'Weary of Wilsonism,' School Board May Resign COUNCIL IN SPECIAL SESSION

WRIGHT CLAIMS MAYOR VENTS WRATH ON EDUCATIONAL BOARD FOR IGNORING WAGE CUT PLAN

School Trustee Declares That If Board's Requests For Debenture Issue For Building Purposes Is Rejected, "the Members Should At Once Resign in a Body."

Frankly voicing the opinion that Mayor Cameron Wilson and his associates in the city council possess little knowledge of the local educational situation, School Trustee J. B. Wright, chairman of the Technical School committee of the board of education, declared Wednesday that if the latter's request for a debenture issue for building purposes is now rejected "the board should resign in a body."

"Mayor Wilson, it appears to me, is just wroth at the board of education and trying to act foolish," Chairman Wright asserted, "probably because we failed to accede to his desires pertaining to his 10 per cent salary reduction."

"My honest opinion is that if the mayor and his councillors refuse to approve of our latest demand that we should resign in a body and leave all our school problems in their hands. Let his finance committee run the show if they believe they are able. It would appear to me that a board of education is becoming an unnecessary quantity in this city."

"Yes, let them run the schools in the same manner as they are trying to run the city. Let them find accommodation for the children. Mayor Wilson talks about building additions to the schools and wants to know why we did not build the schools larger in the first place. That shows how much he knows about it."

"He knows full well that we need the school in Southeast London, or why would we ask for it? Then, we have to go out and try and rent church basements. It is certainly a funny business, no matter which way you look at it."

Trustee Wright touched also upon the fact that more than two months have elapsed since the newly-elected civic commission met in special session and considered among other issues the proposed Technical School debenture request.

The latter item was referred back supposedly for "further information," but the chairman explains that while all this data is at hand there is no commission to which it may be imparted.

NEW YORK USING MACHINE GUN AGAINST RUM-RUNNERS

Two Army Trucks Arrive at Ogdensburg Fully Armed as Forerunners of Fleet.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., July 26.—The war against liquor smugglers in Northern New York is on in earnest. The new patrol along the border is now a reality. This fact was impressed on local residents yesterday when two light army trucks with machine guns mounted on their platforms, reached this city. The trucks are the forerunners of a fleet which numbers 24 in all, which is on the way to this section from New York City.

In connection with the use of the trucks there will be about thirty federal agents located in this section. They will work with the United States customs agents. Besides the trucks, boats will be used in order to cover ports on the river.

The cars are capable of developing 70 miles an hour, and each truck is manned by two men who carry side arms and are expert in the use of their mounted guns.

Settlement of teachers' claims resulting from the Edmonton, Brandon, Moose Jaw and New Westminster strikes during the past two years will be made through voluntary contributions, which will be asked for by the officers from the provinces affiliated.

ASKS PASTOR TO DEFINE REMARK

Rev. Roy Mess Writes Communication Regarding the Dempsey Exhibition.

Declares Statement of Rev. A. Thomson Applicable to Him.

Challenging Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, pastor of Centennial Methodist Church, to state definitely if he referred to him in a prelude to his sermon preached at King Street Presbyterian Church Sunday evening on "London and Dempsey," Rev. Roy D. Mess, pastor of St. David's Anglican Church, has written a letter to The Advertiser from Bayfield, where he is in charge of the Anglican boys' camp, in which he declares that "the cap fits."

However, Mr. Mess asserts that, although many of his friends have maintained that Mr. Thomson referred to him, he is unwilling to wear the cap unless the pastor of Centennial Church states that it is for him. Mr. Mess witnessed the Dempsey boxing exhibition at Port Stanley last Friday, which was scored by Mr. Thomson in his prelude Sunday.

The letter in full received Wednesday is as follows:

Sir,—I would ask you to be good enough to let me have a small space in your paper for the following:

BRITISH PRINTERS TO VOTE ON CUT

London, England, July 26.—(Canadian Press Cable).—No move has yet been made towards a settlement of the printers' strike in the provinces, so it was announced at a meeting of the Typographical Association at Manchester last night. A hundred provincial newspapers have not reduced their printers' wages.

A ballot will be taken on a proposal to levy a tax of four shillings in the pound on the wages of the printers who are still employed, the levy being regarded as necessary to keep the association solvent through the demands made upon it while the strike is in progress.

Soviet Minister Balks At Buying Rubles

THE HAGUE, July 26.—Even the Bolsheviks have joined in jokes concerning their finances. M. Sokolnikov, while returning in a street car from the Peace Palace today, was shown a few million rubles by the conductor, who said he had paid 10 florins for them.

"Will you give me what I paid for them?" asked the conductor.

"I should say not," replied Sokolnikov.

M. Levidov, chief of the Soviet Press Bureau, who vouches for the story, laughingly adds: "I believe this is the first case where a finance minister has refused to redeem his own currency."

COURT GRANTS CITY'S APPEAL

Add 3.339 Miles of Track to Street Railway's Assessment.

Commissioner Grant Expects Company to Pay Taxes For Two Years.

Having been granted authority to do so by the court of revision which sat Monday, Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant has notified City Clerk S. Baker to add 3.339 miles of tracks to the assessment of the London street railway, for collection of taxes this year and for 1921.

This increase in mileage was discovered by measurements conducted by order of the city council at the instigation of Ald. K. Douglas. Prior to measurement by City Engineer H. A. Brazier, the assessment department accepted the mileage as submitted by the London street railway, and the engineer discovered the above error in the report.

As these tracks are assessed at $5,000 per mile, there is approximately $16,000 assessment involved, and No. 1 committee of the city council in session last Thursday instructed Mr. Grant to have the error adjusted through the proper channels.

The assessment commissioner appealed the error to the court of revision, which ordered that the increased mileage be registered on the assessment roll for 1922 and 1921, the assessment act only allowing the city to collect taxes such a case for the preceding two years.

City Clerk Baker has made the correction in the assessment roll, and unless the London Street Railway Company appeals, the court of revision decision to the county judge they must pay taxes for two years as directed.

"I have notified Mr. Baker to add the mileage to the assessment roll," said Assessment Commissioner Grant Wednesday morning, "and it will stand for taxes for the last two years, excepting that the company brings an appeal before the county judge. They have the same right to appeal as any person, but I do not think there will be any objection, as it was an error."

"The court of revision has ruled that the extra mileage be added to the last two years of the company's assessment," said the city clerk, "and unless they appeal it, it stands on the assessment roll."

TO BUY FORMER GERMAN PROPERTY HELD BY ITALY

Berlin, July 26.—Count Tefile Rossi, Italian minister of industry, and Count de Neurath, German ambassador to Italy, signed a convention for the purchase of former German property in Italy by the German government.

The German government will buy back all the confiscated German property as a whole. It will then be restored to its former owners.

The purchase price is fixed at 800,000 lire, to be paid in installments, the first falling due after the agreement is ratified. The property already liquidated or nationalized by the Italian government for political, historical or military reasons, is excluded from the agreement.

GERMAN GOODS AGAIN ENTER AUSTRALIAN PORTS

London, July 26.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Although the official embargo against importations from former enemy countries to Victoria, Australia, does not expire until Aug. 1, says a Reuter cable, the first consignment of a German cargo to reach Australia since 1914 is now being landed from the steamship Malmby. The Victoria government gave official notification on June 9 that the ban on importations would be lifted Aug. 1.

London, July 26.—The railway companies in Great Britain have secured a remarkable bargain from the rating authorities. Pleading serious loss of revenue they persuaded the national union county assessment committees to make large reductions in the sums demanded from them for taxes.

U. S. Government Assumes Control of Freight Traffic On All Roads.

BULLETIN.

Montreal, July 26.—Union officials announced this morning that out of 49,936 ballots cast by Canadian railway shopmen on the question of striking against or accepting wage cuts, recently tentatively introduced by the companies, 97 per cent favored striking. A telegram was immediately sent to Premier King over the signature of R. J. Tallon, president of division No. 4, of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, announcing the result of the strike vote and asking if the railways had agreed to withdraw the reductions. The telegram requested an immediate answer, and until this is received no definite action will be taken.

Winnipeg, July 26.—The Canadian maintenance-of-way and shop employees, approximately 30,000, will in all probability break with their international affiliation for purely Canadian autonomy, declared T. Y. Geeke, local secretary, here today. It is expected a decision will be reached at an early date, he said. He asserted that the question had been under discussion for some time, and was practically an accomplished fact, the expressions of the rank and file, as well as their selected representatives, being practically unanimous.

HAVE 182 BRANCHES.

Ottawa, July 26.—The United Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, which is reported from Winnipeg, is considering a secession from its international affiliations, has 182 branches in Canada, according to the last report of the department of labor on "Labor Organization in Canada."

These 182 branches have, on the same authority, 12,055 members in the Dominion. On the other hand, the number of branches in the United States is given as 2,055, and the number of members 163,000.

This brotherhood has had a rather curious career in regard to its international relations, it is stated in departmental circles here. It was originally a Canadian organization with headquarters oddly enough in Detroit.

Later it pushed its campaign in the United States vigorously, and by affiliation with other organizations Turn to Page 2, Column 6.

ITALIAN CRISIS MAY HOLD UP ALLIED CONFERENCE

Failure To Form Government Would Necessitate Postponement of Discussion on Reparations.

Paris, July 26.—A slight delay in the holding of the meeting at London of the heads of the Allied governments for discussion of the reparations question is foreseen in official quarters here, following the receipt of a note from Great Britain stating that the British Ministry of Foreign Affairs would meet Premier Poincaré on Aug. 1 if the governmental crisis in Italy were settled by that time.

It has been definitely decided that Italy and Belgium shall attend the conference, and the failure of Italy to form a government before Aug. 1 would necessitate a brief postponement of the meeting.

Pending a settlement of the Italian situation, no dates will be fixed for the assembling of the conference.

REPORT C. P. R. UNDISTURBED BY COAL SHORTAGE

London Officials Declare Company Well Supplied For Present Needs.

GRAND TRUNK AFFECTED

Believed Government Will Act If Situation Becomes Acute.

BULLETIN.

Present indications are that the London division of the Canadian Pacific Railway will not feel the effect of the coal strike for some time yet, as officials say that this division has a reserve supply that will fill the needs of trains in Western Ontario for several months.

A few days ago 250,000 tons of coal was distributed throughout the London division from Tillsonburg, and it is said that more is on the way. London, however, has been neglected to a certain extent, the majority of the big shipments being sent to Windsor and other border points.

At the present time the reserve supply in the London yards consist of only a few thousand tons, and no reports have been received stating that any large shipments are on the way. It was pointed out, however, that consignments for local trains should begin to reach the city within a few days.

The Grand Trunk Railway, on the other hand, are feeling an acute shortage of coal, not only on the American lines, but also on the Canadian division. Sixteen trains in Michigan were temporarily cancelled, and local officials are of the opinion that if the coal miners remain out for another week or two the cancellation of trains in most of the divisions in Canada is inevitable.

On the Pere Marquette line, the shortage of coal, and to a lesser degree the shopmen's strike in the United States, has been responsible for several passenger trains connecting with points in Western Ontario, being removed from the service.

It has been rumored that if the coal shortage becomes so serious that the Canadian industries are in danger of becoming impaired the government will take a hand in the matter, and will control the coal trade in the Dominion.

Latest reports from government officials at the capital, however, tend to show that the Dominion government is exceeding its power when it attempts to control the coal situation by confiscating shipments for commercial purposes. There is no existing law, it is said, to provide for the control of coal prices nor for that of export or import. Neither has the railway commission power to direct the routing of coal.

Before the Dominion government could exercise control authority would have to be given by an act of parliament.

LEGATES DEMAND GERMANY DESTROY WARLIKE SCHOOL

PARIS, July 26.—The council of ambassadors decided today to send a sharp note to the German government demanding the immediate destruction of the new control and range-finding school, which the German naval authorities have quietly established at a spot on the Kiel Canal. Allied experts' opinion has declared the school convertible into a fort commanding the entrance to the canal.

The school was built on a high-water mark.

But "someone is forever taking the joy out of life," and simultaneous with the announcement by Chairman Smith that the struggle was fast dying down on all fronts, and an early peace loomed on the civic horizon, comes the ninth hour opinion from no less a person than Mayor Wilson himself, that "additions" to old structures and new schools is the crying need of the hour.

G. T. R. TO CUT TRAIN SERVICE

Company to Reduce Schedule On London-Toronto Via Guelph Route.

Declares Change Necessary On Account of Coal Shortage.

District Postal Superintendent D. J. MacLean was notified Wednesday morning by wire from W. S. Wilson, of the head office of the Grand Trunk in Toronto, that it is the intention of the railroad to cut off its schedule trains which run between London and Toronto through Guelph, beginning Sunday, July 30. The trains are numbers 31 and 34.

Train No. 31 is a mail train which runs from Toronto to London through Guelph daily, leaving Toronto about 8:50 a.m. Train No. 34 is not a mail train. It leaves London for Toronto via Guelph at 2:15 p.m.

The reason given in the telegram for the proposed cancellation of these two trains is the present coal shortage.

Little interference is expected in the transmission of the mails through the revision of the schedule, officials at the postal superintendent's office state. It is possible that the mail for train 31 will be put on train No. 29, from Toronto. The time at which train 29 leaves Toronto is being changed also. At present No. 29 leaves Toronto at 6:50 a.m. Beginning Sunday it will leave at 6:30 a.m.

Two trains running from Toronto to Muskoka wharf will also be discontinued Sunday, the notification states. These trains are numbers 57 and 58, which only run in the summer vacation season, and which accordingly are first to be dispensed with under the stress of the coal shortage.

BANDITS FLEE WITH GOLD HOARD

Prairie du Chien, Wis., July 26.—Bandits yesterday entered the farm home of Ellen Horigan, in the Kickapoo Valley, beat her with a club and made away with hoarded gold estimated at close to $25,000. Miss Horigan's two brothers had left a short while before to work in the hay field.

The sister, who is 64, put up a desperate fight until one of the bandits hit her across the back, breaking her shoulder and cutting her head in two places. The thieves escaped in an automobile hidden two miles from the scene on a lonely road.

The Horigans were wealthy, but would have nothing to do with banks and hoarded their gold in their home, officials asserted.

APPROVES BYLAW TO PROVIDE FUNDS TO RUN CIVIC AFFAIRS

City Treasurer Bell Explains Loan Will Enable Him To Delay Release of Debentures On Financial Market Pending Expected Fall in Current Rates of Interest.

Meeting in special session Wednesday noon, members of the city council passed a bylaw authorizing a loan of one million dollars to the city of London, pending the sale or in lieu of the sale of certain debentures.

This loan, which will be taken up by chartered banks, is necessary to provide funds temporarily with which to run the affairs of the city. The council passed the three readings of the bylaw in as many minutes, thereby giving City Treasurer James Bell the necessary authority to negotiate the loan.

Mr. Bell explains that at present he is holding off the release of certain debentures on the financial market, because he believes that the current rate of interest has not yet reached a minimum, and therefore a postponement of their issue will save the city money.

If the debentures are issued at once, the city would be required to pay the rate of interest stipulated upon them for their entire term of ten or more years, regardless of the fact that current rates are expected to drop. Therefore the city treasurer is withholding the debentures until more favorable interest terms are reached, and the million-dollar loan will carry the city over to that time.

If the interest rates do not drop, as expected, the loan will be extended indefinitely.

In addition to authorizing the loan, the council referred a request from the board of education for debentures totalling approximately $130,000 to No. 1 committee.

CHARTERED BANKS' NOTE CIRCULATION INCREASES

Call and Current Loans Both Show Decreases for June From May Figures.

Ottawa, July 26.—The note circulation of the chartered banks showed an increase in June over the previous month, though there was a decrease from June, 1921. The monthly bank statement issued by the financial department gives the circulation of bank notes as $166,055,839 for June, as compared with $155,652,145 for May, and $195,675,217 for June, 1921.

The call and current loans in Canada both show decreases for June from the May figures. The call loans in Canada for June were $29,849,892, as compared with $101,239,898 for May, and $107,755,140 for June, 1921.

The current loans in Canada for June were $117,544,707, as compared with $114,025,500 for May, and $126,642,883 for June of last year. There was a $16,000 decrease in savings deposits from the month before, but an increase in demand deposit of nearly $10,000,000.

TO DEFER TALK ON CANCELLING DEBT

Washington, July 26.—Negotiations with financial representatives of Great Britain for the funding of that country's $5,000,000,000 war debt to the United States, scheduled to begin early next month, may be deferred until the latter part of that month, it was indicated today at the treasury.

Three members of the allied debt funding commission will arrive from Washington during the first part of September, it was explained, and officials expressed the belief that the British mission would not come to this country until the United States body would have a majority available for handling the negotiations.

The Daily Mail quotes a White Star Line official as saying that the injury to the Olympic must have been of long standing.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS ON INCREASE

40,000 RAILWAY SHOPMEN IN CANADA TO STRIKE IF ROADS FULFIL THREAT TO CUT WAGES

Detailed Ballot Figures To Be Announced At Montreal Today—Union Leader Charges Canadian Railway Association "Flouted" Dominion Law by Enforcing Reduction Prior To Decision of Board of Conciliation.

MONTREAL, July 25.—Although the union officials of No. 4 division, Railway Shopmen of Canada, were not disposed to give out any figures with regard to strike ballots which are now being counted, and which are arriving in Montreal from all parts of Canada, an official statement issued here tonight declares that a strike has been authorized and will be declared "should the railways carry out their threat to reduce wages."

It is probable that detailed figures will be announced tomorrow.

The official statement is issued over the signature of James Somerville, vice-president of International Association of Machinists, and after recounting, at some length, the steps leading up to the present position states that the railways through the Canadian Railway Association have "flouted" the Dominion law by putting the wage reductions into operation before the board of conciliation has even commenced its hearings, and claims that by doing so the railways have assumed responsibility for inciting or "causing a lockout or strike" under the meaning of the industrial disputes investigation act, Sections 56, 57 and 58.

Earn $100 a Month.
The statement is made that for the past year and a half on the Canadian Pacific Railway the earnings of the highest paid skilled mechanics average slightly over $100 a month, and for the past seven months less than $90.

Some 40,000 men on all Canadian railways are affected by the decision to strike.

The action follows the posting of notices by the Canadian Railway Association, effective last Sunday, of reductions in wages ranging from two to five cents an hour.

The men have called for a board of conciliation under the industrial disputes investigation act, and have named their representatives to the board.

So far no action has been taken by the railways in connection with the board.

BOARD TAKES NO ACTION.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Adhering strictly to its "hands-off" policy in the railway shopmen's strike, the United States Railroad Labor Board today turned its attention to routine matters.

Despite statements from Washington that any government action in the rail controversy might come through the labor board, the board took no action today, and from officials it was learned that none is in prospect.

With the board contemplating no action, the western presidents' committee on public relations of the Association of Railway Executives, issued a statement tonight asserting the western lines with headquarters in Chicago are moving freight as offered, passenger trains are being operated normally, and "transportation conditions are normal everywhere."

"Railway fuel receipts," the statement said, "are satisfactory. Out of 22,446 cars of coal purchased by these lines since June 7, for delivery up to August 31.60 per cent has already been delivered."

Railroad repair work is being farmed out to shipyarders at Superior, Wis., it became known today, with the announcement by officials of the Great Northern that two engines and 50 ore cars had been sent to the Superior Shipbuilding Company yards for repairs.

Decision of striking shopmen to turn harvest hands for a month in the event that an early settlement is not forthcoming, was a development in the Northwest rail strike situation.

WILL SUPPORT BOARD.
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Support of the railroad board as the only agency created by law for handling the transportation tie-up was given by administration officials as the chief means the government will use to handle the transportation tie-up.

The first step toward control of depleted transportation facilities and coal supply came in a statement from the Interstate Commerce Commission, declaring that an emergency existed in the territory east of the Mississippi, which required the commission to direct the routing of all essential commodities and to fix precedence and priority status to control movement of food and fuel.

The priority order was followed by a "general service order" from the commission, notifying "all common carriers" that an emergency existed which required them to disregard usual routing practices, freight rate divisions and traffic arrangements, so as to obtain the most expeditious movement of essential freight.

Throws Stones At Bruin To See Him Frolic, But Pays Fine For Pleasure

Explaining that his action was not guided by an ulterior motive other than a desire to see the animal in action, William Morley, a county resident, admitted in the Middlesex police court, Tuesday afternoon, that he had been "throwing stones" at one of the bears in captivity at Springbank Park.

Assessing the defendant a fine of five dollars and costs, totaling in all $18.50, Squire W. H. Chittick, presiding, delivered a scathing lecture, pointing out that he was more than surprised concerning the strange act in view of the general good appearance of the prisoner.

"You do not appear to be a person who would treat dumb animals in that fashion," the Squire declared. "But while we are going to be lenient with you, it must be taken as a severe lesson to you and others as well."

Morley, while admitting the offense, as charged, was quite penitent and explained that he did not intend to do any real harm to the bear, but merely wished to rouse him into action. "It was the first time that I had seen one," he related, "and I wanted to see what he looked like."

Except in the instance of children, who were merely cautioned, Morley was the first culprit to be apprehended, he explained.

LIMBS OF TREES RING FIRE BELL

St. Thomas Department Makes Hard Run, But Discovers No Blaze.

Will Introduce Bill To Cut Branches in Uniform Manner.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, July 25.—After the fire department made a long hard run for no purpose tonight, it was discovered that the alarm had been rung by two wires which had got into difficulty by becoming crossed.

The trouble was caused by overhanging limbs of trees which had brought the wires together.

The matter was taken up at a meeting of the fire committee tonight and it was decided that all trees in the city should be trimmed in a uniform manner.

Where the money to perform the work is to come from is another question, however, for no provision was made in the estimates this year. Because all expenditures outside of the estimates must first pass the finance committee, the matter of cutting the trees will be referred to it for decision.

The city maintained its record for small fire losses during the month, when despite nine runs the damage from fire was considered so insignificant that no report was made.

Ald. William Stokes and Chief Henderson will attend a fire convention to be held in Chatham in the near future. Ald. Stokes indicated that he would bear the expense of his trip himself. As is usual the city will provide the expenses of the chief.

STRATFORD INDUSTRIES HAVE SUFFICIENT COAL

Canvass Reveals Fact That Factories Have Enough Fuel To Continue Until Fall.

Special to London Advertiser.

STRAFORD, July 24.—A canvass of the local industrial plants reveals that most of them have an ample supply of coal to last until fall.

It is interesting to note that the local hydro shop reports a considerable increase in the sale of electric fire-places and ranges to people who are evidently convinced they will require heat from hydro this winter.

Only twelve persons attended the lectures given this morning in connection with the co-operative summer training school for Sunday school teachers. It is probable that the school will be discontinued.

At the age of 79 years the death of Mrs. Esther Kelso at the home of James McMillan. She came here 24 years ago. Two sisters survive, Mary of Stratford and Mrs. Stricher of Woodstock.

Death today claimed an old resident in the person of Mrs. A. J. McPherson, aged 65 years.

The funeral will take place here at Mary Isobel Olmstead of Brantford to Vernon Mehm.

Robert Hurst has purchased the shoe business of D. Waddington.

F. C. Harris has arrived here to open an office for the Wilkins, Young Audit Company, London.

STEALS $141 FROM GOOD SAMARITAN

Montreal, July 25.—For stealing $141 from the man who had befriended, fed and employed him, Hector Charlot was yesterday sentenced to three months at hard labor by Judge Cusson.

The complainant, Louis St. Germain, 311 St. Denis street, told the court how he had found Charlot destitute on the street. He had taken him to his home and had given him a meal, after which he had employed him as messenger. Charlot had worked satisfactorily for a fortnight until sent to collect $141, from which he did not return. The next day, however, he appeared before his benefactor and confessed that he had spent the money on a "good time."

The latter had him arrested.

TEN OF EVERY 106 NOT CHURCHGOERS

New York, July 25.—Ten of every 106 persons in the United States have no religious affiliations, according to statistics gathered by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and published in the year book of the churches.

The other 96 are divided as follows: Protestant, 75; Roman Catholic, 18; other faiths, 3.

The year book gives the total church population of the country as follows: Protestant, 75,099,489; Roman Catholic, 17,885,648; Jewish, 1,600,000; Latter Day Saints (Mormons), 587,918; Eastern Orthodox, 411,054. Total, 95,884,107.

The three largest bodies are: Methodist, 22,171,959; Baptists, 21,935,700; Roman Catholics, 17,885,648.

POWER SHORTAGE SERIOUS.

LINDSAY, July 25.—Power shortage continues in Lindsay, and manufacturing firms that resorted to the use of auxiliary steam plants are now confronted with a shortage of coal, the situation promising to become more serious.

CONTROL FUEL DISTRIBUTION IN UNITED STATES

Commission Gives Priority On Requirements To Railways and Utilities.

DIRECTORS TO BE NAMED

Miners' Leader Declares Government's Scheme Aggravating Coal Famine.

Interstate Commerce Commission declared emergency exists east of the Mississippi River on railways, as first step by the government towards control of coal distribution.

John L. Lewis, head of the striking miners, said that government's "fantastic schemes" to reopen the coal mines had contributed toward a pending fuel famine, and renewed invitation to operators to settle the strike by joint conference.

Calling of a special session of the Indiana Legislature to repeal the miner's qualification law, and to enact such other legislation as necessary to meet the coal strike situation, was suggested to Governor McCray.

Kentucky troops are ordered out following alleged threats against non-union men at Fonda.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Acceleration of coal production under federal protection and control of fuel distribution were given by administration spokesmen today as two fundamentals of the government's policy toward the fuel crisis.

Becoming effective tomorrow, the commission's mandates give railways priority on fuel requirements, with electric power, light, gas, water and sewer works, ice plants, food, the public, and refrigeration plants engaged in preservation of food, following the order named.

Will Name Director.
The directing agency for the emergency fuel rationing machine, a presidential committee chosen from the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Department of Commerce, Justice and Interior, with Secretary Hoover as chairman, will be named by President Harding tomorrow, according to administration officials.

This committee, with the aid of an administrative committee of operators, railroad traffic experts and representatives of public utilities will direct the activities of local committees of operators in maintaining fair prices and in distributing fuel to the carriers and other public utilities in the plan of preference established by the Interstate Commerce Commission as best suited to serve the public of the country.

DOUBT FEDERAL POWER.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 25.—The Dominion government has no power to exercise control over the coal trade. This statement was made tonight to the Canadian Press by an authority who has dealt with the problem from the standpoint of both law and practice.

There is no existing law to provide for the control of coal prices nor for that of export or import. Neither has the railway commission power to direct the routing of coal.

Before the Dominion government could exercise control it would be necessary that the power to do so be given by act of Parliament. The authority of Parliament itself would be limited in regard to coal in much the same way it is limited in regard to wheat, in reference to which it has been found necessary to have concurrent legislation by the Dominion and the provinces.

WAR ON PROFITEERING.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The federal government is prepared to take charge immediately of any coal district in which the operators refuse to co-operate with the government in the prevention of profiteering. Secretary of Commerce Hoover warned today.

It was stated that the government is determined to use all its powers to check the climbing coal prices and the refusal of operators to a district to accept the Hoover plan, under which coal prices are to be kept at a maximum of $3.50 a ton at the mines would result in the appointment of a government committee to enforce such a price.

A nation-wide system by which all profiteering in coal will be reported to the federal government has been established by Secretary Hoover.

One of the first reports received by Hoover revealed a case of flagrant profiteering. A price of $13 a ton was being charged for coal in one part of the Kentucky fields, as compared with $3.50—the maximum price which Hoover is seeking to establish through voluntary agreements. Many operators in this district, however, are adhering to the $3.50 price, he said.

BOOM IN WELSH COAL.

CARDIFF, Wales, July 25.—The demand in the United States for coal is creating a boom in the Welsh trade. The price for the best admiralty coal advanced today to 30 shillings per ton. The value of colliery shares is advancing in consequence of the situation.

Thirty-five thousand tons of coal were shipped from the Cardiff docks today. This comprised the largest one-day shipment since the war.

The United States demand promises to relieve the acute situation in the South Welsh coal fields. There is no indication among the miners or the transport workers of an intention to embark upon a boycott against the exportation of coal to the United States.

ROB CHATHAM GARDENS.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, July 25.—An epidemic of stealing garden vegetables and fruits has broken out in North Chatham. Several city patrolmen have been assigned to the district from where the majority of the offences are reported in an endeavor to locate the culprits.

FREE STATERS ADVANCE LINES TO CASTLE BAR

Lord Mayor of Cork Arrives At Dublin On Peace Mission.

LIAM DUFFY QUILTS POST

DUBLIN, July 25.—No news was received today from South Ireland, but the National forces operating from Claremorris, County Mayo, are continuing their advance. The irregular troops prior to the evacuation, burned numerous buildings, including the jail, the courthouse, and the barracks.

Irregulars attacked the barracks at Erie Court, County Galway. The garrison of 80 men was compelled to surrender. The irregulars then burned the barracks.

A train bringing 10 prisoners from Ennisceorthy to Dublin Monday had several exciting experiences. Two attempts were made by irregular troops to rescue the prisoners. The first attempt was made outside Wexford. In the fighting two National soldiers were killed and seven wounded. This attempt failed. Irregulars in Dublin made another attempt to rescue the prisoners. They had taken up positions on the roofs of the houses in the vicinity of the Harcourt Street Station.

Fire Upon Crowd.

The seventy prisoners were lined up on the station platform under a strong guard, while some three hundred spectators stood about. Just as the prisoners were being marched away a heavy fire was opened upon the crowd. Many of those on the platform threw themselves flat on their faces, thereby probably saving themselves from injury. The National troops replied to the fire of the irregulars. The fighting continued for nearly half an hour. Seven persons were wounded. The prisoners were safely escorted to jail.

It is believed that the meeting of the new parliament fixed for next Tuesday will have to be again postponed owing to the delay in suppressing the irregular revolt. No official announcement of the postponement has been issued, however.

Arrest Rebel Officer.

Captain Kennedy, one of the leaders of the irregular forces, has been captured by Free State troops, near Thurles. He was disguised as a woman.

The lord mayor of Cork and other delegates have arrived here on a peace mission, according to correspondent of the London Times.

He says he learns their proposal is that the members of the new Irish parliament and of the Dail Eireann, shall meet forthwith, for the purpose of reaching terms of settlement. He expresses the belief, however, that the Provisional government officials will consent to nothing short of complete surrender, and the laying down of arms by the Republicans.

Liam Duffy Resigns.

Liam Duffy has resigned as foreign minister of the Provisional government. He announced that while he agreed with the government's military policy, he opposes its policy on certain other grave and urgent issues so strongly that he cannot longer honorably remain with the administration.

Six civilians, four of whom were women, were wounded by a bomb thrown at a lorry, in which National soldiers were riding in York street this evening. No soldiers were injured, although companions of the bomber shots at the troops. Two men were arrested.

CLAIMS ADOLESCENT ACT INCREASES ATTENDANCE

Kitchener School Principal Points To Entrance Classes To Prove Argument.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, July 25.—Principal Carmichael of the local public schools stated today that the adolescent claims act has had a definite effect on Kitchener school attendance, and this has been shown by the reports following the entrance examinations.

He stated that where in previous years the highest number of candidates from this city to entrance examinations was 119, this year the number was increased to 155. Principal Carmichael believes this increase is a direct effect of the act.

In former years, he said, the five third-year classes always fall off to four fourth-year classes, and that the past is the first year in its history where five fourth-year classes were maintained.

RE-ELECTED BY ST. MARYS VOTERS

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. MARYS, July 25.—By a vote of 247 to 216 B. McCullough was re-elected councillor-at-large by St. Marys ratepayers today. Mr. McCullough's opponent was Frederick Howard. Some time ago, following charges by a neighbor that Ald. McCullough had city workmen working on his own premises at the expense of the city, Mr. McCullough resigned, but was subsequently prevailed upon to stand for re-election.

HANOVER BROWNIES CAMP AT SOUTHAMPTON BEACH

HANOVER, July 25.—Twenty-four little Brownies, looking very fetching in their trim khaki uniforms, motored to Southampton Beach for their annual ten-day camp.

Mrs. W. Ruttie is in charge of the camp, assisted by Miss Velma Rands, one of the Girl Guides.

HURT WHILE UNLOADING HAY.

Kitchener, July 25.—John Koehler, a farmer of Wellesley, while unloading hay at his barn last evening, fell from the load when a pulley broke, striking his head on a stone wall. He sustained a severe scalp laceration, which necessitated a number of stitches.

Raney Satisfied Elliott Will Not Let Practise Interfere With Duty

TORONTO, July 25.—Formal confirmation was made today by Attorney-General W. E. Raney of the announcement in The London Advertiser on July 19 of the appointment of J. C. Elliott, ex-M.P.P. for Middlesex, as crown attorney for London. Mr. Elliott will not be required to give up his private practise in connection with his public responsibilities. "The government has confidence that Mr. Elliott will not permit his practise to interfere in any way with his official duties," stated Attorney-General Raney in discussing the appointment. "His services were not available on an exclusive basis at any salary that the government could afford to pay, having regard to salaries throughout the province for that class of work."

"True, we have that system in force in three other places," Mr. Raney said. "It has worked well in Toronto, and I have had no criticism from Hamilton or Windsor. The alternative, if we were going to make it general, would be to create districts sufficiently large to occupy the crown attorney's whole time. The difficulty in that suggestion, of course, would be the incumbency in the different offices."

CANADIAN RAILMEN MAY QUIT U. S. TIES

of maintenance-of-way men in that country developed into its present shape with a preponderant American membership. No definite information was available regarding the report that the organization would break away from its American affiliations, although it was stated a similar suggestion had been under consideration for some time.

N. S. MINERS IDLE.

New Waterford, N. S., July 25.—All the collieries here are idle and special services were held yesterday in St. Agnes' Church in memory of more than sixty miners who lost their lives in the New Waterford mine explosion five years ago, July 25, 1917.

Sixty-one men were killed in the original blast, and four members of rescue parties also lost their lives.

Rev. J. H. McDonald, who preached yesterday's memorial sermon, almost lost his life from "after damp" while assisting to rescue some of his parishioners.

U. S. CONTROLS FREIGHT.

Chicago, July 25.—With the United States government today assuming control of freight traffic, and the eastern railroads continuing efforts to form new unions of shopmen peace in the railway strike seemed a remote possibility.

On the other hand goodwill was apparent in the meetings being held at Baltimore between officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and representatives of the shopmen, which have been regarded as a possible precursor of other individual settlements, if successful.

No further spread of the strike was looked for, although 50 maintenance-of-way men at Shawnee, Okla., and a number at Moberly, Mo., quit work yesterday because armed guards were patrolling railroad property.

A resolution adopted by representatives of nearly three hundred general chairmen of the Clerks and Freight Handlers' Union after their meeting here yesterday, declared they would resort to their "economic power" if their grievances were not adjusted, but it was believed that they would take no further strike action pending negotiations.

Train Service Normal.

Curtailment of train service during the last 24 hours was negligible. The Pennsylvania Railroad issued a statement last night, saying passenger and freight service had been restored to normal on that road.

Reports of violence or threatened violence were slightly increased, and troops were called out in three new states.

Alabama State troops have been mobilized at Birmingham ready for call to Albany, Ala., where disorders are reported.

In Pennsylvania state troops were shifted to more advantageous positions, several detachments being sent to strategic points.

Plans have been perfected for delivering mail by motor truck at least once a day to every community in Upper Michigan, North and South Dakota, and Minnesota, comprising the tenth railway mail district. Mobs are already being used in portions of Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota to carry mail and freight.

WOMEN BATTLE POLICE.

Toledo, Ohio, July 25.—Forty women, wives and relatives of striking railway employees, attacked a party of non-union railroad shopmen on their way to work in the Pearsall street shops of the New York Central Railroad here early today. Police, responding to a call for help, were met with a shower of bricks and stones, which resulted in calls for police reserves.

Three patrol wagons filled with officers were rushed to the scene with orders to arrest every woman found in the vicinity.

BUILDING ESTABLISHES RECORD.

Ottawa, July 25.—By Canadian Press.—Building operations here, which have been practically at a standstill since the war, reached another boom today, when a start was made on the quarter-million-dollar bank building on Sparks street, between O'Connor and Metcalfe. Building contractors report that skilled help is very scarce, no doubt due to the continued building boom.

Hoboes Migrate Early in Fear of Hard Winter.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, July 25.—Old-timers in this city declare that next winter will be early and cold, thereby showing the way to the army of prophesied birds, corn husks, nut crops and groundhogs for the signs of the times.

Their prognostications are based on hoboes, who are rated among the surest of nature's barometers. During the last few weeks they have been heading southward in unusually large numbers. Complaints of begging have been received by the police from many parts of the city.

MACAROW CASE TO BE LENGTHY

Resumed Hearing Expected To Continue Until Middle of August.

George Edwards, Toronto Chartered Accountant, To Take Witness Stand.

MONTREAL, July 25.—At the conclusion of the resumed hearing here this afternoon into the charge against D. C. Macarow, former general manager of the Merchants Bank of Canada, of having made false statements in the bank's October, 1921, return to the finance minister, it was stated by the crown prosecutor that evidence with regard to the systems of the bank was now completed and that tomorrow George Edwards, chartered accountant of Toronto, the expert who reported the position of the bank, would be called.

It was intimated that his evidence would be lengthy.

The actual monthly statement submitted by the bank to the government for October last would be studied, it was added. It is expected that evidence in the case will last until the middle of August.

W. W. Thompson, officer in charge of the department looking after bad and doubtful debts, was examined and cross-examined at considerable length this morning and afternoon on the method of handling such debts.

Special reference was made to the account of Thornton, Davidson and Company, the Montreal stock brokerage firm which became insolvent and whose liabilities impaired the rest of the account of the Merchants Bank to such a degree as to cause it to be taken over by the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. Thompson's examination in evidence that the account of this firm was supposed to have been reported upon by the manager and that it had not been reported upon, adding that he did not know why.

The amount of the Thornton, Davidson liability was not included in the estimate of $2,048,376 figured as the probable losses on account at the Montreal branch office in the period April to September, 1921, and this liability amount to a total of $4,413,376, making an aggregate of $6,461,752 shown in the Montreal branch return which was not completed after the return for October had been sent to Ottawa.

The court then adjourned until tomorrow.

CARS RUN AT NIAGARA.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 25.—No trouble occurred upon the arrival of the first high speed car from Buffalo since the strike was called July 2.

Police in automobiles accompanied the cars in the city streets while the city policemen and deputy sheriffs rode aboard the cars as soon as they entered the city limits.

TELLS OF REAL RUSSIAN PLIGHT

Thomas Skehill, Australian Orator, Delivers Interesting Talk at Chautauqua.

Cremona Orchestra Delights
Audience With Excellence of Musical Performance.

Soldier, poet and cosmopolitan, a thorough student of world affairs, Thomas Skehill, the Australian orator, who lectured at the Wednesday night session of the Chautauqua, by his keen insight into the complexity of the problem with which Russia faces the world today so impressed his audience that he will long be remembered as one of the outstanding figures of a week which has brought to London men of understanding and genius.

Unusual Amount of Talent.
Prefacing Mr. Skehill, and ranking as high in the world of music as his lecture in the world of oratory, was a concert by the Cremona Orchestra, which under the sponsorship of the noted composer, Thurlow Leurance, and composed of seven musicians, each of extreme youth and yet each displaying an unusual amount of talent and skill.

The Russian question of today, presenting as it does, one of the most important and intricate problems of the age, was the subject of Mr. Skehill's address.

"During the war," he declared, "we were prone to look upon the Russian turmoil, not as a great revolution, but in the light of its relationship to the important question with us was, 'Beat Germany,' and the significance of the Russian revolution regarding that objective was our only consideration."

"Between pro-Bolshevik and anti-Bolshevik propaganda, the outside world has not had 10 per cent of the truth concerning conditions in Russia."

Rumors Not True.
"We heard that there was wholesale nationalization of women, that public buildings were pillaged and destroyed, that the churches were robbed and defamed and that the Soviet government was on the verge of collapse. But, after living in Russia at the most crucial time in its history, I say that it is not so. The Soviet government is not going to collapse, women are not nationalized, the churches are not pillaged and the Soviet public buildings are not defamed."

"Does it stand to reason that a man like Lloyd George, the greatest student of world psychology, the age knows, would have dealings with Soviet Russia, were it all the lying propaganda has made it out to be?"

By means of forged passports and the disguise of Swedish electrical engineers, Skehill and a European journalist managed to reach the interior of Russia and make a first-hand study of the plight of that vast country.

Based on the comprehensive knowledge thus gained was Mr. Skehill's contention that until Russia had righted itself, economic conditions throughout the world would be unstable, and that the Russian people should have the practical aid and understanding of the rest of the world.

At the afternoon Chautauqua session the Cremona Orchestra provided the entire program. Their selections ranged from the loveliest of classical music to the liveliest of the popular music of our own day, each an exceptionally enjoyable number.

BOARD OF EDUCATION WILL MEET IF QUORUM POSSIBLE

Assurance Given Wednesday That Session Will Be Held in August.

As a meeting of the board of education, is deemed well nigh unavoidable in August, an effort will be made to hold the meeting at a quorum of school trustees, at the appointed time.

This was the assurance given Wednesday. It was pointed out further that in addition to action pertaining to the new public school proposed for Southeast London, it will be necessary for the members to consider the formal acceptance of the new Central College Institute from the contractors.

Trustee A. E. Silverwood, chairman of No. 2 committee, stated that the building has been inspected several times, but that a final survey will be conducted directly Architect L. E. Carrothers gives the word.

Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board, explains that everything now hinges on "developments."

TECUMSEH MOTHERS' CLUB ENJOYS SPRINGBANK PICNIC

Men, Women and Children Join Enthusiastically in Splendid Program of Sports.

The Tecumseh Mothers' Club held its annual picnic to Springbank on Tuesday afternoon. About fifty mothers, with their children, enjoyed an excellent program of sports. Following the sports, supper was served, a number of fathers joining their families at this time and participating in the ball game which was held afterwards. The winners in the sports events were:

Senior women's race—Mrs. Brown and K. Cushman.
Thin women's race—Mrs. G. Tapp.
Chum race—Mrs. Baldwin.
Time race—Mrs. Adams.
Sprint race—Mrs. Throver.
Obstacle race—Mildred Boyce.
Children's race—Sixteen children ran in this race, and each received a prize.

Mrs. Sherry Wilson, Mrs. Albert Holte and Mrs. Arthur Knowles were in charge of the arrangements. The goodies remaining were taken to the Ronald-Roy Gray Memorial Home for the little tots there.

Town Topics.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peacefully with all men.—Romans xii, 19.
BEWARE of entrance into a quarrel; but being in, Bear 't that the opposed may be aware of thee.—Shakespeare.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.
THURSDAY—C. P. R. employees hold picnic at Springbank.

BUILDING PERMITS issued this month in London now number 128, their total estimated expenditure being $217,450.

A. D. H. J. CHILDS is acting mayor at the city hall Wednesday, owing to the fact that Mayor Cameron Wilson is engaged on other business here for the day.

MRS. MARIAN KEESING has been appointed postmistress at Cape Croker. The appointment came through from the department at Ottawa to the district superintendent's office here Tuesday.

SETTING THURSDAY NEXT as the date and Springbank Park as the rendezvous, all Canadian Pacific employees from Toronto to Windsor will gather for their annual picnic. The general public is invited, and an interesting and continuous program with plenty of good band music is promised.

ALL ANIMALS in captivity at the city's zoological gardens down at Springbank Park are well cared for and treated with every kindness, according to George Tustin, provincial humane officer, who reports that he inspected the same Tuesday. "Everything is in fine shape," he says, "and no cases of cruelty."

"I WILL CERTAINLY have something to say to the trustee for delinquents," School Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board of education, stated Wednesday referring to the suggestion that the city council may not view favorably the board's new building program.

COINCIDING with the views expressed by Trustee Bryden Campbell respecting new buildings, L. E. Carrothers, school architect, believes that community benefits in no small measure by a diversified scheme of architecture. A number of schools patterned alike creates the same impression, he states, as a row of houses in one block all alike.

CITY TREASURER James Bell urges all citizens who owe money to the city for taxes or other dues to pay by check prior to Aug. 1, and escape the new tax stamp required on that date. He points out that if these checks are dated Aug. 1, they must bear the new stamp regardless of the date on which they are written.

CHARGED WITH THEFT from the Mt. Elgin Institute on the Muncy reservation, Russell Elliott, an Indian, will appear for preliminary hearing before Squire W. H. Chittick in the Middlesex County court Thursday. Elliott was apprehended near Cape Croker and brought back to the city by Constable William Piffard.

HUNDREDS OF CANADIAN Pacific Railway employees from Toronto to Windsor will gather in the city Thursday, July 27, for the annual picnic of this division. A novel and complete program of sports has been arranged by the picnic committee, and other attractions, such as clown bands, will be provided to amuse the merry-makers. Special cars carrying picnicers from different points in the division will arrive in the city Thursday morning, and several cars have already been chartered to carry the crowds to the park.

DESPITE MUCH condemnatory comment for the failure of the London Street Railway Company to submit specifications for paving its track allowance, which is holding up paving on Hamilton road and Dundas street east by city gangs, the inaction continues, and no information has been received at the city hall regarding when the company will get busy. In the meantime, eighteen city employees are out of work because the paving program has been held up, and they will continue to idle until City Engineer Beazler receives the much-desired specifications.

SYRIANS ATTACK FRENCH TROOPS

Cairo, July 26.—The Syrian committee here announces that when news that the League of Nations council had confirmed the French Syrian mandate was received in this city, a band of Syrians attacked French troops at Hauran, killed two officers and seventeen men, destroyed two tanks and captured a number of prisoners, and a quantity of war material. The French are reported to have been forced to retreat until reinforcements were hurried from Damascus.

The Syrians also are reported to have brought down a French airplane at Esrah, and to have attacked a French outpost at Javrud, killing fifteen Frenchmen.

The committee alleges that the whole has broken out in the district of Syria.

Knights Of the Dusty Highway Assume City To Be Haven For Weary Willies

London is attracting a small quota of wanderers of the open road. Carefree pedestrians, of the variety commonly known as tramps or hobos, have been coming in at the Salvation Army recently in an effort to procure passage money to other points of vantage or perhaps that they may enjoy a respite from their journey on the "dusty roads."

According to Army officials, however, funds are not sufficiently abundant to permit the giving of such aid, nor do they consider many of the applicants worthy of much consideration.

DEFENDS WORK OF COUNTY OFFICERS

W. Fifeild Aroused by Charges of "Persecution of Autoists."

Fully aroused by the continued charges of "persecution to autoists" throughout the county, William Fifeild, prominent member of the county police force, in an effort to show that "everything is fair and square" in their apprehension of speeders, threw open his records Wednesday morning for a thorough inspection.

"I do not have to do this," Constable Fifeild declared, "but I want to give an instance of the manner in which we do our work."

The officer selecting at random the activities of a squad of constables on July 14 between London and Port Stanley, pointed out that they did not take their positions on the highway until 2:25 p.m., and concluded for the day at 7:30 p.m.

"We were out five hours," he said, "and during that time we took the number of but seven speeders. We have eight cases in all for that day, as we obtained the number of one machine on its way to the lake and upon the return trip as well. Is it reasonable to suppose that if, as we have been charged, we took the numbers of any old car that came along that we would get the same man twice?"

There were probably 200 cars passing them during the five hours the constable related, but he concentrated only on those who were exceeding the limit by several miles.

Denouncing the fee system for constables' remuneration, Officer Fifeild declared that in his opinion if a man did not have money of his own in reserve when he accepted a constable's position, he would "starve to death."

CITIZENS SCORE COURT METHODS

Londoners Summoned to Appear at Distant Places
On Minor Charges.

Is it imperative that Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw hold Middlesex County court in Lucan, Arva and other points throughout London township at which residents of London and immediate district must attend when summoned to answer speeding and other charges of a minor nature?

Two complaints were registered Wednesday morning at the Middlesex County court house by citizens who explained that they had been notified to appear before Magistrate Hawkshaw in Arva to combat speeding charges.

The defendants claim that their appearance at one of the London township courts would mean, naturally, that they would be placed to certain inconveniences, and question why it is that they could not be tried at the Middlesex County buildings, where sessions dealing with cases of this type are held daily.

As Magistrate Hawkshaw frequently holds court in London, his question why they were not summoned to appear at the local court house Monday or Tuesday last, when he disposed of several speeders, or at a later date convenient to the magistrates himself.

One of the defendants pointed out that he had been directed to go to Lucan for trial, and evinced a desire to know whether in the event of an acquittal would his expenses be returned. He was informed in the negative.

Squire W. H. Chittick is inclined to sympathize with the complainants, expressing the opinion that it is certainly not very convenient for a person to hitch up a horse and wagon or drive an automobile out to Arva to attend a proceeding that requires but a few minutes' attention.

POLICE APPOINTMENTS WILL BE MADE BY FALL

No appointments of sergeants on the city police force will be made until autumn.

As the police commission has no other business to come before it at the next meeting, the session will not be held until the summer months have expired. A meeting could not be held at the present time, as one of the members of the commission, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon is on holidays.

One officer will be appointed to succeed the late Sgt. Thomas Fish, who died a few months ago. However, Chief of Police Robert Birrell does not believe in filling a vacancy immediately following the death which caused it.

When the commission does meet, it is expected the members will be awarded sergeant's stripes.

"The trouble with most of them is that they simply refuse to work," stated Brigadier Crichton of the local headquarters.

There is very little excuse for men being out of work at this time of the year, when there is always something doing on the farms. Once they get started on the tramp, wanderlust gets hold of them and hard work offers little or no attraction. Those who ask for railway fare are mostly seized with a desire to get to Windsor or Sarnia, they assert, where there is a chance of getting a job on the lake boats.

Crowds of Happy Kiddies Prove Success Of Playground Movement In London

Undisguised pleasure is expressed by the members of the parks committee of the public utilities commission and interested officials respecting the continued, and in certain instances the increased attendance, at the several civic playgrounds and swimming "baths" throughout the city.

Indicating the popularity of the respective locations, the regular report, issued by G. Mel. Brock, chief supervisor, follows:

SAYS DEAL IS NOT YET CLOSED

Trustee Bice Contemplates Abandoning Church Basement as Schoolroom Idea.

Just when he ratepayers of South-east London, who have children to send to school in September next, were congratulating themselves that the school trustees had solved the problem of immediate school-room accommodation by the rental of the basement of the Hamilton road Presbyterian Church, comes the announcement by Trustee (Rev.) A. A. Bice, chairman of No. 2 committee, that no deal has as yet been consummated.

That it is not improbable that the trustees will encounter a more suitable location elsewhere is the feeling at this moment. Trustee Bice explains that his associates and himself are seriously "thinking" about abandoning the contemplated church basement arrangement. His committee has been clothed with authority to choose the most attractive building and make all arrangements.

Certain of the trustees have already expressed the opinion that $175 a month, as requested by the church authorities for the rental of their space, is too exorbitant a figure.

In the meanwhile the school taxpayers of the territory to be affected, that district of the city which "feeds" the Chesley avenue and Ealing public schools, unite with Senior School Inspector V. K. Greer in a plea for haste.

ST. MARY'S GARDEN PARTY PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

Drawing Contest, Country Store and Flower Stall Were Special Attractions.

Fine, delightfully cool weather, gay lights and summery decorations, with crowds of patrons enjoying themselves to the top of their bent were features of the garden party held on the lawn of St. Mary's Church Tuesday night.

Booths, dealing in delicious refreshments, were in continuous operation, and a country store, whose stock in trade included some very lovely fancy work, drew scores of eager customers.

The most interesting event of the evening was the drawing contest, after which eighty lucky winners were highly pleased with the prizes awarded them.

Winners were the following: Patrick Sweeney, who won a ton of coal awarded by A. J. McGinnis; Jacob Wehber, 423 King street, a gold brooch, donated by N. Agranov; A. Tylter, 5 Ardagh Apartments, 100 pounds Hunt's Diamond Flour, donated by Mrs. H. Gilligan; Miss Mary d'Arcy, an electric lamp, donated by P. Queenan; Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin, 10 in gold, donated by Dr. P. J. Sweeney; Samuel Grabone, a cut glass bowl, donated by E. C. Killingsworth; Mrs. Reeves, 100 pounds sugar, donated by Mrs. M. J. Dalton; Mrs. Howson, a smoked ham, donated by P. Murphy.

Two special prizes were awarded in addition to those of the drawing contest. An electric grill, donated by St. Mary's Sodality, was won by Miss Jessie McPhee, and a silver basket, donated by the Mothers' Unit, by Miss Jane Mitchell, of 718 Elias street.

The country store, with its attractive display of wares, was in charge of the members of the Mothers' Unit, the home cooking and a flower stall in charge of the Mothers' Unit, while the Holy Name Society looked after the supply of soft drinks, and the St. Mary's Sodality the ice cream.

BELIEVES AUTOIST SHOULD HAVE BEEN UP BEFORE

One lone speeder faced Squire W. H. Chittick in the Middlesex county police court Wednesday morning and, adjudged guilty, was assessed the sum of $8.

The charge was preferred by Constable William Fifeild, who registered a plea for leniency in view of the fact that the defendant had never been arraigned for speeding previously.

"How long have you been driving a car?" questioned the squire. "Four years," replied the defendant. "Do you not think it is time you were caught?" queried the bench in a jocular mood.

JOHN DEARNESS IS SUPERANNUATED

Popular London Educationalist Resigns After Many Years Service.

With the superannuation of Professor John Dearness from the office of the principal of the London Normal School, educational circles in the city lose one of their most interesting and active members.

Although he was born in Hamilton and received his early training there, Prof. Dearness has been associated with educational work in London ever since he entered the teaching profession.

Graduating from Western University with the degree of master of arts, he taught for a number of years in the public schools, finally becoming inspector of the public schools of London and Middlesex, an office which had its result in making him a well-known and well-loved figure in both city and county.

Throughout practically his whole life, Professor Dearness has spent his spare time in the pursuit of natural sciences. His extensive knowledge of the science of astronomy and his activities in this direction have always been of the keenest interest to citizens of London.

Botanists of both the United States and Europe have paid tribute to Professor Dearness by naming after him a number of newly-discovered specimens.

For some years, Professor Dearness was connected with Western University, occupying the chair as the chief of the department of biology, and has at all times taken the keenest interest in the work of the university.

The retiring principal has been president of the Ontario Entomological Society, the Ontario Educational Council, and the Ontario Historical Society, as well as an active member of the Ontario Advisory Council of Education.

He has been principal of the London Normal School for the past five years, reaching then the age of retirement, seventy years.

APPOINTS PRINCIPALS.
TORONTO, July 25.—The provincial government today sanctioned the appointment of principals in the Ottawa and London Normal Schools.

The appointees are: William Prendergast, Ottawa, succeeding Principal John Dearness, superannuated, and S. J. Keyes, Ottawa, succeeding the late Dr. J. F. White. Both are promoted from assistant principalships.

The government's selection was made from a field of five men who entered normal schools in 1908, Messrs. Prendergast, Keyes, A. Stevens, Emery and Clerk.

There are still several normal school vacancies to be filled in the province.

COUNTY OFFICERS RESENT MEDDLING

Allege Interference in Investigations of Games of Chance.

Scoring what they term as "unnecessary interference," supposedly on the part of provincial officers operating in this locality, Middlesex County constables Wednesday declared that they were watching narrowly all "games of skill" at Springbank Park, promising certain developments of a sweeping nature.

Earlier in the week the constables found occasion, they assert, to question the legality of a certain "game of skill" at the grounds, explaining that one of the concession men was offering cash prizes—$1 for knocking down eight 10-pins, $2 for knocking down ten pins, etc.

In the meanwhile, before they attempted any action, and while they still continued their investigations, they were informed, they stated Wednesday, that the game operator in question had announced that "provincial officers had assured him that his practice was quite all right and to give away whatever prizes he desired."

The county police resent this "interference," as they term it, providing that the same is correct, and declare that in the meanwhile they will pursue whatever attitude they feel is the proper one, despite the opinions so expressed.

They contend that "everything shall be conducted on the square at the park and that special privileges will be extended to none."

WILL MAKE BID FOR CIVIC HONORS

London Labor Party Want
Candidate in Every Ward.

Contrary to custom, interest in municipal affairs has not simmered down during the summer months. While the public utilities commission has deferred all regular sessions until September, school trustees as well as city councillors are still to be noticed "wrestling with weighty problems," and the quiet selection of candidates for the next municipal campaign merely lends zest to all proceedings.

While certain ones have been mentioned daily for the mayor's chair and aldermen, ex-aldermen and others are announcing themselves as probable aspirants for honors, a stir has also been noticed in labor's ranks, and preparations for a more extensive campaign than in any former year are proceeding.

Many labor representatives have already signified approval of a labor candidate for mayor, while a determined effort will be made next fall to have suitable candidates for aldermanic honors in every ward.

With an added branch, the London Labor Party executive is preparing for an intensive campaign for new members throughout the city.

POSTAL WORKERS STAGE STRENUOUS BALL GAME

Letter-Carriers Emerge Victorious
From Match With Office Employees.

The London Letter Carriers' baseball team, by strenuous efforts, managed to defeat a picked team from the district postal superintendent's office Wednesday night in a game of baseball, played with more or less observance of the Spalding Rules for 1922. Everyone who witnessed the game enjoyed it entirely. It was so different.

The score at the end of the game was 14 to 12, in favor of the letter carriers, in spite of the fact that A. S. Thompson, whose batting average this year is .999, hit a Babe Ruth bingle for seven bases, on behalf of the district superintendent's team.

Ernest Cassius Stevenson, as umpire, gave some close decisions, which found him favor even in the uttermost bleachers. It was big league ball all the way. It couldn't help but be a fast game. Look who played. Here they are. The lineups:

The Coal Situation.

UNLESS REPORTS are wrong, Canada will have a hard enough time in the coming winter to keep her coal bins full. There is not a large stock of coal in the yards of the dealers—many of them are at a fairly low point right now, and even those with the best standing find that they cannot replenish under existing circumstances.

The citizen who has money at his disposal, and who is always looking ahead, has had his coal bin attended to, and does not need to worry about his own affairs. Dealers should see to it that in future deliveries they do not pile to the roof cellars that already have a fair share of coal for the coming months.

The unfortunate part of a coal shortage is that it hits the houses where it is not possible, on account of financial reasons, to lay in coal in advance. There are always many places where coal has to be bought just about ton by ton as it is needed for actual use in the cold weather. This trade is not as profitable for the dealers as where they put fifteen or twenty tons in at one time and get their pay when the last load goes in, but to the credit of many of the dealers it must be said they have always tried to play fair with the small customer.

There is talk of a fuel commissioner for Canada this winter. His chief purpose would be to see that distribution was made evenly, and that there was as little suffering as possible. It is no use carrying on a propaganda that will unduly alarm the people, but it is a fact that the coal situation has already reached the stage in Canada where it can be called serious by even a conservative dealer. Several municipalities are already taking action to see what they can do in a collective way to protect their people.

Unfortunately, the coal strike in United States is a coal strike in Canada.

"Dog Days."

CHILDREN SHOULD be warned against the danger of patting or playing with strange dogs at this season of the year. Just where the phrase "dog days" got its origin we do not know, but probably from the reason that there are frequent mad dog scares in the summer months. Dogs are affected by the heat the same as humans. Even the family dog may snap at persons. Irritable dogs are not necessarily rabid, nor does every dog bite at this time result in hydrophobia. Dogs may be affected with rabies at any time of the year or in any climate. Regardless of whether an animal is "mad" or not, all injuries inflicted by dogs or cats should be considered as potentially dangerous until they are proved to be otherwise.

The disease known as hydrophobia in man and rabies in the lower animals is caused by a poisonous virus which is introduced into the system by the bite of a rabid animal. Children and dogs are almost inseparable, and for this reason children are the most often bitten, although there are cases where infection has come from a dog licking a wound or scratch on the face or hands of a child, and this infection has come from apparently harmless dogs.

When a child is bitten by a dog do not use home remedies, as they are for the most part useless. Such things as the use of iodine are no good for the bite of a dog. Get to a doctor and have the wound cauterized. Bites around the head or neck are the most dangerous, as the poison, if there is poison, will be carried more quickly to the brain by the large nerve trunks.

It is not wise to destroy a dog that bites a person, unless there are unmistakable evidences that the animal is mad. Catch it and keep it under observation. If the animal is well in ten days then there is no cause for worry.

If there is good reason to believe, though, that the animal is mad, there is only one thing to be done, and that is to get Pasteur treatment, which consists of a series of injections of a serum that has been specially prepared to combat the disease. Once the disease develops in a human being there is no known cure.

It is well to see that your dog has plenty of fresh water to drink in the summer months, and that he is not unduly aggravated or teased. Children should also let the strange dog alone at this time of the year.

Old Fashioned.

STRANGE WHAT staid old views we hold on questions of marriage in this land.

A musician appeared in Detroit court on a charge of living with a girl without the formality of marriage. He announced that "in his Bohemian set the ceremony of marriage was considered drab and ultra-conventional."

Another little matter he had to attend to was the securing of a divorce from his present wife in the state of Massachusetts. After he gets a divorce he will go ahead and marry the woman with whom he has been living. Rotten, that's all.

Old Age and Poverty.

WHAT IS to become of a poor man who grows old? The Toronto Star Weekly instanced the case of a man of 70 who is going to prison for a two-year term for an offence which he committed. "A poor finish for a long life," remarks the Star, but softens the thought with the suggestion that the aged prisoner's clothing and meals will be provided for the next two years, and suggests that he might even fare worse out of jail than in it.

Poverty and old age are a hard combination to meet. Of course, there are many whose poverty in old age is the result of their own nonsense. It is very easy to take a pencil and paper and figure out that a man had worked hard and saved a little each year, he could look after himself in old age, and perhaps have a little left over for his relatives to squabble about.

But in the majority of cases things don't work out as we put them down on paper. We have old men who have sacrificed their best years in long hours and days of hard work in order that the children might have a better chance than they ever had. The extent to which some children appreciate this sacrifice is shown by the fact that it was necessary to put a law on our statute books to force children to provide for the upkeep of dependent parents.

Then, again, industry does not look with favor upon old age. Competition is too keen in our present dollar-chasing age to hold back for the man who feels the touch of old age. In non-professional lines, especially where manual labor is concerned, the call is for the young and the active, for men who "can go the distance" and produce enough in a day to show a profit for the employer. Don't blame the employer in all cases. Many times he has no choice—competition drives him to demand results, and if the man, on account of his age cannot produce the necessary results, he must pass out and make way for a younger man who can.

Some of our larger industrial concerns recognize that they owe something to the men who have given to the company all they have in years of faithful service. Pension funds also help, some contribution being made by the workers in years of their earning power. Government annuities are also a blessing to many a man when he reaches the stage where the market for his depleted labor power is small and unremunerative.

Even so, with all these things, excellent as they are, in operation, we have scores of old men in every community, who, through no fault of their own, are approaching the sunset days of their lives with the prospect of hardship staring them in the face. Coupled with this is the positive knowledge that they are powerless to combat the situation, because their capacity to earn money is departed forever.

We have not devoted the thought or study to this problem that it deserves. Some of our legislation has been directed in this channel, but probably because we are a young nation we have not gone deep enough. The action we have taken has only provided a partial solution.

New Inspiration.

REV. W. W. CULP had a church in Spring Valley, Ohio. He also had a wife and nine children.

Culp also had a girl in the choir, 19 years old. He discovered one day that she was his affinity, or some such thing, and away they went. He claimed his wife failed to give him any inspiration for his work. He is drawing a new brand of inspiration in the workhouse at Dayton by personal contact with the stone pile.

LITTLE 'TISERS

A Port Stanley sage remarks that skinny girls are good swimmers because they stay in the water.

Canada may be an awful country, but there are many people over 80 in it who have never missed a meal.

The St. Thomas Times-Journal very wisely remarks: "They laugh at scars who never felt a wage cut."

Ever since fashion experts said nightshirts were back we have been looking for a hotel fire to see if it is true.

If it is true, as the Dominion astronomer asserts, that a hot summer means a cold winter, we wish they would settle the mine strike.

An Ottawa beekeeper says bees will not sting a man who does not swear. But how are the bees to know whether he swears or not until they do sting him?

When the summer gets so hot people don't want to be bothered cooking at home, they reckon it's about time to go off and camp on the neck of some of their relatives.

It is not until we face a coal famine that Canadians realize how slow we have been in following up research work in connection with our great natural resources. Sad, but true, that most nations must be kicked on the shins before they wake up.

There must be one grand mix-up some place, for after a long story appearing about the British Commons lifting the embargo on Canadian cattle, word comes that the necessary legislation is not liable to be passed, and that the vote was merely an expression of opinion invited by the government.

The annual squabble is on between some of the Toronto financial papers and the West as to whether or not there is going to be a good crop. When the threshing machine ticks off the bushels we'll know all about it, and all the crop summaries, surveys or estimates in the world won't affect the total to the extent of one good feed of oats.

The cook of an Australian ship had eight cases of Australian eggs on board. When the weather got very hot—some 102 in the shade—the laws of nature and the age of the eggs came into action, and live chickens began to take the place of the cook's eggs. That speaks well for Australian eggs—instead of going bad they come to life.

Complaint is made of the manner in which motor laws are enforced. No law is popular with a man who breaks it. There are times when it is perfectly safe to exceed speed limits, and there are times when it is exceedingly dangerous to approach them. A good dose of common sense for drivers and constables would be a mighty fine thing for all concerned.

PROF. STEPHEN LEACOCK of McGill has come in for some sharp criticism because he wrote an article in Colliers, in which he said: "The way to promote prosperity is to start going against the machinery of bold productive effort." The trouble is that when a man makes such a statement too many people want to know how the machinery is going to get started when there are so few people who want to buy the output. Grinding out high-sounding phrases at so much per column seldom opens the doors of many employment offices.

Lord Northcliffe, the most outstanding figure in British journalism, is a very sick man, undoubtedly, paying the price of a too strenuous existence. Men of the Northcliffe type find their chief satisfaction in accomplishment. He has earned his prominence by his own effort. During the war Northcliffe fought for efficiency, and turned his guns on government conduct in a most unsparring way. Men of the type of the owner of the London Times are needed today, and it will be a good day when word comes of his recovery.

JEST

The Truth.

"James have you whispered today without permission?"

"Only wunst."

"Leroy, should James have said wunst?"

"No; he should have said twice."

Relieved His Mind.

A traveler who believed himself to be the sole survivor of a shipwreck on a cannibal island hid for days in terror of his life. Dodging from pillar to post he ran into a clump of bushes from which a thin wisp of smoke was rising. His knees knocked together and he lost his breath. Just as he was gathering his remaining strength to flee a voice from the clump remarked: "Why the devil did you play that card?"

"The 'sole' survivor dropped to his knees and devoutly cried, 'Thank God, they are Christians!'"

Nothing Prepared.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

JULY 26, 1897.

Two rinks of Chatham will take part in the Western Ontario Bowling Association tournament, which opens here on Tuesday. The party includes: Rink No. 1—Thos. Lalley, George Slater, Capt. Swain, Dr. J. L. Bray (skip). Rink No. 2—Wilson Taylor, W. A. Thrasher, R. G. Fleming, John Sowerby (skip).

W. Henderson of Bright and Wm. Farrell of Woodstock pitched a game of quoits in the latter town Saturday afternoon for a medal and the championship of Oxford County. Henderson won by a score of 61 to 35.

The latest fish story around town is that Ald. Carrothers and Mr. Clinton, hotel proprietor at Putnam, went

Bill Blank Wins

A NEW rhymester appears in Ridgeway. No doubt impressed by the amount of bootlegging that is done in this section, he sees a chance for some candidate to make a big run off by having it whispered round that he is engaged in this business. And so the rhymester rhymes:

He was the biggest bum in town, and all the good folks they looked down on Bill, and thought it a disgrace to have him mentioned to their face. But Bill he didn't seem to mind, he only sauntered round, and kind of whistled to himself and law! he'd shout at everyone he saw. His hat, it had a little tilt as if his head were clunkerbult. He was a reckless, cheerful, merry bum, with only one good faithful chum; with ears close-cropped around the rim, his bulldog trailed along with him.

Now, when the nomination day came round, and all the names were on the list, 'twas found that Mister William Blank was candidate for office on the municipal slate. Then all the people laughed and shook their head, you'd be astonished at the things they said; Bill Blank for councillor, he'll never win, the very thought of him is just a sin. He'd no more show, according to their talk, than just a little hummingbird, but he'd a hawk. But Bill he didn't seem to mind, he only sauntered round and kind of whistled to himself and law! he'd come right up and shake your paw.

But while the other people laughed he made his plan. He said his platform was the workingman. He'd stand on that and never turn aside. Upon the workingman to victory he'd ride. He knew the game, he'd practiced it for years and more, the workingman for William Blank, he'd said. He'd had in leisure time all his life, together with the help of his dear wife. He talked in whispers to his wife and son, while all the low and calm and soft and smiling folk and called Bill Blank a parasite and fool, and said he was the plain, unvarnished sort of interests bad and worse and worst, that should be banished from the town and cursed. But he didn't seem to mind, he only sauntered round and kind of whistled to himself and law! he'd come right up and shake your paw.

Bill said the taxes there were far too high, and if elected he would more than try to run the business in a careful way, and save the people money every day. Oh, say the most folks laughed, much more and more to hear of Bill Blank calculating that cost of anything connected with that town, for nothing in the world was better known than "this fact so plainly undisguised" (an extract from a speech well advertised) that William Blank had never paid a cent, not one red copper cent, to ornament the balance sheet of that progressive place. Now, how he ever had the brass-bound face to mention taxes to the men who'd made that pretty town, "on firm foundation laid," was more than anyone could understand.

The weighty folks could see but one demand for William Blank upon the council board, and with this argument they thought they'd scored; of all the many candidates who'd face the starting post in that eventful race, these folks would give you this respectful hunch: "Bill Blank's the one to beat." The votes are in, instead of all the rush, splash, and roar of the town there is a solemn hush. For when the list appeared for folks to see, they found old Bill elected second man.

But Bill he didn't seem to mind, he only sauntered round and kind of whistled to himself and law! the folks began to shake his paw. O. O.

Warned Off.

"Why have I never married?" the old bachelor said in reply to a leading question. "Well, once upon a time in a crowd, I trod on a lady's gown. She turned furiously, beginning, 'You clumsy brute!'" Then she smiled, and said, 'Oh, I beg pardon! I thought you were my husband! No, it really doesn't matter in the least. And when I came to think it over, I decided that maybe I'd just as well let marriage alone.'"

A friendly game of ball was played Saturday afternoon between nine from The Advertiser and the London Printing and Lithographing Company. The latter won by 23 to 11. Batteries: Merritt and Short; Ferguson, Chambers and Wootton. Umpire—J. Prescott.

Mr. Thomas Beattie, M.P., has received a cablegram from Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., who is now in England, congratulating him on the result of the late election trial.

The London Wheelmen will hold their final run of the season to Windermere, Mr. D. S. Perrin's country residence, on Friday evening next.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

LET YOURSELF SWEAT

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

ON'T be afraid to sweat during hot weather. Nature intended you to, in order to regulate the temperature of your body and eliminate certain waste materials.

A man of average stature has about 16 square feet of skin with 2,301,248 sweat glands, each sweat gland coil when unraveled being 1-16 inch long, so that a man's sweat tubes placed end to end would measure two and one-third miles.

The chief purpose of sweating is to regulate the temperature of the body, though it also serves as a sub-sewerage system for the disposal of poisonous waste matter within the body which is not taken care of by the kidneys. When the sweat glands are not functioning properly, there is a greater strain on the kidneys, a rise in body temperature to a fever heat and less resistance to disease. Likewise, when the bowels are not working properly, the sweat glands are called upon to do overtime work, and sickness may result.

To keep the sweat glands working well take plenty of baths. Warm baths are especially good to keep the pores open and the sweat glands working. One must be careful, however, after warm baths, to avoid catching cold.

Light, loose clothing should be worn in hot weather so as to give the sweat glands full play in throwing off waste matter.

Drink a lot of water. In warm weather it is almost impossible to drink too much water. Ten or 12 glasses a day are not too many. The water should be cool but not iced, and some of it should be taken with the meals, though not to wash down half-chewed food.

NO. 276—SOMBERE COAT VS. FLASHY NECKTIE.

Today you will please assume, for the sake of an illustration of the value of characterology, that you are selling a certain make of high-priced automobile of superlative performance.

You have two "live" prospects. One of them, you have noticed, is a man who, though he dresses well and in good taste, wears rather sombre and conservative clothing. The other one patronizes a tailor with an eye for style, leans a bit to the extreme in the cut of his suits, and has a decided weakness for gorgeous silk shirts and flashy neckties.

Does this mean anything to you? Does it tell you the particular selling appeal you should make to each man? It ought to. The way these men select their raiment is simply the natural working out of their respective temperaments and inclinations.

What can the sombre clothing of the one indicate, except that he is one of those careful, prudent, modest souls? You won't get much response from appealing to his pride and vanity in the ownership of this very fine car. You'll touch him, however, when you give him to him what he needs—a good investment in it, how economical it is in the matter of repairs and upkeep, and also its ever ready dependability in emergencies.

It is he of the gorgeous attire whom you had better try to win. The scope of pride in the ownership of the kind of car you have to sell, and in its sporting performances. Isn't this common sense? All characterology, as a matter of fact, is common sense.

7% BOOKSHELF

By H. Tomlinson. London: Cassell, 7s 6d. New York: Alfred A. Knopf, $2.

WAITING FOR DAYLIGHT: By H. Tomlinson. London: Cassell, 7s 6d. New York: Alfred A. Knopf, $2.

Ever since "The Sea and the Jungle" came out, and at once vanished into obscurity, Mr. Tomlinson has been writing essays that take second place to none in these barren days.

There came that gorgeous splash of raw color, "Old Junk," and suddenly the public discovered Mr. Tomlinson. Presently "The Sea and the Jungle" made its reappearance, and all the critics who had been so backward as to ignore it in the first place had unexamined and excellent chance to retrieve their errors.

For Mr. Tomlinson is not an easy person to better. Set him with John Dos Passos on a corner of your library shelf, and you may go wander in the far corners of the earth, and see, through these kindly eyes, many matters you might have missed had you been left to your own inclination and imagination.

This time Mr. Tomlinson writes about the war, and he was actually in it, what he really thinks and believes may conceivably be of more importance than the meditations of greater statesmen and greater authors who did their meditating at a safe distance from gas shells and air raids.

There is a deep undercurrent of doubt in this book, a manifest discontent with the ways of war and its aftermath—but it hardly affects the excellence of the essayist's style. Each sketch, or essay, or whatever you please, is dated; the whole collection, taken together, forms a sort of diary of wartime. Some of the old timers got into the game and enjoyed it thoroughly. Blenheim won from Tilbury by a score of 5 to 4.

Chatham regiment baseball team was here in a county league fixture with the Blenheim team, Blenheim winning 7-6. The crowd kept on tip toe of excitement as the game had all the features of a good game, splendid pitching, good batting and snappy fielding with a few errors. The scoring was done in two innings by both teams when the pitchers seemed to weaken slightly and support failed to make up for the deficiency, while the batters got in their work with good results. Not until the last inning was over was the victory assured for Blenheim. Dutch Gray for Blenheim, held the visitors to six hits and struck out five, while Crosby for regiment, was hit for 13, but struck out eleven.

Dancing was held on the street at night. GENERAL MAISTRE DIES. PARIS, July 25.—General P. A. M. Maistre, who at the close of the war commanded a group of French armies, died today after an operation for appendicitis.

Its best example is in the first essay, "Ypres," where the battle is described by a bus driver in a manner which neither Mr. Kipling nor Mr. Beaman could duplicate. If you desire war here it is straight from the mouth of an unimaginative London cockney with no palliatives and no platitudes. Having read it, you will still further appreciate Mr. Tomlinson's acidity on Armistice Day, and his caustic comment on "Joy." But you will probably enjoy better his description of the soldier lazing away his summer up a Devon estuary, and his remarks upon "Literary Critics."

And there is a delicious chapter on "Figuresheads" that will make the impetuous tear off straightaway to the most accessible fishing village to see ships, spars and lean old salts again. The essay is Tomlinson all over; it is the original Tomlinson, one we feel we have been cheated out of half the book through. Another is on "Sailor Language," and there again Mr. Tomlinson is on good ground.

Give him blue water, decks that tilt and shudder, and a neckwork of stacks, spars and cordage somewhere above, and you have an essayist for whom you may hurl the majority of modern competitors into the dustbin. We feel as he does about bookworms, and would be glad to go with Mr. Tomlinson at any time to "watch the dim sea break into lilac around the Shutter Rock." Also, he maps merrily at Mr. Conrad Aiken, cheers on Carlyle, takes a pot shot at Ruskin. He prefers Mr. Garvice, whom most Canadians do not know, to Mr. Locke, who is in danger of becoming a household word due to his constant exposure on magazine stalls, and keeps his preferences so sensitive and so amusing that they remain perfectly good reading, done into perfectly good style.

In fact, there are, once and again, examples of prose as delightful and as melodious as that of "Old Junk," to sea still further into antiquity. "The Sea and the Jungle" itself. Mr. Tomlinson herein visits, no exotic lands; his travels are on English coastlands and in Flanders, the colors he mixes are drabber and grayer, his very style holds tint and gray of wartime. Yet for all that, "Waiting for Daylight" is not a book to be missed, nor yet to be lightly passed over.

Special to London Advertiser.

BLENHEIM, July 25.—Tuesday, the second day of the old boys' and girls' reunion was a great success. The old boys and girls were still coming and still the happy handshaking went on, and shouts of welcome were heard on every side. Thousands thronged the streets this morning and witnessed one of the best parades ever staged in Western Ontario.

The procession was a mile in length, and consisted of autos with the members of the town council, Harwich council and Kent County council and officials. Kent County had three of their large trucks in the procession. The floats, Calithumpians, clowns, decorated autos claimed the highest admiration of the throngs that lined the streets.

EXPECT CATTLE EMBARGO BILL WILL TRIUMPH

Passage of Resolution in British Commons Paves Way For Autumn Victory.

DRURY PRAISES DOHERTY

LONDON, July 25.—(By Canadian Press Cable).—The passing of the embargo resolution last night in the House of Commons was nothing more than an expression of opinion favoring the introduction of legislation to repeal the act of 1896, which prevents the importation of store cattle from several countries besides Canada.

Any new act would have to state that Canada was especially exempted from these provisions unless the government decided to go the whole way and repeal the old act entirely.

Even if the government decides to proceed with a new act such an act cannot possibly be passed before the autumn session, probably early in December. The position, meanwhile, is exactly as before.

The Canadian Press learned tonight from an authoritative source that a bill will be introduced by the government at the autumn session.

The present bill program does not permit the introduction of any additional measures before adjournment on Aug. 4.

QUEEN'S PARK HAPPY. TORONTO, July 25.—The vote in the British House of Commons yesterday in favor of the removal of the Canadian cattle embargo has afforded immense satisfaction at Queen's Park.

No small amount of credit is ascribed to Hon. Manning Doherty, the Ontario minister of agriculture, who inaugurated an educational campaign in Britain which has proved effective so far.

In view of the favorable vote in the Commons on the resolution it is considered a certainty that the necessary legislation will be passed at the autumn session to wipe off the statute books the act of 1896, which put the embargo into effect.

The debate in the House of Lords recently is also said to be gratifying from a Canadian standpoint. "I regard the vote in favor of the lifting of the cattle embargo as the direct result of the campaign of education begun in England by Mr. Doherty in 1920, and carried on in 1921," declared Premier Drury tonight. "It is not the action of the British government nor the result of representations made to it through the usual official channels, but the expression of the people of Great Britain finding voice through their members of parliament. The course of the cattle embargo debate justifies the action taken by Mr. Doherty by bringing the matter not before British officialdom, but before the great British people. I am wonderfully pleased with the vote of the people's representatives."

People's Victory. Hon. Manning Doherty describes the vote in the Commons as "a great triumph for the British people over the manipulations of a very circumstance."

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that makes too much alkali, for this is very injurious to the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain Mulford's coconut oil shampoo. It is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulford's at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulford's in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure you get Mulford's. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package—Adv.

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting, and I had been that way for weeks. I saw an advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."—Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women. Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous, run down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of trouble.

Liner's Masts Hit Power Cables Near Montreal, Halting Industry

MONTREAL, July 25.—Industrial districts on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, including such important centers as Asbestos, Theford Mines and Nicolet, have been deprived of power and light as a result of the masts of the Cunard Liner Tyrrenia bringing down four of the six big cables of the Shawinigan Water & Power Company which cross the St. Lawrence at Banlieu, about a mile and a half below Three Rivers.

No loss of life was reported, and the liner proceeded up the river to Bell Mouth, 25 miles below Montreal, where she anchored.

The Tyrrenia was coming up the river to Montreal when, working her way up the channel, her masts brought down the first two cables of the series of six, passed under the next two in safety and brought down the remaining two. The cables snapped sharply and the ends fell, but escaped the liner.

Each cable carried 50,000 volts. The peculiar part about the accident is the fact that on her last trip up the river the Tyrrenia passed under the cables easily.

The Cunard is commanded by Captain F. G. Brown, one of the best-known Atlantic skippers who at one time was master of the Caronia. The Tyrrenia is one of the largest ships coming to Montreal.

The statement of the provincial minister of agriculture was as follows:

"I rejoice with the Canadian people that the British House of Commons by a very substantial majority has shown itself to be in favor of lifting the embargo which has persisted for 30 years against Canadian cattle entering the markets of Great Britain except for immediate slaughter. This embargo was originally imposed on grounds which were never substantiated and has persisted down through the intervening years because of the fact that the great mass of British people were uninformed of the true facts. Of my own efforts I have only to say that I have simply done my duty as minister of agriculture of the great livestock province of Ontario. When I was in England in 1920, I found that this question had been completely side-tracked and in spite of the fact that we believed that a pledge had been given in 1917 for the lifting of the embargo, Canada was very little nearer to obtaining the desired result than she was twenty years ago."

Official Channels Ineffective. "Investigation drove me to the conclusion that the Canadian government, not only never could succeed in having the embargo lifted, but also that any pressure exercised by the federal government of Canada was of little effect. I concluded that the British people alone could bring sufficient pressure to cause the government of Great Britain to change its attitude. I discussed the matter fully with members of the British government and they confirmed my opinion. I then inaugurated a campaign of publicity throughout Great Britain, believing that if the British consumers fully and correctly understood this question that they would demand the removal of the embargo."

"The vote of the British House of Commons yesterday is a great triumph for the British people over the manipulations of a very circumstance. Now that it is apparently assured that the embargo will be lifted, my first thought is, not to expose those in authority in Canada who did everything they could to block me in my campaign, but rather to give credit to those in England who so materially assisted. We all owe a deep debt of gratitude to Lord Beaverbrook. When I had convinced him of the justice of our cause and after I had shown him that the removal of the embargo would increase imperial trade and strengthen imperial connections, he threw himself into the fight with all his power and with all his amazing resourcefulness."

"The livestock farmers of Canada certainly are in need of extended markets. Canadian agriculture as a whole will be much benefited by anything that brings increased prosperity to our livestock industry. I cannot deny experiencing the glow of satisfaction which comes to any red-blooded man when success comes to an effort of which he has been an active factor. The livestock industry of Great Britain will not suffer as a consequence, and I hope increased prosperity and stability comes to the Canadian livestock industry when the embargo is finally lifted."

PROMINENT WAR WORKER PASSES WHILE PRAYING

Mrs. Beckles Willson Dies During Service in London Church.

LONDON, England, July 25.—Mrs. Ethel Beckles Willson, an Ontario woman and wife of Lieut.-Col. Beckles Willson, died with tragic suddenness while at prayer at Mitchell Church yesterday morning. She was 50 years of age.

Mrs. Willson had hurried to church with her son, and was kneeling for opening prayer when she collapsed. She died before the service had ended.

Col. Willson, as an officer of the Canadian corps, was associated during the war with Lord Beaverbrook in the ministry of information, and later as official collector of Canadian war mementoes. Subsequently he became the town mayor of Ypres.

Mrs. Willson assisted during the war to found the famous Paris canteen, popularly termed "Corner of Blighty." Recently she was prominently connected with the Ypres League movement, and was about to accompany the Earl of Ypres to Ypres.

EXPECT EARLY RAIL DECISION

St. Thomas Circles Think Conciliation Board Will Have Brief Session.

Look For Compromise Between Michigan Central Employees and Company.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, July 25.—It is not expected that the conciliation board, which will commence sittings here next week to look into the justice of wage cuts in the railroad shops here, will take more than a day or so to make a finding, because the feeling is confident among those interested that a compromise will be reached between the Michigan Central and the men, within the next few days.

Many of the men believe that the railroads will be returned to government control in the United States, and claim that they should never have been placed in the hands of the owners after the war.

That the United States railways are making every effort to avert a tie-up of their industry by the striking shopmen is evidenced in the fact that Wabash train No. 3 passed through here about two hours late Tuesday afternoon, carrying three extra coaches of strike-breakers.

They are being rushed to western points where they will be asked to do the rough work, which does not require long experience.

The department of labor has granted the request of the Pere Marquette clerks for a conciliation board, following a recent wage cut, and the clerks have chosen Charles McLurg, a barrister of this city as their representative. It was announced Tuesday.

The company is expected to indicate its choice for the board in a few days.

WIDELY-KNOWN SARNIA LUMBER MERCHANT DIES

William Frederick Lawrence Succumbs To Heart Trouble in 71st Year.

Special to London Advertiser. SARNIA, July 25.—The death occurred at noon today of William Frederick Lawrence, aged 70 years and 4 months, following an illness of five months, heart trouble being the cause of death.

Mr. Lawrence was one of the best-known and most highly-respected citizens of Sarnia, having resided here for 30 years, during which time he had been prominently identified with the lumber business with the Lawrence Lumber Company, formerly Jacob Lawrence & Sons, and then W. F. Lawrence & Sons.

Born in Toronto, Mr. Lawrence came to Sarnia 30 years ago, and was widely known as a business man throughout Ontario and in lumber circles in many parts of the continent. He retired from active connection with the business in 1911, and his son, Edward Lawrence, is now the head of the concern.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Edward of Sarnia, and C. Wilbur of Toronto.

Mrs. Mary E. Bowen of Sarnia is a sister, also Mrs. William Ritchie of Saskatchewan, Mrs. C. Roehm of Algonquin, and Mrs. Edward Kelly of Winnipeg. The funeral, which will be private, will take place Thursday afternoon from the residence, 127 Christine street south, to Lakeview Cemetery.

FARMERS AT MITCHELL REPORT HEAVY HAY CROP

MITCHELL, July 25.—Haying in this district for this season has been finished and a number of farmers claim that they have taken off the heaviest crop of hay of all the years that they have been farming.

The fall wheat, which is a bumper crop, has nearly all been harvested, and the yield from some fields will be more than 35 bushels to the acre. Oats, which are very heavy, will not be ready to cut until another week and a half. Everything grown on the farm or in the garden this summer is excellent. In fact it is many years since there were crops as good as this season's.

NIAGARA CHIEF PASSES. ST. CATHARINES, July 25.—E. H. Sheppard, police magistrate at Niagara-on-the-Lake for ten years, died this morning at his home in that town after a few weeks' illness.

He was president of the Lincoln County Conservative Association for several years. He was born 70 years ago in Sussex, England.

Bandits Baffle Police in Coniston Hold-Up.

SUDBURY, July 25.—The police have absolutely no clue in connection with the daylight hold-up at Coniston, when bandits secured $3,600 of the Mond Nickel Company's payroll, while it was being taken from the Bank of Commerce to the plant.

The bandits were attired in overalls, and wore masks, but further than this the men in charge of the money were unable to state. The country is being fine-combed, but police have little to work on.

A dozen or more suspects have been picked up, examined and released. It looks like a clean getaway. Company and bank officials are, however, congratulating themselves on the fact that the robbers overlooked a package containing $25,000.

MAY VOTE TO FILL COUNCIL VACANCY

Brantford Citizens Mourn Death of Alderman John Robertson.

Special to London Advertiser. BRANTFORD, July 25.—Ald. John Robertson's death left a vacant seat in the city council and some conjecture has been made whether or not a by-election will be necessitated.

Mavor Parker stated, when asked regarding the subject, that it was not yet known if a by-election will be necessary. He expressed the hope that another election might be avoided on account of the expenditure involved.

"An election would cause a great deal of expense," he said, "and if it is at all possible we will not hold one. The city council has adjourned until September and it hardly seems plausible that an election would be necessary for a term of three months. On the other hand, an election might be necessary from a legal standpoint, but the city solicitor will look after this matter fully in the course of a few days."

"We are extremely sorry to lose Ald. Robertson from our council circles. He was a very capable representative of ward 5, and always had the interests of the municipality and his ward at heart."

PROTESTS BOMBING OF HOTTENTOTS IN AFRICA

Col. J. C. Wedgewood Draws Attention of British House to Attack on Natives.

LONDON, Eng. July 25.—(Canadian Press Cable).—In the House of Commons today Colonel J. C. Wedgewood (Labor) drew attention to the proceedings in the mandated area of southwest Africa, including the bombing of Hottentot villages containing women and children by an aeroplane dropping from a low altitude no fewer than forty bombs and spraying with 2,000 rounds of ammunition, a party of 500 Hottentots involving heavy loss of life.

Colonel Wedgewood asked whether the government proposed to take any steps to stop these proceedings. Right Hon. Winston Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, replied that he was aware that the administration of southwest Africa found it necessary to take military action against one of the native tribes. He pointed out that the mandate for southwest Africa was held by the South African Union Government, who was responsible to the League of Nations.

Summoned To Court For Alleged Violation of Brantford Bylaw.

Special to London Advertiser. WOODSTOCK, July 25.—The police commission recently passed a bylaw governing the operation of the motor busses in competition with the street railway, and today the first step to enforce the law was taken when three charges were laid against operators of the busses for contravention of the bylaw question.

The bylaw was passed some time ago, following a request from the city council that the busses be called upon to pay a tax similar to that paid by the street railway in taxes in its franchise.

This amounts in all to $800 per year, so the police commission passed a bylaw requiring the busses to pay an equal amount without making any provision that it must be paid in installments covering the year.

MULES ENJOY PASTURE WHEN MINES ARE CLOSED

Brantford Alderman on Trip Sees 847 Animals in One Field.

Special to London Advertiser. BRANTFORD, July 25.—Ald. J. H. Minshall, who has just returned from a ten days' motor trip through Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, states that his trip took him through some of the districts which are in the throes of the coal strike. From all appearances the strikes will not be settled for some time to come. He draws this conclusion from the fact that most of the mines are shut completely down and are making no attempt to operate.

"Some of the mines have closed their doors altogether," stated Ald. Minshall, "and I think the strike will be of long duration. I witnessed one great sight in the region of Wilkesbarre and Scranton, where the mines are shut down. I saw 847 mules, taken from the mines, in one field."

When Zorn drove up in a station jitney he gave no sign of ever having seen Miles before, but an hour later when he took his leave he slipped a note into the hand of the other.

The note was terse and to the point.

"Mrs. James Solum removed furnishings from Gotham Storage Warehouse to Edgecombe Road, Brookside, New Jersey, last Friday. Will take care of bill of lading tomorrow."

So that chance shot had hit the mark.

Miles looked up the house and then made his way to Scottie's room.

"Rip and I have been very busy this afternoon," began Scottie as Miles took a seat.

"So Rip has been up to something?"

Is that what you had in mind to tell me, Scottie?"

"It is, and I have had an exciting time. I'm a matter of twenty dollars poorer for it which I shall charge to the expense account and Rip is nursing a scratch on the shoulder."

Scottie closed his right hand and looked at it thoughtfully and his companion observed for the first time that the knuckles were reddened and a trifle swollen.

"Was a nasty minute and a close shave for him?"

"You've been in a scrap?" Miles exclaimed.

"You were not attacked—"

"No. It was me did the attacking."

You see, Owen had, I took a look at that cottage in the woods where our friend Roger had his laboratory long ago. I caught a glimpse of a clearing just ahead with a blackened chimney sticking up, and heard the sound of a number of voices in dispute. Among them I recognized Rip and he was playing frightened. I hurried forward and saw Rip and a fellow who towered half a head taller than he, shaking something under his nose.

"You done pass dis phony money on me yesterday when I faked you?" he was fair shouting, and he added a curse that no accorded with the Sabbath.

"You are real goods or I'll cyarve your heart out!"

"I could see Rip's face and it was as nearly white as it ever will be."

"Your lies don't go with me, Rip. Lunt! These boys all see you gimme dis bill yesterday and it was the oldest twenty dollar one in de game! Ain't dat right, boys?"

"The rest of them were getting excited and threatening and Rip commenced to whine and blubber when all of a sudden the big fellow went wild and then things happened quick. He crumpled the bill and threw it in Rip's face and that was where I took a hand in the game. I reached that big buck just as his knife streaked down across Rip's shoulder and caught him on the point of the jaw that put him out for the count!"

Scottie glanced down once more affectionately at his clenched fist.

"Rip was loud in his gratitude but out of the tail of my eye I saw him hunt for that bill and then turn to sneak away and I laid hold of him by the collar to wait till the lout who had accused him woke up."

"So Andrew had not consciously noted that momentary encounter?"

"What is it, sir? Oh, is Mr. Roger ill? Can I be of any assistance?"

"Yes. Help me carry him to his room and then get my sister. No need to call a doctor; he's had these attacks before and I know how to bring him around."

He placed his strong arms about the shoulders of the unconscious man and Miles supported the knees while Hitty ran ahead to open the door. Between them they got Roger Drake into his room and upon the bed where he lay breathing stertorously.

Miles slipped out into the garden where he found Scottie at work among the rose bushes.

"What is it, lad?" The latter straightened. "Has something come off at last?"

"Something that has all but taken me off my feet, Scottie! It may be a waiting game for a few days more but there's daylight ahead!—Got a pencil?"

He pulled a notebook from his pocket and, tearing out a page, he scribbled hastily upon it while his colleague waited in silence.

"There! I don't care what excuse you make afterward but get down to the telegraph office at the station as fast as you can and send this wire off to the chief, tell him to send one of the boys down here with the reply the instant it comes, no matter what the hour."

CHAPTER XIII

It was nearly lunch-time the next day when Miles' glance fell upon the door-plate of a room at the end of the hall, a room which he had remained locked since his arrival and which he had once heard Carter refer to casually as 'Mr. Roger's store-room.' He had polished that door-plate only Saturday morning, but now there seemed something odd about its appearance and the detective bent closer.

The brass about the keyhole was dulled save where a tiny, jagged scratch or two glistened and there were traces upon it of a congealed, greasy substance at sight of which Miles drew a quick, involuntary breath.

Wax! Someone within the last two days had taken an impression of that keyhole, someone who was too careless or in too great haste to remove the evidence of the act. What could Roger have stored there which would be of such interest to anybody but himself?

Lunchtime was over when the detective heard the telephone ring again and with a muttered excuse he hastened toward the library, but the sound of Roger's voice in reply arrested him before he reached the threshold.

"Yes? . . . This is Roger Drake" speaking . . . What is that?" The receiver fell with a clatter to the desk but it was evident that Roger had retrieved it for in a moment his voice came again, shrill with something very like terror.

"Who are you? . . . You must be mad! . . . My brother?" There was a long pause and then the one word: "Never!"

It ended in a strangled gasp, a chair creaked heavily and then a muffled sob reached the listener's ears. He peered in cautiously between the curtains to behold the scientist sprawled limply in a chair, his arms outflung across the desk and his white head pillowed upon them while the thin shoulders shook spasmodically.

Carter's quizzical summons from the dining-room recalled Miles hurriedly. When next he entered the library he found it empty.

Dusk was settling down and nothing untoward had occurred to break the brooding stillness of the house when all at once a woman's shriek rang out. The detective rushed from his room and down the stairs but just as he reached the floor below another door was flung wide in his face and a man dashed out, almost colliding with him.

Miles halted for an instant, taken aback by sheer surprise for the opened door was that of Roger's store room and at the man who had emerged was Andrew! He was without coat or waistcoat, his sleeves rolled back and his shirt and collar grimy with dust, a smudge of which lay across his cheek giving a grotesque twisted expression to his features.

"What's happened?" he roared. "Stop that yowling, Hitty, and stand aside!"

Miles became aware that a thin, reedy wail had succeeded the shriek and shaking off the spell which had held him transfixed he hastened down the hall.

At the head of the main staircase the maid was kneeling before a re-cumbent form wringing her hands and sobbing hysterically, but Andrew seized her arm and thrust her violently aside.

"Roger, old man!—Here, pull yourself together, Hitty, and call Carter or William!"

"STOP THAT YOWLING, HITTY, AND STAND ASIDE!"

So Andrew had not consciously noted that momentary encounter? The detective stepped forward.

"What is it, sir? Oh, is Mr. Roger ill? Can I be of any assistance?"

"Yes. Help me carry him to his room and then get my sister. No need to call a doctor; he's had these attacks before and I know how to bring him around."

Here Are Three Garments For Early School Days

DING! DONG! School bell! It won't be long before lessons begin again—there will be compensations in the way of new clothes.

To say clothes are practical may seem a trifle, but hardly to the young woman herself.

However, she won't object to durability when it is found in such a dashing garment as the cape sketched.

In heavy woolen plaid for cold weather, or in light material for early fall, bound with silk braid and with long ties to fasten under one's chin.

The middie dress is of the bloomers variety, with a skirt that buttons to the blouse and need not be worn at gymnasium or when one is hiking.

The one-piece undersuit is typical of the newest underwear for girls—at what hour of the day or night! We'll be ready then to stand out in the open and declare ourselves!

Scottie read the message slowly and then lifted amazed eyes to the other's face.

"Man, but we've been blind!" he exclaimed. "You say that there's daylight ahead. I'm thinking that for some in yonder house it may be a red and fearsome dawn!"

After dispatching Scottie to the village to transmit his wire, Miles re-entered the house and ascended to the second floor. The door of Roger's store room did not yield when he turned the knob.

As he started down the hall Miss Drake appeared.

"We shall not need you, William," she announced. "My brother is subject to these heart attacks and he is quite all right now, but, of course, he will not come down to dinner."

An hour passed and Hobart Drake returned from the city. Miles could scarcely restrain his impatience as he helped Carter to serve dinner, but the occasional glimpses he stole at the financier's face told him nothing.

It was inscrutable and when the telephone rang he rose with calm deliberation.

"That was Zorn," he announced on his return. "He assured me that he was making definite progress."

His tone had lacked conviction, and Andrew glanced up with a sneer.

"Sounds good but doesn't mean anything," he commented. "Isn't that what the police always give out to the newspapers when they're stumped?"

I SOON got well, finished my work and got a vacation.

Daddy took me to New York. We went to a big hotel. I printed my name in a big book on the counter.

I was sorry that ma hadn't come with us. She would have been happy let me use his big red auto whenever I wanted it.

But the best pals I had were the bell-boys at the hotel. They made me mascot of their ball team. I hope they beat all the time.

Babe Ruth is another good friend of mine. I saw him knock his first homer of the season. When I was sick he gave me the bat. I kept it in bed with me all the time.

And soon became well.

I met Mr. Hyman, the mayor. We had our pictures taken by more than 50 cameras and "stills."

The movie men kept telling us to talk. The other photographers kept telling us to keep still. Some fun!

I was invited to a lot of places. I didn't go to all, but I remember the Author's banquet. Daddy took me there. I sat next to a man named Rex Beach.

He put me on his shoulders and introduced me all around.

I asked him what they all did for a living.

He said that a few of them wrote books, but that most of them spent most of their time talking about books that they were going to write.

He asked me why I didn't write. It was so easy.

I guess it is—

Is Chirk Chipmunk Ill? Dr. Snuffles Must Find Out

(By Olive Roberts Barton.)

ONE day Mr. Tingaling, the fairymen landlord, went to call on Snuffles, the fairymen doctor.

Nancy and Nick had helped Mr. Tingaling, knowing the twins were helping Dr. Snuffles, decided to go and see all three of them.

After they'd talked about the weather and everything like that, fat old Tingaling took his rent list out of his pocket and tapped it.

"I've come on a little business," said he.

"Isn't my rent paid?" asked Dr. Snuffles anxiously. I thought I sent you a check."

"Oh, yes, yes! Yes, indeed!" said Mr. Tingaling. "It's about another matter. In plain words, I came to find out about Chirk Chipmunk's health."

"Chirk Chipmunk! Why, what's wrong with him?" asked Nancy in surprise. "I saw him this very morning running a race with Scramble Squirrel, and Chirk won."

"M. him! So that's it, is it?" nodded Tingaling wisely. "I thought the rascal was fooling me and now I know it."

"He said that his house of stones was so damp he was sick all the time with rheumatism and pneumonia and he couldn't pay me any more rent until either the house was dryer or he was spryer."

"I just thought I'd ask. That Chirk is a cute one and you've got to get up early in the morning to get ahead of him."

"What do you s'pose I can do, doctor?" The Fairy Queen expects me to collect her rents and I'll have to get it some way."

"I tell you what I'll do," said Dr. Snuffles. "I'll go to see Chirk at once, then I can let you know if Chirk is really and truly sick."

EXPLAINS PACT WITH RUSSIANS

Hon. J. A. Robb Sails For England To Meet New Commissioner.

Advices Canadian Exporters To Secure Payments in Advance.

QUEBEC, July 25.—(Canadian Press).—Before taking passage for England on the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Scotland today, Hon. J. A. Robb, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, said that his mission to England was partly to meet the newly appointed trade commissioner for Canada, to Russia, and to decide where the commissioner will take up his official quarters in that country.

Mr. Robb said: "The Canadian government has entered into an agreement with the Russian Soviet government similar to the business treaty which has been established between England and the Soviet government."

"In this connection it must be understood that the pact is only for the interchange of trade between this country and Russia. In the meantime the Canadian government will not guarantee payment on the goods sold by Canadian exporters in Russia. They will have to collect their own bills, and it would advise them to secure payment in advance."

"The Soviets have been made aware of this, and are prepared to meet here with an audience that they will bring to Canada, the gold required for all their purchases."

ASKS AUDIENCE TO BEG FOR REPRIEVE

Wife of Canada's Solicitor-General Pleads For Slayers of B. C. Businessman.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 25.—"Moses was a murderer, St. Paul helped to stone the prophets. Yet these men preached the word of God."

Taking the leader of the Israelites and the apostle to the gentiles as her examples, Mrs. D. D. McKenzie, wife of the solicitor-general of Canada, pleaded here with an audience that packed the O'Brien Hall, to pray as the fathers and mothers of Canada's boys and girls that the slayers of William Salisbury, junior, prominent local businessman, be reprieved.

Alan Robinson and Alex. Paulson will hang for the crime on Friday if sentence is not commuted.

"Robinson is not afraid to die," declared Mrs. McKenzie, the intensity of whose emotion as she spoke hardly above a whisper, brought tears to the eyes of the whole gathering. "But surely this young life will not be cast away."

Cured by Faith.

Mrs. McKenzie was speaking at the meeting of Dr. Ian Gordon Lake, faith healer, who earlier in the meeting produced a crutch which he said belonged to a lad whom he had healed by prayer that afternoon.

Mrs. McKenzie, herself apparently in the enthusiasm of the meetings, in the morning, afternoon and evening, told of being cured of a deadly illness by an Anglican faith healer in Ottawa some years ago.

As Mrs. McKenzie began she could scarcely be heard, but as she continued, a stillness took hold of the meeting so that every syllable reached through the hall.

She told of a visit to young Robinson, only 21 years of age, behind the prison bars, of his story to her of repentance, of his request that she buy something that his brothers could wear that would forever keep them from sin and remind them of his death. She spoke also of his desire that she should visit his mother in Nova Scotia and comfort her with the news that he was not afraid to die.

DIES TRYING TO FREE HIS BOUND HANDS IN RIVER

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Two men were in jail here today in connection with the drowning of William G. Gilhies, who died while attempting to free himself under water from things which bound his hands and feet.

Two companions to whom he had boasted of his ability to escape from his knotted cords, tied Gilhies at his request, police say, and dropped him into the river. He rose to the surface, screaming, and attracted nearby bathers. They were too late to rescue him.

POLICE SEIZE DRUGS.

MONTREAL, July 25.—Over $8,000 worth of narcotic drugs were seized today in the basement of an apartment house on Jeanne Mance street by officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. One man was put under arrest.

LABOR MEMBER DIES.

LONDON, Eng., July 25.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The death is announced of George Thorne, Labor member of parliament for Wolverhampton East.

Seek 41,000 Harvesters For Prairie Crops.

WINNIPEG, July 25.—Forty-one thousand harvesters will be required to handle the prairie crops this year, exclusive of those to be obtained from prairie cities and towns, it was announced today following a meeting of representatives of the railways, western labor commissioners and the grain trade interests.

The rate of wages discussed was $3.50 a day for harvesters, and $4 a day for threshers.

The harvester excursions will commence to arrive in Winnipeg from Eastern Canada Aug. 7, and will continue until Aug. 25. Excursion trains will leave Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster from Aug. 14 to 29 inclusive.

Of the total number of men required, 37,000 will be drawn from Eastern Canada, and 4,000 from British Columbia.

BOTTOMLEY MAY PLEAD CASE BEFORE COMMONS

LONDON, England, July 25.—The House of Commons today accepted a resolution presented by Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, which instructs the governor of Wormwood Scrub Prison to bring Horatio Bottomley, who is now serving a prison sentence for fraud, in custody to the house on Tuesday, if prisoner so desires.

The regulations of the House of Commons provided that a member has a right to defend himself in person against expulsion proceedings, which have already been instituted against Bottomley.

The city engineer informed the jury that since the accident the tankery had been requested to clean out the septic tank, from which it is believed the gas was emanating. The tankery authorities informed the jury that it had not been customary to clean out the tank at this time of year, owing to the offensive odors that result from the process.

The rider will be passed on to the city council, with a view to obtaining prompt action in the way of an investigation of the source of the gas.

BRITISH TRADES UNION ACT TO BE AMENDED SOON

New Bill Would Limit Contributions For Political Purposes.

AWAITS THIRD READING

Expect Laborites to Nominate Many Candidates For Election.

London, July 26.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Before the end of the week the government will probably announce its intentions regarding the bill to amend the trades union act of 1913, which has just passed the committee stage. Fifteen years ago a celebrated judgment declared the diversion of trades union funds for political purposes to be illegal. The trade unionists, of course, were at that time deeply involved in politics, and the situation arising as a result of the judgment was almost impossible. In an effort to effect a compromise, the act of 1913 enjoined that the unionists must raise money for political purposes by a special levy. It provided that a member of the union could decline to pay the levy without penalty to himself or without forfeiting any of the benefits of the union.

However, after the passage of the bill, most of the members continued to pay both the ordinary fees and the levy for political purposes. The bill now before the house would limit the obligation of contributing for political purposes to those members who in writing definitely signify their willingness to do so. The bill now awaits third reading, for which the government must provide facilities. Right Hon. J. Austen Chamberlain yesterday received a deputation urging that the facilities be provided. He merely promised to consult the cabinet.

At the next elections, the Laborites expect to place a larger number of candidates in the field than ever.

Ladies' Aid of Hyde Park Methodist Church Gives Splendid Garden Party.

Special to London Advertiser.
 HYDE PARK, July 25.—Chinese lanterns strung from trees and in the booths, gave the grounds at the home of Mr. and Mrs. West, a gay appearance Wednesday evening, when the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held their annual raspberry garden party.

A large crowd thoroughly enjoyed raspberries, ice cream and cake which was served from 6 to 8, after which a program of more than usual merit was introduced by the chairman, Rev. Mr. Creasy, pastor of the church.

It included pleasing solos by the Misses Helen Walton and Pearl Poole, both of London; readings by Miss Mae Winter, of Hyde Park; violin selections by Mr. Malcolm, and a brief talk by Rev. J. MacKillop, B.A.

The London West Orchestra favored the audience with many lively selections that were enjoyed by old and young.

DIES SUDDENLY AFTER WORK ALL DAY ON FARM

Ralph McIntyre of Cashmere Taken Ill After Putting Team Away For Night.

Special to London Advertiser.
 WARDVILLE, July 25.—Ralph McIntyre, only son of John McIntyre, who lives on the banks of the River Thames at Cashmere, died suddenly Saturday evening.

Mr. McIntyre had worked that day and put his team away at night. After supper he was taken suddenly ill and passed away before the physician arrived.

He had been in poor health for some time, but his death was unexpected.

He leaves his father and mother and two sisters, Mrs. Dr. McCaughy and Miss Minnie, both of Detroit.

Until his health failed he was prominent in musical circles.

Mr. Harding of Wilkesport called at the parsonage last week.

The union services of the young people, held in the Methodist Church last evening, were largely attended. Splendid music was furnished by the choir. Mr. T. Thompson led. Rev. Mr. Bridgett gave the address. "The Minimum of Christian Knowledge Necessary," being the subject.

The annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday School will be held at Port Glasgow on Wednesday, July 26.

Mrs. Graham and daughter of Toronto are visiting at the rectory.

Misses Frances and Violet Murphy are holidaying in Detroit with the Misses Martyn.

THOMAS TO LEAD THEATRE HEADS

New York, July 26.—Augustus Thomas, dean of American playwrights, has been appointed executive chairman of the Producing Managers' Association, a post corresponding in the theatre to that of Will Hays in moving pictures and of former Judge Landis in organized baseball.

The association which Mr. Thomas heads comprises a membership of 53 producing managers, and its influence extends throughout the United States. It is understood that the place carried with it the responsibility of actual arbiters of all matters of policy pertaining to the production of plays in the United States.

At the next elections, the Laborites expect to place a larger number of candidates in the field than ever.

IDEA OF C. OF C. STIRS INTEREST

London Body's Suggestion To Be Acted On By Government Committee.

Publicity To Be Given To Ontario Section of Trans-continental Road.

London Chamber of Commerce's suggestion to the committee of the Ontario Legislature on hotels and tourist accommodation, which visited London a short time ago, that publicity be given to the Ontario section of the Theodore Roosevelt highway, is being keenly taken up by the committee.

The suggestion offered was the affiliation of the Theodore Roosevelt Highway Association, with headquarters at Duluth. The Roosevelt highway is a transcontinental one, extending from Portland, Maine, to Niagara Falls, and passing through London, for the major part of the way in Canada. It corresponds with the provincial highways.

W. A. Lane, secretary of the Ontario Legislature hotels and tourist committee, has written to the chamber an appointment for him with W. A. Lane, of the Roosevelt Highway Association. This is being done.

Mr. Tracy writes that the highway has the unqualified approval and endorsement of the Canadian Automobile Association, has written to Russell Kelly, convener of the Ontario Provincial Highway Association, an appointment for him with W. of Production.SASKATOON, Sask., July 25.—A new farmers' movement, aimed at placing farming on a business basis, is presented by the first convention in camera of the Farmers' Union of Canada, which opened here this morning.The basis of the movement, as far as can be gathered from the information that has leaked out, is to place farmers in such a position that they will receive remuneration for their product equal to the cost of production.The possibility of the new organization entering politics will be discussed at the convention, which will last three days. Whether the new group will form a separate body in Dominion or provincial politics, or both, or whether it will identify it-

Giant Meteor Plunges Into Lake From Sky.SASKATOON, July 25.—With an explosion that shook the district to a distance of 20 miles around, a giant meteor plunged from the sky into Big Quill Lake, near Wynyard,
Sask., east of here, yesterday.
The fireball, seen by many in the district, dropped from a clear sky, and clouds of steam arose from the lake for some time after it had sunk in the water.The shock of the explosion was felt in Wynyard, where houses trembled.Between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning another meteor was seen descending to the east of Saskatoon. It was visible in the city, but no reports have been received regarding where it landed.The possibility of the new organi-

YEARLY RENTALBeck Secures Water Rights
At Ranney's Falls From Dominion Government.TORONTO, July 25.—Sir Adam Beck has arranged with the federal government for the water rights at Ranney's Falls at a flat price of $24,000 per annum, and has succeeded in eliminating the demand for a $7 per horsepower rental fee for consumption exceeding 6,000 horsepower. Originally the federal proposition was for $3.50 per horsepower up to 6,000 horsepower. The maximum under the new agreement is 12,000 horsepower."We consider the rental excessively high," said Sir Adam upon his return today, "and chiefly because of this there will have to be an increase in rates in that district, a schedule of which the engineers are preparing.
It is a very serious increase, and itmeans an increase in the rates of all the district."But the most serious thing is the natural growth in the east and the increased usage of electricity. In a year or two the whole of the power available from the Trent will be gone, and the engineers are now arranging and drafting the maximum amount that will be available to each of the municipalities in that district. We are going to tell them now just what each municipality is going to be able to receive, so that they can govern themselves accordingly."In connection with the eastern situation, said Sir Adam, the commission had made applications for the lease of Dam No. 9, on the Trent, which will make a valuable three or four thousand additional horsepower.HOMES FOR DRUG
