NOW FOR THE NEXT STEP.

The cause of vocational training in this city was undoubtedly advanced a stage by the illuminating address in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday by Col. Gill, director of technical education for the Dominion. Col. Gill made it perfectly clear that vocational evening classes are needed, and that if St. John does an acre limit for students it will be the first to do so, and by so doing will fall to carry out the spirit of the law relating to such training. But he made it so less clear that the bigger task should not be shirked and that in the provision of day vocational classes for boys and girls such as now leave school while they are still in the eighth, seventh, sixth, or even fifth grade, seventy per cent of our school pupils are in this class. They go out to drift without vocational guidance or the training that would help them to determine their course in life. Some find themselves in later years and seek the proper training, though under far less favorable conditions; but the great majority remain under a great handicap through life.

Col. Gill agreed that evening classes were our first requirement, as the day classes for boys and girls cannot be completely effective until we have a compulsory attendance law for pupils up to the age of sixteen, or even eighteen, subject to the provision that those who are compelled to leave school and go to work may do so, but must also devote a given number of hours each week to school study.

Mayor Schofield made a suggestion which Col. Gill declared to be worthy of most serious consideration. It is said to be necessary to provide the city with two more school buildings. The mayor asked if it might not be good policy to make one of these buildings serve the need of those pupils who would leave school at or before the eighth grade if such a course of training as they required were not provided. No doubt this suggestion will receive the very careful attention of the school board.

Whatever may be done, there is no time to lose in coming to a conclusion regarding next winter's work. It would be quite possible at comparatively small expense, considering the advantage gained, to provide for some day as well as evening classes at the beginning of the next school term, while waiting for the erection of a building and such legislation regarding school age and compulsory attendance as would give full force to the provision for training boys and girls. This is a matter on which the city council, school board, vocational committee, citizens committee, commercial organizations and others, including the Council of Women, might very well confer through committees from each, and work out a tentative programme.

Col. Gill's address, with the illustrations from other places which he gave, reveals clearly the defects of our system. He also showed that we have been on the right track as far as we have gone in regard to vocational training and his assurance should be satisfactory to those who may have entertained doubts on that point. His plea for co-operation as a prime necessity is wise and timely for there should be no serious division of opinion on this great question. If we will all be willing to put first in our thoughts that seventy per cent of our children who are turned adrift between the ages of fourteen and eighteen, when they should be getting vocational training and guidance, and those older persons, nearly all of them still young, who should be given an opportunity to get into an earlier life; then our personal prejudices or opinions will count for little compared with our desire to co-operate and get results; and the question of finances will not loom so large in our heated imaginations. Col. Gill's visit should inspire everybody to take a new grip on the situation and turn a deaf ear to any who question our ability to solve this problem in a satisfactory manner.

HEALTH WEEK.

Tomorrow's great meeting at the Imperial will be a fitting prelude to a week marked by province-wide emphasis upon the subject of public health. Health as a provincial asset is of greater value than has been realized by the people. It has a marked effect on general efficiency, and good health is a money saver as well as a great factor in productive industry. The loss sustained through sudden epidemics is by no means all that is to be reckoned with; for a very great amount of time is lost in the aggregate through ill-health that might easily have been prevented, while the terrible drain caused by such diseases as tuberculosis and by a large latent malarial canker—be measured in terms of money. This province should have a complete and smoothly working organization reaching to the most remote districts to safeguard the health of the people. Such an organization is the aim of the public health department, and the campaign of the coming week, if it arouses a more widespread interest and sympathy, will prove of universal benefit. There is no politics in health. Everybody wants good health, and knows that the better the average standard of health the better for the country. What is needed is an awakening of individual and personal interest in the movement to multiply the influences and agencies making for better general health, and to remove causes which operate against improved conditions. Hence every citizen, young or old, has a personal interest in the success of the Health Week campaign.

A BETTER OUTLOOK.

That which the British miners did not pause to consider was the far-reaching effect of the strike, or perhaps they thought multiplied want and misery would help their case. The effect of the strike is felt far from the mining regions, for its continuance would mean paralysis of every industry. The daily loss already is colossal. Nearly a million and three quarters of men are out of work, and the number daily increases. Coal may be imported from other countries, but that will have little effect on the general situation. The Montreal Gazette says:—

"Every industry in the country is related to the coal industry, which is the foundation of British life. If the miners strike, all activities based on coal motive power are instantly paralyzed. Millions of men, through no fault of their own, are thrown on the street to scotch and become ugly and threatening to the general peace. There is a mobilism in the industrial as in the physical and psychological world. One thing is dependent upon another. There are sympathetic which, operating, make of the many—one. There never was a period when it was quite so true as it is today, that no man liveth to himself. Every creature is linked to every other creature, and that phrase 'Down Tools', has a sinister meaning for every worker. A prolonged strike of the miners would be an almost immeasurable calamity if it stood alone; but affecting, as it would, every other activity, it would be disaster from which England might not recover for a generation. Those who are at the head of the labor organizations have an immense responsibility to sustain. It is only fair to state that some of them seem to feel it; but there are hot heads who carry the unthinking away and threaten chaos."

GERMAN DUPLICITY.

The wall of Germany that she cannot pay is characteristic, but the world does not have to take her word for it. Sir Harry Brittain, M. P., has returned after a visit to that country and he says he found conditions very prosperous. He is convinced she is coming back strong. A summary of his views says:—

"Every evidence, Sir Harry is convinced, points to the full and speedy recovery of Germany. Industries are in full blast. Employment is abundant. The economic life of the country is unimpaired. Germany shows no scars of war. While France and Belgium suffered incalculably Germany remained unscathed. There was no dislocation of trade or commerce. The toll of German life was enormous; but the great institutions of the country, the master organizations which extorted the envy of the whole world—these resumed their functioning the moment the last shot was fired. Before the ink on the peace treaty was dry, Germany was gearing and finding an outlet for her trade which remained strong and healthy. Life was resumed. There were no derivations to repair."

This being so, there is no force in the argument that she cannot make reparation for the damage done. We read

WHERE WILL WE BE LOVE, A YEAR FROM TODAY

(W. H. Sharpe.)

On the snowy pure wings of the dawning New Year
Truant thoughtlets are drifting to you now, my dear;
Just to rest 'mid thy heartstrings so lender and true,
They are winging their flight southward bound unto you Until lonely my heart, with a sigh files away,
But, O, where will we be, love, a year
from today?

Wint'ry skies are but sunny, the snows cannot chill

When a heart's filled with sunshine, and loves' new born thrill,
And there's music enough to bridge over life's stream,
If we keep in our heart the wee—"Love
God" to dream,
And he'll dream 'till all shadows and tears melt away;
But, O, where will we be, Love, a year
from today?

Life's ways to Life's honors are rugged to climb,

Then let us press onward and upward
each day
We'll tread the top, Love, a year
from today.

For the flower that is sweetest is bent with life's rain,
And the heart that beats truest was tested by pain,
And the lips that most tenderly, sweetly,
doth sing,
Of hoth drooped in despair like a dove's broken wing, Ah, then will we prove true and the thorns break away,
O, where will we be, Love, a year
from today?

Ab, will "Love" then be dreaming in two hearts made one?

Will the webs of the Fates, be harmon-
ously spun,
In colors alluring and textures so fine
The threads of thy future knit closely with mine,
Or mid' memories' relics, prove idols of clay?
O, where will we be, Love, a year
from today?

LIGHTER VEIN.

Mr. Pester—"You've gone and bought another $50 hat on my account. Why don't you ask permission before indulging in such extravagance?
His Wife—"Because I didn't want to do anything contrary to your expressed wishes."

Algy Hardup went to his employer and asked for a raise in his salary.
"I'm not going to do it," said the boss with a mighty splash. "There is nothing unassailable in my asking you how you hired me you promised me one after I had been with you a year?"

"Yes," said the employer; "but don't you remember that I made this raise conditional on your giving satisfaction?"

"O, dear! Haven't I satisfied you, sir?" asked Algy pitifully.

"Satisfied me?" "Inundered old Skin-flint. "Do you think you are satisfying me when you ask me for a raise?"

THE JUDGE ADJUSTED HIS PINNACLES AND LAID DOWN HIS QUILL PEN ON THE DESK.

For a moment he pondered in correct judicial manner, then his worshipful eyes rested upon the prisoner.

"He coughed."

"I seem to know your face," he remarked.

"Yes," returned the prisoner, with a smile. "I was in your jail once, your honour."

"Nonsense!" he exclaimed.

"O, yes, we was," persisted the prisoner. "We're both the same age, so we must have been together."

The lady superintendent was testing the school's cleanliness in great style.
From article to article she went, running her finger along the cupboard, shelves and rollers of maps.

"Dust nearly an inch thick!" she cried in horrified tones as her forefinger swept over the smooth surface.

"It's worse than that," said the naughty, impertinent little boy in the corner, who had looked up at the examiner's cry of disgust. "It's more than an inch; it's a Sahara desert."

A CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE.

First Navy—"You know, it's hard lines on Joe, 'im been' so short-sighted."

Second Navy—"Why? Yer don't need good eyesight for our kind of work."

For the foreman ain't lookin', so he has

HOSPITAL BOARD CONSIDERS PLANS RE THE EPIDEMIC

At a meeting of the board of hospital commissioners last evening Hon. W. F.
Roberts explained plans regarding the bettering of conditions at the epidemic hospital. The plan was to erect a home for the nurses so as to give a capacity of forty beds for infectious cases. It was shown that by following out this plan a saving of about $7,000 to the city would be effected in the next five years.
A motion that the proposals of the committee be forwarded to the county council in May was carried.

It was announced that four internes had been secured for the General Public hospital at a salary of $50 a month. Dr.
Heidon was given authority to purchase two four wheel stretchers at a cost of $125 each, and was also authorized to increase the wages of the laundresses two dollars a month. Those present at the meeting were Commissioners Asar, Emerson, Fawcett, McMillan, Crawford, Kelley, Roberts, O'Brien and Mrs. Mc-Lellan.

IMMIGRATION RESTRICTION BILL PASSED

Washington, April 23.—After rejecting an amendment seeking to open the doors of the United States to foreign political refugees, the house yesterday passed the immigration restriction bill substantially in the same form in which it went through last session only to be given a pocket veto. The bill now goes to the senate where Republican leaders said it would be passed without delay.

The measure is designed to be operative over a period of fourteen months and would limit the entry of aliens to three per cent of the number of nationals of any country in the United States at the time of 1910 census.

IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, April 23.—(Canadian Press.)
Yesterday in the House of Commons, a change was made in the personnel of the committee on privileges and elections. The names of Hon. Charles Murphy (Russell) and L. G. Galloway (Beauséjour) were submitted for those of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and E. B.
Devlin (Wright).

A bill to amend the naturalization act was introduced by Jos. Archambault (Chamby-Vecheux). Third reading was given a bill respecting the Lake of the Woods control board. Second reading was given an act respecting the Grand Trunk arbitration, and the bill was put through committee. It will be given third reading on Monday, and the premier said he expected it would pass through the senate next week.

Amendments to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police act respecting payments of portions of fines to members of the force, was given third reading. A resolution amending the civil service retirements act carried and a bill given first reading.

In the senate the Lake of the Woods control bill received third reading. A bill to amend the Canadian nationality act was reported from committee and minor measures were reported from committee and stood for third reading. The senate adjourned until Tuesday.

PORTLAND Y. M. A. IS REORGANIZED

In an effort to revive the Portland Y.
M. A. of the Portland Methodist church which was prominent in athletics some years ago a meeting was held last night at which the following officers and members were elected: honorary president, Rev. H. B. Clarke; president, K. Naves;
vice-president, W. Howard; secretary,
E. Langley; and treasurer, W. McLaughlin.
G. Logan was appointed manager of the baseball team and J. Chow, manager of the track team. It was announced that the club would go in for track athletics during the summer. They also will be represented by a team in the intermediate city baseball league.
Wrestling and boxing will also be taken up by the club.

TORONTO TO HAVE PUBLIC GOLF COURSE.

Toronto, April 23.—Situated at the mouth of the Hummocky river, one and three-quarter miles from Sunnyside, Toronto will have its first public golf links, to be known as the Humber Valley Golf Course.

The first 500 to be accepted by the membership committee are to constitute the active members, who can enjoy the rights and privileges of the club.

Those whom the membership committee pass in excess of the number required for active membership will constitute the reserve "waiting list." The membership fee is fixed at $10 for the season of 1921 for all members. A fee of twenty-five cents a year will be charged for the active members who play on Saturdays, Sundays or holidays. All other days are free to all members of the club.
Members are introduced guests to the club when they pay a fee of fifty cents for all guests who play with them.

CHURCHMEN WANT BRITAIN IN CONTROL OF THE NEW HEBRIDES

London, April 23.—A deputation from Anglican, Presbyterian and other churches in Australia, says a despatch to the London Times from Melbourne, to be known as the Premier's Mission, to hand over to Great Britain control of the New Hebrides islands, a jointly by British and French officials.

PREMIER FOSTER (Fredericton Mall)

Premier Foster leaves St. John tomorrow on a six weeks' trip to the Old Country, and it may be said with truth that neither friend or opponent will be grudge him the respite from official duties which he has so well earned. It is a little over four years since Hon. Mr.
Foster, having led his party to victory at the polls, was called upon to form an administration. The empire was then at war, suffering from the ravages of the evil effects of years of mal-administration, and the outlook which presented itself to the young businessman was not a promising one, not a rosy one. He accepted the task not without some misgivings, formed a strong administration, and will be admitted even by political opponents that he has been successful in carrying on the government of the province. Four years is not a long time in the life of a provincial premier. Foster has held office longer than any other layman since confederation. In the last twenty-five years only one other man has held the premiership for a longer period and that was the late Hon. L. J.
Tweedie. All of the other premiers who have held office since confederation, with the exception of Hon. J. J. Flemming, were members of the legal profession.
Hon. Mr. Foster as the head of one of the largest mercantile establishments in New Brunswick, is a very busy man, yet he has devoted fully as much time to his official duties as any of his predecessors in office. How he manages to keep up under the heavy strain has always been a source of wonder to his many friends. While he is going to the Old Country for a rest the chances are that he will find plenty to do during his sojourn on the other side of the Atlantic.
The province of New Brunswick, to which he is devoting the best years of his life, will be constantly in his mind, and he will lose no opportunity to make its wonderful attractions and rich resources better known to the people of the Mother Country. Whether the trip abroad benefits him personally or not, it is safe to say that the province of New Brunswick will benefit from it. The premier is not the kind of man to let the grass grow under his feet when an opportunity is given. New Brunswick's boast presents itself. His thousands of friends and admirers will unite heartily with the Mall in wishing him bon voyage and a safe return.

THE LATE CAPT. G. M. CAMPBELL

The funeral of Captain George M.
Campbell, who died suddenly on Sunday evening, took place on Tuesday afternoon from his late residence, Dipper Harbor.
Mr. Campbell was about seventy-five years of age and was one of the oldest residents of the community and his funeral was one of the largest ever held there. Service was conducted by Rev.
Mr. Harvey, pastor of the Chance Harbor Baptist church, and interment was in the family lot at Chance Harbor, where Mr. Campbell's wife was buried.
A large circle of friends and associates were gathered to hear of the news of his death.

RECENT DEATHS

The death occurred yesterday at Sagua, Kings county, of Mrs. Catherine A. Maglen, wife of William Magden. She had been ill for some time past but was comparatively well on Thursday evening. She is survived by her husband and two sons. The sons are Herbert L. Fairville, and Harry S., of Sagua. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her late residence, Sagua.

The death occurred at Moncton yesterday of Patrick Connolly, a well-known resident of this city, leaving one son, Frank, of the C. N. R. staff, Moncton, and one brother, Thomas, also of Moncton. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of Joseph Higgins, 31 Murray street, this city.

I. S. Dawson, a well known resident of Moncton, died yesterday afternoon after a three months' illness. He is survived by his wife, six sons and a daughter.

Francis S. Comeau of Comeauville, Coaticook county, died at his home on April 9, leaving his wife and fourteen children, three sons and three daughters in the service of the church. Thirteen of his children were at his bedside when he died. The funeral was held on April 12 at Church Point, N. S. Mr. Comeau was seventy-eight years of age.

Hugh Dick of Back Bay died recently the ninety-first year of his age, leaving three daughters and one son to survive.

The death of Mrs. Heartz, wife of Dr. Heartz of Amherst, died on Tuesday evening after an illness of several weeks. She was seventy-two years of age.

AN ANNUAL REMINDER.

(Halifax Chronicle.)
Although it is a little early in the season, Nova Scotia people might well consider an annual reminder concerning the prevention of forest fires. It is published by the Montreal Herald. Campers, prospectors, surveyors, rivermen, and others who use the woods, are thousands of campers who are leaving their camp-fires half extinguished. In dry weather the floor of a forest like the fuse of a powder barrel. A man's thoughtlessness may cost a forest.

Let all Canadians who go into the woods show that they are both good soldiers and good citizens by being careful with fire. Nova Scotia has been doing better in a matter of forest fires of late years, and the government regulations have been improved and are better enforced than formerly; but in any dry season the risk of grave loss from extensive forest fires is bound to be very great. Regulations and good enforcement will accomplish much, but the best protection against forest fires is a sense of responsibility on the part of all who go to the woods or who are engaged in clearing land. Many fires are due to a carelessness which is almost criminal. In a country like ours, where the forests are so important to the prosperity of all, it is a public duty to exercise caution and to keep before the eye the thought that carelessness or neglect concerning fire is a shameful thing which at any time may cause very destructive to property and even life.

The young man who aspires to do things must early learn to do without things.—Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

"St. George for Merrie England" Today Rings Across The Empire

HONOR TO ENGLAND'S PATRON SAINT JOINED WITH TRIBUTE TO BRAVE CANADIAN LADS WHO FELL AT YPRES SIX YEARS AGO

From the crowded city, from the lonely prairie, from the frozen north and from the tropics and heart of every loyal Englishman turns today toward the mother land, for this is St. George's Day. It is very fitting that the day which we honor as the day of the patron saint of "Merrie England" should also be the anniversary of that day in 1915 on which the "old continentals" of the Canadian army faced unflinchingly the flower of the German army—the Prussian Guards—with their rich red blood consecrated the ground surrounding the historic city of Ypres. One of the most notable victories of the First World War was due to the intervention of St. George. It is a curious coincidence that it should have been on St. George's Day that Canadians wrote the name of Canada in indelible letters upon the pages of British history. St. George was of noble birth. He first saw the light in A. D. 570 at Lydda in the vale of Sharon, noted for its roses and thus this flower became the emblem of England. And so throughout the world today will Englishmen and their descendants wear the red and white rose.

He took service under Diocletian, but when that emperor persecuted the Christians St. George openly defied him and suffered death on his birthday, Good Friday, April 23, 303. The reputation which he gained as a martyr soon spread and his name was everywhere held in reverence and many churches were dedicated to him. A cathedral was built over his tomb, and the city of Lydda was renamed St. George, and even today he is the patron saint of several eastern nations, while pilgrimages to his tomb and native city were annually made.

His connection with the dragon may be allegorical showing his victory over sin, but there is more ground for believing the legend of his actual fight with a dragon, which infested a lake near Beyroot, and it appears the citizens had decided to give their fairest, the lot falling on a princess who was saved from her fate when St. George killed the monster.

While St. George's cross—red on a white field—came into prominence during the Crusades, it was used before then in England and when each nation taking part in these wars decided on a

Women's Institute Here Defunct, is Decision

It was decided at the regular monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women, held yesterday afternoon in the board of the Women's Institute was a defunct organization. Several reports were received and a considerable amount of business was transacted. Mrs. W. E. Raymond, the first vice-president, was in the chair, and there was a good attendance of members. Owing to the indisposition of Miss Munn, Mrs. Geo. Poole acted as secretary. Following the reading and adoption of the minutes of the last previous meeting Mrs. F. E. Holman read a lengthy report of the delegation which was sent to Fredericton by the council. Mrs. Holman reported meeting members of the government and the board of education and placing before them the request that kindergartens be included in the public school system. The treasurer's report was read showing a general balance of $184 and a special balance of $49, with bills to the amount of $20 outstanding. The gross receipts from the Rosebud day were $1,217.9, less expenses of $40.66, leaving a net balance of $1,177.24. A motion was passed that the net proceeds of the day be sent to the Children's Aid Society. Miss Estey read also the milk fund report, showing receipts to have been $95 with expenditures of $50, leaving a present balance of $45. Mrs. W. B. Tennant reported, as convener for the committee looking after the distribution of free milk. Twenty-nine families are now receiving milk. The ways and means committee was raising sufficient funds and the accounts were being kept separate from others of the council. Tickets were distributed by

We the members of the St. John Local Council of Women in session this twenty-second day of April, 1921, express our endorsement and approval of the action of the Local Council of Women of Moncton in appointing a committee to frame a resolution for presentation to the provincial government calling on that body to take steps to bring to justice the murderer of Miss Miriam Stevens, who was brutally killed in Edmondston.

New Secretary Of Board of Public Utilities

At the last session of the legislature an act was passed so amending the Public Utilities Act as to call for detailed returns from every public utility which shall be compiled and published in a report to be submitted by the board to the provincial secretary-treasurer. As this act entailed considerable additional duties upon the secretary of the board and Fred P. Robinson, who has been acting as secretary for some time, is regularly engaged by the customs service of Canada, the government at its last session made a change in this office and appointed E. S. Carter as secretary of the Public Utilities Board from May 1 next.

BOYS SCOUTS WOLF CUBS ROVER SCOUTS SEA SCOUTS LITTLE FRIEND OF ALL THE WORLD

11th St. John (St. Luke's) Troop. The troop is very busy practicing for a demonstration of scout work to be given in their headquarters at St. Luke's Sunday school hall.

What is a Boy Scout? A boy scout! He enjoys a walk through the woods that he does the excitement of the city streets. He learns the facts about the winds, the stars, the trees and all living things and becomes "master of himself" in the open.

A scout can tie a knot that will hold, he can swim, he can patch a tent, mend a tear in his trousers, he can tell you what weeds are poisonous and what are not; if living near the ocean, lake or river he can reel a fish or pull an oar.

A scout does not run away when an accident occurs. If a person has been cut he uses his first aid knowledge to stop the flow of blood.

all his clothes on if necessary to the person in danger, and to bring him back to safety. And when the drowning person is pulled ashore, he doesn't stand around waiting for somebody else to do something.

A scout is kind to everything that lives. He prides himself upon doing a "good turn" every day—for which he, of course, will not accept a tip.

Any boy, twelve years of age or over may become a Boy Scout by joining a troop that has already been started. In case there is no troop in his neighborhood, or if for other reasons it is advisable to form a new troop, this may be done after consultation with scout headquarters in St. John.

of storm porch of his residence, between 10 and 11 o'clock p. m. of February 26th last by some person or persons unknown. The murder was premeditated and executed with malice aforethought.

Shortly after the murder was reported to Halifax on Sunday, February 27th, the attorney-general's department instructed Detective Horace Kennedy to proceed to Yarmouth to investigate the crime.

PERRY CASE OF UNTIL TUESDAY

Preliminary Examination is Completed—Magistrate to Consider Evidence—Story of the Tragedy.

Yarmouth, N. S., April 22—Clara Elizabeth Perry and Mansfield Ross, charged respectively with the wilful murder of Captain George Henry Perry on Feb. 26 last, and with being an accomplice after the fact, following the conclusion today of the crown's case against the former, were remanded until 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Other features of the evidence included the testimony of Thomas Nickerson that Captain Perry had been directly exposed to him fear of foul play. Nickerson said that the murdered man had told him of two previous efforts to "put him out of the way" by poisoning cake and the second time by tampering with his collar steps.

THE STORY OF THE PERRY TRAGEDY (Halifax Chronicle)

Pending the presentation of the new evidence which the crown is reported to have collected in the case, a review of the known facts of the murder of Captain George Henry Perry is not amiss. At ten o'clock on the night of Saturday, February 26th, Captain Perry, who had been spending the evening at the home of Thomas Nickerson, a nearby neighbor, looked at his watch and remarked that it was time to go home.

strament), supposed but not definitely proven, to have been an iron bar used by the Captain as a cobbler's tool, which was found near the body after the murderous attack was believed to have been made while the captain was opening the door leading into the back porch of his house, after which the captain, so the theory went, had fallen across a small table inside the porch where several additional blows had been administered, and then to have been dragged by his feet to the yard.

Then Ross and the Perry girl came home at about ten-thirty o'clock and the three of them partook of a light supper. At about eleven-thirty o'clock, according to the evidence given by Eleanor Perry, her mother appeared anxious as to her father's non-return and asked Ross to go and see if he was in the barn.

At ten o'clock on the night of Saturday, February 26th, Captain Perry, who had been spending the evening at the home of Thomas Nickerson, a nearby neighbor, looked at his watch and remarked that it was time to go home. He did so to his death, for an hour later his badly battered body was found in the snow at the back-door of his house. He had been struck on the head by "some blunt in-

The detective resumed his questioning. He then asked if she had visited the Perry Home, talking with Mrs. Perry, Ross and Eleanor. He ran down a host of false clues. He did all he could and finally admitted that he was "up against it." It was a hard problem, he said, but before he returned to Halifax he announced that he had no intention of forgetting the case, the Yarmouth police had undertaken to notify him of any fresh developments, and he proposed to return to that town when it was warranted.

About the only fact of importance made public during this visit of the detective to Yarmouth was the denial made to a Morning Chronicle reporter that she had anything to do with the murder. Mrs. Perry, in the course of an interview which she granted, after answering some questions of perhaps minor import, on her initiative, made the following statement:

"I, rather, had that they have suspected me of having killed my husband, for this suggestion, to my mind, is ridiculous, that a woman of my age, with a family of daughters such as I have, would do such a thing."

Mrs. Perry, who is a refined, well-educated woman, is clever, speaks well and gives the impression of being a woman of much self-restraint, though at the same time there is a certain motherly air about her that would make one think she is capable of emotion under stress. Asked by the Chronicle reporter regarding the coroner's jury's verdict as to "inhuman" treatment of the captain in leaving him out, she seemed, out of the cold, Mrs. Perry gave a very plausible explanation.

FINE PERFORMANCE BY AMATEURS

"The New Country School Ma'm" a comedy-drama in four acts, was presented to a packed house in the school room of the Queen Square Methodist church last evening by the members of the Epworth League of the church. The performance was a finished one and delighted the large audience. Home-made candy was sold by a committee of young ladies. The proceeds will be applied to the missionary fund.

Mrs. Cecil Mercereau, in the leading role of the school mistress, gave an excellent rendition of the role. She was ably assisted by the following players:

Miss Grace Robertson and Cecil Mercereau, as Ma and Pa Sneeckleby, the genial farmer folk with whom the teacher came to live; Miss Eleanor Cline, as Maria Jane, their daughter; Bert Hughes, as Ike, their son; McArthur Morgan, as Gibson Longface, the dry old school trustee; Leslie Bewick, as the minister; Mrs. McArthur Morgan, as Bessie Buck, a very funny character; Miss E. Weisford, as Mary Brown, Ike's best girl; Alfred Stephenson, as James Hughson, a gentleman farmer; Miss Helen Smallie, as Mrs. Crisp, and Donald Blair, as her son, Tommy; Miss Margaret Gilmore and Miss Nellie McCavour, as Maybell Primrose and Birdie Walker, both with an eye on Ike. The play will be repeated this evening.

LOSE ONLY SON BY DROWNING

Under particularly sad circumstances, Mr. and Mrs. William McFarlane, formerly of this city but now residing at Temiskaming (Que.), lost their only son, Wesley John, aged six years, on Monday, April 18. They are now in the city on a short visit.

Near their home excavations for the basement of a new hotel had been completed and the hole was filled with water. The young lad while playing in the vicinity apparently fell in and was drowned. He had failed to return to his home at the usual time and a party was organized to search for him. Two hours after the hunt commenced his body was found by the chief of police and two of his associates in the water. There was nobody in the vicinity of the scene when the accident occurred. The little boy was a bright little chap and naturally his parents were very much affected by the distressing occurrence, particularly on account of the fact that he was the only child. The sympathy of their many friends here will be extended to them in their bereavement. The body was taken to Montreal on Wednesday and laid to rest in the Mount Royal cemetery.

Mr. McFarlane was formerly an employe of the New Brunswick Power Company here and moved to Temiskaming about a year ago.

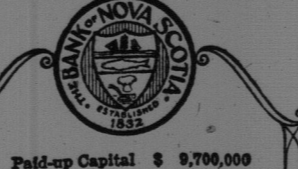

THE ITALIAN DISTURBANCES.

(Montreal Herald.)

The Communists of Italy, disciples of the Third Internationale, and the Fascists—the militant Nationalists—are engaged in fierce fighting. The conflict was precipitated by the expulsion of the Communists from the Italian Socialist party at the Leghorn conference. Then the Communists reorganized on the basis of the Third Internationale, which advises revolution by force. With the aid of certain extreme labor unions they have called general strikes and attempted to stir up disturbances in the great centres of industry.

In the present outbreaks, marked by loss of life, the government preserves an attitude of neutrality, but by dissolving the chamber of deputies and bringing on a general election May 15, it has practically referred the situation to the people at the polls. It is understood that their sympathies are with the Fascists whose avowed intention is to free Italy from revolutionaries.

The new Italian ambassador to the United States, Signor Rolando-Ricci, made the statement in Boston a few days ago that it is expected the elections will result in a chamber of deputies in which representatives of extreme tendencies will be diminished in number, and the ranks increased of that middle party which associates the cause of law and order with improved social conditions.

MINSTREL SHOW IN AID OF ROTHESAY COMMUNITY CLUB

Under the auspices of the Rothersey Community Club, an entertaining programme containing some unusual features was presented in Rothersey last evening, in aid of the rink fund.

The first part of the programme presented a scene in a theatrical booking office, in which various applicants for positions in a minstrel troupe perform, to show their stage qualifications. In this part of the programme those who took part were: Misses Gillies, Hevenor, Green and Henderson and Messrs. Simas, McArthur, Dobbin, Green, Dykeman and W. Doce.

The second part of the entertainment was furnished by a minstrel circle composed of those who had appeared in the first part, with Richard Doce as inter-locutor and Thomas Stack and Richard Starr as end men. Solos were sung by Miss Hevenor and Messrs. Simas, Dobbin, Dykeman, Starr and Stack. During the evening, also, a reading was given by Miss Purdy, in a Dominican costume which she had brought from the West Indies.

Much of the success of the entertainment was due to the training of Mrs. Campbell who had conducted the rehearsals of the music. Last evening, Mr. Heans was at the piano and the orchestra of the Rothersey Collegiate school furnished music before the performance and during the intermission.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pugsley were among those present last evening.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Quality at low price through quantity production

QUANTITY output has a direct bearing on manufacturing costs. The Ford Car is a Canadian product; with few exceptions every part of the car you buy is made in Canada.

Last year our output was over 55,000 cars. Consider what this means—220,000 wheels, 220,000 tires, and over 27,000 tons of steel and other metals were used in twelve months.

When buying in such quantities we get the lowest possible prices on raw materials—and we get the same quality as a company buying in smaller quantities at higher prices.

The Ford car—simply designed and built of finest materials is so low in price that it is within the reach of every man of moderate means. Quality and value are built into every car.

Have You A "Twenty Pay Life Policy?"

A true story of a Canada Life Policy issued over forty years ago.

At age 30 he secured his $5,000 Twenty Pay Life Policy.

At age 35 he received his first Dividend, which was added to the Policy.

At age 50 he received notice that his Policy, with 20 years' Dividends, was fully paid for.

At age 60 his Policy, still earning Dividends, helped him to finance the purchase of a new home.

At age 70 he withdrew the Cash Value for his own personal use. He received a Canada Life cheque for $61.40 in return for his $28.50 in premiums. For many years his home has been protected by insurance of $5,000 and Dividends.

A Policy on your life may do much that you intend to do—if you live. It may pay off the mortgage, supply food and clothing for your family, keep the children at school and prevent a forced sale of your other property.

It may be all that is left of your life work—to keep you in comfort in your old age.

But—your Policy must be large enough.

The Twenty Payment Life

Our new up-to-date policy provides—

1. That premiums will cease in 20 years.
2. That dividends will be paid during the 20 years, and afterwards.
3. That if you should be totally and permanently disabled before age 60, all premiums will be cancelled, and a monthly income paid to you.
4. That each monthly payments will not be deducted from the policy at your death.
5. That after 3 years you may take a Cash Value, or receive a paid-up policy or pledge the policy as security for a loan.
6. That the policy cannot lapse while a cash value exists; that the policy is indisputable after one year; that you may reside or travel in any part of the world or engage in any occupation without affecting your insurance.

(These are many other valuable privileges.)

An Immediate Estate

The great advantage over any other form of investment is that a small percentage paid yearly creates immediately an estate of $5,000, $10,000 or more.

These active, progressive years of life in which you are earning the most money are the years in which premiums can be more easily met.

Twenty years is a convenient period and premiums spread over that length of time are moderate and easy to handle.

Do not delay this important matter. Ask for particulars today.

SEVENTY PER CENT.
OF SCHOOL PUPILS
ALLOWED TO DRIFT

Present School System a Crime, Says Director of Technical Education For Canada — Arguments For Vocational Training.

L. W. Gill of Ottawa, director of technical education for Canada gave a talk on vocational training to a gathering of those interested in the subject in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon. Mr. Gill expressed a view of vocational training that practically identified it with education for the professions. He said that in St. John seventy per cent. of the enrolled students left school after the elementary course. They could not go to the High School because the course was not suited to their mentality. He characterized it as a crime that such a large percentage were left by the community at a critical period in their lives without vocational guidance and without any effort being made to develop in them a sense of civic responsibility. St. John, Mr. Gill said, was not the only place in which the subject of vocational training was a vexed question. If the movement was to be successful, he said, there must be co-operation. Unless co-operation from all classes of the community could be secured Mr. Gill thought vocational education would not get very far.

There were two factors, he said, operating against the introduction of vocational education. The first was the misunderstanding on the part of the people of the aims and objects of vocational training. The second was the attitude of those in charge of the present school systems who resented the new movement as an intrusion and a reflection on the work carried on in existing schools. In order to meet these objections it was necessary to indicate clearly what was meant by vocational education.

The support of the movement to have vocational schools was derived from the ranks both of employers and of employees. It was due to the pressure brought to bear upon the federal government by the combined forces of both the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Trades and Labor Congress that the Ottawa authorities had decided to set aside an appropriation for vocational training.

The C. M. A. wanted vocational training to provide the skilled help which, Mr. Gill said, employers were declaring from one end of Canada to the other could not be had. The workers wanted vocational training both to eliminate the competition of adolescent labor from the field and to provide a training for their children which would enable them to get along in the world. Proceeding to explain his view of vocational education, Mr. Gill said that all education, whether vocational or professional, was to train the child to fit him to look after himself and to make a living. In this view of education there was no fundamental difference between training men to be lawyers and training them to be mechanics. The difficulty, Mr. Gill said, was that a small percentage of pupils were now being prepared in schools and colleges for their life work whilst the rest were allowed to drift. In St. John, Mr. Gill said, almost exactly thirty per cent. of the pupils left school at the age of fourteen. Seventy per cent. he said, went no further than

She was so cross and fretful she could not sleep. It lasted nine months when I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I used three cakes of Soap with two boxes of Ointment when she was healed." the elementary schools. So far as the community was concerned, he said, this seventy per cent. was allowed to drift.

The age at which these children left school placed them in that period of their lives in which they were forming habits and character and learning to reason. Mr. Gill said that for any community to let seventy per cent. of such children to drift during this period of their lives was a crime. This seventy per cent., Mr. Gill said, could not go to the high schools because the course there was not suited to their mentality. Moreover school for many of them had become a prison and they idled their time and waited for the day when the compulsory attendance law would no longer affect them.

It was Mr. Gill's contention that such children could be educated by capitalizing their interest in some concrete subject. For instance, a boy could be taught to learn with pleasure all the rules of English grammar, spelling, punctuation and so forth if he should manifest an inclination towards type-setting or printing. In this way, Mr. Gill said, one could both educate a boy and give him a vocation at the same time. He explained the newly adopted compulsory attendance laws of Ontario which, when in full force in 1923, will provide that the youth remain in school until eighteen years old or, if employed that he must attend a school a certain number of hours a week. Other Canadian provinces were considering the same problem, Mr. Gill said. He told of similar regulations to those of Ontario which are in force in Milwaukee, Wis. He said that the consensus of opinion among the employers regarding these part-time student employees was that the school attendance made the more courteous, more moral, more productive and better disposed towards their work and towards their employers.

In reply to a query from Mayor Schofield as to whether it would, in his opinion, be better policy to divide the proposed $400,000 expenditure for new schools in this city into two parts and to allot half the sum towards inaugurating day vocational schools Mr. Gill replied that as an outside official all he could say was that the suggestion was deserving of serious consideration.

A. M. Belding, W. K. Ganong, Fletcher Peacock, George Hennessy and Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor participated in the discussion which followed Mr. Gill's address. Commenting on a statement of Mr. Gill's to the effect that vocational training developed intellectual power, Mayor Schofield said that perhaps if half the dance halls and nickel shows in the city were closed up the situation of the youth might be improved.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Gill for his address by F. Burditt, who presided at the meeting.

Women Urge Amendments
To Our Laws

Ottawa, April 22—A delegation from the National Council of Women waited on Rt. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, this morning, urging that new laws and amendments to existing laws be enacted. Recommendations made by the delegates were:

1. That women be included in the panel of all juries sitting on cases where women are concerned.
2. That adultery be made a crime.
3. That legislation be enacted to give to women the same rights to homestead as are now enjoyed by men.
4. That an extension of the indeterminate system of sentence be applied to those men and women convicted under the criminal code sections dealing with sexual offences.
5. That the section 644 of the criminal code be amended by substituting the word "eighteen" for "sixteen". This section deals with the age of those who come under the jurisdiction of the juvenile courts.
6. That punishment by fines for crimes of an immoral nature be abolished.
7. That wife desertion be made an extradition offence.
8. A uniform divorce law for Canada.
9. That the English law respecting divorce in force in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba be so amended that "there shall be no distinction of sex in the grounds for granting an application for divorce and that for the purpose of granting an order of divorce a wife's domicile shall be considered the place where she resides."

The delegation further maintained the right of a married woman "to take out naturalization papers as if she were a

RENTS IN MONTREAL.

(Montreal Herald.)
It is asserted that high house rents in the industrial centres now form the greatest obstacle to mediation in labor and wage disputes. While the cost of living in other respects has declined very substantially within a short time, rents refuse to budge from the high figures established under war conditions. It used to be a rule of the economic doctors in relation to family budgets that no family should spend more than a fourth of its income on housing. But rent conditions are shown to exist for thousands of workers where a third and more of the family income must be expended for housing alone. Rents will have to come down in harmony with the general tendency in living costs, and landlords should make due note of the fact.

"THIS is my recommendation, Sir"

"NOT so very long ago I was in the same ill health as yourself. Long and busy hours, the responsibility of filling drug prescriptions and other duties of the day's work proved a strain. I took a couple of boxes of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills and can honestly thank them for my present splendid condition.

This little incident from everyday life fits your case in one way or another. In these days of strenuous living it is only natural for the heart to get below normal, thus affecting the nervous system. Many people ignore the symptoms of heart and nerve trouble. Every day people drop dead, simply because of ignoring them. You cannot afford to do this. Ask yourself, "Have I any of the following complaints?"

Dizziness, Headaches, Palpitation, Breath Shortness, Brain Fog, Loss of Flesh, Depression, Sleeplessness, Anemia, Tobacco Heart, Loss of Appetite

These are some of the sensations which are experienced. They are a warning of vital importance. If you would be well and strong, just ask your druggist to-day for a box of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills.

YOU WILL BE SIMPLY ASTONISHED at the fast recovery you will make on taking them. Remember, they have been on the market for over 25 years, and you are using a preparation recommended by prominent people the country over.

All busy druggists sell Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills at 50c. a box, or they will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

Food for Thought for Canadian Manufacturers

ABOUT two-thirds of all the products advertised in Canadian daily newspapers are owned by firms whose parent houses are located elsewhere than in Canada.

This is not said to reflect upon Canadian-manufactured products (most of these advertised products are now being manufactured here), but to indicate that these firms when entering the Canadian market were quick to seize upon Daily Newspaper Advertising as the speediest and most economical method of introducing themselves and their goods to our people.

Think of all the prominent British and American firms you can, and ten chances to one every firm will be a daily newspaper advertiser.

They have used daily newspaper advertising to establish their goods in this market—why shouldn't you?

If you wish to know how to use Daily Newspaper Advertising, ask us or write to any advertising agency. We or they will advise you.

Your inquiry involves no financial obligation. We have nothing to sell—directly.

The World's Verdict On Harding's Message

Disappointment in Berlin and cordial approval in London and Paris are among the significant foreign reactions to the President's first message to Congress. At home a majority of the papers applaud his program, yet a few sharply dissentient voices are heard. LANSDOWN AVENUE WORK

Residents of Lansdown avenue have petitioned the commissioner of public works to add to the pavement being laid on that street two coats of penetration asphalt to finish off the surface. They agree to pay one-half the cost under the abattoir's scheme. The public works is now laying a water bound McAdam surface on the street, following a similar petition from the residents last year. Commissioner Fink said today that the additional surface will make Lansdown avenue an up to date street, free from dust. The matter will be brought before Monday's meeting.

CITY'S GREEN HOUSE

Considerable assistance to the beautification of the city squares will be given this year through the medium of the small green house which is now in operation alongside the city's asphalt plant in Lower Cove. There are between 8,000 and 4,000 plants being raised there, now and so soon as the weather permits they will be placed in the beds in the squares. The operation of the green house is practically nil as the heating is done from the same plant which supplies the asphalt plant. Dr. Prink this morning expressed keen satisfaction in the work that was being done there.

SALES TODAY

Mrs. M. Hudson and Mrs. J. Logan were in charge.

COMMUNITY CLUB IN EAST ST. JOHN

The citizens of East St. John are preparing to make their first a better place to live in and at a meeting held last evening decided to organize the "East St. John Community Club." A committee of five was appointed to draw up a constitution and report within a fortnight. Those present expressed themselves as favoring an organization which would be not only of a social nature, but would work for better roads, sidewalks, lighting, etc. After a short musical programme the meeting adjourned. J. H. Tongue was appointed chairman of the meeting and J. W. Flewelling secretary. J. A. Maharg, M. P., president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association is to join the Saskatchewan Government.

THREE FINED IN OPIUM CASES

Another Off Till Monday—Police Court Cases This Morning.

Fines amounting to $600 were imposed in opium cases by the magistrate in the police court this morning. Hum Fong Tung and Hum Wong, charged with unlawfully having opium in their possession, each pleaded guilty and a fine of $200 each was imposed. G. H. V. Belyea, K. C., appeared for the defence and Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., for the prosecution.

Hum Tong, alias Hum Sek, 87 Brussels street, who was before the court a short time ago and fined $1,000 for giving opium, and pleaded guilty to having the drug in his possession, was fined the minimum fine of $200 on the latter charge. The three accused were remanded to jail pending arrangements to pay their fines.

A case against Samuel Kelmstead, charged with stealing a quantity of scrap iron from a scow, owned by J. S. Gregory, was postponed until Monday afternoon. At the same evidence by Mr. Gregory and Herbert Ring and Jeremiah Osborne. The latter said that the accused with another man went to him to make arrangements for hauling junk to a junk shop at Walker's wharf. Policeman Killen told of the recovery of the scrap.

Clarence Burke, Alex. Somerville and Wilfred Somerville, charged with stealing articles from C. P. R. freight cars at Fairville, pleaded not guilty. As the police court did not have jurisdiction in the matter the men were taken before Magistrate W. H. Allingham, Fairville, and remanded until next Friday. C. P. R. Policeman Costello, Detectives Biddiscombe and Donahue and Provincial Constable A. Garnett, made the arrests.

A case against David Trachberg of Montreal charged with having opium in his possession unlawfully, was postponed until next Thursday.

Two juveniles charged with stealing a bicycle from Allen Hunt, appeared before the court. The case was conducted in private.

One man charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and was remanded. Another was brought in during the morning but his case will not be taken up until Monday.

LOSS WILL RUN INTO THOUSANDS

Yacht Katrina, Formerly Owned by Rothesay Man, Damaged by Fire at Head Harbor.

Capt. A. J. Mulcahy, of this city, has returned from Head Harbor, Grand Manan, where he was representing the underwriters in the adjustment of the loss to the auxiliary yacht, Katrina, which was damaged by fire at Head Harbor recently. He said this morning that the loss would run into the thousands of dollars.

The yacht, which is schooner rigged and is also fitted with gas engines, was being wintered at Head Harbor. She is owned by George M. Harding, of Hammond River, who is now in India. She was formerly the property of W. R. Turnbull, of Rothesay.

The origin of the fire has not been ascertained. Although the hull has not been damaged, all the houses, decks, masts and standing rigging were destroyed by the fire.

PINKERTONS ON THE CASE

Were Engaged by Province in Effort to Trace the Murderer of Minnie Stevens, at Cost of $1,300.

In view of resolutions which have been passed by the provincial government, requesting the provincial government to take steps to bring to justice the murderer of Miss Minnie Stevens, who was murdered in Edmundston, it was announced here this morning that the attorney general had adopted all measures possible to trace the perpetrator of the deed.

In this connection representatives of the Pinkerton detective agency were employed on the job at a cost to the province of $1,300. It was said that Hon. Mr. Byrne and his associates did everything in their power to clear up the matter.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY EDITORIAL ON THE EMPIRE

London, April 23—(Canadian Associated Press)—The Times makes the celebration of St. George's Day the occasion for an editorial on the empire, with a special reference to the misconception in many quarters, as instanced in the recent debate in the Canadian House of Commons, on implication involved by the raising of the dominions to international status.

The paper thinks the difficulties of the position will be solved and the solidarity of the empire maintained by periodic meetings of an imperial cabinet, which avoids the manifest drawbacks of any form of imperial federation and leaves each state free to order its own affairs.

AGAINST LICENSING OF ANY MORE BONDED LIQUOR WAREHOUSES

Toronto, April 23—Hon. W. E. Ransay assured the legislature yesterday that the Ontario government will urge upon the dominion authorities that no further licenses for bonded liquor warehouses should be issued.

THE NEW LEADER OF WINSTON IN THE COMMONS

Chamberlain Once Down on House of Lords The Retirement of Bonar Law—The Dream of Winston Churchill—Navy Matters—Topics of London.

London, March 31, 1921—I think it was Harry Vardon who said that golf was a "funny game." If the remark is true of golf, it is certainly no less true of politics. Nearly forty years ago, the Union Society at Cambridge was disturbed by a motion "That in the opinion of this House the existence of the House of Lords is injurious to the welfare of the country." The resolution was submitted by a young stripling, whose monochrome was scarcely in keeping with his socialist tendencies.

But there is no saying what may happen if, as so many people in Paris even some in London are now predicting, our troops finally have to occupy Berlin. France means business in this matter, and disreputable as the prospect may be to us, unless we are prepared to cooperate fully with our French neighbors, there is little prospect of bringing Germany to book.

It is suggested in some quarters that the fall Winston Churchill sustained from a camel in the desert was not due, as reported, to defective harness, but to the receipt of a wireless message announcing Bonar Law's retirement and post of Chancellor of the Exchequer. It was a post on which Winston had long cast covetous eyes. Had he waited a few weeks longer he would probably have got it. Instead, he took the colonial office and let it be known that his choice was dictated by his belief that this office was destined to be the most important role to which any man could be called in the months which he immediately ahead of us.

The tributes which are being paid to Bonar Law for his marvellous memory as a speech maker reminds me that the Prince of Wales is also acquiring this gift in a modest degree. With increasing confidence he is developing into quite a good speechmaker, and has almost entirely abandoned the speech notes which he used to take with him on occasional occasions in case his memory should play him tricks.

FRENCH ARMY CAPTAINS HAD LONG HARD FIGHT

Montreal Man Says in All His Experience He Never Saw Anything to Equal Tanlac—Wonderful How It Fixed Him Up.

"In all my experience I have never found a medicine that equals Tanlac when it comes to bringing man up and making him feel fine," said Robert Jaffre, 321 Herbrooke St., East Montreal, representative of a large importing firm. Mr. Jaffre is a former Captain of the French Army, was wounded seven times and won the military cross for valor. His enthusiasm for the good received by taking Tanlac is expressed in his complete statement as follows: "It is simply wonderful that a medicine could do what this one has for me with indigestion and other troubles but I have won it, thanks to Tanlac. It has given me a splendid appetite and no matter what I eat I never have a sign of indigestion. My nerves are steady now and I sleep all night long without waking once. In the morning I feel refreshed and happy just as I did when I was a sixteen-year-old boy. I repeat it—Tanlac is wonderful."

Germany's Prosperity. The attitude assumed by Germany on the question of reparation is causing great anxiety and irritation. Official reports are continually being received as to the wonderfully thriving way in which the German industry is reviving. The latest report dealt with the textile trade, which is now employing its pre-war quota of workpeople at vastly enhanced wages. But while Germany is prospering exceedingly, everything considered, big profits and high wages are being made, and taxation is ridiculously lower than either in France or in this country, she protests her utter inability to pay anything substantial towards the damage deliberately wrought by her during the war.

Haddon Chambers' Death. The sudden death of Haddon Chambers, a well-known playwright, removed, at the age of 61, a very attractive personality, and a most adventurous career. He died at the Bath Club. Mr. Chambers was born in Australia, started life as a small servant, and by a series of good fortune, and a little, and I thought Cambridge were beaten. They looked rowed out, the heavyweights in the bow were splashing badly and rolling in their seats. But Hartley was grimly masterful. He demanded another spurt, and setting the pace remorselessly, he swept the boat home roughly about a length ahead. Both crews collapsed, rowed blind and deaf, and the crowd went berserk with cheering and shouting. He had a rough time of it at first, and a less robust character might have gone under. Actually, at one time he drove a cab in London streets, but by way of humble journalism, he finally emerged, after some experience as a story writer, in his true métier as the dramatist.

It was Sir Herbert Tree who gave him his first leg up as a dramatist, and "Captain Swift," written over a by-water walkshop and read to the distinguished actor-manager in the Turkish baths, was his first success. The "Tyranny of Tears" and "Passers By," in which Irene Vanbrugh played so delightfully, were two of his best works. Mr. Chambers married only a year ago an American actress, now playing in "The Garden of Allah." He was one of the keenest boxing enthusiasts in London.

Trade Conditions In Canada Beginning To Show Some Improvement in Many Lines

Reports Gathered From Halifax to Vancouver Encouraging—Opening of Navigation Will Help—Preparing for Crops—Collections Are Fair.

(Montreal Herald)
Improvement in underlying trade conditions all over Canada as reported to the Herald, has gone farther than most people suppose. Inventors in the main have been marked down to the point here, instead of being a constant drag on the firms affected, they will enable the managements at the end of the year to show a profit rather than a decrease upon the turnover for twelve months.
The opening of navigation has induced greater flow of traffic East and West. In the West, however, have not improved as much as had been expected, largely owing to the refusal to leave the land until the roads become more settled. In the West, the rural population is not yet on the up in any material numbers owing to the presence of water. Authorities report the land on the average in excellent condition, but some of them say that a less will be sown this year, owing largely to the fact that prices of all grains much lower.
Rocks in hands of wholesalers cause large buyers to have been shy in placing orders. Some of the wholesalers use the retailers of not having reduced prices sufficiently to stimulate sales, while the retailers in their turn, who the public, no matter what reductions are made, still appear to hold awaiting an even greater concession. Unfavorable conditions may arise on it, it is said, when the demand ultimately arises, the manufacturers may be able to cope with the flow of orders. Already there is a distinct shortage in many lines of manufactured goods, as retailers have allowed stocks in some instances to reach a dangerously low level. In the matter of staples especially it has been difficult to get sufficient supplies to meet requirements.
Trade agencies report business as improving slowly, but they state, at the same time that considerable irregularity is shown as yet. The unemployed are being gradually absorbed in the leading centres and the situation in this respect in the West is not at all serious. In Ontario many are finding employment with farmers. Much activity is shown in ladies' clothing but men's clothing, while engaging more attention, is still far below standard. The new cotton lists that are expected on May 1 are likely to be delayed. Woolen mills are offering their output at low prices to keep the plants going. There is practically no speculation in silks, the demand being based entirely upon requirements. Some of the larger boot and shoe factories, while not working at capacity, are turning out 2,500 pairs a day; prospects in this line are much better than was thought possible a few months ago. Steel and iron warehouses are liquidating stocks, evidently as a step in taking advantage of the new price schedules that have been or are about to be announced. Builders and house-decorators are better employed, but there is room for improvement in the matter of structural materials and lumber. Automobile and accessory dealers are doing a good business and tires are moving freely. Altogether the situation is improving throughout the Dominion.

THE NEW PALESTINE

(Montreal Gazette)
The reports of progress within the British Empire at all times make most satisfactory reading to those interested in her success and development. It is therefore with considerable pleasure that it is noted that Great Britain has already made commendable strides in her imposed task of putting new life into Palestine which was to all intents and purposes dead, if we except the vestiges of a few shepherds, wandering Arabs, Jewish merchants and a very few cultivators. Certainly Palestine is lacking in progress and bustle. The towns and cities were only rarely populated, the transportation arrangements of the country being exceedingly primitive. The Turk lived on "gravel" and he had not the slightest crest or concern with the growth of Palestine which was to him the Mecca indeed; therefore his was an apathetic and his desire to allow it to die, wither away, and stagnate.
It is of great moment to students of religion to note the very considerable changes effected, since the introduction of British control. Many Jews have returned, and are returning, and intend to take Palestine their home, where it is now a recognized system in effect justice and honor, and a business standard of equity between all classes of the community. Sir Herbert Samuel, the high commissioner, is himself a Jew, and he has done well in his new official position. He indicated to the address when appointed that there would be construction of railways, canals and other means of locomotion; the development of telegraph, telephone and other services; drainage of swamps, reforestation and construction of harbors. A country while it can be materially assisted by a government, can not entirely be rebuilt by the virtues of good faith. They are factors, but construction, will and resources of a people prove the super-operating essentials and these Jewish people have in a very marked degree, and no doubt they will set to work in earnest to achieve other ideals. The Zionist organizations have established some forty Jewish agricultural settlements, and it is the intelligent direction of labor of this kind that will make Palestine a land fair for the Jewish people to live in, with Great Britain's aid and control.

HEAVY LOSS FROM RUST.

New York, April 23—In an editorial advocating a campaign to rid the western sections of the United States of the European barberry bush, which is the cause of black rust, the Wall Street Journal declares that this crop disease in one season destroyed 300,000,000 bushels of wheat in the United States and Canada.
U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace wrote letters this week to the governors of all the states asking their co-operation in the nation-wide observance of forest protection week, May 22 to 28, recently proclaimed by President Harding. Of 160,000 fires which occurred in the United States during the past five years, the latter declared 90 per cent were due to human agencies.
Menace of a future timber shortage, the secretary asserted, "threatens to become a present economic fact," and "spells disaster" unless the rate of burning is materially checked.

FOUR MEMORIALS FOR ENGLAND

Busts and Statue of George Washington Presented by Sulgrave Institution—Dedication This Summer.

New York, April 23—(By Canadian Press)—Four memorials to George Washington will be dedicated in Great Britain during the next three months, according to an announcement made by the Sulgrave Institution, an organization composed of prominent citizens of Britain and the United States. Three of the memorials are busts presented by the institution and the fourth is a statue which is the gift of the people of Virginia to the people of England.

One of the busts which was executed by William Ordway Partridge, will be placed in the Town Hall at Liverpool. The third a cast in Paris on an order from Tiffany and Co., will be unveiled at the dedication of Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of George Washington. The statue will be placed in Trafalgar Square.

John A. Stewart, chairman of the board of governors of Sulgrave Institution called for England on the Olympic recently carrying with him not only the Partridge busts but also two bronze memorials of Abraham Lincoln containing the Gettysburg address. One of these will be placed in the old church in Hingham, England, where Lincoln's forebears worshipped and the other in a public building to be designated by the British government.

The Washington statue has already been shipped. It will be dedicated on June 30, in a programme arranged jointly by the Sulgrave Institution of America and Great Britain. The site for the statue was selected several years ago. An official Virginia delegation, headed by Dr. E. A. Alderman of the University of Virginia and Col. John Williams secretary of the House of Delegates, will sail for England June 11 to present the statue which is a replica of the Houdin Statue.

Sulgrave Manor will be dedicated on June 28. The manor property originally cost about $600,000. The Sulgrave family has already been spent renovation and restoring it. It has already been furnished in the manner of the period with furniture presented by different persons.

The members of the Sulgrave board of Trustees are Viscount Bryce, Lord Wendell, Lord Cowdry, Earl Spencer and E. S. Perry representing Great Britain and J. P. Morgan, Charles Phelps Taft, Alton B. Parker, Major General Leonard Wood and Charles Stewart Dawson, representing the United States. President Harding is honorary chairman of the committee of presentation, of which Mr. Parker is chairman.

Minard's Liniment for Dandruff.
Halifax Chronicle—The apple export season of 1920-1921, which has just closed, was the second best on record. A total of 888,713 barrels were shipped to the United Kingdom, while shipments were also made to Newfoundland and the West Indies. The record season was that of 1911-12 when 1,200,892 barrels were shipped across the Atlantic. The apple crop in 1911 was a million and a half barrels while last year it was around the million mark.

CANADA'S WEALTH IN NORTHLANDS

Yukon Pioneer Says Country Will Produce $500,000,000 Annually—Portland Canal Project.

Stewart, B. C., April 23—"Canada's great opportunity lies in the North and in twenty-five years, with an efficient development programme, the northern country will be producing $500,000,000 annually," stated J. T. Burns, engineer, geologist and Yukon pioneer in an interview here.
I have spent twenty years in the Yukon," Mr. Burns continued, "and have panned it from one end to the other, so I may be said to know the Yukon as well as most old stoutheads. But from what I have seen of the Liard river and its head streams I am convinced that for production it could out do the Yukon."
Mr. Burns is urging construction of a railway from Stewart into the Liard country about the confluence of the Dease and Frances rivers and thence north to Fort Norman or east to Fort Simpson at the confluence of the Liard and the Mackenzie. This road, he points out, would not only map the newly-discovered oil fields, but would open up the Groundhog coal country and the placer gold and quartz district west of Fort Simpson.

The Portland Canal, Mr. Burns insists, is the logical outlet for the mineral products of the Mackenzie river basin, and he backs up his contention by reference to the map. From Stewart to Fort Norman is approximately 625 miles, 275 less than from Edmonton to Fort Norman. From Stewart to Fort Simpson is approximately 800 miles, 180 miles less than from Edmonton to Simpson. In addition to this, Stewart is at tide-water, while Edmonton is hundreds of miles away from it.

CANADA'S CONTRIBUTION TO UNITED STATES LARDER.
Washington, April 23—Net imports of wheat flour into the United States from Canada between September 1, 1920, and February 1, 1921, amounted to 39,000,000 bushels. The United States Bureau of Markets reports that during this period 69,000,000 bushels came into this country from Canada, of which 30,000,000 bushels were in bond for export.

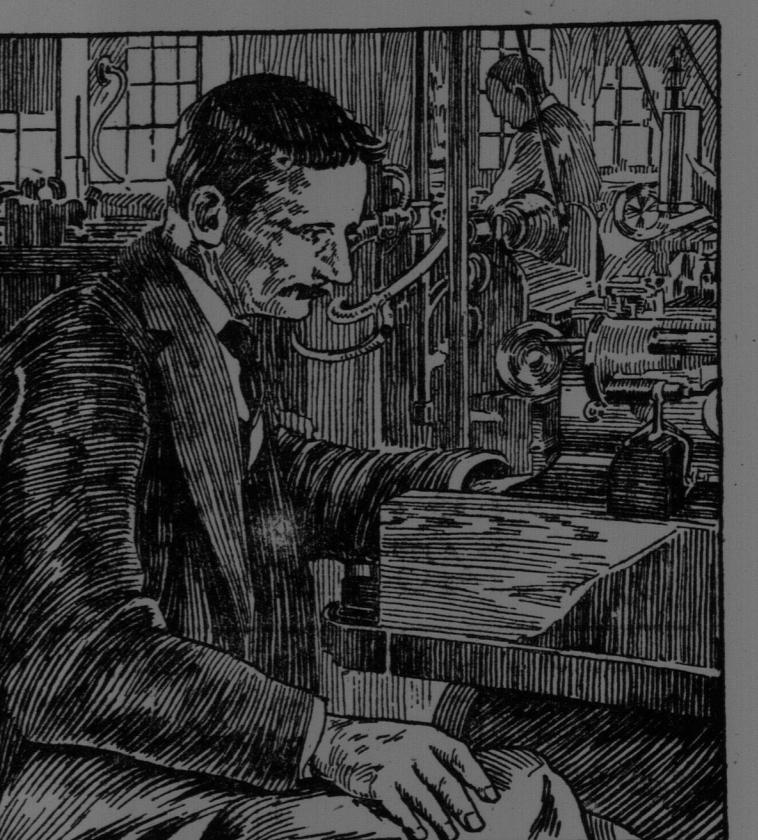

Merely to obtain at climbing hand over hand, a 15-year-old boy ascended a suspension cable of Brooklyn Bridge with the skill of a sailor until he reached the tower, 800 feet above the water. Arraigned on the charge of disorderly conduct he was remanded to the Children's Court.

A Campaign to Protect You in Buying Your Watch

RALPH WALDO EMERSON, more than fifty years ago, speaking in one of his essays of a distinguished man, said: "He is put together like a Waltham Watch."
This remarkable tribute to Waltham greatness is the result of the genius of many men whose inventive faculties have been concentrated for nearly three-quarters of a century to make it the wonderful time-keeping device it is.
The buying of a watch is an investment in time-keeping. And time is the most valuable possession of man.
You purchase a watch for one thing—to keep correct time for you—to tell it to you with dependability at any moment of the day or night.
A good watch, therefore, must have something more than good looks—it must have good "works."
Millions of people imagine that the "hand-made" watch is the "best"—or, at any rate, that its works are superior. Yet, at the great Expositions, the watches of the world's other leading manufacturers have invariably been defeated by Waltham.
In a series of advertisements we are going to show that there is a watch made completely by one factory organization whose time-keeping mechanism is more trustworthy than any "hand-made" watch can be.
A watch that is easily and economically repaired because its parts are standardized,—
A watch that represents origination and leadership in mechanical skill,—
A watch that has revolutionized the art of watch making and assured accurate and dependable time-keeping.

Dwight H. Church, famous inventor who filled the great shops at Waltham, Massachusetts, with exclusive watch-making machinery that performs miracles of accurate and delicate work which the human hand could never equal.

We are going to take you through the "works" of a Waltham—lay bare those hidden superiorities which have led the horological experts of the greatest nations to choose Waltham as the watch for the use of their government railroads.

When you have finished reading these advertisements, which will appear regularly in this publication, you will walk up to your jeweler's counter and ask for the watch you want—because you will know how it is built and why it is superior to any other watch.
Look for these advertisements. Read them.

A CAT MOTHERING TWO BABY FOXES

(Amherst News.)
An unusual incident happened at Chappell's Fox Ranch early in the present week. A litter of two foxes was born some days ago, but for some unaccountable reason the mother fox refused to own the young ones. On two occasions the keeper discovered the unfortunate little pair of "reynards" out in the cold when he went to feed the foxes in the morning. On the last occasion they were quite cold and stiff but on being taken inside, were revived to life. Realizing that to return them to the mother fox would be hopeless, a hurry call was sent into town for a mother cat. After some search one was found and after being taken out to the ranch, the kittens were substituted with the infant foxes. The cat took to her strange children with the true mother instinct, and up until the present time has looked after them, even more faithfully than the ordinary she fox. As soon as the precious little animals are big enough to shift for themselves, the accommodating cat will be relieved of her foster family.

HEAD OF FRENCH LINE SUICIDES

Grief Over Recent Death of Wife Led Maurice W. Kosminski to End Life by Hanging.

(New York Times.)
Using the leash of his pet Pomeranian to form a noose, Maurice W. Kosminski, director general of passenger traffic of the French line, hanged himself yesterday from a towel hook in the bathroom of his apartment in the Hotel Plaza. Dependency over the death of his wife, who died last January after an illness of several months, was said to have been the cause.

According to friends, Mr. Kosminski had been suffering from melancholia since his wife's death and had been under the care of a nurse, Miss Josephine Ross, the nurse, left her employer on Monday night, after giving him a glass of warm milk. Yesterday morning about eight o'clock, as was her custom, she went to his room to awaken him. There was no response to her knocking, and she called one of the assistant managers of the hotel. Mr. Kosminski's secretary arrived soon afterward, and a locksmith opened the door.

When the door of the bathroom was being opened the searching heard an object fall, and, upon entering, found the body of Mr. Kosminski on the floor. A dog's leash and a bathrobe cord had been tied around his neck, and a small stool was overturned on the floor. Dr. T. A. Gonzalez, Assistant Medical Examiner, expressed belief that Mr. Kosminski had hung himself on the towel hook behind the door, and that the body was dislodged when the door was opened.

Mr. Kosminski was fifty-seven years old, the son of a Chicago banker, who was the agent of the French Line in that city for many years. He succeeded his father, both in the banking business and as agent for the line, and was called here in 1916, when M. Paul Faguet, who had been head of the passenger department for many years, retired and returned to France. The father was said to have left a fortune of $3,000,000, one-third of which went to the son.

Mr. Kosminski came here with the title of director general of passenger traffic. He was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French government early in the war. Mr. Kosminski was known as "Colonel" among his associates in the shipping business because he had once held that rank as a member of the staff of a governor of Illinois.

Great regret was expressed at the offices of the French Line, 19 State street. Mr. Arthur Henderson, head of the passenger department, said that he had never known a man who showed such deep affection for his wife as Mr. Kosminski.

"Although we did not suspect that he would commit suicide," said Mr. Henderson, "I remember his saying to me last Friday that, if anything happened to him, his body should be taken to Chicago and placed beside that of his wife in Rose Hill cemetery."

During most of his stay in New York, Mr. Kosminski had lived in the Plaza. In the summer of 1920 he went abroad with his wife and traveled through France, Algeria and Morocco, where Mrs. Kosminski, already in poor health, contracted the illness which ended her life. He is survived by a son, Charles Kosminski, twenty-four years old, of Chicago, and a daughter, Miss Sybil Kosminski, twenty years old, who lived with him in the Plaza.

SAYS 26,000 STARVING IN NORTHERN ALABAMA

Birmingham, Ala., April 23.—Twenty-six thousand persons are at the point of starvation in the coal fields of northern Alabama, Governor Kilby was told today in an appeal by the Salvation Army's southeastern division, with headquarters here. The organization said it was helping to the limit of its resources but that additional aid must come from other sources.

Conditions in the mining district, it was explained, grew out of the strike of mine workers which continued several months. Pratt City local of the United Mine Workers, made demands upon Governor Kilby either for re-employment in the mines or for financial relief. The statement said "we have applied for re-employment and have been flatly turned down." The local union at Marvel appealed to the governor for help for "684 destitute men, women and children."

A STRONG APPEAL FOR CHILD WELFARE AND MOTHERHOOD

In her address entitled, "The Canadian Mother," delivered before the local Women's Canadian Club last night, Dr. Helen McMurchy, chief of the child welfare department of the dominion public health service, Ottawa, appealed to her audience to support the efforts of the provincial health department on behalf of mothers and children. The kind of support needed, she said, was not so much financial but rather the strength of a motive impelling to a greater return to the love of home and the love of motherhood. Mrs. Leonard Tilley, president of the club, was chairman of the meeting which was held in the German street Baptist institute and was attended by nearly two hundred ladies.

There were three departments, she said, in which the needs of the mother must be supplied, namely, home comfort, medical care and nursing, and general care and health within the home.

The most sensitive index of the public health, she said, was the infant mortality rate. This rate, she said, was the number of babies less than a year old who died out of every thousand children born.

The most important single thing about the subject, Dr. McMurchy said, was that if the baby was nursed by the mother the chances were in favor of the baby's continuing to live and that if the baby was fed in any other way the chances were against the baby.

The problem of saving the lives of infants, she said, was one of great moment to the nation. Most doctors and nurses had not understood how to teach the mother to nurse her own child. She mentioned the fact that France had realized during the war the vital importance of proper care of maternity cases. A maternity hospital had been set up in Paris, she said, and, of the 7,000 babies born there, every one of them was nursed by the mother. She introduced a quotation to the effect that artificial feeding of infants was one of the greatest errors of the nineteenth century and then humorously appealed to any members of the W. C. T. U. who might be in the audience since they had already banished one bottle to start in to banish the other.

Dr. McMurchy quoted statistics to show that infant mortality varied inversely with the father's income and with other factors as well. War had been defined, she said, as education by violence, and the late war had brought home to the nations in a very forcible manner the importance of the baby.

The problem of infant mortality was related to other problems, Dr. McMurchy said. It was affected by the housing situation, which she described as one of the most urgent municipal and national problems confronting the nation today. Infant mortality was likewise affected, she said, by food, clothing, work, education and other considerations.

$500 For You. See This Week's Montreal Standard

The speaker then dealt with the second portion of her address which was concerned with the mortality among mothers at child-birth. "Women should not die in child-birth," said Dr. McMurchy. "It is not a disease," she continued, "and we should be able to make it safe." She then quoted statistics from several countries and institutions showing that four mothers out of a thousand died at child-birth in certain parts of Great Britain and seven out of a thousand in certain states of the United States. The rate in Canada had not been ascertained, she said, because no complete statistics had been heretofore available. She emphasized the importance of co-operation with the health departments so that they might as rapidly as possible be put in possession of this statistical information.

Dr. McMurchy concluded her address with an appeal to her audience to support the health department in its efforts on behalf of mothers and children. The support needed, she said, was not so much financial as sympathetic. It involved a return to a greater love for the home and for motherhood.

Mrs. R. J. Hooper moved a vote of thanks to Dr. McMurchy which Mrs. John Thomson seconded and Mrs. Tilley preferred to the speaker. After the address refreshments were served by a committee including Mrs. Tilley, Mrs. J. H. Dooey, Mrs. W. Bonnell and Mrs. F. C. Beatty.

But 24 Per Cent. of Grain Shipped From Canada Through Canadian Ports in Half Year—No Report From Halifax.

(By Canadian Press.)
Winnipeg, Man., April 22.—In the half year which ended with February last less than twenty-four per cent. of Canada's exports of wheat to overseas countries were shipped direct through Canadian ocean ports. Of the total export business to all countries about seventy per cent. was done from western Canada. These are striking statements from an article in the Grain Trade News, a daily market paper issued in Winnipeg, which gives details of the exports of wheat from this country during the six months from September 1, 1920, to February 28, 1921.

The article says: If the figures for the general list it is found that the direct imports of Canadian wheat to overseas countries from our own ports for the six months totalled only 14,936,022 bushels. These are the revised official figures. Vancouver shipped 466,328 bushels, and of the eastern ports Montreal shipped 11,945,551 bushels, St. John, N. B., 2,484,544 bushels, Quebec the insignificant quantity of 41,189 bushels, and North Sydney 400 bushels. These are very small shipments from eastern Canadian ports and it will be noted that no shipment at all is reported for the port of Halifax. Less than twenty-four per cent. of Canada's exports of wheat to overseas countries was shipped direct through Canadian ocean ports. This is below the average percentage and may perhaps be partly accounted for by the fact that an unusually large proportion of our wheat exports during these months was destined to central and southern European countries for which there was liner accommodation at United States ports. Tabulated, the figures are as follows: Exports from ocean ports: Vancouver, 466,328 bushels; Montreal, 11,945,551; Quebec, 41,189; St. John, 2,484,544; and North Sydney, 400. Total from Canadian ports, 14,936,022 bushels.

Through U. S. Ports.
Canadian exports of wheat shipped to the United States to go out through United States ports to overseas countries totalled 48,686,190 bushels, or more than three times the direct exports. The greater part of this intramit business was done from Fort William and Port Arthur, which together shipped intramit 33,122,315 bushels. Nearly all of this wheat was shipped to Buffalo and from there would go through New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. Across the Niagara frontier 1,253,600 bushels were shipped in transit, and probably the greater part of this was from stocks at Port Colborne, and this quantity would probably go out through the same ocean ports as the water shipments to Buffalo. From Prescott, including a few cars from Cornwall, 1,241,254 bushels was shipped intramit, and probably this quantity would be routed through New York. From the Quebec border 12,089,011 bushels was shipped intramit, and this quantity all but 8,464 bushels was entered for export at Coaticook on the direct Grand Trunk line to Portland, and with these relatively large figures may be contrasted the 2,484,544 bushels of direct export through St. John. These intramit shipments by districts were: From Port William-Port Arthur, 33,122,315 Niagara frontier, 1,253,600; eastern Ontario, 1,241,254; Quebec province, 12,089,011. Total, 48,686,190 bushels.

American Consumption.
Of the wheat entered as exported to the United States for consumption in that country over ninety-four per cent. was shipped from the western division and two-thirds of this from Port William and Port Arthur. Some 40,000 bushels crossed the border at British Columbia points and 21,797 bushels went south from Lethbridge. From Saskatchewan points, nearly all through North Portal, 2,898,822 bushels crossed the border, while from Manitoba points, including Fort Francis, 9,152,040 bushels was exported to the United States. Southwestern Ontario exported 510,982 bushels, the greater part of this passing out through Windsor, and it is probable that this would be wheat grown in Ontario. The Niagara frontier reported 1,477,514 bushels exported to the United States, and while some of this might be Ontario wheat it is probable that the bulk of it was western wheat from Port Colborne or from other lake port elevators. Only small quantities were exported from points east of Niagara, the total being less than 150,000 bushels. According to districts, the exports to the United States were as follows: From British Columbia, 40,520 bushels; Alberta, 21,797; Saskatchewan, 2,898,822; Manitoba (including Fort Francis, Ont.), 9,152,040; Port William-Port Arthur, 33,122,315. Total, western division, 38,748,811 bushels. Southwestern Ontario, 790,982; Niagara frontier, 1,477,514; eastern Ontario, 59,769; Quebec, 39,253. Total Eastern Division, 2,197,468 bushels. Grand total to United States, 38,946,779.

Of the total export business to all countries about seventy per cent. was done from the western division, which means that the ports and railways of eastern Canada handled only thirty per cent. of the export wheat and only about fourteen per cent. used the eastern routes right through to the Canadian seaports.

ELECTRICITY IN SEED CULTIVATION
Plant for Treatment of Seed Established in Alberta—Increases Yield and Checks Disease.
Carmangay, Alta., April 23.—Seed treated by a new process of seed electrification, a method which it is claimed will increase the yield, check the spread of fungal diseases and improve the quality, will be sown this year by many of the leading farmers in Southern Alberta. A plant for the treating of seed has been established here, and already an enlargement will be made immediately. Great claims are made as to the advantages of this system, which is known as the Walfern Electro-Chemical process of seed electrification. The process consists in placing the seed in a bath containing a suitable metallic salt such as calcium or sodium chloride and weakly electrifying the same for a length of time appropriate to the seed under treatment. The solution is then run off, and the seed taken out and dried. The object of the salt is not only to decrease the resistance, or, in other words, to increase the conductivity of the seed-coat, but to maintain that conductivity during the period of germination. Calcium and sodium in correct proportions are, moreover, plant foods and assist in the after stimulation of root production. This method is a new one to Canada, but it has been tried with remarkable success in England. From the reports for the season 1920 of field trials made in England by the seed production department of the board of agriculture, on farms selected by themselves, the results showed a gain of two to seven bushels of wheat to the acre; 5% to 19% bushels of oats, and five to sixteen bushels of barley.

FIND POSITIONS IN C. N. R. SHOPS HELD BY FARMERS

Ottawa, April 22.—Before the pensions commission today David Cochrane, representing three hundred returned men laid off from the C. N. R. shops in Moncton, said these men had served overseas and returned to find their positions filled by "farmers who had used their farms as a cloak to evade the M. S. A." Further than this the C. N. R. was running a train to take them to and from their work. "Their daughters were wearing seal coats while returned men were walking the streets," Mr. Cochrane declared. There was plenty of work. More than 700 freight cars were awaiting repairs at Moncton, in addition to fifty locomotives. This was while the farmers of the west were asking for cars to move the wheat. Mr. Cochrane knew of a former captain who was working with a pick and shovel at $3 a day in order to feed his family. It may be no disgrace to be defeated. Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

AQUATIC. Dates For Races. London, April 23—Dates for the sailing of the international small-yacht races, in which the United States and England will compete, for the American Cup, have been tentatively named.

Six races will form the programme for the initial regatta for this international small-yacht trophy. The dates will be equally divided between Cowes and Ryde as follows: July 29 at Ryde; August 1, 3 and 5 at Cowes; August 1, 3 and 5 at Cowes; August 8 and 10 at Ryde.

ATHLETIC. A. A. U. Suspensions. Calgary, April 23—As a result of inquiry by the Alberta branch of the Amateur A. U. of Canada into charges of infringement of the A. A. U. rules by various athletes in the province during the baseball season of 1920, Brig-General H. F. MacDonald, C. M. G., B. S. O., president of the Alberta branch of the A. A. U. of Canada, announced yesterday that nine players have been suspended.

The trials for the selection of the six-meter yachts which will represent England in the races against the U. S. ensign are as follows: July 18 and 19 at Cowes; July 20 at Southampton; July 21 at Ryde; July 22 at Southampton, and July 23 at Seaview.

In the case of Frank Drayton no decision has been reached owing to conflicting evidence. Blades is probably the best all-round athlete in the west. He excels as a printer, jumper, in basketball, hockey, baseball and rugby, and during the war represented Canada on the relay team overseas. Drayton is president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association.

He is accused of being paid to sit on the bench for the Ponoko ball club last summer.

TURF. Fredericton Races. Fredericton, N. B., April 23—Early closing events are in great demand for the coming harness racing season because of the operation of the National Trotting Association's time allowance rule, which will permit horses to have the full benefit of their allowances at the commencement of the season regardless of interim performances.

North End Plans.

The North End Improvement League held a meeting last evening in the offices of the Blue Ribbon Beverage Company. It was decided at this meeting to incorporate the league and it was announced that lease of the grounds will be in the hands of the executive shortly from the city. It was also decided to hold another meeting next week in the assembly hall in the Dufferin school and make final arrangements concerning the coming baseball season. Efforts are going to be made to get the grounds of this league ready as soon as possible for the coming season. The meeting last night was enthusiastically carried on by the large number of interested men present. The president of the league, C. F. Stevens, occupied the chair.
