After the ceremony the young couple went by motor to their home at Boom Road. Mr. and Mrs. Mullen have a host of friends who wish them every happiness in life.

FOREST FIRES

Serious forest fires, attributed to the activities of blueberry pickers were reported last week to the department of lands and mines. The largest blaze reported was one at Portage River near Tracadie in Gloucester County and was said to be rapidly spreading. The conditions created by strong winds are regarded as extremely serious. Special instructions have been given fire rangers and wardens to watch parties of blueberry pickers during the month of August as this season is recognized as one of the dangerous periods of the fire season.

Committees Formed for Gov. Generals Visit

A large and representative gathering of citizens was held last Thursday evening in the Town Hall, for the purpose of completing details for the visit of His Excellency, the Governor General on Tuesday, August 28th. Mayor D.S. Creaghan occupied the chair and Mr. A.A. McTavish was appointed Secretary. After considerable discussion it was decided to carry out the original program which had already been submitted to His Excellency. This program consists of a reception to His Excellency and party on arrival at the depot at 10 o'clock, a.m. on Tuesday, August 28th. His Excellency and party will then be conveyed to the Opera House, where an appropriate address will be presented to Lord Byng to which His Excellency will reply and after which the citizens will be given an opportunity of meeting His Excellency. The party will then be taken to the Soldier's Memorial Field, which Lord Byng will officially open, and a guard of honor from the G.W.V.A., under command of Major A.L. Barry will present arms. The school children in charge of Mr. Barnett and Mr. Gulliver will also be assembled and render several choruses. A flag donated by the I.O.D.E. will be raised and several musical selections will be given by the Newcastle Concert Band. His Excellency and party will then be taken to the Miramichi Hospital and other points of interest in Newcastle, after which they will return to their train at 1 o'clock p.m. At 3 o'clock p.m. Lord Byng and party will be driven by motor to Chatham where they will remain until 5 o'clock.

Mayor Creaghan will probably proclaim the day a holiday and all citizens will be requested to decorate their premises in honor of the Governor General's visit to our town.

Mayor Creaghan named Messrs. J.R. Lawlor, R. Corry Clark and J. Garfield Troy as a committee to nominate standing committees to carry out the details of the reception program, and after deliberation the following committees were appointed; Hon. John Morrissy to be Honorary Chairman of all committees Reception Com.—Mayor D.S. Creaghan, Hon. John Morrissy, J.R. Lawlor, A.A. Davidson, W.A. Park.

Decorating Com.—A. H. Cole, Wm. Stables, P. Hogan, F.V. Dalton and Charles Dickson, Jr. G.W.V.A. Com.—Major A.L. Barry and Major John L. Lawlor. Transportation Com.—Chas. Sargeant, F.E. Locke and E.J. Morris. Ladies Com.—I.O.D.E.

The Secretary was instructed to advise all committees to meet August 21st at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall to complete arrangements.

CHATHAM AGAIN WINS ADAMS CUP

Loggieville defeated Newcastle on the Loggieville diamond in the second of their postponed games on Wednesday evening. This victory gives the championship of the Miramichi League to Chatham and with it the Adams Cup emblematic of the championship.

In a four inning game at Chatham on Friday evening between Newcastle and Chatham the locals were defeated by a 5 to 0 score. Craik and McKenzie were the battery for the locals, while Briggs and Currie worked for the Chatham team. A large attendance of fans was present. The Newcastle battery worked well but were accorded very poor support.

REFUSED $9,000 FOR BILL SHAREN

"Gossip has it that Joseph Roberts of Worcester, Mass. refused $9,000 for Bill Sharen 2.04 1/4 last week," writes Frank J. Trott in the Boston Globe.

The figures mentioned are just ten times what Bill Sharen sold for at the Old Glory sale. Just what Roberts paid for him when he bought him a few days later from the Kentucky doctor who had purchased him has never been stated, but it is generally said to have been about $1,400 or possibly a few hundred dollars more.

A few weeks afterwards Roberts placed Bill Sharen at $4,500 when Houtton horsemen wanted to buy the Fredericton bred trotter. Since then he has shown apparently the same racing form over the half mile tracks that he did during the unbeaten career in the Maritime Provinces and Maine before he was sold to Thomas W. Murphy, the Grand Circuit kingpin for $28,000 in Canadian funds. This week Sharen is entered in a $2,000 event at Goshen, N.Y. Next month he starts in a $12,000 free-for-all at Springfield, Mass.

Vaudeville At Strand

The desire of many Halifax people for vaudeville was again manifested yesterday, with the large audiences at the three performances at the Strand Theatre. The Dublin Minstrels was the headliner, and they present a most entertaining act, with handsome costumes and a remarkably beautiful stage setting. The end men, Kelly and Ryan, are not only clever comedians, but excellent vocalists, the latter having a particularly good tenor voice heard with such advantage in his song, as to be enthusiastically recalled. The two ladies also greatly add to the success of the act, with their singing and dancing. It was easily the best number of the bill.

The Peiro Sisters presented song and dance, one of them having a particularly pleasing voice. Jack Lyall, who was here some years ago playing Mutt in the Mutt and Jeff Company, presented a monologue and has an unusually good voice for a comedian, singing several parodies. Jack Ross also sings and dances.

THE ADVOCATE

MORRISSEY BRIDGE SMASHED AGAIN

The Morrissy Bridge, which spans the Miramichi River between Newcastle and Nelson was badly smashed and put out of commission early Friday morning. The accident occurred when the "S.S." Wollingham, Bailey Master, and in charge of Pilot George Savoy, was passing through the draw, on its way down river from Sullivan's Mill to complete loading at the Miramichi Lum. Co's wharf, Douglastown. It is stated that the tide was going out strongly and the vessel was being towed through the draw when the current threw the vessel out of its course and it crashed against the draw.

The draw was badly damaged and about 30 feet of the ice-breaker has been carried away. The cost of repairing the damage will be large and traffic is liable to be suspended for an indefinite period.

There is need for quick action on the part of Premier Veniot and the Department of Public Works. The people of the Miramichi were disgusted with the slow methods by which the draw was repaired last summer and they do not want a repetition this year. A meeting of the business men of Newcastle was held Friday afternoon and it was decided to urge on the authorities prompt action in repairing the damage.

Premier Veniot has announced that he would libel the British Steamer "Wollingham" for damages and proceedings would be started at once.

Experts will have to be brought from Montreal to effect repairs to the bridge. It is likely that temporary ferry service will be inaugurated during the period the bridge is out of use. The accident to the bridge last year involved an expenditure of upwards of $30,000.

CLAIM OF $12,000 AGAINST STEAMER

The Norwegian steamship Wollingham which struck and damaged the drawspan of the Morrissy Bridge across the Miramichi River at Newcastle will be libelled by the Province of New Brunswick for the sum of $12,000.

That is the sum which Premier Veniot says W.M. Ryan of St. John, solicitor for the Government has been authorized to name in the proceedings he has been instructed to take through the Admiralty Court. The seizure is expected to be made by the Sheriff of Northumberland County on Monday at Douglas town on the Miramichi, where the Wollingham is completing its loading.

The Premier said that a ferry service on the Miramichi river at Newcastle was being inaugurated immediately.

55 ENTRIES FOR CHATHAM RACES

There are 55 entries for the horse races to take place on the Chatham speedway on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. These are among the best horses in Maine—New Brunswick circuit and should furnish some pretty good sport.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT NELSON N. B.

Sullivan's planing mill at Nelson was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. The fire was first noticed about 2:15 p.m. and one side of the planing mill was then in a blaze. It is thought, the fire originated from the burner, a stiff northeast wind blowing at the time. In a very short time, the large new office, the cook house and a dwelling house nearby were in flames and the fire swept on through the lumber yards. Between seven and eight million feet of lumber was destroyed and practically all this season's cut of laths and shingles.

Two barns on the upper side of the lumber yard owned by Mrs. Flett were burned, with all their contents this year's hay cut included. About six o'clock in the evening the fire was gotten under control. The Newcastle firemen took the steam engine and did good work in subduing the flames. The S.S. Wollingham loading at Sullivan's wharf did good work with her pumps. Several tug boats on the river rushed to the scene and materially aided in the fight to save the lumber mill. The fire spread back to the Chatham branch railway lines and threatened the villages of Nowlanville and Craigville. No certain estimate of loss is obtainable but it is said to be over a quarter of a million dollars. The Fraser, Churchill and O'Brien mills were closed and the mill men were sent to assist in fighting the flames.

Mr. William Sullivan is the heaviest loser, but it is stated that Mr. Sullivan had his property well insured. Fortunately, the Sullivan lumber mill was saved and few men will be out of employment as the mill will continue the season's work.

TRAFFIC OVER THE MORRISSEY BRIDGE

Resumption of traffic over the Morrissy Bridge, which was seriously damaged when struck by the Norwegian steamer "Wollingham" on Friday of last week, throwing the draw span in the air, is expected within a few weeks, according to Chief Bridge Inspector, A.B. Wetmore, of the department of public works.

Mr. Wetmore said that the damage to the steel super-structure was not as great as last year when the bridge sustained heavy damages from a similar accident.

The damage to the crib work fender piers is, however, greater; said Mr. Wetmore. Repairs, which are being commenced this week; are expected to be sufficiently advanced within the next few weeks to permit resumption of traffic over the draw span.

REGISTRY OFFICES BEING INSPECTED

On account of the criticisms that have been levelled at the manner in which certain of the Registry offices are being conducted, Hon. J.E. Hetherington, Provincial Treasurer, has started on a tour which will cover the entire Province. He will visit the different shretowns and inspect each registry office.

16,000 Immigrants Came Last Month

The total number of immigrants to enter Canada during the month of July was about 16,000. Exact figures are not yet available, reports from a few of the ports not having reached the Department of Immigration here, but the above total is approximately correct. Immigration from the United States was about normal, while there was an increase of immigration coming from the British Isles. The closing of a large employment agency at Detroit is regarded as having the effect of turning a large number of Canadians who had gone to that city, back to Canada it is stated.

Takes Less Shortening

BEAVER Flour requires less shortening for pies and fancy pastry than other flours. This makes it the most economical flour you can buy. It has all the light, delicate, pastry and cake-making virtues of Ontario Winter Wheat blended with the stronger qualities of Manitoba Hard Wheat. It makes flakier, more delicious pastry, as well as lighter cakes, and whiter and better-flavored bread than any other flour. Tell your grocer you want BEAVER FLOUR. THE BEAVER MILLS, CHATHAM, ONT. WHAT ADVERTISING MEANS TO YOU

Every now and then we like to talk to our merchants about advertising and we like to do it in this way because the subject is of equal interest to the public. Frankly the interest of the public and the interest of the merchant and the interest of the local newspaper publisher are inseparably linked.

The public is always best served by buying advertised goods. Goods that are advertised are goods that are more extensively manufactured and consequently cheaper because of increased production. Moreover advertising today is a guarantee of merit. No one need be afraid either of the honesty of the price of the advertised goods. Competition compels honesty even if there should be a wish to avoid it.

There is another benefit, too, in local newspaper advertising. When advertising in thoughtfully employed it means the building of trade for our local merchants and this results in increase in real estate values generally. A prosperous business section means added population and increased conveniences. The whole scheme of advertising, merchandising and buying is one of cooperation to mutual advantage.

The merchant always wins favorable reaction when he talks frankly in his advertising to the people and shows them he is dealing honestly with them and making a normal profit.

The man who week by week consistently shows, in his advertising, that he holds the public interest at heart is the man who wins. Many merchants lose the substance of public confidence in grasping for the shadow of immediate sales.

VIEWS DIFFERENT ON BRIDGE CRASH

Captain and Pilot Testify at Miramichi Collision Probe

Different versions of the state of the tide on the morning of the latest accident to the Morrissy bridge were given at inquiry held yesterday by the Miramichi Pilot Commission in Chatham.

Capt. Samuel Bailey master of the Steamer Woolingham which was in collision with the bridge contended that the tide was at such strong ebb when his vessel was going through the draw that she would not respond to her helm. Had the pilot known, as he should have the condition of the tide that morning there would not have been any accident, the captain said.

On the other hand, George Savoy who was the pilot in charge of the steamer at the time of the accident, said that the tide was favorable. The steamer took a sudden northerly veer as she approached the draw and before she could be straightened out the draw was struck. In his opinion the accident was inevitable and beyond the control of himself or any member of the crew he thought.

Definite instructions had been issued to the pilots not to endeavor to take vessels through the draw if the tide was with them and Pilot Savoy considered that he had obeyed these instructions.

Present at the investigation were W.B. Snowball, Hon. J.P. Burdill and David Ritchie of the Pilot Commission; Capt. S.S. Bailey; David Thomas, chief officer and Seaman Kast of the steamer Woolingham; Geo. M. McDafe, counsel for the vessel and Capt. Robert Walls and George Savoy of the pilot service.

Save The Children

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by government analyst to be absolutely harmless, even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure.

They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DRUGGISTS, OLD AND NEW

Fast Changes Have Taken Place in the Business of the Apothecary, Through the Years.

Thousands of Americans who love the study of old London were interested in the news story that the "Worshipful Company of Apothecaries," which for 360 years has had its shop, had let the property pass into new hands. It was stated that "almost next door to Water Lane was the Blackfriars' theater, where Shakespeare and Burbage played." The assumption of a head writer that "Shakespeare may have patronized the place" was inaccurate. Shakespeare died in 1616. The land on which the shop was built was not acquired till 1633. The building then erected was destroyed in the great fire and rebuilt in 1788. But it is possible that Shakespeare did have the services of the Apothecaries somewhere, for they were incorporated by James I, in 1609, ten years before his death, observes the Brooklyn Eagle.

Clashes between the Apothecaries and the College of Physicians, incorporated in 1518, and the Barber Surgeons, incorporated in 1540, led to the final decision of the house of lords in favor of the Apothecaries in the case of Rose vs. the College of Physicians. It was held that "the duty of the apothecary consists not merely of compounding and dispensing, but also in directing and ordering the remedies employed in the treatment of diseases." Later laws have somewhat modified this principle. But the apothecary's shop, commonly known as a "chemist's" shop in London, is today very different from what was known in the time of James I. It sells a lot of things that are not drugs.

And here in America, where in most of our states a druggist who advises a given remedy is technically guilty of "practicing medicine without a license," the business of the trade has come much farther. Two-thirds of the profits from the average retail stand come from candies, cigars, soaps, cosmetics, soda water, camera supplies, a hundred and one little luxuries. Drug as drugs pay a fine profit when they are sold, but the sales are small. Of course patent medicines still have a considerable following. It would be hard to find from Maine to California a single drug store that deals exclusively in drugs. Also there is some reason for the optimistic reflection that the healthful and sanitary living have made fewer drugs essential to human comfort.

Sign of Opulence.
Different individuals have different ambitions. Probably one of the most unique is that of a wife of a friend of mine who has been an earnest helpmate of her husband for a number of years. She has helped him climb the ladder of fame and moderate fortune. In talking about her pet desire the other day, he said: "What do you think Molly wants to do when the bank account amounts to a certain figure? She wants to have money enough to have a town house, so that she can board it up during the summer. I have often noticed, when in New York, that the very rich board up their houses during the summer. This is her idea of letting the rest of the world know you are opulent."—Washington Star.

Chance.
When Camille Flammarion was five years old, he saw an eclipse of the sun reflected in a bucket of water. That aroused his interest in the stars. Today he is a celebrated French astronomer. Flammarion suggests that he might have followed some other line of work, if chance had not led him to the water pail. Chance—the possibility of the unexpected happening at any moment—is what makes life interesting. The laws of chance have a lot to do with our careers. Many successful men are creations of chance, or luck, though they try to pin it on hard work and not watching the clock.

His Comment.
"Land o' Goshen!" astoundedly ejaculated Mrs. Johnson, in the midst of her reading. "Listen here, Gap: It says that in parts of the West Indies they use crabs for watch dogs. These pettiolar crabs are about the size of footballs, and have enormous eyes and feelers." "Huh!" snorted Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "I don't want to live in no West Indies, wherever they're at. I'd look pretty, wouldn't I, going to town and trading around with ten or a dozen goggle-eyed crabs the size of footballs scurrying along after me?"—Kansas City Star.

New Banana Field.
For the first time bananas are to be grown on the Pacific coast of Guatemala on a commercial scale, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. An American corporation, licensed to do business in that country, has acquired a plantation 15 miles west of San Jose de Guatemala, where it is expected soon to have 2,000 acres planted with bananas. Although the banana industry has reached large development on the Caribbean coast, it has hitherto not been attempted on the Pacific coast, because of a lack of rainfall and transportation facilities.

Safeguarding School Children.
A thorough physical examination of every child at entrance to school and a similarly complete examination before the eight or ten-year period are urged by Dr. S. Josephine Baker, director of the bureau of child hygiene of New York city, rather than annual examinations throughout the school career.

STUDEBAKER
The Verdict of 81,880 Buyers
During the first six months of this year, 81,880 buyers named STUDEBAKER as their choice of motor cars. This volume of business was the largest ever accomplished during any six months' period in Studebaker's history of 71 years.
Sentiment did not influence the preference of these eighty-one thousand buyers. It was simply a case of selecting the car that offered the highest quality and value.
Thousands of buyers are daily turning to the Studebaker Light-Six, for example. At its price of $1395, this car offers the greatest motor car value on the market and a type of six-cylinder performance that was formerly confined to the very highest priced cars. Extensive manufacturing facilities, large scale production and the elimination of middlemen's profits through complete manufacture in Studebaker's own plants, make possible in the Light-Six, the combination of high quality and low price.
To be able to buy a Six, practically free from vibration, for less than $1400 is an opportunity not duplicated anywhere in the world. Elimination of vibration adds immeasurably to the life of the motor. It is one of the reasons for the universal high resale value of the Light-Six.
The Light-Six is durable, powerful, flexible, affords smooth, quiet operation and can be throttled down to a walking pace in high gear. It is easy to drive, convenient to park, takes the hills on high and holds sustained speed over long stretches hour after hour.
Stop in and let us prove what a vast difference there is between the Light-Six and other cars at about the same price—or between the Light-Six and cars of other makes costing several hundred dollars more. There's a reason for that difference. It's worth knowing.

THE ASSEMBLY AND "CHURCH UNION"

Editor of Union Advocate,
Dear Sir,

As the Presbyterian Assembly's recent action affects not only the thing misnamed "Union" but the wider question of Religious Liberty in Canada, will you kindly permit a word, first to all the Churches and then to Presbyterians.

First—to all the churches. A majority of that Assembly resolved on asking Parliament as follows: to create by Civil Law a new Church; to coerce into that new Church by Civil Law the unwilling Presbyterians; to confiscate and transfer to that new Church by Civil Law all Trust Funds given to the Presbyterian Church for her work; and by Civil Law to blot out forever the present Presbyterian Church, so that none of those thus driven out of her could ever again return to her as a Church home. That action of Assembly does not decide anything. "Church Union" is not settled. The Assembly has no power to settle it and is asking Parliament to settle it by Civil Law.

That action of the Assembly is a menace to religious liberty, and lovers of liberty, in all churches, should resist to the uttermost, in Parliament and elsewhere, this attempted revival of official ecclesiastical despotism. If Parliament should pass this "Church Union Bill" no Church would be safe. Any one might wake up some morning and find himself by Act of Parliament a member of a new Church that he does not approve, and the Church of his choice gone forever. No institution of any kind—School, Hospital or Asylum, depending upon Trust Funds, would be safe, for these Funds might be confiscated at any time by similar Act of Parliament and handed over to some new control never intended by the donors. It would destroy the sacredness of the Trust, one of the safeguards of British and Christian civilization.

And now a word to Presbyterians. That action of the Assembly is illegal, immoral, unchristian. This is said advisedly and with deep regret that it should be so sadly true. 1. It is illegal, contrary to the Assembly's own constitution and laws. The Assembly, as a Church Court is appointed solely and only to carry on the work of the Presbyterian Church for the Kingdom of God, and is pledged to "maintain and defend same" and "to follow no divisive course from the present order established therein." The Assembly has no shadow of right to attempt to transfer, alienate, close up, blot out the Presbyterian Church as an organization. In making that attempt the Assembly breaks its own laws and is faithless to the trust committed to its care.

2. That action of the Assembly is immoral. It disregards all agreements as to the only conditions upon which "Union" would be attempted. At the outset of 1905 there was unanimous agreement that Union "Must carry the consent of the entire membership." Again in 1912, when the first vote of the people gave more than fifty thousand against it, there was unanimous agreement that the Movement be halted for "practically unanimous action."

Yet again in 1917, after a second vote of the people had given more than seventy three thousand against it, and—"to avoid disunion among the membership of our own Church" the Movement was halted a second time, there was a third unanimous agreement that any "action appropriate to a future period" should be left to "new light" by "Divine Guidance through the growing experiences of the people and the lessons of the war."

And now a majority of the Assembly, disregarding all these agreements and ignoring the people both as to their increased opposition at the second vote and their experiences and the lessons of the war, at tempt, on a vote of one third of the membership taken eight years ago, to disband by Civil Law the church entrusted to its care. Any secular organization that would so treat its engagements would be forever discredited. The Montreal Standard speaking of a recent Labour strike says: "The work of the world is carried on largely by the faith of men in each other that they will keep their word. If they will not then the world might as well shut up shop, for chaos ensues."

But—is not the Presbyterian Church pledged to the other Churches? Certainly not. No one has any right to pledge that Church to give up her identity. If any feel that they have pledged themselves they are free to go but the Presbyterian church will remain, in unity and brotherhood with the world wide Christian Church, a loyal regiment in the world wide Christian Army under Christ, its King. 3. This action of the Assembly is unchristian. Christ's law for the Christian life is: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you do ye even so to them." The Coercionists would not like to be driven by Civil Law, into a Church where they did not believe it their duty to go, but that is what they are trying to do to others.

All who wish a new church are free to withdraw from the Presbyterian Church. But not satisfied with liberty for themselves they deny it to others. It is unchristian. There are two pitifully sad features of this misnamed "Union" movement. One is that it has completely blinded some good men to fairness, honour, justice and truth. The other is its constant effort to cover its moral nakedness by spiritual phraseology. Its latest official statement, since the Assembly, consists almost wholly of assertions that it is guided by the Spirit of God, and it is now planning Conferences to persuade the people of the "great spiritual good" which its illegal, immoral, unchristian action will bring.

And what of the future? Since there is appeal to Civil Law to enforce religious coercion there can only be appeal to that same Civil Law for protection from that coercion. And in Canada's Civil courts and Parliaments truth and righteousness still abide. Meantime Christ's cause greatly suffers in many ways, and those who are pressing this wrong-doing are responsible for the ills that follow their action'

Irrigation in Southern Alberta

(1) Bassano Dam, built in the earlier days by the Canadian Pacific Railway for irrigation purposes. (2) An irrigation flume. (3) This farmer does not depend on rains for his moisture. (4) Public Gardens, Lethbridge, Alta.

I HAD been told to expect a transformation; that a new order of things was being born in Southern Alberta; that a new system of farming was taking the place of the old. I was told that the days of "scratching in" and of "soil mining" were gone days. Nevertheless, I was not prepared for what I saw.

Fifteen years before, I had travelled through this country and had seen only a few scattered farmsteads set out on the "bald-headed" prairie, four square to all the winds that blew. There were no trees, only a stretching expanse of prairie that merged into white-topped mountains on the west and meeting the sky on the east in an unbroken horizon. A few homesteaders were struggling in. Old cattlemen, trying to save their great range, were spreading stories that farming could never be a success in Southern Alberta.

But the homesteaders came. Then later the big farmers arrived with their tractors and ushered in the era of the thousand acre wheat ranch. A series of "wet years" made Southern Alberta famous. Nowhere had such crops ever previously been heard of. The Noble Foundation, one of the largest farming corporations in the world, brought in a crop of wheat from one thousand acres that threshed 54,000 bushels! The country was thick with elevators. In 1915 and 1916, Southern Alberta reached the peak of prosperity. A series of unproductive years followed when rainfall was scant. Some farms were abandoned; but, mostly, men held on, buoyed up by the wonder harvests of other years.

The problem was purely one of moisture, and the Government of the Dominion and the Province set about to study it. The soil was of the greatest fertility, the climate was right. Something to supplement the natural rainfall was wanted. The Canadian Pacific Railway and other corporations had already developed tracts of land by irrigation. It was no experiment, and so a constructive policy of irrigation was commenced, backed by both Governments.

It is in the train of irrigation that the new order of things is coming in Southern Alberta. Today as you drive over the prairie, through the irrigated tracts of Strathmore and Brooks, south through the Bow River Project and on into Taber and Lethbridge, the flatness is broken on all sides by farmsteads that nestle among trees—young trees growing taller and taller every year. Hedges are growing where once was barbed wire. Shrubbery is luxuriant. In the background are fields of Alfalfa, Indian Corn and Wheat. Dairy cows are seen on green pastures. The farms are small, but they are real farms, and the homes are smiling homes of contented people. There is no "scratching in" or "soil mining." These are permanent homes on the threshold of a future bright with promise.

In the City of Lethbridge, around which most of the new irrigation development is proceeding, are found tree-lined streets, beautiful homes set in beds enclosed lawns, and one of the finest little parks that Canada can boast. The city has been thoughtfully planned and symbolizes in its setting the spirit of a people pledged to permanency.

For those who knew Southern Alberta in its infancy, there is a pleasant surprise waiting. Wherever irrigation has touched, it is truly a country transformed.

On Monday, the 6th inst. while Dr. W.A. Stickney and Mrs. Stickney of Rutland Vermont, with a party of friends were on their way up the Northwest Miramichi on a fishing trip, Mrs. Stickney met with a painful accident. The party had left the main road and were following on foot a portage road to the camp of Mr. W.A. Park. When about a mile and a half from the camp Mrs. Stickney fell on the uneven road, fracturing her arm near the wrist. As soon as possible she was brought to the Miramichi Hospital where necessary attention was given.

LOST VALUABLE BOAT
Mr. Charles Jardine lost a valuable boat on Sunday night. The boat was tied to one of the wharves and some time during the night or early morning was taken by several young fellows, who admit the taking of it. They also admit that they left the boat at Bushville, but searching so far has been futile.

THE CHILDREN
One of the largest crowds of the season was present in the square last Thursday evening, when the Newcastle Concert Band, under the direction of Bandmaster H.B. Cassidy, delighted all with a delightful program of music. As on other nights when concerts were held, there were many children who were not present for the purpose of hearing the music, but to play and make a noise which was rather annoying to the older persons. Children will be children, but perhaps if they were only requested to keep order during the time the band is giving a selection the lovers of good music would find the square a more enjoyable resort on head nights.

Why Presumably Solid Citizen Didn't Make a Will.

Really Scemed That Lawyer Wanted to Know Too Much About Matters Entirely Personal.

"And now," said the lawyer, "we shall take up this matter of your will."

I had long thought of making a will. There was a kind of dignity about the whole affair that gave me a pleasant sense of importance. Besides, the thought that I was something to leave, or at least, was conveying such an impression, was quite soothing at the time.

But now that I was face to face with the thing, somehow it seemed quite different. I shuddered mildly, Thomas L. Mason wrote in the New York Sun.

"Perhaps we'd better wait until a little later," I observed. "The fact is, I'm not feeling very well just now and--"

"In that case," he said rather brusquely, I thought, "there is no time to lose. Let's get at this now. Have you made your rough draft?"

"Do people usually do that?" I asked lamely.

"Oh, yes; it's quite customary. Just jot down, rather fully, your ideas—that is, to whom the disposition of your property should go; it is just as well, also, to make a separate list of your securities, stocks and bonds and real estate of whatever nature."

I was beginning by this time to be thoroughly alarmed. The man might discover at any moment how much I was really worth. Of course, that was his real object. He wanted to probe my secrets—strange I had never thought of that.

"I suppose the proper thing to do is to divide it into equal parts," I said, "and then each--"

"Um. You have two children—a boy and a girl."

"Yes, sir. And one wife."

"Well, now, take your children. You might want to leave it to them in trust—say fifty thousand or so when they come of age, and--"

"In bonds?" I suggested feebly.

"In interest-bearing bonds, or possibly first mortgage. I presume, sir," he went on reflectively, "that the bulk of your fortune is already invested in first-class securities?"

"Well, rather!" I chortled joyfully. "And whom would you name as executor?"

"Must I have an executor?"

"Oh, certainly."

I rose to my full height. I crushed him with one eye.

"Then, sir," I replied with all the dignity I could summon, "my course is clear. Considering the present condition of the world, I am going to leave all my money to the government. I shall see the secretary of the treasury about it at once."

"Absolutely destitute. It's the only way. Would I ruin them with wealth? Never! America is the hope of the world. My little pile" (I gestured in the general direction of Wall street), "it is true, is small compared with Rockefeller's—still, just this little addition may save the world. Good morning, sir. I'm glad you brought this matter to my attention. Drop in any time. Good morning."

I bowed him out and then, getting out my trusty savings bank book, sat to figuring how I could, with fair management, pay the next installment on my income tax.

The Unusual.
Terrific mob on the street the other day. First a cop tried to hold 'em in. He snapped for help and the sergeant brought out a platoon.

Some mob! Two women fainted, boy broke leg, man lost his hat, clothes torn. No such excitement seen in 10 or 20 years. Terrific.

Finally the police got the cause of it separated from the tangle and took her to the station, where she was fined $10 and costs for disturbing the peace.

"And the next time you go on the street," said the judge, "see that your face is pointed, eyebrows penciled, skirts are short, hair false and everything, understand? It's all right for you to be old-fashioned, but the public safety demands that you look like the rest of 'em or stay home!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

On a Bird or Game Preserve.
In connection with the administration of bird and game preserves under the biological survey, the following acts on reservations have been forbidden by the secretary of agriculture, under date of May 4: Entering any game inclosure without permission; carrying firearms without permission; permitting dogs to run at large; setting fires, cutting, damaging or removing timber or trees; allowing domestic animals to enter without permission; and injuring or destroying signs, fences or other property of the United States.

Would Be Worth Importing.
All of our domestic animals are imports. Kansas farmers are just beginning to breed Karakul sheep. But the Old World still has live stock almost unknown here. Moreover, in the United States are large uncultivated areas where wild and semi-wild creatures of economic value from other continents, like the yak and the alpaca, might be introduced with every prospect of adaptation to physical conditions.

COMPENSATION RATES BOOSTED IN CLASS 2

An extra edition of the Royal Gazette contains notice from the Workmen's Compensation Board of an addition in rate of assessment upon employers and industries of Class 2. This increase is not unexpected as it has been known for some considerable time that claims in certain classes were too great in aggregate to be met by the assessment.
