DREDGING IN THE HARBOR TO BE PUSHED

Minister Has Called Meeting of Joint Committee on Harbor Improvements Today

Engineer of Public Works Department Will Be Here and Whole Work Will Be Thoroughly Gone Into

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The writs for the St. John and Brockville by-elections would have gone out today had it not been a public holiday. They are all ready and will go out tomorrow to

HON. WM. PUGSLEY, Minister of Public Works.

Sheriff Ritchie of St. John and Sheriff Dunn, who have been selected as returning officers. Nominations will be on Wednesday, Sept. 18, and polling a week later, on Sept. 25.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley arrived home on the C. P. R. express at noon yesterday and was warmly received and congratulated by numerous friends upon his appointment as Minister of Public Works.

Before his arrival the minister wired to the mayor and the president of the Board of Trade requesting that a meeting of the joint committee on harbor improvements be held today. Engineer Laffler of the public works department will be present at the meeting, when the whole scheme of present harbor development will be gone into and arrangements made to advance the work, particularly the dredging, with all possible speed. A difficulty which has arisen regarding the dredging near Rodney wharf involving possible damage to that structure will also be gone into and settled.

Dr. Pugsley's appointment having made necessary his resignation from the recently created harbor commission, arrangements must be made for the selection of his successor. This will be attended to shortly, and it is the minister's intention to assist the commission in every possible way in the preparation and execution of a general scheme of harbor development.

Stewart-Strauchon Wedding

The following description of the wedding of Rev. J. Westra Stewart, curate of Trinity Church, and Miss Elizabeth Margaret Strauchon, is from the Kansas City Journal's society columns: "A beautiful wedding was celebrated yesterday in St. Mark's Episcopal Church at 11.30 o'clock, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Margaret Strauchon and the Rev. Joseph Westra Stewart, curate of Trinity Church, St. John, Canada. The service was read by the Rev. B. G. McKinnon. The church and altar were beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and white aster. Miss Hartley played the wedding march and during the betrothal the intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana." The bride wore a cream illusion cloth built over taffeta, the bodies outlined with rose point lace and the skirt trimmed with a panel of Byzantine embroidery in white and gold. In lieu of the bouquet, the bride carried a prayer book bound in silk with red velvet cover, and her veil was fastened with the arms of her father and met the groom at the altar with his best man, John M. Kelly. Little Corinne Strauchon, the flower girl, in dainty white, preceded the bridal party down the aisle, bearing the ring in the heart of a great American Beauty rose. The matron of honor, Mrs. John Kelly, wore a white chiffon silk over taffeta and carried a large arm bouquet of pink asters. Only relatives and very close friends attended the church services, and a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and relatives followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Strauchon, 263 Forest avenue. The reception room was decorated in white asters, while pink hydrangeas were used in the library and golden canns in the dining room. Suspended above the centre of the table was a floral ship, signifying that the fact that the courtship of the bride and groom began on shipboard. The place cards were miniature hand-painted ships. Roy and Mrs. Stewart left for Watford, Ontario, and after an extended wedding journey, will be at home 31 Orange street, St. John, where the parish of Trinity Church will give its pastor and his wife a reception on the evenings of October 9th and 16th.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 3, 1907.

REFORM NEEDED? Rev. E. C. Jenkins, heretofore a follower of the ordinary active methods of the sterner church leader, has suddenly developed into a harsh critic of public life, and adopts the attitude of a reformer.

absolutely nothing in the conduct of any of the visitors which would warrant criticism. All were gentlemen in their bearing, hearty in their enthusiasm seeking only clean enjoyment, and thoroughly creditable representatives of their respective towns.

UNBROKEN LOVE O lovely soul, so bright! For these I'd go through fire, Or climb the upward toilsome height Still linger in the way I tread, and live to share A glow of heaven's eternal day, set in a gem-it sea.

WIEGEN-LIED. The gold is thick upon the fields, The dew is on the heather; Come to my heart, my little one— In fairyland together, Let's sail the bays and walk the ways, Aglow with red, red roses! Prill night is here, and she, in fear, The day's bright portals close.

CURE FOR INSOMNIA. Towne—Sleep well these sizzling nights? Subbs—Like a top—never lose a wink. Towne—Great Scott! What do you believe grant favors in return, some really in so far as they are able, when circumstances arise. This has always been the case and always will be, until the long looked-for millennium. But St. John is not suffering to any very serious degree. Our representatives on the whole are of average honesty and perhaps average ability, though as they stand in the light of public opinion their weaknesses may be the more glaringly apparent.

THE TOURNAMENT. FLEMING, large detachments representing many cities and towns in the Maritime Provinces and Maine are participating in the St. John tournament. Their presence here has been in every way agreeable, they have been warmly welcomed, and it is to be hoped that they have enjoyed the visit as much as the citizens of this rocky burg have enjoyed their too brief stay here.

FAVORS SHOWN TO GREENE AND GAYNOR. Latter Allowed to Leave Jail for Summer Resort and Both Enjoy Unusual Privileges.

TO CALCULATE LONGEVITY. "Bacon took a deep interest in longevity and its earnings," said physicians, "and his signs of long life and of short-life are as true today as they ever were. You won't live long, Bacon pointed out, if you have soft, fine hair, fine skin, quick growth large head, early corpulence, short neck, small mouth, brittle and separate teeth and fat ears. Your life, having accidents will be very lengthy if you have slow growth, coarse hair, a rough skin, deep wrinkles in the forehead, firm flesh, a large mouth, wide nostrils, strong teeth set close together and a hard, gritty ear."

CONCERNING THE MEN THEMSELVES nothing that is not entirely creditable can be said. In an outing such as this wherein many hundreds of men participate it is usually difficult to subdue some few turbulent spirits who are lacking in self respect. But there was

FAMOUS CIRCUS EQUESTRIAN DIRECTOR

It has long been a disputed question since the master of intelligence possessed by "man's best friend," the horse. Many are the experts who have declared that the horse has no brain at all and that they are naturally lazy, showing no disposition to work, have absolutely no reasoning power, etc.

THE HAPPY HALF HOUR. The immense auditorium of the Happy Half Hour was taxed to its utmost yesterday by men, women and children, all eager to see the new special programme. Nobody was disappointed and many remarks were made that it was worth many times the price asked. A Bad Boy's Dream furnished lots of laughter as did Put out the Fire, and The Village Fire Brigade, the last two being fire pictures. The last one was a Big Nocturnal Fire which is a most thrilling picture of the turnout of the department, a child rescued by a fireman, its mother jumping from the roof and is caught in a life-net, and the collapse of the building. When the Firemen Fight the Flames, a song illustrated with actual fire pictures was specially sung by L. Domingo and Harry B. LeRoy and they were frequently called upon for an encore. Twenty-five views of the local fire department were shown and made a distinct hit. Among the oldest is one of No. 3 Co. and engine house, taken at the time of the visit of the present King. Another is of old No. 2 Co., taken about 1865, while during of old No. 1 H. and L. taken during the visit of the Marquis of Lorne and Prince Louise. There are many more taken at various dates and pictures of the modern department taken a few days ago are shown. Two interesting pictures shown were the old King George III. engine now in Shelburne, N. S. This is the oldest fire engine in the world, and by way of contrast a horseless engine was shown. Among the veteran firemen shown in these pictures are Captain Jackson, Leonard, Bowman, Carr, McLaughlin, Mason, LeLachur, Thomas, Drake, Reed, Cummins, Stewart, Unkoff, Madock, Bibe and many others. Some of them took part in yesterday's parade. Others shown, and who have passed away were: Chamberlain, Lavro, Leonard and Rubin. These pictures made a great hit with both local and visiting firemen.

and patience and kindness, but the horse was worth it, for they are all docile now and seldom get mischievous. Sheltered ponies are easily broken. They are very intelligent. The horses for the hippodrome and various kinds of races are broken fairly quickly and soon learn what is required of them. All of the stock at the winter quarters have regular hours for school and play, and when we open here, the public will see the sort of education I have given my pets. The Greater Norris and Rowe Circus will exhibit at St. John Saturday, Sept. 14th.

THE NEW INTERNATIONALISM. (By Lucia M. Mead) Introduction. "It is hardly too much to say that, for economical purposes, all mankind is fast becoming one people, in which the hitherto backward nations are taking a place analogous to that which the unskilled workers have held in each one of the civilized nations. Such an event opens a new stage in world history."—James Bryce.

"The time has come when the study of peace shall be made more important in schools than the study of war. The methods of peace must be studied in kindergarten and grammar schools, high schools and universities. The victories of peace must be celebrated there. In a bitter, satirical passage, Carlyle shows that in his day England did not perfectly educate any child of England, excepting the men who carry guns. You have trained half a million men so that they shall know how to kill you, and you have trained no man besides." That bitter epigram, thank God, has ceased to be true as sixty years have gone by. But even now, think how much more care you give to the study of the histories of war than to the histories of peace."—Edward Everett Hale.

In the year 1895 certain significant steps were taken in the educational world which marked distinct progress towards a new spirit of internationalism. A practical endeavor to relate education to modern conditions was manifested in Myers' Modern History, the new edition of which contained an admirable chapter on "The World State." In April the following notable letter was sent by Secretary Martin of the Massachusetts State Board of Education to all the school superintendents in the state: "A statute which has made the English laws of Massachusetts famous for more than a century imposes upon all instructors of youth the obligation to use their best endeavors to instill into the minds of the children and youth committed to their care the principles of love of country, humanity and universal benevolence. "It has become a general practice in schools to stimulate the love of country by special exercises in connection with the public holidays, Feb. 25, April 19, and May 20. "A favorable opportunity to cultivate the other two virtues, humanity and universal benevolence, is now afforded in the setting apart of the 18th of May in commemoration of the opening of the Hague Convention, May 18, 1899. This day is to be widely celebrated in Europe and by numerous organizations in America. "The Board of Education recommends that appropriate exercises be held in the schools of Massachusetts on May 18th for the purposes of emphasizing the blessings of peace, of showing the superiority of arbitration over war, and of exalting the brotherhood of nations. "Such exercises might profitably include brief accounts of the settlement of recent international disputes by arbitration, together with quotations, readings and recitations, concerning peace from the writings of Washington, Sumner and other statesmen, and from the poems of Holmes, Lowell and Whitier. "An appropriate motto for the day would be: 'God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth.' "Shortly afterwards similar letters were issued by educational authorities of Ohio, New York City. To a considerable extent the teachers responded to the suggestions, and without much opportunity properly to prepare for the occasion did their best under the circumstances. A brave beginning was made in what is soon to become an international celebration of great significance. In 1906, every State Board of Education in every state will be requested to recommend an intelligent observance of May 18 in the schools. To the Editor of The Star.

THE LADYBUG. "For the farmers Mother Goose has probably done as much as any of the agricultural scientists," was the remarkable statement made recently by Henry Grison Parsons, who, as professor of horticulture, is conducting a course in school summer school. "No," he replied, "I am not poking fun at or belittling the biologic experts and their wonderful discoveries. But do you know the part played in agriculture by the ladybug? The ladybug lives to eat the aphids, or plant louse, which is so destructive to plants. And did you ever see a child kill one of these aphid eating friends of farming? I never did. If a ladybug lights on a child's hand, what does he do? Why he says, 'Ladybug, ladybug, fly away home,' and gently starts the insect on its way. Mother Goose has taught the child to be kind to the ladybug, and as a result, instead of being killed, these little creatures are cherished and allowed to do their beneficial work."

MORE IMPORTANT. "Did I understand you to say," asked Mrs. Chatters, "that your husband had no vacation?" "Worse than that," replied the minister's wife, "I said he had no vacation."

MONTE CARLO THE HOME OF SUICIDE AND CRIME.

Suggestion in the London Times That the Nations Obliterate It Received With Widespread Approval and Support.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—An interesting letter in the Times, signed "Indicus," suggests that it is time an end should be put to Monte Carlo, the plague spot of Europe.

"Before this hideous Monte Carlo tragedy ceases to be a nine-days' wonder," writes "Indicus," "I would suggest that it is time attention should be drawn to the fons et origo mali, the gambling rooms of that notorious place.

"I speak as one who knows, having resided for some time at Monte Carlo, near the villa in which the Goolds rented a small flat. How long are the millions of Europe going to tolerate the continuance of this plague-spot in their midst?

"That is the question that should be agitated in the press and chancelleries of every European capital, whose gladdened youth are ruined annually in scores, and whose numbers are ever-increasing, not only because of the gambling facilities, made more seductive by the beauty of the place, its gardens, and the unrivaled Casino band.

"The profits, I may state, accruing from the tables, which average 20,000,000 francs, are divided between the shareholders, the municipality and the Prince of Monaco. On the same day the Goolds are supposed to have committed the crime with which they are charged there occurred at Castellare the suicide of a young English and American couple on their honeymoon who had been ruined at Monte Carlo.

"President Roosevelt might well assume the initiative in this righteous crusade, for the American plutocrats are as prominent at the tables as the aristocracy of Europe."

MAX PEMBERTON'S VIEWS.

Max Pemberton, the novelist, who is an authority on Monte Carlo, said yesterday that the diplomatic situation would make any such action difficult.

"I cannot pronounce an opinion on a crime that is still untried," he said, "but one thing is clear—Monte Carlo is the haunt of every adventurer and every fortune teller. It is a place where the fortunes of many big swindlers and their have been planned at Monte Carlo.

"No obvious curse of the place is that fools go there to make money out of the tables, and rogues go there to make money out of the fools. The atmosphere is most demoralizing to young people, who lose their heads and also all sense of the value of money.

"Another great evil is that of pure English girls succumbing to the atmosphere. They are often brought in contact at the tables with undesirable persons, with whom they actually converse.

"The government of every country is perfectly aware that Monte Carlo should be suppressed, but the diplomatic situation makes action impossible, and France, under whose protection Monte Carlo exists, is placed in a most difficult position.

"The authorities at Monte Carlo do their best to preserve order in the rooms, but it is perfectly impossible to keep out rogues of both sexes. Wherever you have unrestricted gambling you will have unrestricted crime. The suicides at Monte Carlo regard as only a minor part of the evil. There must be thousands of tragedies in all parts of Europe which could be traced back to the gambling rooms at Monte Carlo.

"I am convinced that the suppression of Monte Carlo would prove a more practical and nobler work for humanity than the advancement of impossible propositions at the Hague Peace Conference."

SUICIDES HURLED UP.

"The Monte Carlo Casino has been responsible for more suicides than any other institution of any kind in the world," a frequent visitor to the Riviera told an Express representative yesterday.

"It was said three or four years ago that the gambling house was about to be closed, but it is still drawing thousands of people into its net every year, and so great has been its financial success that a new gaming place in the neighborhood is being talked of. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that thousands of people have committed suicide through being ruined at Monte Carlo. As a rule, the world hears little or nothing of such suicides, for it is not to the interest of the town to say much about them. But now and then striking cases come to light. Here are a few:

DEC. 9, 1904.—Harold Clarke, son of a distinguished San Francisco family, a law student of New York, shot himself through the head in the Hotel Regina, Paris. He had just returned from Monte Carlo, where he lost all his money at the tables.

December 17, 1904.—A young Italian count, who had just returned from Monte Carlo, shot himself through the head in the gardens for a while talking to a lady, he pulled out a revolver and shot himself through the heart. Attendants quickly removed the body and few persons were aware of what had happened.

December 19, 1904.—Rudolph Ryder, a young Viennese gentleman, lost all his money at the tables, and together with his wife, lay down in front of a train at Villefranche and was cut to pieces.

"These are only a few instances noted now and then during a single month," he continued. "No one knows how many more cases occurred together in that same month, or how many more occur in a year.

"Ruined players are continually jumping into the sea and getting drowned, or going to Paris or elsewhere, there to commit suicide. Some of the suicides do not represent a tenth of the misery due to the Casino. For many people are ruined by the bank that it has been necessary to establish a relieving department, in order to get rid of the ruined players, who might otherwise commit suicide.

FAIRES HOME PAID.

"Every day in the season a score or more of men and women apply to the Casino offices for a dose to pay their hotel bills and their fares home. Some of these are British officers, who had lost every penny, was given a free F. and O. ticket to Calcutta and £50.

"But in spite of this toll on its profits the Casino has not millions sterling cut of the gamblers who try to break the bank. Last year its total receipts came to $7,000,000, an increase of $700,000 on the year before.

"After every expense had been deducted there was close on to $5,000,000 for distribution among the shareholders, at the rate of $70 a share. This was equal to ten per cent. on the original value of the shares.

"The curse of Monte Carlo is not merely that it is responsible for the ruin of hundreds of men and women," he concluded, "but that it entails unnumbered woes on their families, who often have to suffer, not only privation, but great mental anguish, directly due to the evil influence of the gambling tables.

"It is a forcing bed for crime. Swindlers and thieves of every class haunt the place.

"The spot is the most beautiful one on the Riviera, and has the finest climate for invalids. It is time that such a place was rid of the curse of the gambling den."

NEWS OF HOPEWELL HILL.

HOPEWELL HILL, Sept. 2.—The farmers are pretty well discouraged on account of the unfavorable haying weather, it being almost impossible to get any gathered in good condition, there having been heavy showers almost every day. It must necessarily be late before the crop is harvested. New hay is said to be bringing $10 a ton, an unusual price at this season.

M. B. Dixon of Riverside returned last week from a business trip to New York.

Bliss A. Smith of St. John is spending a vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Chesley Smith.

Paul Tingley, son of J. M. Tingley, is home from Lynn, Mass., on a visit. Misses Mary Newcomb and Lottie Russell left today for Fredericton to attend the Normal School, both having entered for first class.

G. H. Adair of Abohaqui, formerly principal of the school here, spent Sunday with friends in the village.

AND THE BOY WAS RIGHT.

"If one quart of berries cost 7 1/2 cents, how much would three quarts cost?" asked a Brooklyn teacher in an oral test the other day.

"They would cost you 22 cents," promptly responded a little boy. "We have nothing less than 1 cent in our money, and the man would just make it 22 cents."

THE LOCALITY.

"Are you in pain, my little man?" the kind old gentleman asked.

"No," answered the boy. "The pain's in me."

TO IN FOR THE SALVATION ARMY

Official in London Talks of Proposed Colonization of 230,000 Acres in Algeria.

A great colonization scheme in Canada, drawn up by the heads of the Salvation Army, has just been approved in principle by General Booth and Government officials, says the London Chronicle, and it only awaits the sanction of a joint commission of the army and the Canadian Government to be carried into effect.

The Government to sell to the Salvation Army ten townships in the great clay belt, comprising some 230,000 acres. (The land in the districts of Nipissing and Algoma, northwest Ontario.) The price to be 25 cents per acre, payment of the same to be spread over a period of ten years, with no interest. The Army to locate 144 settlers on every township, each having the usual sized homestead—160 acres. The land is to be under the supervision of Canadiana experienced in clearing land for agricultural purposes. The land is to be sold to the Army trained in settlement work.

The commission referred to recently surveyed the land and is now on its way to the Salvation Army headquarters in London, comprising representatives of the Canadian Government and of the Salvation Army, with the Hon. Senator Cox, who is financing the undertaking.

"Nothing is settled," this official remarked, "nor can anything be done until the report is received. If the land and other matters, such as climatic conditions are satisfactory, the scheme will in all probability proceed. If, on the other hand, the report is of an unsatisfactory character, we will have to cast about for more suitable land."

The plans of the scheme were submitted to General Booth during his recent tour in Canada.

The ultimate idea, of course, is the settlement of the land in the hands of the Army, the principle upon which the Salvation Army authorities are proceeding. It is their main object of giving every man a chance of doing something for himself in the new land of his adoption.

The Hon. Senator Cox, says the Chronicle, has advanced on loan to the Army authorities a sum of about $50,000 for the prosecution of the scheme at a reasonable rate of interest on the security of the land.

Senator Cox's financial support is regarded as a sound business proposition. The Army principle declares that the Canadian authorities are satisfied with their emigration work and are anxious to see the development of the land in the present scheme is successful it is believed that similar efforts will be made in other districts of the Dominion.

PROBABLE CHANGES IN THE MINISTRY

Nova Scotia or Ontario Will Have to Lose One Minister Before Long for the West.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The announcement that Hon. Clifford Sifton will not step into the cabinet at the present juncture, as minister of public works, or minister of railways, does not necessarily mean that he will not return to public life at a later date. A Star correspondent is credibly informed that the Liberals of the West have received a promise of their portfolio from Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the near future. When this re-adjustment of cabinet representation is made there will be a reduction in the number of ministers from either Ontario or Nova Scotia. The province with the end with a population of less than half a million has two cabinet ministers, while that portion of the Dominion lying between the eastern boundary of Manitoba and the Rocky Mountains has but one. Quebec has four cabinet ministers and Ontario has five. It is quite evident therefore that when the West gets another minister, either Ontario or Nova Scotia will lose one.

Should Sir Frederick Borden retire before Sir Richard Cartwright lays down the cares of office, the probabilities are that Hon. W. S. Fielding would cease to have a colleague from Nova Scotia in the cabinet circle, while if Sir Richard drops out first, the Ontario representation will likely be reduced. In either event the Liberals of the West will renew their claims, and if Mr. Sifton cannot be induced to enter the arena again Hon. Walter Scott may be asked to lay aside the premiership of Saskatchewan and become Liberal leader for both Manitoba and Saskatchewan, with a place in the Ottawa government. The impression grows that should Mr. Sifton ever enter the cabinet again, it will be as minister of trade and commerce, a comparatively light portfolio, as compared with the interior, public works, or railways and canals. These things, however, are but possibilities of the future.

AS JAPANESE SEE IT.

It is said the Japanese think our grown women most alarmingly overgrown, very shocking in their costume and quite dreadful as regards their teeth and their feet—in a word, outlandish. They consider the kimono preferable to western habiliments because it so completely obliterates the lines of the figure. They teach the talk with their lips almost closed, concealing the teeth, and to walk with the feet parallel in tiny steps or even toeing in.

However exalted our position, we should not despise the powers of the kimono.—The Star.

DEATHS

MRS. BEVERLEY STEVENS.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Sept. 2.—This community heard with sad surprise, late this afternoon of the death of Mrs. Beverly Stevens. The deceased young woman received surgical treatment some months ago from a skilled physician of Boston, and while it was realized that her case was critical so sudden a termination of life was not anticipated. Since leaving the hospital she has received the most devoted care of her husband, and a trained nurse has been constantly with her. This afternoon she was about her home as usual, and the final summons came with awful suddenness. Her husband survives her, with other relatives in Ottawa, where her marriage occurred about eight years ago. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

Labor day has passed in exceeding quietness in Mrs. Brown and her sons have been participating in celebrations at Oak Bay in Woodland, Me.

L. L. BROWN.

Luke L. Brown, sailmaker, of 30 City Road, died last evening after a somewhat extended illness, though he had been confined to the house but a short time. Mr. Brown was a man of pleasant disposition and kindly manner and his death will be much regretted. Though living a quiet life, he was very well known along the water front and had many friends among the seafaring men of this port. He is survived by his wife and two sons—Gregory, clerk with the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, and Charles O., drug clerk at K. Short's. Mrs. Brown and her sons have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

Miss Evangeline Rooney, of Moncton, returned home last evening after a short but very pleasant visit to her friend Miss A. May Woodcock, No. 3 Hazen street.

Miss McDonough, of Woodstock, is visiting in the city.

Mrs. A. G. Sully and her little daughter Gladys, who have been visiting here for the past few weeks, left Saturday for their home in Beverly, Mass. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sully's sister Miss Mary E. Murray.

Miss Maud Sanford, of Bridgetown, N. S., is visiting her friend, Miss Zella Morton at Renforth. In two weeks her mother joins her and they will proceed to Winnipeg. Mr. Sanford is already situated in the West where he has secured a good position. They are well known in St. John, formerly living in the West where their many friends are pleased to learn of Mr. Sanford's success in the West.

NOT HIS PROVINCE.

The New England ministers of early days were expected to preserve an asepic grave to the verge of solemnity on all occasions, not only on Sundays, but week days as well. If they possessed a sense of humor it sometimes made itself evident even in the midst of devotional exercises.

One New Hampshire parish was guarded and guided by a quaint speaking elderly man who had a slight lisp. He was fond of outdoor work of almost every sort and was an able farmer as well as preacher, but all domestic matters he relegated to his wife.

"One day the old traveling baker, seeing the minister at work in the field, drew rein, and when the jingling of his horse's bells had subsided he called out: "Any crackers wanted today, parson?"

The minister raised his head and surveyed the baker from under his shaggy eyebrows. No smile of greeting crossed his solemn face.

"Abraham in the field," he responded gravely, "Sarah (Sarah) in the tent," and without another word he resumed his hoeing and left the baker to digest his Biblical reproof and drive on to the house to find out if "Sarah" would buy any of his wares.

PROVIDED ALREADY.

Beggar—Kind sir, give me two sous for my three children.

Kind Sir—That isn't dear, certainly, but I don't think I'll take them. I have four already at home.

"What time is it, my lad?" asked a traveler of a small boy who was driving a couple of cows home from the fields.

"Almost 12 o'clock, sir," replied the boy.

"I thought it was more," returned the traveler, "it's never any more here," returned the lad, in surprise. "It just begins at 12 again."

SOPHY OF KRAVONIA.

A Novel, by Anthony Hope Author of "Prisoner of Zenda," "The Intrusions Peggy," Etc.

(Continued.) Dunstanbury bowed assent. The Colonel in his turn bowed to Sophy, and the two of them turned and walked off towards the barn. Sophy stood motionless, watching them until they turned the corner, and then she fell on her knees and began to talk smoothly to Peter Vassip, who was hit hard, but in Basil Williamson's opinion, promised to do well. Sophy was talking to the poor fellow, when the sound of a revolver shot—a single shot—came from the barn. Colonel Staffitt had corrected the mistake. Sophy did not raise her head. A moment later Dunstanbury came back and rejoined them. He exchanged a look with Sophy, inclining his head as a man does in answering "Yes." Then she rose. "Now for the barges and the guns," she said.

Sorrow had not passed from her face, but serenity had come upon it in fuller measure. She had struck for Monsieur, and the blow was witness to her love. It was enough in her, and enough in little Volens. Let the mightier avenger do the rest! She had allowed Dunstanbury to leave her after supper in order to make preparations for a start to the frontier at dawn. "You must certainly go," she said, "and perhaps I'll come with you."

"Yes Ma'am, ST. GEORGE'S is the baking powder that makes white, light biscuits." "It is prepared of the finest Cream of Tartar that science can produce—99.90% pure. It is as full of raising strength in the last spoonful as in the first. It never deteriorates, no matter how long the tin has been opened"

St. George's Baking Powder makes deliciously light cakes and biscuits—as white as they are wholesome. Tell your grocer that alum and acid baking powders won't do—they are not wholesome. If you can't get ST. GEORGE'S Baking Powder in your neighborhood, let us know and we will see that you are supplied. If you would like a daintily illustrated Cook Book—containing choice recipes and a little story about the trials of an English nobleman on his quest for a wealthy wife—send your name and address to The National Drug & Chemical Co. Limited, Montreal.

Afternoon Sports In the afternoon the programme of sports was begun on the Barrack Green and was a decided success. Favorable weather drew to the grounds a very large number of people, and the grand stand was sold out to its full capacity. As was expected, all the events on the very lenient programme were not completed. The sports will be continued this morning at 9.30. There will be no admission fee to the grounds while a small charge will be made to the grand stand.

The following were the results of yesterday's events, amateur—Bovard, St. John, first; Garnett, St. John, second, and Kiley of St. John third. Time, 11:24. Salvage corps only—Hooper of Charlottetown, first; Howard, No. 1, St. John, second. Time, 11:35. Hook and ladder men only—First heat, McLeod of Charlottetown, first; Black, Amherst, second, and Farrell, Sussex, third. Time 11:25. Second heat—P. Ball, Sydney, first; R. W. McKean, Sydney, second, and Smith of Sydney, third. Time, 11:25. Finals—P. Ball, Sydney, first, and McLeod, Charlottetown, second. Time 11:15 second.

It was noon before all their work was done. The barges were settling in the water. As they started to ride back to Volens, the first sank; the second was seen to follow it. "We have done our work," said Lukovitch. And Sophy answered, "Yes."

But no power ensued to Stenovic. At the best his fate was a fall on a cushioned shelf. The cup of Kravonia's Iniquity, full with the punishment of the man who had caused it. The fight by the lock of Mikolov flat-capped soldiers, the summit of St. Peter's Pass. Sophy watched them through a telescope from the walls of Volens. "Our work is done. Monsieur has mightier avengers," she said.

XXIV. TRUE TO HER LOVE. Volens forgave Sophy its dead and Volens' sons. Her popularity blazed up in a last fierce flickering fire. The guns were taken; they would not go to the Slava; they would never batter the walls of Volens into fragments. Slava might be defied again. That was the great thing that the anekelids little account of the snake-line amitchben that was a gala, delicate party, which craved on St. Peter's Pass, and down to Dobrava, and on to Slava. Let Slava—bated Slava—rock on with that! And if the snake—or another like it—come to the King's death the bell of the ancient church rang joyously, and men sang and feasted in the gray city of the hills. Thirty from Volens had beaten a hundred from Slava; the guns were at the bottom of the hills, they were enough. If Sophy had hidden them, they would have streamed down on Slava that night in one of those fierce raids in which their forefathers of the Middle Ages had loved to swoop upon the plain.

FRIDERICTON, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was quietly observed here. Many citizens went to St. John while others indulged in private picnics and excursions to the country. The weather was all that could be desired. The only attraction in the amusement programme was the cricket match on the Officers' Square between the Veterans and an Eleven elected from the Fredericton Cricket Club. This drew a large crowd of spectators and though the exhibition of cricket was none of the finest, it afforded much amusement to all present. The veterans' team was decidedly considerable practice and lacked the wide awake eye. They went to the bat first and with the assistance of the bowlers succeeded in running up a grand total of 14 runs. The youngsters followed and after 7 batsmen had put together 42, the leading bowler added 36 to their score of which the old time cricketer James D. Reid, aged 83, contributed ten. Mr. Reid batted in fine style and was loudly applauded and when he was retired on a difficult one, he ran off the field like a boy of sixteen. His batting was the feature of the day. The youngsters, who included several cricketers who played in the seventies, succeeded in putting together the 3 runs necessary for winning with the loss of only three wickets.

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock the wedding will take place of Win. Boyse Clements, of New York and Miss Violet Marsh, stepdaughter of His Lordship Bishop Kingston. The ceremony will be performed in the drawing room at Boulleaux, the residence of the Bishop. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present, Bishop Kingston assisted by Sub Dean Street will unite the parties in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride will be attended in white satin and will have as bridesmaid Miss Nancy Kingdon, while D. Young of New York will perform the duties of best man. Mr. and Mrs. Clements will leave on the evening train for New York.

At the best his fate was a fall on a cushioned shelf. The cup of Kravonia's Iniquity, full with the punishment of the man who had caused it. The fight by the lock of Mikolov flat-capped soldiers, the summit of St. Peter's Pass. Sophy watched them through a telescope from the walls of Volens. "Our work is done. Monsieur has mightier avengers," she said.

FIREMEN'S LABOR DAY PARADE FINEST IN THE CITY'S HISTORY Streets Lined With Cheering Thousands—DeForest Prizes for Finest Turnout Won by No. 1 H. & L. Co., St. John; Bangor and Halifax—Sports Unfinished—Today's Programme.

The Firemen's Tournament is a success. Nature proved kind to the firefighters and provided them with the chief essential to the day's success—beautiful fine weather. The slight delay of fall in the air made the day even more pleasant for those taking part in the immense procession, which was held in the morning, and the successful sports which took place in the afternoon.

The city wore a smiling holiday appearance. Flags were flying in every direction and visitors thronged the hotels and could be seen in every direction. Immense crowds witnessed the morning turnout and the artistically decorated apparatus and the favorite companies were enthusiastically received all along the line of march. An interesting feature of the day's programme was the awarding of prizes for the company making the best appearance and for the best decorated apparatus. In these events No. 1, Hook & Ladder Company won prominent honors. Not more than half the long programme of events at the sports in the afternoon were finished. The programme will be continued this morning, beginning at 9.30. In the afternoon the visiting firemen will be the guests of the local men to an excursion up river on the Victoria. Six special cars will be at the head of King street at 3 o'clock to convey the visitors to Indian town. The Victoria will leave at four o'clock. Last night's plans were also carried out without mishap. Immense throngs filled the streets. Bands and pipers could be heard in all directions. The Halifax pipers paraded the streets and the Royal to hear their play. Band concerts were given on King square and on King street east, while the fireworks set off from a stand in front of the registry office on King street were watched by hundreds. The different stations were thrown

Many Swell Floats Between a number of the floats it was hard to choose a winner. From outside towns the Yarmouth float was the representation of a large circus wagon, being all draped in white, while a seat had been built up in pyramidal style on which sat a beautiful maiden, with wings as natural in appearance that it was hard to realize that the maiden was a living being and the wings a living part of her. The Halifax float was also a very attractive one, and received much applause from the different spectators. On the back of the float, which was drawn by two beautiful grey horses, were arranged the spectators meeting. The decorations were made up of white garlands with draperies of white button cloth giving the whole float the appearance of a white grape bower. Situated under the bower was a beautiful flaxen haired child driving a peacock. The float naturally came in for a large share of admiration. However, when the hook and ladder truck came along the crowd broke out into cheer after cheer, as this truck was conceived to represent the popular Rockwood Park, and it certainly was the most perfect representation. On the top of the truck a Ferris wheel was continually revolving, having in its carriages miniature men and women. Then there was the "shoot the chutes" which caused no small amusement, as the chutes was a miniature automatic boat which slid up and down the track with amazing speed. Underneath the big ladder on the rear end of the truck was a swing in action, having in it not an imitation kid but a live boy. On the forward part of the truck was a merry-go-round, and when one saw this going with its merry lull the park was seen in all its glory.

No. 2 chemical engine was very beautifully arranged, being decorated with artificial flowers and giving the engine the appearance of a beautiful flower bed. No. 1 chemical engine was not far behind No. 2, but was not quite so richly bedecked. The other engines also came in for their share of the praise. "The Golden Gate Ajax" was a very pretty one indeed. This was arranged by having a gateway built on the truck and the gateway were two golden tinted gates, slightly ajar and being attended by two pretty girls of about nine years of age, dressed to represent angels. The float "Always Ready" was quite similar in appearance, only instead of the two little girls to represent angels, it had two small boys representing firemen. Another float which caused much amusement was the one with a house on the truck wagon. Out of this little house smoke was pouring, while several small boys, gotten up as firemen, played the hose on the supposed fire, but the water having the effect of drenching some of the bystanders instead.

Every float may be described in one word, "excellent," or as a spectator was heard to remark, "Why, every single one of them should get a prize." The old hand engines, which were in the parade, gave mute testimony to the rapid advance made in fire fighting apparatus during the past fifty years. The horses conveying the various teams in the line were, needless to say, well groomed, but the horse attached to the Amherst hose wagon caused general comment, owing to its beauty and general appearance. The march began shortly after eleven o'clock, and from the time of the start until breaking up again at King square the men reaped a continual round of applause. Each house in the line of march was filled with people, who crowded to the windows to see the procession, and those who were not so favored stood three deep on the sidewalk as the parade went by. When King street was reached the real crowds were seen, and the cheering of the victors came great applause. Continuing over to the North End the triumphal procession still carried everything before it. When Fort Howe was reached crowds lined the brow of the hill and hoisting, as well as the road leading to the summit. Here the popularity of the North End men was shown. The procession advanced to Douglas avenue and returning down Main street were again vociferously greeted. One of the most touching features of the procession was the presence of the veterans driving before the companies of which they were honored members. order of procession. The procession lined up in the following order: Mounted police, grand marshal, Chief of Police Clark, assistant marshals, Dr. W. H. Simon, V. S., and Major Markham, barouches with guests. The first barouches carried His Worship Mayor Sears, L. Heslin (chairman of the relief grant department), Aid. Bullock and Aid. Sprout. The other carriages contained Aid. Vanwart, Aid. Baxter, Senator Ellis, Aid. Lewis, Aid. Sprague, Aid. Lantulum, Aid. McGoldrick, Aid. Kelly, Aid. Johnson of Halifax, Aid. Bussell and city representatives in the local house. These barouches waited for the procession on Wentworth street, near Princess street, the rest of the procession being made up in six sections and falling in the following order: Charlottetown; Sydney, with pipers; Sackville, Halifax and Amherst, on King street east the old burying ground. Second section—Fredericton Brass Band, Fredericton, Chatham, Windsor, Yarmouth, 62nd Fusiliers drum corps, Bangor, Milford, Old Town, Onono, Brunswick, Brewer, Augusta, Lubec, Moncton Brass Band, Moncton, Truro, I. C. R. brigade, Carleton Cornet Band, Sussex, Milltown, Calais, almost of section 1 on King street east from Wentworth to Carmarthen, along Carmarthen to Leinster, along Leinster to Sydney and along Sydney. Third section—Fairville, 62nd Fusiliers Band, Chief Kerr, ex-Chief Kane, No. 1 Salvage Corps, veterans of No. 1 department—David Dennis, Robert Macge, Chas. Magee, Wm. Kee, No. 1 hose, John Boyer, Robert Boyer, Wm. Quigley, Thos. Lawson, Wm. Hoop; No. 3 hose, on Carmarthen and Leinster streets alongside of part of section 2. Fourth section—City Cornet Band, No. 1 hook and ladder, No. 1 chemical engine, on the south side of King square. Fifth section—Carriage with District Engineer, McLeod, No. 4 hose, No. 2 hook and ladder, No. 3 hand engine, drenching some of the bystanders instead. Sixth section—St. Mary's Band, No. 2 Salvage Corps, No. 2 chemical engine, No. 2 hook and ladder, No. 4 hose, No. 5 hose.

Parade Awards The parade awards were not made up until last night. Following are the decisions of the committee: Chief Kerr, St. John, Sept. 2nd. Dear Sir—Your committee appointed to award the Harry W. De Forest prizes of $25 each for the best appearing body and apparatus of men from Protest Against Sydney The Sydney winners were however, protested by the Halifax, Moncton, Charlottetown and Yarmouth teams on the grounds that they had tampered with the couplings during the race. The judges will hear the protest this morning and Sydney will also have an opportunity to make their defence. The last event was decidedly popular with the spectators. Each team of local men naturally received enthusiastic applause, although the spectators were quite ready to urge to victory the representatives of the Nova Scotia capital and the republican visitors. The Charlottetown team although not making very fast time in the race, made their coupling in remarkably quick time. The contests were marked by the best of feeling, which was not marred by the protests in the afternoon of those real races. The Halifax and Sydney teams both gave their "yell" before leaving the grounds and the latter left headed by the protesters. The following were the list of officials: Referee, Aid. J. H. Frink; Judges at finish, John Wilson and Hiram Phillips; F. H. Tappin and Hiram Phillips; Starter, R. A. Watson; Clerk of the course, Fred W. Coombs; Assistants, T. G. Murdoch, E. M. Oliver, W. L. Ellis, M. D., J. A. Sinclair and A. J. Tutts; Time keepers, E. L. Jewett, Walter Jewett and Martin Dolan; Announcer, J. H. Sprout and Soar, Harry Eddy. Although the races were enthusiastically followed, the day was none too warm and the fall feeling in the air made many leave the grounds before adjournment was made at a quarter to seven. One of the amusing incidents in the waits between the events was a young St. John tough who tried to pick a quarrel with the young mascot of the Halifax men by knocking the fireman's cap from off the head of the Nova Scotian youngster and making a slighting remark about his birthing. The Halifax boy replied placidly that "St. John is on the bum." He was hushed up by the Halifax men, who told him that he would be arrested for high treason.

HILLSBORO'S NEW MILL IS READY FOR WORK
Hardwood Flooring Plant Will be in Operation Within a Few Days.

Mr. Harley W. Gross, manager of the Hillsboro Hardwood Flooring Mfg. Co., is in the city today to inspect the Hillsboro mill. The mill proper is a mile from the city, and the new company, and says that operations will be commenced within two weeks. Steam is turned on today for the first test of the machinery. The plant, although not very large, is spoken of as one of the most up-to-date in the east. The mill proper is a wooden frame building 40 feet by 80 feet with the most modern equipment for the economical manufacture of hardwood flooring. The power house, built of stone, is situated some distance from the mill. A dry-house 22 feet by 100 feet has also been completed. The plant is located at the edge of the village of Hillsboro about half a mile from the station, and a siding from the Salisbury and Harvey Railroad runs through the yard, making convenient the handling of stock of all kinds. Considerable quantities of timber have already been secured, and manufacturing will now go on without any further delay.

CENTENARY CHURCH HAS BEEN REPAINTED
Incandescent Lighting System Installed.

Big Job Has Just Been Completed—
Incandescent Lighting System Installed.

For the past two months workmen have been engaged in renovating the interior of Centenary church and schoolroom. The church was slightly damaged by fire on Sept. 25 last and the schoolroom was badly damaged at that time. It was decided that, after the schoolroom was renovated services might be held there during the summer months and work begun on the main building. This was commenced in July. A staging was erected in the interior of the church, extending to the roof. The coloring of the ceiling, which was blue before, was taken off and a natural stain put on it. The walls were then given two coats of shellac and terra cotta paint. The organ front has been re-varnished, the front of the galleries and pews varnished as well as the chate front, communion rail and pulpit.

While the staging was up the opportunity of installing electric lights in the main building was seized. The old gas fixtures were taken away and in the centre of the church two very handsome chandeliers, with forty lights each, were installed. Clusters of four lights have also been placed under the galleries, in the main building and at the main entrances.

The staging was erected by James Myles, who also performed the rest of the carpenter work in connection with the renovation of the building. The painting was done by E. V. Paul and the installing and wiring of the electric fixtures was done by the Vaughan Electric Co.

A corps of scrub-women are now hard at work cleaning the floor of the church. A new covering will be placed on the aisles after which the church will be re-opened for worship. The renovation are now looking forward to Sunday next as the day for the reopening. The alterations and improvements have added greatly to the appearance of the interior. Rev. Dr. Sprague will preach at the morning and evening services on Sunday next.

CELEBRANTS PAID THE PENALTY TODAY
Discarded Lady From the Lower End of Town Seeks Vengeance on Her Unfaithful Lover.

James Golding, arrested for profaning God's name on King square was fined eight dollars.

John Hall, John Fawcett and John Fairall, three sailors from the steamer Symora appeared for creating a disturbance on board that vessel.

The captain was willing to allow two of the men to return to the vessel but did not want Fawcett back again as he had threatened the chief officer with a knife. Fawcett was remanded till Friday when he will probably be taken on board the steamer again.

Thomas Georges, charged by Andrew Petropolis with abusive language was allowed to go free as his companion, George Humphreys swore that Georges had not used the language objected to. He said the language had been used all right but the policeman at the instance of Petropolis had arrested the wrong man.

Fred Dixon was arrested on a warrant charged with having struck Liza Kennedy with a stone. Miss Kennedy in taking the stand said that Dixon had hit her on the ankle with a stone. She did not know why he had hit her. He then followed her into the house and beat her. In answer to questions from the prisoner, he denied that he was under the bed on one occasion when Sergt. Campbell visited the house. She also denied that he had ever remained in the house for twenty-four hours. The prisoner cross questioned her at some length, but failed to elicit any information.

When he appeared on his own behalf, he said that this case had been brought against him for spite. He claimed that he formerly lived with this woman and had left her to pay attention to a girl from out the road. Then she trumped up this old charge against him, having said to some of the neighbors beforehand: "Every time I think of him my blood boils, and he looks better to me up there—" meaning in jail, "than anywhere else."

He then reviewed the events of the day on which the assault had been committed. He said that he had hit the plaintiff with a stone but only after being insulted. Even after she was hit by the stone she coaxed him into the house and bolting the door, proceeded to make things lively for him. She came in with a litter and threatened to knock his head off. Then she took a pair of scissors from a machine drawer and struck him. She then took a knife, but before any damage could be inflicted, the prisoner disarmed her. He was interrupted several times by the plaintiff who denied that he had, according to his statement, lived with her for three weeks. His Honor fined the prisoner twenty dollars.

WANTS CHORUS MEMBERS TO GO TO BANGOR

William R. Chapman, director of the Maine festivals, has written a number of friends in St. John intimating that he would like to have members of his old chorus attend the big festival in Bangor on October 3rd, 4th and 5th. Mr. Chapman states that the prima donna this year is to be Mme. Calve, who will sing on Saturday, October 5th, and he thinks that members of the old St. John chorus would greatly enjoy hearing her. He will come to St. John in the near future on a short visit in the hope of meeting old friends. In conversation with a number of members of the former chorus the Star was given the impression that a general excursion will not likely be arranged, but that a number of private parties will go to Bangor, though it is possible that Mr. Chapman's suggestion may be taken up later.

E. R. McDonald is gazetted secretary of the Pilotage Commission of Shediac, N. B.; W. D. Bennett, of Hopewell, N. B., is appointed receiver of wrecks.
