capt. Edwin Pentreath and Elizabeth R. Wetmore. He received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from St. John's College, Winnipeg, after graduating from the New York Institution in 1872 when he was ordained a deacon, and was the incumbent of Grace Church at Rutherford Park, N. J., until 1874. He was then ordained a priest, and returned to his native Province as rector at Moncton, and soon afterward married Clara Woodford, daughter of Thomas S. Sayre, barrister at Doncaster, N. B. He became the rector of Christ Church in Winnipeg. He resided in the west for metropolitan for thirteen years, and was a leader in the work of the church in Manitoba and the West. In 1897 he became Archdeacon of Columbia, and in 1900 he was elected Bishop of the diocese in that position until his death.

On this date in 1775 Gen. Richard Montgomery, having joined his army to the walls of Quebec, demanded the surrender of the city, the last spot in the Province where he was the victor. The British General, Guy Carleton, despite the seeming hopelessness of his position, refused to carry on any negotiations with men he considered rebels. It was only 1,000 men under his command, Carleton calmly awaited the assault, and when it came the wisdom of his course was fully justified.

THE PASSING DAY

PLAN WORLD'S CITY.

It is expected that representatives of all nations will assemble in Paris today to hear the first public plea for the scale dreamed of by its promoters, this day may become one of the most important dates in history, but it is recorded that hundreds of some of the best projects have ended in failure. Since the days of Plato, and probably long before, men have dreamed of ideal communities based on the spirit of universal brotherhood, but racial and religious antagonisms have always prevented the realization of the vision.

The leader in the latest "international city" movement is said to be Hendrik Christian Anderson, an American sculptor who resides in Rome. Some of the most distinguished philanthropic societies of international scope are said to have endorsed the plan. The cost of building the city is estimated at $100,000,000. Anderson has suggested a spot on the coast of Holland, near The Hague; the New Jersey coast, the Riviera, near Cannes; a spot on the St. Lawrence, near Bern; Tervueren, near Brussels; the Marmora coast, near Constantinople; the Mediterranean coast, near Rome; and St. Germain-en-Laye, near Paris.

New Harmony, Ind., now a commonplace country town of less than 1,500 people, is a monument to one of the most interesting of American communist experiments. In 1805 a party of Harmonists, members of a sect founded in Württemberg, emigrated to America and settled first in Butler county, Pa. About a century ago they removed to Indiana, purchased 17,000 acres of land, and adopted the name of Harmony to a settlement which was to be the center of the sect's activities. In 1824 the Harmonists, who believed in a community of goods and reitibacy, sold their Indiana interests to Robert Owen and returned to Pennsylvania, where they started a new "ideal city" called Economy.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

DENOUNCES IDLE RICH

One of the most distinguished of American clergymen is the Very Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, dean of the Episcopal cathedral of St. Peter and Paul in Chicago. Although still a young man—he will pass his thirty-ninth birthday today—Dean Sumner has achieved an international reputation as a fearless, eloquent and progressive religious leader. He has not hesitated to exhort the rich and fashionable members of his flock, when they seemed in need of it, to work as hard as the poorest of the poor, and he has frankly admitted that, in the matter of morals, he has not found a great deal to choose between them.

Dean Sumner was born on Dec. 5, 1874, at Manchester, N. H., and graduated from Dartmouth College and Western Theological Seminary. He was ordained a deacon of the Protestant Episcopal church a decade ago and a priest a year later. For many years he has been the dean of the great cathedral, but he has also served as superintendent of Episcopal city missions, director of the Charles Sumner social settlement, chairman of a lodging house committee, and in various other capacities that have brought him into personal contact with the "down-and-out" and the poverty-stricken and the shiftless elements in society.

Dean Sumner is one of the foremost advocates of single standards of morals for men and women, and is the author of a pledge for young men which reads as follows: "Some day I expect to marry a girl who is keeping herself pure for me! I promise to keep myself pure that I may not bring to the marriage altar a stain of corruption that shall make me unworthy of her."

Mrs. Thos. A. Julian, Almonte, Ont., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know how thankful I am for what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has done for me. A few years ago I was operated on for appendicitis, and was confined to the hospital for five weeks. When I returned home I contracted a severe cold which left me with a bad cough. A neighbor told my husband about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup so I decided to try a bottle. When it was finished it had done me so much good I took another which completely cured me. I can very strongly recommend it."

Montreal, Dec. 4.—The local market was firm throughout the day. The most interesting development was the movement in R. & O. This stock which has been selling around 108 5-8 during the greater part of the week advanced today to 111 1-4 on very active buying. The advance in price is due partly to buying for London and partly to increased activity on the part of the local interests who are evidently of the opinion that with the conclusion of the deal, R. & O. will be worth considerably more than present prices. In the afternoon trading Bell Phone, which has been selling around 139 1-2 advanced sharply to 145. The floating supply of this stock is very small and it is estimated that ninety per cent. of the total is held by investors. Price movements are therefore generally very sharp. The company is paying eight per cent and its earnings are so large that it is felt that shareholders will within a reasonable time receive a further distribution either in the form of increased dividend or bonus. Brazilian Traction was firm, selling up to eighty-six and three-quarters in the afternoon. Ottawa Power was strong, opening steady at 164 but on active demand sold up to 166 in the afternoon. Montreal Power was firm and active selling around 216 3-4. Dom. Textile made another advance, selling up to eighty-three and a half. Iron was a shade lower closing at forty and one eighth. There is nothing new on this stock but a rumor was heard that there is considerable short interest outstanding. The cement issues came in for some attention, the common selling at thirty and a half, and the preferred around ninety and three-quarters. There appears to be steady buying of the preferred for investment. The company is in a good position as its earnings right along have been very satisfactory and its real estate holdings are now regarded as very valuable. C. P. R. made a further advance selling up to 225 7-8 in the late afternoon trading. This stock is one of the first on the local board to be affected by strength in Wall Street. Wall Street market was stronger today and C. P. R. shared in the advance. Toronto Ry. was unchanged at 129. There were no important developments today in the Toronto street railway situation but the consensus of opinion here is that the deal will not now go through. F. B. McCURDY & CO.

EVANS ON STOCKS.

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Dec. 4.—After a long period of deadlock, the market showed yesterday the first real sign of coming to life that it has shown for a long time. The start has been made by professionals, but this is nothing against it. They are shrewd, and much more apt to be right than to be wrong. While there are still a great many uncertainties ahead of it, it looks to me now as if this advance was apt to go quite a little further in the next few weeks. H. P. EVANS.

LIDLAW & CO'S CLOSING STOCK LETTER

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)

New York, Dec. 4.—Today's market showed a moderate but nevertheless encouraging increase of activity and strength and it became further apparent that liquidation had run its course. The bear traders who had argued that the recent rise reflected the fag-end of scattered short covering, were disconcerted at the manner in which the market absorbed their early offerings, and they helped the advance which developed during the early afternoon. The demand for certain issues, notably U. P., suggested that much of the current demand represented quick accumulation either for strong interests or scattered investors. The financial community, as a whole, was more disposed to pay attention to the more favorable aspects of the situation at large. The prospect of favorable action on the currency bill led to hopeful inferences regarding the money market after the turn of the year. LAIDLAW & CO.

CLOSING LETTER ON COTTON MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Dec. 4.—The cotton market has been very quiet again today. Judging from the talk we have heard on the street and around the ring the trade feels that the government estimate next Friday is quite likely to be in the neighborhood of 13,600,000 to 13,700,000, excluding government's estimate can be accepted only as a minimum view of the crop, but the apathetic ruling of the market in the face of an expected estimate of this size doubtless shows an increasing pessimism regarding the trade outlook, which may predict will be come a more active market factor once it is certain that the crop report has been fully discounted or that no surprise is in store from that source. The cables were again rather better than due while the large spot sales are better. Fall River news helped the tone of the local market which opened steady at an advance of 5 to 9 points. Active months sold about 8 to 10 points higher early, but there was nothing more important than a scattering demand and prices

Concrete Withstands The Severest Tests

Not One Dollar of Loss To Owners of Grain

THIS illustration of the ability of concrete to withstand the severest test, contains an important lesson not only for the farmer, but for business men, contractors, engineers and architects. Think of the irreparable loss to the owners of the grain, had this elevator been built of some destructible material—a material that would have collapsed almost as soon as the settling commenced, and which would have entailed not only the loss of the building, but almost a total loss of its contents. We have published a number of books which contain the most complete information and beautiful illustrations of almost every use of Concrete (City and Farm Buildings, Roads and Pavements) for the farmer, builder, businessman, manufacturer and everyone interested in a material of such permanence and economy. SERIOUS EARTHQUAKE REPORTED IN PERU

Lima, Peru, Dec. 4.—Another very serious earthquake occurred today in the vicinity of Challuabamb, capital of the province of Ayacucho, in the department of Apurimac, Southern Peru. About a month ago earthquakes destroyed scores of villages in this mountainous section and resulted in the loss of more than 200 lives. No details of today's disturbance have been received, but it is believed that a volcanic eruption has occurred or is imminent.

CYCLONE BURNS MAY COME HERE

Despite the fact that Sam Anderson has been telegraphed to four or five times that Dan McDonald has been induced to re-enter the arena and was willing to accept his challenge to a finish wrestling bout for the championship, Anderson has failed to reply for a bout to take place on the evening of December 15th. It appears that Anderson will not again place his championship belt in a place where he thinks that he might lose it.

The local lovers of wrestling have been in communication with George Touhey, the well known wrestling promoter, in Boston, regarding a match to take place here on the date above mentioned and a telegram received last night stated that in all probability a match might be arranged between the famous Cyclone Burns and Lemle, "The Perfect Man." If all arrangements can be made between these two famous wrestlers the local fans may expect to see something great in the art of wrestling. The dates are all filled up in the States, where wrestling is on the boom, and it is only for that reason that these two big feature wrestlers can be given a chance to try out their powers in this city. The local promoter has also been trying to make arrangements whereby if this match can be pulled off in the city on the 15th, that the winner will have a chance given him to meet the great Dr. Roller here during Christmas.

THEIR EXECUTION SAID TO HAVE BEEN CASE OF ZELAYA'S ARREST

Jose Santos Zelaya, erstwhile President of Nicaragua, who was arrested recently in New York by special agents of the Department of Justice at Washington, will be sent back to Nicaragua. The United States hold Zelaya on the requisition of the government of Nicaragua on a warrant of murder.

The execution of the American Cannon and Groce, is said to have been the basis of the charge, although another report is that the murder was that of a Nicaraguan.

Baker was in the lineup and rendered valuable assistance to the young players who are trying to make the team.

THIS DATE IN RING ANNALS

1850—Tom Johnson, whose real name was Jacking, was born in London. In his youth he was a porter on the wharves of the English metropolis, and, while not large of frame, he attained remarkable muscular development. He manifested great speed and generalship in the ring, and before he was thirty had fought his way to the championship. He was five feet ten in height, and weighed about 190 pounds, but he whipped Isaac Ferrins and many other men much larger than himself, holding the title against all comers until 1891, when he was whipped by Benjamin Brain Johnson, who was past forty when he retired from the ring, and even then he was able to defeat all but the best of the heavy-weight.

1893—Kid Williams, bantamweight boxer, born at Copenhagen, Denmark.

1910—Johnny Coulton defeated Charley Harvey in 10th rounds at New Orleans.

1912—Jack Britton stopped Billy Bennett, Irish middleweight champion, in 10th round at Brooklyn.

WORLD'S GREATEST TROT HORSE

Many new records have been established on the trotting turf in the last twenty years, but in general interest, popular excitement and the amount of money wagered the great Columbian Exposition $15,000 free-for-all trot, commenced at Washington Park, Chicago, just a score of years ago, remains the classic of the harness sport. The eyes of the world were centered on the Windy City and its great world's fair, and all the harness racers, dead game sports and petty pliers in the world seemed to be congregated in Washington Park on September 14, 1893, when the first heat of the Columbian Exposition stakes was trotted. In that first heat, Alix, the great mare who was soon to be come the world's trotting champion, was the victor in a field of ten. Her time was 2:07 3/4, two seconds better than her best previous record. This established a world's race record, although in the previous year Nancy Hulda had made 2:04 against time. Hulda, the California mare who was a favorite among the ramblers and carried hundreds of thousands of dollars, won the second and third heats, but broke down in the fourth while leading in the home stretch. Alix went to the front. Four more heats were trotted the following day. Lord Clinton taking the fifth, Pixley the sixth, Nightingale the seventh and Pixley the eighth. With Hulda out of it, and Alix and Pixley on even terms with two heats each, the betting crowd went wild. Pixley became the favorite, as Alix was sick after the second day, and for a time seemed "all in." Six horses lined up for the ninth heat on the third day, that heat was a battle royal between Pixley and Alix, and the brave mare won. It was a great surprise party for the wise ones, and many of them had telegraphed for friends or walk home. The "talent" had begun by backing Hulda, and when she was crippled they turned to Pixley. It was openly charged that the owner of Alix had been offered a large sum to throw the contest. Just one year and two days after Alix's great victory she established a new world's trotting record of 2:03 3/4 on the Galesburg, Ill. track. Alix retained her supremacy until 1906, when the Abbot set up a new mark of 2:03 1/4.

Cutting Down Printing Costs

EVERY printer knows the importance of keeping down costs. Competition is so keen as to make this one of the most serious problems in the business. When the presses are in the basement, the composing room on an upper floor, and the bindery on the next floor above, the necessity for a freight elevator becomes imperative.

Forms must be quickly and carefully lowered from composing room to basement, and a slip on the stairs would mean a "piled" form, lost labor and consequent delay and expense. Printed sheets must be just as carefully raised to the binding floor to avoid crumpling and smearing. An Otis-Fensom Freight Elevator saves all this expense and danger. Forms may be safely and speedily transferred from floor to floor, and printed sheets may be wheeled in on a truck, raised to the top floor and wheeled out again without the slightest risk of marring. The saving of time and labor alone will quickly pay for the installation of an elevator. An electric elevator may be installed at a moderate cost, and the economies resulting from its use will prove its worth. The prevailing low rates for electric power have made this type of elevator by far the most popular among printers and manufacturers. Our free booklet "Freight Elevators and Their Uses" contains much valuable information on this important subject. Write for it TODAY. Don't put it off until another time—simply fill in this coupon and mail NOW, while the thought is fresh in your mind.

SPORTOGRAPHY "GRAVY"

George "Kid" Lavigne, greatest of modern lightweight boxers, with the possible exception of Jack McAuliffe, was born in Bay City, Michigan, of French-Canadian parents, forty-four years ago tomorrow. Since his retirement from the ring Lavigne has been a jack-of-all-trades, and has had many ups and downs, principally down. The vast sums of money he earned in the ring slipped through his fingers. For a time he conducted a saloon in Detroit, but it was a losing venture. A year or two ago it was reported that the Kid was a physical and mental wreck, but he pulled himself together, climbed aboard the water wagon, and worked such a physical transformation in himself that he thought seriously of having another try at the big game. He has recently been suggested that Lavigne and Dick Burge, the former English lightweight champion, who was defeated by the Saginaw Kid in a memorial bout, could make a good thing of it by touring the two-day houses of America, and there is little doubt that all the old-time fight fans would flock to such an entertainment. Lavigne might do a clog dance, for during his championship days he was fonder of clog dancing than of boxing. He was fond of all sorts of dancing, and had an ambition to shine in the ballroom and on the stage. As a youth, Lavigne developed his muscles by loading salt on barges at Kid Lavigne, Greatest of Lightweights, 44 Tomorrow.

Saginaw, Mich. He first put on the gloves with Tommy Ryan, then welter-weight champion, and liked the game so well that he soon determined to adopt it as a profession. In one of his first important bouts, that with Asdy Bowen at New Orleans, his opponent was killed. Other early bouts were with George Siddons. Lavigne's first session with that iron fighter going seventy-seven rounds to a draw, and the second fifty-five rounds with the same result. In 1891 he whipped Joe Soto in San Francisco, and then cleaned up a number of other lightweights, after which he whipped Joe Walcott, the great negro welterweight, in two fierce battles. In 1896 Jack McAuliffe retired, the undefeated lightweight champion, and Lavigne took over the title. He went over to London and fought Dick Burge, who was then nearer a middleweight than a lightweight, and whipped him. Disappointment and drink then got in their work with Lavigne, and in 1899, at Buffalo, he lost the decision and the title to Frank Erne. A little later the great little French-Canadian was knocked out by George McPadden, and his ring career was over.

AMATEUR HOCKEY LEAGUE

There is every indication that the lovers of hockey will be able to witness some amateur hockey in this city this coming season. The Queen's Rink will be available for hockey and the St. John Athletic Club have already taken steps to form a team. As far as can be learned favorable words have been received from Fredericton, Marysville, Sussex, Sackville and Chatham, who may enter teams in a league, and if a league can be formed there is no doubt but that the local fans will see the good old game once more played here. There is plenty of material in the city among the skaters and the local club intends to place one of the best teams available on the ice.

In addition to a team from the St. John Club in the provincial league, there is talk of other local leagues being formed, and from the present outlook hockey will boom this season.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE AND RHEUMATISM VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Quick Relief. The poison from the blood, and drive it out of the system, and protect the system—so quick and lasting are the results obtained from Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days, are often all that is required to end the worst backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and put the kidneys in healthy, active condition.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look, Mother! If Tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign his little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "Fruit Laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

Nervous Energy Is Limited

There is only so much energy in the human body. A few people have an abundance, but more have not enough. Hence the necessity of conserving vitality. If wasted by mode of living, disease or worry there must be a reckoning, and trouble is sure to come. It may be headaches and weak, aching eyes; it may be nervous indigestion, or it may be merely lack of energy and ambition and feelings of fatigue or helplessness. Of course, sooner or later exhaustion of the nerves leads to prostration, paralysis or locomotor ataxia, but there is no need to let the trouble develop that far.

SERIES OF MISHAPS ON WESTERN SECTION DEMORALIZES TRAFFIC

Trains to and from St. John Behind Schedule Yesterday - Derailments Responsible for Trouble.

Through the derelictment of a freight on the Main Central Railway, early yesterday morning, and two subsequent derailments, there was a general mix up in the railway traffic on the Atlantic division, and trains arriving here and departing were running hours behind schedule time. The first trouble which brought delay to the local trains was a derailment at Kingman, about eight miles from Matthews, early last evening. A coach of the Montreal train headed for St. John jumped the rails near Harvey, and a portion of the track was torn up. This caused a few hours delay. To add to the confusion, the Montreal which was due to leave here at 12:40 noon, when pulling into the station early last evening jumped the rails in the train yard causing a couple of more hours delay.
