Now This Is the Shortest. HAVRE, May 6. - The steamship La Touraine, which left New York on Saturday, April 28, at 8:30 a.m., with John Jacob Astor and family, Mme, Calve and Henri N. Braem. Danish consul to New York, among her passengers, arrived yesterday at 6 a.m. The time of the voyage between New York and Queenstown, five days and sixteen hours, was the shortest on record. To Reclaim the Zuyder Zee. THE HAGUE, May 6 .- The royal commission, presided over by Mynheer Clely, the Minister of Waterways and Commerce, has decided almost unanimously in favor of the project to reclaim 500,000 acres of the Zuyder Zee, by means of sea dykes from Northern Holland into Friesland at a total cost, including measures of defense and compensation to fishermen, of 315,000,000 guilders. It is estimated that the value of the land reclaimed will be 326,000,000 guilders. The commission unanimously recommends that the state shall undertake the execution of the project. Princess Alix. BERLIN, May 6 .- Princess Alix of Hesse, who is betrothed to the Czarewitch, has gone to England in order to spend a few weeks with Queen Victoria. On the return of the princess to Darmstadt she will be placed under the spiritual guidance of the and the possibility of serious trouble in that country. The Spectator refers to the dispatch from Calcutta published in the Times on April 17, announcing that much excitement prevailed in North Behar, owing to the fact that the mango tree in several districts had been found smeared with a mixture of mud and of the hairs of some animal. The officials were perplexed, some considering that the smearing of the trees was a secret sign connected with the cow protection movement, and this and other movements going on in North Behar disturbed and puzzled the Government

In its reference to the Times' dispatch the Spectator recalls that next Thursday is the anniversary of the Indian mutiny, and that this anniversary has been preceded by a mysterious distribution of cakes throughout Behar and the northwest. According to the Spectator there is something stirring among the Nepaulese priests, and it is feared that it portends another serious rising in India. The rising, if it takes place, according to the Spectator, will be due to the disaffection which exists on account of the rulings of the opium commission, increased taxes, the cow question and other matters which have caused deep mutterings among the populace.

Gossip About Gladstone.

LONDON, May 6 .- London correspondents all have something to sav of Gladstone's latest appearance. Harold Frederick, in his cable letter to the New York Times, says: "Gladstone's brief visit to London to make a speech eulogizing the memory of his late physician, has been gingerly treated by the press. He spoke seated in a chair, a thing which London never saw him do before, and though his voice was heard all over the hall the old light seemed gone out of his face. It was pallid and almost expressionless. He was approached with a suggestion to find time to include a short visit to the House of Commons, but he declined almost testily. Reports are current of his having declared never to open his mouth on a political subject again.'

Mr. Geo. W. Smalley cables: "Mr. Gladstone, with very considerable effort, went to the meeting in Princess Hall on Thursday in aid of the memorial to Sir Andrew Clarke. He spoke, sitting, with a pathos due partly to has own illness, mainly to the nature of the tribute he offered to his late friend and physician. able. It was an audience of the classes, erstirely unfounded and that he has not the with the Duke of Cambridge presiding; yet they greeted him with enthusiasm."

The Sun's London correspondent says: "Those who feared that his retirement from public life would bring upon Mr. the trustees of Shakespeare's birthplace Gladstone just those evils which he designed to avoid are beginning to find their silons in 1893-materially fewer than in judgment justified. The Grand Old Man 1892. The falling off is ascribed to the de- has aged many years in the past three on in America and to the Chicago months. The picture he made at the Sir exhibition. The report shows an adverse Andrew Clarke memorial meeting on Thursday was a pitiful one. He was a feeble, bent octogenarian who leaned upon a stout stick even when addressing the audience from his chair. His words were the German Colonial Society has forwarded brave, polished, well chosen and appropriate. Not a shadow has yet crossed his pressing confidence that the Government shining intellect, but both flesh and will defend Germany's "unquestionable spirit are breaking. No specific malady is undermining his marve lous vitality but a great change, which his grieving friends cannot fail to recognize is making rapid progress. He has lost interest in life. That is eminous. and his friends are beginning to understand now what Sir Andrew Clarke saw clearly, hat for such a man to fold his hands meant despair and death. Every effort will be made now to provide the warrior statesman with tasks and ambition sufficiently important to keep alive that energy which craves and feeds upon what in most men would destroy it. If his enthusiasm can be revived he may remain many days a figure of which the nation will be most proud. If not, then nothing can long delay the end."

The most remarkable effect of Mr. Gladstone's retirement has been clearly emphasized in connection with his first public appearance on Thursday. His enemies have already become his friends. He has completely ceased to be a partisan figure in English politics.

The Daily News said truly yesterday: "In a few short weeks he has outlived hatred, malice and all uncharitableness. His fame stands as high to-day as if it had been purified by half a century of the tomb. Most great men have to wait for such a vindication of the passing away of an entire generation. Their appeal is to posterity. In Mr. Gladstone's case the cales have fallen from the eyes of his opponents almost at the very moment of his withdrawal from the position which made him the most commanding figure in

A Jealous Lover.

ROME, May 7 .- A young man named Venzi, belonging to one of the most aristocratic Roman families, last evening called at the house of Signor Liberali's daughter, Glorinda, to whom he was engaged. As the girl stepped forward to greet him on entering the reception room, Venzi drew a revolver and fired two shots at her, and she fell dead. Venzi then put the pistol to his head and sent a bullet into his 's confessor, Father Jonyscheff, the brain, dying almost instantly. It is supposed the deed was caused by jealousy.

> Gladstone on Free Trade. Paris, May 6 .- The Society of Political Economy recently sent to Mr. Gladstone an address expressing deep regret that he had retired from public life. In his letter of thanks addressed to Leon Saer, Mr. Gladstone wrote: It is great affliction to see the economic ground lost in the last 30 years, not only in Europe, but amongst the largest portion of the Angio-Saxon race. I regret the undue material losses, but I regret the change still more because free trade develops international good will. Great Britain remains to-day the solitary adherent of what was formerly regarded as the established economy. Nevertheless, the time will come and we shall patiently await when experience and

The Indian Rising Discussed. LONDON, May 7 .- Col. Matteson, who is recognized as an eminent authority on Indian affairs, has written an open letter to the newspapers on the subject of the anticipated uprising of the natives in India. Col. Matteson says that undoubtedly some serious disturbance is meditated, and that prompt action on the part of the Government is imperative. There may not be an uprising on Thursday, the anniversary of the Sepoy mutiny in 1857, as has been predicted, but it is bound to come if immediate measures are not taken to prevent it. The writer advises the Government to cease tampering with the laws relating to marriage, the sale and use of opium, and other so-called "reforms," which the natives regard as worse than tyranny, and to quietly but closely watch the movements of the natives.

THE P. P. A.S IN THE STATES. Non-Committal in Many Particulars-A Declaration of Principles for Publication Issued.

DES MOINES, May 6.-The Supreme Council of the American Protective Association closed its work yesterday. The council tabled every motion attempting to commit the order to any distinct line of policy on the money, labor, suffrage, temperance or other party questions, and also adopted a resolution declaring that no committee could bring the members to any political action beyond their negative obligation. The conneil approved the draft of a bill for the suppression of immigration, which will be sent to Con-gress, and also adopted resolution cards for state legislation suggesting that convents and similar institutions be open to public inspection. A declaration of principles for publication was approved of. It says:

"The American Protective Association is not a political party and does not control the political affiliation of its members, but it teaches them to be intensely active in the discharge of their political duties in order out of party lines; it holds that subjection to and support of any ecclesiastical power not created and controlled by American citizens is irreconcilable with American citizenship; upholds the constitution of the United States of America, and no portion of it more than its guarantee

Montreal Man Missing.

MONTREAL, May 5 .- Wm. McKay, of her Majesty's customs, late member of the Provincial staff of the Roman Catholic schools here, has been missing from his home since April 21. The affair is a complete mystery. He is 56 years of age, but looks younger. Height 5 feet 71 inches, straight and erect, eyes blue, features regular, full beard and mustache of brownish hue, slightly streaked with gray. Information should be sent to John McKay, 72 Fortier street, Montreal.

Y. M. C. A. Secretaries' Convention. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 6 .- George T. Coxhead, general secretary, of St. Louis, presided at yesterday's session of Y. M. C. A. secretaries. At the business session M. McCulloch, of Toronto, Ont., secretary and treasurer of the association, made his annual statement, showing a balance of $63 18 on hand. F. W. Ober, Omaha; H. R. Anderson, Atlanta, Ga.; T. W. Mosser, Chicago; W. G. Latz, Boston; W. E. Day, Dayton, O.; R. H. Thateher, Buffalo, N. Y., and F. F. SUICIDE AT ST. THOMAS. A Bartender Drowns Himself in Shallow Kettle Creek.

Sr. THOMAS, May 6 .- Wm. Hamill, a young man 28 years of age, who has filled the position of bartender for his uncle, W. T. Wyatt, Station Hotel, committed suicide at an early hour this morning in two and a half feet of water in Kettle Creek, about 75 yards east of the L. and P. S. R. bridge. He was seriously ill last fall, and has been somewhat dispondent of late. He complained of being nervous last night upon retiring, and nothing more was seen of him until 4:30 this morning, when one of the G. T. R. employes met him proceeding up the track. He was found by a party of men as described about 11 o'clock. Coroner Gustin will hold an inquest to-morrow.

TRAGEDY IN INGERSOLL.

A Young Man Killed by Another in an Aggravated Quarrel.

INGERSOLL, Ont., May 6 .- The circumstances leading up to the unfortunate affair by which young McDermott lost his life are the result of several years' growth. For the past eight or ten years a certain class of men have been in the habit of congregating in various localities, and acting in a disorderly way. One of their chief amusements seems to have been to waylay unsuspecting young men returning home at night and firing rocks at them "to see them run." From the evidence it would appear that on this occasion a company of young men, of whom deceased was one, had selected a young man named Alward as a victim of their practical joking. It was known that he was escorting home a young lady named McFee, who resides at the extreme west end of Victoria street. They accordingly went down to the G. T. R. track and awaited Alward's return. Upon his appearance the gang opened fire upon him with rocks, and during the melee McDermott received a blow upon his head. He was assisted to a neighboring house and medical aid summoned, but nothing could be done for him, and the unfortunate young man breathed his last a few minutes afterwards. The police were notified and went to the residence of Alward's father, Cherry street, where the young man was found sleeping, apparently oblivious of the fact that anyone had been injured. He was at once placed under arrest. A coroner's jury viewed the body and then heard the evidence of Arthur Mitchell, who said the party who intended to "rock" the prisoner was five or six in number. The inquest was then adjourned till Tuesday evening. Dr. Williams will hold a post mortem in the meantime, the jury appointing Dr. Lucas to assist in the operation.

PROUD DAY FOR TALMAGE. He Celebrated the 25th Anniversary of His Pastorate.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 7 .- A celebration of the 25th anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage was begun at the Brooklyn Tabernacle yesterday. At the morning service Dr. Talmage preached an eloquent sermon, taking for the text of his discourse the words-"One generation cometh and another passeth away.'

During the sermon Dr. Talmage spoke of the ordeal by fire through which the church had passed, and also of the good work accomplished in the raising of over $1, 600,000 for charitable purposes during the past quarter of a century. He referred to the fact that but two or three of the original twenty-five who had extended him the call to come to Brooklyn were alive.

The church was crowded to its utmost capacity. The celebration will continue on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, when the service will be of an international character.

MORE EARTHQUAKES.

Consternation Caused by a Dector's Prophecy in Greece.

ATHENS, May 6 .- A severe earthquake was felt at 5 o'clock this morning at Thebes, Atlanta and Livadia. The shock was slightly felt in Athens and also in the northern part of the Island of Eunae, King George and the members of his party landed to-day at Stylida and subsequently proceeded to Lamia, where a Te Deum was sung in the cathedral.

The prophecy made by Dr. Faalb a few days ago that there would be a destructive earthquake on Friday or Saturday caused a panic in this city. A large number of persons placed confidence in the prophecy, and expected that their dwellings would be destroyed. A great many of them encamped in the fields about the cities, while others fled for safety to the hills, where they remained Friday and Saturday nights. At the Piræus many of the inhabitants passed the nights in boats, believing the water would be safer than the land in the event of a heavy earth quake.

Kidnappers in St. Louis.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 7.-The police believe an organized band of kidnappers are at work in this city. In addition to the mysterious disappearance of W. S. Harrison, a traveling man, and two little daughters, the disappearance of three other small children is now reported. Meeting of Grand Trunk Employes.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., May 7 .- A meeting held here yesterday afternoon by the employes of the Grand Trunk system of Michigan for the purpose of organizing a system of federation was largely attended by delegates. There was a lengthy and thorough discussion of the proposed federation, its desirability and benefits, and all present expressed themselves in favor of the scheme. The meeting was adjourned until the first Sunday in June, when a final decision will be made.

The C. P. R. Murder. VANCOUVER, B. C., May 7 .- From Yoko. hama news is received that the recent murder on the C. P. R. steamer City of Pekin by a Chinaman was done by order of the Highbinders for revenge. Buck Tong, the assassin, was found in the ladies' cabins. The cabin boy ordered him out, but he refused to go and stabbed the boy. The chief engineer was also slashed, but unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension every function wanes in slashing Lee Shing, a passenger, cut his windpipe and jugular, almost severing his head from the body. The Yokohama officials believe that Tong was put on board by the Highbinders' Society to murder Lec.

179 DUNDAS STREET DR. BILL AND MARIE TEMPEST

Are Coming-So is the "Grand Duchess" Three Great Attractions.

MISS MARIE TEMPEST. The engagement of the Whitney Opera Company at the Grand next Friday is attracting more than ordinary interest among the music loving public and general theater goers. Miss Marie Tempest is the leading soprano of De Koven & Smith's most popular opera, "The Fencing Master." This charming little woman is probably the most widely and favorably known of any light opera prima donna now appearing before the public.

Manager Whitney purchased the entire plant originally used at the Casino, and carries two 60-foot carloads of scenery, costumes and properties. The scene of "The Fencing Master" is laid in Milan and Venice, which gives plenty of opportunity for light, color and shade. The first act is a square in Milan with the Roman Catholic cathedral in the background. The view of the Grand Canal, with a fleet of gondolas gliding back and forth, and the Doge's Palace in the distance. This scene was pronounced by the New York critics to be the best ever presented upon the stage of the Casino. The third act presents the piazetta in front of the Marchesa's Palace, original in design and artistic in execution.

The cast will be as follows: Francesca. Miss Marie Tempest
The Countess Fillipa. Miss Lilly Post
The Marchesa di Goldoni Mile. Thea Dorri
Theresa. Miss Julia Spencer
Pietro. Miss Marion Langdon
The Duke of Milan. Richard F. Carroll
Pasquino H. W. Tre Denick
Torquato A. M. Holbrook Peppo. Ole Norman
Rinaldo Arthur Lieblee
The Doge of Venice Walter West
Fortunio Julius Steger
There is a grand chorus of 50 voices and an augmented orchestra under Signor "DR. BILL" WEDNESDAY. That sparkling comedy, "Dr. Bill," which scored a great hit at the Grand last season, will be seen again in London Wednesday evening. A merrier piece never graced the boards. The fun is furnished in allopathic doses and the effects are decidedly exhilarating. The leading part of Dr. Bill is taken by Clarence Heritage, a sterling actor well known on the American stage. His part is played in a true comedy vein, without exaggeration or burlesque, and shows a genuine artistic conception of the part. The company is an excellent one. LONDON OPERATIC COMPANY. The above company is now holding From the Garden Theater, New York nightly rehearsals preparatory to the pro-City. The play that has made the whole duction of "La Grande Duchesse" tomorrow night. An extended advance notice is hardly necessary, as the sale of seats assures a splendid audience and the merits of the performers are known to their friends. It will be somewhat unique from the fact that Mrs. George Holman, after years of retirement from the stage, will conduct it in person. No one on the continent is better qualified, and her friends will doubtless give her a rousing welcome. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Holman assume the roles premieres. Offenbach's charming opera will be staged and costumed in a sumptuous manner and it will be the most notable amateur event in years. Lieut .-

Pretty Deaconesses Need Not Plaster Down Their Flufty Locks. CHICAGO, May 6.—At yesterday's meeting of the Deaconesses' Conference the costume committee recommended black gowns with gathered or pleated skirts, bishop sleeves and round waists. Then the report went on suggesting turn down collars and white cuffs, that the hair be worn "plain" and no jewelry to be worn solely for orna. ment. The girls with frizzes, montagues and other pretty fixings in the way of hair, wanted to know why they should plaster their locks down flat, and thought it would be horrid. Dr. North, of New York, sprang to the defense of "fuzzy" hair, as he termed it, and said it was one of his chiefest delights to look at a crowd of deaconesses with fuzzy hair. The gallant doctor won the day and the plain hair idea was voted down, A bottle of Angostura Bitters to flavor your lemonade or any other cold drink will keep you free from Dyspepsia, Colic, Diarrhea, and all diseases originating from the digestive organs. Be sure to get the genuine Angostura, manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

Besides, I could conceive many grounds which Madame de Bruhl might have for seeing me; of which some touched me near ly. I disregarded Simon's warning, therefore, and repaired at the time appointed to the place-a clean, paved square a little off the Rue St. Denys, and entered from the latter by a narrow passage. It was a spot pleasantly convenient for meditation, but overlooked on one side by the House of the Little Sisters; in which, as I guessed afterwards, madame must have awaited me, for the square when I entered it was empty, yet in a moment, though no one carre in from the street, she stood beside me. She wore a mask and long cloak. The beautiful hair and perfect complexion, which had filled me with so much admiration at our first meeting in her house, were hidden, but I saw enough of her figure and carriage to be sure it was Madame de Bruhl and no

She began by addressing me in a tone of bitterness, for which I was not altogether inprepared.

"Well, sir," she exclaimed, her voice trembling with anger, "you are satisfied, I hope, with your work?"

I expected this and had my answer ready.
"I am not aware, madame," I said, that I have cause to reproach myself. But, however that may be, I trust you have summoned me for some better purpose than to chide me for another's fault; though it was chide me for another's fault; though it was my voice which brought it to light."
"Why did you shame me publicly?" she retorted, thrusting her handkerchief to her lips and withdrawing it again with a passionate gesture.

"Madame," I answered patiently—I was full of pity for her, "consider for a moment the wrong your husband did me, and how small and inadequate was the thing I did to him in return."

"To him!" she ejactulated so fiercely that started. "It was to me-to me you did it! What have I done that you should expose me to the ridicule of those who know no pity, and the anger of one as merciless? What have I done, sir?"

I shook my head sorrowfully. "So far, madame," I answered, "I allow I owe you reparation, and I will make it should it ever be in my power. Nay, I will say more, I continued, for the tone in which she had spoken had wrung my heart. "In one point strained the case against your husband To the best of my belief he abducted the lady who was in my charge, not for the love of her, but for political reasons, and as the agent of another. She gasped. "What?" she cried. "Say that

As I complied she tore off her mask and gazed into my face with straining eyes and parted lips. I saw then how much she was changed, even in these few d. ys-how pale and worn were her cheeks, how dark the circles round her eyes. "Will you swear to it?" she said at last, speaking with uncontrollable eigerness, while she laid a hand which shook with excitement on my arm.

Will you swear to it, sir?"
"It is true," I answered steadfastly. I might have added that after the event her husband had so treated mademoiselle as to lead her to fear the worst. But I refrained, feeling that it was no part of my duty to come between husband and wife.

She clasped her hands, and for a moment looked passionately upwards, as though she were giving thanks to Heaven; while the flush of health and loveliness which I had so much admired returned, and illumined her face in a wonderful manner. She seemed, in truth and for the moment, translips moved; nor have I ever seen anything ear so near a resemblance to those pictures of the Virgin Mary which Romans worship as madame did then.

The change, however, was as evanescent as it was admirable. In an instant she seemed to collapse. She struck her hands to her face and mouned, and I saw tears, which she vainly strove to restrain, dropping through her fingers. "Too late!" she murmured, in a tone of anguish which wrung my heart. "Alas, you robbed me of one man, you give me back another. I know him now for what he is. If he did not love her then, he does now. It is too late !"

She seemed so much overcome that I assisted her to reach a bench which stood against the wall a few paces away; nor, I confess, was it without difficulty and much self-reproach that I limited myself to these prudent offices only which her state and my duty required. To console her on the subject of her husband was impossible; to ignore him, and so to console her, a task which neither my discretion nor my sense of honor, though sorely tried, permitted me to undertake. She prosently recovered and, putting on her mask again, said hurriedly that she had still a word to say to me. "You have still a word to say to me. "You have treated me honestly," she continued, "and, though I have no cause to do anything but hate you, I say in return, look to yourself! You escaped last night—I know all, for it was my velvet knot-which I had made thinking to send it to you to procure this meeting-that he used as a lure. But he is not yet at the end of his resources. Look to yourself, therefore." I thought of the appointment I had made with him for the morrow, but I confined myself to shanking her, merely saying, as I bowed over the hand she resigned to me in token of farewell, "Madame, I am grateful. I am obliged to you both for your warning and your forgiveness." Bending her head coldly she drew away her hand. At that moment, as I lifted my eyes, I saw something which for an instant rooted me to the spot with astonishment. In the entrance of the passage which led to the Rue St. Denys two people were standing, watching us. The one was Simon Fleix, and the other, a masked woman, a trifle below the middle height, and clad in a riding-coat, was Mademoiselle de la Vire! I knew her in a moment. But the relief experienced on seeing her safe and in

Blois was not unmixed with annoyance that Simon Fleix should have been so imprudent as to parade her unnecessarily in the street. I felt something of confusion also on my own account; for I could not tell how long she and her escort had been watching me. And these two feelings were augmented when, after turning to pay a final salute to Madame de Bruhl, I looked again towards the passage and discovered that made-moiselle and her squire were gone. Impatient as I was, I would not seem to leave madame rudely or without feeling, after the consideration she had shown me in her own sorrow; and accordingly I waited uncovered until she disappe red within the "Little Sisters." Then I started eagerly towards my lodging, thinking I might yet overtake mademoiselle before she entered. was destined to meet, however, with another though very pertinent hindrance. As I passed from the Rue St. Denvs into the quiet of my street I heard a voice calling my name, and, looking back, saw M. de Rambouillet's equeery, a man deep in his confidence, running after me. He brought a message from his master, which he begged me to consider of the first importance. (To be Continued.)

FREE INSTITUTIONS.

Address by Judge Cooley on the Cexty Movement.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 5.-Judge Thomas M. Cooley delivered an address before the university students this afternoon which was opportune. He selected as his subject "Free Institutions," and discussed the Coxey movement from a constitutional standpoint. The students were glad to welcome the judge back to his old position on the rostrum, where he had addressed so many classes. In the course of his remarks Judge Cooley said:

"Our Government is representative and not a true democracy, because it is, first, on too large a scale to be a pure democracy, and secondly, because from the foundation of our Government people have depended on their representatives. From the earliest day the chief duty of the citizen was to vote for some representative, and when this was done he ceased, almost entirely, to be a unit in political power. If a large class of people became dissatisfied with the manner of conducting the government, what then? Suppose 10,000 in every State, making an army of 440,000, should arise to appeal to Congress, and should march on to Washington to demand a fixed rate of wages, or eight hours as a day's work, and that the unemployed should be employed by the Government in improving the common roads of the country. They start out voicing their demands in the name of the people, while they constitute a very small traction of the whole people. When we examine our form of government to see what gives them the right to make these demands we find that the authority of the citizen is limited to the election of representatives. The army, so called, has no power to coerce one single representative at the seat of government, and so far as constitutional power is concerned the representative may determine alone how he shall act. The petitioner cannot go to Congress with his petition. The petition must be presented by the representatives themselves. Among the enumerated powers there is not one that covers this subject. When they ask the Federal Government to make roads they ask something beyond the pale of Federal authority. It is the State that makes the roads. In every case where Federal authority has been called in for like purposes, some claim was put forward claiming that what was proposed was to carry some Federal authority. Suppose what was demanded was purely national, like the coining of money, even then this demand from without would have no binding force. When there is an attempt to compel the exercise of Government power otherwise than as provided in the constitution, it is a direct attack on liberty itself. The people could not make the laws even if the legislative authorities would attempt to turn over legislative machinery to the people. To attempt to subvert the recognized authorities and their power is a step toward the overthrow of our Government, and one step toward revolution. What is taking place now may be a farce, but it seems to me that it may end in civil war."

No other medicine has equaled Hood's Sar-saparilla in the relief it gives in severe cases of dyspepsia, sick headache, etc. She pushed back the heavy bang from his forehead and said: "Oh, Tommy, will it tell on your diploma that you won the formed. THE LONDON ADVERTISER, with its morning and evening editions, covers the ground.

ot mean that this progressive constituency will accept the paid officer of any rival city as a custodian of its interests in any repre-

Our city contemporary's recitation of Mr. Meredith first ran the brewery in ge to buttress Mr. Carling's fortunes. Mr. Meredith came out under Mr. Carling's tutelage. He has remained o from that day to this. But despite the the Ontario Opposition his influence has teadily waned, and for obvious reasons is standing as a representative of the city as been much less satisfactory in recent cars. As the brewery boss influence was driven out of the wards, so has the strength f the Carling-Meredith combination dereased. When the ADVERTISER came on he scene, 30 years ago, Mr. Meredith and his friends were able to command large najorities, sometimes as high as 1,000. Where are those majorities now? Let the ast two contests in which Mr. Meredith as an active participant be the answer! n 1891 Mr. Carling was defeated by Mr. Hyman by 183 votes. In 1892 despite the nerculean efforts of the Carling-Meredith combination, Mr. Hyman was again lected M. P. for London, though his seat vas stolen from him by the most ascally tactics ever resorted to by conpirators against the rights of a free people. he fact is, that London is Liberal, and only by disunion or apathy in the ranks of he citizens can it be made anything else.

We confess that under circumstances vastly different from those which now exist, Mr. Meredith had a fictitious trength as a candidate. As the young, intried leader of an Opposition, with the prospect of being some day Premier, not a ew Liberals in past contests sunk their political convictions and gave a personal ote to Mr. Meredith. But these men can o longer do so. They found that instead getting nearer the Premiership as grew older Mr. Meredith drifted way from it. He has grown grayaired manipulating issues in the ttempt to defeat Ontario's Grand Old Ian. In 1883 he arranged for the circuation of "Facts for the Irish Electors," in which an infamous attempt was made to ake believe that the Catholics of the rovince were not treated with sufficient berality by Sir Oliver Mowat, and the ait was held out that if they supported Ir. Meredith they would find their posion vastly improved. His subsequent ortuous career, in which he has asserted hat the Catholics got more than their ights, and his many small-beer attempts cause strife between the religious deominations by needlessly stirring up difrences are well known to the comnunity. He has been against the ballot in thool trustee elections and he has favored e he has been against a compulsory ballot the election of school trustees, and has nsisted that the ballot should be comhe Legislature, and attend to the carning ocean know, are included in the passage the $13,500 a year which he has accepted money. to Mr. Meredith will not do so on this occasion. Mr. Meredith came to London in the last contest between Mr. Hyman and Mr. Carling. He canvassed from house to house in favor of the brewer. He was the first public man of any standing to condone the London seat steal, and from that day to this, though challenged to condemn that infamous outrage, as any fair-minded man ought to do, he has remained dumb on the subject.

Our city contemporary suggests that if the labor men of the city had run a candidate on the present occasion the Liberals would not have put a candidate in the field to imperil his chances. As the labor men did not deem it advisable to contest the constituency at this time and the city Liberals were not called upon to state their position, discussion on that point would be fruitless. This much we will say, that the most cordial relations have for years existed and now exist between workers of the city and the Liberals, and just as in England the Liberal party has ever been the exponent of the working masses, so in Canada Liberalism has been true to its record. The fact is that the vas' mass of the Liberal party are workers, are men who are proud of London, men who have stood by London, and mean to stay by her and aid in her prosperity. They are at one in this matter with the organized workers of the city, who through their representative newspaper, the Industrial Banner, strongly oppose the candidature of any man who has devoted, and is pledged to devote, his time and his talents to the upbuilding of a rival city. Here is the declaration made by our labor

"There is nothing small about Toronto. She is not content with wanting four city members in the Ontario Legislature, but manages to pick candidates for a score of rural constituencies as well. She is now reaching out after rival cities, and London is expected to elect her able solicitor to swell the crowd. Toronto is no hog, she doesn't want the universe. Give her all the land and someone else can have the water. She is always willing to go halves so long as she gets the solid half. Great head! Some day she will have the right to elect the whole Legislature; she has only got to go ahead as she is doing, and 'Get there, Jacob,' is the word while other people pay the piper."

A local representative is not always available in the rural constituencies, but the invariable practice has been for the cities of Canada to select one of their own citizens to represent them. We know of no city possessing the right to elect a representative in either the House of Commons or the Legislature which to-day has for its representative the resident of a rival city. We give the views of the workingmen of London, asvoiced by their special newspaper, on Mr. Meredith's position today. Toronto is certainly the great Hog City of Canada, and would remain so without the aid of the representative comes doubly objectionable when we consider that Mr. Meredith, in return for an income of $13,500 a year as city solicitor of Toronto, has pleaged himself to make the interests of Toronto his first care. He has placed himself in evidence as regarding Toronto as his client. whose views he must adopt if they conflict with those of other cities or the Province at large. The situation is so wholly unsatisfactory to a self-respecting community like London that we are astonished Mr. Meredith should even think of asking the electors of this western trade and educational rival of Toronto to elect him as its representative. He cannot serve two masters, and he has pledged himself to give Toronto his first care, and well he may, for it is his home, there he gets his $13,500 a year income, and his interests are bound up with it. London wants a man that can and will be loyal to London -who will make London, not Toronto, his first care. This is an aspect of the case that the London Free Press persistently ignores; but it will not be ignored by the majority of the electors when they give their verdict at the ballot box.

-South Toronto Conservative convention has been twice postponed. They still believe down there that City Solicitor Meredith of that city could carry the division. Why not? London will never elect a Toronto official as its representative.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES. The gross debt of the Dominion Government has now risen to the enormous sum of $304,000,000.

Mr. Foster says it cannot be reduced. Why? Could not $200,000 be saved by getting rid of the Senate, now holidaying? Then the Hamilton Spectator, strong Conservative paper though it is, tells us that the thousands of civil servants now employed at Ostawa could be reduced by one-half, and there would be enough left to attend to the business, because under the present system civil servants are paid for doing nothing.

Other illustrations of the prodigal squandering of money which goes on at Ottawa were given under oath in the investigation of the Bering Sea arbitration expenditures. There it came out that Mr. Joseph Pope, assistant clerk of the Privy Council, was taken to Paris by young Sir ulsory. And so on, until the strength of Charles Tupper. He drew his salary at is following has become so attenuated in the rate of $200 a month, $10 a day for 209 he House and in the country that the days as "living expenses"; $268 for traveltatement is freely made, by those who ing expenses, and $29 for tips and cab hire. we been up and down the Province, that With that utter disregard for economy fr. There $10 a day for "living expenses" for the indeed, apparent ground for the belief time he was on board ship, though living hat Mr. Meredith will speedily retire from expenses, as all who have traveled on the tant clerk drew for his services $3,787 of public money, and when the Auditor-There is another and a stronger reason General suggested, in mild terms, that the young Mr. Tupper ordered that the objec-

It has also come out that the Ministers are in the habit of putting in bills for thousands of dollars for traveling and other expenses without vouchers, and without itemized details. How these large expenditures are made up can be imagined. The man who allows $10 a day to an assistant clerk for expenses that were never incurred can be trusted to collect iberally for himself when opportunity presents itself. The Curran bridge scandal affords another illustration of the manner in which the public are bled by the Ottawa authorities for the benefit of private friends. This bridge was constructed near Montreal under Dominion Government supervision, in 1892-93. The cost fixed by Parliament was $175,000, but the "milking" process was so deftly gone about that the country had to pay $445,983. These facts have been brought out by the commission appointed by the Ottawa Government itself with the view of heading off the parliamentary investigation that the Liberal leaders were determined, in the public interest to force. We are assured that the commissioners were sufficiently friendly to the principals not to put any worse a face upon the daylight robbery that has been going on than they could

Now, supposing these rascalities had been discovered to have taken place in connection with the Ontario Government. Would the Province not be ringing from one send to the other with the call for the immediate resignation of the Administration that tolerates such ongoings? It is

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

This is to certify that in February, 1890, I had a severe attack of La Grippe and cured myself in 24 hours by the use of Radway's Ready Relief and Radway's Pills. I had another attack because there is such a marked contrast between the management of public affairs at Ottawa and at Toronto that the people of this Province take no stock in the empty outery against Sir Oliver Mowat. The people know that the politicians who desire to replace the Grand Old Man who his native Province are hand-in-glove with the Ottawa men and are but as potter's clay in the hands of the contractors who have bled this Province to fatten themselves. With management of the public funds such as has characterized the regime at Ottawa, not only would the Ontario surplus be gone, but our public lands and timber limits would be exhausted, and we would be face to face with direct taxation for the sustenance of our schools, asylums and public charities. It is not from necessity that the Canadian public debt has been increased by many millions in the last ten years, while the people have been paying oppressive taxes on the necessaries of life, but from the waste of money at every point for the benefit of a comparatively few men who are the contributors of election funds or are the pets of the politicians in power.

STILL ROLLING UP.

Enormous Increase of Canada's Debt-The Outlook Not Encouraging. (Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, May 5. -- The revenue and expenditure statement for the past ten months published in the Official Gazette to-day does not hold out very encouraging results as compared with the balance sheet for the corresponding months of last year. The revenue from customs during the ten months show a decrease of $755,131, and for the month of April a decrease of $408. 631 as compared with last year. The fact that the new tariff was in operation during April is significant. During the ten months end-ing April 30 of last year there was a surplus of $5,944,697, which declined during the ten months just ended to $4,772,993, a shrinkage of $1,171,704. The surplus of revenue over expenditure during April last year was $802,972; in April this year $258,-914. The total revenue during April declined from $3,120,975 to $2,442,538 as compared with the corresponding month last year. The outlook is not made more reassuring by the fact that according to the statement of the public debt published in the Gazette to-day the public net debt increased from $236,980,279 to $240,009,927 as compared with April 30, 1893. The gross debt has now reached $304,294,786. an increase of $8,375,129 over 1893.

The Italian Government has communicated with the department of justice asking for a postponement of the execution of Antonio Luciano and Antio Degidio, sentenced to be hanged on May 10 for the murder of Givano Pettrella, near Grenville, Manitoba, June 10, 1893. The matter is being decided in council to-day.

Women Appeal to Voters in Col. Breck inridge's District.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 6. - The women of Lexington have issued an address to the voters in Col. Breckinridge's district in which they oppose his re-election and denounce his defenders. The address, among other things, says: "Would you vote for the destruction of your boys? No; sooner vote for the destruction of party than sink moral sentiment. It is your duty to lead your boys to a higher moral plane, but would such a representative inspire your sons and daughters with the sublime duty of morality? No; his name is a synonym for corruption. Were he magnanimous he would have you close the door to vice. He who has so often with beautiful words and brilliant oratory sung enchantingly of the noble, dutiful sons of our grand old commonwealth would have you prove recreant to your trusts. Let no extenuating plea of charity cause you to even listen to his silver tones; they can no longer avail; he has sacrificed himself; let his voice be silent; his influence is lost. We deeply deplore this, but he hassealed his own fate. Refuse to return him to Congress, and by so doing you will best promote the interests of society and of your own State."

The Seventh Parliament of Ontario Closed.

Summary of the Session's Important Enactments as Given in the Lieutenant-Governor's Speech.

TORONTO, May 6.—The Legislature closed ts fourth and last session yesterday with the usual ceremonies. Following is THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S SPEECH. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legisla-

lative Aasembly: I desire to express my appreciation of the earnestness and diligence with which you have applied yourselves to the work of the unusually long session now being brought to a close. The measures which you have passed are very important and useful, and will greatly assist in the administration of public affairs.

The important act respecting councils of conciliation and arbitration for settling industrial disputes will, I am glad to believe, tend to prevent those conflicts between capital and labor, which often result in the serious disturbance to business and loss to all parties concerned.

It is gratifying to know that owing to your wise and liberal provision for proper representation of the Province at the World's Columbian Exposition, its progress and resources were exhibited to great advantage, securing for the Province in many departments a position of enviable prominence. We may confidently hope that material results of a very substatial character will accrue to the Province.

The various provisions of the acts respecting the registration of manhood suffrage voters in cities and for the prompt punishment of persons guilty of personating at elections for the Legislative Assembly will, I trust, be found effectual in improving and purifying the voters' lists, simplifying the enrollment of all duly qualified electors and facilitating the suppression of corrupt practices.

The readjustment of the representation of the cities of Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and Kingston in the Legislative Assembly will, I trust, prove satisfactory.

I notice with pleasure that you have established a provincial park at Rondeau. in the western portion of the Province. I do not doubt that the future will furnish abundant evidence that in the establishment of this and other parks you have districts of Nipissing and Rainy River, for facilitating the administration of justice and for enabling boards of trade in cities to appoint general arbitrators will commend themselves to the public as measures of practical utility.

The acts consolidating and amending the drainage laws, mortgages and sales of personal property, the acts amending the Division Courts Act and the municipal and assessment laws, are further measures of public importance.

I thank you for the liberal appropriations which you have made for the public service. The supplies which you have granted will be expended with care and in the public interest.

EDINBURGH, May 6 .- The organized workmen of this place did not make any demonstration on May Day, but yesterday they marched through the town in procession. There were 6,000 men employed in the different trades in line. After the procession a meeting was held, at which resolutions were adopted demanding the establishment of a legal eight-hour working day, the abolition of the House of Lords, and the payment of members of the House of Commons. The meeting also declared in favor of the nationalization of mines.

TORONTO PAVERS' TROUBLE SETTLED. TORONTO, May 6 .- At a conference yesterday an amicable settlement was reached by which the striking pavers will at once return to work at the former rate, Alds. Lamb and Bailey pledging themselves to use their influence at next board meeting to secure the full rates of union wages. They admitted it was inconsistent for the corporation to compel contractors to pay 30 cents an hour for what the city itself would pay only 25 cents. The men will return to work Monday morning.

BELLAIRE, Ohio, May 6.—On account of the coal strike the Bellair steel works and blast furnaces shut down last evening. Nine steel furnaces and four plants and nail mills in this vicinity have shut down for the want of coal during the week. There are at present fully 20,000 men idle hereabouts.

PHILLIPSBURG, Pa., May 6.—An attempt was made yesterday to resume operations at one of the largest collieries on the Reach Creek road, but failed on account of inability to get more than a dozen men to go to work. All the mines in the Clear-field and French Creek district still continue idle. The miners appear to be as firm as ever. VIENNA, May 6 .- The miners' strike at Olmutz, Moravia, is spreading rapidly. There are over 3,000 men out and the number is being added to hourly.

MONTREAL, May 6.—It is expected that within a few days the carpenters' strike in this city will be settled. LONDON, May 6. - English workingmen as usual made their eight-hour demonstration this year on the first Sunday after May $40 for Mrs. Griggs. Day. They gathered on the Thames Embankment, which was packed from Blackfriars Bridge to Charing Cross. At 12:45 they marched to Hyde Park and the thousands in the procession were three hours in twelve platforms had been erected in a great popular young man. semi-circle. All the meetings passed the resolution in favor of the eight-hour day. They also resolved that the workingmen could free themselves economically and socially only after getting control of the political machinery now in the hands of the capitalistic class. Enormous crowds watched the procession pass to and from the park. There was no disorder.

CHASE'S CHAPTER

1. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are ; combination of valuable medicines in concentrated form as prepared by the eminent Physician and Author, Dr. A. W. Chase, with a view to not only be an unfailing remedy for Kidney and Liver troubles, but also tone the Stomach and purify the Blood, at a cost that is within the reach of all. The superior merit of these pills is established beyond question by the praise of thousands who use them-one Pill a dose, one box 25 cents.

2. When there is a Pain or Ache in th Back the Kidneys are speaking of trouble that will ever increase unless relieved. We have the reliable statement of L. B. Johnson, Holland Landing, who says: I had a constant Back-Ache, my beak stant Back-Ache, my back felt cold all the time, appetite poor, stomach sour and belching, urine scalding, had to get up 3 or 4 times during night to urinate, commenced taking one Kidney-Liver Pill a day Back-Ache stopped in 48 hours, appetite returned, and able to enjoy a good meal and a good nights sleep; they cured me.

3. Constipation often exists with Kidney Trouble, in such a case there is no medicine that will effect a permanent cure except Chase's combined Kidney-Liver Pill, one 25 cent box will do more good than dollars and dollars worth of any other preparation, this is endorsed by D. The Unfailing Success of Dedd's Kidney Pills Induces Fraudulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequaled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduc-tion of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Burial of the Murdered Constable-The Wounded Prisoner May Recover. The inquest on the remains of Lindsay, the dead constable who fell before the Truskey, the murderer of Constable Lindsay, is still alive, and unless inflammation sets in Dr. Anderson says he may pull through. He sent for a lawyer and made his will. From the threats made by Truskey it is thought that after he killed Lindsay he started to his brother-in-law's place, a man named Latimer, to kill him, but returned to his own home. The funeral of Lindsay was largely attended, Rev. Mr. Colter conducting the services. The murdered man's family are not in comfortable circumstances, and an effort will be made to raise a fund for them.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY DEVELOPMENTS Why Not Get Down to Business at

Once? To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

We have heard a great deal lately about the London Street Railway being controlled by the C. P. R., and up to date it has not been publicly contradicted. I notice by this morning's Free Press that Mr. Meyers, of the Siemens-Halske Company, is formulating a new offer for the electric railway franchise in this city. Now, Mr. Editor, whether it is generally known or not, it is a fact that Mr. Van Horne is the vice-president of the Siemens-Halske Company, Chicago. It all we hear is true, would it not be better that our city fathers should open up negotiations direct with the London Street Railway Company instead of negotiating with them via Chicago? I am sure every citizen would hail with delight an electric service. The business community and real estate owners are equally interested in this vital question, while it is of far greater | Ben Short's Case. moment to working classes, and particularly so during the prolonged depression. which, unfortunately, does not seem to be passing over as rapidly as was hoped for at the opening of spring. We think, Mr. Editor, now is the time for our City Council to test the two contending parties for the city franchise. If they are in earnest give them an opportunity to carry out their offer. Let the best offer be accepted, which will cause a large distribution of hard cash for work to be done on street track laying and other necessary work, thus giving our workingmen a substantial benefit in the way of employment. A. B. POWELL. Yours truly, London, May 5, 1894. Steamship Arrivals.

Joseph Boyd Still Missing.

The friends of Mr. Joseph Boyd, who disappeared on Wednesday last, are beginning to feel very much alarmed. Mr. John Boyd haunted the market on Saturnay endeavoring to find a trace of him among the farmers. Yesterday he drove about 30 miles through the neighboring townships, and to-day he will continue the search. Mr. Boyd feels certain that the demented young man is with some farmer. Any word of his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his relatives. A Noted Woman.

A mistake was made in classing Mrs. Mountford, the celebrated lecturer, of Jerusalem, as a Jewess. Her parents are Russians and belong to the Greek Church, because every person in that country has to join the State church. Mrs. Mountford was reared in the Anglican denomination at Jerusalem and lived in that city until 21 years of age. On account of her mother being very ill she was early committed to the care of a Jewess, and in consequence of this fact had exceptional opportunities not generally presented to Europeans to become thoroughly conversant with the life and traditions of the Jewish population.

Mrs. Mountford will give her closing and her best lecture in Victoria Hall to-night-"Ecce Homo." On this subject, which deals with the life and times of Jesus, she has delighted thousands in Europe and America. No one should miss it. The lady's eloquence and diction are educational in themselves. Mrs. Mountford will be assisted by attendants dressed in Oriental costume, and every lesson will be illustrated by material objects brought from the Holy Land. It is not often that citizens are given such an instructive

The friends of Mr. Ben Short, the young man who is in jail on a charge of setting fire to his boot and shoe establishment in Parkhill, have every belief in his innocence and will make an effort to secure bail. They ask the public to reserve judgment until after the young man has had a fair trial. Short was born at Centralia, and at the time of the fire was said to have had a paying business and a stock valued at $2,200, and free from debt. As the insurance amounted to $1,200, his friends claim that if he did burn his shop, he burned it knowing that he stood to lose $1,000, which they say is unlikely. Again he remained in Parkhill for five weeks after the fire and went to Edmonton, it is said, with a view of locating and not to escape justice. regard as due to some extent to the religious rancour that has been working in Parkhill for some time. Mr. Robinette, the lawyer who defended McWherrell, has been retained on Short's behalf. The prisoner was brought before Judge Wm. Elliot this morning and elected trial by jury. The case will be heard at the June

Police Court. There were more drunks in the Police Court this morning than for many a day. All had their excuses. Some old timers were fined and other novices were dis charged. Mrs. Mary Nash accused Prof. Thos. Passmore, the P. P. A. lecturer, of assaulting her with a long-handled shovel and of throwing sand in her eyes. Mrs. Nash showed a bruise on her wrist. That was where the shovel struck her, she said. Their two lots adjoin and they had some words over the garden wall. Passmore denied the charge. Adjourned until Saturday for further svidence. Isabella Marshall, Philip street, accused by George Jones of threatening him, was bailed to keep the peace. Mrs. M. said the complainant kicked her boys' shins until they were black and blue. John Taylor, drunk and disorderly was fined $2. A Market Square merchant stretched a board from his wagon to his store to unload goods. Case dismissed, with a caution. Sarah Andrews, the incorrigible, was handed over to the Salvation Army.

The Bishop of Huron preached at St. Thomas Sunday morning and evening, and in the afternoon at Port Stanley.

The Presbytery of London will meet in Park Avenue Church to-morrow. The call to Rev. James Ballantyne, of South London, from Knox Church, Ottawa, will be disposed of.

The annual meeting of the Canadian branch of the B. and F. Bible Society will be held in Exeter on Wednesday. Rev. Joseph Philp, B.A., of London, will give an address on "The Bible in Bible Lands." Mr. J. A. Clark, of Knox College, will take charge of Knox Church, Aylmer, during the summer. Mr. Clark is a brother of Rev. W. J. Clark, of the First Presbyterian Church here, and is a very talented young man. Rev. Arthur Browning, the Cornish evangelist, preached to a large congregation in Queen's Avenue Methodist Church Sunday. Rev. Mr. Annis said he would preach Sunday evening on "Politics," as excitement on that subject was rising at present. Rev. Dr. Mockridge, of Toronto, preached twice Sunday in St. Paul's Cathe-

The Methodist North End Mission is a flourishing little church, having three large and earnest class meetings each Sabbath morning, and all the other departments are doing full duty in furthering the work. Mr. Joseph Mitcheltree has been chosen superintendent of the Sunday school, in place of Mr. John H. Adams, who is taking a well-earned rest from duties which he has long fulfilled with much pleasure to the school. Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Windsor, late of London, found a man trying to enter his house the other evening. The fellow was frightened away.

Rev. S. Edelstein, professor of Hebrew in Huron College, London, preached to brethren from Dorchester Station, Harrietsville and St. Thomas participated.

Rev. Dr. Wild preached twice on Sunday to crowded congregations at the First Congregational Church. In the morning he delivered the annual sermon to the Christian Endeavor Societies of the church, taking as his subject "A New Cart." The Endeavorers turned out in large numbers. Next Sunday morning the doctor will preach the funeral sermon of the late Deacon Johnston, and also speak on Heaven." In the evening his address will be on "Hell."

The men's popular meeting in Victoria Hall Sunday afternoon, was the most largely attended and by far the most interesting held for a long time. The announcement that Mrs. Mountford, the noted lecturer on Jewish customs, would deliver an address, drew a large crowd despite the stormy weather, and those who did attend will never forget the occasion. Mrs. Mountford is a fluent speaker. She has an exceptionally pleasant manner, a clear sweet voice, and during her hour-and--quarter talk on "The Life of Jacob" she heid the closest attention of her audience. Mrs. Mountford commenced at the birth of Jacob; reviewed his life up to the time of his securing a birthright, and beautifully illustrated his leaving home and then his marriage. The lecturer dwelt in brief upon the rights of women, and made a strong plea for their higher education, claiming that it would reap benefits in numerous ways. Rev. W. H. Claris celebrated the first anniversary of his induction into the pastorate of the Southern Congregational Church Sunday. Since Mr. Claris took charge the congregation has grown very rapidly until now at some of the services the seating capacity of the edifice is inadequate to accommodate all seeking admission. In the morning Mr. Claris took as his text Luke, xii., 32, speaking of the Christian Church as an army of soldiers fighting for a kingdom and also as a flock being guided by a shepherd. The congregation at both services were large. Rev. Canon Davis is slowly recovering from an attack of acute tonsilitis. In the services in St. James' Episcopal Church Sunday morning the rector was assisted by Mr. Armitage, of Huron College, who in place of a sermon read the Ascension tide appeal from the House of Bishops for contributions towards missionary work in Algoma and the Northwest. Mr. Armitage preached in the evening. In the Askin Street Methodist Church Sunday night, Rev. Thomas Cullen took "Spiritualism" as the subject of his remarks, which were followed with great interest. The reverend gentleman first dealt with the decline and utter failure of all beliefs excepting the Christian faith to make any lasting impression on the human mind and referred to the many exposures of

could be none other than evil ones. The pulpit of St. Andrew's Church was occupied both morning and evening Sunday by Mr. W. Patterson, B.A., student from McGill University, Montreal. Mr. Patterson has been engaged for the summer months to assist the pastor, Rev. J. A. Murray, and judging from the excellent discourses preached Sunday he will prove a valuable assistant to the talented pastor. At the evening service Rev. Mr. Murray alluded in feeling terms to the death of Eider Charles Grant, at the extreme age of 90 years. Mr. Grant had been connected with the church for over half a century.

Several London Oddfellows attended the annual church service of the Strathroy brethren on Sunday afternoon. The services were held in St. John's Church, the sermon being preached by the rector, Rev. Mr. Newton, who is a member of the

LONDON WEST'S TREASURER

Dismissed for Failing to Comply With the Council's Orders

To Hand Over His Books-Reeve Macdonald Gives the Word-How Will the Books Be Secured.

The London West bubble, arising out of the trouble over the treasurer's books, burst this morning, and Mr. Nicholls bas been dismissed from office.

The row, with which the villagers are thoroughly conversant, arose immediately after the council of 1894 got into the harness. Mr. Nicholls had several times been ordered to produce his books, but declined to let them out of his house. The council then passed a resolution on Friday night last ordering the handing over of the books by 2 o'clock on Saturday, with the option of being dismissed. Mr. Nicholls consulted his solicitors, and a letter was forwarded to the village clerk giving their opinion of the case. His solicitors advised him that he would not be justified in complying with the order of the council, as his so doing would not relieve him from responsibility in connection with the books. They added in their letter: "Mr. Nicholls is perfectly willing to submit his books to inspection and audit by any auditor duly appointed."

Immediately upon receipt of the above letter Reeve Macdonald sent a reply to the cierk, Mr. Bartram, in which he said: 'Mr. Nicholls, having failed to hand over his books as required by resolution of the council, is dismissed from the office of treasurer. You will be good enough to advise his sureties of the fact, and state that the corporation will look to them for any loss that may happen, or in default that may have been occasioned to the village according to the terms of the bond. I have informed Messrs. Meredith, Cameron, Judd & Dromgole to take the necessary steps against Mr. Nicholls."

The whole question now is whether or not the council exceeded its powers in compelling Mr. Nicholls to hand over the books. The treasurer was notified this morning of his dismissal, but it is not known what steps he will take. The salary attached to the office is $40 per year. Messrs. John R. Gurd, of London West, and Ald. Carrothers are the bondsmen, to the extent of $3,000.

Ottawa Notes.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.] OTTAWA, May 7. - Mr. Chesley, M.P., of St. John, is arranging another meeting between the New Brunswick members and the Government, to further protest against the granting of the Atlantic fast line subsidy for the service between Halifax and British ports. The impression prevails in quarters interested that the resolution providing the $750,000 annual subsidy will not be pressed this session. The select committee of Dr. Weldon's bill to disfranchise voters who accept bribes met this morning. Mr. Weldon, Mr. Dickie and Mr. Lister were present. They amended the bill in a few details and resolved to report it to the House.

ine. And it can't be done more cheaply—if it's done safely. You lose in time and labor. Pearline saves half of both. You lose in clothes, too. You can't rub them clean in the old way on the washboard, without rubbing them to pieces. All these things that you lose are money.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 350 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Genuine British Workmen Have No

Use for Anarchists-Lively Scene. London, May 7.-The Anarchists held a meeting a short distance away from the workingmen at Hyde Park yesterday. The audience was made up chiefly of detectives.

The speakers indulged in the usual tirade against the existing order of things, and were listened to with good-natured tolerance until one of them more violent than his predecessors began to speak on the eight hour question. He declared that an eight-hour day must be obtained even if it should be necessary to kill Mr. Gladstone and murder Lord Salisbury. This excited the ire of the crowd and a rush was made for the platform, the crowd being apparently determined to lynch the speaker. He was dragged from the platform and was being very roughly handled when the police made a charge and rescued him from his captors. The next speaker attempted to make a speech in a similar strain. Another rush was made for the piatform. The speaker sprang from the rear of the platform and set a hot pace acress the park, with the crowd in full cry after him. The Anarchist would certainly bave fallen into the hands of his pursuers had not the police intervened to protect him. The whole proceedings showed very plain'y that the Anarchist cannot count any friends among the genuine workingmen of Landon.

The Liberal Association of East Middle sex held a rousing meeting in the city Liberal rooms on Saturday afternoon. In point of numbers and enthusiasm the gathering was far ahead of the previous week and judging from the manner in which the addresses of the various speakers were received, Liberalism in East Middlesex is in a flourishing condition. The following were formally proposed: Thos. H. Purdom, Dr. G. A. Routledge, J. H. Elliott, D. B. Burch, J. T. Coughlin, Adam Nichol, Anson Hunt, Elisha Ironsides, Robt. W. Jackson, J. W. Rosser, J. K. Little, S. B. Gorwell, Charles Trebilcock, J. D. Clarke, Ald. Parnell, Frank Love, Michael Crunnican and James Anderson. agreed to adjourn for a week to more fully consider the best man for the position. Owing to the situation of affairs this was thought advisable, in order to make no mistake in the selection. The utterances of the speakers were cheered to the echo. Among other things the delegates were warned against false religious cries, and it was pointed out that the men who six months ago in the city of London were attempting to move heaven and earth to get accessions to the anti-Catholic associations on the ground estant societies, are once more the leaders of the Conservative party in the city. Their non-partyism, it was shown, only lasted while they were trying to inveigle Liberals away from their allegiance. The adjourned meeting will be held at the same hour and place on Saturday next.

THE FEES COMMISSION.

The Sittings Resumed in London-Examination of Warden Calvert and Mr. J. W. Little - Crewn Attorney's Fees.

CLOSING SESSION. The Fees Commission concluded its labors on Saturday afternoou, after having examined Thomas E. Robson, county clerk of Middlesex, and John McCausland, reasurer of Elgin county.

Mr. Robson tancied that the offices could be more economically and efficiently managed by the county council. He would except that of the sheriff, which office he thought should be under Government control. He was also of opinion that the county council could make as good a choice of men for positions as is made at present. He thought, from a comparison of the sal-aries of the county officers, that the work could be done more economically were they appointed as he suggested. Mr. Robson did not feel quite so certain, in the cases of clerks of the peace and registrars of the Surrogate Court and officers of that class, that the council would be as able to Bro. J. Mortimore; T., Bro. J. Fleming; make appointments. The registrars, how-, Bro. C. Davies; S. W., Bro. W. Reid; ever, he certainly would have chosen by J. W., Bro. W. Adams; S. B., Bro. M. the council. Mr. Robson did not think Kirkpatrick. The auditors' report showed should receive about $1,500 a year, and in a balance to the credit of the sick benefit cities the salary might extend to $2,000. fund of $398, an increase of over $50 for Ee thought the system of payment by the past half year. A committee was also fees was proper for the registrar appointed to act in conjunction with all the and sheriff, but if the council had other city courts, to make arrangements control he would let them fix a certain limit, any excess of which should go to the county. Mr. Robson had nothing to do with division court clerks or bailiffs. He admitted that if the appointments were left to county councils as suggested a good deal of canvassing would result and politics might creep into business. Mr. McCausland was of the opinion that the present method of appointment was satisfactory and the best that could be followed. It resulted in securing more competent officials. He was in favor of the retention of the present system of payment by fees, because in that way the official was remunerated in proportion to the duties he performed. Mr. McCausland complained of a discrepancy which existed in regard to the fees of the clerk of the peace between the statutory and the judge's tariff, such discrepancy causing him Paul, Minn.; Walter E., of Oil Springs; endless trouble in keeping his accounts. Allie and Fred H., of this city. He suggested that the two tariffs should be made uniform. Chancellor Boyd called the attention of Mr. Fleming to the discrepancy and requested that he should look into it and see it something could not be done. The WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6 .- The Commonwealers suffered somewhat from the rain storm that prevailed to-day. There are not more than 100 men left in the camp of the crowd that came over the mountains. Nearly all the old men have become disgusted and taken their departure. There are many about the camp though who are willing to remain so long as they are fed.
