COW TESTING CIRCLE

To Be Established with Hartland
as a Centre

(By Nicodemus)

During the season 1913 the Provincial Government through the agricultural societies carried out a successful program of standing crops contests throughout the province. In Carleton county a number of farmers entered the competition and several were prize winners.

A similar contest is again being conducted under the same conditions that obtained in the former contest. The entry must be forwarded to W. A. Taylor, Florenceville, by July 20, the entry fee being only fifty cents. All competitors must be members of some agricultural society in the county.

This season the competition includes oats, two acres; wheat, one acre; potatoes, one acre; buckwheat, two acres; turnips, one-half acre.

During the last year the question of dairying has been to the forefront in Carleton county farming circles and efforts have been made from time to time to institute a system of cow testing so as to place the farmer in a position where he can handle his cattle to the best advantage as a money producing branch of the farming industry.

Ignorance as to the actual returns that each cow is giving is certainly a great source of loss to nearly every farmer in this country who keep cows and the Babcock test is the only means of demonstrating to a certainty just what each cow is doing. The test will also show just what results are obtained from different feeding or different proportioning of the same feeds. Arrangements have been made to establish a testing circle at Hartland, and in this connection Mr. Eveleigh will be here during the next fortnight to establish the thing and start it on a proper running basis. We want the farmers to be interested. The test will cost the farmer nothing but a little time and the result from this testing cannot be computed. If you have one cow or twenty call on C. M. Shaw at Frost & Wood agency near the bridge, Hartland, or send name on a postal saying you are interested in this work and when Mr. Eveleigh comes we will call and talk the proposition over with you. This is a cinch to the man who keeps cows and let me tell you, send your name right in with the number of cows without delay and for the next six months be one man who will know whether he is milking for profit or pouring milk in a rat hole.

S. S. Convention and Dedication
at Cloverdale

The Parish Sunday school convention was held here on July 3 and was largely attended by people from Hartland, Coldstream, Windsor and other places. All reported a pleasant afternoon and evening and we hope to meet with the people on July 26 on a more important occasion as we intend dedicating our church. It is a union church. All denominations are heartily invited to come and attend and we hope to entertain as well as possible. All will be looked out for by the people of this place. Come one, come all.
The Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. John Crabb on Wednesday and was largely attended.

We have the largest and most up-to-date line of caps for spring and summer ever shown north of Fredericton. Latest shapes and cloths. Look 'em up at Mc-Lauchlan's.

WHEN YOU ARE NERVOUS

you have the first symptom of a run-down system, and nervous people too often conceal their aches and pains and suffer in silence, while, if neglected, this condition often becomes more serious trouble. If those so afflicted would stop taking medicine containing alcohol or drugs, which "nurse the foundations of health," and just take the pure, strengthening nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, it would create new blood to pulsate through the organs, refresh their bodies and build up the whole nervous system. It is rich, sustaining nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or drugs. Shun substitutes.

VOL. 6 JULY 16, 1914 No. 5

F. B. CARVELL

The value of the service which Mr. F. B. Carvell has rendered the province of New Brunswick is not easily estimated. When he in his place in parliament made grave charges concerning the Southampton Railway he was made the target of abuse by the Tory press. Have not his charges been proved to the hilt? That they have is at least the view of Commissioner Pringle, a Conservative, who was sent down from Ottawa to conduct an inquiry. It is due also to the alertness and ability of Mr. Carvell that the blackmailing of the lumbermen to the extent of $65,000 has been exposed, and if he is able to bring out all the evidence in the matter of the St. John Valley Railway nobody doubts for one moment that he will in this direction also place the province under an obligation to him, and give the lie in the most effective manner to that portion of the press by which he has been grossly slandered for a long time.

In order to pursue his inquiries in the matter of the St. John Valley Railway, regarding its cost and the diversion of moneys which is charged, Mr. Carvell finds it necessary to examine the books of the St. John & Quebec Railway Company. Mr. Guthrie, counsel for the railway company, intimates that the books are probably in New York. As the company is doing business with the provincial government, Mr. Carvell has naturally appealed to Acting Premier Clarke to have the books produced. They should be in St. John this week. Mr. Carvell has also asked the acting premier to take such steps as may be necessary to secure the presence and the testimony of W. H. Berry, who is still understood to be an official of the provincial government. The request is a reasonable one. Will Mr. Berry appear?—Telegraph.

River Bank

Mrs. Herbert McDonald has returned from Aroostook Junction, where she spent a pleasant week with her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Waugh. Mrs. Leon Millikin of Berlin Mills, New Hampshire, was visiting her sister Mrs. Henry Bell Saturday.

The River Bank school held their concert at Stickney Hall the evening of the 10th. A good crowd was there. They all went through their parts fine. It was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Robert Rideout is still very ill. Her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Parker, is taking care of her. Alice Rideout took a heavy cold and was forced to take her bed also for a short time.

J. A. Sadler's son from St. John is spending his vacation here with his father.

Mrs. Guy Murphy is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Holmes attended the Primitive Baptist meetings at Bristol.

Maud Dow and her friend, Amy Tompkins, started for Winnipeg Wednesday to spend their vacation.

GRAND FALLS NOTES

Quite a number from here drove to Limestone on Sunday.

Miss Ellen McCluskey and her brother, Willie, were in Quebec last week.

The little 5 months old boy of Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess died June 23.

Mr. Ray and family moved from here to Halifax last week going by the G. T. P. railway.

Mrs. J. Day and daughter Dorothy are visiting in Limestone.

Quite a number from Limestone attended the circus here on Thursday.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. Price drove to Limestone Sunday.

The Curless Hotel is being painted and fixed up and will be opened some time in July so it is reported.

James Day drove to Limestone Sunday.

Mrs. Allen McLaughlan, who has been quite ill, is able to be out again.

The Baptist people served dinner on the flat circus day. Somewhere in the vicinity of $30 was taken in.

J. O'Regan is moving a house onto his lots near Mrs. Smith's residence.

Mr. Rivers is putting a stone wall under his house.

The folks in this part of the country seem to have a mania for killing this summer. The latest report is that an automobile party by the name of Turner were out to Salmon River Sunday and in some way let a little child 5 years old fall through the R. R. bridge a distance of 210 feet. What any one wanted to take a little child in such a place for and after taking it there had not brains enough to look after it, is a mystery. There seems to be altogether too much carelessness or such accidents could not happen.

Knowlesville Items

Mrs. Osias Carle has returned home after spending some time visiting in St. John.

Henry Doucette left on Monday to take charge of the carding mill at Bristol.

C. A. McBride of Pioneer was visiting Wm. Phillips this week.

Mrs. Harry Campbell of Arthurville has returned home after visiting her parents and friends.

Ruby Phillips is visiting friends in Woodstock and St. Andrews.

A number of military men passed through here the other day. We are informed they are engaged in preparing a map for war purposes, and would suggest that this section of Carleton Co. affords some excellent sites for fortifications.

Saint John Exhibition

The dates of the Saint John Exhibition are from September 5th. to 12th. and from reports received from Exhibition headquarters, this year's Fair promises to be especially interesting. All available space was spoken for booked remarkably early and several applicants are now on the waiting list in the hope that readjustments can be made which will permit of giving them space.

The demand has been so great that not one foot in the main building has been sold for the use of anything which is not a bona fide exhibit with the sole exception of food concessions. It is the intention this year to concentrate all the amusements in the Midway and before the Grandstand and to have these on an even better scale than heretofore. The main building being reserved so as to be truly representative of the Manufacturers, Farmers and Business Houses of the Maritime Provinces. From present forecast the Exhibition will this year reflect in a comprehensive manner the optimism and progressiveness that has taken such strong hold during the last few years of the people in this Province.

Saint John has a reputation to sustain with regard to its Exhibition and seems determined that the one to be held this year from September 5th. to 12th will maintain this reputation.

The Oliver Riding Cultivator

The Oliver Riding Cultivator, stands in a class by itself, by reason of the fact that it is built right, with larger range of adjustments than can be adapted to do good work under all conditions in the potato field. Oliver quality has made the world over.

In Aroostook County alone sixty-five per cent. of the Potato Cultivators used are Olivers. The feature of the Oliver cultivator that appeals to all farmers who have used it or have seen it at work, is the excellent work that the implement does. It is an ingenious arrangement the gangs are held parallel, and therefore always cut a uniform distance apart, no matter how far they may be. It is also to the right or to the left. On the Oliver cultivator neither of the gangs leaves an uncultivated strip between the shovels, nor does one gang cut a narrower width than the other when the cultivator is shifted to the side.

Concrete Tanks and Troughs Never Rot or Leak

THE most practical tanks, whether for water or sewage, are built of concrete. They never rust, rot, dry out or leak. They never need new hoops or paint. They last a lifetime and seldom require repairs, which makes them the cheapest tanks that can be built.

Clean, Sanitary Watering Troughs are just as necessary as the tanks that drink from them. The farmer's best interests are being served when his stock is assured a plentiful supply of clean, clear water from a trough that is permanent and sanitary.

"What the Farmer can do with Concrete" is the name of a handsome free book that tells all about concrete tanks, watering troughs and other uses of concrete that will save every farmer many dollars. Write for it to-day.

THE CIRCUS CAME

The Mighty Haag Show has come and gone. It was the first circus ever to show in Hartland, excepting a small affair in 1876. The experiment has proved that Hartland is a dandy good circus town for the management claimed for the afternoon performance more than 2000 paid admissions. The evening show was less liberally patronized.

Early in the morning, before the train of 16 cars arrived, a crowd had assembled at the Station and by noon the village had probably 2000 visitors.

The people of the village say that they never saw a crowd of visitors so big and that from the circus people there was not one offensive word or act. The managers of the show said they had a larger crowd than at Woodstock and that they played to the best dressed and brightest crowd they had ever seen in a country town.

Every act of the performers was good.

The merchants and hotels all had a big day, and taking it all around everybody seems to think the circus benefited rather than hurt the town.

How He Gets $1.00 per lb. for Butter

We met a farmer in an adjoining county one day last week who was driving a Ford automobile with a special body in place of a rear seat. On this body he had 3 or 4 tubs of ice cream.

We asked him if he had gone into the ice cream business. He replied that he had. That he was putting all his cream into ice cream and that the week before he had marketed 53 gallons in three villages within a radius of 10 or 12 miles. He said that the demand from merchants had exceeded his supply, and that he received a price equal to selling butter at $1.00 per pound. "Of course," he said, "it would be impossible to do this without my Ford automobile. I bought it for pleasure but it has turned out to be one of the most useful things we have on the farm."

HEADS CANADIAN BAR

J. A. M. AIKENS IS PRESIDENT OF NEW DOMINION ASSOCIATION.

Prominent Winnipeg Barrister Has Held Many Commissions Under Various Governments and is Senior Bench and President of the Manitoba Law Society—Active in University Affairs.

One of the most notable events of the year in legal circles in Canada was the formation of the Canadian Bar Association. Efforts had been made from time to time previously but these were unsuccessful. This year, however, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, was the leading spirit in the movement and was assisted by J. A. M. Aikens, M.P., who has been untiring in his efforts to get a strong organization under way.

At the first meeting delegates from every province in the Dominion were present and two representatives from the American Bar Association came to Ottawa to address the distinguished gathering. These had been appointed by W. H. Taft, former president of the United States, who was unable to be present himself. James Albert Manning Aikens is the first president of the Canadian Bar Association. He was born in Peel county, Ontario, 62 years ago and is a son of Hon. J. C. Aikens, who was Secretary of State in the administration of Sir John Macdonald, 1868-1872, and later lieutenant-governor of Manitoba. Mr. Aikens began the practice of law in Winnipeg in 1879, having previously been prominent in the Ontario bar. He is

J. A. M. AIKENS, at the head of the firm of Aikens, Fullerton, Foley & Newcombe and is a member of the Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta bars. From 1879 to 1896 he was counsel for the Department of Justice. In 1890, he was one of the royal commissioners to investigate and report on the administration of justice in the Northwest Territories. In 1900 he was appointed counsel for the Government of Manitoba. For many years he was treasurer of the Manitoba Law Society, of which he is senior bench and has been president since its organization. He was a solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway in western Canada from 1882 to 1911, when he resigned to contest Brandon in the House of Commons and was elected by a majority of 866.

Mr. Aikens is honorary bursar of the University of Manitoba, a member of the council of the university, a member of the board of Wesley College and a director of the Manitoba Agricultural College. In 1894 he was created a Queen's counsellor. He has taken an active interest in military affairs, being honorary colonel of the Ninety-ninth Regiment, and honorary lieutenant colonel of the Ninety-ninth Regiment, Manitoba Rangers. He is a director of several large insurance companies and is legal advisor to several others.

Quaint Tavern Signs.

Curious indeed are the names of many public houses in Britain. Take the Pig and Whistle. What is the connection? None; not even the oldest inhabitant has a tale of a man who could whistle the most refractory pig home from market. Pig Washel was the name once, and it meant the Virgin's Greeting. The Bull and Mouth is what remains of a once popular inn sign, the Boulogne Mouth, where there was a naval victory. The Bell and Savage, with a lurid red Indian and a bell, is only La Belle Sauvage transformed. So far, the Fleur-de-Lys has apparently escaped distortion because it defies twisting. Rotten Row, in Hyde Park, London, was once the Route du Roi—the King's Way.

Devotee of the Bicycle.

One member of the British House of Commons is a champion of the bicycle. While most M.P.'s have surrendered to the all-conquering motor-car, Sir Porteus Flannery sticks to the bicycle as a handy and enjoyable means of travelling to Westminster. He is now alone in this distinction, and his arrival in Palace Yard is always an incident.

Australian Immigration Laws. Australians have the most rigorous laws against admission of the Japanese, who are their betes noir, but they are equally antagonistic to the immigration of colored races from other parts of the British Empire, such as Hindus from South Africa and Malays from Straits Settlements.

Advertising.

The reason a merchant is a merchant is because he isn't satisfied with his business if he doesn't do any advertising and isn't satisfied with his advertising if he doesn't do any business.

LOST HIS TROUSERS.

Sydney Buxton Had a Distressing Accident While On a Journey.

The announcement that the Rt. Hon. Sir Sydney Buxton, who is to succeed Lord Gladstone as Governor-General of South Africa, has accepted a peerage, coupled with the recent succession of Mr. Sydney Holland, chairman of the London Hospital, to the title of Lord Knutsford, on account of the death of his father, reminds one of an amusing story which the latter told four years ago at a dinner. It appears that Mr. Sydney Buxton and Lord Knutsford are cousins, and there was a loud demand for a story at the dinner in question, when Lord Knutsford happened to remark that Mr. Sydney Buxton was the only Cabinet Minister who had thrown his trousers out of a railway carriage window and not lost his character.

With a laugh, the chairman of the London Hospital readily complied with the demand for further particulars of the incident. On one occasion Mr. Buxton got to a railway station five minutes before the train arrived, and sat down on a bank to wait. "When he got into a compartment," said Lord Knutsford, "he found his coat and waistcoat were full of ants, so he took them off and shook them. Shortly afterwards he felt the ants inside his trousers, so took them off, and was shaking them out of the window when a passing train took the trousers out of his hand."

"This was very awkward. He was going to a Cabinet Council, and he had on a frock-coat, but no trousers. At the next stopping-place he called a porter."

"I have had the misfortune to throw my trousers out of the window."

"That won't do," said the porter, and he shouted to the guard, "Here's a bloke in the first-class without any bags on!"

"The guard came up and seeing how things were, he telegraphed to King's Cross: 'There's a Cabinet Minister in the train who has thrown his trousers out of the window. Get another pair for him.'"

"When Sydney Buxton got to London he was provided with a pair of green trousers, such as porters have, and in them he went to the Cabinet meeting, where he was charged with trying to ape the Labor members."

Women In Trade.

There are instances on record of Englishwomen in the later Middle Ages discharging duties and holding offices that do not fall to their lot in these days. There are allusions, writes A. Abrams in "English Life and Manners in the Later Middle Ages," to women bourgeois in the records of London and some of the large towns: "If women married aliens, they could naturalise them. They sometimes acted as churchwardens, a post that has since entailed such duties as farming and trading, as well as keeping the parish accounts, managing parish entertainments, and representing the parish at the Archdeacon's Court. They were occasionally entrusted with the charge of state prisoners, and once or twice they helped to collect loans for the King. Cicely, Duchess of Warwick, was hereditary Sheriff of Worcestershire, and the widow of Thomas Mowbray, Duke of Norfolk, was Countess Marshal, and as such wore the robes of the Garter on St. George's Day, 1386."

Spying on Suffragettes.

In the attempt to repress the militant suffragettes, Scotland Yard is spending thousands of dollars on police spies. Many of these spies start operations by pretending sympathy for the women's cause and joining a men's union for woman suffrage. All men adherents are carefully watched by the suffragettes in consequence.

Besides this, hundreds of plain clothes men prow around the dwellings and meeting places of suffrage leaders, according to exposures in the Suffragette which adds:

"As private meetings at times, spies are found having gained admission by first becoming members of the Suffrage Society, under whose auspices such meetings are held, and gradually wormed their way into the confidence of staunch friends. When it is difficult for some reason for a detective to join a suffrage society, the plan of employing spies is adopted. For a consideration these hirelings will do their best to find out the plans of the militants."

Labor Leaders Ahead.

Among present day British Parliamentary orators the Labor leaders use the longest and most recondite words. Mr. Balfour, however, is pretty hard to beat at polysyllabic displays. In a speech on dualism in education, delivered some months ago, he used the word "dichotomize." The reporters, not having heard of this strange verb, held a consultation about it and sent up a message to Mr. Balfour asking if their note was correct. In reply they received a delightful Balfourism: "Did I really use such a word? Was it a verb or a substantive? Make it 'bisect'."

New Type of Submarine.

The chief feature of the new submarines which the British Admiralty are building, and about which a great deal of secrecy is maintained, is the provision of watertight compartments which find no place in the design of previous British submarines, and of a detachable keel weighing twelve tons, which can be released by those on board should all reserve buoyancy be exhausted.

Link With Past Gone.

Michael Sparrall, who died recently at Shanklin, Isle of Wight, at the age of 95, was formerly consul general for Greece in London. He was present at the funeral of George IV. and the coronation of William IV. Among his friends were Gladstone, Cobden and Bright.

Picked Up a Few.
"What are you doing in New York?"
"Just getting impressions."
"Did you get any?"
"Well, I fell off a street car and was run over by an automobile."

The Amateur.
Oh, I would like
Without a sigh
And get the best that could be bought
Of red and reel
If fish and eel
Would only let themselves be caught!

Favored the Chef.

"Are you fond of art, Mr. Brown?"
"Yes, indeed."
"Which branch do you prefer?"
"The culinary art."

His Reason.
"He doesn't believe in divorce."
"Why?"
"Says he has tried it three times, and it doesn't render him immune at all."

Explained.
"What is having plenty of money?"
"Just having more'n the rest of the bunch."

Australian Bushmen.

Although the bushmen of Australia are the very lowest in the scale of ignorance, they possess a rare instinct that equals that of many animals and is in its way as wonderful as man's reason. It is almost impossible for them to be lost. Even if they be led away from their home blindfolded for miles, when released they will unerringly turn in the right direction and make their way to their nest homes, and, though these are all very similar, they never make a mistake.

ST. JEAN DE MATHA, JAN. 27th, 1914.
"After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago I received samples of 'Fruit-a-lives'. I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking 'Fruit-a-lives', I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well. In a word, I am completely cured, thanks to 'Fruit-a-lives'."

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS

Woodstock, July 10.—This week has been devoted principally to educational work, the Summer School of Science, the departmental examinations, etc.

The prizes provided yearly by the Strathecona Trust, for excellence in physical training, were awarded by Inspector F. B. Meagher in his territory, for 1914, as follows:

Graded Schools—1st prize, Walter S. Daley, Broadway school, Woodstock. 2nd, Miss Helena Mulherin, of the same school.

Rural Schools—1st, James B. Lee, Glassville, 2nd, Mrs. Arthur Slipp, Riceville.

Semi-Rural Schools—1st, Miss Ruth Harper, Canterbury, 2nd, E. J. Alexander, Hartland.

Walter S. Daley conducted the examinations at Florenceville, with 40 students, and W. T. Denham had charge of 20 pupils at Andover.

The Summer School opened in the Vocational School building on Wednesday, with the full complement of teachers, an average of nine from each of the counties in the province. The opening lectures were devoted largely to school garden work. The school is under the control of Director R. P. Steeves, of Sussex, assisted by Miss Peacock, in charge of Domestic Science, Messrs. McCarty (Guelph), Newton, Hagerman and Sierrett. The closing exercises will be held on August 8th, when there will be a reception, speeches and presentation of prizes.—Globe cor.

The university matriculation examinations were finished to-day with five candidates writing the examinations. Normal school entrance examination finished last evening with 120 candidates. Six candidates wrote the examination for superior school licenses. The sessions were held in the Fisher Memorial school with Inspector F. B. Meagher as supervisor.

The Late Hon. Mr. Emmerson

The death of the member for Westmoreland in the Canadian House of Commons will cause more regret than surprise because it was fore-shadowed by a prolonged and progressively dangerous illness. Mr. Emmerson was a man of good ability, a successful lawyer, and a prominent politician in New Brunswick. He belonged to the Baptist denomination, and was a graduate of Acadia University, Nova Scotia, in which he took an active interest to the end.

Mr. Emmerson's entry into political life was by way of the Provincial Parliament of his native Province. After an unsuccessful candidature for a seat in the House of Commons in 1887, he was a member of the New Brunswick Legislative Assembly from 1888 to 1890. During 1891 and 1892 he served as a member of the Legislative Council, which he assisted to abolish, and from 1892 to 1900 he was again a member of the assembly, and also a member of the Ministry of which the late Hon. A. G. Blair was Premier till in 1896 he became Minister of Railways in the Laurier Administration at Ottawa. Mr. Emmerson succeeded to the Premiership in 1897, and held it till 1900, when he was elected to the House of Commons for Westmoreland. After Mr. Blair's resignation of the Railway portfolio he administered it from 1904 till his resignation in 1907.

Mr. Emmerson was a thorough-going liberal of an advanced type. He was a convinced free-trader and a radical sociologist; a democrat in all his political opinions. He was an excellent Parliamentary debater, and was always ready to do his full share of strenuous work in times of exciting and prolonged discussion. With three such men as Dr. Pugsley, Mr. Carvell, and Mr. Emmerson to represent her, New Brunswick was always sure of a prominent place in the Parliamentary arena.—Toronto Globe.

ROBBING WOMEN OF THEIR HEALTH

Anaemia Unless Checked Passes
Into Hopeless Decline

Anaemia is like a spectre that steals on you unawares and drives all happiness out of existence. It is a thief that robs you of your life and energy. Thousands of women in this country are the victims of anaemia (that is, bloodlessness), which spares neither rich nor poor, young or old. It robs a woman of her health, her vitality, her beauty—of everything that gives a woman her charm. The chief symptoms of this trouble include a distaste for food, prostrating headaches, extreme languor, loss of weight, nervousness, pale cheeks, lips and gums, heart palpitations, dizziness and a constant feeling of wretchedness.

The only way to effect a cure is to increase the blood supply—to make it pure, rich and red. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls and women from the early fate that threatened them through anaemia's ravages, for these pills enrich the blood, stimulate the circulation, nourish the nerves, and restore the energy and perfect health that make women attractive. If you are a victim of bloodlessness in any way, do not let it run into a hopeless decline, but begin the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to-day. The following bit of evidence proves the worth of this medicine. Mrs. Maurice Sims, Liverpool, N. S., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a blessing to me. About two years ago I was so badly run down that I had to give up all work and go to bed. My husband and parents were much worried about me as they thought I was going into consumption. The doctor who was attending me changed his medicine several times, but it did me no good and I began to feel very much discouraged myself. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to do so. In a few weeks I felt much better and I continued taking the pills for a couple of months until I was again in perfect health. I believe that if I had not taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not have survived, and I shall always be very grateful for what they have done for me."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
