Bob White Bound over. Bob White, 40 man who has been in the county jail at Seattle for some weeks on the charge of shooting the Clancy brothers and James McCann in the legs at the ranch near Appleton, has been bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $1,000. In default he was committed to the county jail.

Nanaimo's Wants. The Nanaimo board of trade intend to memorialize the Marine Department for the erection of a lighthouse on Nanaimo harbor to be located on either Jack's Point or on the point on Protection Island. The board will also memorialize the collector of customs in regard to the inauguration of a direct daily mail service between Nanaimo and Vancouver.

Jobbing them to Not Jobbing. Two young men who have been amusing themselves by masquerading in false beards and wigs, early on Wednesday morning, Nov. 27, were arrested by a friend, who keeps rather late hours, by assuming the role of highwaymen and "holding him up" as he was about to leave his home. He received a blow in the face which will not soon forget, while there still is a probability of being made a prisoner in the police court for their fun.

The Late Capt. Nicholls, R. N. The death of young fever of Commander Jasper E. T. Nicholls, which occurred at sea on the 9th October last on board the M. S. Commodore, which was bringing home from the Pacific station to paid off, is announced in English papers. He was a member of the 1885, and was in command of Her Majesty's ship Thalia during the Egyptian war of 1882, being present with the Naval Brigade at the battle of Tel-el-Kebir.

Port Moody Looking Up. The citizens of Port Moody are elated over the prospects of a revival of their town. Preparations are in progress for the erection of a pier at the entrance of Port Moody harbor. Mr. Batchelor, who owns valuable timber land on the north side of the pier, has completed arrangements with a company of capitalists for the erection of a pier and wharf establishment on his place near there.

He Got Nine Months. In the speedy trial court yesterday, the chief justice presiding, the case of Ah Leay, also Jack Tim, dragged out not without incident. Ah Leay, who was charged with assault and robbery, was defended by Messrs. Charles Wilby and H. D. Henderson. He was sentenced to nine months in the penitentiary, with hard labor.

Cruelty to Animals. There is a case of cruelty to animals at Nanaimo which urgently calls for attention. A young bull, with city for P. C. A. A young bull, some time ago shot by a hunting party, was kept in a cage, where he was starved and his unfortunate animal's jaw was broken. In this condition it was allowed to live, and now the animal is unable to eat and is slowly but surely dying, yet the owner does not end his misery by at once putting it to death.

Killed by a Falling Tree. News has been received from the family as the result of Sunday's storm. Chas. McKenzie, a painter, a young man well known in Vancouver, who had recently with a friend named Robinson, taken up a ranch in the vicinity of Aldergrove, was killed in his cabin by a tree which fell on him. He was buried with him at the time, had a narrow escape. Deceased came from North Ontario, where his family resides. The funeral was held at the residence of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Washington's New Senators. Squire and Allen were on Wednesday formally declared United States senators for Washington in joint convention of the legislature. The ceremony, when time was called, and forced Kelleher out of the ring with his vicious swing. In the third round he knocked Kelleher out of the ring. The referee broke ground, which he did freely. Kelleher's lip was cut in this round. McCarthy continued to thrash Kelleher out of the ring from the third to the sixth round, and McCarthy's feelings were not improved by the result. From the sixth round the fight was somewhat levelled, and Kelleher got in a few times at McCarthy's lungs.

A Successful Case. It is unusual for a repeated entertainment of the chin bazaar order to be given with the vim and enthusiasm which was shown in the case of the fancy fair which was held in St. Andrew's schoolroom last evening. How successful the bazaar was, however, is shown by the fact that all the books looked just as pretty as on Wednesday night; so did the ladies in attendance whose efforts to please were most successful. All of the fancy work found purchasers, while the total receipts were swelled from $700 to $1,000. A very gratifying start in the history of church work in the new edifice.

Robbery at Ladner's. A daring robbery, accomplished with violence, was committed three miles from Ladner's road on Sunday night last. A man named Ned O'Brien, who was driving a light truck, was stopped by a Chinaman came up from behind and knocked him in the fire. After striking O'Brien, he matched his way from his pocket and made for the door, taking a double-barrelled shot gun in his right hand. He fired a shot which struck Kirkland arrested the man on Monday, and on Wednesday he was fully committed for trial. The Chinaman was taken to the police station on Wednesday morning. He was under exactly similar circumstances.

Friendship, Charity and Benevolence. The social dance held in Philharmon Hall last evening in aid of the K. of P. band, was a grand success. The dancing was in charge of the K. of P. band, the time named for the commencement of the programme, an immense crowd of three years ago. The dance began to fill the hall. The decorations which had previously been arranged with much care by the members of the committee consisted of flags and K. of P. banners hung around the hall. A large banner in the middle of the room, with knighting courtesy we greet you. There were also several other mottoes of "Friendship, Charity and Benevolence" around the building. The music was supplied by the K. of P. string band, led by Prof. Kauffman accompanied by Prof. Sharpe. Refreshments which had been donated by the ladies, were served during the evening and the company went away well satisfied after having danced to the level of the morning. Mr. J. Jones acted as floor manager, and is to be complimented on the way in which he carried out the duties of that difficult position.

That Missing Watch. Gilbert H. Sprout, chief engineer of the Islander, is of the opinion that the thief who stole his watch has gone over to the States. He has written to the chief of police at Seattle to look out for his property. The watch is a gold watch with a diamond set face. It is worth about $100.

should be quietly made as to the practice of the teacher, complained of. If it is found that he has been in the habit of punishing too severely and using corporal punishment for trivial offences, he should be admonished, and if on further trial it is found that he cannot control his temper, he should be given to understand that he has mistaken his calling, and that he had better look out for another occupation. The whole investigation should be done quietly and with as little publicity as possible, for it is not wise to encourage every rebellious, mischievous spirit to believe that if the teacher touches his sacred person, no matter what his offence may be, he is horribly terrified, and that he will be given to understand that he has mistaken his calling, and that he had better look out for another occupation.

THE NEW WESTMINSTER ELECTION. The election contest that has just closed in New Westminster shows that a very great change has taken place at that city since the general election of September, 1886. Then the Government had hardly a corporal's guard of supporters in the city. The Opposition candidates were named by a sweeping majority. He polled very nearly five votes to the Government candidate's one. Three years have passed and the position of parties in New Westminster is completely reversed. In November, 1889, the Opposition felt themselves no weak in New Westminster that they did not venture to contest the city. They knew that they could not do so, and they wisely concluded not to expose their weakness. All the candidates for nomination professed to be in favor of the Government, and the two gentlemen who were nominated were both supporters of Mr. Robson's administration. It will be hard to find the record of so complete a change of sentiment in any province of the Dominion. The change brought about is a legitimate one, and the Government used no efforts to gain over the constituency of New Westminster. This city was not unseated by either of the candidates, and it was not the recipient of undue or unusual favors from the Government. The electors had watched the Government closely. They saw that the only object of its members was to administer the law, and to declare him unfit to associate with other boys before everything that can be done to keep him in the proper path is done, it is weakness that, in our opinion, amounts to wickedness. Give the "bad boy" a chance—every chance. There may be, and there often is, the making of a good man in him.

In speaking of punishments we wish it to be clearly understood that we do not mean to speak of the infliction of corporal punishment, but of the infliction of a just and sensible penalty to punish a child with the strap or in any other way for being dull. The teacher that cannot distinguish between want of capacity and idleness is not fit for his business.

A GRINNING CYNIC. The Times is delighted at the prospect of the trade of Victoria being hampered by the enforcement of the Order-in-Council relative to the carrying of Canadian goods from American ports in American steamers. It chuckles over the indignation with which the news that the Order was to be carried into effect in Victoria, and the indignation which the attempt that is being made by the representatives of Victoria in the Dominion Commons, the Board of Trade, and the Colonist to have the Order suspended. It describes the course pursued by the authorities in Ottawa in insisting upon carrying out the Order after it had been represented to them that its enforcement would be injurious to the commerce of the city, and that it was perfectly right, in fact, completely justifies the Customs Department in persisting in doing what it knows will subject the merchants of this city to very considerable inconvenience and loss. Our contemporary is easily amused, but it chokes, we must say, a singular subject for its jests and its merriment. It is not a laughing matter to the merchants of the city, and it is not a laughing matter to the commercial interests of the city and that it would try to conceal its delight when it saw that action had been taken injurious to those interests. A journal friendly to Victoria would, as soon as it saw that harm would be done, have energetically sided those who were trying to avert the evil, and who turned on those who believed to be the cause of the mischief. The action of the Times resembles that of an ill-conditioned fellow who stood by laughing while his neighbor's house was on fire, refusing to lend a helping hand to extinguish the flames because he pretended to believe that one of the loggers who he disliked had perpetrated a blunder which caused the disaster. Such a judgment criterion could not be tolerated by the bystanders even if they had no interest in the property that was being destroyed. The small-souled, spiteful creature would soon find that it was not safe to remain sneering and jeering in their hearing.

If the Times wanted to prevent the Order-in-Council being suspended in so far as it relates to the carrying of goods from sound ports is concerned, it could not have gone about accomplishing its object in a more effective way. It is the organ of the Opposition in this city. When it is seen in Ottawa that the Opposition in Victoria has nothing to say against the enforcement of the Order-in-Council they will naturally conclude that its operation will not be injurious to the citizens. It will never occur to them that the desire to see a few individuals against whom they had a spite discredited and annoyed, has more weight with the Times people than any consideration regarding the commercial welfare of the city. The officials of the department will find it impossible to believe that the organ of the Opposition would treat an important matter so lightly. This is not how the Opposition newspapers in the other provinces notice even imaginary grievances. They cry out before the province is hurt, and when there is no intention of hurting it. So when the Opposition journal here takes merry glee in the Conservative desire to be as injurious to the city and the province, it will not be hard to convince the authorities that there are no grounds for the complaints that are being made.

The Times is quite tickled because the Board of Trade has, as it believes, made a mistake which has resulted in injury to Victoria. Even if the Board of Trade did err for more than either in the city of Victoria, it is not becoming in the organ of the Opposition to be jubilant over the mistake. If, instead of crowing over it, it regards as the discomfiture of a few gentlemen who have by some means or other incurred its displeasure, it sided as others in our efforts to prevent harm being done to the citizens of Victoria, it would be in the line of its duty. But it chooses, in order to gratify its petty spite, to be disloyal to Victoria and to take a perverse pleasure in doing what it can to annoy the employers of their right who are trying to put matters in their right light before the Dominion authorities. We do hope that the Times will not be successful in its efforts to prevent justice being done to this city.

THE NAUGHTY BOY WHO SERVED. Almost a week ago a newspaper was charged a notice by Mr. J. W. Mainland with cruelty to animals. The charge was laid by a young lady who witnessed a cock fight. The notice was signed at what she called the "inhumanity" of the horsemen. As yet the police have been unable to serve the summons.

LUCKY BABY. On the 23rd inst. the wife of Mr. David Brannome, of the stevedore, Lulu Island, became the happy mother of a very handsome little daughter. Baby Brannome is the first child in the new town of Steveston, and her baby-sitter has been presented with a town in honor of her claim to public recognition.

DEATH. Last evening Mr. H. J. Hartnell died at his residence 364 Yates street, after a long illness. The deceased was aged 65 years, and was a native of Somersetshire, England. He was for many years a resident of this city, and filled the position of manager of the Central Thompson section electorate. We know that he was a very successful and popular man, and we regret to hear of his death. He leaves a wife and five children and many friends to mourn his loss.

STUCK IN THE MUD. The Nason Company, an Antler Creek, has been successful in striking a rich vein of gold. It has struck a vein of 800,000 to $700,000, having at last got into their diggings and have struck gold. The strike is improving, and the vein is a hopeless prospect. It is looking first-class. The company believe they have a good thing and are full of high expectations.—World.

THE HOBNOBBING POLICE. For the last few weeks the police have been kept busy. To give him a reputation for being a good man, and many toughs have been forced, unwillingly, to take part in the exodus. The police have been kept busy for three months being sent back to Uncle Sam's dominions by this morning's steamer with two others who were summoned to appear in the police court to-day upon charges of vagrancy.

THE ORDER-IN-COUNCIL. There is nothing new concerning the new celebrated "order." Five or six cartridges were fired at the Order-in-Council, and the result was that it was expected that freight in transit would not be included in the order. The embargo was removed, and the steamer will be sent over for it as the Northern Pacific is determined to keep freight moving, and their shares will be sold at a profit.

A MINISTERIAL MISTAKE. Capt. Jagers with the fish hatchery on the other day and secured a small quantity of the salmon spawn. To propagate these he has rigged up a water hatchery. A large ball supplies fresh water to a small tin basin, in which the spawn is kept. The water is kept at a temperature of 50 degrees, and the salmon embryo look healthy and will shortly make their appearance in the outer world.

AUSTRALIAN STEAMER. The Australian steamer which arrived at San Francisco last Saturday from Sydney brought no less than 1,000,000 gold in the shape of gold bars and various banks in that city. They were turned over to the United States branch bank, and the gold was placed in the vaults of the United States. These importations of United States gold are unusual, but it is seldom that $5,000,000 of gold is shipped from Australia in one shipment from Australia.

THE OPTIMIST SMUGGLERS. Towers and McComber, the two optimist smugglers captured near Port Townsend a few days ago, have been sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the Supreme Court, and are held in the sum of $300 bonds. Both young men belong to the same family, and their father, Mr. Towers, is well connected in New Westminster, and his father is now at Port Townsend endeavoring to procure the release of his son. The father was arrested also, and while awaiting the steamer he slipped sleeping until the officers' attention was attracted, when he escaped.

THE JAMES HAMILTON LEWIS. J. C. Nixon, of Seattle, has sold his schooner the James Hamilton Lewis to Capt. Alex. McLean, representing the British Columbia Fishery Commission. The Lewis left for San Francisco on Tuesday, where she will fit out for a northern voyage. The schooner is 110 feet over all, has a 23-foot beam and is 11 feet deep. She is built entirely of red oak, and is a very fast and staunch schooner of her class. She was built at Yokohama in 1884 and was used in the service of the Fishery Commission in Behring sea in 1887 by the United States Government. She was sold under the hammer at Port Townsend last March to J. C. Nixon.

THE LATE MR. CROCKER'S WILL. The will of the late Mr. Crocker has been proved for probate in the Supreme Court. It was dated October 17th, 1889, ten days before his death, and bequeathed to his wife, Mrs. Crocker, $100,000, to her four children, Charles F., William H. and George Crocker, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Alexander of Victoria. The will was proved by the testimony of Mrs. Crocker, and the majority of the representatives of the people controls the Government of the country; in the United States a majority of the representatives of the people has no power over the Government.

THE CALL WISHES TO MAKE HIS READERS believe that the great body of the British people are indifferent whether the Colonies are or are not. This is a very great mistake. There was some time when the Manchester school of politicians assumed this attitude towards the Colonies, but they never represented the majority of the people of the British Islands. Colonies are now highly valued by British statesmen of all parties. The object of many of them is not to permit them to remain off, but to bind them to the mother country. The wide West in Ontario to Portland parties for $60,000. The mine is one of the finest in the province, and will carry out her wishes as set forth in the memoranda as far as possible.

THE LAURE HYDRAULIC MINE. Mr. Morris Moss, who started for Rook Creek, returned on Tuesday night having met the miners who were working on the Laure hydraulic claim on the way out. A slight frost came and they were informed by those who claimed to know, that the water was not flowing. The reverse proved the case, however, and they were compelled to stop. The water was not flowing, but they were not to be deterred. They left very shortly after dark, and were not made until spring. It is certain to prove satisfactory to the company.

occupied the important position of city editor on the Columbia for the last two years and more. His employers and the entire staff join with their other numerous friends in wishing Mr. Glover a happy and amiable bride all the happiness that wedded bliss can afford to the end of the chapter.

SOMEWHAT MIXED. Port Moody has got things slightly mixed again. A resident of that town, who had been arrested under a warrant to arrest five alleged timber snatchers. He served the warrant, but he was not in his pocket for safe keeping. When the accused voluntarily appeared before "his honor" the magistrate, he was not a particular of the crimes, nothing upon which the trial could proceed, and there was a dead lock. The case is that the magistrate has charged one of the supposed prisoners in place of the single billiard which had been put up in his pocket for safe keeping. IN EXPLANATION WANTED. Inland Press. In an article which appeared in the Times prior to the delivery of Hon. Mr. Robson's address at Kamloops, we stated that the object of the gentleman's trip to Kamloops was mainly to bring the delectable. Of course he would not be a particular of the crimes, nothing upon which the trial could proceed, and there was a dead lock. The case is that the magistrate has charged one of the supposed prisoners in place of the single billiard which had been put up in his pocket for safe keeping.
