LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION.

PARIS, Feb. 14.
 President Wilson was the central figure of the plenary Peace Conference to-day when in person he read the covenant establishing a League of Nations. There was added interest in the session as it was the largest gathering of the delegates prior to the President's departure as well as being the occasion of presenting the document with which his name is identified. At 3 o'clock the President as chairman of the commission on the League of Nations, read and explained the following report:

Covenanting Preamble: In order to promote international co-operation and to secure international peace and security by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of the understanding of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of justice and scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized people with one another, the powers signatory to this covenant adopt this constitution of the League of Nations:

Article 1—The action of the high contracting parties under the terms of this covenant shall be affected through the instrumentality of a meeting of a body of delegates representing the high contracting parties, of a meeting at more frequent intervals of an executive council, and of a permanent international secretariat to be established at the seat of the League.

Article 2—Meetings of the body of delegates shall be held at stated intervals and from time to time as occasion may require for the purpose of dealing with matters within the sphere of action of the League or at such other place as may be found convenient and shall consist of representatives of the high contracting parties. Each of the high contracting parties shall have one vote but may have not more than three representatives.

Article 3—The Executive Council shall consist of representatives of the United States of America, the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan together with representatives of four other states, members of the League. The selection of these four States shall be made by the body of delegates on such principles and in such manner as they think fit. Pending the appointment of these representatives of the other states representatives of (blank left for name) shall be members of the Executive Council. Meetings of the Council shall be held from time to time as occasion may require and at least once a year at whatever place may be decided on, or failing any such decision at the seat of the League, and any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world, may be dealt with at such meetings. Invitations shall be sent any power to attend a meeting of the council at which such matters directly affecting its interests are to be discussed and no decision taken at any meeting will be binding on such powers unless so invited.

Article 4—All matters of procedure at meetings of the body of delegates or of the executive council, including the appointment of committees to investigate particular matters, shall be regulated by the body of delegates or the executive council, and may be decided by a majority of the states represented at the meeting. The first meeting of the executive council shall be summoned by the President of the United States of America.

Article 5—The permanent Secretariat of the League shall be established at (blank) which shall constitute the seat of the League. The Secretariat shall comprise such secretaries and staff as may be required under the general direction and control of the secretary-general of the League, who shall be chosen by the Executive Council. The Secretariat shall be appointed by the secretary-general subject to the confirmation by the Executive Council. The secretary-general shall act in that capacity at all meetings of the body of delegates or of the Executive Council. The expenses of the Secretariat shall be borne by the states' members of the League in accordance with the apportionment of the expense of the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union.

Article 6—Representatives of the high contracting parties and officials of the League which engaged in the business of the League shall enjoy diplomatic privileges and immunities, and the buildings occupied by the League or its officials or by representatives attending its meetings shall enjoy the benefits of extra-territoriality.

Article 7—Admission to the League of States not signatories to the Covenant, and not named in the protocol hereto as States to be invited to adhere to the Covenant, requires the assent of not less than two-thirds of the States represented in the body of delegates and shall be limited to fully self-governing countries, including Dominions and Colonies. No State shall be admitted to the League unless it is able to give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and unless it shall conform to such principles as may be prescribed by the League in regard to its naval and military forces and armaments.

Article 8—The high contracting parties recognize the principle that the maintenance of peace will require the reduction of national armament to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligation, having special regard to the geographical situation and circumstances of each state. The Executive Council shall also determine for the consideration and action of the several governments what military equipment and armament is fair and reasonable in proportion to the scale of forces laid down in the programme of disarmament, and these limits when adopted shall not be exceeded without the permission of the Executive Council. The high contracting parties agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war tends to itself to gravely obstruct and direct the executive Council to advise how the evil effects attendant upon such manufacture can be prevented, due regard being had to the necessities of those countries which are not able to manufacture for themselves and the munitions and implements of war necessary for their safety. The high contracting parties undertake in no way to conceal from each other the condition of such of their industries as are capable of being adapted for various purposes or the scale of their armaments, and agree that there shall be full and frank interchange of information as to their military and naval programmes.

Article 9—A permanent commission shall be constituted to advise the League on the executive and provisions of article 8 and military and naval questions generally.

Article 10—The high contracting parties shall undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing independence of all States, members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression the Executive Council shall advise upon the means by which the obligation shall be fulfilled.

Article 11—Any war, or threat of war whether immediately affecting any of the high contracting parties or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the League, and the high contracting parties reserve the right to take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to carry out the peace of the nations. It is hereby also declared and agreed to be the friendly right of each of the high contracting parties to draw the attention of the body of delegates or of the Executive Council to any circumstance affecting international intercourse which threatens to disturb international peace or the good understanding between nations upon which peace depends.

Article 12—The high contracting parties agree that should disputes arise between them which cannot be adjusted by the ordinary processes of diplomacy they will in case resort to war without previously submitting the questions and matters involved either to arbitration or to enquiry by the Executive Council, and that they will not even then resort to war against a member of the League which complies with the award of the arbitrators or the recommendation of the Executive Council. In any case under this article the award of the arbitrators shall be made within a reasonable time and the recommendation of the Executive Council shall be made within six months after the submission of the disputes.

Article 13—The high contracting parties agree that whenever any dispute or difficulty shall arise between them, which they recognize to be suitable for submission to arbitration and which is not excluded by the settlement by diplomacy, they will submit the whole matter to arbitration. For this purpose, this court of arbitration to which case is referred shall not be the court agreed on by the parties or stipulated in any conventional or treaty, and the high contracting parties agree that they will carry out in full good faith any award that may be rendered. In the event of an arbitration award, the award, the Executive Council shall propose what step can best be taken to give effect thereto.

Article 14—The Executive Council shall formulate a plan for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice, and this court shall, when established, be competent to hear and determine any matter which the parties recognized as suitable for submission to it for arbitration under the foregoing article.

Article 15—If there should arise between states or members of the League, any dispute likely to lead to rupture which is not submitted to arbitration, the high contracting parties agree that they will refer the matter to the Executive Council. Either party to the dispute may request the Secretary-General to appoint a committee of conciliation for the purpose of the parties agree to communicate to the Secretary-General as promptly as possible a statement of the facts and the nature of the dispute and the terms of settlement together with such explanations as may be appropriate. If the dispute has not been settled by the Council shall be published setting forth all necessary facts and explanations of the recommendations which the Council think it fit and proper for the members of the Council to make to the parties to the dispute the high contracting parties agree that they will not resort to war with any party which complies with the recommendations, and that if any party shall refuse so to comply with all proposed measures necessary to be made, it shall be the duty of the majority to issue statements indicating what they believe to be the facts and containing the reason which they consider to be just and proper. The Executive Council may, in any case, under this article, refer the dispute to the body of delegates. The dispute shall be so defined at the request of either party, provided that such request must be made within fourteen days after the submission of the dispute. In a case referred to the body of delegates all the provisions of this article and of article 13 relating to the action and powers of the Executive Council shall apply to the action and powers of the body of delegates.

St. Valentine's Sociable.

Last evening's sociable held at the Lecture Room of the Congregational Church was one of the most successful ever held there by the Congregational Ladies' Aid. Having introduced the new minister, Rev. D. Ashford, Mr. H. E. Cowan, who presided, referred to the pleasing unity of the churches here, as evidenced by the list of the performers; the beauties of Newfoundland, and other topics. In reply Mr. Ashford said that he had learned considerable of Newfoundland on his trip here on the Corsican but knew he had far more to learn and was open to do so...

"Peg O' My Heart."

Under the direction of Mr. T. H. O'Neil, the play, "Peg O' My Heart" will be presented at the Casino on Tuesday night next, in aid of the Mt. Cashel Orphanage. The cast will be the same as when the drama was staged here before, except that Capt. Campbell will replace Mr. Frank Knight in the character of "Brent." Miss Mary Doyle will again play "Peg," in which on a previous occasion she scored such a decided success. Between the acts Capt. Campbell and Mr. A. Williams will render songs, while the C. C. C. fall band will be in attendance.

Prize Distribution.

The annual prize distribution of the Presbyterian College took place last night in the Presbyterian Hall. Before the presentation of the sketch: "Nursery Rhymes" was staged, the principal characters being: Mistress Mary, Marion Halliday; Humphrey Dumpty, Master J. MacFarlane; Mother Hubbard, Jean Eadie; Jack and Jill, Eric D'Arcy and Phyllis Godden; Little Boy Blue, Chas. Moore; Bo-Peep, Eleanor Snow; Little Red Riding Hood, Alice Butt; and Sister Ann, Ruth Calvert. The parts were well played, and reflected credit upon their teachers. Mr. Butt presented the annual report of the past year's work, and the prizes were distributed by Mr. Alexander Robertson.

three parts, the body, wings and another part. A representative of the Royal Air Club will have to certify the machine before leaving here. The plane will carry wireless, so that it will be able to keep in touch with England all the way across. The engine will consume 18 gallons of fuel an hour. These remarks and others, Major Morgan made in the interview, and told many facts of the flight that cannot be published yet, as the venture is to be kept quiet if possible. The airman is well known in aerial circles as being a flier of great daring and resource, and that his trip will be successful there can be no doubt. In 1904 he entered the Royal Navy, going on the training ship Britannia, and in 1914 enlisted in the Naval Flying Squadron, remaining there up to the present time. During the war he has seen constant service, being wounded in action twice by machine gun fire from enemy planes. He has the Distinguished Service Cross, MonsStar, and Croixde Guerre to his credit, sufficient guarantee of his bravery and service in Belgium, France and England. When the air raids were being carried on over London he was in the (Night) Defence Squadron, and several times chased German Zeppelins. After that he was in command of the Seaplane Squadron at Westgate, an important seaplane station at the mouth of the River Thames. Several times the station was bombed by German destroyers, but he said he had the great satisfaction of bringing down four German airplanes, thus retarding in great measure. Major Morgan is a son of Admiral C. H. Morgan, the famous Royal Navy man, who has had many very important commands during the war. A rather curious fact is that the greatest buccannier of history, Sir Henry Morgan, was a great-great-grandfather of his, and for hundreds of years back he can trace an ancestry of sailors, so that it is not surprising to understand that some American and Canadian fliers are talking of it, but know nothing of them. My other pilot has not arrived here yet, and it is possible that he will have to return to England again before the flight is made. I am not at liberty to tell anything of the type of machine I will fly. It will come across by steamer, and will be in condition of affairs which we trust will remain unchanged throughout the future. To the News, its editor, and staff we extend our hearty congratulations and wish them all "many happy returns" of the day.

At last night's meeting of the N. I. W. A., President T. M. White occupied the chair. Many matters relative to the "Student" affairs of the Association were dealt with, and it was decided that fortnightly meetings be held in future, and that a special meeting on the second Friday in the month be held for discussion private affairs of the Association. It was also decided that the Association should be held in the month of the discussion of public questions, vital to labor problems. At the latter meetings all the public are welcome. The subject of debate for Friday night, the 28th inst. will be the right hour day and a minimum wage. It was stated that the Association hopes soon to have their new club rooms in the Pleasant building ready for occupation. On Thursday night, the Ladies Branch held a meeting and a very enjoyable night was spent, several of the members contributing songs and recitations.

St. Andrew's Reception. The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church have issued invitations to the soldiers of the Regiment and the sailors of the R.N.R., who are members of the congregation, and their wives, to be the guests of the Society at a Scotch Night in the Kirk Hall on Wednesday evening next, 19th inst., the function beginning at 8 o'clock. In the event of all the invitations not reaching their destinations because of being incorrectly addressed or from other causes, the Society asks that those who fail to receive the formal notice, accept this as the equivalent. A hearty welcome is extended to all "guid" Scotchmen of the services and also to their "guid" wives. Didn't Have Time. (From Panillac Pilot, France.) A Remarkable Answer.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

We were talking one day about whether the world had grown better in the last one hundred years. Someone said that America, as a country, had less moral fibre than she had had one hundred years ago. Some one else said, "But hadn't we, or didn't we have before the war, more moral fibre than most of the European countries?"

Said the man whom to-day's chat is about, "Well, you see, I don't recall knowing anything about the European nations."

Like a breath of fresh air in a stale room came that declaration. So frank, so unabashed, so honest, so refreshing!

He said he didn't know. Instead of answering with some vague, half-remembered generality that he had heard or read, some perfectly valueless ungrounded statement as so many people would have done, he took the simple method of answering that seems to occur to so few, and acknowledged his ignorance.

In other words, having nothing to say, he said nothing. And because his answer struck me with such force, I realized how rare that sort of answer is.

We Forget What Words Are For. Words were originally wrested out of dumbness by man to express facts and ideas. Then gradually he became so facile with words that he came to be fond of words and of talk for themselves alone and quite apart from any facts or ideas they expressed. And thus the habit of talking without saying anything came into existence.

When one thinks how much of the talk that goes on everywhere is nothing but an exchange of these vague general statements, these half-remembered facts, these perfectly valueless guesses, one wonders how in such a busy world so full of duties and pleasures, anyone has the time for something that is neither.

If we all stopped talking when we had nothing to say, one of several desirable things would happen. Either someone who did have something to say would speak; or the subject would be changed, and we would talk of something else; or the talk would cease altogether, and we would go and read a book or do something else worthwhile.

You Don't Need To Teach Him. You remember that old proverb, "He who knows not and knows not that he knows not is a fool, shun him; he who knows not and knows that he knows not is simple, teach him; he who knows and knows not that he knows is asleep, wake him; he who knows and knows that he knows is wise, follow him." I have always liked that, but I have decided that it needs an emendation: "He who knows not and knows that he knows not" is far from simple—on the contrary, he is of the wise of the earth. And as for teaching him, no one needs to, he will learn for himself. You couldn't stop him.

HOPE.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast;" no grief or ill can knock it galaxy west. We hear of men so soaked in black despair they see no hope, no solace anywhere for it. They were so they would not last a day; they'd gasp three times and quickly fade away. While man survives, however fierce his lot, some spark of hope is glowing bright and hot. When it winks out, he shuts his weary eyes, and goes somewhere to dream of Paradise. I have no doubt that even Wilhelm hopes, as in waking dreams, when evening breezes move he sees himself once again on a throne; cold reason chides him when the morning breaks, and grimly tells him that his dreams are fakes; cold reason is a pregnant sort of dope, but it falls down when it collides with hope. When hope is dead in Wilhelm's tortured soul he'll tread the dunes to find a seemly hole, where an ex-king in solitude may lie, and like a lion or a jackal die. We live on hope, as well as pie or bread; hope is the morrow, yesterday is dead.

FOOT-ILLS OF WOMEN.

Women have more foot ills than men, and it is believed that the chief reason is that woman's shoes are more injurious to the feet than the common flat shoe men wear.

There is no excuse for anyone wearing shoes that do not fit, for an attempt to enhance the beauty of the foot by wearing a shoe that is too small reveals it in an unnatural and ungainly walk, besides creating ills of the feet that are often difficult to overcome.

The shoe should fit snug enough to hold the foot in shape. If too loose it allows the bones to spread, causing a misshapen foot and a tired feeling generally.

While patent or varnished leather fashion many of our smartest shoes, it is not advisable to wear them in the hot weather if the feet are tender.

powders and lotions that may be secured to relieve burning and tender feet, but in case they are not obtainable, one may gain temporary relief by soaking the feet night and morning in hot water for from five to ten minutes. An ounce of pure cider vinegar added to each gallon of water used will add to the efficiency in most cases.

Cold, clammy feet are usually due to improper circulation. This may be only local and due to too small a shoe or too tightly laced shoes.

HIS EXAMPLE.

There are little eyes upon you, and they're watching night and day; There are little ears that quickly take in every word you say; There are little hands all eager to do everything you do, And a little boy that's dreaming of the day he'll be like you.

You're the little fellow's idol, you're the wisest of the wise; In his little mind about you no suspicions ever rise; He believes in you devoutly, holds that all you say and do He will say and do in your way when he's grown up just like you.

Oh, it sometimes makes me shudder when I hear my boy repeat Some careless phrase I've uttered in the language of the street; And it sets my heart to grieving when some little fault I see And I know beyond all doubting that he picked it up from me.

There's a wide-eyed little fellow who believes you're always right, And his ears are always open and he watches day and night. You are setting an example every day in all you do.

For the little boy who's waiting to grow up to be like you.

Evangelists in Newfoundland.

A Review of Their Work.

I. C. MORRIS. ARTICLE II.

Mr. Hutchinson was an entirely different type of man from his companion. In physique he was tall, stately, and well proportioned. His hair was flaxen, and his voice mellow, but distinct withal. It is said that no two persons are really alike; but I have met three who bore such a close resemblance to each other that they could easily have been taken for the same individual. In the person of Evangelist Hutchinson, next in that of Mr. Stewart Cumberland, the celebrated thought reader, whom I met shortly after, and in the person of our own able and impartial citizen, Mr. Morine, we have a case of three gentlemen, of marked individual resemblance. To have seen one was to have seen the three. To have heard one was to have heard all. Such men as these were born to be heard, and they have been heard.

In age the Evangelists were about twenty-six, and were both unmarried. They each entered the ministry at an early age, and began their work at Halifax, but by mutual arrangement it was agreed that they should stop off at St. John's, and when they had finished their message, they should continue their journey to Nova Scotia. They arrived here by one of the Allan boats, probably the Caspian, from the east coast, and were met at the hospitable home of the late Hon. James J. Rogerson. They began their work in old Gower Street Church, and from first to last they were dead in earnest. Seven nights a week they preached, and also on Sunday mornings and in the afternoons.

The visit of Mr. Hutchinson after a period of twenty-seven years was a pleasant surprise to his friends who remembered him; but great had been the changes in the personnel of our city; for a new generation had grown up and much of the old order had passed away.

So much for the first two Evangelists who came to our city. By the present generation they are not remembered; and those of us who met them are of the small circle. The men and the women who joined us in their meetings in the long ago have dropped out of the race of life, and in other lands have made a home, but amid it all still lives the great principles which they taught, and which we still believe, and which will stand as a rock against the storms of time and sense. These principles are the doctrines of the Golden Rule, as brought by the Son of God when He said: "Do unto all men as you would they should do unto you," or in other words: "Love your neighbour as yourself," which literally means: "The Fatherhood of God, and the Brotherhood of men."

Whereupon the Admiral stamped down the aisle shouting: "I'll let you know, young sir, that the Lord is not in His Holy Temple until I get into my pew." Lord Bryce thought the friendship of peoples must be based on the friendship of the individuals that make up the nations, and not upon the sayings and doings of a clan, "which, as a whole, the more you see of it, the less you think of it," the politicians.

Admiral Sims' Good Story.

(From the London Chronicle.) Good fellowship and good stories characterized the dinner last night at the Connaught Rooms, when the members of the Franco-British Inter-University Group met. Other guests were present from America and Italy.

For the full term the Evangelists did faithful service in the city, and then by arrangement they went to other places for the winter. There being no railway then, and the Cove service being somewhat upset, they had to go by carriage; hence their first tour was around the bay to Car-

This gave an opening for Admiral Sims, who capped it by saying that an Englishman entered a drawing-room as if it were his own, while an American entered it as if he did not care to whom it belonged. The Admiral also told a story to illustrate the pomposity of naval officers of high rank. A naval chaplain was once commencing service in the chapel, when the Admiral was a little late. "The Lord is in His Holy Temple; let all the earth keep silent before Him," said the chaplain.

ARTISTIC TEMPERAMENT.

Many years ago we held the fort of artistic temperament in a time when we would search through our Bibles and arithmetics, trying to acquire it at every hand. It seemed as if artistic temperament was trying its hardest to avoid us, and with determination we used rather to go to a movie show than to examine a work of art. We suffered from severe headaches for weeks after. Still, we did not despair. It came when we arrived at the artist's studio. I had a man who had laid us down to die. For months the doctors fought an up-hill fight, and it was years before we had recovered, completely cured.—C. E.

THE DECOY.

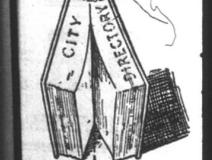

A man whose house adjoined a highway track—a side line on which he never drove at a gallop—kept a goat tethered in his yard. A friend asked him one day what was the use of the goat. "The goat," he replied, "keeps me in coils. Never a trespasser but the freeman throws a coil at it!"

CONSTITUTION OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

(Continued from 3rd page.) PARIS, Feb. 14. Article XVI.—Should any of the high contracting parties break or disregard its covenants, under Article XV, it shall thereby, ipso facto be deemed to have committed an act of war against all the other members of the League...

Article XVII.—In the event of disputes between one State, member of the League, and another State, which is not a member of the League, or between States not members of the League, the high contracting parties agree that the States not members of the League shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the League...

Article XVIII.—The high contracting parties agree that the League shall be entrusted with general supervision of the trade in arms and ammunition with the countries in which the control of the traffic is necessary, in the common interest.

Certain communities, formerly belonging to the Turkish Empire, have reached a stage of development where their existence as independent nations can be provisionally recognised, subject to the rendering of administrative, advice and assistance by a mandatory power, until such time as they are able to stand alone.

Article XX.—The high contracting parties shall endeavour to secure and maintain fair and human conditions of labor for men, women and children both in their own country, and in all countries to which the commercial and industrial relations extend, and to that end agree to establish as part of the organization of the League, a permanent bureau of labor.

Article XXI.—The high contracting parties agree that provisions shall be made, through the instrumentality of the League, to secure and maintain freedom of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of all States, members of the League, having in mind, among other things, special arrangements with regard to the necessities of the regions devastated during the war of 1914-1918.

Article XXVII.—Amendments to this covenant will take effect when ratified by the States, whose representatives compose the Executive Council, and by three-fourths of the States whose representatives compose the body of delegates.

Article XXVIII.—The high contracting parties agree that every treaty of international engagement, entered into hereafter by any States general must as soon as possible be published by them and that no such treaties or international engagements shall be binding until so registered.

Article XXIX.—To those Colonies and territories which as a consequence of the late war have ceased to be under sovereignty of the States which formerly governed them, and which are inhabited by peoples not yet able to stand by themselves, under the strenuous conditions of the modern world, there should be applied the principle that the well-being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization, and that securities for the performance of this trust should be embodied in the Constitution of the League.

Business 100 Years Ago.
 (By H. F. SHORTIS.)

only by accident when some ment has been rescued from of ages that we can form any great disadvantages to merchants in olden times in carrying on the time the country. In those days would take five or six from fall to spring, to reach land from Great Britain, and except the writer was forgetful to be aware of a vessel from a nearby port for land. Still our merchants days surmounted all difficulties and very many of them retired fortunes. They always placed confidence in the of their ships who were many to transact all business in ports, and such was the of character possessed by time merchants that they seldom made a mistake in their selection of these days did not possess the great benefits conferred by the inventions of a Process or a Marconi, with the current running throughout the air, under ground cables, and the wonderful of hardy mariners managed to water passages across the Atlantic such small ships as those of one hundred years ago. It wonderful to me, at least, how merchants kept in touch with ships abroad, and knew when to ship their cargoes to the advantage.

From an Old Diary.

days ago I received a Diary of my old friend Mr. Wm. White, of Trinity, which is indeed a valuable document, and reads its contents. I imagine living in the days in which writer because many of the of vessels and men seem quite to me, having heard of them in my early days. In newspapers I have read of the chief of St. John's. Even newspapers were of very small size, some of them not much larger than a 10 x 12 pane of glass, and the contents were chiefly of interesting extracts taken from newspapers, and some of the articles in these newspapers indeed choice literature, couched in classic in their style, and in their I regret to say that we cannot find them today. The only object of them, they were too small to be of any use, and the people were satisfied with and, in my early days, it was common of the neighbors to assemble at the house of the person who would be discussed in a work was done, when the proceedings would be discussed in a that would put to shame the of a University or a High school of the present day. The clearness of the grasp of the subject, knowledge of geography was great, and I have often wonder-

HAVE YOU A HEAVY BREATH?
 This is usually caused by nervous indigestion or habitual Constipation.

your not having sent me per Nelson, a copy of your letter No. 1. Capt.
 Wainhill tells me the Active and John and Elizabeth reached Poole. I wished to have heard whether the fish had better been sent to market direct or not.

It is rather surprising we never can have a vessel out in the spring so early as our neighbors. Mr. Garland's goods per Nelson are now going of rapidly amongst the planters, but they have met with disappointment in their trade, a similar one from which, I hope, we shall keep clear. I mean the unfortunate loss of their brig, Benjamin Cribb, crew I believe nearly all saved. She struck on a pan of ice to the southward about 70 miles from the land, on the 7th inst., and immediately went down.
 By the master of Mr. Gariand's Arrow, just returned from the ice, I was happy to say the Alpha was seen yesterday, stretching down for Catalina. Both her signals were clearly made out, and therefore entered a reasonable hope of seeing her here to-night or to-morrow.

Master's Dishonesty.
 I am surprised at the conduct of Capt. Biel. How he could invent such a falsity I cannot conceive.
 Herewith you will receive a request copy of the very identical and original paper on which the account of fish shipped on the Alpha was kept, with my affidavit subscribed. It herewith required the original paper can also be transmitted to you. In the remark you made concerning it you seem to have nearly given up the point at which I feel rather uneasy, because in my letter No. 16, I stated clearly the quantity shipped, as well for the cargo, as the captain. The Bill of Landing also agrees therewith, and I have never given you much reason to doubt my accuracy. In all probability had the vessel went abroad, the captain's adventure would have been as you observe 80 qts., but the attempt at cheating me (as shipper) out of 40 qts. is a most nefarious action. You must rest assured I will do all that I can to prevent the masters from filling up your vessels with their own fish. With respect to Churchill's Room, is not the question—what is the real intrinsic value of it, but what is it worth to you—why more by 2 or 3 hundred pounds than it is to any one else—for these two reasons, its contiguity to yours making it, as it were, one room and the effect it would have of excluding, perhaps a powerful near neighbor. These were the ideas with which I was imprest when I wrote you concerning it.

The Village Fabricator.
 Whether the unfortunate changes in Europe may render them false or not, must be left to time to determine.
 I cannot help remarking that I am rather surprised at the stress you seem to have laid on the information furnished you by Joe Marsh, a man well known here as a notable adept for converting small subjects into large ones. A few posts and shores, or even a schooner load, would not have been of much consequence. I suppose he omitted to inform you that owing to the very few worms at Churchill's Room, post and shores that would last on your Room only four years, would there be equally good at the end of a dozen or more.
 I see sometimes does a trifling damage, but not often. I have heard Hutton & Co. of St. John's have lately purchased it, how far it be true will be seen. Rod's Room, Mr. Clinch bought of Mr. Jeffery, but to Street's Southside Room as appears also on the lease which was entered into by Mr. Adams, Street's agent and Mr.
 Gover, in the year 1898. I shall hold it for you of course until forced out of it, which I don't think likely will be attempted by any one. In my last number I stated that I was sending it by the Cosmopolite, via St. John's, but the schooner, much to my disappointment, never returned till this day, having been kept out by continual gales of northerly wind and ice.
 The ice has very much retarded the business of the spring for the last four weeks, it caused a total stoppage at all cruising. The fishery must in consequence be thrown very much behind hand. I must confess that excluding one thing—namely, that of keeping the St. John's men out of Trinity, I would rather that they should be laid out for repairs on your own Room here than in the purchase of Churchill's, and an glad to find you have no objections to that. But if it is not already sold, I shall not purchase for you unless it can be done on terms nearly agreeing with those you have stated. I present to you the posture of affairs in Europe may make the holders of it change their tone.

"Boys" for the Planters.
 Part of the youngsters which were in the Benjamin have reached this place, and Mr. Durell is again to windward of us in supplying the planters with them. In my next I hope I shall be able to state the quantity of seal oil we shall raise, the two schooners not being yet returned. For a statement of the Trinity schooners, see fishery, I beg to refer you to the foot of this letter. It is impossible to state yet with any degree of certainty whether the old fish yet to come in from our dealers, with what I already have, will be sufficient to load the Alpha for market or not, or whether the seal oil will be worth sending home in her. I am short of pitch and butter. If I had a sketch of the Alpha's cargo, I should be better able to determine to the propriety or impropriety of sending to St. John's for a small supply by the boat which carries this letter. The number of youngsters too I should very much wish to know. I state this just to show you how useful an outline of each cargo (which might be drawn out in one minute) would be if given in copies of letters. Entertaining but little doubt of seeing the Alpha here shortly (especially as I have had a very good account from a planter of Ragged Harbor of her being in Catalina), and wishing the Gannet may also soon be in sight.

I remain, Sir,
 With best endeavours, WM. KELSON.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families derive by this prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about 50.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs.
 The reason is that pine contains several powerful elements which have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.
 Pine is famous for its purgative.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup.
 To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pine (50 cents worth) in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.
 You can feel this safe hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business.
 The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistent, keep from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membrane—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, bronchi-tides, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded.
 The Pine Co., Toronto, Ont.

May 12th—Active returned again with 585 young and very heavy.

May 15th—Arrow returned with 1150 young seals chiefly.

16th May, 1815.

I shall look for the Swallow and Mary in about 25th inst., the latter was into Harbor Grace a few days since with 900 seals on board and went off again to the ice.

Bills Drawn, 1815, May 2nd.
 I have now the pleasure to say I have this instant received a letter from Capt. Biel confirming his safe arrival in Catalina with all the youngsters, with the number of which I am well pleased, as they considerably exceeded my expectations by that small vessel.

I am extremely sorry to hear of the death of my late friend, your brother, James.

NOTES—In those far back days, at least some of the Irish "youngsters" made good wages at the fishery, as I notice the following—

Bills Drawn, 1815, May 2nd
 No. 1 favor Maurice Kennefic £5 " 5 " 0
 No. 2 favor Maurice Kennefic, wages &
 Balance £67 " 16 " 8 £73 " 1 " 8

Or, two hundred and ninety-three dollars and 13 cents. I believe the Maurice Kennefic referred to, He was a very old Irishman, and he was always called the Hochleichen Bho.
 He spoke an indifferent English, and was over 80 years of age when he died, when I was very young. He went to the ice with Capt. John Scully, uncle of Dr. Scully, St. John's, in the brigantine Jane.

Wash Those Pimples Off!

Pimples and ugly face blotches are often cured in a single night with the newly famous remedy for Eczema, D.
 D. D. Prescription. It is a mild, antiseptic wash that gets out impurities and then soothes and heals the ailing skin.

For Eczema, Bad Leg, Barber's Itch, Acne, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, or Ringworm, D. D. D. is a proved and reliable remedy. The very first drops of the wonderful prescription take the itching, the burning itch and give you instant relief.

Stop that itch now. Get a bottle of D. D. D. Prescription to-day.

The saloon and Butte, Mont, parted on Tuesday afternoon after an intimate relationship extending over a half century, broken hitherto only by martial law, which three times caused the doors to be closed. The dry law closed 200 saloons and three breweries in the city.

The Strain of Overwork

Your work is heavy, and sore, tired muscles are a common occurrence.
 Each time your back aches you blame it on your work, and just there the danger lies—for that pain in the back may not be from strain, as you suppose, but the forerunner of Kidney or Bladder trouble.

For your own interest, it is best to be particular and sure, as Kidney troubles inevitably pull you down and destroy your earning power.

Take note of these symptoms. Do you get dizzy and have repeated headaches, painful urination, brick dust deposits, or feel drowsy and, generally, good for nothing? If so, it is your kidneys that are bothering you—not work—and Gin Pills are necessary.

No person can work properly when they feel sick, tired and dizzy all the time. The more they try, the more energy they use up; and this only tends to aggravate their condition, as the kidneys are not out with their endeavors to relieve their condition properly.

Don't let your kidneys and bladder organs; once they become affected through any cause you suffer until the congestion is relieved and the cause remedied.

Don't let your system become rundown. A box or two of Gin Pills will relieve those kidney-complaints and restore your old-time health and strength.

Your health is priceless. Don't risk losing it. Keep your kidneys in order always by taking Gin Pills.

Sold everywhere for 50c a box.
