Thousands of Old People Find Health and Strength

MR. SAMUEL SAGE

meal and found that it gave me better appetite and sleep became refreshing. I have often recommended it to my old comrades and they all say it does them much good.

Many aged ladies to whom I have talked claim they could not get along if it were not for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Some have said, 'Give me liberty or give me death,' but I say, 'Give me life and Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.'

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

For more than half a century Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been before the public and its increasing success proves its merit and honesty. Scientists have tested it, chemists have analyzed it and always found it pure and full of medicinal virtue; doctors have prescribed it, and ministers of the Gospel, temperance advocates and people in all walks of life have used it, and all endorse it as a most effective tonic stimulant.

It is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and relief of all throat, lung and stomach troubles, and for all wasting and weakening conditions, if taken as directed.

LOOK YEARS YOUNGER! GRAY HAIR DARKENED BEAUTIFULLY WITH SAGE

Says Sage and Sulphur Will Stop Falling Hair and Cure Dandruff

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to sag and carefully filtered, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is falling, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy."

Cheeks Pink as the Pinkest Rose
Perhaps the simplest way is by drinking hot water and thereby acquiring some time in the future—cheeks that rival in hue the pinkest rose. I am not jesting as I know that hot water will give you "really truly" red cheeks if you persist in drinking it for some weeks.

promote me, maids and matrons, that you will make a practice of drinking a glassful of hot water three-quarters of an hour before each meal, and an hour before going to bed. This is not much to ask. Do this every day and you will soon see. Your cheeks will glow like peonies and your skin will become milky in tone.

GIVES HALIFAX A BOOST

Montreal Interview Predicts All Kinds of Things Including C. N. R. Acquiring Intercolonial

(Montreal Herald.) The eventual acquiring of the Intercolonial Railway by the Canadian Northern following the start of the dominion government's $35,000,000 job on railway terminals at that port, was predicted by a Halifax man at the Windsor Hotel this morning.

This gentleman, who has been spending most of his time in Ottawa and Montreal during the last two months, in connection with Halifax deals, also said that a Halifax delegation was now in England working on a big dry dock proposal.

The dominion government was predicted to be back of this scheme, and enquiries which he had received from ministers whom he had contacted, also said that Halifax had led him to believe that they were seeking all available information as to possible dock sites, of which there are four. One of these is at the present government dock site on the city side of the north Dartmouth Cove and on the same side.

The work of building the new I. C. R. line around the peninsula on which the city stands to a point a mile and a half from the present depot is already under way. In May, 1,000 additional men will be put on the job. Docks and all, this project will take three or four years in the probability of the C. N. R.'s activities in Halifax and throughout the Maritime provinces has confirmation in the establishment in Halifax of the J. C. Corporation, which has been formed in connection with C. N. R. deals in the west.

During the last two months, also, Sir William Mackenzie has been closely in conference at Ottawa with Hector McInnes, a very prominent man in the Nova Scotia capital. The seals of the C. N. R. in transcontinental operations, those past and those hanging on Sir William Mackenzie's present excursion to England, it is believed, must carry an Atlantic winter port in their train as an absolute necessity.

Lorne McElbion and associates have invested a million in Halifax and residential sites, and the action of Montreal transitway promoters in acquiring the Halifax street railway is looked upon as another indication that financial bodies have some information which point to developments on which the government's big expenditure will only be a part.

The government plans have thrown the Garrison City into the air (at least), many fine old residences have had to give way, including that of Senator McKee, whose front door is almost closed by the new line's right of way.

The new tramways interests have laid plans with care. P. B. McMurphy, M. P., finding it impossible to have his water power transported to Halifax, owing to the local laws of country in which the producing property is situated, has managed to have Sir Frederick Borden allied with the Montreal interests, and the late minister's Gasperaux power will be used.

A big western real estate operator and M. P., who has been investigating the city recently, has perpetrated the saying that "when Halifax wakes up it will be worse than the rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." He has since invested largely.

ROYAL SCARLET CHAPTER OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

The 48th anniversary of the founding of the St. John County Royal Scarlet Chapter was celebrated last evening in Orange Hall, Germain street, at an open meeting. The hall was filled and W. M. Campbell, W. C. and C., delivered an interesting address on the founding of the chapter. It was organized on March 14, 1865, with a membership of twelve, and has grown so that today there are nearly 300 members and next Friday evening it is expected that fifteen more members will be admitted. Among other numbers on the programme were: Solo, D. D. McArthur; recitation, Mrs. Brittain; club singing, Miss Cox; piano solo, Miss White; Scotch song, Mrs. Downey; solo, Mrs. MacArthur; recitation, D. McArthur; harmonica selection, Miss Cox; solo, Miss Bridger. The Gem Theatre orchestra rendered several selections. At the close of the programme refreshments were served.

SOON BE ABLE TO TAKE UP THE ASSESSMENT

Nothing Decided Yet in The Chief of Police Matter

Owing to the illness of Commissioner Schofield harbor matters were not dealt with at the meeting of the city commission this morning and, as there was nothing else to be transacted, the hour was spent in a general discussion of city business.

Mayor Frank said this morning that, as they are now getting most of the pressing business disposed of they will soon be able to devote some time to the consideration of assessment matters in order that they may have their program for next year's session of the legislature.

In reply to a question as to the next step in the matter of the appointment of the chief of police, Mr. Worsnip said that further course had been decided upon.

REV. DR. MORRISON'S LECTURE

An interesting and timely lecture on David Livingstone and his brother John, was given by Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Charlottetown, in German street Baptist church last evening. John Livingstone was an elder in a church in Ontario of which Dr. Morrison formerly was pastor and during his long acquaintance with him the lecturer had learned many facts of great interest regarding the famous explorer and his brother.

The lecture was illustrated by scenes from the life of David Livingstone. A collection was taken to aid the High School in Visagastang, India, which was recently destroyed by fire.

PERSONALS

Rev. J. D. Wetmore, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, is steadily improving after his illness.

J. Royden Thompson and Mrs. John H. Thompson left last evening for Boston to attend the automobile show.

Mrs. Leonard Dillay returned to the city today after spending a couple of weeks in Boston.

William Smith left last night for Boston to attend the funeral of his brother James L. Smith, of Malden, Mass.

Misses Verena Ryan, of New Brunswick, and Alice Gallagher, of Torreyburn, left this morning for a short visit to Moncton.

The many friends of Mrs. MacTavish will be pleased to learn that she is slowly recovering from her recent serious illness.

Mr. Honor Judge Barry returned today from Fredericton.

Stanley Kilkin came on the Montreal Express today and will be in Charlottetown tomorrow.

Blaph Richardson came to the city from Fredericton today.

Scott D. King, M.P.P., returned today from Fredericton.

Senator King, of Chipman, arrived in the city today.

A. G. Turvey, provincial horticulturist, came to the city from Fredericton today.

Fourteen burial permits were issued this week by the Board of Health. The deaths were from the following causes: Smallpox, three; influenza, two; and meningitis, diphtheria, concussion, influenza, pneumonia, typhoid fever, and cerebral hemorrhage and pelvic peritonitis, one each.

SUPERINTENDENT MACDONALD. A delegation of clergymen who have acted as chaplains at the Boys' Industrial Home appeared before the governors of that institution yesterday afternoon to seek that in their experience they had found the superintendent well qualified for his work and that he was doing all in his power to improve the morals of the boys. The governors adopted a resolution regarding the statements which had been made in the McCarty case.

THROUGH THE ROOF. Considerable damage was done yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock to the roof of the Municipal Home and the ceiling of the men's dormitory, by a piece of stone from an explosion on the roof and by workmen. It was an exceptionally large blast. The part of the building where the stone was thrown is about 20 yards from the place where the blast was first heard and the piece of rock fell with such force that it broke through a hole in the roof and tore the plaster and laths off a great portion of the ceiling. Fortunately there was no one in the dormitory at the time. Another large piece of stone was found in the garden of the home.

SLEIGH DRIVE AND SUPPER. The lady members of Companion Court Hibernian and their friends enjoyed a sleigh drive one evening this week going to Lakewood, where they had supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McInnes, Watson. Games, music and dancing were enjoyed. After supper there was a round of toasts, including "The King" proposed by J. McFadden, of Glasgow, Scotland; responded to by A. P. Bishop, of Liverpool, Eng.; "The Independent Order of Foresters," proposed by Mrs. E. A. Starkey, and replied to by Miss D. K. Gayton; "The Ladies," proposed by G. Fairweather, and spoken to by N. Orabbe. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Watson for their hospitality.

THE OLD TRAFFIC HOUSE. The directors of Fernhill at a meeting yesterday decided to offer the old Traflet house, on the city side of the property, for sale. This house was taken over when the company purchased the Traflet farm and has lately been unoccupied. When they intend to sell the building will be repaired to meet their requirements.

FOURTEEN DEATHS. Fourteen burial permits were issued this week by the Board of Health. The deaths were from the following causes: Smallpox, three; influenza, two; and meningitis, diphtheria, concussion, influenza, pneumonia, typhoid fever, and cerebral hemorrhage and pelvic peritonitis, one each.

SUPERINTENDENT MACDONALD. A delegation of clergymen who have acted as chaplains at the Boys' Industrial Home appeared before the governors of that institution yesterday afternoon to seek that in their experience they had found the superintendent well qualified for his work and that he was doing all in his power to improve the morals of the boys. The governors adopted a resolution regarding the statements which had been made in the McCarty case.

THROUGH THE ROOF. Considerable damage was done yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock to the roof of the Municipal Home and the ceiling of the men's dormitory, by a piece of stone from an explosion on the roof and by workmen. It was an exceptionally large blast. The part of the building where the stone was thrown is about 20 yards from the place where the blast was first heard and the piece of rock fell with such force that it broke through a hole in the roof and tore the plaster and laths off a great portion of the ceiling. Fortunately there was no one in the dormitory at the time. Another large piece of stone was found in the garden of the home.

Your Headache.

May perhaps be relieved by lying down and sleeping it off because the eyes are thus rested. But this does not effect a cure. When you remember that about ninety per cent of all headaches are a direct result of Eye-strain, you will readily understand how a few hours complete rest such as the eyes receive when you are asleep will relieve that strain, and the resulting headache. If you are subject to headaches, come in and find out whether the trouble is in your eyes or not.

Our careful examination will determine that for you definitely.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Mrs. Robert McAndrew took place at the residence of her daughter in Reading, Mass., on March 12 in the nineteenth year of her age. She is survived by four sons and three daughters. The sons are: George, in Calais, Me.; Charles, in Chicago; Robert, in Salem, Mass.; and Frederick, in this city. The daughters are: Mrs. John Jenkins, of Reading, Mass.; Mrs. Clara, in Boston; and Mrs. A. Holmes, of this city. The funeral is to be private on arrival of the Boston train in the city today.

Reports Rough Trip

The Furness liner Kanawha, Captain Kellman, arrived in port yesterday after a very rough passage. She experienced heavy weather and almost continuous gales. One of the firemen was thrown by a sea against the rail, breaking his breast bone and bruising his face. He was placed in the hospital in Halifax. The steamer Inishowen Head arrived yesterday afternoon from Lunenburg, where she discharged a cargo of fire brick and fire clay from Glasgow. The vessel was delayed five days on account of encountering an unusual amount of ice off Newfoundland.

THE FAMILY CHOIR

All people with weak chests, especially in the case of children, should go in for singing. Singing develops and strengthens the lungs, and thereby improves the general tone of the system. Children do not know how to breathe properly unless they are taught the art of the training of the voice consists in instruction in breathing. The lesson should be given in a room well ventilated, with the window wide open. If you breathe deeply in a stuffy room it will give you a headache.

MARCH WEATHER
RHEUMATIC WEATHER

Victims Can Cure Themselves With
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

With the coming of March people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable—balmy and spring-like one day, raw, cold and piercing the next. It is such sudden changes of weather that set the pangs and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica going. But it must be borne in mind that, although weather conditions start the pain, the trouble is deeply rooted in the blood, and can only be cured there. All the lotions and liniments in the world can't cure rheumatism. Rubbing may seem to ease the pain, but you are rubbing there its value ends. Only through the blood can you cure rheumatism. That's why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have so many thousands of cures of this trouble to their credit. The new, rich blood which they actually make drives out the poisonous acid and rheumatism is vanquished. Among many sufferers from rheumatism who have been cured by this medicine is Miss Mary B. Kelly, South Dummer, Ont. Miss Kelly says: "Some time ago I had a very bad attack of rheumatism. At times I would be confined to bed for a couple of days and would seem almost paralyzed with the intense pain in my back and legs. At such times I could not walk and my joints were stiff and swollen. I consulted different doctors and took their medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief. At this time a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a supply. After taking a few boxes I found they were greatly helping me, and I continued their use until the trouble completely disappeared. I can strongly recommend this medicine to others who suffer as I did from the pangs and tortures of rheumatism."

OPENS BRANCH HERE

H. McGrath's Sons, well known granite manufacturers, of St. George, have opened a branch office and show room at 25 Sydney street, where they have on exhibition a fine display of red, grey and black granite monuments. This firm has an established branch in this line at Sydney (N. S.), and their coming to this city will undoubtedly be a benefit to persons interested in monuments or building work, as they are quarry owners and their plant is modern in every way.

Pre-Easter Showing of Tailored Hats Again Tonight in The Millinery Salon

Spring Opening and Easter Exhibit of Costumes and Coats Monday Morning

Models Which Sound The Keynote of Authoritative Style Presented in a Range of Wonderful Extent and Variety

The fashion centres of the world have contributed the most acceptable of their style offerings to this opening display. Each suit and coat has some exclusive feature which entitles it to a place in this exhibit which may be said to include only the most becoming and distinctive of the new spring styles.

The novelty of the season in costumes are the Bulgarian and Russian coat styles and they are very closely allied. The cut-away effect is brought out in a great number of shapes, in some instances indicated slightly, while in others rather exaggerated, all of them however attractive and dressy. Combinations of bloused coats and cut-aways are shown in some models. Turned back cuffs finish off all sorts of sleeves; collars are in the wide, flat directorio effects, as well as notched styles, the long roll collar is another type shown this season. Collars, cuffs, revers and belts are of contrasting fabrics trimmed in Bulgarian colors and the new reds, yellows, greens and blues.

Skirts are plain tailored, pleated or draped and the width of the average skirt continues narrow.

The new separate coats in three-quarter and full lengths hold to the Oriental effect and this influence is noted in collars, cuffs and revers which are made of printed Batines or Silks in Indian or Bulgarian colorings. Colored trimmings are very much in evidence in coat decorations this season and some of the models are elaborately embellished in different shades. For practical wearing the straight line models will be in demand and in the mannish effects pockets are very large at the lower sides, while in the more dressy draped types they are not so dominant.

COOSTUMES in Serges, Bengalines, Bedford Cords, Whipcords, Poplins, Moire Silk; greys, navy, tans, fawn, cream, mauve, brown, black, etc. Ladies' sizes, 34 to 44, priced from $19.95 to $55.00. Misses' and Juniors' sizes, 13 to 18 years, from $15.00 to $35.00.

SEPARATE COATS in Bedford Cords, Whipcords, Eponge, Serges, Tweeds; stripes, checks, plain colors including greys, fawn, tans, reds, navy, mauve, mustard, Copenhagen, etc. Also Broadcloths in black. Bulgarian and Russian styles, plain, box pleated and draped effects. Ladies' and Misses' sizes, priced from $8.00 to $35.00.

SATIN, PONGEE, BROOCH, BENGALINE AND MOIRE SILK COATS with touches of trimming in silks, braids and Bulgarian colors, $11.50 to $50.00.

CHILDREN'S COATS, a large assortment of the newest ideas in colors and styles. Tweeds, Serges, Stripes, Shepherd Plaids, also Pongee.

COATS FOR EVENING WEAR, a very great variety in Silks and Broadcloths, all shades.

IN COSTUME SECTION, SECOND FLOOR.

MANCHESTER ROBERTSON ALLISON, LIMITED.

MORNING LOCALS

The Passion Week services at Trinity church last evening were well attended. A musical programme was rendered, consisting of songs by Master Tomas Bailey, Miss Louise Knight and Miss Blenda Thompson. James B. Ford acted as organist.

R. McDonald sailed from England yesterday to take possession of a 3,000 acre farm near Moncton which he has purchased. He will breed horses and is to bring some stock with him. W. Hudson arrived yesterday from England and will take up a farm at Quispamsis. He brought several horses and is importing eight more. Both farms were bought from W. Corfield.

John F. Anderson, formerly of England and now of Saskatchewan, arrived in the city yesterday to meet Miss Eleanor M. Remington who is due today on the Empress of Britain. Their marriage will take place on the arrival of the steamer.

The council of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon nominated the new members who joined during the recent membership campaign. They will be voted on at a meeting next Tuesday. A committee was appointed to urge that connections from St. John with the Ocean Limited should be re-established. The council also approved of the protest made against parts of the Canadian Grain Act which would have the effect of diverting shipments of American corn to United States ports.

Doctor T. H. Lunney delivered a lecture in the High School last evening on the Waterways of Canada. The lecture, which was illustrated with lantern slides, was greatly enjoyed by the large number who attended. At the close a vote of thanks was moved by W. S. Myra and seconded by Mr. McCauley. The lecture was under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club.

The dates for the Sussex camp have been fixed for June 24 to July 6. A suffragette meeting was held last night in the rooms of the Art Club. Mrs. L. A. Curry presided. She thought the movement would meet with more success in the United States and Canada than it did in the old country. Rev. Dr. Paterson also spoke and Messrs Hyatt and Taylor, representatives of the local Socialists, were also heard.

J. Collins of Montreal and David H. Priestman of Vancouver, of the firm of Lecky & Collins, Hull, Eng., manufacturers of dredging apparatus are in the city in connection with the dredging operations going on here.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The Quebec Board of Trade has requested that when the renewal of steamship subsidies is being considered the government insert clauses requiring the steamers to charge freight rates according to the distance goods are carried. Thus shipments to St. John would cost less than to Quebec and to Quebec less than to Montreal.

Good For Newcastle

(Newcastle Advocate) In addition to the inauguration of the new company to take over the Lamont property and erect a commodious plant there for the manufacture of wagon springs and gears, it is learned that the quarry at French Port Cove is to be reopened this summer and some extent of work on the supply of stone executed. Developments along other lines of business are likely to be set on foot at an early date, but negotiations have not so far advanced sufficiently to warrant publication of the details. Altogether, it looks as if Newcastle was on the eve of a great forward movement, in which all its citizens should take part.

Not Opposed to Bridge

Augusta, Me., March 15—A statement was sent out by Augusta correspondents a few days ago saying that the people of Van Buren were opposed to the resurvey in favor of the bridge across the St. John river between Madawaska, Maine and Edmononton, N. B. Rep. Neil Vollette of Van Buren says the people of Van Buren are in no way opposed and will make no effort to impede its progress.

FORGOT CONVENTIONALITIES

Dorothy was so homesick at her first party and cried so bitterly that the hostess mother suggested that it would be better for her to go home. Dorothy accepted the idea, but a few minutes later, upon answering a timid ring at the door, the hostess found Dorothy bathed in tears. "Well, Dorothy, I am glad to see you again. Did you decide to come back to us?" "No'm: I forgot to say I had such a nice time!"—New York Review.

A Tortured Priest

For more than 12 years, Mr. the Abbé J. Duval suffered much from deafness and annoying buzzings in the head. After having tried many remedies with little success, he at last succeeded in effecting a cure in 10 months by a simple, rational, and inexpensive treatment which will be indicated FREE OF CHARGE for humanitarian reasons, by the "Laboratoire Salomon" 848 Hauteville Street, Paris, France. Letters require 2c. Post cards 2c. postage.

TENDERS

TENDERS are invited by the Municipality of the City and County of Saint John for the purchase of all its right, title and interest in and to the lands, buildings and forebore of the Municipal Home property, consisting of about 110 acres of land, situate at Courtenay Bay adjoining the Dry Dock and Ship Repair plant, now under construction by Norton Griffiths & Co., Limited, in the Parish of Simonds, in the City and County of Saint John. Tenders must be on a form supplied by the County Secretary and accompanied by a certified cheque of 10 per cent. of the amount of the purchase price offered. The Municipality reserves the right to accept any tender or reject all tenders. Tenders must be sealed and addressed "Tenders for Municipal Home Property," and delivered to the County Secretary not later than 12 noon, 1st of April, 1913. JAMES KING KELLEY, K.C., County Secretary. H. B. SCHOFIELD, Chairman Committee.

WILSON'S INVALIDS' PORT WINE

Dr. J. M. BAUSOLEL, President of the Canadian Medical Association, says: "I prescribe Wilson's Invalids' Port for young and debilitated women, and the result is most satisfactory. I congratulate you on having fitted, with the greatest of care, a time-honored prescription which is approved by the Medical Profession."

"SALADA"

A Tea possessing exquisite freshness and fullness of flavour not found in other Teas. Pure and clean to a leaf. IN SEALED LEAD PACKETS ONLY. Black, Green and Mixed.

was a costly road, so far as it was a matter of construction. "There was a meeting of the directors of Quebec Railway held here today and another will be convened tomorrow (Saturday). A local broker said tonight that while no actual transfer had taken place as yet, some definite news might be expected within the course of the next few days, and that there was no doubt whatever, but that the Mackenzie and Mann interests were likely to take over a large part of the stock. His idea was that Sir Rodolphe and his friends were engineering a coup."

Wall Street Notes

New York, March 8—Americans in London 1.8 to 1.2 lower; consols 73 3/16, of 1-1/2. J. P. Morgan's doctor says he has been suffering from nervous prostration, but soon will be well. The California commission says it cannot approve the Union Pacific plan. Unse court approves it today, the syndicate dissolves. Lackwanna will file its answer to the government suit today.

The business situation shows continued activity in trade. In leather there is a steady demand and prices are firmly held. Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, say fall business in dry goods is assuming large proportions. The Union Pacific matter is hanging over the market. Traders are waiting for the developments. Investors are buying when prices touch their views. The sold-out conditions make some shorts anxious about their commitments. Any real good news would cause a scramble to export. Market is largely professional. Expect to see loans and deposits decrease except today to take care and save the reserve of the banks. Reading continues to be well bought. A Cp. short interest is large. The good stocks can be bought on recessions. Industrials affected some by the coming tariff changes. Steel has a large short interest.

METHODISTS FAVOR LAURIER POLICY

Toronto, March 15—With a South African veteran in the chair, the Methodist Young Men's Club of the Metropolitan church endorsed the Liberal policy for a Canadian navy. "Keep up the fight for true Canadianism," said a telegram sent to Sir Wilfrid. The vote was taken after three meetings at which the naval question was fully discussed.

TAKE VOTE AS TO STRIKE

Chicago, March 15—A strike vote of 6,000 local members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is expected to be held by the union on Saturday. The new, vice-president of the brotherhood, said he was confident the vote would be in favor of making a demand for a new contract for the terms which have been refused the committee on negotiations. The demands do not involve longer pay except for overtime and night and Sunday work. The strikers are not affected. Nineteen roads are affected.

AS WIFE AND MOTHER

Wives according to a male observer, are generally better mothers than they are wives. The reason, he thinks, is due to the fact that women have been mothers from the beginning of the human race, but they have only been wives (in the modern sense) for a few centuries. As most people know, in ancient days a married woman was not so much her lord's wife as his servant or chattel. The result is that womanhood are adept as mothers, but more novice as wives. It is true, the authority admits, that there are women who love their husbands more than their children, but these are exceptional cases. It will take hundreds of years, we are sure, before woman rises to a full conception of her place as a wife.

REMARKABLE CASES OF TATTOOED PEOPLE

One Man Literally Walking Picture Gallery — King George Wears Flying Dragon on Arm

(London Tit-Bits) Although the practice of tattooing is strictly forbidden in the Scriptures—for in Leviticus it is stated, "Ye shall not make any cutting in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you"—the fashion of decorating the skin with religious subjects seems to be steadily growing. According to a London tattoo artist, he is often called upon to tattoo hymns, texts and copies of famous religious pictures on the bodies of religious enthusiasts as well as original symbolical designs. A well-known bishop has upon his upper arm a representation of the Sun of Righteousness and a cross crushing the head of a hideous dragon typifying sin, while a young clergyman has a picture of a skull with a serpent strutting its head through one of the eye-sockets and a radiant butterfly flitting away, symbolical of death and eternity.

HUNDRED YEARS OLD TOMORROW

Oromocto Man Still Hearty — Mrs. Lenihan of Fredericton Dead Fredericton, March 15—(Special)—Timothy McCarthy of Oromocto will, tomorrow, celebrate the 100th anniversary of his birth. He was born in Ireland and has lived in Oromocto for fifty years. He is well in enjoyment of good health and in possession of all his faculties. He has ninety-five descendants.

Mrs. Mary J. Lenihan, wife of Daniel Lenihan, died this morning after a brief illness. She was sixty years of age and leaves her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Herman McClatchey of Vancouver, B. C. and one sister, Mrs. Frank McCaffrey, residence in Boston. Continued wet weather here is causing the snow to melt very rapidly. A protest has been entered against the candidature of Samuel Hallett for mayor of the city of St. John on account of his holding the office of J. C. R. station master.

PERSONALS

G. W. Parker returned to day from Ottawa. W. B. McKenzie of Moncton, chief engineer for the I. C. R., passed through the city today on his way home. Rev. Miles Howland of Fredericton passed through the city this morning on his way to Newcastle. The condition of Dr. H. G. Addy, who has been very ill, was reported as being unchanged today.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I. D. Sparks wishes to announce that, although not connected with the St. John Sanitary Co., he is prepared to do any work as promptly and as reasonably as possible.

TO PRISON FOR A MONTH

More Destruction of Letters in London by The Suffragettes

London, March 15—Marjorie Masters, a militant suffragette school teacher, who threw a pot of green paint through a window of the Home Office, was sentenced today to a month's imprisonment. A male anti-suffragette harangued a crowd outside the headquarters of the militant suffragette society and shouted to the people "That's the place which ought to be burned down." The police arrested him. He was bound over to keep the peace. The anti-suffragette today opened another very active campaign of destruction of the mails. A large force of police has been placed on special duty to guard against these outrages and to arrest the criminals.

THE BALTIMORE EXPLOSION

The explosion of 800 tons of dynamite on a steamer, where 54 lives were lost, hurled debris for five miles. The scene was at Baltimore. The picture is that of the steamer Jason, the wireless room, which was a mile distant at the time of the explosion.

PRIZE WINNERS. The prize winners at the 'Prentice Boys' Fair last night were—Nine pins, a bowl, Harry Norris; bagatelle, a mercurium Ernest Perry; excelsior, a clock, J. Morris; air gun, a pickle dish, J. Pollock.

A LITTLE FLOOD. The heavy rains last night caused a small flood on the Old Westmorland Road beyond, Cooper's corner. At one place the water in the middle of the road was almost knee deep.

DEATH OF A BOY. The death of John Michael Orens, the twelve year old son of James E. Orens, of Manawagonish road occurred on Friday afternoon in the General Public Hospital. He had been ill for a month with jaundice, but death was due to complications which set in later. He is survived by his parents and three sisters. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his father's home to St. Rose's church and thence to the Sand Cove cemetery, where the interment will be made.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT. Near Oakeshock a few evenings ago a young man, who was travelling with a minute photo machine, was injured by the explosion of flash powder while making a picture by flashlight. It is thought that a large quantity of the powder got into the lighting apparatus unknown to the operator, and in lighting the powder, it exploded, wrecking the machine and injuring the young man so badly that he may lose the sight of both eyes. The accident is particularly regrettable on account of the fact that the young man was working his way through college, and this unfortunate accident has proved a bitter disappointment to him. It is understood he will go to the United States for treatment by a specialist.

SHOCKING TALE OF SIN AND DEATH; CHILD IS VICTIM

Toronto, Ont., March 15—"I am ashamed to think that such immorality exists in this fair city of churches and Christian people and that it is allowed to exist is almost beyond belief. If Mrs. Stein's story is true, the young girl, who was living in one of Toronto's main streets, was taken away by a woman, ostensibly to do some shopping, but was landed in an office in King street, where her ruin was accomplished. This woman is nothing more than a fiend incarnate, and I know of no law strong enough for the back of the man who did the deed." So Coroner W. A. Young prefaced his remarks to the jury who looked into the death of Amy Stein at the general hospital on March 6, at the morgue last night. The jurors found that the girl, who had just passed her fourteenth year, died from septic peritonitis, caused by immoral living. They urged that the woman who procured the girl be arrested, with the man who seduced her downward.

LASH FOR WIFE BEATER

Big Brutal Toronto Prisoner Cowed by Magistrate's Sentence Toronto, March 15—Robert Wilson, a big, broad-shouldered piano-mover, stood in the prisoners' dock in the police court and heard his wife, a frail, delicate woman tell in a sob-broken voice of his brutal treatment. He had struck her repeatedly with his fists and kicked her on the body over the hours. The assault was committed in the presence of a mission-worker, who described its nature to the court. "I am going to give you a little of your own medicine," said the magistrate, "I am going to send you to jail for thirty days, and as soon as you get in you will receive ten lashes, and another ten will be given to you ten days before your sentence expires." So surprised was the husky prisoner at the sentence that he could scarcely essay the passage to the cells without assistance.

THE FIREMEN'S DEMAND

New York, March 15—Railroad firemen have not received their proper share in revenue gains of the eastern railroads during the last ten years, according to the statement of W. J. Lauck, of Washington, a statistician, testifying for the firemen before the arbitration board in the dispute over the men's demands for increased pay and better working conditions. Mr. Lauck declared: "The exceedingly large share which stockholders have received from the railroads during recent years as compared with wage payments to the locomotive firemen is apparent. It is evident also that locomotive firemen could be given increased rates of remuneration without interference with the returns to capital invested in the properties or prejudice in any way the interests of stockholders." The accuracy of Mr. Lauck's computation was questioned by the railroad's expert.

KING STREET EAST PROPERTY SOLD

Fred Connell has purchased from Captain French the residential property in King street East, at present occupied by Angus Chalmers. The following real estate transfers have been recorded during the last few days: City of St. John to T. P. Parr, a property in Lancaster for $200; P. L. Cozman, et al to F. L. Gardner, a property in Winslow street, West St. John; Timothy Donovan to R. G. Thomson, a property in Queen street, West St. John; trustees of C. S. Knistead to W. A. Pearce, a property in West St. John; J. W. Long to J. R. Cameron, a property in Lancaster; North American Life Assurance Co. to Timothy Collins, a property in St. Martin's; John Wilson to David Taylor, a property at Musquoddy for $200.

BRITISH ARMY ESTIMATES

London, March 15 — The estimated amount which the House of Commons is to be asked to appropriate this year for the expenditure on the British army is $141,100,000 against $139,300,000 last year, an increase of $1,800,000. The sum of $1,170,000 is to be devoted to aviation.

ROBT. REFORO IS DEAD IN MONTREAL

Closely Connected With Advance of St. John as Port

IS WELL REMEMBERED HERE

Last Visit Was as Chairman of Dominion Transportation Commission—H. C. Schofield (Will go to Montreal to Attend The Funeral

Robert Reford, president of the Robert Reford Company Ltd., and one of Montreal's most prominent citizens, died in Montreal at two o'clock this morning in his 52nd year, after being in indifferent health since last summer. Mr. Reford was born in Belfast, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1845. He married Miss Drummond of Stirling, Scotland, who survives together with three sons and two daughters. Robert Wilson Reford, connected with the firm; Andrew Reford, Dr. Lewis L. Reford, Mrs. Hartland B. Macdougall and Miss Kate Reford, all of Montreal. Mr. Reford was a governor of McGill University and during the campaign carried on last year donated more than $100,000 to the university. He was president of the Crown Trust Company, president of the Mount Royal Milling and Manufacturing Company, and a director of the Bank of Toronto and the Lake of the Woods Milling Company and Nova Scotia Steel Company.

The death of Mr. Reford will be heard with regret in this city owing to the prominent part the local office of the Robert Reford Co. Ltd. plays in the shipping business of the port and its surroundings. Mr. Reford will be remembered personally by many citizens from his last visit to St. John. This was in 1908 when he was here as chairman of the Dominion Transportation Commission. The commission made a careful investigation into matters relating to the facilities at St. John and their reports on the subject proved to be of great value. During the sittings of the commission Mr. Reford, who was a man of dignified and paternal regard, made a marked impression by the fair-minded manner in which he conducted the hearings and by his unflinching courtesy and kindness towards those with whom he came in contact. Mr. Reford was a governor of McGill University and during the campaign carried on last year donated more than $100,000 to the university. He was president of the Crown Trust Company, president of the Mount Royal Milling and Manufacturing Company, and a director of the Bank of Toronto and the Lake of the Woods Milling Company and Nova Scotia Steel Company.

THE POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning the case of Oscar Nelson, charged with stealing a suit of clothes and $14.00 from Manual Grenme, a fellow seaman on the S. S. Knistford, was continued. Nelson said he received $12.00 from the boatman to purchase some liquor, and that he got permission from William Kelly, another sealer, to use his clothes. He admitted that the clothes found on him were Grenme's but said that he took them in mistake for Kelly's. Robert Owen, the boatman testified that he did not give the prisoner any money on the night in question. William Kelly, seaman, said that he knew nothing of the Nelson's going ashore and that he did not give him permission to use his clothes. The prisoner was allowed to make a statement and contended that the boatman did give him the money and the other money that he had at the time was his own. He was remanded. Two men charged with drunkenness were fined $4 or ten days in jail and one was fined $8 or thirty days on the same charge.

HER 33RD BIRTHDAY

Boston Globe, Thursday.—In the best of health despite her advancing years, Mrs. Hannah Pitt of Cambridge is today observing her 33rd birthday. A family gathering at the Pitt home, 139 Cambridge street, opened the day's festivities. Many friends from Cambridge and vicinity paid their respects during the afternoon, and the venerable woman was remembered with floral offerings and other gifts. Mrs. Pitt was born in St. John, N. B. She married in 1850, Enoch Pitt, and after his death, twenty years ago, moved to Cambridge. She is a familiar figure in the Inman square district of Cambridge, for years attending herself to the family marketing. She is an old-time member of the Presbyterian church, Inman Square. There are five children: Dr. Chas. F. Pitt, a dentist of Cambridge; Dr. Thomas S. Pitt, a former Boston specialist; Prof. James S. Pitt, a wireless inventor; Henry Pitt, a merchant of St. John, and Miss Maude A. Pitt, of Cambridge.

THE RIVER STEAMERS

Many throughout North End are awaiting with interest the return of Jarvia Purdy from the states, where he has been for about a week or more looking after the purchase of a new steamer for the river service. He is accompanied by Joseph Williams, steamboat engineer, and it is said that they have looked with favor upon a boat which may ultimately be purchased. Mr. Purdy and Williams are expected to return about the first of the week. The work of renovating the river steamers in their winter quarters at Indiantown is now going on and they will be ready for service at the first sign of the opening of navigation. Talk of any change in regard to service routes, etc., is as yet premature, as is rumor concerning the coming of new steamers for the river. It is the expectation of those familiar with the steamer service that all the steamers will again be on the run this summer.

STREET CARS AND CHURCHES

A correspondent writes:—"In London, England, the street cars, on Sunday, were not allowed to run from 11 o'clock a. m. but worked all the rest of the day, so that the conductors who had a hard week's work could rest and could keep the Sabbath morning service with their wives and children in a civilized country."

Each season it seems as if we could go no farther, and yet this Spring we are as far ahead of last, as last Spring we were ahead of the previous years. The showing includes the new things for the men as well as the boys. We Will Distribute Free On Monday 2,500 Pots of Shamrock Following our usual custom, an event that has met with so much favor and enthusiasm in former years, we will on Monday, in honor of St. Patrick's Day, distribute 2,500 tiny pots of growing shamrock. These shamrock were grown in Canadian soil from seed imported direct from Ireland. They fairly breathe of old Ireland and her patron Saint. The Hours of Distribution Will Be From 9 a. m. to Noon KING STREET COR. GERMAIN GREATER OAK HALL SCOVIL BROS., LIMITED St. John, N. B.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED

Old Falacy That Drunkenness Cannot be Cured Exploded

Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whiskey, however, has undermined the constitution and created a craving that is not to be denied, and the man must have whiskey or something that will remove the craving and build up the system and restore the nerves.

Read what Mrs. G. of Hull says of it and what it did for her:
"It is four months today since I started to use your remedy. I followed the directions and had the best of results. One week after I started using your remedy the patient stopped drinking and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your remedy wherever tried, I remain,

WAS GIVEN VERY HEARTY WELCOME

C. L. Harrigan's Visit to Old St. John Home

THE RAIN AND THE RIVERS

Former Policeman to North Shore

The Streets of the North End

Getting Ready in Mills to Resume Operations

Many boyhood friends welcomed heartily to their home city a few days ago a former North Ender, Cornelius L. Harrigan, and sympathized with him upon the message which brought him here, for he had come in haste across the continent to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Harrigan, before she passed away. He spent several days with her before she died, and made her last hours as comfortable as possible. He has now departed upon his return trip to the home in Sanger, California, but it will be some time before he reaches there, as he intends visiting some of the cities on the Atlantic seaboard before going back, and also has some business matters to attend to in Kentucky.

When about sixteen years of age Mr. Harrigan left his home in Indiantown and went to the states. He drifted about for some little time finally landing in California, and there he located permanently, and to him it can be truly said it was a veritable "golden" west. He has succeeded there and is now comfortably settled with an interest in several enterprises, the most active of which is a large general merchandise establishment, known as the "Minkler Cash Store," selling a wide variety of goods of everyday necessity. He is located in Sanger, which is the centre of a busy community, and in which he has found it most profitable to conduct his business.

Mr. Harrigan has an interest in the hotel business in that place also and for quite a while, in his earlier days, devoted much of his time to the management of a large hotel which he owned himself. His visit to Kentucky is occasioned because of financial interests in ranching and stock raising in the far west, and for the purpose of securing some new thoroughbred stock.

He has now been away from his old home about sixteen years. He was on a visit here about nine years ago, and while he noticed many changes of interest in that place, the improvements he said during his visit (which all but a year, were far more conspicuous) he said he had seen since in the new world into which from small villages with not half the possibilities possessed by St. John, and he has now returned to his old home, his winter port should not at last come into its own, taking its place with Montreal, Liverpool, New York and other great shipping centres.

During his visit here Mr. Harrigan was warmly welcomed by his friends and relatives. Old school mates with whom he used to romp the woods about Pokok and who for the most part are now settled, as he is, with a wife and family to look after, found him just the same in spirit and disposition as he was twenty years ago. He has several relatives in the city, amongst whom might be mentioned his sister, Mrs. Thomas Carroll and Mrs. Frank McManis, and his uncles, Jeremiah, Daniel, Michael and Timothy Harrigan.

The heavy rains of yesterday and last night, coupled with the extreme mildness of a few days previous, have weakened the ice both in the Kennebec and in the St. John rivers, but in the former more noticeably than in the main channel. Should it continue for a few days longer there is no doubt that the ice would soon disappear. The North End men who have been engaged during the last few months in fabricating the ice for the Kennebec have abandoned the little colony which they had established at "the island" and returned to their homes. The season was a most successful one and they made many large catches for which they were well rewarded. Some of them continued fishing right up to within a day or two, although the market for the gasperanz had fallen off materially about a week ago.

Silas Perry of North End, formerly of the local police force, has accepted a position in Campbellton, as a member of the force of that town. This position was offered to him through Chief of Police Hughes, also a former St. John policeman. Perry will leave tomorrow for Campbellton.

The condition of the streets about North End during the last day or two has been rather bad. Large quantities of snow had been left in the roadway and when the soft spell came its melting caused much running water which, because of the gutters being choked, could not find its way through any kind of a direct course to the sewers, and in consequence of the sidewalks being used as substitutes pedestrians suffered inconvenience and discomfort. The people are very thankful, therefore, for the rain because the streets are now much cleaner, although in some sections along Main Street, not all about North End, the sand and pebbles washed down from the roadway have not added much to the pleasure of walking along the sidewalk.

Within a fortnight it is expected that some of the lumber mills about the North End will again be in operation after the rest during the winter months. Repair work is now in progress in all the plants, and in some cases a crew has been at work steadily through the winter attending to the repairing and general overhauling of machinery and equipment to prepare for the start in the spring. It is understood that the "big mill" of Stetson & Cutler at Indiantown, will be under way again about the latter part of the month, but others will not resume for about a fortnight afterwards, or possibly longer.

London, March 15.—(Special Correspondence) Ellen Terry's son, back by Sir Howard de Walden, starts one — for once Shaw has failed to draw.

Madame Sarah Bernhardt was painfully injured in an automobile accident in California last Wednesday. Both of her ankles were badly wrenched, and she had difficulty in walking.

The death of a famous Canadian actor, Robert McWade, occurred in New York this week. He was the father of Robert McWade, Jr., who was a Harbin favorite in St. John a few years ago.

Her husband, Gilbert Porteus, who looks after the business side of the enterprise, has got together a syndicate who have secured a capital of $20,000 in order to finance Miss Irving.

After "Yankee" we are to have a revival of "Lady Macbeth" followed by "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "The Merchant of Venice."

HAD A DREADFUL COUGH FOR OVER SIX MONTHS.

Thought It Would Turn into Consumption.

Miss Jane Doucette, Point a la Pêche, Que., writes—"Just a few lines of praise I must write on account of your famous remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I had been suffering from a dreadful cough, for over six months, and tried everything but in vain. I thought it was going to turn into consumption. A friend happened to come to my house, and was so frightened when he saw me he nearly dropped. He asked me what I was taking, so I showed him some medicine I had, but he said for me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I bought a bottle and before it was finished I was well, and did not cough a bit. I will recommend your medicine to every suffering friend, for I know it will do good to them just the same as it did me. See that you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Do not accept any imitations. Price, 25 and 50 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TORONTO WOMAN WELL AGAIN

Freed From Bearing Down Pains, Backache and Pain in Side by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Toronto, Ont.—"Last October, I wrote you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of my back, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels and am stronger in every way. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's compound highly to all expectant mothers."—Mrs. E. WANDY, 52 Logan Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

Consider Well This Advice. No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. "men residing in almost every city a town in the United States bear the following testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

OTHER PLAYS HAVE FAILED IN LONDON

(Continued from page 10). But that is a defect easily remedied. Before starting his season in London, Alexander will go on the road for six weeks with "Bella Donna" and as Mrs. Patrick Campbell is now well on towards convalescence, I presume she will accompany him. Granville Barker has not made a fortune out of his revival of "John Bull's Other Island" at the Kingsway; on the contrary business there has been really had—for once Bernard Shaw has failed to draw. Barker is now getting together his company for Arnold Bennett's new play, "The Great Adventure." Bennett's comedy was tentatively done nearly two years ago by Alfred Wearing, manager of the Scotch Repertory Theatre in Glasgow, and seems to have received a hearty welcome there. The basic idea is identical with that used in the same writer's popular novel, "Burdied Alive," although in development there is no great similarity between the two works. Henry Ainley is to play the leading character, which means that "Twelfth Night" at the Savoy must be withdrawn in three or four weeks' time. In the autumn Barker intends taking another theatre for revivals of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Macbeth," done on the same lines as his previous Shakespearean productions. (Gaston Meyer is hard at work engaging his company for "The Yellow Jacket" which is to be given at the Duke of York's about three weeks hence. The part of the prompter has been allotted to Holman Clarke, a popular comedian of a particularly jocular vogue and lugubrious style. Louis Meyer, of the Strand, has been spending a few days in Paris, having a look at the dramatic novelist. Apparently he did not find very much to attract him as he secured only one piece, "La Presidente," by Hennequin & Veber, now drawing crowds to the Palais Royal. Also he endeavored to persuade Sacha Guitry and his wife to cross the channel and have a short season in London. But the wise and cautious Sacha declined to listen to any proposal unless all expenses and salaries were first guaranteed. That did not suit Meyer's book at all, and so the deal is off.

question of state conciliation or arbitration, of pressing urgency, and among parliament and labor leaders, it is generally expected that a bill will be introduced on the lines of Sir George Akshitt's Canadian report. The publication of the report has quieted the fears that existed in some quarters that some form of compulsory arbitration might be suggested. Except in extreme quarters, Sir George Akshitt's pronouncement in favor of the application of the Canadian system in a modified form to this country has roused no strong opposition, and there is little doubt that the general body of trade unionists will be prepared to welcome some mild form of conciliation. It is probable that the two most powerful groups of trade unions—the cotton operatives and the miners, whose combined vote practically dominates the labor party conference—would see nothing to object to in a general extension of conciliation. But with the railway workers and some of the other trades, there is a strong feeling that the right of mandamus strike is too valuable a weapon to be abandoned. The present attitude of the railway men indicates that they are not prepared to surrender this right. In parliamentary circles, there is a belief that if the present ominous signs are not modified by the time parliament resumes, the question of strike legislation will early engage the attention. While we are gravely discussing the blessings of the Canadian system in prevention of strikes, we are being constantly informed by labor papers of extraordinary industrial strife in Canada. For some time past the labor papers in this country have been publishing items relating to industrial conditions, which are calculated to retard not only the emigration of artisans, for whom we are expressing an unprecedented demand from Canada, but to disturb other classes. A London labor paper publishes from a union official in Canada the following:—"The Canadian government, also the provincial governments, are securing the old land for immigrants for Canada. They will stop to lying or anything else to get results. The said results are, in many cases, that hundreds and thousands of the working classes are landed in Canada with very little money and are directed by government officials and other agencies to where labor is supposed to be scarce. "Many times, to their sorrow, they find, on arriving at their destination, that a strike is on. Without funds, and with starvation staring them in the face, they are an easy prey to the scab-hunting agencies in this country. At the present time, there are strikes in nearly every province of Canada. I am sorry to say that the only white men working blacking are English, Scotch and Welsh. In the Bahama Islands, which were settled more than 200 years ago by English, the Cockney dialect is said to be as strong as it is in Chesapeake.

Great Expansion Planned Victoria, B. C., March 15.—If negotiations materialize, the Canadian Explosives Company, Limited, and its allied interests on Vancouver Island, will establish new headquarters for the manufacturing of its products, invest a large sum in the erection of a thoroughly up-to-date plant and greatly increase its output of explosives, chemicals and other products. It is said that the concern has secured an option upon the whole James Island, embracing about 900 acres. In the event of James Island being selected for the site the company will spend nearly $1,000,000 in construction of buildings, installation of machinery, construction of wharves, etc.

"77" FOR GRIP & COLDS

Mention any sickness from Sprue to Gout and every one has a pet remedy to recommend. Mention a Cold or the Grip and nearly every one recommends "Seventy-seven" as their own particular pet remedy. To get best results, take "Seventy-seven" at the first feeling of a Cold—procrastinate, and it may take longer to break up.

It pays to keep "Seventy-seven" handy; it is a small vial of pleasant pellets, fits the vest pocket. At your Druggist, 25c., or mailed. Humphrey's Homeo. Medicine Co., 108 William St., New York.—Advertisement.

A NEW WAY TO REGAIN HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

Long ago, when I first lifted my voice of warning against drugs and patent medicines and began my first great fight in favor of Electricity as a curative agent, I found anything but smooth sailing against superstition and prejudice, but, knowing I was on the right track, I pounded away, backing my judgement with what money I had, and have lived to see the great change of sentiment that has now come over the public. I have done my part in showing that the whole scheme of taking something out of a bottle, a vial, a box, or to have something "rubbed on," in order to regain one's health and strength is principally pure superstition. I have taught that while the drug had a certain known direct effect, it had another and after effect that that could not be foretold; that this after effect, or reaction, often causes other diseases, and produces complications and aggravations that require more drugs and still more drugs to mitigate; that this drugging habit, once entered upon has no end this side of the grave. The old methods are wrong, I tell you; the whole scheme of regaining health and strength by the use of drugs is wrong, and if you feel that your Health and Strength—your vital stamina—are on the wane, if your liver has got in your eye, your heart in your boots, if you are not the Man or Woman, physically or mentally, you would like to be, I can give you the means of getting back the Strength and Vigor you have lost; a process of treatment founded upon common sense; one in which the use of drugs in any form does not enter. Again and again I have preached that "Electricity is Life"; that by building up the nervous energy of the body by a constant and steady infusion of this life force, the causes of seven-tenths of the weaknesses and diseases to which human flesh is heir can be effectively overcome. Do you want proof, Mr. Skeptic? I will give you an abundance of them. "An Ounce of Proof is Worth a Ton of Assertion." Below is a sample of the kind of evidence I have to offer. Write to me and I'll give you more. Dear Sir,—I have praised your Belt at every opportunity, and I cannot say too much about it, as I am a man now. Before I was a wreck. I am pleased to tell you I am quite cured, and that your Belt has done more for me than all the doctors could do in the Old Country. I was laid up for three years, and took a good deal of medicine, but it did me no good. I can only say that your Belt has done wonders for me—almost a miracle, as I was given up for incurable by most of the doctors, and I cannot give you too much praise. I thank you for your interest in me, and any time I can say anything for the benefit of your Belt I will do so, as I think if more tried it it would save a great deal of pain, as I know, by experience, if they follow your advice, it will be a cure for them. Again thanking you for helping me to be a man once more and able to do a good day's work, I remain, W. ATWELL, Bolton, Ont. My Belt is a success. It is a remedy built upon solid scientific fact. Already it is proved that my Belt is a cure for hundreds of ailments that drugs and other remedies have failed to cure. For weak and broken-down men and women my Belt is the only logical remedy—the only effective remedy. My Belt has proved a complete and lasting cure for Indigestion (Dyspepsia), Constipation, Headache, Drowsiness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica, Weakness of the Back, Nervous Debility, General Debility, Sleeplessness (Insomnia), also Female Weakness, Menstrual Complaints, Inflammation, Bearing-down Pains, Dizziness. It improves the blood circulation, it restores lost vitality, it corrects every sign of mental impairment and physical breakdown in Men and Women.

GRAPPE WITH THE EEL OF GAMBLING

Causing Distress Among Poor of England

IS LAW OF ANY AVAIL?

Some Think Not and That Education is Only Way to Overcome it—A New Scheme For Bonus System Among Miners

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, March 14.—Gambling and its enormous increase, especially with regard to football, and the harmful effect it has on the wage-earning classes, was the subject of a meeting convened by the Charity Organization Society, in Denison House, Vauxhall, London, yesterday.

The following resolution was eventually passed:—The Council of the Charity Organization Society believes that the social evils of gambling are being increased by the publication and circulation of bookmakers' advertisements and other inducements to gambling, and accordingly express approval of the betting industry bill introduced last year by Lord Newton.

Among the letters read were the following:—From Lord Sanderson:—Anyone who realizes to what extent the prevalence of gambling operates both to increase poverty and to aggravate the condition of the poor, must feel it is a question in which the Charity Organization Society is deeply interested. At the same time we have to remember that we are aiming at a most difficult kind of social reform, and must be content with slow progress.

John Hawke, of the National Anti-Gambling League, declared that "one of the bookmakers of our admirals" recently authorized that there were times when the decks of the battleships were strewn with betting slips and coupons.

Gerald Wellesley, a cousin of the Duke of Wellington, who has worked for several years at the Eden College Mission in the East End, created a diversion by saying a good word for the bookmaker.

"I am here as a professional gambler," he said. "It is my absolute conviction that no amount of legislation, good, bad, or indifferent, will make any difference to the amount of betting and gambling in this country. I have been gradually convinced, after many years of life among the casuals and the near-dwells in the East End, that the love of gambling is so ingrained in the British public that it will never be got rid of. I am absolutely opposed to legislation against or regulation of gambling."

"When one of my boys comes to ask my advice about gambling, if I were to say it was wrong and try to point out the sinfulness of it and its evil effects, he would go away and gamble, and not seek my advice again. But if I say, 'Go and gamble,' he goes and gambles."

WILL OPPOSE JOSEPH DEVIL

Belfast Accountant to Run Against Nationalist

HOME RULE SITUATION

Letter From Dublin Giving News From Both Sides—Appeal For Funds by Unionists—Redmond Says Self-Government in Few Months

(Times' Special Correspondence) Dublin, Feb. 27.—At a meeting held in the Old Town Hall, the Unionist headquarters, Stewart Blacker Quinn received and acceded to a resolution that he should be the candidate of the party in opposition to Joseph Devlin, the sitting Nationalist member, whose majority in December, 1910, when he was opposed by Sir J. Smiley, was 463, the return being 4,642 against 4,181. Mr. Quinn is the head of a prominent firm of chartered accountants.

Thomas Sinclair, who presided at the meeting, said the organization of the Anti-Home Rule Association ought to present a conclusive answer to the efforts of the Unionist party to prevent the introduction of the Home Rule Bill. He said that the organization of the Anti-Home Rule Association ought to present a conclusive answer to the efforts of the Unionist party to prevent the introduction of the Home Rule Bill.

Lord Donnell, chairman of the other officials of Sir Edward Carson's Union Defence Fund, 1913, has issued an appeal in Belfast for funds to carry on the anti-home rule campaign. In a letter Sir Edward Carson wrote:—

"The vigorous campaign already in active operation throughout the United Kingdom must be carried on without cessation, and I therefore do not hesitate to make the most of the fact that there is no sacrifice which Ulster loyalists are not prepared to make in order to destroy the conspiracy which now aims at the destruction of their civil and religious liberties."

Under the provisions of the Home Rule Bill, a meeting was held in Cork a few days ago to protest against the home rule proposals of the government. The Countess of Bandon presided.

"In a few short months from now," said John E. Redmond, replying to addresses presented to him after he had opened a new bridge over the river Suir at Waterford, "an Irish parliament will be sitting in College Green."

The observation was received with cheers and the Irish leader proceeded to say he believed that, when this blessed day dawned, the last vestige of racial and religious dissensions and differences would disappear as the reptiles from their shores, and all the sons of Ireland would be able to join hands in making the new Irish constitution a success.

"I am as confident of that," he declared, "as I am of my existence. I tell you frankly that, if the success of home rule meant in my mind solely a triumph of one political party over the other, I would not have devoted my life as I have to this cause."

"I do not entertain one single trace of bitterness towards my political opponents of the past. So far from that I am willing to put them in the very forefront in the government of Ireland in the future, as I know their great qualities, and they will be the very salt of the Irish nation when once they make up their minds to join hands with the Nationalists and Catholics of the country."

In conclusion Mr. Redmond remarked that there was a new soul coming to Ireland, that the whole face of the country had already been changed, that there was a spirit of commercial industry alive, and that everywhere there were abundant hopes that the near future would see the removal of Irish poverty, and was he Irish when he said that there were millions of people within the four shores of Ireland who looked with longing eagerness and confidence that they were coming to the near day when these cursed religious dissensions, which had marred their fortunes, and had degraded their history, would be speedily blotted out, and when men of every class, race and creed in Ireland would be content to work together for the interests and welfare of their country?

LLOYD GEORGE, THE MASTERFUL ONE, THE TRIUMPH OF HIS INSURANCE ACT

From Apparent Defeat to Glorious Victory Won by Merit of the Measure and Pluck of Its Originator—T. P. O'Connor Writes of the British Chancellor

(By T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P.)

London, March 14.—I repeat to my statement so often repeated that politicians vary in their fortunes from hour to hour. At one moment they are in the full enjoyment of popularity and in the enjoyment, apparently, of tremendous power; the next they are removed from the public eye and for the moment their power seems to have disappeared.

The Case of Sir Charles Dike. Again public men by the accidents of fortune are at one moment doing the very best work for which they are best suited by their intellectual gifts and by their temperament, and the next hour they are thrown into the post for which they have no inclination and no special gifts. Every politician has at one moment in the career of the late Sir Charles Dike. When first he entered official life, he was under-secretary for foreign affairs; there never was a man better fitted to an office. He had travelled all over the world; he had studied the politics of almost every nation, and he had almost as many friends among statesmen as he had enemies among the public.

Then there was a vacancy in the cabinet, and Sir Charles Dike was called upon to fill it. He had to answer questions in the House of Commons, he had to give evidence before the House of Lords, he had to give evidence before the House of Commons, he had to give evidence before the House of Lords, he had to give evidence before the House of Commons, he had to give evidence before the House of Lords.

Lloyd George's Position. All this is preliminary to a discussion of the position of Lloyd George, who, in every respect, was a man of the highest quality. He was a man of the highest quality. He was a man of the highest quality. He was a man of the highest quality.

Began to Dark. And one by-election was fought after another on the insurance act alone and the effects which had been so industriously organized. And one by-election followed another with a defeat of the Liberal candidate.

But those who knew him well and those who were accustomed to these ups and downs of his temperament, never forgot the strong rock of firmness that lay under his apparently shifting sands. And was he not his friend was out of the entanglement.

HON. DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

home rule for Ireland had appealed to him from that day when he heard Michael Davitt in a small meeting in Wales and already Davitt found a willing listener in the young man who had dreamed of the creation of a similar movement for his own country.

But Mr. Lloyd George was unable to speak more than a few times in the home rule debate. Similarly there was no cause in which Mr. Lloyd George was known to feel more deeply than the disestablishment of the alien church of the rich man of the old Wales. But, again Mr. Lloyd George spoke only a few times on the Welsh bill. Out of eight, out of nine, out of ten, he spoke only a few times.

What He Was Doing. The explanation of course was quite simple. Mr. Lloyd George all this time was deep in the interminable details, the endless controversy of the insurance act. He had to spend nearly every hour from the time he got up till the hour at which he went to bed, in meeting the desperate and the wicked campaign that was being waged against his bill.

The Battle Won. It was toward the closing days of the old prolonged session that Mr. Lloyd George felt himself at liberty at last to emerge more into the full light of the parliamentary arena. His enemies had been foolish enough to challenge him on the insurance act. They attacked him when he had already won the battle. The doctors had begun to appreciate the significance of the act which was working for them and on their families; the members of the country had begun to receive the maternity benefit. Above all, it had been proved that the tide which had been running so high against the bill had begun to ebb at last.

Another Great Project. And now he approached another great epoch in his life. He had been already preparing for months his new land campaign, reading innumerable books, poring over the reports of the committee of investigation, looking straight in the face at the difficulties of an immensely complicated problem—especially in an old country, and before many months are over he will be in the middle of as great a fight as any he has hitherto faced. Then it will be seen that during all these months when he has been seeing his entrance act through and approving his public appearance he has, to use a good old Irish phrase—been only basking for

Cost of Living in Germany Goes on Growing

GREAT NATIONAL PARK

Government Reserving Large Section—Working Out of Project For Compulsory Insurance of Employees Earning up to $1,250 a Year

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Berlin, Feb. 27.—There has been no halt recently in the upward trend of the cost of living in Germany. Last December saw a marked rise in the price of meat, as compared with the two previous months, October and November. Not only so, but the price for January show that the "meat famine" is becoming ever more acute.

Two kinds of meat of which the people eat most are pork and bacon, and the prices of these two kinds have risen to such a greater extent than in the case with the others. The purchase of meat by the people is rapidly decreasing, and the people must hunger so that the agrarian junkies may get high prices.

Natural reservations are no new thing in America, where each territory as the Yellowstone Park in the U. S. A., and the Algonquin Park in Ontario, Canada, have become national institutions. But it is of more than passing interest to note that the lead is being followed by Germany.

The government has reserved the country situated between the valleys of Spessart and Wildenberg for the purpose of "nature reserve." It is to be bounded on every side by a broad ditch, within which boundaries the cutting of wood or any other agricultural or industrial enterprise is forbidden. Only professed botanists will be allowed to pick the wild flowers, and even each permit will be granted only under the most stringent conditions, since as is stated in the official minutes, it is of the greatest scientific value that certain species have been practically annihilated in the Harz and in the Rhine Valley. Great efforts are being made to reform the land system of Germany.

Employer's Insurance. An increase in expenditure aggregating $18,750,000 and chargeable to the cost of production, at a time when the enormous deficit of the Reichstag after Easter.

Another Great Project. The newspapers announce that the war office has completed its estimates for the estimates total about $5,000,000, and will form part of the new army bill to be submitted to the Reichstag after Easter.

Very few people die of age. D. DEATH FIGURES OF INTEREST

The Chief Causes and the Occupations of Man They Most Frequently Associate With—The Romance of Will That Was Written in a Book

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Paris, March 14.—A decoration conferred on Mlle. Helene Dutrieu, the first aviator whom the ribbon of the Legion of Honor has been awarded, could be as of her wonderful record in aviation. Of all the women who took to flying, she is the only one who has kept pace with the leading aviators, and has in many instances surpassed them in her achievements. Her first flight was on a "Demogogus" of M. Santos-Dumont. Then she practiced for a while on a Sommer biplane at Beaulieu, in the Ardennes, and the next that was heard of her was that she was making sensational records at "Lige" where, unfortunately she had a very serious accident, which nearly cost her her life.

Having recovered, Mlle. Dutrieu returned to France, and made flights on a Farman biplane. Her best performance, in 1910, was on the very last day of the year, Dec. 31, when she won the Coupe Femina. It was also a test as to who could support the biting cold longer—Mlle. Dutrieu, who flew for three long hours, or the time-keeper, who, with their usual manly vanity, had imagined that it would all be over in five minutes.

Mlle. Dutrieu afterwards made daring flights in Spain, Italy, Belgium, and Holland. She won a cup for speed given by the King of Italy, and in America she won prizes for duration and for altitude records. Last December she won, for the second time, the Femina cup, by a flight of 150 miles.

Preparing For the Arctic. The official French expedition to Franz Josef Land will be under M. Jules de Payer, son of the Austrian Captain de Payer, who commanded an Asiatic expedition that discovered Franz Josef Land in 1873. M. Jules de Payer, who is a French citizen, has for some time been preparing himself for work in the Arctic regions by his studies at the Observatory Faculty of Science and the Meteorological Bureau. The program of the expedition has been approved by the government, and M. de Payer has been authorized to recruit members of the party from the army and the navy. His staff will consist of a naval lieutenant, a midshipman, two captains of the merchant navy, an army and a navy doctor, a military aviator and a geologist. The object of the expedition is to explore the little-known northeastern portion of Franz Josef Land.

A base will be established in the archipelago formed by Zey Land, Liv, Eva Adelade, and Hvideland Islands. In order to avoid the disaster which befell Commander Payer's expedition when his ship, Tegethoff, was crushed to pieces by ice, the ship of this expedition will not winter in the Arctic zone. M. de Payer proposes to pass the winter at the base in scientific observations and in preparation for summer work, when a most varied program of scientific investigation will be executed by means of a boat fitted with auxiliary power and two aeroplanes.

Cutlery Kept Clean and Bright

Sprinkle a little Old Dutch Cleanser on a damp cloth and rub over the wet knife or fork. Then wash and dry thoroughly. Spots, rust, fruit stains and discolorations disappear instantly.

FRANCE DOES HONOR TO A NOTED WOMAN

The liquor trade Paris statistics show that there are nearly three times as many cases of consumption between the ages of thirty-five and fifty-five as in any other occupation. Cancer is rarest among farmers, railwaymen and miners, but not so rare among quarrymen. Cab and wagon drivers are frequently attacked by cancer. This disease is extraordinarily frequent among chimney sweeps, brewers, and sailors in the merchant marine, but only the average number of fishermen die of it. Diabetes especially abounds among the liberal professions. Lawyers, doctors, druggists and clergymen are the greatest sufferers, and after them come in order: butchers, printers, dyers, and commercial travelers. The liquor trade is at the top of the list in the affections of the nervous system. Nervous diseases are far from being chic in Paris, for next to the sellers of drink in this particular form of trouble come street hawkers, casual laborers, and lime manufacturers. After examining a hundred other diseases, such as influenza, pleurisy, digestive and other troubles of all kinds, Doctor Bertillon turns his attention to suicide. Here again the liquor trade heads the list, followed in order by druggists, hatters, hairdressers, butchers, glass-makers, potters, cabmen, and metal workers. If any moral can be drawn from the statistics it is that diabetes in Paris is the only disease which has any pretence to respectability, and that the safest profession of all is that of a clergyman, for, according to Doctor Bertillon's statistics, clergymen have fewer diseases and live longer than anyone else.

EMPIRE NAVY PLUG CHEWING TOBACCO

What the A. B. Seaman Says: "A sailor's life is bold and free, and life is one grand sweet song—as long as there's lots of Empire Navy Plug Chewing Tobacco."

He made excellent progress and the number of volumes soon became amazing. He had them bound and gave them to his relatives and friends to read, and was highly commended by them. On page 540 of the 11th volume he wrote a will leaving his fortune (about $80,000) to various friends. At the 17th volume he died.

As none of his friends had the fortitude and perseverance to make their way as far as page 540 of the 11th volume, they all remained in complete ignorance of this will, and the next-of-kin took the fortune. A short time ago—that is, about ten years later—purely by chance, the will was discovered, and now the friends named in the will have begun an action to recover the fortune. The Academie Francaise may also plead for a share to the amount of $4,000 under the will.

The Question of Food Professor Armand Gautier has been asked to discover exactly what a human being ought to eat to be in good health, and in perfect spirits. This question has been so often mooted and so deeply studied by German scientists that Professor Gautier was embarrassed. But he suddenly hit upon an ingenious idea. The best thing was to take the average Parisian as an example. A real, proper Parisian, he argued, is always happy, always in good health, and in perfect spirits, and he is, moreover, an omnivorous being. He does not hesitate to devour other animals, his inferior brethren, in the shape of meat of all kinds, and he is at the same time an eclectic vegetarian without exception. Testosterone, for he will take his wine and even his abstinence when he can afford it. What the Parisian ate, again, can be established to a nicety from the retail receipts, which, compared with the number of inhabitants, will give the right quotient.

HEADACHY, BILIOUS, UPSET? "CASCARETS"

Bilious, Throbbing Headache Means Bowels Are Clogged and Liver Stagnant—You Need Cascarets. You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes, your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleansing up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. Cascarets— they clear bowels, stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

NO PROFANITY. "I am not in the habit of swearing, and I am not going to start now," declared Mrs. Albert Goodfield when asked to swear on the Testament at the Durban Civil Court. WATTLE DAY

"Wattle Day," which was observed by Australians in London, recalls the curious fact that nobody knows who discovered Australia. The honor has been claimed for the Chinese, Malay, French, Vietnamese and Spaniards, while cryptic references to a southern continent were made by Greeks and Romans. Probably the secret lies hidden among the voluminous records of the Dutch East India Company in the state archives at the Hague.

"Do you mean that purl with the spots on her face?"

Overheard in a Street-Car. There's a lesson right there! Little blemishes of complexion, small sores, eruptions, spots, are not only unpleasant to the person afflicted, but are the first thing noticed by other people. A little Zam-Buk applied at night to spots, eruptions, sores of any kind will do wonders. Zam-Buk is not a greasy preparation which will go rancid on your dressing table. It is made from healing, herbal extracts and essences. Always pure, fresh and ready for use. Doesn't lose its power. Keeps indefinitely. Healing, soothing and antiseptic all the time. Try it! 50c. box all druggists and stores.

NEWS LETTER FROM BERLIN

(Continued from page 12). rise in the price of foodstuffs has necessitated a general increase in wages and consequently a material reduction in profits in spite of greater output, while the average for trade in the foreign market is becoming increasingly severe owing to greater competition, this is the outlook which confronted the German manufacturer at the beginning of the year 1913. For that sum represents the burden to be borne by all employers of "higher grade employees" following the introduction of the new law on the compulsory insurance of employees earning up to $1,200 per annum. This new measure, the cost of which will be borne entirely by the employers and employees equal shares, is designed to provide for employees a pension on attaining the age of 65, or before reaching that age in case of incapacity for work, and in the case of death the widow and children also will be entitled to a pension. Every employer of men and women, whose work is of a manual or mechanical nature, over sixteen years of age, and whose salary is under $1,200 per annum, must be insured. The monthly contributions to be paid are on a sliding scale according to the number of employees. The entire administration of this new branch of insurance is vested in the employment office and the employer does not contribute in any form to the cost. The central power is entrusted to a director appointed for life by the emperor, and two representatives, each of the employers and employees, elected by each party. The director and the permanent officials employed in the central offices in Berlin are the sole persons connected with the scheme who are not chosen by both parties directly concerned; the director is responsible to the imperial chancery. A board chosen for five years to assist the director, and from among the employers and the same number of delegates of the employees chosen for five years to assist the director. In addition, local committees formed of an equal number of elected representatives of both parties will be formed to deal with insurance matters requiring their attention within their sphere of activity. Arbitration boards also will be provided empowered to settle all disputes regarding insurance claims.

During the first ten years the insured will not have the right to claim any benefits, an exception, however, has been made in the case of female employees, who will be entitled to benefits after five years. The old age pension payable on attaining the age of sixty-five, the invalidity pension paid in the case of incapacity for work, depends upon the total amount of contributions paid by and on behalf of the insured, and amount to one-fourth of the total contributions paid in during the first ten years of insurance, with an additional one-eighth of the contributions paid after the first ten years. This an employee who continuously earned between $70 and $1,000 per annum (total monthly contribution $5), would at the end of ten years be entitled to a pension of $10 per annum, i. e., one-quarter of $40, the total contributions paid in during that period. After twenty years, assuming the same salary, he would receive a pension amounting to $27.20, i. e., one-quarter of the $100 paid in during the first ten years, and one-eighth of the $200 contributed during the subsequent fifteen years, equal to $120 plus $122.50. After thirty years, under the same conditions, he would retire on a pension of $40 per annum. It is evident that the benefits depend upon the length of time which the employee has been insured, and the longer he has carried a high salary the higher will be his pension be.

The widow's pension (or widower's if his wife maintained her husband by her own earnings), amounts to two-fifths of the pension her husband received at the time of his death, or to which he would have been otherwise entitled to claim, and on her remarriage she is paid a lump sum in final settlement equal to three years' pension. Each child is entitled to an annual allowance up to the age of eighteen, the amount corresponding to one-fifth of the widow's pension (or one-third in the case of orphans). It is interesting to note that the law provides that this allowance shall also be paid to illegitimate orphans of insured females.

Another provision contained in this new branch of German social reform entitles an insured person to receive an allowance during convalescence, if he has been incapacitated for work through sickness for a period of at least twenty-six weeks. On the other hand, if the insurance committee, or the insured himself, are prepared that a special course of treatment will restore an invalid insured employee to good health, and thus relieve the insurance fund, such treatment as is required will be extended, and the cost defrayed out of the insurance funds. No provision against sickness is made, and the object of the new measure is solely to relieve the employee of anxiety regarding his old age or his own and his family's fate in the event of his disablement or death.

after he leaves the company's service. This is absolutely vital.

2. The workman is furnished with a booklet, in which he sets down every year the rate and amount of the bonus, the amount standing to his credit, and the interest up on it for the preceding year. 3. Only men who have been five years in the service of the company are entitled to participate. The qualifying period has been recently reduced to four years, and we may presently reduce it to three years' service. Lower than this I do not propose to go. 4. The company reserves to itself the right to modify the regulations governing the fund. 5. The wages of capital have been fixed at 3 per cent, which is very low for such a risky business as mining. The workman who fulfills the above conditions is credited with a percentage on his wages equivalent to any dividend above 8 per cent, distributed to the shareholders. The main advantages of a scheme on these lines are:— (1) The capitalist makes no sacrifice until he has received a reasonable rate of interest on his capital. (2) The worker makes no sacrifice, and he accepts no conditions, and there is, therefore, no ground for any discussion with the trade union on the matter. A further important point in the scheme is that the bonus is not distributed annually. A bonus distributed year by year should be tantamount to an increase in wages to the workmen in the more profitable collieries, and could not be applied in the South Wales coal field without producing serious discontent among the workmen in the less profitable collieries. The workman must have a living wage wherever he is working, and the present system of regulating wages cannot well be abandoned. A bonus scheme which accumulated capital for the worker by a definite share of profits would not be open to legislation against or regulation of gambling.

GRAPPLE WITH THE EVIL OF GAMBLING

(Continued from page 12). You're a mug if you do, because you don't know anything about it, but you can't lose more than the few coppers you've got in your pocket. It loses and probably leaves better. "A more generous and kind-hearted lot than the bookmakers it would be impossible to find. I have found her a help in my neighborhood. Let us have as much good advice as we can get and give, but the legislative measures of the sportsports and the anti-gamblers may never preserve us."

Bonus Scheme For Miners

Vacuum Hythe publishes a special article explaining a bonus scheme for miners, an alternative to wages based on profits. As a grandson of Thomas Brassey, the founder of the famous firm of contractors, he takes a keen interest in the mining industry. He has been in the management to adopt the scheme which he now puts forward for print. Lord Hythe has the plan which he thinks the most happy result in the sulphur mines in Sardinia, which he controls. The scheme is based on the principle that capital has a right to its wages just as the workman has the right to his, and that when the wages of both have been paid the worker has the right to a share in the profits. The principal provisions, which would be applicable to South Wales, are as follows:— 1. The workman cannot withdraw any part of the sum standing to his credit.

A LOVELY BABY BOY

This Mother is quite Enthusiastic over a Well Known Food.

Mrs. J. W. Pateman, 34 Harriet St., Toronto, in writing about Neave's Food, says "When I first knew one of my friends, her baby Jack was eight months old and dying by inches. She had tried three foods because her lack could not digest milk. At last, I fetched her a tin of Neave's Food. At the end of a month, Jack was rapidly gaining flesh and was bright and happy. He is a lovely boy now and she declares Neave's Food saved his life. And it did. Then I recommended it to a friend on Victoria Avenue. She had a baby 6 months old that was not thriving a bit. She put the baby on Neave's Food and at the end of three months, the baby was twice the size. I have never seen two bigger, stronger boys than mine for their ages, and we owe it all to Neave's Food. I have the utmost faith in Neave's Food. Mothers and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book "Hints About Babies" by writing Edwin Utley, 14 Front Street East, Toronto, who is the Canadian agent. Proving by Actual Experiment

This experiment will always interest the children, and will provide a good deal of thinking. The explanation, of course, is that the lighted piece of paper which is inserted into the inverted glass drives out most of the air, so that when the mouth of the glass is quickly put down into the water there is very little air, and consequently, very little pressure above the water within the glass. Hence, the weight or pressure of the air on the water outside the glass drives the water up into the glass to occupy the space from whence the air was driven by the burning paper. A practical demonstration of this kind is always more convincing than any mere statement. This is particularly true of medicinal remedies. The effect of the anti-toxin treatment for diphtheria is noticeable within a few days, and the result is that the broken-down tissues of waste matter which should be carried off if the blood was circulating freely, remains in place, causing inflammation, irritation, oppression of the nerves, etc. ORANGE LILY, absorbed into the circulation, and its antiseptic properties at once act on the waste matter referred to above. The consequence is that this waste matter, which is absorbed into the circulation, and its antiseptic properties at once act on the waste matter, causing the inflammation, ulcers, nervous troubles, etc., begins to be discharged, and it continues to be discharged until all the foreign matter is removed from the system. At the same time the blood vessels and nerves are toned and strengthened, and the nervous trouble disappears, the circulation is restored and good health ensues.

Toronto, Ont., June 2, 1909. Dear Mrs. Currah,—I wish to tell you that Orange Lily is doing me a great deal of good. These ulcers come away one or two every week, and I have less pain and fewer headaches. I feel sure I will be perfectly cured in a little longer time.

Free Trial Offer

I will send to every reader of this notice who writes me a card to a woman if she will send me her address. I will send her a trial bottle of ORANGE LILY treatment to last her 10 days. In making this trial treatment I will give you a very noticeable relief. If you are not satisfied, return the bottle to me, and I will refund you the cost of the trial bottle. This offer, and get cured in the privacy of your home, without doctor's bills or expense of any kind. Send 5 stamps, and address, MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

GIN PILLS PAID FOR SIXTY MILE TRIP

Kidney and Bladder Were Relieved In Short Time

A bad place to get sick up in the mining district, so far from anywhere, but this man found a ready relief shortly after he took GIN PILLS. He was fortunate in being able to get GIN PILLS, even though his chum had to travel sixty miles to obtain them.

Larder Lake, Ont., March 20th. "I had been suffering for some time with my kidneys and urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night. I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief."

In two days, the pain had left entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again. GIN PILLS. SID CASTLEMAN.

AQUATIC

The Lipton Challenge. Royal Ulster Yacht Club, Bangor, County Down, Ireland, Feb. 26, 1913.

To the Secretary of the New York Yacht Club, New York:—Dear Sir:—I am requested by Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., K.C.V.O., to forward you this challenge for the America Cup, subject to the same regulations as governed the last contest, and which proved to be so satisfactory, namely, the best three out of five races over the same course with like starts and other details.

The first race to be sailed on Thursday, the 10th day of September, 1914. The second race to be sailed on Saturday, the 12th day of September, 1914. The third race to be sailed on Tuesday, the 14th day of September, 1914.

Further races, if any, to be sailed on each following Tuesday, Saturday and Tuesday until finished.

I, therefore, on behalf of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, and in the name of Sir Thomas J. Lipton, a member of the club, challenge to sail a series of matches with the yacht Shamrock IV, against any one yacht or vessel constructed in the United States of America for the America Cup.

The following are the particulars of the challenging vessel: Owner—Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., K.C.V.O. Name of yacht—Shamrock IV. Length on load waterline—Seventy-five feet. Rig—Cutter.

The customhouse measurement will follow as soon as the vessel can be measured for registration. In forwarding this challenge I am desired by the committee to say that it is on condition that the cup be defended by a yacht with a length on load waterline not exceeding 75 feet. I shall be much obliged if you will cable the receipt of this challenge.

(Signed) E. F. PATTERSON, Honorary Secretary, Royal Ulster Yacht Club.

Looks Like Champion. Although the result of the sculling race between Charley Towns, the champion of the world, and Alf Felton, the champion of Australia, was flashed by cable the details of the race are only just to hand.

The match was for the championship of Australia and a stake of $2,000, and was rowed under the very worst conditions experienced for many years in a championship race. Towns, who lost the world's title to Webb about four years ago, weighed nearly thirty-five pounds less than his rival, who scaled 187 pounds, but made up for some of the weight handicap by his cleverness with the sculls and his expert management of the boat. Towns took the lead after the start, had a length on Felton at the mile, which he increased to open water soon after and was sculling neatly all the time. When Towns was about two lengths ahead, "the champion" shouted to Felton, "Use the shoulder, Alf," and as both men entered the rough water at Three Point the weight of the heavier man began to tell in the heavy cross seas.

To add to his misfortune Towns caught a crab and lost all but half a length of his advantage, but things were evened up later when Felton also crabbed, and the distance separating the boats was in favor of Towns by one and a half lengths. Towns in the strong gale was almost blown out of his boat, and at almost every stroke could see the entire sides of the boat as well as some of the bottom. More rough water was encountered and Felton passed his smaller rival at Patsy Point, which is one and a half miles from the start.

Felton appeared to be getting stronger, and went ahead nine lengths, but Towns, when cheered by a group of admirers, picked it up again and went to within two and a half lengths of his rival, and it looked as though he was steadily rowing his man down. Felton had some reserve up his sleeve and made a gallant finish, winning the race by six boat lengths. The time of the winner was 21m. 44s.

After the race the referee, Bill Beach, ex-champion and conqueror of the late Edward Hanlon, said: "Felton will be good enough for Pierce in another year."

Ex-Champion Dick Armat said: "Alf will prove warm company for Pierce."

It is thought that Towns would win at the mile, but I thought better later in the race. Felton should make a wonderfully good man in any company."

Western Fight Man Thinks The Proposed Middle Weight Tourney Is the Only Way to Get a Champion

By TOM ANDREWS

THE suggestion that an elimination tournament between middle-weights of the second division be arranged to determine upon a man to meet the best of the first division 158 pounders has evidently met with favor in some quarters, as I am in receipt of several responses regarding it. One comes from Carl Marfisi of Omaha, who has been mixed in the game somewhat, and who believes it is the only proper way to bring about a real champion.

In a letter Mr. Marfisi writes:—"Your suggestion about a tourney between the near-champion middle-weights is timely and should be followed out by promoters, if we are to have a champion."

It has been a much mooted question as to who is in reality the boss of the middleweight division since that wonderful paragon, Stanley Ketchel, has passed into the great beyond, and although personally I am of the opinion that Wisconsin is entitled to be recognized as the state that should have the one best bet in that class in the Oklahoma wonder, Eddie McGoorty, there is one thing certain, and that is that my opinion does not make him a champion for the reason that there are plenty of boosters for Klaus, Papke and Dillon, who would dispute any such claim; but nevertheless, it is plausible, where Eddie has beaten Dave Smith, the Australian champion, and Jack Harrison, the recognized champion of Great Britain, that it gives McGoorty a pretty strong hold on the real class of that division. On the other hand a tournament would go a long way in clearing this squabble up, and with such good boys at the top as Frank Klaus, Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, Jimmy Clabby, George Chip, Gus Christie and Billy Papke, that out of this list of real contenders a real champion could be crowned, that the general sporting public and promoters could recognize as a champion.

"There are quite a bunch of recruits in the field that show great promise, and I want to mention a couple of boys who hail from this vicinity that show promise of being stars among the middle weight division. These boys are Jack Fitzgerald, who is now a pretty near middle weight, and a youngster from out in the state whom you meet named in your columns by the name of Tommy McCarthy. Just a thing or two to enlighten you about this boy: He is what might be called a sensation, but the fact that he has been boxing in the bushes is the only reason he has not established himself more firmly with the writers of boxing. Here is a boy who, I must say, has a phenomenal record. Just think of a boy boxing about a year and engaging in seventeen contests and winning sixteen of them by the knockout route, and the only one to go the limit with him was that very seasoned bird, Montana Jack Sullivan, in Grand Island, Nebraska. McCarthy dropped Sullivan on two occasions for the count. In the last round he dropped Sullivan, but friends of mine have proclaimed him another Ketchel in the rough."

With so many good middle weights before the public at present it seems that a corking good elimination tourney could be arranged, and the contests would all be classy enough to insure big crowds to witness them. It seems to be the only way just now of determining upon a champion.

Great Bunker For Lumber Mill. New Westminster, March 15.—One of the largest burners in the world is being built for the Western Canadian Lumber Company at Fraser Mills, by the Mackay Boiler Works company. This burner will be 175 feet high and fifty-four feet in diameter and will be constructed through out of heavy sheet steel. From the base up to a distance of eight feet there will be a water main eighteen inches in diameter for the purpose of keeping the steel cool at all times.

WATCHMAN COMES UPON CHURCH ROBBER AT WORK IN MONTREAL; CRASH OF GLASS AND THEY ESCAPE

Montreal, March 15.—Vandale made a desperate night attempt to rob St. Edward's Catholic church, located at the corner of Beaubien and St. Denis streets, on the north side. When the night watchman came upon the robbers, a crash of glass and a scuffle followed. The watchman was unable to put anything in the line of defense.

The men weighed in at the ring: Wells, 192; Smith, 182-1/2. Luther McCarthy was at the ringside during the bout.

Smith RUSHES WELLS AND SOON DEFEATS HIM

A right on the point of the jaw was the blow that finally put the British champion out after he had weakened under punishment.

Wells came out of his corner for the first round, jabbing his left repeatedly to Smith's face and cleverly blocking Gumboat's attempts to counter. A hard left hook, followed with a left and right to the wind, puzzled Smith. He made wild attempts to land, missing several swings while Wells got in left and right to the face and a right uppercut on the neck. Smith was with a right throughout the round, succeeding in landing only a couple of lefts on the face.

Wells struggled to his feet, but was hardly able to raise his hands in defense while Smith crossed his right full to the point of the jaw sending Wells down and out for good.

While Wells was on the floor for a count of ten, the bell rang, ending the round, but Wells still lay helpless. He had to be carried to his corner and it was nearly ten minutes before he was able to leave the ring and then had to be assisted. The result was a complete surprise, as after the first round the majority of the onlookers thought that Wells would win easily. He outpointed and outboxed Smith so decided in the opening round that no one thought the Californian had no more than a lucky chance for victory. But Smith's rough tactics and swift work with both hands nonplussed the British boxer and from the time the first fall was scored the men were unable to put anything in the line of defense.

The men weighed in at the ring: Wells, 192; Smith, 182-1/2. Luther McCarthy was at the ringside during the bout.

SMITH RUSHES WELLS AND SOON DEFEATS HIM

A right on the point of the jaw was the blow that finally put the British champion out after he had weakened under punishment.

Wells came out of his corner for the first round, jabbing his left repeatedly to Smith's face and cleverly blocking Gumboat's attempts to counter. A hard left hook, followed with a left and right to the wind, puzzled Smith. He made wild attempts to land, missing several swings while Wells got in left and right to the face and a right uppercut on the neck. Smith was with a right throughout the round, succeeding in landing only a couple of lefts on the face.

Wells struggled to his feet, but was hardly able to raise his hands in defense while Smith crossed his right full to the point of the jaw sending Wells down and out for good.

While Wells was on the floor for a count of ten, the bell rang, ending the round, but Wells still lay helpless. He had to be carried to his corner and it was nearly ten minutes before he was able to leave the ring and then had to be assisted. The result was a complete surprise, as after the first round the majority of the onlookers thought that Wells would win easily. He outpointed and outboxed Smith so decided in the opening round that no one thought the Californian had no more than a lucky chance for victory. But Smith's rough tactics and swift work with both hands nonplussed the British boxer and from the time the first fall was scored the men were unable to put anything in the line of defense.

New York, March 15.—Money-mad members of the police system accused Herman Michels, once known as "King of the Gambler's in Harlem, to the point where he had to give up his pool rooms, he confessed to Mr. Whitman, district attorney. Michels then went before the grand jury to add his story to the evidence that is being used as basis for indictments of police officers and others, including Mr. Whitman expects, several politician backers of the system.

NEW HIGHWAY ACT

Hon. John Morrissey Frankly Admits Failure of the Present One—Other Matters in Legislature

Fredericton, N. B., March 14.—Hon. John Morrissey, minister of public works, introduced a bill relating to highways, this afternoon, which will be cited in the future as the Highway Act 1913.

In introducing the measure, Hon. Mr. Morrissey was certainly frank in acknowledging that the highway act introduced some years ago, by the premier, then Mr. Hazen, had not been a success, and was more expensive in its operation than it should be. He said that there was no doubt the province was not getting as good roads as it should, under the act that had been in force. There were some who blamed it on the highway boards, there were others who found fault with the commissioner, and still others who placed the onus on the government. That was unfair. The roads were in the hands of two commissioners in every parish, together with the secretary-treasurer, the three constituting the highway board, who had charge of the highways in that district.

Sketching briefly the provisions of the new act, the minister of public works said that a road engineer would be appointed, as well as inspectors for each county; that each county should be divided into districts by the members and the candidates favorable to the administration, that each district would be under the charge of a supervisor, recommended for appointment by the gentlemen who divided the districts and who would, in his turn, be under the county inspector.

The road engineer would issue his instructions for the inspectors, who, in their turn, would pass them on to the supervisors, who would be expected to carry them out.

These inspectors would be employed and paid by the year, and would, in the most of cases, take the positions formerly held by structural superintendents who in the past had had charge of bridge work and certain kinds of road construction.

In his concluding remarks the minister certainly did not spare the highway boards. He said the government had been blamed for money not being paid to the men promptly, but this was due to the fact that the secretary-treasurers of the highway boards had neglected to send in their accounts promptly. Had those officials done their duty the government would not have met with such severe criticism.

In addition to the appointments of the officials noted above, the new highway act does not make any change in the road tax nor in the amount of the tax. All road taxes on the properties of non-resident corporations shall be collected in money and paid to the county treasurer by the parish collector, and the county treasurer shall credit these taxes to the district from which they were received, and shall pay out the same on the order of the minister of public works.

The parish supervisor, on or before April 15, may name any district in the parish on which the resident ratepayers may perform labor instead of money payment of road tax; and all labor in lieu of taxes shall be performed before July 15, and if it is not done by that date the county secretary shall be informed of the names of the delinquents and shall return the same to the collector who will proceed to collect the taxes in money.

For the purpose of keeping the roads open in the winter, each supervisor divides his district into as many sub-districts as are necessary and appoints a ratepayer in each district to act as winter road master, and for any work done by order of the winter road master no payment is to be expected.

The last section provides that the act shall come into force and take effect when it pleases the lieutenant-governor-in-council. Hon. Mr. Grimmer introduced bills to amend the probate court act and to amend the so-called bulk sales act.

St. John Police Bill. The house went into committee with Dr. Price in the chair, and took up consideration of the bill to vest the appointment of the chief of police of St. John in the common council of that city.

Mr. Tilley said that it was proposed to amend the bill as agreed to by the law committee to give the city of St. John, which paid the bill, the appointment of their chief of police, after the office was vacated by the resignation, death or otherwise of the present incumbent who has been for more than twenty-two years in office.

The bill was agreed to, with amendment. Mr. Fleming introduced a bill to amend the game act to provide for the taking of fur bearing animals during the close season for the purpose of confining them in captivity for breeding. This is in response to the demand from those who wish to breed the animals for their pelts.

Another section provides for permission to trap beavers when the surveyor-general considers the existing number sufficient to make it advisable. The new law also provides for the appointment of a chief game warden and a chief fire warden. Big game licenses for residents are fixed at $3 instead of $2.

Mr. Fleming moved that representations be made to the federal government asking a continuation of the railway service on the Chatham Junction—Blackville section of the Canada Eastern Railway. The house went into committee with Mr. Guphill in the chair, and agreed to bills respecting the town of Shediac; to prescribe safeguards to be placed by the St. John Railway Company near their track at North Rodney wharf, and respecting the village of Bath, with amendments. The house went into committee with Mr. Woods in the chair, and considered the bill to amend the judicature act.

Hon. Mr. Grimmer moved amendments to the bill. These provided that a judge of chancery division or registrar, who would have all the powers of a judge in chambers, except in appeals, would hold chambers in Fredericton at least two days in each week and that the act shall not come into force until proclaimed by order of the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

Mr. Stewart said he had a communication from barristers of the North Shore who wished a judge of kings bench division resident in that section and one of the chancery division at Fredericton. Mr. Black reported protests from Westmorland regarding the provision that five of the seven judges should reside in St. John. Mr. Grimmer said that the change had been made at the request of the chief justice.

Justice to facilitate the work of the bench and added that there was enough business in St. John to keep them all busy. Mr. Stewart asked if it would not be possible to have a judge in chambers in Newcastle at least one day in every fortnight.

Mr. Grimmer replied that it would be impossible to comply with the requests as the bill well provides for the needs of the whole province. During the debate in the legislature yesterday afternoon Doctor Price of Moncton made a vigorous attack on the management of the C. P. R. He condemned their policy of economy which he said was carried so far as to endanger the lives of passengers on the road. He suggested that a strong protest should be made and that they should go over the head of the minister of railways and address the protest to Premier Borden.

What evidence has been given, or what report has reached the judge that would lead him to think we tortured the boys much less inflicted corporal punishment? If he has any such evidence now is the time to disclose the same and settle me. I court such enquiry.

I hereby state that only once in two years has corporal punishment been administered at the home, and only a very few times in five years. I don't believe in it except in extreme cases. The clergy of the different denominations who are in the habit of visiting the institution should have noticed the effects of torture if the inmates had been subjected to same and they would be from my standpoint the most reliable source from which information along this line could be obtained.

Regarding handcuffs and shackles, if the same are forbidden I ask why are they used? I cannot count them an ornament. When a healthy, hearty boy, sixteen years of age, when caught in the act of escaping from the institution, refuses to obey my directions to go over to the home, puts up a nasty resistance and has to be carried, handcuffed and shackles are much more commendable than knuckles, clubs, or anything else I know of, especially when put in use without a bribe, much less by force of blood. It is true three years have passed since I last used them, but if similar circumstances arise I will use them again unless otherwise directed by my board.

Judge Forbes believes the public has a right to know what is going on in the institution. I am in full accord with His Honor in this remark. I always have been, and trust I always will be ready and willing to show the public at any time our institution and its internal management in every detail. Furthermore I regret that His Honor has never in my time allowed himself the opportunity afforded from time to time of examining the institution. I not only say the public has a right to know how these institutions are conducted but to call to account any public official whose efficiency is questioned, and whose administration of the affairs of an office are veiled by the uncertainty of a public doubt and I also believe it to be the duty of every such official to comply with such request in order to have those doubts dispelled or rectified.

I have superintended the affairs of the Boys' Industrial Home for the last five years, and during that period the institution has been accessible to every worthy citizen at all times; and I have encouraged such patronage in every possible way, believing that one of the most effective ways to improve the boys is by social intercourse with the people who are earnestly trying to help and improve the boys. And if I have been discourteous to any such citizen or parent of any inmate, or have been heard to use questionable language or have been seen in a questionable place, let the possessor of such knowledge come to the front.

Statements reflecting upon the useful management of the institution in question have been made, and I now demand a verifying or withdrawal of the same. I am ready and willing to be satisfied, I am ready and willing with the consent of my governing board submit every detail of management of the institution to the closest inspection.

FRID. E. MACDONALD, Supt. Boys' Industrial Home.

Dear Sir—I would thank you for space in your valuable paper for some comments on the disposition Judge Forbes made of the McCarthy boy and his remarks in connection therewith. In October, 1912, Lawrence McCarthy, of the C. P. R., was sentenced for a term not to exceed four years in the Boys' Industrial Home, for stealing $400.00 from Hamilton's store and for breaking and entering James Russell's store.

On February 3, 1913, between the hours of one and six a. m., McCarthy, in company with two other boys, escaped from the institution, taking several suits of clothes with them. On February 4th they were recaptured at Quinlan's farm and taken to the police station and by Judge Ritchie sent up for trial.

On February 25th McCarthy was by Judge Forbes sent back to the institution to complete his term, Judge Forbes distinctly stating to him that "if you attempt to escape again I will send you to Dorchester for a term." On Feb. 29th I took McCarthy back to the home and on Feb. 28 about 2:30 p. m. McCarthy was missing. On examination I found he had escaped through the window, and later we found him in the second story hay loft, and when requested he came down to the first floor but positively refused to walk over to the home; so we carried him, and when in the home I shackled and handcuffed him and at once took him to the central station.

On March 1st he was taken before Judge Ritchie and remanded. McCarthy had against him the remainder of Judge Ritchie's sentence in the home, over which I submit Judge Forbes had no more authority than had any other citizen of St. John. Yet he released McCarthy and it will be for the minister of justice to pass on the legality of such action. Again McCarthy was remanded to the jail on a charge of second escape, awaiting preliminary examination. And then again McCarthy was before Judge Forbes on a suspended sentence. Yet McCarthy was set at liberty.

On the evening of March 1st Judge Forbes advised me over the telephone that the McCarthy boy who had been before him that day, had stated I had cut him (McCarthy), on the head with a strap, and had otherwise ill-treated him; and that he (Judge Forbes) wanted me to come to the court on Monday and make my statement regarding it, as the charge was a serious one. In reply I stated I had arranged to be away from the city on Monday. The judge said I must be at the court on Monday, I replied I would be there, and would be only too glad to make a statement. As Judge Forbes did not state the hour I should appear I did not go until about eleven o'clock. About 11:30 Judge Forbes asked me to come forward, which I did, and the official read McCarthy's statement. His Honor then asked me to make my statement. I said I wanted the boy present. His Honor replied the boy had been dismissed. As the discussion that followed between the judge and myself appeared in all the dailies it is not necessary to repeat it here.

The McCarthy boy was first sent to the institution for stealing $400.00, escaped, still good seats remaining for Tuesday evening, and a number of balcony seats for Monday evening.

Eczema Has Stayed Cured For 15 Years Wonderful Testimony from a Well-known Peterboro' Man Who Suffered for 30 Years His Legs Were Covered With Eczema Down to the Knees—Perfectly Raw. DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT CURED HIM The Ketcheseons are well-known as pioneer settlers of Hastings County, and none of them probably has a wider acquaintance than Mr. W. D. Ketcheson, who was formerly Division Court Bailiff of the Trenton Court, and is now living at 88 Deuro Street, Peterboro', Ont. Over fifteen years ago Mr. Ketcheson was cured of an extremely severe case of eczema and piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and he writes now to say that the cure proved a permanent one. In 1897 Mr. Ketcheson wrote as follows:—"I was troubled for thirty years with itching piles and eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees, perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and this Ointment effected a complete cure. On Sept. 28th, 1912, I wrote from you to-day, saying that you found on file a statement made by me 25 years ago. I have always given Dr. Chase's Ointment a good name since it cured me, and shall tell you how I came to use it. "I had suffered for many years from eczema and piles, and had tried doctors and everything I could hear of in vain. Reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment, I purchased it at once, and was soon completely cured. That was fifteen years ago, so there can be no doubt of the cure being a permanent one. I have met a great many people who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment." It does not pay to waste time with cheap imitations or substitutes when you can be sure of satisfactory results by the use of this great soothing, healing ointment. For sale by all druggists, or Edmondson, Duto & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment  What kind of music do you like best—opera, concert or vaudeville? The Edison Phonograph plays records covering every phase of music—records made by the world's greatest artists. A diamond reproducing point that won't scratch, a smooth running motor—every detail contributes in bringing out just the right volume of tone, clearly and sweetly. Ask your Edison dealer to play some of the new Blue Amberol Records on an Edison Phonograph for you, and you'll not be satisfied until you own an Edison outfit. The entertainment in your home is greater than you ever dreamed of. Thomas A. Edison, Inc., 100 Lakeside Ave., Orange, N. J., U. S. A.
