CHAOS IN BOHEMIA BRINGS MARTIAL LAW

WINNIPEG CARMEN JOIN GREAT STRIKE; UNIONS CALL OUT 16 THOUSAND MORE

Sympathy Walk Out At Manitoba Capital Assumes Gigantic Proportions—City Makes Concessions But Wants the Fire Department Non-Union.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, May 22.—At 1 o'clock this morning, after meetings of several local unions had carried strike votes, union labor headquarters issued an order calling out 16,000 union men today. This adds to the 12,000 already out. Five thousand more will be called out on Thursday morning, Secretary Robinson declared, including all unions in theatres and picture houses, closing up these amusement places.

The city council, after a long conference with David Campbell, Premier Borden's representative, made concessions to strikers. They will not insist that all civic employees must not strike, but resort to arbitration, but the city council insisted and held out that the firemen must not under any condition resort to a strike. The unions, it is believed, will not accept this concession, but will hold out for complete victory. Great enthusiasm prevailed around the Labor Temple all night, and the men appear to be very optimistic they will win everything.

Winnipeg, May 22.—Yesterday morning more than 3,000 railway shopmen at the Canadian Pacific, Canadian Northern and Canadian Government shops laid down their tools, while last night 250 stationary engineers quit work, and 1,000 street railway employees followed them at 2 o'clock this morning, when they took their cars to the barns.

The strikers' committee further threatens that the carmen at the railway shops will walk out at 9:30 this morning.

The public utilities continue to run along smoothly, the waterworks and city light and power departments being right on schedule, and the fire fighting force in a position, it is stated, to handle any emergency that may arise.

The transportation of the employees of the big stores and business firms occupied the attention of the employers yesterday, and arrangements were made to bring their staffs to work this morning by automobiles, motor trucks, etc.

SAMMIES DRENCH ENEMY WITH GAS

Sudden and Terrific Attack Is Launched by Americans Near Toul.

With the American Army in France, Tuesday, May 21.—The American artillery northwest of Toul launched a sudden and terrific local gas attack upon the German positions and cantonments within the Gerschamp wood early today. Severe punishment was inflicted upon the enemy. The deluge of shells fell in three waves, and within a half-hour the woods in which many Germans were sleeping had been drenched with a large quantity of poisonous gas.

"In lively patrol actions Monday night and this morning east of Luneville, German parties were twice defeated. We captured two prisoners.

Toronto, May 22.—Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, today said that one of the questions to be taken up at the general conference will be the suggested amalgamation of the social service and the home mission departments. The two departments in their ultimate aims closely coincide, he declares.

Rome, Tuesday, May 21.—Italian troops in the mountains west of the Brenta have broken up enemy attacks, especially on the southern slopes of Sasso Rosso. THE WAR SITUATION

Germany's spring offensive, launched in the hope of forcing the Allies to conclude peace, enters upon its third month today. The allied armies are still intact and waiting further enemy attacks, while American reinforcements are hurrying to France. Great losses sustained in Picardy and Flanders have forced the Germans to halt and reorganize their shattered divisions.

Foe Lacks Vigor.

In the weeks since the repulse of the last strong German attack, that north of Mont Kemmel, the Allies have succeeded here and there in biting off important positions. Enemy counter-attacks have not been vigorous, and all his attempts to regain the lost positions have failed.

The latest German failure was northwest of Merville, the apex of the Lys salient. Attacking new British positions on a front of two-thirds of a mile, the Germans, although in strength, were thrown back. The British line remains unchanged. Smaller enemy attempts north of Bailleul have been repulsed by the French.

1,000 Foe Planes Downed.

On the sectors southwest of Ypres and west of Amiens, the Germans have shown no indications that infantry attacks are about to be renewed. Neither has Gen. Otto von Buelow's army east of Arras undertaken new operations. However, Berlin cannot delay a renewal of the offensive much longer, and that is the time the Allies are waiting for, as they improve their positions at various points. British aviators since March 21 have accounted for 1,000 German airplanes and have dropped more than 1,000 tons of bombs on enemy military targets. The aerial campaign against the enemy continues unabated, both British and French bombing squadrons being busy.

On the front between the Piave and Lake Garda the Italians have been victorious in several strong local engagements with the Austro-Hungarians. On Monte Spinoncia, west of the Piave, the Italians wiped out an enemy post and captured 53 prisoners, while their new positions at Capo Sile, on the Piave, have been extended further.

North of Bagdad in Mesopotamia, the Turkish resistance to the advancing British still is weak. Mounted troops have occupied Fatha, north of Tekrit on the Tigris, the Turks fleeing after slight fighting.

On the main western battlefronts no infantry movements of major importance were reported last night, but there were successful raids on the part of the British on the Arras front and in Flanders. The principal German activity was in the form of a heavy gas bombardment of the sector northeast of Bethune.

Violent Gunfire.

Paris reports pronounced artillery activity on the important front southeast of Amiens, where the gunfire is described as extremely violent. There was heavy firing also on the southern side of the Montdidier salient near Plemont to the west of Noyon.

The air defences of Paris held against persistent attempts by the Germans last night to get over the city and drop bombs. The casualties were confined to three killed and several wounded in the outskirts. The Germans failed to reach the city itself, and had one of their raiding machines brought down in flames by anti-aircraft gunfire.

LAURIER POINTS OUT INFRACTION OF HOUSE RULES

Richardson Did Not Vote On Sub-Amendment to the Titles Motion.

YUKON VOTE BILL IN

Extends Period in Which To File Petition by Forty Days.

Ottawa, May 22.—In the House this morning the solicitor-general introduced a bill for extending, in the case of the Yukon territory, the period in which a petition may be filed by 40 days after the general returning officer had made his returns. The bill provides also that the soldiers' votes cast shall be counted notwithstanding the time when they were polled.

Bank Closing Bill.

The minister of justice presented a bill enabling banks to close at 2:30 instead of 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Hon. Chas. Murphy asked if it was true that bank clerks of 20, 21 and 22 liable to report in June and July, had been granted exemptions to January 1, 1919, and whether the reason given for such exemption was that the clerks would be required to help in the next Victory loan.

Sir George Foster promised to confer with the minister of militia on the matter during the day. Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out the men on farms in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces are being required to report in person, which, in some cases, involves a return journey of four days during their busiest time, and Sir George promised to draw the attention of the minister of militia to this matter also.

Members Should Vote.

Sir Wilfrid also brought up the point that Mr. Richardson did not vote in the House last night, although present when the division was taken on the sub-amendment of Sir Robert Borden to the motion on titles. Sir Wilfrid asked for a ruling of the chair and argued, after quoting an authority, that the rule was specific, members should vote.

Speaker Rhodes replied that the question had not arisen before in his experience, either as a member of the House or while occupying the chair. In the short space of time since the division last night, he had not had an opportunity of reaching a conclusion, considered decision on the point. He would, however, take the earliest opportunity in consulting the authorities and of advising the House.

The minister informed Sir Wilfrid that there was now an agreement between the Montreal munition workers and the company, but the latter had not signed it, and the men had not yet returned to work.

Mr. Crothers told Hon. Chas. Murphy that he had nothing new concerning the Winnipeg strike situation, but hoped to report favorably before long.

Mr. McMaster said returned soldiers are being arrested in Montreal under the anti-loafing order-in-council, and was told by the minister of justice that the enforcement of the order lay with the municipal and provincial authorities, whose attention should be called to these cases.

HOLLAND ONCE MORE PROTESTS TO ALLIES OVER SHIPS' SEIZURE

U. S. Is Told Original Objections Were Not Answered.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—A supplementary note of protest against the British and American seizure of Dutch shipping has been handed to Secretary of State Lansing by the Dutch legation here. It contends that the United States in its explanation of the seizure did not answer the original objections made by the Dutch Government.

KERENSKY ARRIVES AT CANADA ATLANTIC PORT

A Canadian Atlantic Port, May 22.—A mission from Denmark to the United States, headed by J. Olan, chief of the Danish foreign trade department, arrived here this morning. It was rumored that among the passengers aboard is A. F. Kerensky, the former premier of Russia.

Port authorities here, when asked to confirm this report, replied that they had "no information about it."

Positive instructions have been issued by the steamer's agents here that no newspaper correspondent is to be allowed on board.

DOUBTED AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Investigation by the state department has failed to verify reports that Alexander Kerensky, the former premier of Russia, had arrived here or is on his way to the United States. No record, it was said, today could be found of Kerensky's leaving Russia and officials are inclined to doubt the reports.

At the Russian embassy it was said today nothing was known of Kerensky's movements, and that he was not expected here by embassy officials.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE EXCELLENT OUT WEST

Winnipeg, May 22.—Nearly every district in Manitoba and many parts of Saskatchewan was visited with heavy rains in the last 24 hours which, with temperatures ranging from 40 to 60 degrees, makes for ideal crop conditions at this stage of growth. In Southern Manitoba, where rain was needed, perhaps more than anywhere else in the West, .65 of an inch of rain has fallen.

Weather conditions throughout the West are excellent, and with the prospect of warm weather, the season bids fair to remain at least two weeks earlier than usual.

MOBS PLUNDER THE VAST ESTATES OF KAISER'S FRIENDS

Bohemians Turning On German Task Master With "Popular Excesses," and Martial Law Is Proclaimed.

London, May 22.—Martial law has been proclaimed in Bohemia and in consequence of "popular excesses" many persons have been imprisoned, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Berne, quoting the Slovenski Parod.

Outbreaks have occurred in Pilsen, and other towns. The vast estates of Prince Furtstenburg, a close friend of the German emperor, have been plundered, and the buildings on them burned.

Dr. von Seydler, Austrian premier, it is added, has summoned the Czech Deputy Stanek to discuss the situation. Deputy Stanek has declined, and has warned the premier against a policy of violence in Bohemia, fearing evidently that the indiscriminate hangings and shootings in Galicia at the beginning of the war are to be repeated in Bohemia.

A HINT OF PEACE.

The Breslau newspaper Volka Wacht, as quoted in a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily Mail, says Dr. von Seydler made a visit to Prague and Northern Bohemia, and in addressing striking miners, asserted that the effort for general peace which, he said, Emperor Charles was carrying forward incessantly, was not so hopeless as many persons thought.

The premier authorized control by the workmen of food distribution in their own districts, and promised that the question of reducing hours of labor will be taken up by the war ministry and representatives of the workers.

GERMANS ARE FOILED IN MIDNIGHT RAID ON FRENCH CAPITAL

Perfect Defence Keeps Attackers in the Suburbs.

Paris, May 22.—German aviators made an ineffectual attempt last night to raid Paris. Three persons were killed and several wounded in the outskirts of the city, but none of the raiders reached Paris itself. A German airplane was hit by an anti-aircraft gun and fell in flames north of the city.

The enemy dropped bombs in various suburban localities. Some material damage is reported. The signal that all was clear was sounded at 1 o'clock this morning.

The raid demonstrated the high state of efficiency to which the aerial defences of the city have been brought. It was a clear and windless night with a brilliant moon, ideal for an aerial attack. The raiders, who were divided into two squadrons, sought vainly for two hours to find a gap in the wall of fire with which the city was encompassed. The places at which the bombs fell show that the Germans circled around the city before loosing their cargoes and fleeing.

BRITISH TAKE LARGE MILITARY STORES FROM THE RETREATING TURK

London, May 22.—Turkish troops in Mesopotamia, north of Bagdad, display little activity, while British cavalry has advanced north of Tekrit, on the Tigris to Fatha. An official statement on operations in Mesopotamia reads:

"The Turks have shown no activity since they were driven across the Lesser Zab on May 11. Removal of large quantities of military stores captured in Kirkuk proceeds without interruption.

"On the Tigris our mounted troops have advanced as far as Fatha. The Turks holding the village offered little resistance and retreated hastily up the river."

SCHOOLBOY ELECTROCUTED.

Montreal, May 22.—Adelie Dupuis, 7 years, was electrocuted, and Germaine Perron, aged 8, was badly burned, when the two came in contact with an electrically-charged barbed wire fence during the recreation hour at Rosemore School, near Montreal, yesterday afternoon. The barbed wires had become charged owing to a broken pole on a high transmission line.

THREATENED BREACH BETWEEN PRESIDENT AND SENATE AVOIDED

Washington, May 22.—With less than two minutes debate, the threatened breach between President Wilson and the Senate disappeared today when by a viva voce vote an acceptable substitute was adopted in place of the Chamberlain resolution which the President contended was nothing less than a proposal to constitute the military affairs committee a committee for the conduct of the war.

OFFICIAL APPOINTMENT BY HOME GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

Advertiser Illustrations.

W. G. WOONTON, B. A. Sc.

The appointment of W. G. Woonton, son of Alex. Woonton of 714 Maitland street, and a former Advertiser employee, to the engineering staff of the Imperial Government has been officially announced. He is another of the many Londoners who have received recognition from the home Government since the war began. The exact nature of the work which Mr. Woonton will be connected with has not been given out, but it is believed to be in connection with the construction and operation of the large chemical plants which are to be developed in Canada for the manufacture of explosives and chemicals for war purposes.

Mr. Woonton's actual appointment took place some months ago, but the official confirmation has been delayed until today, and even then the specific nature of his work is withheld.

Mr. Woonton graduated with honors from the London Collegiate and the University of Toronto, and spent two years as engineer of the London street railway, being in charge of all engineering of the road, including the electrical, civil and mechanical departments.

VETS SAY LANDLORDS IMPOSE ON FAMILIES OF MEN IN TRENCHES

Hamilton, May 22.—Housing conditions in Ontario cities and towns is one of the matters that will be discussed by the Ontario War Veterans at their annual convention, which opens here tomorrow. Many bitter complaints are being received about the way greedy landlords are imposing on the families of men in the trenches. The convention will be opened by Sir John S. Hendrie. General business will occupy the first day. On Friday there will be a big patriotic parade to Dundurn Park, where field sports will be held. Following the church parade on Sunday, the veterans will be reviewed by the governor-general.

FARMERS OF THE WEST SEND TO OTTAWA GRAVE WARNING THAT M. S. A. HITS PRODUCTION HARD

BITTER FEUD EXISTS BETWEEN SINN FEIN AND NATIONALISTS

Irish Party Likely To Officially Denounce Other.

SINN FEIN "ALL WRONG"

If Proved in League With the Germans, Will Be Repudiated.

London, May 22.—The order for the internment of Sinn Feiners taken in custody, according to a Times dispatch from Dublin, states if, within seven days from the date of the serving of the internment order, any interned person makes any representation to the chief secretary, it will be referred to the advisory committee which deals with the internment of aliens, and will be considered.

Dublin, May 22.—The events of the past few days have not drawn as much support to the Sinn Feiners as they expected from the more moderate Irish parties. Indeed, there are indications that the feud between the Sinn Fein and the Nationalists has only grown more bitter.

To sum up the attitude of the two factions it may be said that the Nationalists believe in constitutional methods of settling the Irish question while the Sinn Fein demands revolution and that the Nationalists consider that the Sinn Feiners are spoiling Ireland's best chance of a satisfactory settlement.

Dillon Against Them.

If the Sinn Feiners expected that the arrests of their leaders would draw the Nationalists over to the Sinn Fein side, they are evidently destined to experience a serious disappointment. John Dillon, as leader of the Nationalists, carefully pointed out yesterday that he maintains absolute hostility to the Sinn Fein, while indications that the Nationalists are going to repudiate the revolutionary spirit of the Sinn Fein party, may be found in an editorial in the Evening Telegraph, which is the official organ of the Nationalist party.

"If the Sinn Fein leaders," says this organ, "are guilty of the crime of allowing Ireland to be made a pawn in the game of the Prussian junkers they will be repudiated and denounced by Nationalist Ireland."

THE LANDLORDS' VIEW.

Dublin, May 22.—The Nationalist newspapers display unusual caution in dealing with the manifesto issued by the Mansion House conference Monday night. The Dublin Independent has an editorial three-quarters of a column in length, but it is merely a summary of the manifesto with no expression of opinion in it. Freeman's Journal, the official organ of the Irish party, prints the manifesto, without comment.

The Dublin Daily Express, which is regarded as the organ of Irish landlords, comments on the Mansion House document as follows:

"Though the manifesto would imply that there is no foundation for the charge of a conspiracy to enter into treasonable communication with the German enemy it is noticed that the charge is not repudiated in specific terms. The members of the conference no doubt realize that if such a plot exists—and no Government would say that it did if it did not, for even the most shop soiled of political reputations would not survive such a scandal—they must carefully consider their duty and obligations."

NOT PRO-GERMAN.

Dublin, May 21.—Commenting on the situation, the Cork Examiner, an influential Nationalist newspaper, says: "The wholesale arrests convey the idea that Ireland has suddenly become pro-German, which clearly is not the fact, as Lord French and his advisers well know. The circumstances of the arrests look singularly like a deep-laid plot against home rule."

FARMERS THINK GOVT. WILL MODIFY DRAFT RULES, SAYS CURRIE

Believes It Explains Pressure Put On the Members.

Ottawa, May 22.—In the Commons today, Col. Currie, in asking whether the Government had under consideration the modification of the order-in-council through which all young farmers are called to report for service, declared that members were receiving telegrams from all parts of the country asking that pressure be made on the Government. Apparently, he said, farmers think that the Government is contemplating such a move.

Sir George Foster replied that just as soon as an answer to the question could be given it would be announced to the House. He stated that the matter was under consideration.

TORNADO DESTROYS VILLAGE.

Madison, Wis., May 22.—Destruction of the village of Lone Rock by a tornado last night was practically complete, according to word received today. Three persons were killed when their homes were wrecked. A tornado also is reported to have done much damage southwest of here. About eighteen houses are reported to have been blown down at Mount Soreb, but there was no loss of life.

QUEBEC WILL BE GREATEST SOURCE FOR RECRUITING

Montreal, May 22.—"You mark my words, within six months the Province of Quebec will be the greatest source of recruits in the Dominion for the Canadian forces overseas," declared a returned officer of the 22nd French-Canadians, who has earned a brilliant record overseas, and despite severe wounds is still on active service.

OUTSIDERS WILL BE APPOINTED TO PROBE CHARGES

Independent Investigation of Fire Department Favored by Civic Fathers.

LABOR CHARGES SIGNED

Technicality of Anonymous Communication Overcome, Say Trades Officials.

Officials of the trades and labor council will not allow what they call "small and petty" technicalities to block their demand for an investigation into the fire department. They laugh at the statement of members of the council that the charges filed are anonymous. The communications sent to the council went through the city clerk, they state, and he knows that the letter, signed by Secretary George Wakelling, was to be attached to the charges and become one communication. However, so that even this technicality may be overcome, Secretary Wakelling has been instructed to go to the city clerk's office today and sign the charges. This should overcome the objection raised.

Members of the city council are evidencing a little more interest in the situation now than they did at Monday night's meeting.

The indications today are that there are those who will not be satisfied to allow No. 1 committee of the council to do the investigating. The probability is that the committee or the council, whichever body decides who will do the investigating, providing a probe is ordered, will be asked to appoint an independent board of three members, in other words a board similar to the conciliation board, which will deal with the street railway matters.

The contention is that different aldermen will take certain sides in the case, and for this reason will not look at it in an impartial manner.

"There should be an impartial probe by men who are neutral in regard to the department, and no matter what heads, if any, they say shall fall, should fall," said one city father.

2,000 RAILWAYMEN IN THIS DISTRICT VOTE ON QUESTION

Maintenance of Way Men Back Toronto Suggestions.

Approximately 2,000 maintenance of way employees on the London divisions of the G. T. R. and C. P. R., will be called upon to vote on the question of asking for uniform pay and shorter hours for all of their class in Canada.

The action to put the question to a vote was decided at a meeting of the executive of the International Maintenance of Way Employees held at Toronto on Tuesday.

The scale of wages paid to sectionmen in the London divisions of the G. T. R. and C. P. R. ranges from $2.60 to $2.90 a day. The working day at present is ten hours. The maintenance of way men in this district are heartily in accord with the idea advanced at the meeting, and will, it is understood, vote solidly for increased pay and shorter hours.

France Will Join Empire Celebration

Exercises Will Be Carried Out in Many French Cities.

Paris, May 22.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—France is joining with Britain and the dominions in the celebration of Empire Day, May 24. A series of demonstrations have been arranged in the principal cities. In Paris the president of the chamber of deputies will deliver an address on Greater Britain before President Poincare, the cabinet and ambassadors. Distinguished officers, statesmen and others will similarly discourse the various aspects of Britain's war effort in other cities.

Admiral Buchard, at Marseilles, will relate the war efforts of the British dominions and colonies. At Nantes, Gaston Deschamps, author and lecturer, will speak on Canada in the presence of Hon. Philippe Rey, commission general for Canada.

"In Many Cases It Will Leave Families Helpless and Land Unworked," Is the Message Sent.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, May 22.—It has been represented that the western farmers are not opposed to the Government's new military service regulations and the resolution recently passed by a small portion of the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta is quoted as proof of that contention. The following telegram received here by J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario from N. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta yesterday puts a different face on the matter.

A Serious Blow.

"Returned to Calgary on the 18th. Find much confusion and resentment among farmers on account of military call, ages between 20 and 22. These men are best producers. Their loss will be a serious blow to production. In many cases it will leave families helpless and farms unworked. Alberta already gave heavily through enlistment, and most of our boys under 23 are single. The results will be disastrous to production. I want Alberta farmers to stand behind the Government in darkest hour of civilization, but their confidence is under a heavy strain, and I am not certain of the outcome."

From all over Ontario heavily-signed petitions are pouring in upon the Government urging the immediate modification of the new regulations in the interest of production.

TRENCH FIGHTERS OF CIVIL SERVICE WILL RECEIVE PAY

Government Changes System Through an Order-in-Council.

Ottawa, May 22.—At the morning sitting of the House of Commons, Hon. N. W. Rowell read an order-in-council passed by the Government yesterday, embodying its decisions regarding the pay of civil servants now enlisted in the overseas forces of Canada.

The net result of the new order-in-council is that civil servants doing bonafide fighting at the front or who have fought, and been wounded, and are undergoing treatment in Great Britain or who have fought for at least a year and are now required for military duty in England, will continue to receive the pay which they have hitherto received.

Mr. Rowell explained that civil servants enlisting early in the war were granted both civil and military pay. Those enlisting later were granted whichever of the two happened to be higher.

WAGES DISPUTE OF STREET RAILWAY TO BE HEARD THURSDAY

Conciliation Board to Commence Long Expected Hearing.

The board of conciliation to deal with the dispute between the London Street Railway and its employees will sit tomorrow at the court house.

It is understood that F. H. McGuigan, the company's representative, will be able to get here tomorrow, and also Judge Livingston of Welland. Charles Ferguson, the men's representative, has been waiting for some time.

There is only one question in dispute, and that is wages, so it is possible that all the evidence may be submitted in one day. However, if that is not the case, there will be a sitting Friday. It is difficult to sit at the court house on Saturday, but it is possible that, if necessary, a place to sit could be arranged.

Manager C. B. King, of the street railway company, stated that the understanding was that the board would sit in the morning.

ALLIED SUBJECTS ARE LEAVING PETROGRAD

Moscow, May 13.—There is under was a marked exodus of Entente Allied subjects from Russia. The distribution of bread in Petrograd will cease tomorrow. It will be replaced by half a Russian pound of potatoes. Flour is unobtainable, even with doctors' prescriptions. Sugar costs 5 rubles a pound.

SAYS EXECUTIVE IS DESTROYING CHURCH LIBERTY

Rev. W. E. Pescott Attacks Recommendations Made to Conference.

CALLED HOUSE OF LORDS

Autocratic Motions From Toronto Body Are Roundly Scored.

The last meeting before the annual conference of the London District Methodists was held yesterday in the Wellington Street Sunday school. The main portion of the evening session was devoted to the discussion of a report on conference changes read by Layman C. G. Beal, secretary of the committee. The chief recommendations were equalization of salaries, and the adopting of a department of education in Sunday schools, under the direct supervision of the board of education. The difficulty in connection with the former, according to Mr. Beal, was the fact that some churches were laboring under a load of debt, and therefore equalization of salaries might prove disastrous to them.

Rev. W. E. Pescott of Dundas Centre Church was in a fighting mood, and bitterly attacked these recommendations, characterizing them as emanations from an autocratic body at Toronto, which he termed, the house of lords.

"The executive of the whole church is destroying our last fragment of liberty," said Mr. Pescott. "What we want is the fall of autocracy in the church and an expansion of liberalism."

Cites Dr. Chown.

The speaker then proceeded to cite Dr. Chown, general superintendent of Methodist Sunday schools, as an example.

"Even Dr. Chown is not infallible," he said. "He made a mountain of a molehill, when he complained of his arduous duties, signing deeds and other documents in connection with property of the Methodist Church, when I could do the whole thing in 24 hours. Yet Dr. Chown requested an assistant for this work."

The recommendations were not acted upon by the committee owing to the late hour.

The present finance committee was re-elected for the coming year, as was also the evangelistic committee. This body of laymen has been holding weekly prayer meetings to good advantage in the various churches during the past year. The meeting expressed appreciation for this work, and the desire that it be continued.

Many Overseas.

A report on the Epworth Leagues in the district was read, stating they are in fair condition, although 95 per cent of the male members are on active service. A vote of thanks to the secretary was expressed for this excellent report. It was stated that there are 21 widows of deceased Methodist clergymen, in London district, and these were placed on superannuation funds.

In the afternoon routine business was carried out, and during the forenoon an examination for probationers was conducted. Stanley Hunt, B.A., B.D., will be recommended to the London conference for ordination at the annual meeting in Walkerville.

Morley Colling, a probationer, stationed at Byron prior to enlistment, and now invalided home, related his experiences overseas during the morning session.

Different Conditions.

"I have been in a much different atmosphere, and brought face to face with very different conditions, from what I had previously known, in the course of my experience overseas, he said, adding, "I feel that, as a result, I understand human nature better, and have a broader sympathy for people who are called the "Down and Out." Many of those men have returned to Canada, much better morally than when they left, an evidence that there are influences for good at work in the army, amid the experiences of war."

Mr. Colling was recommended for college. Next week he leaves for Orillia, where he will assist Rev. F. T. Malott, supplying the pulpit during the summer months.

Other probationers examined were: Maxwell Parr, Hill Street Church; Eric Anderson, who has been serving on the Westminster circuit, and Arthur Page, Nilestown. Pte. Douglas Woollatt, of the C. A. M. C., and formerly of Wellington Street Methodist Church, was examined during the afternoon meeting. Rev. Drs. Dougall, R. G. Peever, and F. L. Barber consitute the committee examining the theological standing of the candidates for the ministry.

None Challenged.

So far as the examination of ministers and probationers was concerned, Rev. J. E. Holmes, chairman of the district, commented at the close that it was a matter for thanksgiving that the character or conduct of no man, either minister or probationer, had been challenged in the course of the examination.

Rev. Walter Rigsby and Rev. C. C. Cosens were appointed to write letters of sympathy to superannuated ministers unable to attend the meeting through illness, and also to write to members on the district roll who are on overseas service. It was considered inadvisable by the meeting to separate Hale Street Methodist Church from its present circuit, the opinion being that while this church had done exceedingly well during the past year, it was not an opportune time financially for the congregation to alone bear the burden of an incumbent.

WOMAN'S SANATORIUM AID TO MAKE ITS FIRST APPEAL IN FOUR YEARS ON JUNE 1ST

"Rose Day" Will Be Held Then To Provide Necessary To Successfully Combat Ravages of the White Plague in London—Canvass Serves Dual Worthy Cause.

The date of Queen Alexandra Rose Day in London has been fittingly fixed for the beginning of the month of roses, Saturday, June 1st. The object of the day is to bring the roses back to the lips and cheeks of tuberculous men and women and little children, and to make the flowers of gladness blossom in the hearts of those restored to health, and also in the hearts of the friends who love them.

It is now almost four years since the Woman's Sanatorium Aid has made an appeal to the public for assistance in carrying on its work of blessing to the indigent sufferers from tuberculosis, and helping to blot out the terrible disease. September, 1914, the last rose day, was held when such success was met that nearly $4,000 was added to the treasury. A large donation from Miss Leah Lewis, won in The Advertiser's contest of last fall, helped to tide over the winter. Just when it was received the society had only enough funds to carry the work over another month.

Helps Little Cripples.

Everyone who buys a little rose from a tagger on rose day will not only be rendering a service to a worthy object at home, the outside work of the Sanatorium Aid, but to an institution in London, England, which cares for crippled children. Over in the John Goome Crippleage every year hundreds of thousands of roses are made by the deft fingers of cripples, who thus have the satisfaction of making the home self supporting. Up and down, all over the empire, the fame has gone of the roses made in the Crippleage.

Queen Alexandra Rose Day was inaugurated to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the arrival in England of the Queen Mother, and in different parts of the empire it is annually observed as a means not only of helping the Crippleage, but more generously some other patriotic or charitable cause. Some idea of the extent of the service made possible to the Woman's Sanatorium Aid through "Rose Day," supplemented in the meantime, may be realized from the fact that two tuberculosis nurses are kept busy all the time following up cases, looking after patients in their homes, giving instruction in the care of the sufferers, and prevention of the spread of the disease, seeing that the necessities which will make possible recovery or improvement of condition are provided. Three things are essential to recovery, where the disease has not advanced too far, or to converting an open case to a closed or non-contagious, according to Mrs. John Stevenby, president of the Woman's Sanatorium Aid. These three things are proper housing, proper food and proper clothing.

400 "Out" Patients.

About 400 patients are being looked after in their own homes by the nurses at present, and in the neighborhood of 60 quarts of milk distributed daily. Clothing, bedding and food are all provided where necessary. If it is the breadwinner of the family who is ailing and ordered to the sanatorium, his recovery is facilitated by the fact that the Woman's Sanatorium Aid assumes the care of the family, and no cause is allowed for anxiety concerning wife and little ones.

"Really all of the children recover," replied the president of the Sanatorium Aid, to a question to this effect, "and the adults improve greatly in condition if they do not entirely recover. Time is required to test the completeness of recovery. In any case the adults are able to return to their daily work and if they have been long enough in the sanatorium they have ly, president of the Woman's Sanatorselves, and to protect others against infection."

HAS ONLY FEELING OF HATE FOR GERMANS, SAYS SOLDIER RELEASED FROM HUN CAMP

Son of Rev. N. D. Drew, Interned in Holland After Three Years in Germany, Sends First Letters Home.

Advertiser Illustrations.
CORP. NOBLE DREW.

Letters which are paeons of joy over what practically amounts to deliverance from captivity have been received by Rev. N. D. Drew and Mrs. Drew from their son, Noble, who has been transferred to Holland, after three years in a German prison camp.

Noble Drew was in the employ of the Steel Company of Canada at the outbreak of war, enlisting immediately in Montreal with the 14th Battalion. His military career was cut short by the fact that he was made a prisoner of war on April 26, 1915, at the battle of Langemarck. His experience in Germany was unique, from the fact that he was kept all the time in one camp, in Giessen, and while there apparently was accorded better treatment than many of the boys of London and district who have been unfortunate enough to be captured. At one time, he was in charge of a construction party of 80 fellow prisoners. An unsuccessful attempt to escape brought a reduction, but for the last year before being transferred, he was employed in the postoffice department. His character, education and ability as a linguist doubtless brought him the concessions accorded him.

The following are the first letters to reach his home:

Dream True At Last.

My Darling Mother,—The dream has come true at last, and I am at last free. We arrived here last Saturday at about 10, and were met by a big line of the boys already here. My feelings are not to be described in a letter. There was relief over the fact of our being out of it you may be sure. The journey here was uneventful. We left Giessen about 3:50 p.m. Tuesday, and spent the early part of the night at Koln (Cologne). At 5 next morning we started for Aix and got here about noon Wednesday. Saturday we left Aix, or Aachen as the squareheads call it, at 9:30, ran along the border for some hours, and crossed the frontier at 3 p.m. A place called Venlo was our first call this side, where we got a meal. We arrived here to find the route lined with our fellows all the way from the station to the hotel. We had a reception from both the Holland and British there—British being represented by the ambassador. I am writing this at the British legation in the club room furnished by the kindness of Lady Townly. Lord Townly is, I believe, the ambassador to Holland. A supper came after the speeches. Though simple it was very satisfying. The keynote everywhere was "Welcome." Several ladies have come over from England to see to our comfort in many ways. After supper we took a car out to our billets, where I got to bed between nice clean sheets at about 12. The name of this place is Scheveningen, but it is simply part of The Hague. I have already been around both towns quite a lot, and they are very fine. The people seem very friendly, though no doubt there are a lot who sympathize with Kaiser Bill. With luck we can steer clear of them, and the spies, both female and male, that overrun the place. As for the Germans I haven't very much to say. I hate them. There is only one thing about them, and that is that they are manly—even that is hard sometimes, to distinguish from brutishness. The women I have absolutely no respect for. Some day I will tell you why. However, I think I will write you a short synopsis of my three years there some other time.

Spotless Holland.

Some mornings we shall be employed improving a sport ground, other times we go on a route march. After 2 o'clock we may do as we like. At 10:30 I am supposed to be in my room —which I share with three other lads. Any time I wish I can get a pass up to midnight (or perhaps reveille) I am not sure. But by the time 10:30 comes we are feeling tired. The beach is miles of delight. I am looking forward to some fine afternoons. Even now, cool as it is, it was thronged Saturday and Sunday. The girls and women are very beautiful as a rule, and exceptionally modish. All their clothes seem to be the last word in style—even the kiddies. And everything is spotless. One would think the whole world was hosed down every night. You see, mother dear, I saw it first last Sunday morning and this is only Tuesday night—so there must be millions of things I have to learn yet. This letter is only a feeler. Hope yours will speed up. Am anxious to hear from all very soon. Let me know when this arrives, as we can see how mail goes. Best love to all. I feel like singing all day. Good night, and God bless you. NOBLE.

The second letter follows.

I feel sure there are a lot of your letters on the way from Germany, but I will anticipate them anyway. You can write what you wish now. I should say as much as you wish for I don't think they will be censored.

My kit was taken away from me in Giessen to be forwarded. Then they started their offensive and the Dutch frontier was closed, so it has got held up. I made love to the Q. M. S. here, and got enough underwear, etc., to carry on with. The best thing about it is that I saw my box sealed, and I locked it myself, so if it comes intact I will have all the snaps you have sent. Am as pleased as can be about that.

"Tame" Hun Penalized.

Has letter No. 1 to mother, arrived yet? Hope so. Have started numbering again, for I don't want to carry on from the number in Germany. This is too fine a place to have anything German connected with it. Surely you must have laughed sometimes about the sameness of my letters from that country. Until I started working in the postoffice there, an extra letter was hard to send off. Then I got hold of a "tame" Fritz, and he used to take as many as I wished to write. Poor chap his end was very sudden. He took a couple of our boys down town one day and alack, alas, his stomach wouldn't stand the many cognacs that they made away with. They brought him staggering back to camp, and he was so far gone that he sat down in front of a feldwebel or two (about a company sergeant-major), and also before some officers. To you that would not mean much, but I started to roar as soon as they told me. To any man of rank a private in the German army is dirt. So when this poor sinner sat down and grinned, hanging on to his gun with both hands to keep him from falling off, you can imagine the result. The real result was indeed serious. Our chaps got 10 days solitary and he got 14. Then the report went to Frankfurt where it was referred to the "General Komandos." He was dismissed from the "Prufungstelle" (censoring bureau) and drafted at once to a line regiment. So you see my "lines of communication" were badly shot to pieces. I found occasional others, but they had a bad fright. So from December mail from me will be short somewhere—but not to 545. It and Montreal has always been my first consideration.

Am walking 10 to 20 miles here daily. I know Scheveningen and The Hague pretty well now. Many chaps have very good Dutch friends already. Their language is not unlike the German speech, but it has an accent impossible to the foreigner. Splendid beach and promenade and splendid prices. This is Sunday night, so I stayed in to write. Best love to all. Please tell me all you can when you write. Love. NOBLE.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Special Course for Church Workers at Huron College.

A summer school for Western Ontario, under the joint auspices of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada, the Sunday school commission and the committee on social service will be held at Huron College the week of June 24, when it is expected there will be a large attendance from the district.

Accommodation for the students will be afforded at Huron College.

Seven or eight such schools are being held this year in Canada, three of which are in Ontario, the London school, one in Port Hope for Eastern Ontario, and one at North Bay for the Algoma district.

It is false economy to use cheap, inferior tea, for it yields so poorly in the teapot. Use only the genuine Salada to secure the maximum number of cups to the pound, and, in addition, you will enjoy the unique flavor.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

AGAINST LATEST DRAFT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I am much interested in "Voice of the People." That sister's cry touched me, but not in the way it did "One Who Has Given Her All." Surely she must be a Tory to try to excuse such an unfair draft. Personally it doesn't come near me, as my children are too old for that select draft, and my grandchildren too young for even that 19 call. I think that the limit. Really, I do not see what our Government could do to please the Huns more. I imagine it will cause rejoicing in enemy countries, and it will be published far and wide that Canada is so far reduced that her youths of 19 are being called. Is that what they spent 104 days on the M. S. A. for? If that is the best they can do, they'd better go back to the old conscription act. Before the elections last fall they had a tribunal in Brussels. There were a number examined, I think about 250. Of these 35 were sent to a higher tribunal, and were all exempted but five or six. My boy was exempted on the ground of being a farmer, and the only one on 100 acres. I suppose that tribunal cost about $100, and now it is not worth ten cents, and I presume a majority were the same. This select draft takes the last child off a number of farms, and leaves three or four on other farms. I have been asked my opinion of this select draft, and I said the only reason I can see for it is it will not catch Tory members' sons. If my boy that is 25 is taken in the next draft, they can take the farm. I do not know what I would do, but I know I will not try to farm with city help. There are hundreds of acres in Canada lying idle now, and likely to be more. I think there are a number of older ones that could be spared better than a lot of 20-year-olds, and I think a boy of 19 of more use on a farm. Personally I am not worrying. I would rather all my boys should be taken and never return than have one of them in Ottawa voting for such laws. "Kaiserism in Canada" by "Sunflower," expressed by sentiments, but where does "Sunflower" get cornmeal for 8 cents? It has been 10 cents where I buy it for over a year. I do not object to being put on rations if it is needed, but please let me have more than two weeks' supply. I will not waste one ounce of anything, but I have always been used to buying 100 pounds. If they wounld say how long it must last I will make it do the allotted time. Yours for right and justice,

GRANDMA.

CATS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Kindly allow me to ask if it is true that some members of the Bird Club are allowed to shoot birds for dissection and other purposes? If so, why this agitation against the domestic cat? We have all heard of the bubonic plague carried by rats. Yours respectfully,

JANE ADAMS.

THE SMALLPOX ORDER.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

A recent letter in your columns (by "Experience," May 18) makes it evident that one person at least in London has a terribly tangled idea of the smallpox situation. The following is the only order concerning vaccination which the board of health has sent out. You will note that it is a request to the board of education that principals exclude children when so ordered by the board of health. We have ordered the exclusion of unvaccinated children so far in two rooms of one school only.

It is on the strength of this apparently that this school teacher writes three-quarters of a column of misplaced agony concerning universal exclusion of children from school. As the rest of the letter is based upon no better information, and equally unintelligent misapprehension, it is not worth a reply in detail. Very sincerely yours,

H. W. HILL,
Medical Officer of Health.

Mr. A. A. Langford,
Chairman Board of Education, London, Canada:

Sir,—To confirm telephone conference regarding the handling of school children exposed to smallpox, will your board please indicate the following procedure to your principals:

First, when a principal is notified that exposure has occurred amongst the children in a given room or rooms or a given school, he should be authorized to exclude at once all unvaccinated children from the room or rooms or school specified.

(This means all children who cannot show definitely that they have been successfully vaccinated within seven years.)

Second, such children must not be permitted to attend school until they show a permit from the board of health, which permit will indicate that they have been vaccinated or have had smallpox. Such certificates will be issued by the health officer as soon as the child is vaccinated to the satisfaction of the health officer.

This exclusion of unvaccinated children is to continue until such time as the board of health announces that the city is free of smallpox (probably by June 30, possibly earlier). Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) H. W. HILL,
Medical Officer of Health.

BUILDING NEW GREEN

Bowlers of St. Mark's Church Making Big Preparations.

A new bowling green is being prepared by the members of St. Mark's Anglican Bowling Club. A lot on Dundas street east has been leased and is being levelled up before the grass seed is sown. The green will accommodate three rinks, and when completed will compare favorably with any green in the city. City water service will be installed and the green will be electric lighted. There will be no bowling until August, at any rate, and possibly it will not be available for use this year at all. In the meantime the club will continue to use the asylum green for its games until the new green is ready for use.

AILMENTS OF WOMEN

There is no denying the fact that thousands of Canadian women drag along day in and day out suffering with these ailments peculiar to their sex which make life a burden. If women who suffer from dragging-down pains, inflammatory ulcerated or catarrhal conditions would only give that greatest of all remedies, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, they would readily find relief from such suffering, as the many letters of commendation constantly being published prove.

LIEUT.-COL. McALPINE, FORMERLY OF GLENCOE, IS HONORED OVERSEAS

Relatives and friends in this city and in the vicinity of Glencoe will be pleased to hear of the military honors conferred upon Lieut.-Col. C. D. H. McAlpine, a son of Dr. John McAlpine, now of Lindsay, and formerly of Appin. He has been appointed in charge of the Army Service personnel, following a brilliant military career since the outbreak of war. A B.A. of University College, Toronto, of 1907, he was practicing law in Winnipeg up to the time he went overseas as a captain and remount officer with the second contingent. He was twice mentioned in dispatches for valiant services, and was made major and deputy-director of supplies and transports. He was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire.

Col. McAlpine is a descendant of a well-known Middlesex family, which in the pioneer days located near Appin. His father, Dr. McAlpine, was born there, locating in Lindsay after taking his medical course. He married a sister of Sir Sam Hughes and Inspector Hughes of Toronto, consequently the former minister of militia is an uncle of the young colonel.

Dr. H. A. McCallum, dean of the medical faculty of the Western University, and the Misses McCallum of this city are relatives of Dr. McAlpine.

MUST REPORT SUNDAY.

Members of the 1st Contingent who have been home on furlough yesterday received instructions to report at Montreal on Sunday. Their leave expires on May 30.

RETURNS HOME AFTER SERVICE OF THREE YEARS

Col. Evans Davis Now in Canada and Will Be Here Shortly.

WON HONORS IN WAR

Promotions and Decoration Bestowed On Young London Doctor.

Very Rev. Dean Davis has received a telegram announcing the safe arrival in Canada of his son, Col. Evans G. Davis, C.M.G., after more than three years of service overseas with the A. M. C. Col. Davis was on his way to Ottawa, and expects to reach home in a few days.

Going overseas in April, 1915, as major, second in command of No. 3 Stationary Hospital, of which Lieut.-Col. Casgrain of Windsor was O. C., he proceeded to Lemnos with the unit which passed through such trying experiences that Col. Casgrain was taken seriously ill and invalided to England. Major Davis was promoted to the command, and when No. 3 Hospital was recalled, owing to the evacuation of Gallipoli, he had charge of the unit for several months in Alexandria, Egypt. The next move was to France, to Doulen, near Albert, then right up to the front line. Not only had Major Davis been made a lieutenant-colonel by that time, but, in recognition of his gallant services, he was invested with the order of Companion of St. Michael and St. George.

After the retreat of the Germans for some 25 miles in the spring of 1917, Lieut.-Col. Davis was transferred to England with the full rank of colonel, and given command of 63 hospitals, with headquarters at Shorncliffe.

LONDON DISTRICT METHODISTS HOLD $722,687 PROPERTY

Reports Show They Raised $144,088 in Year.

MEMBERSHIP TOTALS 9,052

25 Charges and 52 Preaching Places in Jurisdiction of This District.

London Methodist District has church property amounting in value to $722,687. Every four years, prior to the meeting of general conference, a survey is made in connection with the property held by the church all over Canada. The figures for London district were quoted at the morning session of the May meeting of the London Methodist District, in Wellington Street Methodist Church today.

Presentation and discussion of the district statistical report and circuit schedules occupied the greater part of the forenoon session.

Presenting the district report, Rev. B. H. Robinson of the Memorial Methodist Church stated that the total amount raised for all purposes in the district during the past year was $144,688. Of this, $21,104 was raised for missions, $22,024 for the educational fund; $10,032 for social service and evangelism; $545 for the sustentation fund, and $149 for the contingent fund.

The present membership of the church, in which there are 25 charges and 52 preaching places, is 9,052, an increase of 87 in the past year. Twenty-three regular pastors are stationed and four probationers. In addition, there are 23 superannuated ministers and 811 lay officials. Four thousand, seven hundred and thirty-four Methodist families are connected with the churches, an increase of 184.

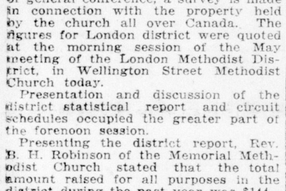

Forty-three young people's societies have an enrollment of 2,191, and have raised for all purposes, $3,794. Ninety-one brotherhoods and other societies have a membership of 4,154, and have raised for all purposes $15,579. The number of Methodists who have enlisted in this district has reached almost one thousand, 978, to be exact.

An encouraging report of the Sunday school work was presented by Rev. G. W. W. Rivers of Dorchester. Rev. R. L. Wilson, Westminster, or Rev. S. Anderson, Lambeth, as alternate, were elected to represent the district on the conference statistical committee.

Henry Pocock made an appeal for assistance for Trinity Church, Calgary.

A short address was given during proceedings by a visitor to the city, Rev. Dr. Robert Thompson of Idaho, who is making a gospel motor tour through Canada and the United States. He was introduced as a visiting brother minister of the Methodist Church in the American west.

PICNIC ON MAY 24.—The Star Class of Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church is holding its annual meeting and outing at Springbank on May 24.

ONLY UP TO 60.—"A Daily Reader" asks the following question: "To settle a dispute, will a person 60 years of age and over have to register on June 22?" The regulations only call for the registration of those 16 to 60 of both sexes.

WAS ARRESTED HERE.—Herbert Sinclair, wanted in St. Thomas on a charge of horse stealing, was arrested Tuesday evening on Richmond street by Detectives Egelton and Downs. Sinclair was handed over to a St. Thomas officer a few hours later. He will be placed on trial in St. Thomas.

GAVE RECITAL AT CLINTON.—Grant Milligan, violinist of this city, gave a most successful recital in the town hall, Clinton, last evening, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church. He was accompanied by Clarence E. Gilmour, and a most enthusiastic reception was accorded the artists.

DOING SPECIAL WORK.—Dr. A. A. Livingston, professor of romance languages at the Western University, has gone to New York for the summer, where he is engaged in special work for the United States Government in connection with the foreign press bureau. He will return to London in September.

VISITED DISTRICT. — Mrs. J. F. Thomson and Mrs. Lorne W. Dann of No. 4 Nursing Division, St. John's Ambulance Unit, were in Brantford, Galt and Preston yesterday on business in connection with the organization. Dr. Hill, M. O. H., is giving a series of lectures every evening this week at the rooms on Talbot street on "Hygiene."

STREET RAILWAY "FARMERS."—About thirty street railway employees have undertaken to cultivate twelve acres of land which the company owns in Broughdale. The field will be planted in potatoes. The land is already under preparation, and a start has been made in planting. A bumper crop was raised by the men last year, and they are out to beat the record this year.

HAS PLACE ON PROGRAM.—The International Circulation Managers' Association will hold its 20th annual convention at Washington on June 11, 12 and 13. R. D. M. Decker, circulation manager of the Knickerbocker Press, Albany, N. Y., and formerly circulation manager of The London Advertiser, will read a paper at the convention on the subject of "Subterfuge for the Return Evil."

CAPT. WHEABLE TO TALK.—An address on the subject, "What is the Bible?" was given by Mrs. James of the Centennial Metholist Church at the meeting this week of the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church Epworth League, when the program was in charge of the social and literary committee, of which Miss L. Boyd, vice-president, is in charge. Capt. G. A. Wheable, who was superintendent of the Sunday school of the church previous to going overseas, will give an address on "The Young Canadians' Patriotism" at the regular meeting next Monday evening, in charge of the citizenship department, under the superintendency of Mrs. J. H. Moyer, vice-president.

PRISONER OF WAR

Missing Son of Capt. (Mrs.) Parsons So Listed Now.

Today's list of district casualties announces that Flight Lieut. C. S. Parsons of Grimsby Beach, formerly of Forest, is a prisoner of war. Some weeks ago, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Parsons, were notified that the young lieutenant, who is their second son, was missing and much sympathy has been felt for them in their anxiety by their many friends in the city and throughout Western Ontario.

Their three sons are in khaki, and Mrs. Parson also has rendered valuable military service since the outbreak of war, as a recruiting officer with several units, holding the honorary rank of captain. In this capacity, she addressed several recruiting meetings in London and district, and was for a length of time engaged as a speaker for the Women's Emergency Corps of No. 2 Military District.

RELEASED ON PAROLE

Returned Soldier, Convicted of Theft, Freed.

William J ("Bunny") Austin, who was sentenced to a term of six months in jail in February last was released today on parole. The parole board granted Austin his liberty because of ill-health. Austin was sentenced for implication in the theft of shoes from a bonded C. P. R. freight car. Confinement at the jail affected his health to such an extent that it was feared permanent injury might ensue if he were held any longer. Austin is a returned soldier, and was gassed.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

BURIAL AT BIRR.

The funeral of Margaret May O'Neill, held from her home at Ilderton Monday afternoon was conducted by Rev. T. E. Sawyer of the Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. H. Shore of the Anglican Church, Rev. C. J. Moorehouse of Thedford, and Rev. Mr. Milne of Vanneck. Interment was made at Birr Cemetery. Miss O'Neill died following an operation for appendicitis. Besides her father, Wellington O'Neill, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. B. Hodgins of London Township and Miss Edith at home. A large number of very beautiful floral offerings were received. The six flower girls were Margaret Needham, Mamie Taylor, Nettie Merriman, Wilmina O'Neill, Emma Cunningham and Olive Chaddock. The pallbearers were R. Taylor, G. Hodgins, C. Reeves, R. Shoebottom, W. Walker and H. Hodgins.

FOUR GERMANS BROUGHT DOWN LONDON FLIER

Concentrated Attack Resulted in Capture of Flight-Lieut. Cecil McCann.

BISHOP FALLON INQUIRES

Head of Diocese, Now Overseas, Took Great Interest in Young Parishoner.

Four German airplanes concentrated in an attack on Flight Lieut. Cecil McCann, son of B. C. McCann of this city, and resulted in his capture, according to letters received from his squadron commander by Mr. McCann.

Other members of the patrol, to which the young London flier was attached, made an attempt to rescue him, but it was unavailing, writes the commaned. The patrol was over the German lines on one of the big aerial battle days when the four Hun airmen drove on Lieut. McCann. His captain watched Cecil driven down to earth, and others of his companions saw him afterwards walk away from the machine.

Bishop Fallon, now overseas, has taken a great interest in the fate of his young parishoner, as the following cablegram indicates:

London, May 19, 1918.

B. C. McCann, London, Ont.

Cecil wounded in unknown camp; have urged special effort to locate him; am promised action and information by Canadian office. FALLON.

This message, however, had been preceded by one from the International Red Cross at Geneva Switzerland, which said:

Geneve, May 18, 1918.

B. C. McCann,
Prisoner, Karlsruhe, well, McCann.

42 RETURNED MEN IN PARTY WHICH IS TO COME THURSDAY

District Soldiers Expected On Midnight Train.

Another party of 42 returned men is expected to arrive here before midnight Thursday night.

According to a wire received today by District Depot No. 1 here, the men are on their way here in a special train, which left Halifax at 5:10 Tuesday afternoon, and are in charge of Lieut. Sweet.

Of the party fifteen are men who will go directly to their homes, while the remaining twenty-seven will go to the district depot here. It is thought that the fifteen mentioned are coming home on furlough.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS SHOWN BIG INCREASE IN WEEKLY GIVINGS

Interesting Figures From Hyatt Avenue Annual Meeting.

In connection with the annual congregational meeting of the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church, one or two new features of interest in connection with the work were reported, as well as most encouraging news from the various church activities. The finances of the Sunday school have increased an average of $1 per Sounday over previous years, and in the past year, a missionary committee, with Miss Viola Williams as convener, has had charge of the arrangement of the program for the missionary Sundays, the school deriving much benefit.

Rev. H. D. Moyer, the pastor, reported the membership to be 386 and the loss by deaths and removals to be seven during the past year.

W. D. Yeo, envelope steward, reported the finances in a satisfactory condition. Mrs. H. D. Moyer, president, told of the activities of the Women's Missionary Society, and Mis Verna Styford reported for the Epworth League. Among other organizations reported were the Adult Bible Class by the secretary, Mrs. Hughes; the Builders' Bible Class by Miss Boyd, and the Daisy Bible Class by Miss George. Miss Mae Cory gave a bright report on behalf of the choir.

40 MORE GIRLS NOW NEEDED FOR CAMP FOR FRUIT CANNING

High School-University Students Have Chance at Winona.

Forty more girls are needed for fruit canning at Winona Camp. Already there are sixty university and high school girls there, who along with the 40 girls yet to go, will make a jolly camp of 100 girls. The work will last for three weeks, the minimum wage being $1.50 per day, with piece rates, the working day being of ten hours' duration. The camp is managed by the Y. W. C. A., this association boarding the girls at $4.50 a week. The transportation to Winona will be paid.

Here is an opportunity for 40 girls to have an excellent outing under attractive conditions, and at the same time do patriotic service for their country. The Winona Camp is only one and a half miles from the lake, with its house and sleeping tents situated in a most picturesque spot. The girls will sleep three in a tent, bring their own bedding in a roll and their belongings in a suitcase. No trunks will be admitted, elaborate trousseaus being decidedly out of favor at Winona.

The necessity of having these girls at once is very great, which fact, along with the attractiveness of the camping conditions and the excellent wage agreement, will no doubt bring many applicants, so that those girls desiring to attend the Winona Camp would do well to register immediately with Miss MacRobert of the local Government Employment Bureau, on the corner of Dundas and Talbot streets.

33RD SOCIAL

Comrades' Association Will Hold One in June.

A meeting of the 33rd Comrades' Association was held in the G. W. V. A. rooms last night, and routine business matters were discussed. It was decided to hold a social evening in St. Peter's Hall, during the third week in June. Members will be requested to attend by invitation, but the association wishes it understood that any comrade who does not receive an invitation will be welcomed with the glad hand.

It is the intention to hold a parade to St. Peter's Hall prior to the social gathering, and it is hoped that the parade will be headed by the Great War Veterans' Band. At the conclusion of the meeting, the members passed the evening in a friendly game of euchre.

SUGGESTS CIVIC LECTURE COURSE TO STIMULATE LOCAL INTEREST IN MEETING MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS

City Clerk Outlines Plan For Bringing Home Needed Lessons in Connection With Canada's Future Development and Its Present-Day Situation.

CITY CLERK S. BAKER.

City Clerk Sam Baker, whose efforts to interest Londoners in the government of their own city and in general municipal reform have been most marked in the past, has taken the initiative in a new form to gain these ends. The clerk has suggested a lecture course to stimulate general interest. Members of all civic and semi-civic boards and organizations are being enlisted in the cause. A letter on the subject has been sent out by Mr. Baker. It explains his object and is as follows:

The influx of immigrants into cities has created a social and political problem. Canada is beginning to feel it; the United States has attacked the question seriously, and with considerable success. Why should Canada wait for the inevitable danger? Would it not be wiser to educate now? Our "rising generation" need instruction in order that they may appreciate the glorious heritage they possess in a municipal system, perhaps the best in the world.

The unrest occasioned by the times, the clamor for reforms here and in the United States, and the admitted defects of our present system are forcing this question upon the voters. No one will claim that the average ratepayer has sufficient knowledge to intelligently vote. Indeed, the indifference of the voter to all municipal affairs, excepting at tax-paying time is admitted freely. The question, therefore, of education in citizenship is a most important one.

"The burden of the education of citizenship must, inevitably fall upon our evening schools." Private agencies, while very valuable, are irregular in effort and incomplete. It is a public enterprise and the funds must be provided or augmented by public money. With the question inseparably connected instruction in "factory laws, rates of wages, regulation of hours of work, health and sanitary regulations." It includes all matters affecting the good government of municipalities, provinces and the Dominion. Special classes, lectures and normal training methods must be used. The public library board, the boards of education, universities and municipal councils must co-operate with private organizations.

The trend of public service in a number of American public libraries is worthy of extension and imitation. The bureaus of research are dropping destructive criticism for constructive suggestions and educative methods. If Rotary Clubs and kindred associations are interested, some method could be devised by which the co-operation of these several boards could be made effective, a great step in advance would be made. Will the board of trade special committee and Rotary Club consider this matter?

Suggests Lecture Course.

A course of lectures in the public schools of this city in the coming fall could be productive of much useful service. A number of city officials, members of the several boards would be willing to take part I believe. The factory inspector, Mr. Burke, would cooperate, Dr. Hill would lecture on health and sanitary regulations. Prizes could easily be secured for young men or women who would take up the course. Active assistance might be asked from the Mothers' Clubs, the Women's Suffrage Society and the trades and labor council.

The importance of the education of the ratepayers to the proposed municipal reforms is such that it should demand the active co-operation of all persons in municipal affairs. There cannot be bad government where the ratepayers are interested. This interest will, in a large measure, have to be created. The old time "town mote" idea is democratic and essential to complete and efficient citizenship.

The following program is suggested for criticism:

Suggested Program.

September 15—Canadian Municipal Government, Professor Braithwaite.

October 1—Factory Laws; Inspector Burke.

October 15—Sanitation; Dr. Hill.

November 1—Wages; Rev. Dr. MacGregor.

November 15—The Budget of the City of London; Mayor Somerville.

December 1—Reform of London Council; Mr. Silverwood.

The meetings should be held in one of the public schools or the public library, and be open to all citizens. The lecture must be not longer than 45 minutes and be followed by open discussion. Prizes should be offered for the best essay proving attendance and effort to grasp the purpose of the meetings. The following spring an extension of this course could be followed.

In submitting this communication, I am simply following what I consider to be my duty as city clerk. I am willing to assist in carrying out, but have no wish to do anything that anyone else will do. That the question should be taken up, I believe all will admit. Some have given the question attention and appear to be waiting for an opportunity to act. Will you let me know what you think of this matter?

S. BAKER, City Clerk.

ANOTHER SCORE OF LONDONERS VOLUNTARILY DON UNIFORM OR OFFER SERVICES ON TUESDAY

For Second Day in Succession Mobilization Centre Report Shows More Than Two Score Volunteers.

For the second day in succession the number of volunteers appearing before the medical boards at the local mobilization centre, was in excess of two score men. On Tuesday 42 volunteers offered their services. Of these an even score were London men. Unlike Monday's record, however, when 24 men joined the Royal Flying Corps, only seven were accepted for that branch of the service. The others who passed the doctors went to various units still accepting recruits.

The physical status of the 42 volunteers was classified as: A-2, 29; B, 3; C, 4; D, 1; E, 5.

Although seventeen men were sent over by the British-Canadian Recruiting Mission in the States, there were only eleven in the whole list who were not native-born Canadians. England was given as the birthplace of eight, while United States was claimed by the other three. Detroit, as usual, headed the list of B-C mission recruits, 13 having joined there. Cleveland had two, while Chicago and Philadelphia had one representative each.

The rush of recruits is attributed in part to the recruiting drive across the line, and also to the desire of many, affected by new amendments to the military service act, coming in voluntarily before being called to report in order that they may choose the units in which they will serve.

To help along the record of the voluntary enlistments, nine apprehended under the military service act were boarded at the centre on Tuesday. As usual all were sent to the W. O. R. for service.

Thirty of the forty-two volunteers were boarded and placed under canvas inside of eight hours. This is the largest number of men that have been boarded and sent to the camp in one day for some time. The British-Canadian Recruiting Mission in the United States is sending many men over to join the various Canadian units. Three volunteers arrived this morning from Chicago.

The following is a list of Tuesday's volunteers:

J. C. Campbell, R. F. C., London; F. G. Haslett, R. F. C., London; H. L. McLaughlin, R. F. C., London; F. W. McIntosh, Petrolea; C. C. Fitzpatrick, R. F. C., London; James Wells, W. O. R., St. Marys; H. Smith, Windsor; P. S. Fryberger, W. O. R., Windsor; O. S. Gulley, Windsor; Wm. Hayward, Detoit; A. V. Rogers, C. E., Detroit; L. Wilkey Construction, Detroit; R. N. Lloyd, 63rd Battery, Detroit; A. Morden, W. O. R., Detroit; R. Moore, W. O. R., Detroit; P. A. Bentland, W. O. R., Detroit; Ed. Davill, W. O. R., Detroit; W. C. Cann, C. E., Detroit; W. Smith, W. O. R., Detroit; C. Selkirk, Construction, Detroit; J. Morburn, C. E., Detroit; Z. Mitchew, W. O. R., Detroit; B. Farnum, C. E., Chicago; T. Egerton, C. E., Cleveland; E. G. Bouman, C. A. S. C. D., Cleveland; E. Thompson, C. E., Philadelphia; E. L. Campbell, R. F. C., London; R. J. Knowles, C. E., London; G. C. Vince, C. E., London; J. McLaughlin, C. E., London; C. E. Bowman, C. E., London; C. T. Bailey, C. E., London; S. W. Rance, C. E., London; S. W. Facey, W. O. R., London; A. L. Fisher, W. O. R., London; Harry Dunlow, C. E., London; C. W. Ferguson, R. F. C., London; McCarthur Tuckey, R. F. C., London; Wm. E. Beattie, London; J. V. Ison, London; J. H. Cooper, London; J. A. T. Sussex, R. F. C., London.

COMING HOME AGAIN

Former Paymaster of 33rd on Way to Clinton.

Capt. C. E. Dowding, formerly paymaster of the 33rd Battalion, is one of the officers well-known in this city who is on his way home. Manager of the Clinton branch of the Molson's Bank before obtaining a commission with the 33rd (Huron) Battalion early in the winter of 1915-16, he was home on sick leave in 1916, returning to England and going to France as a brigade paymaster. He has been wounded in the hand, and it is owing to this that he is coming back at the present time. His mother makes her home in Clinton.

ORDINATIONS TO BE CONDUCTED SUNDAY AT ALL SAINTS

Two Deacons Being Raised to Anglican Priesthood.

All Saints' Church has been chosen as the one in which an ordination service will be held on Sunday at 11 o'clock, when two candidates will be ordained to the priesthood and five to the diaconate, by the bishop of Huron.

Rev. Frank Anderson, M. A., Watertford, and Rev. T. Stevenson, Desboro, are to receive the order of priesthood, while the following will be made deacons: A. S. Mitchell, L. B. Haggar and J. Chapman, who are receiving their graduation diplomas at the Huron College convocation Friday evening, and W. D. Davis and Sergt. E. E. Garrett.

Ven. Archdeacon Young will present the candidates for ordination, and the special sermon will be preached by Rev. W. J. Doherty. Rev. A. A. Bice, rector of the church, will conduct the service.

ENCOURAGING SPORTS FOR MEN IN CAMPS

Committee Working to Promote Inter-Unit League.

Further plans are being formulated for the encouragement of sport in camp at Carling Heights by the military authorities. The sports committee has not yet been definitely organized, but the equipment has been mobilized for immediate use. Major C. O. Fairbank is in charge, and it is likely that representatives will be appointed to the committee from each unit in training, and also from the Military Y. M. C. A. In addition, the two camp chaplains Capt. (Rev.) A. Graham and Capt. (Father) Corcoran, will act on the committee.

It is planned to have games in which all troops will participate and leagues will be formed for the various sports, games being played in the evenings and on Wednesday afternoons, which are set aside for sport.

Officers commanding units are requested to do all in their power to further the new scheme, details of which will be worked out by the new committee and Major R. Emmerton.

DON'T LIKE RETURNS

East End Merchants Object to Taking Back Sugar.

Some flour is being returned by citizens to east end flour and feed merchants, in compliance with the order-in-council which forbids the possession of more than fifteen days' supply of flour and sugar.

The merchants generally do not approve of having to pay the retail price for the returned goods. That there are no cases of hoarding in the city is the opinion of the dealers. Buying flour in large quantities has been discouraged for some time and citizens generally have been acting on this advice.

WANT MORE DETAILS

City Grocers Will Ask Information On Food Regulations.

At a meeting of the London Retail Grocers' Association held in L. O. F. Hall on Tuesday evening, many business questions were discussed by the members of the association. The members decided to write the food controller and get further information regarding the food regulations.

Plans for the annual picnic were discussed, but some members thought that the picnic should be postponed this year owing to war conditions. The question was left over until the next meeting. The meeting was adjourned until Tuesday, June 19.

BOOZE SUBSTITUTES NOT POPULAR HERE, INSPECTORS BELIEVE

Medicines Not Used as Beverages, They Say.

BOARD IS SUSPICIOUS

Wines, Medicines and Even Liniment Are Being Scrutinized.

Notwithstanding rumors to the effect that the Ontario license board had under consideration the banning of certain medicines claimed to be used as beverages, County Inspector J. B. Keenleyside and City Inspector Birrell claim to know of no medicines sold in the city which are being used as liquor substitutes.

Since Jamaica ginger was placed under control there have been few booze substitutes experimented with by the thirsty ones of this city, according to the license inspectors.

The license inspectors claim that any medicine which contains alcohol in sufficient quantity to intoxicate could not be consumed in any but the smallest doses without making the person sick. The medication, they believe, will prevent its being used at any time as a beverage.

However, under the revised statutes, the license board may submit samples of a medicine to the provincial board of health. If this body considers the medication is not sufficient to prevent people drinking it for the alcohol contained in it, it may issue a certificate forbidding its sale. The certificate of the health authorities is binding in the courts.

A further provision in the amended statutes is one which decrees that the board may make it an offence to sell a patent medicine, which, owing to alcohol in the medicine, would be liable to be taken in quantities injurious to the health. Within the next few weeks practically all the well-known patent medicines in which alcohol forms a large part will be submitted to the provincial board of health for a report.

A liniment advertised extensively is the latest to be scrutinized by the board. The liniment is advertised as good for "neuralgia, toothache, rheumatism, colds, lumbago, pleurisy and stiff joints." It is admitted to be an effective pain reducer, but its recent discovery by thirsty people as an ingredient to be added to soft drinks, because of its large percentage of alcohol, has forced the board to deal with it.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Send In Your Problems and They Will Be Answered From Official Information by The Advertiser.

R. D. C.: Q.—I was born in Canada, and was 23 years of age at the last election, December 17, 1917. I was not allowed to vote. Could I be called for military service?

A.—You do not state why you were not allowed to vote. If you claimed exemption on conscientious grounds, you are liable to be called for non-combatant service at any time.

Mitchell, Ont.: Q.—1. Will the boys be called as they reach the age of 19? 2. Will boys who were 19 this month be included?

A.—1. They may be under the recent order-in-council.

2. The proclamation is not clear. It refers to those who have attained the age of 19 years. This may be taken to mean 19 years on or before May 17, or 19 on or before June 1. Anyone who becomes 19 on or before May 17 would appear to be included, without any doubt, and should report.

A. G. M.: Q.—I am a student and 19 years old. To whom could I write to find out in what capacity I could enlist to make use of my education?

A.—Write to Ms. Lonic O. Fairbank, Wolseley Barracks, London, Ont. Any unit will welcome men of education.

J. D. L.: Q.—1. Are there any cavalry regiments recruiting at present? If so, what is the height required? 2. Also artillery? What is the minimum height?

A.—1. Recruits are being taken for steel-armed cavalry, and the recruiting height must be at least 5 feet 7 inches.

2. The artillery units are over strength and are not recruiting. The height must not be less than 5 feet 2 inches for horse and field artillery.

E. M. W.: Q.—1. Shall a young Mennonite, who must register under the M. S. A., produce his certificate of membership in that church at the time of registration or when called to report?

2. Have the military authorities in London instructions from the Government to recognize the certificates of membership, and to grant them exemption.

3. Would a certificate from the district agricultural representative produce exemption for a 19-year-old boy who is an experienced farm hand?

A.—1. He must register by registered mail, and cannot produce anything in the nature of a certificate. Exemptions have been cancelled for men of 19 and 20, so that the presentation of the certificate would appear to be of little use.

2. Exemption cannot be granted by anyone but a tribunal.

3. Not if he were in Category A. It would if we were lower than A.

Twenty-One: Q.—1. I am in Category B. What branches are open to me when drafted?

2. I am the only grown-up son in a family of three children. My father has returned to Canada after one and a half years in England, and is still on duty here. Would I have a claim for exemption on this ground?

3. I have been in poor health lately. When I am examined, should I present a certificate from my doctor regarding my health?

4. Can Category B men sign up with the military police here?

A.—1. If you wait till notified to report for duty, you will have no choice of branches. If you go in prior to notification, you might join the Canadian Engineers, the Railway Construction Corps, the Skilled Railway employees, or the 1st Battalion Canadian Garrison Regiment.

2. If you are 21 years of age you can obtain exemption, though you might be able to obtain leave of absence on the ground of your father's service.

3. It would not likely be considered by the examining board.

4. The military police consist largely of returned men. It is possible that if you are of good physique and have other necessary qualifications, that you might be taken on, if you came in before notified.

A. H. M.: Q.—Will a young man who was 23 years and six months old last October be called when the 19-year-old boys are called?

A.—The men of 23 years of age were called upon to register last fall. The exemptions of men of the age mentioned have not been cancelled yet, and if he is exempt he will not be called until his exemption expires, or until an order cancelling exemptions for such men is issued.

N. I.: Q.—Would a young man who has served in the army and was honorably discharged for being physically unfit before going overseas, and who was awarded a war service badge, Class C, be called upon to report again?

A.—Yes; only those who have served in an actual theatre of war, which does not include Great Britain or Ireland, are excepted from the provisions of the act. Others must comply in the usual manner.

Strathroy: Q.—A farmer's son is ordered to report. If he passes, will he have a chance to come home again for a few days?

A.—Probably. If he is in Category A, he can get home for a few days seeding furlough if recommended by the district agricultural representative. If below A, he can get longer leave.

Discharged: Q.—1. A man is 20 years old and has been discharged from the army as medically unfit. Will he have to report when his time comes?

2. Where can he apply for a discharge button?

A.—1. Yes; unless he has served in an actual theatre of war, which does not include Great Britain or Ireland.

2. Apply to Major C. O. Fairbank, Wolseley Barracks, London.

W. H. M.: Q.—Will a bachelor, aged 32, be exempted after September 15, 1918? He is farming 50 acres all alone.

A. No reason why he should not unless his exemption terminates on that date. He can apply to the deputy registrar for an extension before it expires, if he wishes.

Holyrood: Q.—1. If a youth of 19 went to London and enlisted, could he get leave of absence till July 1 to look after his farm?

2. Would a person benefit any by going and enlisting?

A.—1. It is unlikely, though he might get a two weeks' seeding furlough.

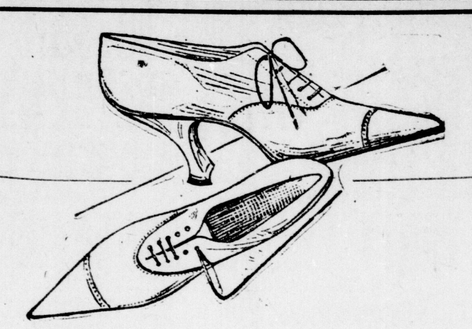

2. Yes, by having his choice of units

BORDEN THREATENS TO QUIT OFFICE IF TITLES ARE SENT TO LIMBO, AND AN OBEDIENT PARTY CRAWLS UNDER WHIP

Same Thing Happens on Yukon Election Outrage.

FIELDING WANTS FAIR PLAY

Unionist From East Denounces War-Time Election Act.

FLAVELLE THE "EVIL EYE"

New Bacon Baronet Hangs Over Balcony Rail While Titles Are Attacked.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 21.—The Borden Government was re-elected to office with a majority bordering upon 70, for the purpose, it is said, of "carrying on the war." And yet tonight it threatened to go out of office if its followers voted for a resolution calling for the abolition of all titles in Canada, except those which designate military or naval rank.

Just what this institution of titles has to do with the carrying on of the war, some honorable gentlemen could not percelye. But those who noted the venerable head of Sir Joseph Wesley Flavelle, Bart., hanging over the gallery rail probably guessed.

Borden Threatens to Quit.

Twice today did the Government club (not whip) its followers to fall to heel and lick its hand by threat held out, first by the whips, and later, boldly and frankly, by the prime minister himself, that if they did as the consciences of many of them prompted, he would place his resignation in the hands of the governor-general and call for the appointment of a new set of advisers. And on both occasions the question before the House was not a Government measure, but the motion of a private member.

Autocracy Established.

Thus has an autocracy been established in the Canadian Parliament. Thus have the "independent" representatives of the people who were elected to support the Government on its war measures, been reduced to the consistency and usefulness of rubber stamps. Thus has it been proven that the "new Union Government," camouflaged and camouflaged but badly indeed.

The first occasion was the discussion of the report of the privileges and elections committee upon the Yukon election case. To that committee had been intrusted by the Commons and the Government the task of deciding what action should be taken on the matter.

Borden Berates Committee.

The committee in due time reported, recommending that the case be referred to a judicial body for adjudication. A private member in the House moved that the report of the committee be adopted. But the prime minister berated the committee roundly, accused it of having been remiss in its duty, and practically called upon his followers to vote the matter back to the committee, with the almost straight charge that that committee should bring in a new finding. In other words, he "sent the jury back to make a new verdict." Obediently the jury went (or at least that part of it which supported the Government), and did as the premier bade them do. Today Hon. Hugh Guthrie, the new solicitor-general, moved that the returning officer be instructed to count the soldiers' votes; in other words, to declare Dr. Thompson elected. It was the new solicitor-general who obediently moved the motion. It was the former solicitor-general, Hon. Arthur Meighen, who willingingly took up the task of defending it.

Fielding Wants Fair Play.

And it was Hon. W. S. Fielding (Urionist) who declared in the course of one of the most logical utterances heard this session in the House: "Let the Government take steps to void this election. Let them take steps to have these soldiers vote again. Let the soldiers get a chance to vote for the men and not the parties. That is fair play. That is the spirit that will appeal to the people of this country."

But it was not fair play the Government was after. It was to save "their man"—that was their desire. For his pains Mr. Fielding was told by the youthful Mr. Meighen that his speeches were not so logical as they were in his former days, the implication being plain and bringing cries of "Shame! Shame!" from the Opposition benches. Ironic laughter from the Opposition benches at Mr. Meighen's specious arguments "on behalf of the boys at the front" was met by the noble remark that their "laughter was the measure of their actions in this war." But he did not get away with this remark. He was called to order, and forced grudgingly to make a very partial withdrawal. For the rest, however, his speech—if speech it could be called—was spoiled.

Vote Thompson Elected.

Willingly and obediently, driven by the declarations of the whips, that to vote down the Government in this would mean a vote of lack of confidence, the Government followers voted for the return of Dr. Thompson, and for the defeat of P. T. Congdon, who had traveled from Dawson to plead his case.

Only W. S. Fielding and John Campbell of Nelson, Man., stood up with the Opposition for "fair play, and for the kind of a spirit which will appeal to the people."

Eight or nine deliberately shirked the vote, thus showing more shame than courage. Messrs. Charlton, Nesbitt, Pardee, Cronyn, Buchanan and others were not in the House when the vote was taken. In fact, only two Liberal Unionists (not counting Hon. N. W. Rowell) voted with the Government in its motion.

Titles Bring the Test.

But the real test of the "new Union Government" came when the adjourned debate on titles was continued this afternoon and evening. There could be no doubt in the world that the motion and the amendment on which this debate was based, were not Government motions. Nickle of Kingston had moved that all hereditary titles be abolished, together with "reflective" titles. Sir Robert Borden had, when the motion was up before, announced that the Government had passed another of its eternal orders-in-council, expressing disapproval of hereditary titles, requesting the imperial authorities to grant none other excepting on the approval of the prime minister. Both Mr. Nickle and the prime minister found before the debate had gone very far that they had underestimated the temper of the new representatives of the people, on the matter of class distinctions, and Richardson of Springfield, grasping the opportunity, moved for the abolition of all titles. Then the premier came in and advised that the debate be adjourned until a resolution might be framed which would meet with the unanimous approval of the House.

Made a Government Issue.

That was a non-partisan discussion. And yet today the Government undertook to stake its reputation, and its very existence upon the question. Richardson amended his amendment to exclude military and naval distinctions. But the prime minister forestalled Mr. Richardson, and incidentally Mr. Nickle, by moving an amendment to the amendment calling for the adoption by the House of that order-in-council. The various motions were debated ad lib. It was soon evident that the great majority of the members on both sides were entirely in accord with the motion for the complete abolition of civilian titles. Then something happened.

The whips scurried out of the chamber. There was a rounding up of members. It was whispered in their ears that a vote against the Government was a vote of want of confidence, and that to defeat the Borden motion was equivalent to defeating the Government. Some of the members laughed at this as an old whip subterfuge. And they went back to see about it.

In the meantime the premier's arguments had all been shot to pieces by men on his own side of the House. Sir George Foster (who has a title) got up and defended titles. He declared that even in heaven there was rank. He put forward the theory that every man desired approbation, and declared that he was a better man for the title he had received. Hon. Martin Burrell (who has not yet got a title) also defended titles. He declared that "we should discourage the tendency toward national and individual pharisaism," and stated that "we cannot legislate ourselves into virtue," whereat Hon. Mr. Rowell blushed. Then Manion of Fort William got up. It was he who first openly in the House put forward the theory that to vote this amendment of the premier's down meant to defeat the Government.

Puts it Up to Borden.

There was some consternation in the House, and cries of "no, no" from the Opposition side. Campbell of Nelson rose to his feet. He had understood and still understood that the debate was on a private member's motion. "If," he said, in a level voice, "a vote against the premier's amendment is a vote of want of confidence, then I am sorry that I am here. I absolutely favor the amendment of the member for Springfield (Mr. Richardson), but the premier owes it to this House to state whether it is his opinion that a vote against his amendment will defeat the Government."

The premier was flushed and angry at the straight question. He said a lot about the Government having given much attention to this question. "If," he said, "the House does not propose to accept the course we have taken on this question, I should consider myself relieved of the duty of carrying on the business of this country, and should ask his excellency the governor-general to form a new ministry."

The announcement created consternation. Mr. Nickle strove to be heard, but was shouted down by members on his own side. Levi Thompson of Qu'Appelle, however, rose. He had seconded Mr. Richardson's amendment.

Members, Too, Have Rights.

"The Government," he said, "has some rights, but the right of a private member should not be ignored. This is a private matter; not a public matter. It has nothing to do with the carrying on of the war. I don't think for a moment that there will be a change of Government if the premier's amendment is voted down. And I don't think that we should be placed in any false position. Private members have some right to fair play."

In a brief speech, Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced his intention of opposing the prime minister's amendment, stating that if he were a Conservative he would hesitate to vote for it. He did not think the matter should be looked upon as a party question. He said he would vote for Mr. Richardson's amendment, and if that was defeated, he would vote for the motion of the member for Kingston.

Then Hon. Charles Murphy, from the Opposition side, ventured the opinion that in the eyes of certain gentlemen the question before the House might be considered as having a lot to do with the winning of the war, or at least with the carrying on of a certain phase of it.

Sir Joseph Wesley Flavelle, from the gallery, looked down, and there may or may not have been the flicker of a smile on his venerable face; but if there was it was hidden by the beard which covers his lips.

All Whipped in Line.

Then ensued a great apostasy. Sutherland of Oxford declared in stentorian voice his absolute and complete opposition to all artificial distinctions. But he declared it to be his intention to vote against the motion of the man who would abolish all titles.

Buchanan of Medicine Hat declared himself to be in favor of the abolition of all titles, declared it fervently, but proposed to vote with the premier.

Pardee of West Lambton in his first speech of the session waxed eloquent in his condemnation of titles, against which the whole spirit of Canada cried out. But he proposed to vote against the amendment calling for their complete abolition.

One after another they arose, all opposed, body, soul and spirit, to titles of any kind, but all wishful to get under the wing of the Government, which they did not desire to see defeated and overthrown in its very infancy.

Great Day for Democracy.

It was a sight to gladden the heart of the free constituents who had elected them! (Soft pedal, please!)

And so when the vote was taken on the Borden amendment only three lone members from the Government side voted against it—Nickle of Kingston, Hon. W. S. Fielding of Queens-Shelburne, and Thomas Foster (no, not Sir George) of Toronto. The amendment was carried by a vote of 104 to 71, or by a majority of 33. Richardson declared that he would not vote at all.

The defenders of titles won the day. The Government which was elected to carry on the war, and work for the boys at the front, staked its life on a motion to work for the "boys" (with a capital B) who are left at home to amass their millions, and be knighted for doing so.

Fielding for Fair Play.

Continuing the debate on the report of the committee on privileges and elections (Yukon election case), at the afternoon sitting, Hon. W. S. Fielding said that the great issue in the matter was whether or not the long-established parliamentary precept with regard to controverted elections should stand or fall. This precept was that cases of this kind should not be decided by a partisan committee of the House.

The difficulty had been caused by the war times election act.

There were some men who professed respect for this document, but Mr. Fielding said he was not one of them. In fact, it would require very strong language to express his views on this piece of legislation.

Mr. Fielding argued that the soldiers had not voted for Dr. Thompson. They had cast their votes for conscription, and the prime minister had allotted them to Dr. Thompson. According to all available information both candidates had been supporters of conscription. Therefore, on the issue in which the soldiers were interested, they stood on even terms.

Questions Borden's Act.

"What right had the prime minister to allot all the votes to the Conservative candidate when both candidates were conscriptionists?" asked Hon. Mr. Fielding. "It was not the soldiers who had voted for Dr. Thompson; it was the premier. It would not be the soldiers we would be disqualifying, but merely the prime minister."

J. H. Burnham asked Mr. Fielding whether Mr. Congdon had stated to him that he was in favor of conscription.

Mr. Fielding replied that it had been stated over and over again in the House and never been questioned, that Mr. Congdon was a conscriptionist.

A. L. Davidson—Is it not true that Mr. Congdon was indorsed by the leader of the Opposition?

Mr. Fielding said it was within the province of the Liberal leader to indorse what candidate he liked. The point was whether or not Mr. Congdon was a supporter of conscription, and he understood that he was. The minister of justice, Mr. Fielding went on, had declared that courts in considering the matter, would be confined to the strict letter of the law. To denounce the strict letter of the law was the argument of soap box orators.

"What Are We Coming To?"

"The letter of the law denounced by the minister of justice," Mr. Fielding asked, "What are we coming to?"

Mr. Fielding declared that the solicitor-general had intimated they were going to slam the door in Mr. Congdon's face, and then ask him to come in. That's not fair play; that's not playing the game, he concluded.

Hon. Arthur Meighen opposed Mr. Fielding's views. He declared that, while both of the candidates prior to the election in the Yukon had at some time supported conscription, yet one of them supported it in principle and practice, and took the only course that would have resulted in its enforcement. The other, he said, while he may have supported it, was, nevertheless, indorsed by the leader of the anti-conscriptionist party.

A by-election in the Yukon, said Mr. Meighen, would mean an appeal to only four-fifths of the electors. A full vote could hardly be obtained.

Hon. W. S. Fielding—Why not?

Cheap Politics, This.

Mr. Meighen maintained that it would be an exceedingly difficult task to secure from the great number of men overseas those qualified to vote in the Yukon. To do this would be an injustice to the fighting men of the front.

Opposition laughter greeted this statement.

Mr. Meighen—My friends opposite laugh, and that laugh shows the measure of their interest in winning the war.

The remark was met with loud cries of protest from the Opposition benches, and A. R. McMaster, rising to a point of order, declared that it was a gratuitous insult to every member of the Opposition, and should be withdrawn.

Speaker Rhodes said he did not think Mr. Meighen intended the remark to bear the meaning which had been taken from it by Mr. McMaster. If he thought so, he would demand its withdrawal.

An Insult to Members.

Mr. McMaster insisted that the remark was insulting, inasmuch as it implied that the Opposition members were not interested in winning the war.

Speaker Rhodes requested Mr. Meighen to state that he had not intended to imply that any honorable gentleman was not interested in winning the war.

The minister of the interior said he had no desire to question the interest of any member in winning the war. He did not think, however, that if any one seriously suggested that three hundred soldiers should be withdrawn from the front for the purpose of repeating the vote of last election, that person did not realize the gravity of the present situation. He insisted that the right of disfranchisement should not be placed in the power of any court. It was the duty of Parliament to guard the franchise, and it must do this for the men overseas.

Mr. Guthrie argued that by no refinement of argument or technicality could 300 soldiers' votes be wiped out. The intention of the Parliament was that military voters from the Yukon should vote, and they could only vote at the time specified in the act.

D. D. McKenzie urged that the whole question should be referred to the courts to be tried as the law stood on election day.

The House divided on the Devlin amendment moved earlier on the day, which was defeated by 103 to 68. Mr. Devlin moved that the report of the general returning officer be referred to the supreme court for adjudication and decision, and that decision of the supreme court be referred to the House for such action as it might deem proper.

Move For New Election.

Continuing the debate on the main motion, Mr. Lapointe claimed the whole matter was illegally before the House. He thought that the only fair and just way to adjust the matter was to order a new election for the Yukon. He then moved an amendment to the effect that the seat for the Yukon be declared vacant and writs be issued for a new election, and legislation at once adopted providing for the registration of the military voters of the district for the purpose of taking part in the election.

Sir Robert Borden, in reply, stated that there had been an oversight in regard to the matter of deferred elections, and also in respect to the filing of petitions. He said that the oversight should be repaired, and the matter made to stand before Parliament and before the people of the country precisely in the way that Parliament intended when the legislation and question was passed.

Division on the Lapointe amendment gave the result: Against, 102; for, 69.

The House then divided on the main motion. This was carried by 103 to 69.

Danger From U-Boats Has So Decreased That Insurance Drops Again

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Danger from submarines has decreased to such an extent that the bureau of war risk insurance has recommended a reduction from $2.50 to $1.50 per $1,000, the insurance rate on lives of officers and crews of merchant vessels passing through the war zone.

OUTLOOK IS HOPEFUL.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Offensive operations against German submarines are producing good results, said Acting-Secretary Roosevelt, of the navy today, and he added that while it would be too much to say that the submarine situation is under control or that the U-boats are not still to be regarded as a menace, the outlook is hopeful.

GERMANS SUBJECT BRITISH PRISONERS TO AWFUL TORTURES

Atrocities and Cold-Blooded Murders Revealed.

LONDON, May 21.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa agency.)—The Times gives prominence to further authenticated atrocities, systematic tortures and cold-blooded murders of British prisoners in Germany, in which the sum total of the evidence is incredibly inhuman.

There is the instance of the British soldier at Minden who was deliberately shot dead because a dozen Britishers did not want to drink the filthy drinking water.

At Merseberg a number of seriously wounded and wholly unfit British soldiers were, after vain protests, forced to work twelve hours a day. Soon this did not satisfy the Germans, who ordered the British to commence at 4 in the morning. The men refused, but after brutal blows all except two gave in. Sentries, with kicks and blows, drove the two recalcitrants over to the work.

Shot Dead on Spot.

One of these British soldiers held up a badly wounded hand to show the sentries he was unfit for work. He was thereupon shot dead and the body thrown inside a dirty wash-house. A German officer on a visit of inspection shook hands with the murderer. The body was buried the following day in the presence of a crowd of jeering Germans.

At Schneidmuesle the British prisoners, without huts, had to live in holes in the ground which the prisoners themselves scooped out. One morning at bread parade a sentry gave an order to one of the Britishers which was not understood. The sentry rushed at the prisoner and struck him, the latter thereupon going to his hole in the ground. German officers then ordered that an example be made of this British prisoner, although he had committed no offence. He was captured and stripped to the waist and tied up to a barrel.

Beaten With Staves.

Six Germans with thick wooden staves, which are used for holding up barbed wire, beat the prisoner for ten minutes over the head and bare back, and the body of the prisoner, who was swooning, was tied up to a post and left there. Subsequently a German officer came up and struck the prisoner with his sword and spat at him, calling him "English swine." The British prisoner never recovered, a few weeks later dying, and neutral representatives visiting the camp were informed that his death was from typhus.

At Lagensalza camp 300 wounded British soldiers arrived in the night-time and were herded into a large hut without bedding or blankets.

By the next morning five had died. The remainder were taken out and left in the sun for three hours, when seven more died. Subsequently through calculated neglect and ill-treatment 50 succumbed. The funerals at this camp for the summer of 1917 to the spring of 1918 were the grossest scandal, and the details in the evidence are too revolting for publication.

BRANT TP. FARMERS ASK TRUAX TO FIGHT

Call on S. Bruce Member to Work for Order's Repeal.

CHESLEY, May 21.—More than 300 farmers from this district, members of the North Brant Farmers' Club, gathered in the hall at Malcolm last evening to hear the reports of the delegates sent to Ottawa recently with the United Farmers of Ontario. After discussing the situation thoroughly it was decided to telegraph R. E. Truax, the member for South Bruce, today, urging him to fight against the order-in-council and use all the influence he can to have it repealed. In the event of his not doing this he will be asked by the farmers to resign. The message was wired to Ottawa today. The situation regarding help is most serious all through this section. The farmers are ready and willing to do everything they can to help production, and have put in large crops, but without help they will be unable to save them, and fear that the results of their work will be lost and the Empire and the boys at the front deprived of needed supplies.

COMING FRENCH CROPS BEST IN MANY YEARS

"Unless unforeseen situations arise between now and harvest time," he added, "actual restrictions on food consumption will not be increased. I may even say that we are approaching the end of the era of restriction, and that the restrictions at present in force gradually will be eliminated."

ORANGEVILLE MAN IS MURDERED BY MANIAC IN CAR NEAR WESTON

Stabbed Thirteen Times After Death and Stripped of Clothing.

TORONTO, May 21.—It has been clearly established that robbery was the motive for the murder which took place in the Canadian Pacific Railway construction car near Weston on Sunday night, when George Tucker of Orangeville was stabbed to death. The police view is also that the crime was almost the act of a crazy man, as the doctors have reported to the authorities that Tucker was stabbed fourteen times, and that thirteen of the wounds were inflicted after death, it being their opinion that the first wound in the neck on the left side caused death.

Police officers are now convinced that the clothing was torn from the body by the murderer, who was probably a foreigner, in his search for a money belt, which is usually worn by foreigners on construction gangs and other like work. Tucker was a very dark man, and it is thought the murderer mistook him for a foreigner, who might have all his money concealed about his person.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh-looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advt.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advt.

DILLON, NATIONALIST CHIEF, REPUDIATES THE SINN FEINERS

Declares His Faith in Goodwill of Britain.

DUBLIN, May 21.—John Dillon, the Nationalist leader, in an interview with the Associated Press correspondent today, emphasized the divergence between his party and the Sinn Fein, whose policy he declared to be "wrong and foolish and bound to end in disaster."

Mr. Dillon said he still believed in a friendly settlement with Great Britain. He adhered to the declaration of the late John E. Redmond, made at the outbreak of the war, that the "cause of the Allies is the cause of freedom."

In an appeal to the American people, Mr. Dillon said the Sinn Fein had been supplied with unlimited financial resources from New York, and he urgently asked all those of Irish blood in the United States to support his party against the Sinn Fein.

Numerous desertions also are reported from the coast garrisons. Repression of the movement has been intrusted to Essad Pasha of Janina.

MRS. SPRUIT SAYS ENTIRE FAMILY IS GRATEFUL FOR IT

Friends Say They Never Saw Such a Change in Anbody as Tanlac Made in Her Case.

"I tell you what, the way Tanlac has built me up and brought me out is the talk of the neighborhood, and my friends all tell me they never saw such a wonderful change in anybody before," said Mrs. Martha Spruit of 296 Runnymede road, Toronto, the other day.

"My troubles began over two years ago," she continued, "when I had such a serious breakdown that I had to be taken to the hospital, and I was there seven weeks undergoing treatment, but couldn't get back my strength. In fact, I was in such an awful fix that they took me home, where my friends said they expected to see the end at any time, and they even prepared my daughter for the worst by telling her I could never pull through. I lay flat on my back for six weeks, and was so weak and lifeless that I could hardly lift my hand, and my nurse had to feed me like I was a helpless baby. After awhile I managed to get up out of bed, but I was still too weak and rundown to do anything but drag myself around, unable even to wash a plate. I didn't have a bit of appetite, and for two or three days at a time could force down nothing more than a slice of bread. My nerves were in such a wretched condition that the ringing of the doorbell or a spoon dropping on the floor would startle me so much that I wouldn't be able to speak for several minutes, and I was so restless that when I went to bed I would roll and toss from side to side and felt like the night would never end.

"In this miserable condition I was trying everything I could get, hoping to find something that would start me up hill, but nothing did me any good. Finally, after hearing so much about the good Tanlac was doing, I decided to try it, and positively, before I had finished my first bottle I felt so much improved that it wasn't long before my neighbors were telling me how much better I was looking. My appetite has grown so I can eat and relish most anything I want, and my food is giving me the strength and energy I need. My nerves have quieted down, so I now sleep all night like a baby, and get up in the mornings rested and refreshed. I am getting stronger and better every day, and all the members of my family feel so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me, that we are boosting it all the time."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

TELLS LADIES HERE "WATCH YOUR STEP"

Can not camouflage a touchy corn but says they lift right out

A brisk, lively step is what charms more than a lovely skin, but your high heels have caused corns and you limp a little. That's bad, girls, and you know it. Corns destroy beauty and grace, besides corns can be lifted out with the fingers.

Rid your feet of every corn by asking at any drug store for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, touchy corn relieves the soreness and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out without pain.

This freezone is a gummy substance which dries instantly and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding skin.

Women must keep in mind that cornless feet create a youthful step which enhances her attractiveness.

CIVIL SERVANTS WHO SAW ACTIVE SERVICE MAY GET SALARIES

Government Modifies Recent Order-in-Council.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 21.—It is understood that the Government has provided for the modification of an order-in-council recently passed which revoked an important provision made in the early days of the war affecting civil servants who enlisted for service. It was then provided that civil servants who joined the colors should continue to draw their salaries as civil servants in addition to the army pay. Later this was modified, and they were permitted to choose which way they preferred. This latter modification, however, was not retroactive.

More recently another order was passed, completely wiping out the undertakings abovementioned, and provided that in future civil service pay would be stopped in the case of men on service.

The order applied to all. It is now stated that the Government has decided that the last order shall not affect men who have seen or are now on active service in France.

FORMER LONDON MAN KILLED AT CHATHAM

William Somers Eelectrocuted in Hydro-Electric Station.

CHATHAM, May 21.—William Somers, for many years an electrical contractor in London, but for some time past in the employ of the local hydro commission, was instantly killed today when 26,000 volts passed through his body at the Kent station on the outskirts of the city. He was repairing a "dead" switch, and in some unknown manner came in contact with a "live" line. The current entered at the top of the head and came out just below the ribs on the right side, and the victim was badly burned.

He was well known as an electrical expert, and came to Chatham soon after hydro was first installed. He was local inspector of wiring for a time, and later left the city, returning again in the employ of the Ontario commission in charge of maintenance of certain parts of station equipment in the district. He came here from Petrolea. His wife and eight children survive.

An inquest was commenced tonight by Coroner Bray, and after viewing the remains the jury adjourned until Monday evening.

Following the accident every effort was made to resuscitate Somers, and for two hours physicians worked with the pulmotor and oxygen.

MOSTLY EXTINGUISHED.

GUYSBORO, N. S., May 21.—Most of the forest fires in this county have now been extinguished. The most destructive blaze was at Reachville, near here, where large areas of timber were destroyed.

GIRL COLLAPSES WHEN SENTENCED FOR DEATH OF HER INFANT CHILD

TORONTO, May 21.—After four hours' deliberation today, the jury at the assizes, before Justice Middleton, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, in the case of Beatrice Dessol, and not guilty in the case of her twin brother, Morris Dessol, on the charge of murdering the infant child of Beatrice Dessol, whose body was found wrapped in a blanket on an embankment near the Lambton Golf Club, on March 28 last. In sentencing Beatrice Dessol to five years in the penitentiary, his lordship advised her counsel, T. C. Robinette, K.C., to apply to the department of justice for leniency.

A dramatic incident marked the pronouncing of the sentence. The prisoner, who was in a highly nervous state, uttered a loud shriek, and collapsed on the floor. She had to receive attention, and it was some time before she was able to be removed.

TWO THOUSAND BOYS NEEDED TO PULL FLAX

TORONTO, May 21.—Teen age boys of Western Ontario are being counted on to pull the flax crop this season. All the other help available will be used, but the flax growers realize that they will need about 2,000 boys if the crop is to be harvested.

About 16,000 acres of flax are being cultivated this season. This is double the acreage of last year, and three times as much as was planted in 1914. The flax-growing district is in Western Ontario, west of Guelph.

During the last two days meetings have been held at the Parliament Buildings of the Canadian Flax Growers' Association, to discuss the labor situation. Dr. Riddell, superintendent of the trades and labor branch of the Government, met the growers, and he will have charge of the campaign to secure the necessary boys.

TO SUFFER FROM HEADACHES MAKES LIFE MISERABLE

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people. Some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually with the dull throbbings, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion and periodical and spasmodic headache, and undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters, that has been on the market for over 40 years, removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this, but also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor.

Miss Emily Smith, 204 Bellwoods avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters. For two years I was greatly troubled with violent headaches, particularly in the morning. I tried everything to cure me until a friend recommended B. B. B. I tried it, and now I am completely cured."

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR SEDITIOUS WORDS

Port Arthur, Ont., May 22.—William J. Hanna, who claims to be a railroad man from Rivers, Man., was sentenced to six months at hard labor upon conviction before Provincial Magistrate O'Brien yesterday of making seditious remarks on board a train. He had described the Government as "rotten," and said that Canadian Red Cross nurses were immoral.

CREW'S FATE UNKNOWN.

Paris, May 22.—Apparently having had a severe encounter with a submarine the Spanish sailing vessel Joaquina, of 333 tons, has been found abandoned and drifting near the African coast. The hull was pierced by numerous shell shots, and there was no trace of the crew, whose fate is unknown.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food, will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

CHINA AND JAPAN HAVE SIGNED MILITARY PACT

QUERIES ANSWERED

ALVINSTON, Q.—At present I have fifty bushels of wheat in my granary. Am I allowed to keep that amount for seeding, or is it compulsory for me to sell it, and when is the time set for this wheat to be marketed?

A SUBSCRIBER.

A.—James Gray, local representative of the publicity department of the Canada food board, reports that there are no regulations issued as yet concerning the holding of wheat by farmers. On his advice, it would be wise for you to write the Canada food board, Ottawa, for a ruling on the matter.

HENSALL, Q.—Where a merchant has tobaccos, cigars and matches in stock and raises the price to cover the war tax, does he have to put on Government stamps, or how does the Government collect the war tax on these goods? F. W. SMALLACOMBE.

A.—Matches are the only goods mentioned in the question that will require stamps, and the wholesale and retail dealers are allowed until July 1 to dispose of the stock in hand without stamps. The tax became operative on May 1, however, on the articles named. The taxes are collected by the Government from the manufacturers. All stocks in the manufacturers' warehouses were tabulated by excise officers on May 1, and the tax on the stock collected.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" relieves stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

MR. ROWELL EVADES.

N. W. ROWELL, M. P., president of the Privy Council, spent considerable time on Monday in the House of Commons trying to escape giving the answer to a perfectly straight and apparently legitimate question asked him by Jacques Bureau, M. P. of Three Rivers, Que. It was not a question which could be evaded on the grounds that an answer would give valuable information to the enemy, so even that stand-by had to be forsaken for the nonce.

The question asked was simply this: Are "Donald Hunt" and Mr. Rowell's secretary one and the same man? Nothing could be easier to answer. Mr. Rowell could have replied "Yes," "No," or "I don't know," according to the facts. Instead, with labored and painful dissimulation he fought against having to use any one of these replies. Obviously there was one that would fit the case and have the virtue of truth, and there were two which would fit but would lack any other virtue. Mr. Rowell did not sink far enough to use either of the latter, but he refused to use the former.

There is importance attached to the question. The salary of Mr. Rowell's secretary is paid by the country and is noticeable, not because of its small size. "Donald Hunt" recently wrote for a Toronto paper, which strongly supports the Union Government, and Mr. Rowell in particular, a glowing and laudatory story of what the war council had done under the chairmanship of the erstwhile Liberal leader in Ontario. There was strong suspicion that "Donald Hunt" and Main Johnson, the secretary in question, were identical, and Mr. Bureau wanted the nation to know if it were paying a salary to a man acting as the minister's press agent. Now the nation feels certain, thanks to Mr. Rowell's evasive tactics, that "Donald Hunt" is Main Johnson and that his employer is not desirous that it should be known. Why else the pitiful struggle to keep the dark secret?

Mr. Rowell has been an advocate of honesty and openness in politics, and it was believed for a long time that he spoke according to his convictions. Many beliefs and faiths have been shattered within the last year, and with the facts now public property, it is no wonder if confidence in the president of the Privy Council has suffered a further blow. It says little for a man holding such a prominent position if he has to use a publicity agent to bring to the notice of the people his acomplishments.

WASTING GOOD FUEL.

RAILWAYS in Canada made truly remarkable efforts last winter to transport the fuel which was so scarce and so necessary, and encomiums have been heaped upon them for their share in averting a more serious famine. Having done this and knowing well how critical the fuel situation is likely to be next winter, is it not strange that these same railways are deliberately permitting the waste of thousands of cords of wood which would keep many families supplied with heat during the whole of the cold season?

This waste is permitted or ordered; those who travel extensively tell of passing pile after pile of old ties burning fiercely along the tracks. Sawed up into short lengths these ties make the hottest of fires, and hundreds of families would be glad to buy them, draw them away and cut them up if they were offered for sale. Some have tried to purchase loads, only to be met with a refusal to sell.

What is the reason for this attitude on the part of railway companies? Why do they continue this extravagant waste of valuable fuel? There must be some reason or excuse, surely, for the lack of thrift which is now a national necessity. Similar waste of foodstuffs is a crime under the law.

A DANGEROUS CRAFT.

IT WAS ONE of the Germans' new steel biplanes which withstood all the attacks of American and French aviators on Sunday and caused the death of that noted flyer, Major Raoul Lufberry, the prince of American air-fighters.

Accounts of the aerial battle which have reached this country make it appear that the new machine of the enemy is practically immune from danger by machine guns, and that the only chance of dealing with it is that a chance shot may kill or fatally wound the pilot and gunner. If this is true, the new craft is a much greater menace than the zeppelin or any other of the German aerial inventions. Little hope can be held out that big guns on land will be able to do much towards eliminating this steel flyer, since it is most difficult to hit the target even when it is well within range unless it is moving slowly. So far, the new airship has shown no great speed, but it may have that in reserve. There is no evidence that the armored craft is deadly in attack, or even as effective as the older types, but if it can float slowly over the Allied positions, taking photographs, noting troop movements and directing the artillery without hindrance it is extremely desirable that its career be ended at once.

There is no need, however, to feel pessimistic because this weapon has been devised by the foe. It was used at the battle of the Somme, and one was captured, so we may rest assured that if its qualities are good enough to warrant the Allies in copying it, an improved type will soon be produced, if it is not already built.

It will require more than a new airplane to give the enemy the supremacy in that sphere which is so valuable. He had that when the war started, but lost it quickly because he had not the numbers of the right kind of men. He has fewer now, while the Allies have more, and anything he can produce in the way of mechanical improvements will not long remain his monopoly.

THE REVERSE SIDE.

WHILE only passing notice need now be taken of the famous case of Col. Labatt, whose resignation as a member of the pensions board will be "accepted" following the inquiry which was made into the revelations that the officer was receiving $5,000 per year salary and full disability pension, there is another fact which should be kept in the public mind.

Criticism of an officer in any particular case should deal only with the officer whose conduct is called into question. It has come to the notice of The Advertiser that in various branches of the military department at Ottawa there are officers serving in several capacities who have refused to receive any pension whatsoever while they were employed by the government. Some of these men have received decorations for valorous conduct and been seriously wounded. Yet they would not accept a pension while a salary from the public purse was coming to their credit. They considered themselves soldiers while they served their country in any capacity.

That is merely the reverse side of the picture.

CONSCRIPTION OF RAGS.

CONSCRIPTION may have various forms, and today Hamilton police commissioners are to discuss one variety that has been proposed to them. Because the Red Cross is collecting rags, bones and old metal, it is suggested that all licenses to other dealers in these things be abolished. Conscription of rags, bones and old metals!

Hamilton will deal with the problem as the commissioners decide, but it is to be hoped that the microbe which infected those who urged the creating of this monopoly for the Red Cross will not find its way to other cities.

To forbid the purchase of rags, etc., and to limit the means of getting rid of these things to the one—donation to the Red Cross—would be obviously unfair to both dealers and people. The former are conducting a legal and more or less lucrative business, which ranks among those known as "useful" and many of those engaged in it are not fitted, by training at any rate, for any other kind of work. There is no justification for robbing them of their means of livelihood.

The householders would suffer if they were deprived of a market for their "junk." Many little children in the cities and the country depend largely on the ragman's visits to provide them with the pennies which make up their pocket-money and many mothers welcome the dimes and quarters which come occasionally from the ragman and help to buy little luxuries.

Furthermore, the character of the Red Cross would be changed by the enactment sought. The proud boast of the society is that it is maintained solely by voluntary offerings. This could no longer be said if the Hamilton idea were adopted. While the people theoretically would not be forced to give to the society, they have only the one alternative—to store away the rags in their own homes. To all intents and purposes they would be compelled to get rid of the junk by giving it away; in other words their rags, bones and metals would be conscripted for the Red Cross.

IT CAME NATURALLY.

The naval class was under signal instruction. Most of them had just come back from leave, and as a result to some of the boys in blue the instructor's voice seemed very far away, indeed.

"A ship in distress," he was saying, through the room spaces, "has several methods by means of which she can make known her condition to other vessels or shore stations. Name one, Binks!"

"The international code signal 'N. C.'" replied Binks, waking up just in time.

"Right!" said the instructor. "Jenks, name another."

Jenks started out of a dream.

"Eh?" he ejaculated.

"What would you do if you were in distress?" repeated the signal instructor.

"Why," mumbled Jenks, "pawn me watch!"

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL PLYING HIS PEN TO DISCREDIT LIBERALS

Partisan Articles of J. P. Jaffray Brought to Government's Notice.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 21.—W. D. Fuler, M. P. for North Waterloo, called attention to the House of Commons today to the fact that J. P. Jaffray, formerly of Galt, but now immigration inspector at Philadelphia, was using his talents as a newspaper man and was writing partisan articles in a Galt newspaper reflecting on several Liberals, and on the party in general. He asked Hon. J. A. Calder whether or not this was the proper caper for a Government official. Mr. Calder replied that he had no information that Mr. Jaffray was doing this work, but he had no hesitation in saying that it would stop and that very soon is such was the case. Mr. Jaffray receives $2,000 a year from the people of Canada, but works his pen for the Tory party in Ontario just the same.

The loss is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000, fully covered by insurance.

M'COIG GETS SOME CONCESSIONS WHICH WILL AID FARMERS

Measure of Insurance Against Poison in Feed.

MAY RETAIN THEIR SUGAR

By Reporting the Amount of Sugar and Flour Will Satisfy Officials.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 21.—The farmers got some consideration this morning in the session of the committee on agriculture, A. B. McCoig compelling Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture, to announce some steps to better conditions.

The first item brought up by Mr. McCoig was in connection with bad bran and shorts. It has been the practice for millers to grind up poisonous weed seeds in this grain, with the result that many farmers have had valuable cattle poisoned, occasioning much loss. Against this there has been no redress. Mr. Crerar announced that any farmer might send him small samples of this bran or shorts and it would be analyzed. If it was found to contain poisonous seeds the miller would be prosecuted by law. This will clear the air and will make millers more careful of the kind of stuff they grind in future. It was a distinct victory for Mr. McCoig and a great gain for farmers. It will mean a measure of protection at least.

Mr. McCoig then took up the question of the supplies of flour and sugar held by farmers. Any farmer having more than 50 pounds of either on hand is liable to prosecution. Mr. McCoig thought that it would be dangerous to the public health to have this brought back to the dealers, owing to the amount of contagious disease in many parts of the country. Mr. Crerar thought that the point was well taken, and stated that he would issue a regulation making the farmer simply report the amount of flour he had on hand to the miller, thus assuring the authorities that there was no attempt being made at hoarding flour. Similar regulations will be made as to the sugar.

"The farmer is not attempting to hoard produce," urged Mr. McCoig. "We must give him some protection, so that he will not be persecuted continually. If he reports how much he has on hand that should be sufficient."

MAINTENANCE OF WAY RAILWAY EMPLOYEES TO TAKE REFERENDUM

Consider Eight-Hour Day on All Canadian Systems.

AND A RISE IN WAGES

Companies May Be Approached Jointly — Denounce Watters' Talk.

TORONTO, May 21.—Fifteen thousand maintenance of way employees of Canadian railways will be asked to vote on the question of pressing for an eight-hour day and a substantial increase and uniform rate of pay for all maintenance of way men in Canada.

The executive of the International Maintenance of Way Employees met here today to discuss the advisability of such a step, and passed resolutions embodying these demands, which will be submitted to the membership of the brotherhood for ratification and indorsement. They claim that the wages paid by the railways are inadequate in comparison to that paid to other classes of labor.

Formerly the maintenance of way men employed by each railway company dealt with that company separately, but it was decided at today's meeting to make a change, and a central committee was elected to deal with all matters dealing with maintenance or right of way employees in Canada, and it is anticipated that the managements of the railways will be asked to act jointly instead of individually as formerly, in dealing with matters in dispute with their employees.

The executives also passed a resolution strongly deprecating the recent utterances of J. C. Watters, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, attacking the British premier, Lloyd George. Mr. Watters' attack is branded as "unjustifiable," and the delegates state that they wish to dissociate themselves from the sentiments he expressed.

Mr. John Gloin, farmer, Aylmer, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from chronic constipation and headaches resulting therefrom. During the past ten or twelve years I have consulted three doctors and tried all sorts of medicines. The only medicine which suits my case is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Nujol Habits—and No More Piles

Read this remarkable letter:—

NUJOL LABORATORIES,
STANDARD OIL CO. (New Jersey),
BAYONNE, N.J.

Gentlemen:—

For 8 years I was a clerk in a bank on the Pacific Coast, it necessarily being a confining position. During that time, and also before, I was troubled with bilious headaches (one every two months or so) and suffered with chronic constipation. The last three or four years I have had piles in bad shape, trying several doctors with little relief.

Moving to Forsyth about 2 years ago I tried outside work for 9 months but seemed to be as bad as before.

Saw a "Nujol" ad one day in some magazine and thought I'd give it a trial.

In all I have taken three bottles. After about the third or fourth tablespoonful the benefits were very marked and since using same I have not had one headache and am now as regular as the sun himself and the piles are getting much better.

Nothing I can say or write can anywhere near express the wonderful benefit your remedy has done for me.

Very truly yours,

November 21, 1917. (Name and address on request).

JIMMY COON STORIES

By Dr. Warren G. Partridge.
Copyright 1917 by George Matthew Adams.

JIMMY COON PAYS A VISIT TO MR. BLACK BEAR.

Jimmy Coon paid a visit to his cousin, Mr. Black Bear, some time after the Great Race. Cousin Bruin was now nice and fat, for he had had lots to eat. And Mr. Bear is like many people you and I know who are awfully jolly when their stomachs are full of good things to eat.

Mr. Bear welcomed his little cousin, Jimmy Coon, and he spoke up in his great bass voice, "Cousin Jimmy, come right in at once, and lie down on my soft couch and rest your tired bones." Jimmy enjoyed his visits at Mr. Bear's house. It was on the side of Blue Mountain and beside a great cave. In Mr. Bear's stone mansion there were very big rooms, a woodshed, big cellars, an attic, and, best of all, a play-room for Mr. Bear's two young "hopefuls," the black cubs.

And Mr. Bear had one cosy room, all his own, just like your father. Your father and Mr. Bear both call this favorite room their "den." Jimmy Coon enjoyed the pantry more than any other room in the stone mansion. In fact, when Cousin Bruin took a little nap in his "den," like you father, Jimmy Coon would slip out on his tiptoes into the big pantry, and help himself to jam and honey.

Cousin Bruin, you know, is very fond of honey, and he always has some honey in a secret place on the shelf. And Jimmy is a great snooper, and he found that honey all right and helped himself.

Jimmy came to see Cousin Bruin especially to get good things to eat. Mr. Bear and Jimmy Coon hunted together all night, and came home very full of good things to eat and very tired. And Cousin Bruin was very sleepy, and he said, "Cousin Jimmy, now come; let's go to bed. I will let you sleep with me in my big soft bed." And Jimmy was delighted to sleep in Cousin Bruin's nice big bed, for the mattress was very soft, and it had a new set of lovely springs.

The weather was very cold, and Jimmy Coon snuggled up close to Cousin Bruin's back. Mr. Bear was a lovely bed-fellow, for in his black pyjamas he was as warm as toast.

And Jimmy soon fell asleep, and had a lovely dream of robbing the honey from the wild bees in a hollow tree. But just as he was dreaming of eating the sweet honey, he awakened with a big jump and landed on the stone floor.

Jimmy thought it must be thundering, for an awful noise echoed through the great stone house, and poor little Jimmy sat up on the cold floor holding his aching head in his two little hands, and trembling like a willow leaf in a shower. And Jimmy said to himself, "Where can that awful thunder come from?"

Tomorrow—Jimmie Coon's Night With Mr. Bear.

LONDON PLAYERS MADE HIT AT AILSA CRAIG

AILSA CRAIG, May 21. — St. George's Young People's Club of London motored out on Friday evening and put on a four-act comedy play, "Mary Ann Comes to Town," under the auspices of the local Young Ladies' Club. They were greeted by a packed hall, and ably assisted by the Ailsa Craig Red Cross Orchestra, with Gordon Allison, leader, and Miss Ada Munro, pianist; also solos by Miss Gladys Topping, contralto, of London. Capt. (Dr.) J. G. Gunn and Mr. Pritchett, Sergt. Gordon Zavitz, who lately returned from overseas, having been wounded five times, gave a very interesting address. On Friday evening the children are putting on their four-act play, "Cinderella," in the hall, for Red Cross purposes.

Rev. Father O'Donnell performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a wedding gown of georgette crepe and silver lace, trimmed with white satin and French posebuds. She wore a bridal veil caught with pearls in form of a juliet cap, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. There was a fine musical service. The young couple were unattended. Following the service an informal wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Wolseley avenue. BACKYARD GARDEN HINTS

(By The Girl With the Hoe.)

TREATMENT OF BULBS AFTER FLOWERING.

Soon all the beautiful spring-flowering plants will be over, and the question once more will arise as to whether it is better to lift them or allow them to remain in the ground. For people who have small gardens there is no alternative if they wish a good crop of summer plants. They must lift the bulbs, and they must lift them in the proper way, if they would have them flower well the next year.

The time of lifting a bulb is very important. As a rule, it should never be lifted until its foliage has begun to wither and turn brown, or, in other words, until the bulb has matured. The reason for this is apparent. The foliage collects food and stimulants from the air and stores them up in the bulb. The food thus collected has to serve the young plant of next year's growth until the new roots are well enough formed to collect food for the rapidly-growing stem and flower. If the foliage is removed before the proper amount of materials has been stored up, the plant of the following season will be deprived of its sustenance. If the bulbs seem very slow in maturing and the gardener is anxious to get in his summer plants, he may lift the bulbs, but immediately replant them in a trench reserved for the purpose. There they will ripen and can be removed later.

The best instrument to use in lifting the bulbs is a fork, a spade being liable to chop them. Shove the fork straight down into the ground so that it will reach out under the bulbs. Then lift the soil and turn it over, exposing the bulbs in much the same manner as you would potatoes. If they are to be replanted in a trench to ripen they should be picked up carefully, so that none of the roots are destroyed. The ripened bulbs are sorted, the bulbs large enough to bear flowers being separated from the non-flowing offsets. Spread the bulbs out in a flat box in the sun to dry, and then store away until the autumn, when they are again planted.

The narcissi and daffodil bulbs have no period of rest like the tulips, and they may be left in the ground for several years. However, by the end of three or four years, they, too, should be lifted, and it is very important that they be lifted at exactly the right time. The nature of these plants is such that they begin to put forth fresh roots before the old foliage begins to wither, and consequently it is essential that they must be lifted early, before the new roots begin to form. If there is any doubt about the plants not being ready for storing, they should be transferred to a reserve trench and allowed to ripen there.

WAR-TIME RECIPES

Here is a recipe for savory potato drop-cakes:

1½ pounds cold cooked potatoes
¼ pint milk
2 ounces oleomargarine
3 ounces grated cheese
Salt and pepper

Mash the potatoes and mix in the cheese. Put oleomargarine and milk into a saucepan and heat. Then mix thoroughly with the potatoes. Season with salt and pepper, and place large spoonfuls of the mixture in separate piles like drop-cakes on a greased tin. Bake in a quick oven ten to fifteen minutes, or till they are a golden color.

These potato recipes are now in common use in England. They are issued by the British National Food Economy League.

Everyone talks about potatoes as having hailed from Ireland. They didn't originally, but it was in the Emerald Isle that they first took root after traveling across the Atlantic with Sir Walter Raleigh.

Anyway, we always associate the potato with Ireland, and the following recipe for Irish potato cakes is a timely one, when there is an abundance of vegetables on hand which we should now make use of if we are to increase our shipments of wheat to the other side of the Atlantic.

1 pound cold boiled floury potatoes
2 ounces flour
1 ounce oleomargarine
1 teaspoonful baking powder
Milk, or milk and water to mix

Pass potatoes through wire sieve and mix with flour and baking powder. Rub in oleomargarine and make into a soft dough with the milk. Roll out to an inch thick, cut into rounds or triangles and bake about 20 minutes in a quick oven to a pale golden color.

Potato tea biscuits are even more palatable than those made wholly of wheat flour. Here is the recipe:

1 cup of mashed potatoes
2 cups of sifted standard flour
1 teaspoonful of salt
3 teaspoonfuls of baking powder
3 teaspoonfuls of shortening
Water or milk sufficient to mix

Sift the salt, flour and baking powder together twice, rub in the cold shortening. Then rub in the mashed potato. Add just enough cold liquid to make the mass stick. Do not knead. Roll out on baking board, cut into rounds and bake 15 to 20 minutes in a moderately hot oven. All potato breads should be baked more slowly than all-wheat breads.

Potato stuffing to replace bread stuffing, may be made with

2 cups of mashed potatoes
1 beaten egg
1 small onion, minced
1 teaspoonful fat
Stalk of celery, minced, or half teaspoon of celery salt
Salt and pepper to taste.

DAILY BIBLE QUESTION CLUB

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, MAY 26, 1918.

One Golden Text Suggestion.
By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

Jesus Silences His Adversaries.—Mark, xii., 1-44.

7. Verses 13-17.—How do you size up the cunning and the knavery of the Pharisees and the Herodians in trying to trap Jesus into committing treason?

8. What does the answer of Jesus indicate concerning his opinion of Caesar and the Roman Empire?

9. What does the answer of Jesus indicate as to the relation between church and state?

10. What is our duty to the state and to God?

Golden Text.—Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's.—Mark xii-17.

WE MUST PAY TO THE COUNTRY ITS LEGAL TAXES

The city or town in which we live and the nation to which we belong are business corporations. To administer these trusts involves the expenditure of vast sums of money, and this, if properly distributed among the people, becomes a just debt upon every man. It is therefore every man's duty to pay his taxes; to try to get out of doing so is contrary to the command of Jesus. It is essential that we obey the laws of our country and pay our just share for the cost of its administration. No man is a law unto himself, for while we are self-governed, and the laws are made by legislatures created by ourselves, they are binding upon us all. We have a right to free thought, free speech, to the pursuit of happiness, but all this must be consistent with the welfare of the state.

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

A Pretty Model With or Without Bolero.

2424—This is a good model for combinations of material. Gingham and organdie, voile and lawn, foulard and crepe, could be used. The style is nice also for linen, percale, dimity and other lingerie fabrics. The bolero may be finished separately.

The pattern is cut in four sizes, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 2 yards of 36-inch material for the dress, and ¾-yard for the bolero.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

MAY BE RACING IN CANADA DESPITE THE REPORTS TO CONTRARY

Subject May Be Discussed in House Today.

Ottawa, May 22—In spite of denials to the contrary there is a possibility that Canada will have horse racing this season. At least that appears to be the feeling of several thoroughbred breeders who are interested, according to the Journal Press. It is said that they have received encouragement from cabinet ministers, and that the subject will be discussed in the House today. It is proposed to have the sport revived on a plan that will give 50 per cent of the receipts to patriotic purposes, and the other 50 will be divided amongst the owners as purses. The Jockey Club's share would be the mutuel receipts and the gate money.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR BASEBALL SERIES IS ARRANGED FOR

Stratford Players Elect Officers of Amateur Organization.

STRATFORD, May 21.—A meeting of the local amateur baseball organization was held tonight, at which officers were elected. It was decided to again have a junior and senior series, boys under 19 years being eligible to play in the junior series only, though they are also eligible to play in the senior series.

There are four teams ready for the junior series, but more are expected in by the time the schedule is drafted. The meeting to draw up a set of dates for the both series will be held next Monday night. The four junior teams already in are Dufferin Tigers, Y.M.C.A., Canuck Juniors and G. T. R. Juniors. The G.T.R. and Canuck Seniors are the only teams entered in the senior series thus far, but additional teams will be in the fold by Monday night.

The officers: Hon. presidents, B. M. Wright, J. C. Makins, C. Kelso; honorary vice-presidents, Robert Patterson, R. Macnicol; president, William McArdle; vice-president, Fred Bryant; secretary-treasurer, J. B. Mannell. The executive committee is composed of the active officers and team captains.

This city will be quiet as far as sport is concerned on Victoria Day, as nothing has been arranged in the way of a celebration.

MUCH SPORT AT SARNIA ON 24TH OF THE MONTH

SARNIA, May 21. — The Great War Veterans, under the leadership of T. Weston, secretary of the association in Sarnia, are all ready for the big celebration planned for Friday, May 24. For the first time in several years Victoria Day will be fittingly celebrated. Over $400 will be given in prizes. Two harness races are to be staged, a baseball match will be put on, a tug-of-war for industrial workers, both men and women participating, and Scotch dancing for prizes, are the main features of the day. Two bands will be in attendance, and other attractions are being arranged for. From the amount of interest manifested by the citizens in the preparations of the field day everything should work out satisfactorily, and the people will have something to remember.

TO USE ARMORIES FOR BOXING BOUTS FOR SOLDIERS ON JUNE 1

Big Crowd Expected at First Local Soldiers' Fistic Contests of Season.

Permission has been granted by the general officer commanding Military District No. 1 for the use of the Armories on Saturday, June 1, for the W. O. R. boxing tournament being staged under the auspices of the 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment.

The tournament will be under the patronage of Lieut.-Col. Young, M. C., commanding officer of the depot battalion; Major Stanbury, Major Nelles, Major Bevin, Capt. Kirkland, Lieut. Pope, Lieut. Those in charge are hoping for a big crowd, as the general public is expected to support the show as an incentive to the boys in training. The exhibition will given an opportunity to show what results follow military training, and the Canadian army garrison staff will do all in its power to make the event a success.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE PLEASED BY CONCERT

Most Successful Entertainment at All Saints' Church.

One of the most successful concerts ever held in connection with All Saints' Church was given on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Men's Club. The church school hall was crowded to its capacity, the audience evidencing hearty appreciation of the entertainment presented. While every number was of a high order of merit, special mention is due the novelty musical act of Messrs. Carling and Olson, which took the audience by storm. Others taking part were: Miss Gladys Topping, soprano; Miss M. Corbin, contralto; Chris Pink and H. Young, tenors; Fred Callard, baritone; Fred Dowling, bass; Misses Thelma Secord, L. Erskine and B. Parsons, pianists; and Miss L. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Secord, readers.

Messrs. Corbin and Maynard gave instrumental selections, and Melville Platt, the accompanist, gave a demonstration of a vocal phenomenon, his ability to sing in both soprano and baritone voices, a gift similar to that which Dorothy Toye, the Western Canadian girl, famous on two continents some years ago.

LONDON BOYS MAKE SOME FINE RECORDS IN COLLEGE SPORTS

Jack Magee Wins the Championship of Appleby School.

London is well represented at boarding colleges in Ontario so far as sport is concerned. A number of local youths cleaned up on several events at the recent field days held by Ridley College of St. Catharines, Appleby School of Oakville and Upper Canada College of Toronto.

Jack Magee, son of J. E. Magee, manager of the local Merchants Bank, won the senior championship of Appleby School at the institution's sports day held last Saturday. He cleaned up on the 100-yard dash, the broad jump, the 440 yards, the 220 yards and a number of other events.

There are other boys who have done well, but Magee is the only one who managed to win the championship of his school.

Ross Somerville, son of London's mayor, is making an enviable record for himself in sports at Ridley College, St. Catharines. Though only just past 15 years of age, he has proven to be one of the leading cricketers at the college, and recently in a contest between Ridley seniors and the C. and M. champion team of last year, he made a total of 48 runs, leading all other players by a good margin. Writing of his part in the game, E. S. Jackson says:

"But if Somerville failed with the ball, he made amends with the bat. He played sterling cricket, and with McMahon, who had made 10 when the first wicket fell for 32, punished the bowlers and brought on several changes before he returned a ball to J. Hall, and, believing it had gone clean from his bat to the bowler instead of going off ground, as many of the Albion players say it did, left his wicket. His score of 48 was a finely obtained contribution, and was made with one chance only, when he had registered 45, the number of runs which he compiled in the opening match last year when he played for the first time with the senior school."

Last year, when 13 years of age, Ross Somerville was chosen to play for the senior cricket team, making a fine record. He was also captain of the junior rugby and hockey teams.

EVERYTHING READY FOR OPENING GAMES AT ELMWOOD CLUB

Greens in Perfect Condition—Thistles Announce New Starting Time.

Everything is set for the opening of the bowling season at the Elmwood Club. The greens were perhaps never in better condition for the tournament on Victoria Day. The program for the afternoon calls for four games for each of the 36 rinks entered. Three prizes for the winners will be presented.

The tournament will commence at 2 o'clock following an address by the president, H. A. Kompass, and A. Cave, chairman of the games committee. The clubhouse has been improved and redecorated for the summer games, and everything is in readiness for first-class matches.

On Thursday night the teams committee and members wishing to participate in the fun on Friday will meet at the clubrooms.

The big annual tournament of the Elmwood Bowling Club will be held as usual this year on July 1. The event is open to everybody, and from present indications will exceed the success of the one staged last year, as a larger variety of district clubs will be represented.

THISTLE CLUB TOURNAMENT.

In deference to the wishes of a number of members who desire to spend a portion of the holiday in useful work in their gardens, a change has been made in the time of starting the Thistle Club Victoria Day tournament. Instead of beginning at 9:30 a.m., as previously announced, the members' tournament, at which prizes will be presented to the successful rink, will start at 1:30 p.m. next Friday. The draw will be made at 1 p.m. in order that the three games may be finished by 6 o'clock.

In the forenoon friendly games will be played by those on hand—a sort of limbering-up for the big show.

TWO LEAF PLAYERS CALLED TO COLORS; LEE GOES SCOUTING

Shot-Up Toronto Team Is Now Shot Worse Than Ever.

TORONTO, May 21.—Monday afternoon Second Baseman Lear, who incidentally shapes up like a real ballplayer, was recalled by his local draft board. He will leave for his home in New York on Thursday to obey the summons, so that another gap in the local infield will appear again. At practically the same time Pitcher Jack Warhop, one of the two members of the championship team of last season still on the roster, was notified by the United States Government that he must return home for national service. Warhop lives at Freeport, Ill., and is a railroad engineer, and Uncle Sam needs all the engineers he can get to operate his nationalized railroads. Warhop will leave Toronto at the end of the month. Knotty Lee, business manager of the Leafs, left last night on a scouting trip in search of some more players.

The Baltimore club, led by the ever youthful Jack Dunn, this year is a bunch of youngsters who certainly look promising. Dunnie has the knack of digging up undeveloped material and then making ballplayers out of them and finally selling for fancy prices to the big league managers. However, everything is not plain sailing with him, for last week he lost a pitcher in the draft, and Sunday his second string catcher, Stroh, broke his leg in an exhibition game at Niagara Falls. His pitching staff, however, was fortified when a twirler by the name of Mason, who hails from Trinity College, Durham, N. C., reported yesterday.

Among the youngsters that Dunn has in his string is Ward Kelley, a son of Joe Kelley, former manager of the Toronto Leafs, and now scout for the New York Americans. The eldest son, Joe Kelley Jun., is now in France, but the fans will possibly remember both Ward and Joe Jun., who used to scamper around the infield before the games when their father was manager of the club, as they spent the summer seasons with him here.

COMMERCIALIZED SPORT SUSPENDED FOR WAR

MONTREAL, May 21.—Realizing the public attitude on the question, the Shamrock lacrosse club has decided to stay out of all commercialized sport for the remainder of the war. The club will engage only in matches for charitable and patriotic purposes.

Sportlets

BY REX

A Montreal judge has ruled that boxing is synonymous with loafing. Wonder what kind of a sport the venerable gentleman was in his youth?

What's in a name? One of America's greatest soldiers was named Jackson, and one of the greatest ball players in the world is named Jackson. The only difference in the two is that one welcomed a scrap, and the other sought the haven of a shipyard to get away from one.

The judge who said that boxing was not a useful occupation probably never had the experience of being attacked by a thug in "the mystery of the night."

Only a fish can be fooled by a fish, say the wise men. This is probably the reason why a local sportsman lost his hook, line and sinker in the Thames recently. The victim in question declares the fish in question was a pike. If the theory of the wise men is correct the victim was a piker.

Toronto sport writers refer to Bobby Heck as "Old Woman Heck." And yet how the Leafs would love to have the "old woman" on their pitching staff.

The best evidence of the friendship which has arisen between America and Britain through the war is the fact that two teams, representing English and American soldiers, played baseball in Old London on Saturday.

Hints for anglers: Never talk when near a trout stream.

Never sing when in the neighborhood of the place, where you expect to catch your fish. It is enough that the fish should be deprived of their freedom.

Use crackers for bait on meatless days. A wise fish will suspect something if he sees a worm on a meatless day.

Somebody said that Heinie Zimmerman was going to manage a team in the American Association. Part of the follies if 1918.

One of the classiest double plays was pulled off in the American League recently. The official scorer put it down as follows: "Pratt to Peck to Pipp."

Al Mamaux jumped the Dodgers, saying good-bye to no one but the cashier. It is reported the eccentric twirler is working in a factory; threading nuts probably.

Frank Taberski, the world's champion pocket billiard player, was beaten by Miss Mary Johnson. And yet they still call women, the weaker sex.

Eric Erickson, the young Tiger pitcher, claims to be a descendant of John Erickson, who invented the monitor in the civil war. Eric might go back farther and say that he was the direct descendant of "Eric the Red" or "Leif the Lucky" who rowed their long boats around the bays of Rhode Island centuries ago.

BROOKDALE PLATERS WORK AT WOODBINE

They Were Sent an Easy Mile in 1:46 2-5—Springside Tried to Run Off.

TORONTO, May 21.—The Brookdale Stable candidates of Messrs. Dyment were the only King's Platers to step along at Woodbine Park this morning. Sadduccee and Blackburn were sent a mile in 1:46 2-5, and May Bloom breezed ⅝ in :36 4-5. The Barrie-owned horses have not done any too well since their arrival at Woodbine, and Jockey Walker has been forced to go very carefully with them.

The Seagram Guineas candidates, Sea Froth, Gaelic Lass and Scythian, were only breezed ⅝ in :24 3-5. In preparation for their final work tomorrow, which should be a big day at the O. J. C. Course, as the majority of the platers will receive their final work for the big race.

George M. Henderson's Springside was out this morning, showing no ill effects of his injury received while working yesterday. In fact, he was feeling so good he tried to run off with his rider. He only breezed three furlongs before his rider succeeded in getting him under control.

LOCAL SOLDIERS TO ARRANGE BASEBALL GAMES AMONG UNITS

Plans Will Shortly Be Completed for Some Fine Summer Sports.

Now that the local troops have been moved from Queen's Park to Carling Heights, some first-class sport will be arranged for the various units during the summer. It is the intention of military sport promoters to organize a baseball team for each company, and a schedule will be drawn up very shortly.

Some real ball material is available at the camp. Arrangements will soon be made to play cantonments across the border, according to baseball enthusiasts of the heights. Several of the men are former professional ball players, a few having served with International League Clubs.

It is proposed to organize a team to represent all military London. Soccer and cricket teams will also be formed and games arranged with district towns and cities.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MESSAGE IS "CARRY ON"

At the annual meeting of the Derbyshire County Cricket Club, held at Derby, a balance in hand of £154 was reported. The Duke of Devonshire was re-elected president, and his message from Canada was to "carry on till our men come home."

Don't Hawk, Blow, Sneeze or Cough; Use "Catarrhozone"

When germs attack the lining of the nose, make you sneeze and gag—when later on they infest the bronchial tubes—how can you follow them with a cough syrup?

You can't do it—that's all. Cough syrups go to the stomach—that's why they fail.

But Catarrhozone goes everywhere—gets right after the germs—kills them—heals the soreness—cures the inflammation—makes Catarrh disappear. Not difficult for Catarrhozone to cure, because it contains the essences of pine balsams and other antiseptics that simply mean death to Catarrh. Large size costs $1, and contains two months' treatment; smaller sizes, 25c and 50c, all druggists and storekeepers.

FIRST GOLF TOURNEY OF SEASON AT HUNT CLUB ON THE 24TH

Men's Tournament Arranged Prizes To Be Golf Balls.

The first golfing turnament of the year will be staged at the London Hunt and Country Club on Victoria Day. It will be a men's handicap, and all members are invited to participate. Golf balls will be presented to the winners and the proceeds of the event are to be devoted to the Canadian Navy League.

It is proposed to hold a number of similar competitions during the summer, entrance fees for which will be $1 or more. All funds collected in this way will be used for patriotic purposes.

The greens at the Hunt Club are in first-class shape. A number of spots where it was found difficult to play have been eliminated, which features a much easier path for the golf novice toward proficiency.

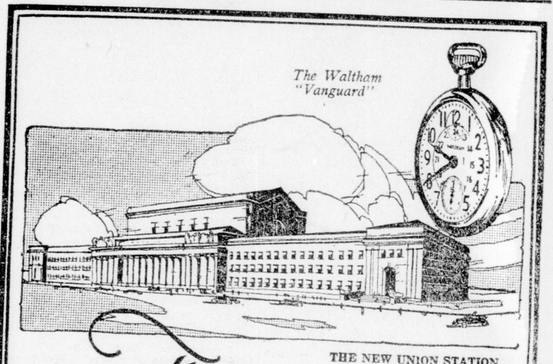

Since the commencement of the war no inter-club matches have been held, and it is probable that this custom will be continued for the duration of the conflict.

Last year a Thanksgiving Day exhibition match was put on by four of the best golfers in Canada. An attempt may be made to gether these players again at the local club, but no arrangements in that direction have yet been made.

OWEN SOUND BOWLING, TENNIS GREENS IN SHAPE

OWEN SOUND, May 21.—The bowling greens are getting into shape, and the first game was played Thursday evening. Four rinks of the new green are now in regular use. The grounds committee expect that the whole green will be ready by the first week in June. The formal opening will probably take the form of a patriotic tournament, but arrangements are not completed.

The lawn tennis courts at Division Street Church are now in shape for play. The grass came through the winter well and is in good condition.

THE NEW UNION STATION TORONTO, CANADA

The Waltham Watch

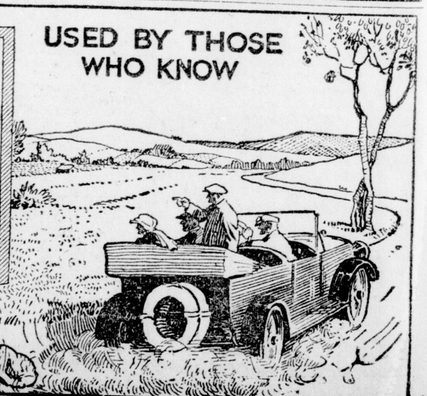

TRAINS run very largely on Waltham time, for the reason that such a large proportion of railway men carry a Waltham. The "Vanguard" is the railway man's first favorite, because it is designed especially for railway service. It has an improved steel barrel containing a mainspring of extra length and width that enables the watch to keep accurate time for more than forty hours at a stretch. It has double roller escapement and steel escape wheel. Both balance pivots run on diamonds. On the 16 size there is also a winding indicator, preventing the watch running down unawares.

Ask your jeweler to show you his range of high-grade Waltham Watches.

HEART BEAT SO FAST COULD NOT SLEEP

HAD TO SIT UP IN BED

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it will burst. You have weak and dizzy spells, are nervous, irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk upstairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

There is no other remedy will do you so much good, restore your heart to a natural condition, build up your strength, and give you back vigor and vitality, as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. A. Russell, Niagara Falls, Ont., writes: "At nights I could not sleep, and had to sit up in bed, my heart would beat so fast.

"When I went to walk very far I would get all out of breath, and would have to sit down and rest before I could go any farther. I was advised to get Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and before I had used two boxes I could sleep and walk as far as I liked without any trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels needs a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Good Night Stories

MR. OWL'S PUNISHMENT.

Mrs. Jenny Wren and her family of four young children scarcely had time to escape before the tree that had been their home for so many seasons fell with a crash to the ground.

"We'll have to build another home," chirped Mrs. Wren, who always tried to keep cheerful, no matter what happened.

But the sun had hidden behind a dark cloud, and before Mrs. Wren could collect her thoughts great raindrops splashed on the leaves around them, and the children set up a terrible peeping.

"Cuddle under my wings. It'll soon be over," she coaxed, cheerily.

But the rain came down in torrents, and the babies' coats were soon dripping.

Mrs. Wren looked around, but no one seemed at home in Birdville. All their doors were closed and bolted.

"Mr. Owl's at home," suggested one of the little fellows, and Mrs. Wren, bidding them keep close under mother's wings, hopped over and knocked loudly at Mr. Owl's door.

"Who's there?" demanded a sleepy voice.

"May we step inside your house until the rain ceases?" sweetly asked Mrs. Wren. "My babies are shivering with the cold rain."

Mr. Owl poked his head out of his window and blinked his great big eyes.

"This Is My Bedtime!"

"What do you think this place is?" he asked gruffly. "An inn for unfortunates? This is my bedtime."

"We'll be very quiet and leave as soon as the storm's over," pleaded Mrs. Wren.

"Before it's over!" cried gruff Mr. Owl, and he slammed the door in Mrs. Wren's face.

"Don't cry, dears!" she chirped, trying to keep back the tears from her own eyes. "We'll snuggle right here on this branch and the sun will soon be shining."

"You'll do nothing of the sort!" exclaimed a cheery voice, and Mr. Woodpecker threw open his doors and insisted on them all coming in out of the rain. "You may share my home until the storm stops—then it shall be your home as long as you want it, for I intend moving anyway."

Mrs. Wren thanked her kind neighbor and led her babies in out of the storm.

"I overheard that cross old night bird!" exclaimed Mr. Woodpecker. "His heart is as black as his eyes, and selfish, oh, my! I hope the day will come when he will shiver with cold. Heartless fellow!"

"Oh, no!" laughed Mrs. Wren. "Don't wish him harm because he was unkind to us."

When the storm was over Mr. Woodpecker turned his home over to Mrs. Wren and her babies, and went in search of a new home for himself.

"Strange how different two natures can be," mused Mrs. Wren.

That very night Mrs. Jenny Wren heard Mr. Owl sitting before his door shivering. No matter how far he ruffled out his feathers he couldn't seem to get warm, and he shivered until his teeth chattered, and so you can hear him almost any evening flying through the woods, and he's still shivering. It was the punishment placed upon him by the good fairy for his selfishness.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Scarlatina Now Conquered by New Serum Treatment

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

Scarlatina is not a mild form of scarlet fever—it is absolutely one and the same thing. Moreover, there is no such thing as "a touch of" a disease. Either you have it or you do not have it. Peradventure, sometimes it appears mild or virulent, but it is the same full infection, nevertheless. Furthermore, what appears at times to be "a very mild scarlatina" is often forsooth the most malignant and dangerous kind.

Professors C. Kling and G. Wildfeldt, two Swedish scientists, have just announced a successful treatment of scarlet fever. This new triumph of "serum therapy" was accomplished by injecting into the veins of the victims of this malady a bit of the blood of those who are recovering from scarlatina. In the past 17 years in Stockholm there have been always hundreds of victims of this scarlet infection. The death rate among children ill with it has been high—last year it was 11.7 per cent. It was in this vicious epidemic that the convalescent's serum was first tried in the most severe examples.

Improvement Very Rapid.

It soon became plain that its use was correct. It proved an effective remedy at the outset even in the worst cases, although it had no influence on complications or as a preventive measure.

The investigators selected 237 of the most malignantly ill victims from hundreds of those whose death rate was 70 per cent, or nearly three out of every four. At once this mortality rate fell to only one death in ten, or, to be exact, 10.5 per cent.

In those almost fatal instances, with the patients delirious or in a stupor when the serum was injected, the rapidity of improvement was remarkable. The next day the patients were lively and sitting up and feeling almost well.

Time a Big Factor.

Convalescents from the malady, as they saw this dramatic change for the better in the sick, gave their blood all the more gladly for the purpose.

It does not matter whether an attack has been mild or severe. The blood serum withdrawn is equally efficacious in ninety odd per cent of those given it. Between the fourth and the seventh week after the attack the convalescent's serum may be used.

Over 93 per cent of those given this blood serum treatment on the second day recovered. Each day's delay thereafter diminished this percentage to 88.8 per cent the third day, 76.9 per cent the fourth day, 50 per cent the sixth day, and so on.

As a rule, the serum is kept in refrigerators, and used about one or two weeks old. It is equally effective, however, up to eight weeks old. Thus hospitals for infectious diseases may keep a supply on hand practically all the time. Commonly one dose suffices to bring about recovery. It is injected in two-ounce amounts into the muscles.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

Solving the Problem of a Smart, Yet Simple, Girlish Afternoon Frock.

"Well," I said, as Julie threw herself upon the settee beside me, "where have you been keeping yourself today?"

"Upstairs with Miss Westley, 'modeling.' She fitted Mary Pickford's frocks on me," Julie replied with a saucy toss of her head.

This answer made me wildly curious. "Tell me about them. What were they like. Madame always makes such lovely clothes for her. You should have sent for me when you were trying them on," I said, all in one breath.

"Truly, Claire, I forgot your adoration of the celebrities, but these costumes aren't designed for the artist, but are to be worn by her in private life. They are plain little frocks, whose chief charm is their girlishness. Wait here until I come back. One model is finished. I'll slip it on for you."

Julie rushed away before I could tell her not to bother, and soon reappeared in an attractive little frock of silver grey Georgette crepe.

At first glance it gave one the impression of being too severely plain, as the only trimming introduced was a little soutache braiding in the simplest design. But before long the beauty and smartness of the model were evident. Madame had given it the true stamp of the fashion artist. And, furthermore, it was characteristic of the person who was to wear it.

The bodice was extremely youthful, very like the ones mother made for me when I was 10 or 12, and fastened at the back. It had a round yoke of the Georgette bordered on both edges with soutache braiding in a zigzag design.

The lower portion of the bodice was gathered both at the top and bottom and bloused softly over the medium wide belt. The latter was draped about the waist, and the ends were tied in a double butterfly bow, with long streamers at the back. The ends of the streamers were trimmed with braiding.

I noticed that while the sleeves were long and rather tight, they had that easy, comfortable appearance which is the chief charm of a youthful frock. Turned-back cuffs, edged with braiding, were their only trimming.

The skirt was a trifle more elaborate, Madame having added a modish feature in the form of an oddly-shaped pocket ornamented with braid and covered buttons. This was applied to the front of the full tunic, giving the frock a one-sided effect which was decidedly smart. The narrow underskirt extended twelve inches below the tunic, and was finished with a five-inch hem.

Then Julie lifted up the skirt to call my attention to the petticoat. It was a Frenchy combination of silver-grey chiffon, pink ribbon roses and bow knots of silver tissue. The festoons of roses and bow knots was appliqued to the chiffon, forming an artistic border about the petticoat.

"Now that you've seen everything about the frock, what is your verdict?" Julie asked. "Would it be the sort of model you'd choose for 'Little Mary'?"

"The frock is exactly what she should wear, since, like her, it is dainty, charming and modest," I answered.

"Madame certainly knows the secret of designing frocks that look like the persons who are to wear them," said Julie, smiling at her reflection in the long mirror.

"That," said I, "is the art of dressing."

Afternoon Frock of Silver-Gray Georgette Crepe.

In 1908 it was estimated that for every 300 miles flown one life was sacrificed. By 1910 the mileage per fatality had risen to 3,500. In 1911 the distance had increased to 4,900—statistics for France that year gave the mileage as 62,500 per fatality.

Three Minute Journeys

By TEMPLE MANNING

Where Iron Weapons Will Buy Brides.

In the forests of the Congo, where the jungles are almost impenetrable and swamps and morasses abound in the lowlands, the value of cloth and iron implements and other products of civilization is considered by most natives as greater than the value of human lives.

In the old days for which the tribal ancient sigh, there was no value whatsoever placed on human life. Cannibalism was openly practiced, and the weapons of offence and defence were ardently desired.

For this reason it seems quite natural to the natives that even today, when civilization has made the value of a human life greater than ever before in this part of the world, that in such a small matter as securing a wife weapons should pass as money in the purchase. But not only is a finished weapon considered currency, even the iron—crude iron—from which a weapon can be fashioned is thought of money value.

Our illustration shows a man who has come to offer the chief of the tribe to which belongs the woman he wishes spearheads of iron and crude iron in exchange for her. In tempting array he has spread his offering, and to complete the collection he holds the leash of a dog.

Whether or not the woman he wishes is willing to follow him, she will have to go when the chief of the tribe decides the justice of the bargain and allots the goods to her father and the woman to the man who has bought her.

But even in Africa Cupid has ways of arranging such matters, for if the woman didn't look with favor upon the man, probably her parents and the chief wouldn't consummate the bargain.

Buying a Congo Wife.

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

How Madge Untied Her Bonds and Prepared to Defend Herself.

I waited only until the sound of Mme. Hofer's footsteps had died away at the foot of the stairs before beginning the attempt to free myself from the cords binding my wrists and ankles. There was no time to be frittered away. I realized that.

The giant called "Otto" had conceived the idea that I was too dangerous to keep alive even until the arrival of the man with the scarred hand. He wanted me to be put out of the way at once, and I knew that he would kill me with as little compunction as he would trample upon an insect. Indeed, if I read his type aright he would probably carefully avoid treading upon the insect because of the strain of sickly sentimentalism often found in his particular brand of the Teutonic mind.

That he possessed the stubbornness of his type I could easily read, and I was sure that even in the face of the ferret-faced youth's prohibition he would make an opportunity to attempt my life.

But, thanks to Mme. Hofer's strange whim, he would find me free of my bonds and armed for my own defence, instead of being a helpless victim ready for the shambles.

With infinite caution to avoid any creaking of the couch upon which I had been laid, I rolled to my side, and then slowly, muscle by muscle, raised myself to a sitting posture. The excitement and strain of the effort almost made me forget the pain of the gag which Mme. Hofer had thrust into my mouth, but when I was finally seated on the side of the couch, my feet once more upon the floor, I realized that my first effort must be directed toward the horrible thing which stretched my jaws apart.

Madge Is Ready.

I raised my bound hands over my head and back to my neck, rejoicing that I had never neglected the daily exercises which keep my muscles fit and my fingers supple. I found the removal of the gag child's play even with my wrists bound. The knot with which Mme. Hofer had fastened it was an absurdly simple one.

Then I attacked the wrist bonds with my teeth, first examining the knots carefully and finding the same painstaking lack of care on the part of the strange woman who had tied me up. It was comparatively easy to free my wrists, ludicrously so to unloosen my ankles, and then I was able to take from my cloak and dress the objects Mme. Hofer had thrust within them.

A small loaded pistol and a skeleton key!

I felt a warm surge of gratitude to the woman who had thus risked her own life for me, even though her reason for doing so was my real or fancied resemblance to someone she had loved and lost. Because of her I didn't dare to rise from the couch and explore the room. I must make no movement that would direct suspicion to my room, and thence upon her until after I was sure that she was beyond the reach of her comrade's vengeance.

Torturing as the incation was, I realized that I must lie quietly for hours perhaps, simulating the gagging and trussing which Otto's eyes had declared satisfactorily done. But I found abundant occupation in arranging my bonds again and again, so that at the sound of a footstep I could quickly tuck the gag in my mouth and lay the bonds loosely over—not around—my ankles and wrists in such a manner as to deceive anyone as far away as the door. And just beneath my right hand was the pistol, little bigger than a toy, which I grimly resolved to use if it was necessary for me to do so. The key I had concealed again in my dress.

It was perhaps two hours after Mme. Hofer had left me, hours in which I had heard much movement and confusion down below, evidently the preparations of those of the conspirators who were getting away, that I heard again upon the stairs the clumsy, stealthy footsteps of Otto.

A Saving Interruption.

I quickly adjusted my bandages, and with my fingers tensely grasping the pistol, braced myself for the ordeal before me, my first essay against the life of a human being. Curiously enough, I had no other thought but that I should shoot, and that accurately, the moment he crossed the threshold. My frame of mind was exactly that of someone trapped in a wild beast's cage.

The footsteps reached the top of the stairs, his hand was upon the door, when form below the voice of the ferret-faced youth called peremptorily:

"Otto, where the devil are you?"

Otto muttered an objurgation beneath his breath and then answered sullenly: "Up here."

The New Drink with the Old Quality

THE tonic qualities of Labatt's Old London Brew are precisely the same as those of the Labatt brews you have used and liked so well all your life.

The only difference is that Old London Brew is less stimulating, contains less alcohol—it is a temperance drink which former drinkers of alcoholic brews will enjoy, and one which temperance drinkers will equally appreciate.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

THURSDAY, MAY 23.

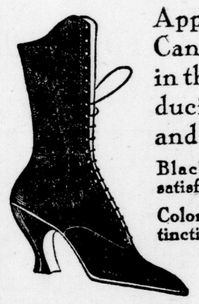

An eventful day, but one of perplexity, is indicated by the contradictory figures in the heavens. One of the best testimonies is the mutual aspect between Venus and Jupiter, two of the most powerful benefics. This promises success generally, but is conducive to a certain degree of profligacy and extravagance in the case of the male sex. Uranus promises benefits through sudden and unconventional channels, bringing pleasant journeys and advantageous changes and removals. Inventive faculties will be good and the mind fanciful, curious, romantic and adventuresome. Saturn, Mars and Venus are rather adversely placed, but their influence for harm may be negatived by the much superior forces of the very fortunate conditions noted above.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of progress, pleasure and interest. A child born on this day will be popular, original, adventurous and romantic, and should succeed, particularly in unusual callings.

SOME RELIEF!

Hamilton Road Gets Oil Bath and Residents Rejoice.

Oil has been poured on the troubled waters and the residents of Hamilton road from Egerton street east to the city limits are registering joy today over the fact. The street has been oiled. The dry weather has raised no end of dust and the citizens have been clamoring for some relief for some time, with the result that the oil carts were sent to this section. The work was completed Tuesday.

This street is one of the main highways leading to the city and there is always considerable traffic on it. On market days the traffic is especially heavy, and the clouds of dust raised by passing vehicles was a continual source of annoyance to the householders of this section.

Last season the oiling of this street was not finished until August, the suburbanites say.

GRAIN.

Chicago, May 22.—Opening: Corn—July, $1 42½@1 42⅛.

Oats—May, 79c; July, 67⅝@67⅜c.

Chicago, May 22.—Nearness of the completion of planting in the surplus states tended today to ease the corn market. Trading was confined to the July delivery, May having been eliminated by action of the exchange directors. The fact that the maximum price allowed under the rules, $1 28 per bushel, was made the standard for settlement of outstanding May contracts, failed to exercise any bullish influence in July. After opening unchanged to ½c lower, July sagged to a moderate extent.

Soaking rains in Kansas, which were said to have removed the last dry spot from the grain belt, put some selling pressure on oats. On the other hand, there were signs of a revival of export interest. Opening prices, which varied from ⅜c to ½c off to ¼c advance, with July at 67⅜@67⅞c, were followed by setbacks, and then something of a rally.

Winnipeg, May 22.—Oats opened ¼c lower for May, at 82⅝c; ¼c to ⅜c lower for July at 83¾c.

Flax, 2½c lower for July at $3 85.

Inspections on Tuesday, 107 cars, of which 57 were contract grades of wheat.

WALL STREET.

New York, May 22—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Shippings were the only exceptions to the general strength shown at the opening of today's stock market. Marine preferred losing 1¾ points. Rails were not adversely affected by the removal of their executives, some issues, particularly Reading, showing especial strength. Other striking features included Hide and Leather preferred, New York Air Brake, Sumatra Tobacco, Bethlehem Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Anaconda Copper and Industrial Alcohol at gains of 1 to 2 points. Liberty bonds were firm.

Noon.—On the broader operations of the second hour, many noteworthy additions were made to early gains, including Reading, Sumatra, United States Steel and allied industrials, also Central Leather, Distillers, General Motors and the fertilizer group, at extreme advances of 2 to 6 points. Cotton Oil, command preferred, and American Linseed displayed pronounced strength. Metals and shippings also improved, but rails were sluggish. Liberty bonds became irregular on the reaction in the 4¼'s.

1:30 p.m.—Rails became decidedly more active in the afternoon, at reactions of 1 to 2 points. Their decline had a similar effect on industrials, equipments and specialties, materially reducing the many substantial advances of the morning.

INDUCTED AS PASTOR OF HAMILTON ROAD CHURCH LAST NIGHT

Rev. J. R. Laverie Takes Over New Charge.

RECEPTION IS HELD

Members of Church Greet the New Minister and Family.

Rev. J. R. Laverie was inducted into the pastorate of Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening, and a hearty reception was tendered Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Laverie at the close of the service. Rev. S. H. Eastman, moderator, of Port Stanley, presided. Rev. H. E. Thornloe, St. Thomas, preached the sermon, taking for his text the words "How much better is a man than a sheep?" Rev. W. J. Knox of the First Presbyterian Church addressed the preacher. "The Gift of Prophecy" was the subject of this address, and it was pointed out that a preacher is a prophet, inasmuch as he presents God to the people in his discourses. Rev. D. McKay of Dorchester, in a brief address to the congregation, outlined the work that a church should undertake in a community. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae gave an account of the steps leading up to the call which was extended to Rev. J. R. Laverie. Revs. James McKay, J. G. Stuart and W. M. Martin were present as members of the London Presbytery.

Rev. J. R. Laverie, who is a Scotchman by birth, was educated at McGill University, having come to Canada in early life. This is the third charge that Rev. Mr. Laverie has held during his ministry. He was in the Ottawa Presbytery at Ramsayville, and in Kilsyth in Owen Sound Presbytery before moving to Forest. It was exactly five years ago Tuesday evening since Rev. Mr. Laverie was inducted into the pastorate at Forest. During these five years the debt has been cleared off the church and parsonage there. The members of the congregation express the opinion that his ministry here will be a successful one.

Mrs. Laverie and two little daughters, Hope and Lois, were present at the reception. They will return to Forest today to enable the girls to complete the school term there.

HIS BESTIALITY SHOWN TO WORLD BY MEANS OF STARTLING FILM-PLAY

EMPEROR WILHELM.

In "The Kaiser, Beast of Berlin," which will be shown at the Patricia Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, the characteristics of the arch fiend of Germany, the greatest criminal of all history, will be presented in a startling manner.

PATRICIA

As an extra added attraction for today only, Manager W. L. Stewart of the Patricia Theatre is presenting that winsome actress, Ethel Clayton, in an entertaining photoplay, "Stolen Hours."

It is attention-gripping, interest-compelling, from start to finish. It is a romantic story of modern London. Scenes are laid in hovels of the city, in a sumptuous gambling house, in the home of a member of Parliament, in a middle-class apartment house, and in the great outdoors. Miss Clayton's role is unique. She appears as Diana Lester, the unconventional, but pure and sweet daughter of a professional gambler. She falls deeply in love with a young member of Parliament, and the way that her unconventional life causes her to act when she finds that the man she loves is married, constitutes some of the most startling and pleasing phases of the play. This photoplay brings joy to the hearts of spectators, puts a song on their lips, and sends them back into the world, smiling, happy and contented.

In addition to this will be shown "The Peddler," featuring Joe Welch, a Canadian scenic and a Big V. comedy.

In vaudeville the Rialto Four entertain with high selections and musical novelty numbers.

MAJESTIC

Dainty Billie Burke, as charming as ever, is to be seen to splendid advantage in her latest photo-comedy, "Let's Get a Divorce," showing at the Majestic Theatre today and Thursday.

Cyprienne Marcey, an orphan in a convent in Southern France, is of a peculiarly romantic nature. Life to her is one round of romance, and she manages to indulge in one flirtation after another. The mother superior regards Cyprienne with anxious eyes, and when a good man asks Cyprienne's hand in marriage, the excellent mother gratefully offers her co-operation.

Henri de Prunelle is the brother of Cyprienne's best friend, Yvonne. He is 40, a student and writer, and realizing her love of adventure, Henri plots with the mother superior to arrange a romantic elopement.

This marriage is quite soul-satisfying to Cyprienne, but when Henri settles down to the role of commonplace husband, her romantic spirit awakens again. She meets her husband's cousin, Adhemar, who, in his handsome uniform of the forestry service, appeals to her imagination. The two carry on a secret flirtation, and finally Cyprienne, without realizing the seriousness of her request, asks Henri to give her a divorce.

After a consultation with Yvonne, Henri consents, and in the subsequent scenes it develops that Cyprienne sickens of Adhemar, who, after all, proves to be a cad. When Henri with mock tears offers to turn her over to his rival, Cyprienne falls weeping upon his breast, and amid her sobs assures him that she loves him alone. Adhemar takes his leave in disgust, while Henri clasps his repentant wife to his bosom.

Also a news weekly, an excellent comedy, and the Majestic Concert Orchestra.

Fascinating Billie Burke in her latest photo comedy, "Let's Get a Divorce," showing at the Majestic today and Thursday.

LOCAL BARRISTERS WIN A SENSATIONAL CASE AT KINGSTON

J. M. McEvoy and U. A. Buchner Victors in Will Case.

KINGSTON, May 21.—J. M. McEvoy and U. A. Buchner of London won out in a sensational will case which came before Chief Justice R. M. Meredith at the non-jury sittings of the supreme court of Ontario this afternoon.

They appeared on behalf of Mrs. Mary Ann Gallagher of Monacia, California, plaintiff, in a suit against George Woodman, coal and wood merchant in the village of Wolfe Island near this city. The plaintiff's claim was for a declaration that the will of her late brother, Robert Smith, who died on Wolfe Island in December, 1917, was void, having been made under duress and undue influence, and to have defendant declared a trustee of the property for the next of kin of the said deceased, J. L. Whiting.

K. C. Kingston appeared for the defendant. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff with costs following the judgment. Application was made for administration.

By the will of the deceased Woodman the defendant was left $3,000, while his sister, the only blood relation living, was cut off with $1,000.

Lived Alone.

Smith lived alone and suffered from cancer of the stomach. Woodman, a neighbor, helped him with his business as a farmer. His lordship stated that on the testimony he found that the will was not the last will and testament of Robert Smith. The evidence, he said, did not give him an opportunity to satisfy his conscience that it was the last will of the deceased. The evidence showed that the man was in a dying condition for seven days, and he had not even been attended by a nurse. He was allowed to remain with his clothing on all the while, and in his summing up his lordship referred to this as "Inhuman treatment."

Son Is Witness.

The witness to the will was one of Woodman's sons. His lordship pointed out that everything pertaining to the will had been kept in Woodman's family. His lordship stated that he found the will was not that of Robert Smith, but rather that of the will of defendant.

The appeal in the case of Sister Basil vs. Archbishop Spratt will be heard in Toronto next week before five judges. The case was delayed, owing to the fact that W. N. Tilley, chief counsel for Sister Basil, has been engaged with the C. N. R. case.

OBJECTORS' TRIAL BY COURT-MARTIAL HAS BEEN ADJOURNED

Men Will Face Military Court Later for Refusal.

Two courts-martial scheduled for Tuesday at Wolseley Barracks were adjourned until further notice, after the court had convened at 10 a.m., with Lieut.-Col. W. J. Douglass as president, and Major E. Nelles and Capt. Bell as members.

The accused are two conscientious objectors, Pte. Edward McCracken and Pte. Samuel J. Steele, both of the 1st Battalion, W. O. R. They are charged with "Disobeying a lawful command given by a superior officer." The men refused to put on the uniform.

When court meets again, Major G. N. Weekes, district intelligence officer, will act as judge advocate, and Capt. William Lewis, Canadian Carrison Regiment, will act as prosecutor.

It is stated that one of the accused is a member of the Plymouth Brethren, and the other a Christadelphian. Two other conscientious objectors tried by court-martial here, were recently sentenced to serve two years in prison for refusing to don the khaki.

MORAL "CLEAN UP" IN ST. THOMAS TO RESULT

Sordid Story of 15-Year-Old Girl Brings It About.

ST. THOMAS, May 21.—The arrest last evening of a fifteen-year-old girl, daughter of a soldier who is now overseas, has "started something" here, and before the investigation now in progress is completed sensations are promised. Pending developments the girl is being looked after at the local shelter. At her examination before the magistrate today a shocking condition of affairs was revealed. She accuses her own mother of having improper relations with a prominent railroader, and gave this as an excuse why she committed a similar offence at the instigation of the wife of a soldier overseas. The little girl ran away from her home last Friday, and has since been in the company of undesirable women, it is alleged. A doctor's certificate presented today states that her condition is such that she should not be allowed her liberty. She gave the names of several women, married and single, whom Captain Forbes, O.C. of the W. O. R., declared, were undesirable associates and dangerous for soldiers. Some of the women, it is alleged, had arranged to take the child to Detroit for immoral purposes, and would have succeeded had she not been arrested. Warrants have been issued, and a wholesale clean-up will be made, it is stated.

ST. THOMAS TULIPS FEATURE OF SHOW

Fully one hundred varieties, all named, of Darwins and other later varieties of tulips were on show at the public library last night. During the evening Mr. W. T. Lawrence brought in a large display, and exhibits also came from other citizens and from Dr. Bennett of St. Thomas and Mr. Fred Pollard of Tillsonburg.

Dr. Bennett's parrot varieties were particularly admired, their curious form and vivid coloring being something different from the rest. Mr. Frank Wood had a large exhibit of handsome varieties, including a number of very special coloring.

It is the intention of the London Horticultural Society to hold these smaller exhibitions all through the growing season, so that flower lovers may see what can be done and have a chance to show their own blooms. Tulips for the present exhibit may still be sent in and will replace any of the earlier exhibits that may be wilting.

METAL POLISHERS' EUCHRE.

A euchre party held by the Metal Polishers' Union at the Orange Hall last night for the benefit of the striking polishers of Toronto, resulted in a win for Mrs. Warring for the ladies, and E. Alling for the men. Mrs. Pepper and J. Cummings were presented with booby prizes.
