HOME, SWEET HOME.

A FEW PRACTICAL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

And How to make the long Winter Evenings pass Pleasantly.

(George R. Scott)

The duties of citizenship have a claim upon the head of any family, but never to the neglect of those who hold the first mortgage upon his heart-strings. The man who does not love his home above everything on earth is lacking the most important quality of a model man. And so with women. The winter evenings are now upon us. Once more the fire in the stove sends forth its warming influence. Again the "little tots" cuddle around their parents, and older ones sit around the table to hear what father and mother have to say.

What the Canadian homes are, that will the Nation be. Demoralized homes—a demoralized country. Make home happy above every other place on earth. Don't look cross when you are there. You cannot afford it. Most people work too hard at home on winter evenings. Father reckons up his accounts, and mother spends the hours patching and mending. Sometimes all this may be necessary; but surely not always. The children

MUST HAVE A LITTLE FUN

Play with them; it will do them good. One of the prettiest sights I ever beheld was an angel white-haired lady playing "blindman's bluff" with a lot of innocent romping children. They all looked so happy, and the reason was, grandma had laid aside for a while the cares of life, and was letting the little ones see what a nice and lovely old lady she was. Those children will recollect that scene when many of her serious lectures are forgotten. It is right and proper to be serious, but too much of that article is as bad as too little. The make-up of human beings requires a little of everything—fun, seriousness, knowledge and the education acquired by experience in practical life. The evenings at home will do father good. It will give him an opportunity to see how good-looking his wife has grown, and to ascertain if John and Mary are making satisfactory progress in their studies. Let the "little ones at home" realize that there is no man on earth so full of good-nature as father. Mother has had a hard time with the children (even the best of them) during the many evenings he has been absent.

SHE NEEDS A REST.

Just think of the number of lectures she had to deliver lately. The cares of a household are as onerous as those of the State.

It is a terrible task to take care of babies. Ever good mother ought to get $1 an hour for that kind of occupation. I know what I am writing about. The other day I took my little grandchild on my knee. Lots of fun for about three minutes; after which the agony commenced. The first thing I knew the baby had its little claws into my mousetraps, and it "hurled." Then it bent itself nearly double (backwards). After a while I got it straightened out. Then, for a change, it started up a cry. I had to sing to it, which only made matters worse. It is the sweetest baby on earth, yet what a trouble. It took hold of everything within its reach, and I was kept busy taking things out of its hands. I tried to talk to it in "baby language," but it is so long since I owned a baby of my own that I found I had lost the power to be a baby linguist. But I had a remedy, and that was "Here, Maggie, take your dear little baby; it's nice, but—" (I wanted a rest and I got it.)

Tending babies is a difficult science, but without them home is not what it should be. The tell me Heaven is full of babies. If that is so, how many babies does it take to make a Heaven? Settle this for yourself. "There is under certain circumstances, and there is no place so mean under certain conditions. Did you ever come in contact with a mean home, where love never entered the door and the courtesies of life never came in at the window? I have, and I never want to see another. Such a home is horrid. Mother picks flaws in father and he returns the compliment by showing up to the children the deformities of their mother, and they in turn, make both parents out everything but the wearers of angel wings. A fight between cats and dogs is not a circumstance to such a home. All such families ought to take a dose of something that will bring on sleep from 7 o'clock P. M. until 6 o'clock A. M. Beautifully and make home happy if you have the means and ability to do so. Money spent in this way is not lost. But it will not require much money if you have tact and taste. Let your children grow up with the recollection that there was no place on earth like the home of their childhood. Father, when you return home at night, give mother the benefit of your prettiest smile. She may not be as handsome as she once was; but for what she has done and been to you she ought to be.

AS PRETTY AS THE ANGELS

in your eyes. Mother, before father returns "rig" yourself out in the most becoming attire you possess, just the way you did when as a young man he came "tapping at the garden gate." Don't you recollect how many times you looked into the mirror to see that everything was just so. He has not lost all his taste yet. In other days you won him by your personal charms; hold on to him now by some of the same methods you then practised. A pretty, handsome young maiden is a picture, and so is a becomingly dressed, pleasant young lady of mature years. Father, don't be afraid to kiss your girl, for if you are they will soon be looking around for some other moustache, not quite so gray as yours. Love your boys, and show them by your acts that you are the best friend they have got. Be dignified, but not to such an extent that your arrival home will be looked upon as the advent of an iceberg from Greenland. Keep your best smiles for home, and bestow them upon your family in profusion. They best bouquet any day in the week. Let love be the RULING POWER IN YOUR HOMES, coupled with discipline only when absolutely necessary. Leave your business cares at the counting room or workshop. You have had enough of trouble all day long. At home, laugh and grow fat. That wife of yours has had enough of trouble to vote, surely she does not know enough to straighten out your financial embarrassments. Yet do not keep her in ignorance of your affairs; she has a right to know how things are going; only keep from her the pretty annoyances. Go to bed happy, with a merry and cheerful family surrounding you. Then you will have pleasant dreams, and you will arise in the morning with a light heart and better prepared to take hold of the anxieties of life. Let's all try to have a winter of happy homes. Our families will be better for it, and God will bless the endeavors to make life sweeter and the world better.

WORTH KNOWING.

The following simple remedies and means of prevention of disease will often be found fully as valuable as the drugs prepared by the druggists or physicians: For a sore throat cut slices of fat boneless bacon, pepper thickly, and tie around the throat with a flannel cloth. When stung by a bee or wasp, make a paste of common earth and water, put on the place at once and cover with a cloth.

For a cold in the chest, a flannel rag run out in boiling water and sprinkled with turpentine laid on the chest, gives the greatest relief. When a felon first begins to make its appearance, take a leuon, cut off one end, put the finger in and the longer it is kept there the better.

For a cough, boil one ounce of flaxseed in a pint of water, strain and add a little honey, one ounce of rock candy, and the juice of three lemons; mix and boil well. Drink as hot as possible. Often after cooking a meal a person will feel tired and have no appetite. For this beat a raw egg until light, stir in a little milk and sugar, and season with nutmeg. Drink half an hour before eating.

For a burn or scald, made a paste of common baking soda and water, apply at once and cover with a linen cloth. When the skin is broken apply the white of an egg with a feather; this gives instant relief, and it keeps the air from the flesh.

At the first sign of a runround, take a cup of wood ashes, put in a pan with a quart of cold water, put the pan on the stove, put your finger in the pan, keep it there until the water begins to boil, or as long as it can be borne. Repeat once or twice if necessary.

"Why, John, what is the matter with the baby?" she said, as she came hastily into the house. "He is crying bitterly." "Yes," replied the old man, as he handed the infant over; "he is evidently thinking of what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina."

FREDERICTON, PAST AND PRESENT.

A View of Queen Street Fifty Years Ago.

Queen Street as it is to-day.

For New Subscribers.

New Subscribers ordering the FARMER before the close of the present year will receive the paper for fifteen months for one dollar.

Now is the time to send in your orders and get the commencement of an interesting story, the opening chapters of which will be published next issue. Address the FARMER, Fredericton, N. B.

The Holiday Farmer.

The FARMER appears to-day double its usual size, thanks to our business men who have most generously extended their patronage to the advertising columns.

The most of the illustrations have been kindly loaned by the proprietor of Progress, but are not the least interesting story, the opening chapters of which will be published next issue.

To all who have contributed towards making the holiday FARMER the success it is, we return our best thanks and hope they may reap a thousand fold return.

An Eloquent Preacher.

The Church of England in Nova Scotia was a long time in obtaining a successor to the late Bishop Binney, and they received many rebuffs in the undertaking, but their disappointments are more than repaid by the excellent character and great ability of the gentleman who finally succeeded to their charge.

Rev. Dr. Courtney, the present Bishop of Nova Scotia, is undoubtedly a man of remarkable attainments. He has been visiting Fredericton lately, and Sunday evening, at the Cathedral, delighted a crowded house with an eloquent, yet simple sermon as it has been our good fortune to hear for many a day.

Standing fully six feet in height, of broad, athletic build, a representative of great intellect, of commanding presence, a keen eye, and genial countenance, Dr. Courtney in the pulpit, has chained your attention before opening his mouth.

But the power, the magnanimity, the intellectual strength of the man, increases your admiration for him as he proceeds to the delivery of his sermon. He speaks without the use of notes except a few leading ideas which he calls, requests and pleasant to listen to his gestures graceful, and introduced at the proper moment, his manner simple yet sublime, and his matter such as goes straight to the heart and mind of his hearer.

For real pulpit eloquence, for natural, oratory and polished style, Dr. Courtney has few equals in the pulpit to-day, and we believe we are within the mark, when we say that there was not a person present Sunday evening who did not follow his earnest, eloquent sermon from start to finish, and if anybody left the Cathedral without being charmed with the new Bishop, we pity his taste.

Such a man as Dr. Courtney must exercise an immense influence for good in the field under his pastoral charge, and we congratulate our Episcopal friends in Nova Scotia on the possession of the learned and eloquent Bishop. We hope he may come again and speedily to Fredericton, and we do not wonder that his people in Nova Scotia have become enraptured with his Lordship.

A Heroic Act at Sea.

As the steamship "Ethiopia," Anchor Line, on her last voyage, had slowed up opposite Mirville, off the coast of Ireland, a passenger who had sailed the preceding night from Glasgow, being seized with a longing desire to reach "terra firma" by the quickest route, took a header into the sea. A young Dr. James Moncrieff, in company with Dr. J. W. Bridges, seeing the peril to which the man was exposed, and being of a romantic turn of mind, caught hold of an oar, and although he had overboard boots and gloves, he jumped overboard after him.

The candidate for the voyage, had been absorbing alcohol for the past week, seeing he was being foisted in his purpose, and his reason being by the throat a nearly succeeded in putting an end to both of their lives. Both had been taken under the surface several times when a boat was brought to the spot and they were taken on board.

Dr. Moncrieff is a son of one of the leading and oldest families in Edinburgh. He is a son of lawyer Moncrieff. The last year was spent in Germany where he took lessons in fencing and sword exercise. So rapid was his progress that in six months his instructor pronounced him to be the best English swordsman he had taught. Soon he became a representative man in his corps and was chosen to fight six duels, five of which he won. In the last one he succeeded in severing his opponent's ear from his head. He has large connections in Canada and will be pleased to learn of the prowess of their Scotch relative, and that he has been recommended to the Royal Humane Society as deserving of a medal for the above act.

Dr. Bridges, to whom the FARMER is indebted for the information above, recommends to his friends who wish to cross the Atlantic, the steamer "Ethiopia." For steadiness, safety and convenience, considering the time of year and inclemency of the weather, a better one he never met, and the kindness, courtesy and attention of the Captain and all the officers and crew, have now almost become traditional.

The Toronto Empire publishes the summarized report of Mr. O. H. Lugin's University lecture on the relations between Canada and the United States and says editorially: "Mr. O. H. Lugin, secretary of the New Brunswick Board of Agriculture, indulges in some interesting speculations in connection with the future food of the continent. The subject is worthy of the consideration of experts, and it is just possible that Mr. Lugin has opened a discussion which will not soon be closed."

The City Council last night, very properly appointed a committee to communicate with Halifax and Moncton with a view to agitating for the construction of the Short Line link between Fredericton and Moncton. The enemies of the project are moving, and whatever pressure that can be brought, and whatever inducements to compel the C. P. R. Company to carry out their contract, ought to be exerted immediately.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

A Summary of Foreign, Dominion, and Provincial Happenings.

Gathered from every Quarter.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau, is going to Paris for his health. Mr. McCreary & Daly, dry goods dealers, St. John, have assigned. Sir Henry Norman has been appointed to the governorship of Queensland.

The Government's Savings Bank rate of interest has been retained at 4 per cent. Lord Lansdowne, Viceroy of India, landed at Bombay, Monday, and got a rousing reception.

The Quebec Government will subsidize the Quebec Central Railway extension to connect with the Short Line at Moosehead Lake, Maine.

Leaet, Col. Outram, Speaker of the House of Commons, has sent to the Minister of Militia his resignation as commandant of the 6th Battalion.

Gauncey Ross, the St. Stephen confectioner who lost their manufactory the other day by fire, estimate their loss over insurance, at upwards of $20,000.

Col. James Munro who has been appointed Chief Commissioner of Metropolitan Police London, to succeed Gen. Sir Charles Warren, served twenty-five years in Bengal.

H. Morgan & Co., the big dry goods men of Montreal have purchased a property on St. Catherine street for $100,000, and will erect thereon the largest dry goods store in America.

The Spanish Cabinet has approved a bill which grants suffrage to all persons over 25 years of age who have had a residence of two years in the same place, except officers, soldiers, paupers and criminals.

D. McNicol, general passenger agent of the C. P. Railway, told the St. John Globe that trials will be running on the Short Line between St. John and Montreal the 1st of next July, and that the trip will be made in 14 hours.

Six hundred thousand turkeys, two and one half million pounds of chickens, ducks and geese, and one hundred thousand quarts of cranberries are the York County products of what would be required for New York city and Brooklyn on Thanksgiving day.

A terrible tragedy is reported from St. John, N.S. Mr. Parnell, a member of the firm of Sillars & Cairns, shot Sillars dead on Friday night driving two bullocks in a cart. Parnell afterwards poisoned himself, but may recover. Sillars was wealthy and retired from active business some years ago.

The FARMER has received a handsome map of Canada from John Lovell, publisher, Montreal. He is now preparing a Gazetteer and history of all the provinces, with the best engraving and printing, and as the work will be meritorious it is to be hoped that he will be most liberally patronized throughout Canada.

In Caledonia, N.S., on a recent Sunday, the clergymen of town and county read from their pulpits a circular from the Central Committee in reference to the proposed repeal of the Short Act, urging all friends of Temperance to sign the Petition asking for a poll for the repeal. In Truro the ladies of the W. L. U. have taken charge of the petitions and are busy buying signatures of the electors.

According to the St. John Gazette the saw mill owned by St. John produced this season 100,000,000 feet of lumber. In addition they have cut a large quantity of lath. The export of shingles has been 70,000; over 180,000 lime barrels have also been made for export to St. John saw mill. The same paper states that the one firm of lumber has exported 90,000 barrels of manufactured lime.

A fatal shooting accident occurred at Halifax Thursday night, by which Capt. Reginald Brice, of the Duke of Wellington's Regiment, was killed. Early that morning Brice, drove down the western shore on a shooting expedition. The party returned at six o'clock and Capt. Brice was seated in a launch on the water. He was suddenly struck by a bullet from a boat which was passing by, and he fell overboard. He was not seen again.

Hector McDonald, of Rat Portage, was picked up by a freight train hands near Moncton, N. W. T., one day last week while walking along the C. P. R. track barefooted and unshod. McDonald was suffering from attack of d. t. and was at once detached to the hospital. The unfortunate man was unable to give a correct account of his case, but judging from his appearance it is probable that he has been out for three or four days and has walked upwards of seventy miles. He is now in the hospital, and is recovering, and was constantly going through motions, as if pulling something out of his mouth. His case was a terrible one, and very little skin having been left on the soles. It is expected that he will recover.

Sixteen years ago H. W. Knight was a hair dresser in St. Stephen. He did a good business, and was supposed to possess considerable money. He was married and had a boy two years of age, whom he doted. Misfortune came upon him. His property was burned, his wife died soon after, and then, to crown all, his boy was stolen from his home by a man in a Vermont town. The thief at the same time took Knight's watch and a quantity of money. For years the boy had been in the hands of a man in Vermont. The detective began inquiries, and after a time learned that the youth was in reality the long lost son of Knight. The latter is now in business at Sackville. He has been notified and is almost beside himself with joy at the prospect of reunion with his boy.

How the Business of the Firm has Grown Rapidly. Mr. John H. Taber, the confectioner, 108 Queen street, is doing a much larger business this year than ever before. Asked for an explanation of the great increase in his trade he said: "Well, it takes time to establish a business such as mine. I have been in business about eight years, and of which I have been in this city. Although I manufactured certain grades of candies from this year in the new show room on the second story of my extensive premises. It contains an immense stock imported expressly for the season of useful, durable and beautiful goods. It is only necessary to call attention to Tannant, Davies & Co.'s three column advertisement on our fifth page. It speaks for itself, giving a splendid idea of the stock kept by this enterprising firm. Do you want an excellent photo of yourself? If so, go to Harvey's studio, 104 Queen street. Johnston & Co.'s double column advertisement appears on our seventh page. Their piano and organ department is one of the best in the Dominion. The five and two cent store on Queen street is as popular as ever, having more than its usual stock of holiday goods. Fred B. Edgcombe's wholesale department appears on our seventh page. His establishments are well and favorably known, and needs no recommendation at our hands. W. H. Vanwart is one of the many who have taken advantage of the FARMER'S holiday issue. Read... Persons in search of first-class furniture at moderate prices, should not fail to call at the establishment of Jackson Adams, undertaker. Peter Davis announces organs and sewing machines, the latter ranging in price from $25 upwards. James R. Howie, practical tailor, offers special inducements to those buying goods or ordering suits during the holiday season. Who will say that James D. Fowler, the jeweler has not got advertising down to a fine art? His three column advertisement in the FARMER proves that he has, and the articles mentioned show that his popular establishment is filled with a larger stock of holiday goods than ever before. Geo. W. Schleyer advertises new patterns in picture frame moldings, including gold and silver, and a lot of oil paints. Mr. Schleyer also produces a fine quality of photograph.

FRED. B. EDGECOMBE'S GRAND HOLIDAY SALE!

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Christmas Novelties. Opening the New Show Rooms, with an Immense Stock imported expressly for this season, and selected with great care in best markets of Europe and America.

USEFUL GOODS. DURABLE GOODS. BEAUTIFUL ART GOODS. Don't fail to call and inspect the Goods in the various departments. The choice will be almost unlimited—THE PRICES CORRECT. WHOLESALE and RETAIL.

F. B. EDGECOMBE, 194 Queen St., Fredericton.

OUR ADVERTISERS.

Leading Business Houses of Fredericton and the Holiday "FARMER." Firms that can be depended upon by the Public.

When the FARMER decided to issue an 8 page 64 column paper, the intention was to "write up" at considerable length its principal patrons. The advertising patronage, however, has been so prolific, that we have only space enough left to call attention to the announcement of the firms represented in our columns.

John J. Weddall occupies one third of the first page in calling attention to his first class stock of dry goods. This firm, as is prominently to be seen in our columns, is rapidly extending their business all over the surrounding provinces.

Thomas W. Smith announces great bargains in fall and winter clothes and clothing, hats, caps, cravats, stockings, etc. John Edgcombe & Sons are to their credit with a display advertisement of their finest carriage and shaft factory. This firm, as is prominently to be seen in our columns, is rapidly extending their business all over the surrounding provinces.

S. L. Morrison, the grocer, makes an announcement on our first page, that cannot fail to interest every housekeeper who reads the FARMER. Is there anything suitable for the Christmas trade that can be bought in a hardware store that is not mentioned in Nellie's well displayed advertisement on the first page? Look and see.

S. P. Shaw's "taking" advertisement proves two things—that a wide awake manager and first class stock are to be found on the present issue of the FARMER. McMurray & Co. in this issue explain the reason why they are able to sell books, stationery, fancy goods, pianos, organs, and sewing machines, at prices that beat many other firms.

Read Lemont & Sons, two advertisements, and you will have a better idea of the size things suitable for Christmas presents, they have on hand. Hat & Sons make their annual announcement to FARMER readers to-day. Their goods need no recommendation, and it is only necessary to say that they are to be found on our sixth page.

Dever Brothers announce that they will open for Christmas 20 new styles of hats and fancy goods at a great reduction; their next week's advertisements will mention other attractive bargains. "Hang up the baby's stockings" has been followed in a practical way by W. T. E. Fenety, whose cut and advertisement will have special interest for purchasers of holiday goods.

John Owens undertakes the value of Christmas gifts. The FARMER that is calculated to bring joy to the hearts of housekeepers, and happiness to the pockets of their husbands. A Lottimer's announcement which has lost none of his old time ability to properly advertise, his stock is a splendid one and should be inspected by those wanting boots, shoes, rubbers or overboots. Joseph Walker makes an announcement that should interest all those in search of well made clothes.

Geo. Todd & Sons are offering great bargains in stove, steam engines and hot air furnaces. Give them a call. Wm. Jennings has a splendid stock of overcoats on hand, and reports business as lively. Owen Shanks only changes his advertisement when he has something special to offer. This week he makes an announcement which will be of particular interest to intending purchasers of dry goods.

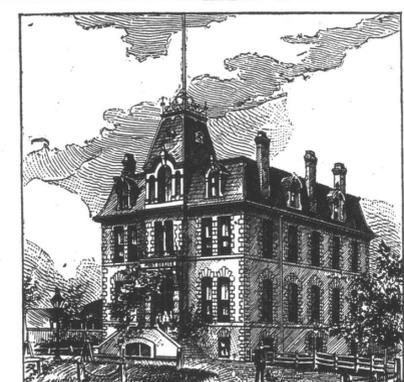

Read John M. Wiley's big advertisement on the 8th page. Mr. Wiley, for the information of holiday purchasers, has enumerated some of the beautiful goods which he has in his store. Many of them would make splendid holiday gifts, and no doubt will be purchased for such. Fred B. Edgcombe's great drawing card this year is the new show room on the second story of his extensive premises. It contains an immense stock imported expressly for the season of useful, durable and beautiful goods.

It is only necessary to call attention to Tannant, Davies & Co.'s three column advertisement on our fifth page. It speaks for itself, giving a splendid idea of the stock kept by this enterprising firm. Do you want an excellent photo of yourself? If so, go to Harvey's studio, 104 Queen street. Johnston & Co.'s double column advertisement appears on our seventh page. Their piano and organ department is one of the best in the Dominion.

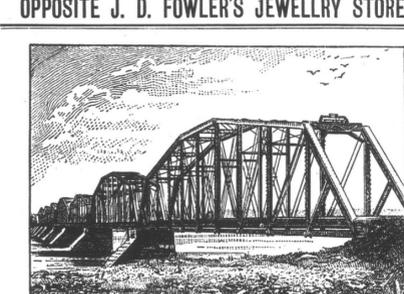

The five and two cent store on Queen street is as popular as ever, having more than its usual stock of holiday goods. Fred B. Edgcombe's wholesale department appears on our seventh page. His establishments are well and favorably known, and needs no recommendation at our hands. W. H. Vanwart is one of the many who have taken advantage of the FARMER'S holiday issue. Read... Persons in search of first-class furniture at moderate prices, should not fail to call at the establishment of Jackson Adams, undertaker.

Peter Davis announces organs and sewing machines, the latter ranging in price from $25 upwards. James R. Howie, practical tailor, offers special inducements to those buying goods or ordering suits during the holiday season. Who will say that James D. Fowler, the jeweler has not got advertising down to a fine art? His three column advertisement in the FARMER proves that he has, and the articles mentioned show that his popular establishment is filled with a larger stock of holiday goods than ever before.

Geo. W. Schleyer advertises new patterns in picture frame moldings, including gold and silver, and a lot of oil paints. Mr. Schleyer also produces a fine quality of photograph.

Fredericton Railway Bridge, Erected 1888.

W. T. Estey at his new store, corner of Queen and Westmorland streets, is doing a rushing business. Country and city people will be interested in his advertisement. E. J. McKelvey announces some goods, especially suitable for holiday gifts. McClister, the well-known sewing machine agent, has now added a line of pianos to his stock. His special advertisement, crowded out of this issue, will appear next week.

The firm of A. F. Handolph & Son is well known that it not necessary to do other than direct attention to their advertisement on our sixth page. Every person who reads Howard & Orange's advertisement, must regard it as one of the most taking announcements ever published in Fredericton.

L. P. L'Forest offers bargains in all kinds of Christmas gifts. See his advertisement. Have you got your winter's supply of coal in yet? No! Then read E. H. Allen's advertisement. Dear persons would regard a gift of new teeth as a very nice Christmas gift. All such will be interested in Dr. Carter's advertisement. James Tibbitt's advertisement appears on our fourth page. It speaks for itself. C. O. Lutes & Co. manufacture and repair all kinds of machinery, and have all patents repaired. They make a specialty of church and school furniture.

Geo. T. Whalley is among the new advertisers in to-day's issue. His advertisement appears on the fourth page. James Edgcombe, a new advertiser in the holiday issue of the FARMER. It will be read with interest by country traders and the public generally. Morrison & Forster represent first-class insurance companies and do a general law business, making the collection of accounts a specialty.

What to Buy for Christmas. What to buy? Well that depends on how much you want to spend, and whom you are going to bestow a gift upon. The better the quality of the gift, the more it will be appreciated. Fred B. Edgcombe's happy look at the fur coats, fur gloves, coats and cuffs caps, etc., or in the dress goods department you will find a beautiful array of dresses from the richest silk down to a good serviceable suit. Let me name a few more things, indiscriminately, ladies for collars, cuffs, bows, etc., ladies and gentlemen's handkerchiefs, sleigh robes, scarfs, silk mufflers, moosehairs, snow boots, toboggan blankets, table covers, razors, bottle wool goods, etc. And then of course you will walk up stairs, and look through the endless range of fancy goods laid out upon the counters in the show rooms, which would be impossible to attempt to describe or enumerate. Something for Tom, Will, Dick, Harry, Nellie, Susie and the baby, and not forgetting Father and Mother. Now don't put off your shopping till the last day, but go now while there is so large a choice.

Fred B. Edgcombe's wholesale department having been very much enlarged, are now stocked with a large variety of goods suitable to the wants of our people. Number operators, traders, merchants in the neighboring counties and peddlers can benefit from the goods at prices that cannot be beaten by any wholesale house in the neighborhood. His employees no traveler on the road, preferring to... come in to take the greatest care in filling orders. Selling goods by travelers and from samples shown on the road costs the purchaser about ten per cent more to pay the expenses of selling. So he saves time and gives his customers the benefit in lower prices.

Don't forget your good Pastor during the Christmas season. A nice Fur Coat, Gloves or Collar, would be such a nice present and keep his body as well as his heart warm you know. You can get these goods at Edgcombe's.

The Boys' Clothing department would be an interesting place to visit by parents who wish to make their boys happy with a new suit or an overcoat at Xmas.—Advt.

Ald. Gilman on Road Making.

(To the Editor of the Farmer.) DEAR SIR.—As the City Council and the prominent part put on Queen street was laid at the suggestion of the Mayor and several of the Board, in order to try and get the street dry for the Stock Show work. The unprecedented wet season, with more than the usual driving and heavy hauling resulted in mud, it could not be otherwise, as there was more mud than gravel in the first place, and although while admitting, the Grand Lake gravel is not suitable for our main thoroughfares, I have seen enough to convince me that a good quality of gravel and enough of it put on stone will make good streets. But to keep pace with the rest of the world, the time is at hand when our citizens will have to grapple with the question of block or asphalt pavement for street purposes. The asphalt can be put on the cheaper of the two, and on our level streets I believe would answer a good purpose, but while the present system of tearing up the streets for gas and water remains a necessity, the block pavement will be the most practicable, but in either case our citizens will have to bear an increase of debenture debt. I would therefore suggest that the future writers on road building, first sit down and count the cost before submitting it to the public.

Yours truly, GEORGE GILMAN, Chairman Road Committee, Fredericton, Dec. 4, 1888.

Brave Words for Canada.
Spoken in Syracuse by a Canadian Physician.

Dr. Beers of Montreal, tells some Plain Truths in a Good-Natured Way to an Audience in the United States.

At the banquet of the Dental Societies of the State of New York, held in Syracuse the other day, when 250 members of all parts of the state attended, including many ladies several judges and clergymen, Dr. Beers of Montreal when called upon to reply to the strangely worded toast, "Professional Annexation," spoke as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I must confess to a good deal of embarrassment in replying to a toast which is intended to be both professional and political, but I have been especially asked to do so by the chairman, and I shall therefore attempt to do so as I must say exactly what I think, I can only offer to settle on the spot by inviting you, as the boys say, to 'come out in the alley.' I have neither the presumption nor the vanity to imagine that I am able to justice to the personal and professional courtesies which Doctor Jonathan has always bestowed upon me and my Canadian friends, as well as to the magnificent ignorance—sometimes ill-natured—which Senator Jonathan has recently lavished upon his Canadian foes. But I can assure you that not even the professional liars who supply the New York Herald with Canadian news, or the witty politicians who set forth lightning for breakfast and dynamite for dinner, not even the insane malice of men who would snuff the very life of the United States, because it belongs to Britain; NOT EVEN THIS can lesson the admiration Canadians have for the many noble and generous traits of character which belong to the American people. I am sure I speak too freely from loyal lips. Toronto, when I say that we have long often been under deep professional obligations to the kind nature of the cousin we still, from custom, call 'brother'—I mean that, however we differ politically, we respect our national convictions as you wish your own respected; and that as you choose to hit at us, you have enough of back and to allow the possibility of Canadians loving and defending the fame and good name of the Dominion, quite as much as you love and defend that of your Republic. No one more than loyal Americans would despise the politician who carries his patriotism in his pocket; the disloyalty of the political parasite who would make patriotism a house of cards, and dollars the chief end of his life; the intriguer who has out secession or annexation when they fail to get their political crimes or crochets enshrined; men whose hunger for notoriety and power is ever their excitement. I am sure that you could have nothing but contempt for any free people who measure their allegiance purely by commercial standards, and who fear to face the difficulties which meet every nation, turn pedlers instead of protectors of their national birthright. Just as you had and have your croakers and cowards we have ours, but Mr. Chairman CANADA IS NOT FOR SALE!

There have been prophets like Goldwin Smith since the days of Elizabeth who have predicted England's decline within their time, but all the colonies greatness of England has been developed since the time of Elizabeth. We have as you have, bitter partisans in the press and in politics who delight to fuel their own nests; who revel in the rain that destroys the crops, and who believe they can change the climate if they could change the Government. We have a lot of those wise-words of society who assume to possess a monopoly of foresight, and who, like Caligula, think the world would have been better made could they have been consulted. But these people no more present the convictions of Canadians than O'Donoghue and his party, fire-eating politicians and partisans of those of true Americans. I have no desire to hurt anybody's feelings here, but I hope I may be allowed to say a few words to the infatuated crowd prevalent in the States that Canada favors annexation. Were we to judge you as you judge us—by the vaporing of the croakers, what value could be put upon your union, and would we not feel like agreeing with Rosier Johnson, who in his 'Short History of the War of Secession' just published in Boston, thinks he sees in certain national circumstances the threatening elements of a SECOND CIVIL WAR?

For years before the last civil war you had fire-eaters whose arrogance and vanity knew no bounds; who were advised by the Canadian press to study the elements of discord in the South instead of hastening for new ones in the North. It was just the same when years before that Georgia and Carolina appealed to arms and defied the general Government. Surely two attempted dissections and one terrible civil war in the history of a century should be enough to teach the 'Union of the North and South' the futility of getting into the 'war of secession' by the ex-Confederates wearing the starred and barred badge, with the inscription upon it, 'That was the flag of treason and rebellion in 1861, and it is the flag of treason and rebellion in 1888.' I read the protests of General Wagner, General Gobin and the Quartermaster-General of the Grand Army of the Republic against the gush and glorification of rebels because they had been rebels. I heard one officer boast that southern privateers had destroyed $500,000,000 of your property, and had driven a quarter of a million tons of your shipping to sea; and another boast that they had nearly captured Philadelphia. I heard scores declare that they had not been beaten but starved. Reflecting upon all this, and hearing at this very hour the discordant echoes from that quarter, it strikes me that if senators like Mr. Blaine are

REFUSIVE PROFESSIONS OF PATRIOTISM, they could find a good deal to murmur at their genius down there in Dixie without meddling in the politics or the future of Canada. Canada minds its own business and does not worry itself over yours, though you have annoyed and dried-nursed her sometimes, and when she was at peace with you, allowed a horde of your citizens to invade her. Frankly I say, that while I believe Canada has been a fair neighbor to you, she has not found her counting. I remember the Treaty of Washington, and I remember Maine, Oregon and San Juan, she did not let your diplomatists get the better of her, she felt that she had given you at least a reasonable quid pro quo. During the civil war, we allowed your armed troops to cross from Detroit to Niagara on Canadian territory on the Great Western Railway; but during the Irish River Rebellion of 1869, your Government refused to leave to one of our vessels to go up the Saint Ste. Marie canal, and arms and ammunition were sent to the rebels. A considerable delay was refused to Britain! What about the damages done to Canada in Canada by your citizens?

When the Alabama claims bill was presented to the House, that, years after every possible claim was settled, your Government retains a large balance which should have been refunded to Britain! What about the damages done to Canada in Canada by your citizens?

DURING THE FEMIAN RAIDS, most of them wearing the uniform of a bunch of your national troops? Not a cent has been paid. You expect Canada to know that a few pennies and a few dollars, which you intended to raid St. Albans; you thought that England should have known that a solitary cruiser intended leaving one of her ports to prey upon your coastlines, and a splendid display of reciprocity, that thousands of armed men should open their bayonets and drill in your chief cities for months before; openly occupy your border towns; add villages, and attempt to invade us, and your Government comparatively oblivious to the face of these facts, it is not easy to swallow the statements or believe in the honesty of public men who talk of the exaction of a million dollars from a people of 6,000,000 upon a people of 60,000,000. Canada cannot be coerced or forced into union with such examples of political hypocrisy. There was a time twenty years ago, when we were disconnected provinces; when Canada proper contained only 370,488 square miles; when we had no railways; when stagnation seemed to mark our own to the sea; when our great North West was a great unknown. Even then

ANNEXTION WAS UNPOPULAR. There had not been enough accomplished then by Canadian statesmen to make their rivals envious, and your own statesmen did not think that we could build a railroad to connect the maritimes and the old provinces; that with a population of only 6,000,000, we would dare to open the continent with another work not accomplished by the States until they had 30,000,000. But can you be deceived into the belief that confederated Canada is now for sale, when since confederation twenty years ago our revenue or consolidated fund has immensely increased; when our shipping and its tonnage has more than doubled—your Canada stands fifth on the list of nations; having more vessels than old France, Spain, Italy or Russia; when the assets of our chartered banks, the value of our imports, the extent of our exports, the story of our marvellous progress; when instead of about 600 miles of railway in 1867 we have now over 14,000, giving us a greater length of mileage than any other part of the Empire excepting the United Kingdom and India; when the Canadian Pacific Railway has established a line of steamers between Vancouver and Hong-Kong and Japan, and our great Canadian line has become

OF IMPERIAL IMPORTANCE; when we have developed our inexhaustible fisheries, thanks to your abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty, so that we have 75,000 hardy men sailing their vessels and otherwise engaged in the business, and for 1887 we valued those fisheries at $21,000,000! Can you wonder that annexation is a serious subject, has received its due, and that in spite of the intonation of senatorial council on the one side, and the croaking of malcontents and political tramps on the other, Canada is loyal to the Mother Country, from whose stout old loins both she and we sprung? Confederated Canada, respected Canada, loyal Canada, progressive Canada is not a personal political issue to the sore-bitten parties who insist on confederation, and who would welcome annexation to Turkey or Russia were we neighbors, or rejoice even at the prohibition rather than live the agonizing life of seeing their prospects and predictions destroyed. There were millions of your own citizens glad to do their worst to dismember your union; there were thousands who gave their lives to wreck the Republic that their own state interests might be promoted. Yet when a few obscure cranks in Canada declare of annexation, you think they speak the sentiment of a sober people who do not find it necessary to indulge in the spectacular or the rhetorical that you may see and hear the truth. You choose to ignore the treason of many a Southern newspaper today as you did twenty-five years ago, and you exult as a gospel the petitions of the Canadian press, who are

INCAPABLE OF TELLING THE TRUTH. Personally and professionally, I am sure any dentist who visits you forgets he is not an American, and I am sure we try to make Americans come to Canada forget they are not Canadians. You have big and hospitable hearts that were intended for hospitality and not for quarrel. Personally and even commercially we can find so many points of common agreement, that we should overlook the few where we must agree to differ. Politically, I realize I am a foreigner here the moment I cross the lines. I am at home when I land at Liverpool, at Glasgow, at Dublin, at Bermuda, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, New Guinea, Jamaica, Barbadoes or Trinidad. Politically I have a share in, and am proud of, the glorious old flag which waves over New Zealand, Australia, Gibraltar, Malta, Hong Kong, West Africa, Ceylon, India, the Malay Peninsula, British Honduras, Domingo, the Bahamas, Grenada, Barbadoes, India and England is an old and apt master in these colonies; she has annexed colonies far greater in area and population, or of far more value to her than if they were joined to her three kingdoms, Spain, Portugal, Holland and France have lost theirs, and there is little or nothing left for any other nation to annex. I need no other political passport to the rights of a British subject, comprising 68 territories and islands, than

MY CANADIAN BIRTHRIGHT. I do not measure my national boundary from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but from the Pacific to the Caribbean Sea. Under the reign of Victoria my Canadian need be ashamed of belonging to an Empire which embraces a fifth of the habitable globe and to know that his own Dominion forms nearly a half of the whole; an Empire five times as large as that which was under Darius; four times the size of that under Ancient Rome; sixteen times greater than United Germany; three times larger than the United States; Australia alone nearly as big as the States, India, nearly a million and a quarter square miles; Canada, 600,000 square miles larger than the States, without Alaska; and 18,000 square miles larger with it. An Empire nearly 9,000,000 of square miles, with a population of 310,000,000. Shoppers in such a realm; heirs to such vast and varied privileges, Canadians are not of our age; they are of a more ancient time; they must remain a rag-bag for disappointed politicians on our side to play with, and a bubble for certain senators on this side to blow to decay their innocents and fantasies at home. But there is

AN ANNEXTION WE FAVOR, that of brotherly friendship and political goodwill. You have 64,000,000 the start of us. Are you the Goliath of Canada as a political David? When Lincoln and Garfield died, the Dominion was in mourning. Whenever any of your men-of-war come into our ports, the citizens rejoice, and give their men the hospitalities of the cities. The flags are hoisted, and the toasts being made every day in the year between us at the altar of Hyman. Many of our banquets the toast of the President follows that to the Queen. At most of our public gatherings, your flag entwines ours. From most of our pulpits prayers are offered for your rulers as well as for ours. That is the doing to promote. We want you, fair commercial reciprocity, but we shall not take commercial union for it, or hand our necks or our knees for either. Whatever besides, we can both be loyal to our own political countries; we can both be friendly to our own national and national prejudices, and while Canadians may neighborly pray 'God Bless the Republic,' may you not as a friendly spirit reciprocate with 'God save the Queen.'

A CANNIBAL WAR. The Orikians of Africa, ambush and devour their Ogoni Neighbors.

(From the London Globe, Oct. 17.) A despatch received at Liverpool last evening reports a serious outbreak at Orikra, an island situated some fifty miles up the Bonny River, which place is now included in the British protectorate under the treaty of May last. Last September a section of the Ogoni tribe, once a powerful people, but now split up into factions through internecine feuds, appealed to the king and chief of Orikra to intervene in a dispute between themselves and another faction. The quarrel, it would seem, originated at the oil markets, which it is to the interest of the Orikians, as middlemen, to keep open and free. The Orikians sided with the appellants and warred their opponents that in the event of hostilities they would assist them and put a stop to the feud.

The warning was, however, without effect, and the hostile Ogonis attacked the allies of the Orikians while they were returning home from the markets, killing a chief and taking a number of prisoners and a quantity of property. The quarrel, it being informed of this raid, planned with their friends a diabolical scheme of revenge, which they proceeded at once to carry into effect. Under the pretext of an invitation to a friendly palaver for the purpose of settling the differences between the parties, the Ogonis concerned in the attack referred to, accompanied by eighty of their chiefs, were treacherously lured into a trap, captured and taken to Orikra, where they were barbarously butchered and eaten. The victims included women and children, and to such a height had the taste for blood among the Orikians compelled their victims out of calabashes. The reports received from a trustworthy source as to the condition of the captives during the tragedy are too revolting for publication. Mangled remains and remnants of human beings were strewn in all directions, while mutilated bodies were observed floating down the Bonny River. After the capture of the party invited to the palaver, a raid was made upon the virtually undefended villages whence they came, and the result was further atrocities. It is difficult to estimate the number of killed and eaten, but the most reliable reports to hand put the number at the lowest at 150.

BACK FROM THE DEAD. A Lively Corpse that Ate Broth and Drank Wine.

An elderly gentleman residing in Rue Roeboucourt, Paris, who was supposed to be dead has suddenly come to life. He has a nephew, who, being daily in fear of his demise on Sunday, repaired at once to his house with his wife to keep watch over the mortal remains of his uncle until they should be borne to their last resting place. On Monday evening, as the lady was tired, her husband sent her to the drawing room to take some repose on a sofa, and a servant having placed some wine and broth on a table, he threw himself into an armchair in the bedroom, and soon went soundly to sleep. On awaking at four in the morning he found that the broth had disappeared and that the bottle of wine was half empty. Becoming alarmed, he went to his wife in the drawing-room, aroused her, and told her what had happened. She returned to the bedroom with him, but the pair had hardly reached the door when they heard a noise. They passed at the threshold, and to their consternation, a voice bade them not to be afraid but to come in. The husband entered the room, but soon rushed out with his hair standing on end. He had seen his uncle's ghost.

The old man was sitting, enveloped in a sheet, on the side of the bed. The supposed corpse had the utmost difficulty in getting his panic-stricken relatives to understand that he was not dead after all. "I am alive!" he repeated, adding that the preparations for his funeral had been completed. He had been in a lethargy and waking up he heaped himself to the truth, which had done him good. Having some one approaching he had got into bed, as he was anxious not to cause any alarm, but he had been himself again. He felt perfectly recovered, and certainly on closer examination the uncle's appearance by no means boded ill for him. The preparations had been made in most opportune haste to restore him, and as he was much pleased with the affectionate attention which his relatives had shown him after his supposed departure from this world, everything was soon made happy and comfortable all round. The doctor of the quarter had not yet officially confirmed the demise of the worthy uncle, who seems to have taken a new lease of life.

A very doubtful compliment paid to the late Dr. Armstrong of Barleem. During the sudden illness of a neighboring doctor he had come to the rescue. The congregation was scanty, but the eloquence of the Doctor excited the enthusiasm of the parish burghers. "I am downright sorry, sir, to see you exhibiting in this 'ere poor little place; a million and a gentleman would be 'dome if we could only have found him."

THE GREAT SELF WASHING TRY IT

For years before the last civil war you had fire-eaters whose arrogance and vanity knew no bounds; who were advised by the Canadian press to study the elements of discord in the South instead of hastening for new ones in the North. It was just the same when years before that Georgia and Carolina appealed to arms and defied the general Government. Surely two attempted dissections and one terrible civil war in the history of a century should be enough to teach the 'Union of the North and South' the futility of getting into the 'war of secession' by the ex-Confederates wearing the starred and barred badge, with the inscription upon it, 'That was the flag of treason and rebellion in 1861, and it is the flag of treason and rebellion in 1888.' I read the protests of General Wagner, General Gobin and the Quartermaster-General of the Grand Army of the Republic against the gush and glorification of rebels because they had been rebels. I heard one officer boast that southern privateers had destroyed $500,000,000 of your property, and had driven a quarter of a million tons of your shipping to sea; and another boast that they had nearly captured Philadelphia. I heard scores declare that they had not been beaten but starved. Reflecting upon all this, and hearing at this very hour the discordant echoes from that quarter, it strikes me that if senators like Mr. Blaine are

The Presence of Death.

Here is an interesting story which shows how cool a man can be in the presence of death: One day during the last part of the American war Dr. Willis was dressing the wound of a brave soldier who had been shot in the back near the carotid artery.

An Artist's Ready Reply.

Even a severe criticism may be dismissed with a happy answer that changes the subject, and it is no less fortunate to be able to turn a good natured one. Sir John Watson Gordon, who ultimately became president of the Royal Scottish Academy, used to tell this story of Lord Palmerston:
