Report Says That Several Officers Are Among Those Killed.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, May 25 .- Concern has been caused by the announcement that a third of the Canadian casualtles in last Thursday's fight are classed as "missing." The corrected figures are 66 killed, 132 wounded and 102 missing. This is a very high proportion of missing and killed for that number of

It is assumed that the missing are prisoners, and that when the full story of the engagement at night in the orchard comes to Canada it will be found to be an unusual one. It is reported that the dead include a number of officers. Official "eyewitness" details of the battle are lacking, but accounts so far received are taken as authentic, the ground gained and held being substantial, though at heavy cost. The casualties will come through in the ordin-just come out of action. On the morning of the 24th of April we were ordered to retire from a trench in which we had been dug in for the night to some reserve trenches. Dick and his friend, Frank Rosselli, fell back into the trenches of the 15th Battalion, where many were surrounded and taken prisoners. The last any of our men saw of them was going into the 15th Battalion lines. Dick did splendid work with his gun and team on the 22nd and 23rd, the machine guns saving the battalion on two occasions when the enemy attacked. I have always taken a personal interest in Dick as he came to Valcartier with my brother in the Corps of Guides. Sincerely yours,

Out of the Battle. Dear Mother,-At last we are out of the battle and back in France for a rest and to reorganize. We had almost two weeks of real war when every sense was constantly on the alert, when at times the shells, big and little, were bursting around us seemingly in clouds. Days and days when we did not sleep hours, when we worked like slaves. I never endure what we came through. From the time the Germans broke of Anril 22 till the night of April 27. I did not have one hour's sleep. During that time we attacked and won a line of German trenches, arched many miles, dug trench after trench, and endured what me of the regulars told me was the most awful shelling of the whole war, and all without sleep. Rest in Trench, My first rest was in the bottom of a trench we had just dug. It was wet and cold, and my only covering was a dead man's great coat, but I slept for four hours; that was the longest sleep I had during the time we were in the battle. I just napped occasionally. My experience was the same as the rest of the boys, no more, no less At the end, we marched 20 miles to billets in France for a rest. Most of us slept the next three days just getting up to eat occasionally. I can't begin to tell you everything that has happened. Things, once they start, moved like light-

PARIS, May 24 .- 2:30 p.m -An attack by Austrian warships on the eastern coast of Italy, along the Adriatic, is announced in an official communication from the Italian War Office, transmitted to Paris by the correspondent of the Havas Agency. It is said the Austrian warships were forced to withdraw after a short cannonade.

The statement follows: "It was foreseen that on the declaration of war offensive actions would occur against our Adriatic coast, with the purpose of seeking moral effect rather than attaining a military purpose. But we were able to prepare for these, and render their duration short.

Small naval units of the enemy, especially destroyers and torpedo boats, fired their guns upon our Adriatic coast on May 24, between 4 and 6 o'clock in the morning. At the same time aeroplanes attempted to attack the arsenal at Venice.

Rome, Italy, May 18.-When Italy goes to war royalty and nobility take their places on the firing line. For the kings and dukes and counts of Italy have always been warriors, King Victor Emmanual himself came from a fighting family—the house of Savoy. It's up to him to follow the chivalrous example of the famous Prince Eugene of Savoy, Charles Albert, Victor Emmanual and his own father, King Humbert

The King's uncle, the Duke of Genoa, is a noted admiral, and considered the greatest technical expert in the Italian navy. He is now retired, but acts as Albania, has requested that he be adviser to the naval board, and is not transferred to the staff of the Teu- too old to assume a command. The Duke of the Abruzzi is a dashing young naval commander, well known in America, and now in com-

There is no step along the rosestrewn path that leads to the altar that is not haunted by its own pet superstition, and the nearer to the lovers' goal the more thickly these superstitions cluster.

And herein lies much of the charm of weedding? Which will bring her happiness and which must she shun? Happily she is not left to her own resources in deciding this crucial question, for love's calendar has all been landmarked for her guidance. She is told, on unmistakable authority:

In all the year June and Octobe seem to shine with brightest promise of nuptial bliss, and the day's of happiest omen are June 4 and October 9, the maid who wears her bridal veil on either of these golden days being asured of all sweet things in her wedded life ded life.

Then each month has its unlucky days, which lovers on wedding bent will be wise to avoid. After all, they only number thirty-two in the year, so that there is a liberal margin for felic-

Thus in February 6, 7 and 18 must be struck out of the nuptial calendar; in March the 1st, 6th and 8th; in April 6th and 11th; in May the 5th, 6th and 7th, and so on to December 17, the last ill-omened day of the year.

Of all the days of the month the 6th holds least promise of happiness and the 3rd the greatest. Even in lucky June lovers must give the 7th and 15th a wide berth; and in October is, curiously enough, the favorite day of all the week. Tuesday and Wednesday are full of promise; Thursday has one conspicuously lucky, if inconvenient, hour-that before sunrise; while Sunday, Mouday and Saturday are neutral days. The qualities of the days are fairly displayed in the following not unfamiliar lines:

"Monday for wealth, Tuesday for health, Wednesday the best day of all: Thursday for crosses, Friday for losses, Saturday no luck at all."

MAKING GARDEN PRODUCTIVE.

[By Prof. Spade.]

The backyard gardener must be reminded that unless his soil is taken care of, not more than half to two-thirds the utmost crop is to be realized.

The digestive process to care sucked up into the plants through the plants are excluded in the plants. The digestive process to care the plant foods are retained and digested in the leaves and stems.

The digestive process is carried on in little green cells which give color to the leaves.

The reason soils seem to wear ou and fall to produce the usual crop after some years is usually because the ele-ments and the bacteria cannot decompose the soil fast enough to get the plant foods into such shape that the plants can use them, it is also common that continuous growing of the same crop will poison the soil so far as that

"Dad" Stewart's collection of brakemen, sectionhands, wipers and other railroaders who spend their vacations in the Canadian League, drifted into this city yesterday afternoon after losing a game to the Reisling team during the morning in the Railway Town. They were late in arriving, but there was nothing late about their efforts to wrest the afternoon pastime from the Tecumsehs. They wersted it in the first inning. The other eight were spent in making it more and more painful to the home folks who were looking on. The final result was 10 to 2.

"Flip" Reilly, the slowest slow-ball curver in the Canadian League, was elected to shoot them over for the Stewart aggregation, and his was a most pleasing performance, from a St. Thomas point of view. Opposed to him was "Lefty" brans the tall youth who pitches with his fork hand, but "Lefty" was a wee bit wayward. The first inning was enough to convince him, and anyone else, that his pitching left a lot to be desired. The opening frame proved a regular bonanza for the Saints. # CITY BOWLING CLUBS

All three cicy bowling clubs opened the season on Victoria Day, and, judging from the way the bowlers turned out and enjoyed the games, the sport has not lost any of its attractiveness in these stirring times. All three clubs celebrated the opening with matches between rinks representing the president and vice-president. In every case the vice-president's rinks won.

The greens were in fine shape, and the season promises to be as enjoyable as in other years. All three clubs have arranged a number of spring tournagood scores were made. In the double bird event, Simcox and Myers tied with 9 each.

It might be explained that the handicap used was the added bird handicap, each shooter being allowed the number of birds added to his score that he missed in events one and three. This system is determined by lot, and the handicap is not known until the events are all finished. Total ......140 Total ......19 Vice-president's rinks up 39 shots. .101 At the London Club, London, May 14-(Correspondence of the Associated Press).-The congestion in the port of London, which for a time threatened to tie up commerce indefinitely, is being relieved gradually. A few weeks ago 40 or 50 vessels frequently were waiting their turn to go into the crowded docks. The number of waiting ships is now reduced on the overage to fewer than ten.

This improvement is not due to decreased business, for the volume float-

GAME ENJOYED creased business, for the volume floating into the port shows a steady increase, but there has been a relaxation in the customs regulations in favor of the British colonles. Numerous improvements have been effected also in the handling of lighters and in haulage facilities, assuring more rapid discharges of cargoes.

Wool Big Difficulty. At present the principal difficulty is in handling the enormous quantities of two million.

In peace times part of the wool is place in Keterson Park between Fullater and Mitchell teams and much precedence over everything else.

> Must Be Stored. The result is that wool, which is usually out of the London dock warehouses within a few days, has to be kept in stock. This prevents the reception of further shipments. To accommodate these large accumulations, the port authority has rented all the available sheds and buildings in the vicinity of the wool timber sheds and even storing large quantities of wool in open sheds.

There also have been heavy arrivals of refrigerated meat. The meat warehouses have been filled for some time past, and new consignments have had to wait for vacant space. This has meant that vessels bringing the meat have had to be treated as warehouses. Negotiations now are under way for doubling the refrigerating space at the district. Plenty of Wheat. Grain warehouses all are reported full and vessels with grain generally are kept waiting some time. There now are 95

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 25.—Wireless communication between the United States and Germany has been severely handicapped and will probably continue se until about July 1 by the static condi-tions prevailing in the North Atlantic at this time of the year. The wireless station at Sayville, L. 1. the receiving station of the Atlantic Communication Company, the German wireless concern, has within the pass week or two been frequently isolated from the sending plant at Nauen, Germany, it was learned today, and the same situation exists at Ruckerton, N. J., the sending station in this country for messages to Germany. Such messages as are received at Sayville are for the most part fragmentary or often mpossible to decipher. The activities of aurora borealis, acmpanied by electrical storms over the wireless routes, are the cause of the difficulty, it is explained, and may be expected to continue for several weeks This means that until normal conditions gain prevail uncensored communica tion between Germany and the outside world will be limited.

GRAIN Chicago, May 25 .- Predictions that the next government crop report would be of a very bullish character gave an upward swing today to the price of wheat. The forecasts were based largely on statements that the falling off in Kansas prospects had been much more serious than the trade has believed was the case. Houses with southwestern connections took a prominent share in the buying. Opening prices, which were unchanged to ½c higher, were followed by a material advance all around, and then a moderate reaction.

CROWDS THRONG PARKS
ON THE HOLIDAY HERE

Record Number of People Came Into London Yesterday.

Record holiday crowds that arrived on all trains from north, south, east and west, invaded London yesterday for the celebration of Victoria Day in this city. The threatening weather of the morning gave place to a clear sky later in the day, while the air warmed up just enough to make the day ideal for outdoor sports.

A crowd of over 3,000 people watched the home help go down to defeat in Tecumseh Park in the afternoon. At Springbank the wrestling match proved an attraction for many while a great stepping smartly up to receive man stepping smartly up to receive more day weather brought a crowd of fifteen thousand people from London and all parts of Western Ontario to Carling's Heights yesterday after-noon and made the big military field ay the most successful of its kind ever held in this part of the province. There were numerous entries for every event and as a result every-one was keenly contested to the great delight of the huge crowd which cheered and applauded enthusiastically. The men of the 33rd and 34th battalions secured the bulk of the prizes, the 33rd being especially fortunate. The officers warmly congratulated the men upon the splendid spirit of fairness they showed throughout and the zest with which they entered into all the sports. The handsome prizes were presented at the close of the program by Mrs. Wilson, wife of the popular commander of the 33rd Battalion and here again the training the men are receiving was strikingly in evidence each man stepping smartly up to receive Ideal holiday weather brought a crowd

It is known, however, that Premier Asquith has decided that Winston Spencer Churchill shall remain in the Cabinet in some other position than that of first lord of the admiralty. It loo street, was steadily chugging its way up stream. Lloyd Shapland, of is understood that the Premier tried hard to retain Viscount Haldane as lord high chancellor, but the Unionists were so strongly opposed to this that Haldane will be sacrificed.

There is renewed talk of David Lloyd George combining the offices of chancellor of the exchequer and munitions minister, but this point still remains unsettled.

Redmond Hesitates. Pressure has been brought to induce John Redmond, the Irish leader, to accept a seat on the Cabinet, but thus far without success. There will be a meeting of the Nationalists party in Dublin tomorrow (Tuesday) at which this matter, doubtless, will be discussed, but it is believed that Mr. Redmond is determined to adhere to the tradition of the Irish party not to take office until home rule is in actual operation. It is thought by Liberals that the inclusion of Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, in the Cabinet would make it eminently desirable that the Nationalists also should have a member in the Government. Fisher's Resignation Stands. Lord Fisher's resignation as first sea lord seems to be a definite one, he having declined to work with Arthur J. Balfour at the admiralty.

Concerning the question of responsibility for the Dardanelles operations, the Daily Mail this morning declares that Lord Fisher signed and sealed all the documents relating to that undertaking, and that the war council, when it was : Ammonia Powder: decided to carry the operations out, was under the belief that Lord Fisher approved of this decision.

AUSTRALIANS WON BIG VICTORY OVER TURKS' CRACK MEN

rman General Brought Out Army Corps-Lost Seven PARIS, May 24.—11:45 p.m.—News reagainst the British troops near Kaleh Tepe by two Turkish divisions was carefully prepared by General Liman Von Sanders, the German commander, and his staff, not only with the object of inflicting a check on the Allies, but with raising the spirits of the Turkish troops and reassuring public opinion mpressed by the heavy Turkish losses at the beginning of May.

General Von Sanders brought up the 1st Army Corps, a crack organization, which had been reserved for the defence of Constantinople. Their landing was greatly hampered by the bombardment from the enemy's aeroplanes. Two divisions of this corps, which had been put ashore the night before at Maidos, imnediately marched to Kaleh Tene and attacked the Australians and New Zealanders the night of May 18-19. They were completely beaten, however, losing 2,000 men killed and 5,000 wounded, the
