CERAMIC EXHIBITION.

Opened This Morning—Many St. John Artists Contributing Effective Pieces.

The 6th ceramic exhibition of the Women's Art Association opened this morning in their rooms in Palmer's building at ten o'clock.

The association thought it would be wise to start a reserve fund for current expenses, as although the financial basis is fairly good, it only really covers the running expenses.

Mrs. George Murray has an exhibition of a beautiful vase ornamented with poppies; another vase of roses and a handsome jug painted with berries and leaves, beside many other effective pieces.

Mrs. Howard McLeod is showing a Hindo-Persian jug in jewels and paste; a vase in lustre and dragon; a plate of orchids in lustre and gold; jardiniere in iris and an artistic plate in jewels and lustre, beside many other beautiful pieces.

Miss Perkins has two pretty pieces, one a dish ornamented with roses and the other a plaque in hawthorn.

Miss McGivern has a large exhibit, including an ice-cream dish, blackberries, vase geraniums; whiskey jug, sultan bottle; vase, blackberries; 8 plaques, roses; jewel box, lustre and roses; vase, fever few.

STORM-SWEPT.

Disastrous Gales on the British Coast—Wind, Rain and Snow.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Violent winds, rain and snow storms are reported from all the coasts of the United Kingdom. A fierce gale is blowing in the channel and mountainous seas are running.

No less than half a dozen small vessels within sight of Dover are flying signals of distress and the lifeboats are vainly attempting to reach them. A rocket apparatus has been sent to the south foreland, where an admiralty vessel is on the rocks with crew clinging to the rigging.

Several vessels have been dismantled and tugs are rescuing craft which were driving ashore. At other channels scenes have been similar exciting scenes. Ships everywhere are running for shelter.

Police Court. A Cannon Discharged—Determined to Be Arrested—A Drunken Woman.

Yesterday afternoon John O'Regan partook rather too freely of aids to popular eloquence, and having towards evening wandered to the Central Police station, demanded to be arrested.

John O'Regan threatened that if such were not done he would at once commit some crime which would bring about his arrest. After having been turned away from the station several times he became so persistent in his attempts to enter that he was taken in charge for drunkenness.

This morning he complained that he was without a cent, had been unable to obtain a ticket to answer and had politely requested protection at the station. He was fined four dollars.

Percy Cannon strolled into court, his hands in his pockets, cap on his head, and a T. D. nose warmer between his teeth. Seated on the bench enjoying a quiet smoke, he was excessively annoyed when ordered to put out the pipe, and take off his cap.

Percy was charged with being drunk on the North wharf. He listened to the charge being read, paused a moment as if disdaining to answer and then drew out, "Ugh!" The charge was repeated, and after another pause, in a tone of contempt Percy remarked, "Drunk."

Cannon is a muzzle loader, and according to evidence given by Officer Rankine, was in a dismounted condition and more than half shot last night. As this was the first time he had been captured he was fined four dollars, but afterwards was discharged.

While Cannon was engaged in conversation with the court, William Reynolds, who had previously been fined four dollars for being drunk on Carmanthorpe street, rose to a question of privilege, and stated that he had failed to catch what had been said to himself. The amount of his fine was repeated. William paid it and vanished.

Laura Byron, a few days ago regained her liberty from the Home of the Good Shepherd, and celebrated it by becoming gloriously drunk on Brussels street last night. After a tussle in which, as Officer Sullivan says, she fought "like a bag of cats," Laura was arrested.

During the excitement Laura missed the one method by which she might possibly have escaped, for Officer Sullivan was vulnerable in one point, not in the heel, like Achilles, but on the unvaccinated arm. This, however, was untouched, with the result that Laura was today fined eight dollars or two months, with the promise of more later on.

AN OWL IN TOWN. The small boys of Carleton are rejoicing, but residents of Winslow street are not so joyous.

The reason of it all is that since Saturday a large grey crow has occupied a perch on one of the many trees on Winslow street between Ludlow and Watson streets, and in spite of the many delicate attentions literally thrown at him in the form of sticks and stones, refuses to leave his chosen resting place.

CAPE BRETON NOTES. All the collieries of the Dominion Coal Co. at Glaco Bay will hereafter be worked by the single shaft of ten hours instead of by double shaft. The single shaft has been found to work more satisfactorily and at much less cost.

It is estimated that the proposed water supply for Sydney will cost $200,000. Sir Charles and Lady Tupper leave Sydney tomorrow for the west.

IT'S ALL RIGHT NOW. PARIS, Nov. 12.—President Loubet presided at the cabinet council today. The foreign minister, M. Delcasse, announced that he had notified the ports that diplomatic relations between France and Turkey had been resumed and that Admiral Chailard's squadron had left the Island of Mytilene.

BACK FROM NOME. SEATTLE, Wn., Nov. 12.—The steamer Acadia arrived shortly before midnight from Nome with 112 passengers and $350,000 in gold. She was the last boat but one to leave the northern port and brought down many prominent business men. She reports meeting short of provisions and water. It was said that her sixty passengers had suffered many privations before reaching port. The Long was expected to follow the Arctic the next day.

Everything comes to those who wait. The rich man has ice in summer, but the poor man has just as much in winter.

KITCHENER'S REPORT. LONDON, Nov. 12.—Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria, dated Monday, Nov. 11, presents his weekly report and incidentally mentions General De Wet in the southern part of the Orange River colony. He says the Boers have recently been collecting under his leadership and that the British are now moving to disperse them.

Lord Kitchener gives the Boer casualties since Nov. 4th as 63 killed, 106 wounded, 104 captured and 45 surrendered.

COMMITTED SUICIDE. BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 12.—Dependent on account of financial difficulties, George P. Bancho, a retired leather merchant, committed suicide at his home here tonight. Mr. Bancho was about 60 years of age. He had not been engaged in active business for a number of years. Two sons and a daughter survive.

DEFaulter HUNTED DOWN. CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—John J. Joyce, former president of the Foughton National bank of Stoughton, Wis., has just been arrested here charged with defaulting with $40,000. His pursuers have followed him since May 15, 1899, their expenses being paid by the bank's depositors, mostly farmers, who allege that Joyce knew his bank was insolvent, and that he went away leaving many of them penniless and in some cases causing them to mortgage their farms.

WILL COST $2,000,000. CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—After a year's fight the city council has passed an ordinance requiring the Illinois Central, the Lake Shore, and Michigan Southern, the Pittsburg, Port Wayne and Chicago, the Peoria, the Nickel Plate and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads to elevate their tracks. The measure provides for the elevation of sixteen miles of tracks within six years, at an estimated cost of $2,000,000.

Night's spectacular and Musical Event at the Opera House.

The initial production of Siballa at the Opera House last evening was witnessed by a large audience, and was also a success from the artistic point.

Of the singers, Miss Beatrice Sutherland carried off the honors, her solo in the last act receiving an enthusiastic encore, and the young lady being the recipient of two bouquets.

Miss Frances Rainie had the dual part of Sibilla, goddess of the woods, and the old witch, very charming and graceful she appeared as the former, while her interpretation of the latter part showed much dramatic skill.

In the prologue, Miss Munro and Miss Margaret Patton, the former as queen of the fairies and the latter as Mother Carey, acquitted themselves with much credit.

The various spectacular features of the production included the magnificent array of pretty costumes, with many very pretty dances. Perhaps the prettiest, and certainly the most heartily applauded of the dances, was that of the Venetian peasants; but the finest of the dancing was the march and fancy drill of the King's Hussars, participated in by 24 young ladies in splendid scarlet costumes.

There were also dances of the fairies, blossoms, fireflies, butterflies, spiders, frogs and rabbits, shepherd boys and shepherdesses, with a grand finale at the end of the second act, in which about ninety persons appeared.

During the various dances, when the stage was bright with dancing costumes, changing colored lights were thrown upon them, making the scene one of wonderful beauty.

The grand transformation scene, which showed the nymph's doll, the elfin bowler, the magic ring, the magic fan and the home of Sibilla, was a fitting finale to a very elaborate and lovely spectacular production.

Some very little people appeared in the prologue, and their second act, and caused a great deal of amusement by their appearance and antics.

The orchestra is deserving of special praise for the excellence of its work.

Mr. Averill and his staff, the R. K. Y. Club, and all who took part in Sibilla are to be congratulated on its success. Were one disposed to measure amateur work by the standard of professional, some flaws and lack of abandon might be selected for criticism, but remembering the magnitude of their task, it can only be said that the result is extremely gratifying.

This evening's performance will be fully three-quarters of an hour shorter than it was last night.

COMMON COUNCIL. The common council decided at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon to take advantage of the offer of Andrew Carnegie in connection with our Free Public Library.

The regular monthly meeting of the N. B. Poultry, Kennel and Pet Stock Association was held last evening, and was the largest attended in the history of the club.

Major Daniel presided, and all the members were present except Ald. Waring, Colwell and Hilyard.

Ald. Armstrong objected to the acceptance of the offer on the ground that Mr. Carnegie owed St. John nothing. His letter came in response to one sent by the mayor.

Ald. Baxter was also proposed to the proposition. The city should not be under obligation to any man. It should be independent.

Mr. Carnegie had bought his way in society and titles from universities. St. John was founded by those professing different principles. Were we to give them up for $50,000. The aldermen then devoted some attention to the Homeless problem and Mr. Carnegie's treatment of his employees.

DEATH AND DUTY. It was with a heart almost broken with grief that W. B. H. Jones, the musical director of Sibilla, took up his station last night. Less than three hours before the rising of the curtain he received a telegram from Manchester, New Hampshire, announcing the sudden death of Miss Frances Adams, a charming young lady to whom he had been engaged for some years, and to whom he expected to be married in a short time.

A number of bills were passed. The secretary reported the enrollment for the month as 7,238, an increase over November, 1900, of 155. The daily average attendance was 6,115.

BRIDEGROOM-ELECT DINED. Washington's restaurant was last evening the scene of an enjoyable gathering, the occasion being a dinner given by No. 1 Scott's Company to Quartermaster-Sergt. Thomas Armour, whose wedding occurs this evening to Miss Maude Farris, daughter of Capt. John E. Farris of the tug "Flushing."

About ten o'clock the river and city were again the scene of a grand display of fireworks, which were set off by the company and non-commissioned officers set down to dinner and spent about an hour in considering an excellent bill of fare.

Capt. Farren occupied the chair, with the guest on his right, while Lt. Casely occupied the vice-chair. After doing ample justice to the vianda, the company settled itself down for the toasts of the evening. The principal toasts were The King, Our Guest, Our Native Land, Non-Coms. of No. 1, The Brigade, Army and Navy, Absent Members, and The Officers. About 10 o'clock the gathering was brought to a close by singing God Save the King.

PROSPECT NOT BRIGHT. Corporation Drive May Be Caught by the Ice.

(Fredericton Herald.) The fall end of the corporation drive is reported to have passed Bel River on Saturday. Logs are running into the Douglas boom, and a great many are being rafted along the river and brought to Springhill. The water is very low and the contractors find it difficult to get men to work on the drive at this season of the year; still they are employing all that come along, and are making every effort to get the logs into the boom limits before navigation closes. During the past week the drive was moved at the rate of about two miles a day, which means that unless the conditions become more favorable it will take at least twenty days to reach the Douglas boom.

(Gleaner.) The corporation drive was at Bel River on Saturday night, and making slow progress. The lumbermen now have grave doubts as to the possibility of getting the lumber into the booms before the river freezes over. Unless this can be done the greater part of the lumber will probably go out to sea with the ice next spring.

POULTRY AND KENNEL SHOW. The regular monthly meeting of the N. B. Poultry, Kennel and Pet Stock Association was held last evening, and was the largest attended in the history of the club.

Several new members were elected and a lot of business in connection with the coming show was carried through. Entries in the different classes have been coming in well, so that the exhibition is now an assured success. There are still some fanciers who are under the impression that a pedigree for the dogs is necessary. This is not so. No pedigree is required, and in order to allow these and others a chance to exhibit, the time of receiving entries in all classes has been extended until Saturday night, the 18th inst. Send entries to the secretary, T. McCallough, 32 Carleton street, who will furnish blanks, etc.

OFFICIALS OF T. VISIT. G. W. P. Tilley and officers of the Grand Division Sons of Temperance, accompanied by the propagation committee, visited Gordon Division officials last evening. They could not be married in a night by using Vapo-tresoles, which has been extensively used for twenty-four years. All druggists.

STANLEY KEIRSTEAD. Sketch of the former partner of the Hon. H. A. McKown.

Stanley Keirstead, formerly of the law firm of McKown & Keirstead of St. John, at present of the Depot House, Sussex, at 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

The deceased was a son of the late Alfred I. Keirstead (for several years a councillor for St. John and warden of Kings county) by his first wife, Miss McDonald, a sister of Dr. McDonald of Petaloidal. He was in the forty-first year of his age at the time of his death, having been born at Collina, Ontario, in 1861.

He was educated in the common schools, and was a graduate of the University of New Brunswick. He chose the law as his profession and was an LL. B. of the law school in connection with the Ann Arbor University. He at once opened an office in partnership with the now Hon. H. A. McKown in St. John, and the firm did an excellent business for a number of years, until 1892, when Mr. Keirstead retired and moved to West Superior, Wisconsin, where he entered into partnership with Frank Cutler, a counsellor-at-law of that place.

He shortly after his removal west married Miss Julia M. Landwehr of West Superior. About five years ago he was stricken with paralysis and has remained an invalid ever since, his devoted wife giving her entire life during all those years to his care and nursing. Some few weeks ago he expressed a desire to revisit his old boyhood home and friends, and Mrs. Keirstead, with true wifely devotion and tenderness, thought that perhaps a change would do him good, and hoping against hope that perhaps his former physicians could assist him, willingly consented to the trip. They arrived in St. John about two weeks ago, and after a rest of four days came to St. John, and everything that medical aid and wifely attention and kind friends could do to prolong life was willingly done, but to no avail. Although little hope was held out for any material gain of life, the sudden ending was altogether unexpected.

During the last week had called and found him so cheerful, were shocked and mourned Sunday morning of his demise. The funeral took place on Monday (Tuesday), at 1 o'clock p. m. at the Episcopal cemetery at St. John's Corner, Springfield. Mr. Keirstead, who has won the admiration of all of his husband's former friends and acquaintances by her heroic devotion to him in his helplessness, has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. She will return west, it is understood, shortly after the interment. Her will be a sad homegoing, but she will have with her what comfort may be in the form of a loving duty faithfully performed.

The funeral services were held at the Depot house at ten a. m., by the Rev. Sewell Neales, rector of Trinity, and were attended by a number of the intimate friends of the deceased.

CAREFUL OF HIS HEALTH. (Detroit Tribune.) Assassination coolers were cool to the last, but the opportunity afforded to capital prisoners in the earlier days to be practical was not vouchsafed him. The following is related of a Virginia murderer, about to "stretch his legs."

Sheriff-Prisoner, yer are now goner be strung up by the neck for a little request, sing out, an' if it's on the sly, I'll make yer a gentleman the same as of yer was a gentleman. Prisoner—Thank yer, sheriff, I'd like a glass er beer.

Sheriff—Turnkey, tap that new keg and bring him in a big mug full. The beer was brought in, and the doomed man, standing on the scaffold with the noose around his neck, carefully blew all the froth from the mug before placing it under his nose. "Well, he's looking at yer," he said, and the prisoner drank. Then he was pulled down the black cap and mangled the trap, spoke: "I noticed that yer blowed the froth all off ther beer before drinkin' it, made yer do that?" Prisoner—'Proth make yer in the stomach; it ain't healthy.

A STORY OF MANSFIELD. Richard Mansfield is known to have very decided notions upon deportment and matters of etiquette, relates the New York Times. With a friend, who is authority for the story, Mr. Mansfield rode uptown on a Broadway car the other afternoon. Both men had seats for a time until at the intersection of the car was crowded with women. Both offered their seats to the nearest woman. The one who accepted Mr. Mansfield's courtesy said into his seat without a word. The other raised his silk hat. "If beg your pardon," he said, slowly. The woman looked up apparently in surprise. "I didn't say anything," she volunteered. "Pardon me for my mistake," returned Mansfield in a kindly tone, and killed by a vicious raid.

"Pardon me, I thought you said 'Thank you.'"

Mr. Foster spoke on the progress of Canada and said that ten years in the future would be equal to 25 in the past and the most sanguine man could not begin to forecast what Canada would be in the link of colonies 25 years hence.

WOODSMEN VERY SCARCE. (The Paper Mill.) The scarcity of woodsmen is getting to be a serious matter with Penobscot river lumbermen. "Never in all the years I have been in touch with lumbering business," said State Land Agent E. E. Ring, of Orono, this week, "have I seen it so hard to get men for work in the woods as is the case now. Men are so scarce that operators are willing to pay them almost any price within reason. Wages are much higher than I ever knew them to be before, and even at the increase there are not many takers."

"I know of a lumberman who, a short time ago, spent a week in hunting for men, and then he only succeeded in lining up six or seven. That was not the worst of it either, for after he had taken those men to the very edge of the forest, paid their fares and thought he had them fast, another operator stole them away. The other man made an offer that suited the crew better, and when morning came and it was time to push on into the camp, there was not a man left in the bunch."

"The lack of men may be accounted for in several ways, but is principally due to increase of business in the province. Of late years we have come to depend wholly on men from across the line; indeed, to such an extent that our native born workmen no longer go in to the woods. Any man who can swing an axe need not go hungry in Maine this winter. He will find operators ready to bid for his services and use him well after they get him."

WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES?

Last evening a woman arrived at the Grand Union Hotel and registered as Mrs. Annie Jones. This morning she visited the central police station and reported that her husband, William K. Today Detective Kilien has been making enquiries at different machine shops in the city where Jones, who is a machinist by trade, might have applied for work, but as yet no information in regard to the missing Jones has been received. Mrs. Jones states that she belongs to Amberst.

SMALLPOX.

One New Case Today—Trouble at Musquash—Kings County—Record to Date.

A suspected case of smallpox was reported on Richmond street today. Dr. Morris will make an examination this afternoon.

The case on Richmond street was later on reported as a mild case of smallpox. The patient is Miss Marion Fraser, eighteen years of age, daughter of W. M. Fraser. There are in the house besides, Mr. Fraser and Mrs. Fraser and son.

No new cases have developed in the General Public Hospital today, nor are any suspected. In the epidemic hospital three cases are causing considerable anxiety. These are Miss Bertie Knapp, Miss Matilda Melanson and Maggie Sherwood. In addition to the smallpox, Miss Knapp is suffering from pneumonia, which makes her case much more serious.

All the patients who developed smallpox in the general public hospital were vaccinated while in the institution. Miss Munro, however, was only vaccinated the day the disease developed in her.

Last evening two new cases of smallpox were reported. One was Mrs. Alfred Coy, of 255 Waterloo street, and the other the fourteen months' old child of Mrs. H. E. Alward, of 10 Haymarket Square, who is ill with the disease.

The C. P. R. officials here received yesterday from Dr. Young of Vancouver, representing the Maine state board of health, word that the Maine authorities had ordered the inspection and vaccination of all passengers on trains entering the state from this direction. The order went into force yesterday, the doctor coming to Vancouver, joining the outgoing train and vaccinating all passengers not producing evidence of recent successful operation. Beginning today a physician for that purpose will probably join at St. John each train leaving in that direction.

An Associated Press despatch from Portland, Me., last night also says that, acting upon a request from the state board, the local board of health will inspect all steamers arriving at that port from St. John, N. B., to guard against the introduction of smallpox into the state.

TROUBLE IN MUSQUASH.

At the meeting of the board of health today the matter of persons refusing to be vaccinated came up. Attention was particularly drawn to the Musquash case. It appears that Miss Baxter, who was in the Shea house at Fairville, where she is now lying dangerously ill of smallpox, left that place and became an inmate of W. J. Dean's house, Musquash. The board of health sent down instructions to Dr. Corbett to vaccinate Miss Baxter and all those with whom she came in contact. As a result of these instructions Dr. Corbett called at the house of Mr. Dean to perform the operation. He was there refused permission to do so, but the placard was fastened to the door. He immediately telephoned for further instructions, and was informed that if the inmates of the house refused to be vaccinated to place the house in quarantine and placard it. This he promptly did, but the placard was torn down. Dr. Corbett asked for further instructions. The board decided to employ the services of J. R. Armstrong, K. C., to prosecute this and all similar cases, and he today met with the board of health.

THE RECORD TO DATE.

The following patients, numbering twenty-seven in all, were removed to the epidemic hospital. While there two of them, Joseph Barton and Mrs. J. A. Beye, died, so that at present twenty-five patients are receiving treatment.

IN KINGS COUNTY.

HAMPTON, Nov. 12.—Last night young Sprague, fourteen years old, son of the late Lemuel Sprague, who lives back of Norton, was reported to be improving, although not outside the danger point. Mrs. George Riecker of Kars, a sister, is ill, but her case has not sufficiently advanced to affirm it to be smallpox. Dr. Wetmore has obtained permission from the chairman of the provincial board of health to employ a special doctor to look after the case at Chapel Grove and vicinity. He has gone there today to make further enquiries and do what vaccination is necessary. There are many rumors of new cases, but none of them authentic.

A FREDERICTON OPINION.
 (Fredericton Gleaner.)

The smallpox situation in St. John is serious, not because the number of cases is very large or because the disease is of a virulent type, but because the high authorities there seem to be nearly helpless. They have reached the limits of their hospital accommodation, and apparently nothing is being done to provide more accommodation. There seems to be some kind of dispute between the local and the provincial authorities as to who shall provide more accommodation. That is serious, because in the meantime the disease spreads. It is easy to be wise at a distance, and we may not be so wise if it breaks out here, but it does seem stupid to be resting over a question of responsibility at this stage. There is no epidemic in St. John, but give the disease half a week's rest, while authorities dispute about the provision of quarters and it will take thousands of dollars before the community catches up on the disease.

GENERAL NOTES.

A public meeting of the citizens of Sussex was held yesterday, and a committee appointed to look after the prevention of an outbreak of smallpox in this place.

The city council of Fredericton yesterday decided to act upon the recommendation of the board of health and have the epidemic hospital put in order at once, to be in readiness for a possible outbreak of smallpox. Citizens are being vaccinated in large numbers.

Smallpox in Hull, Quebec, appears to be nearing an end. There are at present four places in which there are smallpox patients. The highest number of cases in that city was nineteen.

The three planets Saturn, Jupiter and Venus are rapidly approaching each other. Saturn is at the approximate altitude of 40 degrees, Jupiter of 35 degrees, Venus of 25 degrees, in this position.

Sat. * Jup.
 * Venus.

"On Nov. 17 Venus and Jupiter will overtake Saturn and will be in conjunction with them, Venus 2 degrees south of Jupiter and 3 degrees south of Saturn.

"On Nov. 27 Saturn and Jupiter may be seen together, an occurrence not to be witnessed again for very many years."
