About 600 Persons Perished in the Out break at Candia-The United States Will Not Accept Turkey's Repudiation of Responsibility for American Losses in Armenia.

The Caroline Islands, which belong to Spain, are undoubtedly by this time in the hands of the natives of the group, with the Spanish garrison wiped out. News of a revolution in the islands comes in letters from Honolulu by the steamer Coptic. The story was borne to Honolulu by a trading schooner.

Two native kings of the group, who had long been at war with each other, some months ago declared a truce, combined their forces and began a war against the Spanish authorities. The Spaniards were concentrated at Ponape, and it was here the natives made their attack. The blacks fought with such vigor and in such numbers that the Spaniards were compelled to retreat and take shelter in the barracks, which they held. gunboat Quiros was then dispatched to Guam for aid, but on arrival there found the American flag floating. The Quiros never returned, and at Yap, in the Caroline group, it was thought she was lost. The supposition is that the Ladrone garrison of Americans had possession There were 200 soldiers in Ponape town, but these were poorly supplied with ammunition, and in no position to resist a prolonged attack. The belief is that the place was captured and the garrison slain. entire group, unless the Spaniards made an unexpected stand, must be by this time in the possession of the natives. THE PLOT AGAINST WILHEL-MINA.

Berlin, Sept. 13.-Persistent rumors have been current here during the last few days that in spite of all statements to the contrary an attempt was made upon the life of Queen Wilhelmina about three weeks ago. One newspaper, which gives an account on the authority of Count Limburg-Stirrum, says that an Italian fired through from the woods, while the queen, with three ladies, was driving near her residence at Sost-Diek. Two shots went wild, but the third lodged in the arm of Countess Limburg-Stirrum. The queen preserved her presence of mind, and ordered the affair kept a strict secret, owing to the approaching enthronement. The would-be assassin was arrested-so the story goes-and confessed himself an anarchist. Countess Limburg-Stirrum is recovering.

An anarchist manifesto signed by the revolutionary committee" has been distributed in Milan during the past few days. The police yesterday arrested an Italian who was distributing the manifesto. The prisoner, who had just arrived from Switzerland when he was seized, shouted "Long live anarchy!" "Death to the king!" Some of the crowd present at the time of the arrest interfered with the police officers who made the capture, and several persons were injured on both sides before the anarchist was lodged in the police depot. The newspapers at Rome remark that the recent riots at Milan commenced in a similar manner.

HARD WINTER IN AUSTRALIA. Dispatches by the steamer Miowera from Australia say that the weather is extremely cold there, and snow-storms are violent. Many travelers have been lost in the storms or frozen to death, while violent gales have been raging along the coast. A large number of wrecks have taken place.

ANTI-ITALIAN OUTBURST IN AUS-TRIA.

London, Sept. 13.—Special dispatches from Vienna say the entire Austrian-Hungarian empire is infuriated against the Italians as a result of the assassination of the Empress Elizabeth and that violent anti-Italian demonstrations have taken place at Trieste, where the Italians and natives have been fighting in the streets with sticks and stones, sometimes using revolvers. Six deaths are reported to have occurred there, and troops were called out to suppress the disturbances.

Near by stands the prayer table of the deceased, bearing her rosary and crucifix. The imposing demonstration of sympathy organized by the Federal Council commenced at noon on Monday. The procession, which took an hour in passing, defiled bareheaded before the hotel in spite of the hot sun. In the meanwhile the

THE CHAMBERLAIN INTERVIEW. London, Sept. 12 .- The interest in the recently published interview with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in New York, which was cabled here at length, continues to be great. There is much skepticism regarding its accuracy. The Chronicle cabled to Mr. Chamberlain regarding the authenticity of the interview, and he replied, stating that no report was verbally accurate. He asked what particular statement in the interview was challenged. The Chronicle replied that that part of the interview wherein he was reported to have called the ezar a dreamer was doubted. Mr. Chamberlain replied that he had not said that the Anglo-German treaty had been signed. He had only said that he knew negotiations were in progress, and that he hoped they would lead to a better understanding. THE CANDIA MASSACRES. London, Sept. 13.—The correspondent of the Times at Candia, Island of Crete, who has just landed, after five days in the roadstead, says: "About six hundred men, women and children were either burned alive or massacred in the outbreak last week. Rules Discussed at the General Con ference and Changes Proposed.

Toronto, Sept. 12. - The most important matter before the general Methodist conference today was a resolution proposed by Dr. Jas. Mills, of Guelph, and seconded by M. S. F. Lazier, Q.C., of Hamilton, to eliminate the following note to the rules of discipline, which was adopted in 1886 by the general conference: "The general rules are to be understood as forbidding neglect of duties of any kind, imprudent conduct, indulging in sinful tempers or words; the buying, selling or using of intoxicating liquors as a beverage; dancing, playing at games of chance, encouraging lotteries, attending theaters, horse races, circuses, dancing parties, patronizing dancing schools, taking part in such other amusements as are obviously of a misleading or questionable moral tendency, and all acts of disobedience to the order and discipline of the church, and to substitute the following: "The foregoing rules shall be understood as enjoining upon members of the church whatever is required in the Holy Scriptures, and forbidding whatever is contrary to the letter or spirit there-

This resolution of Dr. Mills had first been presented to conference in the shape of a memorial, and had been referred to the discipline committee. The discipline committee reported this afternoon and recommended that motion do not receive the favorable consideration of the conference. The Big Fair Is Booming!

Lieutenant-Governor Sir Oliver Mowat Enjoyed the Sights.

Thousands on Thousands | celebrated artists in their various Flock to Queen's Park.

To View the Splendid Array of Exhibits and the Unrivaled Programme of Attractions.

A Critic's Hasty Glance of the Poultry Display-Other Notable Features of the Great Exposition-

Under the invigorating influence of such glorious weather-bright sunshine and clear, cool atmosphere-the Western Fair is bound to boom. Old Probs could not be better natured than he was today. Secretary Thomas A. Browne, if he were in Old Probs' shoes, pro tem., would not bring about better atmospheric conditions-and no one is more desirous of perfect weather.

The influx of visitors began in earnest today. All trains contributed their quota, and citizens began this morning to sink into the background on the public streets, while for the rest of the week they will be practically lost to view at Queen's Park.

The attendance vesterday was large for Citizens' Day-larger than last year -but the turnstiles sounded a much quicker "click, click," today. Germania Day has always been looked upon as the first of the big days of the exhibition, and the precedent was well borne out this year. The crowd is here.

The several thousands who visited the grounds yesterday put in a very enjoyable time. The full bill of special purpose. attractions was put on for the first time in the afternoon, and gave great satisfaction. The initial pyrotechnical display and evening bill of attractions also made a most favorable impression. and in these respects, as in the matter of exhibits in every department the fair is a huge success.

The Directors' Guests.

The directors' luncheon on the grounds vesterday afternoon was a most pleasant incident. . Among those present, beside Sir Oliver Mowat, the guest of the day, were Hon. David Mills, minister of justice; Sir John Carling; W. S. Calvert, M.P., West Middlesex; W. H. Taylor, M.P.P., North Middlesex; T. Hodgens, M.P.P., Col. Holmes, Col. Buchan, Col. Gartshore, E. J. Parke, Sheriff Cameron, T. H. Smallman, W. J. Reid, Col. Lewis, John Cameron, Chief of Police Williams, Capt. Robson, C. B. Keenleyside, Mayor Wilson, Aldermen Gerry, Greenlees, Taylor, Belton, McPhillips, Hunt, Stevely, Dreaney, Douglass, Carrothers, Cooper, Graham, Wilkey and Winnett, Messrs. T. A. Browne, J. S. Pearce, D. McKenzie, J. M. Cousins, W. R. Hobbs, John Bowman, W. M. Spencer, Wm. Yates, George Taylor, John Laidlaw, Charles Trebilcock, Allan Bogue, John Kennedy, Wm. Moore, John Durand and W. Bartlett.

At the conclusion of the excellent repast the chairman, Col. Gartshore, proposed "The Queen," and the toast was honored in the usual manner. Sir Oliver Mowat having spoken at some length just before the luncheon, did not speak on this occasion. Sir John Carling, however, called upon Hon. David Mills, who responded pleasantly. After luncheon the lieutenant-governor and the other guests of the directors witnessed the attractions from the grand stand, and visited the various buildings on the grounds. Sir Oliver left at 4:30 for Toronto.

The crowd on the grand stand last evening was not large, but made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Everything went off with a delightful swing and verve, and there was not a dull moment from start to finish. Where there is so much that is attractive, and yet all so widely diverse, it is difficult to say which should be given a preference. But nothing could be more beautiful than the military tournament given by the ROYAL CANADIAN DRAGOONS, of Toronto. They are as fine soldierly a body of men as can be found in the world, and sit their horses as though they had been born in the saddle. And if the riders are superb, the horses are magnificent. Horse and man seem dominated by a single mind. They perform the most intricate and BEAUTIFUL EVOLUTIONS, and whether in the wild rush of a charge, or the pleasing mysteries of a fancy musical drill, every movement is made with grace, precision and rhythm. The effect in the evening, when every dragoon bears a lantern at the point of his lance, is entrancing. Yest day afternoon some of the horses became frightened at the sight of Mlle. Pianki's lions, and hereafter the cage will be discreetly covered up during the tournament.

Sergt.-Major Dingley, who is in command of the dragoons here, told a re-porter that the object of the tournament was to well-merited applause in the leading theaters of the United States is the performance on the triangulo giratorio (or revolving triangle), by the Watson sisters, aided by Juan de Zamora, a Mexican gymnast. The effect is greatly enhanced at night, when the points of the rapidly revolving triangle are illuminated. The fireworks were by far the fin-est ever seen here, and included many dazzingly beautiful set pieces. The grand finale, for which everybody waited, was the representation of the battle of Manila, showing the destruction of Cervera's ill-starred fleet. These Be the Aristocrats.

Even the Western Fair has its aristocracy. And its members are "to the manor born." Out of the dust and jostle and noise, wearied a little, maybe, by the bedlam of sound and wild medley of incongruous things, one steps into the horticultural hall, as into the serene calm and quiet beauty of a grand cathedral. Stately palms, towering gracefully, or spreading in feathery luxuriance, screen the walls, hold the eye restfully, and lend an air of magnificence to the whole interior. The rich warm colors of the fruit, massed in squares, at convenient intervals along the middle of the building, one might almost fancy had borrowed their soft radiance from sunlight flittered through

Along the sides are great banks of flowering pot plants, ferns, cacti and mosses, while suspended from the rafters are luxuriant creepers. Massed in the center, arranged with a beautiful color scheme, is a gorgeous display of out flowers. The exhibit this year is nearly double that of any preceding year, and the management is already talking of enlarging the building by throwing out wings at each side. Many exhibits had to be declined for want of accommoda-

The display of French cannas is particularly fine, both in number and in-dividual beauty. The plants generally are better classified and more artistically arranged than ever before.

From Cage, Coop and Hutch, The poultry department is in a flourishing condition, and much disposed to crow over the fact that the exhibit this year is larger and better than If you don't care for live poultry yourself, it would surprise you to learn by a visit to the department how very many people, and how many kinds of people, do care for them very much. Of course, there's always the chicken He's a distinct type, and everybody knows him. He's apt to be something of a sport, and to possess an unholy knowledge of cockpits. But it's the others who will surprise you. There are 10-year-old boys who discuss the merits of Cochins and Dorkings, Red Caps and Bantams, and display a surprisingly intimate acquaintance with the endless varieties of the great egg-producers. And there are fat, comfortable looking women, whose feathers are never ruffled, and who know a great deal about the laying qualities of hens, and which pullets are best for the pot. Pretty young girls spend a good deal of time here, too, but they like the ornamental birds best. You'll nearly always find a bunch of them looking with admiring eyes at those peerless birds, the gorgeous Pheasants, and down in their little feminine hearts, doubtless, there lurks the wicked thought of how perfectly lovely some of that scarlet or golden plumage would look in their hats. And the children you'll always find dancing about the rabbit hutches.

The display of game fowl is unusually good. A number of imported birds are shown, but the finest specimens are home-bred. The Buff and Black Cochins are both good, and the White Cochins fair. The Black Spanish are a small class, but very fair birds. The Hamburgs and Plymouth Rocks are both a large class and good birds. The Leghorns and Polands are both good. The Wyandottes are fair. The French birds are few but good. The Bantams, ornamental and game, are both good. There are few pigeons, but unusually large displays of turkeys, geese, ducks and rabbits.

At the board meeting yesterday, Mr. Farnham, a Clinton exhibitor, asked that provision be made in the prize list for a new breed of hogs—the Victorias—which he is showing. The matter will be dealt with by a committee consisting of Col. Leys, Geo. Taylor, T. Trebilcock and W. Moore. A com-plaint about the grade in which certain horses should be placed, was referred to Col. Levs, Col. Gartshore and Mr. Kennedy. The school board was refused passes for the board's architect and solicitor.

Notable Exhibits.

PRETTY ROMANCE AT THE FAIR. There was a pretty bit of romance at the fair yesterday. Romance may begin at a fair, or any place, indeed, where men and women meet. But this romance reached a climax, as a result of which two lives will probably be merged into one ere the snow flies. A tall. dark, keen-looking man and a beautiful well-tailored girl, all heedless steadily on the home stretch, and succeeded in passing Orkeny just before the wire was reached. Cook dropped into the rear at the start.

In the second heat the field was again well bunched at the finish, Hueston's horse leading this time, instead of bringing up the rear. Orkney went lame after this heat. Yel-She flashed him a swift look of min-gled love and gratitude and whisperd. "Yes, George."

THE PHILOSOPHY OF CLOTHES. Man is naturally a decorated animal, The barbarian loves to deck himself with gaudy colors, but is untrammeled by ideas of form or utility. The civilized man has the same decorative in-stinct; but his taste is indicated, and he requires a combination of grace and utility. He wants dressy, well-fitting garments. And that is why the men all stop to admire the spiendid dis-play made by Oak Hall, near the cen-ter of the main building. And the wives, too, stop to admire, for every woman takes pride in a well-dressed husband. But Oak Hall is probably more attractive to the boys and their mothers than to anyone else. A boy may be too proud to own that it hurts to wear ill-fitting, old-fashioned clothes, but the dear mothers know, and the wise mothers know, too, what a vast amount of hard wear there is in an Oak Hall suit.

GERARD HEINTZMAN PIANOS. To the right of the western entrance of the main building is the exhibit of Gerard-Heintzman Pianos, reminding one of the familiar ware-rooms of the concern at 229 Dundas street, and one has but to look at the magnificent display to understand why the name of Gerhard Heintzman has become a synonym throughout Canada for high-class planos. The artistic arrangement of the display is due to Mr. W. McPhillips, the sole local representative of the concern, but the real reason for its beauty, as well as its merit, is to be found in the instruments themselves. Nor is sight alone appealed to; for while the eye is ravished by the beauty of the woods, wrought into gems of art beneath the carver's skillful hands, the vibrant strings respond to the touch of trained musicians, ever pleased to display the quality and tone of the Gerhard Heintzman pianos.

THE DOHERTY ORGAN EXHIBIT. On the same aisle, a little farther the Doherty Organ along, is pany's exhibit, where are to be found the finest products of their large factory at Clinton, which rose, Phoenixlike, out of the ashes of a disastrous fire last February. The fire destroyed their entire plant, 1,000 organs in process of construction, and 1,000,000 feet of seasoned lumber. The company at once rebuilt on a larger scale than ever, and the present plant, covering fourteen acres, and equipped with the latest machinery, is one of the largest in Canada. Some idea of the demand for Doherty Organs in this country may be gathered from the fact that over 500 of them were sold at Toronto during the recent exposition there. Mr. W. McPhillips, with offices and ware-rooms at 229 Dundas street, is the sole local representative of the Doherty Company.

DENNIS WIRE AND IRON GOODS. Visitors to the fair will not see any exhibit of the Dennis Wire and Iron Company's wares, but all are invited to call at the factory on King street, where a large staff is busy furnishing work for various extensive buildings in different parts of the country. Dennis' wire goods railings, ornamented metal work, in brass, bronze, iron and electroplate, and architectural iron work are always in demand. The firm. among other good contracts, are doing the iron work on the Pork Packing Company's extensive new buildings in Pottersburg. The reputation enjoyed by the company for turning out good work and dealing fairly with customers is an enviable one.

THE DOCTOR TALKED OF TEA. An eminent physician was standing talking with a group of friends near the Grand Mogul Tea exhibit, in the today. main building, when one of the group remarked: "Is there any truth, doctor, in the idea that some people have that tea is injurious to the system?" probably article of diet," replied the doctor, that somebody has not charged with being responsible for all the ills of mankind. The fact is, good tea is one of the most useful and beneficial inferior, valueless, and even harmful teas, but Grand Mogul Tea promotes appetite, is refreshing and invigorating, is a valuable sedative, and has a salutary effect on the bowels."

Two Hearts, but of a Single Thought.

Millie Christine, the Double-Headed Woman, Is Something Wonderful, and Large Crowds Are Visiting

Of all the curiosities ever unearthed by the immortal Barnum, none can compare in the most minute degree with Millie Christine, a daugher, or daughters-which ever the fastidious please-of the State of North Carolina. Here is a lady with one body but two distinct minds, borne by two separate heads. All the intelligent people who saw her can bear witness to the marvelous intelligence which predominates in both brains: the conversational powers of the two heads at once in communication with two different persons upon different topics, would sufficiently testify it. But the marvel did not stop here; some of the sweetest duets in the language of music were sung by the high soprano and pure contralto. It may be added that this extraordinary trunk has two pairs of perfect legs, terminating in symmetrical and very pretty feet, and that, moving upon their pedal extremities, the trunk exhibits the very poetry of motion. The polka, the mazurka, the schottische are delineared by these two pretty pairs of feet in perfect time and harmony, and the spectator is rewarded not only by one smile, as in the case of ordinary young ladies, but by two distinct smiles, winked at by two pairs of sparkling and roguish eyes. There are lots of people here and elsewhere, always ready to strain at the smallest gnat and swallow the biggest camel, who will doubtless put this lady down as outside the pale of ordinary humanity. If this prejudice should carry anyone so far as to avoid her, they alone will be the losers. No one of ordinary intelligence can be in her company for half an hour without yielding to the charm of her manner and the fascination of her double smiles. All candidly admit that they are fascinated and immediately lose sight of the phenomenon, and become overpowered by the influence or this dual brain. The eminent medical men of the United States testify that this remarkable freak of nature is united at the lateral posterior portion of the pelvis, while above that portion they are separated, having separate chests, two pairs of fully developed arms, but only one trunk. With the double head they possess separate intellectual faculties as entirely distinct as in the brain power of two different individuals, while their faces indicate to a remarkable degree intelligence of a high order and great amiability.

Visitors to the Western Fair should make it a point to see this remarkable woman. She attracted large crowds

MICHAEL DOWNED THE MAJOR. New York, Sept. 13.-Jimmy Michael, the Welshman, met his erstwhile con-queror, "Major" Taylor, the colored rider, in a 20-mile unlimited paced race on the Manhattan Beach bicycle track Saturday afternoon, and won from the negro in hollow style. Both had their wheels geared to 112. Taylor won the toss for position, and chose the starting point in front of the judges' stand. Michael took up his position on the back stretch, the conditions calling for most substantial claim to public conthe men to start from opposite sides of | fidence.

CRICKET. ENGLISHMEN AT TORONTC.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—The cricket match between Mr. Warner's English eleven and an Ontario eleven opened yesterday morning on the Rosedale grounds. The Englishmen won the toss and went to the wicket. The bowling of the Canadians was weak from the start, and the averages for the day were very low. The fielding of the home team was smart on the whole. The Englishmen ran up a heavy score at the pat., At lunch-time the game was a foregone conclusion, the score being then 82 for two wickets. Wells & Richardson Co.:

Gentlemen,-For two years I was in a low condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I also used two bottles of a recommended patent medicine, but no good results came. I was then advised by a neighbor to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this marvelous preparation soon produced the very best results. I am glad to report that my health is improved in every respect; I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medi-Sixth race, 3-year-olds and up, 6 people, as I believe it is the best cine in the world. ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1863.] Managing Director John Cameron

London, Tuesday, Sept. 13, 1898.

The Open Door All Round. The positions sometimes taken by American newspapers and politicians cannot be otherwise than matters of astonishment to the people of this country. We notice that some of our American contemporaries say that if the Government of the United Kingdom is really as favorable to the republic as it professes to be, it ought to at once propose the cancellation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and to hand over to the United States the absolute control of the proposed highway through Central America.

We are at a loss to understand any of the propositions embraced in this declaration. The fulendship of the peoples and governments of the British Empire towards the United States is not disclosed by concessions which the Americans have no right to claim but by the position which these peoples and governments took towards them during their war with Spainwhich our friends on the other side of the boundary have never taken towards the governments or peoples of the Empire. On what ground can the United States claim that a sacrifice such as it proposes made as a test of good-will that country? The United has been on the brink of war with Russia in respect to the policy of that great empire towards China. The Government of the United Kingdom have been asking that the door of commerce shall be kept open, and instead of this the United States propose that an important door of commerce, when established, shall be placed absolutely under their

As we understand it, the position taken by the United Kingdom in respect to the Suez Canal is that it became an ocean highway, which by general compact amongst nations shall be made absolutely free from political control, other than that which the concerted action of the civilized world secures to all alike. We know no reason why, if a canal is constructed across Central America, it should be placed under the control of the Government of the United States. should be made secure against that Government, and against every other

Our American neighbors forget that Canada is a country having more than twice the territory and twice the population that the United States had at the time they acquired their independence; that we have a Pacific as well as an Atlantic coast, and that It is as important to us as it is to them that a short commercial highway should be established, and that it should be as free from their special control as from the control of France or of Russia.

At the present time the Anglo-American alliance is spoken of. We do not doubt that it would be advantageous to both countries and to the world that such an alliance should exist; but it cannot be a one-sided affair. It was, during the recent war between Spain and the United States, of far greater importance to the United States than to the British Empire, and we know no reason why the United States should call upon the United Kingdom to give further evidence of its goodwill. It is time there should be some action disclosing this good-will from the other side. Mutual understandings, in the interests of justice and truth, must be reciprocal, and they are not to be brought about by unreasonable concessions made from the one party to the other. We are glad to see that the war with Spain has, to some extent, forced our neighbors into taking a larger view of their international responsibility than they have hitherto done; but it would be a misfortune if they were to carry the narrow and exclusive ideas that belong to one epoch of their existence into the larger one that succeeds.

American friends have commended the open door theory of Lord Salisbury when applied to the trade of the East. They must not expect, therefore, that they are to have free hand in applying the theory of a closed door to the great highway between the Pacific and Atlantic, constructed through Central America. Such a demand is not based upon friendship, but upon greed, and we are not called upon to make any sacrifice to a demand of this kind. It is in principle and spirit the very opposite to the policy for which the British Empire has been contending for a half century.

A Pleasant Incident.

At the luncheon, on the Western Fair grounds in London, the only toast that was given apart from "The Queen," was the health of the Hon. David Mills, the Minister of Justice, proposed by Sir John Carling,

The incident was a pleasant one, well illustrating the amenities that should prevail on non-political occasions. Sir John Carling, after a graceful allusion to Lieutenant-Governor Mowat, referred to the presence the Minister of Justice. As members of the Government of the day, he was entitled to the welcome due to his position, apart from his well-known abilities, and apart from the fact that ne was a citizen of London and of Western Ontario. He and Mr. Mills were on opposite sides of politics, but personal friends they had ever been, and he saw no reason why men might not love their country from one side of the party field as well as from the other: nor why those who were usually opposed politically, might not be still friendly personally.

Hon. David Mills, in replying, also alluded in terms of appreciation to the career of Sir Oliver Mowat, and reofprocated the personal friendliness of Sir John Carling. Referring to the feeling of Canada as a part of the Empire. Mr. Mills said that speculative thinkers at one time looked for Canada arriving at a period of maturity, with a separate national existence, as the best means of attaining the highest degree of influence and prosperity. That sentiment no longer had any existence. All public men in this country, and all the people of the country, without respect to party differences, were devoted ardently to the unity of the Empire, and looked for the highest attainment of prosperity, and the highest development of influence, within the Empire. The people of Canada were irrevocably devoted to its unity and permanence.

The toast given by Sir John Carling, and the response by the Minister of Justice, created a pleasant impression.

The Assassination.

Carnot, President of France, Canovas, Premier of Spain, and Elizabeth, Empress of Austria, have perished by the same infernal agency, within a terribly short period of time. In the case of Canovas, revenge for fancied wrongs inflicted by the victim gave a shade of direct motive to the deed, out against Carnot and the late Empress of Austria there could have been no breath of personal malevolence. They were simply sacrificed as the representatives of authority, law, order, and the other social sanctions against which the blind frenzy of anarchy expends itself. The House of Hapsburg is one of the last which should, on its merits, provoke the hand of violence or even constitutional attack. It is enthroned in the hearts of its subjects of all classes. The Emperor is the one unifying force of empire-the one power which can bring into harmony its discordant racial elements. When he is removed Austria will be in danger of crumbling into fragments. His life has been one of great personal affliction, and this crowning sorrow coming on the eve of his royal jubilee renders him a singularly pathetic figure.

The civilized world, which shudders at the murder of this defenseless and harmless woman, must realize that underlying the fiendish act are political and economic conditions, of which anis the wretched product. significant that so many political crimes have been hatched in Italy, where the lower classes, more than in any other European country, are crushed and pauperized by maladministration, and where popular revolution is only held in Thank God, anarchy does not flourish in the free soil of Great Britain.

Last year British imports from the United States were $540,860,152, and British exports to the same country were only $109,138,365. According to the ultra-protectionist doctrine this disparity is a calamity for Great Brittain. The British do not realize it; they bought from the United States because it was profitable to do so. The decrease of 35 per cent last year in British exports to the States is however, not a matter for congratulation. Germany suffered in a similar degree. The Dingley Bill is undoubt-

Cognized is Dr. Chase's Ointment, compounded by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, as a remedy for Which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr. Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,700 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have been something astonishing. Here is what one of the cures says:

MR. O. P. St. John, 246 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known. I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Oinement, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to soveral of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use

MAKE MUSCLET

Every Man and Woman Can Enjoy Health and Strength

If They Will Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to Change Their Food Into Rich Blood to Make Muscle, Bone and Sinew.

Why are the men of today weaker, ess vigorous, more puny, than those of a century ago? Because we live a more rapid life. Because we keep late hours, bolt our food, ruin our digestive systems, in a word because we burn the candle of life at both ends, and make no provision to replace it. This is why men are weaker; women have to bear the daily burden of pain, and why men and women are short-lived. What can we do in this case? We can remedy the evil; we can become strong, robust and (healthy, active, vigorous and clear-brained, enjoying long life, and all its pleas-ures by making up for the waste that always attends the wear and tear of daily life. How can we do this? By making new blood, rich, health-giving blood; by making new muscles, bone and sinew, that will take the place of those worn out daily and

This can be done in one way—one way only. That way is by insuring perfect digestion. If our food is perfectly digested, it forms rich, healthy

Rich, pure, healthy blood forms bone, muscle, sinew and nerves. These are necessary to good health, strength and vigor. If you use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tab-lets—one after each meal—"every bite" of food you eat will be promptly and horoughly digested. It makes no difference whether your stomach is out of order or not, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food themselves.

Then a full supply of rich, strong blood is insured. That means health, strength, vigor, and the power to enjoy life and its opportunities.

A DINNER PILL. — Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a porson to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indiges.

T. W. ECKERT.

The magnificent display or "Bell" Pianos at the Western Fair is undoubtedly a strong point of attraction. The unique designs of cases, together with the marvelous tonal qualities of these pianos, brought crowds of delighted hearers and spectators whenever these instruments were under the artistic manipulation of those whose business it is to show them.

Mr. T. W. Eckert, the renowned orchestral pianist, created some marvelous effects upon the Bell Orchestral Piano, producing in all imitations of different instruments, each separate and at will. FREE recitals will be given at 8 each evening on the ground floor of the "Bell" warerooms, 167 Dundas street, when Mr. Eckert will devote a full half hour in rendering these unique imitations. Mr. Eckert will, furthermore, close with a vocal solo. Remember, these recitals are free, and all are welcome.

Lord Herschell Has Been Invited to Attend the Fair.

Complaints Considered by the Board of Directors-All the Departments in Full Swing.

Germania Day has proved a success. Great crowds thronged the grounds throughout the day. It was Queen's weather. The directors' heart are glad. Every department was crowded all day long. Large as the grounds are, they were fairly overrun with people. The midway was a perfect bedlam and did a booming business.

Lord Herschell, chairman of the international Quebec conference, may visit the Western this year. The board of directors telegraphed an invitation this afternoon to the distinguished gentleman at Toronto, where he was to receive a civic welcome on his arrival by boat from Niagara Falls.

Cook and Ozark, on the ground that they were not weighted according to rule. The board upheld the action of the judges, and it was pointed out that the rule question applied to winners of this year only.

"The wisest," he murmured, as the brougham stopped in Belgrave Square. "If I fail, there is nothing left but to exert authority over Cecil as my heir. Should he refuse to heed, then the empty title alone will be his; or, by Jove! yes, I'll marry again."

That sudden threat in his mind, he proceeded to the library, where, learning Lady Westbrook was absent, he dispatched the message Maria had re-

Lord Santyre rose at her entrance, and, regarding her attentively, was astonished and struck, as he had never been before, by the quiet dignity of her bearing, her refined style of beauty, and gentle, unobtrusive expression. By heaven! I can scarcely wonder at the boy," he thought, involuntarily. "When young I could have gone mad about such a face-but, a lady's-maid! Signora," he said, placing a chair for her, "I must apologize for trespassing on your time; but the cause is to me as serious as I find it delicate to speak

Maria, inclining her head, answered: "My time is quite at your service, my lord. In what way can I serve

"That is the most delicate part," answered the marquis. "I own I scarcely know how to commence." The nobleman, leaning back in his chair, really looked in a pitiable state of perplexity. He even colored slightly and felt that he avoided his companion's glance. If Maria was above the position of a lady's-maid or not, he certainly ex-perienced great difficulty in addressing her as one. He fidgeted with his eye-

What detestable responsibilities sons and nephews were! However should he begin?-in what way, not to offend the sensitiveness of this girl? He was sure, by those soft, dark, velvety, dreamy eyes, that Signora Saproni was sensitive. If she had been a little coarse and vulgar, how much easier would it have been!

During these reflections there had ensued a brief silence. Maria sat, to outward semblance, very composed, her hands folded on her lap, her eyes fixed on the marquis. Suddenly, round the corners of her pretty mouth flickered a smile. There was something which she could not resist, yet she tion. He had purposed to appeal to compassionated. Finally, after the her to reject Cecil; but she had done ludicrous in the nobleman's dilemma, marquis had cleared his throat, and made one or two ineffectual attempts to commence the subject, leaning for-

"In this house I have experienced nothing but the utmost kindness and consideration from Lady Westbrook and yourself. I can never forget it, nor cease to be grateful. May I prove it by sparing you the pain of this commencement by taking it upon myself?" The marquis listened, surprised. The thought forced itself into his brain: "Does she guess my purpose? Is she resolved to have Cecil, and is trying to ingratiate herself with me? "If you will allow me, my lord," continued Maria, "I will take silence for consent. The matter upon which you would speak has reference to Lord Carisford, your nephew." "Most assuredly I am right," reflected the marquis, sotto voce. Then, rather stiffly, aloud: "It has, signora." There was a pause; then, her color somewhat heightened, Maria, almost proudly inclining her head, remarked: "My lord, having said so much, I must now leave you to proceed."

"Signora," replied the nobleman, with abrupt change of tone, "I will do so, and speak as frankly as you have done, for which I thank and admire you. I understand, then, that since you have been an inmate beneath this roof, my nephew, though never encouraged on your part, has ceaselessly paid you much secret attention."

"May I ask your informant, my This very quickly. "I am not permitted to say."

CANADIAN TRADE

Points From Bradstreet's Week ly Review.

ts for the Fall Business Were Never Brighter.

Bradstreet's weekly review says: Wholesale trade of Montreal has been quiet this week, but business continues to improve. The prospects for the fall business were never brighter. The reports from the west are very satisfactory, and large shipments of goods were expected to be made up before navigation closes. The grain movement has not been active, but there has been considerable demand for ocean room, and some good-sized engagements have been made during the past week. Trade at Toronto has been very active. The warehouses of the wholesale drygoods firms have been thronged with buyers from all parts of the country. Buying has been large and a considerable portion of it has been for cash at short terms of credit. The fall wheat in Manitoba is now pretty well all down, and the feeling throughout the province is one of se-curity. It will be some time yet before the new crop movement assumes large proportion, but already the receipts are increasing. A good business in farm lands is looked for this fall, after harvest is finished. There has been quite a brisk trade at the coast in Klondike supplies. The "just as good."

"Have been in poor health for about seven years," writes Mrs. I. Albert Eakins, of No. 148 Main Street, Dallas, Texas. "Every summer I'd have a bilious attack lasting two weeks, besides headaches all my life, general debility and an inactive liver. I suffered with my bladder and kidneys for five years at least. I could not stand on my feet long at a time until I commenced your treatment. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' They have helped me wonderfully. I had a disagreeable drain and irregular periods. I thought I should go insane sometime. I worried about everything: had the blues all the time and did not care to live. Now I am well." demand for labor continues active, and there is a great deal of work being done at Vancouver. This season 100 steamers were added to the Pacific coast fleet, British Columbia getting more than her share. Her pack has been a failure, owing to the late running of the sockeyes, which are now, after the season is closed, running into the rivers in millions.

Cuticura Works Wonders in Cleansing the Scalp and Restoring the Hair.

I was suffering tortures from a diseased scalp. I was scratching my head from morning till night. Little pimples broke out all over my head. I had no rest. I got a cake of CUTICURA SOAP and a box of CUTICURA (ointment). I washed my head about once a week with hot water and CUTICURA SOAP, and then applied the Cuticura (cintment) as a dressing. I only used one box of ointment and one cake of soap, to be cured. Now, my head hasn't a pimple on it, and my hair is growing ADA C. HARRELL. Feb. 21, 1898. 230 Grand St., Jersey City, N. J.

I was troubled with dandruff so that it made my hair fall out so bad, I got discouraged. I purchased a box of CUTIOURA (ointment) and a cake of CUTICURA SOAP. The former I rubbed well into the scalp twice a week, and then shampooed with warm water and a good lather of Cuticura Soap once a week. My hair is growing out thick once more, and free from terrible dandruff. Miss ADA JAYES, Feb. 20, '28. 82 Webster Ave., Chelsea, Mass.

I had a bad scalp humor, and thought I would go frantic with itching. I lost considerable of my hair (of which I had an abundance, and was very proud). I tried several remedies but they failed. I tried CUTIOURA Soap, relief immediate, and itching is com-pletely gone. Mrs. M. JUDAN, Feb. 20, '98. 246 Halliday St., Jersey City, N.J.

The Switching Difficulty Between the G. T. R. and L. E. and D. R. R.

The Lake Erie and Detroit Solicitor Presents His Side of the Case-City Solicitor Meredith Replies.

The finance committee of the city council held a special meeting last night to discuss the question of switching privileges of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railroad, which had been referred to the council by the Port Stanley Railway board. Mr. J. W. Coburn, solicitor of the L

E. and D. R. R., presented his side of the case. He said the trouble began last April, when the G. T. R. notified his company that the free switching privileges would be discontinued, and that $2 per car would be charged. The notice was unheeded, and the climax was reached in July, when the G. T. R. refused to continue switching privileges until the back money for switching had been paid, and giving notice that the rates for ordinary freight would be raised to $3 per car and $5 for Wabash. The L.E. and D. R. R. contended that the privileges they claimed had always been enjoyed by the road, and were transferred to this company. and administered Holy Communion. In red to this company when the twenty years' lease was made. They did no rector of Christ Church, gave an interesting and helpful address to the school children. Rev. T. H. Brown, incumbent at Delaware, preached at the evening services. had expressed a willingness to arbitrate the matter, but his company did not feel inclined to shoulder the expense. He thought, however that they should contribute a reasonable amount of the expense. They were opening up really a new industry by bringing coal across the lakes, and every brought in now was carried at a loss to the L. E. and D. R. R. on account of paying for switching. The people of London wanted all the outside freight connection they could getmost of all, cheap coal. The average per year on a basis of $2 per car would be about $1,000, but this might easily increase to $4,000 or $5,000. The was interested just as much as the L. E. and D. R. R., for if these privileges were taken away, the road. as an asset, after the expiration of the lease, would be less valuable. He thought the city should join them in bringing the matter to a focus. mayor asked what the result would be if the L. E. and D. R. R. contested the case and it went against them.

Mr. Coburn said that in that event they would be justified, he thought. in deducting the switching charges from the $10,000 rental. He did not think the company should contest it. -The G. T. R. are running excur- life. The company also carry a large for protection in these particulars. They looked to the lessors of the road Mr. Meredith contended that all of the agreement between the Port Stanley board, the city and the L. E. and D. R. R. had not been fulfilled. He fully understood the matter from a citizen's standpoint. They wanted all the freight connection they could get, and coal as cheap as possible. He showed that by the city going into litigation with the L. E. and D. R. R. and against the G. T. R., they placed themselves in an arrivaged party. themselves in an awkward position. If the city consented to the use of its name and the case went against the L. E. and D. R. R. it would place the latter company in a position to claim that, by the fact of being a joint party in the action, they had practically said that the L. E. and D. R. R. were right in their contentions, that these privileges properly belonged to the city, and had been handed over when the lease of the road was made, and that the L. E. and D. R. Co. might proceed to deduct the cost of switching from the rental. He suggested that the matter be left to arbitration, the Port Stanley board to choose one arbitrator, the L. E. and D. R. R. a second and the two a third-their decision to be final. Mr. Coburn said his company would be bound by the finding of the arbitrators, and if the matter were decided against them the city would be No definite action was taken on the matter, but before the council meets,

Mr. Coburn will consult with his company as to what form the proceedings shall take. The telegram from Mayor Owens, of fire-swept New Westminster, was referred to the council for action there-The members present were Ald. Winnett (chairman), Mayor Wilson, Ald. Graham, O'Meraa, McPhillips and Secretary Pope.

GORED BY A BULL

Mr. Frank Anderson, of Westminster, Seriously Injured.

Mr. Frank Anderson, of the fourth concession of Westminster, met with a serious accident on Sunday, which nearly cost him his life. About noon Mr. Anderson noticed that a huge bull had broken loose, and went down to tie the animal up, when the beast turned on him and gored him badly. Mr. Anderson had several ribs broken and his chest crushed. The fact that he was not gored to death was due to the animal forcing him through the slats of a crib, thus being out of the infuriated animal's reach. Dr. Nichol was summoned and attended to the injuries. Mr. Anderson was doing nicely at last accounts.
