GRATEFUL SOLDIER

Letter in Reply to One Sent When it Was Learned He Was Wounded

For some time members of the Women's Canadian Club, in addition to other activities, have been sending to wounded soldiers, letters of a comforting nature, besides containing some items of news which might be of interest to them. An interesting letter was received in reply to one she had sent by Mrs. J. Robinson Vanwart, Albert street. Mrs. Vanwart has sent several letters to volunteers who had been wounded, always endeavoring to make them interesting by means of inserting clippings of home affairs. The letter she received today is from Corporal Perley McIntyre, of No. 1 Field Company, Canadian Engineers, and is in part as follows: "Your very welcome letter received today, and I will not attempt to tell you what my feelings were when I read it. You can never know what pleasure it gives a fellow lying here in hospital surrounded with wounded men, and a far from home as we are, to get a letter like that from one of Canada's fair daughters—it makes a fellow feel that what he is going through for his country is only a small part as compared with what our fair women are doing. I always think that the ones at home have much the heavier load to bear as they are constantly worrying that something is going to happen to their dear ones in action. We at the front have never time to think of what might happen, all our attention being concentrated on what is transpiring about us. "I suppose you have read more about the Canadians and their work at Ypres than I have, but to be there and see it was something glorious and made a fellow feel proud that he was a Canadian. The only thing I held on, what drove the Germans back. Language fails to convey an idea of how our brave fellows went into the breach—but O, the price they had to pay! They are called the Canadians 'The Stone-Wall Brigade'."

GOOD TIME AT TORRYBURN

His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc was present for dinner, served in the large picnic pavilion by the teachers and young women of the choir. A game of baseball between the choir boys and altar boys resulted in a victory for the former. Dennis McCarthy was umpire and also was starter in the sports. The girls' races were won as follows: Under 16 years, Beatrice Murray; under 14 years, H. Burns; under 12 years, A. Lane and H. Ryan tied; under 10 years, H. Murphy; under 8 years, Gordon McNamee; three-legged race, won by Norman Dwyer and E. Power; potato race, won by C. McGuire. The girls' races were won as follows: Under 16 years, Beatrice Murray; under 12 years, Mary Floyd; under 10 years, Alice Lawson; three-legged race, Mary Floyd and Garmella Nugent; potato race, Beatrice Murray. I. C. R. SQUEEZES FARMERS (Moncton Transcript).
Hitherto farmers who come to town on the I. C. R. accommodations and express were permitted to take into the cars with them convenient baskets, of some of which was carried potatoes, eggs and butter for the market. These baskets were always portable and taken by the farmer passengers in the cars with them just as ordinary travel bags taken in their grips and other hand pediments. Today, however, the farmers were stopped at the steps by the train hands and told that in future they would not be allowed to take these baskets into the cars, but would have to send them by express or some other way. The farmers are very indignant, and probably there will be some concerted action on their part.

The War News in Sunday Night Cables

London, June 20, 10.36 p.m.—After seven weeks battering across Galicia, during which the Russians have been thrown back more than 150 miles, the Austro-Germans are today as close to Lemberg as were the Germans in Paris after their first dash across France last fall.

Never, perhaps, since before the battle of the Marne, have the Teutonic allies appeared so confident of success. Having failed in their original plan of crushing France, and then turning to Russia, they have reversed the order of their strategy, and now, judging by the expenditure of life and ammunition in Galicia, they have planned their whole fate to be depending on the Russian army as to permit of the throwing of a tremendous weight of men and material into the western theatre, there either to break through the Franco-British line or force an interminable period of sanguinary warfare.

A despatch from Copenhagen tonight says that the German Emperor himself has taken supreme command of the Galician campaign, establishing his headquarters in Silesia as near to the front as practicable.

The great question England and her Allies are asking is whether Grand Duke Nicholas, commanding the Russian forces, can successfully emulate Joffre's tactics of last fall and check the Austro-Germans at the gates of Lemberg. Optimists point out that the grand duke checked them almost at the gates of Warsaw, just as General Joffre stopped the Germans before Paris, and Field Marshal Sir John French stopped them before Ypres, Dunkirk and Calais.

Should Lemberg fall, the Russians can drop back to equally formidable positions, utilizing the rivers and swamps, and it is the British contention that they could thus hold out for months, England and France in the meantime, sending to their aid men and munitions, if necessary.

Whether Russia has sufficient ammunition to meet the present strain is a question which cannot be answered in England, although the London papers say frankly that the shortage is acute. One of the Sunday papers characterizes the situation in Galicia as "Russia's supreme emergency," and public interest is centered in that theatre. The sound of guns is audible at Lemberg, and possibly this week will see the culmination of one of the most interesting phases of the great war.

A BOOM TO MATRIMONY
Many a couple are just hesitating on the verge of matrimony, because of the expense in securing the first essential—a home. Self-contained houses have been beyond even the ambition of but a few, although flats and apartments are continually soaring in price. The Eastmont Home Building Company, however, are bringing the young people the very opportunity that so many have been longing for, by building and selling self contained houses on their own property on Robbsey avenue, which are being sold at prices and terms probably never before thought of in St. John, while they contain all modern conveniences, such as baths, hot and cold water, electric lights, verandah, etc. Home-seekers will be pleased to know that these handsome houses are available for those of moderate means in fact only a cash payment of three hundred dollars is necessary to secure a real home for oneself, and is independent of the landlord for ever. Those who are paying rent, no matter what the amount, will learn something of interest from Amland & Company, managers, 3 Sydney street. 6-22.

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION. The eyes of the world are now turned to Galicia, where the German and Austrian armies are making a supreme effort to inflict such a defeat upon the Russians as would make it safe to withdraw large bodies of troops to the west to haul against the French and British lines. The result apparently depends upon Russia's supply of ammunition. There has been great draw-back from the beginning. The German supply appears to be inexhaustible, and the masses of men whom Russia can put in the way of the enemy are powerless unless well supported by artillery. It is said the Kaiser himself has assumed direction of the Galician campaign, and whether he can at last succeed in putting Grand Duke Nicholas to rout is a question the answer to which will be awaited with very keen anxiety. Thus far the Grand Duke has retreated only to return again to the attack, and to keep up the steady pressure which made it necessary for the enemy to hold large armies along the whole line. If he has ammunition he can probably hold Lemberg. If he has not, he can still retreat and gather his forces for another drive when his supply of ammunition warrants such a movement. Germany evidently attaches great importance to this struggle for she has sacrificed great numbers of men in Galicia in the last three weeks. The Russian reports do not admit that the situation for them is as serious as German and Austrian reports indicate, but a London cable says they have been thrown back 150 miles in seven weeks. It is added, however, that even if they lost Lemberg they can withdraw to other formidable positions and hold out for months. The whole situation in the east as well as in the west emphasizes the urgent need of speeding up the factories of all the allied countries to produce ever increasing quantities of munitions.

PEACE RUN MAD Rev. Charles R. Joy, a young Unitarian minister in Portland, Me., has caused a great sensation by a sermon delivered before the Elks of that city, in which he asserted that under no circumstances should a nation go to war. A report of his address says: "Mr. Joy astonished his audience by insisting that under no possible circumstances ought the United States to engage in war, and he pronounced even a war in self defence entirely selfish, and he would have the United States openly stand uncommitted and defendless in the event of the declaration of war by Germany. He would have the country say to Germany 'We will not make a forcible resistance.' He would, he said, prefer to see the flag of the United States replaced over the capital at Washington by that of Germany or Japan, than to have the country engaged in war because war would be a sacrifice of the ideal of peace."

LONGEST TUNNEL FOR SELKIRK RANGE The United States commerce reports carry the following report from Consul General R. E. Mansfield, at Vancouver, regarding the longest railway tunnel on the American continent. The Rogers Pass 5-mile tunnel under the Selkirk Range, now under construction on the Canadian Pacific route will be the longest railway tunnel on the American continent, the longest at present being the 4 1/2 mile Hoosac Tunnel on the Boston & Maine Railroad. The $10,000,000 Rogers Pass Tunnel will shorten the route four miles and materially reduce the grade. The railway engineers spent two years seeking a location for a tunnel through the Selkirk, finally deciding on Rogers Pass, which crosses the range in the midst of a vast amphitheatre formed by rugged, snow-capped mountains. Of the many peaks which form a seemingly impassable barrier between the prairie country to the east and the Pacific coast Mt. Sir Donald forms the culminating pinnacle, its altitude being 10,908 feet. Mt. Macdonald, which is 9860 feet in height, also looms out prominently with rugged and precipitous slopes. The Beaver Valley lies east of the Selkirk Range and the Illecwaco Valley to the west. On the trip westward through the pass trains start the ascent of the Selkirk at Beavermouth, 28 miles west of Golden, at an altitude of 2485 feet, and the most northerly station on the route. Six-mile Creek, five miles west of Beavermouth, is the junction point for the new location and the present route, the eastern portal of the tunnel being under Mt. Macdonald. The scene of the operations is more than 1000 feet below the present track level of the railway. The western portal will be located about 1700 feet below and a short distance west of Glacier House. The main passage will provide for double tracks, and the approaches from both ends will also have parallel lines. The tunnel, which will be 99 feet wide and 28 feet high, follows a straight line under Mt. Macdonald, emerging in the Beaver Valley at a point about 1000 feet below the present line. The eastern entrance is directly below Hermit, a station just east of Rogers Pass. The highest point reached in the tunnel is 9796 feet above sea level and 4000 feet below the summit of Macdonald Peak. The passage through the mountains will have a grade of 1 percent up to the interior summit. The "pioneer bore" is a new method of tunnel cutting, being employed on the Rogers Pass work. A small preliminary shaft 7 by 9 feet, paralleling the course of the main tunnel 90 feet distant, furnishing ventilation for the main shaft, and by means of cross sections, affords a means of disposing of the excavated rock during the process of the work. The contract calls for completion of the tunnel by the end of 1916, about three and a half years from the date of beginning.

Foot-Fitters King Street A GERMAN VIEW OF IT. Thinks England Wants U. S. Fleet for Dardanelles. London, June 21.—The Daily Express quotes the following from the Vossische Zeitung: "London's effervescence over America's note is presenting a comely which has a solid background to it, where there are concealed wire-pullers. The firm of Churchill and Company, though ostensibly dissolved, still exists secretly. It is the determination of this sinister coterie to drive America into active militancy and then persuade her to dispatch her fleet to the Dardanelles, where its presence might change the past and present failures into successes. At the same time England would be enabled to continue concentrating her fleet in the North Sea, and if the adventure in the Turkish waters ends successfully, the United States would, of course, participate in the division of the rich spoils. "These are the ambitions which are buoying up the despairing gentlemen of the British Admiralty. They may, in fact, be realized; but, should that be the case, the British lords may find to their dismay that overnight the American fleet has become the first naval power in the world."

DENY KNOWLEDGE OF THE MURDER

Stephen Darragh and Charles Smith, now lodged in the jail in Woodstock charged with the murder of Frederick Green, whose body was found in the river recently, both deny all knowledge of the crime. They admit that the three had been together on the night that Green disappeared and had been drinking heavily. Darragh says he was too drunk to be able to remember anything. Smith says that Darragh was so drunk he could not walk and he and Green undertook to carry him across the bridge. On the way Smith and Green got into a fight but he had no recollection of throwing him over the bridge. The men have been in the woods ever since and said that they did not know that Green was missing until they were arrested. Their preliminary examination is expected to commence next Monday. Hon. W. P. Jones has been engaged for the defence and J. C. Hartley, K. C., will act for the attorney-general.

GERMAN MORALE GOING

Paris, June 21.—It is plain that the morale of the German troops has been seriously affected by the French attacks north of Arras, which are in the nature of incessant pressure rather than actual attempts to break the line. The latest copy of the Army Bulletin contains these extracts from a German prisoner's note book: "Our regiment has been almost annihilated in the continued assault day and night. Saturday the 11th and 22nd had terrible losses—in a single day over three thousand men. I doubt if I shall get out alive. Of our ninth company, 160 went to the assault and forty-six came back. If we are not relieved we are all

Eczema Was Cured Twelve Years Ago

Dr. Chase's Ointment Proved to Be a Permanent Cure. The old idea of eczema being a disease of the blood has been pretty well exploded by the record of cures made by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Some doctors still advise internal treatment, but the results are slow and uncertain, and too often a lamentable failure. With Dr. Chase's Ointment it is different. You apply the ointment to the sore parts. It cleanses the sores and soon sets up the healing process. In a few days you can see with your own eyes the wonderful change that is taking place and are encouraged to keep up the treatment until the cure is complete and the sores replaced by smooth, natural skin. It is wise to look after your general health, keep the bowels regular and the blood rich, but you can depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure the eczema if you will do your part and apply it regularly. Mr. W. H. Roberts, Charlottetown, P. E. I., writes: "I can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to anyone suffering from itching skin disease. I had eczema on my leg and suffered terribly from the itching. I had a doctor treat me for four months without relief, and I was getting worse all the time. A second doctor gave some relief for a time, but made no cure. I tried several advertised treatments, but without relief until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment. This ointment cured me in a month. That was twelve years ago, and I have never had a sign of the old trouble since. "Since then we have always kept Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house and find it invaluable for chafing, chilblains, insect stings and burns. I would not be without it if it cost $5 a box." "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. W. H. Roberts, and believe his statement regarding the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment to be true and correct." (Signed) Alex. Home, Justice of the Peace. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 80 cents a box, all dealers, or Edman Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

AMUSEMENTS

OPENS TONIGHT AT THE OPERA HOUSE

The Orpheum Stock Company, a clever and well balanced dramatic organization, will open a week's engagement at the Opera House tonight. This same attraction was here for 4 or 5 days during a short while ago and made a very favorable impression. Its members are all actors of the better grade who have been connected with first class companies in the States and Canada and the company is much stronger in every way than the average stock company.

Three plays will be presented during the week here. Tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee and Friday night the company presents "The Mills of the Gods," a drama by Geo. Broadhurst, author also of those two successes, "Bought and Paid For" and "The Man of the Hour," "The Mills of the Gods" is presented here under special arrangement with the Orpheum Stock Company, with the original production of this splendid comedy and the original and only authorized copy. Saturday matinee and night, the company will repeat, at the request of many patrons, Augustin Daly's best comedy, "The Lottery of Love." Special prices will rule for this engagement: orchestra 50c and 35c. Dress circle, 25c.; Balcony 20c. and gallery 10c. Matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, adult—special prices, children 10c.; adults 25c. Seats are now on sale for all performances. The play is out in plenty of time for patrons to make all suburban trains at night.

MUSICAL AND PATRIOTIC EVENT OF THIS WEEK

The sale of tickets for the recital to be given in the Knights of Columbus hall in Coburg street on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings under the auspices of Brunswick Chapter, I. O. O. F., by Wilton Goodwin, Canadian baritone, and assisting artists, is thus far most encouraging. The proceeds are to be for patriotic purposes.

Mr. Goodwin has won a distinguished reputation as a baritone. He has delighted thousands with his art, and has successfully filled the position of soloist in prominent churches of New York, besides singing at the St. Paul, the New York Philharmonic and the Boston Festival and Russian Symphony events. He then accepted the position of principal baritone with the Aborn Opera Co., and sang leading roles with that body for three years. Today his voice is at the fullness of perfection, and will be heard in all its power and charm at the recital on Wednesday and Thursday nights next, for which the K. of C. have again kindly given the use of their rooms.

Mr. Goodwin will be assisted on both evenings by Maurice Warner, famous violinist, and Lee Cronan, pianist of note.

A huge wave suddenly sweeping the Atlantic City beach, swept hundreds of bathers beyond their reach and seven were drowned. Many gallant rescues were made by life guards and others and several of the lives lost were due to efforts to save others.

APPEAL TO ST. JOHN PEOPLE FOR SERBIANS

Knights of Columbus Take Up
Matter in Their Behalf

A STRICKEN COUNTRY

Ravaged by Disease, Thousands and Thousands of Deaths, and Great Shortage of Surgical and Medical Supplies—How All Can Assist.

The Knights of Columbus hall on Coburg street will be frequently used for patriotic purposes during the last few months, will be open on Monday and Tuesday, July 5, to receive donations of articles for the stricken Serbians, such as are mentioned. A committee from the St. John Council will be present to receive them, and it is requested that donors place their contributions in the hall.

It is hoped and expected that there will be a generous response to the call, the necessity of which is apparent to everybody who has read the newspapers of late.

The donations will be forwarded through the Red Cross Society.

The attention of the St. John Knights has been called to the shocking conditions prevailing in Serbia—to the awful ravages of disease, to the numerous deaths, to the needs of the hospitals, it was lately decided to make an appeal to the public for assistance for the suffering people.

The sad condition of affairs in Serbia has been graphically described in a letter issued by the Canadian Red Cross Society. "For three months," says this letter, which was sent out from Toronto in May, "all Serbia has been one great charnel house of death and dying. Deaths to date have reached a grand total of 100,000 human beings, with a population of 5,000,000 people, only 500 doctors. The service of all these had to go to all Serbia, with a population of 5,000,000 people, only 500 doctors. It is nothing in comparison with the lack of supplies and medical supplies. So scarce were the latter following Serbia's last great battle, that the bandages had to be taken from those less seriously hurt and re-used on grave cases. A black flag in Serbia marks each house where the epidemic has victims, but each flag usually means two or three. Twenty centuries ago from the heart of the East, the plague came to Europe and has since rung down the ages. It is the cry to "Come to Macedonia and help."

"The Canadian Red Cross Society realising the awful conditions existing in Serbia today, recently donated $50,000 for relief in that unhappy country. The people of Canada are ever responsive to the many patriotic and national feelings in connection with the war; out of the fight was not borne by the great nations, they will be able to spare a little for Serbia.

A letter written in June the Red Cross Society says: Serbia comes to us not merely in a general appeal to our sympathy and charity, but she comes as a nation to which we owe a very great debt. While in time we are going to the aid of the people of Serbia, we must never forget that the first brunt of the fight was not borne by the great nations, but by the small nations of Europe. Serbia cries out in the throes of the most terrible tragedy and her cries reach us as if from a distant shore. While we are assisting our Belgian allies and French comrades we must not forget Serbia. Her brave and determined people are the most dreadful odds, and while ravaged by a dread disease, Canadians were ever ready to help when assistance was needed and never was it needed as it is today in the little kingdom of Serbia.

Money is needed badly, but surgical and medical supplies are absolutely essential if the work that is being carried on in Serbia today be continued. Blankets, pillows, sheets, dressing gowns, towels, hot water bottles, night shirts, flannel shirts, pyjamas and balnearia are badly needed, but most especially the demand is for cholera belts, slippers, lint, tannin, plaster, medicated cotton, disinfecting labials, condensed milk, cocoa and stretchers.

DUKE INSPECTS
55TH BATTALION

After an inspection of the 55th Battalion at Sussex Camp on Saturday, H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, accompanied by his wife, the Duchess of Connaught, with their appearance and efficiency. He also complimented the officers and the battalion on the prompt and efficient manner in which they executed orders and attended to the details of the review. The Duke was accompanied by General Rutherford, O.C. of the 4th Division, Lieut.-Col. McLean, brigade commander, met the party on arrival.

Church parades were held at the different churches in Sussex yesterday. Lieut.-Col. Kirkpatrick says that the 55th Battalion is by no means complete, as some people seem to have thought. At least 400 more men are required for a patriotic meeting held on Saturday at Havelock's Point, four former Kings county men were the speakers, G. W. Ganong, Dr. Heine, Dr. E. M. Kierstead and Sir George E. Foster.

Lieut. Fisher Wounded.

Lieut. Donald D. Fisher has been wounded in France. He is a son of W. S. Fisher of this city, and has been with the Royal Canadian Dragoons. Private Peter Johnson of Woodstock, N. B., Private J. Ashworth, Cape Breton, are also listed among the wounded.

COULD NOT
FOR THE PAIN IN HIS KIDNEYS.

When you get a pain in the back you may rest assured that it comes from derangement of the kidneys, for were there not something wrong with the kidneys the back should be strong and well.

Doan's Kidney Pills regulate the kidneys, and there is no further cause for any kidney trouble to exist. What more needs to be said? While Doan's Kidney Pills are not a "balm for every ill that flesh is heir to," they are a positive, never-failing remedy for every disease that has its inception in the improper action in those delicate little filters of the blood, the kidneys.

Mr. Adelaide Cleaver, Eganville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for four years. They were so bad, at times I could not go ten steps for the pain they caused me. My doctor could not do me any good. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I bought five boxes, and now I have been cured for over three years. I will recommend them to whoever may be suffering from kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c per box; 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. M. Wilburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's"

Bible Saved Him

A letter received on Saturday by Mrs. Fred Craft, of Carleton, from her son, Copp. George F. Craft, said that his life had been saved by a Bible which he had in his pocket when a bullet struck him. It lodged in the Bible, thus saving his life or at least preventing serious injury, as it was an upper pocket on his left side.

THE SHATTERED GUNS AT THE DARDANELLES

GRAND BAY BOYS VANQUISH STARS

On Saturday afternoon some star (?) baseball players from the North End journeyed to Grand Bay and there were vanquished by the starry members of a "Bush" league aggregation. The score ended 9 to 4 in favor of the home team after nine strenuous innings. The visitors, feeling elated over their trip into the country and also braced up by the balmy air, free from smoke and fog, started in an hour before the game to warm up. Instead of only warming-up the sun apparently did more for it undoubtedly sapped their vitality, as was quite evident from their grotesque positions during the game. When the pitcher would turn around to see who was going to stretch out on the field, and although a warning cry would escape his lips, the only response was a feeble "all right."

McGowan, although silent, was very impressive. Whenever an important decision was pending he was seen going through all kinds of contortions to terrify the unit. He always succeeded. Lightford is some masher, both on the diamond and off the diamond. Henderson was never in better form, for all he displayed was an old shirt and some other regalia of antique manufacture. As entertainers, the Grand Bay boys are in a class by themselves, and the visitors went home willing losers to such a good bunch of sports.

A National Lead. (London Daily Express.) Owing to the limitations of democratic government, the new Ministers are necessarily politicians, but it will be well for them to remember that the suddenly awakened country is in no mood for politics. No one cares a rap for the controversies that in normal times are insistent and exciting. All that matters is that we should preserve the freedom and the greatness that have been inherited. In so far as the Government works with a single eye to that end, unhindered by jealousy, unshackled by adhesion to moss-grown doctrines, it will succeed.

Certain-teed Roofing. No such thing as "rubber roofing". A lot of manufacturers call their roofing "Rubber Roofing" or "Rubberized Roofing". The life is all out of rubber if exposed to the daylight for six months. It would be silly to put rubber in roofing, and rubber costs more per pound than roofing sells for for a hundred pounds. There is no such thing as "Rubber Roofing" of any kind. There is no rubber in roofing.

DIGBY SOLDIER WRITES OF HIS EXPERIENCES AFTER BEING WOUNDED

Woodford Connell, of Digby, sends to his father a stirring tale of his wounding and after experiences. He says: "On Thursday night we were going out to put another bridge over the canal. There is a road running parallel with the canal and it was at that interval all the days because they know they are sure to catch troops there. We were ordered to go to the field, but it was no use, they seemed to burst in the road in front of us, so just as we struck the road and turned to the right, one burst just over our heads. Of course, we all ducked when we heard it, but I would not have been hit at all, but one of the bullets struck something, and glanced off. I had thrown myself forward on my stomach, so it struck me in the back, just below the shoulder blade, and about half an inch from my back bone.

The fellows took my coat off, put on a field dressing, and then they and two of them started off with me towards the field hospital, about a quarter of a mile away. As we were walking they took my arms around their necks and helped me along. After a while along the road the crowd of soldiers came along with a sort of a hand cart. I climbed into that but nearly fell through the bottom. I felt as though I had been ripped from end to end. They dressed me again at the hospital and after waiting about an hour a French ambulance took me for a joy ride for about fifteen miles. I don't remember much of that ride, but I do remember that in one of my saner moments when the road was fairly clear of Jack Johnson holes and ruts, I thought of my last auto ride in Digby and compared it to that one. Since that time I have had many ambulance rides and each has been easier than the last until almost enjoy them.

WEEDS AND WEED SEEDS "In order to produce high-class clean seed, farmers must be constantly on the alert to keep the weeds on their farms in check and to prevent the introduction and spread of new varieties." Thus commences Bulletin No. 58, recently published by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture under the title of "Weeds and Weed Seeds," and which can be had free of addressing the Publications Branch of the Department at Ottawa. After telling of the waste caused by weeds, the Bulletin proceeds to explain, or rather the Seed Commissioner, G. H. Clark, does how weeds are introduced and their extensive prevalence.

They are classified according to the length of time they live, as annuals, biennials and perennials. In eradication weeds it is of importance to know under which head they come. Annuals, it is explained, may be eradicated from land, however badly infected it may be, through any method by which germination is hastened and the young plants destroyed before they produce seed. Biennials, which require two seasons to complete their growth, must be neither ploughed or cut down before they flower. Perennials are the most troublesome owing to the extension and firmness of their roots.

A single ploughing often does more harm than good by breaking-up the root stocks and stimulating growth. For shallow rooted perennials, infested land should be ploughed so lightly that the roots are exposed to the sun to dry up. For deep-rooted perennials ploughing should be as deep as conveniently possible, the nature of the land determining the depth of the ploughing. The best time to destroy weeds is within two or three days after the first part of leaves has formed on the seedling plant. For friable soils the use of the "weeder" is advised. The "biting" barrow is also satisfactory for comparatively loose soils and is preferred as a weed destroyer on firm or clayey land.

The bulletin, after detailing results of investigation by officers of the seed branch as far as grain, grasses and clover are affected, and how the seeds are spread, and in what quantities they are found in different localities covering four provinces, proceeds to describe the nature and method of eradication of 115 varieties, of which twenty-eight are classed as "noxious" under the Order in Council of 1911, authorized by a Seed Control Act passed the same year. Each of the twenty-eight and each of the remaining eighty-six are not only minutely described, but an exact illustration of weed and seed accompanies each description.

TALE OF DEEDS OF VALOUR BY GALLANT SOLDIERS OF THE KING

The Battle of Festubert—London Writer Tells of Brave Canadians at St. Julien — Work of Vital Services of the Army

(John Bucklan in London Times) British Headquarters, May 26. Flanders just now is full of strange transformation. The children set the key. One hour you will find them in a pleasant old church, sitting with solemn self-control under the tutelage of the priest, and the next they are bounding your ear, clamouring with impish persistence for souvenirs. One day you meet weary and dusty men returning from the trenches after a heavy fight; and two days later you find the same men washed and shaven and good humoured, taking their ease among the luscious Flemish meadows. And there is, of course, the profounder transformation of which I have already written, and which is the result of the mere fact of war. A grimy brigade from whom I asked the way to the trenches in the faubourg of Oxford. I met two men, fresh from the last Ypres battle and full of intelligent professional interest, who told me they had been London shopkeepers.

But the change seems to me most marked in the Scots. The kill in the morning has always to my eyes a formal and modern look, suggestive of Rob Roy than of the Prince Consort. But watch this company of Cameron's returning from a route march. The famous red tartan of Quatre Bras are stained and faded, the bonnet has a jaunty air, the men have a long loping stride. They might be their 17th century forbears, slipping on a moonlight night through the Lochaber passes. Here is a battalion from the Borders. The ordinary borderer in peace time looks like anybody else, but these men seem suddenly to have remembered their ancestry. They have the lean strength, the pale adventurous eye of the old Debatable Land.

The Festubert "Episode" Today I have seen many of the battalions who were engaged in the Festubert battle a fortnight ago. It is hard to know how to name the battles of this war, for often the battlefield is a whole countryside, or the whole length of a river. But in this case we are dealing with a small front, and the action may be named after the point from which we started. In South Africa, looking at the casualties and the number engaged, it would have been a major battle, but in this campaign it ranks only as an episode, one link in the long-drawn chain of the allied attack.

The main details are simple. Late on the night of Saturday, May 16, we made preparations for an advance against the bulge of the German lines which lies between Neuve Chapelle and Ghenvy. On Sunday morning our right advanced more than a mile. The German trenches here are curiously complicated, and reached what was their main communication trench near the Rue d'Ouvert. Our centre also advanced some distance from Las Guineas, but our left was held up. That night, and on the Monday night following, we fought for the communication trench, and endeavoured to disengage our left from the network of German fortifications. The fighting is still going on, and it is well to be clear as to its exact nature.

We have not only pushed the German front back for a mile or so, but we have made that front assume the character of a string of beads. Each one of these beads is a fortress, and each bead may be further advanced, so that it may be destroyed before a connected forward movement is possible. That is what the French are doing in the Artois district; that is the chief characteristic of the present phase of the war in the west. All these thrusts of the allies, small and great, endanger the enemy's lateral communications, so that he is less able to pass reserves quickly to a threatened part of his front.

It is right that people at home should have to wait a little before they get a detailed account of operations which are not yet concluded. But it is also right that the exploits of battalions should be made known as soon as possible for the different localities and they are an invaluable incentive to the new armies. The battalions which carried out the attack held firmly to the trenches they had won. The country was dead flat and seemed very waterless, and it was very difficult to find the points indicated by our air reconnaissance. The enemy attempted to make a barrage of fire behind us, so that it was a perilous business to get up reserves of men and munitions. Our supports in the trenches had to sit still during hours of shelling—the most difficult duties in war. Happily, the rain on the Monday and the mainly ground to some extent nullified the effect of the cannonade. Shells often sank into the earth without bursting.

Bombing played a large part in the attack, for it was the only way to clear the trenches. The chief exploits of our recent fighting have been amongst the grenade throwers. For example, Company Sergeant Major East of the Welch Fusiliers, went out on the right of the attack on the 16th with seven men. He cleared with bombs and captured 600 yards of German trenches, and eleven miles, and captured 102 prisoners, including three officers and seven sergeants, an exploit which would be hard to parallel. Not less gallant was Private Harry, of the Queen's, who was badly wounded in the left arm (he was a left-handed man), but continued throwing bombs with his right till he was shot dead. There was also Second Lieutenant Hassell, of the South Staffords, who had charge of a grenadier company, and went back himself under a deadly fire to get more bombs.

A Territorial battalion, the 8th Royal Scots, was brought into the firing line after the first hour, and kept its place to the end in the thickest of the fighting. Its heroic commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Brook, was killed by shell on the third day of the battle, as were Lieutenant-Colonel Gabbert, of the Welch Fusiliers, and Lieutenant-Colonel Bottomley, of the Queen's.

In the centre the attack was pushed in from the Rue du Bois on the Sunday morning. It advanced past the Rue de Calliaux and then was held up for a time by machine-gun fire on the flank. Reinforcements enabled the attack to proceed, and brilliant work was done by the bombers. In this part of the battle a company of the Scots Guards, with two officers, got too far ahead and were cut off. Remnants of two Canadian battalions, it will be remembered, remained in St. Julien in the second battle of Ypres, and died to a man. Even so was the stand of the Scots Guards. For them as for the other battalions the king of the ditches there could be no retreat. When some days later we took the place we found the Germans lying on the field of honor with swatches of the enemy's dead around them. The history of war can show no more noble ending.

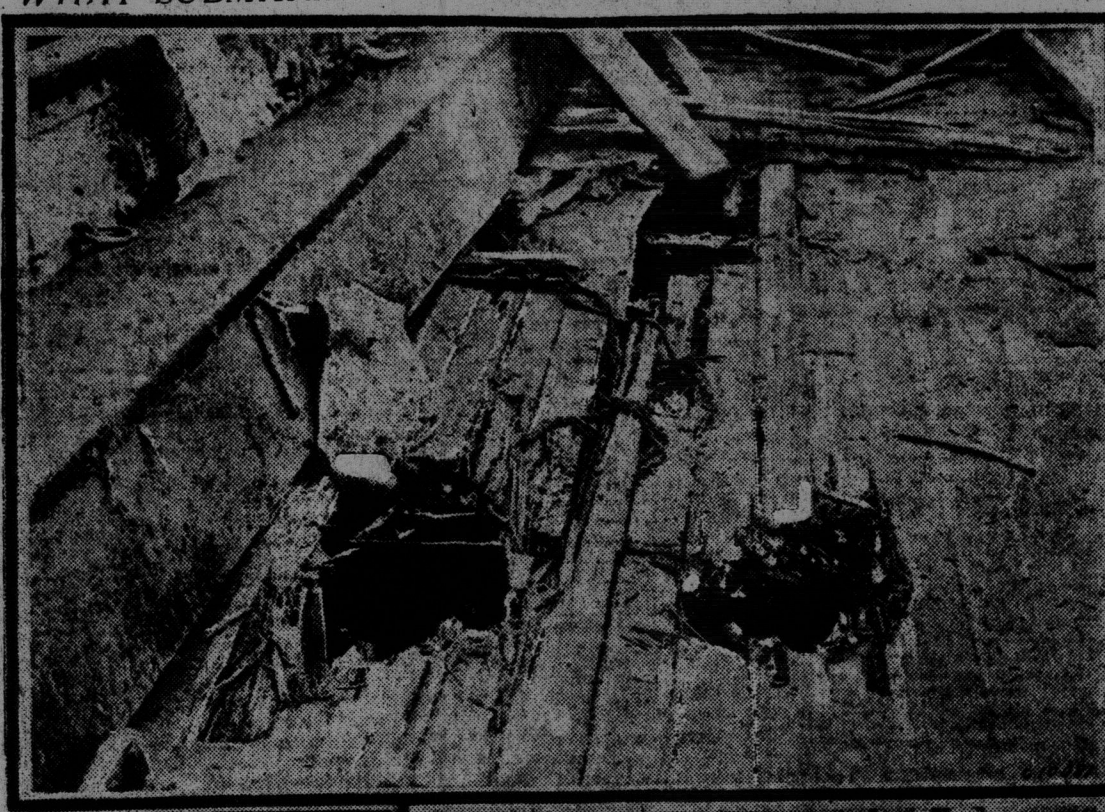

The Details of Death On the Monday evening a further advance was made by our right. It was a night of black darkness, where a man could not see ten feet before him. The heaviest fighting fell to the 4th Cameron's—men from Skye and the Outer Islands and the Inverclyde men—who had a higher proportion of Gaelic speakers than probably any battalion in the service. Their advance began at 1.30 p.m. and presently they found themselves faced by a deep ditch, which could not be jumped. Some swam, and some got over the ditch by the Germans, and all the while they were heavily shelled from some houses on the left. One company lost direction altogether, another company on the right was virtually wiped out, losing all its officers but one, and the appearance of an unexpected stream threw out a whole movement.

About 9 p.m. the advanced company was in a desperate position, with both its flanks in the air and no bombs. About midnight two platoons were moved up in support, but no machine guns could get across the stream, and the Germans from left and right were having much to do, but all—even the remnants three days out of a desperate battle—are optimistic. It is the right kind of optimism, too, the kind which is more merciful than any pessimism, for it knows the difficulties far better than critics at home, but is perfectly resolved upon victory. Our countrymen have rarely any passion for fighting for its own sake, but they have a passion for finishing a job, and on that they will never weaken.

Let me record another impression, the most vivid of all. Flanders is no longer a foreign country. Flanders is no longer one's own land than England, from which most of one's friends are absent. Here you realize that you are living with a British army, but with the British nation, with all that is best in all the ranks of our manhood. And such a nation! It is something to be humbly and thankfully proud of, for it has found its soul and recovered its heritage.

She had, however, been ill for a long time and the immediate cause of death was heart trouble. Besides her husband, her condition of health is also a cause of grave concern, Mrs. Mayes, who was born in St. George, but had lived here nearly all her life, is survived by four sons, (Genshon S., George F., Herbert S. and Gilbert J., all of the city and Miss Hettie Mayes, the only daughter, at home. The funeral has been arranged for Wednesday afternoon at 2.15 o'clock and will be private.

and got them away safely. Many of the Cameron were derelict, skilled in finding cover and this may account for the comparative success of one of the most difficult withdrawals that ever fell to the lot of British soldiers.

As it was, the battalion was reduced to half its strength. Its gallant commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel Fraser, was killed and twelve other officers. Some were downed in the ditches. When the men returned they were mud from head to foot. The date of Sergeant-Major Ross should not be forgotten. He, when his company had lost all its officers, took command and brought back the remnants.

Work of Vital Services. The kind of fighting we are now engaged in, with its constant enfilading and its preparatory work of heavy services into special prominence. The chief of these is adequate reconnaissance—the need of heavy artillery being taken for granted. Air reconnaissance gives much, but it cannot give everything; it cannot, for example, tell us the depth and nature of a stream, or what farms have been turned into fortresses. Yet, unless we know these things, we shall court disaster in any attack, especially if it is delivered in the darkness. Our scouts worked hard the whole of Sunday afternoon and night, and without their skilled aid no comprehensive attack is possible. They work all the time, let it be remembered, under the enemy's fire.

Another vital service in this kind of war is that of the signaller. Against a front held in pockets any advance must be very close to the headquarters. This work was admirably performed. For example, on the Sunday morning, three minutes after the Queen's reached their ultimate point they had a line of communication established in which it is not an easy service. It takes a stout heart to go out, find where a line is broken, and return with a message. In this connection the work of Sergeant Cox of the Queen's deserves to be put on record.

Brilliant, too, was the work done by the stretcher-bearers. Private Williams, of the Queen's, under machine gun and shell fire, carried back wounded, and when it seemed impossible for him to return he refused to take cover and went back to the firing line. Similar feats were performed by Corporal Tison of the Warwicks, and by Corporal Coleman, of the Border Regiment. The latter, although the colonel's servant and exempt from duty, had been sent back no fewer than fifty men.

Optimism of The Army. The impression left upon me after visiting many battalions at the front is one of strenuous optimism and unshaken confidence. Some of the men are very weary; many are rightly and properly home sick and fight all the better for having much to love, but all—even the remnants three days out of a desperate battle—are optimistic. It is the right kind of optimism, too, the kind which is more merciful than any pessimism, for it knows the difficulties far better than critics at home, but is perfectly resolved upon victory. Our countrymen have rarely any passion for fighting for its own sake, but they have a passion for finishing a job, and on that they will never weaken.

THE OLD HORSE AND THE OLD MINISTER

Editor Times-Star. Sir.—Fancy a man devoting all his best days to the service of the church, say forty or more years, on a salary of $800 a year, and now receiving $200 for his year's income. Fortunately he has only a wife besides himself to support. This is true of more than one minister in this province. In this connection the following story from a denominational paper is of more than passing interest.

Horse Story. Rev. R. H. Cooper, of St. Louis, Mo., writes to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as follows:—I had a neighbor, a brother preacher, Rev. J. Brown, who owned a horse he had in service for more than twenty years. In his prime this horse was ideal. Color, style, spirit, action were faultless. To sit behind him in a buggy was a dream. A more faithful servant never served master. But time and his brother Care, that touch all things fair and beautiful, causing them to fade, came to old Tom, so that he could say with Bobbie Burns:— "When I was young, a wonderful when, There's a mighty difference 'twixt now and then."

"When Brother Brown was appointed to a new charge, the aristocratic members objected to his driving such an old, dilapidated horse. They made up a purse and presented to their pastor a new and up-to-date roadster, in harmony with his surroundings. The new horse was given old Tom's place in the barn, fed and groomed, while poor old Tom was 'turned out' upon the commons, without shelter and about one-fifth enough to eat.

"In earnest tones he protested to his master against such treatment, but his prayers were unavailing. Forsaken and alone, death came to his release after much suffering.

"Rich and prosperous churches license young men to serve at their altars as preachers, enjoy their ministries in youth and in the strength of manhood, giving them meager salaries, out of which they can get only a living; then when old age comes and they can no longer serve, superannuate them, turn them out without shelter, often with no means of support except a few dollars put into their hands at the annual conference.

"Railroads and other business corporations are making ample provision for their faithful servants. Mr. Carnegie has pensioned school-teachers. It is now time the churches made provision for their old and indigent preachers. Ed. Note in denominational paper:—"Our readers will please take notice that the superannuated fund of the eastern conferences is only paying about eighty per cent. of the claims of the superannuated and widows of ministers."

EIGHT PIECES OF SHRAPNEL HIT LIEUT. TINGLEY

"I was hit with shrapnel and got a pretty good dose of it," writes Lieutenant Frank Tingley, nephew of Mrs. George Freemantle, of Albert, in a recent letter from Boulogne, France. "There were eight pieces of shell in my left knee but only two of them remained in and they were taken out at the hospital. On large piece went through my left hand and one through my right arm. When the doctors saw my knee they told me it would be stiff permanently as the knee cap is broken and a piece of shrapnel lodged in the fracture; but it has been making such good progress that this morning they said I would probably recover the full use of the knee."

In a letter written from a London hospital a few days later, Lieutenant Tingley says:— "My hurts are getting along nicely, with the exception of my knee, which was broken by X-ray, both at Boulogne and London, to have a broken knee cap. It is still in splints and will be for probably three more weeks. My right arm is healing very fast and will be all cured in a couple of weeks; but my left hand will probably take a month.

"Think I had better write to old Von Hindenburg and get him to court martial that gun crew because they missed my right leg altogether. My doctor says it must have been an oversight. "Before the Battle of Ypres they say that it was hardly safe to admit you were a Canadian around London on account of the devilry our fellows kicked up while on the (Salisbury) Plains; but now, the Canadians own this little hamlet. They are certainly using us great."

FRANCE MAY BUY CANADIAN CATTLE

War Demands Cut Down Her Cattle by 4,000,000 Head, Making Buying Necessary

In France, the war has cut down the number of head of cattle by 4,000,000, and it is estimated that at the end of the year the deficit will be about 5,000,000. It is therefore necessary to look to the hoof, and the Bulletin of the Central of the French farmers advises buying these cattle in Canada and in the north and central portions of the United States. The cattle, the Bulletin urges, are in good condition and have never been attacked by infectious diseases which come to our citizens in the days which they have stood beside their murdered fellow citizens.

Let none mistake this fact. A wild beast loose in the world, a creature combining the ferocity of the animal with the lust of the degenerate human, this struggle is not a struggle of nations; it is a battle between civilization and barbarism. A German victory would mean the destruction of all we hold best in our national life."

HON. ARTHUR MEIGHAN'S POLITICAL MISSION (Halifax Chronicle) Hon. Arthur Meighan, Solicitor General in the Boston government, is campaigning in Quebec, and Ontario, delivering a series of partisan harangues, in which he is bitterly attacking Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party. In an address at London, Ontario, the other day, he gave another ministerial hint of an early election and sought to place upon the Liberal party the entire responsibility for the continuance of political controversy in Canada.

Mr. Meighan has chiefly distinguished himself in politics as an adept in making black appear white. When he accuses Sir Wilfrid Laurier of the responsibility for political controversy in Canada, he knows well that the responsibility rests not with Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal party, but with the government of which he is a member. Personally he is not free from responsibility. On the eve of the last session of parliament, he delivered a series of partisan harangues, throughout the west, which were intended to prepare the public mind for the general election, that it was then intended to hold immediately after the conclusion of the session of parliament. From the very moment that war was imminent, Sir Wilfrid Laurier cancelled all his political engagements and that the Liberals in parliament have given their unanimous and hearty support to measures proposed for the prosecution of the war. He also knowing no member of the cabinet excepting Sir Rogers knows better—that at least three times since last autumn the government were ready to spring a general election, and that a contest in June was only averted

WILD BEAST LOOSE IN THE WORLD

A wild beast loose in the world, a creature combining the ferocity of the animal with the lust of the degenerate human, this struggle is not a struggle of nations; it is a battle between civilization and barbarism. Sauer leads in total bases 107; he and Lobert of New York are tied in runs scored with thirty-five, and Robertson, New York, Johnston, Pittsburgh, and Sauer are tied in stolen bases with thirteen each.

Cravath, Philadelphia, leads the home run hitters with nine.

Pitchers of the National League who have taken part in ten or more games and whose winning average is better than 400 are:

With sixty-one runs to his credit, in fifty-six games, 108 total bases, Cobb remains in front in those departments of the game. Caldwell, New York, batted himself into a tie with Oldring, Philadelphia, for home run honors at four each.

Chicago leads in team hitting with 203. Detroit is second with 250.

Seven hundred pitchers who have worked in ten or more games are:

Faber, Chicago, won ten and lost 2; Galt, Detroit, 10 and 1; Sauer, Chicago, 10 and 2; Galt, Detroit, 10 and 1.

Notwithstanding the imposition of a war tax, estimated to yield about $100,000,000 the indications are that by the end of the present fiscal year, on June 30, the deficit in the U. S. treasury will be between $60,000,000 and $75,000,000.

Then come Gilhooly, Buffalo, .856; Shean, Providence, .856; Graham, Toronto, .855; Channel, Buffalo, .851; Smith, Montreal, .850; Jordan, Richmond, .815; Haley, Providence, .814.

Gilhooly with twenty-seven is ahead in stolen bases.

Graham with sixty-five in total bases and Gilhooly with thirty-nine in runs scored.

Bates of Richmond, and Kraft of Newark, have three homers each. Buffalo leads in team hitting with 288 and Providence is second with 327.

Pitchers who have attained an average of 700 in eight or more games are: Dowd, Montreal, won 4, lost 1; Hoff, Rochester, 7 and 2; Beebe, Buffalo, 7 and 2; Comstock, Providence, 6 and 2.

Waiting Upon Bulgaria. (New York Sun.)

The entrance of Roumanians into the war and the consequent widening of the ever expanding area of conflict may depend not entirely upon the question of the acquisition of territory, although such may be the impression conveyed by the reported offer of the Italian king to act as an intermediary between Roumanians and Russia in the adjustment of their future rights in Transylvania and Bukovina.

The attitude of Bulgaria is likely to be a strong factor in the decision, for with risk of a rear attack from the "Prussians of the Balkans," neither Roumanians nor Greeks are in a position to hazard their fortunes on the side of the Allies.

SAY APPOINT. NT OF HON. MR. WILSON NEAR

Other Offices to be Filled By Government and City — The Assessment Commission

The prospects regarding the appointment of a new deputy receiver general in succession to the late Dr. H. C. Wetmore, seem today to point towards the early appointment of Hon. John E. Wilson, M. P., to the office. It is understood, on excellent authority that his appointment has been agreed to and that the claims of the many other office seekers will not be recognized at this time.

The havoc wrought in party ranks by the long-continued discussion over the late appointment, that of Judge of probates, is said to have shown the party leaders the danger of delay and it is believed that Mr. Wilson's appointment will come at an early date.

So strenuous was the campaign in connection with the last appointment that, before it ended, there were open threats that a third political party would be organized in St. John and independent candidates put in the field at the next elections if the wishes of one of the factions were not satisfied.

There are various other government and civic appointments soon to be made which are exciting public interest. Two vacancies have occurred on the board of school trustees, owing to expiration of the terms of M. E. Agar, a government appointee, and T. H. Bullock, who was appointed by the city. Friends of Fred J. McInerney are urging his appointment as Mr. Agar's successor, but it is said that Mr. Agar will be urged to accept a reappointment. With regard to the city appointment it is reported that Commissioners Russell and Potts are both willing to accept the office, while among some of the other commissioners there is strong feeling against the appointment of one of their own number to any office. The school board expects almost one-third of its members to resign and the commissioners think it reasonable that they should be reappointed, but some of them feel that their appointment should be made by law rather than by their own vote.

ASSESSMENT.

The city will soon have to face the appointment of an assessment commission, this being required by the government within three months of the action of the legislature at the last session, when taxation matters were before them. There has been some discussion of the matter at city hall, but no action has been taken — yet. Here again the same question of the desirability of appointing themselves to office is likely to come up. It is not understood yet whether the common council will be represented on the commission although it is to be expected that it will be. There is also some talk of securing at least one respect from some outside to assist in the work.

There will soon be a vacancy in the board of liquor license commissioners, John Thornton, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Dr. H. C. Wetmore, will soon complete his period of office. It was said today to be probable that he would be reappointed, although others are said to be after the place.

HOME FROM VANCOUVER

Rev. Walter Raynes Visiting Fairville—Sermon by Rev. Mr. Creed Who is in 55th as Private

Rev. Walter Raynes of Vancouver, arrived at Fairville on Saturday afternoon and is being warmly welcomed by his native village. Rev. Mr. Raynes has done well in the west in the Presbyterian ministry and his many friends will be glad to learn of his return visit.

The Fairville Methodist church was occupied last evening by Rev. E. H. Creed of Hampton, who recently enlisted as a private in the ranks of the 6888 Central Postal Directory, while he chose 1 Peter 1st chapter, 24th and 25th verses as a text, he confined his remarks about allowing the reverend gentleman referred to at the outset to the unusual position he was placed in as a minister of the gospel and a soldier preparing for a fight from here.

Every man in every clime who really possessed the elements of manhood felt the loss of his native country, and this was accentuated when the institutions of his nation were founded on principles of justice and truth. He had seen several times requested to speak from the platform to the public, calling for volunteers, but had felt he could not conscientiously ask another man to do what he was not prepared to take upon himself. This was the first reason why he had joined the colors.

Some men he knew had enlisted in a spirit of adventure with no thoughts to the great underlying cause of the war and principles at stake. Others, through revenge at German cruelties, and still more and a great number to maintain the integrity of the British Empire, were forsaking homes and loved ones to offer their lives on the altar and this he conceived to be an excellent incentive, but he believed in a still higher ideal which had moved him as a second demand upon his physical powers. This war was a contest between darkness and light, liberty and military oppression and force against the principles of righteousness and because of this he appealed to every able bodied man to join his country's troops as a contribution small enough in such a colossal struggle.

DR. HAROLD MURPHY HOME ON VISIT

A visitor to the city for a short vacation is Dr. Harold A. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy of Rockland road. He is visiting at the home of his parents after recently graduating with honors from Tufts' College, Boston. After staying here at his old home until about the last part of this month, Doctor Murphy will return to Boston, where he will enter St. Elizabeth's Hospital, conducted by the Sisters of Charity. He will hold the position of surgical intern, in which his experience should prove most valuable. His brother, another St. John boy, Dr. E. F. Murphy, is on the visiting staff of the hospital, which is one of the most modern in final, design and equipment in New England, and has been completed only a short while. The young doctor's numerous friends about the city will extend him every best wish of success.

JUDGE KNOWLES IS SWORN IN

Ceremony Before Arrival of His Commission, Because of Business Pressure

Judge E. T. C. Knowles presided for the first time in the probate court this morning and received the formal congratulations of the members of the bar upon his appointment to the office.

Some difficulties arose in connection with the first session of the court but these were arranged satisfactorily in advance. No provision is made for the adjournment of the court by the register, but in the case of the resignation of Judge Knowles there was a citation returnable at the bar, and the court convened a new citation and a delay of three weeks would be required. The commissioner of appointment had not arrived, and Mr. Knowles felt unwilling to take office until it was in his hands. Finally he was advised that it was on the way to St. John, and under the circumstances, especially as there were several other pressing matters before the court, he agreed to be sworn in, and this ceremony took place at eleven o'clock before Judge Armstrong, his predecessor in office and new judge of the county court.

When Judge Knowles took his place on the bench, members of the bar were present to welcome him, and on their behalf, W. A. Ewing, K.C., extended to his Honor the warmest congratulations of the bar, expressing their conviction that under the new judge the affairs of the court would receive the same careful attention and prompt despatch as in the past.

Judge Knowles responded briefly, thanking not only the barristers, but also his many friends in other walks of life who have expressed such kindly sentiments upon his appointment. He said that it would be his ambition to uphold the traditions of the office which have been held to such a high standard by his predecessors.

The business of the court then proceeded.

SIGNALLERS AT FRONT WANT BASEBALL OUTFIT

Letter to Commissioner McLellan Will Bring Result—Chance For Any Who Wish to Assist

An appeal for baseball supplies from members of the first Canadian Divisional Signal Company, which was raised almost entirely in St. John, has been received by Commissioner McLellan. The commissioner was willing to arrange to meet with their request himself when it was suggested that other friends of the boys might be glad to contribute the material. Accordingly the commissioner announced that any one who wishes to send forward baseballs, bats, mallets, gloves, etc., may leave them at his office, 41 Princess street, and he will see they go forward. He will wait two or three days to give the citizens opportunity to take advantage of this opportunity.

The letter from the front, dated simply from "France" is as follows:—

"As we have many opportunities and most always have a good field for a game of ball, we take the liberty of applying to you for the material to enable us to have a good game. Hoping this reaches you with all despatch, and receives due consideration, we beg to remain,

Yours truly,

Some of the St. John boys with the First Canadian Divisional Signal Company—R. E. Anderson, Joseph Dryden, Jack W. Mahoney, C. V. Curran, G. A. Nuttall, I. O. Donald, F. W. Skinner, Phillip Harrington, S. H. Estabrooks, Charles Humphrey.

LETTER FROM ED. SPEIGHT, WHO IS PRISONER OF GERMANS

Miss Jennie Speight of 622 Main street, has received a letter from her brother, Private Edward Speight, who is a prisoner of war, No. 14818, in Meschede, Germany. He states that he is well and being used well. He has not much to do, only sleep and eat and do a little bit of exercise to keep in condition. He states that he had some insight in the battle of Langemark. Some were overcome by gas and were captured. He is not allowed to tell very much, as the prisoners are not allowed to write much. He wishes to be remembered to his many friends in St. John.

DO THE WORK THEMSELVES

Members of the Tabernacle Baptist church have been busy during the last week in painting, decorating and renovating the building, under the direction of their pastor, Rev. Mr. Dennison. In this way about $150 has been saved to the church funds. Quite an improvement has been noticed in the appearance of the church.

At yesterday's services, Rev. Dr. Hutchinson spoke in the morning, preaching on "Fruit-Bearing." Rev. W. Camp spoke in the afternoon on "He Saved Himself—Others He Cannot Save," while in the evening the pastor was the speaker with "Woman" as his subject.

BOYS HAVE OUTING

The M. I. G. Class of St. Mary's church, held a very pleasant outing to Ragged Point on Saturday afternoon under the direction of Rev. R. T. McKim, curate of the church. About fourteen boys were present and spent a very pleasant afternoon. This club has lately been organized by the curate and the boys are very grateful to him for the interest he has shown. Many more pleasant hikes such as this will be taken during the summer and those who are fond of a day's outing certainly find them very enjoyable.

KING STREET EAST PLANS.

The sidewalk at the foot of King street east is to receive some attention from the department of public works at last. Repairs have been much needed for a long time, but the work has been delayed for lack of a definite policy. The present sidewalks are far broader than the traffic demands, and the cost of keeping them in repair is considered excessive. Commissioner Potts is now trying to work out a scheme of grass plots which would lessen the cost of un-kept and also add to the appearance of the street.
