WOMAN IS KILLED IN CAR CRASH

Mrs. Torg of Brantford fatally injured in St. Thomas Motor Crash.

FORMERLY OF THIS CITY
Immediate Operation Performed at Hospital in Effort To Save Her Life.

Special To The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.
St. Thomas, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Lena Torg died in the Memorial Hospital this afternoon following an operation made in an effort to save her life after she suffered a fractured skull in an automobile crash at Curtis and Mary streets about an hour earlier.

The driver of the other car, Edward Rick of 231 Talbot street, was released after being questioned by police.

St. Thomas, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Lena Torg of Brantford is in the Memorial Hospital here with serious and possibly fatal injuries sustained when the automobile in which she was riding with her daughter Jean, of Buffalo, was almost completely wrecked in a collision with a machine driven by Edward Rick at the corner of Mary and Curtis streets here at a few minutes past one this afternoon.

CONTEST OFFICIALLY OPENS AS STANDARD BEARERS NAMED, LONDON PUTS THREE IN FIELD

Federal Candidates Are Chosen in 214 Ridings—Few Surprises As Names Are Presented.

ALL PARTIES CONFIDENT
In Ontario 180 Enter Struggle For the 82 Seats in This Province.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Oct. 22.—Today was nomination day in 214 electoral districts throughout the Dominion of Canada. There are 241 constituencies in the Dominion but nominations have already been made in 27 of them. Four of the constituencies elect two members each, which brings the total membership of the house of commons to 245 as compared with 235 at the time of the last general election in 1921.

The proceedings today were simple. They involved the attendance of returning officers at a specified place in each electoral district, between the hours of 12 noon and 2 o'clock in the afternoon, to receive nominations. Candidates were required to be British subjects of 21 years of age, and to present nomination papers bearing the signatures of ten qualified voters in their own constituency.

Also, a deposit of $200 was required from each candidate. This deposit is refundable to the candidate, should he be elected, or to the voters, should he be defeated. The deposit is made in the form of a check payable to the returning officer.

180 IN ONTARIO.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 22.—Official nominations were filed in 75 out of 82 Ontario ridings for the Dominion house of commons between noon and 2 p.m. today. There are nearly 170 candidates in addition, there are 16 candidates contesting the seven seats for which official nominations were made one week ago.

Fifty-nine Ontario members of the last parliament are recontesting their seats in the Dominion house of commons. Five members of the government are offering themselves for re-election in the province of Ontario, including Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways; Hon. G. N. Gordon, who holds the portfolio of immigration, and Hon. T. A. Low, trade and commerce minister, again are contesting the seats they won in 1921—those of Essex South, Peterborough and Renfrew.

Among Women Candidates to be nominated today are Sir Henry Drayton, former minister of finance; Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Major-General S. C. McBurn and Hon. Edmund Bristol. Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, former minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment, was officially nominated last Thursday.

Progressives included Hon. E. C. Drury, former provincial premier, and Miss Agnes McPhail, the first woman to sit in the Dominion house of commons. Miss McPhail again is contesting Grey South-east. There is one other woman candidate in Ontario, Dr. Caroline Brown, school trustee here, one of the Conservative trio ready to contest the riding of Toronto North-west.

The Names On Little's Paper

The signatures on the nomination paper of E. S. Little, Liberal candidate for London, were as follows:

C. S. Hyman, T. S. Hobbs, Clifford H. Reardon, J. Stevenson, Jared Vining, James Gray, T. J. Murphy, Mrs. Donald McLean, P. H. Ranahan, Ray Lawson, Robert Gray, Mrs. G. Penhale Harrison, G. J. Ingram, W. J. Tiltman, James Murray, U. A. Buchner, Gladys Kippen, Philip Poock, Claude Brown, Claire Jarvis, Mrs. W. H. Fox, Helen B. Gibbons, A. R. Cairncross, Lorna C. Harris, William Heaman, E. A. Shaw, F. R. Walkinson, R. T. Reason, C. A. Ramsay, Marion H. Calder, Norman L. Curtis, Edmund Hayden, Arthur Kennedy, Christina G. McIntosh, George Burdick, J. M. Loughlin, John R. McAlpine, Mrs. W. B. Boyd, J. Kent Campbell, Ed. W. Flannery, E. A. McKellar, Mrs. Peter Mitchell, W. M. Manning, Bruce Wallace, W. R. Waugh, C. A. Harris, R. J. Cook, Arthur T. Little, C. R. Somerville, W. T. C. Delaney, R. M. James, O. H. Cunningham, R. Howard, George A. Henry, W. W. Gammon, George H. Belton, J. A. Wright, C. H. Lee, Alex. Tytler, E. J. Saunders, John McIntosh, R. McDonald, J. F. Nolan, Frank McLachlin, Catherine Brickenstein, Sept. Thompson, H. S. Left, M. H. McAlpine, Dugald Graham, George Wesley, John A. Croden, Jessie C. MacFie, Mrs. Emma Buchner, John A. MacGregor, M. J. Donohue, A. Wolf, Maria A. Brighton, W. C. Morrison, H. Spital, A. A. Campbell, C. Catalano, John S. Moore.

180 IN ONTARIO.

There is also a Labor-Liberal nominee in South York, R. J. Reesor, as well as a Farmer-Labor candidate who was officially nominated last Thursday for Kenora-Rainy River. This making seven constituencies in the province where Labor will probably be represented at the polls.

Then there is one Independent-Progressive, O. H. Cunningham, a Protectionist, W. D. Euler, Waterloo North; four Independent-Conservatives, and three Independent-Progressives, and three Independent-Conservative candidates nominated a week ago.

WARREN WITHDRAWS.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—Hector Warren, Independent, who was officially nominated in Charlevoix-Saguenay at the advance nominations last Thursday, has withdrawn from the contest.

Blind Organist Weaves Fantasies of Homely Airs

Alfred Hollins, Visitor to London, Gifted As Few Musicians Are.

TECHNIQUE PERFECT
Gifted as few musicians are, Alfred Hollins, a blind organist, who plays in the city tonight, cannot only play the compositions of the masters, but can also improvise themes which are acclaimed as the equal of anything

It is not generally known that improvising is a definite part of the training of any organist. It does not always take the same form—some use it to bridge the gaps in the ritual of a church service others build up great symphonies on the spur of the moment. Mr. Hollins, however, prefers to improvise on themes already known to his audience, familiar pieces which can be followed as Mr. Hollins weaves them into patterns of lovely tone.

Quiet at City Hall When Nominations Close For London.

THREE IN THE FIELD
Nominations For Middlesex Ridings Held at Strathroy and Byron.

One of the most peaceful spots in the whole city today was the council chamber of the city hall, where the registrar for London, Gordon H. Tennant, and the election clerk, Benjamin Watterworth, kept open house from 12 to 2 o'clock for the purpose of receiving nominations for the coming federal election.

Crowds in Old Days.

"It's not like the old days," he said. "Then nomination meetings used to be attended by big crowds, and a large number of names were put forward for the purpose of encouraging speaking. The men nominated usually said what they had to say and then adjourned without the necessary deposit. Nomination meetings were lively affairs then as a rule. Now things seem to have changed. In the present election we already have the nomination papers and the deposits of the three official candidates so that there is no need for their agents to attend. Nor is it likely that any other names will be placed in nomination. Still the law requires that we be here from 12 to 2 today, in case any other nominations may be forthcoming."

Printing Ballots Next.

Printing of ballots is the next step in the preparations for the balloting next Thursday. As soon as it is certain who the candidates will be in the riding, orders are given to the printers to rush the necessary ballots. In London over 40,000 ballots will be prepared and as these have all to be stamped by the returning officer before they can be sent out to the poll clerks, his office is due for a busy session between now and election day.

Nominations for East Middlesex took place at Byron today, and for West Middlesex at Strathroy.

The names on the nomination paper of John Collett, London Labor candidate, were as follows:

Robert Foxcroft, 443 English street, Blacksmith; Henry B. Ashplant, 807

COUNCIL WARS WITH TRUSTEES

Charged For Use of Schools, It Considers Refusing To Pay For Board Election.

AUDIT COST SPLIT
Real Crisis Arises in City Over Interdepartmental Service Expense.

The board of education may have its pound of flesh, but it must not spill a drop of blood. The board decrees that the city council pay for the use of schools at election times. The council demands that the board remit a share of election expenses. The board can fulfill its threat by refusing the use of schools, if payment is not made in advance. The council, according to the statutes of Ontario, can refuse to carry on elections for selection of trustees. And so the council and the board are at each other's throats over a matter of bookkeeping.

As a matter of fact there is a decided trend of opinion amongst members of the council to keep tab on interdepartmental service expense.

This year audit expenses of the board of education, the public utilities commission, the London railway board, and the hospital trust were charged against their respective accounts. Three of these bodies, including the board of education, recognized the principle of bookkeeping and paid their share. But the London and Port Stanley Railway has not paid its share, and it is believed it is only a matter of time before the railway board will pay for city audit expenses.

The city hall audit charges only amount to about 40 per cent of the cost of the audit. The L. B. Ashplant, city auditor, points out. "City hall expense is maintained by tax rate only. Other spending bodies are maintained partly by appropriations from the taxes and partly from other revenue. It is only fair that they pay their share of the audit expense in order that charges can be properly adjusted."

BOY IS BLAMED FOR BRUCE STREET ROBBERY

A 15-year-old boy is believed by police to have committed five burglaries in the city within the past month, including one last night at the home of Michael Carter, 137 Bruce street, where a small sum of money was stolen.

The similarity of the five thefts, entrance having been gained by the front doors with the aid of a skeleton key during the owner's absence, definitely establishes the fact that one person is responsible for all the burglaries. Suspicion rests on a boy who has previously been convicted of burglary, and clues found last night at the Carter home may lead to his arrest shortly.

Valuable Freight Makes Fast Run

Silk Worth $1,250,000 Goes Through London Without Stopping.

Creating a new record for the London train of the C. N. R., a silk train of six cars made the run from Sarnia to Black Rock in four hours and three minutes. The train passed through London without stopping, at 7:30 last evening. Only one stop was made in the entire distance of 190 miles, that being at Brantford for water. The train was compelled to slow down at Beachville, owing to headlight trouble, or an additional five minutes would have been clipped off the record. The silk was en route from San Francisco to New York and was valued at over a million and a quarter dollars.

Best Man Will Win and E. S. Little Is Best Man

U. A. BUCHNER.

"Mr. Little is a first-class, thoroughly progressive man who understands the needs of the city and country," said U. A. Buchner, well-known lawyer, referring to the Liberal candidate in London. "He is familiar with the public questions of the day and with what is in the best interest of the Canadian people. This is evidenced by the stand he takes on the St. Lawrence deep waterways route. Mr. Little represents the Liberal party, the one that will give the greatest satisfaction to the people of this country. Their policy and Mr. Little's protects the basic industries of Canada and will develop infant industries as well as benefit the farmers. Mr. Little is a London man and should and will receive the support of the citizens of London for what he has done for them in the past both as alderman and mayor. He is the best man, and the best man will win."

You Are Proud of Canada

No Money For Industry in Canada, Said Mr. White at Byron—Money Never More Ready, Says Montreal Bond Company—Moderate Policies and United Faith in Canada Are All Canada Needs.

The appeals of the Liberal and the Conservative candidates to the voters of London seem to be assuming more definitely the national appeals of the prime minister and of Mr. Meighen.

Mr. J. F. White, the Conservative candidate, is following exactly in Mr. Meighen's footsteps. Mr. White's message to London is now quite plainly that times are bad, that Canada has failed, that the country is in bad shape, that the outlook is dark, that his own factory is facing difficulty.

The Advertiser has too much personal regard for Mr. White to believe that this is mere political propaganda on his part. The Advertiser is afraid that Mr. White really believes the things he has said.

NO MONEY FOR INDUSTRY, SAYS MR. WHITE.

Speaking at Byron sanatorium last night, Mr. White stated to his audience: "Returns for investments in industry in Canada are so small that money is being placed in government and other securities instead of being used to give employment to men who need work."

It is an unfortunate frame of mind for any businessman and doubly unfortunate for a man who wishes to represent the sentiment of 60,000 people as their representative in parliament. It is unfortunate because it is not based on the facts. While Mr. White says he believes that there is no money for Canada's industries every bond dealer and investment house in Canada is saying the opposite. Here is a sample of the facts in a statement sent out on Oct. 15 by Green-shields & Co. of Montreal, and Green-shields of Montreal can not be regarded as anything but a cautious and conservative establishment.

MONEY FOR "ANY SOUND ENTERPRISE."

Green-shields' Review says: "The banking situation continues to develop on lines that are encouraging as to the underlying soundness of general conditions and also as to the availability of credit for expansion of trade. As it is, no sound enterprise that can show good reasons for being started or enlarged need go without the necessary capital. Competition for security issues to provide fixed capital was never keener among investment houses than it is today, and the banks are welcoming opportunities to increase temporary advances to legitimate borrowers."

Mr. White says business is bad and that there is no money in Canadian industry because the returns are so small. But the bond dealer says: "No sound enterprise . . . need go without the necessary capital. Competition for security issues to provide fixed capital was never keener among investment houses than it is today."

LONDON IS NOT PESSIMISTIC.

Mr. White is frankly pessimistic. He sees no encouragement either for Canada or his own business. He sees "no evidence of prosperity." Mr. White is entitled to his opinion but it is another matter if Mr. White is to take this pessimism to Ottawa and represent it as London's opinion about Canada too. No progress has ever been made, no problems have ever been solved, no battles have ever been won by doubt and pessimism. London does not belong in the pessimistic column.

THE MESSAGE OF PRIDE AND COURAGE.

Canada is winning her fight, not by forebodings but by courage and optimism and pride in the progress she has made. That sentiment is represented today in the message of Liberalism. In London it is represented by Mr. E. S. Little. Mr. Little, like the prime minister, believes that Canada has done well. He believes that if the unity of confederation can be strengthened in broad and moderate policies the solutions of the really pressing problems—railways, immigration and foreign trade—will follow as a matter of course through the united goodwill and enterprise of all Canadians, east and west.

Mr. Little in London represents the spirit of optimism and success in contrast with a belief in failure and discouragement. The people of London are not pessimists about Canada. They are optimists and they should say so with their votes.

FORCES OF CHEKIANG FIRE ON JAP STEAMER

Associated Press Despatch.
Shanghai, Oct. 22.—The Japanese consul general has been apprised that Chekiang soldiers crossing the Yangtze river in their advance toward Nanking, fired on the Japanese steamer Dah Ting, bound from Hankow for Shanghai. A Chinese passenger was wounded. It is said the attack was unprovoked.

M'DONALD WALKS IN ON POLICE

Alleged Accomplice of Brewer, Serving Term For Bank Crime, in Toils.

IS PAROLED CONVICT

Charged Now With Conspiracy To Defraud Bank of Montreal of $7,000.

On a charge of conspiracy to defraud the bank of Montreal of an amount totalling more than $7,000, William McDonald, 37 years old, was remanded for one week when he appeared before Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court this morning. He will be allowed bail on a surety of $15,000.

McDonald is held as an accomplice of Herbert G. Brewer, bank of Montreal teller, who was recently sentenced to two and a half years at Kingston penitentiary, after he had pleaded guilty to falsifying bank accounts and stealing $7,000.

Hard To Locate.

Soon after Brewer's arrest several months ago a warrant against McDonald was issued by Crown Attorney Albert M. Judd. The man could not be located in Canada, however, and Brewer faced trial alone.

McDonald, returning to the city from the United States a few days ago, and hearing that his name was connected with Brewer's conviction, called upon Inspector of Detectives Thomas Nickle at his headquarters, and Detective Thomas Bolton took McDonald into custody.

Through his counsel, Howard Cluff, McDonald pleaded not guilty to the conspiracy charge in court this morning and elected summary trial. Crown Attorney Judd was unable to proceed with the case and requested a week's adjournment.

Now on Parole.

McDonald is at the present time on parole. He was in 1921 and sentenced to concurrent terms of five and three years. Because of good conduct he was liberated the following year.

BLIZZARD CLOAKS CHICAGO ROBBERY

Three Bank Messengers Are Robbed of Express Package, Registered Mail Sacks.

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, Oct. 22.—A daring hold-up in Chicago's financial district early today three Federal Reserve bank messengers were robbed of an express package and two small sacks of registered mail by three men, who escaped with others in two automobiles. The robbery took place during a snow storm of almost blizzard proportions.

James B. MacDougal, governor of the bank, said it was impossible to identify the nature of the shipments to the bank or the extent of the loss, pending checks.

The messengers, C. W. Nordell, Richard Flaska and M. Julian Glomb, were returning to the bank with the packages in a handcart when they were stopped two blocks from the bank, which is in the heart of the LaSalle street district. Threatening them with pistols and a sawed-off shotgun the robbers compelled the bank employees to raise their hands while they tossed the sacks into one of the waiting automobiles and took the express package from Nordell. They leaped back into the automobiles and sped away.

George Kasbohm, a taxicab driver, half a block away, saw the robbery and notified the police. Hundreds of detectives armed with riot guns, searched until dawn for the two cars.

LITTLE SPEAKS AT BUSY FACTORY

Liberal Candidate Given Rousing Reception at Sherlock-Manning Plant.

Immigration, the railways and tariff problems were discussed at noon today by E. S. Little, Liberal candidate for London, in speaking to employees of the Sherlock-Manning piano and organ Co., at their Elm street factory.

Mr. Little was accorded a good hearing and there was applause for his clear-cut explanation of policy. He discussed the principal issues of the campaign and his statements went unchallenged. Afterwards he visited the various departments of the plant and showed much interest in operations under way. There was evidence of considerable demand for Sherlock-Manning products, and which Mr. Little discussed in speaking to the men.

Planes were a luxury and competition was keen, the candidate stated. Notwithstanding that condition, the business of the piano industry had been favorable. The dominion tariff commission would take up the piano business problems, as well as others, directly after the election.

"The secret of prosperity is to get more people into the country," said Mr. Little. "Four million more people in the country would mean the end of the railways into surplus, and surplus, and surplus. This country's importance and success depends upon its export trade and in five years time it will be supplying most of the world for the United States. We must look for world markets if business is to increase."

CHARGE OF CRUELTY AGAINST OXFORD MAN

Inspector Tustin Goes to Rescue of Live Cocks at Ingersoll.

Receiving information that animals were neglected and in bad shape at Ingersoll, Humane Inspector Tustin, accompanied by High Constable Wharton, journeyed to the town to investigate the report. In company with Chief of Police Holmes of Ingersoll, they visited a shack rented by Chester Burch. On their arrival at the shack the officers found conditions deplorable. All the live stock, including poultry, dogs and ferrets, were seized. The shack, the officers were told, had been condemned by the Oxford officials. A warrant for the arrest of Burch was issued by Police Magistrate Patterson of Ingersoll. Burch is charged under the cruelty to animals act. At the present time the live stock is being taken care of by the London Humane society.

DROPS ARE INCREASED BY UNDERDRAINAGE

Assistant Agricultural Representative Employed in Making Surveys.

Farmers of Middlesex are turning more than ever to underdrainage as a means of increasing farm crops. A. P. Parrish, assistant district representative of the Ontario department of agriculture in Middlesex, will spend some days making farm surveys for drainage work on district farms.

Several requests for this type of work have been received by the department of agriculture and they are being attended to as quickly as possible by R. A. Finn and Mr. Parrish. Work was held up during the past six weeks by school fairs, which were held from one end of the county to the other.

JAMES W. M'GUFFIN DIES AT LONDON TOWNSHIP HOME

London township lost a member of one of its pioneer families at an early hour this morning, when the death occurred of James Wesley McGuffin, aged 72 years, at his home on concession 12. Mr. McGuffin was a son of the late William and Mary McGuffin, early settlers in this district, and had resided on the farm on which he died for over fifty years.

He is survived by his wife, Rebecca McGuffin, his only daughter, Mrs. E. Howard, and one son, William. Also surviving are three brothers, Henry, William and George, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Box and Mrs. W. J. Parkinson.

The funeral will be held from his residence on Friday afternoon at 1:30 at St. John's cemetery. Rev. Mr. Smith of Brynston United church will conduct the services.

TOWNSHIP WILL HEAR REPORT ON DRAINAGE

London township council will meet tonight in the office of the township clerk, Miss Mary Grant, to receive a report on drainage work. The report will be given by Reeve Hodgins and his councillors, providing that the necessary funds have been drawn from the petitions asking for those specific drains.

TINY JENKINS LOOKS FORWARD TO A CAREER WITH BIG CIRCUS

London Feline Marvel Expresses Ambition to Launch Out Into World.

MAY EVEN GO ABROAD

"I am looking forward to a dramatic career with one of the larger circuses," Tiny Jenkins, 95 Glenwood avenue, told The Advertiser today. "Of course, my family, as far as I am aware, have never been stage folk, but I have unusual claims to distinction, ones which I feel ought to earn me a place in a higher class side-show. I was born, as you see, with two extra toes on each of my front feet, and on one of my hind feet I have a double toe with two nails."

"You may be sure that some of the more common felines, whose only bid for fame rests on the usual nine lives of a cat, resent my ambitions and exhibit their lack of breeding by insisting that my limbs are deformed. On the contrary, my extra toes are very useful in negotiating high board fences in the early hours of the morning, and have assisted me materially many times in escaping missiles hurled, not at me of course, but at members of my species with more raucous voices than my own. To be sure, one cannot blame people. Some of the cats in this neighborhood are very noisy and unrefined, so of course I have nothing to do with them beyond greeting them when I unavoidably meet them in my rambles."

Not a Wanderer.

"As Mr. Jenkins has probably told you, I am but a little over three months old, and so cannot lay claim to having travelled extensively, but even in my short wanderings I have learned to be a fair judge of feline nature and to select my friends very carefully. One has to be very discreet in regard to whom one entertains these days," continued Tiny.

"As for myself," continued Tiny, yawning, stretching and relaxing again. "I was born into a family of literary inclinations and so have been more or less of a studious person myself. Mr. Jenkins, my master, is a newspaperman and I had thought at first of taking up journalistic work, but I have since been convinced by friends that my peculiar talents fit me better for show work and then I think that the opportunity to travel, and to receive the broadening influence of meeting different types of people, is one which should not be passed over lightly."

TINY JENKINS AND HIS EXTRA TOES.

Asked if he found notoriety at all tiresome, Tiny assured The Advertiser that he did not mind visitors in the least. "I have had several callers in the past few days and with few exceptions they have shown the same of courtesy. I have been photographed twice as well, and it is very gratifying to find that my fellow townsmen are interested in me to this extent."

To an inquiry as to the possibilities of taking up his career in this city instead of going abroad, Tiny replied: "I should like very much to do so, and probably will remain in the city for some little time. I am greatly attached to my young master, Fredie Jenkins, and to my mistress, and feel that I should like to enjoy their companionship for some time yet. However, London does not offer the same opportunities as do some of the larger centers. I am interested in Toronto and Montreal, particularly the latter, and it is the dream, of course, of every dramatically inclined person to see his name in electric lights on Broadway and possibly I shall too some day—who knows? Thank you very much for calling. Good afternoon!"

MILLINERY SALES INCREASE AS REACTION TO GOOD TIMES

Conditions Never Looked Brighter, Says Manager of One London Firm.

FALL TRADE BOOMING

"During the past five weeks the sale of fall millinery has been the largest of any similar period in the history of our store. Business for the year will show an increase of from 15 to 20 per cent over that of last year."

This is prosperity in London as reflected by Louis Griesman, manager of the Royal Millinery and Fur Company, Dundas street. Mr. Griesman told The Advertiser this morning that general conditions never looked brighter since the war than they do today.

"The sale of millinery reacts to good times quicker than any other line of apparel," he asserted. "When money is scarce, the strictest of economy in hats is very apparent."

Sign of Good Times.

"Our customers who in the past have purchased three or four hats a year are now buying five and six. That is a sure sign of better times. The spending power of the Canadian people has increased considerably in the last two years."

"Of course, this increase is also due in a large measure to style changes. In millinery show stronger tendencies to vary than they used to. This invariably heightens the demand. But unless times are good, sales increase on account of this condition are not often very substantial. The extraordinary business we have enjoyed this year convinces me that London, and the country too, is prosperous."

Fall Trade Good.

While business of the past spring and summer was highly satisfactory, Mr. Griesman declares that fall trade to date has exceeded all expectations. He looks forward to general winter business keeping pace with the mark set in the last five weeks.

Discussing styles, Mr. Griesman believes that the new satin hat, recently shown in American style centers, will be the most popular style in Canada. Black seems to be the predominant shade, he says, but other colors are expected to sell well also.

OVERCOAT STOLEN.

Paul Cosulich, 133 John street, reported to police today that his overcoat, valued at $40, had been stolen from a local poolroom last night.

Women Seniors To Wear Gowns

All women students in the upper years of the University of Western Ontario will in the future wear gowns to lectures if a request made at a meeting of those concerned is acted upon. It was felt that the wearing of the gowns would lend dignity to the seniors and also tend to heighten the academic atmosphere at the university.

FARM EMPLOYEES' COMPLAINTS LEGION

John Farrell Receives Several Letters Asking For Adjustment of Conditions.

Today was trouble day for John Farrell of the Ontario immigration department. His mail brought him several letters from men who had been placed on farms and apparently had not been up to the standard set by their former employers. They couldn't get all the money to which they felt they were entitled and naturally wrote to Mr. Farrell for sympathy and advice.

More communications were received from farmers who discussed the realities of farm help, the crops and the elections. One hired man wrote in to state that his wife couldn't get along with his employer's wife and would Mr. Farrell please get him another job.

Mr. Farrell was quite optimistic, however, and assured sympathizing press representatives that he would get things straightened out to the satisfaction of everyone within a few days.

WEEK'S BANK CLEARINGS SHOW MARKED INCREASE

Bank clearance figures for the week ending today again show a marked increase over the amount for the corresponding week in 1924.

Bank clearances for the city of London during the past week amounted to $2,091,851.

For the same week last year the amount was $2,613,779.

PRESBYTERIANS ASK 3 PROPERTIES

Will Present Requests to the Church Property Commission Here on October 30.

Continuing Presbyterians will ask for three disputed churches and for their equity in two manse in the district composing the old London presbytery, when the church property commission meets in this city on Friday, Oct. 30. No churches in London proper are in dispute.

One at least of the three United churches, formerly Presbyterian, at Ivan, English Settlement and Ilderton are sought by the Presbyterians. The continuing church is asking possession of the churches at Kintore and Melbourne also. Besides these buildings, wanted for purposes of worship, Presbyterian congregations are demanding their equities in the manse in South Nissouri, temporarily in their possession, and in the North street manse in Westminster. North Street is an United church, but the Presbyterians of Delaware are laying claim to a share of the value.

The church property commission is composed of F. Falconbridge, K.C., chairman; R. W. Cassels, representing the Presbyterian church, and J. Wardrop, representative of the United Church of Canada.

D. R. McCarthy, K.C., and Norman Macdonell, both of Toronto; W. B. Gillanders, London, and Colin Leach, St. Thomas, will present the Presbyterian case, while that of the United church will be upheld by R. D. McDonald, M. P. Gladman, and the Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, members of the London legal committee of the United Church of Canada.

KELLOGG'S MEN HEAR WHITE AT NOON MEETING

Frank White, M.P., Conservative candidate for London, continued his noon-day program of speaking at factories by addressing a meeting of 50 men and women at the Kellogg Toasted Cornflake plant today.

Mr. White covered the same ground as he did at the McCormick meeting yesterday. He talked of the tariff, declaring more protection was what was wanted by industry. He also referred to railway matters, and stated that the Conservatives were the friends of labor. Mr. White concluded his speech by asking for votes in the election on the 29th of the month.

COUNTY TO HAVE SMALL SURPLUS

Officials Are Given Credit For Year's Commercial Administration.

Middlesex farmers will certainly not complain of the way in which Warden Allan McPherson of Glenora and his county councillors have ruled over county finances this year. With the greater part of the year already in the past, Middlesex finds with some pleasure, that there will be a slight surplus this year, despite the fact that taxes were cut two mills or a total of $78,000, and the county hasn't borrowed within 10,000 what it did last year, when the surplus was $67,000.

This, of course, could not have been accomplished without efficient service on the part of county officials, especially County Clerk John Stuart and County Engineer Charles Talbot, who with Treasurer Capt. Tom Robb and Assistant Treasurer Jack McLarty, have kept watchful eyes on the county treasure chest, and have not expended a dollar that was not absolutely necessary.

All county bills have been paid up to date, the county record of not keeping anyone waiting for their money having been upheld every single month.

County Engineer Talbot reports that all county roads are in excellent condition, and that the fact that only rough spots being on portions of the Sarnia gravel road that has received hard usage as a result of the heavy traffic between London and Sarnia.

BATTERYLESS RADIO SETS A BOON TO FANS

Interesting news for radio fans has been brought to London by A. E. Mandy, representative of the S. S. Music Company, Toronto, distributors for the Rogers batteryless radio receiving sets. You can hardly imagine it, but, never before, has it been possible to receive the radio without aerials—radio with out disconcerting or out of tune. Radio as smooth and spontaneous as the switching on of your electric light—this is what you get actually do with your Rogers radio set. Just plug into your electric light socket and immediately tune in to the world's best—radio. Clear, full toned and dependable.

Mr. Mandy says: "Those who have watched the progress of radio with vague understanding and nearly without interest, will be amazed to find that the Rogers batteryless sets are so simple to use, and so easy to understand, that they are in advance of other radios than for example, the self-starting automobile radios, and the hand-cranked motor car. The 'Just plug in—then tune in' slogan of the Rogers' sets introduces to radio an entirely new era of simplicity and insures the fullest of radio enjoyment and convenience to all who possess these sets. With Rogers' sets you only need the power supplied by your house electric light current, either 25 or 60 cycles, eliminating the cost or up to date batteries. LIBERAL CAMPAIGN PRINTING SENT TO UNION SHOPS WHERE POSSIBLE

Ottawa Closed Plants Insufficient in Number To Handle All Party Work.

CHARGES ANSWERED

J. A. P. Haydon Has Been Prominent in Conservative Activities for Years.

By E. C. BUCHANAN.
Special to The Advertiser.
Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Allegations made by J. A. P. Haydon, an officer of the Typographical union, that in the placing of orders for the printing of campaign literature the National Liberal organization ignored the claims of union labor are without foundation. Orders for printing from the National Liberal committee in Ottawa were placed with union shops wherever possible. In fact, urgent contracts for printing were delayed for days in order that they might go to union shops.

The reason why some Liberal literature has gone out without the union label on it is simply that there were not sufficient union shops capable of executing the orders. Something like nine-tenths of the printing shops in Ottawa are non-union establishments. It would have been impossible for the National Liberal committee to have had all its printing done in the other ten per cent of the shops. It was compelled to give part of its work to non-union establishments. As much of the printing work of the National Liberal committee was given to union shops as they could handle.

Works For Conservatives.
J. A. P. Haydon has been seeking for some weeks to make political capital for the Conservative party out of the fact that some Liberal literature did not bear the union label. It is not unusual that Mr. Haydon should do so. He has been identified with the Conservative party for years, and has sought Tory support for his political ambitions from time to time. These ambitions so far have failed of fruition. Mr. Haydon's activities on behalf of the Conservative party are now a subject of discussion by officers of national labor organizations with headquarters in Ottawa, and it is not unlikely that he will be required to abandon his connection with these organizations. So devoid of foundation are Mr. Haydon's charges that the National Liberal committee has ignored them when they have been aired in the Ottawa newspapers.

SNOW AT OTTAWA.
Ottawa, Oct. 21.—A mantle of white covered the federal capital when residents awakened this morning, about an inch of snow having fallen during the night. The sun came out during the morning, however, and the snow rapidly disappeared.

Buried the Day Set For Wedding

Jack Imrie Dies From Injury Received in Accident.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, Oct. 21.—Jack R. Imrie, formerly of St. Thomas, was to have been married yesterday at Chippewa to a young lady of that town, but on that day his funeral was held from the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Imrie, 91 Forest avenue, St. Thomas. Imrie died on Oct. 17 as the result of injuries received when struck by the bucket of a cement mixing machine while at work on the highway near Niagara Falls, as an employee of Brennan Paving Company. He suffered a broken back.

MAN KILLED AS GUN DISCHARGES

Dr. A. Brown of Lions Head Fatally Injured When Bullet Passes in Chest.

Special to The Advertiser.
Warton, Oct. 21.—Dr. Arthur H. Brown of Lions Head is dead, as the result of a bullet wound in his chest, which Coroner Dr. Hough has declared was accidentally inflicted.

The accident victim went into Lindsay township to see a patient near Cape Chin, and was returning toward Lions Head with Max J. Smith of Stokes Bay. Mr. Smith stopped to make a call and Dr. Brown waited ahead for a few hundred yards. As Mr. Smith was returning to the auto he heard a revolver shot, and hurrying forward, found Dr. Brown lying on the ground with a bullet wound in the right side of his chest. Smith rushed to a telephone in a house nearby and summoned Dr. Hough. Dr. Brown was summoned and made an investigation, following which the coroner declared that death was the result of an accident, and that an inquest was not necessary.

The late Dr. Brown was about 45 years of age, and is survived by his widow and one daughter. The family came here about two years ago from Teeswater.

Members of Typographical Union Will Ask Dismissal of Haydon.

AUTHORITY LACKING

London Members State Tory Leanings Inconsistent With Labor Principles.

A resolution calling for the resignation of J. A. P. Haydon as president of the Ontario and Quebec Conference of Typographical Unions will be introduced at the next meeting of the London Typographical union. Dissatisfaction with the political activities of Mr. Haydon on behalf of the Conservative party has been gaining headway for some time, due to the fact that while he was ostensibly a Labor man, at the head of a Labor organization, he has been appearing as a speaker on Conservative platforms. A short time earlier in the campaign he was warned to keep out of this section of Ontario.

But the decision to undertake his removal as head of the Ontario and Quebec Conference of Typographical unions was reached as a result of the hot resentment felt by local printers at his totally unwarranted action in sending out a letter signed by himself and other members of the executive committee to all local unions pointing out that certain printing issued by the Liberal association in Ottawa did not bear the union label, and placing the Liberal party on the unfair list.

Had No Authority.

"He had no authority whatsoever to take any such action," stated A. R. Elliott, recording secretary for the London Typographical union, in discussing the case last night. "The Ontario and Quebec Conference is a resolutionary body, as its name implies, and has no mandatory powers. The only organization having authority to place names on the unfair list is the international headquarters of the Typographical union." Mr. Elliott stated that there had been a great deal of dissatisfaction regarding the president's Conservative leanings, which were held to be inconsistent with his profession of Labor principles. "I intend to move a resolution calling for his resignation as president of the conference at the next meeting of the local union. I am quite confident that it will be adopted, and we will forward copies to Ottawa and also the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress. This whole move is an attempt on the part of Mr. Haydon to make capital for the Conservative party, and I am quite sure that, if the facts were known, there are quite as many Conservative publications without the union label as there are Liberal."

SPLIT OF TORY VOTE NOW SURE AT TORONTO

Five Candidates Pay Deposits To Become Official Nominees.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 21.—Five candidates have already paid in their $200 deposits to the returning officer for Toronto northwest, as earnest that they will become official nominees tomorrow. This virtually ensures a three-way split in the riding's Conservative vote. T. L. Church, Wallace Cochran and Dr. Caroline Brown are running under the party standard. The other two candidates for this seat who have entered their deposits, with still 21 hours to go, are James Gilchrist, Liberal, and James Simpson, Labor. Both Conservatives for Toronto East Centre have similarly guaranteed their appearance tomorrow—Hon. Edmund Bristol and Cecil W. Armstrong. The two Liberal candidates expected to contend for the electors' votes are Dr. J. H. Cascard and John Callahan. Indications are that there will be straight two-party contests in five of the city's nine ridings, and three or more contests in each of the others.

LIQUOR AND TOBACCO DESTROYED IN BIG BLAZE

Lawrence, Mass., Man Doomed to Disappointment in Reported Inheritance of $4,000,000.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Campbellton, N.B., Oct. 21.—Joseph Camire, a welder, of Lawrence, Mass., is doomed to disappointment, according to information available here this morning. If he expects his mother to inherit $4,000,000 by the death of her uncle, Octave Champagne, New Brunswick lumberman, as was indicated in a Lawrence despatch last night, there is no wealthy lumberman of that name in this town or in the neighboring villages in the province of Quebec, and it is believed that the name has been mistaken for that of David Champagne, president of the Canadian Lumbermen's association. Mr. Champagne is reported in the best of health.

Girls Have Right To Roll Socks Declares Hamilton Magistrate

Special to The Advertiser.
Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 21.—Girls in Hamilton may roll their socks if they want to, and Hamilton police have no right to stop them. So ruled Magistrate Jelfs and his fellow members of the police commission at a meeting at noon today. Margaret Towers, aged 13, of 195 Rebecca street, laid a complaint before the commission against Constable T. Campbell. She said he stopped her on the street as she was walking along with her friend and ordered her to "roll up her socks." She refused, and she claims he swore at her. She told him her school principal found no fault with her rolled stockings, and she says he called her "a snipe." Magistrate Jelfs reprimanded the constable for attempting to regulate women's dress, and Mayor Jutten and Judge Evans agreed that the police had no right to interfere in such a case. "Showing one's knees certainly can't be called indecent exposure, and is not a crime," ruled the magistrate. Regulating the length of women's skirts was also outside the province of the police, he said. "In the old days of the crinoline in England—and I saw them, too—the wind often blew the women's skirts right over their heads," said the magistrate. "It was the duty of a gentleman and a decent man then to step up and pull them down. But rolled socks are different."

The constable denied swearing, but was reprimanded on exceeding his duty in the other particular after Miss Towers, whom the constable claimed looked 21, though she said her age was 13, had stood before the commission so the members could inspect and approve her rolled socks.

HOPPER MARRIES AGAIN.

Associated Press Despatch.
Hartford, Conn., Oct. 20.—Dewolf Hopper, 69, took his sixth wife today. He was married to Lillian Glasier, 23-year-old singer, from California. The fifth Mrs. Hopper, known on the stage as Hedda Hopper, was granted a divorce from the veteran comedian in January 29, 1924.

YOUTH HELD ON NEGLIGENCE CHARGE AFTER ACCIDENT

Associated Press Despatch.
Windsor, Oct. 21.—Harold Lane, 22 years old, 30 Hanna avenue, is held at police headquarters on a charge of criminal negligence, as a result of his automobile turning turtle and perhaps fatally injuring Henry Albert Tuer, 32, of 66 Launson road, Ford City.

According to a report on file at police headquarters, Tuer was being picked up by Lane at Ouellette avenue and Tecumseh road, where he was waiting for a street car. At the time of the accident, witnesses say, Lane's car, which, witnesses say, was travelling at a fast speed, struck another car, driven by Wm. Hullock, 433 Grove avenue, and turned.

He risked $7,000—and lost all!

A smooth-tongued salesman—after making many promises—induced a farmer to "invest" $7,000 in the stock of his company.

In June last, the farmer received a notice to attend a special meeting of shareholders to consider a plan for disposing of the company's assets and for meeting its liabilities.

Recently the company failed and after paying only 35c on the dollar upon ordinary debts not a cent remained for the shareholders.

Play safe with your money—"Before you invest—investigate!"

DEATH VISITS HOME TWICE IN FOUR DAYS

Charles McGill Passes Away a Few Hours After Father's Funeral.

Death laid a heavy hand on the family of the late Neil McGill, 863 Queen's avenue, and in the short space of four days removed both father and son, leaving to mourn their loss the mother and daughter of the family. Yesterday a few hours after the funeral of Mr. McGill, Charles, a son, passed away.

Neil McGill, the father, a member of St. John's Lodge, No. 29, A. F. and A. M., and an elder in St. Andrew's United Church, died Sunday evening after being ill only fifteen minutes. He had attended church services at St. Andrew's both morning and evening.

Mr. McGill, sen., had been connected with the Massey-Harris company as sales agent for the London district for many years past, having entered the service of this organization in 1891 at the time of the amalgamation of the Massey company with the Harris and Furber firms.

Few other men were as widely known or as generally respected in the farming community around London as was Mr. McGill. He was ever ready to aid his customers in every way, and because of his genial manner and wide knowledge of the implement business, he was always a welcome guest with hundreds of farmers in the London area.

His funeral was held yesterday afternoon, and last evening Charles, aged 23 years, died after an illness of over six months. In May of the present year he contracted an attack of influenza, which resulted in an affection of the heart. The sudden demise of his father aggravated this condition, and his death was the result.

Mr. McGill had been employed last year by the board of education as a teacher in the Pottersburg school. He was an active worker in St. Andrew's church and had been always a president of the Young People's Federation there, and more lately the secretary of that organization.

Mrs. McGill and one daughter, Margaret, are the sole survivors of the family.

The funeral of Charles McGill will be held from the family residence tomorrow afternoon to Woodland cemetery, and will be of a strictly private nature.

FEW SPOILED BALLOTS IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Junior Citizens' League at Alexandra Teaches Use of Franchise.

In view of the forthcoming election it is interesting to note the work that is being done in at least one of the public schools of the city in teaching pupils the privileges and responsibilities of the franchise and in instructing them in the manner of voting.

In last year's election of officers of the Junior Citizens' League of the Alexandra public school, out of a total of 160 votes cast, each of a total of full slate of twelve names, there was only one spoiled ballot. Furthermore, in this miniature community every citizen, without a single exception votes at every election.

The executive of the league have charge of all school activities, conduct the opening exercises each day and the various special programs throughout the year. The Alexandra school newspaper, "The Alexandra Buzz," is in charge of the school orchestra and conduct the school reading-room.

Owing to the unusually large number of pupils leaving the school in June and the large number of new pupils entering last September, the school's list of pupils has been found to be inaccurate and daily sessions of the court of revision are being held, superintended by Mr. R. E. Dewar, principal.

President—Floyd Barton (acc.); Jack Ripley (vice); Ruth Wood, Helen Waterer, Harold Miller, Secretary—treasurer—Harold Taylor, George Callahan.

Councillors (two to be elected from each room)—Grade 5, Marjorie Ryckman, Arthur Davis, George Tucker; grade 7, Marguerite Carter, Kathleen Mearns, Clifford Hodkins, Wilfred Sullivan; grade 6, Betty Rorke, Pauline Conway, Perry Wong, Robert Kenzie; grades 4 and 5, Aulia Miller, Evelyn Coshy, Ray Mason, John Vanden, Auxiliary—Ivy Burden, Cassie Newman.

Corbin A. Brown is the principal of the Alexandra school.

FINED $10 BY COURT FOR "JUST ONE SLIP"

The O. T. A. recognizes no slips from the paths of sobriety, Donald Nicholson, a first offender, was told in police court this morning, when he termed his condition of intoxication last night "just a slip in my life."

Nicholson could not definitely say whether he was drunk or sober when constables snatched him as he was in the path of automobiles on the Dundas street last night. Excitement and liquor

Mr. Meighen Has Himself To Blame.

Hon. Mr. Meighen has apparently been brought to realize that his continued criticism of the management of the C. N. R. and promise to the maritimes to use his political interference to restore the Intercolonial management to the east, has brought about a feeling of distrust as to what he might do to the Canadian Nationals. His next step has been a large advertisement over his own signature addressed to the railway workers of Canada, assuring them that he will oppose "parliament dealing with the question of amalgamation unless as an issue to be placed squarely before the people at a future election."

That advertisement is an open admission that Mr. Meighen realizes that he is not regarded as friendly toward the National Railways; he fears the men employed on that road may feel a sense of insecurity as to what might happen were he returned to power.

Mr. Meighen does not explain what the people want to know. He does not say he is in favor of fighting it through until the National Railways are a success, nor does he say that he personally is in favor of retaining their identity as a public ownership enterprise.

The Conservative campaign in Quebec is not being waged on Mr. Meighen's conditional explanation. Mr. Patenaude is the man on whom Conservatives are hanging their hopes for any success they may have there. Mr. Meighen is countenancing and encouraging this arrangement by staying out of Quebec. Mr. Patenaude says it is not possible to keep government railways out of politics, and from there he proceeds:

"When the different solutions have been studied, and if we have not achieved the success we seek—and we cannot wait long for the country cannot continue to take out of its pockets money to pay huge railway deficits—if we have no confidence in our ability to separate the board of directors from politics, then we must apply the extreme remedy, and get rid of it either by closing it down or selling it."

That is what the Conservative campaign in Quebec is using as the definition of its policy toward the Canadian National Railways. It says "We will give the thing a certain time in which to make good, and then if it doesn't we will close it down or sell it out."

Mr. Meighen's attitude of open and veiled hostility to the management, his threats to cut off capital expenditure "so we can take the last cent out of the road," his promise to the maritimes of political meddling so that politicians can get their hands on the Intercolonial again—all these ideas work in admirably with the Quebec plan of closing it down or selling it out.

It is this double-dealing form of campaigning that has brought distrust to the minds of the Canadian people about what Mr. Meighen actually intends to do with the Canadian National.

If he draws strength from the unwholesome campaign in Quebec he will have to listen to the overtures of those who are openly antagonistic to the continuance of the road as a national undertaking. Mr. Meighen finds himself in a poor, apologetic position today because he has not only sown the seeds of distrust himself but was quite willing that an anti-public ownership campaign should be carried on in Quebec in the hope that by such means some members might be added to his following.

Ignoring Plain Facts.

The Conservative meeting in London had one note running through it. Senator Robertson struck it, E. B. Ryckman of Toronto hit it, Miss Boulton, also of Toronto, touched upon it, and Mr. Frank White tapped it. That one note was that business conditions are very bad in Canada, factories were either closed or closing, and there was no break to be seen on the lead-colored horizon.

If factories are in the condition depicted at the Conservative meeting, why is it that for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1925, there were heavier importations of a wide variety of raw materials for use in our factories than in 1921, the last year of the Conservative government?

A statement by the minister of finance, analyzing these increased imports for use in Canadian factories, points out that they included "more pounds of raw cotton, more pounds of hemp, hides and skins, more mahogany, walnut and oak lumber, more manila and sisal grass, more nitrate of soda, more pig iron, more crude petroleum, almost double the amount of raw rubber, more zinc in pigs or sheets, more raw wool, more artificial yarn."

If conditions were as bad as painted at the Conservative meeting in London every industrial security would have registered a serious setback since 1921. Hon. T. A. Low, minister of trade and commerce, touched on this point a few days ago and said:

"Dominion Textiles stock was worth in 1921, 142. Today it is worth 255. This is the industry our opponents say we have ruined. Penman's stock was quoted at 89 in 1921, and it is worth 158 now. For Canadian Cottons the figures are 85 and 119, respectively. Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. stock has gone up from 88 in 1921 to 130 today; Canada Cement from 67 to 112."

If conditions were as bad as stated at the Conservative meeting in London, they would be reflected in bank stocks. Banks cannot make money when times are hard. Their profits come from loans when people want money to use for industrial and other purposes; they make money when there is a good volume of trade. Bank of Montreal stock in 1921 was at 215, today it is 265; Royal Bank stock could be bought in 1921 for 205, today's quotation is 246; Bank of Commerce in 1921 was sold at 194, today it stands at 219.

Conservatives cannot explain away the plain evidence that there is an increasing volume of business, so they ignore it. They may seek to justify their actions on the ground that it is good politics according to their light, but that does not get over the fact that it is about as poor business tactics as could be devised.

The Welfare of the People.

During the six years when Mr. E. S. Little was in municipal office in London he demonstrated his desire to consider the interests of all the people, and particularly those who were working under conditions that needed improvement. When he was chairman of the finance committee it was his suggestion that secured for the policemen one day's rest in seven, as previously they had been on duty almost continuously.

It was his initiative that first secured government assistance for relief work in London. Mr. Little, as an alderman, found that men, some of them soldiers discharged from overseas duty, were coming to London. They could not claim to be citizens of this city, but he could not see how that should stand in the way of their securing work when they wanted it and needed it. It was on these grounds he made his appeal to the government and got a satisfactory answer.

During his term as mayor there were better working conditions for civic employees; the garbage men presented their claims for the first time as a union and their organization was recognized and their pay increased. The same treatment was given street-cleaners and employees in the public works department.

Mr. Little has continued along this same line of thought, and his addresses today as Liberal candidate in London find him giving prominence to such matters as old age pensions. In a factory meeting Mr. Little said:

"To my mind government assistance to aid unemployment is only a temporary measure. It can never be regarded as the solution to the problem, and I never looked upon it as such. We must work toward a more definite plan. There are men and women who have worked hard all their lives, and yet through no fault of their own come upon old age only to find that they cannot provide for themselves. Unfortunately in such cases it is found that their relatives often do not want them. As a last resort they are sent to some institution as charity inmates for the rest of their days. These institutions have done good work, but like government assistance for unemployment, I cannot regard them as our final answer to the problem that arises when poverty meets old age alone and unassisted. I believe the proper solution is in the old age pension, where we will not give assistance that is recognized by the state as belonging to that individual."

When Mr. Little takes that attitude as one of his policies for federal life, he is simply following out the same idea that he practiced when in municipal life. His municipal experience gave him an opportunity to notice the methods used in dealing with such matters, and also convinced him that they were neither sufficient nor final. It is on these broad grounds of human sympathy that his candidature in London is winning such pronounced and definite support.

A Chance For Mr. Meighen.

Mr. Meighen makes much of the plea that he is standing on the same platform today as in 1921.

There have been a few odd planks thrown in since about which Mr. Meighen is not likely to say very much. During the St. Antoine by-election Mr. Meighen spoke in Montreal, and said (Montreal Star report):

"When this dominion girds up its loins and prepares to make commercial war upon the United States and commercial war upon Great Britain, then we will be in a position to look after our workingmen."

Mr. Meighen is in Ontario now, and will be for some days to come. If he is as consistent in his methods of campaigning as he claims to be, he has a good opportunity to show it by repeating these same words in this province.

Note and Comment.

A united Canada.

World's series ball players divide $339,544, but most of them are married.

One expert says he can tell a man's character from the sole of his shoe. So if in doubt keep your feet off the table.

The province got $70,000 from the sale of licenses to sell 4.4 beer, but it took good care to see there was no money-back-if-dissatisfied clause in the contract.

An exchange remarks that it's amazing how little knowledge a man can get along with. After listening to some Conservative speakers we've come to the same conclusion.

The St. Catharines Standard says "Quebec is still singing its hymn of hate against Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and conscription." But Mr. Meighen is staying so far away from Quebec that he can't hear it.

Mr. Frank White's extension to his factory in London is a very creditable one, and there was no need for him being so explanatory about it at his London meeting. Mr. White is to be congratulated on his enterprise and the confidence he has in the continued development and prosperity of Canada.

The Advertiser regrets a brief interruption in its daily Mutt and Jeff cartoons. An Associated Press cable from Paris supplies the explanation—"Bud" Fisher is getting married. The lady is a French countess whose small boy became a Mutt and Jeff admirer and thus attracted his mother's attention to the cartoonist. Mutt and Jeff will be back in The Advertiser shortly.

The Four Burglars

By ARK.

Now here's four burglars took a safe that weighed eight hundred pounds or more, and carried it a flight of stairs and pushed it out the office door. And then they put it in a cart and drove out to a lonely spot, and seven dollars in hard cash was all the loot them burglars got.

They had to work for seven hours far harder than I'm working now, and they got blisters on their hands and sweat was parked upon their brow.

Police are lookin' for them now and searchin' every place they can, and each of them who burgled there is now a quite much-wanted man; and if the cops set eye on them they'll shoot six holes into their vest, they'll tie a rope around their legs and spin another on their chest.

There must have been some wheels got loose or gears had stripped inside their domes, or else they wouldn't take that chance for just a paltry seven bones.

If those who burgled in that place would ply their brains and muscles too, and work as hard at something fair or searchin' for some job to do, I bet inside a year or so they'd have some kale within the bank, and not be fearin' how the cop would lock them in the village tank.

They'd walk upon the village street, buy codfish at the corner store, they'd see the folly of their way and wouldn't burgle then no more.

The Once-Over

The public utilities commission should be very careful about introducing snakes into Springbank park. The garden of Eden was never the same as a pleasure resort after just one serpent got in.

Speaking of reptiles, a Polkestone man found a 16-inch grass snake in the bottle of stout he was drinking. That's the trouble with four-point-four. Nothing ever happens.

Even those inclined to discredit the man's story of a snake in the bottle must at least admire him as a stout liar.

Our own theory about the organ pipes which have mysteriously disappeared from an Old London church is that they will be found doing duty as saxophones in some jazz orchestra.

New York bulls set out to cow a "cowboy gang" of underworld criminals. The unexpected happened. One man was arrested. In justice to the captured bandit, it is only fair to add that he was a one-legged man and had been previously wounded by a bullet.

If Henry Ford wants another relic for his railway museum, he could scarcely do better than take a look at London's C. N. R. depot. No reasonable offer refused.

There can hardly be a worse mistake than selling liquor to government spotters, unless a man keeps the stuff and drinks it himself.

IN THE CELESTIAL LEAGUE.

News of battle. News of battle! How its martial echoes clang. Chekiang troops have taken Nanking. From the haughty war lord Chang. Far across the Yangtze river All his soldiers safely fled. And despite the battle's fury Not a man of them's dead. They shall live to fight tomorrow. Under General Feng Yu Hsiang. When he comes to bat and faces All the curves of Sun Chuan Pang. But just who will win the series I don't know or give a hang.

SIMPLE LITTLE TALES FOR BEDTIME.

My, what a big pile of ashes! Where did they all come from? Why, Mr. Neighbor brought those up out of his cellar this afternoon. Mrs. Neighbour made him do it. She said the coal man couldn't bring any coal until he'd cleaned them. He should have done it last spring, she told him, and he said not to heap coils of fire on his head. It was hard work, and he made such funny faces, but still I think he is such a good man. What makes you think he is so good? Well, he was carrying a big box of ashes on his shoulder and the box broke and the ashes went all over him. But he didn't get mad, or anything. He just sat down on the back step and talked to his Maker about it for ten minutes. Can I go back tomorrow to see him working? No. You will stay away from him until he gets the job done. E. J. P.

Trains and Bullets.

Reader Has Had An Argument On A Point On Which There Will Be More Argument.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—Having a dispute on a certain problem we are writing to you to get your opinion on the question. A man is standing on the front of a train, which is one-half a mile long. Another man is standing on the rear end of the train. The train is travelling at the rate of one hundred miles per hour, and the man on the rear end of the train fires a rifle and the bullet leaves the muzzle of the gun at one hundred miles per hour. The bullet and train are travelling at the same rate. Would the bullet hit the man on the front end of the train?

Yours very truly,

SANATORIUM.

London, October 21.

Answer.—A bullet that has only a velocity of 100 miles an hour would not carry half a mile. If the argument is that the man on the front of the train would not be hit, because the speed of the train was equal to that of the bullet, the bullet would not be able to reach the man on the muzzle of the gun. If a high-powered gun were fired, the man on the train would be hit as quickly as though he were on the ground the same distance away.

Londoner Seeks Explanation As To What Is Really Meant By God's Goodness.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—My attention has been called to a subject in The Advertiser of Oct. 8 that I am sure must interest others, re Dr. Green's expository type of preaching.

I have heard it said that goodness was one of God's leading characteristics. I would like to have it explained what this goodness means. How far it reaches, and what is its effects, and how much has Luke 11, 5-6, to do with it, that reads, "Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God."

If it is true that goodness is one of God's leading characteristics, and as someone has written, "I cannot doubt that the good shall fall last, far off, at last to all—and every winter turn to spring," then it seems that my question, if explained in harmony with this characteristic, will be of interest to at least one far away.

Yours truly,

Grade Political Eggs.

South Wellington Reader Says Mr. Guthrie Is Trying To Sell A Brand That Is Very Stale.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—Egg-grading for local consumption, as it has worked out in this district, is a failure, owing to the inconvenience and unfairness due to the delay in the grading process. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, the Conservative candidate, is trying to make political capital out of this condition. He has declared that if he is returned he will abolish egg-grading at once. But in view of the fact that neither he nor his party will be in a position to abolish anything after the election, the farmer can scarcely hope for any redress from that quarter.

Few people would buy bad eggs from the same vendor the second time. "Once bit, twice shy," is a law that eliminates bad eggs by eliminating bad-egg dealers.

This same law applies to other things. Hon. Vincent Massey, who has accepted a position on the Express. On Saturday evening he was presented with a gold-mounted cane by the News staff.

The Peace of Autumn

By Mackellar McArthur

By MACKELLAR MCARTHUR.

THE FARM, Oct. 21.—Nature has been in such a fitful mood that we have had to keep hustling on every day of fair weather. Picking apples, hunting for carpenter, and doing chores have kept us on the jump from morning until after dark. Yet, apart from the snow and rain which have been causing us worry, there is a mellow serenity stealing over the countryside. Growth is gradually coming to a standstill.

"The bounty and the fruitful strength are gone. And through the soft long wondering days goes on. The silent, serene decadence sad and sweet."

It is a pity that fall should be such a busy time on the farm, for there is more of wondrous beauty about than in any other season of the year. How enlightening it would be to be on a vantage point above the earth to see the contrast between the busy life of the farmer and the peaceful life of the autumn landscape.

Peace of Autumn at Locarno.

Something of the peace of autumn must have inspired the statesmen of Europe at Locarno. It is in keeping with the spirit of the season that the nations should come to their senses and seek to settle disputes amicably. There are enough wars on our hands at all times without man fighting man. Farmers are engaged in endless warfare with insects and noxious weeds, not very inspiring end-direction.

Better Than War To End War.

War and the fear of war have been such a reality in Europe that it might be difficult for us to imagine the emotion of the men who signed "the pact to end war." That phrase has a better ring to it than a "war to end war." The fear of war on this continent has been absent for so long that it is never thought of. Once removed from the minds of the people moved for that unsettled continent.

While the farmers are carrying on their war with insects and weeds, there will be sufficient commercial rivalries to give plenty of scope to the ingenuity and energies of industry. The peace of autumn is not only a time of peace, but a time of peace. The only peace that is needed is the peace of the mind. The only peace that is needed is the peace of the mind. The only peace that is needed is the peace of the mind.

MAJOR OF WINNIPEG FLAYS LIQUOR LAWS

Makes Sensational Charges Against Province at Church Conference.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—Mayor Ralph H. Webb, speaking before the first Manitoba conference of the United Church today, made sensational charges against the provincial government and the law courts. He declared that while conditions under prohibition were bad, present conditions under government sale and control of liquor were "a thousand times worse"; that responsibility rested with the provincial government and the law courts, and that these were a party to infringement of the liquor laws by allowing such infringements to continue. The mayor said he would clean things up in a week if the government and the law courts would give him support.

As a result of the conference a delegation from the mayor's charges wait on the attorney-general tomorrow to ask him for information on the enforcement of the liquor laws. The mayor in his address claimed that the liquor situation was "most obnoxious"; that infringements were continuing every day, and were undermining "our whole social structure."

FRANCE TO MAKE U. S. NEW OFFER

Finance Minister Caillaux Preparing Counter-Proposal For Debt Settlement.

PLAN SINKING FUND

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Oct. 21.—Finance Minister Caillaux is preparing a counter-proposal for the settlement of France's debts to the United States, and the substance of this new offer, which is expected to go forward to Washington next week, was discussed by Premier Painleve and M. Caillaux at luncheon today. Other members of the French debt mission, which visited Washington also attended the luncheon.

This question was considered at the last meeting of the cabinet, which approved the suggestion of the finance minister that another effort be made at once to come to an arrangement with the United States compromise with the United States debt-funding commission before presenting to the chamber of deputies the provisional agreement reached at Washington. By the terms of this provisional settlement, France was to pay $10,000,000 annually for five years as full current interest on the consolidated debt of approximately $1,200,000,000, which France owes to the United States.

The cabinet decided that another attempt to come to a definite final arrangement with the United States was preferable to an effort to get parliament to ratify the provisional accord. A strong current of opinion against the provisional agreement had set in in both the chamber and the senate.

What France can offer in addition to the proposals the Caillaux mission made at Washington was the subject of today's discussion between the premier and finance minister. It is generally agreed in official and political circles that France's capacity to pay her foreign debts depends on the solution of the pressing difficulty of her treasury.

The key to M. Caillaux's plan to renovate French finances is the provision of a sinking fund for both domestic and foreign debts. A settlement with Washington, it is remarked by officials here, would be easier when the financial measures now in view have been accepted by parliament, but the minister of finance is unwilling to delay the new deal of negotiation until domestic political problems are out of the way.

Therefore, with the authority of the cabinet, M. Caillaux probably will send a new offer to Washington before the end of next week.

The terms of the new offer remain to be fixed; it was said in official circles tonight.

MARSHALL CHOICE STRONGLY BACKED

Appointment of English Professor To McMaster University Post Endorsed.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Hamilton, Oct. 21.—The appointment of Professor L. H. Marshall of England to the chair of theology at McMaster university was endorsed by the Ontario and Quebec conference late tonight, the vote being 399 in favor and 159 against.

The vote culminated bitter discussion, which occupied the attention of the delegates since morning. Personalities were flung across the floor and several times delegates shouted "Shame, shame!" at Dr. T. Shields of Toronto, who had previously opposed the appointment. Addressed by Rev. Chancellor H. P. Whidden and Dean Farmer of McMaster university, in defence of his appointment, and by Dr. Shields in opposition, were the features of the session.

Every available seat in Stanley avenue Baptist church was occupied, aisles and sides of the church were jammed with people while scores outside made vain efforts to gain admittance.

When the result of the vote was announced approval was immediately given to the report of the board of governors of the university.

Winding up the debate, Prof. Marshall delivered a scathing attack on the Toronto minister had endeavored to turn thousands of people in Ontario and Quebec against his appointment. He said he was not a Jesuit, but a man of his time, and he challenged Dr. Shields to present proof of the charges made against him.

The Toronto minister's attack was characterized by the professor as a gross breach of good manners and above all as being untrue. These "Men in the morning and whiskey drinkers at the bar would be ashamed to adopt such tactics," he declared.

FRENCH MOROCCAN LINE SHORTENED FORTY MILES

Associated Press Despatch.

Fez, French Morocco, Oct. 21.—As their last operation prior to going into winter quarters, the French troops operating against the Moroccan tribesmen have taken advantage of a spell of the weather to clean up the Beni Ourakgu country and to capture the Moroccan Ridge, the stronghold of the dissident tribesmen.

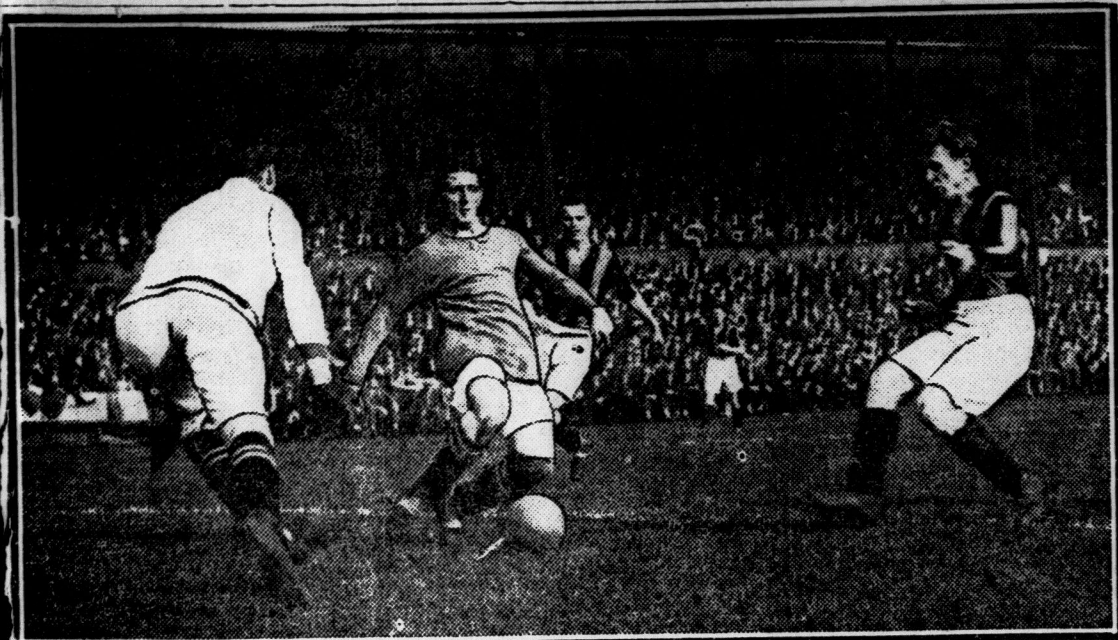

It was from Messaud Ridge that the hostile tribesmen started their attacks against French wagon trains and caused panic among the loyal tribes in the entire region from Kela Desless in the west to Ain Aicha in the east.

In withdrawing their outpost at Sidi Bourokia, a short distance south of Ajdir, for the winter, the French line has been shortened about forty miles.

London Jobber Urges King's Tariff Board To Give Workers Fair Prices

WORKINGMAN IS VICTIM OF HIGH TARIFF PROFIT SAYS LONDON IMPORTER

Ex-Ald. Allan Towe Claims From Personal Experience That the Present Tariff System Abused—It Is "Protection For Profit"—Prices Not Based on Cost—Controlled by Capital.

WANTS TARIFF BOARD TO PROTECT CONSUMER

The Advertiser has received from ex-Ald. Allan M. Towe, of Towe & Towe, wholesale distributors, the following voluntary and remarkably interesting statement on the subject of tariff and prices in Canada.

Mr. Towe, from experience as an importer and jobber, purchasing and distributing goods from both American and Canadian manufacturers, makes an unequivocal charge that the privileges of protection are abused by many Canadian manufacturers and that the consumer pays the penalty.

THE WORKINGMAN IS THE GOAT.

Mr. Towe claims:

1. That organized capital controls prices in Canada.
2. That prices in Canada are not based on cost plus reasonable profit, but on the full amount of the tariff.
3. That prices in Canada in many lines are 50 per cent higher than in United States because of the above condition.
4. That the workingman and consumer have no protection and merely pay the price of the manufacturer's privilege.

ADVOCATES TARIFF BOARD TO STOP INJUSTICE.

Mr. Towe advocates as a remedy the tariff board proposed by the prime minister. This board, he says, should give manufacturers whatever protection is necessary—30 per cent or double that if necessary—but only enough to assure prices based on actual cost plus reasonable profit.

Such protection, he says, would give protection to the workingman, who is now the victim of a blind tariff system.

Mr. Towe's article follows in full.

"Protection for Profit."

"One of the issues in the present dominion election is protection for profit versus protection for the manufacturer in Canada, whose price is based on the cost of goods 'made in Canada.'"

The consumers in Canada have it thoroughly established in their minds that there is something radically wrong with the retail price of goods in Canada as compared with the retail price in United States and, as an importer, I can speak with absolute and emphatic authority in making the following synopsis of the matter, as I have studied it for a number of years.

"Anyone who has followed the distribution of food products through the wholesale grocery trade will agree that the grocery chain stores have grown stronger and stronger because the people have demanded to buy goods at prices which include only a reasonable profit."

"The Canadian Manufacturers' association, Wholesale Hardware Jobbers' association and many other combinations and distributing interests have set up a barrier which has limited competition, and in their endeavor to control the Canadian wholesale markets have forced many legitimate jobbing channels in Canada, who were not members of any association or combination, to buy in the United States, or stay out of business."

Must Belong to Jobbing Ring.

"In order to become a member of some of these associations it was necessary that a unanimous consent of all the members be given before a new member could be admitted, and unless in the jobbing 'ring' he could not be placed on the 'list,' and, therefore, unable to buy goods to sell to retail trade."

"Under present conditions a jobber who buys in the United States and pays the heavy duty and transportation amounting to 40, 45 and 50 per cent is still able to sell goods in competition with the Canadian manufacturer who has his price based on the prices in United States plus these large percentages on almost every commodity that the people buy in Canada. The Canadian manufacturer is playing the same game and the people have to stand for it, due to the fact that the manufacturers have limited the distribution to a chosen few who are in most cases members of such associations as mentioned above."

"Some manufacturers openly declare that their prices are agreed to by their competitors, and there is no particular competition among themselves, and that the price is set and the people have to pay it regardless. The Canadian manufacturers who dominate the trade and call for the people to buy only 'made in Canada' goods do not hesitate to show on their price lists which they send out to the Canadian dealers the words, 'Printed in United States.'"

"There are many lines manufactured in Canada which jobbers can not buy except that they be placed on the 'list,' and if not on the 'list,' then they are forced to buy in the United States in order to get goods. When the jobber finds he can buy in the United States, pay the duty and transportation and still make more profit than if buying in Canada, it is no wonder that they continue to regard with suspicion the manufacturer whose price is so much higher in Canada. The consumer pays for the abuse and is powerless to complain. It is in the interest of the dealers and consumers as well as the jobbers, who feel restraint in Canada, that I am submitting this information."

"This limiting of distribution and setting of prices by associations and combinations affects every line of merchandise, and I can give facts, figures and correspondence to verify this statement."

Capital Controls Prices.

"The point I wish to stress is that organized capital in Canada has control of the price and sale of Canadian goods to the extent that those who are not importers have to pay the price on almost every commodity, based on the cost in the United States, plus duty, transportation, etc. Instead of the price, consistent with the cost of manufacturing and selling in Canada."

"The protection should be offered to Canadian manufacturers of 30 and 35 per cent tariff or double that if necessary by a tariff board as proposed by Premier King to prevent the manufacturers in Canada exploiting the people by the protection given them or in other words protection to the consumer with a tariff which gives the manufacturer and jobber authority by legislation to set a price in Canada based on the cost produced in this country, plus reasonable profits only."

"The tariff board will protect the Canadian manufacturers who will get nearly all the business in their particular line, and this protection will increase production in Canada with lowered cost to every one."

"The price in Canada on many lines is as high as 50 per cent over the price in United States, and the workingman wonders why he does not get a share of this protection in wages, and the answer is very plain."

London Rolling Mills Give "Evidence of Prosperity"

BIG NEW BUILDING PROGRESSES AT MR. WHITE'S PLANT.

Above are two views of a large extension which is being built at the London Rolling Mills, of which Mr. White, the Conservative candidate, is head. The top view, taken some weeks ago, shows the existing plant in full on June 5, stated: "We have not made any announcement as to extension of plant, nor have we any announcement to make. If we do make any changes it will probably be in the direction of the more efficient handling of materials and possibly in processes of manufacture." To his audience at the opera house last Tuesday night Mr. White explained that the new building is not an extension of present products but to manufacture new lines in steel. He stated that he had merely bought a second-hand plant in Toronto, which he was moving to London, or as the Conservative paper reported it, "a small building and machinery" were being moved from Toronto. Mr. White stated that there is no evidence of prosperity and that Canada's outlook is dark.

Mr. White Gives Mr. Dennis Some Tips On How to Avoid "Evidence of Prosperity"

While Mr. Dennis in an Imaginary Conversation Points Out That Mr. White Is Making Political Blunder by Investing His Money in Canada—People Will Talk.

MR. WHITE PUTS MR. DENNIS IN HIS PLACE

Mr. J. E. White, Conservative candidate and head of the London Rolling Mills, were to meet Mr. E. R. Dennis, of the Dennis Wire and Iron Works Co. Ltd., who recently resigned as president of the Western Ontario Conservative Association, the following imaginary dialogue might take place:

Mr. Frank White has just been down to the plant, looking at the progress of the new building. Mr. E. R. Dennis, has just been at his office, looking over the details for the extension of a new line of his industry, to which he is devoting more of his time since he resigned as head of the Conservative association. Like Mr. White he finds that things are going long nicely, so he takes the air, and meets Mr. White on the corner.

Mr. Dennis opens the conversation with a salute: "Good morning, Frank, isn't this the first morning you've seen in a week?"

Mr. White agreed. "Just been down to our plant," continued Mr. Dennis, "and everything is in shape there, the extension of the lines that we added is coming along all right. I see you are making considerable progress down at your shop, too. We'll soon see the new place in operation, I suppose. It looks good to see our London factories building extensions. I meant to congratulate you on it before."

"A Very Ticklish Question."

"Not quite so fast, Mr. Dennis," replied Mr. White. "I have many thousands of dollars."

"Well, don't you think people will say that the very fact that you are making this extension and spending so much money on it means that you think there is a good chance for it being a success?"

"Well, some Liberals might say that, but Mr. Meighen never would," replied Mr. White.

"But they will go farther," persisted Mr. Dennis, "and they will say that you figure you can make a profit out of the business under the King government, because you know, and I know, that there is no probability that the Conservatives are going to win on Oct. 29, and even if they do there is no guarantee that they will stay in office."

"Can't you see what I mean, that your business will have to live under Liberal and Conservative governments alike, so it means that you have confidence in Liberal governments, otherwise you wouldn't risk the thousands of dollars you are making by the way of investment?"

Mr. Dennis Has Prosperity Bug.

"Well, Mr. Dennis," replied Mr. White, "I expected more political understanding from you on a question like this. I fear that since you have retired from politics you are getting caught up in the stream of prosperity talk that is going the rounds today. Can't you see that by taking the view you do you are really working an injury to the cause of the party. It grieves me to think you could not appreciate the explanation I made about my own plant growing. It is growth to be sure, but not growth during election days. I wish you could get my viewpoint and Mr. Meighen's viewpoint, until the election is over. After that you can bring your friends down and talk about it as much as you like, but in the meantime will you please use a little discretion."

"Well, I've got to get back to the factory," replied Mr. Dennis. "My time is pretty well taken up there now."

"That's where I should be right now myself," concluded Mr. White, "but while this fight is on I have to be around explaining to the people how my factory extension is no evidence of prosperity."

CANADA IS WINNING FROM U.S. FACTORIES

Trade Figures Silence Story of Canada's Failure—Canadian Factories Have Won Over $62,000,000 From American Market Since 1921—Mr. Little Appeals on Unity of All Provinces.

The basis of Mr. Meighen's appeal to Canadian voters is that Canada is in bad shape, that the country is depressed, that business is bad, that national failure confronts us.

This appeal of despondency Mr. J. E. White, as a follower of Mr. Meighen, is offering to the people of London, and asking them by their votes to endorse. One of its most frequent features is the statement that Canada is being flooded with manufactured goods from Canada and that Canadian factories are doing no business.

The facts contradict both these statements. Official trade reports for 1921-22, when Mr. Meighen was premier, and for the past year 1924-25, show two things:

1.—That the importation of manufactured goods from the United States is steadily decreasing.

2.—That the business of Canadian factories in exporting manufactured goods to the United States is steadily increasing.

In other words, the truth about Canada gives Canadians pride in their country. Canada is winning her way back from post-war depression. Canada is more than evening up matters with the United States, although Canada had nearly three years more of war than her neighbor. Canada has done well.

IMPORTS FROM U. S. ARE DECREASING.

Here are the figures which silence the story of Mr. Meighen and Mr. White that Canada is being flooded with American goods and facing ruin. They are the official trade figures, showing importation of principal manufactured goods from the United States to Canada in the years 1921-22 and 1924-25:

Manufactured wood	27,513,564	37,778,545
Totals	107,269,948	$150,052,491

These figures should make Canadians proud of Canada. They prove that since Mr. Meighen went out of power in 1921-22 CANADA HAS ACTUALLY TAKEN THE OFFENSIVE AND IS CAPTURING THE AMERICAN MARKET. Instead of failure, it is a splendid success.

The totals of the figures above show:

1.—That the importation of American manufactured goods into Canada has dropped $13,970,358 in the four years since 1921.

2.—That Canadian factories have increased their sales of manufactured goods to the United States by $48,782,543 since 1921.

CANADIAN FACTORIES HAVE WON $62,752,901.

In other words, Canada's trade battle with the United States, so far as Canadian factories alone are concerned, shows a four-year victory for Canada of $62,752,901. It is victory—not failure. It is another item in the "evidence of prosperity" which Mr. White has stated does not exist.

MR. LITTLE IS FOR UNITY OF CANADA.

Mr. E. S. Little, who is also a Canadian manufacturer, is making a very different appeal to the people of London. With his leader, the prime minister, he says that Canada has done well. He believes that the tariff can remain as it is with direction by a non-political board. He thinks that blindly pushing the tariff higher and higher will merely lead to higher prices and exploitation of the consumer. He is willing to turn from the tariff to Canada's immediate problems.

As a Canadian, Mr. Little sees that the first great need of Canada is to hold her nine provinces together in sympathy and unity, to secure understanding between the Canadian in Alberta and the Canadian in Nova Scotia. Mr. Little's appeal to London is based on the need of all Canada, not on the demands of a limited group. Mr. Little in London represents the broad Liberalism of the prime minister, pride in Canada and consideration for all Canadians from Atlantic to Pacific.

IT IS THE ONLY SOUND COURSE BY WHICH CONFEDERATION CAN ENDURE. London should put herself on the side of unity and patriotism.

PRINTERS MAY FIRE HAYDON

Local Paper's Statement of Liberal Printing Contracts Is an Untruth.

The local Conservative newspaper yesterday published an article intended to represent the National Liberal Committee as disregarding the employment of union labor in the printing of campaign literature and deliberately employing only non-union labor.

The article was based on a letter sent to local unions by Mr. J. A. P. Haydon, president of the Ontario and Quebec conference of typographical unions. On the strength of this letter the Conservative paper stated that "principles of organized labor and rights of workers are deliberately violated" and speaks of the "King fight against unions."

These Statements Are Untrue.

These statements are entirely for political purposes and are not based on the truth. They nevertheless require explanation and correction. Upon publication of the article The Advertiser telegraphed to the National Liberal Committee at Ottawa for a statement of the facts. This statement came in an immediate reply from Mr. E. C. Buchanan, The Advertiser's staff representative in Ottawa. His despatch appears on page 3 of this edition.

Here Is the Explanation.

The explanation is simple. It consists of two points:

1. Orders for printing from the National Liberal Committee were placed in union shops to the full extent of their capacity. Urgent printing contracts were delayed ten days in order that union printers might be employed. When all union shops were obliged to decline such contracts because of their volume some contracts were let to non-union establishments with the full understanding of union shops.

Mr. Haydon Is Conservative Worker.

2. Mr. J. A. P. Haydon, the present president of the union, and the writer of the letter in question, is a Conservative campaign worker. He has sought Conservative support for his various political ambitions. His activities have so far departed from the interests of labor in Canada that the next meeting of the local union in London will see a resolution demanding that he resign. The same action against Mr. Haydon is now being considered by officers of various national labor organizations with headquarters in Ottawa.

Labor Knows the Prime Minister.

The misrepresentation of the prime minister's attitude towards labor by the local Conservative paper is mean and unparliamentary. Labor knows King. They knew him when he was their minister at Ottawa. They remember him as the man who secured for railway men the pension rights of which they had been deprived and which Mr. Meighen told his minister of labor, Gideon Robertson, he would continue to refuse. And they knew him too as the prime minister who gave labor a voice in national affairs by putting Mr. Tom Moore on the railway commission.

SHEEP KILLING STOPS IN LONDON TOWNSHIP

Forty Animals Destroyed by Dogs in District During Past Summer.

The "dog days" for London township are over for the year. In the opinion of township councilors and farmers who have large flocks of sheep. During the summer months stray dogs killed some 40 sheep in the township and the council has been forced to pay out several hundred dollars to sheep owners.

No reports of sheep killing dogs have been received for over a month, and it is believed that the dogs have called it a summer and have returned to their own homes, where they can spend the winter months snoozing before the fire and dreaming of future trips next summer. The claims of Eugene Patrick, who had some valuable Karacul sheep destroyed this summer, and who refused to accept a summer and a township sheep valuator have not yet been settled. Mr. Patrick appealed to the Ontario government for their valuation, but the township has received no information in the matter as yet.

St. Thomas C.I. Juniors Blank Central:- Purple and Gold Soccer Team Eliminated

Local Student Gridders Are Whitewashed 15 to 0

Flower City C. I. Juniors Take Advantage of Costly Fumbles.

RETURN SATURDAY

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, Oct. 21.—By taking advantage of breaks, that came all on the local side, the St. Thomas C. I. Juniors, who were defeated by the Flower City C. I. Juniors, 15 to 0, here today. Central, usually came behind the goal line after St. Thomas had worked up the field on breaks.

The Forest City crew has the advantage in weight, and if they were not for the nervousness which is able to overcome the count in the next game, which will be played in London on Saturday. The first touchdown, gained by the local team, came early in the game. Neil kicked for a field goal, but the goal was not reached. This was converted by Graham. Another field goal was made on the visitors' 20-yard line and an end run paved the way for the next touchdown, the first scoring in the second quarter.

The second period opened with London in possession of the ball. Armstrong tried an on-side kick on the third down, but the ball did not go over the scrimmage. After a few minutes, the local team worked well up to the London goal and on a run as well as the London goal, the local team scored. The break did not come, however, until Armstrong, in returning Neil's kick, failed to clear the goal line. Cascardien covered the ball for the thirteen count.

Two more touchdowns completed the score. The St. Thomas C. I. had another touchdown, but a penalty called for lighting between Broadbent and Drew cancelled the tally.

Wong as endman, Drew as halfback and Armstrong and Alexander played stellar roles for the visitors. Alexander, in the second half, but his place was capable filled by Drew. Langley showed up as up as the local team. The St. Thomas C. I. has ever produced. Wagner, Cascardien, Sharp and Neil, in a creditable game throughout.

The line-ups:
St. Thomas: S. T. C. I. — Shaw, McNally, innards, Cascardien and Chapp; middles, Feacock and Wagner; ends, Ruppel and Thompson. Bying wing, Knicker, Langley, Graham, halfback, Broadbent, Neil and Langley; subs, Green, Trevelan, Aody, Spright, Campbell and Baldwin. Insides, Hawkway and Back; middles, Mortimer and Alexander; backs, McKee, Wong and Wong; quarter, Jaques; flying wing, Rankin; halves, Broad, Armstrong and Foster; subs, Munroe, Drew, Hayton and Johns.

Referee—Baird and Pack.
Linekeeper—Palmer, Gammage and Smith.
Timekeepers—Martin and McLaughlin.

TWIN CITY WAKES UP, PLANS BASEBALL DRIVE

Kitchener and Waterloo Executive Hands Over Reins To New Body.

Special to The Advertiser.
Kitchener, Oct. 21.—Unless all signs fail, Kitchener and Waterloo are at last on the road to securing a good baseball team for the Intercounty league next year.

The executive, at present in charge, has indicated that it will resign in a body, and accordingly a meeting has been called for Monday night, at which time the new executive will be elected. Citizens interested in ball have apparently at last awakened up, and there will be a very representative gathering at the meeting according to promises already made.

The new executive will probably immediately inaugurate a campaign for finances, having a budget of $1,000. It is anticipated that this money will be raised with little difficulty and the meeting team will thus be assured the city.

St. Marys C. I. To Meet South Here on Tuesday

Stone Town Eleven Plays Local Students in Wossa Second Round.

Next Tuesday, South collegiate soccer, winners of local group A, will tackle the much-touted St. Marys C. I. eleven in the first game of the second round in W.O.S.S.A.

This is the third consecutive year that South has been through in the local group, and in the previous two seasons, the Red and White has worked its way to the finals. This year they hope to repeat as far as the finals are concerned and then go right on to the title.

Although the team's chances are good, as it is a well-balanced aggregation, lacking any individual play, but well trained in combinations and tricks. Usually the smaller Wossa district schools have not been able to boast of anything more than a fair team, but this year it is different, if St. Marys C. I. is taken as an example. The prediction of critics is that if South passes the Stone Town team, then London will have at least one eleven in the finals.

The Red and White team this year includes most of the players who were responsible for putting the school into the finals before. They have that much experience to back them, which should have a lot to do with pulling a victory over St. Marys, which is reported as having several good men on the team.

RESUME HORSE RACING AT JUAREZ THIS WINTER

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 21.—Horse racing will be resumed this winter at the Juarez track, which was closed in 1916, during the Mexican revolution.

Col. Matt J. Winn, manager of the Kentucky Jockey club, and one of the owners of the Juarez track, has announced that he has concluded arrangements for a three-year lease on the track.

The Juarez track was the fastest in the world, and because of the mild winter weather, broke all records for "weather fair, track fast" days.

With Backs Against Wall Broncos Are Determined To Bust Up O.A.C. March

Purple and White Intermediates Taking Farmers Seriously in Saturday Clash.

CONKLE STILL OUT

Great Booting Duel Again Seen With Warren and Wilson As Principals.

As a result of Guelph Aggies' overwhelming defeat of Varsity yesterday, Coach Fickley will have a real good man to talk about in his bedtime stories to the Western Broncos from now until Saturday.

There was ill omen in the air yesterday what with the aforesaid victory of Aggies at Toronto and the stuffing out of Western's junior intercollegiate hopes by the younger fry of the same O. A. C.

Was enough ill-omen stuff around in globs last night to cause a good-sized stampede in the coral of the Broncos, especially with the Boss, Wrangler himself returning home with the sound of a broken back.

Guelph was considered nothing much to start with, but they've been earning more than serious consideration ever since, and their performance yesterday stamped them as a real threat to Western's supremacy.

That puts the telling test up to Western Saturday, and that will have them fighting with their backs against the wall, and especially with Conkle, their great little quarter, out of the game, and Jordan, one of the best players the team has, also an absentee.

Scene Has Changed.
But those who have watched Western this year believe the Broncos will come through Saturday. The Broncos saw a good-sized stampede in the coral of the Broncos, especially with the Boss, Wrangler himself returning home with the sound of a broken back.

Grid Gossip

Western and London intermediates, who both meet crucial tests Saturday, were out at full strength last night—barring casualties of course.

The Huestis men worked out again at their new system of interference, with which it is hoped to spill Sarnia's counter-attacks.

Offensively, London's back division, immensely superior on paper to the trio that holds up the goal post at Sarnia, will be given a better chance to get in their work Saturday.

Three field goals essayed last game, had they been successful, would have meant a victory for the Broncos. Sarnia took only one boot, but it there are any called this Saturday, his toe should find the mark.

That Coach Mike Rodden is not any too confident about the Argo team for next Saturday is shown by the following from his pen:

"The Argo loss was one of the most severe a team can suffer. He was one of the greatest secondary defence men ever produced in Canadian football, and his absence weakened the Argo wing line."

Argo also ran into a peck of trouble when Joe Green was unable to do any kicking. The Double Blue captain, a cleverness born by strong determination, and as a result many kicks were returned for good gains. "Chuck" Reas, the national runner, is not a good catch and cannot kick or tackle.

With Green and Reaves playing back for the catches, and Hamby, a youngster, who is anything but a good tackler, playing on the secondary defence, the prospect of a victory about, they could not return kicks, the catching was wretched at times and the defence system was weakened.

Montreal Star: The new squad played a good football game, but not enough to win a championship in some ways. It wasn't good enough Saturday. The greatest collection of individual stars in the game couldn't make a team out of the pieces.

Taunts that their day was done and gone, that they were a team of "has been" players, were heard after their poor exhibition against Varsity last night in their cars, and Saturday Queens was out for a better showing.

beachville, Oct. 21.—Unemployment is unknown in this village and even when other places were feeling the effects of a period of depression the conditions here have been good.

At present about fifty men are employed here who are living in Ingersoll or Woodstock and are unable to get residence here because of a lack of suitable houses. Local residents are, however, doing their best to increase the number of dwellings in the village, particularly in view of the fact that another industry is starting here, and more men will be

WINNIPEG

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—A firm undertone prevailed during the early trading on the wheat market here today when prices were half to one cent higher, but the buying was not sufficient to take care of liberal offerings late in the day and quotations dropped, the closing ranging ½c to 1½c lower. A sharp break at Chicago was the main factor.

prices were based on improved cash reports. October closed at $1.27 1/2, compared with $1.25 on Tuesday. Durr said the market was "a little more active" but heeding pressure on the May futures market closed at $1.23 1/2. Weather conditions were "greatly improved throughout the western states."

There was a fairly large trade in barley and moderately fair in oats, but little in wheat, he said.

"Prices fell in sympathy with the wheat."

"The demand exceeded the supply today's cash wheat market, and a much-improved condition was reported with reports regarding some overnight price increases in the higher grades. Cash coarse grains were quiet."

CHICAGO
Associated Press Dispatch

A sharp new setback in price took place soon after business began. Heavy selling was described largely to a new market speculator, was in evidence and there was no aggressive support apparent from buyers. The opening, $\frac{7}{8}$ c to $\frac{9}{8}$ c lower, new style, was followed by slight rally and then by a drop to $\frac{1}{8}$ c. $\$1.41\frac{1}{2}$ for December and $\$1.40\frac{1}{2}$ for May.

Fresh low price records for the season were reached by corn. Downturn came chiefly as result of wheat weakness, but spreading unchanged to corn.

Oats were easily influenced by etherals. Starting unchanged to 1/2c to 1 1/2c, the market remained at about the same level.

CANADIANS RETURNING HOME
IMPROVE REALTY MARKET

London Board Decides On Advertising Campaign at Monthly Meeting.

BACK HOTEL PLAN

Due to the large number of Canadians returning to this country from the United States, the real estate market has been very active of late, according to a report made to the London real estate board last night at its regular monthly meeting, in the office of Harry Semon, president of the board.

A number of applications for membership in the association were approved.

Besides routine business, the meeting took up the question of the use of the term "Realtor" by some real estate agents who are not members of the National association of real estate boards. It was felt that some definite measure should be taken to confine this name to agents who belonged to the board, an organization with definite aims and ethics.

Following up this line of thought, the board decided to advertise in the city papers, in order to acquaint the public with the aims and ethics of the board and the reasons for its existence.

The new London hotel proposition was discussed and it was decided unanimously to give general and whole-hearted support to the London chamber of commerce in this endeavor.

The meeting went on record as feeling the great benefit derived from the attendance of the London delegates at the Detroit convention of the National association of real estate boards. More than 6,000 realtors attended the Detroit meeting, according to reports made at last night's meeting.

PROSPERITY SEEN
FOR ALL IRELAND

Rev. A. M. Wilson Tells London Audience of Mission Work.

That the dark days of rebellion were now over, and that Ireland will shortly come into her own, was the message delivered to an attentive audience last night in Cronyn hall by the Rev. A. Mercer Wilson of the Irish church missions.

"Although during the days of the rebellion the Sinn Feiners invariably chose to attack Protestant property, this feeling of antagonism is largely being overcome by our mission work," said Mr. Wilson. "I have had personal experience with this sort of treatment. My own residence was riddled with bullets on more than one occasion, and once at least was occupied by Free Staters, who were being attacked by the Sinn Fein element."

"The Roman church has lost her former absolute sway over the population, particularly the republican workers, although the clergy are divided on the merits of the Free State and republican systems," continued Mr. Wilson.

T. P. O'Connor, former Sinn Feiner, and Roman Catholic, now a convert to the Anglican church, discussed the work of the co-workers of the Irish church missions, and described the wonderful reception being given by the Irish people to the scriptures in the vernacular.

Hospital and medical phases of the work of the missions were described by Dr. Long.

"We recently founded a medical mission in Limerick, a strong Roman center, and received so much strenuous opposition that it was impossible for me to walk down street there without the protection of a policeman. This rough usage is now over. I am glad to say, and we are winning our way into the hearts of the people."

In the absence of Dean Tucker, the Rev. G. O. Lighthorn presided over the meeting, and introduced the speakers.

The Rev. Dr. Beattie of the First United church was in the audience.

BYRON MEN HEAR
TWO CANDIDATES

Frank White and A. K. Hodgins Make Appeal at Sanatorium.

At Byron sanatorium last night Frank White, Conservative candidate in London, and A. King Hodgins, the Conservative candidate in East Middlesex, declared that in their opinion the only possible salvation for Canada and the only way in which the young nation could be saved from total financial bankruptcy was by the election of these two men as members of the next parliament and by the return of the Melghen forces to control at Ottawa. Both speakers reiterated much of the "blue run" talk which has been broadcast by their leader, Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the opposition in the last parliament.

Mr. White emphasized the work that he had done at Ottawa in behalf of returned men and in aiding them in securing pensions. He declared that this had been a pleasant duty and he hoped to be able to do more for the men who had fought overseas. He felt confident that Canada would choose to attack the soldiers fairly.

Dealing with tariff matters Mr. White declared that factories were closing and that the emigration to United States was too large. He contended that tonnage had increased on the railroads and could see only disaster ahead unless the tide was swung by a change in government. He argued that returns for investments in industry were so small that money was being placed in government and other securities instead of being used to give employment to men who needed work. He argued for protection of industry by a higher tariff and said that it was not talking blue run to state facts and that it would be cowardly not to face the situation squarely.

"We come to you with a policy of protection for industry and for the farmer," declared Mr. White. "We ask you to protect industrial life of Canada by your vote on election day."

Urging a policy of protection, Mr. Hodgins also referred to the Conservative statement that there was a large exodus of Canadians to United States. He too was confident that the only way in which conditions could be corrected was to return Hon. Mr. Meighen and his colleagues to Ottawa with sufficient numbers to assume the reins of government. He urged his audience to vote for himself and for Mr. White as the representatives of the Melghen forces in this section and thus help assure a new government. He referred at some length to the late Sir John A. Macdonald and his national policy.

Other speakers were Colonel Coles, Mrs. A. T. Edwards and Mr. Mills, all of whom urged support for the candidates. Rev. R. D. Mess was chairman of the evening and spoke in eulogistic terms of the work which had been done by Mr. White on behalf of the returned men.

Jack Ballantyne rendered solos which were much enjoyed by the audience.

DELEGATES NAMED BY LONDON Y.M.C.A.

W. C. Benson and Leslie Gray Will Attend the International Convention in Washington.

W. C. Benson, director, and Leslie Gray, president of the young men's section, will attend as delegates from London the 41st international convention of the Y. M. C. A., which opens at Washington on Saturday, Oct. 24.

President Coolidge will address the convention, and his speech will be broadcasted by three stations, according to an announcement received at the local Y. M. C. A. this morning.

The president will speak at 10:30 in the morning, standard time.

The three stations are: WRC, Washington, which will operate on 469 meters wave length; WJZ, New York City, 455 meters, and WGY, Schenectady, 379 meters. The first two belong to the Radio Corporation of America, and the third to the General Electric Company.

It was considered possible that the stations of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company might be added to this list, but up to the time the announcement was sent out from New York no arrangements had been made by that corporation to broadcast the president's address.

Local Labor Body Also Makes Donation to Children's Aid Society.

A donation of $25 to the Children's Aid society was approved at last night's meeting of the London Trades and Labor council. The meeting only drew a fair attendance on account of many of the delegates being engaged in election campaign work.

President John Colbert was in the chair.

A communication from the secretary's office here of the Ontario and Quebec Conference of Typographical unions, charging that 25 publications of the National Liberal committee were the product of non-union labor, was filed.

HOSPITAL COAL PILE
SMOKING FOR MONTHS

The hospital trust bought its coal last spring, to begin with. Quite a lot of fuel was purchased, and they stacked it up beside the city incinerator on Ottawa avenue. Presently when weather came and the coal pile commenced to smoke. It has never quit smoking since then.

"How come?" inquired a reporter when he saw the young Vesuvius this week.

"It's a habit," returned a workman at the incinerator plant. "Coal there since last spring. Combustion they call it."

The hospital's heating bill is $28,000 this year.

Dewolf Hopper's Mind Changeable
Lastest Marriage Venture Proves

Dewolf Hopper has changed his mind. In marrying Lillian Glazier, 29-year-old singer of California, yesterday, the veteran comedian entered matrimony for the sixth time, and thereby took a step which he himself declared to be impossible when in London almost two years ago.

When Dewolf Hopper played here at the Grand theatre in several of Gilbert & Sullivan light operas, it was a short time after he had been divorced by his fifth wife, known on the stage as Hedda Hopper. In an interview at the time Mr. Hopper threw up his hands and exclaimed, "Never, I know when to say enough. I'm too old now for further ventures anyway."

Married life was not all roses, he continued, and laughingly told of his record of five marriages. "I'm a single man again," he said. "I think I'll let it go at that and remain as I am for the rest of my life."

Dewolf Hopper is now 69 years of age. He married his sixth wife, 40 years his junior, at Hartford, Conn., on Monday.

LUCAN FARMER FINDS
WAR CLUB WHILE PLOWING

What is without doubt the busiest-end of an Indian stone war club has been unearthed by Bruce M. Jones, a farmer of R. R. 3, Lucan, while plowing. The stone, a white one, is a little more than six inches long and is two and a half inches wide at its broadest point. It is curiously shaped like the print of a moccasin-encased foot, and is clearly of aboriginal workmanship.

Along one side of the weapon runs a series of what appear to be knife marks.

The account of Dr. Woolverton's collection of relics and curios of Western Ontario in The Advertiser of last Saturday attracted the attention of Mr. Jones, and he sent in a drawing and description of his find in order that the doctor might classify it.

APOSTOLIC SUCCESSION
HINDERS UNION, IS VIEW

Associated Press Despatch.
Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 22.—Characterizing the doctrine of the apostolic succession as "a stone wall obstacle to church union," the Rt. Rev. Wilford Brewster of Toronto, bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church, last night received into his own denomination two ministers of the Methodist church without reordination.

Bishop Brewster is presiding here over the annual council of the Chicago synod of the Reformed Episcopal church.

Speaking on "The History of the Reformed Episcopal Church," Rev. W. Russell Collins, Chicago, said that "modernists have always been present and have always eventually disappeared, as those of our own day will doubtlessly do."

ST. ANDREW'S SESSION
ADDS SIX NEW ELDERS

Decide to Retain Present Name Under United Church of Canada.

Six new elders were added to the session of St. Andrew's church at a meeting last night in the church hall.

The members of the congregation so honored were Professor W. J. Patterson, S. B. Gorwill, A. D. Neil, P. J. Thompson, B. McCrimmon and R. J. Webster.

The only other question discussed at the congregational meeting was one regarding the future name of the congregation. It was decided to retain the name "St. Andrew's," and commencing today the full designation of the church will be "St. Andrew's United Church of Canada, London, Ontario."

On both questions the voice of the congregation was unanimous.

Associated Press Despatch.
Rome, Oct. 22.—Members of the Italian war debt commission departed today for Washington, where they will attempt to negotiate a settlement of what Italy owes the United States.

COURT RECOGNIZES
PLEA FOR LENIENCY

John Brown Is Given Three Months' Sentence by Police Magistrate.

John Brown, 60-year-old court frequenter, timidly suggested in police court this morning that leniency be tried as a remedy for his liquor fault.

"You've been pretty strict with me," he told the magistrate, referring to numerous reformatory terms which he has received in recent years. "Be lenient this time, and let me off with the minimum."

"What was this stuff you were drinking last night?" asked Mr. Graydon, as he picked up from the bench a dusty-looking bottle of peroxide. Brown explained that it was a delectable and non-injurious drink.

"If you continue drinking this stuff do you know what will happen?" Brown was asked again. Remaining silent he was told of the poisoning qualities of peroxide and rubbing alcohol.

"You'll be found dead in a barn some day," Mr. Graydon added. "Fifty dollars and costs or three months, and don't ever say that I'm not lenient."

CAR FLEET READY FOR COAL DEMAND

61,370 Conveyances Available When Fuel Shortage Cry Is Raised.

DANGER REMOTE

By J. C. ROYLE, Copyright, 1925.

Washington, Oct. 21.—A total of 61,370 surplus coal cars is now available to shoot supplies of fuel into districts threatened with a coal shortage. This fleet is large enough to handle 3,065,500 tons, in addition to the present heavy movement of bituminous coal. Thousands of these reserve coal cars are now concentrated at Harrisburg, Lancaster and Altoona, Penn., at Columbus, Portsmouth and Cincinnati, Ohio, at Russell and Louisville, Ky., and at Roanoke, Va. They are in readiness to move into the non-union bituminous coal fields within 24 hours whenever a sudden demand for fuel develops.

Three Masked Bandits Bound and Gagged Household—Escape With Loot.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 21.—Up till a late hour tonight the county police authorities had found no trace of the three armed and masked bandits who held up, bound and gagged Frank Burrows, his wife and their maid in their bungalow home at Long Branch, a Toronto suburb, early yesterday, and stole jewelry valued at about $1,500 and $200 in cash. The bandits gained access to the bungalow on the pretext that they were old friends of Mr. Burrows, who was preparing to retire after a party at his house.

Here and There About the Store

TIME TO SEW for BAZAAR or CHRISTMAS

The arrival of dusk about the tea hour and the cozy indoors of late October reminds many women that there is great pleasure in sewing fancy work for the church bazaar and for Christmas gifts. Then too, the purse that has so many calls will stand the strain better by giving better made articles at only the cost of the materials.

PRETTY LINGERETTE, 50c

A yard wide, and so dainty as to suggest the cobweb weave. This is a great favorite, and we show you an ensemble underwear set made from a Designer Pattern which suggests the practical usefulness of the fabric. Colors are Orchid, Maise, White, Pink, Peach, Nile and Sky 50c yard

NOVELTY PLISSE, 50c

Is very finely mercerized, soft and so pretty after laundering. No ironing necessary. It comes in a new shadow printing as well as many plain colors. About ten to choose from. Designer Pattern No. 4311 is a lovely style for ladies' pyjamas we made up in this fabric. The cost of material is very moderate. 50c yard

BLUEBIRD CREPE, 35c

Lots of pretty bird designs and butterflies and floral, as well as the old favorite bluebird. Also the new shades in plain. This Crepe is fine in quality and a nice finish. It launders well. No ironing required. Forty different colors and patterns imported by us from the English makers. Direct importing makes such a value possible. 35c yard

DURO FABRICS

Where you need really boiling dyes for your bazaar or Christmas gifts, if only for applique work, insist on "Duro" dye.

DURO BROADCLOTHS, new colorings, 38-inch. 85c

DURO CHAMBRAYS, fine finish, 36-inch. 65c

DURO GINGHAMS, popular checks, 36-inch. 65c

DURO SHIRTINGS, new range of stripes, 32-inch. 35c

DURO MADRAS, the better shirting, 32-inch. 65c

MAYFLOWER PERCALE, 39c

These Percales didn't arrive on the good ship Mayflower, but as the name suggests, they are just as quaint, dainty and pretty as a Puritan maid. Lots of new patterns, good washing colors. We show you a child's dress from pattern No. 8259, also another from pattern No. 8127. Both are favorites. An apron from Designer Pattern No. 8386 has already proved popular in this goods for bazaars. Mayflower Percale, 36-inch 39c yard
