dog for a gold watch valued at $125.

organized in Mount Forest for the purpose of starting manufactory.

Y. M. C. A.—Don't forget the lecture to-night by the Rev. A. Sutherland in the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Subject:
"Men for the times." Lecture to commence at 8 p.m.

WEDDING BELLS.—Mr. John Anderson has sent us the March number of this nearly got up periodical. They are for sale at his store, also a large supply of True Bells for March.

The Listwood Banner has received from Colonel McGivern an assurance that the South Bruce extension of the W. G. & B. Railway will be built, with or without Government aid.

New Offices.—The Guelph Post Office informs us that the following new Post Offices will go into operation on the 1st of April, and will be supplied from the offices specified, viz: Elizabethville, reopened, supplied from Port Hope; Lenox, supplied from Churchill; Metz, supplied from Fergus; Ravenshill, supplied from Huntville; Silom, supplied from Clairidge.

Another Snow Storm.—The traditional March lion showed himself as usual this year. On Saturday night we had a good old fashioned storm, which lasted all night. This was succeeded by rain, which all during a part of Sunday, and at night we had a sharp frost. From the Washington weather reports we learn that the rain and snow storm extended practically over the states east of the Mississippi and Canada.

THE ICE ON THE GRAND RIVER.—The Berlin Telegraph says: "As an evidence of the length and severity of the present winter, the ice on the Grand River is, at this late season of the year, very thick and solid, and so uniformly frozen over that the farmers and merchants are still able to team their produce and other goods over its even surface all the way from Elora to Doon. The 'oldest inhabitant' recollects nothing to equal this in the history of that meandering stream."

MAIL BETWEEN FERGUS AND ORANGE-VILLE.—The Orangeville Advertiser is glad to learn that an effort is being made to get a direct mail established between that village and Fergus. This is a point that is very much felt in the neighborhood. All correspondence, papers, &c., have to go around by Toronto, thence to Georgetown or Guelph, for Fergus and post offices between these places. Reading is only nine miles from Orangeville and yet it takes about three days for mail matter to reach there from that place.

BASE BALL MATCH.—A correspondent has sent us the following: The Young Canadians of Guelph Township played their opening game of the season yesterday with the Juvenile Maple Leaf Club of the same place. The game commenced at the usual place, and they led for the first few innings, but at length, after some spirited play, the Young Canadians, by their splendid fielding, vanquished their opponents by a score of 18 to 16. It was decidedly a good game, the fielding and catching being much better than expected, considering the very unpropitious state of the weather. Mr. George Matthews officiated as umpire and discharged his duties to the satisfaction of both clubs by his very fair and impartial decision.

GOING TO GALT.—The Berlin Telegraph says that Mr. D. McCar, who for some time past, has filled the position of Principal of the Central School in that town, left on Thursday last to assume his duties in a similar capacity in Galt Central School. It is but simple justice to this gentleman to state that during his brief residence among us, he has deservedly gained the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. Mr. Mc-Car is a gentleman of culture, and possesses in a high degree qualities which render him an eminently successful teacher. We feel confident that his career in Galt will be marked by the same success which has attended his previous labours as an instructor of youth. We need hardly add that Mr. McCar carries with him the good wishes of this community for his future prosperity.

THE MAIL.—The first number of this paper, about which we have heard so much lately, made its appearance on Saturday. It is the same size as the other Toronto papers, its reading matter is well arranged, and it sets out with a large advertising patronage. The design is to make it the leading Conservative organ in Canada, round which the lesser lights may revolve. Having a large capital to work on, and a very efficient staff of writers, it will no doubt be a success, and take a prominent place among its contemporaries, but it is questionable whether it will supplant the Telegraph and Leader which now receive the Conservative support.

MR. EASTY'S READINGS.—As advertised Mr. Easty will give the first of his readings on Wednesday night. Mr.
Easty is not a professional reader, but a Montreal business man, well known to many of our merchants for the past 15 years, and merely taking a run through the country to amuse himself and to amuse and instruct others.
The Montreal Herald says of his readings in that city: "Mr. Easty's reading last evening at the Cathedral school room, in connexion with St. John's Church, was one of the greatest features of the evening's entertainment. His rendering of Trollope's graphic poem of the "Vagabond" was given with thrilling effect, and "Mrs. Candell's Lecture on Freesburg" was received with shouts of applause."

GOOD ADVICE.—The Harristown Tribune says: "We would respectfully point out to the Directors of the Wellington, Grey and Bruce R.R., the necessity of making the rate for shipment of cattle to Buffalo and elsewhere, as low as the Grand Trunk Railway does at stations 40 miles away, if they wish to retain the transporting business even along the line. An agent of the Grand Trunk has been around finding out the "ice of the land" and we understand that company is prepared to give a car for $30 from Seaford, which would cost over $50 from Clifford or Harristown. Cattle-buyers have driven and are intending to drive their cattle to Seaford unless they can make better terms. An extra effort should be made to keep cattle freight flowing in this channel, and we hope the W. G. & B.
R. R. will show its usual enterprise with this end in view."

SHADE TREES.
As the spring season is now at hand many of our readers are doubtless beginning to think of transplanting additional shade trees to the number that already adorn portions of our streets, and in view of this fact, perhaps a few hints which we have gleaned from an exchange will not come amiss. Care should be taken not to plant so deep that warmth from the sun's rays will fail to reach the roots, nor yet so shallow that drought will evaporate all the moisture from the soil about them.
The less top you have, the sooner you obtain a thrifty, growing tree; for those who have much experience in tree planting state the reason why so many trees die at once, or barely make a life of it for several years, arises from the fact that they are set too deep and have more top left on them than they can find nourishment for. If planted in a cold or clay soil, a hole two feet deep and six feet wide should be dug, and rich surface, as much like the soil in which the tree grew as possible, should be filled in its place. About a bushel of tanbark should be placed around the tree for a year or two, a little hollow in the centre, so as to receive rain and keep the roots moist.
The tree should also be boxed up to protect it until it has taken root and is able to take care of itself.

A REVIVAL moment has been in progress for some weeks in Sheffield, Ont., and is attended with the most extraordinary physical manifestations, as many as four and five women having frequently lapsed into a trance-like condition, and remained thus for several hours. In some respects the movement resembles the characteristics of the North of Ireland revival some years ago, which was marked by physical peculiarities.

MR. DISRAELI has intimated his intention of attacking the provisions of the Treaty of Washington, on the ground that its terms imply grave concessions on the part of Great Britain with regard to the Canadian fisheries and canals.

TORONTO is going to build an opera house. It will cost $100,000, and be capable of seating 1,500 persons. A site for it has been secured at the corner of King and York streets.

LAST Thursday a farmer named Robert Thomson, 5th con., Kincardine township, while engaged in chopping, was struck on the head by a falling limb, causing a fracture on the outer table of the skull.
Erysipelas having set in he hopes are entirely of his recovery.

dily entertained by the Khedive. A state but he declined it. He leaves on Tuesday

The Printers Strike in Toronto.

At an early hour on Saturday morning some printers obtained egress to the mail-room of the Telegraph, and two of them were arrested; also after a searching examination, they were let off.

About thirty men assembled in the neighborhood of the Mail, and so threatening were their demonstrations towards the Telegraph, that a force of police were sent for, who guarded the buildings all this morning.

Mr. Robertson, of the Telegraph brought seven men from the west on Friday, and enlisted the Vigilance Committee of the Typographical Union by getting off the train west of the Queen's Wharf. During the day one deserted, but the other six did good service on the paper the same night.

The Express came out on Saturday afternoon in its old size.

Fifteen girls have been employed, and are now learning the trade, and show fair aptness.

Several more hands arrived at the Globe on Friday, and next day a fresh supply came from Chicago. Nearly a sufficient number of compositors have been obtained for the Globe pressroom.

STABBING AFFRAY IN HAMILTON.

On Thursday night last a serious stabbing affray took place on MacNab street, in the rear of the colored Baptist Church.
There had been a social party, largely attended by young people, at the Church on that street, until about nine or ten o'clock, when an adjournment was made to the old church in the rear, where refreshments were to be served. Here, about eleven o'clock or later, four young men who had been drinking and carrying in a tavern near by, came in strongly under the influence of liquor.
One of them struck a young man named Blue, which was the signal of a general rue. One man had a gash made in his forehead, and then got his three fingers nearly cut off, and there were besides several broken heads and bloody noses.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.

Information of a shocking accident in Cornwall, England, has just been received in London. An explosion occurred in a safety fuse manufacture where a number of females were employed, causing sad loss of life. Seven women were killed and one is missing.
Several others were seriously injured and it is feared some of them may not survive.

EARTHQUAKE, AND LOSS OF LIFE.

News coming from the volcanic country north of Mjave River, California, show that the earthquake on Tuesday was felt with terrific force there. At Lalepauy 23 people were killed and 30 injured.
Shocks were felt at intervals for 30 hours.
Fifty houses are demolishd and the town is in ruins.

St George's Church—Vestry Meeting.

The Annual Vestry Meeting of St.
George's Church was held on Monday at 7 1/2 o'clock. The Ven. Archdeacon in the chair. Mr. T. W. Saunders, acting as Secretary.

After the minutes of last meeting had been read and confirmed, Mr. Wm. Reynolds read the report of the Church Wardens, which showed that the financial condition of the congregation was in a satisfactory condition, a very fair balance being left in their hands after paying all expenses.

Mr. Reynolds read the report of the Sec.-Treasurer of the Cemetery Committee, giving a record of the business done during the past year, and referring to the great improvement which had been made in the cemetery by planting of trees &c.

These reports were on motion received, and referred to two auditors, Messrs.
A. A. Baker, and Jas. Webster, who were instructed to report at an adjourned meeting of the Vestry, to be held on Monday the 13th at 7 p. m.

Messrs. Wm. Reynolds, and T. W. Saunders were re-appointed Church Wardens for the current year, and Mr. Reynolds was re-appointed Sec. Treas. of the Union Cemetery Committee.

Mr. Geo. Elliott, Treasurer for the building Committee, read the report of that Committee. The progress of the work on the new church last year was very satisfactory. The mason work with the exception of the pointing was completed, and the church roofed in. During the winter it has been lathed, and is now ready for plastering. The heating apparatus has been put in, and a good portion of the carpenterwork done. The Committee hope that by the fall the church will be completed and ready for occupation. The total cost, including heating, lathing the roof instead of shingling, and all contingent expenses is $29,938.65. Of this sum there have been paid out $19, 206.25 leaving a balance of $10,732.38 To meet this sum the Committee have assets on hand or to come in $4,968.54, leaving to be provided for, $5,763.74.
Since the statement was drawn up additional subscriptions have come in which will reduce the liabilities nearly $100, and the committee confidently hope that by the time the church is completed and ready for occupation the entire debt will be wiped out.

On motion of Mr. F. J. Chadwick, seconded by Mr. A. A. Baker, the report was adopted, and the meeting expressed its great satisfaction at the progress made in the work and at the encouraging state of the finances, and the excellent character of the vestry was referred to the Committee for their careful attention to the trust reposed in them.

After the transaction of some other business the Vestry adjourned to meet again on the 13th April at 7 p. m. to receive the report of the auditors, and for the transaction of other business.

Vaccination. To the Editor of the Mercury. Dear Sir,—In looking over the columns of the Evening Mercury of the 28th, I noticed a short paragraph taken from Hall's Journal of Health...

That is at least the general impression, and there are very few even among medical men who will venture any other theory. In fact the operation of vaccine upon the system is very little known or understood. But I will with your permission sketch in as few words as possible a somewhat different and more physiological theory than the above.

In the first place, I entirely disagree with the general impression that the vaccine virus when applied to an abrasion is absorbed and then remains for any length of time further than just the or twelve days that it is known to be acting on the system from the fever and other symptoms familiar to every one who has undergone the operation and had it take well.

The system being composed of a vast number of humors so complicated and so mixed together that even the chemist with his most delicate tests could not separate them, nor the most skilled physician tell what their several functions are. Yet I think it can be proven that there are these humors and that they can and are repeatedly thrown into a state of diseased condition.

For instance there are what are generally known as children's diseases, a child takes measles which is known by the peculiar eruption, &c. It is also a known fact that not more than perhaps one in every thousand takes it often than once. Then there is scarlet fever which is also known by its peculiar distinctive eruption, &c. It is also one of these diseases which a person will rarely take a second time.

There are also diphtheria and whooping cough. Though only heard of in their effect yet the same may be said of every other disease which is peculiar to itself and after it has once been affected it is either destroyed and entirely or partly eradicated from the body.

Now the question arises, how can these diseases be prevented or modified? The answer would be, by destroying these different humors so that when exposed to the real poison which would develop the disease peculiar to each, there would be nothing for it to act upon.

This mode of prevention or modifying of the disease has only been tried in one, viz: in small-pox, and all praise to the immortal Jenner for his most invaluable discovery of vaccination, which has the power of at least partly destroying the humor in which variola has any effect. But though vaccinating an infant will destroy so much of the humor as to ensure it against small-pox for an indefinite number of years, yet it remains in the system and ready at any time to have the power of replicating itself so that vaccination is not a sure cure, and not only once but at about the age of fourteen and again between twenty and twenty-five, with the same operative power that it possessed in infancy. It is, therefore, very little used for vaccinating children, and is only used for small-pox in the case of adults.

reporters, each. All of the Detroit morning dailies employ ten or twelve editors and reporters, each. In competition with such an array as this, what can the one or two men who do the editorial work for a local weekly paper accomplish? Frequently this paper, or these two men, must manage both the business and editorial departments of their paper, and to make it pay, and give intelligent consideration to all the topics of the day, must evidently have a wide range of talents and accomplishments. On the city daily, a good local reporter may know no more about national politics than any school boy; while the political writer may know as little of minor local topics. But the editor of a local journal, if he makes a paper suited to the taste of all classes of readers in his section, must be reasonably well posted on all topics. We do not mean to say that all local editors are so posted. But a little consideration of the subject, and "putting yourself in his place," would save much of the grumbling that is so often heard about local papers. We made these remarks to show the disadvantage under which such papers are published, and the unequal competition to which they are subjected. Nevertheless we believe that the average local paper might be made much better than it is; but the fact that it is not, proves that the field is not an attractive one to newspaper men of experience and ability.—Port Huron Times.

Extraordinary Development of British Commerce. The New York Herald of the 19th inst. under the above heading, thus refers to the development of the British commerce.—The synopsis of the statistics of the British commerce which we published yesterday shows that the exports of British and Irish produce in 1870 reached in value, with a fraction, the enormous sum of a thousand millions of dollars, and the export of foreign and colonial produce to about two hundred and twenty-five millions. The exports have been nearly quadrupled in the course of thirty years or since 1840. The increase has been progressive all through this period, but greater during the last fifteen years, and was the greatest in the decade from 1855 to 1865. The total exports increased in these ten years about five hundred millions of dollars. In 1870 the United States stood first among nations to which Great Britain exported her products.

The exports amounted in that year, British, Irish, colonial and foreign included, to over a hundred and fifty-five million, of which more than one hundred and forty millions were British and Irish. The country that stands next is Germany, to which a hundred and forty millions were exported. Then follows France, receiving over one hundred and ten millions; British India, a hundred millions; the Netherlands, over eighty millions; Austria, over fifty millions; Turkey, over forty millions; the British North American Provinces, over thirty-five and forty millions; Belgium, approaching forty-five millions; Italy, exceeding thirty millions; and Brazil, over twenty-five millions. The countries having less than twenty millions are not mentioned in this abstract, but in the aggregate the sum must be large. The British commerce extends over every portion of the globe. Whatever the causes of this extraordinary commercial development? Here is an interesting question of our political, economical and statistical. Protection is certainly not a cause; for British commerce has increased to a considerable extent in proportion to the abandonment of the protective system and to the progress made in free trade. This country is far richer than Great Britain in natural resources, and has a larger population. Why is it, then, that our commerce develops so slowly comparatively, while that of England is augmenting so rapidly and vastly? Let us endeavor to understand the problem and inaugurate a better commercial policy than we have been pursuing.

WE beg to call attention to Mr. Horsman's advertisement about Ploughs. The Plough referred to is having a large demand, so great has it become that three car loads have been forwarded to Mr. Horsman to supply the farmers in this neighborhood this Spring. All pronounce them the best general purpose Plough made; as a guarantee of this we need only say that they are manufactured at the celebrated Agricultural Works of F. W. Glen, Oshawa. The price it will be observed will be kept at $13, the old figure, until the 1st of April, when it will be raised to $15 in consequence of the advance in Iron and Steel. We should therefore recommend our farmer friends to loose no time in procuring one at Mr. John Horsman's, Hardware Merchant of this town.

Beyond life's toils and cares,
Its hopes and joys, its weariness and sorrow,
Its sleepless nights, its days of smiles and tears, Will be a lone sweet life, unmarked by years, —One bright unending morn'g!
Beyond time's troubled stream, Beyond the chilling waves of death's dark river, Beyond life's lowering clouds and fitful gleams Its dark realities and brighter dreams, A beautiful forever.
No aching hearts are there;
No tear-dimmed eye, no form by sickness wasted, No cheek grown pale through penury or care, No spirit crushed beneath the woes they bear, No sighs for bliss unmet.
No sad farewell is heard,
No lonely wail for loving ones departed, No dark remorse is there or memories stirred, No smug of scorn, no harsh or cruel word To grieve the broken-hearted.
No long dark night is there, No light from sun or silvery moon is given,
But Christ, the Lamb of God, all bright and fair, Illumes the city with effulgent rays,
The glories light of heaven!
No mortal eye hath seen The glories of that land beyond the river, Its crystal lakes, its fields of living green, Its fadeless flowers and the unchanging sheen Around the Throne forever.
Ear hath not heard the songs Of rapturous praise within that shining portal, No heart of man hath dreamt what bliss Belongs
To that redeemed and joyous blood-washed throng, All glorious and immortal.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE.
CHAPTER XXIII.
The "Half Moon" was found without difficulty; and in answer to their inquiries, the landlord—a thickset, low-browed fellow, evidently of prize-winning connection—told them that Mangles still lived, and would be found in a lodging house in Ridley's Court.

"There's half-a-crown to the messenger that will go and fetch him," said Edwin.
"Bless yer, sir," returned the landlord, "he couldn't come—not if you was to give him five pounds. He hasn't been able to stir out for the last two months, all along of the want of power in the limbs. All that he's good for now is to curse and swear at his ill luck, which, I may tell you, gents, he does uncommon strong, as I heard him myself last time I took along the tip."

"The tip?" repeated Edwin, interrogatively.
"That's the tin as was raised last time the Half Moon gave him a benefit. Bless yer art, sir, if he and one or two more 'bones ain't do summat for him now and then, he would starve outright."

"Ah, I see, you make occasional contributions for his subsistence."
"It don't do more nor keep soul and body together, sir; and these many part companies for all the good he's fit for now, for Dicky Mangles will never touch one or strike ball again, or even put chalk to blackboard. But, you see, sir, life's life, and we all want to keep it in so long as the tack can be got to hold. Now, if you gents mean to befriend Dicky, you haven't come a moment too soon."

"Is his mind much shattered?" asked Weggie.
"Has he lost his memory?"
"Not a bit on it, sir. It's his limbs wot has failed; and when he ain't drunk—as isn't often the case now, seeing he has got no money to do it on—he's about as sharp as ever he was."

"Very good. Now, how shall we find the house where he lodges?"
"Nothing easier, sir. When you go into Ridley's Court, which is on the other side, and not more nor two hundred yards along from this, all you've got to do is to ask for Mother M'Geen's lodging-house, and the first person you meet will show you."
Ridley's Court proved to be a dark, dirty, narrow alley, composed of the most wretched class of houses, and occupied by an equally wretched class of people if any judgment of the fact could be formed from the sight of gaunt, hungry faces, and filthy ragged forms which lay in the doorways or rolled in the gutter. The stopping of a cab at such a place, and the entrance of four well-dressed men, caused no little stir, and an excitement of curiosity which was not allayed when the strangers asked for Mother M'Geen's lodging-house. Two or three hands, however, were raised at once to point to a house in the corner, by the upper portion of which. It was said, was the lodging-house in question; and down the dingy, filthy alley they went, and up the creaking wooden stair, at the top of which was an open door, and beyond a passage black with smoke and murky darkness.

Assembled in a body on the unstable landing-place, which shook alarmingly under the Squire's weighty frame, the latter—who, as an old acquaintance of the man they had come to see, was to open the negotiations—knocked loudly with his large thorn stick on the dingy door, and thereby produced a sound which went echoing forward, and was speedily followed by the opening of an inner door and the appearance of a little, old, saw-toothed woman, looming out of the darkness as she drew near.

"Are you Mother M'Geen?" he asked, in his loud, hearty manner.
"Oh, shure, and I'm all you'll get for her, sir," was the answer in a strong Irish brogue.
"Have you a lodger called Mangles?"
"Indade and I have, sir, and more's the pity for any help he gives me to pay the rent."

"He is within now, I presume?"
"Did you say within, sir? Shure, then, he hasn't been without for the best end of a year."
"Well, we wish to see him, if you will show us to where he is."
"It's meself will do that same if yer honours doesn't mind the poorness of the place. All the boys are out but himself, so you won't be troubled wid their company. This way, if ye please, and be afther mindin' the step—oh, holy mother, I'm killt entirely!"

This latter horrified exclamation was preceded by a noisy clatter, and the falling forward of the bulky-bodied Squire down the step, of whose existence she was about to give warning—too late, however, to prevent the catastrophe, for while she was about to say "step," the Squire had reached it, and ignorant of such a sudden change in the level of the passage, he stumbled forward against the woman with a force which caused both to lose their equilibrium, and, coming to the ground, the Squire fell on the top of Mother M'Geen with crushing effect.

BRKFAST—EPP'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COFFEE.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills. Dr. S. J. Epps' Cocoa. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Epps & Co., Homeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

The public are hereby assured, through the columns of the MERCURY, that "Parson's Purgative Pills" contain no injurious principle, but that they may be administered to children and the most weak and shattered constitutions in small doses, with great certainty of success.

Dr. A. Johnson, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs, will make the name of Johnson not less favorably, if less widely known, than that of Louis Napoleon.

"Tired Nature's Sweet Restorer, Balmly Sleep." But there are times when this "Renewer of Strength" is denied us, times when our minds and bodies have been so over-worked and are so worn out that we "woo the drowsy God in vain." The Peruvian Syrup (an Iron Tonic), renews our strength and makes our rest sweet and refreshing.

FELLOWS
COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

All life-endowed bodies, whether they be Beasts, Birds, Reptiles, Insects, or even Zoophytes, and subjects of the Vegetable Kingdom are governed by vital force, which binds all the springs of existence, and nothing can save them from destruction when this principle leaves them, the discovery of means whereby vitality may be sustained in the living body is indeed a boon to the world.

Modern Chemistry has ventilated the question and discovered the ingredients constituting the brain, muscles and nerves, and finds that by introducing these ingredients in proper proportions the brain and nervous system are strengthened.

This then is substantially the basis on which Fellows's Hyposphosphites is built, its direct action is upon the Blood, the Brain and Nervous system, and the Muscles, Strengthening the Nerves, it causes the rapid circulation of Vitalized Blood in the Muscular Organ of the Body.

Routing the Stomach Heart and Liver, Strengthening the Action of the Stomach and Bowels, and enabling the Lungs to be fully supplied with Oxygen.

It is adapted for all cases of Weakness and Excitation, whether arising from a Sedentary life, a tropical climate, from fever, or debility from any cause, and is especially in Pulmonary Consumption, many confirmed cases having been cured and all benefited, where its use has been continued over a fortnight.

In Bronchitis it is a specific, and in Asthma it gives relief where every other remedy fails.

For Nerves Debility it stands unequalled, and may be used with confidence in all cases.

As this is entirely distinct and different from every other preparation of Hypophosphites, be careful to ask for Fellows's Syrup, and take no other.

SOLD BY APOTHECARIES
PRICE, $1.50. SIX FOR $7.50.

READ THE FOLLOWING:
Mrs. Amy Kennedy, of Painesville, Ohio, says: "I have suffered with Asthma 24 years, have been doctored by many Physicians, as soon as I took the Balsam it relieved me. I cannot express the gratitude I feel for the benefit your Allan's Lung Balsam has been to me."
Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vermont, says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak about for six weeks. I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allan's Lung Balsam, and an entirely cured."
Capt. Foster, of Burwell, Ont., says: "I have been troubled with a cough at times very severe for years past. I have found Allan's Lung Balsam to relieve my cough more readily than any other cough medicine I have ever tried. My wife also used it with the most satisfactory results." The Balsam is sold by all druggists. Price 25¢ per bottle.

VEGETABLE SICILIAN
HAIR
RENEWER

Nine years before the public, and no preparation for the hair has ever been produced equal to Hall's "Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer," and every honest dealer will say it gives the best *at fact*ion. It restores GRAY HAIR to its original color, eradicating and preventing dandruff, curing BALDNESS and promoting the growth of the hair. The gray and brassy hair with a few applications is changed to black and silky locks, and wayward hair will assume any shape the wearer desires. It is the cheapest HAIRDRESSING in the world and its effects last longer, as it excites the glands to furnish the nutritive principle so necessary to the life of hair. It gives the hair that splendid appearance so much admired by all. By its tonic and stimulating properties it prevents the hair from falling out, and none need be without Nature's ornament—a good head of hair. It is the first real perfected remedy ever discovered for curing diseases of the hair, and it has never been equalled, and we assure the thousands who have used it, it is kept up to its original high standard.
