> EVERYBODY WAS COUNTING. That modern twist to the old proverb was strikingly exemplified in The Advertiser's circle puzzle contest. When the puzzle was amounced on September 16, public interest Immediately centered on circles, and for the last month people thought of nothing but circles—dreamed of them. The strenuous debate at Ottawa, the deliberations of the city council, even the overthrow of the Hearst Government took second place in importance to the all-absorbing question of how many elusive circles were contained in the puzzle chart which appeared daily in The Advertiser.

DAY OF JUDGMENT NOT WHOLLY TIME OF TERROR

W. A Thrutchley of the International Bible Students' Association addressed a crowded meeting yesterday afternoon at Hyman Hall on the subject, "The Hyman Hall on the subject, "The World's Judgment Day; Is It Here?" The speaker contrasted the prevalent idea that the judgment day would be wholly and solely a time of terror, anguish and misery, with the scriptural version that whilst trouble marks the opening phase of the great day, yet great blessing will result to all mankind, through the Christ to whom God had committed all judgment.

The Bible testifies that God has appointed a day in which he will judge the world, therefore the logical conclusion would be that none had yet received judgment, save the church, whose trial time is through this gospel age. That all would have one fair chance of choosing for themselves either eternal life. W. A. Thrutchley of the International

ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

CELEBRATED IN TWO

LEADING CHURCHES

First Presbyterian and Centennial Observe Anniversaries With Special Services.

The First Presbyterian Church celebrated its $7th anniversary on Sunday with special services. Rev. Thomas Eakin, Ph.D., of New St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, was the speaker at both morning and evening services.

Ommended to the city council by a special committee from the Fair board. The board at a meeting Saturday aftermoon determined to take this step by a unanimous vote and fixed the estimated cost at this amount. Opposition to the plan is expected from residents of Egerton street, whose home will have to be removed in order to make the extension possible. Discussing the matter, members of the board said that it was absolutely necessary to extend the grounds if the Western Fair was to maintain its leading position. It was impossible to obtain new grounds because of the immense cost, and the only plan left, they claimed, was to extend eastward.

Home owners would be well recompensed for their property they said.

Is Extension Favored?

City Clerk S. Baker was present at the meeting. The members of the Fair board wished to know if it would be possible to submit the ballots to the people. On asking whether they favored the purchase of the new grounds. Mr. Baker thought it would be better to confine the voting to one question. The committee appointed to lay the matter before the city council consisted of Dr. Rutledge, George McCormick, Arthur Little, W. N. Manning and Littlett.-Col. W. M. Gartshore. #### NAVY LEAGUE FUND NEARING OBJECTIVE OF $10,000 IN CITY

The Tag Day Netted About $900.

The excellent turnout of women, especially I. O. D. E. members and members of the Hadassah Chapter, as well as a whole brigade of small navy boys, for the Navy League tag day on Saturday, resulted in a collection of what is estimated will amount to $900. By Saturday night returns to the amount of $850 had been received with the boxes yet to count.

After the three days' canvass by the men's teams under the convenership of H. E. Gates, ending last Thursday, the amount collected was $7.500. Since then a few more collections have been made and as the campaign is being extended until Wednesday next. there is every hope that London's objective of $10,000 will be reached.

Interesting features in connection with the campaign were the appearances of the navy boys at the Majestic Theory during the singing of a play. Theatre during the singing of a new popular song, and a church parade to St. Paul's Cathedral Sunday morning, when a section was reserved for the boys in naval uniform.

People who live at Byron and at intermediate points on the Springbank car line, had a few choice bouquets to throw at the management of the London Street Railway Company Saturday night, when the new winter schedule came into effect. The new schedule calls for two cars to Springbank at night, 9:30 o'clock and 11. Winnipeg.

REPORT TO ROTARIANS

Tells Need of Higher Salaries.

A report on the educational conference at Winnipeg was presented to the Rotary Club today by Prof. Sherwood Fox, who was the club's delegate.

The section of his report which received the most enthusiastic support was that stating that the conference had gone on record as believing the character of the teacher the most important factor in education, and that the salaries and standard of living of all teachers would have to be raised.

Prof. Fox said the conference was the most truly national one ever held in Canada. It was attended by men of all walks of life, representing every province. All delegates were animated by the idea that the highest values after all are not material, but spiritual, using that word in a broad sense.

Peter Wright Helps.

The speaker caused some amusement by stating that during the first day and a half the convention threatened to deteriorate into a talk-fest. Peter Wright of the Seamen's Union, who spoke in London last vear, in a vigorous speech

The industrial court's decision will be binding, but the parties to a dispute are not compelled to submit their case to the court. Courts of inquiry could be set up by the labor minister with power to summon witnesses and documents. Apparently their principal function would be to make a quick report on the facts, thus giving the public an opportunity of deciding upon the merits of the wages act, by which war wages and bonuses are effective one year after its passage. This act expires Nov. 21.

The ministry believes that the pre-and bonuses are effective one year after its passage. This act expires Nov. 21.

The ministry believes that the proposed bill is necessary to supplant it, the new bill providing that there shall be no reduction in wages before Sept. 30, 1920, the same date as set in the recent settlement of the railway strike. Some of the labor leaders maintain that the bill is unnecessary, suggesting that capital and labor may well come to grips on the wages question as soon as the present law expires.

The bill was drafted after conferences between the ministry and the labor leaders. Discussions among the labor leaders on this matter will continue next week.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1 .- The last public appearance of the Prince of Wales in Montreal, save at the railway station on leaving the city, was at divine service in Christ Church Cathedral here this morning. Bishop Farthing preached the sermon, which dealt with the interchurch forward movement which the Anglican Church is about to launch.

As early as 9:30 worshippers began to gather at the cathedral gates, but up to 10:45 only seat holders were admitted through the side doors. The church was packed, many persons having to stand in the transom, and many others were unable to gain admittance.

Daughters of Canada

The mother, the nurse, the women with the needle, the ambulance driver, the canteen worker, the "farmerette" and the daughters of industry in factory, office and store—all—inspired the manhood and ennobled the womanhood of Canada by their labours of love and sacrifice in the days of the nation's anguish-now happily past.

And their response, to give and to lend of their money time and time again-was beyond all praise.

And—Canada—being mindful of their past example—and conscious of their all-pervading influence again asks her Countrywomen to buy Victory Bonds. Yes, she asks them to buy them, even at the sacrifice of some cherished longed-for purchase.

It is self denial to do without something that will lend background to ones charm, but the time is not long and the debts of honour must be paid.

There is another thought, too, that wives and mothers will appreciate. The success of the Victory Loan makes for Prosperity. Steady employment is dependent upon prosperity. Without prosperity uncertainty will follow.

Hence Canada sounds a clarion call to her daughters for their aid in making an abundant success of the Victory Loan 1919.

THE GREAT LABOR CONFERENCE. Second in importance to the peace conference alone is the International Labor Conference now under way at Washington. This has been a year of momentous consultation, a getting together of mankind to establish a newer and better world that is to be erected on the ruins of the great convulsion. The Washington conference is the first move in this direction by the League of Nations, under whose patronage it is being held. One of the most important planks of the league's platform is that relating to labor. The statesmen who gathered at Paris recognized the necessity for industrial harmony throughout the world if mankind was to achieve the health. happiness and contentment to which it is entitled and which the result of the war has made come, there is practically no section of the globe, civilized, semi-civilized or even savage, the British and America capitals preparing a measures for labor in all countries, and their Victory Bonds.

First Meeting of Women's Canadian Club Held Saturday Afternoon.

"Shakespeare, when he introduces the supernatural in his plays, is teaching us facts as they really are, else it would be bungling to introduce it. And as the great dramas of Shakespeare introducing his ghosts he is showing us that there is a survival after death of change in the life beyond," declared L. W. To Satisfy Superstition.

If it was necessary for Shakespeare to introduce the supernatural in his plays to make them take at the time why was it not necessary for Ben Johnson and Meredith, and why was it necessary to introduce it into Hamlet and Macbeth and not in Othello?

"I say that in Shakespeare's plays the supernatural is introduced just where it belongs, to teach the lesson, and nowhere else. If Shakespeare could have degraded his work to satisfy the superstition of the times, it would be utterly impossible for him to be the man who gave us such ideals as he has given in his works. Instead of degrading his work in an age when lust and greed were exceedingly popular, has glorified it with purity. How then could he introduce the ghosts, merely as an expediency?"

Prompt Answering is Most Helpful

TATHEN you call a number and get no answer, you come to one of. two conclusions: either

> The party you want is not within sound of his telephone bell; or

"Central" has failed to ring the right number.

The fact sometimes is that your party has heard the bell, but has been so slow in answering that you grow tired of waiting and hang up. Later he may tell you quite truthfully that he was not beyond the sound of his telephone bell all day. You are satisfied that "Central" was at fault.

Prompt answering when the telephone bell rings is a great aid to the service. The person calling is pleased when you answer promptly and will likely show it in the pleasant way he speaks. You in turn are cheered by his pleasant voice, and the ensuing conversation is helpful to both. Prompt answering when the bell rings is indispensable to good service.

The visitors reen and white seemed to act like red rag does in other situations with the crowd, and while not a large one from the point of numbers, it was a chilled, cheering mob that surged out on both side lines and saw the local crew galvanize into the first real semblance of a rugby machine they've score just about indicates the

The score just about indicates the play. Petrolea had a speedy, tricky team, but they melted away from the London attack when it was pressed, and were lucky enough to get the slippery breaks of a game in which they should have been beaten worse. They bucked through, too, a few times for gains, but relied pretty well on their booting and ability to get down with the kicks. Wilson was the visitors' bright par-down the field, in on pretty nearly every play, and generally handling every play, and generally handling about 150 pounds of weight as if it were a two-century bit. Peat, an old-timer, was also on the premises for most of the pastime. The London team, however, while not entirely new, looked like a brand new outfit after they once got started and plugged up the gaps that looked big the first few minutes of the game. McLean's work was the biggest feature of the game. His tackles were deadly accurate, and he took some of the finest passing seen on the local grid for some seasons, meanwhile finding time to amble down under every boot and every play. Art Smith made the back lot look like a 10-acre field on several kinking returns and west out. several kicking returns, and went out to safety numerous times through thick opposition. Caverhill, playing inside wing, broke up a lot of plays that once started might have landed anywhere. For the rest, the whole line was good, with Duffield leading a heavy centre attack which always got through for good gains.

McLean was all over the field on three or four plays before Henderson on a pass brought the crowd to its feet and forgetfulness of cold and damp by a 75-yard run down the east side of the field. He was brought down doing a nice imitation of a man running on a slippery roof, and on a dry field would have gone over. London was right down on visitors' ground now, and bucked through—almost carried the line over for a touch and ended by

Despite weather conditions there was a fair sized crowd present and most of them stuck right through the four heats necessary to each race. The parimutuels were not in operation, due to uncertainty of weather and probability that not enough bets would be made to pay expenses. A book and auction stand, however, were well patronized. Nothing like the odds that night have resulted had pari-mutuels been running were registered, for the book, as most books are, was rather stingy. The winners of some of the heats undoubtedly would have paid as much as 25 to 1, but the best price of the day was struck, when D. B. J. paid 8 to 1 in winning the second heat of the 2:19 pace.

Miss Zoto Zombro won first race, because she is big and strong. She won third and fourth heats, breezing in at the head of a tired and disgusted field of horses each time. Direct Heart gave nice exhibition in winning the first leat and paid her backers 6 to 2, but when the Christian copped the second heat he paid off at the rate of 4 to 1.

The Way Mrs. Durkee "Made Up" to Leila Fairfax,

"Oh! I know I'm a perfect fool, but I can't help it—I can't!"

Little Mrs. Durkee's voice rose in a wail strongly tinged with hysteria. In the shelter of the rose hedge secure from observation Lillian gripped my arm significantly. I knew that she was waiting as tensely as I for Mother Graham's reply, wondering what her attitude would be toward Mrs. Durkee's unreasoning disapproval of her son's betrothal to Leila Fairfax.

"You are all of that," My motherin-law's voice was as grimly disregardful of giving offence as is generally characteristic of her. "And it is all nonsense to say that you cannot help it. Sit down on that bench and get yourself together while I tell you some-like in the fact that you are pretty nearly the end of your tether. You're thin, he everything."

"Exactly the wife for Richard," For a moment while the wonderful words poured over my consciousness, I forgot our errand, everything save the blessed fact that a wound, long hidden yet none the less painful, had been suddenly healed. I had long known that my mother-in-law under all her grimmess had a very sincere affection for me. But that she approved of me, was fully contented with Dicky's choice, was news most grateful to me.

A Swift Retreat.

"You ought to know, having once had a mother-in-law yourself," went on my mother-in-law with relentless logic.

Canada at the National Chemical Exposition. Chicago.

The importance and magnitude of our Chemical Industries form a ensational chapter in the Industrial history of Canada, that has become known the world over. Development followed development during the war with amazing rapidity and still continues. Some idea of the progress made, may be gathered from the fact that up to a few months prior to the end of the war all Synthetic nitrates for explosives produced on this continent, were of Canadian origin. Our production of acetone was equally phenomenal. It is no wonder, therefore, that Canada occupied such an important position at the National Chemical Exposition recently held at Chicago, admitted to be the greatest industrial event in the history of that city. In addition to the large attendance from Chicago, over twenty thousand members of various scientific societies, Universities, manufacturing concerns and others interested in commercial and scientific development, attended the exposition. These included, The American Institute, Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, American Electro-Chemical Society, Technical Association of Pulp and Paper Industry and others.

The Government of Canada and the Province of Ontario, realizing the importance of this opportunity of telling abroad the story of our resources were represented by exhibits, and by some of their best men. The Canadian National Railways had an exhibit illustrating the mineral, forest wealth. Tater powers and raw materials of the country.

During the Exposition two addresses were delivered by C. Price-Green, Commissioner, Industrial & Resources Dept., Canadian National Railways, on Canadian National Resources and the great field afforded in Canada for enterprise and investment of Capital, which were widely reported in for enterprise and investment of Capital, which were the American Press and many scientific publications.
