ROBERT MEIGHEN DIES SUDDENLY

One of The Big Men In Canada's Finances

STRICKEN IN MONTREAL

Head of Lake of The Woods Company, Prominent in Banking And Other Circles—He Had Often Come to St. John on Business

(Canadian Press) Montreal, July 13—Robert Meighen, president of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company and noted financier died suddenly today.

This morning the city was shocked by the news that the well-known financier had died suddenly at his palatial residence in Drummond street. Apparently in the best of health and in his usual good spirits Mr. Meighen put in a hard day's work at the office yesterday and retired early last night. This morning he took a sudden attack of heart trouble and died in a few minutes.

It is thought that the recent hot weather affected his heart. Mr. Meighen was president of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, a director of the Bank of Toronto and of several other large financial and commercial enterprises. He was one of the best known men in the city and was held in deep respect in financial circles. He was seventy-two years of age.

Mr. Meighen had made many visits to St. John on business and because of local associations as well as because of his prominent place in the business life of the Dominion. News of his death came as a great shock to the financial and industrial interests here.

Besides being president and managing director of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., which he formed, he was a director of the C. P. R., Montreal Street Railway, Canadian Northwest Land Co., Bank of Toronto, Dominion Transport Co., president of the New Brunswick Railway Co., member of the Montreal Board of Trade and Corn Exchange.

He was born in Londonderry, Ire., on April 18, 1839, a son of Robert Meighen and his wife Mary McLaughlin. In 1868 he married Elsie, youngest daughter of the late William Stephen, formerly of Duffryn, Scotland. One son and two daughters were born. Mr. Meighen was educated in the public schools of Duffryn. He entered the firm of Meighen & Co. at the age of fourteen but in 1857 he removed to Montreal and became associated in business with Sir George Stephen, now Lord Mount Stephen.

Col. Meighen, who was intimately acquainted with him said this morning "in the death of Mr. Meighen Canada will sustain a great loss. He was one of the best, and most esteemed business men in Montreal had much to further the interests of Canada. He was what is called a self-made business man, rising from the bottom of the ladder to the top. He was very kind hearted, and each year gave away large amounts to charity."

At the office of the Lake of the Woods Company here the sad news was received with keen regret. Mr. Meighen was held in high esteem by all the employees of the company.

Mr. Meighen recently subscribed $1,000 towards the King Edward memorial statue in Montreal.

HORROR ON HORROR IN FIRE TALE FROM NORTHERN ONTARIO

Hundreds of Lives Taken And Property Loss is Measured In Millions

MODERATOR OF BAPTISTS IS ELECTED

Survivors Recount Harrowing Stories of Sights Seen as People Sought Safety From Flames—Two Brothers See Third Burned To Death—Wife's Vigil in Lake Awaiting News of Husband

Toronto, Ont., July 13—Horror follows horror in the reports which hour by hour reach Toronto telling of the great fire in the Temagami region. It is impossible to state with certainty the extent of the loss of life and property, but late reports place the loss of lives at 300 and of property at several millions dollars.

The greatest catastrophe appears to have happened at South Porcupine. Of the 600 people who sought refuge in the lake when the fire swept through South Porcupine, 200, many of them women with children in their arms, lost their lives, according to a private message received by Toronto from a man who was in the lake when the fire was at its height.

At the time it is known that thirty foreign laborers perished in a shaft where they had sought safety. Other bodies are lying about the property, and of the force of 300 it is doubtful if half remain alive. The escape of Manager Meek and his wife, and children with Mrs. Meek's mother, was providential. Their last stand was in a pile of safety, became panic-stricken and preserved their lives and even that of their own.

Henry Nanson, who is in charge of the mill construction, with a few others, kept behind the heavy rock foundation of the mill and survived. Still others stood in the big reservoir of water on the property and escaped with some eyes. Men stationed at the pumps on the lake, although in a pile of safety, became panic-stricken and made for the bush and there perished.

The North Dome employees made their way out of the fire without the loss of a man and is now believed is another miracle. Whether they were lost at the station or in the mill is not yet known.

On Other Properties. The Vipond was a total loss, but all the men escaped to the Hollinger, which was not destroyed. The loss of the Hollinger was a great one, as it was the only place where the men could have taken refuge.

At the time of the explosion the men were working on the shaft. The explosion was so great that the shaft was blown up and the men were scattered in all directions.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

If All Aldermen Are Not There Early Closing Matter May Not Be Taken Up—Some of The Business

At the special meeting of the common council this evening, it is possible that besides the early closing by-law, for which the meeting is to be convened, the consideration of the safety board relative to the application of Heber S. Keith for lots in Green Head, may be considered.

It is reported today that there were after the property and that another offer may be made in a fairly large delegation, with Daniel Mullin, K. C. and A. A. Wilson, K. C. to speak for them, while the recorder may possibly be heard in defence of the action of the council in making the move.

It is expected also that the move in the matter of promoting the enactment will also be well represented. At a meeting this week the coronation committee completed the adjustment of the bills presented in connection with the festivities on June 22, and these will probably be passed upon tonight.

He would have told them that responsible government is a failure in Canada as it is in England, and that the people needed for their health to be governed from London instead of Ottawa, by a little group of wise men responsible to nobody.

HUNDREDS LOSE LIVES IN THE FIRES

Fearful Death Toll And Property Destruction in New Ontario PEOPLE IN TRAP

Driven by Flames Into Lake And Many Die in Water—Report Last Night Said That Three Hundred Had Perished

Toronto, July 12—Six hundred people were driven into Porcupine Lake yesterday by the flames from the forest fires which have been raging in the new settled districts. Several hundred lost their lives, about two hundred by drowning. The property loss will be more than a million dollars.

At 1.15 p. m. the seriousness of the situation was realized in South Porcupine. The fire call was sounded on the Dome mine whistle with repeated blasts from other whistles. By this time the sky was black with smoke, and residents began to pack valuables and light baggage for a hurried departure. Soon the flames had reached the Foley and O'Brien, having enveloped the Preston, East Dome, the Dome, West Dome, North Dome and what remained of the Dome extension after last Sunday's fire.

In half an hour the outlying shacks had been reached. This was the beginning of the end. It became apparent at once that the town and possibly all the inhabitants were doomed, for the width of the fire was sufficient for it to sweep over the entire town of South Porcupine and around both sides of Porcupine Lake. The fire reached the frame buildings of the town with a roar heard for miles.

Panic and chaos prevailed. Men fought with each other for their families, and Police Officer Murray with Jack Gahler had to stand off the panic-stricken foreigners who rushed for each boat as it came. Men were hurled into the water and many rushed in an effort to save some valuables and their lives.

The repairs to the hull of the steamer Milton have been completed and she has shifted over to this side of the harbor to take cargo. Work on the engines is still progressing. The plates of No. 1 and 2 compartments were started and it required considerable work to get them in shape. There is considerable work yet to be done on the machinery and the repairs will run into some hundreds of dollars.

LIBERAL MEMBER HAS DONE MUCH FOR CHARLOTTE

Mr. Todd Visits St. George—Great Benefit Coming Through Reciprocity

A St. George correspondent writes:—Hon. Wm. F. Todd, the able representative of Charlotte county, spent two days here this week. Mr. Todd, ably assisted by Senator Gilmore, has been able to do much for the county, and his most pitied citizens who turned to Conservative domination during the long years preceding the advent of Liberal government and prosperity, are beginning to realize that promises are not nearly so good as actions, and his noble and selfless efforts to help the people who are in a big mistake. The local situation emphasizes this—they will not soon forget the lovely roads we were to and the horrible conditions that now exist where roads were once.

Mr. Todd addressed a large number of political friends here on Monday evening, giving an account of his stewardship and of the work accomplished at Ottawa in the last session. He told of the obstruction encountered from an opposition divided and at sea on the question of reciprocity, of the adjournment necessary to allow Sir Wilfrid to attend the coronation, and predicted a majority of fifty for that measure should the opposition allow a vote.

Probably no county in the dominion will reap greater benefits from this great measure than Charlotte. Our immense fisheries will be so stimulated that once the toilers of the sea realize the full benefits derived at sea on the question of reciprocity, of the adjournment necessary to allow Sir Wilfrid to attend the coronation, and predicted a majority of fifty for that measure should the opposition allow a vote.

The Historic Pulpit of Westminster Abbey—When People Smoked in Church—The Hour Glass And The Preacher—Author of Habeas Corpus

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company.)

Few of those present at the coronation of King George and Queen Mary in Westminster Abbey, paid much attention to the pulpit from which the Archbishop of York, the second greatest dignity of the Church of England, preached the brief but eloquent coronation sermon.

Yet it was well worthy of more careful observation. Built entirely of oak, brought for the purpose from Windsor Forest by road to London, nearly 400 years ago, it was used for the crowning of King Edward VI. in Westminster Abbey, in 1548. It is a beautiful piece of old oak carving, and, curiously enough, was last before the eyes of Mohammedan origin, the earliest, fashioned of oak from Windsor Forest, dates from the reign of Edward III. Its style is Gothic.

Strictly speaking, pulpits should have no place in Christian churches, as they are of Mohammedan origin, the earliest examples recorded being the tubs fastened upon tops of poles forming the sort of pulpit from which the Ulemas of Mecca and of Cairo were wont to address the followers of the prophet that thronged the mosques on every Friday. Perhaps one of the reasons why pulpits were retained after the reformation in England, was the fact that they enable the preacher to deliver his discourse comfortably, thus having to stand on the altar steps, and to preach from thence, in a much more impressive and dignified manner.

In former days the clergy would not only sit and lounge in the pulpit while preaching, but would actually smoke. Thus Frank Egan, United Porcupine mines; Joseph Fletcher, United Porcupine; C. E. Adams, Philadelphia mine; William Ghosh Thomas Geddes, Dan Smith, Capt. Geo. Dunbar, all of South Porcupine.

Twenty-seven are known to be dead in the West Dome shaft, but the names are not to hand. Thirty foreigners are known to be dead in the Dome shafts.

Missing—Dwyer, of United Porcupine. Only three or four employees of West Dome had been accounted for up to noon today. There is no means of estimating the dead at Dome mines, but the manager of the West Dome mines, all of the buildings except Manager Meek's house; loss, $800,000; includes all shaft houses, forty stamp mill almost completed, and large up-to-date compressor plant.

North Dome mines; loss $500,000, plant and camps. Preston East Dome; loss $500,000, plant and camps. Vinton; loss $100,000, plant and camps. Foley O'Brien; total loss estimated at $100,000.

Philadelphia mines; loss about $50,000. United Porcupine mines; loss $20,000. Eldorado Porcupine, small buildings destroyed.

More than $100,000 damage was done yesterday in a fire at St. Jerome, Que. Twenty-seven families were made homeless. The village of South Waterbury, Me., was practically wiped out yesterday by fire. The hotel, railroad station, and other public buildings were destroyed.

himself with a glass of port; while Bishop Duman of Dundee is described by contemporaries as having been so mean and avaricious that he was accustomed to make a practice of coming to church with a tobacco pouch, and then after ascending the pulpit, of inquiring who among the congregation would be willing to accommodate him with theirs.

It is from these days too, that date those delightful, old-fashioned pews, in the English country churches, fitted up with curtains, cushions, fire-places, poker and tongs, where the acute slept and smoked away, the entire length of the sermon.

The Hour Glass

The expression of "another glass" used frequently by the bishops and clergy in those days when preaching did not, however, usually indicate that the occupant of the pulpit needed another glass of port; but related to the hour glasses which formed a conspicuous and indispensable feature of the furnishings of every pulpit, and which marked, not half hours, but yet whole ones, but merely quarters. Perhaps the handsomest of these old glasses is the one preserved in the church of St. Alban's, London. Its size and beautiful brass framework make it an ornament to the sacred edifice. Some preachers seem to have used these hour-glasses, not for the purpose of calculating the length of their sermons, but for the different portions thereof, and would inaugurate a new argument every time that the sand had run out, prefacing their remarks with the words, "Brethren, another glass!" Indeed, that eminent divine, Dr. Isaac Barrow, is on record as having preached a sermon of such length before the Lord Mayor of London, and the aldermen, in St. Paul's Cathedral, that during its delivery he had time to turn his hour-glass upside down no less than twelve times.

Lord Shaftesbury

Lord Shaftesbury, who, together with Lord Kitchener, was invested a couple of days ago by King George with the Irish Order of St. Patrick at a chapter held for the purpose in Dublin Castle, shares with his wife the infamy of both the king and queen to a very exceptional degree. The friendship with the queen in grey. The friendship with the queen in grey. The friendship with the queen in grey.

Found Three Years Ago

Three years ago this pulpit of Edward VI. was brought to light, its history established by the records still among the abbey archives regarding the price paid for the pulpit. It is superior in artistic value to the still more ancient oak pulpit in use to this day in St. George's chapel, Windsor Castle, and which, fashioned of oak from Windsor Forest, dates from the reign of Edward III. Its style is Gothic.

Lord Shaftesbury joined the household of Queen Mary some fifteen years ago as her chamberlain and his relations to the crown. He is no stranger to America, which he has frequently visited; on the last occasion to witness the American Cup race, a quite serious illness while here, through plomate poisoning.

In his unregenerate days of bohemian life, he displayed strong leanings for the stage, and acquired some distinction as an amateur actor, being noted for his extensive knowledge of comic dialogue, his unlimited amount of assurance, and his rather remarkable sense of humor. It was the latter which led to his receiving in 1809 a bonafide offer from a well known American firm of impressarios, for a tour of the United States as a professional vocalist for the sum of $10,000, and all expenses paid. The earl, who has lost that sense of humor for which he was formerly noted, having become very serious and only for church concerts and charitable entertainments, took the offer quite seriously and sent a reply stating "In answer to your very kind offer, I am afraid I cannot see my way to touring the states as a professional singer."

The earl is a great grandson, through his mother, of Lady Palmeston, and a grandson, on his father's side, of the seventh Lord Shaftesbury, popularly known as the "Lay Bishop," on account of the extraordinary influence which, throughout his career, he exercised in ecclesiastical matters.

That famous peer likewise did much to improve the welfare of the donkeys in the employ of the London custom-gaugers, he offering prizes for their good treatment. The present earl is the ninth of his line. The first was the author of the Habeas Corpus Act. He is closely identified with the fortunes of Belfast, being the ground landlord of the greater part of that city, as well as owner of Belfast Castle. He has put in several terms as Lord Mayor of Belfast, and served with distinction in the South African war, where he had his hands full looking after his wife's brother, the somewhat rapid young Duke of Westminster.

Lord Shaftesbury had an American grand-aunt, through the marriage of his grand-uncle, the Hon. Charles Cowper, to Jessie, daughter of Col. Clinton McLean as Nelson-on-the-Hudson. Mrs. McLean, before becoming Mrs. Charles Cowper, achieved considerable success on the stage in "Colleen Bawn," and similar plays.

MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

The Evening Chit-Chat
By BUTH CAMERON

HENCE arose the saying, "If I love you, what is that to you?" We say so because we feel that what we love is not in your will, but above it. It is the radiance of you and not you. It is that which you know not in yourself and never can know.—Emerson

I always wonder when I read that passage why Emerson didn't go a step further and say something about the subjectiveness of love. "But how can he be so tremendously in love with such a commonplace girl as she is?"

"I don't understand how she can care so much for him when he is so ordinary and uninteresting. How often we hear—or perchance make—comments like these on the love-affairs of our acquaintance. Now there is one fact that it seems to me we all ignore too much and which, if we would let it, explain away all these puzzlements. And that is the subjectiveness of love. We are always looking at the objective side of love. We think that this woman or that ought to be able to inspire great love because she is so beautiful and charming, or that that man's wife can hardly love him very much because he is so homely and commonplace.

We forget that love is quite as much subjective as objective, more, I am inclined to think. We fail to realize that love comes from the lover's heart and soul and eyes quite as much as from the beloved's charms. But it certainly does. The wonder that "he can be so tremendously in love with such a commonplace girl as she is," is easily solved when you remember that he is a man of great depth and power and must love largely or not at all.

The puzzle is in love, when he is so ordinary and uninteresting," is quickly explained when you remember that she is a girl who is intense in every way and that her love, no matter what its object, would naturally be as intense as the rest of her. In David Graham Phillips' novel, "The Grain of Dust," there is a very illuminating paragraph on this subject. Frederick Norman, a very big man in every sense of the word, is in love. His love is unrequited and his unhappiness bids fair to bring about his business failure. His sister is greatly troubled. But she could not conceive how appearances and her forebodings could be true. Such strength as she could not be overwhelmed thus suddenly and by so slight a thing—a by an unattained passion for a woman and an insignificant woman at that. For like all women, like all the world for that matter, SHE MEASURED A PASSION BY THE WOMAN WHO WAS THE OBJECT OF IT INSTEAD OF BY THE MAN WHO FABRICATED IT.

There are men and women who could not help loving greatly no matter how unworthy the object of their love. Everyone knows that one artist will paint an interior picture from a most beautiful landscape and that another artist with a far less wonderful model will paint a great and enduring picture. Now love is just as subjective as art. And there are men and women who have been born with the ability to love greatly and men and women who were born without it. Do not expect a grand passion from the first no matter how wonderful the object. And do not wonder at a beautiful love from the second no matter how unworthy the beloved.

WEST INDIES SERVICE

Schedule Gives Halifax the Benefit—Can Be But Temporary, Says Board of Trades President

The schedule by which sailings of West India line steamers from this port is reduced from a twelve to twenty two days' service is being effected on the 15th inst. with the sailing of the recently chartered Rhodanian from Halifax.

The Rhodanian and the Luristan and Sobu, whose charters have expired, have been replaced by the Rhodanian and Cromarty. The latter steamer will sail from Halifax on August 2. She will not have the Oromo and Orro, but will not have the latter acquired, Halifax continuing with four days' service.

The Sobu, which has been under charter to Messrs. Pickford & Black for some time in the West Indies service, is chartered from Halifax to Liverpool at the rate of $100 per day.

That the beginning of the reduced service does not mean that the efforts of St. John's merchants have been fruitless, is the opinion of President T. H. Estabrook of the board of trade. Mr. Estabrook has been prominent in the struggle of business men here to have the former twelve day schedule retained.

He says that the present arrangement could be temporary. Communication was made to the department of the board of trade and commerce, and it was the intention to have a delegation go to Ottawa to meet Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright in the matter.

It was impossible, he said for merchants here to compete with only a twenty-two day service, in fact some have already lost business in anticipation of it. There was no reason why Halifax should retain the twelve day service and St. John content with the twenty-two day service. The present was scant enough service and could better stand increasing than reducing.

The Minister of Public Works, Mr. Estabrook has promised his strongest support.

CHANGE FOR BOYS

A fine opportunity for boys is presented by the proposal for a summer school for which arrangements are now being made at the local Y. M. C. A. LOCAL NEWS

Two Fires Declared

Work of Firebugs

There were two incendiary fires at the Strait Shore early this morning. David Chisholm said he left his mill at noon yesterday and sprayed the ashes carefully to put out the embers. The mill has a concrete and brick floor and every precaution was taken to avoid fire. The mill was not running after yesterday afternoon. At two o'clock this morning a neighbor returning from the St. Stephen picnic said there was no sign of fire about the place. In less than an hour later the mill was ablaze and Mr. Chisholm could not understand how it came about.

The engine cost $250 and is badly damaged, while the carriage and saws are entirely destroyed. The extent of the damage to the boiler has not been ascertained but the boiler was entirely destroyed. Mr. Chisholm had no insurance.

On their return from the fire the North End fire department ran into another incendiary blaze. An old steamer lying abandoned on the shore had been set on fire and would have been burned to the water's edge if the company had not arrived by chance. As it was the hull was badly damaged. This is the second time that the vessel was afloat in a week.

FREEZING MILK IN BLOCKS

Boston to Experiment With Idea of Helping Sufferers in Time of Stress

Boston, July 13.—Dr. P. H. Mallory, one of the commissioners of the board of health, announces that the members of the board will soon experiment with freezing milk in large blocks to be stored for free distribution in emergencies, such as the shortages in supply caused by continued strikes of the milkmen.

"We are watching the outcome of similar experiments in New York," said the doctor, "and if it is successful, will be adopted here."

There is a big milk shortage in Boston today owing to the late strike of the milkmen. The endeavor of milk contractors and railroads to keep the supply up to the demand.

"And it is a curious fact," added Dr. Mallory, "that the Back Bay district in Boston is the hardest hit, if the number of complaints received at this office is any guide. As far as the board is able to determine, the shortage is due to an unusual and unexpected increase in the number of babies as well as of the ten have already signified their intention to attend. The chance is open to the boys who failed to grade from the fifth grade up to and including the High School."

FREEZING MILK IN BLOCKS

Boston to Experiment With Idea of Helping Sufferers in Time of Stress

Boston, July 13.—Dr. P. H. Mallory, one of the commissioners of the board of health, announces that the members of the board will soon experiment with freezing milk in large blocks to be stored for free distribution in emergencies, such as the shortages in supply caused by continued strikes of the milkmen.

"We are watching the outcome of similar experiments in New York," said the doctor, "and if it is successful, will be adopted here."

There is a big milk shortage in Boston today owing to the late strike of the milkmen. The endeavor of milk contractors and railroads to keep the supply up to the demand.

"And it is a curious fact," added Dr. Mallory, "that the Back Bay district in Boston is the hardest hit, if the number of complaints received at this office is any guide. As far as the board is able to determine, the shortage is due to an unusual and unexpected increase in the number of babies as well as of the ten have already signified their intention to attend. The chance is open to the boys who failed to grade from the fifth grade up to and including the High School."

ARGENTINE CONSUL GENERAL

Carlos A. Galarraga, consul general of the Argentine Republic in Canada, has received the exequatur signed by H. M. King George, and has taken charge of the office in Ottawa.

SIR ELTON GORST

Sir Elton Gorst is dead, at the age of fifty years. No man with the exception of Lord Cromer knew more about Egyptian affairs. Opinions in England have differed regarding the success of British policy in Egypt during recent years, and Sir Elton Gorst himself frankly pointed out the difficulties and discouragements. That which it was sought to do was to develop self-government in Egypt, encouraging young Egyptians to take an active interest in political affairs.

The Standard yesterday quoted a letter from Mr. W. S. Fisher, telling about one of Mr. Borden's meetings in the west. Naturally Mr. Fisher said the people "admired Mr. Borden's manly stand and gave him credit for honesty of conviction."

The Conservative mayor of Ottawa, who is said to seek a nomination for a seat in parliament, declined to join in the reception to the premier of Canada, returning from the Imperial Conference.

ELEGATION OF BANKERS FROM PARIS TO CANADA

(Montreal Witness)

A cable received at the office of R. J. [unclear] from Paris, this morning, makes an interesting announcement that a deputation of leading French bankers, capitalists and business men will leave France within the next two weeks for Canada, where they will make a thorough inspection and study of our natural resources and acquaint themselves with the possibilities of the dominion as a centre for investment.

The deputation is coming to this country at the special invitation of Mr. Forster during their stay in Canada they afforded every opportunity to satisfy themselves of the safety and future expansion of Canadian industries and the many chances for legitimate and profitable investment. It is expected that the delegation will visit the dominion from coast to coast, but a thorough survey of this province will be made, as the French financiers appear to have every confidence in Quebec as a point for placing capital without taking very much risk of loss.

TACTFUL

Talesman—"Yes, sir, I am."
Judge—"Married or single?"
Talesman—"Married three years last June."

THE KING'S MESSAGE TO IRISH PEOPLE

Kingstown, Ireland, July 12.—The king, in a message to the Irish people, says: "I cannot leave Ireland without at once giving expression to the feelings of joy and affection inspired by the wonderful reception which the people of Dublin have given to the queen and myself."
The king declares that the spontaneous and universal loyalty has greatly touched their hearts and will never be forgotten. He promises to pay another visit at no distant date and will then visit other parts of the country. His majesty concludes: "Our best wishes will ever be for increased prosperity for your ancient capital and contentment and happiness for our Irish people."

Daily Hints For the Cook

POTATO FRICASSEE
This dish goes well with cold meats for luncheon. Boil eight or ten medium sized potatoes, peel and stand aside to become cold, then cut into dice. Make a cream sauce, drop the diced potatoes into it and let stand over hot water for 20 minutes. Add a tablespoonful of minced parsley and serve in a hot dish.

BAKED RICE
Put in a pan to bake. Three tablespoonfuls dry rice, three tablespoonfuls sugar, one egg (well beaten), one half teaspoonful salt, one quart sweet milk, little grated nutmeg. Bake about an hour.

FRIED WHOLE POTATOES.
Boil the potatoes tender, remove the skins, then dip one at a time in beaten egg yolk, dredge with cracker crumbs, arrange in a frying basket and fry in very hot fat.

A. E. HAMILTON AFFAIRS.
Before Mr. Justice McLeod on Tuesday the affairs of the A. E. Hamilton Co. Ltd. came up. Messrs. Somerville and Hilyard, the liquidators, reported that many of the Campbell contracts entered into by the company, prior to liquidation, had been settled satisfactorily. They asked for ten days further to sell the "Sun" street plant by public auction or private sale. Claims of unpaid employees were ordered to be paid. H. H. Pickett appeared for unpaid employees. J. H. A. J. Fairweather for the liquidators and A. A. Wilson for the mortgagee.

CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 1st, 1910. I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from Rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly walk up stairs. Last June, he received a package of "Fruit-a-tives." He used them and dated his recovery from that time. There is no man in Vancouver enjoying better health. He was building a house, this fall and shingled a good part of the roof in winter, without suffering any ill effects. Mr. E. B. Mills (assistant postmaster at Knowlton, Que.), also writes: "I honestly believe that 'Fruit-a-tives' is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world." Try it yourself. One box, 4 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At Dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

KILLS HIS WIFE, ENDS OWN LIFE

Crosby Holdsworth, Failing at Reconciliation, Commits Murder and Suicide in Newark

New York, July 13.—Long standing domestic difficulties said to have been due to his drinking, resulted late yesterday afternoon in Crosby Holdsworth shooting and instantly killing his wife in the home of relatives at No. 66 Astor street, Newark (N. J.), shooting and seriously injuring Mrs. Edith Bessel, and then killing himself. The couple had been separated several months, during which Holdsworth had made several ineffectual efforts to persuade his wife to return to him with their four children. It was during a visit to the house, where his wife and six other children were staying, that the tragedy and double killing took place. Mrs. Holdsworth having again refused to return to her husband for a reconciliation. On the floor above lived Mrs. Bessel, a cousin of Mrs. Holdsworth and a sister of Frederick Frank J. Driver. On hearing the shot Mrs. Bessel ran to the head of the stairs, but Holdsworth was already on his way up, declaring that he also would get Mrs. Bessel. As she turned back he fired two shots, one striking her in the right side of the forehead and the other in the left side of the neck, pushing into the room, she raised her child and escaped Holdsworth by going through another door, ran to the home of Mrs. James Parka, at No. 66 Astor street, where she was already reached the Bessel house, Mrs. Holdsworth was dead on the parlor floor and the man who was still trading water waiting for her rescuer, that something was wrong, got other boats. Miss Murray swam to shore and the men percolated the last of shore where Brighton had taken the plunge. Other swimmers among them dived for the actor, but could not find him. At length the search was given up and the police were notified.

"JIM" HILL BACK FROM LABRADOR

Hot in New York, but Will Stay There This Week-Has Heard Crops Were Spotted

New York, July 12.—James J. Hill came to town from Montreal yesterday with the firm intention of remaining here the rest of this week in spite of the heat. Mr. Hill came from Labrador, where he rents a river in which he has been fishing for about a month. It was cold in Labrador. Mr. Hill said that he had a fine time and caught many fish. Of general business conditions he would say very little because he hadn't been in the country of late and knew only what the newspapers which penetrate to Labrador had told him. Of his own particular railroad business Mr. Hill would say nothing whatever for reasons which he would not reveal. His notion of the crops was, he said, about the same as that entertained by everybody. He understood that the crops, speaking broadly, were "spotted," which means in the idiom of the Northwest that they are good but not very good and bad but not very bad and altogether and on the whole about as satisfactory as one could expect. Small grain had suffered most, thought Mr. Hill along with the crop experts. Corn would be a pretty good crop, he was certain of that.

STAR WITNESS ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE

Ortie McManigal Finding it Hard to Keep His Promise to Give State's Evidence in McNamara Case.

Los Angeles, July 12.—Mrs. Ortie McManigal and her uncle, Geo. Behm, of Fortage (Wis.), both of whom are alleged to have been in the McNamara case, today when the dynamic conspiracy case was called, and Judge Water Boardwell prepared to render a decision on the motion to quash the indictments against the accused labor leader and his brother. Mrs. McManigal and her uncle came to the court directly from the jail, where the two made another effort. It is asserted, to induce Ortie McManigal not to keep his alleged pledge to become a state witness. McManigal is said to be on the verge of collapse. His jailers said today that unless the trial of the McNamara case was held soon McManigal would be in no condition to assume the role of principal witness against them.

REAL DROWNING

Girl's Rescuer Dives and Loses His Life—Film Runs on Until Actors Become Alarm and Girl Swims Ashore

New York, July 12.—A moving picture machine set up to make a film of the thrilling rescue of a young woman from the waters of a lake in the Fox Hill section of Staten Island yesterday afternoon recorded instead the actual drowning of the actor rescuer and the saving of herself by the young woman who was to have been rescued. The actor who was drowned was Albert Brighton, 33 years old, of 115 West 102nd street. The play which ended in tragic reality took place at Brady's pond, Gramercus. The pond has an area of about six acres. At one side of it, on Grove street, is a saloon and restaurant run by Henry Christ, and across the road is a grove with tables and chairs, where Christ serves meals and drinks. Christ also has boats on the pond to let.

A SPECTACULAR CHASE FOR MAN BY POLICEMEN

Hamilton Prisoner Charged With Assault—Woman Says Threatened to Kill Her.

Hamilton, Ont., July 12.—After a spectacular midnight chase in which nearly half the police force, a patrol wagon full of detectives, men in pyjamas and their car, and an automobile, took part, N. H. Lemoth, who holds a good position at the Hamilton plant, was charged with assault, gross indecency and threatening to kill Mrs. Rachel E. Emblin. Shortly before midnight a woman's screams from the ill-lit grounds attracted the attention of the police. Men in pyjamas hurried into the ground from neighboring houses in time to see a man running. Without stopping to dress themselves, they took up the chase. Some one phoned the police, and in fifteen minutes the whole scene was covered with constables. The man who chased Lemoth say he stopped long enough once to offer them his watch and a large roll of bills if they would let him escape. The chase covered several miles, the citizens who took part in it establishing an elaborate sign system by which they kept the police in touch with their movements. Constable Campaign, jr., jumped into an automobile and with the assistance of the police caught up with Lemoth, who was in a serious condition. There finger marks on her throat, her back is injured, and she is suffering from shock. She says she was walking with Lemoth, who suddenly seemed to go mad, carried her into the creek, groined and threatened to kill her if she screamed.

"HENRY FITZ" MAY LOSE HIS JOB

Inquiry Started During His Absence Into Quarterly Expense Bill Totalling $23,827.82—Recall Proposed

Boston, July 12.—Auto expenses, carriage hire and traveling expenses cost the mayor's office $23,827.82 a day for every day of the week, including Sundays, for the three months ending July 1, according to City Auditor Mitchell's quarterly statement. That amount does not include money drawn by the mayor for his European trip. Acting Mayor Collins was staggered when he learned that the amount paid by the mayor's office for three months was $23,827.82. Now he wants an itemized statement of every bill, including everything spent on autos. Col. Field, of the mayor's office, who was in conference with some of the mayor's friends, was called upon to explain the expenditures. He did so, as best he could, and then returned to his political friends and told them Mr. Collins had taken everything so seriously that the only thing to do was to get in touch with the mayor at once. Mr. Field has been sending the mayor marked copies of the daily newspapers to keep him in touch with conditions at city hall, but since the acting mayor has been boomed as the mayor's opponent if the recall is successful, Secretary Field and the strategists generally believe Mr. Fitzgerald must return to open battle against his opponents. Aside from salaries, amounting to $6,000,48, Mr. Field declared the bill was comparatively small. The three largest single items are: Carriage hire and traveling expenses, $2,003,72; entertaining guests, $2,000,33; automobile hire, $1,481,60.

Mrs. Erving Winslow Victim of Sunstroke in Summer Home in Concord—Known as Kate Reynolds.

Boston, July 12.—Mrs. Erving Winslow, the noted actress and reader, long known on the stage as Kate Reynolds, died from sunstroke yesterday morning in the Winslow home at Concord. Mrs. Winslow had been in ill-health for some time, but no alarming symptoms had developed until she was prostrated Monday by the heat. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel at Springfield cemetery. An actress almost from infancy, an author, a reader and instructor, her career was one of the most remarkable of any of the old-time footlight favorites. At one time the youngest star in the firmament of the stage, Mrs. Winslow was among the first of the American actresses to win favor with English audiences, and was also the first to give them productions in Boston, which later led to the establishment of the Ipswich school of plays here. Before her marriage to Erving Winslow, then a young society man of Boston, Mrs. Winslow was a Miss Catherine Mary Reynolds. She was born in England, being the daughter of a grandmaster and niece of English army officers. Owing to family misfortune, she was left with her mother, unimproved for. At the age of twelve she was brought to America by her mother, and while but a child made her first appearance in the Boston theatre in Chicago in a small part in the then popular Cinderella, wherein her mother was cast for a leading part far below her talents. After many struggles and discouragements, Miss Reynolds came to New York, making her first appearance there as Virginia to the Virginia of Edwin Forrest.

MUTILATED BODIES TAKEN FROM WRECK

Mass of Splintered Wood and Twisted Iron and Steel at Bridgeport, Conn.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 12.—Shortly before the sun set in back of what remains of the debris of the ill-fated Federal express of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, wrecked at the site here Tuesday morning, the body of the last victim was taken from under the dog couch and also identification was made of all of the fourteen who lost their lives. The last body taken out was that of Sylvester Bennett, of Washington (D. C.). He was badly mutilated and the clothing had been nearly torn from the body. The final identifications were of the body of four-year-old Geo. H. Hartman, son of Mrs. Lois B. Hartman, of New London (Conn.); Arthur Demagay, colored, of West Chester (Pa.); and Stella G. Morley. The identification of the last named was made by means of a letter, but on which there was no address. The other body found today was that of Edmund J. Goff, a freight conductor of New Haven. At nightfall the masses of splintered wood and twisted iron and steel had been as thoroughly sorted out as to remove all possibility of there being other bodies in the wreckage. The Pullmans and the day coach have been hoisted and nothing further was found to indicate the presence of other victims. "He seems to be very clever," "Yes, indeed. He can even do the problems that his children have to work out at school."—Detroit Free Press.

ADJUDGE PILOT RESPONSIBLE

Suspended for Balance of the Year for Running Stormont Ground, and Asked to Study for Apprentice Certificate.

Montreal, July 12.—The formal investigation into the grounding of the steamer Stormont, near Longue Point on May 6 last, was concluded this afternoon, a judgment being given placing the responsibility for the accident on Pilot Rivard, who was in charge of the vessel when the grounding occurred. The pilot was punished by the suspension of his pilot's certificate for the balance of this year, was given a stern reprimand, his apprentice pilot's certificate was returned to him "so that he might acquire the knowledge which all pilots should possess." Capt. L. A. Demers, wreck commissioner, stated by Capt. P. Vast and A. T. Hawthorn, conducted the inquiry. A large number of witnesses were heard. The master, who had been on duty almost continually since leaving Fort William, had gone below for a short rest, which was entitled to do, as he had a license pilot to take charge. The lights were all in position and there was no excuse whatever for the grounding of the ship around. The Pilot was not seriously hurt. It was Rivard's first charge as a branch pilot.

FRICITION BETWEEN FRANCE AND SPAIN

Press of Both Countries Comment on Incident at Alcazar—Official Exploration Demanded at Madrid.

FRICITION BETWEEN FRANCE AND SPAIN

Paris, July 12.—France has asked the French charge d'affaires at Madrid to request the Spanish government to furnish explanations of the mistreatment of two Frenchmen by Spanish troops at Alcazar, Morocco. The Frenchmen, who are mercenaries, were arrested and relieved of their revolvers on the ground that they had violated a decree of the Spanish forces occupying the town, which prohibited the carrying of weapons. The French press has turned its attention from the Franco-German controversy to the Spanish attitude and declares that France will no longer accept the "provocations" from Spain which were inaugurated by the extension of her military operations in northern Morocco. Spanish Exploration. Madrid, July 12.—Spanish advices from Alcazar say that the incident being inquired into was exaggerated by the French, whose merchants were mistreated. The impartial makes a violent attack upon France, charging that French agents are trying to provoke a grave conflict at Alcazar. "France," says the paper, "is trying to charge a mine the explosion of which is likely to be followed by enormous consequences."

TRIES TO ROB BANK AT 13, GIRL IN CELL

"Needed the Money," Explanation of Ohio Miss Who Wanted to Buy Pretty Clothes.

TRIES TO ROB BANK AT 13, GIRL IN CELL

Akron, Ohio, July 12.—Edna Peables, thirteen years old, is in jail at The Falls, charged with attempted bank robbery. This afternoon she entered The Falls Savings Bank, the only bank in Cuyahoga Falls. She carried a revolver. The cashier, J. N. Wolfinger, was out and D. B. Gensinger was in charge. She sat in the outer office a few moments, then approached Gensinger and leveled the revolver at his head. "Give me the money in those vaults," she said. Gensinger, startled, said the vaults were closed and he could not open them. Disappointed, the girl retreated, backed to the door and started down the street on the run. She was arrested later. "I need the money," was her answer when the police asked her what had prompted her act. She apparently does not realize the seriousness of her situation and rather enjoyed at first the notoriety she had achieved. "Other girls had nice clothes and I didn't," she said in her cell tonight. "I thought that if I could get money I could have nice things, and it seemed that it would be easy to get money from a bank. If the cashier had given me the money I would have bought me a fine new outfit right away." The hold-up was in true wild western style. The girl held her gun steadily, and as she was folded and backed to the door left this warning: "Don't move, or my partner outside will get you."

PLANS HONEYMOON BUT GOES TO CELL

New York, July 12--After making expensive coals a machine of melody on the ceilings of many rooms in Broadway, and after giving many evenings across a plateau of lobster shells into the eyes of the beautiful young woman, he says he is engaged to marry today the girl to whom he is engaged to marry, Alexander L. Timpon, twenty years old, of No. 330 West 84th street, received a call in police headquarters last night charged with grand larceny.

When Timpon was questioned in his cell last night he declared that he had intended to marry today the girl to whom he had been attentive. She is a Wall street stenographer and lives at Inwood on the Hudson.

This is a fine substitute for a honeymoon trip, the young man remarked sarcastically, looking around his cell. The youth was employed as a salesman in the Acker establishment until April last. About that time Mr. Acker began to miss small articles from his stock. One day he was unable to find a diamond and sapphire ring valued at $1,000, and took the police into his confidence.

SIR WILFRID IS HEARTILY GREETED IN CANADA'S CAPITAL

Great Throng Welcome Him at Depot--Conservative Mayor Declines To Present Address of Welcome

Ottawa, July 12--The capital welcomed back Canada's first citizen tonight with whole-hearted enthusiasm. Sir Wilfrid was back among his fellow citizens and their welcome home was a fitting climax to the unparalleled series of receptions which have marked his return to Canada. On the arrival of his train at 7 o'clock the cheers broke forth from the waiting crowds assembled at the depot. As he drove in procession through the streets to Parliament Hill his thousands of admirers greeted with enthusiastic acclaim his appearance on the temporary platform erected at the end of the main walk. The reception, though under the auspices of the Liberal clubs of Ottawa and the reality non-political and gave eloquent testimony to the personal popularity of Sir Wilfrid in the city that knows him best.

WELCOME SIR WILFRID!

The welcome which will be universally accorded to Sir Wilfrid Laurier tonight will not be the acclaim of a party or the pride of a race, but the whole-hearted greeting of a people. Sir Wilfrid is always a figure of which the nation can be proud. Whether his fellow countrymen agree with his politics or oppose them, they feel that in the Premier they have a representative man who will do us credit in any company and command attention at any gathering.

Sir Wilfrid has now taken part in four Imperial Conferences. From the outset, he captured the imagination of the British people. His striking figure, his compelling eloquence, his grace of diction in a tongue not his own, his resolute and courageous Canadianism, all commanded respect and confidence. Naturally, there have been those who disagreed with him. We feel it our duty to disagree with him today on the most vital question before this country--on a question more vital than any which has confronted us in the boom of the minority race makes it all the more fitting that he should so splendidly fill up the measure of our pride. In truth, the touch of the winged poet in his eloquence is the gift of his race; and the picturesque quality which is never absent from his public appearance, is another heritage that Latin birth gives to its favored sons.

WELCOME SIR WILFRID!

There are occasions on which the Prime Minister is more than a party leader; and this is one of them. He became the official representative of all Canada. We forget party and public questions in acclaiming the First Canadian. Personally, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is an ideal personage for this position. That he comes from the boom of the minority race makes it all the more fitting that he should so splendidly fill up the measure of our pride. In truth, the touch of the winged poet in his eloquence is the gift of his race; and the picturesque quality which is never absent from his public appearance, is another heritage that Latin birth gives to its favored sons.

PLANS FOR MUNICIPAL BUILDING TO COUNTY COUNCIL NEXT WEEK

King Street East is Suggested Site And One Figure of Possible Cost is $300,000—Report Next Tuesday

The plans for the new municipal building which may some day be erected by the city and county of St. John, are about completed, and will be submitted to the municipal council at a meeting to be held on Tuesday next in the court-house. The plans have been drawn up by a local architect and will be presented at the meeting along with a report by a joint committee of the common and county councils, who have had the matter in hand.

Although the figures are not official, it was said this morning by a prominent citizen closely in touch with civic matters, that the cost of the projected building would be about $300,000. It would be three or four stories in height, and would contain the offices of all officials connected with the governing of the city and county, as well as provide apartments for the courts. The site said to be favored is in King street east.

THANKS OF THE QUEEN TO MARYS

Letter Received by Lady Grey Transmitted by Mrs. Tweedie To New Brunswick Contributors To Fund

Mrs. Tweedie, wife of Lieut-Governor Tweedie, has received the following letter from Lady Grey and Queen Mary, relative to the gift of the Empress of the Government House, Ottawa, July 4th, 1911.

Dear Mrs. Tweedie: A letter from Queen Mary thanking the Marjys of the empire for the beautiful gift that they have presented to Her Majesty on her coronation, has been communicated to the English press.

I enclose a copy of it, and would suggest that if Her Majesty's letter has not yet appeared in your provincial newspapers, they should be asked to allow their columns to be made the medium of the gracious thanks of Queen Mary to the Marjys of the empire.

Believe me, Dear Mrs. Tweedie, Yours sincerely,
ALICE GREY.
(Sgd.)
Government House, Fredericton, N. B.

Copy.
Buckingham Palace, July 8th, 1911.

I thank most warmly all the Marjys in the empire who have so generously contributed to the gift which has been presented to me.

The thought of the affectionate impulse which prompted it, has, I can assure you, deeply touched me.

The beautiful insignia of the garter, and the pictures of the king and my son which will form the personal part of the gift, will be treasured by me throughout my life, and will be handed down as precious heirlooms to those who come after me.

I look forward with special satisfaction to devoting the remainder of this noble present to a charitable object in which I am greatly interested.

WIFE OF CHAS. A. GRAY, BANK MANAGER, IS DEAD IN NEW GLASGOW

Was Miss Eleanor Leck of St. John—News Comes as Great Shock to Many Here

News of the death of Mrs. Eleanor Gray, wife of Charles A. Gray, bank manager, came as a shock to many in this city today. She died last night in New Glasgow, N. S., where she and her husband were spending a vacation.

Mr. Gray was for about two years manager of the Union Bank of Halifax here, but went to Montreal some time ago, when the bank was merged with the Royal Bank of Canada. He became manager of the latter's branch in Hamilton, Ont.

During the first week in June, Mrs. Gray came to this city to visit her sisters, Mrs. E. R. Nixon and Mrs. A. E. Prince, and after spending an enjoyable holiday of three weeks with them, was joined by her husband, whom she accompanied to New Glasgow, N. S., to visit his people. While there she was taken ill, and was operated on last Sunday. The operation, it was thought, had been successful but complications set in and a telegram received by Mr. Nixon this morning brought the news of her death.

Mrs. Gray was in her thirtieth year, and besides her husband, is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Prince, both of this city. The brothers are: John R. Leck, of St. John, and Henry Leck, of Armstrong's Corner. She was a grand-daughter of the late John Myers, of this city. Mr. Leck and Mrs. Prince have gone to New Glasgow to attend the funeral, which will be held tomorrow.

A large number of friends were at the depot last evening to say good-bye and to wish Miss Driscoll much happiness.
